WILLIAM E RUSSELL.

Ex Governor of Massachusetts, Found Dead in a Tent in Quebec.

Ste. Adelaide de Pabos, Que, July 16.—Ex-Governor Wm. E. Russell of Massachusetts was found deed in his tent near here this morning. Heart disease is supposed to be the cause. Ex-Governor Wm. E. Russell of Massachusetts arrived here from Boston yesterday afternoon and pitched his tent for a few days fishing. He was accompanied by his brother and Francis Peabody. They all retired last night, the deceased apparently in good health and spirits. Upon his com-panions trying to arouse him this morning they discovered that he was dead. Death must have resulted from heart disease. The position of the body and the expression on the dead gov-eronr's features betoken that his death was painless. After the inquest this Manchester-by-the-Sea. Mass., July 16.—Mr. Russell left his family here on Monday for his pleasure trip to Quebec, accompanied by his brother, Col. H. E. Russell, and Francis Peabody, jr. At that time he was apparently in reflect mbysical condition, excepting cerfect physical condition, excepting that he was somewhat fatigued after his active and onerous work at the Chicago convention.

He received a message announcing the sad news from a friend in Boston, on his return from his fishing trip this afternoon. To the Associated Press he expressed his sorrow in the following tribute:

sorrow in the following tribute:

My personal relations were so intimate and close with ex-Governor Russell that I could not but be terribly shocked at the news of his sudden death, which I received today. While this intelligence has caused me to mourn the personal loss, I cannot forget Mr. Russell's eminent public services, and his attributes of bravery and patriotism which made him so valuable a citizen, especially at this time, when courageous adherence to the right and unfaultering advocacy of sound principles are so much needed. It may therefore well be said that the country has suffered a bereavement. The people of Massachusetts surely cannot fail to mourn throughout the length and breadth of the commonwealth the untimely death of a son whose career has at all times reflected honor upon his mattive state.

The death is announced of John William Hay, which took place at San Francisco on June 14. Mr. Hay was the eldest son of Edward B. Hay, a brother of George U. and T. L. Hay of this city, who left this city just before the breaking out of the American war to join his brother Robert, who was doing a fine business at the time at his trade as carpenter at Natches, on the Mississippi river. They both took up arms in favor of the south and were attached to a cavalry regiment and ert returned to his former place, Natches, and during the summer died very suddenly of pneumonia, his health being much broken down during his long confinement as a prisoner. Edward found his way to New Orleans, where he resided for some years and married there, but finally moved to California, where he has since resided. He has a charming family of six. This young man is the first death in the family circle, and he was the tdol of them all. Mr. Hay was in the newspaper business and bid fair to have a very useful life.

BOSTON LETTER.

Laurier to be Invited to Visit New England.

What Some Newspapers Have to Say About Reciprocity With Canada. Now that the Liberals Rule.

Dullness Continues to Reign in the Lumber Market-Most Kinds of Fish in Slow Demand-Lobsters Scarce

Just Now.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Boston, July 11.—This has been one of the liveliest weeks of the year in political circles, and judging by the present situation of affairs, things will be decidedly interesting before fall. The democratic party, which held the most stormy convention since the war, at Chicago this week, has been rent in twain by strife and dissension, principally due to the revolt of the west-tern and southern men against the barons of Wall street and the money power of the east." The silver men have decidedly the best of it just now, but it remains to be seen whether they can elect the next president. If the populists decide to support the demo-cratic silverites, and the republican silver men do the same, then the Ohio Napoleon may have to make the fight

There is a movement on foot in several large New England cities to have Hon. Wilfrid Laurier wisit this country and make several addresses. In Springfield, Woonsocket, Lowell, Providence and Biddeford, there is a large French-Canadian population, the greater percentage of which supported the liberal party at home. Naturally the French-Canadians are greatly elated at Mr. Laurier's success, and particularly the election of so many of his supporters in Quebec. Rhode Island French-Canadians have already invited Mr. Laurier to pay them a visit after he finishes the work of organizing the new adminstration, and this week a meeting was held in Worcester in honor of the liberal victory. Editor L. J. Latour of Le Reveil presided, and after several prominent speakers had been heard a telegram of congratulation was sent to the liberal chief. It was decided to invite Mr. Laurier to notify the committee, which was appointed to make arrangements for a banquet, when he could conveniently come to New England. If the answer should be a favorable one, it was voted to spare no pains or expense to do him honor and to arrange a monster demonstration.

A report from Portland says that Grand Trunk rairoad has decided to adopt American rules and de away with the old system. This anmouncement is not surprising, in view of the present policy to make the road an American one as fast as possible. Some time ago linglish and Canadian employes were dismissed in many to make room for citizens of the United States, and while Mr. Hays is manager it will be run in the interests of the United States first, last Several of the western states, notadopting the Ontario system of fighting forest fires. These states have lost millions of dollars and many lives during the past two years through im-mense forest fires, and have for some time sought means of relief. The province of Ontarie has a system of mounted fire rangers, appointed by the local government, who from May to September do duty whenever a forest fire assumes dangerous preportions. All communities in flanger are notified of the progress of fires, and every care is taken to remove try brush in the early spring, so that in dry weather the danger from fires is much less.

Mrs. John W. Kennedy applied this week for a divorce from her busband, who she says deserted her at White Rock, Kings county, N. S., three years ago. The case will be heard in the Suffolk county divorce court the first Monday in August. A. B. McLean of St. John and M. Neil of Hallifax were in the city this week. The following deaths occurred within the past few days: At Cambridge William McDonald, son of Allen Mo-Donald, formerly of Summerside, P. E. I.; also at Cambridge, Mary A. Mc Neil of Antigonish, N. S. Bugente Forest, formerly of Halifax, died in this city on Tuesday. Another death was that of Charles F. Campbell, son of C. J. Campbell, formerly of Sydnev. C. B. A sensation was caused at Suncook N. H., a few days ago by a report that Miss Grace Pervis an Amherst, N. S., girl, had met with foul play there. The young woman was found flead one morning lying in a pool of blood in her room. An investigation followed, her room. An inve but it was found that she had died as the result of a severe hemorrhage.

The New England and New York papers are still busy expatiating on what a great and giorious thing reciprocity between Canada and the Unit ed States would be for this country. According to the opinion of most of them, the long and short of it would be that Canada would be bled in the interest of American corporations, many of which have such a large surof goods on hand that they have been obliged to clese down. In many industries reciprocity of the true blue genuine old liberal stripe would be a God-send, and the sooner it comes the better the manufacturers on this side of the line would like it. Here are a few opinions from American papers: Boston Herald: Reciprocal trade with the dominion would be of enormous advantage to New England. To Boston it would give an enlargement of its sphere of industrial activity, which would in effect place it in the centre of the country, instead of, as the city now is located, so to speak, upon the frontier. All of the maritime provinces, the province of Quebec, and quite a part of the prevince of Ontario, would find their trade centre in Boston, and in this way we should secure an enlargement of our commerce and industries which would be of incalcul-able advantage to our business. So Yar as Canada is concerned, this opportunity is now opened as the result of the recent election.

Boston Advertiser: If Mr. Laurier

proposes to adopt a revenue policy, the manufacturers in this country will be well satisfied. There are many American products that can be sold advantageously in Canada, if they are al owed to have free entry in the do-

The New York Tribune would force Canada into annexation. It says Nothing will more facilitate its coming than for this country to rescind the special privileges that make continued separation financially possible, and even profitable, to Canada. Once let our northern neighbors be fully convinced that they can expect none of the advantages of the American union so long as they remain outside of that union, and the sentiment for continental union will be immeasurably stimulated. The duliness in the lumber trade noted last week continues, and until general business improves the lumber market will be depressed. Large quantities of spruce by water have arrived from the provinces, and most large dealers report having all they can handle. Large quantities of provinclal lumber are being stored in view of the possibility of the free schedule being repealed next year. Prices are low, and leave smaller profits for the shipper. Frames are from 50c. to $1 lower, and a further break is probable. Hemlock is also dull, shingles, laths, etc., are reported what easier. ## A TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

That Has Won in Every Conflict-The Three Great South American Remedies Never Fail in the Cure of Rheumatism, Kidney Disease and the Worst Forms of Indigestion.

The three great South American Remedies have been called into conflict with many a desperate enemy, but the case is yet to be recorded where they have not come out the victor. If we take South American Rheumatic Cure the story of the patients who have been cured by it reads like a fairy tale: Mr. D. Dessnetels, of Peterboro, suffered so terribly from rheumatism that he was blistered by doctors ten different times, in as many different laces, with the hope of driving the from the system. His hands were drawn out of shape and the fingers almost destroyed. His left leg had to be encased in a plaster of Paris cast for months. One week after using South American Rheumatic Cure this patient was like a new man, and in a short ime was completely cured.

When South American Kidney Curs is called into question, unlike pills and powders and medicines of that kind. it immediately dissolves the uric acid and hardened substances that constitute this disease, and the system rid of these a cure is soon effected. Mr. D. J. Locke, of Sherbrooke, Quebec, says he spent over $100 in treatment for a complicated case of kidney disease, but received no relief. After taking a few doses of South American Kidney Cure he felt wonderfully helped, and to quote his own words "I have now taken four bottles and consider myself completely cured." The worst forms of indigestion wer cured by the use of South American Nervine. It acts on the nerve centre ocated at the base of the brain, from which come all nervous troubles and disorders of the stomach. Mrs. H. Stapelton, Wingham, Ont., says: "I had been troubled for a number of years with nervous debility, indigestion and dyspepsia, and had been reated by a number of the best physicians in Canada and England. I was advised to take South American Powers of Houlton, Congressman Nervine, and must say if I had not

Why Flour and Not Wheat Should be Exported.

Laurier Asks the Saskatchewan Liberals to Accept Paterson of Brant.

oe Martin and Premier Greenway Have Gone to Ottawa to Lay Their Respective Claims Before the Cabinet.

Winnipeg, Man., July 15.-Editorially, the Winnipeg Free Press says: "For several weeks past at frequent intervals the invariable report from Liverpool ha sbeen that there was no Manitoba wheat on that market. This fact has been the cause of much won der among the grain dealers of this city, not one of whom can profess to explain it. A much greater quantity than usual has been exported during the current season of 1895-96. Manitoba wheat is being exported at the present time and since the opening of navigation in May last it has been constantly on the move. The only way to escape the loss is to grind at home and send our product to Euro-pean markets in the form of flour. If we raise the best wheat in the world. as we do, we are entitled to the advantage of it. This advantage is not to be obtained through the export of the article itself, for the temptation to use it to raise the standard of inferior foreign grades and sell the product at wheat is not less than the opportunities. Every encouragement should be given to the erection of mills and the manufacture of the arricle among ourselves. Only in this way can the tricks of the dealers be circumvented and the full value of the Northwest product be realized.

A despatch from Prince Albert, N W. T., tonight, says: "Hon. Mr. Laurier has asked the liberals of Saskatchewan to accept Hon. Wm. Patterson of Brant as their candidate at the byelection which it to take place owing to the premier resigning here. Local iberals would have preferred a local man, but say the request of Mr. Laurier will no doubt be complied with. A meeting of the local liberals takes place in Prince Albert to decide the matter.

Joseph Martin left by the Northern Pacific yesterday for Ottawa, where he will present his claim for the position of minister of the interior. will arrive at Ottawa one day after Premier Greenway. Communication has been going on for some time between the liberal leaders in the east and the local representatives in Ottawa regarding the future occupant of the portfolio of minister of the in-James Sutherland wired up and said that either a representative would go up to Manitoba from Ottawa to talk it over or else the local hiberalls could sent some one down to discuss the relative claims of Messrs. Martin and Sifton. The local government requested Premier Greenway to go down, and Mr. Martin's friends conidered their best move was to send down their late candidate. Developments are expected within a week. As the season advances the crop re- three, E. A. Powers of Montreal, A. growing districts continue to be even more favorable. If fine weather continues, with an ocasional shower, harvesting will begin in about four weeks. The abundant rains during the night with warm lays for the past six weeks have caused grain of all kinds to advance very rapidly. 'If present prospects continue this year's crops will surpass all former years." In many localities the crop is further advanced than last year, notwithstanding late sowing Manitoba and Northwest farmers are nuch pleased with the outlook generally.

NATIONAL CONVENTION

Of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Detroit, Mich., July 15.—The Ancient Order of Hibernians met here today in national convention. The report of the national secretary shows the total membership of the order at about 90,000, a gain of 3,290 in two years. During that period 1,449 members died. Pennsylvania is the banner state, with 20.718 members. The total receipts since the last report amounted to $1,568,102, and the expenditure $1.024.989. Of the latter amount $245.-768 was paid for sick fees. $86,025 for death benefits, $11,295 for burying wives of members, and $239,838 was spent for charitable purposes. The balance in the treasuries of all the divisions amounts to $345,211.

Nearly all the afternoon session was devoted to considering minor amendments to the constitution. The annual banquet was held this evening.

PROVINCIAL RIFLE MATCHES.

The New Brunswick rifle matche open at Sussex on August 18th, and will occupy three days. The pro-gramme has just been issued and is this year printed in small book form, with a page to each match, space for entering scores, and the regulations compactly printed at the back.

The number of regular matches and their ranges and number of shots remain as last year, but the prizes in each match have been increased number, so hat a larger proportion of the competitors must necessarily be

The opening competition will be that for Colonel Maunsell's cup, and other prizes for those who have never headed a provincial match, with team prizes for men attending for the first time. Indeed, the encouragement for beginners is a special feature of the programme. There is this nursery match, a nursery aggregate, tyro prizes in the association match, all restricted to the less proficient marksmen, and finally, an aggregate prize offered by the president, Major John H. Parks. Enrolled militiamen of 21 years and under are alone eligible, and the one who makes the highest total in all the matches will receive a reward of $25.

Following the nursery will come the All-comers, Domville, Prince of Wales, Harper, and association matches, with their well known challenge cups and a good list of prizes. There are also the silver medals of the National, the Dominion and the Provincial associations, and finally the silver and bronze medals presented by the Earl of Aberdeen, which will be contested for by the lucky twenty who may stand highest in the grand aggregate. The money prizes amount to $1,250.

A change which will affect most of the competitors was made recently in constitution, doing away with affiliated members. Hereafter, every competitor must either be a full member or an associate member, and when a man is making his entry for the matches, his full or associate fee must accompany the entry. The ammunition to be used will be English, 1896, such as will be served out at the dominion matches. These latter open at Ottawa on August 31st.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Powers, 51 Sewell street, was the scene of a very pleasant gathering on Tuesday, the 14th, the occasion being the 50th anniversary of their marriage. Among those present were a brother and two sisters of Mrs. Powers, Edward Yardie of Boston, Mrs. John Woodill and Miss Annie Yardie of Hallifax: also Mrs. John Powers of Springhill, N. S., Miss Susie Yardie and Miss Rowswell of Boston, Mrs. H. Cruikshank, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Wilson and Miss Wynnie Wilson, Mrs. Wm. Powers and Misses Flo and Ella Powers and Miss Bowen of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Powers were married in St. Paul's Episcopal church by the late Canon Harrison, being the second couple married in that church. There were born unto them six sons and six daughters, eleven of whom are living, eight being present on Tuesday night viz.: W. T. Powers, Mrs. E. S. Hennigar, Mrs. W. A. McGinley, Mrs. W. T. Grinnell of Rockport, Me., Miss J. G. Powers, H. J. W. Powers, A. C. Powers and Miss Bell Powers. The other F. H. Powers of Boston, being unable to be present. The evening was pleasantly spent. Rev. Dr. Wilson delivered a short address, followed by prayer. The children and grandchilldren presented the couple with a purse containing over $100 in gold. One of the coincidences of the evening was that while it was the fiftleth anniversary of Mrs. Powers' wedding, it was also her 70th birthday. Another curious thing was that the day, Tuesday, was the same day of the week on which the couple were married.

A SUCCESSFUL PICNIC.

The congregation of the Germain street Baptist church, including the Sunday school folk, went picknicking Wednesday to Watters' landing. The Aberdeen made morning and afternoon trips, conveying some 500 to 600 excursionists. The day was as pleasan as could be desired until five o'clock. when the first of a series of light showers set in. This broke up the series of races and other sports which were going on, and drove the company to the spanious shed on the grounds, where refreshments were served. Despite this slight mitigation of the enjoyment, the day passed pleasantly and the happy party was quite in the humor for singing on the passage down the river. Pastor Gates is a great man in a pic nic. As part of his duties he umpired a base ball game, hulled most of th strawberries, and led the singing on the boat.

COLLIDED WITH A CAR.

What might have been a very serious accident occurred Wednesday on Princess, corner of Sidney street, at eastward, a delivery wagon belonging to Taylor, Dockrill & Co., in which were seated two young boys, one drivvery slowly, struck the rear part of managed to make its way out of the harness and oscaped uninjured. The boys, with the usual luck, were not hurt. A lady passenger in the car himself. fainted, but was quickly brought to by the application of cold water. No blame can be attached to the motorman, as the bell was kept ringing and the car was well under control. Drivers should remember that it is much safer to pass in rear than in front of a moving trolly car.

Your correspondent tried by court martial. refers to the new summer home of A D. Bonnell, a wealthy gentleman of Brooklyn, N. Y. This present mansion was formerly the residence of the late W. S. Gilpin, and last fall Mr. Bonnell purchased the property. Since then he has been spending thousands of dollars in renovating, repainting, refurnishing and otherwise beautifying the premises. The rich furnishings would grace any city mansion, the drawing rooms being magnificent in furnishing and appointments. The halls are large, airy and attractively school room, for Mr. Bonnell's family is not a small one. The nursery is also on this floor. Speaking tubes run from floor to floor, and the house is lighted throughout by electricity. The dining room is all that could be de sired, and the library, which contains all the latest magazines and books of the day, is an elegantly furnished room. Off the kitchen there is a finely fitted up sitting room for the help. The sanitary arrangements are most perfect, and this means a word of praise for our local firm of plumbers Dakin Bros. Additional hot and cold water baths have been put in, and a laundry has also been added. The grounds, which are well laid out, contain nice driveways and walks, tennis court, etc. There is a doll or play house for the children and a bicycle stable. There are no fess chan ter wheels in the family. Several bathing houses have been built on the beach near by. The harbor view is grand being the most commanding in town The painting and decorating of the interior of the house was done by our townsman, F. Dunham, and Mr. Bonnell is authority for the statement that the work of Mr. Dunham and that of Dakin Bros. could not be excelled in any American city.

There are plenty of attractions for the tourists in Digby this summer, and all of them appear to be taking advantage of the same, yachting, boating, deep sea fishing and driving being their favorite pastimes, and as a result all these lines of busienss are reaping a harvest to a much greater extent than this time last season. Bicycling is also one of the pastimes, and it is no uncommon sight to see dozens of riders spinning along the different thoroughfares at one time. ## THE NEW MINISTERS

Have Taken Formal Charge of Their Departments.

All Appointments by the Outgoing Government Hung up by the Governor General.

Col. Aylmer Appointed Adjutant General-Parliament to Meet August 19th.

