Held Tuesday Night—Last Regular Meeting Next Tuesday Night

A special meeting of the Town Council was held in the Council Chamber last evening for the purpose of receiving reports, bills, etc., which were read over from the last regular meeting in the absence of His Worship Mayor Keiley. Afternoon Melod of music took the chair. The treasurer's report showed $5,000 collected during the year with a bank balance of $1500.

The report of the Town Marshal showed two drunks looked after for disturbing the peace. Excitement which had been put in his hands covering 1920 and 1921 delinquent taxes had been collected with the exception of a few dollars.

Fine Services in All the Churches on

At the Epiphany church on Sunday evening Rev. L. E. Adams preached a strong sermon appropriate to the Christmas season. The new church breathed the atmosphere of Christmas life and the large choir echoed the spirit of the approaching happy season on its glad song.

At three services on Sunday the Reformed Baptist congregation gathered when Evangelist Gostley delivered his final address. Among these devoted people there also was the spirit of Christmas.

At the Methodist church Christmas was celebrated by the Sunday school giving a short program of recitation and singing by the children at the close of the study hour; after which a treat of bags of candy, etc. were given them taken from two well decorated trees. At the usual service 7.30 p. m. the pastor, Rev. Thomas Piers preached a very forceful sermon, emphasizing the Divinity of Christ and his bearers could not help but be impressed with the reality of

There was fine, special music given by the choir. The hymns were "Angels and Saints" (With Angels of Evangelical Armies) and "The Church's One Foundation" being sung, besides Christmas carols.

At Holy Trinity on Sunday morning the church was filled with devoted worshippers and the service was of which will remain long in the memory of those whose happy opportunity it was to be present. When the rector entered the chancel bearing the cross, the choir there was a single glad chord from the organ and the choir burst into a joyous hymn, "Christians Awake, Salute the Happy Morn." Throughout the impressive service there was a sure warmth and there were three glad hymns, "O Come, Let Us Adore Thee," "O Come, Let Us Receive the Blessing of Holy Communion. This is a room of glory for the congregation.

CRAB-CHUTE

A quiet, but very pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Rankin Chute, Millville, Vt., on Dec. 30, 1922 when their daughter, Thomas L. was united in marriage to Mr. Louis Crab of Clermont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. V. Bragdon. The bride who was attended was very becomingly attired in a dress of Mahabal silk with bismarcks. After the ceremony a delicious tea was served.

For a social gathering and musical entertainment at the close of which refreshments were served. Before separating, Frank Brooks, on behalf of the church, presented M. D. W. Present Aldermen May Not Again
Offer—May be Three Cornered
Contest for Mayorship

The annual election of mayor and aldermen will be held on January 9, according to a notice published in this issue. The Observer has heard very little concerning the new aspirants for civic honors, but last evening it was hinted that the mayor's gown was coveted by three of our good citizens and that those who will offer themselves for this office are Ald. R. B. Hagerman, A. W. Kyle and E. C. Morrison.

It was also stated that ex-soldiers and sailors would be ticketed in which R. L. York and Kenneth represent Goodwin ward, A. Y. Baker and G. O. Britton Bradley ward and ex-soldiers P. A. Alton and C. W. McQuinnie McCallum ward. Three of this number have had experience at the Board. It was not stated whether they were selected to conduct the town on Dominion on Provincial lines of politics. With one exception it is a solidly Conservative. The ticket also is chosen in its entirety from one Bible class of one church, and two of the proposed aldermen are members of the same church. None of these facts make any disqualifications but it can hardly be said that the ticket is thoroughly representative of all interests. With one exception it may be added that the aspirants reside on the highlands which, naturally to claim, is the position of the town needing most attention.

Should Mr. Kyle succeed in being elected we would have a mayor who while not a niggardly spender, is not reckless one, and is one who will succeed in getting one hundred cents for garry, Alberta—as this is a loop highway, of course, start at any other point on it he desires—travel west through the grassy foothills to the great front door of the Rockies which is, incidentally, the gateway to the Banff National Park. At Banff, where there is already a motor campsite as well as several good hotels, he may linger to bathe in the radium hot springs, play golf among the clouds or fish in some of the numerous well-stocked lakes or streams of the locality. From Banff the road proceeds westward to Castle, thence by a short detour to the wonderful Lake Louise region and on to Moraine Lake and the rugged sublimity of the Valley of the Ten Peaks. Returning, it climbs by easy grades to the Vermilion Pass, 5,204 feet, then drops down to the Columbia Valley through the Kootenay National Park to Lake Windermere and the village of Invermere on its shore.

