reception of the newcomers. As soon as the visitors were ready they were marshaled by Mr. William Wanless in their places in the procession. The cities of Chicago and Detroit and Toronto were most largely represented. Considering the time of their organization, Ottawa, Cleveland, Hamilton, St. Thomas, Aylmer and Strathroy sent splendid contingents. From other places where associations have not yet been formed came Old Boys who were anxious to attend the reunion. The Toronto train, carrying about 300 passengers, came in at 11 o'clock, and the St. Thomas train on the M. C. R., arrived about 12 o'clock. The fact that next Monday is civic holiday in Hamilton kept many residents of that city from coming who otherwise would have been here. Nearly 60 would never be able to repay. As a recame from Aylmer and about the same sult of his teachings they were all bet-number from St. Thomas. Strathroy ter boys. Speaking of himself, he said ter boys. Speaking of himself, he said that if he had not gone to Mr. Wilson's and many other places were well represented. With the Foresters who brought over two hundred from Toronto, on Saturday night, the four hundred old boys who came from that city same night, the six or seven hundred who came from Detroit Sunday afternoon, and the hundreds who drove to the city and came on the regular trains, there must have been more than five thousand visitors in the city during the day.

Marshal Wanless had all the Old Boys who were in the city arranged in readiness for the procession when the Chicago excursionists arrived. They took their places in the line, and the procession to Victoria Park moved away immediately amidst the cheers of the thousands that lined the streets. The route of march was along Richmond street and Princess avenue to the park, where an immense crowd was waiting. In a carriage at the head of the line sat three little tots who attracted much attention. Little Joseph Heber, of Toronto, was the sturdlest John Bull imaginable. His typical solemnity and repose was in marked contrast to the sprightliness of his young ally, Uncle Sam, who was ideally represented by William A. Small, jun., of Chicago. Between, as the connecting link, sat Miss Canada, who, in the person of demure and charming Dorothy McCann, graciously accepted applause that so exalted a lady should receive. After them walked the Royal Grenadiers' Band, the Toronto and Hamsiton Old Boys. Next were the chool, he would have been twice as bad as he was. Mr. Wilson said that for the sake of Auld Lang Syne he was d to be with them today. Mr. Wilson held up two relics of his old teaching days that brought remembrances to many of his old pupils. One was the cane that he had carried for 34 years. It was presented to him by his class of 1866. At that time, the boys were drilled with military precision, a system that he had instituted 53 years before when he taught school over in the northwestern portion of the city, back in 1847. One day, after the class was formed up, he noticed that Jack McIntosh, now the first division court clerk, had something concealed in the leg of his trousors. This was a breach of discipline, and when he went to correct him for it, the boy drew the cane out and presented it to him. Mr. Wilson also showed the Old Boys the bell that was the first used in the Central School. Its ringing brought to mind many old as-

SIR JOHN CARLING.

Sir John Carling was next introduc-ed by Chairman Love as another of London's grand old men, admired and respected by all, regardless of creed or politics. Sir John received a hearty greeting from the gathering. He expressed his pleasure at being present to indorse the remarks of the chairman and the mayor in extending a hearty welcome to he visitors. London was proud of her sons in other places, because they had always done credit to themselves and to the city from which they came, and it was a proud day for London to know that those who had gone away had not forgotten the Forest City. Sir John again ex-pressed the hearty welcome extended to the visitors, and concluded: "We are glad to see our old friends from the United States. We are glad to see the Star-Spangled Banner, and also to know that the very best of friendship is existing between the two great English-speaking countries. We all hope that friendship will continue and increase, and that both nations will march together in favor of freedom and justice all over the world."

DR. FREDERICK WINNETT.

The president of the Toronto association said: "The London Old Boys and Girls of Toronto are proud, and their hearts rejoice at their royal re-ception on this, their fourth annual excursion to their old home, and while I am here today to express our gratitude for this proof of your affection, it is also my pleasant duty to tell you that although circumstness have attracted us elsewhere, yet our hearts and love, untouched, remain with you, our parents, who have given us life and education, and you our earliest friends, whose association has helped to mold our character. These scenes and experiences of boyhood days are deeply engraved on our memory, never be effaced while life lasts. And so, ladies and gentlemen, we are here to-day to saunter about these beloved and hallowed places again, and bask in the sunshine of your affection.

"These annual excursions, beginning in a small way, are now firmly established. Like the rock breaking from the mountain's side, whose course is first slow and uncertain, but impelled by natural law, at each bound gathers strength, till all is irresistible, and the very foundation is shaken. For starting this first stone rolling we are indebted to the originality of three of our members, and to this movement must be ascribed this magnificent American landslide from Chicago and Detroit that we see here today, and also to the more recent rattling of pebbles from Ottawa, Hamilton, St. Thomas and the whole province. "Since our last meeting war and its horrors have shocked the world, the sword of Greater Britain has been unsheathed in a noble cause, and Canada has shown herself worthy of her origin, and her regiments as brave and noble as the most famous battalions of the Queen. Their heroism and military genius at Paardeberg and through the whole campaign won for them the praise of the greatest general of modern times, and the admiration of the world. We mourn with you who are bereaved, your noble sacrifice en-shrines your names in the hearts of your countrymen, and adds to the prestige and dignity of Canada, the Land of the Maple Leaf."

OTHER SPEAKERS.

The Chicago association was represented by the president, Thomas Weston. He said that the Chicago Old Boys had come for a good time, they cted to have a good time, and they expected to have a good time, and they hoped everybody else would have a Ald. McConnell, of Windsor, spoke

He had been in London so often he said, that he believed he was now an adopted Old Boy. He knew a num-ber of the London Old Boys in Cleveland, and as long as London turned out such sons she would have no reason to be ashamed of them. While Canada is behind the United States in some things, she is ahead in others and the people from London helped to keep the States at a higher moral level than might otherwise be the case.

On behalf of the St. Thomas con-tingent, Dr. Fred Guest thanked the ondoners for the invitation to join the reunion. Those loyal citizens of St. Thomas, the London Old Boys there still had a very warm spot in their hearts for the grand old county

J. H. Brown, of Aylmer, said that 65 Old Boys was Aylmer's quota toward this year's reunion, but that next year the number would be trebled. The bond of brotherhood, he said, had stretched from ocean to ocean, reaching the peaceful Amits of Chicago and hustling and bustling cities of Aylmer and Hamilton, Ont.

The procession then reformed and marched via Wellington, Dundas and Richmond streets to the city hall, where it dispersed for lunch.

Calithumpian Parade.

