STEYN SUICIDES.

That is the Latest Report From Lorenzo Marquez.

Lord Methuen has Overhauled and Checked General Dewet in His Flight.

London, Aug. 11.—It is persistently rumored in Lorenzo Marquez, according to a despatch to the Daily Telegraph, dated yesterday, that Mr. Steyn has committed suicide. A Pretoria despatch says:—It is said that Lord Methuen has arrested General De Wet's march.

All of the Boers in the field credit a rumor circulated by their leaders that Lord Roberts is dying. Lord Roberts, however, is now in excellent health, is displaying wonderful energy and rides long distances daily.

According to the Lorenzo Marquez correspondent of the Daily Express, President Kruger, in the course of an interview last Wednesday, said that the report that he intended to surrender was without foundation. He declared that the war would last a long time yet.

"A Boer bulletin," continues the correspondent, "announces a big battle between Lydenburg and Middelburg, in which the British had 500 killed and wounded. It also announces the recapture by the burghers of Heilbron, Devilliersdorp and Frankfort." Boer reports via Lorenzo Marquez lately have proved worthy of little credence.

The Pretoria plot is the theme of many editorials this morning. All the papers carry the idea of treating the Boers too leniently. "Examples, and stern examples," says the Daily Mail, "are necessary." Although we may not agree with Sheridan's fierce maxim, that nothing should be left an enemy but eyes to weep with, yet this was the conclusion of a not inhuman officer, who thoroughly understood war.

THIS IS OFFICIAL.

Mr. Holmes Receives Formal Announcement of His Appointment.

As Court Clerk of the County of Kent—He is Being Generally Congratulated.

Upon the return of James Holmes from his summer cottage at Erie Beach this morning he found the following welcome communication from the provincial secretary's department awaiting him:

Toronto, August 9th, 1900. James Holmes, Esq., Chatham, Ont. Sir,—I am commanded by his honor the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to inform you that he has been pleased to appoint you to be clerk of the county court of the county of Kent, and, ex-officio, deputy clerk of the crown for the said county.

The security required of you is, your self in the sum of $1,000 and two sureties each in the sum of $500.

I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant,

J. B. McLAULAN.

For the Assistant Secretary.

Mr. Holmes had previously received a private communication from the premier, informing him that he had been appointed.

The fortunate recipient of this very remunerative situation is now receiving the congratulations of his numerous friends, who rejoice in his selection for the important post.

MYSTERIOUS POISONING.

Death of a Toronto Storekeeper Under Suspicious Circumstances.

Toronto, Aug. 11.—Morris Goldstein, whose death was reported to the police yesterday as having occurred from paralysis of the heart, turns out to have been poisoned, but under what circumstances is as yet a mystery. Goldstein lived at 88 Queen street west, where he carried on a second-hand store in conjunction with Mrs. Fanny Helper. The latter is a married woman, but her husband is said to be undergoing a sentence of 20 years' imprisonment in Siberia. Dr. Elliott was called in after Goldstein had died and was at first inclined to the belief that death was due to heart disease. On making a closer examination, however, he found that the man's tongue was white and blistered. An inquest has been ordered. About two weeks ago, Goldstein assaulted County Constable Boyd, who went out with a "baliff" to make a seizure. Boyd was badly cut about the face, and his assailant was on remand awaiting a hearing of the charge of assault.

BRITISH LYDDITE

Was too Much for John Chinaman's Nerves.

He said the Foreign Devils were Pouring Poison into Him and He Skipped.

London, Saturday, Aug. 11, 4.10 a. m.—The morning papers express satisfaction at the latest developments in China. The average comment is that China is now genuinely suing for peace through Li Hung Chang.

THE TAKING OF YANG TSUN.

Despatches give further details of the taking of Yang Tsun. According to the Daily Mail's correspondent, the attack was led by the British and Americans. The Chinese position consisted of seven lines of entrenchments. Enemy fell back from one to another, until driven from the last line, they fled toward Peking, completely demoralized. The Chinese say they retreated because the British "poured poison" into their troops. This refers to the lyddite shells, which the Chinese experienced for the first time. The correspondent avers that the British casualties were 200 and the Americans 250, but this latter estimate is four times greater than that of Gen. Chaffee's report.

THROUGH A BRIDGE

Nova Scotia Train Dashes Down Sixty Feet.

The Engineer Killed and Several Other Persons Badly Injured.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 11.—A horrible railway accident occurred near St. John yesterday afternoon. Following are the only particulars at hand:

The St. John's Central train leaving Chipman at 6.30 a. m. yesterday fell through Largent's bridge, ten miles north of St. John, King's county. The train fell sixty feet. Driver Duncan was killed; Fireman Morrison and Brakeman Campbell were seriously injured. Conductor Ryan was badly hurt. Mrs. T. V. Featherington, a passenger, was badly hurt.

The accident was due to the defective condition of the bridge.

SHOT BY THE BOERS.

The Englishman Who Blew up Magdalen Bridge.

Cape Town, August 11.—The Lorenzo Marquez correspondent of the Cape Argus, telegraphs that the Englishman, Cooper, who was convicted at Makhadodorp of blowing up the Magdalen bridge, on the Delagoa Railway, and condemned to death by court-martial, was duly shot. He refused to disclose his accomplices unless the Boers would agree to spare his life, a condition which was refused.

JAPS AND CHINKS.

British Columbia Very Anxious to Exclude Both the Races.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 11.—In the Legislature last night, Ralph Smith's compulsory, arbitrary resolution was withdrawn on the promise of the Government that a bill will be brought down next session. Tatlow's straight Conservative anti-Chinese resolution, which contained severe strictures on the Laurier administration, was voted down by the Government, a more conciliatory amendment being accepted. An instruction to the executive council was passed advocating a clause in all government works prohibiting the employment of all persons unable to read European languages. This measure is aimed at Chinese and Japanese cheap labor.

