CITIES AND TOWNS WIPED OUT; HUNDREDS DEAD IN AWFUL FLOODS IN CENTRAL STATES

Vast Areas From the Missouri River to Alleghany Mountains Ravaged by Angry Rush of Swirling Waters

Impossible to Accurately Tell Loss of Life but it May Run into Thousands ---Property Damage Many Millions.

HEAVIEST LOSS OF LIFE IN DAYTON WHERE HUNDREDS ARE KNOWN DEAD

Chicago, Mar. 25.—Swept by wind and rain storms of terrific violence for three days, vast areas of the middle west, from the Missouri River to the Alleghany Mountains, tonight are inundated, many persons have been drowned and enormous property losses have been caused.

Ohio, Indiana and parts of Illinois and Missouri suffered most severely. Terre Haute, Indianapolis and Lafayette, Ind., and Delaware, Dayton, Columbus and Youngstown, Ohio, present particularly pitiable spectacles. In all of these cities there was some loss of life, according to reports available in each city the property loss was heavy. In Delaware, Ohio, persons are known to have lost their lives and thirty to fifty others missing. Terre Haute, swept by a disastrous tornado last Sunday, today was partly inundated, interfering with the removal of stricken families. The death list still remained at 20, while the list of injured aggregated 250.

Levees Burst.

For the most part the city lies on a level with the level of the streams. The streams are protected by levees 25 feet high. The levee protecting the Miami river broke at six o'clock this morning and the flood was augmented by the rapidly rising waters of other streams. The situation was made worse by the breaking of the Laramie reservoir, fifty miles above Dayton.

The waters swept through the city. One report which reached the city said the water in the Main street was 15 feet high. All wire communication except one slender phone line to Fonetown, a station in Dayton was broken and information regarding the status of affairs in Dayton was difficult to obtain. The telephone company said no lives had been lost, but opposite reports were persistent. Railroad and wagon bridges across the Miami river were swept away and others were in momentary danger. The river still was rising rapidly. At a late hour and fears were entertained that several other towns between Dayton and the Ohio river would suffer.

Hundreds of Lives Lost.

No definite information as to what actually happened at Dayton could be obtained until tonight, when information from Cincinnati came that hundreds of lives had been lost. Practically the entire city was under water and the residents had been forced to flee for their lives. Many of the more intrepid sought refuge on the house tops.

At three o'clock this afternoon a young woman telephone operator at Dayton was in direct communication with Governor Cox at Columbus. She said she was the last person remaining in the exchange building and that there was seven feet of water in the main street. As she was talking, she said, the Leonard building, across the street, collapsed. Many persons were believed to have been in the building at the time.

Columbus also suffered enormous damage from the flood. Railroad traffic was paralyzed early in the day. Fires in three large factories raged for many hours and for a time threatened a considerable portion of the district. Because of the flood firemen were unable to respond to the appeals for assistance.

Conditions Worst in Years.

Conditions in Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Kokomo and other places in Central Indiana were the worst in many years. At Lafayette two spans of a bridge went out. Two are reported dead. West Lafayette, where Purdue University is located, was cut off late in the afternoon when the levees were broken by the force of the waters of the Wabash River. The river is two miles wide and is rising rapidly.

At Indianapolis 1,500 families had been driven from their homes and four deaths were said to have resulted from drowning during the day. The pumping plant was forced to suspend operations and the city is without fire protection. At Peru property damage of a half a million was done by the flood, it was reported. Logansport also was under water.

Governor Ralston this afternoon received a frantic appeal from Connersville, Ind., for aid for many sufferers there from the flood. It was said that the White River had broken over its banks and that there had ensued great loss of life.

The entire business district of Rushville and part of the residential section is under water. One person is reported drowned. No trains entered or departed from that city today. The court house practically was the only dry place in the city and it was crowded with refugees who had been driven from their homes.

Cloudburst Started It.

Cincinnati experienced a cloudburst early today which started the Ohio river rising rapidly and flooded many of the streets. Families in the low lands below Milford were warned to flee and fled to higher ground before the sweep of water reached that place. A big dam a short distance north of Akron, Ohio, burst this afternoon, and the report was hurried throughout the valley in different directions to warn the populace of the impending danger. Hundreds of farmers with their families fled to higher ground. The great bridge over the Miami river at Middletown, Ohio, went out this afternoon. Fifteen persons were reported missing. Several houses were seen floating down the river, which was a raging torrent.

Sweeping up the Ohio valley from the west, the third storm in ten days, devastated different sections between Louisville and Cincinnati, in Kentucky and in extensive districts in Illinois, southern Indiana and Indiana. At Louisville the wind maintained a velocity of 60 miles an hour.

A number of persons were reported killed at Mahanada, Illinois, although the report could not be confirmed. A freight train was blown off the track of the Illinois Central Railroad and two of the crew were killed. Other cities affected by the flood and storm are:

Lima, Ohio, flooded by the Ottawa river. Ten miles of farmers held up there by washouts at Middle Point, Springfield, Ohio, Mad River and Buck Creek both out of their banks and several hundred houses flooded. Many families compelled to flee.

Laruse, Ohio, inundated. Many persons homeless and much suffering reported among the poor.

West Liberty, Ohio, Mad River overflowing its banks here.

Fort Wayne, Ind., St. Joseph, Maumee and St. Mary rivers on a rampage. Towns without lights and water famine threatened. Highest water reached in twenty years.

Marion, Ind., five hundred persons forced to flee for their lives.

Woodrow, Ind., three hundred persons homeless.

St. Louis, Mo., One person known to have been drowned and many families in the western part of the city forced to leave their homes by sudden rise of the Des Peres River.

Broad Ripple, one thousand feet of railroad track washed out.

Youngstown, O., fourteen thousand men are idle by reason of the closing down of the mills and factories. The food is the worst that this city has experienced in many years.

1,000 Reported Drowned.

Cincinnati, O., March 25.—A message from Fonetown said that a report was received there that the reservoir at Hamilton broke at 8:10 o'clock tonight and that one thousand persons were drowned.

A newspaper man who is a refugee in the office of the telephone company in Hamilton, admitted this might be true, but that owing to darkness he was unable to confirm it.

WHOLE VILLAGE WIPED OUT

Cincinnati, March 25.—Sixteen persons are dead at Hamilton, Ohio, according to a local correspondent. The light plant of the town is out of commission and the town is in total darkness.

THE DISASTER IN BRIEF

THE CAUSE.

Storms in Central States caused rivers and streams to overflow their banks and many towns were inundated.

THE RESULT.

Dayton, Ohio—Estimated loss of life 200 to 5,000. Water from 13 to 40 feet deep in streets of city. Millions of dollars damage to property. Residents fleeing to hills to escape floods.

Peru, Indiana—200 drowned, remainder of residents grouped in hills waiting for relief.

Piquette, Ohio—Hydraulic dam washed out, unconfirmed report says 540 drowned.

