STIRRING STORY OF CANADIAN VALOR

How They Beat Hun Forces in Fight Which Began August 8th.

With the Canadian forces, Sep. 4—(by J. F. B. Livesey, Canadian Press Correspondent).—The second phase of the battle of Arras is over. It was decided within twenty-four hours. The enemy is in full retreat and the British army on the right or the Canadian corps is marching unopposed through villages which yesterday were in the hands of the enemy. It has passed over the famous Hindenburg line with little opposition.

The first phase of the battle now concluded was that of preparation, the second victory. It is difficult to write with becoming modesty of the deeds of the Canadian corps during the past few weeks, but the Canadian people are entitled to know the facts.

On July 30th the last great trek in the silent watches of the night began. At twenty minutes past four on the morning of August 8 the Canadian corps in the centre between the Australians and English and directly in front of Amiens opened the battle of that name. They were up against an enemy flushed with victory and preparing a new offensive. All his guns were in forward positions and two thousand rounds lay beside them.

They were waiting the word to push ahead, and thus is accounted for the great captures of artillery. By August 20 the battle was over and won so far as the Canadian Corps was concerned. Those two weeks of fighting dealt a tremendous blow at the enemy's morale. Von Hutier, the German commander in that area, is a brother-in-law of Ludendorff, and the great general staff sought to make excuses for him by publishing the statement that he was up against the elite of the French army and the celebrated Canadian corps. No excuses must be made for Von Beuow. It will suffice that he, too, was up against the Canadian corps, fresh from that victory.

Five days later the Canadian corps went into action in front of Arras. Due credit must be given to those gallant British troops, including famous divisions who during the eight days' battle, fought alongside the Canadians. The battle opened at three o'clock on Monday of last week. The great drive carried our troops through the Hindenburg line in front of Arras and within grappling distance of the main line of resistance known by them as the Wotan line, and by us as the Quant-Droeur switch. The rest of the week was spent in consolidating our positions, straightening out the line and preparing a favorable strategic jumping-off point for the great final task of breaking through the switch. This was not completed until midnight of last Sunday.

Five hours later the assault started, accompanied by the greatest concentration of artillery this war has ever seen. By evening we had carried the whole line in front of us and had penetrated beyond. This was done in the face of most desperate resistance yet encountered.

In the fighting of the past month depending primarily on his innumerable machine gun posts, the enemy sought to stay our advance until he could evacuate his guns and material. Today not a Boche is left this side of Canal Du Nord. Our casualties have been heavy as they are bound to be in operations of this kind, but when taken in conjunction with this second tremendous blow to the enemy's morale and immense number of prisoners we have captured they are relatively light.

In the present battle we attacked him on the ground he has held and fortified since 1914. He has challenged us to attack him there and until now we have not taken up the gauntlet. The Canadian corps has succeeded here as completely as it succeeded at Amiens. These two great victories under such opposing conditions within one month are without parallel.

Outside of crushing blows to morale these victories have reverberated widely elsewhere. London, Paris and every allied capital has been heartened.

Up to this morning well over five thousand unwounded Boche prisoners have passed through the corps cages as the fruits of yesterday's battle. Added to these the wounded that crowd our dressing stations the total cannot be less than 7,000. To these add the forty-five hundred captured last week and in the battle of Amiens and the Canadian corps is credited with 20,000 prisoners as the result of a month's work. This number is in excess of our total casualties so far as current figures show.

GERMANS IN DREAD OF ECONOMIC WAR

No Peace Without Supply of Raw Materials, Says Writer In Berlin Paper.

Writing in the Vossische Zeitung, a few weeks ago, when the military outlook for Germany on the western front was considerably brighter than at present, a political and economic theorist, named Dr. Embden, demanded that no peace be concluded which did not guarantee the supplying of Germany with raw materials which it would need to rebuild its economic structure. Furthermore, Dr. Embden spoke frankly of the "heavy new armaments" which will be necessary after the war, thus admitting that he regarded peace at present as merely an armistice.

In beginning his article, which is largely along the lines followed by many other writers in the German press, Dr. Embden remarks that it is really a miracle how Germany, entirely dependent on its own resources, has held out for four years of war. It was only possible, he said, by the sternest economy of materials, by the increase of home production and by the manufacture of substitutes which are a splendid testimony to the brilliance of German technique. But if the economic position of Germany is to be rebuilt "our sorely-tried people must have access to the supplies on which our economic greatness depends. In no other way can we reconquer the markets we have lost."

Dr. Embden deplores the fact that England, America and their allies control all the important sources of supply. No matter what Germany may attempt at the conclusion of hostilities he says, her enemies will be able to checkmate. Take only one example. England rules the cable system of the world. She can thus obtain possession of every German move almost as soon as it is made. The situation is such that the procuring of the necessary raw materials by private initiative is impossible.

The hostile ring cannot be broken even though the peace terms provide against hostile action in the way of withholding raw material. The only possible course to be taken at the peace conference, Dr. Embden says, is that the various states among themselves shall arrange with Germany the quantity of raw materials they are prepared to yield, and which they must yield in order to secure a favorable peace. Each state must be prepared to take into its own possession its own output, and thus eliminate all private speculation. It will not do, the writer asserts, if enemy states are only prepared to supply Germany after their own wants are supplied, or that German factories can only get work as soon as the factories of foreign countries have a superfluity.

Then, as quoted by The Daily Chronicle of London, Dr. Embden continues: "Should England, for instance, succeed in shutting us out from supplies for any length of time German industrial life would simply be crippled, and our work-men would be compelled to emigrate. The drain on our blood caused by the war would be followed by another drain which would weaken us still further. This must not be. It must be our object to obtain supplies and food just as quickly as our enemies and we must not lay down our arms until this condition has been secured."