Ottawa, July 14.—The new ministers assumed formal charge of their departments today. Messrs. Mowat, Joly, Davies, Borden, Fisher, Scott and Paterson made personal the acquaintance of the members of their departmental staffs, but Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Tarte disdaining a trifling matter of this kind, at once got down to office work. Mr. Tarte paralyzed everybody by being at his office at eight o'clock. He called for a complete list of the employes of the public works department, which it was feared was preliminary to a num-ber of heads falling into the basket. A wave of relief passed through the department subsequently when is was ascertained that Mr. Tarte's object was to ascertain the amount of the month-might draw their salaries. An extra of the Canada Gazette was issued today, summoning parlia-ment for Wednesday, August 19th. It says it has been postponed until then for certain causes and considerations. Mr. Davies remarked to me today that the only business which the government would ask the house would be the estimates, and that every effort would be made to close up the business of the session as speedily as possible. He remarked that it rested very much with the opposition now as to what the duration of parliament

ly pay roll in order that the employes

would be. One of Mr. Davies' first official acts was to cause a notice to be issued that the close season for lobsters would be rigidly enforced this year. It commences south of Cape Canso on July 15th and north of the Cape on July

At the cabinet meeting today Col. Alymer was appointed adjutant general of militia. Col. Aylmer was Mr. Dickey's nominee and would have got the position long ago except for Ontario kicking. Jim Sutherland was offered a portfolio but declined it. Considerable interest prevails in political circles respecting the prospective action of the ministers in regard to the fast Atlantic service, Sir Charles Tupper, speaking to your correspondent today, said he had little doubt upon the point. With two Quebec men in the cabinet, the premier and Mr. Dobell, the latter especially being a warm supporter of the project, it would be difficult indeed for the premier or his colleague to allow the scheme to be shelved, which meant meant great things for Canada, and incidentally for Quebec. The modification in the contract to requested to give consent is with a tween nimself and brethren, and hoped view to minimizing the danger in dirty weather by allowing cancellation of penalties on satisfactory commerce.

Ottawa, July 15.-Laurier has written the liberals of Saskatchewan asking them to elect Paterson, the new controller of customs.

Paterson and Joly are not members of the cabinet, allthough in the late government the two controllers had full cabinet rank. Not until an act has been passed changing controllers into ministers and increasing the salaries to $7,000 a year will these two gentlemen be sworn of the privy coun-

In official circles it is learned that his excellency has not signed a single appointment suggested by the vernment. The orders in council will all therefore come under review by the new cabinet. Even the list of Queens' counsel is said to be hung up for further consideration. It is expected that Cartwright will mmediately take up the consideration of the fast Atlantic steamship contract, as considerable anxiety is felt in colonial circles in England respecting the line of action the government will take on this subject. The minister of militia left for Nove Scotia today. Previous to his departure he had a conference with General Gascoigne regarding the annual camps. Owing to the late date at which the funds will be available, the general has doubts as to the advisability of holling any camps this fall, and thinks if they are deferred until next spring the department will be in a position then to place the new rifle in the hands of the rural corps. The minister has given instructions for the different D. A. G's to be communicated with in order to ascertain the views of the force in the several districts. Montreal, July 15.—Hon. J. I. Tarte is having much difficulty in finding a seat, and the old time liberals are probably not strangers to the minister's embarrassment. Mr. Bechard of St. Johns and Iberville has notified Tarte that he cannot retire, and now the eyes of the wanderer are turned to Drummond and Arthabaska, it being proposed that Mr. Lavergne be appointed to a judgeship. The Canadian Pacific have adopted the check system of paying their employes, doing away with pay cars and obviating the risk of being robbed, as was the case in January, when Harry Naud bagged $5,500.

The privy council has refused to allow the attorney general of Canada to appeal in the case of Emanuel St Louis, contractor of the Curarn bridge, who obtained a judgment of $63,500 from the supreme court.

Belleville, Ont., July 15.—The Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada com menced its annual session here today, with a large attendance. The election of officers will take place tomorrow, when the present D. G., Mr. Gibson, member for Lincoln, will be elected

Forester Honored-A Big Demor

The Foresters of Court Westmorland, 1105, I. O. F., of Crapaud, held a picnic on Wednesday, July 8th, on the beautiful grounds of G. N. W. Cameron, Augustine Cove. There were 35 Foresters and their partners present, be sides a great number of friends. The object of so large a gathering was to do honor to Bro. Rev. G. W.

Fisher, chief ranger of the court, who will soon be moving to another field of labor, and the main feature was the presenting of an address and a beautiful gold headed cane, engraved (Rev. G. W. Fisher, from Court Westmor land, I. O. F., July 8th, 1896), to that

The address read: The address read:

To Rev. George W. Fisher, Chief Ranger of Court Westmorland:

Dear Bro.—Your brethren of Court Westmorland having learned with sincere regret that you have decided to remove from this to another field of labor, cannot allow you to depart from us without some tangible expression from us, as a court, of our esteem and regard. Since you have come amongst us we have learned to esteem you highly as a Christian gentleman. Your sociability, cordiality, kindness and other qualities of mind and heart have ever won our admiration.

It has been in the fraternal associations of the court room that many of us have been brought into the closest relationship with you. As a brother you were always courteous, ever helpful to the officers in the discharge of their duties; and as a presiding officer you abided closely by the constitution and by-laws, always methodical and expeditious in the discharge of business.

You will please permit us to say that we court have been largely increased by your association with us.

We will miss you much. We do not soon expect to find so competent a presiding officer. Be assured, dear brother, that the memory of your sojourn among us as a Christian minster and Forester will always be one of the pleasing memories which shall never melt into the oblivion of forgetfulness.

Twice as a court we have had the pleasure of listening to your expositions of gospel truth. Your elucidation and commendation of the principles of Forestry on the first occasion, and the sarnest admonstron on the second, that of the funeral of our late brother, Morley Myers, were much prized by us. Both sermons were indeed of a high order.

Ald as a token of our regard please accept this tribute of esteem and good-will, and may its assistance over the rough places, up the steep inclines, remind you that Foresters are brethren upon whom any worthy brother man may confidently lean for support in passing through "the thorns and shards of existence."

for support in passing through "the thorns and shards of existence."

Be kind enough to convey to Mrs. Fisher our bortherly regard and our appreciation of her services of love and charity while in our midst. And as faith in God is the guiding principle of Forestry, we earnestly hope—yes, look forward—to the time when in the revolution of the l'thodist orb of ministerial appointments it will be the good fortune of the Tryon circuit to again have your guiding hand in church and fraternity.

Again reminding you that you are leaving behind you here true and steadfast friends, who will always, as now, be pleased to hear of your continued success and prosperify, we all join in wishing you and your worthy partner in life a hearty God-speed.

Bro. Fisher made an extempore reply, which in substance was as follows: He expressed his sincere regret at parting with the brethren. He emphasized the cordial relations which the address referred to as existing bethat the Foresters would always be helpful to and considerate of one another. He heartily thanked them for proof of the minister of trade and caning him in so handsome a manner. It was altogether a surprise to him. He assured them that a momento was not needed to keep in remembrance his brothers of Court Westmorland. He hoped often to meet them, assuring them he would always take a deep interest in the court.

Again thanking them for their kind vords to Mrs. Fisher and himself, he called on Rev. John Reid of Monctor to address the audience. Mr. Reid responded in his usual happy way. Rev. Messrs. Dawson and Price. The party then sat down to tables which groaned under their weight of delicacies for which the fair ladies of the brotherhood are famous. A vote of thanks to the host and hostess, three cheers for the occasion, the Queen and the order brought this happy meeting to a close Bedeque, July 14.-Sunday's thunde storm, though the heaviest part went north of us, was the worst known here for some years. A granary and two other small buildings belonging to Rodolph Arbing were struck by lightning and burned to the ground. A new binder and about all his other machinery was destroyed. The family were at church, and the fire was first observed by some neighbors, but it had gained too much headway for anything to be saved. The dwelling house narrowly escaped being burned dso Berj. Murray's house was struck considerably injuring the eave-finish. A movement is on foot among the people of Bedeque and Summerside to ask the local government to construct a bridge over Dunk River between Murray's Island and Howatt's shore The distance is only 1,250 feet, the greater part of which is very shallow An important attachment to the proposed bridge will be an abolteau, which will protect in the neighborhood of ndred acres of marsh land from

The Presbyterian church was the scene of a very pleasant event last evening, when Spurgeon Gardiner of South Shore was united in marriage with Miss Belle McLeod, daughter of Philip McLeod of Centreville. Rev. Mr. McArthur officiated. A large number of friends and acquaintances assembled at the church. Miss Mabe Gardiner was bridesmaid, and the groom was attended by Geo. McLeod. ## FRANCE'S PRESIDENT.

An Attempt on His Life by One Francois.

Two Shots Fired at President Faure While in His Carriage.

The Chief Ruler of France Acted in a Very Cool Manner-The Assassin Arrested.

Paris, July 14.-An attempt was made to assassinate President Faure today. Throughout the sensational incidents of the day and the exciting scenes that accompanied and followed the attempt upon his life. President Faure maintained an outward demeanor and manifested not the slightest sign of agitation. When Francois, the would-be assas sin, straightened up from his lounging position against a tree and deliberate ly opened fire upon the president the latter showed no symptom of alarm, and the open carriage in which he was riding made no pause, but proceeded across the review ground to the presi-dential tribune, where he was to review the troops, who were out on parade in honor of the anniversary of the fall of the empire. The cool-headed course pursued by the president promptly reassured the crowd of his personal safety and welfare, and the first momentary apprehension of a tragedy gave way to a frenzy of congratulation. The president's carriage was greeted in its progress to the presidential tribune, after the shots had been fired, with enthusiastic cheers from the dense crowds which packed all sides of the parade ground in expectation of the brilliant spectacle. President Faure maintained his calm and self-possessed demeanor, and after he had taken his place in the presidential tribune frequently acknowledged the cordial greetings that were given him from all sides by raising his

The man Francois, who fired the two shots, was surrounded at the moment by hundreds of people, whose attention was, however, directed towards the president's carriage. The immediate spectators of the act, horrified and indignant, rushed upon the shooter with loud cries of "A mort."

Things looked decidedly treatening for Francois, and it seemed as though summary punishment was to be wreaked upon him on the spot by the infuriated crowd. But a strong escort of police appeared promptly on the scene and took charge of the culprit, and succeeded in transferring him in safety to a police station.

at the president and the crowd rushed at him with a threatening aspect, Boulant came to his defence, exclaiming, "Well done; that's the man for me." After the return from Long Champs troops was over, President Faure received a tremendous ovation The full name of the man who at tempted to assassinate the president is found to be Eugene Marie Francois. His record proves to be well known, and he has before been under the surveillance of the police. On July 29 on top of the line of eels, as easily as he threw in the chamber of deputies a if he was swimming in deep water pamphlet entitled "Freedom of writing in the nineteenth century, under Felix I." In this pamphlet he spoke of the the portage ever the Oromocto should abuses of the adminstration, and declared that attempts had been made to poison him wherever he went. After the excitement of the sensa tional firing upon the president from a throng of people had somewhat sub-sided, the incident began to be regarded as only the irresponsible and harm less act of a madman. But, nevertheless, several of the ambassadors of foreign powers and diplomats called upon President Faure to offer their felicitations, and sovereigns telegraphed their congratulations upon his es-

The heat throughout the day has been stifling and proved most trying to the troops that took part in the re view and parade. A balloon which had been sent up as a feature of the celebration hung motionless over the city, with not enough current of air to drift it. The members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, who are in the city, did not venture to attend the review on account of the heat.

Many soldiers fell in the ranks during the day from sunstroke. All the ambulance wagons were full. Directly a halt was called, and large numbers of soldiers rushed into the houses to get a drink of water.

It is thought probable that today's experience will induce the authorities to adopt the suggestion urged for years in the press, to hold the review of troops on July 14 in the morning, in order to avoid needless suffering.

INTELLIGENT FISH.

How the Eels Helped the Sturgeon Over Oromocto Shoals.

There are some wide-awake fish in the St. John river, particularly in the vicinity of Oromocto, and they appar ently know more than the most experi fall of the water and the consequen changes of the shoals. The sturged are not renowned for their beaut nor do they give any outward sign of possessing a high order of intelligence, yet, according to an old resident of Sumbury county, who has followed river-driving and rafting most of his life, these fish are about the smartest things that swim in fresh water.

"Talk about the river being low this fall!" remarked this old man to a Sun reporter the other day as the twain sat chatting near the Indiantown wharf of the Star Line-"you ought to have seen it in 1846. I worked for Squire Clowes that summer a-haying on Oromocto Island, and we could almost wade across the river from the Burton shore without wetting our knees, there being hardly water enough to float the scows that carried our scythes and rakes and camping outfit. I'll never forget a sight I saw that summer a long as I live. The boys on the island had run out of tobacco, and they sent me over to Oromocto to get some. I bought the tobacco and started to wade back. When pretty near the shoals I saw something that fairly raised the bair on my head, while the sweat ran down my back till it halffilled my boots. Blame my eyes if there wasn't a sturgeon that would draw four feet of water, if it drew an inch, swimming slowly up stream, where I knew there was not two feet of waster at the best. I watched the great fish cross the shoals into the deep part of the river above, but it some time before I puckered up enough courage to advance to where the fish had crossed my path. I ex-Francois was examined, and stated pected to find a sluice-way or ditch of some kind, but there was nothing of the sort. The water was as shallow rippling on the water a piece down cautiously along to find out what caused the sound and disturbed the surface of the river there. You might guess till the cows came home, but Boys-o-boys, it was a great drove of Another man named Boulant was eels—thousands of them—all headed up stream and moving like a regiment of Francois. When the latter had fired soldiers. As the main gang passed me, it left a double row of eels behind down river as far as I could see, 100 yards or so, and at the word of command (there must have been an order given allthough I didn't hear it) these to the city, after the review of the eels squared round across the current and lay down on the bottom about half a foot apart, as still as so many sunken logs. I was so taken up watch ing the eels that I almost jumped out of my skin as a great sturgeon glided past me and kept on up river. Strike me blind if he was not sliding alone While I stood there, not over a quarter of an hour, seven large sturgeon made thought it over every day since then, is, how the sturgeon induced the eels to take them up river where they could not go without help, and what pay the eels got for the job. They must have got something worth while, for an eel is not a fool fish by a long chalk, but what it was I could never imagtne. Can you? "No." said the old man to the reporter, as the latter pocketed his note book and pendil-"no, I swear I didn't have a taste in Oromocto that afternoon. If I had hoisted in a big jag I might perhaps have seen snakes, but never eels and sturgeon."

CAPT. JOHN EDWIN JACOBS DEAD.

Captain John Edwin Jacobs, who died at his home in this city Sunday evening, at the age of 84 years, was one of the oldest mariners in this port, says the Portland, Me., Press. was born at St. Andrews, N. B., his parents having gone there from Portland at the time of the embargo. Very soon his parents returned to this city, and he made it his home for all the remainder of his life. When a boy of 18 or 19 years he shipped in the United States service and was on the United States frigate Potomac, under Commodore John Downes, and in February, 1832, participated in the attack on Quallah Batco, a village of Sumatra, whose people were chastised because of outrages committed on an American vessel. After this he followed the sea, and several years previous to the civil war was a stevedore at Mobile. When the war broke out he came north and took command of the coasting schooner Kate Aubrey. Captain Jacobs' wife was Miss Relief Moore, of this city. She died several years ago. A son and a daughter survive John Edwin Jacobs, jr., of this city, and Miss Abbie L. WHAT FREE SILVER MEANS.

Probably every newspaper in Canada has been asked by its readers to explain the silver question, and to point out what would be the result of free coinage. It is easy enough to explain the meaning of free coinage at the ratio of sixteen to one, but not so easy to forecast the result of such a policy. On the last point opinions differ.

If the platform of the Chicago convention were adopted by the nation every man who had silver in any form could take it to the mint and get it coined into money. The government would take this silver, whether it were in the bar or in silver spoons and would give the owner all the coined money that it would make. It would be provided that the silver dollars and smaller coins would have the same value in gold that they have now. That is to say, any man could get a wheel barrow load of silver spoons coined into gold dollars such as are now in circulation, and five of these would be worth one five dollar gold piece of the present weight. This means that sixteen ounces of silver coined into dollars would be worth one ounce of gold. And as coinage would be free and unlimited, sixteen ounces of silver in any form would be worth an ounce of gold. So far all is plain sailing.

At the present prices it takes abou 30 ounces of silver bars to buy an ounce of gold. Silver is sold every day in the open market for less than seventy cents per cunce. Gold is worth twenty dollars per ounce. Of course if the silver miner could now take silver bullion to the mint and get it coined into the kind of silver dollars that are current he would never sell it for seventy cents per ounce. There is silver en ough in an ounce to make a dollar piece and a twenty-five cent piece, and he would have these two coins made. But at present the government buys the bar silver at the current price and makes the profit out of the coinage. At present also the government coinage is limited in quantity. And so it happens that silver spoons are sold for less than their weight in silver dollars.

But now we come to conjecture and opinion. Under the proposed system all the silver in the market would be worth as much as its weight in silver octn, and that would be one-sixteenth as much as its weight in gold. As silver in other countries can only be exchanged for one-thirtleth of its weight in gold the people in other countries who have silver would ship it to the United States to be sold o coined. People in the United States who have gold would ship it away to buy thirty times its weight in silver.

People in the United States, who had payments to make would pay in gold if they could, while their bills at home would be paid in silver. Before long all the coin in the United States would be silver and all the gold would be sent away to countries which would not take silver at the United States valuation.

A five dollar piece sent to England or Canada would buy twice as much goods as five silver dollars. A cargo of about that gold would only be a nomsilver would be the real standard Silver would be mined and smelted with as little labor as now. It would be procured from abroad in exchange for the same commodities as now. It would seem that a man who now exchanges a bushel of wheat for an ounce of silver would still do so. The difference would be that whereas he now considers that the wheat or the silver lar and forty cents. He would have all who met him. cheap money or dear produce, but so far as the barter was concerned he would come cut about the same as before.

But if he owed money borrowed under the old system he would make gain. He would pay cheap money for dear money. He would pay with an ounce of silver or a bushel of wheat for two ounces or two bushels bought years ago. The mortgage of a thousand dellars would become a mortpage of five hundred dollars. The debtor's gain would be the creditor's loss. This explains why the financial centres, the banks and the creditor states are opposed to free silver while the mortgaged communities are all in its favor. We would also expect the pensioners, the savings bank depositors and all persons who have fixed incomes opposing the degradation of money.

THEY ARE HAPPY.

If the New Brunswick liberals feel sad and sore their fellows in Quebec province are happy as the day is long. Le Soir, which is one of the party organs in Montreal, has this to say as to the representation of the French-Canadians and of the province of Quebec in the Laurier cabinet: "In the first cabinet of Sir John A. Macdonald Quebec was represented from the French-Canadian point of view by Cartier, Chapais and Langevin, three ministers. In the Mackenzie government the French-Canadians were equally represented, having Dorion, Letellier and Fournier, with subsequent changes in the personnel, but never in the number. Under the different Macdonald governments from 1878 to 1891 the French element never saw increased representation. In 1878 Masson, Langevin, Baby; in 1880 Langevin, Caron, Mousseau; in 1882 "Langevin, Caron, Chapleau. In the "Abbott ministry the French-Canadians were no better treated. They had Langevin, Caron and Chapleau, and after Sir Hector's retirement Ouimet, Chapleau and Caron. Sir "John Thompson did not surround "himself with more than three French ters, Caron, Ouimet and Angers who remained in the Bowell cabinet until the retirement of Angers, whom Desjarding succeeded. Did Sir Charles Tupper increase the number of French-Canadians in the imperial cabinet? He kept it as it was So we see that since 1867 Quebec has had three French ministers. Now what has Mr. Laurier done on obtaining power? He breaks immediately with the old conservative traditions and gives a stronger representation to the French-Canadian element in the persons of Messrs. Laurier, Tarte, Joly and Geoffrion. He has done more. Our province, which never had more than five representatives in the different administrations, now has seven. Now if we take into consideration that the premier is one of ourselves, we ought to conclude that our province is represented in a way that should make us forget what has been done by the conservatives in the past."