Indianapolis—Many reported drowned, 1,500 homeless, lower part of city under water. Millions of dollars damage to property.

Akron, Ohio—Fifteen missing, hundreds homeless. Mounted couriers sent to warn residents higher up in valley of approach of floods.

Columbus, Ohio—Enormous damage. Bridges and railway tracks washed out. All traffic tied up.

Springfield, Ohio—Hundreds of houses flooded, factories forced to close, all business paralyzed.

Hamilton, Ohio—Reservoir burst, 1,000 people reported drowned. City in darkness. Great property damage.

Vast areas from the Missouri river to the Alleghany Mountains inundated. Many hundreds estimated to have perished but detailed toll of dead will not be known for days.

Dying Like Rats.

Richmond, Ind., March 25.—Frank Purviance, an employe of the Terre Haute, Indianapolis and Eastern Traction Company, at Dayton, over the long distance telephone tonight, said scores had been drowned there.

"They are dying like rats in their homes. Bodies are washing around the streets and there is no relief in sight," he said.

Purviance said the catastrophe was caused by the breaking of the Lewistown reservoir dam north of Dayton. He said the water stood twenty to forty feet deep in the streets.

Send 200 Coffins.

Indianapolis, March 25.—Two hundred or more are drowned at Peru, Ind., according to a message received tonight. The governor's informant, named Baker, asked that 200 coffins and food be sent to Peru at once.

"This probably will be the last message you will get from Peru," said the man. "Two hundred or more are drowned and the remainder of the residents are grouped on a hill waiting daylight."

The Situation at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Ohio, March 25.—Twelve persons are known to have been drowned while it is believed over a score more are dead as the result of the flood of the Miami River that swept Hamilton from one end to the other today, and is rushing through the streets tonight to a depth of from three to six feet.

J. M. Espey a prominent merchant, saw a man and woman fall from a boat as it swept past his house, and neither appeared on the surface again.

Robert Shank, a lawyer and Dr. Leon Lutz lost their lives while trying to save others. Tonight the residents are gathered in the principal buildings of the town. Communication with the outside world is limited to a single telephone wire that reaches only to Cincinnati.

Fleeing to Safety.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 25.—The White River levee on Morris street broke here at six o'clock and fifteen hundred persons were forced to make hasty retreat from their homes. The water spread over several blocks, getting into the first floor of many houses. Troops and police hurriedly were sent to lead whatever assistance possible.

5,000 Dead, 30,000 Homeless.

Springfield, Ohio, March 25.—The Mayor of Dayton in an appeal made to the Mayor of this city reported at eight o'clock tonight that the water is thirteen feet deep in the Union station in Dayton, and that according to unconfirmed reports, 5,000 lives have been lost and fully 30,000 are homeless.

Dayton Plant on Fire.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 25.—A telephone message from Fonetown, at 9:10 o'clock tonight said that the vast National Cash Register plant at Dayton, is reported to be on fire.

SYLVIA PANKHURST TELLS ABOUT HORRORS OF FORCIBLE FEEDING

Suffragette Released from Holloway Prison Writes of Experiences—Tube Forced Down Throat by Doctors—Placed in Solitary Confinement for Twenty-six Days.

London, March 25.—The prison experiences of Sylvia Pankhurst are described in a statement issued by her this evening. Miss Pankhurst, who is the daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leader of the suffragettes, was released from Holloway prison on March 21 where she was serving a term of two months, for window smashing.

Immediately on her incarceration, she went on a hunger strike. After three days she was told she would be subjected to forcible feeding unless she consented to take food voluntarily. She refused to do this, and the doctors, to throw things at the doctors, but when six women attendants entered she could not bring herself to attack them.

The women seized her and forced her down on the bed. "After this, I came walking in; they hadn't the courage to show themselves until I was securely held."

Miss Pankhurst tried her hardest to keep her teeth clenched, but by the aid of a steel instrument, the doctors succeeded in prying her teeth apart, after causing her great suffering, and then she was forced down her throat. "I was seized with severe nausea," she continues, "and after they had pulled the tube out, they left me with sobs. The same thing happened in the evening, but I was too tired to fight so long."

After two days of forcible feeding, the prisoner was ordered to solitary confinement for refusing food, and was deprived of books. The forcible feeding continued daily.

After being imprisoned for twenty-six days she was allowed to exercise with Miss Zelle Emmerson, of Jackson, Mich., who was also serving a two months' term for window smashing.

Miss Emmerson, too, was on a hunger strike.

"At first," says Miss Pankhurst, "I could hardly believe it was she, her figure was so much changed, only half the size it was when she entered the prison with me."

According to her account, Miss Pankhurst by this time was a physical wreck, her eyes "like two cups of blood," her nerves shattered. She gave way frequently to fits of screaming and crying. Just when she had concluded that she could keep up the fight no longer the doctors held a consultation and decided to recommend her release on medical grounds.

Opinion of Hon. W. T. White Referring to Scene in Commons

RIGHTS OF SPEAKER DEBATED YESTERDAY

Liberals Claim Speaker Sproule was in Error in Taking Chair During that Saturday Night Row of March 15 — Conservatives Quote Precedents in Support of His Action.

Ottawa, March 25.—There was much harking back to English history to the days of the Stuarts in the House this afternoon when the opposition again contested the right of Speaker Sproule to take the chair, as he did on the evening of March 15 last, during the unhappy tumult that marked that sitting of the House.

There was one historic occasion much cited today and that did yeoman service as a precedent. It was an event of the year 1675, when British parliamentarians almost came to bloodshed. To avert that possibility the speaker of the day had lost no time in taking the chair, forgetting all past precedents, and ignorant of the fact that nearly 250 years later the parliament of British Dominion, then unborn, would gravely debate the right and wrong of his action. The government benches were agreed that he did right, the opposition on the other hand were inclined to believe that the "evil that men do lives after them."

As he listened to the debate from his days this afternoon, Speaker Sproule probably had visions of his own action being brought into question by generations of parliamentarians yet unborn.

Mr. Emmerson Starts Ball.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson was prompt to raise the legality of the Speaker's action when the House assembled today, after the short Easter vacation. His contention was that the Speaker had no right to take the chair until the chairman of the committee had reported a condition of disorder. (With the House in committee the Speaker was only a member "like a sphynx or stone dummy," as far as his official authority was concerned. Nor had he any power to direct the chairman how to rule, or the privilege of saying enough when the debate had gone far enough.)

This view was stoutly opposed by Arthur Melghan, Portage La Prairie, who quoted precedents from the parliamentary authority. Sir Esaukin May, and told of the time in 1675, when bloodshed was threatened in the British House of Commons. The Speaker, on that occasion, took the chair without receiving a report from the committee in order that he might quell the disturbance that existed.

A Condition of Disorder.