A most amusing part of the day's doings was the royal cooks' parade, given by the Toronto Foresters, Among those who took part were Lord Roberts and staff, Oom Paul and his escorts, and Li Hung Chang and a number of mandarins. There were the Royal Irish Fusilier buglers, a circus band, a clown band, camels, elephants, giraffes, ostriches, dancing bears and other laughable and secured a picturesquely garbed Savoyard and his fierce but well-trained black bear to give an exhibition. The mandarins. There were also included in the parade the Royal Irish Fusilier the thousands who witnessed its progress through the principal streets.

At Springbank.

The demonstration at Springbank yesterday in honor of the visiting Old Boys was one that will long live in the memory alike of the visitors and the citizens of London who were present. The arrangements made by the energetic committee for the entertain-ment and enjoyment of all were admirably planned and successfully carried out. Not a single hitch occur-red to mar the pleasure of the day, and the committee are to be congratuiated on the manner in which they fulfilled their duties. The throngs which swarmed over the beautiful river park gave every evidence of thorough enjoyment and delight at the excellent provision made for their amusement and entertainment.

In the afternoon an excellent programme was provided, consisting of a band concert by the First Infantry Band of Chicago, the Light Guards Band of Detroit, the Tenth Royal Grenadiers Band of Toronto, the Twenty-fifth Regiment Band of St. Thomas, and the Seventh Regiment Band of London; a baseball game between teams of visiting Old Boys and local Old Boys, and a number of laughable specialties.

The unveiling of the oldest visiting Old Boy had to be dispensed with. Old Boy Faulds, of Aylmer, was the suc-cessful candidate for the honor, he having left London in 1835, but he failed to come forward in time for the ceremony, and the committee reluctantly called it off. THE BASEBALL MATCH.

The feature of the day was undoubtedly the game of baseball which took place between teams composed of visiting Old Boys and members of the local committee. The visitors wore costumes of which the Star-Spangled Banner formed a considerable portion, while the representatives of Canada were clothed in Britain's banner, "the flag that braved a thousand jeers" vesterday. Of the game itself it is an exhibition of ball as was given yesterday. The wondrous dexterity and Matthews, Geo. W. Wrigley, of marvelous ability displayed by the reportorial staff, all of Toronto; A generally disagreed. The onerous sented by Dr. J. Georg duties of umpiring devolved upon ex- Cleveland; James Bryan, have deceived Uncle Sam's own mother. The way the old war horses flys, or galloped around the bases like colts, was a genuinely inspiring spectacle. Such old-timers as Frank Love, Tom Browne, Tom Gillean, Barney McCann, Dick Southam and Frank Cooper, for the local team, and Garnett, Brunton, Flowers and Lewis, for the visitors, showed that their ancient form had not yet deserted them. The game pursued its devious way until the third inning, with the visitors hav-ing decidedly the best of it.

After several over-ripe decisions had been handed out by the umpires. Fentiman was caught between second and third bases, but the umpires disagreed as to whether or not he was out. The players took sides with the umpires, and for a few minutes there were Thomas and the whole province. Also lively doings. Bats were brandished humble at its birth was the object of fiercely, and wild threats of bloodshed our reunions, and already a giant has were made. Police Magistrate Love rushed the American umpire, countered and fell short, but immediately landed a short-arm punch that put the umpire's high hat out of business. Umpire Carrothers also took a hand in the mailtreatment of his esteemed col-league. Realizing the danger of the situation, Sergt. Crawford and P. C. Bir-rell hastened to the scene, and by their tactful and persuasive use of clubs succeeded in pouring oil on the trou-bled swatters. White-winged peace bled swatters. White-winged peace once more brooded, and the game was proceeded with. The ill-concealed animosity of some of the participants of the late "disgraceful" brawl, however, only needed an excuse to break out afresh, and when Brunton sought to detain Gillean at third base by forcibly holding his hands, a scene of turmoil ensued. Once more the police hurried to quell the disturbance, but this time they found it impossible to do so without the salutary moral lesson of making a few arrests. Pitcher Gillean and Umpire Carrothers were placed under arrest, and the patrol wagon having been summoned, as much of the latter gentleman's personality as it could comfortably accommodate was placed in it. Both the prisoners were later and they will likely appear at the po-lice court in a day or two. Thoroughly cowed by fear of the police, the remainder of the teams declined to carry on the game any further.

The score while it lasted was:

OTHER ATTRACTIONS. After the "disgraceful" ending of the baseball game, a tug-of-war was put on, in which also the visitors were victorious. The teams were com-posed as follows: Visitors-Tom Duff (anchor), N. Garratt, T. Fentiman, J. W. Hickson, T. Weston and J. Donohue. Londoners—T. Gillean (anchor), J. Macpherson, R. Southam, R. K. Cowan, Frank Cooper and B. McCann. Both sides settled down for a hard pull. At first the home boys seemed to have a slight advantage, but the visitors pursued a policy of masterly inactivity, merely digging in their heels and holding hard until their opponents had wearied themselves by fruitless en-

the line. A cakewalk on horseback was the next feature of the entertainment. Fred Woods and "Billy" Ward were the horsemen, and the manner in which they managed their flery steeds and executed the difficult figures of the mazy dance was the admiration of the beholders. The baseball teams

The Military Tattoo.

In the evening the military tattoo was enjoyed by the thousands who remained, and by none more than the American visitors, to whom this British innovation was a decided novelty. The Detroit Light Guard Band was unable to be present, but the other four bands remained and took part. As the various bands deployed, marched and wheeled into their places, they were preceded and followed by torchbearers, and the twinkling torches and flaring calcium lights reflected from the brilliant uniforms and polished instruments of the bands, and the vast semi-circle of delighted spectators, all combined to make a memorable pic-ture. Various patriotic and regimental airs were played by the bands as they marched past and took up their positions, and then the united bands played several selections, the volume of music from the aggregate of in-struments having a decidedly fine ef-The tattoo concluded about 9:30, with the inspiring strains of the Brit-ish and American National Anthems. Considering the largeness crowd of people to be handled, the street railway company gave a very satisfactory service. The last of the crowd reached the city shortly after midnight. In the afternoon a couple of minor mishaps delayed traffic on the line for over an hour. One car jumped the track at the waterworks station, and the front portion of it was badly damaged. About the same time a car ran off the track at York street bridge, while still another car lost its trolley wheel, and the conductor had to mount the top and hold the pole against the trolley wire. CANADIAN TRADE

Fairly Good-Points From Bradstreet's Weekly Review.

Montreal-Trade is only fair. This is a between-seasons period, when many people are away on holidays from the centers of trade. Trade in drygoods is as brisk as usual for this time of the year.

