OPERA HOUSE ACTOR, STRICKEN
IN STREET, DIES IN AMBULANCE

Charles H. Stevens Had Just Finished Rehearsal and Was on His Way to Hotel When He Was Overcome

EX-MAYOR GALE, VANCOUVER

Charles Howard Stevens, a member of the F. James Carroll Players, now showing at the Opera House, died suddenly in the street here today at noon, a few minutes after leaving a rehearsal of the piece with which the company will open this week's engagement. He was walking along Sydney street when he collapsed. Deskmans O'Neill and Policeman Coughlin, who were nearby, rushed to his assistance and he was taken into Watson's drug store. The ambulance was called by Mr. O'Neill and the man was taken to the hospital, but passed away before the words reached the institution.

He is in Montreal to ask the Canadian National Railways to put idle merchant marine vessels into the Vancouver-Liverpool route. He is also making them of sufficient grain cargoes to make the experiment profitable.

New York Man Writes to Commissioner Bullock
About Armstrong Story.

Commissioner Bullock has received from Herbert Remington, No. 15 East 40th street, New York, a letter asking for the piece of wood washed ashore here recently on which was found the signature of the late E. E. Armstrong, with her crew had found. Mr. Remington said that in his opinion the piece of wood was from the schooner E. E. Armstrong, which he had loaded with a cargo of flour, ale, wines and cornmeal on the Armstrong and Captain Burns, then of the schooner, had asked him to make the trip on the schooner, but Remington had declined. He refused to sign a statement as having been posted as missing at Lloyd's. Mr. Bullock requests that the present possessor of the piece of wood communicate with him as soon as possible.

STANLEY BALDWIN BOOSTED BY BEAVERBROOK AND OTHERS FOR PREMIERSHIP

Universal Regret that Mr. Law's Health Has Compelled Resignation—What Papers and People Have to Say of the Situation.

(Canadian Press)
London, May 21.—Political gossip is almost unanimously of the opinion that Stanley Baldwin, secretary of state for foreign affairs, will be offered the premiership and that either he or Stanley Baldwin will be the successor to Andrew Bonar Law, who has resigned because of ill health.

Lord Beaverbrook writing in the Sunday Express says: "Whether his tenure of the Premiership be long or short he already has done more than look at affairs at home or abroad in administrative, diplomatic and financial matters."

Mr. Law's resignation was a relief to the public. The resignation was presented to King George, who is believed to be in favor of Mr. Baldwin.

U. S. WAR CLAIMS AGAINST THE GERMANS FAR BEYOND BILLION

Government Largest Claimant—Individual Bills From $1 Up To $22,606,000 in Sinking of Lusitania

(Canadian Press)
Washington, May 21.—The bill of U. S. war claims against Germany amounts to $1,479,064,313.82, as it has been presented to the mixed claims commission for settlement.

The U. S. Government itself is the largest claimant, asking for $806,115,000, while the smallest of the 12,416 claims filed with the commission is for $1.

Leading the list of claims by individuals are those growing out of the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine. They total $22,606,000 and may be disposed of first by the commission, Germany having already admitted liability, but not in definite amounts.

The stupendous total involved in the proceeding is revealed for the first time in a report made to the State Department by Robert C. Morris, agent for the U. S. on the commission. Works on determining the amounts Germany must pay already has been begun by the commission. The U. S. claims are to be disposed of without regard to the allied reparations claims.

INFERIORITY COMPLEX MAY BE MOTIVE BEHIND "POISON PEN" LETTERS

GEORGE MAXWELL, SOCIETY CONFIDANT, INDICATED AS ALLEGED WRITER OF SCURRILOUS LETTERS REFLECTING ON WIFE OF ALLAN A. RYAN, FINANCIER, AND MRS. ALBERT B. GALLATIN, REPORTED TO HAVE RECEIVED SOME OF THE "POISON PEN" LETTERS WHOSE WRITERS ARE SOUGHT BY THE AUTHORITIES.

New York, May 21.—What is the motive behind the flood of scurrilous letters reflecting on a dozen New York society women? Officials are frankly puzzled. They do not believe the writer of the letters sought blackmail. At least not directly. There is considered the possibility of the existence of a widespread plot, directed perhaps by a malevolent genius who for the last ten years has enjoyed peculiar delight in the breaking up of several homes, the death of at least one prominent business man and driving one woman insane—all happenings attributed by the District Attorney's office to the reactions to the "poison pen" letters.

JEWELERS AND THE FASHIONS

Chicago, May 21.—(A. P.)—An attempt will be made by American jewelers this summer to dictate the jewelry styles of the future, according to P. J. Coffey, of Newark, N. J., who was recently chosen president of the National Jewelry Association.

"Jewelry styles have no authoritative source," said Mr. Coffey. "They are largely accidental. A reigning Parisian actress whose ears are not properly adorned with her hair, the feminine world buries its ears under a new coil of wire, and long pendant earrings are the rage."

FOG FORCES BERENGARIA'S PILOT TO GO ON A VOYAGE TO EUROPE

New York, May 21.—Because of the dense fog hanging over the entrance to New York Harbor one day last week the pilot of the Cunarder Berengaria was carried on to Southampton. Captain W. R. D. Irvine, R. N. R., the master, believed that it was better to do this than to risk an accident by dodging about in the fog trying to find the pilot cutter off the Ambrose Channel. Lightship pilots have often been driven across the Atlantic because the weather was too rough to permit them to be taken off the ship in the yawl

Mrs. Alex. Marshall, Sprucedale, Ont., writes: "When my little son was three months old he broke out in sores on his chest and arms. We did all we could to heal those terrible sores, but nothing did him much good. Finally I ventured on a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and kept on using it. At last we were rewarded by the steady healing of the sores, and finally he was completely relieved of them. He is now three years old, and has had no return of the trouble since."

