

Candidates take aim to smear again

News Analysis by Greg Harris

Smear tactics and political back-biting marred yesterday's Students' Union executive byelection forum in SUB theatre.

About 150 students turned out to hear candidates dwell largely on past and present unfair electioneering practices rather than hard issues.

Presidential candidate Gord Stamp led off with an attack on presidential candidate Mike Walker claiming that "he has no control over the people working for him.

"If Mike Walker's people do not have respect for the rules and regulations while campaigning, what's he going to do while in office," said Stamp in reference to the last election and recent DIE board proceedings.

He then flung his copy of election regulations across the stage in a symbolic gesture.

Walker responded by reiterating the DIE Board decision which stated there had been no intention on the part of the Walker slate to break the rules by stuffing Lister Hall mailboxes with campaign materials.

than even last year."

He stressed that three out of four of the already elected executive members were from the Cottle slate and that his similar "ideas of policy and approach "would enable him to work well with them."

He concluded with a "petty jab at the opposition saying illegal electioneering practices have un-dermined the credibility of the Students' Union and he's dedicated "to save it from the laughing stock it's in danger of becoming.

The v. p. internal candidates confined themselves to the issues and were agreed that the Students' Union should provide better services to students.

Jeff Reading, v.p. internal candidate for the Walker slate proposed leasing curling rink space to the book store, and to the university for computer terminal space

He said he would fight to change restrictive ALCB policies on campus, preserve club run cabarets at Dinwoodie, look into 'amalgamating the exam registry and copy centre, and ensure that the 38 planned club offices be Teady by September '82. Teady by September '82. Teady by September '82. "Let's get away from the petty politics and examine the issues," he concluded.

candidate on the Stamp Slate said registry, and ensure that no DIE Board rather than following several improvements could be censorship takes place on campus. made in the Students' Union.

"Being able to set up licensed entertainment hassle free is a major concern," said Schug referring to ALCB policy He promised to try and expand the use of quad for that he had been. He said that the fraternities, upgrade the exam Gateway prefered to cover the except according to provincial censorship laws.

Compared to P.E.I. ...

During question period the presidential candidates were asked why they weren't campainging on the issues. Greenhill replied the campaigns into classrooms. Walker replied it's difficult to focus on hard issues when another slate makes mailboxes and posters an issue.

Stamp said he had covered the issues in his pamphlets and during the Gateway's round table discussion.

of A funding in good shape

by Wes Oginski

University of Alberta did well in its government grant for next year's budget when compared to other Canadian universities. On a provincial level, however, post-secondary education ranked low on the priority list.

"I suppose you have to take it in' a particular context," says Lorne Leitch, University v.p. Finance and Administration.

The provincial government. released its budget for the next fiscal year last week, and Leitch says the overall increase for postsecondary institutions is about 18.9 per cent. The total provincial budget increase was around 25 per cent. grant," Leitch reports. The government grant works out to over $170 million, including extra monies for faculty upgradings and tecognition of the increased student population. Overall the government increase ap-proximates 16 per cent. "In the provincial context, under-funded. the government has a low priority with post-secondary education, he says, noting the disrepancy between the province's overall increase for post-secondary institutions.

"We did well in the national context," he adds, and notes that many other province's universities are not getting substantial increases. The University of British Columbia has implemented a 32 per cent tuition increase next year, and Simon Fraser University must make a million dollars in cuts.

does not have a final operating whether tuition will go up, down, budget because James Horsman, or stay the same)."

expenditure increase and the Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower, has not decided upon a long-term tuition policy. Until then, the administration has no idea how much tuition will be next year. Tuition fees now make up 8 per cent of the final budget.

"We're not going to hold back on the budget process," he says. A preliminary operating budget will be presented next week. "At this time, we are not Leitch stresses the U of A assuming anything (about here, but the real issues," said Walker.

He repeated his policies on cutbacks and underfunding saying that he would demand a freeze on tuition fees until an independent accessiblity study is done to deal of "constructive criticsm he determine what impact the stu- could level against the SU." determine what impact the stu-dent aid program and rising costs have on post-secondary education dear of constructive critics in he could level against the SU." He argued for increasing the autonomy of clubs, and "merging" attendance.

"As in the past I won't argue that fees be abolished, but frozen," said Walker.

same kind of clout as the Chamber encourage others to participate in of Commerce and sometimes they have to use different tactics," he said in reference to presidential candidate Robert Greenhill's stand of co-operation in lobbying instead of confrontation. Greenhill pointed out at the beginning of his speech that he would address the issues "rather than taking petty jabs at the opposition.

He said he too was com-mitted to fighting cutbacks but would take a "broader approach" would take a broader approach in lobbying the government. He said by working with business groups outside the university, who are concerned about quality graduates, "...we can have an even stronger anti-cutbacks campaign

Raymond Conway, v.p. internal candidate on the Greenhill slate said he felt he had a great the exam registry with the hous-ing registry to provide better service.

Walker. He promised that if elected "Students don't have the he would listen to others, "and the SU

Martin Schug, v.p. internal

Deficit wiped out this year

With next year's University "We had a 14.6 per cent increase in the (U of A's) base grant," Leitch reports. The projected deficit for this year.

Lorne Leitch, U of A's v.p. Finance, explains that last year's budget required either an increase in tuition or an increase in the government grant. The govern-ment grant increased, but tuition froze, and left the university

University administrators decided to operate under a deficit budget, hoping the province would pick up the loss.

"It now appears that the deficit will be essentially wiped put (without government aid)," Leitch says.

The major contributing factors include the increased student enrolment and continued high interest rates.

'Enrolment went up more than we originally estimated," Leitch explains. The enrolment was 6 per cent higher than the University expected.

Commerce ahead

News about the go-ahead tor a new Faculty of Business building is one of the bright spots of the provincial grant to the U of A. "I'm delighted," says Business dean Roger Smith. Lorne Leitch, University v.p.

Finance, says the province has provided $5 million this year to start construction of the new facility.

"I think that over the course i'I think that over the course of the construction period they've essentially (given us) $17 million," he adds. The new building will have 12,158 square metres, but a site had fait was been selected has not yet been selected.

CONTENTS in the News... ...endorsement ...politics, Soviets, and SU in the Letters... in the Features... ...Literary Supplement in the Arts artistic stuff in the Sports... ...Colour Night '82

/page 2, the Gateway

page 8. the Gat

Students' Council's "Chariots of Fire"

its bid Tuesday night for a record- Business Manager.

again to next Tuesday, March 30, Also subject to ratification is the last meeting for the 1981/82 SU president Phil Soper's 'constudent government.

In spite of the agenda-shuffling, and the fact that for the Kent Ashby's pet SU constitution first time this year they did not restructuring and clean-up project have quorum from the outset, was pushed through first-reading Council sat for two and a half hours and discussed several sent, and only two of the executive matters of interest and impor- members - Soper and v.p. internal tance to students.

*Tom Wright was appointed Business Manager of the Students' executive vice presidents Lisa Union for one year effective April Walter, Elise Gaudet, and Liz Union for one year effective April was split in two last Tuesday, Council meeting that .meets readings at once in that meeting. March 16, was pushed forward yet quorum, likely next week. Soper and Ashby both end stitutional package.

George Ivanisko was fired in stitutional initiative. December.

Soper and Council speaker with only eight Councillors pre-Brian Bechtel. The temale triumvirate of

1, at an annual salary of $15,000. Lunney stormed out of the Council Wright has been the SU meeting at 9 p.m. to sit in RATT interim general manager since in silent protest to Soper's con-For his part, Soper was the

He will continue to sell epitome of wide-eyed innocence. advertising for SU Media Produc- Regretting that so few Councillors tions, including the Gateway, were present, he insisted that this

Students' Council continued along with his new duties as first reading was subject to id Tuesday night for a record-Business Manager. ratification at the March 30 length meeting. Most of the agenda, which subject to ratification at the next to giving the package two > their terms next Tuesday, and desire that their constitution does not get lost in the shuffle of changeover.

Moreover, they say in-terested parties had been given every opportunity heretofor to see preliminary drafts, and to proffer suggestions to the proposed constitution, a copy of which Councillors received a week ago.

*The only other matter of some significance to arise was Elise Gaudet's 1982/83 preliminary budget, which predicts next year the Students Tom Wright Union will make $35,959. The bottom line of the $4.7 million and will went toward getting the total operating budget .

Gaudet consented to table the budget until next meeting, even decided to do with the budget budget out for Tuesday's meeting. In any case, anything Council though every ounce of her energy would have been subject to ratification at the next meeting with quorum.

The preliminary budget will take effect April 1, 1982.

Why are a valuable	these won	ien such a valuable	Canadian	resource

anada is rich in resources. But our most precious resource is our skilled workers.

Right now, there are jobs in Canada which can't be filled because we're short of people with the right skills in the trades and new technologies. More and more, finding the right person for a job means finding the man or woman with the right training.

At Employment and Immigration we're creating a new National Training Program to assist in on-the-job and classroom training in the skills Canadian industry needs now, and in the future. Part of our program provides training for women in non-traditional jobs.

The rewards are great because training in priority skills is a key to job security in the 1980's. And more women are entering the trades each year. Last year over 22,000 women took part in on-the-job training. Thousands more benefitted from training in the technologies and other career areas.

hat's an investment in Canada's skilled work force. It's an investment in Canadian industry. And it's an investment that helps Canada work.

For a copy of the booklet

"Are we ready to change?"

write: "CHANGE" Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0J9

Helping Canada Work.

NAME:

ADDRESS:

Emploi et Employment and Immigration Canada

Lloyd Axworthy, Minister

Immigration Canada Lloyd Axworthy, Ministre Canadä

/Thursday, March 25, 1982

the Gateway, page 3/

Election slates chalk up views

Walker Slate

The problems facing our Students' Union and our university call for Students' Union executive members with the knowledge and practical ex-perience necessary to defend students' interests.

Underfunding of the university will continue to be the single most important issue for the SU next year. The new president will have to continue pressuring government to take students and education seriously.

The president must have a clear grasp of the problems facing education, and an ability to communicate them to the public through all means available. The U of A Board of Governors can be used to help students. Half of the Board's members are direct government appointees; they are often unwilling to take positions in opposition to the government. Nonetheless, the president as a student rep on the Board can convince members to back students on some issues, as recently happened on student aid. As a representative to both levels of government, the president should meet with MLAs, MPs and cabinet ministers, as well as help organize activities like the march two weeks ago.

The call heard in this election for a more "co-operative" approach to government is not surprising from candidates with connections to political parties. "Co-operation" may help build political careers, but it doesn't advance students' interests. The SU president should be independent of outside political parties to be able to criticize governments effectively.

Tuition fees should be frozen until an independent accessibility study has been performed to ensure that rising fees, coupled with inadequate student aid, are not squeezing students out of our university.