Toronto-Business circles at Toronto have been moderately active this week for the holidays. Orders from travelers and by mail have been up to the average for this time of the summer. Business at Hamilton the past week has been of a fair average for this sea-

Trade at the coast cities has been disturbed somewhat by the strike in the fishery industry. The fish have been running strong during the past ten days, but none have been taken, and it is estimated that the loss in that respect amounts to fully $100,000. The canners stand to lose considerable money by the strike. The coal trade is very active. There is also marked activity in the lumber industry.

London-In London the prospects for trade for the fall and winter are very bright, owing to the large, bountiful crops and the splendid condition of the grain being cut and threshed. Retailers are pleased with the outlook for business for the fall, and are disposed to stock up liberally. Values are firm in almost all staple lines. Payments this week have been fair. Trade has been a little quiet since the close of the exhibition in Winni.

BASEBALL

TAKE AND GIVE.

Large crowds attended the Londonetroit ball games at Tecumsea Park yesterday, in spite of the many counter attractions, and witnessed two fast exhibitions. The paid admission at both games totalled about 2,500.

In the morning game the home team landed on Pitcher Owens in the first inman, and batted out two runs. The seemed to lack ginger, when their manager hove in sight, and delivered a few terse remarks, the Detroiters woke up, and played a beautiful game. The general impression that the visitors left behind them is that American league ball is none too fast for Pete. Lohman's braves, and that the local boys would make a good showing in a big league. Frisk, the ex-Canadian League pitcher, went in in the ninth to bat for Owen, and to try to pull the game out of the hole, but he proved no better than his re-tired partner. The far-famed Casey was at third, and was kept busy. He robbed the home team of several hard drives that looked good for two bases. The two runs in the first inning were scored on Charlie Jones' long drive between left and center. Radeliffe drew a pass, and was forced out by Mohler, who stole second. Hempfill went to first on a pass, and Hart popped to the infield. Jones followed with his hard drive, and Mohler and Hemphill crossed the plate. Elberfield, shortstop for Detroit, is the fastest man at that position seen in a long time in London. His work of getting after grounders and dropping them to first was great. In the sixth, London again added two tallies. Jones was thrown out by Elberfield. Reed sent a beautiful drive to center and Cope singled. Owen tried to catch Reed at second, but big Bill was there, and the ball struck him on the shoulder, and rolled out in the field, and the runner went to third. Lohman flew out to left, and Reed came home on the KNOX WINS AGAIN. The St. John's A.C. Baseball Club met defeat at the hands of the Knox, on the grounds of the former club, yesterday morning, Knox playing a perior game both in the field and at bat. Fisher allowed the St. John's only seven hits, and kept them well scat-tered; but Knox got onto Kerrigan, and in the 8th and 8th innings they pounded out seven clean hits, in addition of the seven they had previously The game was interesting throughout, but the result was never in doubt. The score was as follows :

CRICKET HOME TEAM WON.

A cricket match was played on the asylum grounds yesterday between the London and Gordon-Mackay clubs, Toronto, and resulted in a victory for the London cricket club. Dr. Williams and F. Macfie batted in good form for their respective scores, 26 and 14. The bowling of W. Meredith and H. Pope for the London cricket club was without doubt the best of the season, and to them the honor must be given in a great measure for the victory. They were well supported by good and sharp fielding. The next match will be on the 16th of this month, when a team from Cleveland will pay their first visit to the asylum grounds.

THE HOSPITAL INQUIRY. London, Aug. 6 .- One of the stormiest scenes of the present session of the commons occurred this evening, when Mr. Ashmead Bartlett Burdett-Coutts, Conservative member for Westminster, demanded greater powers for the hospital commission to investigate the management of the military hospitals in South Africa. He declared that the truth would not be learned under the present plan of investigation, as the soldiers would be afraid to testify. Mr. Burdett-Courts of "maligning the character of the British army," and sneered at what he called "the honorable member's evident nervousness as to the result of the inquiry. He poured out a veritable lava tide of scorn and attack, some of his utterances being almost inaudible amid the

"For years I have been troubled with rheumatism and dyspepsia, and came to the conclusion to try your Pills. I immediately found great relief from their use. I feel like a new man since I commenced taking them and would not now be without them. The drowsy, sleepy feeling I used to have has entirely disappeared. The dyspepsia has left me and my rheumatism is gone entirely. I am satisfied if any one so afflicted will give Radway's Pills a trial they will surely cure them, for I believe it all comes from the system being out of order—the liver not doing its work.

London, Tuesday, August 7.

Will China Be Cut to Pieces?

"If the European powers succeed in flividing up China it will be a serious affair for Canada. England will have a slice of it, and all the Chinese turned into British subjects. They will have just as much right in Canada as any other subject, and no tax can be placed upon them. They can flood this country to the top slope, and we cannot, for imperial reasons, say a word."—New Denver, B. C., Ledge.

So far as Great Britain in concerned we need have no fears on this score. The under secretary of state for war has just informed the house of commons that the Salisbury cabinet is ananimous against the partition of China, "which would be fraught with Infinite danger," and he also added, sig- by drugs capable of producing similar nificantly, that "the government had symptoms on a healthy person. It is no reason to believe that they were at a matter of interest, though, of course, variance with any of the European chiefly to those who have faith in his powers in that respect. Further, the medical system, to note its progress. government would do nothing to set up In the United States there are some anything but a Chinese administration sixteen homeopathic colleges; a num-In China, and the government had not In contemplation the idea of organizing the Chinese army under foreign of- ly every large city has a well-equipped ficers. There will be no disposition in hospital. In the Old World homeopa-British Liberal circles to object to this thy also occupies a prominent place, as it goes. But we are by no means assured that the feeling against the partition of China among the powers is as strong in governing circles in Russia and Germany as it is in Great Britain and the United States. Both of these nations have recently given strong evidence that, if they are opposed to a partition of the Chinese empire, they are not averse to a partition that shall bring into trade or political subjection large sections of the country. This has been made especially evident in the conduct of Russia in preventing Japan from enjoying the fruits of its victory five years since. At that time, Russia refused her consent to the Japanese continuing at Port Arthur, but immediately afterwards seized and maintains control of that strategical point, while at the same time practically annexing the Chinese province of Manchuria. Russia's policy in the east, indeed, has always been a protesting one. First, she sends her traders into a district, then she picks a quarrel with their treatment by the natives; afterwards she sends an armed force to secure the fair treatment which she contends the country affected is unable or averse to affording. Next she protest that such an expedition is not charged with the annexation of the territory. But by-and-by, year. The country is now hearing from through one pretext or another, she asthe victims of the war with Spain in the victims of the war with the victims of the war with the war with the victims of the war with the victims of the v sumes full control, and never again lets Cuba and the conflict in the Philippine go. By this means Russia has, in the last forty years, advanced steadily 529, an increase of 2,010; 40,643 original through Asia, annexing thousands of pensions were granted last year, and miles of territory annually, and bringing her empire up to within a short while 43,334 were dropped, including 35,distance of the gates of India on 800 by death, 909 by remarriages of one hand and close to Great Wall of China on the other. Indeed, her seizure of Manchuria has shown that she, at all events, is not inclined to stop her progress eastward at the Chinese borders. It is facts like these, taken in conjunction with the land hunger that in recent years has seized Germany and France as well as Russia that renders us somewhat sceptical as to the ability of the powers, for much longer, to maintain China as an empire. One likely result of a partition in which Great Britain would share is set out by our British Columbian contemporary. But the break-up of an empire embracing within its bounds one third of the human race, would have alteration of this act and of the momentous and far-reaching effects on the human race, not only in Canada, but in all parts of the world, and we do not wonder that some of the great powers, at least, are ready to do everything possible to prevent such a revolution. It would be a leap in the dark. the outcome of which no one can safely prophesy in the present condition of the 350,000,000 of that people. And it is no doubt wisdom to postpone it as long as possible. But, in view of the known facts, can it be finally averted? United China would answer: "Yes," but in modern times China has not been united and is not likely to be.