SUICIDE BY DROWNING.

Toronto, Aug. 10.—A man named Thomas Sedgwick, of Queen street east, is reported to have jumped into the lake at the foot of Leslie street this morning and drowned himself. Three men are said to have witnessed the occurrence, but up to the present hour the report has not been verified. Constable Williams, however, has been detailed to search for the body of the supposed suicide.

THE PARLIAM SUNDAY.

Four of the ministers have met in Paris just in time to attend the exhibition on Sunday. When a complaint was made in Parliament here that the Canadian section was open on Sunday the minister of agriculture took action and afterward announced in the house that the Canadian protest had prevailed and the doors of the Canadian show would be closed on the first day of the week. But as soon as the house was prorogued and Mr. Charlton had gone home word came that Mr. Tarte had permitted the doors to be re-opened, that the Canadian section was in full blast seven days in the week, and that the department of agriculture had endorsed the continental Sunday. Mr. Tarte is reported to have said that he could not help it, as the authorities threatened to break in the doors if they were not open on the great Parisian holiday. If this is so we have seen a great change in the chief commissioner. It was only the other day that Mr. Tarte threatened to close up the whole show if the British commissioner persisted in treating Canada as a colony like New South Wales, and not as a nation independent of the mother country. The fight which Mr. Tarte made in order to give himself the status of a national commissioner he has not thought worth while to make to meet the wishes and satisfy the conscience of the Canadian people. He can fight the British commissioner to show that Canada is not British, but he cannot resist the French commissioner to show that Canada is not French.

QUADRUPLED EGYPT'S WEALTH.

Now that the Sudan is quiet and English soldiers are no longer kept busy, English engineers are seizing the opportunity of proving that their country's occupation of Egypt is for that country's gain. Her wealth is almost entirely dependent upon the Nile, and anything, therefore, that will hinder the free course of that river, or waste, or misdirect its waters, is attended with certain loss to the nation. To keep the channel open, to reserve its valuable waters and to distribute the same with care and prudence, this is the formidable task which the British engineer has set out to accomplish. It means much for England's prestige, then, that what has already been done by merely temporary means, has resulted in a saving of over one-half the cotton crop, valued at over twenty millions of dollars. But, better still, a feasible scheme is projected which will make for permanent results, it is claimed will actually double the crop and increase the value of the yield by $45,000,000 a year.

It seems that after the White Nile leaves the highland lake regions a vast swamp or "sudd" region, extends over two latitudinal degrees. Here it breaks up into hundreds of narrow, sluggish channels, which are easily clogged by vegetation which there grows so rank and close, that to keep the course clear the blocks of "sudd" which close the passage have to be cut away again and again. Major Peake has recently done this at trifling cost compared to the advantages already referred to, but permanent relief is now in sight, and is to be obtained by the following scheme, at an estimated cost of less than five million dollars.

It is proposed to build a huge reservoir at Assouan, just below the marsh, to hold some thousand million gallons of water, with a supply of a hundred cubic metres per minute, and another just below the outlet of the Victoria and Albert Nyanza eighteen times the capacity and volume. Then with the strengthening of the banks of the three main channels, immense supplies of water will be under perfect control. The entire Nile valley from Alexandria to Khartoum will rejoice in two never failing crops a year, and never again will navigation be impeded or the wealth of Egypt placed in jeopardy by insufficient and irregular irrigation.

NO ELECTIONS THIS YEAR.

The Planet said many moons back that notwithstanding all signs and statements to the contrary, it would never believe in an election before next spring unless the writs were actually issued. Now, the Planet doesn't profess to know anything more about the matter than anybody else. Its opinion in the matter is based on the lack of unity in the Liberal ranks, which will prevent them ever agreeing on anything.

Alexander Smith, the chief government organizer for the Dominion, has addressed a circular letter to the faithful in each Ontario municipality. Mr. Smith urges vigilance and care in revision of the voters' lists of 1900, telling the friends to see that every Liberal is enrolled. Information bureaux are established at Toronto and London, and capable men have been sent out to give instructions. Mr. Smith says: "Over and over again let it be borne in mind that this will be the last opportunity to revise the voters' list before the present Dominion parliament expires." Mr. Smith knows that if an election is held before New Year's Day, or for some time after it, the list used will be that revised last year. That list is yet in the hands of the Queen's printer, at Ottawa, and few, if any, printed copies of it have yet been issued. In fact, the bureau has hardly completed sending out the lists revised in 1898. The admissions of the organized cannot, therefore, apply to elections to be held this autumn.

However, it is not at all too early to get ready even for next year's elections.

AN UNUSUAL SERMON.

One advantage of the summer vacation is that the tourist has the opportunity of hearing a sermon from a preacher who is not obliged to tone down the truth till it cannot possibly offend the listener's conscience. The Philadelphia Record is authority for the following:—

The millionaire church-goers at Newport, R. I., heard an unusual sermon on Sunday last from a visiting clergyman of New York, the Rev. Dr. Hamilton. He declared that they were not a privileged group, but, on the contrary, that they were burdened with heavier moral obligations than any other people in this country. Having wealth and social eminence, they were bound to set an example of goodness to the seventy million Americans whose ambition is to follow the lead of Newport. The preacher thought there might be an excuse for some others to play golf on Sunday, but not for the rich residents of that resort. The Newport ideal of a lavish, unnecessary, thoughtless expenditure of money, he said, causes many a good man to go to prison through trying to provide his wife with funds for imitating his hearers. He would cure the cottagers, too, of their vulgar habit of giving private dinners and parties in public places on a Sunday, and thereby "exposing the privacy of the household to the gaze of public curiosity." He confessed his inability to find words, that would express the enormity of the evil of petty gambling which is now practiced in many Newport cottages. Altogether, the sermon was calculated to awaken his hearers to a sense of the influence which they exercise over the social life of the country.