Deep-Seated Abscess in the Hip.

Remarkable Recovery after undergoing three operations without success. One report is of Mrs. LAWSON, of 100 St. Nicholas Street, Boston, England, who writes—

"I am writing to tell you of the benefit I have received from your Clark's Blood Mixture. I had a deep-seated abscess in my hip and was laid up about fourteen months and had three operations. Still I was no better, so I tried your Clark's Blood Mixture. The first bottle I used fetched the pus out more than ever, and by the time I had taken half the second bottle I began to eat better, and the discharge ceased to get less. I persevered with the Mixture, and after a few weeks began to get about a little and cruised out of doors. Then I began to get stronger, and now I am feeling better than I have done for years. The abscess is quite healed and can now do my work and walk quite a long distance with a stick. I am sure if people suffered from this ailment, they would give Clark's Blood Mixture a fair trial it would do them good."

CLARK'S BLOOD MIXTURE, because of its remarkable blood-purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Head Aches, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases, Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout, Pleasants to take and free from anything harmful.

The Marriage Game

The Snappiest of Pastimes As Played to a Decision Every Day

By Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hatton

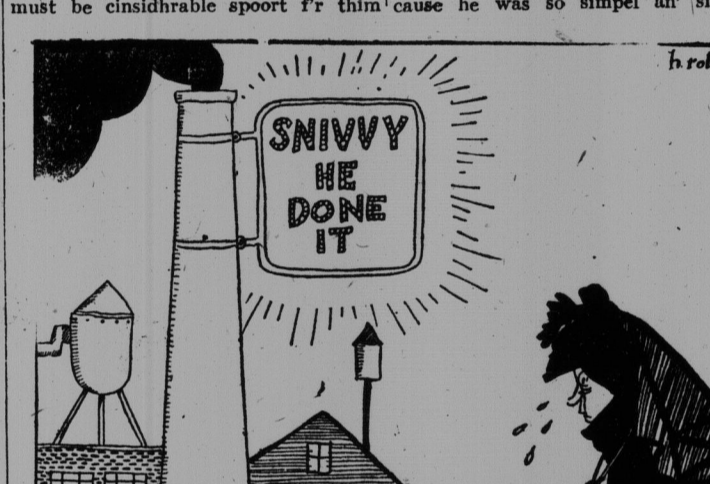

GOING BACK TO EDEN.

Her Play:—Please don't talk so much about money. Money isn't everything. Indeed, in the marriage game, money is about the least consequential thing there is. A man is just unable to see it that way—that's all. A man may be unkind and selfish and thoughtless and cruel five days in the week, and he believes that if on the sixth day he gives his wife ten dollars for a new hat, he has purged himself of his sins and everything is hunky-dory. How would you like to have a cross and bad-tempered for a week and then try to square accounts by giving your gassy summer dress?

Mr. Dooley On Making A Will

By FINLEY PETER DUNNE.

"I never made a will," said Mr. Dooley. "I didn't want to give money to anybody but I'm not a miser. I'd like to have a headache thinkin' 'iv somethin' to put into it. A will iv mine wud be a puny little thing anyhow an' if any wan thried to file it he'd be lible to be locked up fr contempt iv th' Probate Court."

"Nivvivy, He Done It."

Practical Pointers Concerning Wires in All Its Branches. To Eliminate "Howling." Radio sets may sometimes be kept from "howling" by the placing of the grid leak wires as far apart as possible. It is also advisable to plan the wiring so as to be sure that the smallest amount of wire is used in connecting the different components.

Joining Wires Without Solder. When it is impossible to solder a joint the wires should be scraped until bright, twisted together and wrapped tightly with tin or lead solder. Cover the joint with friction tape in such a way as to keep the water from entering the joint. By this method the wires are kept from corrosion caused by the elements, and if properly done this is as good as a soldered joint.

Proper Care of Vacuum Tubes. Because the vacuum tube is the most sensitive electrical device ever invented, it should always be handled carefully to obtain the maximum service. It is not necessary to have the tube brightly lighted in order to receive signals. Use protective fuses for the filament; in case the wires ever should cross, the fuses will be burned out and not the tube. By mounting the socket on springs, the life of the bulb will be lengthened greatly. Every time a hard object is laid upon the table that the set rests upon a ringing sound is heard in the phone, which is caused by the glass in the tube that has responded to the jolt.

For the Notebook. Complications arise when radio frequency is added to the set. A radio receiving set will work just as well unmounted as in a cabinet. A single wire 100 to 200 feet long and 30 feet high makes a satisfactory receiving antenna. For each step of amplification an amplifying tube, transformer, rheostat, socket and 45-volt B battery are required. Always consult the manufacturer's directions for the handling of radio batteries. The types vary so widely that full information is essential to proper operation.

Frederick C. Jennings, B. Sc., Frank Murphy, Gerard Comeau, Arthur Donovan, William Maynes, Thomas Gossnell, Fred Harrington, Gerald Dailton, Gerald Flaherty and Lionel McIntyre have returned from St. E. X. College to spend the summer holidays.

EMINENT CANADIAN
WRITER AND ORATOR
BORNE TO GRAVE

Rev. Dr. J. A. Macdonald
Had Large Place in Public Affairs—Tribute by Dr.
Gandier.

(Toronto Globe)

Clad in the Geneva pulpit gown of the Presbyterian clergy which he had worn as pastor Knox Church, St. Thomas, Rev. Dr. J. A. Macdonald was committed to his long home yesterday afternoon. It seemed not unfitting that the last glimpse afforded his friends of a man who had achieved a more than national reputation as an orator, journalist and man of letters and promoter of international good-will should have disclosed him in the robes of a minister of the Gospel. For these other spheres as it was happily put by his friend, Rev. Dr. Alfred Gandier, he had but entered to promote the more effectively the evangel of Christ—"Peace on earth and good-will toward men."