Hahnemann in Bronze.

The American Institute of Homeopathy has done itself honor by the erection of a magnificent monument to the memory of the founder of the homeopathic system of medical practice. It has been located in Washington-the United States Congress having granted sultable site for the purpose in what called Scott Circle, where the statue of the great German physician now stands between those of Daniel Webster and Gen. Winfield Scott. The unveiling and dedication was a public function that marks a stage in the history of medicine, and was graced by the presence of President McKinley and his Cabinet, and many other public men of the country. Attorney-General Griggs, who made the principal address, said among other things:

"It is no criticism of the action of the institute or of the Federal Government that they have placed, or per-mitted to be placed here, the statue of a man who never knew or saw Amer-loa. It is but an added glory that the work he did—the fame that is now his —is recognized as belonging, not to Germany, but to the world. Generations of our people to come will pause and view this statue; will look at the figure of the young student bending in thoughtfulness over his book-at the figure of the scientist making his experiments—at the figure of the wise teacher instructing his pupils—and at the grand, the noble, the benignant figure of the great man whose position here today, in view of the persecutions to which he was subjected, teaches us to glory in the belief that it can no longer be said that 'right is ever on the scaffold, wrong forever on the throne,' for here sits right enthroned before the eyes of the American people, from whom forever and forever more will be contributed its just meed of immortal fame."

For some time the homeopathic physicians of the United States, who are said to number some 20,000, and to have not less than 10,000,000 adherents, have had under consideration the erection of a suitable memorial at the close of the nineteenth century in honor of the noted German physician, Samuel Hahnemann; and their efforts have evidently been crowned with success. Hahnemann was undoubtedly a man of great genius and diversified attainments, as may be gathered from the fact that at the early age of 20 he was familiar with not less than eight languages; and it may be added that it was while engaged in the work of had been raided by Congo troops, and translating medical works into the German that he seems to have obtained the first hints that lead to his discovery of what he claimed to be the law of cure-that diseases are to be cured ber of state institutions, including at least three insane asylums; while nearthough its popularity is greater on this This is all very satisfactory, as far continent than anywhere else.

Lessening the Burden.

(Sir Richard Cartwright.)

"There are two ways in which the burdens of any country can be lessened. Which of these two methods is to be adopted depends wholly and entirely on the circumstances in which the country finds itself. One of these methods, if it be possible, is to reduce the expenditure, and that is always desirable when it can be done with advantage to the general weal. That is sometimes necessary, and is always necessary when a country is stationary, or much more, in a retrograde condition. The other mode-and in a new and growing country like this, the better mode-is to apply ourselves so ments of abhorrence of such a crime as to increase the population, so as to and your sympathy with the royal increase the wealth, so as to develop the resources of the country; that we may multiply the number of tax-payers, that we may increase their means, and thereby as effectually reduce the burdens of the people as if we reduced the actual expenditure."

Canada is well satisfied with Laurier.

The number of United States pensioners has again increased, despite or of Queen Margherita in the garden the fact that many died during the of the Pincio. The funeral of the de-Islands. The total number is now 993,-4,699 names were restored to the rolls, pensioners, and 6,616 from other causes.

The Senate Is a Malady. [Toronto Star.]

What a great head surmounted the shoulders of John Bright! When we remember that it was more than thirty chin, the ceremony being performed years ago that he was discussing the with great pomp. In honor of the years ago that he was discussing the British North America act. his words regarding the Senate of Canada have the weight and value of a prophecy fulfilled. He said: "I venture to say that the clause enabling the Governor-General and his Cabinet to put seventy men in that council for life inserts into the whole scheme the germ of a maiady which before long will require an stitution of this new confederation. i ditution of this new confederatio stitution of this new confederation."

Sir Oliver Mowat's Memoirs. [Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]

It is said that Sir Oliver Mowat is engaged in writing his political memoirs. If this is the case a most interesting publication should result. The lieutenant-governor entered public life in 1857, and since then has been closely associated at one time or another with every man of political prominence in the Dominion. He took a leading part in the negotiations preceeding confederation, and has had a great deal to do with the strengthening process which the constitution then formed has since undergone. To no work of greater public benefit could the ex-premier devote the closing years of his life. At present removed from the arena of politics, and enjoying the respect and confidence of all, he will take no partisan view of the events of the past forty or fifty years, and his recollections will be read with keen enjoyment by old party friend and foe alike. If the work is completed we believe it will be the most valuable that has yet been contributed to later Canadian historical material.

SORE POINTS. The pencil heaved a heavy sigh, And murmured to the pen, "I haven't felt so out of sorts Since-oh, I don't know when!

'The penknife treats me very ill, It cuts me in the street, And really is extremely sharp When'er we chance to meet.

'And when I broke the other day Beneath its bitter stroke, It said 'It didn't see the point;" Neither did I the joke!

"With many troubles I'm depressed, My heart just feels like lead." The pen mopped up an inky tear; "I weep for you," it said.

THE ENGLISH VOCABULARY. The English language-according to a German statistician who has made a study of the comparative wealth of languages-heads the list with the enormous vocabulary of 260,000 words. German comes next with 80,000 words; then Italian, with 75,000; French, with 30,000; Turkish, with 22,500, and Spanish, with 20,000.

RAIDED BY CONGO TROOPS.