THEY WERE SAFE. If the liberal party had been defeat ed at the polls Sir Oliver Mowat would still have been premier of Ontario and attorney general. Mr. Blair would have been premier and attorney general of New Brunswick, and Mr. Fielding would have been premier and provincial secretary of Nova Scotia. They would have cheerfully held their old positions, drawn their old salaries, and have left Mr. Mills and his friends in Ontario, Mr. Ellis and his colleagues in this province, and Mr. Fraser and his associates in Nova Scotia to continue the weary struggle at Ottawa. So long as federal politics offered only labor and sacrifice Mr. Ellls, Mr. King and Colonel Domville would not have found Mr. Blair a competitor much less a successful rival. It was only when large rewards were within grasp that the veterans found themselves suddenly outranked. The triple alliance went into the con test, if they can be said to have gone in at all, on terms which gave others all the risks and sacrifices and them selves the chief rewards. Men who make such terms are not likely to sacrifice much for their country.

GOVERNOR RUSSELL.

It would probably come and was perhaps the most distinguish ed New England member of the demoinal money in the United States and cratic party. If free silver had not been made the issue in the national contest this year Mr. Russell might possibly have been a candidate for the presidency. But like most of the New England statesmen, he was a sound money advocate, and at Chicago he did all that he could to bring the convention to a reasonable frame of mind In this province Governor Bussell had many friends. He spent several sumis worth seventy cents he would then mer vacations on the Miramichi and claim that either was worth one dol- other fishing waters and was liked by

MORE COLD WATER.

And now comes forward the stalwart liberal journal the Moneton Transcript with its dagger. The following is a well aimed thrust at the minister of railways that is to be:

The Meral party needs to grow in these eastern provinces, but it can only grow permanently by the firm adherence to principle which has marked its past.

True, it will now attract those who are the camp followers of every successful pol-True, it will now attract those who are the camp followers of every successful political party, the cuckoos of emoluments and patronage, but the wise political leaders will not substitute the fawning of this class for the fidelity of the men who shared the adversity of the liberal party in its darkest hours, whose loyalty to the liberal principles was never questioned, whose admiration of the great leader never failterd, who led fordorn hopes and thereby made present success possible.

Mr. Blair did not share the adversity of the liberal party in its darkest hours to any great extent, did he? On the contrary he did something to increase the adversity and to add to his own prosperity. His loyalty to liberal principles have occasionally been questioned even by the Transcript. His admiration for the great leader has been carefully withheld, and he never led any forlorn hopes.

We know of no good reason why Mr. Laurter, in making up his state of his cabinet, should not give New Brunswick the same number of ministers she has had in the conservative government; indeed, we have taken it for granted that our status in that regard would remain unchanged. Of course we know that personal and financial claims can not always be respected in such a case, but hope that no exigencies will intervene to prevent New Brunswick enjoying the continued honor of having two seats in the dominich cabinet.

Supporters of the new administration boastingly speak of it as the ministy "of all the talents." This name is not one of good omen. It was given to an unfortunate and short-lived British ministry, of whose head Sheridan said at the time: "I have known many men knock their heads against a wall, but I never before heard of a man collecting bricks and building a wall for the express purpose of knocking his head against it."

Is it worth while for the new ministers to talk about the righteous verdict of the people? The premier has had so little regard for the people's verdilot that he has passed over the elected representatives and given all the chief places in his cabinet to men who were not elected. What body of people voted to place Canada under the rule of Sir Oliver Mowalt, Mr. Bladr, Mr. Fielding, Mr. Tarte and Mr. Paterson?

The report has been circulated that Colonel Domville would resign his seat in favor of Mr. Blair. The colonel authorizes the Sun to say that he will resign for no man living. He says that he has been fighting fourteen years for the Kings county seat and he proposes to hold it as long as the people want him.

The Sydney, Cape Breton, Reporter says: "New Brunswick rallies as one man around the stalwart Blair." We hope some photographer will get a snap shot at Mr. Ellis, Colonel Domville, Colonel Tucker and Mr. King in the act of rallying as one man around their minister. The action is not perceptible to the naked eye.

The public is still waiting for the ourst of enthusiasm with which the eaders and press of the liberal party in New Brunswick were expected to greet the appointment of Mr. Blair. The occasion is apparently one of great

How soon is Colonel Tucker going to take up his great reform movement? We refer of course to the introduction of the five cent bread loaf.

If this is a ministry of all the talent does it not follow that Mr. Blair monopolizes all the talent in the liberal panty of New Brunswick?

The English Crew for Halifax.

New York, July 13.-The English sional oarsmen who reached this city on Friday night, en route to the aquatic carnival at Halifax, are singularly well equipped in the important matter of boats. The fleet includes three shells of the latest English pattern, and they will be objects of especial interest to American experts in view of recent developments at Henley, where it was shown to the satis faction of the majority that the old country designers are still a trifle ahead when it comes to building effective shells and oars.

The four-oared shell built by Gus Brewer weighs 105 pounds. It measures 42 feet in length, 10 inches in beam, and 23-4 inches in depth. It is not built to carry a coxswain, the rudder being connected with the stretcher of the bow man, who will do the steering. With regard to the pair-oared shell to be used by Barry and Bubear, and the shingle shell intended for Barry, London Sporting Life of July 4 says:

"It is a splendld specimen of the oat builder's art, and one of the finest poats of the kind ever built at Clasper's, which is saying a great deal, see ing that the firm holds the highest predentials for racing boats all over the world. Dimensions: Thirty-six feet long, beam 141-4 inches, depth forward 41-2 inches, aft 33-8 inches. It contains fixed stretchers and dogs, and the seats slide on vulcanite rollers. The boat is also fitted with one of Clasper's patent aluminium countervails. Out of compliment to the donor this boat was named John H. Clasper. The sculling boat, kindly presented by T. Cooke of Fulham to Barry, was named Tom Cooke. Dimensions: Length, 31 1-2 feet; amidships, 10 3-4 inches; depth of stem, 53-4 inches; stern, 41-2 inches; weight, 23 pounds; builder, Swaddle."

THE TURF.

As to Shorter Trotting Races.

(New York Herald, Editorial.) The question raised by the Herald whether the time has not come to shorten trotting races has been taken up by breeders, owners, drivers trainers and sporting papers in all dipections. As the views which we have published from time to time show, it is a question with two sides, but while some are loath to change the present system, under which it may take eight or ten heats to decide a race, the prevailing sentiment seems to be that a reform is needed, not only out of conderation for the horses, but also in the best interests of the sport.

The fact is that the character of trothas changed since the rule of the nest three heats in five was first adop ted. This originated with match rac ing between two horses, when the con est could not be prolonged beyond five heats unless, as very rarely happened there was a "dead heat." But now and stake trotting has come into eneral vogue, and there may be, and often are, a dozen or more horses entered in a contest, with the possibility of requiring eight or nine heats to de termine the winner. Such long drawn out struggles not only severely tax the horses, but often ecome tiresome to the Moreover, they are apt to be more test of driving skill and cunning than equine superiority. It is claimed for them that they are the highest tests of the endurance of a horse. But, as David Bonner aptly suggests, "if a man has a horse whose endurance he vishes to show we can have a two miles dash or two miles and repeat, which will occupy but very little time. The agitation shows a widespread interest in the matter, and has revealed a strong sentiment in favor of adopting some plan by which a trotting

The Globe's Attitude Gives Great Offence in Some Quarters.

Fellow Andrew G. Has an Eye on Northumberland and Kent.

An Alterestion About Soup Kitchens, and The About Various Dishes

"Mr. President," said Fellow John L., "there is always a degree of sympathy for a disappointed man. I think we all of us felt disposed to extend our charity to the editor of the Globe. We did not expect him to devote much space to eulogy of a government of which he may have hoped to be a member but which decided to try and get along without him. That he should even in a moment of pique discover some merits in a party he has always hitherto denounced might not provoke harsh criticism. But it seems to me there should be a limit. Tues day the Globe, under guise of friendly criticism, practically denounced the government. In picking up the Globe last night what do we find? It had no reference to the government at all. Its leading editorial is on what subject? On the question of what to do with the poor. Right alongside of that is an extract on the subject of Renovating Old Garments. Think of it! Instead of dwelling upon the glory of the New Era, the editor of the Globe takes up subjects that suggest a conviction in his mind that we are entering upon an era of poverty and old clothes. Soup kitchens and second hand clothes. Comment is needless I think, sir, the editor of the Globe should be disciplined."

"You mean subsidized," said a cynical fellow who sat beside Fellow John

"I would like to ask the first speaker," said Fellow C. A., "how there can be anything else but poverty among the masses when the Boodle is to be controlled by persons of such gigantic capacity as those at present connectwith the great spending departments. You know as well as I do there can't possibly be enough to go around."

"Speaking of evening papers," said Fellow Richard, "I see in one of them an attack on Fellow John V. in an article that begins with an interview with the new minister of railways." "Well?" queried Fellow Andrew G., what of it?"

"Nothing," replied Fellow Richard. 'I merely directed attention to the fact. Of course," he added with an ironical smile, "it has no significance." "I would like to enquire," said one of the Fellows, "whether the new minister has a constituency yet." "Negotiations are pending," said th President. "I referred last evening to Blanchard. Then there is Robinson. and there is McInerney. They are under consideration also." "I want to tell you." said a Fellov from Chatham, "that any arrangement that would give the patronage to Robinson and Tweedle won't go down.

We won't have it. That's straight goods." "Anything will go down that cook," curtly rejoined Fellow Andrew G. "If you are needed in the soup-in you go.'

"We'll see about that," retorted the Chatham Fellow. "There may be a roast in preparation, too." "I think," said the President, "we had better adjourn." And he signalled to the janitor to turn off the gas.

PEARY'S EXPEDITION

Sailing of the Steamer Hope for Green-(Sydney Reporter.)
The steamer Hope, Capt. John Bartlett, which conveys the sixth Peary expedition to Greenland, will arrive this afternoon from New Campbellton, where she has taken in the necessary coal and wood for the voyage. The Hope has been thoroughly overhauled and fitted up in fuxurious style, so that those mer who are to embark in her will be very agreeably surprised at the neat and clean appearance. A splendid cabin has been provided forward of the fore hatch, with sixteen fortable berths, each nair screened off with red plush curtains, and the rooms well lighted and ventilated. Two large tables enable its use for dining purposes and the after cabin will be used for a reading and smoking room, with the staterooms of the captain and chief officers of the expedition opening off it. The ship has been painted and cleaned inside and out, is respletdent in her new dress, and carries abundant stores and nine boats, so that she is prepared for any emerg-ency. As our readers are aware, the main object of her cruise is to bring home the great 40-ton meteorite at Cape York, but she takes three scientific parties who will be landed at Labrador, South Greenland and Mel ville Bay respectively. Lieut. Peary himself will be accompanied by Hugh Lee and his black servant Henson, who were with him last year. A party from Boston goes as follows: Prof. Alf. Burton, Massachusetts Institute; Prof. Geo. H. Burton, Institute of Technology; Geologist G. H. Putnam, assistant in the United States coast and geodetic survey, detailed to accompany the party to take pendulum and magnetic observations; Russell W. Many shared in this question and conversation. Rev. Mr. Thompson acted as secretary pro tem. Kindly commendations were uttered about the work of the field secretary, who held several meetings in the county before the convention day. The has not been so much enlarged as it has been improved, and all felt that the S. S. work in this county stands on a higher level than formerly.

The afternoon session was held in the Methodist church in the town and was opened by Rev. Mr. McInnis. A normal lesson by Mr. Lucas unfolded certain lines of Bible study for teachers. The nominating committee reported and the following officers were elocted: President, Rev. Wm. Harrison: secretary treasurer. Wm. Robertson; vice-presidents of districts, John Brown, Tetagouche; James Chalmers, and Mrs. McLean are the executive, and Miss Louise Ferguson, secretary for the home department in that county. Grateful for so large an audience, yet every parent and every Christian would be a loser if absent, as a meeting of such a character must elevate Christian life. Mr. McInnis in an excellent manner opened "the subject, How to Help Young Men by the Sunday School. Many spoke to this sub-ject, after which Mr. Lucas spoke on Teaching Training, Why and How. OWEN V. OUTERBRIDGE (P. E. I.) Ships and Shipping-Chartered Ship-Perishable Goods—Ship Disabled by Excepted Perils—Transhipment—Obligation to Tranship—Repairs—Reasonable Time—Carrier—Bailee.

If a chartered ship be disabled by excepted perils from completing the voyage, the owner does not necessarily lose the benefit of his contract, but may forward the goods by other means to the place of destination and earn the freight.

The option to tranship must be exercised within a reasonable time, and if repairs are decided upon they must be effected with reasonable despatch. or otherwise the owner of the cargo becomes entitled to his goods. Quaere-Is the ship owner obliged to tranship? If the goods are such as would perish before repairs could be made, the shipowner should either tranship or deliver them up or sell, if the cargo owner does not object and his duty is the same if a portion of the cargo, severable from the rest, is perishable. And if in such a case the goods are sold without the consent of their owner the latter is entitled to recover from the shipowner the amount they would have been worth to him if he had received them either at the port of shipment or at their destination at the time of the breach of duty.

The title to the soil in the beds of navigable rivers is in the Crown in right of the provinces, not in right of the dominion. Dixon v. Snotsinger (23 U. C. C. P., 235) discussed. The property of the Crown may be dedicated to the public, and a presumption of dedication will arise from facts sufficient to warrant such an inference in the case of a subject.

Under 23 V., c. 2, s. 35 (P. C.) power was given to the Crown to dispose of and grant water lots in rivers and other navigable waters in Upper Canada, and under it the power to grant the soil carried with it the power to dedicate it to the public use.

The user of a bridge over a navigable river for thirty-five years is sufficient to raise a presumption of dedication.

If a province before confederation had so dedicated the bed of a navigable river for the purpose of a bridge. that it could not object to it as an obstruction to navigation, the Crown, as representing the dominion, on assuming control of the navigation, was bound to permit the maintenance of the bridge An obstruction to navigation cannot be justified on the ground that the public benefit to be derived from it outwelghs the inconvenience it causes It is a public nuisance though of very great public benefit, and the obstruction of the slightest possible degree.

V. KELLY (N. B.) Registry Laws-Registered Deed-Priority Over Earlier Unregistered Conveyance Notice Suit to Post-

In 1868 N. conveyed a parcel of land to a railway company, who did not register their deed. In 1872 he made a deed in favor of K. of land which the company claimed was comprised in their conveyance, and a suit in equity was brought praying for a de cree postponing the later deed, which was registered, to that of the company. To prove notice to K. of the earlier conveyance, two witnesses swore that in conversation with them K. had admitted knowledge that the company owned the land. Held, affrming the decision of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick (33 N. B., Rep. 110) that it was necessary for the company to prove actual notice that would have made the conduct of K. in taking and registering her deed fraudulent; that the witnesses as to the admissions were not connected with the property and their evidence would prove even constructive notice; and that giving them entire credit their

CITY OF HALIFAX V. LITHGOW (N. S.)

Municipal Corporation—Repair Streets—Pavements—Assessment on Property Owner—Double Taxation— V., c. 39 (N. S.)-53 V., c. 60, s. 14

By section 14 of the Nova Scotis statute, 53 V., c. 60, the city council of Halifax was authorized to borrow money for covering the sidewalks of the city with concrete or other perma nent material, one half the cost to be a charge against the owners of the respective properties in front of which the work should be done, and to be a first lien on such properties. A concrete sidewalk was laid, under author ity of this statute, in front of L.'s pro perty, and he refused to pay half the cost on the ground that his predecessor in title had in 1867, under the Act 24 V., c. '89, furnished the material to construct a brick sidewalk in front of the same property, and that it would he imposing a double tax on the property if he had to pay for the concrete

We always denounced the Tories for their extravagance. To sustain our record we must of course make the expenditures greater. Fellow Laurier also regrets very deeply that he could not at once give offices and salaries to a lot more worthy men, and he makes special mention of Francois Langelier, a noble Fellow, who speaks excellent French, and zealous promoter of that great political highway—the Bale des Chaleurs railway. Hon. T. M. Daly and Archbishop Machray sail for Canada by the Parisian tomorrow.

I understand the Pacific cable conference was postponed till October primarily because Mr. Chamberlain thinks the attitude of the liberal government towards these imperial projects should be fully known before further progress is made.

New York, July 15.-A despatch to the Post from London says: " The liberal victory in Canada is already having a marked effect upon the new imperial policy which Secretary Chamberlain adopted practically at the instance of that country. Mr. Chamberlain feels that it is unwise to proceed with new imperial projects until the intentions of the new Canadian government are known, and he has postponed the Pacific cable conference till October. Fears are entertained lest a private cable from San Francisco via Honolulu and New Caledonia should now get first into the field. Secretary Chamberlain also has informed governor general of Canada that he must await the views of Mr. Laurier before granting to the Allan line the contract for the fast steamship service between Canada and England, which the Canadians hope will, with the aid of British and Canadian subsidies of £225,000, make the St. Lawrence, instead of New York, the British mail and passenger route to Chicago, the western states, and possibly also the

The Huge Scotch Combine Controls the World and a Further advance is Expected.

Thread.

Since June 1st the wholesale price of sewing thread has advanced $1.80 per gross of 144 spools. The importers are not sure that the advance is worldwide, but that is their impression. The first advance was 50 cents per gross, and a few days ago the further adwance of $1.30 per gross was declared. One was just before and the other immediately after the formation of the gigantic combine lately reported of the The Scotch thread manufacturers. 50 cents advance was felt to be a notice to wholesalers to buy then. The combine includes all the great cotton thread firms—Clark, Coates, Chadwick, Clapperton and others. A leading importer said to an Evening Mail reporter today: "The combine is one of the greatest combinations of the world. The cotton thread trade of the world is controlled. The combin represents millions of pounds sterling capital and controls a trade aggregating a vast sum annually. It can fix a price for the world and compel us to adhere to It.

"The price of thread is now $5 instead of $3.70 per gross. The thread is handled in Canada by the Central agency of Montreal, which is the distributing centre for the dominion. Most of the makes of thread are imported in skeins, and spooled here where the spools are made, and in this way a duty of 12 1-2 per cent is avoided. The duty on spooled thread is 25 per cent., and on skein thread is 12 1-2 per cent. which is a low duty. The difference is designed to cause the spools to be manufactured at home. Some of the brands of thread are imported spooled, but the majority are spooled in Wood Bros. said the retail price thread was now five cents a reel. The former price was four cents. Clark's anchor brand was almost the only cotton thread used in Nova Scotia, different localities had different likes. The two hundred yards spool was altogether sold in Halifax, while in St. John the three hundred yard spool was the favorite.