Greenhill Slate

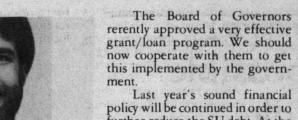

This year I served as The position of V.P. Internal Students' Union Clubs Com-missioner. As Clubs Cominvolves a two-fold responsibility. The first and most important of missioner I worked directly with these responsibilities is to provide the VP Internal on issues imporservices to students and student tant to nearly 100 clubs on organizations. These services campus. Being Clubs Comshould be provided in as efficient a missioner has given me the knowledge and experience to deal manner as possible in order to benefit the greatest number of students. While cost efficiency is with pertinent internal issues. essential, in some instances it may I believe the Students' Union not be realistic to expect certain building reorganization plan is a services to operate in the black; very important internal issue. these services are, however, im-

With regard to SU services, the plan allocates expanded and improved space to the Exam portant to the students and should be subsidized by the Students' Union. Registry, the Copy Centre, and Housing Registry. The reorganization would also ensure 38 new club offices, and I will organizations to become involved ensure that these offices will be in all aspects of the Students' ready for September '82. Union. Fraternities and students I believe that all revenue clubs are essential components of generating areas within the building must have a component of service to students. My policies call for providing more space for on campus interviews, leasing additional space to the Bookstore for required texts, and leasing space to the University for more student access to computer terminals.

These policies will provide an optimal mix of student services within the building while generating substantial revenues to offset the Students' Union operating costs. Being Clubs Commissioners and a founder of a successful campus club, I am aware that clubs want freedom form Students' Union bureaucracy. I will work to ensure that clubs have easy access to the full range of services available all registered clubs.

In conclusion, I encourage students to examine all the candidates in this election and to make a rational, intelligent choice based on policy issues which are important to students.

policy will be continued in order to further reduce the SU debt. At the same time, we will deal with those issues, such as parking and scrip, that have been ignored over the last year. Issues such as getting bus passes refunded, while not as important as, say, cutbacks, should nevertheless be dealt with soon as they arise.

Even more important than specific policies, however, is the President's general approach to policy making. It is essential that well suited to deal with the President and V.P. Internal problems of the coming year.

Stamp Slate

The Students' Union Executive is composed of five people who are hired (voted) by the students and they are supposed to work for the students. Martin and I will work for you but we need your vote to do the job.

Scrip is an extremely important issue for the students living in residence. They should not be forced to subsidize Housing and Food Services. The Students' Union should be doing something constructive to help these students. I cannot believe that the candidates go to residence every year to get the students to vote for them; and when elected, ignore their needs. I will not ignore the students needs!

The quality, of university education has been declining. The students are going to have to pay more if they expect the quality of their education to increase. Anybody who believes that the government will put more money into our education, while the students pay the same amount every year; they probably still believe in Peter Pan. However, I do not see why the Heritage Fund, which is supposed to be invested for the future of Alberta, cannot be lent out to the students to ensure that we can afford to attend elected this week of like mind with other executive, three out of four of whom ran in the Cottle Slate. I have worked closely with these people for some time and we enjoy a mutual respect. This fact, combined with my experience as Academic Commissioner and my knowledge of Students' Council, makes me well suited to lead this year's executive and to ensure that the Students' Union meets students needs in a unified manner.

Your vote for the Greenhill Slate, combined with the four executive already elected, will provide the Students' Union with a strong and capable executive well suited to deal with the

Martin Schug

Several improvements should be made to help the student body, and I believe they may be produced with my oc-cupying the V.P. Internal office.

a) being able to set up licenced entertainment hasslefree. This can only be done by Students' Union control of liquor licenses. We guarantee a lobby in this direction.

b) Limiting ticket sales of all entertainment on campus to nonstudents. This will ensure that students do have first choice on entertainment to campus society.

c) Allowing fraternities to use quad area for Saturday beer gardens to raise money for themselves. (retaining 100 per cent profit less Students' Union services). I feel that only allowing certain groups access to this area is undemocratic. All clubs and fraternities should have equal rights to this area.

d) I will support any club or organization unless they dictate their morals to anyone in opposition.

e) There should be no censorship of any kind on any activity on campus as long as it does not conflict with the Alberta censorship laws.

f) I will work closely with the iversity Games Board to

Gordon Stamp

The second responsibility of the V.P. Internal is to encourage students and student

Rather than simply adopting

Raymond Conway

a confrontational approach, however, the Greenhill Slate will work closely with sectors outside the university, such as engineer-ing societies and business groups, that have a common interest in seeing the U of A produce high quality graduates.

The Greenhill Slate is committed to opposing cuts in funding

the University community and therefore every effort should be made to create avenues of involvement for them. Fraternities in particular should be encouraged to participate in cooperation with the Students' Union. Student clubs should be allowed to take, part in activities which would help to generate income for the clubs and resultingly decrease their depen-dancy on the Students' Union. In general, I see the position of V.P. Internal is one in which my responsibility would be to assist any individual or group of individuals to actively participate in their Students' Union.

University. The province of Alberta will benefit from our knowledge, but the students benefit the most from their education. I will lobby for larger and more accessible student loans.

It is your choice who you want to work for you next year. Choose wisely.

provide student input and ensure maximum efficiency

g) I will formally investigate improvements to the exam registry

If students want the fullest recognition, honesty and protection, the Stamp Slate should be their choice on Friday.

Dear Diary: Another day and I'm still not Mayorette of Edmonton. If they had convicted Purves by now they could have appointed me to the office at the city council meeting today. As it was I had to put up with that twit Hayter and his plan to have all city employees tatoo an Edmonton Oilers logo on their chest or some fool thing. So even though I'm not mayoratrix (What is the term anyway?) yet, I decided it was high time to get this city doing something important. I'm going to sweep all the sin out of this city with one big push and run over anyone who gets in my way

First we're going to get all those disgusting "head shops" out of town. As I told council we have to get rid of everything that enhances or facilitates the drug experience. I presented a preliminary list that includes; roach clips, bongo drums, jazz, expresso coffee, bonks, psychadelic anything, negro music, The Lord of the Rings, and Linda Blair movies

Next I want to cleanse our streets of Ladies of the Evening. I was shocked to learn that sort of wanton disregard for Christian morals isn't even against the law in this country anymore. Fortunately, the city can pass laws against any sort of disorderly conduct and there is no doubt in my mind that what those tarts do is immoral.

But what it boils down to is that another day ha's gone by and I'm still not running this city. I don't know, maybe I should have told someone about Cec's plan to annex his summer cottage at Lac La Biche. Oh well, my day will come.

/page 4, the Gateway

EDITORIAL The impossible middle

Tll work with anyone on this campus who is working for the same things I'm working for."

Mike Walker

You can just imaging the Walker campaign ringleaders Keith Krause and Don Millar (not necessarily in that order), choking desperately on this morsel of straightforwardness from their candidate.

It would have been refreshing at least, in this cliched day of blandness and non-commitance and generality and moderateness, to see a candidate seeking public approval via the ballot by saying what he though about the issues, such as they are.

Thus, we would have expected Mike Walker, who in the past year has maintained a pretty high profile on campus as a FAS-ACT-CFS student activist-organizer against cutbacksstudent loans-tuition, to come through postively and out front on the idea of free tuition, on his clear support for FAS-CFS, and 'against oppositions 'moderate' stance, which Walker has ineffectively excused merely as cozying up to business and government leaders by student political club types out for personal gain and advancement.

Somewhere again in this election Walker got too serious about winning. In the first election, February 5, he procrastinated near the end of his campaign, fearful of being red-baited and covetous of Bill Cottle's middle ground.

There are two ways to interpret this, given that Walker and Cottle almost evenly split the vote: either Walker was even in his mild form too radical for U of A students, or he wasn't radical enough.

Shortly before this second election fon Friday, Mike intimated that he might approach the campaign more honestly and straightforwardly and not waffle on what he thought were the important issues. However, in the end, it appears to me that he did 'moderate' with only a few glimpses of his real arrogance and forcefulness showing now and then.

Robert Greenhill, disparaged by my 'colleague' Greg Harris on page five of this paper, sits comfortably in the middle, moderate ground occupied by him naturally and left for him by former presidential candidate Bill Cottle. From their position, Cottle, and now Greenhill, had Walker over the barrel, as they say. Either Walker would have to come out the 'radical', committed progressive student activist, in which case there would be a real out front choice between the two camps, or he would have to submerge his activist image and go for the strategically important middle ground - In which case the athome moderates could 'red-bait' (to use Walker campaign jargon) Walker behind his back.

All of this has happened, of course, typitied by the mercenary attack on Walker for his views on 'no tuition.' Worse, it has been implied that Walker is deceiving people in leaving Greenhill the pragmatic, honest his moderacy, candidate.

Thus, we have had the sleazy, back biting by both sides in this most recent election campaign, the kind of politics one expects when two parties are trying to occupy the same space. What will the voters think? My guess would be they will think that Walker's underlying motive is to win the election, and that he would be committed enough to submerge his real motives temporarily to effect his program. It is not an uncommon election tactic, but it leaves Walker open to baiting from the opposition, and it leaves that opposition mostly unblemished. In all of this, Greenhill comes out far too political to be serious about student issues, but leaves Walker much too serious to win the election.

More of the night the candidates came home

Election

second feature at drive-in only: Revenge of the Board who wouldn't DIE

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A grain of electioneering malpractice

Dear Editor,

every candidate was given a academic reasons. booklet titled instructions to Finally, I question the legality Candidates. It reads:¹/₄ "In of Mike Walker's campaigning in residence, the following restrictions apply: "No campaign materials may be placed in the students' mailboxes." Why the Slate need ask a woman at the Lister Hall front office whether he could place literature in the mailboxes when it was so clearly stated in the handout is unfathomable. Whether or not it is legal to place the materials on doors is irrelevant.

meeting 1 asked Rob Greenhill this election. Bylaw 300 states that In the past I've taken the whether he would present our letters regarding the "practices" case since I felt it important to of the last election with a grain of have an articulate spokesman who salt. However, the latest inside was not directly involved with the story extends the use of B.S. to a election. At that time I had every new extreme. Prior to the start of cam-Rob Greenhill decided to run only paigning for the last election, after I had decided not to for each candidate "shall be responsi-ble for ensuring that practices that are unfair to other candidates are not followed" and that "any candidate who is found guilty of unfair electioneering practices which would prejudice unfairly the resluts of an election in his favour shall be disqualified."

Bill Cottle Eng 3

.

students' mailboxes." Why the Ignorance is no excuse

Re: Don Millar's "Inside Story on behavior with respect to this

Peter Michalyshyn

a note...

... a note on ever-extension of the brain, by Ernest Van der Haag

The Intellectual as a professional arose in western history basically as an articulator of religious ideas. Having lost his faith in actual religion, he now is an articulator of pseudoreligious ideas, of a secular, religion, such as Marxism, which differs from religion in the original sense that paradise is located not in nowhere - in Utopia - but located in a particular place - the Soviet Union, China, Cuba - and whenever they get too discredited a new place is found.