London, Aug. 7.-Answering a question in the House of Commons, Mr. Brodrick said the authorities of the Congo Free State admitted that British territory above the Albert Nyanza that women and cattle had been carried off. The Congo Free State authorities apologized for the raid and sought to punish the raiders. EMPRESS FREDERICK'S AILMENT

London, Aug. 7 .- Fears are entertained here that the sudden death of the Duke of Saxe-Cobourg on Monday last may have the effect of bringing to a fatal termination the very serious ill-ness of his eldest sister, the widowed Empress Frederick of Germany, mother of the Kaiser. It is said she is dying of cancer of the throat. Strongminded though she has always shown herself in the past, the news of her brother's death has had the effect of completely prostrating her.

Her daughters, Princess Charlotte of Saxe-Meiningen, Princess Frederick Charles of Hesse and Princess Adolph of Schaumburg-Lippe, as well as her brothers, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught, are hastening to her side at her castle near Homburg.

THE QUEEN'S REPLY. London, Aug. 7 .- The reply of Queen Victoria to the address of parliament to the throne, moved July 31, with reference to the assassination of King Humbert, thanks parliament for the address, and says: "I unite with you in the expression of indignation and deep concern at the tidings of the assassination of my illustrious ally, the King of Italy. I have not failed to convey to his successor your sentifamily, government and people of that country.

Rome, Aug. 7.-The city council of Monza has ceded the plot of ground, including the spot where King Humbert was assassinated, to the royal family, who will erect a chapel there. King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena will arrive in Rome Wednes-day. The remains of King Humbert will leave Monza the same day, reaching this city at 9 in the morning.

Ximenes, the celebrated sculptor, proposes to erect a monument in hon-he attitude of calm which he had as sumed since the murder was committed, and has been giving way to fits of passion. He had to be placed in a straight jacket for ten hours. At the railway station, while the king and queen were en route from Reggio to Monza a well-dressed dividual was discovered hiding, with a revolver concealed on his person, says a cable from Rome. He was arrested after a struggle, and after being manacled, was sent on to Milan to be examined by Bresci's judges. Compromising letters are said to have been found upon him.

THE LATE J. J. WITHROW.

Toronto, Aug. 7 .- The announcement of the sudden death of Mr. J. J. Withrow is received with regret by all classes of the community. Mr. With-row retired on Saturday night, apparently in his usual good health, but at about 5 o'clock on Sunday morning he was attacked by a species of paralytic stroke. His son, Mr. J. A. Withrow, who was the only member of the family in town, summoned a physician at once, but his father never rallied, and died at 9 in the evening. Mr. John Jacob Withrow was the son of James Withrow, of United Empire Loyalist descent, for many years a contractor in Toronto. He was born in this city in 1833, was educated at the old Toronto Academy, and received his early business training in an architect's office. He will perhaps be best remembered his connection with the Industrial Exhibition, an undertaking which owes its success greatly to his foresight and active exertions in the management. He was president of the exhibition association from its establishment down to a very recent period, and it is generally considered that the greatest service to the city was rendered in this

THE COLLISION

How Engineer Gilmour Died at His Post.

The Injured Doing Well-Funeral of the Brave Enginedriver.

Hamilton, Aug. 6 .- This morning the funeral of the late James Gilmour, the T., H. and B. engineer, who was killed in the collision at Brantford on Saturday, took place from Dundas, whither the body had been taken, to Bullock's Corners. Over 50 relatives and railway men from Waterford and vicinity attended the funeral. Superintendent Fisher, of the T., H. and B., and several of the railway officials, with whom the deceased was a great favorite, were also present. The dead engineer was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and also of the Masonic order. When taken from his wrecked engine, poor Gilmour was found to have been terribly crushed, and death must have been instantaneous. He had his back towards the firebox, and had evidently set his air-brakes and turned to jump when the crash came. Fireman Potticary was in the cab with Gilmour, and was the first to see the advancing work train. He shouted to Gilmour and Section Foreman Pat Heary, who was also in the cab, to jump. Heary followed Potticary in a flying leap from the cab, but Gilmour instinctively turned to his air brakes, thus perishing at his post.

Both engines were badly wrecked, and several of the cars on the work train were badly smashed. The passenger train was running on time and had obtained a good rate of speed at the time it met the work train. The railway officials are making an investigation as to the cause of the wreck. THE INJURED.

Of the injured, Gustave Unruh, enrineer of the work train, is the most seriously hurt. He is lying at the Brantford Hospital with a crushed hip and a severe wound in the groin. To-day his condition is reported as favorable. His fireman, J. Terryberry, was badly cut about the face and head.

H. C. Iles, conductor of the passenger train, was thrown over the baggage car, but escaped with a severe scalp wound and a few bruises.

John G. Burns, baggage man on the passenger train, is at his home in Waterford, suffering from bruises and

Mrs. Spencer Case, of this city, a passenger, received a severe wound in the face, but was able to continue her journey to St. Thomas. Mrs. Rankin, of Detroit, another passenger, was also severely bruised. Fireman Potticary, of the passenger train, had his arm severely bruised in jumping, and Conductor Snyder, of the work train, sprained his arm, and was bruised about the body. Of the men in the work train, J. Burns, laborer, had his shoulder sprained and received bruises; Patrick Dean was badly bruised and shaken up; Ed. Rymal was bruised and injured in the chest; R. G. Gray, road master, arm injured and bruised; C. Rossetta, laborer, bruised, at present in City Hospital; M. Carmello, laborer, scalp wound and bruises; Hugh Sweeney, laborer, received a scalp wound and bruises.

He was then sewed up in a sack, weighted with stones, and thrown into the bayou, where he sank out of sight.

ANCASTER BOY DROWNED.

Hamilton, Aug. 7.-Ancaster village had its first drowning accident in twenty years on Saturday afternoon, the victim being Charlie Adams, the 15-year-old son of Charles Adams, a resident of the village. The accident occurred in the pond at Jackson's mill. Adams, with a number of other lads, had been playing cricket early in the afternoon, and with some others went for a swim. The had a race, and when a little more than half way across young Adams sank, and before his comrades could reach him he had gone down for the last time. It is supposed he took cramp, through being overheated.

HEAVY CHINESE LOSS.

It is figured by military experts that a loss of 1,200 killed and wounded on the part of the allies probably means a loss of from four to six times as many by the Chinese. This pears to confirm the statement the Chinese Government will endeavor to stop the march to Pekin by using the ministers as hostages.

It is said that Li Hung Chang has officially informed the consuls that the ministers left Pekin for Tien Tsin last Friday, Aug. 3, with Gen. Yung Lu in command of the escort. The consuls are by no means disposed to credit Earl Li's statement. All other reports that have reached London up to this hour indicate that the ministers have not left Pekin.