"Of what use to us are our most brilliant victories if, at the end of the war, our industries are to wither away? Our sacrifices would be in vain. Germany would remain burdened with debt and unable to pay for the heavy new armaments which will be necessary after the war in spite of all ideas of a coming international brotherhood of men. We are not seeking aggrandisement or conquest, only righteousness and the security of our place in the sun."

"Our enemies must understand that we are as determined to tolerate no economic yoke as we are resolved to defend our Fatherland. It must be made clear to them that the continuation of the economic war and the shutting off of raw materials from us would only bring disgrace on our sword, disgrace which would have to be wiped out by the shedding of new and copious streams of blood. They must be made to recognize that economic isolation is a thing we will not tolerate and that their efforts in this direction cannot and must not succeed."

KEEPING BIENNIAL VEGETABLES FOR SEED.

By the term "biennial" vegetables are meant: one which takes two seasons to produce seed, writes the Dominion Horticulturist in a leaflet giving advice on the "Selection of Wintering of Biennial Vegetables for Seed" which can be had free from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The vegetables must be stored over the first winter and replanted for seed production the following spring. Some well-known vegetables of this class are beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, parsnips, salsify and turnips. Seed from these can be easily grown in Canada if the vegetables to be so used are kept in good condition over the winter. Unless rigid selection is made, each year, of specimens which are true to type, it will not be long before a larger proportion of the crop will be not true to type; hence great care should be taken to select well-shaped, medium-sized roots, typical of the variety, of beets, carrots, parsnips, salsify, and turnips, firm-headed cabbage, true to type, firm stalked and disease-resistant plants of celery, and firm, shapely onion bulbs. If this is done and varieties are kept far enough from others so that they will not cross the crop, Canadian grown seed should compare favorably with imported seed in regard to purity, as it does in other characteristics.

The methods of wintering vegetables for seed will vary in different parts of Canada, but in most places it will be necessary to give them some protection. When possible, it is best to store them in a frost-proof cellar. But, if necessary, the vegetables may be stored outside, both in small and in large quantities, except in the case of onions, which must be kept dry, and stored in a cool place where there is little or no frost.

Crowd More Into the Busy Day

THE CHEVROLET 490 is an investment, not an expense or luxury. Doctors, business men, farmers, salesmen and ladies—all should use the Chevrolet Four-Ninety and crowd more energy, activity and business into the busy day.

The Four-Ninety stands unchallenged in its price class. The electric starting and lighting equipment is most efficient. The car is powerful, roomy, comfortable and economical. The time gained by operating a Chevrolet more than pays for the cost.

THE CANADIANS AS SHOCK TROOPS

Natural Qualifications And Special Training They Stood the Test.

One of the editors of the Journal Newspapers who has just returned from overseas with the Canadian press party writes:

Six weeks ago I spent three days and three nights with the Canadian armies in France. They were then on the Arras front from Vimy Ridge, to a point just south of the ruined city. There were three divisions in the line and one in reserve. They had been out of the lines all summer. While the great German drive was progressing on the Somme and Lys fronts, no mention was made of the Canadians in despatches. What ever they were doing? They were enjoying a "rest"—in other words they were undergoing a course of the severest post-graduate training. By their past deeds they had placed upon themselves the seal of efficiency that marked them out as ideal troops for certain work, and for that work, they were put in special training.

While the British and French armies were on the defensive, falling back steadily dangerous distances before the terrific onslaught of overwhelming numbers, the Canadians were held in leash, training, training, training, morning, noon and night. They were to be shock troops. They were to play a leading part in a great counter-offensive when the time should be ripe.

Bored in the Trenches.

Shortly before the Canadian press party arrived in France, the Canadian had been put back into the lines. But it was evident that plain, ordinary trench work did not suit their temperament. They had been tuned up to a high pitch. The bonds of the trenches galled; their energies and their muscles were taut for action. The dead inactivity of the defence lines bored them to extinction. They were all dressed up and no place to go.

Two Winnipeg regiments occupied the particular front and support line trenches on Telegraph Hill, which I visited. It was a quiet day, which means that for the most part the guns were busy only on counter-battery work, gun against gun, with an occasional German shell dropping near a communication trench on the off-chance of reaching some human objective. The shells from the British batteries in the rear whistled overhead so plainly that the eye could easily follow the sound, and it seemed strange that nothing could be seen. The Hun shells traveling in the opposite direction formed a sort of harmony.

"Give Us Something to Do."

In the very front trenches, lightly held, a portion of the men were on the qui vive, standing on the fir steps. The others were sleeping in the "funk" holes. The German trenches were a few hundred yards away. In the support trenches the boys, a Highland regiment, wore only their shirts and knickers. It was a warm day. They lay full length in their holes, reading newspapers and novels. What cleanliness, beautiful boys they were! Not the dirty, mud-covered, hot and perspiring soldiers one pictures in the trenches. There had been no heavy rain. The trenches were dry, and a system of bath parties had been devised so that men even in the front lines get regular ablutions at brigade headquarters further back.

But how bored these lads were! In the pink of condition; trained athletes everyone of them; fresh from a long period of daily exercise.

"Why in heaven's name don't they give us something worth while to do?" said one beautiful youth to me. "We go out in working parties at night, and occasionally we have luck enough to join in a raid, but we want some real action."

And Then the Action.