Where a wealth of flowers spanned the altar of Bloor Street Presbyterian Church, the casket rested during the funeral service conducted there. In scarlet folds was draped over it the gown and hood, with the hat, of the degree of LL.D. conferred upon him by the University of Glasgow; also the hood of a similar degree from Oberlin, Ohio. A sprig of purple heather symbolized the Highland forbears whose fiery enthusiasm and Celtic mysticism he had inherited.

After the reading of appropriate Scriptural passages by Rev. Dr. G. C. Pidgeon and the offering up of a simple eloquent prayer by Rev. Dr. W. G. Wallace, Principal Gandier rose to pay out of a long and intimate friendship, some tribute to the dead. It was in many respects distinctly different from the panegyrics which constitute the majority of funeral addresses; yet it left the impression that no more could have been said.

It was not the preacher who stood there, but a friend of the man who had gone—and he spoke as to those who had likewise been Dr. Macdonald's friends. His voice was almost conversational in tone as he reviewed Dr. Macdonald's life. And in a just appraisal he did not hesitate to include the faults which but endear men to their friends in a world where none is perfect.

"So swiftly flow the tides of human life to death," were his first words, "that many of us scarcely realize how great a gap was made in the public life of Canada, and how great a loss sustained by the cause of world friendship, when shattered health made the pen

Chinese Bandits And Troops Battle
More Soldiers Sent to Hills—
Captives Now Number Fourteen.
Tientsin, May 21.—One officer and five Chinese troops have been killed in a battle with the Chinese bandits, according to advices received here. The number of casualties among the bandits is not known. The military governor of Shantung has ordered 1,500 additional soldiers toward the hills. The bandits have made the following demands: Immediate withdrawal of the troops towards Tsinan's and Yenchow; food, clothing, arms and ammunition to be sent daily to the bandits; recognition of the bandits as a separate and independent army to be garrisoned in three districts south of Shantung; Susan Mein Yao, the bandit chief to be commander, and Kuo Chet Sai, another bandit, to be made chief of staff; that the agreement must be signed by the consuls representing six foreign countries.
Mrs. Manuel Anora Vera, wife of Manuel Anora Vera, a manufacturer of Guadalajara, Mexico, was released yesterday. This now leaves fourteen men captives of the bandits.
An estate of $68,821 was left by Rev. Archdeacon Richardson, of London, Ont., who died on May 3. Mrs. L. P. T. Tilley of St. John is a daughter.

The Breaking Point

By Mary Roberts Rinehart

She let him go up alone, and waited, straining her ears, but she heard nothing beyond David's first hoarse cry, and after a little she went into her sitting room and shut the door. Dramatic in its repression was that tragedy in the situation was strong in them both, and if David's eyes were blurred and his hands trembling, if Dick's first words were rather choked, they hid their emotion carefully.
"Well, here I am, like a bad penny," said Dick huskily from the doorway.
"And a long time you've been about it," grumbled David. "You young rascal!"
He held out his hand, and Dick brushed it between both of his. He was startled at the change in David. For a moment he could only stand there, holding his hand, and trying to keep his apprehension out of his face.
"Sit down," David said awkwardly, and blew his nose with a terrific blast. "I've been laid up for a while, but I'm all right now. I'll fool them yet," he boasted, out of his new happiness and content. "Business has been going to the dogs, Dick. Reynolds is a fool."
"Of course you'll fool them." There was still a hand around Dick's throat. It hurt him to look at David, so thin and feeble, so sunken from his port-changing the bedding, throwing up the windows, opening and closing bureau drawers. After a time Lucy tapped at her door and she opened it.

"I put a cracker of scented soap among your handkerchiefs," she said, rather breathlessly. "Will you let me have it for Doctor Richard's room?"
"No."
"Still, she mustn't talk about having seen you. I'll send Reynolds up in the morning."
"Certainly he is going to stay," Lucy said, surprised. "This is his house. Where else should he go?"
She got the soap and gave it to her. "But David knew. He lay, listening with avid interest to Dick's story, asking a question now and then, nodding over Dick's halting attempt to reconstruct the period of his confusion, but all the time one part of him, which was his heart perhaps and not his head, was saying: "Look at him well. Hold