THE GRAND CIRCLE MOTOR TOUR

A Wonderful Trip for Motorists That Takes In All the Glories of the Pacific Coast From Banff South to Los Angeles.

Every mile of the way through the Canadian Parks has been built with an eye to easy travelling and scenic grandeur. Giant peaks, often helmeted with a snow cap centuries old, guard the way. Deer, wild sheep, elk and goat may be seen feeding fearlessly on the slopes and practically every valley holds a blue lake stocked with trout. From the Divide the road runs through hitherto unopened country, which is one of the richest both in scenery and big game in the Rockies. From Invermere it drops south, skirts the beautiful Windermere and Columbia lakes, the latter source of the mighty Columbia river, through deep-shaded forests to the International Boundary which it cuts just north of Metairie, Washington. From Bonner's Ferry it swings south over excellently constructed roads through Spokane, Walla Walla, and Pendleton, where it links up with the Columbia Highway from Portland. Then it drops down past the eastern entrance to Crater Lake National Park to San Francisco and on to Los Angeles.

From this point a short detour will allow the motorist to see the famous Yosemite as well as Grand Park and Sequoia Park, the home of the giant redwoods. Then travelling east, he may visit the Grand Canyon and proceed north via Salt Lake City to the Yellowstone Park. From a Yellowstone one day's journey will take him north to the United States Glacier National Park and less than two hours more to the International Boundary. Following the trail to Cardston, he may make a short detour to Waterton Lakes Park in Southern Alberta, thus completing his tenth National Park.

Thousands of motorists, it is expected will follow this scenic highway as soon as it is thrown open. American motorists will want to come north to see the glories of the Rockies; Canadian motorists will want to see beautiful California and the wonders of the Grand Canyon and the Yellowstone. This will mean an international exchange of money as important as many an industry, as well as increased international good will.

The new road also opens up an all Canadian circle tour, via Banff, Lake Windermere, the Columbia Valley and returning over the Crow's Nest Pass to the prairies. This will afford a 600 mile trip for Canadian motorists through the heart of the most wonderful scenery in the Rockies in which for the whole distance the tourist will either be among of in full sight of the snowpeaks.

SANTA CLAUS ASKS THE AID OF THE ANIMALS

By Jammeradick
(Edmonton Observer)

A few days before Christmas when the snow was on the ground and everything was frozen stiff, our little friends, who you will remember were so fond of the animals in the deep woods, and knew them so well that they could talk animal language, went to see if they could have an adventure. Now these three children, Donald and Florence and Paul had not gone very far from home when they met Mr. Tuffy Tail, the oldest of all the rabbits for miles around. He was all excited and hurried the children away over logs and through the bushes and over the frozen snow that had drifted ever so high in some places. He was in such a hurry that he did not tell them what he wanted until he was so tired that he just had to lie down and rest. Then the children asked what he was about, and he said that there was a meeting of the animals to consider a letter which had come from Santa Claus, asking the animals to help him.

Presently they got there and all the animals were there in full force. President Beaver was in the presidential chair and just calling the meeting to order when Mr. Tuffy Tail and the three children came. He said "Ladies and Gentlemen, we have received a letter from His Most Excellent Majesty, and High and Mighty Potomac, King of the Children's World, and Dispenser of Merriment and Goodwill. I will read his letter to you that you may take the necessary action to accede to his Excellency's request." The letter ran as follows:

"Dear Mr. President: Owing to the sudden and unexpected illness of my valued Reindeers this year, I find myself in the unfortunate position of not being able to use them in my yearly round, and am wondering if you would be able to get any of the loyal subjects of your Republic to volunteer to carry me around the world this Christmas eve. If any are able to help me not only shall I be very grateful, but all my many little children in various parts of the world will be saved from disappointment too. An early reply will greatly oblige. Your old friend, NICK."