Two weeks later that youth must have got all the action he desired, because on our return to London we learned that the Canadians had been moved from the Arras front down to their old camping ground on the Somme in front of Amiens, and that this particular Highland regiment had distinguished itself in a most difficult advance across a river in a drive that was the beginning of great happenings. The Canadian training of months as shock troops was at once put to the test, and it fulfilled more than

K. OF C. WANT $500,000 FOR COMFORTS FOR SOLDIERS

It will be well for the people of New Brunswick to understand thoroughly what is meant by the legend that will be the conspicuous sign on the army huts which will be erected and equipped with recreational needs and comforts for our soldiers at the front by the Knights of Columbus. The legend will read, "Everybody Welcome." It is because the huts themselves will virtually belong to our soldiers at the front, and because every comfort, such as coffee, sandwiches, cigarettes, etc., will be distributed to all soldiers of the King that the Knights are about to inaugurate a big "drive" to raise a fund of $500,000 for building army huts in France and for distribution of all sorts of soldiers' creature comforts. That is why they are appealing to all the people of New Brunswick to lend a hand in this great drive. The campaign opens Sept. 15th and closes Sept. 21st. Save or provide now and when the campaign opens give in cash or subscribe for the welfare of our lads at the front.

Need Can Open Reform.

the most sanguine expectations. The Canadians were the forward point of a wedge that set the pace—and those of us who saw them and got something of their spirit and dash are not without sympathy for the possibly less alert troops on their flanks who were expected to follow the pace thus set.

Fooling the Hun.

But the Canadians, as is well known, were pulled out of the Arras front rapidly and secretly. I fancy they were put there to deceive, because British commanders have at last learned that the wily enemy must be fought with wiles. Known as shock troops, and anticipating an attack, the Germans promptly faced the Canadians with picked divisions of their own and the Hun got himself ready for an attack in force. But the Canadians bored themselves, and General Officer, found amusement perfecting his counter-battery work.

Suddenly the Canadians were withdrawn. The big job for them was ripe—and it was not on the Arras front. It cannot make any difference now to tell of one of the tricks by which the German intelligence department was fooled, for such tricks can be played only once with success.

The Canadians were moved south, but one battalion was moved north. It went on a tour of one-night stands.

"We thought our headquarters staff had gone crazy," said one officer of this battalion to me afterwards in London. "We were shot all over the country without rhyme or reason. Here tonight, there to-morrow night. It was the devil's job supplying them with food. We put on a raid every night at some new spot. Sometimes we lost a real man or two prisoners. At other times a tunic or a regimental badge was dropped 'accidentally'. And those badges didn't all bear the same number. We went right up into Flanders."

Meanwhile, the other Canadian divisions at great speed, and mostly at night, were moved thirty miles south, and before their presence was known to the Huns they pushed into the great drive for which full preparation had been made beforehand.

Did One Job; Back for Another.

The Canadians did their job on the Somme, and with the same secrecy and swiftness was suddenly moved back again to positions just south of their old lines on the Arras front, there to put on that other drive which the latest despatches reveal has resulted in the breaking down of the famous Hindenburg switch, and indirectly the capture of Lens.

Always Looking for Pointers.

We left the Canadian front on a Sunday morning. General Sir Arthur Currie came over to bid us goodbye. He told me he was going to spend the day with the Australians. "I hear they have been trying out some new stunts the last few days and I want to see how they work out," he said. That is the corps commander; that is every general, every officer under him. The Canadian officers know no such thing as military precedent.

NO REMEDY BUT ALLIED VICTORY

German Socialists Are On Record No Hope Found There.

If any person were ever in any doubt as to the necessity of the manpower bill, just passed by congress, says the Christian Science Monitor, his hesitation should be dissipated by reading a paragraph from an article in which Der Vorwaerts, the Socialist Vorwaerts, it must be remembered, exhorts, German Socialism to support von Ludendorff's demands. Now Der Vorwaerts is one of the papers to which the pacifist Socialists are so fond of referring, and, therefore, it is interesting to learn, on Der Vorwaerts' own showing, that "A peace of compulsion upon our enemies by force of arms will leave many international problems unsolved; it will be a source of new dangers, and place the governments of the future before the very greatest difficulties. However, so be it, if there be but peace! Now there is no other way to obtain peace but victory on the battlefield which has been promised us."

It is to be trusted that the gentle man who wrote that paragraph is as satisfied of his security for the fulfillment of the promise as he was when he wrote it, in the early days of the war, but in the days just before the descent of the German flood on Chateau Thierry. At a moment, then, when it seemed to German Socialists that von Ludendorff was going into Paris they placed on record, in their official organ, their blessing of a German imposing peace, on the mere ground that it was peace.

Such a peace, of course, would have been no peace, it would have been just the prelude to another period of building up armaments as was that initiated by German greed, in insisting on the surrender of Alsace-Lorraine, in the peace of Frankfurt. Everybody knows exactly what the German high command means by a German peace. It means the absolute dominion of the world. It means the German annexation of the coal fields of northern France, the posts of Belgium, the extinction of Slav influence in the Balkans, a road from Hamburg to Bagdad and from Antwerp to the Caspian; it means Russia in Asia a tributary to the German Empire; it means a subservient Turkish Empire stretching from the Bosphorus to Khartoum. It means, in short, a dream so grandiose that only the mightiest effort of pride and avarice could ever have hoped to realize it. It means a dream succinctly summed up by the Kaiser, last May, in the words:

"God will help us to fight on victoriously, and to force our foes to conclude a peace which will be a source of glory and profit to Germany and her allies."

In the mind of the Kaiser glory is never separated from profit. Readers of the "Willy-Nicky" correspondence will remember that, side by side, with schemes for crushing the British Empire and sharing the spoils, was included a "bag-man-like" reminder that the German dockyards and arsenals were open to orders from St. Petersburg.

Now Ramsay MacDonald may rage against militarism, and Mr. Troelstra may imagine any number of vain things in the way of German humanitarianism. But Mr. Wilson deals not with the airy fancies of irresponsible politicians, but with the facts of war. And recognizing that there is exactly one way to appeal to Germany, and that the way which so excellent a judge as Dr. Muchon is never tired of pointing out, insists that the shortest way to win the war is to continue the war with full force, and that the only way in which to obtain a peace that will make the world safe for democracy is to put it out of the power of Kaiser.