"Call Lucy, Dick."
When she had come, a strangely younger Lucy, her white cheeks flushed with exercise and excitement, he said—
"Bring me the copy of the statement I made to Harrison Miller, Lucy."
She brought it, patted Dick's shoulder, and went away. David held out the paper.
"Read it slowly, boy," he said. "It is my justification, and God willing, it may help you. The letter is from Henry. Read that, too."
Lucy, having got Dick's room in readiness, sat down in it to await his coming. Downstairs, in the warming oven, was his supper. His bed, with the best blankets, was turned down and ready. His dressing gown and slippers were in their old accustomed place. She drew a long breath.
Below, Doctor Reynolds came in quietly and stood listening. The house was very still, and he decided that his news, which was no news, could wait. He went into the office and got out a sheet of note-paper, with his name at the top, and began his nightly letter to Clara Rossiter.
"My darling," it commenced.
Above, David lay in his bed, and Dick read the papers in his hand. And as he read them, David watched him. Not once, since Dick's entrance, had he mentioned Elizabeth. David lay still and pondered that. There was something wrong about it. This was Dick, their own Dick; no shadowy ghost of the past, but Dick himself. True, an older Dick, strangely haggard and with gray running in the brown of his hair, but still Dick. The Dick whose eyes had lighted at the sight of a girl, who had shamelessly persisted in holding her hand at that last dinner, who had almost idolatrously loved her. And he had not mentioned her name. And he had not mentioned the reading.
When he had finished the reading, Dick sat for a moment with the papers in his hand, thinking.
"I see," he said finally. "Of course it's possible. Good God, if I could only think it."
"It's the answer," David said abruptly. "He was prowling around, and he fired through the window. Donaldson made the statement at the inquest that some one had been seen on the place, and that he notified you that night after dinner. He'd put guards around the place."
"It gives me a fighting chance, anyhow," Dick got up and threw back his shoulders. "That's all I want. A chance to fight. I know this. I may have hated Lucas—he was a poor thing and you know what he did to me. But I never thought of killing him. That wouldn't have helped matters. It was too late!"
"What about that?" David asked, not looking at him. When Dick did not immediately reply David glanced at him, to find his face set and pained.
"Perhaps we'd better not go into that now," David said hastily. "It's natural that the re-adjustments will take time."
"We'll have to go into it. It's the hardest thing I have to face."
"It's not dead, then?"
"No," Dick said slowly. "It's not dead, David. And I'd better bring it into the open. I've fought it to the limit, by myself. It's the one thing that seems to have survived the shipwreck. I can't argue it down or think it down."
"Maybe, if you see Elizabeth—"
"I'd break her heart, that's all."
He tried to make David understand. He told in its sordid details his failure to kill it, his attempts to sink memory and conscience in Chicago and their failure, the continued remoteness of Elizabeth and what seemed to him the flesh and blood reality of the other woman. That she was yesterday, and Elizabeth was long ago.
"I can't argue it down," he finished. "I've tried to, desperately. It's a— I think it's a wicked thing, in a way. And God knows all she ever got out of it was suffering. She must loathe the thought of me."
David was compelled to let it rest there. He found that Dick was doggedly determined to see Beverly Carlyle. After that, he didn't know. No man wanted to surrender himself for trial, unless he was sure himself of

Wedding Gifts

A SLIGHT difference in cost is of little moment to those who cherish quality and utility and beauty in equal proportion. For such folk, "Holmes & Edwards" Silverplate is made—and is especially suitable as wedding gifts.

Its extra quality is assured because silver is used generously in its making. Its utility, because the pieces most used are actually protected where the wear comes—either by solid blocks of sterling silver fused in at the back of the bowl and handle before plating (SILVER INLAID), or by a heavy extra deposit of silver at these points (SUPER PLATE).

And beauty! One does not need to be an art critic to enjoy the beauty, the superior gleam and brilliance that comes of superior burnishing.

When you visit your jeweler, just ask him to explain why "Holmes & Edwards" is a superior brand of silverplate.

Manufactured Exclusively in Canada by

WOULD JOIN WITH EUROPE'S DOCKERS

International Longshoremen Urged to Reaffiliate in the President's Report.

Boston, May 21.—The International Longshoremen's Association will re-affiliate with the International Transport Workers' Federation of the European countries if the former adopts the recommendation of its president, Anthony J. Chlopicki in his annual report to Wednesday's session of the 27th annual convention in Paine Memorial hall.

As re-affiliation is strongly favored in the report, it is believed that the convention will take favorable action before adjournment. If this is the case, it is probable that President Chlopicki, who is representative of the A. F. of L. to the British Trades and Labor Congress, will be held during the week of Sept. 1 in England, will leave this country some time in July and will make an exhaustive study of European conditions as they affect longshoremen and dock and transport workers.

port workers of the foreign countries to re-affiliate. The association dropped the federation during the world war.

The president's report, besides touching an optimistic note for the coming year, told of what has been done during the last two years, despite the alleged drive of the "open-shoppers" against the labor movement and the I. L. A. in particular on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard.

Twenty-five resolutions, received from ports and districts all over the United States, Canada and insular possessions in this country, have been invited by the official representatives of the trans-gates yesterday and then turned over to the newly elected committee on resolutions of which William F. Dempsey of the Atlantic coast district, is chairman.

BONUS FOR VETERANS—IF VOTERS RAISE $35,000,000

Harrisburg, Pa., May 21.—Enabling legislation has been signed by Gov. Pinchot providing for a soldiers' bonus to World War veterans if a $35,000,000 bond issue for the purpose is approved by the voters of the state.

YESTERDAY IN CITY CHURCHES

As the culmination of the observance of Children's Week in several of the city churches special addresses were given yesterday. Rev. H. D. B. Stogthard, Methodist, secretary of religious education, was the preacher at the Carleton Methodist church in the morning and in the Foreland Methodist church in the evening. Rev. F. T. Bertman was called away from the city by the illness of his mother and in his absence the evening service was conducted by Rev. H. B. Clarke, of the Foreland church. At the morning service in the Carleton church there was a children's choir and the service was for the children more particularly.

Church Union.

Pointing out the difference between Christian Unity and church union, Rev. Dr. D. J. Fraser, principal of the Montreal Presbyterian college, presided at a large congregation in Knox church yesterday morning what would be the outcome of organic union between the three Protestant denominations as is now being proposed. He said whatever the opinion of Presbyterians in this matter, or if they held no opinions, they must be deeply moved by the position in which the church found itself. As Christians the church members must each make a decision in the matter. Organic church unity, he held, was not a Christian necessity and history had no record of organic unity being an unmitigated blessing. To some it appeared as a panacea for denominational ills but he considered that it would solve none and create many others.

Pulpit Exchanges.