It is believed the combination Paisley thread also control whatever small manufacturers of cotton thread there may be in the United States. There are none in France and Germany. Further advances are looked

LIVE GHOST SEEN.

New York, July 9.—Hermas Metz committed suicide more than a year ago, yet many of his old acquaintances solemly aver that his ghost stalked among them last Monday and looked them squarely in the face. The reincarnation of Herman Metz walked into the saloon of Charles Viemeister, at Broadway and Chauncey street, in the eastern district of Brooklyn, and looked quietly at the proprietor. Viemeister had been a friend of Herman Metz for years. The saloon keeper had been to the Metz funeral, and had seen his friend's body after an autopsy had been performed upon it. Herman Metz was dead as a coffin nail.

The bartender looked up and saw Hermann Metz standing before him. Viemeister leaped backward and sent half a dozen cut glass goblets crashing to the iloor.

'How to do, Charlie," said the sup posed spectre with a grin, and held out a skinny hand over the bar. "Good God!" said the saloon kerper, turning alternately red and purple "Can it he that the dead has risen?" THE BENEFITS AND LESSONS OF THE MODERN WHEEL

Four Useful Lessons in Life Taught by the Machine in the Hands of the Thinking Rider - Difficulties Turned Into Blessings.

"The wheel, while revolutionary, is evolutionary. It has created for itsell a position, and a large one, in the social sphere. B'essings innumerable follow in its wake. It is the evangel of the age. Like mercy, it blesses him who rides, and the one who looks on wishes he had a wheel. In these days of nervous strain hustle and bustle and keen competition, the wheel has become like Longfellow's "Evangeline," who carried refreshment to the weary toilers in the harvest field. It bears us as on eagle wings from the fret and worry-away from the fumes and smoke-into the beautiful country, where we may talk with nature. and "find tongues in trees, books in running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything, Here, too, the lungs may drink in wholesome draughts of Dame Nature's pure ozone. Here prostrate one's self upon her motherly bosom and hear the pulsations of her tender heart; here inhale her aroma-tics and talk through her to Nature's

'In a word, the wheel, as a tonic, a health restorer, a lung tester and a money saver, has few equals. One gathers from it nerve force, magnetism and alertness, even though it has sometimes the unfortunate knack of divesting the gay of equilibrium and the grave of dignity. If your friend be blue, black or cranky, by all means buy him a wheel, and the mists will roll away and the crank give way to gear, and sunshine will take the place

"But, good as medicine is, if not taken at the right time it may cause disease of various kinds. Disease is physical, moral, spiritual. Excessive wheeling produces certain physical types of disease, and unseasonable wheeling producs certain moral and spiritual ailments. I am aware that it is largely a question of conscience and motive. The Scripture precept is Whether therefore you eat or you drink or whatsoever you do, do all to the glory of Ged.' If, then, my manner or time of wheeling is not to the glory of God, it is my duty to give it up or that part of it which dishonors God and proves a snare rather than a blessing to me. "There are two extremes to watch against in this question: First, old fogyism; and, second, lawlessness. It is not possible for him to attain the highest ideal who violates physical, moral or spiritual law, but none of these need be broken if the wheel be rightly used. "I stand beside the wheel, and it whispers, 'Son of man, suffer me to put unto your ear four useful lessons for daily use.' The first is, keep trying. Here I am reminded of the first time I tried to mount a wheel. After a great deal of ungraceful gyrations, profuse perspiration and 'Ah! ah!' from the perspiration, contortions of clothing and wounded feelings, I succeeded in the control of that fitful thing, and that in spite of a few lifted up their hands in holy horror that a person should descend to such an indignity. To this day I bear marks on my body of 'keep trying.'

"The next lesson the wheel whispers is 'keep moving.' We certainly shall come to grief on a bicycle unless we keep going, the same as it is necessary to do in life, in order not to be out-

"Yet, again, the wheel whispers 'keep clean.' By use the wheel becomes cor-roded and splashed with mud, and to do effectual work must be kept clean and often oiled. Paul wrote, 'Keep thyself pure.' So our souls need the anointing of the spirit. Keep thyself pure in heart, in life, in thought and in purpose.

"My wheel whispers finally 'Keep sweet., In wheeling our temper is sorely tried, because of the humiliation of tumbling. Our advantage is to smile at the steel steed's peculiar moods. There are many things which tend to toughen us, yet happy is the man of contented spirit. By a little manage-ment we are soon able to turn difficulties into blessings:

"In the spiritual world we often hear one denomination criticizing another Churches are like wheels, with various advantages, perhaps, for each. The wheel bids us aim at the cultivation of a well-rounded life, and to seek to guide our lives to that end."-Rev. T. Auriol Hughes, in the Fifth Baptist Church, Boston.

The Size of the Sun.

The sun, provided we measure only the disk seen with the smoked glass, is eight hundred and sixty-six thousand miles in diameter, i.e., one hundred and eight earths could be comfortably ranged side by side across the disk. To cover the surface would require many thousands. To fill the interior we should need one million three hundred thousand. On a smaller scale w night represent the sun by a ball two eet in diameter and the earth by a good-sized grain of shot. Let the sur be hollowed out, then place the earth at its centre, and let the moon revolve about it at its real distance of two hundred and forty thousand miles. There would yet remain nearly two hundred thousand miles of space between the moon's orbit and the inclosing shell of the sun. Indeed, to journey from one side of the sun to the other, through the centre, would take one of our swift express trains nearly two years and a half. So vast a globe must be heavy. Since its density is only one-quarter that of the earth, it only weighs as much as three hundred and hirty-two earths, or two octillions of tons? The attraction of gravity on its surface would cause a man whose weight was one hundred and fifty

Women will take no part in races controlled by the League of American Wheelmen. MILK AND CREAM TESTING.

ription of Approved Apparatus for Making the Babcock Provings.

The dairy department of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station has been making some interesting tests of the comparative richness of the milk of cows there. The results, with the method of testing, are published in a bulletin. Cuts of the aparatus used are printed in the bulletin. Some of the cuts, with accompanying descriptions,

"The test here described was the invention of Dr. S. M. Babcock of the Experiment Station of the University of Wisconsin. The test bottles used are shown in Fig. 1. They are made of heavy glass and should have a capa. up to the neck of not less than 40 cubic centimeters. The saduation on the neck extends from zero to 10 per cent. The division on the necks of the bottles should be uniform, and the line should be parallel. These lines should be blackened to be easily read. If by use and washing the black disappears from the lines, it may be restored either by a lead pencil or by rubing with black ink or other dark compound.

"Care should be taken in purchasing the bottles to secure them from reliable parties. They should be made of strong glass, and the graduation must be cor rectly made. "The pipette for mersuring milk (Fig. 2), should hold 1% cubic centimeters when filled to the mark upon its neck. The opening in the lower end of the pipette should be large enough allow the milk to flow out rapidly and the upper end should be square across and not bell shaped. It is absolutely essential that the pipette should contain exactly the required amount of milk. The dairyman should purchase it of a reliable firm as a guarantee of "The acid is measured usually by means of a small glass cyclinder, shown in Fig. 3, holding 17.5 cubic centimeters. Simple and rapid measures of im-

1000000 Figs. 5 and 6. It Fig. 4. Acid Measure. the bottles should be made to revolve at sufficient speed. If the horizontal wheel, to the rim of which the pocket holding the bettles are attached, is less than 15 inches in diameter, it should be made to revelve at 1,000 revolutions a minute. If the wheel is 20 inches in diameter, the number of revolutions may be reduced to 700 per minute.

"When purchasing a hand machin it is better to get one driven by cog gear rather than by friction. A given number of turns of the handle will then invariably secure a definite number of revolutions of the bottles.

"In the purchase of a power machine for a factory, see to it that the vertical shaft to which the wheel containing the bottles is attached is made to project through the cover far enough to permit the use of a speed indicator or some arrangement whereby the speec may be determined. The low readings of fat in some creameries are undoubtedly due to the fact that the machines are not driven fast enough to bring all the fat to the surface and into the necks of the bettles. The pocket holding the bottles when revolving should be in the plane of the wheel and not in box es soldered on the sides of pieces o zinc or tin.

"The acid used is the ordinary con mercial oil of vitriol or sulphuric acid having a specific gravity of 1.82. If the acid is too weak, it will not dissolve all of the curd, and a cheesy substance will be so far mixed with the fat in the neck of the bottle as to render correct reading impossible. If the acid is too strong, it will blacken the fat and leave a charcoal-like substance floating with the fat on the neck of the bottle rendering correct reading equally impossible. If the acid is slightly too weak, that difficulty may be overco by using a little more of it. If only a little too strong, that difficulty may be partially avoided by using slightly acid or by having the milk and acid both cold when mixed. Sulphuric acid has a great avidity for water and must be kept in a tightly stoppered bottle, the stopper being either of glass or rubber, as a common cork is soon destroyed. The dairyman with only a small herd of cows can obtain sufficient acid from the local druggist at a low price; the factory may purchase it at wholesale in carboys at a price still lower. The carboy should be kept in the original wooden box in which it is received, and as tightly covered as possible. The acid is very corroding and must be handled with extreme care." It is best to test the milk of a cow for several milkings. Mix samples or the different ones together. They may be kept from souring and surdling by a mixture of bichromate of potash and corrosive sublimate. Mix three parts of bichromate of potash and one of cor rosive sublimate together and put quantity the size of a pea into the mix 4 samples of milk. These chemicals are poisonous. The samples are taken vi.il the little instrument called a milk thief, taken from the pail as soon as the milk is drawn. Reach the tube down to the ottom of the pail.

The chemicals cause the milk to turn a yellow color. Before you begin to make the test for buter fat stir the samples thoroughly, so as to mix the milk and cream evenly.

"When the milk has been well mixed, the pipette is taken between the thumb and the second and third fingers of the right hand. The point is inserted into the milk, which is sucked into the pipette by applying the mouth to the upper end. When the milk has reachstem of the pipette and the mouth, the forefinger of the right hand is placed quickly over the upper end of the pipette as it is removed from the mouth. By gradually rolling this index finger to the right or left a small quantity of air is admitted, and the milk gradually flows out. Be careful to have both the forefinger and the pipette dry. Stop the column of milk when the upper line is even with the mark on the stem, holding the pipette vertically over the milk from which the sample was taken and on a level with the eye. Next place the point of the pipette in the mouth of one of the Babcock test bottles, and by removing the finger from the upper end allow the milk hold the latter vertically, but at an angle with the horizon so that the milk will flow down one side of its neck. After the milk has run out of the pipette blow out the last drop into the test bottle. "The acid is then measured in the acid measure and carefully and slowly poured into the test bottle, allowing it to flow down the side of the neck. To mix the acid with the milk take the bottle by the neck and shake it with a horizontal rotary motion to prevent the curd which first forms being thrown up into the neck of the bottle and to insure the complete dissolving of the milk by the acid. As soon as a sufficient number of bottles have been thus treated place them in the centrifugal nachine, and after the cover is put on whirl them from 700 to 1,000 revolutions a minute, according to the diameter of the wheel.

"After whirling the bottles five minutes in the centrifugal machine the cover is removed and by means of a pipette or other apparatus hot water is added to each bottle until the fat is forced up into the neck nearly to the 10 per cent. mark. The cover is then replaced, and the bottles are whirled for one minute longer. A convenient arrangement for adding the hot water is to hang a pail above the machine and siphon the hot water out of it by means of a rubber tube one-fourth of an inch in diameter, provided with a pinch cock. In the lower end of this tube is a short piece of glass tubing drawn to a small bore at the opening to convey the water into the bottles. All the fat in the milk will be found after the second whirling in the neck of the bottle. To measure this fat a pair of dividers is recommended.

"Throughout the progress of the test, after the addition of the acid to the milk and when the per cent. of fat is read, the bottles must be warmer than the melting point of butter fat. When many tests are made at a time, a suite vessel should be provided to hold the bottles in upright position in hot water until the fat is read. A tin box

"As soon as read the contents of the bottles are emptied into some receptacle which is not injured by the acid, and the bottles repeatedly washed out with hot water. They must be kept clean by thoroughly rinsing after each test, and not infrequently the necks of the bottles should be swabbed out with a brush made especially for the purpose or with a piece of cloth wrapped about splinter of wood."

Quality of Milk.

An interesting experiment for the butter dairyman, showing the compara-tive cream capacity of his cows, is to fill a tumbler or glass jar with milk from each of his cows and allow them to stand in a proper temperature until the cream is all raised. He will be surprised to note the difference of volume in cream from cows of the same breed, fed and treated in precisely the same manner. A still greater difference will be observed in milk from different breeds giving a large quantity and from those noted for rich product.

There is a loud call for the butter dairyman to investigate the capabilities of the cows he is milking. Let him prove by actual test and inform himself positively which of them is paying and which he is harboring at a oss and unsuited to his business.

Washington, July 12.-In his sermon to-day, starting from a brilliant Bible Dr. Talmage discourses upon woman's opportunities and the wrongs she sometimes suffers. His text was Esther i, 11, 12, "To bring Vashti the | and medicine to the sick and smiles to queen before the king with the crown royal to show the people and the princes her beauty for she was f to look on. But the queen Vasht fused to come at the king's come nand-ment by his chamberlains, the was the king very wroth, and by the sanger

we stand amid the pala ses of Shushan. The pinnacles are aflame with the morning light. The columns rise festooned and wreathe 4, the wealth ce empires flashing from A the grooves, the ceilings adorned w th images of bird and beast and se enes of prowess and conquest. The walls are hung with shields and er blazoned until it seems that the wh sie round of splendors exhausted. Each arch is a mighty leap of archit ectural achievement, Golden stars, faining down on glowing arabesqu'. Hangings of embroidered work in which mingle the blueness of the sky, the greenness of the grass and the whiteness of the sea foam. Tapes-Aries hung on silver rings, wedding together the pillars of marble. Pavilions reaching out in every direction. These for repose, filled with luxuriant couches, into which weary limbs sink until all fatigue is submerged. These for carousal, where kings drink down a kingdom at one swallow. Amazing spectacle. Light of silver dripping down over stairs of ivory in shields of gold. Floors of stained marble, sunset red and night black, and inlaid with gleaming pearl. Why, it seems as if a heavenly vision of amethyst and jacinth and topaz and chrysoprasus had descended and alighted upon Shushan. It seems as if a billow of tial glory had dashed clear over heaven's battlements upon this metropolis

In connection with this palace there is a garden where the mighty men of foreign lands are seated at a banquet. Under the spread of oak and linden and acacia the tables are arranged. The breath of honeysuckle and frankincense fills the air. Fountains leap up into the light, the spray struck through with rainbows falling in crystalline baptism upon flowering shrubs, then rolling down through channels of marble and widening out here and there into pools swirling with the finny tribes ' foreign aquariums, bordered with scarlet anemones, hypericums and many colored ranunculus. Meats of rarest bird and beast smoking up, amid wreaths of aromatics. The baskets piled up with apricots and dates and figs and oranges and pomegran-Melons tastefully twined with leaves of acacia. The bright waters of Eulaeus filling the urns and sweating outside the rim in flashing beads amid the traceries. Wine from the royal vats of Ispahan and Shiraz in bottles of tinged shell and lily shaped cups of silver and flagons and tankards of solid gold. The music rises higher. transport and the wine has flushed the cheek and touched the brain, and louder than all other voices are the hiccough of the inebriates, the gabble of fools and the song of the drunkards. In another part of the palace Queen Vashti is entertaining the princesses of Persia at a banquet. Drunken Ahasuerus sare to his serants "You go out and . . ca Vashti from that banquet with the women and bring her to this banquet with the men and let me display her beauty." The servants immediately start to obey the king's command, but there was a rule in oriental society that no woman might appear in public without having her face veiled. Yet here was a mandate, that no one dared dispute, demanding that Vashti come in unveiled before the multitude. However, there was in Vashti's soul a principle more regal than Ahasuerus, more brilliant than the gold of Shushan, of more wealth than the realms of Persia, which commanded her to disobey this order of the king, and so all the righteousness and holiness and modesty of her nature rises up into one sublime refusal. She says, "I will not go into the banquet unveiled." Of course Ahasuerus was in furiated, and Vashti, robbed of her position and her estate, is driven forth in poverty and ruin to suffer the scorn of a nation, and yet to receive the applause of after generations who shall rise up to admire this martyr to kingly insolence. Well, the last vestige of that feast is gone, the last garland has last arch has fallen, the last tankard has been destroyed, and Shushan is a ruin, but as long as the world stands there will be multitudes of men and women familiar with the Bible who will come into this picture gallery of God and admire the divine portrait of Vashti the queen, Vashti the veiled, Vashti the sacrifice, Vashti

In the first place I want you to look upon Vashti the queen. A blue ribbon, rayed with white, drawn around her forehead, indicated her queenly posttion. It was no small honor to be queen in such a realm as that. Hark to the rustle of her robes! See the blaze of her jewels! And yet, my friends, it is not necessary to palace and regal robe in order to be queenly. When I see a woman with strong faith in God putting her foot upon all meanness and selfishness and odless display, going right forward o serve Christ and the race by grand and glorious service, I say, That woman is a queen," and the ranks of heaven look over the battlements upon the coronation and whether she come v from the shanty on the ons of he mansion of the fashionable square, I greet her with the shout: "All hail! Queen Vashti!" What glory was there on the brow of Mary tland, or Elizabeth England. Margaret of France, or Catherine of Russia compared with the worth of some of our Christian mothers, many of them gone into glory; or of that woman mentioned in the Scriptures who put all her money into the Lord's treasury; or of Jephthah's daughter, de a demonstration of unselfish patriotism; or of Abig all, who recued the herds and flor as of her aus cued the herds and flor as of her ausband; or of Ruin, who toiled under a tropical sun for proof, old, helpiess Naomi; or of Flo or, old, helpiess who went at mid cence Nightingale, who went at mid aight to stanch the battle wounds of the Crimea; or of Mrs. Adoniram function amid the dark ness of Burm a; or of Mrs Hemans, who poured out her holy soul in words which will forever be associated with which wil' forever be associated with hunter's horn and captive's chain, and few's sour, and lute's throb, and cur-score knell at the dying day, and s and hundreds of women unwn on earth who have given water the thirsty and bread to the hungry the discouraged—their footsteps heard along dark lane and in government hospital and in almshouse corridor and by prison gate? There may be no royal robe, there may be no palatial surround ings. She does not need them, for all charitable men will unite the crackling lips of fever struck hos pital and plague blotched lazaretto in greeting her as she passes: "Hail! Hail! Queen Vashti!"