PRODUCTION - Robert Cook ARTS - Jens Andersen SPORTS - Andrew Watts PHOTO - Ray Giguere CUP - Richard Watts ADVERTISING - Tom Wright MEDIA PRODUCTIONS - Margriet Tilrue-West CIRCULATION - Mike McKinney

The Gateway is the official newspaper of the students at the University of Alberta. With a readership of over 25,000 the Gateway is published Tuesdays and Thursdays during the winter session, excepting holidays. Contents are the responsibility of the editor; editorials are written by an editorial board or signed. All other opinions are signed by the party expressing them. Copy deadlines are 12 noon Mondays and Wednesdays. The Gateway, a member of the Canadian University Press and of CUP Media Services Ltd., is located in Room 282 Students' Union Building, Edmonton, Alberta, T6G 2J7. Newsroom 432-5168; Advertising 432-4241

Staff (what else?) this issue: Lots of really boring people worked on this one. Jim Miller talked about toenails, while Dave Cox and Anne Stephen compared navels. Geoffrey Jackson complained about a pen he had once. James Stevens (who the hell (RED DEER TOO) Lee Wegenast, Al Coe, Heather Hoven (decided that since they all lived in RED DEER (ahahahaha) they were the most boring of all). Allison Annesley agreed wholeheartedly, and she wasn't even here.

Watering down feminism

Lois Sweet as "more human" to the progress for which subsequent to her remarks in the feminists (or should I say Gateway interview, but I for one lesbians?) and others have fought hard and long. You won't catch me

L. Shalom

Rehab Med II'

We reserve the right to edit for libel Ms. Sweet's brand of opening a door for her. watered-down feminism (all unpalatable elements removed, of Teri Paulgard may regard course) is insidiously destructive

Wade Cummings Commerce II

Letters to the Editor should be maximum of 250 words on any subject. Letters must be signed and include faculty, year and phone number. No anonymous letters will be ublished. All letters should be typed although we will reluctantly accept them if they are very neatly written and length. Letters do not necessarily reflect the views of the Galeway.

Prior to first DIE Board

Election Violation" March 23/82. election is most unbecoming. Mr. So we finally get a true Greenhill and Mr. Conway are confession, a confession to one accused of "trying to divert the and all, yes Mr. Millar, you must certainly "made an honest mis-take". It is about as honest as Nixon's Presidential term. In law, paign by the rules is an issue. Mr. ignorance is no excuse, Mr. Millar, Walker, if you feel that you and ignorance is no excuse, Mr. Millar, what you did was in violation of your people cannot run a good the rules and regulations whether campaign within the rules and or not you consider it an "hohest regulations I suggest you pull out. mistake". The same goes to Lisa Walter, and Dawn Noyes. Your

EDITOR - Peter Michalyshyn MANAGING - Mary Ruth Olson NEWS - Wes Oginski and Greg Harris PRODUCTION - Robert Cook

/Thursday, March 25, 1982

the Gateway, page 5/

SECOND W

As a matter of fact, Students' Council actually does serve an important purpose". I found myself saying this to someone about two weeks ago, after a marathon Council session.

This led me to wonder why Students' Council needed justifying in the first place. After all, it is in effect the Board of Directors of a five million dollar corporation; and its decisions affect (in one way or another) the lives of most of the inhabitants of this 20,000-person city within a city.

Nonetheless, there seems to be some inefficiency in this organization. Decisions can take months to go from concept to implementation. There is a lot of rather pointless debate in Council. This even seems to be longest and most heated in inverse proportion to the importance of the issue discussed. People see this and ask themselves "Why?"

"Why", people want to know, "does the Students' Council take so long to get its work done? Why do personal feelings enter debates with such vehemence and frequency?

Part of the reason is that it takes a rather odd combination of ambition and concern to run for Council. Without either of these qualities, fewer people would run than the few who do now

But it is just these qualities that make the debate so tedious and spiteful. People with concern will sometimes blow minor issues all out of proportion, and people with ambition will defend themselves even when wrong or imagine personal slights where there are none.

Don't get me wrong — this is not an argument for political disenchantment. I want you to take more of an interest in the process of government. If you think councillors are bozos, why aren't you running?

Above all, it is crucial that you make your opinion on political issues known. We have in this election three "slates" of distinctly different opinions. Vote for the one which most closely resembles yours.

Don't allow your decision to descend to the level of the campaign (i.e. don't choose the least vilified personality from among the candidates), make a sensible choice based on the issues and proposals put forward by the candidates in their literature.

But for God's sake, whatever you do, vote tomorrow. Giving up the democratic right to vote is the first step toward giving up the franchise. In other words, if you don't vote, other people will be making the choices for you.

Influence government in the most direct way anyone can - vote!

Dave Cox

Soviet government bent on establishing world domination articles concerning nuclear weapons, there is one crucial fact that has been missed by most of the correspondents.

Bruce Connell hints at it in his letter of March 18: "It becomes increasingly difficult to believe that they (I presume he means the Russians) want another war.

Well, they probably don't. The point is that they have no choice in the matter. There are no opposition parties in the Kremlin or editorials in Pravda which advocate disarmament. The present Soviet government is bent on world domination.

Added to this is the fact that military service is compulsory in the Soviet Union, and the Soviet press does not lend aid and point. The Soviet Union keeps its satellites under a very tight rein (e.g. Hungary 1956, Czechoslovakia 1968; Portugal was saved from being sucked into the Soviet orbit only by its geographical position, Afghanistan 1979, Poland 1981), whereas NATO tolerates a fairly wide range of dissent within its ranks. Would a Warsaw Pact country be allowed by the Soviet in the U.S.

comfort to draft dodgers, as it does

This brings me to another

Amid the flurry of letters and Union to sign a friendship cles concerning nuclear protocol with the U.S. or to tolerate the existence of a large, pro-Western party"in its parliament?

Therefore the Soviet Union can threaten to install nuclear weapons anywhere in their empire without fear of local opposi-tion, as has happened in Cuba. Will we be seeing anti-nuclear demonstrations in Havana?

contend with the opposition of a small, but vociferous minority (a recent poll showed that more than 30 per cent of those questioned in the U.S. and more than 70 per cent of those questioned in Britain and West Germany would be prepared to go to war to stop Soviet expansion) whenever they try to

The U.S. and Western Euro- They also have to put up with an pean countries usually have to unending stream of slings and arrows from liberal intellectuals in the press, calling for unilateral disarmament.

And this is the main reason why NATO should maintain, and increase its, technological superiority over the Soviet Union - it is the only real advantage which it possesses. Fortunately this should not be too difficult, as update their military capabilities.

it has been shown (Sutton, Western Technology and Soviet Economic Development) that totalitarian states such as the Soviet Union are stagnant and uninventive, and need to rely on countries such as the U.S., West Germany, and Britain for advanced equipment.

Yours. Robert Orr Grad Studies

Angry HUB resident blasts director of housing

Dear Editor,

A letter of warning to present and future HUB residents. Present tenants have received a newsletter with some rather unpleasant changes detailed in it. The worst concerns the choosing of room-mates.

This idea was aired by Housing and Food services last year, and shot down in flames by the then HUB tenants association. Like the Phoenix, it arises again. If you rent an apartment, it means that you will have to choose your room-mates from a short list of ten supplied by HUB. You can't say you want your wife or buddy; you can specify your roomie's age, sex and faculty, but not their identity. So whether or not you have a co-tenant(s) lined up, HUB may not let you have them. Isn't this sweet?

year, why is it a good idea this year? This means sharing your 2. When will you all realize apartment with a stranger if you're unlucky. Even if they that HUB is not an extension of Lister Hall? Many HUB tenants promised you that they went to are mature students - a sight older church every Sunday morning, you and wiser than some of you - and might find them getting they are not looking for a corner to throw a mattress but a place they can call home for a while. Treat us like apartment renters elsewhere;

4. What advantage is in it for you? (or am I just being cynical? Perhaps you do it just for the merry hell of it all).

5. Bearing in mind the venom this issue raised last year (remember the petition?), why did you not canvass residents (you'd have lost 'handsomely)? Please understand that no-one likes being governed by fait ac-treat us as you would want to be treated. 3. Would you share your house with strangers foisted upon you by other strangers?

Keep cruise missiles clean out of Alberta

Friends.

As you have probably heard, the Canadian Government now proposes to allow US testing of the Cruise missile in Canada

Canada should certainly oppose rather than facilitate the Cruise missile. The Cruise Missile Convermotherless drunk every Saturday night, throwing up on your private furniture, stealing your belongings, killing your cacti, throwing parties every other night, refusing to house-keep, and dragging in even stranger strangers to spend the night (or a few days) in your apartment. And there won't be a thing you can do about it. If your short-list comprises ten hell-raisers, a hellraiser is what you'll have to live with.

So, a few remarks are in order, adressed to Gail "eminence grise" Brown, Tracy Bodner, and the Board of Governors, reputed to have decided this policy (at whose instigation, I wonder?). 1. If this was a bad idea last

(without nuclear washeads, we are sion Project has been firmly told) - at the Alberta-Saskatchewan Primrose Bombing Range. With this latest example of made-in-Washington policies for Canada, an upsurge of shock and opposition is building up across the country.

1. Please make your views known to Gilles Lamontagne, Minister, Department of National Defence, Government of Canada, Ottawa. Also to representatives in. provincial legislatures (N.B. Alberta and Saskatchewan), Members of Parliament, the Prime Minister and the media (Letters to the Editor, etc.)

Remember that at the UN special session on disarmament in 1978, Mr. Trudeau called for 'suffocating the arms race' (including stopping the flight testing of new systems). 2. You may be able to help organize a local demonstration and/or vigil. (If so, please let me know - and the Canadian Friends Service Committee, 60 Lowther Avenue, Toronto).

shown very clear and strong opposition to the deployment of the Cruise missile in Europe.

The Cruise is designed for non-detection and 'first-strike' opposing the production of the electronic guidance system (the 'Brains') for the Cruise missile, at the Litton plant in Rexdale (Toronto)

3. There will be a (3rd annual) walk to Litton on Good Friday. Friends are encouraged to participate, to send letters/telegrams of support, and to launch local actions or observances on Good Friday in solidarity with (and for better national coverage of) the Cruise Conversion demonstration and direct action in Toronto. (Thursday-Friday night candle vigils across the country would be great too.)

Peace and Friendship, Bill Curry, Box 909 Wynyard, Saskatchewan SOA 4TO (306-554-3936)

Canadian Friends Service Committee Western peace worker

ed note: Demonstration against Cruise missiles in Alberta. European people have Rally at Cold Lake Air Force Base, Saturday, March 27 at 2 p.m. A bus will leave from the Unitarian Church, 12530-110 Avenue at 9:00 p.m. ($6.00) For more information, call Eric at 432-4641.

Slate speaks Dear Editor,

Shihaterson

What!! Another Election?!"

It seems to me that the majority of students in this institution are sick and tired of these "monthly elections." There is nothing more irritating than having campaign propaganda forced upon you during the early hours of the day. The result of this anger catapults "write-in" joke slates, like the Shihaterson slate, to the top. People who did not participate in the last election will vote "Ed Shihadeh for president' and "James Paterson for V.D. Internal.'