That plot in Pretoria must have been Oom Paul's plan of staggering humanity.

The way these Boers are acting may compel us to borrow the services of General Weyler to pacify the country. The burghers do not seem to appreciate forbearance.

We have the testimony of Mr. Birmingham, late Conservative organizer for the province of Ontario, that the election of 1883 as well as the election of 1887, was won by fraud on the part of the conservative party.—St. John (N. B.) Telegraph.

Indeed! Where is that testimony to be found?

A French-Canadian Liberal paper of Montreal, with some pretence to speak for the party, says: "We are on the eve of the dissolution of the Federal Parliament, for we learn from an excellent source that the general elections will be held next October, nomination on the 16th and voting on the 23rd. We expect the dissolution of Parliament will be announced as soon as the Ministers return from Europe."

Chatham as a health resort sounds funny, but according to its local papers it is about to become a Mecca for the blind and the halt because of the discovery of mineral water on a farm adjoining the city. Not content with possessing a brewery, Chatham is now set up in the sanitarium business. It will take a heap of mineral water to counteract the effects of the Thames and McGregors Creek.—Ridgeway Dominion.

The editor of The Dominion should try this mineral water for the bilious attacks which his everlasting kicking seems to indicate are in danger of becoming serious.

The editor of the Hamilton Times, who lived in Chatham several years, and knows all about the famous mineral well just rediscovered here, says:—"The water is probably stronger because repressed in its flow. It tastes of salt, sulphur, crude oil, iron, magnesia and other unpleasant things and smells something like overripe eggs, bluishide of carbon, sulphur, and a disturbed skunk. After a few days the odor becomes less pungent, but it is always vigorous enough, and nobody takes more than one glass at a dose—at least not after the first experience. The man who is to popularize it ought to tapt a flowing well of jockey club or white rose." If water with a certificate like that won't kill germs and microbes; what will?

LITERARY NOTES.

"THE SMART SET" FOR AUGUST.

"The Master Chivalry," by Margaret Lee, is the novelette in August Smart Set.

Miss Lee has written many successful novels, notably "Divorce," the praise of which by Mr. Gladstone, some years ago, aroused discussion of the work throughout the world. This latest story, the author asserts, is the strongest she has ever written.

It deals with a social question of intense interest—a man's daring and magnanimous reparation of another's wrong in the case of a lovely and high-bred girl. The theme strikes a new note in fiction, and the situations are dramatic and stirring.

Miss Caroline K. Duer's stories in The Smart Set have won the admiration of all readers, and established her fame as one of the cleverest writers of this day; another of her vivacious tales, the best she has yet written, entitled, "My Niece, Mrs. Dowe," appears in the August number.

Edgar Fawcett contributes a smart London story called, "Learning More of Life." Clinton Ross is the author of "The New Prince Hal," a tale of turbulent times in the romantic kingdom of Nassau-Cassel, while Charles Stokes Waynes writes a modern New York society story entitled, "The One in the World."

The most sensational feature of the number is the revelation of an historic mystery by Allan Upward, entitled "The Secret of St. James' Palace." Leading English periodicals refused to publish this article, it is stated, for fear of giving offense to the Royal family, and in the past English publishers have been promptly imprisoned and punished for merely hinting at what is now clearly set forth.

All in all, The Smart Set for August is by far the most entertaining number of that interesting magazine that has yet been issued. The wit, the cleverness and the variety of this publication are ever a matter of astonishment.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The partnership existing between Drs. Hall and Tye has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. All accounts due this firm may be paid at Dr. Hall's office, Victoria block, or Dr. Tye's office, King street, Chatham, Aug. 1st, 1900.

The great amount of design work done at the Victoria Avenue Green House is sufficient proof of the excellence of the work. Nothing but the best at the lowest prices. Telephone 181.

CORNER STONE LAID.
The corner stone of the new Presbyterian Church at Botany was laid yesterday afternoon with impressive ceremonies by Robert Ferguson, M. P. F., Mr. Balmer and Miss Ferguson. The church will be a splendid structure of brick and when completed will cost $3,500. Architects J. L. Wilson & Son, of this city, are the designers. In the evening an excellent repast was spread on the lawn of Daniel Winters. A number of Chatham's talented musicians drove out and furnished a fine program of music and song.
The members of the party were, Messrs.
Nellie Rhody, Adelle McLean, Carrie Jackson and Josie Eberts and Messrs. J. W.
Wilson, G. O'Hara, Hubert Robert and James Rhody. The chairman of the evening was Dr. McKitchie, of McKay's Corners.

TO-DAY'S LATEST.

TERRIBLY PUNISHED.
New York, Aug. 11.—"Gus" Rubin, who was knocked out in the sixth round by Fitzsimmons last night in the contest at Madison Square Garden, is at the home of "Billy" Madden, in Brooklyn, recovering from the terrible punishment of the fight. After the fight for hours it was thought he would die. A doctor was called, but Rubin had unconscious fits and bled from both the nose and ears for some time. He will recover now in all probability.

A LABOR SAVING WAGON.
A practical illustration of the marvellous labor saving capacity of the Langford Dump Wagon, may be seen any day on King street, where one is now in use. This wagon is so constructed that the load is easily dumped by the driver without even stopping the horses, whereas with the ordinary kind a halt has to be made and the services of two men are required to lift the boards one by one, in order to unload. The new device thus saves the time consumed in stopping, in addition to the labor, and consequently the wages of two men. This remarkable wagon has been patented by E.
P. Langford, of Kent Bridge, who is very anxious that a company should be formed in Chatham and a manufacturing plant established here. The fame of Mr. Langford's invention has spread rapidly and American capitalists are already negotiating for the rights of patent. The inventor, however, prefers that Chatham should retain the Canadian manufacturing rights and is waiting to see what Maple City capitalists will invest in the enterprise.

