Amiens Now Is Allies' Capital

There the Power of Offensive is Seen and Felt — Correspondent's Story of the Fighting

Paris, July 8—(By Fred B. Pitney, in Toronto Globe).—From Amiens, which has been virtually established as the capital of the allies, the power of the present offensive may be seen and felt. As the Somme operations increase and develop, life becomes more intense here and in the villages to the eastward, but at the end of the long, gloomy days of waiting, the spirit of victory at last grips them.

Amiens is felt keenly in Amiens, because she is the protectress of the martyred villages of Herbecourt, Flacourt, Assevillers and Belloy, which have just been freed from the enemy's hold. Here the French convoys met the British, and the fighting was fiercest.

The British and French columns, infantry and cavalry, make way to allow batteries of seventy-ives to pass, which have not yet received their baptism of fire. When the cheering is over the soldiers again form groups in the road to discuss the latest operations. They tell how, during the night, north of the Somme, the German contingents entrenched in the plateau east of Curly, which dominates the plain, descended the slopes and assaulted the advance posts, which occupy the woods along the Chery-Marcourt road, one kilometre north of Herbecourt.

The post resisted energetically, and reinforcements were rushed up, preventing the Germans from passing the road. They remained, however, at the bottom of the slope, and later tried to advance into the plain, which the heavy artillery had not yet got far enough forward to protect, but the seventy-ives and the mitrailleuses were ready for the task and hurled the enemy back in disorder.

With the French holding fifteen kilometres of straight front across the face of Perrone, it is natural for the enemy to attack. The attack on the Chery-Marcourt road represents the first half of this movement. The second phase took place simultaneously south of the Somme, where the Germans appeared to have massed important forces in the village of Berny-Es-Santerre, two kilometres southeast of Estrees.

From there contingents charged to attack between Estrees and Belloy, but the flat and open country which they had to cross to reach the French lines did not favor the operation and curtains of fire and mitrailleuses sufficed to disorganize the troops as they debouched from Berny. Two companies were annihilated to the last man and the entire attacking force decimated. The French wounded returning from the scene gave credit for this stroke to the Foreign Legion, which after consolidating Assevillers, had captured and held Belloy.

HOPE ABANDONED

Three Youths Drowned While Fishing in Maine Lake

Blanchard, Me., July 7—No trace of Colby Fox, Emery Packard and Perley Whitman, three youths of this town, whose overturned canoe was found on Wednesday in Ball Mountain pond, had been found yesterday and any hope that may have been held that the trio, who went to the pond on a fishing trip, are still alive has been dispensed.

Fox and Packard were about 21 years of age. Fox is a student at the University of Maine, leaving his wife, father and mother and one child. Fox leaves father, mother and sister. Whitman, 17 years of age, was about seventeen years, is survived by his father and mother and two sisters.

TROOPS AT VALCARTIER CAMP ARE REVIEWED BY SIR SAM HUGHES

25,000 Soldiers March Past in Review Order; New Brunswick Brigades Mentioned as Example to Others; Appointments and Promotion

(Times Correspondence.) Valcartier Camp, July 6—The Minister of Militia and Defence paid a surprise visit to Valcartier Camp today. Late last night word was received that he would inspect the troops today at 10 a. m. and the headquarters and brigade staffs worked far into the night making the necessary preparations and getting out the necessary orders for the review.

Long before review, which is at 10 a. m., the camp was awake and everyone busily engaged in polishing and cleaning up their equipment. At 7.30 a. m. the troops moved from their camp lines and proceeded by various routes to "The Plateau" where the division was formed up in "line of battalions in column."

The weather was ideal, but the sun very hot and some of the men had to be carried off the field in the field ambulance to the hospital.

He mentioned the officers who were present and who had returned from the front and said that the fact of their having been overseas was a mark of good conduct as the department did not retain in their service any man who had been overseas and reported against from the other side.

He also spoke of the necessity of the men being thoroughly trained in the use of the rifle.

He further said that a great shortage of officers existed at present in the Canadian forces abroad, denying the rumor that there were a number of Canadian officers in England unemployed. He said that he would frequently visit the camp to watch the improvement in the work of the troops.

The officers then rejoined their units and three cheers were given for His Majesty the King and three more for the minister. After which he left the field and returned to his special train, leaving at once for Ottawa.

The afternoon was cancelled and the troops given a half holiday. Inoculation and Vaccination are being proceeded with in many battalions.

The 145th Battalion. The following officers have been appointed to the 145th Battalion of Montreal—Captain Percy Garfield Smith, 75th Regt.; Capt. Frederick Penwick Giggy, 74th Regt.; Lieut. Leigh Forbes Stevenson, 73rd Regt.; Lieut. Albert Guy Pierce, 73rd Regt.; Lieut. Wallace Waits Watling, 73rd Regt.; Lieut. Alfred William Bower, 73rd Regt.; Lieut. Fred Lorne Ford, 74th Regt.; Lieut. Herbert Gladstone Palmer, 74th Regt. Promotion.

Lieut. C. W. Reis, of the 163th, has been promoted to the rank of captain.

A CONTRAST.
 (From the London Advertiser.) Major Ernest Chambers, chief press censor of Canada, left Ottawa post haste to place the office of the South-West press under a guard because of an article detrimental to recruiting which appeared in the newspaper's columns.

Major Chambers works under the direction of Hon. Mr. Blodoin, Canada's Nationalist secretary of state, who once stated that in order to breathe the air of freedom in Quebec it might be necessary to shoot the bodies in the British garrison at Montreal, which prints articles detrimental to recruiting in every issue.

Major Chambers did not leavepost haste to suppress Le Devoir, the newspaper owned and edited by the late assassinated in the British garrison at Montreal, which prints articles detrimental to recruiting in every issue.

ADVERTISING IN THE DAILY PAPERS MADE WANAMAKER

When John Wanamaker, founder of the greatest retail store in the world, closed his first day's business in 1861, he had $24.67 "in the old-fashioned till under the counter." He left the sixty-seven cents in the till to start the second day's business and spent the $24 in newspaper advertising.

Ever since, he says, he has been using the daily newspapers because he found that the only advertising of direct and instant benefit to both merchant and customer is in the daily newspaper of known circulation.

Mr. Wanamaker tells the story in an open letter which he addressed to the Associated Advertising Clubs convention, which met recently in Philadelphia.

"This great advertising convention may do for Philadelphia a splendid work and its influence may spread the country over.

The advertising convention that assembled today at the University of Pennsylvania, for this week at least, draws the eyes of the whole country upon Philadelphia, and it is a very important convention, because its opportunities are so large.

From stores all over the country are waiting to see what it will do to clear up the uncertainties and remove the poison gases that have caused so many to begin to wonder whether advertising is a good thing for the customer or not. Use Only Daily Newspapers.

