

The Gleaner.

AS. H. CROCKETT. - - - - EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1888.

YORK LIBERALS ATTENTION.

Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and so, too, perfect organization is the stepping stone to success at political elections. This principle should not merely be remembered by the liberals of the metropolitan county; but be immediately acted upon. No time is so opportune for perfecting the work of county organization as now; and there are in addition special reasons why the task ought not to be postponed. Delay may be dangerous. An appeal to the electors—at least of York county—may be nearer than many expect in federal politics; and it is as well to guard against surprise. If the constituency is opened for federal politics, it must be contested by a straight liberal. The contest may be a severe one—one in which every liberal vote will be needed, and in which the liberal party will go to the polls determined that no half-hearted liberal or incompetent conservative shall be sent to Ottawa. The County of York needs at Ottawa a man of ability and political integrity; a man whose political principles have been tested; a man who is true to the core politically, and not all things to all men; a man who, when he speaks, will command respect at once from his political friends because of his loyalty as well as from his political opponents because of his sincerity of conviction. By all means let us avoid surprises. Let Carleton be a warning to York. In the meantime let the county liberal organization move in the matter of preparing for a possible contest.

DEATH OF ARCHBISHOP LYNCH.

The death of Archbishop Lynch of Toronto removes from the earthly scene one of the most distinguished Roman Catholic prelates in Canada; and probably the most widely known. His ability and broad liberality of view have combined to win for him the respect of all liberal minded Protestants, as well as the reverence and admiration of his own co-religionists. He arrived in Toronto years ago, when the Catholic minority in the great Protestant province now called Ontario did not enjoy the same measure of freedom and influence which they do today; and his policy was from the outset to lift his people from that subordinate position to one of equal influence and dignity in the holding of public positions as was proportionate to their numbers. There was no disposition on his part to infringe upon the privileges or rights of the Protestant majority; but he was determined to maintain the privileges and rights of the Catholic minority, who, by the operation of an exclusive spirit, did not receive that recognition at the hands of those in authority to which they were entitled. His firmness won for his people many rights and concessions; his moderation in presenting his views won for him considerable admiration among Protestants; and his learning and ability were passports to the esteem of the cultured classes.

An Irishman by birth, he naturally succeeded in restoring peace and harmony in a diocese which had been weakened about 1859 by the untimely attempt to force upon a predominantly English speaking and Irish flock, a French Bishop named Charbonnel, who naturally could not command the sympathy of his congregation. In short there was a race war in the diocese. The overwhelming mass of the Catholic adherents were on race grounds opposed to the Bishop; and ultimately good sense prevailed. Bishop Charbonnel resigned, and Father Lynch, only a short time previous appointed coadjutor Bishop, was elevated to the see amidst the rejoicings of the Irish Catholics in the province. Finding his diocese thus disorganized, he set to work with great administrative skill, and brought it to such prominence that in 1870 Ontario was divorced ecclesiastically from Quebec and a new archbishopric created with Toronto as the Metropolitan See; and Bishop Lynch created Archbishop.

Desirous that his people should not be under the stigma of intemperance, he threw his influence as Protestant clergymen were doing on the side of temperance reform. He not only preached total abstinence but practiced it. Irish temperance societies received his patronage and support. His grace did not meddle with the political strife of his province, save in as far as it was necessary to assert the rights of the minority. As a native Irishman, he sympathized warmly with the aspirations of the Irish people for Home Rule. He also had an Irish Catholic's natural distrust of anything tory, and had no more confidence in the Canadian tory party than he had in the British tories. That mistrust was justified two years ago, when the Ontario allies of Sir John Macdonald in a moment of religious bigotry sought to arouse the animosity of the Protestant majority against the Catholic minority. But Archbishop Lynch's influence prevented any return, and the Catholic minority bore in patience the insults and abuse heaped upon them by the tory organs and tory newspapers until polling day came. On that day the Protestant liberals, true to the instincts of civil and religious liberty, voted with the Catholic minority and the provincial tories were almost annihilated at the polls.

The death of Archbishop Lynch will be seriously mourned, not only by his own people, but by thousands of Protestants who had learned to recognize the sterling worth of this man.

EXPENSIVE JUDGMENTS.

