The Manitoba Bill is Withdrawn by Tupper.

Physical Force Has Proved a Complete Failure.

Mr. Laurier's Further Exposure of Double-Faced Tactics.

Many Conservative Members Repudiate the Policy of Their Leaders.

Dissolution of Parliament to Take Place Next Week.

General Elections to be Held Between May 22 and June 3.

Ottawa, April 16.-Early this morning, the Manitoba school bill was practically withdrawn by Sir Charles Tupper, in accordance with the prophecy of many Conservative M. P.s. The intention, it seems, was from the first to use the bill merely to get votes, and to make no honest effort to settle the Parliament will be prorogued next Thursday, and the House will be dissolved on the following day. The election will be between May 20 and June will be taken up.

There were some interesting developments before the House rose at 2:30 ment. this morning.

Dr. Landerkin commented upon the fact that Judge Doyle, a Roman Cath-Government when Mr. Masson was made senior judge of Huron. Had this course been taken, he asked, be-cause the Secretary of State had "no confidence in the breed"? Dr. Landerkin deplored the fact that the Government made a man's religion a bar to public office.

Dr. Borden quoted the prophetic words uttered by Mr. Angers when he went out of the Government last session. The ex-Minister of Agriculture said on July 4, 1895: "Between this sides of the House.) day and the day when Parliament is to meet such an excitement will grow over the country, if Parliament hesitates today, it will then be afraid. I believe remedial legislation has received such a blow by the action of the Government that we will never have if, and consequently I could not take upon myself the responsibility of remaining with them." Dr. Borden commented upon the action of Mr. Ouimet and Sir Adolphe Caron in capitulating when Mr. Angers went out.

A remarkable turn was given to the debate after dinner by Sam Hughes. The gallant major arose and asked Mr. Wallace, his fellow-Conservative M.P., if he charged him with writing a letter signed "West York Conservative," which appeared in the Mail a few

Mr. Wallace replied that Mr. Hughes had no right to catechise him. Mr. Hughes said that was the size of the answer he expected. The letter referred to was not written by him and he read a telegram from the edithe Mail stating that he (Hughes) had nothing to do with it directly or indirectly.

Mr. Somerville—Where do you stand on this bill? (Laughter.) Dr. Landerkin-On both sides. Mr. Hughes, continuing, said that up a few months ago no one stood higher in his estimation than Mr. Wal-Dr. Landerkin-That was his misfortune. (Laughter.) Mr. Hughes insisted that Mr. Wallace knew something about the anonymous letters in the famous Montague-Wallace libel case. Mr. Wallace sailed into Mr. Hughes in reply. He characterized Mr. Hughes as an egotist, and read from an article by that member in which he had mentioned his own name 97 times. This caused much merriment on both sides of the House, to the great discomfiture of Mr. Hughes. Mr. Wallace exposed Mr. Hughes' inconsistency, and his sycophancy towards the men in power. Mr. Hughes owns and edits the Lindsay Warder. In it he wrote editorially, on Jan. 10, in reference to Premier Bowell: "Whether he will act a man and a patriot and send for Sir Charles Tupper or play the part of a poltroon and a coward and wreck the party is only a question few days." In another editorial it was stated that the following gentlemen were opposed to remedlegislation in their hearts: Charles Tupper, Baronet; Hon. J. G. Haggart, Hon. George Foster. Hon. Dr. Montague, Hon. J. F. Wood, Hon. Ar-

"'Etcetera' is a good word,' said Mr.

They are only acting as the sheriff of the condemned one-(uproarious laughter)-executing the judgment of the highest court in the realm." which he did amid the ringing merri-yourself into a hornet's nest tonight.

At 11:30 last night, the motion by committee rise and report was de-feated. Then Sir Charles Tupper rose of and moved a similar motion, which was an announcement that the bill would not be further proceeded with. Once more he asserted that the bill had been obstructed. There were some important questions on which he regretted the opinion of Parliament had not been taken. He was sorry, for instance, that Mr. Dupont's amendment to clause 74, providing for the grant to Catholic schools in the event to aid them, had not been reached. Under all the circumstances, he could only move that the committee rise.