The Baptist monthly interchange of pulpits took place yesterday morning. Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson, of the Main street church, was in the Central church. Rev. C. T. Clark, of Fairville, conducted the service in the Main street church. Rev. W. A. Robb, of Ludlow street, was the preacher in Waterloo street. Rev. James Dunlop, of the Central church, occupied the pulpit of the Tabernacle church. Rev. A. L. Tedford, of the Tabernacle church, conducted the service in Central street. Rev. J. A. Sweetnam, of Waterloo street, was the preacher in the Charlotte street church and Rev. C. R. Freeman, of the Charlotte street church, conducted the service in Ludlow street. Rev. Dr. S. Poole was the preacher in the Fairville church.

The congregation of the Victoria street Baptist church reluctantly said good-bye to its minister, Rev. G. D. Hudson, yesterday. The new brick church, which was instrumental in erecting was thronged both morning and evening yesterday and at night, when Mr. Hudson preached his farewell sermon, chairs had to be placed in the aisles. For his text he took Corinthians 12:13 and his final message was one of great inspiration.

Mr. Hudson has been the pastor of the Victoria street Baptist church for four years and in that time, as he told his congregation last night, he has had only the happiest associations. A new church had been built; 211 names had been added to the church membership; the financial standing was good and the spirit and enthusiasm of the members was all that could be desired.

In the First Presbyterian church in West St. John yesterday morning Rev. George Gardner, agent of the International Home for Women, which is established at Moncton, told of the aims and purposes of the institution and asked for the co-operation and support of the congregation.

Rev. F. P. Brown, director of the Russian Relief and Reconstruction Fund, in his address last night in Trinity church, pointed out the likeness of the story of the Good Samaritan to the relief work now being carried out in Russia. This was being done, he said, by educating as many Russian children as possible to work for their country's good.

The work of the Colonial and Continental Church Society of England was outlined yesterday morning at the service in St. John's (Stone) church by Rev. J. D. Paterson, Canadian secretary of the society. This organization was 100 years old this year and since its commencement in 1823 it had been sending ministers to remote parts of the world. Every diocese in Canada had had these men in it. Rev. Mr. Paterson told of conditions in Western Canada and the difficulties which were met. In the afternoon he spoke at Renfrew and in the evening at St. Mary's Third Anniversary.

Yesterday the Prince Edward street church celebrated its third anniversary. F. W. Innis, returned missionary from British East Africa, spoke in the morning and the service in the evening was conducted by Rev. O. P. Brown. In the three years the church has grown from a membership of five to an attendance of 100. The expenditures in the three years have amounted to $22,000 and the amount has been realized by purely voluntary subscription without solicitation from the public or without collection. The church is undenominational.

In the Fifth Avenue Hall at the Sunday school session yesterday afternoon, Rev. C. L. Whitman gave an illustrated address on the strange conditions and customs of the people in the Sudan. Mr. Whitman told of the success of the mission in that country. Rev. R. G. Fulton was the speaker at the early service in the St. John County Hospital yesterday morning, returning to the city in time to also conduct the morning service in Centenary Church. Mrs. Blair McLean was organist. The evening service was taken by Rev. James F. Rowley of Point debley.

Rev. W. P. Dunham observed the Whitsunday ritual at the services in the Church of the Good Shepherd yesterday and preached appropriate sermons.

Rev. W. M. Townsend was the speaker at both services in St. Columba church yesterday.

In the Fairville Methodist church yesterday, Rev. James M. Rice conducted both the morning and evening services.

FATHER LEAVES BOY IN CHAINS AS INCORRIGIBLE

Saleswoman Finds Lad, 12, Locked to Chair in Brooklyn Home—Was Unable to Stand When Released.

New York, May 21. Mrs. Emma Fronsom was selling soap. In this way she called at the home of Mrs. Angeline Glanetto, at 485 Hicks street, Brooklyn, and found the woman's twelve-year-old son, Dominick, chained to a chair in the kitchen.

Mrs. Fronsom, who is a captain in the Women's Police Reserves, and lives at 228 East Fifty-fourth street, Brooklyn, questioned Mrs. Glanetto about the boy sitting there in fetters, but was unable to get any information from her. She reported the matter to Patrolman Harry Berry and Edward Connors of the Butler street police station. The patrolmen went to the Glanetto home. They asked Mrs. Glanetto for the key to the lock that held the chains. She said her husband had it and he was at work in a bakery at 217 Hoyt street. The policemen tried unsuccessfully to break the chain. Then they telephoned to Lieutenant Charles Carrare at the Butler street police station.

Boy Sent to Hospital.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children was informed, and a patrolman brought the father from the bakery to the police station. In the meanwhile Dominick was lifted, chair and all, into a patrol wagon and taken to the police station. Patrolmen took the key from the father and released the boy. He could not stand.

COMPLETE CREW FROM ST. JOHN

Naval Training at Dockyard in Halifax—Visit of Reservists.

Extensive preparations have been and are being made at the Dockyard for naval drill of the reserves this season. A fine new drill parade ground has been laid out just north of the Naval College building and near the outer end of the pier.

The old Y. M. C. A. naval building, which was used during the latter years of the war and subsequently as a recreation hall, is being transferred at a cost of $2,000 to $3,000 into a modern gun drill battery for drill purposes and a new six-inch gun, which arrived only recently from England, is being mounted at the yard in preparation for the drill season.

There will be two classes for drill, the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reservists and the Royal Canadian Naval Reservists. In the case of the volunteer reservists various companies or sections of the reserves have had allotted to them by the Naval Department companies or sections of the reserves have had allotted to them by the Naval Department companies or sections of the reserves.

At St. John enlistment is also going on and it is announced that a company will be a complete crew, of about 100 men, for a destroyer, with a complement of 300 men, but the undertaking by the local men. Reports from St. John are that a fine class of men have applied and many of them have been accepted, the party being seasoned by men who served on H. M. S. Lion and other battleships during the war and by several who have served in the Royal North West Mounted and the Port Garry Horse.