NO MORE CARVING. The Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin, publishing an interview with Li Hung Chang, quotes him as declaring emphatically that China must not in any circumstances cede any more territory to any power. In reply to a queston why the rebellion was not put down, Earl Li is represented as having said: "I blame Prince Tuan, the empress dowager and the whole Pekin government. But for their lack of energy the situation would never have be-come so serious."

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Active negotiations are proceeding between Russia and the United States, the probable outcome of which will be a resolution to uphold the integrity of China unconditionally."

The Fighting

NORTHWEST OF TIEN TSIN. Interest in the Chinese situation was intensified this morning by the receipt of two dispatches from naval officers at Che Foo, repeating unofficial, but apparently reliable, reports of active Grand brigaded band concert in and extensive hostilities between the Victoria Park at 8 o'clock by Seventh allied forces and the Chinese between Tien Tsin and Pekin. The dispatches indicate unmistakably that the relief column had started in earnest, and that it is meeting with determined opposition. Although neither of naval dispatches mention the presence of American troops in the reported engagement, it is generally assumed at the war department that at least a part of Gen. Chaffee's small army was on hand and took an active and aggressive part in the affair. The dispatches are as follows: Washington, Aug. 6.-The following cablegrams have been received at the navy department:

ALLIES LOST 1,200. "Che Foo, Aug. 6 .- Bureau Navigation, Washington: British Fame reports, unofficial, engagement at Peitsang, Sunday morning, 3 to 10:30. Al-died loss, killed and wounded 1,200, chiefly Russians and Japanese. Chinese retreating, (Signed) Taussig." "Che Foo, Aug. 6.-Bureau Navigation, Washington: Unofficial report, believed reliable, about 16,000 allies heavily engaged Chinese at Pietsang on daylight of the 5th. (Signed) Remey.

[Peitsang is the first railroad station about eight miles northwest of Tien Tsin, en route to Pekin.] Taussig, who signed the first dispatch, is in command of the York-town, which is at the Foo. It is said at the war department that there is no reason to doubt that an engage ment has taken place. While no official information has been received, it is said that such an engagement was not unexpected.

London, Tuesday, Aug. 7-3:40 a.m.- tacked the Chinese at Peitsang and forced the enemy from the trenches.

A heavy battle is still in progress. PEITSANG.

According to the information in pos-session of the war department, the town of Peitsang is at the head of tide water on the Pel Ho, between 11 and 12 miles by road beyond Tien Tsin. It is a village of mud huts, of considerable size, but not walled. The river at this point is not navigable by any-The Shanghai correspondent of the thing larger than a good-sized steam launch, and it is thought that the troops probably reached there in small boats, towed by the naval launches. ON THE UPPER YANG TSE KIANG. Paris, Aug. 7.-The French consul at Chung King telegraphs under date of Aug. 3, that the situation is becoming more serious on the Upper Yang Tse Kiang. The English consul, he says, has left with the custom house staff, and the French consul intends to leave with his Japanese colleague. The mail service has been stopped.

RUSSIAN SUCCESSES.

London, Aug. 6 .- A dispatch received at the war office in St. Petersburg from Gren. Grodekoff, dated Khabarovsk, Aug. 4, says two squadrons reconnoitering near Teche, engaged 1,000 Chinese with two guns and 250 cavalry. After a stubborn fight the Russians were reinforced by another squadron, with two guns and defeated the Chi-nese, killing 200. The Russian loss was eight men killed and eight men wound-This dispatch adds that the battle aroun Aigun was continued Aug. 3, the Cossacks losing 6 men killed and 25 wounded, and driving back the Chine and killing 200 and capturing two guns and two flags. BRUTALITY OF RUSSIAN TROOPS

Women Massacred and Babes Bayoneted-Story Told by a British Official's Wife.

San Francisco, Aug. 7 .- A story of Russian brutality in China is told by Mrs. E. B. Drew, wife of the British commissioner of customs at Tien Tsin, who arrived from the Orient on the transport Logan. She says:

LIVED IN A CELLAR.

Mrs. Drew, with much indignation, then spoke of the atrocities committed by Russian troops, saying:

"They pillaged, looted, tortured and murdered right and left. There were many infants and children killed by bayonet thrusts, and many were tossed from bayonet points, only to be caught and again tossed, time and time again, old. There is ample evidence of these unspeakable occurrences.

'Out from Tien Tsin, along the Pei Ho and Yellow Rivers, are numerous little villages. The Russians swept through the villages, destroying life and property. The Russians also drove women and children to the Pei Ho and Yellow Rivers, where they were drowned.

"There was no attempt at concealing any of the remarkably barbarous conduct. I do not pretend to say how many women and children were butchered by the Russians. I never heard the number estimated, save that a great many had been bayoneted and

A portion, however, of the preferred stock will be issued, but only to old customers.

-The business community and public generally will hear with regret that the wholesale firm of G. A. McGillivray & Co. have been forced to suspend payment, temporarily, at least, not having been able to meet their paper maturing on Aug. 4. Mr. McGillivray has always been a strong believer in and advocate of the development of home resources, and perhaps has erred mostly from a business standpoint in having too much of his capital invested in real estate. Mr. McGillivray is a large property owner, not only in London, but in Petrolia, and the oil-producing vicinity immediately surrounding. His suspenwill come as a surprise to public generally, as the firm were thought to be doing a good business; but those who have had dealings with them have known for some time that unless Mr. McGillivray got assistance by disposing of some of his real estate. and oil property, that he would have difficulty in pulling through. He is having a statement of his affairs prepared. which will be submitted to his creditors at as early a date as possible.

Many and beautiful were the gifts received as tokens of the high esteem in which they are held. A most enjoyable evening was spent, persed, offering many congratulations and kind wishes for their future hap-piness and prosperity, and that they QUEST OF NOISELESS RAILS.

The Scientific American points out the rich harvest that awaits the inventor who shall produce a rail over which street cars may pass noiselessly. In the worst of these, such as most of those in Chicago, the din is nervewrecking, and even under the best conditions there is an annoying noise. There is no noiseless joint, and the "anvil chorus" marks the progress of every train, and the blow given by every wheel as it strikes the joints may be heard blocks away. The con-cussion which is produced whenever a wheel passes a joint is due to the fact that, as a wheel leaves the end of a rail, that rail end is depressed below the end of the rail against which it abuts. So when the wheel passes to the rail ahead it strikes a blow that increases in clangor according to the poorness of quality of the track. The need is for a joint as strong and stiff as the body of the rail itself, and when tically silent track. The best joints on the market theoretically fulfill this condition, but they soon become worn by the heavy loads. What is needed, in the judgment of the Scientific Am-erican, is some means of abolishing the joints altogether and welding the

Of International London Old Boys at the Annual Meeting.