There was in the manner of the leader of the House nothing of the assurance and bravado with which a week or two since he entered the struggle out of which he is emerging defeated and crestfallen, if such a thing were possible with him. He was mild and subdued as befitted the worsted warrior when taking off his armor. He spoke unsupported by one encouraging cheer. When he sat down after moving that the committee rise. the first cheer to break the quietude broke from the Liberal benches upon the rising of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. Laurier said, as to the regrets of Sir Charles that Mr. Dupont's amend-3. Today, the supplementary estimates ment had not been presented to the committee, two Ministers, Messrs. Dickey and Ouimet, pronounced against the constitutionality of this amen 1-

Sir Charles Tupper-We have had a.m. nine hours of persistent obstruction

Mr. Laurier-You have had nine hours' discussion upon a motion to adjourn, which was made at 2 o'clock in the morning at a very proper time, Mr. Wallace-It was made at 4 o'clock in the morning.

Several Ministerial members-Two Mr. Laurier-It matters not whether it was made at 4 o'clock or 2 o'clock, the motion was made at a time when the House should no longer have been in session and when the Government should have acceded to the motion because it was fair and reasonable. If there had been talk upon this motion it is simply that the hon, gentleman must understand that the bullying methods with which he has sought to deal with this House will not be asscrited to. (Hear, hear.) We want to discuss every question that comes up fairly before this House. We want to give at every attention, but if the hon. gentleman thinks he can carry this measure.or any other measure.through the House by preventing the course of legitimate discussion he is very much mistaken. The hon, gentleman said that, according to an eminent authority, we were the second Legislative Assembly in the world. The first Legtslative Assembly is the Great Britain Parliament, but such conduct as we witnessed last week in this Assembly has never been seen in the British

Sir Charles Tupper-Hear, hear; we admit that. The hon. gentleman must admit that It is an open confession that at last he feels he has been in the wrong. The best evidence that there has been no obstruction given to this bill-(Ministerial cries of "Oh, oh!")-that there has been nothing but fair discussion, is that almost every of the fourteen clauses adopted by the committee had been amended by the committee-amended and accepted by the Government. Yesterday the hon, gentleman read to this House a telegram from his Grace the Archbishop of St. Boniface that he would accept the bill as it was, and when we went into committee on section 14 the first gentleman to offer an amendment to this clause was the Minister of Public Works. There is more. Whose fault is it if today this bill is not proceeded with. Who has had charge of this question? Who is responsible for this question of all questions? Where is the Government of the country? Where is the majority? Where are the men responsible to the country at large? They are upon the Treasury benches? Whose fault is it if the hon, gentlemen who sit on the Freasury benches for five long weeks did not dare to take up this question? Whose fault is it if after they took hold of it they did it with an order in ouncil, which was drastic and violent in its tone, which, instead of inviting conciliation on the part of Mani-toba, almost forced Manitoba to a hostile action? Whose fault was it, after calling a session last year to deal with the other business and with this question, this question was never brought up? Whose fault was it? I want to know, if there was wrangling between the rival factions of the Government when the only man who was endowed with courage and conviction was forced to withdraw from the Cabinet? Whose fault was it that in July last they undertook to invite negotiations with Manitoba, and six months passed and no negotiations took place? Whose fault was it if, when we met on Jan. 2, purposely to deal with this question, we found the Cabinet divided into two factions, one Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleas-when they had patched up their differences, when they were more or less a united family, that the bill was not introduced? Whose fault was it that, introduced? instead of the bill being introduced, we proceeded with the budget debate?

Whose fault was it if 60 days elapsed before the bill was introduced? Whose fault was it that the bill was introduced for discussion we had come to the until dying days of the session when the life of this Parliament can only go on until Mr. Edgar asked him to read once the 24th of this month? It was not the more the names of those who were so fault of anybody but the honorable much opposed to remedial legislation, gentlemen who sit on the Treasury benches. (Cheers.) They say they have had to withdraw this bill from ment of the House. have had to withdraw this bill Mr. Lister—Sam Hughes, you got the committee at the present time—

Sir Charles Tupper—No, no.