No one wishes to elect these clowns, but I am sure that, due to the anger, this slate will receive enough votes to shock the entire Students' Union electoral system. James Paterson Write-in candidate V.D.Internal

Gateway Staff

Staff meeting for the express purpose of selecting the editorial staff for 1982-83 term on Thursday, March 25, 1982 at 4 p.m. Room 282 SUB.

> VOTERS LIST FOR THOSE PERSONS ELIGIBLE TO VOTE ON NEXT YEARS STAFF.

Peter Michalyshyn Wes Oginski Greg Harris Mary-Ruth Olson Robert Cook Jens Andersen Andrew Watts Richard Watts Ray Giguere Mike McKinney Peter West Geoffrey Jackson Anne Stephen Alison Annesley Peter Jarvis Martin Beales Ken Tsai Vic Marchiel

James Stevens Gunnar Blodgett Jim Miller Louis Pena Garnet DuGrav Don Millar Dave Cox Peter Hammond Bob Kilgannon Tom Freeland Kent Blinston Jordan Petersor Michael Skeet Ben Yee Lloyd Takeyasu David Benoit Murray Whitby Gerard Kennedy Peter Durovic Mait Moralis Diana Taschuk Mike Walke: Dave Oginski Peter Melynchuk Terri-Lynn Paulguard Pierre Trudeau Marianne Nielson Mike Eklund John Roggeveen Brent Jeffery Dave Chan Liz Hunt Billy McKay Cindy Oxley Beth Jacob Igor and Jessica Levental

Please attend

/page 6, the Gateway

Student political hack defends University President

nearly two weeks in the vain hope reasonable or otherwise. that the writer of the letter (Gateway, March 9) condemning been labelled radical and confronfor declining to march on the admit that I don't know of any legislature with the rest of us last administrator on campus who has week, would reconsider those more sincerely demonstrated a remarks that unfairly impugned genuine sensitivity to the student . Dr. Horowitz's integrity and point of view, or who is more withdraw them. Seeing that Mr. accessible to Joe-average student ing would still have us accept his alternate perspective.

Koch of the Faculty of Engineer- than is Horowitz.

ment and the slanderous us a Board of Governors which, in in question. But even under the sometimes listen to, and even act guise of the former, Mr. Koch's upon student concerns. A far cry allegations have no basis in fact. from the totally reactionary Board God only knows the times that I that students at the University of and other outspoken students Calgary are saddled and spurred have banged heads and locked with horns with "Uncle Meyer", as we sometimes call him behind his ment persists in the face of all back, over issues ranging from reasonable logic with its pig-reduced library hours and study headed, myopic policies on stuspace to student input on arbitrary dent aid, tuition, and regressive this university health in the fact of administrative decisions. And that university funding, that's not some higher power can also attest Horowitz's fault - it's ours. We derfunding. that Dr. Horowitz has invariably helped elect the bloody-minded

As one who has sometimes deserve.

It must be obvious to even the most naive spectator that in the president of this University tational in my approach, I have to his role as president, Horowitz

Second, it is to his credit that labours under a unique set of deliberately misinformed point of he has, as president, pursued a personal and professional conview, I would like to offer an form of diplomacy often more straints. In addition to represencosmopolitan than his detractors ting the whole university com-First, there is a big difference are usually capable of understan- munity to the public at large, the between opinionated fair com- ding. He has at least produced for likes of Mr. Koch would apparently have him also play the clown simpleton name calling that spite of the short leash of their and ask "How deep?", when they state". Here's some events summarized the correspondence Tory masters, has been known to holler, "Shit!". In the same breath the converse of the should convince him. he is expected to meekly say, "How high?", when government monkeys, uh, ministers like Jim Horsman say, "Jump!"

Even the most begrudging of h. critics must recognize that mediate, unconditional, and total withdrawal of Soviet troops" siderable intestinal fortitude in pursuing an independent course in his unenviable task of keeping blatantly cynical government un-gone the extra mile in an effort to buggers and perhaps we're just paint a phoney halo of troops in Afghanistan.

I have held my tongue for meet student demands, whether getting back from them what we superlatives around his head - his wife tells folks that he has his share of warts just like the rest of as. But while one may disagree with specific moves, as I often had, one has to respect the high standards of his goals and the legree of integrity with which he seeks to achieve them.

In closing, I don't know which of you has more guts, Mr. Koch; you for writing such a churlishly petulant piece of drivel, or Horowitz for swallowing it in silence. But it might do you some good to choke on it at Convocation next month when Dr. Horowitz shakes your hand and gives you your diploma, as he surely will. Bob Kirk

Evidence of aggression

Mr. Ammar's letter of March 16th deserves comment. He is unconvinced that the Soviet Union is an "aggressive military state". Here's some evidence that

The USSR invaded Afghanistan in late December of 1979. As a result, the U.N. General Assembly called, on January 14, 1980, for the "immediate, unconditional, and total That motion was approved 104-18

Furthermore, on January 29, foreign ministers of Islamic nations condemned the invasion The point of this is not to national law. There are still Soviet

Finally, Mr. Ammar would like us to distinguish between liberation movements and Webster's defines terrorists. "terrorist" as "an advocate or practioner of terror as a means of coercion"

The objectives of a terrorist are not part of the definition; thus, the PLO, for example, seems to fit the definition quite well. Come to think of it, Mr. Ammar does too. Nicolas Dimic Arts III

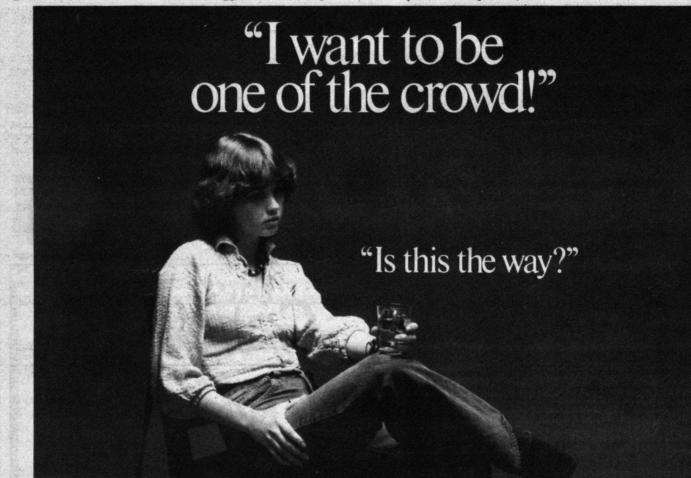

Reason for starvation Dear Editor,

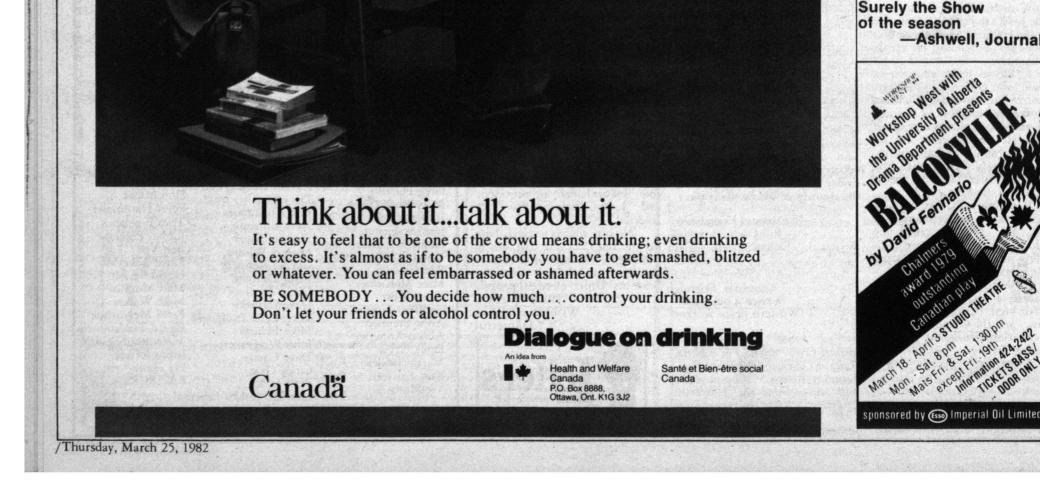

The Hunger Project is not even noticed by the agricultural organizations in Canada. While I do not mean to belittle Anthropologists and Sociologists, these people are not experts in the production, distribution and consumption patterns of food products, Agrologists and Food Scientists are. These are the people that should be listened to, not stary-a-thon advocates that don't know the issues.

The reason why there are starving people in the world is because they are poor, not because there is a shortage of food right now. In the US at the present time there is 1.1167 billion bushels of wheat in carry-over stocks that can't be sold, even at depressed prices. The grain will only move to these unfortunate people when they have the money to pay for it. It is thus the commercial system of grain movement, which finds no profit in giving grain away to poor people.

Finally, the lack of domestically grown food in developing countries is often economic policy that forces agriculture to subsidize in-dustrialization. The drop in capital flow to agriculture results in a drop in food production. Thus output suffers and people go hungry.

Mark Hickok Agriculture IV

SECOND WIND

by Greg Harris

Hats off to Robert Greenhill - our righteous defender of morality, justice and the Christian way of life. Greenhill has seen the evil in SU politics and it is Mike Walker. Thank you Mr. Greenhill for your persistent efforts to run a campaign aimed at discrediting your opposition largely on insinuations of pre-meditated wrongdoing. Were it not for your steady retch of innuendo and allegation, 'us po dumb students' would no doubt elect a man who kicks puppies and beats his girlfriend. Your abilities to sniff out corruption at every turn leaves us all greatly indebted.

You're right. It's inconsequential that the DIE Board overturned the first election on a regulation so glaring in inconsistency with the rest of the campaign rules that it shrieks for reform.

Unimportant too that the DIE Board was technically in violation of its own rules and regulations by reversing their original decision to overturn the entire election. Never mind that DIE Board chairperson admitted as much.

opinion column for Gateway staff

We're with you all the way, Bobby boy. And this latest poster scandal that you've uncovered is undeniable evidence that the Walker Slate would engineer a plot so evil in its scope that it doesn't bear description.

Your decision to make imagined corruption the most important issue of the election hits the tack right on the head.

There's certainly no myopic complacency here. Agent Bob Greenhill - public defender.

Politically shrewd of you to realize that people would sooner believe the worst of what they hear of someone.

And shrewd to give students superficial pap on the real issues when they're all busy with papers and exams and don't really have time to think about them anyway.

God save America for saving the world from the Soviets

It appears many people share misconceptions concerning U.S. -Soviet intentions and capabilities. Collapse during escalation (Maj. Gen. A.S. Milovidov - The Philosophical Heritage of V.I. As Alexander Solzhenitsyn maintains, one must distinguish between "Russians" and "Soviets" (The Mortal Danger).