Far more effective than Sticky Fly Catchers. Clean to handle. Sold by Druggists and Grocers everywhere.

dom and kultur to upset the terms of that peace when it is made. Therefore, Mr. Wilson does not trouble about pacifist conferences, in London or Stockholm, the delegates to which are to be impressed with the international spirit of Der Vorwaerts, or even that of the German Minority-Socialists, but simply asks for an army, large enough and sufficiently well equipped to show the Kaiser and his vengeful, once and for all that there is no profit to Germany in the present war, even though the Minority-Socialists, who are declared to be in revolt against all the methods of the high command, express their disagreement in such remarkable words as these:

"It is an infamous calumny to say that the Independent Socialist party desires the defeat of German arms, and does not wish Germany to be stronger after the war, and to stand firmly among other nations in the future. Every conscientious and honest politician must recognize that the Independent Socialists do not and cannot hope for a victory for the Entente."

Now if the Independent Socialists do not wish for a victory for the Entente, and do wish to see Germany stronger after the war than before, the Allied peoples will have no difficulty in realizing what sort of a world the German Minority-Socialists would make safe for democracy. A German victory, which left Germany stronger than ever, would efface the word Socialism from the dictionary, by the simple process of tearing out the page, and the editors and printers of Der Vorwaerts and Die Leipziger Volkszeitung, the organ of the Minority-Socialists, would speedily find themselves engaged, not in holding congresses

The French Farmers Saved the Day.

The saving farmer is a national asset. Canadian progress to-day in all lines attests magnificently to the splendid qualities of thrift that have marked the farmers in all the provinces. The total returns from field crops and animal produce have been only possible because of the disposition to make use in an economical way of all the wonderful gifts of Providence in this good land of ours.

The same was abundantly true after 1870 in France when the thrifty farmers of that fair land made it possible for the Republic to pay off that hated German war indemnity of two billion francs levied against them. The same spirit of national thrift built up France for the extreme test to-day—a test that is being tried by fire.

Thanks be, French heroism is proving true. The line is holding. The blood of the farmers is flowing equally as well through the veins of France's daughters of the soil and so the national strength bends but does not break.

Canada is reaping her harvests of increased returns and money is being made as never before. Our farmers are earning the gratitude of all in her splendid efforts at production. That they will carry into their savings an equal foresight in conserving their surpluses against the future days of darkness and lower prices will be equally praiseworthy. He is well advised who saves his extra dollar until he sees which way the winds of to-morrow will blow. Adversity blows a chill blast where there is no dollar in the savings.

CANADA'S GLORIOUS ACHIEVEMENTS.

Perhaps the best review that has yet appeared of Canada's part in the war was that given by Mr. T. B. Macaulay in a speech this week before the International Convention of Life Underwriters in New York. Apart altogether from contribution in man-power, which is well known, it will come as a surprise possibly to many Canadians to know that the money raised by Canada for war purposes amounts to over $100 per head for every man, woman and child in the country; and that in addition to paying for the upkeep of our own troops, Canada has granted war credits to the Imperial Government of $532,000,000, while the Canadian banks have loaned the Imperial Government $200,000,000 more.

It is amazing to think that in spite of these heavy withdrawals, the deposits in the banks are $300,000,000 more than they were at the beginning of the war, and we can well understand the pride with which Mr. Macaulay laid these facts before an American audience. But that is not all. Canada has contributed to various charitable organizations in connection with war work a total of no less than $30,000,000, or at the rate of $12 per head of the population. When in addition it is remembered that Canada has made 60,000,000 shells, or about ten shells for every German mobilized, and is building ships and aeroplanes in large numbers, we may well be pardoned in regarding the efforts of this country as stupendous.

But more interesting than past achievements is the vision of the future to which Mr. Macaulay made brief reference. "I see the United States and the British Empire," he said, "going down through the centuries arm-in-arm, co-operating as brothers, each helping the other, each strengthening the other, and uniting blessing the world, and making it safe for democracy. The Germans have succeeded in unifying the Anglo-Saxon world." It may well be that this union will prove the greatest achievement of the war and the one most fraught with good for the destiny of mankind.—Ex.

SIGN BOARDS WOULD BE APPRECIATED

The provincial governments of the Maritime Provinces should spend some money on sign boards. A few thousand dollars spent in this way would be greatly appreciated by the stranger and would do much to encourage tourist travel to the east. Every cross-road over the Maritime Provinces and every point where going astray is easy should be safe-guarded with a sign board giving information to the public. A man who seeks direction from the people as he passes along usually gets a mixture of confusing misinformation which is particularly puzzling to the weary traveller far from home and friends. Guide books are apt to give only part of the information which the traveller needs; sign boards are welcome and should be placed everywhere. There is little use in catering to tourists, unless we have more sign posts—and more hotels whose proprietors have some idea as to the meaning of service.—Bury East.

Restigouche has a number of signs erected by the Restigouche Auto Association and the Municipal Council.

BORDEN ON RAILWAYS.

(Toronto Exhibition Speech.)
"Questions of great moment demand, and are now receiving the attention of the government. With one exception, the largest railway proprietor in Canada is the Canadian people; and the day may come when there will be no exception. The acquisition of the Canadian Northern Railway system was brought about by conditions arising out of the war, and in my judgment it was the wisest solution of existing difficulties.

"The country, therefore, has embarked upon a wide policy of state ownership, under very favorable conditions. Difficult questions at once present themselves as to methods of operation. If the policy of state ownership is to be successful, certain conditions are essential, and the people must resolutely support the government in maintaining them. The methods by which the operation of the road is to be carried out must be as efficient as those of any private corporation. There must be no party political interference; that would be absolutely fatal to discipline, to efficiency and to success.