Mr. Laurier—That it is due to ob struction. It is a statement which, for Mr. Stubbs (Conservative) that the my part, I am quite willing to leave to judgment of the impartial electors of this country. (Cheers.)

he claimed to be as good a Conservaof the Provincial authorities refusing tive as any member on the Treasury benches, and he was satisfied more than half the Conservatives in the country were opposed to this measure. Sir Charles Tupper had read Messrs. McNeill and Sproule out of the Conservative party, but why had he not done the same with Messrs. Wallace and Weldon? Why not? Because he realized he had gone too far in his attempts to dragoon a free Parliament

"Well," said Mr. Davin, "if that is to be the banner 'under which the Conservative plause and cries of "Read him out.") Continuing, Mr. Davin said that to hear the Minister of Public Works one would suppose that some great grievance was being suffered by a class of the people. But the truth was that there was only a sentiment, and no grievance which had any basis in actual conditions. Winterset, Iowa, April 16.-C. Davies, confined in the county jail charged with wrecking a bank at Peru, of which he was eashier, and Ed. Streeter, an alleged harness thief, escaped Tuesday night by tunnel-ling under the jail. The other prisoners refused to escape. The prisoners had been digging the tunnel ever since Easter Sunday. The dirt was concealed by throwing it on top of a cage. The tunnel is 36 feet in length and at one point is 14 feet under ground. Davies, it is charged, robbed the Peru bank of $15,000 last July. He was caught in November, at Avoca, N. Y. where he was running a bank under the name of Douglas. Parties are scouring the country for them. The sheriff offers $100 reward for their capture.

A MONTREAL SENSATION. Downfall of Rosario Bourdon-Fasci nated by an Opera Girl.

Montreal, April 15 .- From the position of cashler and confidential clerk in the Richelleu and Ontario Navigation Company's office, Montreal, to that of a singer in a Parisian cafe, is considerable of a change many will admit, and, as in Eden, woman was the cause of it all. Rosario Bourdon was the unfortunate young man, who, becoming fascinated with one of the ladies of the French opera, left wife and family and an overdrawn account to the extent of several thousand dollars, sailed for la belle France. Yesterday High Constable Bissonnetee received a telegram from the chief of police in the French capital saying that Bourdon had been arrested in one of the provincial towns, where, in com-pany with Mile. Marie Legendre, he was earning his living singing at the different cafe concerts. Mr. Bissonnette will leave tomorrow for Paris to bring back the prisoner. A joint meeting of the Western Fair Board building committee and Board of Works will be held tomorrow night, when a definite course of procedure will be mapped out. ### Canada for the Canadians, But Canadian Money for American Patent Medicine Manufacturers.

Many Canadians preach about the patriotism they fancy they possess. They are the most loyal subjects in the British Empire in their own estimations. Yet when some of them have a dollar to spend they pass by articles of superior Canadian manufacture for nerves upon proper nourishment what Over College Teams-Sporting News of can you expect but nervous prostration, debility and nervous headaches? If the cause is found in impure blood, the cure must be in making the blood pure. This is just what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, and it has proved the true nerve tonic because it is the true blood purifier, and the solace, comfort and defender of thousands of housewives, teachers, clerks and other sufferers of of both sexes. Just read this letter:

"I think it is my duty to tell what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me and my family. Two years ago I was in a weak, nervous condition and had dreadful palpitations or jumping of my heart, followed by sinking spells, which would last for several minutes. Sometimes it would seem as though I would never come out of them. I was treated by the best physicians, but only for a little time did they help me. I seemed to be growing worse instead of better. I would often seem hungry, but when I ate, no matter how little, it would cause me such misery that I was often wicked enough to wish myself dead. I had that languid, all-gone feeling and suffered awful distress in my stomach. I had given up all hopes of ever being well, when my mother wished me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I consented, to please her, and before I had taken the whole of one bottle I could see I was improving, and soon was indeed very much better. Its effects have been truly wonderful and I hope this letter may be the means of help-to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and be benefited by it. We have used Hood's Pills in our family and find them very excellent, especially for constipation. We give Hood's medicines great praise, and if anyone complains of feeling badly, I say 'You should take Hood's and only Hood's.'" McIntosh, John Hendrick, David Hay, W. H. Taylor, J. M. Cochrane and Geo. Smith, farmers of the counties of Lambton and Middlesex, against Geo. Hendrie, a horse man of St. Marys. The statement of claim complained of sets out that the defendant, Hendrie, induced the plaintiffs, who formed a syndicate, to buy a horse named "Gladstone" for $1,600, representing that the horse was very speedy. Hendrie then arranged, so it is alleged, a match race for $500 between "Gladstone" and "Nutwood Wilkes," another trotter, promising to drive 'Gladstone," but he did not do so, and "Gladstone" lost the race and the syndicate teams are not easy game for Shannon's Hendrie for $1,000 for breach of contract their money. Now the syndicate are suing for not driving the horse, and $1,000 for alleged fraud in getting up the match race. The motion was made on the ground that the contract to drive for the race was illegal and there is no cause for action, Judgment was reserved.