The C.P.S.U., the so-called "vanguard of the people" (for which it is compulsory for conse-quential members of the military establishment to join) and the K.G.B., the "sword and the shield" of the C.P.S.U., are the Soviets he refers to, the rest of the populace being the Russians.

Soviet military doctrine, shaped by Politburo occupants, reflects the contention of Carl von Clausewitz "that war is not a mere act of policy, but a true political instrument, a continuation of political activity by other (violent) Soviet literature is means." replete with references to war as the servant of political policy (eg. V.D. Sokolovsky - Military Strategy

With respect to nuclear war, the U.S. notion that neither side could win is not jointly shared by the Soviets. Indeed, the Kremlin intends to try if preventative ploys surance?

POMBERT

service.

Lenin and Problems of Contemporary War). This notion of survivability is reflected in the qualitative and quantitative advantagés held by the USSR in civil defense (Yegorov, Shylakhov, Albin -Civil Defense: A Soviet View).

As far as the U.S. always being the first to deploy new weapons systems (Mr. Goff and Mr. Connell take note), the combination of accuracy and yield fourth-generation Soviet of I.C.B.M.s SS-17, SS-18 and SS-19 have altered the strategic balance of power through first strike capability. The fourth-generation MX may not be deployed until 1990 Soviet advances in controlled thermonuclear fusion and

magnetohydrodynamic machines (which rely on superheated gases or plasma to generate electricity) may produce startling payoffs in directed energy weapons (i.e. charged particle beams and lasers).

INSURANCE

West End

16629 - 83 Ave.

483-0408

The Soviets are also at the forefront of A.S.A.T. (an- Their inevitable use of force is tisatellite) technology (18 tests, 11 successes).

convenient for electoral purposes.

Faculty of Arts elections have.

stated that they "have been on"

The work that ACT! does consists mainly in raising the awareness of the campus community about cutbacks. This is done by organizing high visibility campaigns. The culmination of this year's work by the Anti-

Cutbacks Team was the march to the Legislature on March 11th as the focus of the National Week of

It strikes me as interesting

Student Action (March 8 - 11).

that the two individuals in question did apparently not find this event important enough to merit putting some time and effort into actively participating in the work

the Anti-Cutbacks Team.

Two people running on the Limiting arms only serves God bless President Reagan temporary Soviet objectives. and the men and women of ideology. God bless President Reagan Participation demands sacrifice

Tribute from an ex-rival

I was shocked to hear of the death of Alison Thomson. I guess it made me think of Billy Joel's song "Only the Good Die Young." Alison Thomson was someone I did not personally like but deeply respected. She and I did not often see eye to eye on various issues but she had an incredible reserve of energy and vitality which I admired. She took a stance and got involved in what she believed in. She had the intelligence and drive

Garry Degrood

Arts I

Amanda Le Rougetel Chairperson uf Anti-Cutbacks Team

Dear Editor,

dictated by doctrine inherent from for they are proud, defiant, and alert.

sorely needed by our world. She definitely made an impact on many people both on and off campus. I am only sorry that her talents and dreams for the future were not realized.

This campus is a different place because Alison was here. I wonder how many of us can say that our lives are making a difference an impact on our world?

Cheryl Donnelly Comm IV

It seems that the Anti-Cutbacks Team is used when Attending meetings is one candidates for whom you choose thing, sacrificing time and sleep to get out and publicize the event by against cutbacks. talking to classes and leafletting

'Arts Slate" in the upcoming on campus is altogether another. I urge you to consider very seriously the commitment the

Sincerely,

America's military establishment

Responsibilities:

Sherwood Park

74 Chippewa Road 464-2272

- Performance of duties normally required by a Returning Officer (Staff recruitment and hiring, poll organization)

AGENCIES

Are you paying too much for auto in-

Auto • Tenants • Home

Call us for low rates and exceptional

- Conduct elections under the "Nominations and Elections Bylaw (300)" or such other elections or referenda as the Students' Council designates.

Qualifications:

Organizations and administrative skills a necessity.

- Backgrounds of computing knowledge and familiarity with previous Students' Union elections an asset.

Remuneration: $5.00 per hour

Term of Office: 1 April 1982 to 31 March 1983 (unless otherwise stipulated) Deadline for Applications: Friday 19 March 1982 For Applications and Information, Contact the SU Executive Offices, Room 259 SUB, Phone 432-4236

/page 8, the Gateway

Compelling conclusion to...

Election II '82 round table discussion....the adventure continues.

When we last left our intrepid politicians they were furiously debating methods to lobby the government for more post-secondary education funding.

The players once again are Mike Walker, president, Jeff Reading, v.p. internal, Walker Slate; Gord Stamp, president, Martin Schug, v.p. internal, Stamp Slate; Robert Greenhill, president, Raymond Conway, v.p. internal, Greenhill Slate.

As we return to the blue smoke filled, mirror laden back room of the Students' Union Building we find Mike Walker responding to a question from Gord Stamp: "What are you going to lobby the government for?"

Walker: Oh, lobbying the government

Stamp: What are you going to lobby them for?

Walker: Adequate funding, an accessability study to determine what kind of impact costs and rising costs and the student aid system are having on students being able to attend university, a freeze on tuition fees until that study is completed, the replacement of the current loan - remission student aid program with a grant loan program - which amazingly enough was endorsed by the U of A Board of Governors at its last meeting. Adequate levels of funding is at the centre of it all of course these things the U of A's students union and the U of A's student union president can't do in isolation. I think it's necessary to cooperate with student groups across the country, and I think that the things like the march prove that although the majority of students were from the U of A, they proved that the U of A students, when they are working with other students from institutions, they can be more effective.

Greenhill: Can I just jump in here....it seems that Mike's definition of cooperation would be working together with other student groups in a confrontationalist approach to government, and I think that in the fight against cutbacks, actions like the march are useful and necessary, but insufficient in themselves. I think that you should also look, at the same time, that you are confronting the government directly to make your concerns known across the country. You should be cooperating with other groups who have similar interests, cooperating with business groups outside of campus who need to see high quality graduates, cooperating with the Board of Governors on campus.

Mike seems surprised that they agreed to the loan-grant program. I think that it is no surprise, I think that it is indicative of the fact that the Board of Governors does care about the students too, and while there are times when we have to necessarily oppose the Board of Governors decision, for instance to do with tuition increases, there are other times when we can effectively use them and work with them to lobby the government together, and I think that the cooperative aspect of lobbying is something which has been left out this year and which we'd work to bring back into the anti-cutbacks program.

and I think that's been established in the past. So the job of student representative can be very difficult at the Board of Governors. It's not simply putting forward a position and asking for their cooperation.

The Federation of Alberta Students is dedicated to fighting cutbacks, and so are we. I think that's fairly straightforward. FAS is referenda based. Three times in the last six years there have been membership referenda on this campus, and each time the referendum has passed. I don't plan to initiate another referendum on the Federation of Alberta Students, I think U of A students have shown that they support it. I think that organization can provide the kind of research, the kind of information from government, the kind of coordination and planning that is necessary. It can provide the lobbying that is necessary. The Federation of Alberta Students representatives meet every year with the Students' Finance Board to set student loan guidelines, they meet with the minister of advanced education, they meet with MLAs. This year the Federation's executive met with the minister I think four times generally whenever the federation wants to meet with the minister and he's willing to. They like to wait until they have something to speak about, and there are times when the minister wants input from students he'll call the federation, and as long as that avenue is open to the U of A Students' Union, we plan to take advantage of it.

Greenhill: So do you think that FAS represents the views of students on campus then?

Walker: Oh, not always. It's primary function is to Greenhill: Generally?

Walker: Oh, generally I think like I said: they are dedicated to fighting cutbacks and I think students on campus would agree with that, and I think FAS is dedicated to fighting for an accessable education system and I think students on this campus would generally agree with that.

Gateway: Where do you stand on FAS, Robert?

Greenhill: Well, I think that FAS, in its role in fighting cutbacks is very useful. 1 question however, when we spend many thousands of dollars here supporting a FAS Anti-Cutbacks Team directly on campus, and that we should also be spending seventy thousand approximately seventy thousand dollars on other organizations which seem devoted to a conflictual approach or a conflictual solution to cutbacks. I think that like I've said before a students can afford to go to university, conflictual approach is necessary up to a point; I don't think it's everything, and I think we're fooling ourselves if we think FAS is effectively representing U of A students right now. I think that for instance a free tuition policy is really unrealistic. I think it's a poor bargaining position and I think it doesn't reflect the wishes or the best interests of the majority of students on campus, and I think there is a real problem in organization, which we form almost half of and vet only have one twelfth of the votes in, and I think that FAS, while a good organization in principle, and while I support it - the idea of it - I think that we are going to have to really look at more equitable structuring, the votes on FAS, perhaps per capita representation. Otherwise we're going to have the situation where the majority of students in Alberta aren't being properly represented.

for a grant to external affairs board. External affairs Board gave it a grant that's fairly straightforward.

You know, you talk about FAS being conflict-oriented. Well, I'm glad hou agree that sometimes students have to take strong positions and not back down because governments are taking a strong position - the provincial government took strong position with the budget that came down last night - they said you're getting 12 per cent and no more. That's got to be responded to strongly and I think that the Students' Union and any student group has a responsibility to react strongly. However, the Federation of Alberta Students meets with the minister regularly, they meet with the Students' finance board. Last year the Student Finance Board's guidelines reflected directly the input of the Federation

I should mention that whenever I've been present when FAS representatives have talked about tuition with the minister, they've called for an access study, and a freeze on fees until that study is completed, and so the free tuition policy becomes I think a Greenhill: You're denying a free tuition policy exists in FAS?

Walker: Well the policy is there - it's on the books for anyone to see. The point is that on a practical political levelwhen there's lobbying going on, when a position is being put forward, whenever I've been present, FAS has put forward a position calling for an access study and a freeze on tuition fees until that's completed.

Greenhill: What's your position on FAS? Do you hold an executive position?

Walker: No, I once was an executive member.

Gateway: Gordon?

Stamp: OK. First of all, FAS put together that march a week or two ago and they had those cards we were signing that said we want to freeze tuition, and they want more money for the university which is cimpletely unrealistic because the students are not willing to pay more for their education. The students are not going to get money for the university from the government or anybody if we're not willing to pay more for education. How do we expect a better quality of education?

Walker: Are you in favor of a 25 per cent fee increase next year?

Stamp: I am in favour of a fee increase as long as we get guaranteed student loans so because we're going to have to start paying more for university. FAS is saying that they want more money for students and we're not willing to pay it for ourselves which I do not agree with, and a lot of people who signed those cards do not agree with that.

Walker: Well it has club status; its applied Conway: Sure, I'll start. I don't think anyone can deny the fact that a women's centre on campus is a good thing. Nobody will deny the fact that women have to be given an opportunity to express, well, to work towards goals of achieving more equality on campus, and increasing women's awareness on campus. However what I don't agree with is - and I've come to this conclusion because of personal relationships with the women's centre, with my inter-action with the women's centre - and I believe that the women's centre is beginning to act in a quasi-partisan manner and it is taking stands on positions. It's not an open centre. If you're a woman who supports one kind of ideology that's fine, but if you don't support their ideology then you are kind of an outcast.