"On the other hand, there must remain with the people and parliament of the country a general control which is incident and, indeed, inherent in ownership. The proposals of the government will be made public almost immediately, and they will be based upon the considerations I have mentioned. The total mileage owned by Canada is very large, comparing nearly 14,000 miles and reaching from the Atlantic to the Pacific. All the lines included in this mileage should be operated on one system, and under one management; this system should not be administered by a department of the government; it should be connected, as soon as practicable, with steamship lines on both Atlantic and Pacific, and last, but not least, its operation should be kept absolutely free from party political interference. For these reasons, and for this purpose, the Board of the Canadian Northern system will be reconstituted in the immediate future."

Lost His Job.

"Out of work? nobody can be out of work these days?"
"I was a railroad president."

Precedent.

She (considering vacation)—I wonder who started this fad of going to the mountains, anyway?
He—Mohammed, I believe.

Can't Be Done.

"A man betrays himself by bragging," said Uncle Eben. "When I hear a man tell about how easy he can drive a mule, I know right off he ain't no reg'lar mule driver."

One Gain Through Aridity.

It's lucky so many of the states are "dry." There wouldn't be booze enough for all these ship christenings otherwise.

Lincoln As a Soldier.

Lincoln's first experience in drilling was with his company in the Black Hawk war. "I could not for the life of me," he said, "remember the proper word of command for getting my company en masse, so that it could get through the gate, so I shouted: 'This company is dismissed for two minutes, when it will fall in again on the other side of the gate.'"

GIRLS! WHITEN YOUR SKIN

WITH LEMON JUICE

Make a beauty lotion for a few cents to remove tan, freckles, sallowness.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply you with three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Squeeze the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle, then put in the orchard white and shake well. This makes a quarter pint of the very best lemon skin whitener and complexion beautifier known. Massage this fragrant, creamy lotion daily into the face, neck, arms and hands and just see how freckles, tan, sallowness, redness and roughness disappear and how smooth, soft and clear the skin becomes. Wash it in lavender, and the beautiful results will surprise you.

THE ANCIENT RHINE.

Why the Germans Seek to Control Great River.

If there is any one good thing that came out of that political snarl, the Vienna Congress of 1815, it was the pact which internationalized the river Rhine. But that agreement put into force more than a hundred years ago, has never had much hold on the human imagination. On the contrary it is "Die Wacht am Rhein" which has held the world in leading-strings. One does not think of the Rhine in terms of an international river, though its source is in Switzerland and its mouth is in Holland. One is apt to forget that its bed forms a frontier of France, and to overlook Napoleon's fantastic claim to Holland as a country built up of Rhine deposits. The fact is that for us the Rhine is colored through the great patriotic song of Germany, try what we may to avoid it. The Lorelei is to us a siren out of German myth, the Rhine maidens guarding the precious Rheingold are German, and the legends and saga of the Rhine have a purely German impress. But, after all, these are but academic prejudices which tend to distort the facts. The geographical argument for internationalization of the river cannot be gained. One hardly needs to be assured that the Rhine is, in essence, the common property of several nations, that "The Watch on the Rhine" is an anachronism as a German call to sole watch and ward. It fits into neither our age nor our modern sense of the growing interdependence of nations. The Rhine survives from the period of the Holy Roman Empire, when the Hapsburgs ruled over the entire course of the stream within their ramshackle states, and modern Germany had not yet emerged. Most emphatically the Rhine is not and never has been a purely German river, and its custody richly deserves to be jointly upon the nations who own its banks.

The question of the internationalization of the Rhine has just now come up in an acute form through Germany's arch scheme, not only to bring the river navigation under her exclusive control, but to place Switzerland in a state of economic slavery to her. Since the forcible transference of Alsace-Lorraine to Germany, in 1871, there has been a consistent endeavor on the part of the Germans to avoid fulfillment of the terms of the treaty. The effect of the treaty was to facilitate free navigation between Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, and Great Britain. The object of the Germans was to make Switzerland dependent upon Germany for her coal and iron, and to force the republic into commercial and industrial dependence. To effect this purpose, the Germans willfully neglected the navigation of the river between Strasbourg and the frontiers of Switzerland at Basle. They not only failed to maintain the river in a proper manner, but by the construction of low level locks and bridges, prevented any but the smallest vessels from passing underneath. The Germans are now plotting a further breach of the Rhine Act, by the erection of great power stations along the banks, between Basle and Strasbourg, and they seek to obtain the written sanction of Switzerland for the project.

Switzerland is, of course, by no means inclined to use the German scheme. Neither her own interests, which demand a navigable Rhine, nor her loyalty to the League of Nations, nor in those of international law and justice, can she openly attach her signature to a pact, which would only serve to strengthen the fetters of her commercial slavery to Germany. Her obvious course is to uphold the terms of the treaty of 1815 while awaiting the sole pancea and solution, an end to the war, which will effect the transference of Alsace-Lorraine to the French.

The Curiosities of Pain.

That a high-speed rifle bullet may pierce a man and cause him so little pain that he is unconscious of his wound has been long known. A slower bullet would cause considerable pain and shock. Dr. George W. Crile finds an explanation of this and similar phenomena in his researches in the evolution of actions and responses. The evolution of organs has been pretty thoroughly worked out, but the evolution of functions of organs is a new thing. During the long course of development of man and his ancestors swift piercing and laceration such as inflicted by a high speed bullet were not encountered, and hence no pain reaction against them would evolve, while slow lacerations were most common, and the usefulness of being conscious of them in the keen way of pain is most evident.

Such is the insensibility of the human organism to an uncommon sort of injury that according to Dr. Crile, "a device of exquisitely sharp knives driven at superlatively high speed might cut the body to pieces without causing any pain whatever."

No Monopoly in Rubber.