Hugh Cameron was one of the pair. Cameron was up on Tuesday, and as he had 85 cents in his pocket and last belonged to Glanworth, the magistrate ordered that he be detained until the afternoon train, and then purchase a ticket for his home. "Why wasn't that done?" the magistrate asked sharply, when he called Cameron. The sergeant on duty replied that Cameron had been kept until train time and then let go. The sergeant was about to explain why this was done, but the magistrate interrupted "I instructed the officer to go to the station with him," he said, "and why was that not done. There is no reason why it should not have been." The sergeant explained that Cameron had left two parcels of clothing in different places in the city, and would only have had to come back again if he had been shipped off. "The next time I issue instructions they had better be followed out," the court continued, as he imposed $2 or ten days on Cameron.

The other prisoner, an elderly man, was also fined $2 or ten days. He denied that he was drunk, and said he only had a severe attack of rheumatism. The old man's mability to wark was found to have been caused by whisky.

Sam Gibson appeared to answer the charge of threatening the life of his The case was adjourned until Monday.

Quebec Flooded!

Incalculable Damage in the Eastern Townships.

The Quebec Central's Great Bridge Swept Away-Factories Shut Down.

Montreal, April 16.—Almost incalculable damage is being done in the Eastern Townships of Quebec by water rising in the rivers, due to the sin melting the snow. Railway buildings and tracks are washed out, houses are submerged, and the employes of factories where the fires are not extinguished go to and from their work in bcats.

The Quebec Central lost its great iron bridge, 150 feet long, which crosses a ravine at Ste. Anselme, 21 miles south of Point Levis. The ice lodged in the gorge and brought down the structure with a crash as the foaming waters rushed against the obstruction. This cuts off all communication between this section and the New England States.

In the vicinity of Sherbrooke the Maine have been washed out in various places. Traffic will be interrupted for weeks.

Sweeping past the city of Sherbrooke, the St. Francis River has burst from its confines, and in a raging torrent covers the country for the distance of half a mile between that city and Richmond. The Jenckes Machine Company works at Sherbrooke have been submerged, and so rapid was the rise of the water that the employes had to be taken out in boats. Several oth r. factories on higher ground are surrounded by water, and the employes have to sail to their work. Riverside dwellings and warehouses are submerged. At Richmond the damage is very great. The water is several feet deep in the main street of the town. In two wards the cellars of houses are all awash and the village of Jainesville is completely submerged. Ulvertin and Melbourne suffered in a lesser degre. The water is still rising. The back districts from which reports have not been received as yet are no doubt suffering in a like manner.

MONTREAL'S DANGER. Montreal, April 16.-The danger of a flood is not over by any means, and will not be over till the ice from the upper lakes comes down. The river is at present a little over 38 feet high, and it only needs to rise about six inches more to flood the lower streets of the city.

In an interview today, he is quoted as saying that the object of his trip across the Atlantic is chiefly to inspect the road. management, he added, was heartily gratified at the manner of the shareholders at the recent semi-annual meeting. At the next meeting there will be several important financial measures to discuss, the most important being the receivership of the Vermont Central Railroad, now under the control of the Grand Trunk. This matter, said the railroad president, will receive the most careful attention, as the Vermont Central is a valuable part of the Grand Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson said: "We do not propose to lease any new roads. Our policy is one of strict conservatism. We must contract, rather than expand the service. There will be a special meeting of the traffic association in New York in order to confer upon difarrangements with all our competitors, especially the Canadian Pacific.'

One Price and that CASH!