Those who have applied did so as ordinary and able seamen, gun men, torpedo, mine and depth charge men, but more tradesmen are required as engine room, engine room and electrical men, artificers and stokers. No naval experience is necessary and all volunteers accepted will receive here a qualifying course and work out during summer.

Besides the many things each ordinary seaman or recruit will have to learn or take up such as seamanship, rowing, sailing, hammock slinging, etc., he will be required to learn to operate an anti-aircraft gun and three and six inch guns. Halifax volunteers can apply at the office of the secretary of the Dockyard or through the secretary of the Navy League.

The companies and half companies will have, like the local militia, evening training drills at their home cities or towns, and in addition evening company or section from as far west as Winnipeg, will come to Halifax for a fortnight's drill and training—a "shake up" as it is known to the men themselves. Here they will get experience on the water on board naval craft, while they will be put in shape around the diamond. The 100 yards dash will also be graded. They are excellent quota beds for those who enjoy this game, Chairman S. A. Payne of the grounds committee is on the ground every evening. He needs more help than he has been getting. The whole south end is interested in this playground. There should be no lack of help to get it in perfect condition for baseball and sports. There is need of bleachers, the only obstacle is lack of funds. Mr. Payne will be glad to see more helpers on the grounds this evening.

HILTON WAS FILMED.
Saturday's Montreal Star prints a two-column photograph of Hilton Belyea and says:— "There was a large party at the wharf to see Hilton Belyea, Canadian sculler, off on the Andania. Moving picture men and photographers filmed his departure, while many interested in sports wished him the best of luck."

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, MAY 21, 1923

WAITER FOILS SIX BANDITS; SHOT; POSSES TRACK MEN TO MOUNTAIN

New York, May 21.—Posses are searching the Ramapo Mountains for six men who shot James Sisco, a restaurant waiter, early yesterday when he tried to stop them from breaking into the haberdashery store of J. K. Patterson in Suffern. Sisco was shot four times, twice in each leg, but, expected to recover.

The waiter said he was passing the store and noticed an automobile parked in an alley near the rear entrance. He called out to see who was there and at the same time noticed that six men were trying to force the back door. They replied to him with four shots.

Chief of Police Lunning and a patrolman hurried to the scene a few minutes after the shooting, but the robbers fled, leaving their car. Soon the whole town was aroused and a group of residents, armed with shot-guns, surrounded a large tract of woods in the mountains where the burglars are believed to be hiding.

State police were called, and Sheriff

George Brown with ten deputies went to reinforce the town's police. All roads leading from the mountains are being patrolled and the posses are closing in. They will wait until this morning before they make a final drive through the wild country for the bandits.

Shortly after the shooting the authorities learned that the gunmen's automobile had been stolen from Clifford, N. J., where earlier in the night an effort had been made to break into the post office. Police of Spring Valley, eighty miles east of Suffern, said they had seen the car pass through the town at a high speed shortly before the shooting. Two shots had been fired by its occupants as they reached the outskirts of the town.

Many of the wealthy residents of the section are helping in the hunt. Two police dogs were given by one man to follow the trail. Sixteen suspects have been taken from motor trucks near Suffern, but none of them are believed to have had anything to do with the shooting.

Allege Boy Victim of U. S. Police Methods Assert Youth is Shadowed Night and Day.

Toronto, May 19.—Under a streamer heading "Toronto Boy Is Victim of U. S. Police Methods," the Toronto Telegram featured the case of Walter Swanton, 16-year-old son of the ex-manager of the Standard Chemical Company of Brantford, who has been publishing for several months following publication of accusations that he had embezzled approximately $100,000 from the firm. It is claimed by the boy and neighbors that he has been shadowed for three months by thousands of police agencies in the hope of gaining some clue of the whereabouts of the missing man. The boy is described as being on the verge of a nervous breakdown as a result of this surveillance and the agency is credited with flaunting the signal, "We always get our man."

Young Swanton had only to step outside his door and an operative followed him. It is alleged, no matter how long or how short a journey he took. When he went to bed at night a detective was outside his big apartment house in this city and when he awoke in the morning another was waiting at the disengaged key. "They used to stand outside all day," he said, "and in the evening one would remain in a motor car. I thought it best to ask them to come in and stay when the others could not see them."

The boy claimed he has absolutely no knowledge of the whereabouts of his father. "I would like to get a job but who will give me one when they find I am being tagged all the time," he said.

The agency at first denied that their operatives were keeping constant vigil over the lad and finally agreed to investigate. The Telegram claims that the detectives were actually on the job watching the boy when the manager of the agency was being questioned.

URGE UNION WITH THE MOTHERLAND

R. E. Armstrong, Home from Port Arthur, Tells of Plans to Link Up Seamen's Institutions.

According to R. E. Armstrong, New Brunswick representative at the annual convention in Port Arthur last week, the Navy League of Canada strongly urged uniting with the seamen's institutions of the Motherland in order to assist in strengthening British ties in the Dominion. The objective sought is the re-education of the seaman's children in the motherland. It was felt that a good result of the move would be the willing of Canadian ports for the handling of overseas freight.

Take in Lift—Add Navy League—Young Swanton had only to step outside his door and an operative followed him. It is alleged, no matter how long or how short a journey he took. When he went to bed at night a detective was outside his big apartment house in this city and when he awoke in the morning another was waiting at the disengaged key. "They used to stand outside all day," he said, "and in the evening one would remain in a motor car. I thought it best to ask them to come in and stay when the others could not see them."

"GOOD NICKEL CIGAR" ON WAY BACK, SAYS EXPERT

Promised if Congress Cuts Tobacco Tax; Consumption of Cigarettes Increases.