After the letter was read, there was a lot of talking, but President Beaver tapped his tail on the Presidential log, and said "Order, order," and everybody was silent. Then he said "Are there any volunteers?" The elephant said "I would like to go, but I travel so slow," and the squirrel said "I would like to go, but I'm too small." And the Frog said "I could go, but I'm a hole." And the tiger complained that this year his stripes were hurting him, and the stork said there was nothing he liked better than carrying parcels, but he had promised to carry a large number of Christmas gifts to the mothers, and that someone else would just have to look after the presents to the children that Santa Claus had for them. Well, it looked as if there were no animals available, and Donald and Florence and Paul felt like crying for they felt sure that they would not get any presents from Santa this year, but just then something happened. A big St. Bernard came forward and said very respectfully "Mr. President, we have heard what has been said, and the excuses that have been made, but I have twenty-three brothers, and they and I will take the children's King around the world this year." And after that there was such cheering, and such clapping, that the trees shook the snow down the backs of the children, but they did not mind for they knew that they would get their stockings filled. So President Beaver wrote a letter to Santa Claus and gave it to Mr. St. Bernard, and he and his twenty-three brothers all started off for the North Pole to help out in the trouble Santa Claus was in. And if you listen about mid-night this probably hear these twenty-four great big St. Bernards barking, as they wait while old Santa Claus comes down your chimney.

THE COMMUNITY THEATRE AT NARAMATA

THE British people are theatre-loving folk and have to their credit traditions of the theatre that are greater, and of more world-wide importance than any other country. Therein, no doubt, lies the reason why Canadians today take so much interest in theatricals, and particularly those of the amateur variety. Being a small population lying alongside a great one, it is but natural that Canada's professional stage should be entirely dominated by that of the United States, but it is greatly to Canada's credit that there has come into being an important theatrical movement in this country which is distinct from that of the regular professional stage. Under existing conditions it is only thus that there can be developed a Canadian stage with a literature of its own. Montreal has its group of Community Players, Toronto has its Hart House Players, and Winnipeg, Vancouver and Victoria, as well as many other Canadian cities, have their theatrical organizations, all of which are doing an excellent work, but none of them are more worthy of note than the little theatre which has been established in the fruit-growing village of Naramata in the Okanagan Valley, B.C.

It was built by Carroll Atkins on his small fruit ranch. For years he and Mrs. Atkins had been interested in the theatre. One of his own plays was produced three years ago in Birmingham, and it was because there was no native theatre where Canadian plays could be tried out that the little theatre of Naramata came to be built.

The neighbourhood of Naramata had actors enough. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Atkins were of the sort that could make actors out of anybody who had a love for that sort of thing—but the theatre was another matter. It had to be built, but before that it had to be designed and, not knowing so much about what regular theatres had in them, as about what he thought they should have, Mr. Atkins was able to evolve a community theatre that in completeness of equipment and simplicity of arrangement does not suffer in comparison with any theatre of the kind on the continent, but which presents many novel and interesting features. The theatre is built in the spacious upstairs of the fruit ranch packing house. The stage is on the floor level, and the benches rise gradually on shallow steps, but it is in its stage that the theatre is most remarkable. The back wall is a huge plastered dome with a specially prepared surface on which a splendid array of variously colored lights can create any effect desired. There is no space to describe the scenic effects, all of which were designed and built by Mr. Atkins and his assistants. It is enough to say they were simplicity itself and amazingly successful.

The actors are the fruit pickers of the neighbourhood, reinforced by a number of enthusiasts from various parts of Canada who have gone to Naramata to study stage-craft. It is Mr. Atkins' hope that this number will grow, and that his splendid little theatre will have an opportunity of giving a first production to new Canadian plays by Canadian authors. The theatre has already become the most important place in the country side, and will continue to make life more worth the living in beautiful Naramata.

George Channing Thomas

Early last week word was received from Santa to the effect that owing to the inclemency of the weather and to the recent heavy falls of snow he would not arrive by aeroplane, as was anticipated, but that he would resort to his good old reindeers to distribute his many gifts, as in the days of yore. Such was the case, and the jingle of bells and the tramping of hoofs in the early hours of the morning verified this statement as being correct.