Because

Don't buy goods of any kind because they are advertised as being cheap. Perhaps they are too cheap to wear long. We don't fill our store with the cheapest goods we can buy. Not at all. If we did we would have a slaughter sale of some kind on every week or oftener. When we buy we always aim to get the best goods for the least money, and that's what we want you to do. We avoid slaughter sales because our goods are right, and are sold at

We're not in business to lose money. Yet people wonder how we sell our highclass goods at such close prices. They do not realize that manufacturing has been completely revolutionized of late years, and that the possibilities of ready money are greater than ever before. Buying and selling strictly for cash, instead of asking three or six months' credit, turns to your advantage in such prices as those given here. Our shoe department offers the best values, the newest styles, at the closest possible prices, because we look after it in just the same way as our other departments, yet we are not under half the expense of other dealers. That's auditorium was occupied by the mourners and relatives, and among those present were: Prof. and Mrs. William Saunders, and Miss Saunders, Ottawa; Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Pitcher, Stanstead, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McMechan,

The service began by the singing of the hymn:

"Oh for a faith that will not shrink Though pressed by every foe.' Rev. Dr. Sanderson followed with a very touching prayer, and Miss Roblin sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," in such a tender manner, and with so much expression, that many were movwhich had been entered into, as she read a Scripture lesson from the 15th chapter of Paul's First Epistle to the chair and threw her arms around the her benefit in case he should not reach | Corinthians. The congregation then sang "Come, Ye Disconsolate," and Rev. A. L. Russell, chairman of the district, spoke briefly, and very feelingly. Another hymn, "How Happy Every Child of Grace," followed, and Rev. George Richardson, of Mount Forest, who was introduced by Mr. Lancemade an address.

"We have met this hour," said he "to pay our tribute of respect to the memory of no ordinary man. Brother Robinson, like Solomon of olden time was head and shoulders above his brethren. He was a marvelous man, believe that our venerable friend. Dr. Sanderson, has uttered the feeling of every one here when he said in his tender prayer that God had blessed him with a long and useful life. Now I believe that Brother Robinson's life was useful, largely because he was a religious man."

Continuing, Mr. Richardson spoke of his first meeting with deceased, and said that there was more than simple intellectuality in his religion. He was a man of deep tenderness, a wonderful speaker and a wonderful and unexcelled debater. He was also a man of deep, broad reading, and no one would ever say that he was cowardly, or lazy, or indifferent. He had a large degree of business power, which he used well in the cause of God and the church of his choice. "I see Mr. John Cameron here." said Mr. Richardson, "and I am sure he will stand by what I say in this regard. The fact is, I heard Mr. Robinson say one day, 'I made John Cameron.' suppose John Cameron has, I may claim, had his first opportunity and his first journalistic training under this great man. Brother Robinson had fine business talents."

Mr. Richardson further alluded to the dead man's patience, and the fact that he had gone to a brighter sphere, where, he trusted, they all would mee him by and by.

At the close of Mr. Richardson's address, Dr. Daniel announced the hymn, "A Day's March Nearer Home," and as it was concluded Rev. Dr. Williams. president of the London Conference, be-

"His life was a rainbow that almost spanned a century," said he, referring to deceased."The century was not seven years old when Brother Robinson be came an actor amid the scenes of this earthly life, he has passed away while the century has but five years more to run, when it shall give place to another Lombard, and saw the Cohen girl play-ing with others on the sidewalk. Dr. Williams then related some personal incidents illustrative of the dead man's kindness of heart, his veneration for his wife and love for his family. He described him as a rich, racy writer, whose editorials on the subject of Union carried the English New Connexion Conference by storm in 1874. The speaker would never forget the first sermon he heard Mr. Robinson preach, in 1855, and he yet remembered the text, which he recited at length. The sermon was an inspiration to him. After referring to "Father" Robinson's love for his "boys" in the university, and to his wonderful financial management, he said: "For many years he lived the life of an earnest, vigorous, manly citizen. His life was full of honor and full of bright promise of a better life to come. A loving father, a nobly devoted husband, prince among preachers, a manager of rare shrewd ness and sagacity and forethought, a man touching God on one hand in the sweetest and richest spirituality in his nature, and touching humanity at all points of social interest somewhere or other. THE TOBACCO HABIT CURED.

In the interest of the masses, for whom these reports are compiled, the United States Health Reports have examined and investigated many preparations having for their object the cure of the tobacco habit, but among them all we have no hesitancy in giving the editorial and official endorsement of these reports to the remedy known as "Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure," manufactured by the Keystone Remedy Company, at 218 La Salle street, Chicago. They are distributing literature this week all through the city, and in the light of our examinations and tests of "Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure," we are but performing a duty we owe the public when we indorse the same, and stamp it as the crowning achievement of the nineteenth century, in the way of destroying a habit as disgusting as it is common (For Only $i) hence we earnestly advise you to read full particulars, and if you have not seen circulars to call at W.