I tried to get a co-speaker once with the women's centre and they said they would not because they did not agree with what she said. I think that the fact that she's a woman and she has an opinion gives her the right to be hard, regardless with whether they agree with what she says or not. Unless they are trying to just give one side to the women's argument, I can't accept them just giving one side of the argument, I think they have to be honest and show both sides, and for that reason I think that we should not question the existance of the women's centre on campus, but question the way its being run right now.

Walker: Can I ask a real short question?

Gateway: Sure.

Walker: Does that mean that you plan to do something about it or is it a personal kind of philosophical argument?

Conway: I don't think that as v.p. internal I'm going to interfere at all with the internal workings of a club - he asked me what I felt about the women's centre

Walker: I just wanted to clarify that

Conway:and I'm not going to tell them what to do, it's up to them - if they want to stay that way it's fine, I'm not going to do anything.

Gateway: O.K., Martin?

Schug: Well, the Women's centre definitely plays a role in society, campus society, but....I'm fully supportive if they want to hold a cabaret to raise money to help support a wife-battering shelter, we're fully supportive of it, or if they want to lobby for tougher rape laws I mean I totally agree with that. But when they start going ahead and infringing on other people's rights such as the magazine controversy with Heavy Metal, and that I find rather

Conway: Especially with respect to ACT, I think that a group such as ACT, while I agree with what they are trying to accomplish, I think that they are going at it only in one way and that is kind of taking a confrontational aspect.

Gateway: O.K. maybe we can get into the whole question then of where the various slates stand on the Federation of Alberta students and whether they'd run a pull-out referendum.

Walker: I'd like to mention a couple things about what Rob said first. The Board of Governors can be very useful. The Board of Governors can be useful in endorsing positions like the call for a grant-loan, student aid program, but we shouldn't fool ourselves - nine out of nineteen members of that Board of Governors were appointed directly by the minister of Advanced Education, and those nine out of nineteen, many of them are political appointments

/Thursday, March 25, 1982

Walker: Can I point out a couple of things?

Gateway: Sure - we'll give you one rebutal and then go over to Gord.

Walker: Well, I wouldn't call it a rebuttal. I'd like to clear up a couple of misconceptions. The Anti-cutbacks team is a Students' Union group; it's I believe a registered club with the Students' Union, and not a FAS group at all.

Greenhill: What's its status?

Walker: They shouldn't have signed them, then, should they?

Stamp: They signed them as a form of protest. Sometimes you have to join in a protest you do not believe in. But as far as FAS in concerned it has nothing to do with the Students' Union, it is being funded separately. They are not being funded by the Students' Union, the Students' Union really doesn't have too much to do with it. And I feel that if I find out FAS is not doing their job properly, I will hold a referendum to close them down.

Gateway: O.K., maybe we'll get away from this area of discussion now as well. To the v.p. internal candidates: how would you assess the women's centre's first year and would you continue to support them next year?

Schug: Who're you asking?

Gateway: Who wants to start - do you want to start Ray?

Schug: Let him start.

undemocratic

Gateway: O.K., and maybe you'd like to respond to Mike's question as well, would you work to change any of this as a member of the executive?

Schug: Well, in serving the students wants and we have to question both sides and weigh the benefits and costs, and derive a plausible answer. There is no panacea to the whole thing

Conway: You're getting into politics really good aren't you

Everyone: Laughter.

Schug: Right, well it just depends on what the situation is, I mean you just can't take a biased view because of their

Everyone: More laughter.

Schug:past activities. That is un-democratic. So you have to work with them and not against them.

Gateway: Alright, Jeff?

Reading: As v.p. internal I would like to stay away from specific issues within clubs - 1 think the Students' Union should allow clubs to remain autonomous within themselves. We're a service and we should give them all the rights and full range of services now offered to all student groups. And if you're asking me on a philosophical level whether I believe in them I think that's outside the range of the v.p. internal.

...blue smoke and mirrors

Gateway: How would you assess their first year on campus was the phrasing of the question.

Reading: I'd say they were quite successful, they've got a good following and I'm right behind them.

Stamp: One quarter of one percent of the population of the students - I figured it

Reading: Well, 1 don't think the v.p. internal should provide any barriers to any organization.

Greenhill: Have you got any criticisms of them?

Reading: Criticisms of the women's cen-

204

20

-

Greenhill: Yes. No criticisms of the womèns centre.

Reading: No. I don't see my position as being one of a philosopher...

Stamp: They are a club and they are under your jurisdiction.

Reading: Not in terms of their philosophy, but in terms of their organiza-tion. What I want to do is foster the education here.

Conway: We can have opinion about the clubs, but I don't think that any of the v.p. internal candidates should state that they are going to get involved with the inner workings of the party - lagree completely with Jeff in that respect. I don't think it is up to us to tell them how their club is to be run.

Gateway: Right - everyone seems to be saying more or less the same thing.

Walker: Surprisingly enough.

Gateway: We'll cut this one off. You have to leave at a quarter to three, Ray?

Walker: It'll be interesting to see if they (Stamp slate) come up with the most moderate position on the women's centre.

Gateway: Can we get one quick question in before Ray has to go? I'd like to ask everyone except Mike Walker and Gord Stamp, why didn't you run last time, and or such as what's going to be happening actively in either the Cottle or the Walker with bus passes that aren't valid during a transit strike, students council and students executive hasn't seemed to have dealt with them properly. And for that reason, when I found out that Bill Cottle wasn't going to be running again I decided that I'd try to continue to represent the moderate viewpoint which he put forward, and try to have some continuity and cooperation with the outgoing executive and with the executive members who are already elected in. And I think I can provide that cooperation with the executive members already in office and I can provide the sincerity and honest approach that will maybe turn the Students' Union around, and maybe represent the students needs more fully.

Gateway: O.K. Ray?

Conway: I'm in my fourth year of an arts program and I was going to be graduating this term up until it was announced that the elections had been overturned. I had been approached by one or two individuals separately and was asked if I was considering it, and I just dismissed it out of that I would take his place. That's how the hand. I hadn't really thought about it. When the Students' Union elections were overturned, a group of individuals approached me and asked me if I would consider it, and I thought about it for about Gateway: O.K.? a week and decided that I thought I could make a contribution, not just to maintain Walker: I really want to respond to a the status quo, but actually make a contribution to the Students' Union, so I decided that I'd be willing to give up a year Gateway: Sure. out on' a job. Instead of working in the private sector, I thought I'd take a shot here first.

Gateway: Hi Kent.

Blinston: Where's the game?

Gateway: 270A

Blinston: O.K., have a nice time everyone.

Gateway: We will.

Walker: We are.

Gateway: OK, does that wrap it up for you Ray?

Conway: Yes, I'll just sit here and wait until the others are finished with this question.

Gateway: O.K., and then maybe we'll just fire a couple more questions at the presidents to be fair. Jeff?

Reading: The reason I didn't run for v.p. up if we didn't internal was that I felt that Dawn Noyes would do an effective job. She's had the experience in the Students' Union and she would do a very good job. She was the only candidate at that time and I thought she would win by acclamation, so I sat out that race. This election is a totally different picture. I feel that the people who are running against me aren't as qualified as me. I haven't seen them around the Students' Union building or at any of the council meetings, and I feel that I have the background to do the job better than the others, and that's basically it. I can also work well with Mike.

the big issues — but when it comes to the him as a neutral objective observer. So I Walker, Well she didn't do that particular small issues such as scrip or parking tickets, decided I would. I hadn't been involed thing. campaign up until that point. But when I Greenhill: I was under the impression looked at the allegations I was no longer that it was.... objective in that I believed that the allegations against the Cottle slate were at best wrong and at worst slanderous, and I things in mailboxes. think that was justified when it was acquited five nothing. When the election Greenhill: Well Don Millar as your was overturned, I was surprised because campaign manager is supposed to read that wasn't what I was asking for at all - I regulations. was asking for the overturning of the presidential election because it seemed to Walker: Oh he knows he should have me that there were very questionable done that. electioneering practices involved, and I believe that the president was responsible Greenhill: And I think it wasn't the act for the actions of any of his supporters, particularly both his campaign managers.

help Bill Cottle, and Bill Cottle wasn't sure on and believed that I could make a was very undertain. But then, the afternoon of the march, Bill Cottle confirmed that he wouldn't be running and so then I decided

Stamp: O.K., I just wanted to know.

couple of points

Walker: Rob's been flying inuendo across the room about the DIE Board proceedings

Greenhill: Thanks-not again

Walker: Well I think the facts are fairly clear. It was established at the DIE Board proceedings that the Walker executive campaign made an honest mistake, unknowingly broke the rules

Greenhill: Made a mistake

Schug: Is this relevant to this election?

Walker: Well I think somebody is going to try and make it relevant and so I should clear up the facts.

Schug: Well you didn't bring out the Gateway: O.K., we'll cut this one off here. question...

Walker: Fine

Schug: Well don't accuse us of bringing it

Walker: It was Don Millar that put the itself; it was indicative of the approach which seemed to be one of a fair degree of So as soon as that occured, I offered to arrogance in the sense that if you believe your above reading regulations and you are whether he was running again, at which point I decided that I was involved enough and interested enough in what was going put forth which I don't know what the results of it are, if it was ever discussed, was contribution, that I would run if Bill Cottle the fact that Dawn Noyes was running in a was to resign. He had first refusal, and he campaign and she was accidentally illeligable.

> Walker: As a matter of fact that was put forward to DIE Board for a ruling only, there never was any allegation made against anyone.

> Greenhill: And the Walker Executive was allowed ninety more dollars in election expenses because of that, when in fact she wasn't even able to run. So I think that you're right, in a sense the matter itself was small, but it's just like when you get a mafioso on tax evasion because you can't get him on anything else. I think that in the allegation that was made then, I was very clear as to what we could prove and could not prove. All we could prove was that election regulations had been broken and that they'd been broken by your supporters.

Walker: And what couldn't you have proved?

Greenhill: We couldn't have proved malicious intent and so we didn't try to prove maliscious intent. I think in a sense that this could have no bearing on this election, and I don't think it should have any bearing on this election. I don't think that the DIE Board proceedings are important except as insofar as they've made the students population have to submit to another election.

Walker: Bit the bullet.

Gateway: Just a couple of more questions, to presidents, how would you like to see the Gateway seizure lawsuit handled in council what changed in your mind?

Schug: Well I'd like to say something. I was going to run for president last time but I was one day late - so I got burnt.

Everyone: Laughter.

Walker: You would have run against Gord?

Stamp: He didn't know I was running at the time.