"It could not be argued otherwise," said Mr. Melghan, "that that a serious condition of disorder existed in the House on the evening of March 15th, and this disorder justified the Speaker's action."

Hugh Guthrie (South Wellington) thought Speaker Sproule had fallen in to error through lack of time to consider a question that came before him suddenly. He held that the Speaker was in error in no less than four particulars, first, in taking the chair before a report came from the committee, second in giving direction to the chairman he himself, being a member of the committee and subject for consideration to the chairman, third in closing the debate in committee which he had no power to do, fourth in naming an hon. member who could not be out of order unless the Speaker was in the chair legally.

Hon. Mr. White Scores Pugsley.

Hon. W. T. White strongly supported Mr. Sproule's action. The preservation of proper order was, he said, one of the prime duties of the office. Further, the Speaker had a continuing authority that did not end when the

THREATENED TO SHOOT SON

Man Named Morrell Faces Serious Charge at Gagetown—Gregory Lister Victim of Accident.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, March 25.—Before Judge Wilson at Gagetown a man named Morrell, appeared for trial under the Speedy Trials Act, on the charge of threatening to shoot his son-in-law. In the event of the season of navigation opening in the meantime Judge Wilson will probably go down to Gagetown at an earlier date and hear the case.

Relatives in this city of Gregory Lister, who has been employed for some years past in the C. P. E. shops at McAdam, received word yesterday that he had been the victim of a serious accident. One of his ankles was fractured, and he had a narrow escape from being killed. Details of the accident have not been received, but Mr. Lister has been taken to the Chipman Memorial Hospital at St. Stephen for treatment.

Fred P. Robinson leaves tonight for St. John to attend the special meeting of the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners tomorrow re New Brunswick Telephone Company's application.

Rev. Neil MacLauchlan, president of N. B. and P. E. I. conference has decided to remain pastor of the Methodist church here for a full four year term.

Special to The Standard. Matland, N. S., March 25.—A fire broke out here, suddenly, this evening, which destroyed three buildings with contents, and caused a loss of $10,000.

The fire started at 8:30 o'clock in the store of Everett Eaton. It spread to that of R. B. Eaton and Son, and then to a vacant warehouse, owned by the Captain McArthur estate.

The stock as well as the buildings were totally destroyed. The only insurance was on the property of Everett Eaton, which was half covered. At 10:30 the fire was under control. The origin is unknown.

Some Mysteries of the Nervous System Explained

THERE are two sets of nerves in the human body—those which have to do with external objects, and control seeing, hearing, feeling, moving, etc., and the involuntary nerves, which control the action of the vital organs, as the heart, lungs, stomach and bowels.

Illustration No. 1 shows how at sight of an apple the message is carried by the optical nerve to the brain, which receives, thinks and decides on some form of action, and sends out its command through the nerves which lead to the hand.

Simple as it may seem to see and pick up an apple, this act cannot be carried out if there is anything wrong with any of the nerves involved.

Injury to or weakness of the optical nerve means defective sight; disease of the brain or nerves may mean paralysis of the nerves which control the movement of the arms or fingers.

The brain is the source of all nervous energy, for here it is that blood is converted into nerve force, and for this purpose fully one-fifth of all the blood in the human body is consumed. This explains the necessity of looking to the condition of the blood at the first sign of nervous trouble, and shows how it is that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood-builder, is so remarkably successful in curing diseases of the nerves.

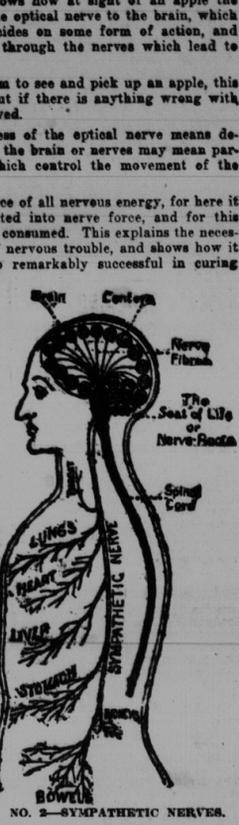

Now, when we turn to the great sympathetic nervous system, illustration No. 2, by which are operated the vital organs of the body, we find conditions somewhat different. For who, by taking thought, can cause his heart to beat or his stomach to digest food?

To be more definite, consider the stomach, which is a regular network of nerves. Some of these report to the brain sensations of hunger, others keep up the peculiar churning motion, and again others control the flow of the all-essential gastric juices by which digestion is brought about.

From this you can readily understand that when nerve force is consumed by excessive mental strain, worry, intense emotion or disease, the supply to the stomach becomes limited, and nervous indigestion is the result, and similarly other organs are deranged and weakened when the nervous system becomes exhausted.

cures nervous exhaustion and resulting derangements by supplying to the brain an abundance of pure, rich blood, the material from which alone nerve force can be manufactured. Because exhaustion of the nerves leads slowly and surely to locomotor ataxia, paralysis, and even insanity, it is most important that effective treatment, such as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, be employed just as soon as warning symptoms appear. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Every box of the genuine bears portrait and signature of A. W. HON. MR. PUGSLEY WAS LEGALLY GUILTY

Continued from page 1. House was in committee. Reference had been made to the case in 1873 when bloodshed was narrowly averted in the British Commons. He felt sure that on the night of March 15 the Canadian Commons was far from bloodshed, but at the same time, it was true that the members were excited, and he had seen with his own eyes one member (Hon. William Pugsley) standing two feet out of his place and within two feet of the chairman, "A very angry man and with his hand raised in a very threatening attitude."

Guilty of Common Assault.

"I say," added Mr. White, "that a very respected member of this House stood within two feet from the chairman with his hand raised towards him. I am certain in my own mind that he was guilty of common assault."

This was at the very time when the chairman was endeavoring to discharge his duties to the best of his ability.

Mr. Pugsley was much aggravated at this charge. He declared that it was the chairman who created the disorder by breaking the rules of the House, and said that all he had done was to endeavor as emphatically as he could to induce the chairman to obey the rules of the House.

Mr. White inquired what justification the member had for putting himself out of order.

Mr. Pugsley neatly evaded the question.

Sir Wilfrid's Opinion.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who spoke late in the evening, said the whole point at issue was whether the Speaker had the right to interrupt a committee of the whole House and take the chair.

The rule which clothed the British Speaker with power to adjourn the House in time of disorder did not exist in 1867, and so was not applicable to the Canadian House of Commons, and if the rule did apply, it would give power only to adjourn the House.

It had been argued that the Speaker possessed vested rights by virtue of his office. This idea he combated, and declared that the speaker who, in 1875, took the chair admitted that he did so unlawfully. The speaker, when he leaves the chair is only a member. It was not today as in an earlier period of Canada when Papeau, though speaker of the old legislature of Lower Canada, was accustomed to take a prominent part in the deliberations. That idea of the speaker's place had disappeared.