Again, I want you to consider Vashti the Veiled. Had she appeared before Abasuerus and his court on that day with her face uncovered she would have shocked all the delicacies of oriental society, and the very men who in their intoxication demanded that she come, in their sober moments would have de spised her. As some flowers seem to thrive best in the dark lane and in the shadow where the sun does not seen to reach them, so God appoints to most womanly natures a retiring and unon trusive spirit. God once in a while does call an Isabella to a throne, or a Miriam to strike the timbrel at the front of a host, or a Marie Antoinette to queil a French mob, or a Deborah to stand at the front of an armed bar tadion, crying out: "Up! Up! This is the day in which the Lord will deliver Sisera into thine hand." And when women are called to such outdoor work and to such heroic positions, God prepares them for it, and they have iron in their souls and lightning in their eye, and whirlwinds in their breath and the borrowed strength of the Lord omnipotent in their right arm. They walk through furnaces as though they were heages of wild flowers and cross seas as though they were shimmering sapphire, and all the harples of hell down to their dungeon at the stamp of her womanly indignation. But these are the exceptions. Generally Dorcas would rather make a garment for the poor boy, Rebecca would rather fill the trough for the camels, Hannah would rather make a coat for Samuel, th. Fiebrew maid would rather give a prescription for Nauman's leprosy, the woman of Sarepta would rather gather a few sticks to cook a meal for famished Elijah, Phene would rather carry a letter for the inspired apostle, Mother Lois would rather educate Timothy in the Scriptures.

When I see a woman going about her daily duty-with cheerful dignity presiding at the table, with kind and gen-tle but firm discipline presiding in the nursery, going out into the world without any blast or trumpets, following in the footsteps of Him who went about doing good—I say, "This is Vashti with a veil on." Bue when I see a woman of unblushing boldness, loud voiced, with a tongue of infinite clatter, with arrogant look, passing through the streets with the step of a walking beam, gayly arrayed in a very hurricane of million. Through the blood of the everarrayed in a very hurricane of millin-ery, I cry out, "Vashti has lost her veil!" When I see a woman of comery that you should at last be banished for my people Israel, and will plant that you should at last be banished for my people Israel, and will plant that you should at last be banished them," etc. The fact that when they and endowed with all that the schools can do for one, and of high social po sition, yet moving in society, with buperciliousness and hauteur, as though she would have people know their place and an undefined combination of giggle and strut and rhodomontade, endowed with allopathic quantities of talk, but only homeopathic infinitesimals of sense, the terror of dry goods clerks and railroad conductors, discoverers of significant meanings in plain conversation, prodigies of badinage and innuendo I say: "Look! Look! Vashti kas lost again, I want you to consider Vashti the Sacrifice. Who is this I see coming out of that palace gate of Shushan? It eems to me that I have seen her be fore. She comes homeless, houseless friendless, trudging along with a broken heart. Who is she? It is Vashti the sacrifice. Oh, what a change it was from regal position to a wayfarer's A little while ago, approved and sought for; now, none so poor as to acknowledge her acquaintanceship. Vashti the sacrifice! Ah, you and I have seen it many a time!

Here is a home impalaced with peauty. All that refinement and books and wealth can do for that home has been done, but Ahasuerus, the husband and the father, is taking hold on paths of sin. He is gradually going down. After awhile he will flounder and struggle like a wild beast in the hunter's net-farther away from God, farther away from the right. Soon the bright apparel of the children will turn to rags; soon the household song will be come the sobbing of a broken heart, The old story over again. Brutal cenaurs breaking up the marriage feas of Lapithae. The house full of outrage and cruelty and abomination, while trudging forth from the palace gates are Vashti and her children; There are homes that are in danger of such a breaking up. Oh, Ahasuerus, that you should stand in a home by a dissipated life destroying the peace and comfort of that home! God forbid that your children should ever have to wring their hands and have people point their finger at them as they pass down the street and say, "There goes a drunk-ard's child." God forbid that the little feet should ever have to trudge the path of poverty and wretchedness! God forbid that any evil spirit born of tre wine cup or the brandy glass should come forth and uproot and with a lasting, blistering, all consuming curse shut forever the palace gate against Vashti and the children! During the war I went to Hagerstown to look at the army, and I stood in the night on a hilltop and looked down upon them. I saw the campfires all through the valleys and all over the hills. It was a weird spectacle, campfires, and I stood and watched them, and the soldiers who were gath ered around them were no doubt talk march they had taken and of the battles they were to fight, but after awhite I saw those campares begin to lower saw the campfires. It was imposing in the darkness when I thought of that great host asleep.

Well, God looks down from heaven, and he sees the firesides of Christendem and the loved ones gathered around these firesides. These are the campfires where the campfires w where we warm ourselves at the close of the day and talk over the battles of life we have fought and the battles that are yet to come. God grant that when at last these fires begin to go out and continue to lower until finally they are extinguished and the ashes of consumed hopes strew the hearth of the old homestead it may be because we

Gone to sleep that last long sleep From which none ever wake to weep. Now we are an army on the marcia of life. Then we will be an army bivouacked in the tent of the grave. Once more 1 want you to look at Vashti the Silent, You do not near any outery from this woman as she goes forth from the palace gate. From the very dignity or her nature you know there will be no vociferation. Sometimes in life it is necessary to make a retort; sometimes in life it is necessary to resist, but there necessary to resist, but there are crises when the most triumphant thing to do is to keep silence. The philosopher, confident in his newly discovered principle, waiting for the coming of more intelligent generations, willing that men should laugh at the lightning rod and cotton gin and steamboat, waiting for long years through the sooffing of philosophical schools in grand and mag-nificent silence. Galileo, condemned by mathematicians and scientists, caricatured everywhere, yet waiting and watching with his telescope to see the coming up of stellar re-enforcements, when the stars in their courses would fight for the Copernican system, then sitting down in complete blindness and of the generatios who would build his monument and bow at his grave.

The reformer, execrated by his con-temporaries, fastened in a pillory, the slow fires of public contempt burning under him, ground under the cylinders of the printing press, yet calmly waiting for the day when purity of sou and heroism of character will get the sanction of earth and the plaudits of heaven. Affliction, enduring without any complaint the sharpness of the pang and the violence of the storm, and the heft of the chain and of the darkness of night. Waiting until divine hand shall be put forth to soothe the pang and hush the storm and release the captive. A wife abused, persecuted and a perpetual exile from every earthly comfort-waiting, waiting until the Lord shall gather all His dear children in a heavenly home and no poor Vashti will ever be thrust out from the palace gate. Jesus, in si-lence and answering not a word, drinking the gall, bearing the cross, in prospect of the rapturous consumma tion when

Angels thronged His charlot wheel And hore Him to His throne, Then swept their golden harps and sung The glorious work is done. O woman, does not this story of Vashti the queen, Vashti the velled, Vashti the sacrifice, Vashti the silent, move your soul? My sermon converges into the one absorbing hope that none of you may be shut out of the palace gate of heaven. You can endure the hardships and the privations and the cruelties and the misfortupes of this lasting covenant, you go through these gates or never go at all, God forbid the society of angels and banished from the companionship of your glorified kindred and banished forever. Through the rich grace of our Lord Jesus Christ may you be enabled to imitate the example of Rachael and Hannah and Abigail and Deborah and Pall Mall Budget: "To Italy we owe the newspaper, while to France we are indebted for the institution of journals specially devoted to criticism. The first news-paper, or 'gazetta,' as it was called, belonged to the Venetian Government. Having been commenced previous to tne invention of printing, it was neces sarily issued in mauscript, but it continued to be published in manuscript long after the art of printing was well known and practiced. The elder Disraeli, in his valuable and interesting 'Curiostitles of Literature,' states that in the Magliabechian library at Florence there are thirty volumes of a za-zettas, all in manuscript. Until recently it was supposed that the earliest newspaper printed in this country was the English Mercurie, a copy of which was found by Mr. George Chalmers, the distinguished antiquary in the British Museum, early in the present century: but Mr. Thomas Watts, of the museum, some time ago clearly proved that this paper was a forgery. The earliest journal of criticism was the production of Denis de Sallo, counsellor in the Parliament of Paris. It was published on May 30, 1665, under the title of Le Journal des Scavans. It was favorably received and trans lated into various languages; and in the following year imitations of were published in several parts of Europe."

4. "That night the word of the Lord came unto Nathan." Lavin had a Soli called Nathan, in whose time was Mary, the mother of our Lord (a., bain. v, 14; Luke iii, 31), but this is another Nathan, who was a propose. In the time of David, and is first methodied in verse 2 of this chapter and afterward over 20 times in this book and in I. Kings. The greatest thank about him was that he was a messenger for God. In verse 3, however, he seems to have given a message from himself which was not in accord with the mind of God. To be always under the control of the spirit of God, and speak only the words of God, and do only the things of God, is a life that was seen only in our Lord Jesus Christ.

5. "Go and tell My serva... David, Thus saith the Lord." Again in verse 8 the Lord says, "My servant David," and in verses 19-21, 25-29, David speaks of himself ten times as "Thy servant." In Isa. xiii, 1, God says of His Son "Behold my servant!" To be a whole hearted bond servant of the Lord Jesus Christ is the highest position in the line of work for God that He can enjoy. As to fellowship and real communion, we are His friends, but as to service may we be true servants

6. "I have not dwelt in any house since the time that I brought up the children of Israel out of Egypt." As David dwelt in his house of cedar and had rest from all his enemies ne contrasted his surroundings with those of the ark of God dwelling in a tent and had it in his heart to build a house for the ark. Nathan's word, "Do all that is in thine heart, for the Lord is with thee," was very encouraging, but the Lord is now talking differently to David. The wisdom of the best of menis not always the wisdom of God, and many a work that looks good is not a part of God's plan, or if it is, the time has not come for it.

7. "Spake I a word with any of the tribes, saying, Why build ye not me an house of cedar?" It is not for the servant to suggest to his Lord what should or should or should be served. should or should not be done. The servant is to be "willing and obedient" and "ready to do whatsoever our Lord the King shall appoint." (Isa. 1, 19; II. Sam. xv, 15). If we thus hold ourselves ready to walk in His ways, that is all

He asks of us.
8. "I took thee from following the sheep to be a ruler over my people, over Israel." It is well to remember whom we were and what we were when God called us. It is well to continue little in our own sight and never think anything of ourselves. When called to special service for God, we must bear in mind who calls us ("I took thee"), and that He has in view for us some special work. In this case it was to be "ruler over Israel."

9. "And I was with thee and have cut off all thine enemies and have made thee a great name." See how God did everything, and every instrumentality was simply that which Cod saw fit to use. Whatever was done He was the doer of it (Gen. xxxix, 22). I rejoice to believe that God has a prepared life for each of His children and a prepared service for every moment of that life (Eph. ii, 10), and if we are only willing and cheerfully subject to Him He will work it all out to a glorious consummation.

10. "Moreover, I will appoint a place are thus planted they will move no more nor be afflicted any more perfect accord with many similar state. ments, such as Jer. xxxi, 38-40; xxxii, 41; Amos ix, 15, and still awaits fulfillment. All events which to us may seem and may be far in the future, are to Him, who sees the end from the beginning, a present reality and are as sure of fulfillment, however unlikely it may seem, as if actually accom-

11. "Also the Lord telleth thee thathat He will make thee an house. The word "house" may signify a dwelling, whether tent, temple or palace; also a place containing anything, or one's family or posterity. The follow ing verses show that here it means posterity and kingdom.

12. "I will set up thy seed after thee, and I will establish his kingdom." The Apostle Peter, filled with the Spirit, said on the day of Pentecost that God had sworn with an oath to would raise up Christ to sit on his throne (Acts ii, 30), and the next verse n Peter's sermon says He would be raised from the dead. To Abraham were promised the land and the posterity as the stars and as the sand. now to David are promised the king-dom, the throne and the king.

13. "He shall build an house for my ame, and I will establish the throng of His kingdom forever." The church which is being now builded together for a habitation of God through Spirit, upon the foundation of apostles and prophets (see chapter iii, 5), Jesus Christ Himself being the chief cornerstone (Erh. ii. 20 22), is never called a kingdom, but is an elect company out of all nations to rule with Him in His kingdom. The kingdom will have Israel, all righteous, for its center and Jerusalem, the throne of the Lord, for its capital (Isa, lx. 21; Jer. iii, 17).
14. "If He commit iniquity I will chaston him with the rod of men," etc. Rishop Horsley gives this read-ing: "When guilt is laid upon Him." And Dr. Clarke says, "In suffering for iniquity." Of Solomon it might be said, "If he commit iniquity," but not of Christ, and we have already proved from Peter's sermon that the seed referred to is Christ and rot Solomon.

15. "But My mercy shall not depart away from him, as I took it from Saul." Whatever reference there may be here to Solomon it can only be as typical of Christ in the matter of the kingdom. David evidently understood the far future. See the last clause of verse 19. and note these various readings. "This is the manner of the man who is God the Lord" (Luther). "And this is the law of the man." the Adam (Kennicott). "And this is the law of the Man." (Horsley). Siter's convent. "And this is the arrangement about the man" (Horsley). Stier's comment is:
"Thou speakest of an eternal kingdom in which no man can be king.

16. "Thy throne shall be established forever." Gabriel said to Mary that her Son should sit on the throne of His father David (Luke 1, 32, 33) and this agrees with Isa, ix, 6, 7. See inverses 23, 24, of our lesson charter the story of "the everlasting nation." Read Ior. XXXI, 35-37, and be simple enough to believe that God means when the says. The only solution of the eastern question is the resignation." I small and the return of their Mesniah. See Isa, ixii, 6, 7.

"quiet_little town." It is so to-day and only the slightest changes have been made in it since the story was written.

Lewis George Clark, the prototype of "George Harris," the most prominent figure in the novel, was owned by Gen. Thomas Kennedy, Garrard County's first Representative in the General Assembly of enKtucky. He first belonged to John Banton who was a party to the famous Banion Banton's detection led to the sale of young Clark to Gen. Kennedy, then the wealthiest man in the Blue Grass section of Kentucky and a large dealer in racehorses and siaves. When Gen. Kennedy died he bequeathed a hundred slaves to his son, Thomas Kennedy, jr. Among them was Clark, A bouse-boy, Norman Kennedy was given to Robert Argo, and he still lives to tell of "George Harris," "Uncle Tom," and other characters in "Uncle Tem's Cabin."

THE COMING SHIP.

Science Favors the Water Cycle, Which Is the water cycle the ship of the

At least one scientist thinks so, and is spending money to prove it.

There is an inventive Frenchman named Bazin, who believes that after years of study and experiment he has scived correctly the problem of marine for her trials. Marine architects and people in the shipping trade generally have kept cose track of M. Bazin's experiment, and are waiting with much curiosity to see how his big roller boat will gowhen he comes to try her on real water.

The inventor is personally overseeing the construction, and is confident that his vessel will furvish an entirely new theory as a basis for boat building. It will not be a pretty craft, out all the resistance, which is the im-peding factor in hoats as at present built, will be done away with, and the new vessel will, unless Pazin's theory and mathematics are badly at fault, be able to travel over the water at a startling rate.

In one way the new boat resembles the modern ferryboat. It has the earse broad platform, at a considerable height above the water, which affords eaurmous deck room. But instead of a lower hull, setting down into the water and so encountering enormous resistance, the new invention is supperied upon giest hollow hoats, or wheels, which hold it twenty feet cr more above water.

These wheels, too, are the instruments by which motion is obtain d. They are equipped with danges, on ... same principle as those of a mill whe or old is shio and paddle wheel. A lotary motion is obtained in these wheels h means of sieel sharts, which run acro, s the boat from side to side.

But the usual friction of the rudder when thrown over is obviated in this new filler by the pushing force of their heavy stream of water, which, being constantly thrown out astern. serves to drive the vessel forward. In case the roller or propeller engines should become stopped the con-Linued ejecton of this stream of water would, the inventor says, serve to propel the boat to port, as a speed che half a knot can be obtained from it.

England's Democratic Prince. "I shall always be glad." says a gossipper in an English paper, "that I was present when our future King won the Derby. The touch of nature which makes the whole world kin drew the Prince and people very close that day. Everybody knows that revalties are not, as a rule, above all things human. But the Prince is as human as any man living. And at the Derby the tremendous outburus of affectionate loyalty, the long, up roarious yell of delight which greeted his horse as winner, touched him so that his face grew white and he trembled visibly from head to foot. The Prince was, indeed, unable himself to lead his horse, and one likes him, if possible, almost better than ever before when one realizes how deeply he was stirred by the popular ovation accorded to him. And the Duke of York, too, could scarcely disguise his agitation.'

Ottawa, July 17.—The civil servants got their pay checks today under the recent governor's warrant. All authorities concur that the warrant was not legal. The act provides that the warrant can only issue in cases of unforseen expenditures. Owing to the grit opposition last session the salaries

The first minister was shown a despatch this morning stating that he proposed visiting the old country this fall and the answer that he had to make to the statement was that he knew simply nothing of the matter and had himself been first informed of it when he saw it in print.

The exports for 1896 total $118,140,504, with the exception of one year. The imports total $110,587,808, an increase of exactly $5,000,000. The customs revenue for the year reaches a total of $20.172.778, an increase of $2,250,000.

The ministers are rapidly dispersing to their several constituencies and today only two are to be found in the city, the premier and Hon. Mr. Scott. It will be the first week in August before the cabinet re-assembles to prepare for the session. Mr. Tarte went to Montreal yesterday. He sent a chill through the public works department during the day by calling for a detailed list of employes, specifying the length of service, duties they perform, etc. This, it is believed, is preliminary to further decapitations. The worst pain was in the right side, where it was very heavy. That pointed to the liver which is located on that side; and when anything ails the liver it is as though the big water-wheel of a mill had got fixed so as not to turn round, For the liver does half a dozen kinds of work, and when it strikes work the rest of the organs take a sort of rainy

The kidney secretion was the color of blood instead of a clear amber, which meant that the trouble had already reached those importan organs. Then the stomach was upset and refused to take kindly to food-as though the miller seent your grain back, declining to grind it. She vomited a sour, bitter fluid, which was acid bile, away out of its proper track. On and on, along this line, constantly getting further and further from the happy land of health; this was the history of those twenty-one months-all bad enough, yet all preparatory for

MANITOBA.

Winnipeg, Man., July 19.—A report has reached the Winnipeg grain extoba wheat crop this year would yield only from twelve to fifteen million bushels, compared with thirty million last year.

In the first place it is stated, without any doubt whatever, that the crop of last year was very close to forty millions, so that with one half of last year's yield Manitoba would have 20,-000 000 hushels this season. Anyone who is posted on the situation is satisfied that this year the province have more than 50 per cent. of last year's crop. In fact many good authities place it at from sixty to seventy per cent. While the crop in the Re-River Valley is without doubt far short of last season, owing to the excessive rains, yet the balance of the province will almost make up for the shortage of this district. At many points in Western Mantoba there will no doubt be a larger yield than even last year. Several members of the grain exchange were asked their opinions on the report from Montreal. The unanimous opinion was that the yield was

Much Rejoicing Over Their Splendid Vie ory at Bisley.

Canadian Prize Winners in the Preliminary Matches.