"When this little store closed its doors on its first day's business, away back in 1861, the sum of $24.67 was found in the old-fashioned till under the counter; the sixty-seven cents was left there for making change next morning and the $24 was taken out by the founder and spent with the newspapers, which were asked simply to say that the new store was open and doing business, and had a good stock of goods useful to the people."

"Our little allowance of advertising money went to the newspapers then, as it goes, nearly altogether, today, because, if I ever have a moment for discovering anything, it will be for finding out how to advertise."

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 8, 1916.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

WHY? Why does Lieut. Gov. Wood retain as one of his advisers a gentleman who is not a member of the legislature, and therefore not responsible to the people? Have we abandoned the principles of responsible government?

NEWS OF VICTORY

The victorious Russians continue their wonderful advance, and the German lines are falling back. The whole situation on the eastern front continues to improve.

In the west the week ends as it began with news of victory. It is true that the progress made there is much slower than in the east, but there are greater obstacles. Last night's cables told of brilliant British successes, which, though the advance was not great, are yet of great importance, and inflicted heavy losses upon the enemy.

The French are holding Verdun, and retain the positions gained on the Somme. The Italians report minor successes. The Russians have defeated Turkish forces in the region of the Caucasus. The tremendous pressure exerted on every side against the Central Powers, and the victories that are being won by the Allies must soon bring important changes. It is no longer a question of where Germany will strike next, but where she will yield ground to the Allies.

A STRIKING EXAMPLE

The editor of the Times wrote recently to Mr. Geo. W. Davies, superintendent of schools in Sank County, Wisconsin, regarding the wider use of school buildings, in which Sank County has gained a deserved pre-eminence. The Times was advised to write Mr. Davies by the extension department of the University of Wisconsin, which has played a most important part in connection with the wider use of school buildings throughout the state.

And Hon. P. G. Mahoney is still minister of public works. One way to help the cause of good roads is to get a change of government.

The British met the Prussian Guard again yesterday, and drove them back with heavy loss. The Kaiser will not relish this bit of news.

We are yet to hear from that German strategist of renown who was to be matched against the Russian commander. The Berlin promise is some weeks old but Russia drives on.

The best war news of the day is that of the forced retirement of the German armies in the east. The German people will soon begin to ask the Kaiser where his boasted victories are being won.

The police force of St. John is not large enough. The chief should have more men for control of traffic at important corners. We have an excellent force, which is doing excellent work, with long hours and short pay; but more men are needed, and the citizens should support an increase in the number.

County Country Life Association. We hold a picnic each year at a convenient place in the county, usually in the month of July, and in the winter a two-day and evening meeting is held with a banquet as a part of the evening programme. I am inclosing posters regarding these events last mentioned. At our last summer's picnic there were about three thousand present.

"In addition to the uses above mentioned, nearly all of the one hundred and fifty rural schools in Sank County hold one or more school socials. Often, times some means is provided whereby money is raised to add to the equipment of the school. Games and equipment for the play ground are purchased with money raised in this way. Over $2,000 was raised in this way by the schools of the county the past year.

"One of the most valuable and educational functions that the country schools have taken up in this county recently, is the holding of school district or agricultural fairs. Sometimes a single school holds a fair and in other cases, two or more schools join together. About forty of these fairs were held last year. Exhibits of school work, sewing, manual training, fruits, grains and vegetables are included in the exhibit at these school district fairs."

That the fame of Sank County schools has gone abroad is shown by the fact that in the last issue of the American Review of Reviews, just published, the following appears in the course of an article by Carl Holliday on 'The Country School's Re-Birth':

"Have you heard of Sank County, Wisconsin? It is fast becoming the talk of educational circles. Its motto evidently is 'We do it ourselves,' with the result that its initiative movements have revolutionized rural life within its borders. Within five years it has established the following institutions, customs and movements: boys' corn-growing contests; a country teachers' association; school fairs and entertainments netting several thousand dollars for the purchase of pictures and statuary; debating, declaiming, athletic, spelling, arithmetic, sewing and cooking contests or meets all over the county; a monthly printed bulletin published for the information of teachers, pupils, and parents on all subjects pertaining to local education; agricultural training 'out in the fields for man, woman and child; the serving of warm lunches to all students; a rural school survey with resulting maps and charts; school district agricultural fairs; farmers' clubs throughout the county (the first one bearing the euphonious name of The Skillet Creek Farmers' Club); the founding of thirty-two clubs and societies in the county so that everybody can have opportunity to air his views; a county school banquet every winter; a county school picnic every summer; community singing throughout the county."

Is there not a valuable lesson in all this for the rural and village communities of New Brunswick? Should not their school work be made more practical, and should not an educational campaign be conducted to arouse more of public interest in the schools and what they can be made to do toward making country life and agricultural pursuits more attractive? There is no other agency by which community life can be so generally developed, and we are far too slow in grasping the opportunity.

And Hon. P. G. Mahoney is still minister of public works. One way to help the cause of good roads is to get a change of government.

Northcliffe on The Battle Front

New Cook Gives His Own Impressions

GOOD WORD FOR CANADIANS

Comments on Individuality of Their Methods as Compared With Those of the German Soldiers—Play Their Own Game

Lord Northcliffe, owner of the London Times, the Mail and a score of other publications, speaks very modestly of his adventures at the front in a book he has just published. Reading the straightforward account of his experiences, it is difficult to identify him with the "Napoleon of Journalism," the dictator of British military policy that has been presented to the public by his business rivals, and particularly by the representatives of the "news press," the pacifists and others who strove to keep the British Empire out of the war even after Belgium had been invaded. Lord Northcliffe may be all that his enemies say, but in his book he writes with the utmost modesty and with a civilian's extreme admiration of the wonders he witnessed in France and Flanders. Now and then he speaks with appreciation of the Canadians. He talks with German prisoners, who expressed the greatest delight that they were away from Ypres, "where the ferocious British are."

Individual Fighters.

He adds his own to the great volume of testimony that the British, and particularly the Canadians and Australians, are "individual" soldiers. The men from overseas have made themselves famous along the battle front by devising particular "stunts." Little parties will "frame up" surrenders for the enemy. They do not disobey orders, but they exercise the Heaven-born faculty of invention. He talks with German prisoners, who expressed the greatest delight that they were away from Ypres, "where the ferocious British are."

He does what he has been taught to do. He is brave, too, as fierce as a wolf in a pack. But he is brave, in a different way, and Lord Northcliffe seeks to explain this by recalling the training of the average German. He has not been taught to think and act for himself; in his games he has not been told to "play his own game." He is accustomed to wait for orders; as though the war were a contest between officers, instead of a battle between soldiers.

Natural German Cruelty.