Investigation reveals that two or three Supreme Court Judges are not remarkably industrious in the matter of giving written judgments. Out of 159 cases reported from February, 1884, to April, 1885, the following number of written judgments were delivered, out of a high cost possible for each judge of 159—

Judge Allen.....	43
Judge Wetmore.....	23
Judge Palmer.....	10
Judge King.....	9
Judge Fraser.....	2
Judge Tuck.....	1

In the period from June, 1885, to April, 1886, out of 124 cases reported the record stands—

Judge Allen.....	53
Judge Wetmore.....	16
Judge Palmer.....	10
Judge King.....	10
Judge Fraser.....	10
Judge Tuck.....	2

There is manifestly no fear of Judge Tuck dying from overwork, though he was twice as industrious in the second period quoted as in the first. But $4,000 for the first written judgment and $2,000 for each for the written judgments in the second period quoted does appear to be rather high for the services even of such a judge as Judge Tuck. Exactly how many of these three written judgments in that line have been rather phenomenal in their number.

The Grand Old Man has written in the North American Review for May, a defense of the Grand Old Book from the assaults of Colonel Robert Ingersoll. Mr. Gladstone is always enthusiastic and brilliant when indulging in controversies about the Holy Scriptures.

If the member for Carleton has the manliness to return and appeal to his constituents, he will no longer be a Hale man but feel politically sick.

To Attain Perfection

is the art of Flattering one's "Royal Excellency."

SHEPHERD.

A Budget of Interesting Items from a Shepherd.

Shepherd, May 10th, 1888. The weather here has set in very warm and summer-like. The water has risen about 6 inches since Sunday. They are still travelling with horses and wagons between the river and the lake, though there is considerable water on the common road. We don't expect a high fresh this year. Some have predicted that we will have none.

Some St. John butchers have been here for several days and have bought and shipped a great number of cattle.

The Rev. Wm. Maggs lectured to a large audience on Monday evening at Clarke's Corner, subject "The Evening in British History." Jesse Clark, Esq., presided over the meeting.

The steamer "May Queen" made her appearance at Douglas Harbor on the 10th of May last.

Mr. Isaac Carle has a vessel on the stocks in his yard at Hunter's Ferry. Mr. James Doyle is superintending the building.

UPPER KENT, CARLETON CO.

An Interesting Community Destroyed.

UPPER KENT, Carleton Co., May 9th.—And still another man makes happy. On Wednesday, 5th inst., Mr. John Golder, of Upper Kent, was united in matrimony to Miss Duliah McDougall, daughter of Mr. James McDougall, of Maplehurst, Carleton Co. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Johnson, of Upper Kent. Mr. and Mrs. Golder have the best wishes of the entire community for their future. This wedding seems to have given an impetus to several other persons as we believe that in a very few days another bachelor will be converted into a benedict in the person of Mr. W. Hawthorn, of which suspicious occasion he will be helped by Miss Lily Post. Some of the young ladies, who feel rather disconcerted over the news, have our profound sympathy, but we trust they will not despair.

Mr. Edward Cox had his barn destroyed by fire on Saturday night last. The origin of the fire seems to be a mystery, but the loss is covered by the insurance.

UPPER NEWBOLD.

Poisoning May—Officers of Union Lodge.

FREDERICKSBURG, May 7th, 1888. The enemies of Mr. Frederick Brewster of Stone River, have poisoned about 10 tons of hay with Paris Green given him in a barn on one of his farms called Doyen Farm.

The names of the rest of the officers of Union Lodge are—Mr. Deila Bart, Assistant Secretary, and Miss Emma M. Jones, Deputy Master. This lodge is thriving rapidly, the number of members now in good standing is fifty-six.

The Five Sisters.

There were five fair sisters, and each had a name. The eldest was named Beauty; the second, Grace; the third, Pearl; the fourth, Ruby; and the fifth, Violet.

So all took Dr. Ferra's Golden Medical Discovery and grew healthy and blooming. The youngest sister, Violet, was the first to feel the effects of the medicine, and she was soon cured of her complaint.

The old tory county of York retained the liberal majority in the historic County of Russell increased from 156 to 240.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Press Opinions From All Over the Dominion

Condemning the Action of the Judges

In the Hawk Case—The French Press Speaks Out.

The Charge of Drunkenness Should be Considered.

MONTREAL AND VICTORIA.—As stated last week, Editor Hawke, of the Trans-Script, is in jail serving out his two months' sentence for contempt of court.