MOTHER!

Clean Child's Bowels with
"California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity taste of 'California Fig Syrup.' If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Traffic across the river bridge is made much easier since the flooring of the structure has been iced. The government pays for the work of iced, which is done by Wilmet B. Rideout and Bradford Craig, and the town furnishes the necessary water. The bridge should be lighted at night. Fredericton bridge is lighted by the city, and Nashua's bridge is furnished with electric fixtures by the Women's Institute. The government will not light the bridges or the highways of the province.

THIRTY YEARS SUCCESSFUL FARMING

period when the profession of farming is more or less stagnant, when the tendency in so many countries is from rural districts to the cities and industrial centres, and the oft-made complaint is that the ardors of deprivation of an agricultural life are not commensurate with its compensations, it is consoling to read the history of a satisfied farmer of thirty years' standing, one of the continent's premier agriculturists, celebrating his seventieth birthday in the tranquil satisfaction of the honors which have come to him in his chosen profession.

Such a man is Samuel Larcombe, of Birtle, Manitoba, who expresses pride in the realization of the signal part he has played in making the possibilities of Western Canada known to the world.

The record of Mr. Larcombe's thirty years of farming is almost phenomenal. In that period, with the products of his Manitoba farm, he has carried off no less than three thousand prizes, including the world's championship for wheat at the Peoria International Fair in 1917, and the sweepstakes for the best individual farmer's exhibit as well as the sweepstakes for wheat in the dry-farming section at the World's Soil Products exhibition in Kansas in 1918. His Canadian successes constitute an aggregate which gives him an average over his farming years of one hundred prizes per year.

Born in a little Devon village and for ten years following the pursuit of market gardener, Mr. Larcombe's experience forms a further addition to the examples of outstanding success achieved by immigrants from the British Isles, unacquainted with Western conditions. He came to Winnipeg in 1889 and proceeded to Birtle, where even then existed a thriving colony of old country farmers. After a year's experience as hired man with a farmer in the district, he rented a farm, which, after five years he purchased and still occupies.

At a time when every one was engrossed in wheat he concentrated not so much on grains as on vegetables. His first local exhibit won three prizes, and in his first ten years of farming he made forty entries and secured 134 awards. From 1905 to 1908 he grew roots, vegetables and grain for the Canadian Pacific Railway for exhibition purposes in other countries, and produced citrons, cucumbers, pumpkins, squash and marrows for the Dominion Government for the same purpose.

Mr. Larcombe's career as an exhibitor has been one consistent succession of triumphs too lengthy to mention in detail. His international successes have brought considerable renown to Western Canada and widely advertised the wonderful possibilities of intelligent farming with assiduous application. Mr. Larcombe recently celebrated his seventieth birthday on the farm which has been the scene of every one of his achievements. He can look back over his thirty years of agricultural life in Manitoba with supreme satisfaction in the knowledge that in winning renown and prosperity for himself he has pointed the way to thousands of his fellow-countrymen.

KEEPING THE TRAINS SPOTLESS

1. Packing away the rug after having had their turn on the vacuum.

2. Cleaning the pillows on the vacuum cleaner invented by Canadian Pacific employees.

3. The train carpet beater, in action. Straps attached to the beater quickly loosen all dirt.

A FEW hours spent in the Winnipeg, Montreal and Vancouver yards of the Canadian Pacific Railway while the dining and passenger trains are being cleaned gives one the assurance that there is little need for worry as far as germs are concerned.

The yards are equipped with the very latest devices for the cleaning and equipping of its trains. The same pattern of equipment is in use in Winnipeg, Montreal and Vancouver, and at these three terminals the coaches undergo a thorough cleaning, approximately 110 cars are cleaned in Winnipeg per day, and it costs $10.00 to clean each car.