India rubber is extracted from a great variety of trees, vines and shrubs, native to widely separated countries. A "corner" in the crude rubber market is now an impossibility as plantations have been so successfully developed that the production will be sufficient for the steadily growing demands. There are 50,000 acres of American-made plantations in Sumatra alone.

Vast areas exist for the production of crude rubber from Mexico to Uruguay in the Americas; from the Sahara Desert to Cape Colony in Africa; from Southern India to Australia in the east.

Rubber amalgamates itself with a great variety of plastic, waxes, gums, vegetable and mineral oils, earths, metallic oxides and sulphides.

Hiding Their Ages.

As a consequence, it is charged, of wilful misstatement of ages, the number of women in the British census groups age twenty to twenty-five and twenty-five to thirty, are disproportionately high.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

OCCURS AT HODGIN

13 Cars Derailed and Much Damage Done.

A rather serious accident occurred at Hodgin's Siding Thursday of last week when a freight train, No. 875 north bound, was derailed and badly broken up. The trains were in charge of Conductor James Harvey of Montreal. The cars were badly derailed, some of them landing in the ditch, while the remainder were mixed up considerably.

Hodgin is a station forty miles south of Campbellton. The derailment occurred early Thursday morning. The auxiliary from Campbellton was sent immediately to the scene of the accident.

CROPS IN ONTARIO.

Hon. Geo. S. Henry, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, reports an increased area of 260,000 acres over 1917. The spring wheat crop was more than doubled with a yield of 22.7 bushels to the acre, the highest in the history of the province. A total of 127,000,000 bushels of oats was raised in Ontario.

Helpers are now needed for the September clean-up and preparations for getting in the fall wheat.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of Foot-ease." This will cost very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new corn compound applied directly upon a tender, itching corn should relieve the soreness. Rub gently and soon the entire corn, root and all, will rise up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Chiropractor, who says that, while treating a patient, he discovered that simply rubbing up the corn without the use of any irritating or burning ointment or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't be lulled by the old-fashioned corn cures. Foot-ease is the only corn cure that lifts out the corn, root and all, without pain or injury to the surrounding tissue.

The Plain Truth about Shoe Prices

LEATHER is scarce and is growing scarcer. A large part of the available supply must be used for soldiers' boots. Importations have practically ceased and we are forced to depend upon the limited quantity of materials produced in Canada.

The cost of everything which goes into a pair of shoes is high, and is going higher. Workmen by the thousands have joined the colors, and labor is increasingly hard to get. It is not merely a matter of high prices, but of producing enough good quality shoes to go around.

These conditions are beyond the control of any man, or any group of men. They fall on all alike. No one is exempt—neither the manufacturer, the dealer, nor the consumer.

You must pay more today for shoes of the same quality than you did a year ago. Next Spring, prices will be higher still.

These are hard facts. They will not yield to argument. They cannot be glossed over. We cannot change them, much as we would wish to do so.

But you, as a wearer of shoes, can help to relieve them if you will exercise prudence and good judgment in purchasing. See that you get real value for your money. Spend enough to get it, but spend nothing for "frills."

See that the manufacturer's trade-mark is stamped upon the shoes you buy. High prices are a temptation to reduce the quality in order to make the price seem low. But no manufacturer will stamp his trade-mark upon a product which he is ashamed to acknowledge. Remember this, and look for the trade-mark. It is your best assurance of real value for your money.

RUN INTO TEAM.

A local auto driver ran into a standing team at the Cedar street crossing late at night recently. The car light at the corner confused him so he did not see the flat cars which obstructed the roadway. His car was quite badly damaged and he had to hasten to notify the train crew as the Ford was badly tangled up with the rolling stock.

MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.

Mr. W. H. Wallace is making good progress in the moving of the I. N. R. station building to its new site. This was no light undertaking and has caused the contractor much anxiety. The decent down the hill on George street was a very difficult feat, but was accomplished with only a slight mishap. When the building topped the last rise the strain was too much for the different tackle holding it back and it broke away, running down and off the end of the rails at Gerrard St. Outside the breaking of the electric light wires and an arc light, no damage was done, although matters looked serious for a moment or two. The cars have again been placed on the track and the building is moving towards its new foundation.

Major Buckland returned to Canada at the request of the Minister of Information, London.

DIES IN HOSPITAL HERE.

The death of Garnet Hamilton Wigle took place at Hotel Dieu Hospital here last Saturday morning at one o'clock.

The deceased young man left Sackville about a week previous to his death en route for Winnipeg. While in Toronto he felt poorly and decided to return home. Shortly after leaving Montreal he became unconscious, and remained so all through the night. On arriving in Campbellton Dr. Martin advised that he be taken off the train. He was taken to the hospital and everything possible was done for him but he remained unconscious until his death on Saturday morning. Prof. Tweedie of Mount Allison University was a fellow passenger with the young man and remained with him in Campbellton until the arrival of his father, Rev. Hamilton Wigle of Mount Allison Ladies' College.

The remains were taken to his home in Sackville on Saturday's Limited. The deceased is survived by his parents and three sisters, Mrs. Carruthers of Ontario, Mrs. W. O. Bell of Amherst, and Miss Ruby at the Ladies' College, Sackville.

The people of Campbellton extend heartfelt sympathy to Rev. Mr. Wigle and family.

NEW RICHMOND

On July 23rd the Presbytery of Miramichi held its twenty-second convention in New Richmond meeting in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.
Mrs. Jobb, the President occupied the chair. This first meeting was most interesting. Two addresses were given by Rev. E. G. Rattee and Rev. A. T.
Barker returned missionary from Korea.

Mrs. R. H. Montgomery of New Richmond presented Mr. Barker with a certificate of life membership from the Auxiliary of St. Andrew's, New Richmond.