WANTED JUSTICE.

Chief Young sat in his inner sanctuary this morning contentedly fanning himself, with Officer Dezala as a body guard, when unto them entered an individual with a grievance and a bicycle costume of white sweater and knickerbockers. He had the mien of a troubled man, and without any preliminary skirmishing plunged into his woeful tale, from which the following summary, stripped of gestures and unpleasant adjectives, was culled: He has been travelling about on his wheel in this part of the county and had rented a room at a certain boarding house with the understanding that he was to pay so much per week when he used it and a much less sum when he did not. Now, it appears that although the room has remained unoccupied for some time, the landlady is determined that he shall produce the entire rental, just as he would have been compelled to do had he been living in the room continuously.
He was not made aware of the land-lady's intentions until he returned this morning and put his trunk in the room. When he learned of the contemplated hold-up the tenant objected and would have straightway departed with all his belongings had not the boarding house keeper taken possession of the said belongings. The chief expressed his condolences but said he could do nothing, and when last seen the ex-star lodger was on his way to interview a lawyer.

DOWNCOMES GAS.

Hereafter Consumers Will Only
Have to Pay $1.50 and $1.75 Per 1,000 Feet
Net.

At a meeting of the directors of Gas Company held last evening the following reductions were made in the price of illuminating gas, to take effect on all illuminating gas sold on and after October 1st, 1900:—

On illuminating gas, on any quantity consumed monthly up to 9,000 cu. feet, 30 per cent. discount, making price $1.75 per 1,000
cu. feet net.

On illuminating gas, monthly consumption of 10,000 cu. feet or over, 40 per cent,
making price $1.50 per 1,000 cu. feet.

The directors and management of the Gas Company are determined to make the prices of gas and electric light as low as is consistent with the welfare of the company, and they anticipate making further reductions in the not distant future.

EXCURSION HOGS.

"Ever since I went on that Cleveland excursion my respect for four-footed hogs has greatly increased,"
said a King street man.

"How is that?"

"By comparison with the two-footed ones. In my estimation now the four-footed hog is a respectable animal.
I never saw one, if chairs were scarce,
sit on one when he was dead tired out sitting for fear somebody else might get it and rest for a few minutes.
Then I never in my life noticed a four-footed hog when he got tired sitting pick up his chair and carry it round to prevent anyone else resting on it. You never in all creation observed a genuine hog seize a chair for him or herself and occupy another while probably a hundred people were standing round without a place to sit down. No, sir; score one for the hog to compare the two. Of course on every excursion and on every crowded train and boat there is a percentage of hogs. If you have time to study them it is worth your while. The contrast with many others who try to make the trip pleasant for everybody is simply wonderful. You will see side by side the most conspicuous selfishness and meanness and the most generous thoughtfulness. It is queer, but it is human nature.

"Now, if the seats on the Shesago had been left alone and all reserving stopped, there would have been plenty for all, but when the hoggist part of the crowd thought there was going to be a shortage, they grabbed what they could get and held on to them.
When I have anything to do with a boat excursion again I'm going to have notices printed and posted up to read, 'No seats reserved. Take any one you see vacant.'"

Later news concerning Wednesday night's storm shows that considerable damage was done, especially in Chatham township. The oats which were still out were blown down and many fields of corn hit the ground. Trees were also torn up by the roots and laid low.

Gay Manning is full of sweet Scottish airs. All lovers of music should visit Athletic Park Monday evening and hear the Metropolitan Band play selections from that opera.

WHO IS THE POISONER?
There is evidently some one with a mania for using poison on other people's live stock in the neighborhood of the Public General Hospital. Nothing seems to come amiss to the person of destructive tendencies. Cats, dogs and chickens, however, are evidently the most satisfactory for experimental purposes as several members of the public have recently reported the loss of their pets.

From Private Wilson.
Mrs. Tichborne, Lacroix street, has received a letter from her nephew, Private A. Wilson, at the time of writing Wilson was still at Bloemfontein and in excellent health. Afterwards they were in secret session for the day, out regarding the conclusions they had reached, but it is stated that a new schedule of wages for the Ontario and Quebec Division of the C. P. R., which provides for a small increase in pay, has been drawn up, and will be submitted by a special committee to the auditors at Montreal.

A YOUNG LADY DROWNED.
Lindsay, Aug. 10.—Last night about 9:30 o'clock, as George McGregor and Miss Sharp, daughter of Jas. Sharp, of Albert street, Lindsay, were returning from a canoe outing up the river, their canoe upset near the locks, and they were drowned. Mr. McGregor made a gallant effort to save her, but his strength failed. He was rescued very much exhausted.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phoebe Charley, of Peterborough, Iw., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me; and, although 73 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c. at A. I. McCall & Co.'s drug store.

WANTED

"The only passenger I took out last Saturday," says the Martin's Corner stage driver, "was an old lady who told me two or three times that she was going out to visit her daughter. She was such a real nice old lady that I reckoned I wouldn't smoke, for I was afraid that the smoke would blow back into her face. There are some women that ride with ye that ye feel like takin' if they just as soon ye would smoke. But somehow I reckoned that she was too nice an old lady for I did want to smoke dreadfully. But I did want to smoke dreadfully. At last we came to the long stretch of woods—a lonesome place and a long drag up hill. A few whiffs do take the edge off the lonesomeness there in great shape. I couldn't stand it any longer."

"Marm," says I, "don't make no bones about tellin' me right out if you object to smokin'." But if you don't think it would bother you too much I'd like to light up for a few minutes."

"Why, bless our soul, young man," said the old lady, "why hadn't ye said so before? I've been hankerin' for a smoke for the last few miles, but I hate to smoke before men folk that don't use it themselves. But them that smoke understand how it is. Light right up and I guess I'll have to trouble ye for a match."

She reached down into her bag and pulled out at T. D. and we filled our pipes and I never had a more comfortable smoke and chat with any one in my life than I did with the old lady."

There can be little spiritual and mental growth in a family that takes cognizance only of physical comforts and discomforts. Where the wife and mother is cook, chambermaid, nurse, seamstress, scrubwoman, laundress, etc., it is easy for the husband and children to look to her merely for attention to their bodily wants and to shut her out, whether consciously or unconsciously, in their minds and in their outside interests and in their good times. The home where the wife and mother is merely purveyor to the material side of the family may be practical but it is not ideal.

Women have been preached to so long and so much about their duties to husband and children that it is not wonderful so many husbands and fathers feel that they have done their full duty to their wives when they give them money to pay the family bills. A great deal is said about the need of making home cheerful for the husband and father to return to, but these admonitions ought not to be so one-sided. The well organized home cannot be one-sided. The wife and mother has not only a right but a very great need to have her evenings and some of her days made cheerful and relaxing. More attention should be given to America's poor homes to wholesome pleasure that can be enjoyed by the whole family.—Ex.

DON'T BE DUPED

There have been placed upon the market several cheap reprints of an obsolete edition of "Webster's Dictionary." They are being offered under various names at a low price.

By dry goods dealers, grocers, agents, etc., and in a few instances as a premium for subscriptions to papers.

Worthless

reprints are very misleading; for instance, they are advertised to be the substantial equivalent of a higher-priced book, when in reality, so far as we know and believe, they are all from A to Z.

Reprint Dictionaries,

phototype copies of a book of over fifty years ago, which in its day was sold for about $5.00, and which was much superior in paper, printing, and binding to these imitations, being then a work of some merit instead of one of no value.

Long Since Obsolete.

The supplement of 10,000 so-called "new words," which some of these books are advertised to contain, was compiled by a gentleman who died over forty years ago, and was published before his death. Other minor additions are probably of more or less value.

The Genuine Edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, which is the only meritorious one familiar to the generation, contains over 200 pages, with illustrations on nearly every page, and bears our imprint on the title page. It is protected by copyright from cheap imitations.

Valuable as this work is, we have, at vast expense, published a thoroughly revised successor, the name of which is WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY.

DOWN FROM HEAVEN

Rev. Dr. Talmage Discourses on the Only True Religion.

Makeshifts of Human Manufacture Are Useless When Measured by God's Plumb Line—Religious Made to Suit Conditions.

Washington, Aug. 5. — From Tromsø, Norway, where Dr. Talmage is now staying, he sends the following discourse, in which he shows that the world can never be benefited by a religion of human manufacture, which easily yields to one's surroundings, but must have a religion let down from heaven; text, Amos vii. 8. "And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou?" And I said, A plumb line.

The solid masonry of the world has for me a fascination. Walk about some of the triumphal arches and the cathedrals 400 or 600 years old, and see them stand as erect as when they were built, walls of great height, for centuries not bending a quarter of an inch this way or that, so greatly honored were the masons who built these walls that they were free from taxation and called "free" masons. The trowel gets most of the credit for these buildings, and its clear ringing on stone and brick has sounded across the ages. But there is another implement of just as much importance as the trowel, and my text recognizes it. Bricklayers and stonemasons and carpenters, in the building of walls, use an instrument made of lead cord, at the end of which a lump of lead is fastened. They drop it over the side of the wall, and as the plumb line naturally seeks the centre of gravity in the earth, the workman discovers where the wall recedes and where it bulges out and just what is the perpendicular. Our text represents God as standing on the wall of character which the Israelites had built; and in that way testing it. "And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou?" And I said, A plumb line.

What the world wants is straight up and down religion. Much of the so-called piety of the day bends this way and that to suit the times. It is oblique, with a low state of sentiment and morals. We have all been building a wall of character, and it is glaringly imperfect and needs reconstruction. How shall it be brought into perpendicular? Only by the divine measurement. And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumb line.

The whole tendency of the times is to make us act by the standard of what others do. We throw over the wall of our character the tangled plumb line of other lives and reject the infallible test which Amos saw. The question for me should not be, what you think is right, but what God thinks is right. This perpetual reference to the behavior of others, as though it decided anything but human fallibility, is a mistake, as the world. There are 10,000 plumb lines in use, but only one is true and exact, and that is the line of God's eternal right. There is a mighty attempt being made to reconstruct and fix up the Ten Commandments. To many they seem about 13 feet from the perpendicular, and people go thousands of miles to see its graceful inclination and to learn how, by extra braces and various architectural contrivances, it is kept leaning from century to century. The divine plumb line needs to be thrown over all merchandise. Thousands of years ago Solomon discovered the tendency of buyers to depreciate goods. He saw a man beating down an article lower and lower and saying, "It is not worth the price asked," and when he had purchased at the lowest point he told everybody what a sharp bargain he had struck and how he outwitted the merchant. "It is naught, saith the buyer, but when he is gone his way, then he boastseth." (Proverbs xx. 14.) So society is so utterly askew in this matter that you seldom find a seller asking the price that he expects to get; he puts on a higher value than he expects to receive, knowing that he will have to drop. And if he wants $50, he asks $75. And if he wants $2,000, he asks $2,500. "It is naught," saith the buyer. "The fabric is defective; the style of goods is poor; I can get elsewhere a better article at a smaller price. It is out of fashion; it is damaged; it is faded; it will not wear well." After awhile the merchant, from over-estimation or from desire to dispose of that particular stock of goods, says, "Well, take it at your own price," and the purchaser goes home with light step and calls into his private office his confidential friends and chuckles while he tells how for half price he got the goods. In other words, he lied and was proud of it.