Toronto, July 18 .- The Mail and Empire's special cable from Bisley camp, dated yesterday, says: Tonight the members of the Canadian team are the heroes of the hour. Since firing ceased their tent has been the rendezvous of the immense number of marks-men gathered here and of sightseers. On every side one hears the cries, "Well done, Canada," "Glad they won," "They're the right kind," "Chips off the old block," and like comments and exclamation. "We ain't saying a word," said a Canadian visitor at the close of the match, nevertheless, he managed to emit a great volume of sound, and everybody within reach of his voice knew that the men from the land of the maple leaf won the Kolapore cup. Among every class the victory is a popular one, so completely have the Canadians established a good record for themselves. They are looked upon as genuine, true-hearted sportsmen, and the fact that they come from a country proud of its allegiance to the empire, together with their loyal bearing and words, give pleasure to the British and other colonial competitors. They are elated, of course, over their success, but their elation shows itself only in the quiet smile and the hearty handshake with those who are congratulating them on their victory. The final selection of the team which was to battle for Canada's honor in this historic match was not made until this morning. The prize consists of the magnificent cup presented by his highness the late Maharajah of Viziangram, and eighty pounds in cash for the colonial team making the highest score. > with 618. The day broke fair and bright, with every indication of an ideal shooting day. Such was not to be the case, however, for before shooting com menced, a strong right-front wind sprang up and continued throughout. Heavy clouds began to gather too, and although no rain fell, the light was uncertain, great banks of clouds now and then obscuring the sun. These conditions rendered shooting somewhat difficult. The Canadian was captained by its adjutant, Major Bruce. It may be mentioned that although he said very little, the major was confident of victory. On the first stage the mother country team led the Canadian team by six points. This did not worry the Canadians, how-ever, and on the 500 yards range they led by nine points, a net gain of three. On the 600 yards they made a similar gain, a grand net gain of Their score at the close of twelve. the match was 656. Guernsey and Jer-

THE BRIDGE AT THE CROSSING.

Where the arched bridge widely spans the way, thrice.

Never a flag man now awaits the train,
Never a tinkling bell is heard again
Over the bridge the train goes by,
Under the bridge the train goes by,
Under the bridge the shadows he;
Nor does a river murmuring glide
Under the bridge to the city's side;
But under the bridge the carriages go
And hasten their speed to the town below.
There is life and traffic everywhere,
A myriad sounds clash in the air,
Whille under the bridge a thousand feet
Travel the way of the city's street,
And passengers borne on the coming train
Look strangely out for the city again.
There's another bridge by a city's way,
We shall all pass through on some later
day;

We shall all pass unrough.

day;
Another city lying on the hill,
And its people remain all quiet and still.
The rush of the train that dashing goes
Disturbs no sleep or their long repose;
But its streets are soft with a grassy edge,
And the hawthern itlooms along the hedge.
Afteng that bridge no flashing light
Shines on for them by day or night;
While the other sity with hurrying life
Moves onward and onward with easer strife.

THE MARKETS

Revised Every Monday for the Weekly Sun.

COUNTRY MARKET. Buyers of berries grumbled on Saturday, for the scarcity of strawberries had caused the price to go up. The crop of native berries has been very small, and the supply of the cultivated variety has fallen off a good deal. New potatoes are now quite plentiful, also beans, peas and all kinds of garden truck. Lamb is a little easier. The supply of towl appears to be fully equal to the demand. Butter and eggs, and meats generally show no change at all from week to week.

CHARLOTTETOWN.

Mrs. Hugh Wilt of Bay Fortune Road Commits Suicide.

Charlottetown, July 17.-Mrs. Hugh Wilt of Bay Fortune road, in a fit of despondency, took a dose of Paris green and died in great agony a few hours after. She threatened severa times to commit suicide and accordingly her husband hid the Prais green in the barn, locking it up and hanging the key in another building. wife discovered the key and took tablespoonful, dyin in a short time. When questioned by her husband, she confessed she took Paris green to end her life. Deceased was forty-five years of age and mother of a large family.

HARRIET BEECHER STOWE WILL

Hartford, Conn., July 19.-An unique document is the will of Harriet Beecher Stowe, offered for probate on Saturday. Under date of November 3, 1895. it is signed by Chas. E. Perkins, Mary sell Perkins and Arthur Perkins. In the residuary clause one-third of all property is given to her son, the Rev. Charles E. Stowe of Simsbury. Major John C. Parsons of Hartford is made trustee of the remaining two thirds and the income is to be divided between the two daughters. Harriet Miss Jessie Walker, daughter of Dr. Walker of St. John, N. B., is spending the summer here, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Warburton. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Johnson, accompanied by their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lemont of Fredericton, N. B., are enjoying an outing in the eastern part of the Island.—Charlottetown Patriot.

A HANDSOME NEW MILL

Nearly Finished About Six Miles Above Edmunston.

Built by Duncan Buchanan for the Kennedy Island Milling Co.-A Valuable Property.

Clair, N. B., July 15 .- While at this place, a station on the Temiscouata lailway a little over two miles above Edmundston, the writer learned that a mill was being built three miles further up river by a Kings county millwright. Duncan Buchanan, and paid a visit to the structure. The mill is handsome and lofty building, showing three stories, its monitor roof giving it a style not often seen in such buildings. This building certainly serves to enhance the beauty of the landscape of which it makes a part, and does credit to its architect. On reaching the mill we find it well advanced toward completion. The rotary is at work, supplying the lumber needed in building. The main building is 31x100 feet, containing the rotary, and standing end to the river St. John The building containing the shingle machines joins this main or central part, forming a T, and running lengthwise of the river. It has been planned to hold seven or eight machines. Five of these are now being put into posi-They are what is called the "Dunbar," and were built by Marfarlane, Thompson & Anderson of Fredericton. The shingle mill is 75x35. The main shaft is 104 feet long, running across the saw mill and lengthwise of the shingle mill. The engine house is 33x58 feet, and is built on the opposite side of the mill from the shingle mill, or up river. The site is an admirable one. The logs will be boomed above a little island of about 25 acres, cailed Kennedy Island, situate directly opposite the mill. The logs will be drawn out of the river into the mill at one end, and the sawn timber can be discharged onto the cars at the other end. Nature and art have combined to make the facilities for the convenient and consequently cheap handling of lumber at this place more than average.

In comparing this mill with some other mills which the writer has visited, and which yielded a good margin of profit, one must conclude that there is success in store for this venture. The company is known as the Kennedy Island Milling Co. In conversing with the millwright, one learns of the peculiar difficulties attending the work

owing to linguistic differences, most of his staff of assistants speaking

French and understanding only that language, while he spoke only English. Shortly after the commencement of the work, and while the frame was being erected, a staging gave way, falling on a poor fellow, crushing his skull and killing him instantly. Curiously enough, it was the man who put the staging up who met this tragical end. The overseer had charged him to make it strong, in view of the possibilities of an accident, yet afterward, when the fallen structure was examined, a board was shown, which was fastened at one end with two small nails, while the other end was safeguarded by seven or eight. While the writer was in the mill the rotary was started to cut some lumber which was needed. The man who stands at the end of the log carriage the manner in which he takes hold) the irregular shaped piece which is first cut, and prepares to run it back to the cut-off saw, but a gesture from Mr. B. arrests him, and he throws that piece down below. The next piece is gestured down to the cut-off saw and by gesture he signifies it is to be cut twice through and thrown out of doors. The next piece is a plank, and in answer to more gestures they carry and lay it in a place indicated by still another gesture. And thus, while watching the simple process of cutting a log and disposing of its pieces, one forms some idea of the difficulty in doing work under the disadvantage of the dual language. The interpreter will tell you that he is the hardest worked man of the lot. One saving condition is that the men appear so anxious to do what is wished, and their manner is one of alert attention. The result will be that they will soon master the operations required in this new field of abor growing up among them.

This is a lovely country. Beauty in the blue, distant hills, ever changing in form as the eye passes from one point of observation to another. Sometimes a grand, bold summit bounds your view, to pass and give place to a gorge, or several peaks or a sweepping stretch of water, island-dotted, in the distance; or at hand the meadows stretching out, displaying their variegated covering. Even the railway slopes are bidding us admire their tricolor of daisy, harebell and wild rose, white, blue and red, or the red, white and blue.

NOVA SCOTIA.

HALIFAX.

Halifax, July 14.-After an acute illness of several months, following on physical prostration extending over years, W. B. McSweeny, barrister, died this morning. Deceased was a native of New Brunswick, son of the late Peter McSweeny, one of Westmorland county's best known business men. He was educated for the bar, and developed much erudition and intellect. He also engaged in newspaper work, in St. John principally. Then he came to reside in Halifax, and was enrolled in 1882 at the bar of this city and province. He was elected an alderman, and filled several other representative resitions at times with energy and ability. Mr McSweeny leaves a widow, a daughter of the late Hon. James Butler, and two children.

For years there has been a controversy between Captain Dixon of the 63rd Rifles and Col. Egan, commanding the regiment. The strife between these officers has been very bitter, the charges and counter charges being made and investigated. Dixon has come out best, according to advices just received. The fact was that Col. Egan refused to re-enroll Private Bickford, a man belonging to Captain Dixon's company, the reason understood, though not expressed, being that Pickford was personally distasteful to Egan and that he had said unpleasant things about the colonel. D. A. G. Maunsell came to Halifax last fall and held a regimental inquiry and the evi-dence taken was sent to the militia department at Ottawa. The legal question whether or not the colonel could properly refuse to re-enroll Pickford was referred by the militia to the department of justice for decision. The judgment of the minister of justice, Hon. Mr. Dickey, is that Captain Dixon's contention was right and that Colonel Egan's was wrong. The minister holds no commanding officer can legally refuse to re-enroll a man except for cause.

The Summer School of Theology opened today. Thirty ministers are in attendance from points outside the city, the whole number enrolled being between fifty and sixty. The New Brunswickers here are Rev. J. Sutherland, Sussex; Rev. J. M. McLeod, New Mills; Rev. G. Fisher, Dalhousie; Rev. Donald Fraser, Hampton; Rev. Dr. Neil McKay, Chatham; Rev. J. M. Robinson, Moncton; Rev. Dr. A. A. McKenzie, St. Stephen; Rev. Principal utes from wharf to wharf, and 1 hour Macrae, Quebec. The lectures today were delivered by Rev. Principal Pollock, Rev. H. McD. Scott, Chicago; city tomorrow and it is supposed Premier Fielding will resign. Peace is yet far from the local government. Halifax, N. S., July 19 .- Hon. W. S. Fielding resigned the premiership of Nova Scotia yesterday and proceeded to Ottawa to be sworn in as minister of finance. Governor Daly called upon government and Mr. Murray is now engaged in that duty. There has been a keen struggle for the premiership. Hon. J. W. Longley's friends boomed that gentleman very strongly for the position. Mr. Longley is the greatest fighter in the liberal party in Nova Scotia. He directed the liberal fight in Cape Breton against Sir Charles Tupper, and a few weeks ago he resigned his postion as attorney general and his seat in the legislature and made a bold effort to snatch the dominion seat for Annapolis from the conservatives. But in this he failed. He is not popular in his own party, hence Longley's perschal opponents, while acknowledging his services and fighting capacity threw their influence for Mr. Murray But the new premier will be compelled to enlist Longley's aid as attorney general. So that there will really be no change in the government other than that of the premiership. Hon. George H. Murray is a native of Cape Breton county and practices law at North Sydney. He is personally one of the most popular men in Nova Scotia. Though he has run seven times in Cape Breton for the provincial and federal parliaments he has never yet won an election, because Cape Breton county is normally overwhelmingly tory. But he has held a seat several years in the legislative council and in the government. There is a vacancy in Victoria county and Mr. Murray will try his fortunes there, with some prospect

PARRSBORO.

Parrsboro, July 15.-Up to yesterday morning there were fifty-one pupils, exclusive of teachers and the large number of Parrsboro people who are attending Principal Cameron's literature class, and several others arrived last night. The fine new school house is the students' rendezvous. Here at 8 o'clock each morning the school opens with chorus singing and physical culture or military drill. Miss Read of Wolfville leads the singing and the calesthenics, and Principal Seaman of Charlottetown is the drill instructor. Last night the class had instructor. Last night the class had a rare treat, when Dr. Theodore H. Rand of McMaster University read several of his poems dealing with Parrsboro and vicinity. They were gems from either the literary or scientific point of view. Tomorrow there will be an excursion to Blomidon. On Saturday the students go to Swan Creek, and on Tuesday next to Wolfville. The faculty of the Summer School is as follows: Botany, Charles B. Robinson, County Academy, Pictou; John M. Duncan, Kent street school, Charlottetown; chemistry, W. H. Magee, Ph. D., High school, New Glasgow; elocution, Miss Mina Read. Acadia college, Wolfville; English literature, Principal Cameron, County academy, Yarmouth; geology and minerology, Prof. A. E. academy. Parrsboro, July 10.-The town is flecked with bunting, the occasion being the tenth annual session of the Summer School of Science, which opened last evening with a crowded public meeting in St. George's hall. A. E. MacLeod, secretary of the school board, acted as chairman. H. W. Mc Kenna read an address of welcome or behalf of the citizens of the town. T. C. McKay, principal of the Parrsbore schools, and local secretary of the School, gave a pleasing speech, describing the natural advantages of Parrsboro. Dr. Theodore H. Rand of McMaster University then gave a scholarly, poetical and practical address, strongly pressing the claims of Parrsboro as a permanent home for the School of Science. The place had shown itself to be wonderfully progressive during the last twenty years. He saw no necessity for a grand building for the Summer School. It would be more in keeping with the principles of the institution to have an inexpensive, rustic building. He recommended the expenditure of enough money to purchase a steam launch. Dr. Rand closed his speech with a charming poetical description of the beauties of this reboro for their warm welcome. A. H. Mackay, superintendent of education for Nova Scotia, gave an address which clearly exemplified the benefits of a summer science course.

One pleasant feature of the present tourist season, so far as Digby is concerned, is that the great majority of the visitors who put up at the hotels each day remain some time, instead of rushing right off by the next train or poat after luncheon. So favorably impressed are some of them with Digby as a watering place, after once getting here, that they stay the entire season and this is what delights the heart of the hotel proprietor. Last evening a meeting was held to consider the question of a permanent location for the school. A plebicite was taken, eminently favorable to a permanent summer school at Parrsboro. Dr. Hall of the Normal school and Supervisor McKay of Halifax were very enthusiastic in regard to the grounds across the Parrsboro river, about a mile and a half from the town, where the 93rd Battalion was in camp last year, as the most suitable site for a summer school. Supervisor McKay then gave his ideas in regard to such a school, which included those of a large building with class rooms, dining room and kitchen, several small cottages, many tents, a caterer etc. His ideas were cordially endorsed. A vote was taken in regard to the advisability of having a three weeks' course instead of a two weeks' one, in the event of the school's coming to Parrsboro, the only additional expense to be that of board. The proposition was favored by a large majority.

It was intended to go to Cape Blomidon on Thursday, but the morning not being very fine the plan was delayed. The school went to Two Islands on Thursday afternoon and gathered more valuable specimens. This morning they leave on the steamer Evangeline for

A pleasing event took place at the "round table talk" on psychology, led by Dr. Theodore H. Rand and Dr. Dearborn on Thursday evening. One of the speakers had somewhat deprecated the study of psychology, when a stranger of commanding presence mysteriously intimated that none of those ent had ever seen him would ever see him again, and, after taking the former speaker to task for his remarks, made a very eloquent and pleasing speech, which was loudly applauded. The former speaker asked his opponent, on behalf of the ladies, to give his name, and the president of the summer school, also on behalf of the ladies, asked the eloquent stranger to take the platform. The stranger was Rev. Howard Wilbur Ennis, a prominent Washington clergyman and lecturer, who is collecting material for Cal., Try to Bulldoze Him. Los Angeles, Cal., July 15.—The British vice consul, J. W. White Mortimer, has stated to the chief of police that on July 4 three police officers called at his office and demanded that he take down the British flag or hoist the Stars and Stripes by it, threatening violence and declaring that they would inform the chief of police.

The latter disclaims all previous knowledge of the event and has suspended the offending policemen.

TRUE TO THE SCENT.

Sequel to a Dog's Remarkable Intelligence and a Misplaced Glove.

(San Francisco Post.) Crist Robinson, the wing shot, has the best trained hunting dog on the coast, a black pointer. At the pigeon shoots, where other dogs go crazy at the cracking of guns and the dropping of birds; Robinson's dog lies in the shade asleep. A whistle and the dog is on his feet pointing with every muscle tense and every nerve strained.

At a signal the dog retrieves, and in another minute is as sound asleep again as if nothing happened. No matter where the dog is he will drop at

Robinson tells a good story that illustrates the true scent of the dog. He came down out of the Mills' building with an attorney one day, when the tawyer found he had forgotten his gloves and proposed to return for them. "No; I'll send the dog," said Robin-

THE WEEKLY SUN

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 22, 1896.

ABRUPT CHANGES.

Mr. Laurier and his friends in oppositions complained that the late administrations were too large and expensive. They are beginning business with an equally large and expensive government, and have already promised to make it more costly.

The new ministers and their friends have been for years denouncing protection as the sum of all the villainies. They now assure the manufacturers that no violent changes in the tariff are contemplated.

The new ministers and their supporters have been for years denouncing their opponents for keeping up the high commissioner's office. They are already preparing to appoint one of their number high commissioner.

They have denounced "government by commission," and have already promised a Manitoba commission, and a tariff commission.

The party which is pledged to mend or end the senate is already appointing senators and promising senatorships as political rewards.

The leader who denounced the increase of federal debt has called to his cabinet the provincial leaders who were most reckless in increasing the deht of the provinces.

The leader who charged the late government with corrupt administration of the public works department, has appointed the notorious Mr. Tarte over the public works department.

The party which has complained of extravagance and corruption in the railway department has given that department to Mr. A. G. Blair.

The leader who was most troubled because he considered that posticians had received the promise of judgeships not vet vacant, has given Mr. Mills the promise of a seat on the bench, not yet vacant, as a solace for the loss of an expected cabinet position.

The grit newspaper proprietors who most bitterly denounced the late government for awarding railway printing contracts to newspaper proprietors. are preparing to perform railway printing for the government.

The New Brunswick leader who when in opposition, was intensely interested in St. John as a winter port, has not a word of encouragement to offer since the election." He finds that he cannot say anything because he has not been sworn in, though he was sufficiently sworn in for the purpose a month ago.

The ministers who, when in opposition, were vehement in denouncing the ernment is not so much in favor of individual prize. to meet current expnses, are already issuing governor general's warrants to pay all the current bills. They used to say that these warrants could only be legally used to meet unlooked-fo emergencies. They are preparing the warrants to meet the regular monthly payment of civil servants, which is hardly an unexpected emergency. The absence of a money vote is not unexpected because these very leaders refused to allow the vote at the late

THE NEW PROVINCIAL GOVERN-MENT.

Hon. James Mitchell has been called to the provincial premiership under circumstances that are hardly fair to his reputation. It is true that as provincial secretary he has been officially responsible for the financial methods which brought the province into its present condition of recurring deficits and of serious indebtedness. But it has been generally understood that the attorney general was the one dominant element in the late administration. Mr. Mitchell will no longer be shelter ed or effaced by the leader whose reckless political game had to be played by every member of his team. As premier and provincial secretary as well, Mr. Mitchell can strike out for himself subject to the limitations contained in the provincial obligations, Mr. Mitchell's leader has been fortunate enough to get out of the breach at a time when some new and unpleasant financial departure was imperatively demanded. Mr. Mitchell will perhaps have to incur the odium of the new taxes that the reckless career of his predecessor has made necessary, while the real author of the condition will have withdrawn to another arena. Whether the coming ministry will throw the burden of blame on the shoulders where the chief responsibiltty belongs time will show. By doing so the senior members of the government will make a rather humiliating confession of weakness, but as all the province knows the whole story the confession would shock nobody. Perhaps the above reflections should be modified in so far as they concern Mr. Emmerson. The chief commissioner has been not only a consenting party to some indefeasible transactions but is generally believed to have been the fount and origin of certain proceedings not entirely unworthy of his leader. We do not think that the public would be disposed to visit upon Mr. Mitchell all the sins of the retiring leader. He cannot be cleared of aiding and abetting, because his consent was nominally necessary; but the people will not hold him responsible as the principal offender. In his future em-ments and he is sure to have is share of them—there will be a good. leal of sympathy for the provincial secretary as he staggers under the weight of his inherited difficulties.