Mrs. Hugh Miller of Campbellton sang beautifully "Abide with Me."
Mrs. Jobb led the devotional exercises at the second session, speaking along the line of "Sacrifice." A telegram of greeting was sent to Mr.
John Ferguson of Bathurst, Hon.
President.

The nominating Committee was appointed as follows:—Madames D. J.
Bruce, W. R. McMillan, Rattee, Buchanan, R. Nicholson. Credential Committee:—Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. H.
Miller, Mrs. McLean.

Mrs. R. H. Montgomery read the address of welcome. She remarked that it was the first time the Presby-terial had met in the County of Bonaventure, and she extended a welcome to the province, county, church and homes. This was ably answered by Mrs. O. Nicholson.

Mrs. Wm. Anderson spoke of the helpfulness of visiting auxiliaries, and it was decided that it be continued, or where not practicable a letter be written.

Rev. A. H. Barker gave a second missionary address, showing the need, and interest of Korea. The need for more workers is very great. Everyone felt that it was a most earnest and wonderful address.

The Treasurers' report showed the following receipts:—
Foreign Missions $2,299.19
Home Missions 717.19
Dr. McMillan's Home 538.68
Wonsan School 93.80
Korean Hospital 106.00

Total $3,764.86
The Young People's report read by the Secretary, Mrs. Wm. Anderson showed 28 bands. A membership of 677; receipts for Foreign Missions,
$84.10; receipts for Home Missions,
$223.82.

Perhaps no part of this most interesting convention surpassed the Mission Band (Boys') meeting led by Mrs.
Hugh Miller of Campbellton, who with eight boys from the Mission Band of the Presbyterian congregation of Campbellton gave demonstrations of how young boys can be taught to lead a meeting. The whole exercise was most interesting, instructive and suggestive.

Mrs. Anderson read a paper on the need of mission work, showing that between eleven and fifteen years of age is the best time to interest children in Mission Band work.

Mrs. Bruce spoke of the conference at Wolfville, N. S.

The Home Mission money was allocated as follows:—
Per cent. for expenses $250.00
To Maritime Home 50.00
To Minto 50.00
To Coke ovens 30.00
To Point Aux Trembles 90.00
To Mr. Choe's College Work 15.00
To Scotch town School 50.00
To Kindergarten in Sydney 60.00
To Harcourt Harbour 7.09
To Boys' Teuton Home 10.00

Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. W. R. Mc-Millan were appointed to take charge of the question box.

The President's address was most earnest and interesting. She pointed out that we are far from evangelizing cur-part of the world—15,000,000 being our share.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered
Mrs. Jobb for her able address.

Mrs. H. Miller's beautiful solo "Go bury thy Sorrow" was listened to with much attention.

The report of the Home Missionary Secretary, Mrs. J. P. Hamilton showed 25 auxiliaries; amount raised,
$490.64; boxes or bales, seven.
Mrs. Wm. McWhirter read a paper,
"The kind of teacher needed for our foreign schools of Canada."

Mrs. L. H. McLean of Newcastle gave much pleasure with a beautiful reading most ably rendered.

The report of the Nominating Committee was as follows:—
Hon. Presidents—Mrs. Ferguson
and Mrs. R. H. Montgomery.

President—Mrs. E. J. Rattee.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Jobb.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. McLean.
3rd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Dunn.
4th Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Carson.

Treasurer—Miss Cameron.
Recording Sec'y.—Mrs. O. Nicholson
Corresponding Sec'y.—Mrs. Cameron
Dow.

Sec'y. Y. P. W.—Mrs. Wm. Anderson.
Assist. Sec'y.—Mrs. Geo. Rodgers.
Home Mission Sec'y.—Mrs. J. P.
Hamilton.

Literature.—Mrs. J. R. McKendie.
Reporter.—Mrs. Wm. MacWhirter.
The following were chosen for Annual officers to be submitted to the Annual Nominating Committee:—
President—Mrs. Stewart of Pictou.
Sec'y of Education Committee—Mrs.
H. Miller.

With all the others to remain in office.

The report of the Credential Committee showed 67 delegates of which 13 were Presidents of Societies; 6
Vice-Pres. of Societies; 5 Treasurers of Societies; and 4 Secretaries of Societies; 1 member of the general board of Missions of Maritime Provinces; 1 Foreign Missionary, Rev. A. H. Barker and Rev. E. J. Rattee of New Richmond.

Further members of Committee were Mrs. Robert Nicholson, Mrs. Jobb, Mrs.
Sutherland, Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Jardine.

The following resolutions were unanimously carried.

"Resolved that the Presbytery hold in session at New Richmond express its heartfelt sympathy with its members and friends who have had dear ones make the supreme sacrifice at the front.

Resolved that this Presbytery make special intercession at the evening hour each day that God will bless all efforts put forth by the Allies, and in the fullness of his time bring Peace.

Resolved that the thanks of the Presbytery be extended to Rev. Mr.
Barker for his inspiring and instructive addresses, and to the ladies who took special part in the evening services, Mrs. Miller of Campbellton, Mrs.
McLean of Newcastle.

Further resolved that our sincere thanks be extended to Rev. Mr. Rattee and to the ladies of the different auxiliaries belonging to St. Andrew's Church, New Richmond for their exceedingly kindness and hospitality, to the members of session and church managers for many kindnesses, and to all who in any way have made our meetings most pleasant and profitable."

To the managers of the Q. O. R. and the A. Q. & W. Railways for courtesies extended, to the choir and its leaders for attendance and assistance in making the sessions attractive. The Committee would also make special mention of the beautiful decorations in the church."

The Sec'y reported 31 Auxiliaries, with a total enrollment of 727, and an average attendance of 304.

The Secretary, Miss M. E. Gerrard wished to be relieved from office, and the Presbytery granted her request, while realizing the many years of faithful service she had rendered.

On Friday morning a special prayer service was held in the church, and the delegates and friends separated.