Washington, May 21.—Laid end to end, the cigarettes manufactured in the United States during the first three months of this year would encircle the earth about twenty-six times, or 600,000 miles, the third national convention of the Tobacco Merchants Association in session here was told. Within the last decade the consumption of cigarettes has increased by 40,000,000,000. The annual cigar production is more than 7,000,000,000.

Former Vice-President Marshall's search for a "good nickel cigar" is soon to be rewarded, said Jesse A. Bloch, president of the association, provided the next Congress receives favorably the movement for a reduction in tobacco taxes. Before the war, it was stated, six per cent of the cigar sales were of the five-cent variety.

IMMIGRANT BOY WINS HONORS IN ARTS

Photo Spiro Tommeo, who in 1912 emigrated to Canada from Macedonia, has been awarded the Governor-General's medal at the Ontario College of Arts, Toronto. He worked at anything to support himself and save sufficient for his four-year course. He completed his first year at night school. The moment for a reduction in tobacco taxes. Before the war, it was stated, six per cent of the cigar sales were of the five-cent variety.

AUTO LICENSES OPPOSED FOR PHYSICALLY DEFECTIVE

Police Urge Greater Care After Half-Blind Truck Driver Kills Child of Four.

New York, May 21.—Greater care should be exercised in giving automobile licenses to persons possessing some physical defect, according to a recommendation made to the Secretary of State by the Bureau of Public Safety. The report was made after a child of four had been killed by a two-ton truck, the driver of which is blind in one eye.

Henry Berman, of 1533 Madison Avenue, who had been arrested and fined $15 on May 8 for driving his machine with defective brakes, ran down four-year-old Nicholas Martini, 1961 First Avenue, on 102d Street yesterday. Berman lifted him into his truck to take him to Mt. Sinai Hospital, but the boy died on the way.

Berman was arrested by Patrolman Thomas Cullen, of the East 104th Street Station and charged with homicide.

UNCLE SAM MAKES MONEY ON OLD SHIP BARGAIN SALE

Manila, April 22.—(A. P. by Mail).—The United States army made more than $22,000 on the sale of four army vessels during the week by refusing first bids and advertising a second time.

The old transport, Licum, which was sold by a lumber company, brought $43,792, while the first bid was only $30,170. The tugs General Weeks and General Lawton and a quarter-master scow brought a total of $28,000 as a result of the second advertisement for bids, which brought approximately $10,000 more than the first bids. The sale of these vessels was a final cleanup of salvaged material in the Philippines department.

Final approval of the sale must be made by the war department at Washington, but officers of the salvage division here believe the figures will be accepted.

COURT APPOINTS PRATT GUARDIANS

Names Wife and Two Sons of Former Standard Oil Director Found Incompetent.

New York, May 21.—Justice Callaghan of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, has confirmed the findings of a special Sheriff's Jury that found Charles M. Pratt, former Director and an officer in the Standard Oil Company, unable longer to conduct his extensive business interests. He appointed Mr. Pratt's wife and Richardson and Theodore Pratt, sons, as a committee of his person and the Brooklyn Trust Company as a committee of the estate. Inquiry into the mental condition of Mr. Pratt who is 68 years old, was conducted very quietly. The testimony was taken in the office of Hunter L. Delator, in the Mechanics Bank Building, 218 Montague Street, Brooklyn. Mr. Delator, Almet Reed Latson and Dr. M. Mortimer Sherman were the commissioners appointed by Justice Callaghan for the purpose.

The jury listened to the testimony of Dr. Edward E. Hicks and Dr. Glenworth R. Butler. Dr. Hicks made an affidavit in which he said that Mr. Pratt was suspicious of the people with whom he came into contact, was easily excited and irritable and did not recognize his own family. It was the opinion of Dr. Hicks that the serving of papers on Mr. Pratt would cause him to suffer extreme excitement.

The jury found that Mr. Pratt's mind was clouded and that he did not appear to have lucid moments. "By reason of such infirmity," the jury found, "he is incapable of governing himself or managing his affairs. Such infirmities has manifested itself in senile dementia, weakness of mind, loss of memory * * * and such infirmity has manifested itself and was in existence since May, 1922, and still continues, and there is no reasonable hope of recovery."

The jury estimated that Mr. Pratt's fortune is more than $3,000,000 and that he has an income of $500,000 a year. His home at 241 Clinton Street, Brooklyn, was appraised at $75,000 and his Summer home and estate at Glen Cove, Long Island, at $125,000.

SOUTH ONTARIO LIBERALS FOR RADICAL CHANGE

Whitby, Ont., May 21.—South Ontario Liberals yesterday endorsed the plea of their provincial leader, F. W. Hay, for a business administration in Ontario during the coming four years. The doubling of provincial debt charges in the last few years, he declared, was partly due to the lack of business experience of those in office, and the situation generally demanded a radical change in administrative methods. Without a dissenting voice, W. E. Sinclair, K. C., the late member for the riding, was again chosen as the Liberal candidate.

IS BLOWN SIX FEET AS TIRE EXPLODES

Rochester, N. H., May 21.—Clarence Morrill, driver of the chemical truck at the central fire station, narrowly escaped serious injuries while he was at work on his automobile in the garage in the rear of his home. He was bending over, adjusting a tire, when it exploded, blowing him about six feet across the garage against the wall. He suffered a fractured nose, a deep gash in his cheek and multiple bruises.

ONCE FAMOUS YANKTON NOW A RUM RUNNER

Capture of Former Naval Craft Exposes a Big Liquor Ring

Warrants Obtained for Eight Suspects — Alcohol from Cuba, Scotch Whiskey, Among Smuggled Goods.