Lord Northcliffe writes—

"Germans are naturally, so far as the Prussians and Bavarians are concerned, extremely cruel. German non-commissioned officers when taken prisoners with their men treat their private soldiers with bullying severity that is astonishing, and officer prisoners decline absolutely to pay any attention to their men, even though they have been wounded. A French officer who had been taken prisoner by the Germans told me that though the Germans treated their lightly wounded men with extreme cruelty, because they wished to get these back into the front line quickly, the very same German wounded men were respected until the last. Indeed, the wounded man is not the hero in war that we make him at home. He is well looked after, but the chief object of an army is to get it men where they can do most work and to get them forward as rapidly as possible. Thus it is that the advance of new men to the battle front places where they are being rested, together with their supplies, takes precedence of everything on the road or railway. The object of both sides is to win; and while, as I say, every care is taken of the wounded, priority is given to the forwarding of fighting men."

The French Sentries.

The writer speaks of his visit to Verdun, and refers with obvious pleasure to the absolute strictness of the French sentries. He mentions the fact that when he got within twenty-five miles of the battle which was then raging he was stopped by a sentry, who would not permit him to pass. He was well equipped, as we may imagine, with credentials. He had his passport; he had a letter from the French Ambassador in London; he had a permit from Joffre's headquarters; he had a paper from the French War Office. He was accompanied by an officer of the French headquarters staff; he was in a military motor hearing the headquarters insignia; and the chauffeur and his assistant were in military uniform, wearing steel helmets. When he was halted he pointed out some of these facts to the sentry. The sentry said: "My instructions (pronounced) are not to permit any civilians to pass by night or by day." Finally numerous telephone conversations resulted in Lord Northcliffe getting through. He mentions incidentally that Joffre himself has been halted and challenged by sentries who did not know him.

Hospitals and Bravery.

The writer speaks of the wonderful work of the hospitals, and says that the arrangements of the British Medical Corps, the Red Cross and other institutions will be remembered as one of the great feats of the war. A man may be wounded at six in the evening, treated in a field hospital, given an operation and wake up in a London hospital at noon next day, having undergone a serious operation in the meantime. He refers also to the great part played by motor buses in the struggle. The soldier is not permitted to walk a step more than is necessary; he must arrive in the trenches fresh and full of light. Another paragraph is worth quotation: "For the rest this war is a horrible, grim, mechanical business. Bravery of course still counts, and British and French bravery has done much to meet the superiority in big units which the Germans undoubtedly had at the beginning."

CHILDREN GET GREEN FORTUNE

The will disposes of the estate of Mrs. Green's husband as directed in his will. This property goes to the son and daughter, with the provision that it is given "to the exclusion of any interest therein or control thereof by any wife or husband when he or she has or may have."

All jewelry, household furniture, portraits, paintings and other personal effects of Mrs. Green are to be divided equally between son and daughter as they may agree.

A trust fund is then provided for the daughter, and the son is directed to serve as trustee without pay in order that the daughter may have the benefit of his experiences.

Trust Fund for Daughter.

The will provides that the following bonds and mortgages shall be held in trust by the son and daughter for ten years, the income to be given to the daughter every three months and the capital to revert to her at the end of the trust; $100,000 of Houston & Texas Central Railroad general mortgage 4 per cent bonds; $75,000 of main line Houston & Texas Central first mortgage 5 per cent bonds; $100,000 of International & Great Northern Railroad first mortgage 5 per cent bonds; $100,000 of International & Great Northern Railroad second mortgage 5 per cent bonds; $25,000 of International & Great Northern Railroad third mortgage 5 per cent bonds; $1,500,000 of city of New York gold exempt 3 1/2 per cent bonds of Nov. 1, 1914; $1,000,000 of city of New York 5 1/2 per cent corporate stock, and $250,000 mortgage on the property of Henry A. Budd at 572 8th avenue, New York.

The residue of the estate is left to the son and daughter "in trust for ten years." No stipulation appears in the will as to the disposition of the estate after the trust expires.

Col. Green and Mrs. Wilks are named as joint executors. If one fails to perform the duties required, the document says that the other shall be given full power.

Mrs. Wilks was not present at the filing of the will. It was brought to the probate office by Col. Green and Charles W. Fisher, an attorney of New York.

Simple Burial Service.

The body of Mrs. Green was buried with simple ceremonies, beside that of her husband, Edward H. Green, who died fourteen years ago, in the family plot in the yard of the Immanuel Episcopal Church. A plain granite shaft, inscribed only with the family name, marks the spot.

Flowers from friends in many parts of the country were sent here for the funeral which was in keeping with Mrs. Green's simple tastes and desires. A spray of lilies and orchids, from the Countess Annie Leary of New York, a friend of long standing; a wreath from William B. Deland of New York, a business and personal friend; bouquets from business associates in Texas and elsewhere, and from relatives and friends were among the tributes.

The funeral service, attended by 200 persons, most of whom had known Mrs. Green as a resident of this village, followed the usual Episcopal ritual and was read by Rev. Alfred C. Wilson, the rector. There were two hymns, "I Heard the Sound of Voices" and "There is a Blessed Home."

The casket was a plain one, covered with broadcloth and mantled with white carnations. All the attendants at the services accompanied the procession to the church cemetery, where Mr. Wilson read the Episcopal service for interment.

Catarrah Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrah deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrah Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrah, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrah Cure acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrah Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrah Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

KING'S HOUSEHOLD GUARD LEAVING FOR FRANCE

In the piping times of peace, the British crack regiments of guards are always stationed in England, largely for show purposes, and are never sent away on foreign service. Things are different now and the picture shows a company of the stately Grenadier guards marching away from Buckingham Palace to the train to embark for France to do strenuous work at the Flanders front.

INTERESTING BIT OF LOCAL CHURCH HISTORY RECALLED

The acceptance by Rev. A. B. Cohee of the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Providence, R. I., where the first Baptist church in America was organized, and a church which is closely connected with Brown University, recalls an interesting bit of local church history. When Mr. Cohee was pastor of the Brussels street church in St. John, his failure to preach such sermons as some of the members desired led a number to withdraw, and there were even hints of a new home for the congregation. His earnest and insistent position, however, and finally tendered his resignation, and packed up to return to his native province of Ontario.

News of Maritime Men In The War

Nine recruits who enlisted in Fredericton with No. 8 Field Ambulance, being organized in St. John, have joined their units. They are Jas. Mulhern, George Higgins, W. F. Miller, W. T. Ross, Fleming, Edwin Dunham, A. B. Walker, E. J. Harding, Col. P. A. Guthrie, and H. R. Harrison.

NEWFOUNDLANDERS IN THE GREAT DRIVE

St. John, Nfld., July 8.—A further list of casualties in the Newfoundland regiment received yesterday shows that the regiment suffered severely in the big drive on the western front. The total casualties thus far are: Officers killed, four; missing, three; wounded, sixteen; privates dead of wounds, two; wounded, 150; making a total of 179. In addition it is feared that lists of privates killed and wounded have yet to be compiled, as it is unbelievable that such losses could have been met without numerous actual fatalities among the non-coms and men on the firing line.