Greenhill: I guess the reason I got involved was because I was very critical of a lot of the goings on in the last election, I was really, really concerned. Well, I guess I won't get into the actual nitty gritty there, but-I realized that after being critical about if that if I really did care enough about the Students' Union to criticize everybody, it's easy to criticize when you are not involved yourself, but I thought my criticisms were justified. I decided that maybe what I should do was to get involved and try to alleviate some of the problems which I saw existing. I think those problems were manipulation of the student body rather than trying to inform them during elections. I think that some candidates showed quite a lack of sincerity. I think that in a lot of cases now students don't believe that the Students' Union represents their best interests. We do represent them in things like cutbacks - we do represent them on Everyone: Loud laughter.

Unidentified: This is what I've heard

Gateway: You wanted to say something Gord?

Stamp: Yes, I want to bring this out in the open right now. You (to Greenhill) were representing Bill Cottle as his lawyer at the DIE Board meeting. I find it more than coincidental that now that he's dropped out you are taking his place. I want to know exactly why and how that works.

Greenhill: In a sense it is more than coincidental. DIE Board meetings were on a Wednesday. Bill Cottle approached me Tuesday night after a council meeting and told me about the allegations that were going forward and asked me to represent Walker: (to Gateway) Now don't quote me on that, alright.

Schug: (to Gateway) No, quote him on asking not to be quoted, that's what I want you to do.

Walker: (to Gateway) I want to clear up a few facts. May I please?

Gateway: Go ahead

Walker: Thank-you, thank-you.

Gateway:the issues on the table.

Walker: Right. Well, it was established, it was accepted by DIE Board in their decision that there was in Hal Zalmanowitz's words, "no maliciousness". Now that means, if you'd been able to speak properly, that it was an honest mistake, that there was no intention to break the rules. It has been established since, that the election wouldn't have been overturned had our campaign materials been put on doors instead of in mailboxes.

Greenhill: That's not necessarily true. There were three or two definite allegations against the Walker slate. One was concerning putting campaign materials in illegal positions, and considering one of your campaign managers, this was her third year on campus running in an executive election.

next year. Gord?

Stamp: I would sue them to the hilt because I believe that the police are getting away with too many things that they're not allowed to as it is, and for once they got caught with their hand in the cookie jar and I feel they should be nailed as much as they can.

Gateway: Robert?

Greenhill: Yes, I think we should proceed with a legal action, I have no doubt about that and in council I spoke in favor of it. I think there is a real matter of ethics here, the fact that we are supposed to be an autonomous organization and neither the police nor campus security should be interfering — one, with action of the Students' Union, and two, with freedom of the press on campus, and so I believe until we get proper compensation, whether it be financial orotherwise we should pursue it right to the very end. The guilt had better be proven.

Gateway: O.K., Gord says sue to the hilt and Robert says pursue to the very end, does this mean criminal charges here as well?

Stamp: Any charges we can nail them on, because I think freedom of the press and freedom of people's rights and usually the police around beating up people and doing continued on page 10

/page 10, the Gateway

page 8 the Go

Conclusion

this time.

Gateway: O.K., did you want to go ahead Mike?

Walker: Sure, I think the most important thing about that whole incident wasn't that the Gateway got on campus two days late, it's a point of principle and I think everyone here is agreeing with that. I think the Students' Union has a responsibility to push this thing as far as necessary to establish the principle, to re-establish the principal which is supposed to be part of our entire social system, that there is freedom of the press and that publications like the Gateway and institutions like the Students' Union shouldn't be subject to arbitrary actions like that.

Greenhill: So how far would you pursue Stamp: I feel that a lot of Student Union

Walker: I would certainly want to consult with legal counsel before talking about criminal action, I'm not sure what kind of case there is.

Walker: Until guilt's been proven, do you mean in court, what do you mean by guilt being proven?

anything they want and there's no Greenhill: Guilt being proven in court and witnesses and we've got them nailed cold damages assigned.

continued from page 9

Walker: Oh, certainly. The thing has to be brought into court and fought to the end.

Gateway: O.K....just one more question before we close; how seriously does anyone here think students take SU politics when 17 per cent turn out to vote.

Reading: Generally I don't think students take SU politics seriously at all, and this election I think the turnout will be much less than 17 per cent. I think students need to be more aware of student politics and one way to do that is to increase the v.p. internal portfolio.

Gateway: Anybody else have any comments?

electioneering is a popularity contest because the way it seems to work is that everyone grabs a member from the top of an organization or club, and they feel that they are going to get all the votes from that organization or club behind them. That's Greenhill: But at the very least you would pursue until guilt's been proven, or would you consult with your lawyers? or would be any different. There will be I'd say about six per cent of the population of students who actually really care about the issues, and the other 11 per cent who voted were just friends.

Walker: I disagree with one thing Gord said, I think students do care about the issues, I think there are issues that are important to students. The students union is often remiss in addressing those issues, and if the Students' Union doesn't address issues that are important to students, then we certainly can't blame students for not voting, and if the Students' Union is full of people building their personal futures, then I wouldn't expect the students to take it seriously. I think the Students' Union has to address the issues that are important to students, and it rests with whoever wins this election to take seriously the concerns of students and do something about them.

Gateway: Robert?

Greenhill: Yes I have to agree with the fact that when 17 per cent of the students vote in an election, or 83 per cent of them don't, I don't think it's the students who are at fault, I think it's the Students' Union because we are supposed to be representing the needs and interests of the students, and if we ourselves aren't one of those interests, then we are doing something wrong. I don't agree however with the allegation that we'll probably have less than 17 per cent of the students voting. I think in this election, at least I hope to see in this election a far more informative discussion of issues and a far more open inter-action of ideas. I am going to be striving, when I'm talking to students in the next few days, to not only give them my ideas, but to listen to their own. I'm not only going to be talking about FAS and cutbacks and issues like this, I'll be asking them about what small things we can do. Do they want to have suggestion boxes so they can tell us about their gripes, do they want us to investigate the problem with getting parking tickets on campus because there is no parking available during the transit strike, the little things which right now we're not investigating and yet we should be, because that's how we will be best serving students and until we get back to doing that, I think students will continue to boycotte the elections and to remain uninterested. But if we do come out in this election to really trying to show our interest in student affairs, affairs that are of inerest to students, I think we can get more than 17 per cent. I would guess that we could get 25 per cent at least of the students out if we do our best over the next few days.

Gateway: O.K.. do you want to add anything Martin?

Schug: Well, I mean, student apathy I think is going to be pretty severe right now because we're nearing the end and people are going to be more concerned with their academics than an election, so if we want a bigger turnout there's going to be a little more work than just advertising and talking to people.

Gateway: O.K., is there anything that anyone wanted to add or clear up?

Schug: I don't think I stated why I'm running for v.p. internal.

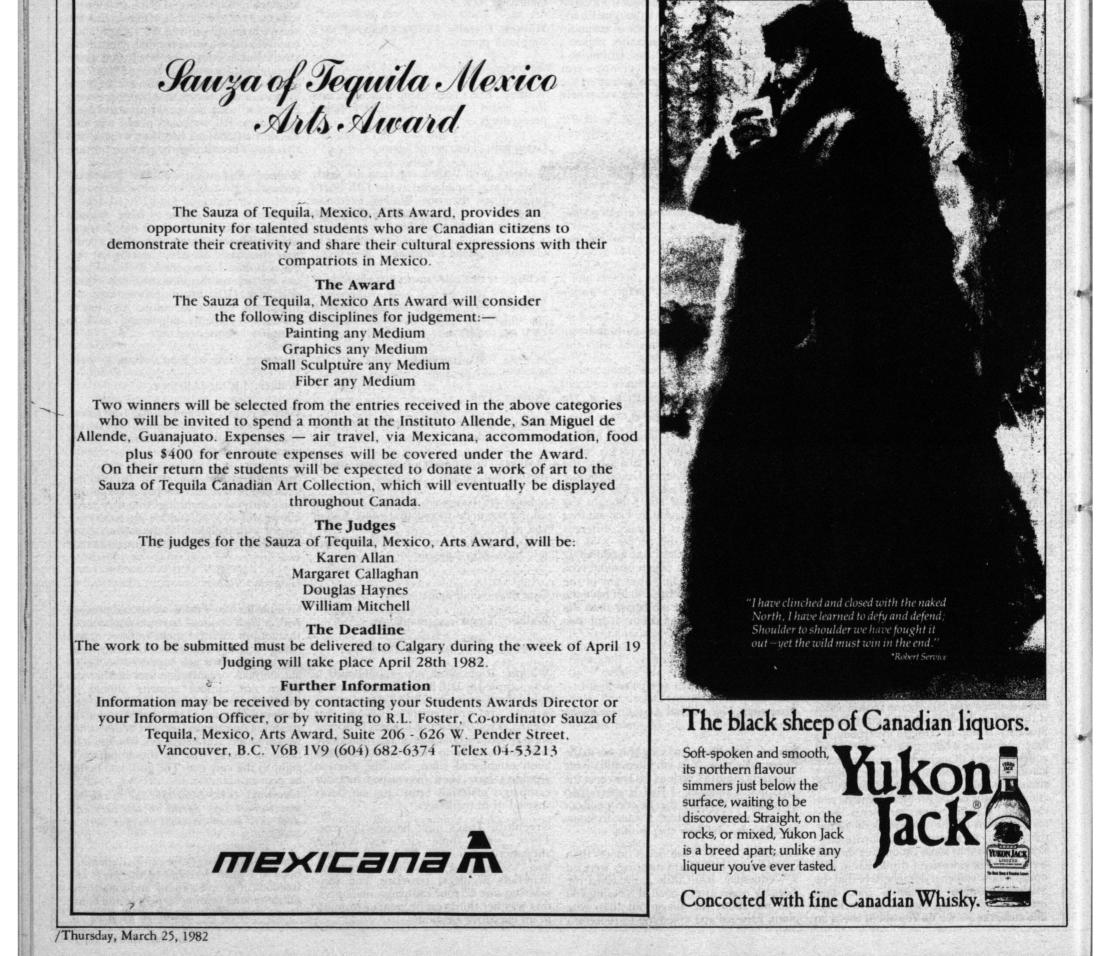

Gateway: O.K.