Nothing would make times as good and the earning of a livelihood so easy as the universal adoption of the law of right. Suspicion strikes through all bargain making. Men who sell know not whether they will ever get the money. Purchasers know not whether the goods shipped will be according to the sample. And what, with the large number of clerks who are making false entries and then absconding and the explosion of firms that fail for millions of dollars, honest men are at their wits' end to make a living. He who stands up amid all the pressure and temptation toward the establishment of a high commercial prosperity, I have deep sympathy for the laboring classes who toil with hand and foot. But we must not forget the business men who, without any complaint or bannered procession through the street, are enduring a stress of circumstances terrible. The fortunate ones are those who are receiving daily wages or regular salaries. And the men most to be pitied are those who conduct a business while prices are falling and yet try to pay their clerks and employees and are in such fearful straits that they would quit business to-morrow if it were not for the wreck and ruin of others. When people tell at what a ruinously low price they purchased an article, it gives me more dismay than satisfaction. I know it means the bankruptcy and defalcation of men in many departments. The men who toil with the brain need full as much sympathy as those who toil with the hand. All business life is struck through with suspicion, and panic are the result of want of confidence.

To feel right and to do right under all this pressure requires martyr grace, requires divine support, requires celestial religion. There are there are thousands of men who are getting splendidly through. They see others going up and themselves going down, but they keep their patience and their courage and their Christian consistency, and after awhile their success will come. There is generally a retribution in some form for greediness. The owners of the big business will die, and their boys will get possession of the business, and with a cigar in their mouths, and full to the chins with the best liquor, and behind a pair of smoking bags, on the turnpike road to temporal and eternal perdition. Then the business will break up and the smaller dealers will have fair opportunity. Or the spirit of contentment and right feeling will take possession of the large firm, as recently with the famous business house, and the firm will say: "We have enough money for all our needs and the needs of our children. Now let us dissolve business—and make way for other men in the same line." Instead of being started at solitary instance of unanimity, it will become a common thing. I know of scores of great business houses that have had their opportunity of vast accumulation, and who ought to quit. But perhaps for all the days of this generation the struggle of small houses to keep alive under the overshadowing pressure of great houses will continue; therefore, taking things as they are, you will be wise to preserve your faith and throw over all the counters and shelves and cashes the measuring line of divine right. "And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou?" And I said, A plumb line.

In the same way we need to rectify our theories. All sorts of religions are putting forth their pretensions, and we have a spiritualistic religion, and their chief work is with ghosts, and others a religion of political economy, proposing to put an end to human misery by a new style of taxation, and there is a humanitarian religion that looks after the bodies of men and lets the soul look after itself, and there is a legislative religion that proposes to rectify all wrongs by enactment of better laws, and there is an aesthetic religion that by rules of exquisite taste, would lift the heart out of its deformities, and religions of all sorts, religions by the peck, religions by the square-foot and religions by the ton—all of them devices of the devil that would take the heart away from the only religion that will ever effect anything for the human race, and that is the straight up and down religion written in the book which begins with Genesis and ends with Revelation; the religion of the skies, the old religion, the God given religion, the "Love God above all and your neighbor as yourself." All religions but one begin at the wrong end and in the wrong place. The Bible religion demands that we first get right with God. It begins at the top and measures down, while the other religions begin at the bottom and try to measure up. They stand at the foot of the wall, up to their knees in the mud of human theory and speculation, and have a plummet and a string tied fast to it, and they throw the plummet this way and say, "break a head here and throw the plummet another way and break a head there, and then they throw it up, and it comes down upon their own pate.

I want you to notice this fact, that when a man gives up the straight up and down religion of the Bible for any new fangled religion, it is generally to suit his sins. You first hear of his change of religion, and then you hear of some swindle he has practiced in a great mining stock, telling some one if he will put $10,000 he can take out $100,000; or he has sacrificed his integrity or plunged into tremendous worldliness. His sins are so broad he has to broaden his religion, and he becomes as broad as temptation, as broad as hell. They want a religion that will allow them to keep their sins and then at death say to them, "Well done, good and faithful servant," and that tells them, "All is well, for there is no hell." What a glorious heaven they hold before us! Come, let us go in and see it. There are Herod and all the babes he massacred. There are Charles Guitau and Robespierre, the feeder of the French guillotine, and all the liars, thieves, house burners, garroters, pickpockets and libertines of all the centuries. They have all got crowns and thrones and harps and scepters, and when they chant they sing, "Thanksgiving and honor and glory to the broad religion that has taken us all into heaven without repentance and without faith in those humiliating dogmas of ecclesiastical old fogeyism."

My text gives me a grand opportunity of saying a useful word to all young men who are now forming habits for a lifetime. Of what use to a stonemason or a bricklayer is a plumb line? Why not build the wall by the unaided eye and hand? Because they are insufficient, because if there be a deflection in the wall it cannot further on be corrected. Because by the law of gravitation a wall must be straight in order to be symmetrical and safe. A young man is in danger of getting a defect in his wall of character that may never be corrected.

Remember that the wall may be 160 feet high, and yet a deflection one foot from the foundation affects the entire structure. And if you live one hundred years and do right the last eighty years you may nevertheless do something at twenty years of age that will damage all your earthly existence. All you who have built houses for yourselves or for others, am I not right in saying to these young men, you cannot build a wall so high as to be independent of the character of its foundation? A man before 30 years of age may commit enough sin to last him a lifetime. Now John or George or Henry or whatever be your Christian name or surname, say here and now: "No more swears for me, no cigars or cigarettes for me, no wine or beer for me, no nasty stories for me, no Sunday spees for me. I am going to start right and keep on right. God help me, for I am very weak. From the throne of eternal righteousness let me be guided in building everything from foundation to capstone. Lord God, by the wounded hand of Christ trim me as a plumb line."