When a passenger train arrives at any Winnipeg terminal, it is run down to the wash yard and everything movable is taken out. Then commences the cleaning and germ-killing process. The heavier tapestries, cushions, pillows and bed blankets are placed under a vacuum cleaner with 90 pounds pressure. This is the first process of cleaning. This follows the disinfecting. The carpets are placed on a wire netting, which looks not unlike a bed spring only that it moves on wheels. At one end there is a huge roller to which is attached scores of leather straps, which is referred to in the yards as "cat and 100 tails." This revolves at a terrific force and after the carpet has been twice beaten there is a poor chance of any dust remaining. Carpets usually stand this treatment from 18 months to two years. While all this portable stuff is being cleaned, workers in the dining cars are busy inside the car. They do not wear disinfectant or soap and water.

The kitchen tables and ice boxes are aluminum, and all the sauce pans are of copper. When one considers that several hundred meals a day are prepared and served from one of these small kitchens, it is no wonder the diner service is considered one of the most remarkable features in connection with passenger traffic.

There are at present in the entire system 155 dining cars in which approximately 8,000 meals per day are served. Back in the Winnipeg coach yards is the Dining Car supply building and linen department. It is here that bread, rolls, cakes and

Montreal Board of Trade Perpetuates Maisonneuve

There is a striking monument in Montreal to Maisonneuve, founder of Canada's Metropolis. As in his life time, his thoughts were of the West, so does the memorial to him stand to-day. The sculptor has caught the spirit of the adventurous pioneer in the pose of the body and the hand. Vision, courage, determination are plain to the observant eye and understanding mind.

Maisonneuve and the host of gallant men and noble women who laid the foundation of the Canada of to-day, long ago embarked upon the greatest and last quest. But their faith in the new land is as a living flame in the hearts of their successors. They see their country favored by geography and nature, a link between East and West, and extending almost 4,000 miles from ocean to ocean. They know that it is endowed with a richness of natural resources beyond the power of man to calculate. Above all, they rejoice in its attainment to a place and a voice in the councils of the nations.

Retrospect is often pleasant. The true Canadian has little time for that. His heart and mind are on the present and the future. He knows that if his country is to come to full fruition as a nation it must be by still worthier efforts on the part of its people individually and collectively. No single province within the Dominion's far-flung boundaries can afford to disregard another. Each must be in sympathy with all the rest. The East must share in the problems as well as in the joys and prosperity of the West. The West must have faith in the East. Bound by an inviolable but unbreakable chain of mutual affection and goodwill they can and will put and keep Canada in the very vanguard of the world's great nations.

The development of the national spirit has been fostered in many an hour of peril, difficulty, and struggle. It is beginning to bloom in beauty and strength. Its progress has been greatly advanced of late years by the action of important organizations in sending delegations to many sections of the country, so that their members may add to their first-hand knowledge of their home land. Such an organization is the Montreal Board of Trade which will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of its founding by beginning on September 1 a thirty days' tour of the Dominion. The members will not only see the country in all the glory of its most beautiful scenic settings, but the journey will be so arranged as to give them a new perspective of its wealth of soil, forests, mines and waters, and impressions of its industrial and commercial growth that would be impossible of visualizing in any other way.

From Montreal the party will travel westward via Toronto and the Great Lakes; thence from Port Arthur to Winnipeg, the greatest primary grain centre on the continent, across the vast prairie lands and through the Rockies to Vancouver and Victoria.