Sir Wilfrid intimated that in his opinion the fact that on March 15th the committee of the House rose without reporting, meant that the usual bill then under discussion disappeared. That point, however, had not been pressed at the time. He spoke at some length on the character of the rules as the safeguard of the members and held that the party that violated them would be the one most to regret it.

The Speaker's Fairness.

Premier Borden said that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had paid a just tribute to the fairness of the Speaker. The question under discussion was the technical one whether under any circumstances the Speaker had the right to take the chair while a committee was in progress. The premier quoted Borden to show it was quite optional as to whether a Speaker or chairman should permit discussion of a point of order. The Speaker was responsible for the order in the House and he had only interposed to restore order. Not only was there a precedent and the practice of parliamentary debate, but common sense dictated that when a committee got absolutely out of hand the Speaker should take the chair.

The premier's remarks ended the discussion and the House went into committee of supply shortly before midnight.

CITIES AND TOWNS ARE WIPED OUT

Continued from page 1. Brookville, Ohio, March 25.—The last man tonight to arrive from Dayton, 12 miles east of here, verifies the report that the water is thirty feet deep in the business centre of the city and running like a mill race. He asserts a hundred persons have been drowned. Many of them lost their lives when boats in which they were rescuing persons marooned in the second and third stories of office buildings were upset by the rapid current.

He reported that ten militiamen on guard at the levee were carried down stream and drowned when the embankment gave way.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 25.—A Western Union telegraph operator at Brookville, Ohio, tonight established communication with the Associated Press office here. He said: "Practically half of Dayton is under water from thirty to forty feet. At the lowest estimate 200 lives have been lost. The city is without electric light, street car service or water service. It is impossible to estimate the damage. There is much suffering and the people are in need of food and clothing. All bridges have been swept away. There is no communication with the outside world. Many persons were caught in their homes with all avenues of escape cut off. The water is still rising and a heavy rain falling."

Situation Appalling.

Cincinnati, March 25.—Sixty are dead and probably more in Dayton, according to Frank Braddon, vice-president of the Dayton, Lebanon and Cincinnati Railroad tonight. Mr. Braddon succeeded in establishing a telegraph wire late today from Dayton to Lebanon. He says that the situation is appalling and beyond all control.

"According to my advice the situation beggars description," said Mr. Braddon.

"What the people need most of all is boats. The water is high in every street, and assistance late this afternoon was simply out of the question."

My superintendent at Dayton told me that at least sixty had perished and probably a great deal more, at the same time assuring me that unless something that closely approaches a miracle happens the death list would run considerably higher.

"We are now rigging up several special trains and will make every effort possible to get into Dayton tonight."

75 Drown in Delaware.

Delaware, Ohio, March 25.—With nineteen persons reported dead—swamp away in the flooded Odontary river—many others missing and unaccounted for, and between 300 and 400 homeless, this town of about 10,000 inhabitants tonight with the exception of a crippled telegraph service, is cut off from surrounding territory. The flood condition of the town makes rescue and relief work difficult.

Mayor B. V. Leas, who was reported catching hold of the roof of a shed in a lumber yard, estimates the number of dead anywhere between 25 and 75.

Damage in Millions.

Dayton, March 25.—No one can tell the number of dead claimed by the terrific storm that swept away the levees of this city today, nor can the amount of damage be estimated, except that it will run in the millions. Crowded in the upper stories of tall office buildings and residences, two miles each way from the centre of the town, are hundreds of persons who it is impossible to approach. At Wyoming street, three miles from which has heretofore been considered the danger line water is running eight feet deep. Hundreds of fires which are impossible to fight, are burning. The rescue boats are unable to get farther from the shore than the throw lines will permit. They cannot live in the current.

The Lewistown reservoir broke at seven o'clock this morning and hurled millions of gallons of water into the swollen Miami. The crest is expected to reach here at seven o'clock tonight and will send the water several feet higher. John Haskins and James Hoag, private of the Ohio national guard, were drowned while in acts of rescue. The body of an elderly woman floated down near Wyoming street this afternoon, but the current is so swift that it could not be recovered. Unconfirmed reports say that 60 were drowned along the levees of North Dayton.

DIED.

PARKS—In this city, on the morning of March 24th, at his residence, 15 Peters street, William J. Parks, funeral from his late residence on Wednesday, 26th inst., at 2:30 o'clock. Service at St. John Presbyterian church at 2:45.

KEYS—At Barnesville, Kings county, Tuesday 25th inst., at 3:15 p. m., William Keys, in his 53rd year, leaving one son, one daughter, one sister and four brothers and a large number of relatives and friends to mourn.

Funeral Thursday, 27th inst., at two o'clock from the residence of Leonard Steele, Barnesville.

SGOVIL SMITH HAS RECORD

L. C. R. Police Official Pinched Nine Drunks Out of Thirteen Drunks Gathered in Yesterday—Other Charges.

The police have been doing a rushing business in the drunk line during the last few days. On Monday there were eleven arrests and yesterday the remainder just common drunks. Of the latter Policeman Sgovil Smith of the L.C.R. depot, yesterday afternoon arrested no less than nine. One of these is Harry Stewart who is charged with begging.

Whether the bad storm had anything to do with it or not is not known; but it was very noticeable that there was a large number of intoxicated men about the city yesterday. Charles McLaughlin, who hails from Nova Scotia, was given in charge of the police last evening on the charge of assaulting Robert Ward in the Queen Hotel on Princess street.

John Cartwright was given in charge of the police by Captain Caber of the steamer Manchester Engineer for being drunk and acting disorderly on board the ship.

HOME SADDENED BY NEWS OF DEATH

Mrs. S. W. McBeth Reads of Her Mother's Demise, in Melrose, Mass., in Local Newspaper—Sends Telegram

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy W. McBeth, a popular young couple of the North End, was saddened yesterday when it was learned through the local newspapers that Annie L. Linsley, mother of Mrs. McBeth, had passed away in Melrose, Mass. The deceased was the wife of Herbert W. Linsley, formerly of this city.

The only news that Mrs. McBeth had of her mother's illness was in a letter received by her last Saturday. It stated that on Tuesday last Mrs. Linsley after accompanying her eldest daughter home from a hospital in Melrose, was taken to a restaurant to dine. Here, after partaking of a piece of pie, Mrs. Linsley suddenly became ill and was rushed to a hospital in Melrose where it was learned she died.

No direct word, however, of the death of her mother had yet reached Mrs. McBeth and a telegram was sent last evening to enquire into the truth of the despatch.

TROUBLE IN MILL STREET POOL ROOM

Customer and Proprietor in Lively Argument Over Plugged Quarter—Policemen Anderson Called in.

The pool room of George A. Chagnis, 28 Mill street, was the scene of a disturbance again last evening. The trouble this time arose over the refusal of the proprietor to pay over to a customer a twenty-five cent piece of a plugged quarter which, the customer claimed, he had received at the store.

A young man coming into the pool room last evening made a purchase and after going out to the street he later discovered that he had been given in change a worthless twenty-five cent piece. He returned to the store and demanded another quarter, but Mr. Chagnis refused to make the change. A lively dispute arose and it was not until after Police Officer Anderson had been called in that a settlement was reached. The proprietor agreeing to hand out another piece of coin in place of the plugged one.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY STORM

Retaining Wall on East Side of Courtenay Bay Practically Ruined by Great Waves—Repaired Last Summer.

Although the turbulent waters of the harbor, with the accompanying high winds of the past two days have hindered work along the water front considerably, and caused some damage to the government wharves, the greatest destruction probably was wrought to the breakwater on the west side of Courtenay Bay, in the vicinity of the foot of Orange street, which acts as a protection to the L.C.R. track along the shore of the bay.

In a party years ago the high breakers dashing against this structure have broken up parts of the breakwater, necessitating repairs each summer. To prevent the same from happening, last year an extra amount of work was done and in all an amount exceeding a thousand dollars expended in an attempt to make the breakwater stand the rough seas for a number of years.

A gang of men were put on the job repairing and reconstructing. Rails were laid from the L.C.R. track and heavy rock and lumber hauled out to the end of the retaining wall. After the structure had been repaired, filled in with stone and securely tied with heavy timber, large piles were driven in the mud against the southeasterly side of the breakwater so as to prevent a wash-out.

The constantly heavy sea of the last two days, however, has played havoc with it. The waves dashing against the side have torn the upright piles from their position and heaving against the interior have forced the planks on top of the breakwater from their holdings. A hole has been torn through the side and the high and rough waters have carried away a portion of the timber.

The amount of damage done is estimated at hundreds of dollars.

MASTERS AND MATES ASSOCIATION WILL ASK FOR HIGHER WAGES

Lively Discussion on Salary Question, at Meeting Last Evening, but no Definite Action Taken.

At a meeting of the Masters' and Mates' Association in Orange Hall, Simonds street, last evening, the matter of increasing the wages of the employees of tugs and river boats was thoroughly discussed.

Several of the captains were present and they were asked to express their opinion on the idea of increasing the wages of the men.

While nothing definite was decided upon, or no action taken, it is understood that the employees of the tugs and river vessels are out strong for the increase and will work earnestly to secure a substantial raise in salary.

It appears from the report that some 25,000 boys and girls of twelve to thirteen years of age have, during the last ten years, been drafted from the parent homes in the Old Country to Canada, where they are placed out in the countryside, mainly in the Eastern Provinces, under safeguards which secure their moral and material welfare in the highest degree.

A formal invitation, according to an authoritative report, has been sent to the track athletes of Oxford and Cambridge Universities in England to visit the United States next June and compete against the combined teams of Harvard and Yale.

There is a growing conviction that it is rather by the emigration of children from the Mother Country that the insistent call for help in the development of the Dominion of Canada may most adequately be met.

THE PASSING DAY.

IN HONOR OF CECIL RHODES.

Special memorial exercises will be held today at Oxford University in honor of Cecil Rhodes. The "Nehorion of Cecil Rhodes" is the name of a collection of poems written in honor of the late statesman, who died at Cape Town eleven years ago today, March 26, 1902, and in his will provided that a large part of his fortune, about $10,000,000, should be applied to the creation of a fund for the support of scholarships covering a three-years' course at Oxford, the recipients of the gift to be chosen from the various British Dominions and colonies, the United States and Germany.

The Real Secret of Rejuvenating the Face

(From The Clubwoman.) She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned how to remove the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It's a secret any one may possess. The aged, faded, discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner, by the nightly application of ordinary mercuriolized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on in excess.

To talk of paying a third more than is necessary for an experimental battleship, not to be ready for eight years, with a view to meeting a European crisis which is darkening every day is surely the climax of absurdity. Yet it is run a close "second" by proposing to sink $75,000,000 in a dreadnought "plant" which is to be used only once to turn out two or three battleships and then let it lie idle, rusting away and certain to be out-of-date before Canada will be ready to build any more monsters.

EXPRESSES SURPRISE AT GRAND JURY'S CALL

March Sitting of Circuit Court Opened Yesterday Morning - Rodney Wharf Matter Scored by Judge.

The March sitting of the circuit court opened yesterday morning, Mr. Justice White presiding, with no criminal cases on the docket, and an unusually small civil docket.

In addressing the grand jury, his honor stated that he did not know whether or not it was a surprise to the grand jurors themselves to be summoned when there was no business for their consideration, but it was a surprise to him. A few years ago, he said, he had taken occasion to review the history of the grand jury in the court room here and had pointed out then that some of the functions exercised by the grand inquest many years ago had now become obsolete.

Although a few years ago, he mentioned incidentally, a presentment was made recommending that protection be given to Rodney wharf but this was evidently lost sight of in officialdom, and now through gross negligence, another victim had suffered recently by reason of want of protection. Referring again to the time when he reviewed the grand jury system, he mentioned that the grand inquest on that occasion made a presentment to the court to the effect that the grand jury should not be summoned unless there was some business to come before them.

This was followed by a similar resolution in Kings county and another in Albert county. Mr. Haesen, who was attorney general at the time, introduced an act embodying these presentments and with this law now in force, his honor was at a loss to understand why the grand jury had been summoned, when there were no special matters for their consideration.

He greeted that they had been called away from their business. The docket was as follows:

Remanet.
McVey vs. The Motor Car and Equipment Company, Ltd. D. Mullin, K. C. McKay vs. Furness Withy Company, Fred. R. Taylor.

New Docket.
Valley Steamship Company, Limited vs. Robert and Percy W. Thomson, H. H. Pickett.

The first case on the remanet was stood over until the next term. Court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

The grand jurors were as follows: Messrs. Alfred B. Wetmore, John F. Gleason (absent), Frederick E. Law, (absent), George Dick, D. Carlota, (absent), John H. Vaughan, Charles McDonald, William H. Sadler, (absent), Joseph M. Roche, (absent), Peter Campbell, James H. Pullen, Andrew Spranger, (absent), Harry O. Byrne, (absent), James T. Wilcox, Edward L. Riens, (absent), James Strirling, (absent), Robert M. Thorne, W. Alexander Porter, (absent), Harry L. Ganter, (absent), James S. McGivern, Patrick J. Mooney, (absent), Arthur S. Godsoe.

The petit jurors were as follows: Messrs. Frank A. Kinnear, Daniel B. Griffiths, George G. Kierstead, George McAuley, William V. Hatfield, G. Spranger, (absent), John O. Byrne, Christopher J. Kane, (absent), Harold P. Cunningham, William G. Dunlop, Robert Murray, Frederick J. Emery, Thomas Merriman, Howard D. Codner, Frederick Quinlan, John Power, (absent), Jeremiah Donovan, John Jackson, William Tait, Charles Parlee, John Chipman.

PROBATE COURT.
Estate of Captain Charles W. Brannen. Return of citation to pass the accounts of the executors, the Rev. George F. Scovill and Fenwick W. Tapley. The accounts are gone into and are found satisfactory. The receipts as they came in from time to time being placed on special deposit on interest in the bank. All the specific legacies have been paid, but the estate not yet being ready for closing it is recommended that a partial distribution of the amount available therefor be made among the residuary legatees. Messrs. Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford, proctors.

Estate of Rebecca Armstrong, widow. Return of citation to pass the first and final accounts of the Honorable Harrison A. McKeown, the sole executor. The accounts as filed prove in every way satisfactory. The executor does not ask for any commission, or fee accordingly. The balance on hand which has not already been distributed is now ascertained and the same ordered to be paid to the residuary legatee, a sister, Francis Kerr, proctor.

EASTER MONDAY DANCE HELD AT NEWCASTLE.
Newcastle, Mar. 25.—The Newcastle Concert Band gave a dance in Town Hall last night. It was very successful and a large sum was realized by the promoters.

Mrs. Henry Ingram is very ill and not improving at all satisfactorily. Mr. and Mrs. Watt, of Fredericton, spent yesterday here on their honeymoon trip en route home from Bathurst.

FUNERALS.
The body of Frank Angovine, who died in Montreal Monday, is expected to reach the city on Thursday at noon and the funeral will be held on the arrival of the train from the Union Depot.

The funeral of Edward L. Harrison took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Home for Incurables, Rev. J. L. Dawson preparing the services at the home and interment was in Fernhill.

WIDOW AND RELATIVES OF MEXICO'S SLAIN PRESIDENT ARE PHOTOGRAPHED UPON THEIR ARRIVAL IN NEW YORK

Dressed in black and weeping bitterly, Mrs. Sarah P. Madero, widow of the slain President of Mexico, and Mrs. Francisco I. Madero, his mother, stood on the deck of the Ward line steamship Monterey, as the vessel neared Quarantine, and waved to Avaristo Madero, brother of the late President of Mexico, who had gone down New York Bay on board a revenue cutter to meet the last of the Madero family to find a temporary home in this country.

With the widow and mother were Julio, a brother; the Misses Angelo and Mercedes and Mrs. Rasaelo Zirlon, sisters, and Jose Reyes, a nephew of General Reyes, who lost his life in the battle in Mexico City. Mrs. Zirlon was accompanied by her four young children.

Avaristo Madero was the only member of the Madero family now in New York city who went down the bay on the revenue cutter to meet the new arrivals. The others, who have been there a week, greeted their relatives at the pier.

The only member of the Madero family arriving who had any trouble in getting out of Mexico was Julio. He paddled his way down a river in a canoe to Vera Cruz, where he made his way to Cuba, where he joined the other members of the family and where they embarked on the Monterey for New York.

DEATH OF RESPECTED TITUSVILLE RESIDENT

Mrs. William Snodgrass Passed Away Last Week, after a Lengthy Illness—Funeral was Largely Attended.

Titusville March 25.—The community of Titusville has been again called to mourn the loss of a dear one, as death entered a home and claimed a mother, Jane Snodgrass, relict of the late William Snodgrass, who passed to her eternal rest on Wednesday, March 19th, aged 69 years, after a painful illness of almost nine months of stomach trouble. All that medical aid could do was of no avail to lessen her suffering, which she bore with patience until called beyond, leaving behind an example long to be remembered by those who visited her.

The deceased leaves one son, of the Linham Lumber Co., High River, Alberta, and four daughters, Mrs. Caleb Mesereau, of Hoyt Station, Miss Eliza Snodgrass, who was at home during the deceased's illness, Mrs. Edgna, of Somerville, Mass., and Mrs. Albert E. Black, who made her home with her mother during her declining years, and two brothers, John Chestnut, of Sherlock, and James, of Bremen, Ohio, and two sisters, Mrs. James Carson of Island Falls, Maine, and Mrs. Agnes Carson, of Judaea, besides a number of grandchildren.

The funeral took place on Saturday, interment in the family lot in Titusville cemetery. The pall bearers were deceased's son-in-law, A. E. Black, and nephews, James and Thomas Snodgrass and Archibald Chestnut. Funeral services were conducted at the home and grave by Mr. MacQuarrie, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Salina, of which the deceased was a member, who preached a very impressive sermon from Job, 14 chapter, and 14th verse.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Jessie McKean.
Many friends will be sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Jessie McKean, wife of Harry L. McKean of the local C. P. R. freight department, which occurred yesterday morning at the home of her father in Rock street. She had been ill for some time. The shock to all. Mrs. McKean was the daughter of William Callan, of the I. C. R., and, besides her husband and father, leaves two brothers, Charles and Arthur, and three sisters, Misses Hazel and Mary, at home, and Mrs. Mabel Thompson, wife of G. Fred Thompson of the Daily Telegraph.

For the bereaved young husband and for father, brothers and sisters, there will be general sympathy in their great loss.

William Keys.
The death took place at his home in Barnesville, Kings county, yesterday afternoon of William Keys, in the 53rd year of his age. The late Mr. Keys was a well known resident of Barnesville and contracted typhoid fever while working in the woods and never recovered from the disease. He leaves one son, Hedley, and one daughter, Georgie, at home, also one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth McCaw, in Newark, N. J., and four brothers. The brothers are James Keys, the caretaker of the reservoir at Loch Lomond; John and Richard, at Portsmouth, N. H., and Andrew residing in the United States.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Leonard Steele, Barnesville, on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

BRILLIANT WEDDING AT FREDERICTON

Davidson-Hodge Nuptials at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church—Groom Former St. John Man—Many Presents

Fredericton, Mar. 25.—A brilliant wedding took place this afternoon at St. Paul's Presbyterian church when Miss Kathleen Hodge, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hodge, and Duncan Cameron Davidson, son of Mrs. W. J. Davidson, Rothery, the new manager of the Royal Bank of Canada at Didsbury, Alta., were married.

The ceremony was performed at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Dr. W. H. Smith, in the presence of a large congregation, including a number of guests from outside the city. The bride was given in marriage by her father, while her sister, Miss Jean Hodge, and Miss Muriel Massey were the bridesmaids. John Brock, of Rothery, was the groomsmen and Messrs. H. W. Binning of this city and Alex. Turner of Chipman, were the ushers.

The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants for the occasion and the musical features of the services added to the brilliancy of the event. The bride was charmingly gowned in ivory crepe charmeuse trimmed with Brussels lace and orange blossoms, while she also wore a veil of Carrick-Macross net and carried a shower bouquet of Cornish roses and Lilies of the Valley.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of pale blue and pale pink broadened satin with draperies of almon. They also wore large black picture hats with Balkan trimmings and carried Richmond roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on George street west.