We trust that the results of this very instructive and interesting conference may be wide-reaching in stim-

TRACTOR DEMONSTRATION.

On Friday, September 13th, an event of great interest to the Farmers of the North Shore, will take place at Bathurst, in the shape of a Tractor Demonstration. There are five makes of Tractors competing, the Cleveland, Massey Harris, Happy Farmer, Case and Ford. The Demonstration will take place at James Rogers' farm, about one mile from the town in Bathurst Village.

As the Tractor is coming more and more to the front, and the cost of feeding horses is so high, it would be well for every farmer to take a day off and go to Bathurst and judge for himself whether the Tractor is a practical machine or not.

Successful demonstrations are being held at Sussex, Fredericton and Florenceville.

CUBAN CROP WAS SHORT.

The crop of raw sugar in Cuba turned out to be 300,000 tons short of the estimates upon which the original allotments of sugar to the Allied countries, including Canada and the United States, were calculated. Fifty thousand tons were sunk by submarines off the American coast. The Louisiana cane crop and the American beet sugar crop was alike disappointing. The sugar beet section of Northern France was overrun by the Germans, and the sugar beet section of Northern Italy was overrun by the Austrians in their spring offensive. Consequently the world is short of sugar.

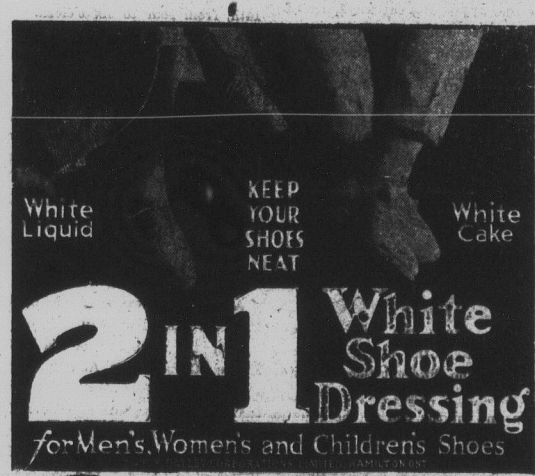

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE IS A SKIN WHITENER

How to make a creamy beauty lotion for a few cents.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin whitener at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so as to remove any seeds. This lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sunburns and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.
Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this beauty lotion. It is a real skin lotion and makes it easy to get the best skin, cream and soap.

DALHOUSIE

Dalhousie, Sept. 11.—A largely attended meeting of Dalhousie citizens met at the Inch Arran House on Monday evening to consider plans to aid the Navy League movement. It was felt that Britain's sailors had done splendid work during the war. Our Canadian and American soldiers received great protection from England's navy in crossing the seas. It was therefore decided to hold a large whist and dancing party on the evening of Thursday, Sept. 19th at the Inch Arran House. Mr. John Dean, the proprietor having kindly offered the use of the place to aid this great patriotic scheme. The proceeds of the affair to go to the Navy League fund.

Mr. A. R. Fraser, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia here was made treasurer, and Mr. W. A. R. Cragg, manager of the Royal Bank is taking charge of the advertising. Committees were appointed to organize and it is expected that the party will be the largest social gathering ever held in Restigouche County.

Let everybody make arrangements to be present to assist our sailor boys.

The Committee appointed in Campbellton last week to organize the town of Dalhousie, for the Knights of Columbus Campaign, which is under the patronage of His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, is at work. The Committee consists of Hon. C. H. LaBillico, Alderman Daniel McDonald, Peter H. Sheehan, S. Blanchard and John B. Delaney. A meeting of the Committee is to be held this evening in the office of the store owned by Hon. John Morrissey, Mr. J. H. Evey the Secretary for the County of Restigouche will be present and all arrangements will be made to carry on the Campaign.

Let us again do our utmost to encourage our brave Canadian lads, the fairest flowers of our great land. They are carrying us on to a victory that will make it possible for civilization to survive so that all can live in peace.

The Maguasha people had made plans to fish herring more than usual. They have been doomed to disappointment. Herring were plentiful, but the dog-fish ate them as fast as they were caught. The number of dog-fish is far greater than ever before known at the mouth of the Restigouche.

Albert Quessy, one of Upper Maguasha's most successful farmers passed away on Monday morning after an illness of several days, during which he suffered considerably. He was in the 61st year of his age.

Mrs. Wm. McWhirter, New Richmond spent the week end in her native town. She received a hearty welcome among her many friends.

Mrs. Wm. Simpson and family have returned home after a few weeks with her parents Mr. and Mrs. James McKenzie, Shipawake, P. Q.

Miss Annie McIntyre, Campbellton, has been spending a few days in Dalhousie.

Mr. Omer D'Anjou, a popular operator of the I. C. R. whose home is at Mont Joli, P. Q. arrived here with his bride, formerly Miss Rose Delina Jones, of Val Brilliant and spent the week end guests at the Queen. They motored through the Matapedia Valley returning to Mount Joli early in the week. On their return they were accompanied by Miss Dolores, Shediac, N. B., who is visiting the Misses Samson at the Queen and by Miss Lucienne Samson.

Miss Antoinette Martin, Fraserville, P. Q. arrived here on Monday to visit the Misses Samson at the Queen.

Many friends will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. R. Laliberty of Upper Balmoral which occurred last week at the home of her son Merrick Laliberty. She was in her 83rd year and was highly respected. She was the mother of Mrs. Wallace, wife of Alderman Alex. Wallace of Dalhousie.

DO NOT NEGLECT YOUR EYES

We hear much of people who sacrifice everything to sartorial splendor. They would go without dinner every day for a new pair of shoes.

Sacrificing health for appearance is not good policy—it does not make for health a real happiness.

Not only do you squint and frown when you neglect your eyes, but you seriously injure your health.

Better have a careful examination made.