New York, May 21.—Once proudly floating the American flag during a world-wide cruise of the United States navy and with a brilliant world war service record, the former navy dispatch boat Yankton was revealed on Wednesday as the rum-runner Yankton under British registry. As a result of her capture federal warrants were issued for eight men, alleged heads of a nation-wide rum ring, on charges of conspiring to violate the Volstead act and defraud the Government of custom duties.

The warrants were issued for Jacob A. Kirch of New York, Nathan Scherlin and Abraham Scharin of Chicago, alleged "master minds" of the syndicate; Charles W. Johnson of Philadelphia, said to be a member of the brewing firm of Johnson & Co. of Uniontown, Pa.; Harry L. Marks of New York; Edward Flanagan of Washington and Chicago; Charles T. Cox, Brooklyn tugboat captain, and Alfred Ernest Curran of Uniontown, Pa.

Kirch, a former importer, was acquitted several weeks ago on a charge of conspiring to import liquor unlawfully into the country on the steamer Javary. Marks, who was named in Wednesday's complaint, also was indicted in the Javary case, but never was apprehended.

The rum syndicate, Government officials declared, had recently cabled $108,000 to Scotland, apparently for the purchase of liquor to be smuggled in from rum row.

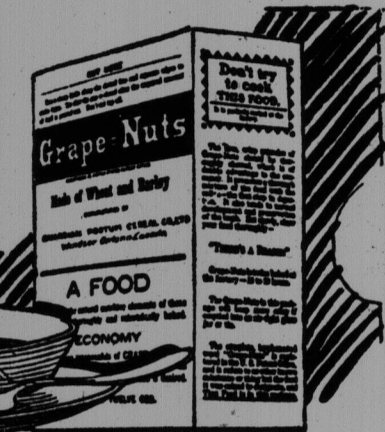

The crew of the Yankton are reported to have admitted that she left the West Indies recently with a cargo of alcohol worth $500,000 and finally reached rum row after part of her alcohol was removed. Later, all of the alcohol was removed and the supercargo left with the last shipment, telling the crew he would return with provisions. The Yankton remained in the row for several days, and at last, the crew facing starvation and using wood-work chipped from the deck for fuel, puffed feebly into New York and was taken over by customs authorities.

The Yankton, custom officials said, accompanied the American fleet in the round-the-world cruise of Admiral "Fighting Bob" Evans, in 1907-08, and later served in the Atlantic fleet and as a convoy craft in the Mediterranean during the world war. The craft was sold from the Brooklyn navy yard in 1921 to private parties. Assistant Federal Attorney Falk said he had a mass of letters and cables

MURRAY'S GOES INTO OBLIVION

Famous New York Cafe, One of the White Way's Bright Lights, Closes Its Doors.
(N. Y. Tribune.)
The dry wave will claim another victim Sunday night, when Murray's Roman Gardens, for years one of the luminous spots of the White Light district, closes its doors.
According to Claret W. Groll, president of the corporation which acquired the restaurant in West Forty-second Street from the Murray estate a year ago, it is impossible to maintain an elaborate cabaret with an expensive orchestra under such conditions. It doesn't pay, and that is the sole reason for closing, he said. There never has been an arrest of any man connected with the place for violation of the prohibition laws, he added. Twice the premises have been searched but no liquor was found.
What Murray's meant to the bon vivant of fifteen years ago may be gathered from The Tribune of Sunday, February 7, 1909. "There are many restaurants in New York where one may dine well," said one article, "and it has remained for Murray to transport the epicure of Gotham to the luxurious surroundings of ancient Rome in all their original glory. All that fancy and the means to carry fancy into realization can call into existence Murray's has achieved."

Error in Beards Almost Costs One Parliament Seat

Frank Rose's Resemblance to Lord Aberdeen Causes Fishermen to Believe He Was Ignoring Them.

London, April 20.—(By Mail)—It looks as if either Lord Aberdeen or Frank Rose, M. P. for the North Division of the city, will have to lose his beard, declares the Aberdeen correspondent of "The London Daily News."
A lively discussion is in progress as to which of them should make the sacrifice. Whether an arbitrator will be called in to decide the matter is not yet certain.
Their similarity of appearance has led to embarrassing consequences, the culminating one having nearly imperilled Mr. Rose's seat in Parliament. It happened like this:
While Mr. Rose was on a visit to the city members of the Shippers and Second Hands' Guild requested an interview with him on the subject of the fishermen's strike against the landing of German-caught fish. They were told that Mr. Rose was leaving London in the early morning and would be unable to see them on the following afternoon.
P. C. Thompson, Unionist M. P. for the South Division, however, received a deputation from the guild at the Fisheries Hotel, Aberdeen's most select and fashionable rendezvous. The deputation declared that, just as they were to jump on the train, they saw Mr. Rose in the lounge of the hotel at the time Mr. Rose was supposed to have been seen there.
He suggests that, in order to avoid further complications, the barber has to be called in. Mr. Rose's staid appearance would suffer the less by the operation.
Besides, he thinks it only reasonable that the victim should be the younger man.

Factories, shops and even the guard houses atop the walls will be painted in the new colors, Warden Lewis E. Lawes said. When prison attaches were asked whether they had borrowed the idea from the Interborough Company, New York, they remarked that they did not know, but that the prison would resemble the elevated cars in color and antiquity.

planned, was Lord Aberdeen. It was not the first time they had been mistaken for one another.
This led to the suggestion that one of the principals in the comedy should have his beard removed—a proposal that has caused endless merriment in the city.

Unhesitatingly, we replied, "The Crank Hanger." He was surprised. He wanted to know why. "Well," we explained, "the crank hanger is the power plant of the bicycle. When you push on the pedals, the crank hanger turns and generates the power that makes your bicycle go. The smoother and easier the crank hanger turns the less effort you need to put into your pedaling."