The floral decorations were most elaborate, the bride and groom standing under a smilax arch with a background of green and a large bell overhead. In the dining room there are also beautiful floral decorations. The guests included: Mrs. W. J. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rupert Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Gillis, St. John, and Mrs. Cordes, of Halifax.

The bride was the recipient of a costly array of wedding presents. A stroom's present to the bride presented by the bridesmaids had given solid gold bars, and to the best man he gave a topaz pin. The bride presented the ushers with gold pins with white pearl settings.

Mr. Davidson and his bride are to leave this evening for their future home at Didsbury, Alta., and will spend about ten days visiting Upper Canadian cities en route. The bride's going away dress will be a gold and white tulle gown with which she will wear a Paris hat.

Successful Concert.

A very successful concert was given in the Seamen's Institute last evening before a good audience, by the S. S. Athenia concert party. J. J. Johnson was responsible for the excellent programme and made a fine accompanist. J. Cameron made a great hit, his humorous Scotch songs were greatly enjoyed and he had to respond to several encores. J. Baikie proved a talented conjurer and performed some very clever tricks. Mrs. Davison sang very sweetly and her duet with Mr. McGarvey was particularly good. Messrs. McGarvey and Baikie gave two mandolin and violin duets. Others who took part in the programme were Messrs. J. Buchanan, H. Hunter, J. McDougall, F. Millar and J. Martin.

STOCK MARKET SHOWED MORE CHEERFUL TONE YESTERDAY

New York, N. Y., March 25.—Operators on the long side of the stock market began to pluck up courage today as another advance was achieved. After weeks of dropping prices and bearish sentiment, with only an occasional dull rally, it was something of a novelty to have a rising market for two days in succession with every appearance of an improvement in feeling. There was some real bullish enthusiasm in the first hour of trading, when the demand was keenest, but the pace was not long maintained and the market grew dull again. In spite of the falling off in business, the list maintained its firm tone. Representative issues were marked up one to two points.

CLOSING COTTON LETTER.

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.) New York, March 25.—Business on the cotton exchange today was still restricted by impaired telegraphic communication to the south but the meagre reports received from that source were rather bearish in tone. The market as a whole was narrow after early firmness due to short covering in March, the general list developed a rather heavy undertone. Despite some rather heavy realizing in March, however, that option retained its premium over May and a general belief was there would be further short covering in first named option before its maturity. According to reports a similar situation has developed in May, that is, speculators were short to the trade. Advice from the southwest indicating an increased and bright crop prospects were rather more pronounced today. The weather over the belt as a whole was better and according to the majority of advices the recent moisture aided from occasional two or three days' delay in crop preparations has done more good than harm. The south as a whole appears to be bearish on the outlook.

FOR CROUPY CHILDREN Keep 'Nerviline' Handy

IT POSITIVELY BRINGS CHILDREN OUT OF DANGER AND RELIEVES AT ONCE. A Mother Tells Her Experience. "Bringing up your children has its responsibilities under the best of circumstances," writes Mrs. E. G. Fagan, of Holmes' Corners, "but croupy colds add considerably to the worry. My little family of four all went through the croupy era, but I always had Nerviline on hand and never felt nervous. I just followed the directions, and can tell you that nothing I know of is surer to cure croupy colds than Nerviline. "In our home we use Nerviline frequently for cold in the chest, pleurisy, hoarseness, etc. It is simply wonderful. My husband uses it for rheumatism, and I often employ it for neuralgia and sick headache. Nerviline has so many uses that no mother can afford to be without it. "The large, family size bottle, which sells at 50c, is the most economical trial size. See your stockkeeper or druggist sells Nerviline, which is prepared by The Catarthosone Co., Buffalo, N. Y."

MARITIME PROVINCE ILLUSTRATIONS DAY BY DAY

CENTRAL PART OF PROVINCE IS FLOOD SWEEP

Work on Valley Railroad Construction Held Up—Several Bridges Carried Away—Ice Going Out.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, March 25.—The flood situation throughout Central New Brunswick has been but little relieved during the past twenty-four hours.

This bridge was built about twelve years ago, and it will be remembered that there was an investigation in connection with the building of the structure.

While it has been raining and snowing here all day today, the water in the river is receding gradually. This may be explained from the fact that today's rain has not had time to have much effect on the river, and also that it was snowing on the Upper St. John River today.

This morning river men were making prophecies that the ice below the I. C. R. bridge would be out before the end of the week.

Employees of the St. John River Low Drivings Company found almost two feet of solid ice near their headquarters today, while engaged in getting ready for the opening of navigation.

SUCCESS COMES TO MME. COTTRELLY AFTER BEING 37 YEARS ON THE STAGE

MME. MATHILDE COTTRELLY

Unusually since she made her debut in 1876 in the old Germania Theatre in New York as a singer in German light opera.

Mme. Cottrelly was born in Hampton, Germany, and went on the stage in that city at a very early age, appearing in a repertory company and learning musical as well as dramatic roles.

Let those young women—and young men also—who would bask in the glare of the spotlight and would woo in the painted arbor while the white and the red footlights are dimmed for the more romantic blue pause and consider Mme. Mathilde Cottrelly.

She is an actress who has been before the American public almost continuously since she made her debut in 1876.

PLATE GLASS INSURANCE. One of our esteemed correspondents sends us a newspaper account of a plate-glass window accident which occurred in Malcom, Ia. It appears that one of the citizens of the place was carrying a wagon tongue through the street when one end encountered a hitching post, swinging the other end around into a plate-glass window. The question is raised as to whether the man who was carrying the tongue was a sympathizer with women's suffrage, but we are inclined to believe that the suspicion should rest upon the tongue, for it is a well known historical fact that most active tongues are feminine. EIGHT HOUR DAY DISCUSSED AT BATTERED LIVERY MEETING

Many Views Expressed at Public Meeting Called by Mayor Last Evening, but no Definite Action Resulted — Labor Men Strong for Shorter Day, but Manufacturers Object.

The old County Council chamber in the Court House was the scene last evening of a public discussion that in point of interest and amusement out-classed any of the debates that have taken place there. The subject of discussion was supposed to be, is the time ripe for the eight hour day in St. John? But the discussion ranged to Australia and back again. Nobody knows which side won the debate, but everybody who could get into the room had an opportunity to express an opinion. The subject seems to be a great deal more interesting than those who called the meeting imagined, for about ninety tenths of those who wanted to attend were unable to get into the room. A large number of members of the builders exchange and representatives of the union and a few manufacturers including James Pender, J. Fraser Gregory and James Christie, who went early managed to get seats, and there were a few of the smaller merchants present.

The mayor presided and explained that he had been asked to call the meeting by a delegation composed of James Christie, H. L. McGowan and James Myles, who waited on him some time ago.