> Grand Harbor, Grand Manan, was throws into a state of the wildest excitiemient on Sunday when it was learned that Hemon Guptill had been stabled by James Gordon and that fears were entertained as to his recovery. It appears that Gordon had some trouble with his wife, who is a sister of Guptill's. The latter having been informed of it, started out, so the story goes, to settle with Gordon. Guptill mounted his bicycle and coming up with his brother-in-law on the street, jumped off the machine and attacked him with stones. The first one thrown by him hit Gordon on the back of the head, inflicting a severe injury. Gordon was knocked down and when he got up again, another stone thrown by Guptill, almost tore one of his ears from his head. Gordon had a knife in his hand with which he was whittling when his assailant began the attack and with this he stabbed his brother-in-law. flicting a serious wound. Guptill was able to ride to his home on his bicycle, but that was all. At the house he fell down and Drs. Lawson and Jack were called in. It is not yet known what the result will be. Gor don is about twenty-eight years of age, and is a painter and fisherman.

The Most Costly Materials Used in the Manufacture of Diamond Dyes.

The best and most costly ingredients and materials are used in the manufacture of Diamond Dyes. No experiments are ever made with cheap colors with the view of increasing the manu facturers' profits. Diamond Dyes are the world's standards, and will be kept as such no matter what the cost may be. The chear and imitation dyes sold by some dealers are never twice made from the same grade of materials, therefore, they vary and are not reliable. Diamond Dyes give as perfect results when used by a child as they do when

St. Stephen. July 20.-The people of St. Stephen and the rest of Charlotte ounty received with very great pleas ure the news of the elevation of Hon. James Mitchell to the position of premier of the province, and when he arrived home on Saturday evening he was given a most cordial greeting.

A great bonfire blazed in the square, and as the premier stepped from the train he was escorted to a landau in which were seated Hon. Judge Stevens, Mayor Murchie of St. Stephen and Mayor Deacon of Milltown. Four grey horses with outriders drew the carriage, and in a second landau were eated Hon. Geo. F. Hill, M. P. P., James Russell, M. P. P., Jame O'Brien, M. P. P., and R. E. Armstrong of the St. Andrews Beacon. Headed by the Ferry Point band and with hundreds of citizens carrying torches the procession marched through Water, Main and Union streets and back to the curling rink. The stage was arched with evergreens and banked with flowers, while over it was the motto "Welcome to the emier." The crowd in the rink, as in the procession, represented all classes of political and religious beliefs. On the platform were Mayor Murchie, Mayor Deacon, Hon. Judge Stevens, Jas. G. Stevens, jr., J. D. Chipman, R. E. Armstrong, Hon. Chas. McCullough of Calais, Hon. Geo. A. Curran of Calais, Mayor G. A. Murchie of Calais, M. N. Cockburn, Jas. Russell, M. P. P., Jas. O'Brien, M. P. P., Hon. Geo. After a few words of congratulation nd welcome from Mayor F. M. Murfollowing address, prefacing it with a few personal words of congratulation and friendly greeting: To the Honorable James Mitchell,

Premier of the Province of New On behalf of the inhabitants of St. Stephen and Charlotte county we desire to congratulate you on your appointment to the high and honorable position of premier of the province of New Brunswick, being the highest offide in the gift of the people under re-sponsible government, and a special honor conferred for the first time on a representative of the county of Char-Your long tried and successful efforts while discharging the duties of general and provincial secretary afford a safe guarantee that in your present responsible position the interests of the province of New Brunswick will be safely secured, and our hope and prayer is that you may be long spared to discharge the duties of the situation, and that you may be strengthened and gladdened in the same by the assistance of the esteem and affection of the people of the province generally. We desire to tender you our best wishes for your success and the continued health and prosperity of yourself and your esteemed partner, Mrs.

Mitchell. Premier Mitchell showed his appre ciation of the sentiments expressed and replied as follows: I have to thank you all most sincerely for this cordial greeting and your expressions, and to thank the Hon. Judge Stevens ticularly. I feel it one of the highest compliments of my life that you are here to voice this welcome. I regret

I am not able to speak so as to heard by all, but you who hear will understand my appreciation. than twenty years ago I came here stranger. You received me kindly and many honors have been given me by you. I have done my best to represent your interests faithfully at times, and, if one can judge by the feeling here, you are satisfied. I have tried to work for the best interests of the county and province. I have not known party politics in provincial affairs, but have treated all alike. As in the past, so I shall do in the future if I am spared. Mine is now a responsible position and I feel its reonsibilities and shall feel them more. I follow an able man, for Hon. A. G. Blair is one of the ablest men Canada. If I can fill the position as well and please the people of the prov-ince as well as has Mr. Blair, I will be pleased. So long as I am leader of the government I will give good, sound, honest, economical government, and, when I find I cannot do that. I will get down and out. I have assoclated with me gentlemen in whom I have full confidence. They will aid me and I am proud and glad that those men with whom I have been associated for years were satisfied that I was the man to lead them. There was no dissension. Each one said the premiership should come to Charlotte. It was not all a choice of me personally, but a recognition of the fact that back of me, in this county were good, sound men, and that I had the port of one of the best counties in the province. There have been several occasions when I felt proud, but this is one of the proudest in my life. I was proud when, with the aid of Hon. G. A. Murchie of Calais, I was able to make free bridges on the St. Croix. This honor is not going to spoil me and when you meet me tomorrow you

The Harcourt and Mill Branch Presbyterians held a tea meeting in the new manse at Harcourt this week. Rev. J. B. Cropper of St. Lucia has been addressing meetings in this vicinity in the interests of work among the Hindus in the West Indies. Mr. Cropper is a gifted speaker and thoroughly conversant with the work which he so graphically describes.

Quite a number from the states are here at present visiting friends, among them Miss Grace Marshall, Mrs. Vrad-enburg, Mrs. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walker has filled an order for pine flooring for the large new R. C. cathedral at Charlottetown. R. McDonald got a large barn raised and boarded in the other day. Messrs, Barnes, Legere and Hains were here inspecting bridges this week. Several bridges are to be repaired. Th bridges in this vicinity are in a wretched condition and a number are entirely unsafe. DEPENDS ON BEAVER LINE

J. W. Todd of the firm of Watson & Todd, the big Liverpool lumber merchants, is at the Royal. He came here from Montreal and will go to New York in the course of a day or two to sail for home. Mr. Todd says his firm are shipping lumber from Montreal by seven or eight lines of steamers. The price of deals is up on the other side. Mr. Todd is not in a position at present to say whether they will make any shipments from St. John during the coming winter or not, but if the Beaver line are given a subsidy to come here, his firm will probably ship by way of this port.

A TURKISH WATCH.

SALT KILLS THE ARMY WORM.

Rome, N. Y., July 17.-A Rome farms er discovered today that the army worm is killed when it comes in contact with salt. To confine the worms where they are operating he is putting your several departments of surveyor a windrow of salt around the field or to protect a growing crop that is not infested he will run a line of salt around that. From experiments he made, in which several worms were killed, he is confident that when the worms undertake to crawl over the row of salt enough of the salt will adhere to them to destroy them. The result of the experiment will be given to the public.

Young Koerner Abducted by His Father, Captured by His Mother in Londonderry.

New York, July 19.-Mrs. G. M. Koerner, the divorced wife of the senior member of the firm of Koerner & Hyde of Buffalo, who arrived in this city on the steamer Umbria on Saturday, left today for Buffalo. She was accompanied by her son, R. W. Koerner, whom she found in Londonderry. Ireland, where he had been stopping, with his father, who abducted him. Mrs. L. W. Remington was also one of the party. The boy, who, when her comes of age, will be heir to $25,000, was abducted by his father after the divorce and taken to Europe. Mrs. Koerner and her friend Mrs. Remington, followed and located them in Londonderry. In the absence of the fa-ther they took the boy away. Koerner followed them to Liverpool only to discover they had left for New York on the Umbria.

Scores of the Canadians at the Twoand Five Hundred Yard Ranges.

London, July 20.—The principal event at the meeting of the National Rifle association at Bisley today was the contest of the Queen's prize at ranges of 200, 500, 600, 800 and 900 yards. The score of the Canadian marksmen in the first stage, 200 yards, was as follows: Crowe 32, Lieut. Mitchell: 31, Spearing 31, Campbell 31, Weller 31, Hayhurst 30, Sergeant Mitchell 29, Macdonald 29, Langstroth 29, Harp 28, Ogg 28, Bent, 28, Ross, 27, Armstro

27, Neill 27, Levers 26, Huggins 24, King 24, Ruions 24. At 500 yards the Canadians made the following individual scores: Hayhurst, Neill and Crowe 32, Sergeant Mitchell 33, Campbell and Ogg 31, Lieut. Mitchell and Ross 30, King and Ruions 29, Weller and Levers 28, Spearing and Armstrong 29, Langstroth and Harp 26, Macdonald 25, Bert 24, Huggins 22. Of the Canadian marksmen King, Spearing, Armstrong and Huggins won prizes in minor events. NOVA SCOTIA CABINET.

the General Captured and More Than Three Hundred Killed and Wounded.

Key West, Fla., July 19 .- The Spaniards under General Suarez Inclan have sustained a crushing defeat at the hands of the insurgents under Antonio Maceo. Not only was Inclan's column defeated with heavy loss, but it is currently reported in Havana that the Spanish general himself was captured and is now held as a prisoner. The battle is said to have occurred on July 15 near Maceo's stronghold in the province of Pinar Del Norte. For the last two weeks the insurgents have been very aggressive, and small parties have repeatedly attacked the trocha, causing the Spaniards much annoyance. Gen. Inclan was ordered to drive back these detached bands of insurgents, and for this purpose took with him 2,000 men. Maceo seems to have expected such a movement, and arranged to ambush the Spaniards. He stationed a large force in a favorable position and ordered his detached band to draw Inclan into the trap. The Spaniards followed the insurgent skirmishers incautiously and fell in the ambush. Then the Cubans opened fire from all sides, which threw the Span-iards into confusion. While the Spaniards were thus disordered, the Cubans charged, completely routing their

Gen. Incland made a desperate effort to rally his demoralized forces, but was surrounded by the Cubans and compelled to surrender. It is said in Havana that the Spaniards were pursued almost to the trocha, and lost more than 300 men killed and wounded. There were fourteen officers among the killed. The Cubans here also say that Maceo will hold Inclan as a hostage to save the lives of prominent insurgent officers who have been captured by the Spaniards. One of these officers is Capote. If this rebel leader is shot by the Spanish, it is said Inclan will meet the same fate at the hands of Maceo.

Madrid, July 19 .- A despatch re ceived here from Cuba says that Gen. Bernal has defeated the combined insurgent bands under Vafona, Laza and Perez, the rebel loss amounting to 41 killed and 60 wounded. The insurgent leader Perez was amongst the

of the Women's Council in the shape of four ambulances was presented to the city council Friday evn'g at the St. Andrew's rink. These ambulances were on exhibition during the afternoon and evening, when hundreds of our citizens visited the rink and inspected the vehicles. There are three field ambulances, one for Carleton, one for Portland, and the third, for contagious disease, will be left somewhere in the city proper. These ambulances are little wagors, about six feet long and two feet wide. They are on three wheels with rubber tires, and are moved by hand. They are very light and can be propelled without any difficulty. A black rubber top completely covers the patient from view. The top is detachable from the frame of the wagon. On the stretcher are straps and pillows for the patient's comfort. The field ambula were made by Alfred Carter, Limited, London, England. The ambulance and patrol wagon surpasses the expectaons of all. It is very nicely finished is of splendid appearance, and is cer tainly of great credit to its builders Messrs. Price & Shaw. The whe and shafts are of white, the bottom black, the seat and main body of red. and the top yellow. The springs are easy and the wheels are broad, that the motion while driving an infured person will be as painless as The interior is lighted by three wndows on either side, and the ventilation is very good. The stretcher is fitted with air-tight mattresses with hot water tins beneath. A doctor's kit, seat, bell and lamp conclude the

The official presentation took pla at 9 o'clock in the evening. At this time the attendance was very large. The ladies decided quite recently to give the field ambulance, designed for use among contagious diseases, to the commissioners of the Public Hospital, and the presence of Dr. Wm. Bayard, chairman of the commission, was very gratifying to the ladies of the council During the evening the 62nd Band furnished a delightful musica programme, while Dr. T. D. Walker described to the police the way ambulance was used by the St. John's to be reserved for the purpose of the general public hospital, have been procured mainly through efforts put forth by the Wemen's Council, and they are largely the gift of the women of St. John. The appeal for funds necessary for the purchase—almost $700 in all—has been very readily and very cheerfully met, for the new ambulances was felt, and there was general recognition in the community of the fact that they will not only prove a great convenience and comfert to those who meet with accidents or who have to be suddenly removed through illness or injury to their homes or to the hospital, but that they will alleviate suffering and often prevent the public from witnessing painful and unpleasant spectacles.

Influenced, therefore, by pure philanthropy and animated by a feeling of civic pride, the women who have been instrumental in securing these ambulances now give them in charge of the council of St. John, thanking your worship and the civic government for the readiness and the courtesy with which you and they have met our request in regard to them, not doubting that they will prove most useful in the accomplishment of the object for which they were designed. Writle we hope that necessity for their use may not arise, we felt that as it does, they will steadily exhibit the beneficient design of the givers, and that there will be constant ambulance was used by the St. John's

The Elis Worship the Mayor and the Corporation of the city of St. John:

May it please Your Worship—Owing to the absence of our president, Lady Tilley, throug a bereavement which we deplore, the principal duty of this evening has devolved upon the vice presidents of our society. We must all regret Lady Tilley's absence, not alone for the sorrowful circumstances which compells it, but because it deprives her of the opportunity of personally expressing her own feelings of satisfaction at the successful conclusion of a long cherished design in connection with the useful conveyance which we are now about to entrust to the guardianship of the city. In replying, Dr. Bayard said he could only endorse the remarks of the mayor and assure the ladies that their gift would fill a long felt want, and tender to them the sincere thanks of the commissioners.

Ald. McGoldrick, chairman of the safety board, who was called upon by the mayor, expressed his appreciation of the gift, and informed the ladies that an order had been passed for the purchase of a horse and harness, and ilso for the erection of a suitable building for the ambulance and other necessary appurtenances. At the conclusion of his remarks the mayor called for three cheers for the ladies, which were given right royally. The chief and officers of the police force, who visited the rink during the day, express themselves as being perfectly satisfied with the ambulances, but think the one manufactured by Messrs. Price & Shaw is unfit to be used as a patrol wagon, as some of the desperate characters the police frequently have to deal with would soon emolish it. The chief of police talked with the ladies, and on behalf of the police force offered $40 towards a fund for a patrol wagon. The ladies agreed with the proposition, and it is possible steps will be taken to procure a patrol wagon, leaving the present one for an

Woodstock Sentinel. DISRAELI'S RETIREMENT.

In 1876 Mr. Disraeli was raised by the Queen to the peerage under the title of Lord Beaconsfield, and left the house of commons before the news of his elevation to the house of lords had been made public. His withdrawal from the stage where he had played so long the leading part in a manner obviously devised to avoid any sort of ovations was in accordance with the dignity which characterized the remaining years of his life after the dethe conservatives, when the general election of 1880, in consequence of the Midlothian campaign, had terminated his public career. No applicant for his opinions on any subject ever received a postcard from Lord Beaconsfield; no speech was ever made by him at railway stations. He died in 1881 as he had lived, alone, a stranger amid a strange people. Aftern is death his memory came to English conservatives an object of almost sentimental affection; to English radicals it remained an object of never failing animosiay. But to Englishmen of all politics, to conservatives and liberals alike, his life continues to be a constant puzzle, an FROM BISLEY.

Bisley Camp (Eng.), July 16.—(Reported especially for the Mail and Empire.)-The prediction of last night's cable that rain would greet the marksmen today was fully berne out. It did rain. Not in bucketfuls, but in the cool, steady "drizzle" characteristic of the British Isles. It started to rain shortly after eleven o'clock last night, continued all night and all today. The consequence was that the ranges presented a dreary spectacle, and one calculated to chill the hearts of the marksmen. The British competitors and the old members of the Canadian team took matters very philosophically, but the new Canadian competitors and other colonials chafed a little. The spectators today were very few, and only the competitors, scorers and other officials, and a few pressmen were to be found around the firing mounds. To make matters worse, it was decidedly cold, and men who a day or two ago grumbled at the excessive heat, expressed themselves in far from complimentary terms on the sudden change. The wind was very strong, but fortunately steady, and on this score no complaints were heard

The range here is 500 yards, and seven shots are allowed. The entries are unlimited, but it is almost certain that Spearing's score will take the first prize. In any event he has the best of chances, and will not shoot in the match again unless his score is tied and it becomes neces sary to decide the tie. Naturally the Canadians are pleased at Spearing's fine work. His first shot found the bull's eye to the left. Having found the disc Spearing evidently made up his mind to stay there, and he stayed His second shot was still on, but to the right, and as though trying hand at a piece of fancy work, he proceeded to nunctuate a three quarter circle on the disc, finishing up with a

THE SILVER MEN.

An Effort Being Made to Swing the Populist Convention for Bryan.

Few of the Delegates to the Populist Conven tion Yet at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., July 19.-Hon. Thos. Patterson, regular chairman to the Colorado delegation to the Populist convention, arrived today and with others immediately began a crusade in behalf of the nomination of Messrs Bryan and Sewall by the Populist convention. During the evening Mr. Pat terson and his coadjutors prepared and issued an address in reply to Chairman Taubeneck's appeal to maintain the autonomy of the party by taking a position against the nomination o endorsement of the democratic candidates. The address of the Bryan followers as prepared by Mr. Patterson is in part as follows:

"We agree with Chairman Taubeneck that the all-absorbing question with the populists is and should be: How can they assist in the speedy restoration of silver to its former place and at the same time maintain and advance this party organization? We believe that the people's party is necessary to the country and that should it be disbanded or become inconsequential for want of numbers the money power would soon resume co sway over both the old parties and the masses be deprived of a protector from the greed of corporations, trusts and syndicates. But we emphatically disagree with him as to the means by which these ends are to be secured. To nominate an independent, one in opposition as much to Bryan and Sewall as it would be to McKinley and Hobart, would not only make it impossible to restore free coinage of silver during the lifetime of the youngest in the coming convention, but it would practically annihil ate the people's party, as far as folowers are necessary to make a party. "Instead of nominating others, the populist's convention should nominate not "endorse," Bryan and Sewall. The convention should make these men its own nominees—the party nominees. It should adopt its own platform of principles and place them upon their choice for president and vice-president. Having done this the delegates can return to their homes and looking their constituents in the face say: "We have made this partial sacrifice of party pride to make certain of the enactmen into laws of one or more of the great measures for which our party has struggled. In doing this we have proven that our party stands ready to do whatever is necessary to secure practical relief to the suffering country, even to the extent of supporting candidates nominated by other parties. The greatest test of party devotion to the principles can be devised and measured by that test. The people's party is pre-eminently worthy of the people's confidence and support.'