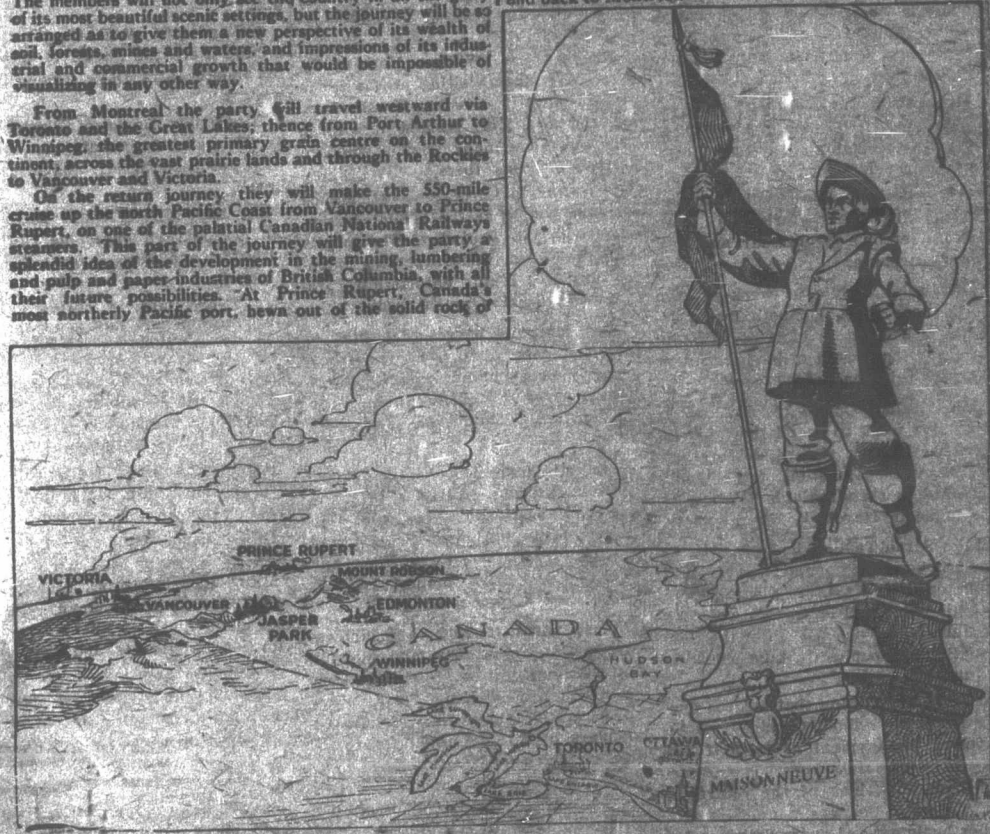

On the return journey they will make the 150-mile cruise up the north Pacific Coast from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, on one of the national Canadian National Railway's steamships. This part of the journey will give the party a splendid idea of the development in the mining, lumbering and pulp and paper industries of British Columbia, with all their future possibilities. At Prince Rupert, Canada's most northerly Pacific port, heads out of the solid rock of Kaien Island, there will be every opportunity to gain an insight into the enormity of the halibut and salmon industry of the province. From Prince Rupert eastward the party will become acquainted with the Skeena River, with its historic and romantic traditions, its arresting grandeur, and its fame as one of the most prolific salmon streams in the world. They will see too, some of the Bulkley and Nechako River Valley country, one of the newest fields of settlement opened up in the west. Unknown to the vast majority of Canadians, the luxurious valleys that lie between the mountain ranges in this area, are suitable for mixed farming, dairying, fruit growing and cattle raising. In the years to come their productivity, now a matter of knowledge to comparatively few, will offer means of livelihood and competence to thousands of new people.

Shortly after leaving Prince George, the party will pass through Mount Robson Park. This is a veritable wonder-land of mountain scenery, some 630 square miles in extent, and set aside by the government of British Columbia as a national playground and wild life sanctuary. Here will be obtained an excellent view of Mount Robson, with an altitude of 13,068 feet. It towers above the surrounding peaks, sublime, majestic, with green glaciers, snow-capped, and white snow adding to its beauty. Sometimes its own summit is lost amid the mists and clouds, quite often that summit is the centre of raging storms. But on Mount Robson they beat in vain.

Next Jasper Park, another mountain kingdom, but of greater extent, embracing 4,400 square miles of sublime mountain scenery, is entered. Here the party will spend a day at Jasper Lodge, the new Alpine chalet built on the shore of Lac Beauvert by Canadian National Railway, and the first of a series to be built throughout these Northern Canadian Rockies. At night they will leave for Edmonton.

From Edmonton the homeward journey will be through the rich farm lands of the northern part of the prairie provinces to Winnipeg following the trans-continental line of Canadian National Railway through the rich pulp forests and new farm lands of Northern Ontario to Cochrane, down through the famous Cobalt mining districts over the Tomlinson and Northern Ontario Railway to North Bay, thence to Ottawa, and back to Montreal.

BLOOMFIELD CORNER

A Christmas concert by the young people and children under the efficient training of Miss Geneva Murchland, teacher of the Bloomfield school, was held in the Hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 28. Among the performers that took part, especial mention should be made of Albert Malot, the Irish comedian, who kept the house convulsed with roars of laughter by his very clever acting and imitation of "Pat from Ould Ireland".