Time Not Ripe for It. James Pender spoke briefly, arguing that the time was not ripe for an eight hour day here, as the nine and ten hour day prevailed in other places and St. John had to compete with other cities. W. Frank Hatheway said St. John was backward industrially; its production as well as its wages were low. This he thought was due to the lack of cheap power and technical education, and the fact that the smarter workers left for other places where they could get higher pay and shorter hours. He referred to conditions in Australia and New Zealand where the eight hour day obtains and pointed out that those countries were able, with short hours, to export more goods than Canada.

Questions Wisdom of Movement. J. Fraser Gregory said the question was whether in view of the boom and the possibility of getting outside capital to come here and start new industries and employ more people it was wise to launch an eight hour movement just now. If conditions were ripe he would like to see the workers get the best treatment, but an eight hour day would increase the cost of construction and deter capital from coming here to erect new factories, and if the movement spread the manufacturers who have to compete with other cities working nine or ten hours would not be able to keep the mills and factories in operation and the workers would find themselves without employment. Capital and labor would be the brothers; one could not get along without the other.

Continuing, he said he remembered when the nine hour day had been introduced among the millmen, and as a result St. John had lost a lumber mill, which went to VanBuren, Maine. A voice—"And a good thing for the St. John workers it did. That company makes its men work 11 and 12 hours a day."

Had to Compete With Ten Hours. Mr. Gregory said the millmen of St. John had to compete with other parts of the province where the ten hour day prevailed and were only able to do so successfully because they had good shipping facilities here. He strongly deprecated the eight hour day idea, because it would tend to prevent new industries coming here.

A voice—"What good would bringing in new industries do the St. John workman if the new industries brought in more labor?" Mr. Gregory said that in a big city there were more opportunities for men to get into business. All the workers who were here on the ground might become contractors.

A voice—"There are too many contractors here now. This is the whole trouble." Another voice—"The St. John working men don't get enough wages to enable them to set up any kind of business." A member of the Carpenters' union said he could get $4 a day in the States and only have to work eight hours.

Would Increase Costs. James Myles, contractor, said he would like nothing better than to work eight hours if the people whom he did jobs for could afford to pay the extra cost. He felt the question was whether the public who employed the contractors would give them work to do if they put an extra charge on building operations. He noticed that the man who said he could get $4 a day in the United States came to St. John to work for less money. The carpenter said he had come to St. John because his wife was sick, and he stopped here because he found the climate agreed with her. The mayor said they ought to have some information in regard to the hours of labor in Canadian cities.

A Bricklayer's Opinion. George Hennessey of the Bricklayers' Union, said in Halifax and all large Canadian cities, except Montreal, the bricklayers had the eight hour day. A voice in the lobby—"Go to Hennessey." The Mayor—"The person who is singing out go to it, ought to go out himself." A voice—"But we can't get in to go out."

Continuing, Mr. Hennessey said the contention that conditions in St. John were different from other places was not well founded, as in Maine the bricklayers worked eight hours, and climatic conditions there were the same. He said that the increased cost in rent was making it necessary for the worker to live farther from his work, and he needed more time to get back and forth. He wanted to know why there was not a kick because the real estate speculators were putting up

WOULD GET PROMISCUOUS ADVERTISING

Board of Trade Secretary Plans Big Improvements Along Broad Lines — To Form Junior Board.

A plan to cut out promiscuous advertising is being laid before the local merchants by the new secretary of the board of trade.

"It is a well known fact," said Mr. Hoag, "that merchants do not get any value from advertisements in general and society programmes, and promiscuous advertising of that sort. Most merchants know that it is for the most part money thrown away, and in American cities the merchants are banding together and agreeing not to do any of this kind of advertising. The only way anything can be done to sign an agreement not to pay for promiscuous advertisements."

"In Connelville we introduced this plan without much trouble, and some of the merchants declared that during the first week the plank was in operation, they saved enough to pay their membership in the chamber of commerce for a year. The merchants agreed not to give any advertising for such a certificate, it was referred to a secret committee of merchants, who generally refused to grant such a certificate.

"This plan has been tried in quite a number of American cities, and wherever it has been put into effect, it has proved satisfactory. The merchants would not think of going back to the old system, in which they were being constantly held up for advertising that merely represented a loss of money."

"Another question in which I propose to try to interest the merchants here, is that of devising a scheme of refunding the railway and steamship fares of people coming to St. John to buy goods.

"This method of getting new business has been tried out with gratifying results in many American cities. The merchants make a refund of a certain percentage of the amount of the purchase of customers from outside the city. In some cases a refund of five per cent is made. Thus if a man or woman had to pay $1 to reach the city and return and made purchases to the amount of $20 while here, the refund would make up the cost of coming to the city. This scheme has the effect of bringing outside people into the city often than they would otherwise be disposed to come and brings a lot of additional trade to the city."

Mr. Hoag is making arrangements to have cards distributed among the hotels, inviting strangers to the city to take advantage of the board of trade reading room or its facilities for giving information about the city. The hotel men have agreed to slip these cards in envelopes which will be placed in the letter box of the guests. It is not generally understood that an organization of the board's reading room are open to any citizen, and all having friends visiting them are invited to bring them to the rooms of the hotel, where all kinds of information about the city is available. All the city and provincial papers are kept on file, and people from Boston, Montreal, and elsewhere can find their home papers there. A special invitation is extended to people from other parts of the Maritime Provinces to take advantage of the reading room. At present its large stock of magazines, trade papers, newspapers and publications of all sorts are very little used.

A Junior Board. Another matter which will probably engage the attention of the secretary is the organization of a junior board composed of boys upwards of twelve years of age. The idea of such an organization is to provide the boys an opportunity of visiting manufacturing establishments, and learning something about the industrial life of their city.

"At Poughkeepsie," said Mr. Hoag, "it used to be that all the high school graduates left for other places. After the organization of the junior board and the appearance of new industries the community began to see it was bad business to let the best educated boys go away. Manufacturers began to deliver addresses to the boys pointing out the industrial opportunities at home, and show them in homes about their plants. And both benefited by this policy. The manufacturers learned that the boys were bright enough to make it worth their while to offer them inducements to stop at home, and the boys began to take a keen interest in the industrial life of their home town. I was often surprised at the amount of knowledge accumulated by a group of boys as the result of a trip through a factory."

TEXTILE MILL IS AFTER SITE IN THIS CITY

Representative of American Promoters of Project, Here Investigating Situation—Will Meet Local Men Today. There is a prospect of another industry finding its way to St. John as a result of the boom. The information regarding the project is meagre as yet, and very little is being made public concerning the scheme pending the arrangement of certain details in connection with the project. The establishment of a textile mill, it is understood, is the object of the investigations which are being made by an American gentleman who arrived in the city yesterday in the interests of the promoters of the scheme. The purpose of his present visit is to get an idea as to what is available in the way of factory sites and to gather other information regarding the possibilities here for the new concern. He will meet some of the local men today and size up the situation.