The latest officer casualties are Lieuts. Dick, Warren and Bowtell, seriously wounded; Lieut. Clifford Rendell, reported missing, now is reported wounded; Lieut. Robert D. Roberts, privates killed or reported missing, including Bert Jackson of St. John's, and Graham Crosby of Bay Roberts. Virtually all the others wounded have been transported to London.

An additional casualty list last night showed fifty-eight soldiers wounded.

LOCAL NEWS

The measles epidemic still persists in the city. There were nearly sixty cases reported in June, but they are of a very mild type.

Thomas Thompson of 111 King street, city, was injured yesterday afternoon by a fall from the roof of a house.

In the supreme court yesterday afternoon, Military Police Constable Legally was found not guilty of the charge of bribery. The jury were out only a few minutes. The court adjourned until July 18 when the civil cases will be taken up.

Two boys riding the blind baggage were taken off at Moncton yesterday. The boys admitted that they were the two that escaped from the Boys' Industrial Home here, hence they were detained and will be brought back.

Raymond Sweeney, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sweeney of Chapel street, was severely injured yesterday while hunting for the father of a little child that had wandered into his home. He had been despatched to the street to bring the child home, and was struck by the driver of a passing loaded dump cart that he became entangled in the open air. Father Landry presided. He was removed to the hospital. The driver of the team made his get away before his name could be secured.

Infantile paralysis has entered Canada and five cases are reported in Montreal at the present time. There is an epidemic of the disease in New York and up to date 100 children have succumbed to the disease. The health commissioner has ordered the closing of all the public playgrounds until the disease has ceased. Cooperation will be required to prevent the disease from indoor crowds. St. John has never been visited by the disease.

THE WAR AND THE VALLEY RAILWAY

(Fredericton Gleaner.) If Roumania goes into the war on the Allies, or should she even cast her lot with the Central Powers, the labor market here will be affected.

In view of that country taking her place alongside the allies and Great Britain a large number of Roumanian reservists now in this country will be called back to their own homes to help Roumania decide to ally herself with Germany or the same reservists will be interned. Thus in any case the labor market is likely to suffer.

M. J. Poupore, of Poupore Bros, who has a contract on the St. John Valley Railway from Evandale to Oak Point, under Smith & Merritt, was in the city last evening at the Barker House. He is making a large number of contracts. They are being paid an average of $2 a day, and most of the laborers are secured from St. John and Halifax.

M. J. Poupore says that the work on his section is making excellent progress. They have seven cuts open at present, their work being the heaviest on the line. He is here arranging for the transportation of part of the company's plant which has been at the Barony, to Oak Point. The plant is being taken to Gilbert and loaded on large scows which are being towed to Oak Point. Already about eighty-five tons of light railroad material has been shipped in this way and there is the steam shovel, two donkey engines and sixty-two dump carts now at Gilbert to be loaded on the scows. Altogether about 250 tons will be taken to Oak Point in these scows, the firm having purchased a large part of the Hibbard Company's plant.

Mrs. W. N. Hand, of Woodstock, has received a card dated June 8, from her son, Gunner Wilfred Hand, who was first reported wounded, advising her he is a prisoner of war at Dinlen, West.

An additional casualty list last night showed fifty-eight soldiers wounded.

Lieut. F. B. Winter Led Daring Raid

Canadian Eye-Witness Tells of Exploit; Six Recruits Yesterday Afternoon; News of the Soldier

In his official despatch the Canadian eye-witness says: A raid on the trenches to its front was carried out by a New Brunswick battalion. The raiding party was led by Lieut. F. B. Winter, Lieut. A. S. Fleming and Company Sergeant-Major A. G. Gunn. A passage through the outer wire entanglements was cut by hand. When close to the German inner wire the party was detected by the enemy, who opened rapid fire. Our men, nevertheless, forced their way through the obstacle and reached the parapet. Most of the garrison fled. One man continued to fire through a covered loophole until Lieut. Winter pushed him through the opening and a wounded man, when he also ran away, leaving his rifle behind.

The German trenches were then entered and searched for several days. A second German was shot by Lieut. Winter but in the darkness managed to escape, while a third was unsuccessfully pursued by Sergeant-Major Gunn. After several articles of value for identification had been secured our party was attacked by hostile bombers. Lieut. Winter bore the signal to retire, and the whole raiding party returned to our trenches.

It was reported this week that Lieut. Winter had been wounded but the latest news regarding the gallant young soldier is that he escaped without wounds and is still safe and sound.

Six More Six recruits were secured at the recruiting rooms yesterday afternoon: William Gordon, St. John; George A. Burgess, Fairville, Douglas A. Shaw, St. John; Harold H. Hoyt, Hampton Village; J. T. Close, England, and Austin St. Stephen, New Brunswick.

Private Harold McKel of St. John, and Mrs. A. W. McKel, of Brown's Flats, was wounded a short time ago and is now convalescing in a hospital in England. Two other members of the family are in khaki, Sergeant George with the 40th and Ronald with the No. 4 Siege Battery.

The Third Brother Lieut. Robert Peterson, son of John Peterson of this city, left yesterday to join a military unit. He is the third son in the family to join the colors. The other two boys are Don, who went overseas with the Ammunition Column and William of the 106th Battalion.

Max. P. Killed On Race Track

Stumbled on Back Stretch and Broke Her Neck; Driver Thrown 20 Feet in Air

Athol, Mass., July 6.—There was a serious accident at the fair grounds yesterday when Max P., owned by H. T. Ruddy, of Fitchburg, and driven by Edward B. Athol, stumbled on the back stretch in the final heat of the 2:20 pacing class, turning completely over and throwing Rowe, her driver, 20 feet in the air. The latter rolled under the guard rail in the grass.

Both horse and driver lay motionless and at first it was feared both might be killed. Rowe was slightly stunned and managed to get up and walk to the barn, but the horse was unable to rise after being released from the harness, even assisted by dozens of men.

The veterinarian, who was one of the timers, said the horse had sustained a broken neck. The animal was placed on a board stretcher and drawn to one of the stables, where a little later it was shot at the request of owner Ruddy.

Max P. had a mark of $1,100, and last week he was second twice in 2:18 and 2:14 at Hillsboro and Mr. Ruddy said that he had been offered $1,000 for him and would have probably sold him. He was entered in a large number of $500 and $1,000 stakes this summer.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Julia Cripps of 20 Dorchester street, yesterday received a telegram announcing the death of her brother, William C. Quinlan at Barre, Vt. His wife was formerly Miss Carrie Peck. Besides his wife he is survived by three brothers and two sisters.

Bridge Cuts Ferry Revenue The report of the ferries department for the month of June gives the following figures and comparisons with June 1915: Passengers 128,708 against 168,286, decrease $4,518; teams, 8,415, against 8,079, increase 786; revenue $2,608.10, against $8,065.09, decrease $457.99.

The slump is attributed to the competition of the street railway since the improved service via the highway bridge was opened.

DREDGING AT BATHURST

The Bathurst harbor dredging, which it was feared would not be continued this season on account of conditions consequent on the war, has now been started, and it is expected that in a short time it will be being carried on about the same scale as last year. The dredging started to dig on Tuesday week, and the "Wayward" is now about ready, and it is expected that the tugs, which have not arrived yet, will arrive in the course of a week, and work will then go ahead rapidly.

BRITISH TRAPPING GERMAN WARSHIP IN JUTLAND BATTLE

Striking photograph of a torpedo boat attack on German warship in great naval conflict. Two lines of British "mosquito boats" are seen firing about the German fighting ship which afterwards sank. The British torpedo boats are really some miles away from the German ship, although in the picture they appear close together, due to the fact that the photo was taken from a British ship which can be seen just nosing into the picture.

RUSSIAN CAVALRY IN AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

The Czar's Cossack lancers, fearless and daring riders of the plains, who have been the vanguard of the victor's armies of General Brusiloff, on the eastern front.

HOW RUSSIAN INFANTRY WINS BATTLES

The pictures show vividly the secret of the present Russian grand advance into Austrian territory. In the upper picture they are preparing for their rush-in the lower they are charging en masse.

BRUSILOFF NOW MAN OF DESTINY

Great Russian Leader of the Hour

He Plans Far Ahead

Recognized as Strategist of Unusual Ability—Sees Active Service for First Time at Sixty Years of Age

Many Russians who hold that Tolstoy was a prophet as well as a philosopher, say that he foretold this war, and indicated General Brusiloff as the man who was to emerge from it, or being partial to Grand Duke, it is not to be expected that Tolstoy have referred to Nicholas, although military achievement the role would appear to have been all that was desired up to the time. But Brusiloff—the accent on the second syllable—seems to the prediction made by the Russian writer. If he is not to be the great outstanding man of the war he is at least the outstanding military leader of the present. He has had more important successes in a shorter time than any other leader on either side since the war began, and from what we can learn of his character he is likely to continue. He is not the sort of leader who can profit when the enemy is temporarily defeated. He is of the Moltke type, moves are planned long in advance, they are made along mathematical lines, they are not to be resisted, except when an abler general with better troops proposes him, and so far the war has developed no abler general, no better troops than the Russians. Relatives in Brooklyn. Until a month ago the name of Alexis Alexievich Brusiloff was absolutely unknown in this country. Now it is famous, and newspaper readers vie in mispronouncing it. Yet the world is a small place, and General Brusiloff has a sister-in-law in Brooklyn. Mrs. Charles Johnson, whose husband has written for the New York Times on several occasions. Naturally he writes now of his illustrious relative, and the enterprising Brooklyn Eagle has secured an interview with Mrs. Johnson. From these accounts we are able to get a pretty clear idea of the kind of man that General Brusiloff is. A Deeply Religious Man. His sister-in-law says: "He is a good man, a kind man, a modest man. Personal triumphs have no lure for him. Honors? He could have had them by the bushel. He is deeply religious in a mystical way. Whatever may befall him he considers himself the holder of a sacred trust. God has given him gifts above the ordinary, and Russia has

"I FEEL LIKE A NEW BEING"

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" Brought the Joy of Health After Two Years' Suffering.

MADAM LAPLANTE. 85 St. Rose St., Montreal, April 4th. "For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from Pain in the Back and Kidney Disease. I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried "Fruit-a-lives" as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no Headaches, no Palpitation, no Heart Trouble, no Constipation, no Pain or Kidney Trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was "Fruit-a-lives" that gave me back my health."

granted him the opportunity to make use of these gifts for her cause, which is knit up with the cause of humanity. When he arrived at Kovno a short time before he took up his command he traveled simply as A. A. Brusiloff, with nothing to indicate his high rank. He spent a few days in walking about and chatting with officers and men, and until his staff arrived nobody knew his importance. With his staff came his wife, who was allowed, like the wives of other officers, to visit her husband for a fortnight once in three months. At the end of that period she had made herself so popular that it was suggested to the general that her stay should be prolonged, a privilege it was quite within his power to grant. He refused, however, on the ground that his wife was entitled to no more privileges than other officers' wives. He also refused the courtier-like suggestion that she be permitted to enter the trenches at some safe point, an act that would surely have won for her a decoration from the Czar. But he sent his wife home, and with her the corps of newspaper correspondents who had been permitted to visit the front. Important events were pending. He smiled at their malcontents, but he was very firm—nobody should be in the camp but men who were going to fight.

PREPARING FOR THE BIG DRIVE

The Real Offensive or Merely a Feint? Critics Still Speculating

Allies' Preparations Wonderfully Complete—Will go Through Either This Year or Next

For weeks if not for months, past it has been known that there would be "something doing" on the Western front this summer. It was generally expected that this would be the "big drive," that the British were ready to apply their whole strength to the task of pushing the Germans out of Flanders and France. We cannot be sure even yet whether this is the great offensive, the main offensive which will be undertaken by the British this year, whether it is designed to actually drive the Germans out of their present position or whether it is a feint, the real offensive to take place at some other point along the line, or whether it is a sacrifice to help Petain at Verdun. So the speculation that was begun a couple of months ago is not yet at an end. We only know at this time that the move has succeeded, so far as it has gone, whatever its object.

FRUIT-A-LIVES

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" Brought the Joy of Health After Two Years' Suffering.

MADAM LAPLANTE. 85 St. Rose St., Montreal, April 4th. "For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant Headaches, and had Palpitation of the Heart so badly that I feared I would die. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and the Constipation was dreadful. I suffered from Pain in the Back and Kidney Disease. I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried "Fruit-a-lives" as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no Headaches, no Palpitation, no Heart Trouble, no Constipation, no Pain or Kidney Trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was "Fruit-a-lives" that gave me back my health."

granted him the opportunity to make use of these gifts for her cause, which is knit up with the cause of humanity. When he arrived at Kovno a short time before he took up his command he traveled simply as A. A. Brusiloff, with nothing to indicate his high rank. He spent a few days in walking about and chatting with officers and men, and until his staff arrived nobody knew his importance. With his staff came his wife, who was allowed, like the wives of other officers, to visit her husband for a fortnight once in three months. At the end of that period she had made herself so popular that it was suggested to the general that her stay should be prolonged, a privilege it was quite within his power to grant. He refused, however, on the ground that his wife was entitled to no more privileges than other officers' wives. He also refused the courtier-like suggestion that she be permitted to enter the trenches at some safe point, an act that would surely have won for her a decoration from the Czar. But he sent his wife home, and with her the corps of newspaper correspondents who had been permitted to visit the front. Important events were pending. Decauville. Heretofore one tremendous advantage possessed by Germany has been in her railroad system, what she built in her own country before the war and what she seized or constructed in enemy territory now in her possession. Not only was she able to shuttle troops between Poland and Flanders by means of this system, or between Ypres and Verdun, but in the course of a battle she was able to clean up her front, that is, to retrieve her wounded and take back her prisoners, and also to send forward fresh troops as fast as they were needed. Before a battle began she was able to place immense stores of ammunition and other supplies where she would need them so that the lines would not be cluttered up with stores after the battle had begun, but could be exclusively used for troops.

The Allies, on the other hand, have not yet been able to meet Germany on even ground so far as railroad transport is concerned. More than once victory has been denied them because they did not have the rails or the rolling stock to get reserves into the trenches fast enough—in other words, by being unable to follow up initial success and consolidate the ground won. Behind the British lines, however, there are more railroads than behind the German position, and as fast as the British infantry advances a mile engineers lay a mile of track. These roads have already been of vital importance in bringing to the front, or at convenient spots back of the front, innumerable quantities of guns. Mr. Corey quotes a British officer, who says that the ground back of the front fairly "crawls" with batteries of big guns that have never been used. They are hidden behind haystacks. They are buried in the ground. Thousands of tons of ammunition and all kinds of supplies have also been buried, to be produced only when the great offensive has been launched.

The British field telephone system is said to be better than the French government-owned system. Concrete poles and proper insulation have been installed. In fact, so admirable is the system that it will be presented to France at the end of the war. Regarding the manufacture of shells, Mr. Corey says he was recently in a shell factory, and it was not the largest in France, in which 16,000 people were employed. As for the army there are ready to go into the British trenches 1,000,000 men. This does not include the soldiers of the supply corps, the relay corps, the bridge-building corps, and others amounting to probably another 600,000 men, usually included in estimates of an army's strength. As to the quality of the soldiers, Mr. Corey did not speak, but the actions of the last few days in which the Highlanders, the Ulstermen and the Lancashire clerks distinguished themselves relieves all possible anxiety on this score. It is now "up to" the general.

MILLION DOLLARS FOR PERMANENT ROADS

F. B. Carvell, M. P., and E. S., Carter Outline Opposition's Policy in Charlotte County Speeches—Of Striking Importance to Farmers and All Others Who Use Highways.

A million dollars for permanent roads. A million dollars to be spent by a competent board of engineers and business men upon the trunk highways of New Brunswick.

A million dollars to be borrowed by the province of New Brunswick, and the interest and sinking fund paid every year out of the motor vehicle licenses paid into the general revenue.

These were the substance of an important declaration made by F. B. Carvell, M. P., to the opposition conference held in St. Stephen's last week.

He told the prominent men present that while he thought New Brunswick had far too great a debt and a tremendous liability at the present time, yet the condition of the roads of the province was intolerable and the present system of road making must be abandoned in a great measure.

"We must," he said, "follow the example of other provinces and build roads of a permanent character. We can start first upon the roads connecting the larger market centres and follow it up as our revenues from motor vehicles increase. Last year that revenue amounted to nearly $30,000; this year it will increase probably to $40,000. Automobiles have decreased in price and many people who could not afford them years ago now find them more adaptable for their use than horses."

The platform of the opposition adopted last January in St. John forecasted such a policy and he said plainly that it could not come into effect too soon.

The great benefit of good roads, Mr. Carvell said, would be felt more by the farmers than the automobile owners and yet the interest upon the borrowed money necessary to improve the roads would be paid out of the motor vehicle license fund.

Mr. Carvell said it would only be fair in his opinion that automobile owners should be represented upon the board that would spend this money. A million dollars could be borrowed at first and as the revenues from the constantly increasing motor vehicles increased the amount of borrowings could increase. "But we must have better roads if we want a prosperous and contented people."

A Necessity.

E. S. Carter also pointed out that the platform of the opposition provided that the people should control the roads and that the appointment of supervisors should be taken out of the hands of the government. In other words: "The roads must be taken out of politics."

At the present time many of the supervisors were better political workers than they were roadmakers. Men were not always appointed for their skill at road-making. The opposition also promised that every man who paid a dollar of road taxes should know how and where that money is spent; that the supervisor would be selected by the people; would have to publish his accounts and let every man examine them, and then if at the next meeting they approved of his work they could elect him again. If not, they would select some other man for the job. The government money for each parish would be placed to the credit of the parish with the county secretary and when the road auditor approved of the supervisors' accounts the bill would be promptly paid.

There would be no delay sending accounts to Fredericton or necessary to have the "O. K." of members. The responsibility would be placed upon the people and he had no doubt they would discharge it as faithfully as they now did their school duties. There would not be a five-cent piece stolen from the road monies if the man who spent the money knew that his neighbors would audit his accounts.

"The Question of the Hour."

These explanations of the opposition road policy were highly commended by those present, many of whom said the necessity for good roads was the question of the hour.

War News of Last Night Good

London, July 7—The British troops, in their new advance, have gained several important successes, among which are the capture of a further portion of an immensely strong position known as the Leipzig redoubt, according to the official statement issued by the London war office tonight.

East of La Boisselle the British have captured German trenches on a front of nearly 2,000 yards to a depth of five hundred yards. In the direction of Ovillers the British have forced their way into the village, after capturing five hundred yards of the German front.

North of Fricourt the British drove the enemy from two woods and captured three lines of trenches.

An attempt by the Prussian Guards to stem the advance east of Contalmaison was crushed by the British fire, and 700 prisoners of various regiments were taken. Contalmaison was stormed but was retaken by the Germans in a strong counter-attack.

Never before in the history of the war has Germany been called upon to meet a strong double offensive on both the western and eastern fronts. General Haig's "we resumed a vigorous offensive" coming on top of the opening of a new offensive against Marshal Hindenburg by General Evert's is a new experience for the German staff. General Evert's attack is being met on a hundred mile front, running roughly from the Vilna line north to Baranovitch in the south. The seriousness of the crisis is reflected in the paucity of information given the German public in Berlin's official bulletins, which, however, at last admit the loss of Hem and Belloy, on the western front.

Petrograd, July 7, via London, 7.20 p.m.—Following up their advance in the region of the Lower Stry, the Russians have occupied two villages and a railway station.

The war office announcement of today says that the villages of Komarow and Grady and the railway station of Manevitchi are now in Russian hands.

These three points are in the region to the west of Cartorysk, where there has been violent fighting for several days, the Germans having thrown in heavy reinforcements to check the Russian advance toward the important strategic position of Kovel.

The Manevitchi station is 14 miles west of Cartorysk, on the railway line between Sarny and Kovel. Komarow and Grady are southwest of Cartorysk. A German retirement in this region was announced in Berlin today.

French Hold at Thiaumont.

Paris, July 7—Repeated and violent attacks by the Germans on the French positions at Thiaumont enabled them to obtain a footing in the French advanced trenches but they were driven out by a counter-attack, according to the official statement issued by the French war office tonight. No action is reported from the Somme sector.

MAY ORGANIZE TWO DIVISIONS IN CANADA

Ottawa, July 7—A proposal is under consideration by the minister of militia to mobilize and train in Canada two complete infantry divisions which would be ready to leave for overseas practically in shape to proceed at once to the front.

Hitherto the organizing and training of divisions has been done in England.

To carry out the scheme six provincial or district brigades are contemplated. These would include a Nova Scotia brigade, already almost raised as a Highland brigade under Colonel Borden; a brigade from New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island; a brigade from Quebec, two brigades from Ontario and a brigade from the western provinces. Details of the proposal are now being worked out. Action is likely to be taken shortly by the militia council to deal a little more severely with officers and men who put the country to expense and detract from their own efficiency by indulging in idleness or other immoral conduct resulting in consequent sickness and absence from duty.

Hereafter when illness is found to be due to the carelessness or immorality of the men themselves commanding officers will have authority to cancel part of the regular pay and allowances until the culprits are reported fit for duty again.

War Maps Won't Feed People.

(Westminster Gazette.)

The Chancellor's war maps do not feed the German people or reinforce their armies. The great extension of lines offers, on the contrary, a most perplexing military problem, when the enemy will not make peace and victorious armies cannot be replenished. That lesson has come home to all the conquerors in history, and we believe we can bring it home to Germany. We understand the passionate desire to make peace according to the map, the vehement protests that Germany is not responsible for this "stupidest of wars," as Herr Ballin has called it, but we have our work to do, and we mean to do it to the end.

Mr. Advertiser, Suppose We Consider This Saint John Market and Its Great Home Paper

You want to increase your business here if a manufacturer—and your sales if a retailer. Are you exerting every legitimate means toward this end? St. John is a city of some 50,000 population, or 12,000 homes. Every week approximately $75,000 is spent for groceries (retail); $35,000 a week for dry goods and sundries; $9,000 a week goes towards keeping the family 'hod; Little Willie needs at least $5,000 a week to keep him in school clothes and school supplies; and the monthly bill for the rest of the family totals possibly some $15,000. To say nothing of the thousands spent weekly for furniture, hardware, jewelry, drugs, candy, etc.

The total number of families in St. John corresponds to the total city circulation of the Times. In other words, you can reach all these families by talking to them through the one paper. Do you take advantage of this and spread your wares on the common counter with sufficient regularity to influence their consideration of Your Goods, Prices and Service?

How about You, Mr. Manufacturer? Reaching hard after that green-field trade—the distant market? Or are you cultivating to the full the market that lies at your own door—the Local Market?

The circulation figures published below will show how simple it is to cover at one expenditure this field. The net circulation for the period covered is some 14,900—and 93% of this is within the city limits. Note that the street sales alone are more than 10,000. Years ago the old Gazette smashed all local records by printing 7,000 copies in one day—a wonderful achievement for that period. The ordinary day's run of the Times today is more than double that amount!

No city on the continent is more effectively covered by one paper than is St. John by the Times, and our advertising rate is lower per thousand of circulation than any paper in the east.

Let's get together, Mr. Local and Mr. National Advertiser and get the maximum of business from this field!

The Times Is a Member of the A.B.C.

A Few Words About Cooperation

Unfortunately too many newspapers are satisfied with merely disposing of their white space and feel that their obligation ceases with the selling of the space. In other words they sell SPACE instead of a MARKET.

The Times long ago foresaw that the trend of things was towards CO-OPERATION and that the signing of the contract was in reality the beginning and not the end of the obligation. That to make that space PAY the advertiser was the main thing.

In this connection a free cut service was installed and every assistance possible rendered the merchant in the preparation of his copy. This was the first and bravest step ever made in the history of local space selling in the direction of co-operation. And the gain in advertising volume in The Times during the last few years shows the idea to be a winner.

That the National buyers of space are appreciative of our endeavor to more than go half-way is evidenced by the following excerpts from letters received.

A national advertiser had started a big campaign in the Times when we found that his distribution was faulty. We told him so. He replied: "We believe there is a good supply of X—in St. John now as the wholesalers have their shipment there. We certainly appreciate your action in writing us."

Conditions in a certain staple market were furnished to a Montreal Agent and he writes: "Thanks very much for your information regarding A—in your market. This will be of considerable assistance."

A little out of the ordinary co-operation brought this from an American Agent with Toronto office: "We appreciate the trouble you have taken in the D—orders." And later one from the same agent in connection with another client: "Thank you very much for your letter which is very helpful and which we appreciate."

These are only straws which show which way the wind lists in this field, and the cooperation and assistance given above is open to any advertiser—present or prospective—in St. John, in the Province or in the Dominion.

What Is This A.B.C.?

The A. B. C.—the Audit Bureau of Circulations—is the one independent and authentic audit of newspaper circulation and is the outcome of the demands of buyers of advertising space that true circulation figures be procurable. Its membership consists of the buyers of space—the National Advertisers, and the Advertising Agents—and the Sellers of space—the publishers of periodicals. Its office is in Chicago and it has a staff of some thirty auditors covering the continent from coast to coast.

It is an organization that in its short life so far has sounded the death knell of circulation falsifiers and has made the small minded juggler of circulation figures either produce evidence or drop from the running.

Membership in the A. B. C. means that the member has submitted to the exacting audit of the organization, has stood the acid test of its rigid examination and that the books of that member are always open to the inspection of all advertisers interested.

The Times, together with The Daily Telegraph, is a member of the A. B. C. and early this year submitted to an audit. And it is significant that The Times is the only Evening paper between Montreal and Halifax, with the exception of Sherbrooke, that is an A. B. C. member.

The following unsolicited remarks from careful buyers of advertising is of interest:

The Toronto office of an International Agency writes: "Fine showing in your A. B. C. Report. Fine Showing. More success to you."

From an expert in the Toronto field: "I am mighty glad to know that you have had an A. B. C. audit. This is something that can be passed on to a client with considerable pleasure. Wish all the papers would fall into line."

Here's Hoping He Gets His Wish!

A Montreal agent who also publishes a newspaper directory of international use writes in part: "We are very pleased indeed to receive this (A. B. C. Report) and TO NOTE THE VERY COMPLETE CIRCULATION WHICH YOU HAVE IN YOUR DISTRICT."

The Man In The Street

It's a toss-up whether we go swimming or sleighing this afternoon.

Oh, well, we're saving money on the ice bills these days.

It was a chillier day than this for the Germans when Winter struck them, according to the correspondent's report of the gallant lieutenant's exploit.

North end folk are still waiting for the new pavements.

And, in the meantime, the only way to cross Main street without getting the shoes muddy is by taking a running broad jump, or a ferry.

Who Needs Them Most?

It is a laudable enterprise for a contemporary to distribute Bibles, but do their subscribers need them more than the staff? A study of the Word of Truth might be profitable, even to the editor. And a few complimentary copies to their friends in the provincial government might have a beneficial effect.