St. Louis, July 19.-Few of the delegates to the populist convention have arrived, but among the leaders who have reached the city a very bitter war has already developed. They seem to be aligning themselves for a three-cornered fight; first those who favor a straight endorsement or nom nation of Bryan and Sewall, which will bring to the Chicago ticket the support of the populists; second, those desire a fusion electoral ticket. which will maintain the populist party organization intact, and place the eaders in a position to demand recognittion in the event the ticket is successful: and third, what are known as the middle of the road. They also favor an independent platform and ticket and who oppose fusion in any form The latter, if present indicatons count for anything, will eventually be overruled. The "middle of the road" men however, will prove strong and valuable allies of the leaders of the second class, who are determined to preserve their party organization at all hazards but who express an earnest desire to combine all the silver strength if way can be found to give them recog nition. The real fight, it is believed, will come between this faction and those who are in favor of putting behind them for the present all pride of party for the sake of the cause of silver, to which they are pledged. Senator Butler of North Carolina who heartily favors harmonizing all the silver elements as the only way to win, points out the strong enmity between the populists and democrats in the south, and expresses the opinion that unless the populist organization is recognized in the fight, through fusion ctors, it will be impossible to secure the support of the rank and file of the populists of the south for the Chicago ticket. All the indications are that the convention will be a lively fair with the certainty of much bitter wrangling, the probability of son sensational incidents, and of a bolt of larger or smaller dimensions, no matter what the ultimate decision of the convention is.

SPORTING MATTERS.

St. Johns Defeat Moneton and Alerts the Roses on Saturday.

Arrival of the Toronto Crew at Halifax-Denver Ed Smith Challenges the World.

PENTATHLON.

The second maritime pentahlon of the Y. M. C. A. is to be held this year at Pictou, N. S., on August 8th. The contest last year was held at Halifax and proved to be by far the most in teresting athletic meet of the season. The contest this year will be far more interesting and more closely contest ed. It is expected that several maritime records will be broken. A large number of prominent athletes have already intimated that they will be present. Among the number the following are expected: Forbes, Ruggles and Brodie of Halifax; Crocker and Reid of Amherst, Glendenning and Humphrey of Moncton, McCullough and Crocker of St. Stephen, McDonald of Pictou, and others from Yarmouth, New Glasgow, Summerside, Fredericton, Truro, etc. In this contest there are only five events, but they are standard and thoroughly test a man "all round." These events are as follows: 100 yd. dash, throwing 12 lb. hammer running high jump, pole vault, one mile run. It is posisble to score 100 points in each event. Medals are awarded as follows: 200 points wins a bronze medal, 300 points a silver medal, 400 points a gold medal. Last year eleven medals were won, one gold, three silver and seven bronze medals.

ATHLETIC.

A change in the laws of the M. P. A. A. regarding the 16 lb. hammer will be of interest to some local athletes. Heretofore a wooden handle has been compulsory, but the rule has been changed to conform to that of the Amateur Athletic Union: "The head and handle may be of any size, shape and material," etc.

The sprinting races on the programme of the Bicycle and Athletic clubs' sports are not filling up rapidly. The entries are open until Tuesday vening, but there is an evident advantage in entering early. If a suitable number of entries can be secured a mile run will be added to the programme.

AQUATIC.

The St. John Crew's Quarters. Halifax, July 17.-The representaive of the St. John crew had a hustling day, and at last succeeded in getting desirable lodgings for his men on dockvard along with the English boats. This is the safest place, as no one is allowed in without a pass. It is not far from the starting point. At the invitation of the English crew the St. John men inspected their boats and also saw the crew row. The Englishmen pulled for a whole hour, starting off with forty strokes and winding up with thirty-six. Their back swing is perfect, their big drive terrific, and the boat almost seems to jump through the water. Their recovery is rapid, the oars coming back with perfectly horizontal blades and raised quite clear of the water. They turn their boat like a top. The Englishmen do not drink beer, as reported, but use no water. Arrangements will be made to bring water from Torryburn for the St. John four.

Regatta. A meeting of the committee having in charge the four-oared crew for the Halifax regatta was held in City hall on Saturday night. H. R. Lordly, who had been in Halifax making arrangements for the quartering of the crew, reported as published in Saturday's Sun, namely that the boats will be housed in H. M. dockyard, along with the boat of the English crew, and that good quarters had been secured for the men on Brunswick street, a short distance from the dockyard. The importance of this arrangement as to the stowing of the boats is apparent when it is stated that the dockyard is closed to the public and no person can pass the sentry on duty without a duly authorized permit. Members of the managing committee reported having visited the quarters of the crew during the week and stated that the men were doing excellent work and from all appearances would give a good account of themselves at

A general discussion took place as to the management of the affairs of the crew at Halifax, and it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of Major Markham, as chairman of the managing committee.

Capt. Duggan Entertained. New York, July 18 .- The house of the Seawanhaka-Corinthia yacht club was brilliantly lighted last night when the New York contingents of the young ladies of Oyster Bay arrived on the club steamer Dunderhead. A dinner was tendered to Captain Duggan, designer and builder of the successful 14-footer Glencairn and also to his hardworking crew. The complimentary speeches from Commodore Ruse, who presided, and the other ocean jurists who lined the tables, were quite eloquent. All hands praised the Canadians for the gallant and sportsmanlike behavior, and many magnums were broached in their hon-

Capt. Duggan said he could never forget the handsome treatment he had experienced at Oyster Bay. He had found his rivals to be both sportsmen and gentlemen. On behalf of the club which he represented he promised his American rivals as good treatment should they come to Canadian waters.

THE RING.

Tuesday Night's Exhibition. New York, July 19 .- J. H. Hildebrant, the Johannesburg sporting man, with a large spread of diamonds, came into the Associated Press office Brunswick street, with permission to night with Denver Ed. Smith under his quarter the boats in Her Majesty's arm. Capitalist Hildebrant has been in this country for a couple of weeks coming originally with a $30,000 offer for a fight between Fitzsimmons and Corbett, but they wouldn't have it and the South Africa representative has spent the most of his time during his stay here in trying to arrange a fight between Denver Ed. Smith and anyone at all. Hildebrant arrived here today and brought his protege with him from Mechanicsville, where the latter has been putting himself into shape for the past three weeks. "I'm the champion bare-knuckle fighter of the world," said Denver Ed. smilingly, "and the fact is they's all afraid of me. I've got the strongest constitution of any man in America, and when I fight I go right at my man. You can say for me that Corbett faked his fight Sharkey. He got that on because he knew Hildebrant was after him to fight me. All the rest of them are featherbed fighters; that's what they are."

"I have claimed the championship for Smith," said Hildebrant, "because I've had a thousand dollars up for over a month for a fight and nobody would cover it. The money is up yet with a sporting paper in this city and I shall leave it there for a few days longer, and if we can't get on a fight, I'm taking Smith to South Africa with me, where I have matched him against Joe Goddard for $10,000. The people in Johannesburg think Goddard can beat anybody in the world, and the match will draw a great crowd. Goddard has improved wonderfully, but this man here (pointing to the westerner) is the best fighter in the world today."

Denver Ed. Smith smiled approval at this mark of confidence and declared again his ability to beat anything in the world, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jackson, Goddard, Sharkey and so on, preferred in that order. Consisely put, backer Hildebrant declares that he has any amount of money with which to back Smith against the world. The chances are that he will have to take his man to South Africa, but he will have another try at Fitzsimmons in London, where he expects to be within a few weeks.

Smith at present weighs 207 pounds and says he is in fine condition and a great fighter.

The second article provides for the venezuelan dispute, has been made public in a dozen letters which have been exchanged this year between Secretary Oiney, Lord Salisbury, Sir Julian Pauncefote and Ambassador Bayard. The correspondence is of great interest as marking a sensible advance towards the adoption by the two English speaking nations to the two English speaking nations to the principle of arbitration as the means of settling disputes between themselves, but the persons who have looked forward with hope and expectation to the speedy conclusion of treaties embodying the arbitration principle for the settlement of either or both of the two great open issues between the two nations are doomed to disappointment, for at the date of exchange of the last note, one from Secretary Oiney to the British ambassador here, dated within a month past, points out a vital nature in the case not only of the Venezuelan conspiracy, but of the general arbitration proposition as well, are still the subject of discussion without much expectation of an early adjustment.

The notable features of the correspondence are the fact that whereas Mr. Bayard, by instruction of Secretary Oiney, proposes negotiations at Washington respecting the Venezuelan boundary dispute, Lord Salisbury broadened it into a general arbitration browers may be referred to arbitration expecting the Venezuelan boundary dispute, Lord Salisbury broadened it into a general arbitration browers may be referred to arbitration expecting the venezuelan boundary dispute, Lord Salisbury broadened it into a general arbitration.

The two services of the second article provides for the office of the office, and into adoption by the selection by the two contents of the other, all claims of the other and includes of the other. As to the Venezuelan matter, specifically the difficulty that cannot be overlects have actually settled. "Imitation arbitration" is what Secretary Olney while the British premier criticises Secretary Olney's plan as calculated to institution of innumerable suits to re-note dated February 27th last, from Mr. Bayard to the Marquis of Salisbury, in which he says that "In order to reach a well defined agreement for the arbitration of the boundary between British Guiana and Venezuela, which seems to be almost unanimously desired in both the United States and Great Britain," his instructions continue to indicate an urgent desire to bave the question removed as soon as practicable from the atmosphere of possible controversy. Therefore, he proposed to enter into negotiations with Washington to effect this purpose. He also asked for a clear definition of the "settlements" by individuals in the territory in dispute, which Great Britain desired should be ex-eluded from arbitration. Lord Salisbury made reply, readily oncurring in the suggestion to begin negotiations, and noting the desire of the British government to bring the difference between themselves and Venezuela to an equitable settlement. He states that the determination of facts is a suitable matter to be considered by a properly constituted tribunal, and while it might be more difficult to arrive at an agreement as to the law which should govern, the possibility of being compelled to argue that question later should not deter the governments from setting in motion that part of the procedure on which they already agreed. March 5th, Lord Salisbury addressed a letter to Sir Julian Pauncefote, in which he refers to the exchange of communitions in the proceedings between the ambassador and the late Secretary Gresham upon the estabdishment of a system of international arbitration for the adjustment of disputes between the two governments, "the further consideration of which at that time was prevented by circumstances to which it was unnecessary

Lord Salisbury added: "But it has again been brought into prominence by the controversy which has arisen upon the Venezuelan boundary. Without touching upon the matters raised by that dispute, it appears to me that the occasion is favorable for renewing the general discussion upon a subject in which both nations feel a strong interest, without having been up to this time able to arrive at a common ground of agreement."

Lord Salisbury proceeded to discourse as follows: "The obstacle which separated them (the 'wo governments) has been the difficulty of deciding how far the undertaking to refer all matters in dispute is to be carried. On both sides it is admitted that some exception must be made. Neither government is willing to accept arbitration upon issues in which the national honor or integrity is involved. But in the wide region that lies within this boundary the United States desires to go further than

Secretary Olney points out in support of his amendments that they make all disputes prima facie arbitrable. He shows that the awards if unanimous should be final equally with those of the appellate tribunal. He points out that his amendment meets Lord Salistury's objection to the foreign arbitrator, and adds that if bias on the part of foreign jurists is to be feared, the United States, being without alliance with any countries of Europe, is certainly not the party to expect any advantage from that source. In concluding, he says: "It would seem to be the part of wisdom to establish the principle of general arbitration, even at the risk of the development of defects in the scheme originally adopted. The affirmation of the principle would of itself tend to greatly diminish the chances of a resort to war; while the imperfections of the scheme as disclosed by its actual working would be remediable at any time by the consent of the par-

City Engineer Peters said the impression he formed from his conversation with Col. Moore was that the Freeport could be secured, but the Aiax was also mentioned. To Ald. Wilson Capt. Dickenson said he had no reason to believe Col. Moore would not let Mr. Mayes have one of his dredges. The city engineer thought the Free

Other parts of the work could be sublet if the council saw fit. Ald. Wilson urged the acceptace of Mr. Mayes' tender. If the dominion government would hire a dredge to the city, why not to Mr. Mayes, when he was at work on city improvements?

He thought it a bad principle to adopt for the city to do such work. It was sure to cost more than if done by a contractor. Mr. Mayes had a lot of appliances which would be required on such a job. The city would have to purchase the same things if it did the work. Mr. Mayes he held should be given a chance, as he was a St. John man. The city should show its confidence in him by accepting his tender and giving him the work to do. Ald. Daniel said the extension of time was agreed to by the C. P. Fellow A. T. Receives Hearty Congratulations and Makes a Declaration.

"I observe," said the President last evening, "that Fellow Andrew G. bears many evidences of conflict. He appears to have been grossly assaulted

"I have," said Fellow Andrew G. "This bruise," indicating a large contusion, "is where the Globe hit me. one," indicating another, "is where the Transcript got in a right hander. Then there are marks of thumps by the Colonel from Kings, and jabs by various others who rushed at me together. In fact I was sorely beset by the gang."

"When did it abuse him?" sharply demanded the Historian. "When he appointed Skinner to office," coolly rejoined Fellow Loran. "And at other times. Oh, we've got the measure of the Telegraph all right." "If you allude to its measure of capacity," said the Historian complacently, "the figures are $140,000." "Love of country," observed the President, "is one of the noblest sentiments that fills and actuates the souls events transpiring around us. ancient colony of Newfoundland has just furnished an instance that must be a source of deep satisfaction,-an inspiration in fact-to all of us. In the house of assembly there a few days ago, Premier Whiteway moved to reduce the contingencies vote $20,000 from the present figure of $35,-000. His supporters rebelled because it involved a reduction of their allowances. Only one member of the twentyfour supported Whiteway. As life, liberty and the pursuit of Boodle are the inalienable rights of every man, Whiteway's action was an example of outrageous tyranny. And he was very properly sat upon." The President's remarks were greeted with great applause, and the following resolution was unanimously ad-

"Whereas, the premier of Newfoundland has lately betrayed some pronounced Tory proclivities, and appears to have developed an unwarrantable aversion to Pickin's; and whereas, life without Pickin's would be an unbearable infliction; and whereas, Whiteway has treated human beings as if they were gudgeons; therefore resolved, that he should be salted down and his carcass used for codfish bait; and further resolved that we express our unbounded pleasure that our brethren in Newfoundland are sound on Boodle, which is the essence of patriotism and the emblem of our Noble Order."

"I perceive," sand a Fellow, "that The Sun announces that 85 heads in the public works department were to be cut off today. Fellow Tarte has got settled down to work. When does the railway axe begin operations?" "The new minister will be sworn in

"Hear! Hear!" yelled all the Fellows together.
"I fear," said Fellow John V., "that our influence will be very limited indeed. If we are not consulted about great measures, how can we hope to get a hearing in regard to small things?"

"Small things?" shouted the back benches. "No small things for us. Oh, no. We go in for big licks or down comes the house. That's us, and don't you make any mistake." The President hastily adjourned the

GOLDBERG ON TOP.

"It is possible, of course, to cherish The Decision Against the Montreal Creditors.

> Halifax, July 17 .- For five days Chief Justice McDonald and a special jury have been trying the case of Jacob M. Goldberg, and this afternoon the jury returned a verdict in favor of Goldberg. Jacobs, who represented the Montreal creditors, sought to set aside the assignment. In addition to those eedings the Montreal creditors had Goldberg arrested and taken to Mon-treal on a charge of fraud. He now finds himself on top.

COAL AT PORTAUPIQUE. There is considerable excitement at Bass River and Portaupique over the discovery of coal lately made on Portaupique Mountain by Messrs. Robt. and Alexander McNeil. These men some time ago took a mining lease. and have since, with the assistance of an expert, done considerable prospecting. It is reported that a 12 foot seam of coal has been located. The fortunate owners are now sinking a shaft, and prospects are excellent for their future success

This new coal find is situated about four miles from the wharf at Bass River and a few rods from the "Big Trestle" or Pole railway of the Fossil Flour Company .- Springhill News.

OUR EXPORT EGG TRADE.

(Montreal Trade Bulletin.)

Camedian eggs, like Canadian bacon, are gradually winning their way into the English markets. The principal demand is for our fresh and pickled eggs, refrigerator stock not being wanted at all on the other side. The exports of fresh eggs have begun rather earlier than usual this year, as the demand for these setdom sets in before August, when the flush of the forign supplyinto Great Britain is over, and prices commence to strengthen and afford a more profitable market for our fresh laid August eggs, which are considered the best of the year. This season, however, 2,250 cases have already been shapped, against only 78 cases for the corresponding period last year. Liverpool is the chief market for Canadian eggs; for of the above shipment 1,52 cases went to that port, 485 cases to Glasgow, and 16 cases to Bristol. A small lot of 10 cases went to Antwerp. As stated by us last week, some heavy contracts have been made with English firms for November-December delivery of pickled eggs, at prices ranging from 6s. 3d. to 6s. 9d. per long hundred of 10 dozen.

As pilot boat James Gordon Bennett, No. 6, was coming up the bay yesterday morning about 2 o'clock, says the N. Y. Times of Monday, a visitor leaped aboard. The Bennett had been cruising outside of Sandy Hook, and was on her return trip. Boatkeper William Bow was in charge of the boat. All the pilots had been put on board steamers. The boat was saiking along at a good rate, with the wind carrying her toward her anchorage rapidly. The look-out was forward. Just as the Bennett was entering the Narrows a black mass shot out of the water on the lee side and landed on the feck. The blow shook the boat and caused her to pitch and roll. The dark mass was very much alive, and soon made this fact known by lively blows on the deck. The crew rushed on deck to see what the trouble was. They found an immense sturgeon was the cause of the commotion, and with boathooks and cars they set about killing the big fieh. They sacceeded after a lively combat. The sturgeon measured fifteen feet from its head to its tail, according to the crew. It was landed on the Stapleton dock and cut up.

HOT WEATHER BLUES

and Paine's Celery Compound

The hot, flery weather of midsummer is extremely trying to those who are weak, nervous, sleepless and used up. Just at this time half-well people suffer from what is termed "hot weather blues." This means tired, weary feelings, and an oppression that makes daily life a burden. When the "hot weather blues" overcome a person, there is always a great lack of nerve force and power, and bodily strength is at a low ebb. Many will ask, "what can we do that we may be enabled to attend to business and enjoy life like others around us?" Why, do just as thousands of others have done, banish the cause of the "blues" by using Paine's Celery Compound for a few weeks. This marvellous tonic medicine will restore your vitality; it will strengthen the nervous system; it will cleanse the blood and give you new feelings and aspirations.

Thousands have found Paine's Celery Compound to be an invaluable agent in the hot weather for keeping up activity, appetite, perfect digestion, and for promoting sweet and refreshing sleep. Paine's Celery Compound will banish the "blues," and put every weary and used up man and woman in such a condition that work will be a pleasure, and life will be worth living.

Mr. Justice Burbidge, Mrs. Burbidge and family, who have been staying at the Galmour, Bank street, Ottwa, for some weeks, while their house on Metcalle street has been undergoing repairs, have now returned home. Mrs. Burbidge, who had a bad attack of diphtitherta in the spring, is now quite con-