Dialogues, drills, marches, recitations, were very pleasing features of the entertainment and amply demonstrated that Bloomfield has talent of high order. A Christmas tree, well laden with gifts and Santa Claus on hand to pass out the goods completed a very enjoyable evening. Proceeds are to be used to purchase a nice flag for the school house.

Wilmot District S. S. Convention met in the Methodist church on Wednesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 20. Rev. W. C. Machum led a very interesting and helpful discussion of some of the problems confronting our S. S. workers at the afternoon session. In the evening he gave an able address on the S. S. and the Home, the importance of Missionary work, the great need of trained leadership and the splendid opportunities to be afforded Summer School of Methods at Woodstock next summer.

Schools closed here for the Christmas vacation on Friday. In the primary department a well-attended public examination was held, and a suitable program presented by the pupils under the careful training of Miss O. S. McKenna.

On Friday night a public debate was held in Sherwood's Opera House, on the question as to "Whether or Not the Present Prohibition Act was a failure", and should be repealed in which six of the students of the advanced department took part. The affirmative side was aided and abetted by Gallatin and Hawkins, while the negative side was aided and abetted by Gallagher, Niles and Smith. The principal D. R. Bishop acted as chairman. T. W. Caldwell, M. P., with Dr. Field and Dr. Brown rendered impartial judgment to the negative side, claiming that these made more points. At the conclusion each of the speakers was presented with a box of chocolates. Miss Alice Page sang a solo during the course of the evening. The proceeds go to swell the gymnasium fund.

The bean-guessing contest at St. Mary's was closed on Friday at 8 P. M. The jar being opened disclosed the number of beans to be 522. Mrs. C. H. Sullivan had made the two correct guesses most nearly correct of 524 and 507 and received the doll as reward.

Seymour Berg is spending Christmas in town.

Christmas eve saw the usual number of holiday shoppers and merry-makers. Some of the young bloods got more kick out of taking their girl to town on Christmas eve, than from any other single event of the year. Despite the light-weight frosts this season, Saturday evening gave ample evidence that people financially on the whole are far from pestered out and shopping went on briskly during the whole evening.

Miss Evelyn Peppers of the U. N. H. came home on Friday for the holiday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Peppers.

Miss Marguerite Campbell of Presque Isle spent the holiday with her mother, Mrs. E. W. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Stevens of Woodstock spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. J. Chesley Stevens.

A large crowd attended the trotting meet on Christmas day. Owing to the unavoidable absence of John D. Kuyper, Andrew Oshar, Jonny Walker and Alexander MacDonald, there was no undue excitement. Among the horses entered were three from Dr. Brown's stable and entries by Dr. White, and Ed. Morse and Lee Hartley. The management should insist that these races should be started and kept progressing while old Sol is still high in the heavens, as it was mighty cold when it gets tired of shining both on the just and the unjust.

Mr. and Mrs. Llew White of Bridgeville were the guests Christmas day of Dr. and Mrs. B. R. Field.

Mr. and Mrs. James DeLong of Brookville visited Mr. and Mrs. N. E. DeLong on Christmas day.

A William S. Hart production, "Three Word Brand", so named from the hero's curt trisyllabic replies, was staged here on Tuesday evening. In this film Hart was shown at his best in a triple role, first as a widower with twin sons trekking across the prairie with a covered wagon, where he as the father was slain in an Indian raid; then as each of the two sons, one a ranch owner and one a governor of the state. By a clever bit of double exposure he was made to act these two latter parts simultaneously, the director calling for this work several times through the picture. A comedy, paying patients, formed the light end of the piece. On Saturday evening Tom Mix in "A Rough Diamond" drew a full house. This picture was even better than the average put out by this versatile screen hero, and was plumb full of pep and thrills. The hero starting in as a gay, singing, ranch hand, ended up as generalissimo of the army of the fantastic Kingdom of Bagonia, and one can readily imagine the repertoire of roles played during the transition. Diving off a high wharf, on the back of his good horse Tony, was one only of the many thrills in the piece. A highly cultured mule furnished many laughs. A Fox News