"But," you say, "you shut us young folks out from all fun." Oh, no! I like fun. I have had lots of it in my time. But I have not got to go into paths of sin to find it. No credit to me, because of an extraordinary parental example and influence I was kept from outward transgressions, though my heart was bad enough and desperately wicked. I have had fun illimitable, though I have sworn one oath and never gambled for so much as the value of a pin and never saw the inside of a haunt of sin save as when many years ago, with a commission of police and a detective, and two elderly members of my church, I explored New York and Brooklyn by midnight, not out of curiosity, but that I might in pulpit discourse set before the people the poverty and the horrors of underground city life. Yet, though I was never intoxicated for an instant and never committed one act of dissoluteness—restrained only by the grace of God, without which restraint I would have gone headlong to the bottom of infamy—I have had much fun that I don't believe there is a man on the planet at the present time who has had more. Hear it, men and boys, women and girls, all the fun is on the side of right. Sin may seem at first to be fun, but it is deathful and like the manchineel, a tree whose dew is poisonous. The only genuine happiness is in a Christian life.

Oh, this plumb line of the everlasting right! God will throw it over all our moral deflections. God will throw it over all churches to show whether they are doing useful work or are instances of idleness and pretense. He will throw that plumb line over all nations to demonstrate whether their laws are just or cruel, their rulers good or bad, their actions holy or infamous. He threw that plumb line over the Spanish monarchy of other days, and what became of her? Ask the splintered hulks of her overthrown armada. He threw that plumb line over French imperialism, and what was the result? Ask the ruins of the Bastille and the fallen column of the Place Vendôme and the grave trenches of Sedan and the blood of revolutions at different times rolling through the Champs Elysees. He threw the plumb line over ancient Rome, and what became of the realm of the ancient Caesars. Ask her war eagles, with beak dulled and wings broken, flung helpless into the Tiber. God is now throwing that plumb line over this republic, and it is a solemn time with this nation, and whether we keep his Sabbath or dishonor them, whether righteousness or iniquity dominate, whether we are Christian or infidel, whether we fulfill our mission or refuse, whether we are for God or against him, will decide whether we shall as a nation go on in higher and higher career or go down in the same grave as the Babylon and Nineveh and Thebes are sepulchered.

"But," say you, "if there be nothing but a plumb line what can we do, for there is an old proverb which truthfully reads, 'If the devil be in the house, he will pull his hair over his eyes.' What shall we do when, according to Isaiah, 'God shall lay judgment to the line and righteousness the plummet'?" Ah, here is where the Gospel comes in with a Saviour's righteousness to make up for our deficits. And while I see hanging on the wall a plumb line, I see also hanging there a cross. And while the one condemns us the other saves us. If only we will hold to it. And here and now you may set free with a more glorious liberty than Hampden or Sidney or Kosciuszko ever fought for. Not out yonder or down there or up here, but just where you are you may get it.

The invalid proprietress of a wealthy estate in Scotland visited the continent of Europe to get rid of the malady, and she went to Baden Baden and tried those waters and went to Carlsbad and tried those waters, and instead of getting better she got worse, and in despair she said to a physician, "What shall I do?" His reply was, "Medicine can do nothing for you. You have only one chance and that is in the waters of the Pit Keathly, Scotland." "Is it possible," she replied, "Why, the waters are on my own estate." She returned, and drank of the fountain at her own gate, and in two months completely recovered. Oh, sick and diseased and sinning and dying, why go trudging all the world over and seeking here and there relief for your discouraged spirit when close by and at your very feet and at the door of your heart, aye, within the very estate of your own consciousness, the healing waters of eternal life may be had and had this very hour, this very minute? Blessed be God that over against the plumb line that Amos saw is the cross, through the emancipating power of which you and I may live and live forever!

EVERY FARMER SHOULD READ THIS

There are unprincipled agents who will make all kinds of statements to the farmer to induce him to purchase their goods. We sold the Columbia Corn Harvester last season and are selling it this year again and the opposition agents have stated that we sold one last season to John Little, of Raleigh Township, and after he tried it he refused to keep it, but was compelled to do so, as we threatened to sue him if he did not settle. Rather than have a law suit he paid for it and in consequence we lost his custom. This is what the opposition is saying, now read what Mr. John Little says and after reading it the farmer can form some estimate of what to think of such disreputable methods as are being practiced by our opposition.

GEO. STEPHENS & CO.,
DEAR SIR:
Replying to your enquiries about the Columbia Corn Harvester we purchased from you, would say: We are well pleased with it and have no desire for anything better, and anything that may be said to the contrary by any agents of other Corn Harvesters we most emphatically deny. We were quite willing to settle and pay for it after it had been tried and do not nor never did regret buying it.
Yours truly,
JOHN LITTLE.

GEO. STEPHENS & CO.,
DEAR SIR:
The Columbia Corn Harvester I purchased from you last season I started in a very irregular field of corn, some being long and some short, and I experienced no difficulty whatever in handling nor placing the band in proper place. The team used in cutting did not weigh more than twenty-three hundred pounds and did the work with apparent ease, having no side draught or neck weight. I have seen other Harvesters work, but believe this to be the best in the market. Yours truly,
G. W. CUNDLE.

FITZ THE VICTOR.

He Knocked Out the Big Ohioan
In Six Rounds.

The Older Man's Science and Experience More Than a Match For Ruhlin's Youth and Physical Strength.