Concrete Evidence of the Rapid Growth of the Movement-Pleasant Presentation and Mutual Felicitations-The Election of New Officers.

At the second annual meeting of the International London Old Boys' Association, which was held this morning after which the merry company dis- in the city hall, there were Old Boys present from Toronto, Chicago, Detroit, Hamilton, Cleveland, St. Thomas, might be spared, with their family, to Sarnia, Cincinnati, St. Albans, Ver-celebrate their golden wedding. mont, Omaha, New Haven, Kearney, Nebraska, and Des Moines, Iowa. Secretary Small announced that these places were only a few of those represented; he knew personally of others who had joined the Chicago excursion, coming from St. Paul, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Racine, Wis. Besides the visiting Old Boys there were many of the home guard present. and the meeting throughout was one of the happiest imaginable.

The vice-president, Mr. Thomas Weston, of Chicago, presided, and in introducing the business that had brought them together he welcomed the Old Boys of new associations from wherever they came. They all came here to have a good time, he said, and that was what they were having. Secretary Small read the minutes of the previous meeting, and afterwards Police Magistrate Love asked permission to change the regular order of doing business, so that he might present to the various organizations a group photograph of the local commit-In doing this, he said it was hardly necessary to repeat the welcome that the city had for them. You have stormed our hearts, he said, as well as stormed the town. The citizens of London could not show their appreciation of the Old Boys' kind remembrance of their former home. Their example was being followed all over the land. He referred to the gift of the executive committee's photograph don Hortfeultural Society is now open that had been presented to the home guard, and placed in the city hall. For Detroit, Dr. Leys extended thanks; Mr. J. H. Brown spoke for Aylmer; Dr. Layton, for Cleveland; Mr. Charles Cowley for Sarnia: Mr. John Cousins, who is the whole New Haven association, for that city; Mr. D. J. Batzner, for Cincinnati; Mr. George R. Sanderson, for Des Moines, Ia.; Mr. W. F. Rob-inson, Kearney, Neb.; Mr. Robt. Smith, and Mr. T. H. Smith, of Omaha; Mr. William Mulkins, of St. Albans, Vt.

Before proceeding further, Mr. Love assured the visitors that the reunion was to be an annual affair, to continue for all time to come. There might be friction, and there might be mistakes. but they would be of the head, not of the heart. They were to continue until those who now enjoy them fade away off the scene altogether. (Applause.)
During the election of officers Sir John Carling entered the room, and was greeted enthusiastically. While thanking them for their reception, Sir Clarence Jackson, of Cavendish John expressed the opinion that with a liberal government, a good educational system, its fine natural resources, and excellent climate, there was every reason to hope that Canada, starting with the same population as did the United States, might also in the same time reach the 75,000,000 that it had grown to in 100 years. The election of officers for 1900-1901 resulted as follows: Honorary President - Capt. A. W.

Winnipeg, Aug. 7 .- The government's August crop bulletin is now in the hands of the printers, and shows that 348,819 acres of wheat, 413,842 acres of oats, and 23,414 acres of barley have been completely destroyed by drought, winds, etc. The remaining crop of wheat, 1,451,396 acres, will give an estimated yield of 71/2 bushels per acre, or a total of 10,936,613 bushels for the pro-

HOTTEST DAY

That Toronto Has Had in Forty-Six Years.

foronto Globe, Aug. 7: In sixty years Toronto has, with one exception, never been so warm as she was on her last civic holiday. The degrees of heat registered in the afternoon broke all records for summer weather back as far as 1854. At 4 clock in the afternoon 97.9 degrees of heat were registered at the meteoro-logical observatory, and thermomeers down town made it a good deal hotter.

Only on Aug. 24, 1854, did the mercury go above the mark reached by it yes terday and then it went to 99.2. Old inhabitants say this hot wave is triffing when compared with the one in

A ROUGH MATCH. Toronto, Ont., Aug. 7 .- Yesterday's game between the Torontos and Tecumsehs was in many respects the roughest ever played in this city. Nearly every player was injured in some way, not a few of them badly. The close checking and the bitter feeling between the teams led to many a mixup, and it was in these that the damage was done. As a result of the contest the Toronto club executive have decided not to play the Tecumsehs again. The casualty list is as follows: Her-Ear badly cut, head bruised. Murray-Head gashed, requiring nine stitches. Querrie-Hand bruised and chin cut. McBride-Tooth jammed through lip by a blow. Greatrix-Ear split and knee injured.

Pringle-Head badly cut; unconscious for one and a half hours. Yorke-Nose cut across bridge and eye blackened.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.] The lengthy account of the siege of the Pekin legations forwarded by Dr. Morrison, correspondent of the London Times at the Chinese capital, shows that the great metropolitan daily's position as the first newsgatherer of the world is still undisputed. pattern. But all this criticism must be taken with due allowance, for since the war with Japan in 1894-5 John Chinaman has used the lessons of that struggle to his advantage, and the powers have lent their aid years, Uncle Albert; I trust you will in military training and the use of live long to enjoy the harvest that modern weapors. Where there are many elements of weakness it will not be surprising if the Chinese army goes to pieces before the trained battalions of Europe in any contest on open fields. On the other hand, the fiber and intelligence of the Chinese, combined with their strong fanaticism, may bring about a revolution in military matters should the war with foreigners be prolonged. The Chinese army organization is in battalions of 500 men each for infantry and of 250 each for cavalry. A battalion is called a "ying" in the Chinese tongue. For field purposes the battalion is increased to 1,000 men in infantry and 500 in the cave alry. Two or three companies constitute a battalion. Each town in China has a garrison under command of an official answering to a western general. His Chinese title is tseangkeun. A Chinese general's "make up" is something gorgeous for a man of war. He wears a tiger's head embroidered on his uniform, and his headgear is surmounted by a peacock's feather with three eyes. The word "tiger" plays a great part in the Chinese military language, for the emperor's bodyguard is called the Tigers, and other crack corps adopt the name or some form of insignia to show that they are the pick of fighters.

Soldiers of the Green Flags are clothed like civilians, with the exception of a jacket or tunic. In some parts of the land the tunic bears the word "brave" on the back and "valor" on the front. Arms are furnished these soldiers in time of war, and the weapon may be only a bow and arrows or a pike. To protect the person a helmet and shield are added. China has numerous military colonies where the government grants land for the sustenance of soldiers who are always subject to military service when needed, but are not trained for active work. This body constitutes a vast reserve of about 600,000 men who may be called in to support the hereditary and professional soldiers in time of war. The Chinese are eager to enter the army, so that the government need lack for soldiers. How well not they fight depends upon the cause at stake, for there is no such thing as devotion to the flag or the nation in China.