Kilts for Economy

Sir Sam Hughes has countermanded the order that no more kilts will be issued for Canadian soldiers, on account of expense, giving the reason for the reversal of the order the discovery that kilts are more economical than trousers. A notable discovery! What effect will it have on men's fashions generally, in these days of the high cost of living? Will the government department of conservation and thrift advise the honest working man to cut down his pants account by substituting the sly kilts? Will the members of the government set the people a good example in this new way to "save and serve"? Who will prove himself a patriot by setting the fashion? All it needs is a leader, and soon we will see the economical millionaire and the poverty stricken tramp, with the economists of all the intermediate grades, proudly wearing the kilts and adding to their savings bank account.

That U. S.-Mexican war flailed out just in time to allow the newspapers across the border to find front page space for the allies' big offensive.

Seventeen to Three.

It is said that the patronage committee met last night and, as usual, they had something to worry about. This time it was the lack of an influential party organ. One of the leaders made the bold announcement that, the last time he counted it up in a cab on the suburban train, he found seventeen persons reading the opposition journal, while only three of the faithful had sacrificed their desire for news to party loyalty and had purchased the government morning organ. Others chipped in with similar evidence; they could not blame the citizens for wanting to read a good newspaper and neglecting to read a poor one, they agreed that, from a party standpoint, it was a sad state of affairs. The government organ does not seem to be able to play a popular tune.

The Amateur Gardener

It's not safe to mention gardening topics to a certain young man these days. In the time he can spare from his work on one of the rivet steamers he has been devoting himself to gardening this spring. It was a new departure and his friends jollied him about it; he was confident of success, however, and assured them the laugh would be on his side when his vegetables came up and he could pick his produce fresh from mother earth. He was laying special emphasis on the cucumber bed he had planted and his mouth watered as he told of the juicy cucumbers he would be enjoying later in the season. One of his friends, a girl by the way, got tired of hearing of these cucumbers and planned a little surprise for him. Visiting the garden she substituted for the cucumber seeds some other seeds of a different variety. In due time they came up; the diligent gardener did not know the difference and tended them with care. No weeds were allowed to flourish in that patch and, in dry weather, the watering can was used faithfully. The sprouts thrived amazingly; their growth was so rapid and the stalks so vigorous that the gardener found fresh reasons for crowing. Everything went well until another friend, who knew something about plants and vegetables, visited the patch and identified the crop. They were sunflowers.

Interesting as Usual, Q.M.S. Frank Jennings Heard From

Music From No. 5 A. S. C. Band Concert Waived on Evening Breeze as He Writes—Talks With Capt. Geo. Gambin and Lieut. Arthur Finn

Q. M. S. Frank X. Jennings writing to his mother under date of June 13, says in part:

"It seems quite a while since I wrote you, but I have sent you some cards, and to say the least does not give much information, but nevertheless tells you that I am well. I wrote to Ned and found a card in the mail next day saying he was in England. I have written him and told him there was a possibility of his getting leave soon and for him to hold off a little bit as he is likely to be in England some time yet, so that, when I am free, he can get a pass and we could do a bit of touring together.

"Not far from where I am are the No. 4 & 5, who at one time were in St. John and they are having a band concert over the tonight. I can hear 'You're here and I am here', 'Love me while the loving is good', 'I hear you calling me' and others floating across on the evening's breeze. Tonight is the first time we have had since a week, and I tell you it feels fine.

"I often wonder who is left in St. John now. I do not think it possible for me to go out anywhere along the Canadian line without meeting a friend from your home town. I had a long talk with Capt. George Gambin, O.C. No. 1 Section D. A. C. last evening and he asked me to remember him to you all.

"I was very much pleased in reading in one of my recent editions of the 'Times' (which by the way come in bunches), that Jack had received his commission. Just forward him my congratulations.

"You should see the peasant women here cleaning house on Saturday. As the floors are all stone they just simply put some water on them and then sweep. Sounds simple, doesn't it?"

"I understand that Frank Corr is near here (evidently not knowing that the gallant young officer has since met his death), but I have not seen him. I saw Lieut. Arthur Finn in nearby town yesterday. He used to be in St. John. No more news now, but will write again when opportunity offers."

LIEUT. MELLOR WAS KILLED IN ACTION

Rev. T. C. Mellor, rector of St. James' church, Kentville, received word by telegram on Thursday afternoon from Newfoundland of the death of his eldest son, Lieut. Frederick Courtney Mellor, killed in action on July 1st.

Lieut. F. C. Mellor was educated at the Collegiate School, Windsor, and afterwards joined the staff of the Commercial Cable Co., at Hazel Hill. About six years ago he was transferred to St. John's, Nfld. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted with the Newfoundland regiment and went overseas with the First Contingent. His regiment did duty at Inverness and Edinburgh Castle. While there he was given his commission as lieutenant. He returned to Newfoundland in 1915 for more men, and on his arrival in Scotland trained his men at Newton-on-Ayr. About five months ago he, with his regiment, went over to France.

His only brother is a lance-corporal in the Canadian Engineers, and went over with the First Contingent.

BOYS' REQUESTS PROMPTLY GRANTED

Working Lads Ask For Allison Playgrounds in Evenings

THEY CALL ON EXECUTIVE

Reports on Centennial and Peters Playgrounds—A Big Place For Boys—Gratifying Word as to Girls' Club and Travelers' Aid

Something new in connection with playgrounds in St. John occurred last evening when Mrs. W. C. Matthews, supervisor of the Allison playgrounds, introduced to the executive of the Playgrounds Association six working boys from the south end, who asked that the Allison ground be open for them and other boys from 8:30 to 9:30 each evening, beginning on Monday next, and pledging their honor to take as good care of the apparatus as if it were their own. The executive promptly granted the request.

Regarding the Centennial and Peters playgrounds at the foot of Hanover street is being leveled and rolled and will make a large and excellent ground for boys. It was decided to endeavor to place a supervisor there for the holiday season and conduct a great boys' playground.

Necessary supplies for the different supervised playgrounds were ordered. Gratifying reports were received from the Girls' Club and Travelers' Aid. The summer camp of the former at Drury Cove Mrs. G. Lane, who is in charge, girls are urged to take advantage of the week-end opportunity to enjoy a delightful outing.

Any citizen having a gramophone and records, and willing to loan them for use on the playgrounds would confer a great favor. Tennis rackets and balls are also needed.

Rev. W. G. Lane has been added to the visiting committee for Centennial and Aberdeen grounds. He visited them on forty-three different days last summer, this acting as example to the citizens generally. Miss Grace Leavitt was added to the committee for the Allison grounds.

With regard to the finances of the association, which has not enough money to carry on its work throughout the year, the treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Dishart, was able to report last night that the receipts for June were several dollars in excess of the expenditures. All the playgrounds will be in full swing next week.

R. E. Armstrong presided at last night's meeting and the others present were Mrs. E. E. Holman, Mrs. R. A. Corbett, Miss Goodwin, Miss Parks, Miss Leavitt, W. G. Lane, Geo. W. Day, W. F. Noble and A. M. Belding.