Madison Square Garden, New York, Aug. 11.—Bob Fitzsimmons, of Australia, but now an American citizen, met Gus Ruhlin, the Akron giant, last night before the Twentieth Century Club at Madison Square Garden, and won by knocking the Ohioan down and out in the sixth round. Fitzsimmons did the trick clearly and cleverly. It was a fierce and bloody battle while it lasted, and at times it looked as if Ruhlin would get the better of the older man, but Fitz at the proper time would cut loose with his fearful body blows, which finally snuffed out the Ohio boxer's light. The betting all along favored Fitzsimmons, many wagers at the rate of 100 to 80 on Lanky Bob being made. Last night, however, at the ring-side there was a flush of Ruhlin money, which forced the odds to take a turn in Ruhlin's favor. Several of these blows staggered, but none of them landed on the marks as Fitz was too shifty. Fitz forced Ruhlin to break ground, and in a hot mix-up the Ohio man was always the first to ease up and take refuge in a clinch. Time and time again Fitz forced Ruhlin to the ropes, from which position Ruhlin got away rather clumsily, while Fitz was always very quick in his foot movements. When Ruhlin's nose began to bleed, from a left punch, the sight of the blood seemed to have a deterrent effect on him, and Fitz was quick to see this. On the first sign of weakness on Ruhlin's part, he began his attack on the body, and each blow he landed there made Gus wince with pain. Fitz's handlers kept urging him to play for the solar plexus, but Fitz only tried it occasionally. The fight was a close one, and the crowd was plainly the effects of the stiff and rapid work they had done in the preceding rounds.

THE WORD GO

The men started in with hurricane like force. Both were wild at times, but Fitz was the quicker to steady himself. Ruhlin clinched a good deal, and for three or four rounds was the aggressor. He landed some hard straight lefts on Fitz's face and swung his right to the body and head with fearful force. Several of these blows staggered, but none of them landed on the marks as Fitz was too shifty. Fitz forced Ruhlin to break ground, and in a hot mix-up the Ohio man was always the first to ease up and take refuge in a clinch. Time and time again Fitz forced Ruhlin to the ropes, from which position Ruhlin got away rather clumsily, while Fitz was always very quick in his foot movements. When Ruhlin's nose began to bleed, from a left punch, the sight of the blood seemed to have a deterrent effect on him, and Fitz was quick to see this. On the first sign of weakness on Ruhlin's part, he began his attack on the body, and each blow he landed there made Gus wince with pain. Fitz's handlers kept urging him to play for the solar plexus, but Fitz only tried it occasionally. The fight was a close one, and the crowd was plainly the effects of the stiff and rapid work they had done in the preceding rounds.

BOTH WERE TIRED

and leg weary, but Ruhlin showed up much the worse of the two. Fitz was always the quicker to steady himself at the call of time, but now and then during the rounds he seemed to stand still and glare at his opponent. Ruhlin at these times also stood still, being evidently weary. The chance of breathing which Fitz afforded him. Just once Fitz touched the floor, when he slipped down from a clinch at the end of a round. In the sixth round Ruhlin was slow in coming to time, while Fitz jumped at his man. It was just a question of who could land a telling punch, as both men were much fatigued. Fitz, always the quicker on his feet, was able to get around Ruhlin, and while the latter set straight lefts for Fitz's head, Bob stepped back and landed a right to the body and a right to the head. With a volley of lefts and rights to the head and neck, and a fearful left on the solar plexus, Fitz sent Ruhlin in a heap to the floor. This was the sixth round. The fight was a close one, and the crowd was plainly the effects of the stiff and rapid work they had done in the preceding rounds.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.

W. J. Coulter, of London, Fell
From the Top of a Van and Was Instantly Killed.

William John Coulter, No. 625, Queen's avenue, London, was instantly killed at Bothwell Friday about 11.50 o'clock. Coulter was a brakeman on the C. P. R., and standing on top of the van. When the train stopped, the sudden jerk caused him to lose his balance and he pitched forward, alighting on the ground head first. His skull was broken and he never spoke. He was picked up dead.

Deceased left London on the freight train about 11.30 o'clock. He was an old and experienced brakeman, and a fine fellow. His death is a terrible blow to his wife and family and many friends. Deceased was 32 years of age. His body was taken to London Friday evening.

DULY INSTALLED.

Grand Master Lewis Takes the Chair at Grand Lodge.

Some Statistics Concerning the
I. O. O. F.—Guelph the Next
Place of Meeting.

Hamilton, July 11.—At yesterday's session of the Grand Lodge, L. O. F., Grand Master Melurg installed his successor, O. L. Lewis, of Chatham, and the latter installed the other officers, as follows:—J. R. Oliver, Woodstock, grand marshal; R. R. Brett, Essex, grand exchequer; Jas. Hoare, Guelph, grand guardian; A. S. Murray, Niagara Falls, south, herald; Rev. E. Anderson, Smith's Falls, chaplain. J. Turner was re-appointed D. G. M. of Hamilton district.

The several recommendations made by the committee on the reduction of Grand Lodge expenses were considered. The Grand Lodge will in future endeavor to limit its sessions to four days, and the sessional committee will meet a day previously to prepare reports.

The report of the finance committee showed a balance at close of year of $732.82, or $487.06 more than at close of last year. It was decided to continue the publication of the Independent Oddfellow on the official organ.

The financial standing of the association is much more satisfactory than last year, showing a prosperous and steady growth in the reserve fund, which is now $200,000, because leaving in other funds the amount of $13,241.19. The death rate has fallen from 6.28 per cent. in 1895 to 6 per cent. in 1900. During the year 1899 claims to the amount of $89,500 have been paid in relieving the widows and orphans of deceased members, $64,000 being paid in Ontario alone. The membership of the association now numbers 11,931, Ontario leading with 8,757 members; thus over one-third of the membership of Ontario Oddfellows are members of the relief association. The Grand Lodge of British Columbia has given its consent and approval to the association to do business in that province, so that its field of operations now extends from ocean to ocean.

Guelph was selected as the next place of meeting.

The special committee on the Oddfellow's home, presented by Past Grand Sir Dr. Cl. T. Campbell, of London, was received enthusiastically. Eleven thousand dollars have already been subscribed to this fund, and when $10,000 more is on hand the home will be built. The report recommended that each lodge subscribe $35 and that each lodge and committee be appointed.