Lord Beresford, the naval authority, saw something of Chinese soldiers in 1898, and his opinion of the army as a totelity is not high. He says that the Mantchoo and Chinese elements are kept apart in the ser-vice. "There are different systems in every province as to pay, food and clothing. The matter is left entirely in the hands of the general commanding. In some armies the men are paid to feed and clothe themselves; in other armies they are fed and clothed. As the generals, like all authorities in China, only have a nominal salary, they make large profits or 'squeezes' out of their commands. In order to report an instance I questioned one of these in command at Pekin. He informed me that he commanded 10,000 men. I ascertained that all he actually commanded was 800. His method is common in China. He receives the money to pay, feed and clothe 10,-000 men. If his army is to be inspected, he hires coolies at 51/2 pence a day to appear on parade. This is well known to the inspecting officer, but he receives a doucer to report that he has inspected the army and found it in perfect order." Of the army of Chi-li Lord Beresford says: "I went to Hsiao Chan to attend a review of the troops of General Yuan Shi Kai and not only saw all his troops paraded and manoeuvered, but had ample opportunity to examine the equipments of all their arms. The strength of the army was 7,400 men, mostly Shangtung men. These and the Hunanese are reported to make the best soldiers in China. General Yuan Shi Kai is a Chinaman, and his army is composed of Chinese. The infantry were armed with Mauser rifles. He had ten 6 gun batteries of different calibers, throwing from 1 to 16 pound projectiles. The cavalry were armed with lances and a Mauser infantry rifle. On parade the whole appeared an exceptionally smart body of men of extremely fine physique. They were evidently well fed, and their uniforms were very serviceable and well kept. At my request the general put them through various parade movements and then carried out manoeuvers in the surrounding country, which proved to me that both officers and men were thoroughly conversant with their duties. With the exception of the artillery and the Maxims all the equipment was serviceable and efficient. I suggested to the general practically test the equipment of the artillery and the Maxims by galloping them over some rough ground. The result was to prove conclusively that the equipment was useless. This army is the only army complete in all detail according to European ideas that I found in China."

speeches were announced, Mr. George Wrigley, sen., editor of The Citizen and Country, of Toronto, acting as chair man. He said he regarded it as an honor to be asked to preside on such an occasion, although another had been chosen to do so, Ald. J. J. Ward, of Toronto, who was unfortunately prevented from attending on account of family affliction. They were there, he said, as law-abiding citizens, to advocate the cause of labor, and in the interests of the striking street railway employes of London. While he was not there to blame any particular persons, yet it was unfortunate that the harmony of such an occasion as that of the annual gathering of the Old Boys should be marred by such a trouble: till, the striking street car men had rights which should be adjusted. Those in authority had tried to crush the men by making obectionable arrangements. He honed that a renewed effort would be made to have the trouble settled by arbitration. Introducing the next speaker, Mr. John Davidson, of Detroit, Mr. Wrig-ley said he (Davidson) was one of his pupils when he taught school in London West many years ago. Mr. Davidson said the street car strike was no longer one in which London alone was interested, but the whole of Canada and the United States. He knew of no place where a better or more manly fight had been fought than He assured the strikers that they had the moral and financial support of trades unions of Detroit.

Mr. D. A. Carey, past president of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, was then introduced as the lightning speaker," and he was true to his reputation. While he could not claim, he said, to be a London Old Boy, yet he came as a Canadian to welcome the people from the United States, and by people he meant the toilers. The struggle of the street car strikers is only beginning, he said. A year ago it was in its infancy; today it is in its boyhood, with sympathizers throughout Canada and the United States deeply interested in its outcome. What was needed was the hearty co-operation of ity-freedom to organize, and the taining of a living wage-was bound to

President James Wilson, of the To-ronto Trades and Labor Coun-oil, said that if the same amount of energy displayed by the local commit-tee of the Old Boys' Association in the interests of Springbank had been used on behalf of the strikers, the trouble would have been settled eighteen months ago. The men had a just cause, and one in which they were bound to succeed. It was at the polis, he said in conclusion, that the workers should seek redress, and make it a point never to forget their enemies

Secretary Chas. Wheat, of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, stated that $529 had already been sent to London by the Toronto sympathizers of the street car strikers, and more was coming, too. The only way to settle the present trouble was to arbitrate the present differences, and as the strikers were quite willing to adopt this peaceful means the company should be compelled to do so. Mr. George Weston Wrigley, of Toronto, spoke along capitalistic lines, advocating public ownership of rail-ways, telegraphs, etc. None but men who thoroughly understood the cause of labor, he said, should be elected. He spoke mostly on the benefits to be derived from organized labor, instancing the case of the 'longshoremen, who, he said, received, but 15 cents an hour in 1892 and now get 60 cents as a result of being organized. STRANGEST OF LAKES.

The result of a survey of Lake Chelan in the northern part of the State Washington has been given out by Gen. Merriam, commander of that department. He says in his report: "The cliffs on each side of the lake were most precipitous, towering up in many places to a height of 1,500 2,000 feet. But it is the lake itself that is the greatest marvel. Its waters are clear and blue, and by actual soundings have been found to be of an average depth of 3,000 feet. This seems almost incredible, but it is the truth. The width of the lake varies from a mile and a half to two miles, but the length is the most remarkable of all. "When I pointed up toward what appeared to be the head of the lake and asked the Indians if the lake was not about three miles long, they laughed and shook their heads. They said it was a three-days' journey for a four-oared canoe. I determined to see for myself, so the next morning my engineer and I and two Indians started up the lake in the largest canoe the natives possessed.

"It was impossible to go on the lake shore as in most places the mountains ran sheer down to the water's edge. We rowed along until we came to the northern confine of the lake and there we found that it made a big bend to the right and stretched on and on. The next day we started out again, and on the third day at nightfall, just as the Indians had said, we reached the head of the lake. On the return trip we measured the distance and found the length to be a fraction over and tomorrow will be clear and cold.

STRENUOUS WEATHER!

"The wires being down," wrote the obliging editor of a village paper during a raging blizzard, "we have not received our usual weather report, we publish that of yesterday." best, perhaps, but his readers could scarcely have benefited much by Another country editor, under like circumstance, showed more enterprise. "No weather report received," he announced, "but not wishing to disappoint the public, we went around personally to the postoffice about mailtime to consult the best authority available, whom we considered to be Cap'n Daniel Atterbury. From Cap'n Daniel we learned that the storm will break before midnight, with a rapid drop in the thermometer to follow,