The content for which he was imprisoned was found in certain editorials in the whole case it would have been placed in the very unenviable position where they may be suspected of favoring them in a judgment, which concerns their own order.

It is also, most doubtful whether the honesty and dignity of the bench can be served, much less sustained, by the infliction of penalties upon adverse parties. If their lives and the obvious justice of their decisions do not compel the respect for those who are the highest officers of the law, which ought always to be deserved by them, no further penalties and impositions will serve this purpose.

It is only in the rare instances where the respect for the court is maintained in its dignity, that its character or action is assisted. If respect is to be maintained, it must be in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

His honor the Chief Justice, in proposing the sentence of the court upon Mr. Hawke, is said to have warned the press that his liberty of criticism would be allowed in the future than in the past. While it is not to be expected that there should be any further such a thing as a charge of drunkenness against a judge, it is not to be expected that there should be any further such a thing as a charge of drunkenness against a judge.

A Tribute to Mr. Hawke.

ALTON, N.B., Port Arthur, Ont., May 11th.—The death of the Hon. Thomas White and the incarceration in jail of Editor Hawke, have been adjudged quays of contempt. Their honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

It is well known that Mr. Hawke brought against the judge a charge of drunkenness as well as that of contempt. His honors have not noticed this class of thing, we believe, since the 18th of May. If they are to be noticed, they should be noticed in such a way as to be the most dignified and when the action of the court is obvious to no charge of malice or of partiality.

ONE THEIR WINGS.

The Yarmouth (N.S.) Herald returns to the attack upon the judges of the N. B. Supreme Court. It contains in most expressive language their prosecution of Mr. Hawke and warns them that they have entered upon a crusade in which success for them is impossible. It continues that where Mr. Hawke published Fraser with ships the large majority of editors still out of jail have labeled the whole bench with scorpions. If journalists are to be harassed for commenting upon the judge by state proceedings as they recently charged the court at Fredericton, the freedom of the press is at stake. If they fear that the editors still out of jail have labeled the whole bench with scorpions, they should be warned that the press is at stake.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

After receding the debate was continued by Messrs. Ayton, Watson, Daly, Dawson, Davies, Davis, Armstrong, and Taylor of Annapolis. The house divided on the question of the proposed resolution by 63 to 111. The main resolution was carried and passed through committee, after which the house adjourned.

THE SUCCESS OF THE DAY.

Black Mascotte Silks, Pure Dye

AT

John J. Weddall's, 204 Queen Street.

BUY YOUR TEA AND COFFEE FROM YERXA & YERXA.

As They Lead on Tea and Coffee in Prices and Quality.

TO ARRIVE: Five Thousand Cigars, Domestic and Havana, Extra Quality. Also: A Large Assortment of Briar Pipes, to be sold Low by YERXA & YERXA.

MAY 8, 1888.

DEVER BROTHERS.

1 Case Ladies' Collars and Cuffs, in all the newest styles. 1 Case Gents' Collars and Cuffs, all new patterns. 2 Cases Gents' Ties, in light and dark shades. 15 Pieces Light Homespun, good colors.

The very Latest Novelties in colored Braids, Gimps and Jetted Trimmings, Gents' White Shirts, Gents' Unlaundered Shirts in all sizes, Carpets, Window Poles and Curtains at all prices.

DEVER BROTHERS.

1888.

Spring Goods.

WM. JENNINGS.

Merchant Tailor, Latest Styles in English, Scotch and Canadian Suitings, FANCY WORSTEDS FOR SPRING OVERCOATS, FANCY VESTINGS AND TROWERSINGS.

WILLIAM JENNINGS.

O. R. QUEEN ST. AND WILKINSON'S ALLEY.

TO LET.

COTTAGE ON ROBERT STREET known to the Woodford Cottage. Apply to WM. H. SULLY.

Fredericton, April 24, 1888.

Boarders Wanted.

A LIMITED NUMBER OF BOARDERS can be provided with comfortable accommodations in a central and convenient locality and pleasant situation, by applying at 220 Brunswick Street, Fredericton, N. B.

Fredericton, May 1888.

STEAMER FLORENCEVILLE.

Steamer Florenceville will leave Fredericton for Woodstock and Intermediate Landings every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday

