Overseas Men's Performance Before Grandstand Thrilling.

GOOD MORNING ATTENDANCE

Midway Ready for Pleasure-Seekers After Early Delays.

With every train bringing hundreds of additional visitors to the city, today seems likely to be the most popular of the week at the Western Fair. Even the week at the Western Fair. Even this morning there was a large attendance at the grounds, and the streams of people pouring to the eastern part of the city early this affernoon indicated a record-breaking attendance for the afternoon and evening performances.

Military manouvres undoubtedly account for the attendance of a large number of citizens as well as that of many people from the surrounding districts. In addition to the regular performance before the grandstand this afternoon there was an interesting spectacle staged by the men from Carling Heights. An exhibition of physical drill was followed by bayonet fighting and other phases of trench warfare.

This feature is proving popular with the returned men in the city, and numbers of them were on the grounds this afternoon and will witness the performance.

Reinforcements under the Military Service Act immediately

It is the intention of the Government immediately to exercise the power which the Act confers and to call out men for military service in order to provide reinforcements for the Canadian Forces. This is necessary since the military authorities report that the reserves available or in sight for reinforcement will shortly be exhausted unless this step be taken.

First call limited to men between 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917

The present call will be limited to men not in the schedule of exemptions who were unmarried or widowers without children on 6th July, 1917, are at least twenty years of age, and were born on or since 1st January, 1883. Of this Class all those will be entitled to conditional exemption whose services in their present occupations, agricultural, industrial or other, are essential in the national interest, and whose business or domestic responsibilities are such that serious hardship would ensue if their services be required. Conscientious scruples based upon a prohibition of combatant service by the articles of faith of the religious denomination to which men belong will also be respected. The men first required to serve will consequently be those who can be called upon with the least disturbance of the economic and social life of the country.

Civil Tribunals to deal with exemptions

Questions of exemption will be determined, not by the military authorities or by the Government, but by civil tribunals composed of representative men who are familiar with local conditions in the communities in which they serve, who will generally have personal knowledge of the economic and family reasons which those whose cases come before them have had for not volunteering their services and who will be able sympathetically to estimate the weight and importance of such reasons. Provincial Appellate Tribunals constituted from the existing judiciary of the respective provinces will be provided to correct mistakes made by Local Tribunals, and a Central Appeal Tribunal for the whole of Canada, selected from among the present Judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, will be constituted in order that identical principles may be applied throughout the country. In this way every man may rest assured of the fair and full consideration of his circumstances and the national rec ments both civil and military.

Proclamation will announce the day

A proclamation will issue calling out the bachelors and widowers referred to and fixing a day on or before which every man must report for service to the military authorities unless he has before that day made an application for exemption.

How to apply for exemption

Applications for exemption may be made by written notice on forms which will be available at every post office, and will be transmitted free of postage. They will not, however, be required to be made in this way, but may be presented by the applicants in person to the exemption tribunals. The cases of those who have given written notice in advance will take precedence, and appearance in person will therefore be likely to involve considerably more inconvenience and delay to the men concerned, so that it is recommended that advantage be generally taken of the facilities for written appli-

Exemption Tribunals in all parts of Canada

The local exemption tribunals will be constituted with the least delay possible, consistent with the selection of representative individuals to compose them, and the instruction of the members in their duties. There will be more than one thousand of such tribunals throughout Canada, each consisting of two members, one of whom will be nominated by a Joint Committee of Parliament, and the other by one of the Judges of the existing Courts. Every effort will be made by the wide distribution of tribunals, and by provision where necessary for their sitting in more than one place, to minimise the inconvenience to which men will be put in obtaining the disposition of their cases.

A Registrar will be appointed in each Province, who will be named in the proclamation and to whom enquiries may be addressed. Each Provincial Registrar will transmit to the appropriate tribunal the applications for exemption which have been submitted in advance of the sittings, and men who have sent these in will not be required to attend the tribunals until notified to do so. Other applicants should attend personally on the tribunal without notice.

How to report for service

Men who do not desire to claim exemption will report to the military authorities for service either by mail or in person at any time after the issue of the proclamation. Forms of report by mail will be found in all post offices, and, like applications for exemption, will be transmitted free of

Early report advantageous

No man who reports for service will, although he may be medically examined and passed as fit, be required to go into camp or join a battalion until after a day fixed by the proclamation sufficiently late to permit of the disposition by the local tribunals of most, if not all, of the applications for exemption which may come before them. Thus no advantage will be gained by delaying or disadvantage incurred by prompt report for service on the part of those who do not intend to apply for exemption.

Facilities for immediate medical examination

Immediately upon the issue of the proclamation, medical boards will sit at every mobilization centre for the examination of men who report for service or who, subject to their right within the time limited to apply for exemption, desire to have their physical fitness determined in order to allay any doubt as to their physical condition, or to know definitely and in advance whether there is a possibility of their services being required. Certificates of physical unfitness issued by these Medical Boards will be accepted without any further investigation by exemption tribunals when they sit. Men found physically fit who have not reported for service may nevertheless apply for exemption on any of the prescribed grounds, including even their physical condition if dissatisfied with the Medical Board's

Notice to join the colors

As reinforcements are required, notice to report at the nearest mobilization centre will be given from time to time to the men found liable and passed as fit for service. Disobedience of such notice will render the offender liable to punishment, but punishment for failure to report for military service, or to report subsequently for duty when called upon, will be imposed ordinarily by the civil magistrates; offenders, however, will remain liable for the performance of their military duties notwithstanding any civil punishment which may be imposed and will be liable to military punishment in cases in which civil proceedings are not taken.

Watch for the Proclamation

Notice of the day appointed for the making of a claim for exemption or for report for military service will be published as widely as possible, but, as no personal notice can be given until the individuals called out have so reported themselves or claimed exemption, men possibly concerned are warned to inform themselves with regard to the day fixed, since neglect may involve the loss by them of important privileges and rights.

The assignment of winning thirty games three years in a row is no light one. Cy Young won over 500 ball games in his career, but the Paoli Phenom only passed the thirty game mark for two successive seasons. Rube Waddell was never able to win thirty games. Neither was Chief

Bender nor Eddie Plank. Jack Coombs passed this mark but once. Mathewson was the first and last pitcher to know three such years in un broken order, and his mark of 1903-1905 still stands, with the Philly premier Fluttering around the twenty-five game margin, Alexander still has a firstclass chance to gather in enough victories to tie Matty's record. The TRAIL BLAZER to greater Motor Car Value

From the standpoint of dollar for dollar value there's not a car made which offers more for your money than the famous Chevrolet Four-Ninety A.

Before the Chevrolet was made in Canada, good cars were all high in price. But our mammoth production and manufacturing efficiency enables us to sell the Chevrolet Four-Ninety A at a price much lower than its value when compared with other makes of cars. With the surplus power developed by the famous valve-in-head motor the owner of a Four-Ninety A invariably is the "trail blazer." Standard equipment includes speedometer, electric starting and lighting, ammeter, oil indicator light equipment, one man top, demountable rims, non-skid tires on rear wheels and many features usually looked for in cars much higher in price.

There Is a Great Market In Great Britain for Milk Products

CONDENSED MILK. Swiss and Dutch Condensed Milk has hitherto been imported in immense quantities into Great Britain. Some is also imported from Norway. The market for imported condensed milk is valued at about $11,000,000 a year. Australia is endeavoring, and with success, to gain a foothold in this market with preserved milk. From $250 in 1910, she increased her sales to $85,000 in 1913. New Zealand managed to export for the first time, during the last five years, $32,000

The commission noted with satisfaction that there is a desire on the part of the British public to buy Canadian condensed milk. Before the war many sizes were common in Great Britain, varying from 4 oz. to 24 oz. The demand now is for only six or eight sizes. One buyer at Birmingham "prefers skimmed milk, but sweetened with sugar." He has been buying in Holland at the following 48 1-lb tins, 96 1/2-lb tins. Margarine and confectionery makers use large quantities of Milk Powder The demand is for 28 lb, 56 lb, and 336 lb packages.

The war greatly affected trade with Allies and Neutrals. Great Britain had to pay a high price to the Netherlands in 1915 for condensed milk and milk pow-der. Italy had to drop out, and Canada took the lowest place on the supply record. There is a market in Great Britain for milk powder. The imports are valued at $350,000 a year. Heretofore the Netherlands have been the chief source of supply. Australia (Victoria) sent $60,000 and New Zealand $15,000 in 1913.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF STREET RAILWAYS.

"Watts Watt." The official organ of the Portland Railway and Light Com-pany, Portland, Oregon, contains the following in its August 10th issue: "The city of Seattle continues to throw money in a 'rathole' in its experiment with municipal ownership of street railways.

According to an item in the Seattle Times, a few days ago, the aggregate loss to the city has been $111,251.65 since the city owned and operated lines in augurated service three years ago. The item is as follows:
"Seattle's municipal street car lines were operated during the month of Ju-at a loss of $2,361.34. June was the first month of the fourth year of street car operation by the city. "In three years the city lines cost $108,890,31 more than the revenues, an the month of June brought the total loss to $111,251.65.

SIX MONTHS OF MINING.

Total mining dividends for the first six months of 1917 amounted to $136,-806,522, which means that if the rate is maintained for the last six months, mining companies this year will pay their stockholders $273,613,044. This figure compares with total dividend disbursements of $182,556,615 in 1916, which was a record-breaking year in the industry to that date.

When it is "emembered that prosperous mining companies usually disburse extra ,or "Christmas" dividends, in December, it is quite likely that the total for the latter half of this year will exceed the first half, and may surpass the 1916 record by a round $1'0,000,000. These figures take no account of a number of privately owned mines which make no public statement of their earnings or

No argument for the stability of the mining industry, nor the tremendous prosperity being enjoyed by producing mining companies, is necessary; the figures are sufficient.—Jones & Baker News Letter.

NO ECONOMY IN ALLOWING BUILDINGS TO DETERIOR-ATE BY NOT PAINTING .- By Ernest T. Trigg.

Economy is certainly not only desirable but essential in the existing crisi but there are forms of apparent economy which are in reality nothing but ag

It is easy to become hysterical, and still easier to become foolish on the mat ter of economy, which in the final analysis is not so simple as it looks. A man who refrained from eating would certainly help to conserve our food supply, but by starving himself to death in the process he would squander presumably of infinitely greater value to the community than the food he might

The stoppage of all industry would save wages, but such saving would surely be the reverse of economy. Real economy is perhaps more frequently practiced by the spending of money than by the withholding of it.

Of high rank among the many items of negative economy stands the easy practice of deferring improvements or expenses for upkeep. The time to scrap antiquated methods and obsolete machinery is when the pinch of necessity demands increased production at lower costs. The time to maintain the highest standard of upkeep is when capital is hardest to get at and replacement costs are almost prohibitive.

Consequently, now is the time, if ever, when existing properties should be sedulously maintained in perfect condition. Such condition can be maintained only by systematic repainting at proper intervals.

Even in normal times the average property owner is too apt to regard painting as a "movable feast," forgetting that this thin film of oil and pigment, the thickness of which is expressed in thousandths of an inch, is the only efficient shield for his structure against the ravages of the elements. Unprotected woo will not, unprotected steel will rust, paint will safeguard both indefinitely. Thus a few dollars' worth of paint applied at proper intervals will preserve the most costly structures indefinitely. There are many wooden houses scattered through the seaboard States that have been preserved in good condition from one hu dred to two hundred and fifty years by this means. The great Forth Bridge, from the time of its erection has been maintained in the same way. It requires three years for complete painting, consequently when the painters finish at one and they immediately go to the other end and start again.

The cost of materials for any one job is about 25 per cent of the total cost, the rest being labor; consequently the relative price of the paint at any one time s negligible, and the property owner who delays painting because of fluctuations a the cost of materials, lays stress on an immaterial factor. The time to paint is when paint is needed and there is no economy in delaying necessary repainting because of present conditions. Economy is conservation and conservation is the essential function of paint.

THE NAUGHTY, NAUGHTY MAN.

He was a meek little man, about to be examined for life insurance. "You don't dissipate, do you?" asked the physician, as he made ready for tests. "Not a fast liver, or anything of that sort?"

The little man hesitated a moment, looked a bit frightened, then replied in a small, piping voice: "Well, er-I sometimes chew a little gum.

WALL STREET CONDITIONS.

Uncertainty is a poor foundation for enterprise. Fogs stop progress temporarily. Lights are burning somewhere, but they are invisible. There are so many uncertainties clouding decision that trading in the market is left to floor operators and professionals. Two things usually hold prices up; outside buying and inside support. Of the former there has been little for some time and, for the last two weeks, the latter has been practically absent. Prices would seem to have discounted all possible or remote happenings—even peace. Dulness usually follows after considerable declines, such as have taken place, and speculators look for an irregular market in which purchases on the recessions and sales on bulges will be favored.

There has been some investment buying of importance at the low levels. A number of good stocks are selling at pre-war prices and, as in the case of some of the standard railroads, below such prices. When the vital questions of prices and of taxes are settled, and fairly settled as now seem probable, activity will be resumed, and the enormous volume of business, even if profits are more moderate, will afford ample returns to investors.-The Bache Review.

PUBLIC ON THE ALERT.

We have a recoilection that during the bearish days of dullness and low prices last spring, some customers' rooms in the financial, district were almost empty, and there were plenty of chairs for everybody. Within the last few days, a striking change from this state of affairs has been noted. One customers' room has been crowded, many of the visitors being bargain hunters.—Odd Lot

THE BEST KIND OF POLICY

Men often ask the question, "Which is the best policy for me?" Upon first-class risks it makes no difference to the company. Some writers have argued from a one-sided view, that the less money paid for protection the better; but it all depends upon circumstances. Protection is not like house rent, or like an article that can be worn out and consumed, and leave no future value behind it. Life insurance must inevitably couple the future with the present. A man of limited means and large insurance needs will find the cheapest insurance in a full life participating policy, while the man of larger means or of independent fortune may profitably take the ten, fifteen or twenty payment policies. In the event of early death, the latter will have paid more, but in case of living he will not only pay less in the aggregate, but will experience the satisfaction of having his insurance fully paid up before he is old. It is simply an outworking of the law of average, as the interest equalizes the different propositions.

Notwithstanding the higher cost, the advantages of endowment insurance are distinct and worthy of the most careful consideration.

Send for our Booklet, which will tell you in detail just what is the best policy for you. Write us today.

The Captains,

The number of miles per gallon is an important item always—and especially when the cost is high.

Owners of McLaughlin cars get the greatest gasoline mileage due to the valve-in-head principle of motor construction.

Many owners of our D-4-35 get as high as 25 miles per gallon, and owners of D-6-45 model frequently get 22.

This reduces the motoring cost to Canadians who buy Canada's Standard Car.

Vision Your Sons, Mothers of Canada!

Vision them at early morning when through rising mists, there bursts a hurricane of fire---

See your valiant boys --- calm, grim, but cheerful --- "stand-to-arms" until the Hun's "morning hate" dies away.

Picture them at breakfast, the meal that must bring them the bodily sustenance to carry them through the strain of another day.

Then think of what might happen if, one morning, there was no breakfast---no food to be had, and the word went down the lines that Canada had failed them.

Vision all these things, and then As Women of Canada-Mothers of Men-Answer this Call to Service.

Canada must send to Her Own, and to the Allies Fighting Forces, more wheat, more beef, more bacon, and more of such other foods as are non-perishable and easily exported.

Canada can do this, without depriving her own population of a fair share of any of these foods if You Women will but help.

All we ask of you is, that instead of buying so much white flour (if you do your own baking) you vary your baking by using onethird oatmeal, corn, barley or rye flour. Or, if you buy your bread, that you order a certain proportion of brown bread each day.

Second, instead of using as much beef and bacon as formerly, you vary your family's diet, by substituting for beef and bacon such equally nutritious foods as fish, peas, lentils, potatoes, nuts, bananas, etc.

- Third, and this is most important -positively prevent the waste of a single ounce of food in your house-

They Must Be Fed

Statistics show that, everyday, in Canada, sufficient food is thrown into garbage cans, to feed the entire Canadian Overseas Army.

Travellers have often remarked that many a European family would live well upon the quantity and quality of food wasted in some Canadian homes.

Such waste is shameful at any time; but in these times it is criminal.

Our only hope is that with these truths before you, and in view of the vital issues at stake, we may count upon your earnest cor operation in stopping this appalling waste; and in substituting other foods for the wheat, beef and bacon that must be sent overseas.

Next week a Food Service Pledge and Window Card will be delivered to you. The Pledge is your Dedication to War Service. The Window Card your Emblem of Honour.

Woman's Auxiliary, Organization of Resources Committee, In Co-speration with The Hon. W. J. Hanna, Food Controller,

We are offering the greatest bargains on new standard guaranteed tires or tubes. Our prices are less than second-

Our reason: We had more than 900 tires purchased last fall, before the advance in prices, for delivery during March, April, May, June, but due to the labor situation, which all tire manufacturers have been up against, the shipments have been delayed and the tires have reached us much later than expected.

First—the most popular Chalmers exhibit, the improved 1918 Five-passenger. This car is a fine sample of Chalmers leadership in body styles. It is distinguished. Long, lithe, low-riding. A smart car and one clearly designed for delightfully easy spring balance, and comfort. The smoothness of the improved motor, the amazing reserves of power, you are invited to test. Remember scores of hard traffic tests proved its wide flexibility, its economy, its stamina. But you must drive the car yourself to appreciate the high efficiency this motor has now achieved.

Other fine models are being shown. Among them:-

C T 0 An ultra-fashionable adaptation of the popular 7passenger Chalmers. It is a charmingly distinctive type, rendered more attractive still by a wide selection of body finishes.

Upholstered in either grey imported cloth or fine leather; top of high-grade leather; compariment for five suit-cases; a wide roomy body with space for three, the drivers's seat being slightly advanced. Ideal for physicians or those whose business duties takes them out in all kinds of weather. Very handsomely finished in coupe green or meteor blue.

A striking new four-passenger; a low-hung, racy speedster. This design is a decided break from the conservative in motor cars. Linked with a Chalmers motor it has light-weight, wiry, high-speed performance that one could expect from its looks. Beautifully finished; comfortable-and SPORTY.

You are invited to examine these fine models at London Exhibition.