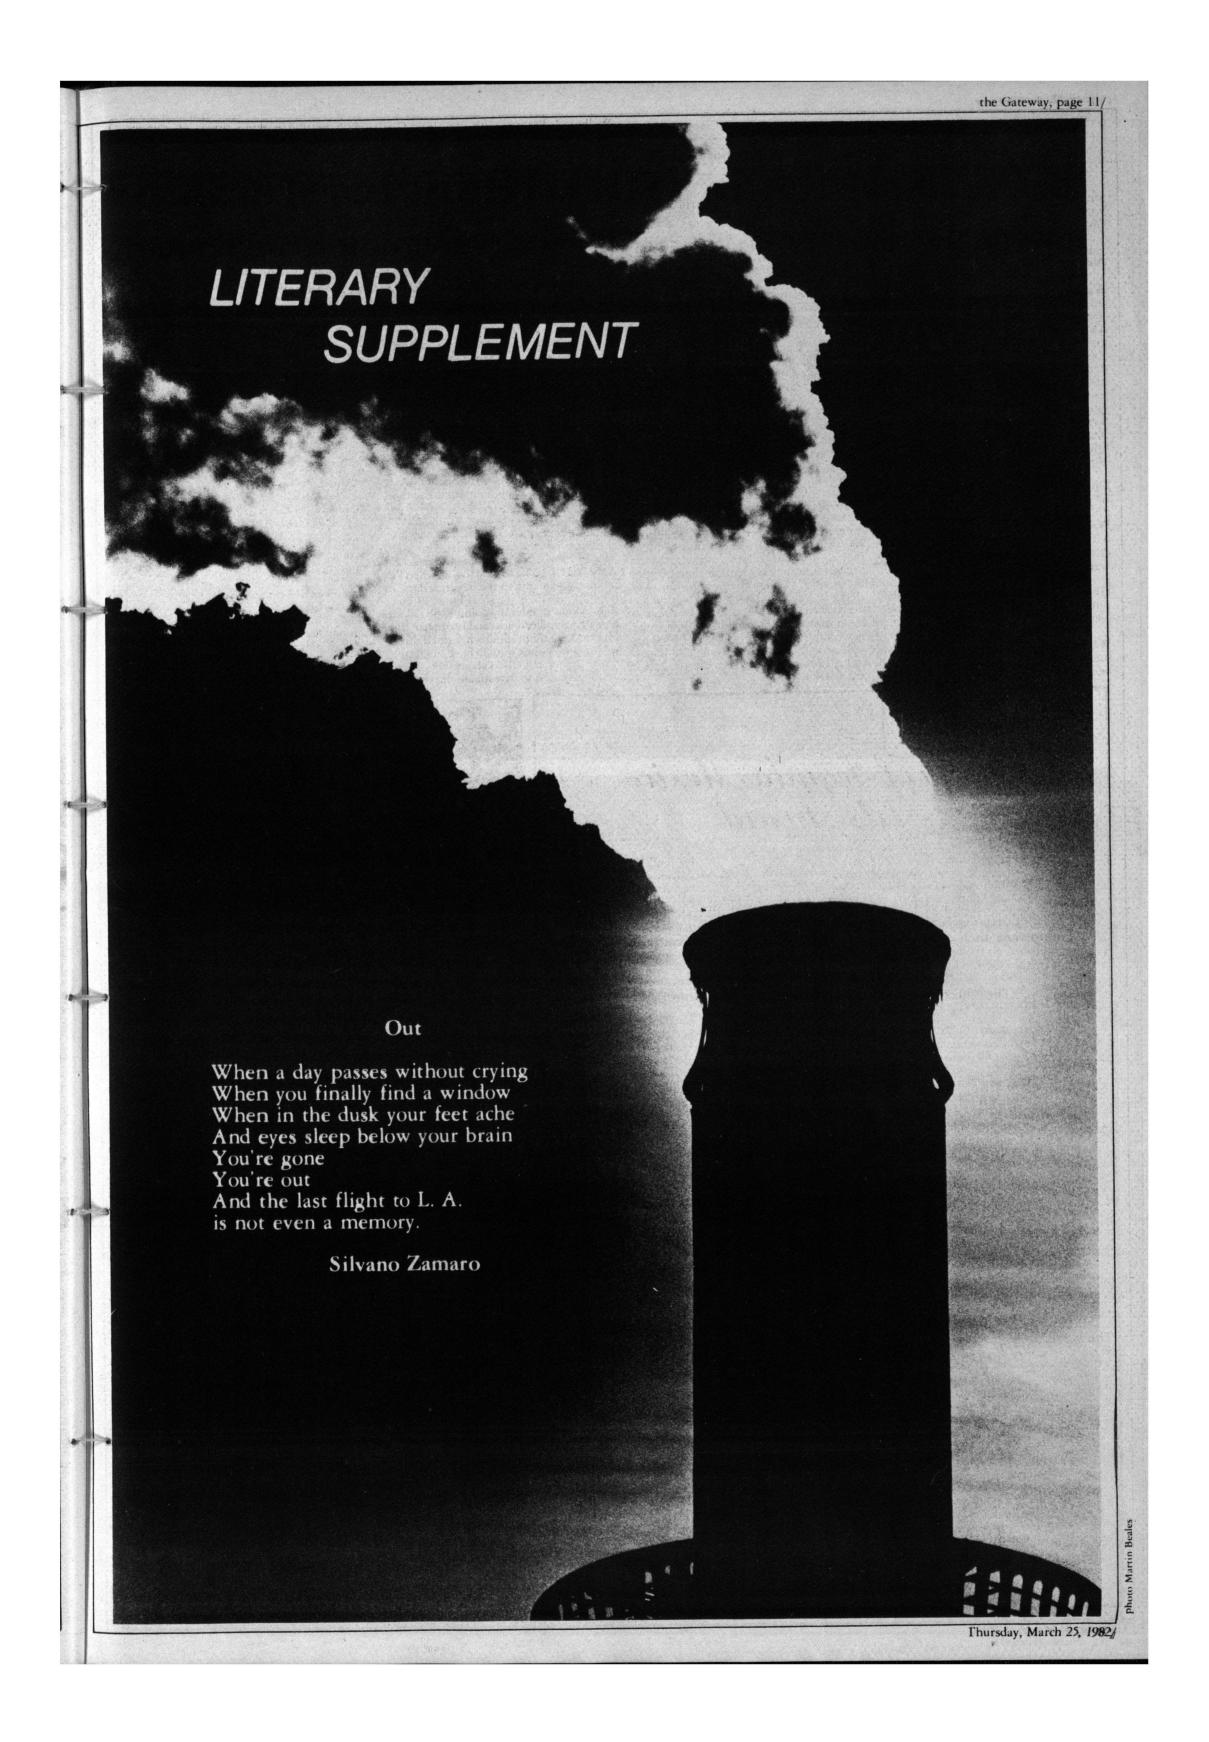

Schug: Just from talking to students on campus I'm familiar with their grievances and I think I can do something about them.

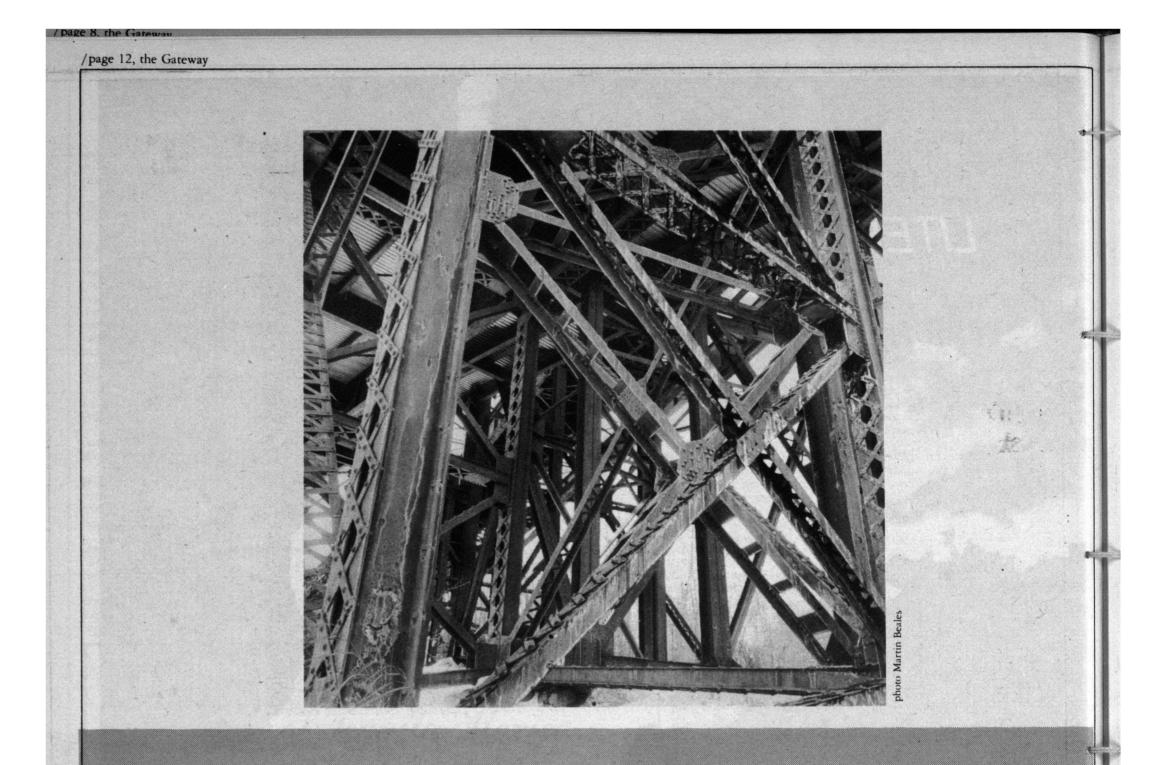

continued on page 16

who will be invited to spend a month at the Instituto Allende, San Miguel de

Who Am I?

How I've changed, how we've changed; If you saw me now, would you recognize, In this face, the image of the man You knew once? Such energy, such dreams were mine then; I was an idealist, and the world Was my playground and studio. I established all the laws, And set up kings and potentates, Over the various philosophical lands I mapped. But now its all gone; yet stay - will it not come again? It is difficult to say, But I must understand, touch, know something; and I know many things. I must have these objects around me now; but I can't say, for I am so far away. The character I so carefully built, Where is he now? I seem to think It was a fairy tale - a fiction - all a romance, That I made up, in keeping with the World that does such things. So I made my fantasy, And I made myself a character in that fantasy, And he fantasy became life, Life became a story, And here I sit, thinking it's all unreal. The ego I formed is an ego - a mere fiction; the style I built mere characterization. But is it all? I yet think there is something permanent in it all. Now I chose this, and leave the other automatic choices, spontaneous likings, These things suggest a real, unchanging yet evolving being. There is a real person underneath, Did you see? Do I see?

Follow The Spinning Cherry

We follow the spinning cherry across a bridge (closed just for us) to wet snow and speeches.

Hard look policemen with blank stares legs positioned on sandstone stairs, someone important said no smiling.

Cuts suck Peter cuts so Peter sucks. I see.

Speeches end: Satisfied student leaders. Hard look policeman smiles to partner: Did you see that dish in the front row?

I'm glad the rally had such a major impact.

Norman Sa

Now That 1 + 1 = 3

l grew up in the land seeking the power beyond things,

The day the sun rose And the water flowed You said we were lucky

But coming back from the hills I touched the cinders You left in the living room

What they said and still say I have been singing since yesterday Perhaps this time the mermaids will come

They will take me for a walk in the desert In this land of camels the minstrels will Bring us rain from their eyes

I may have to cleanse these wasted years In the waters of Mhuju Like the believer I will cable my tears to Mecca

Harry Lippert

Disgust in the Biology Cafeteria (A Grumpy Poem)

Sitting here looking at some dildo eating a donut He's wincing and grimacing — you'd think he was dying Some cultured looking British idiot, probably on a fellowship In extremis over his fucking donut.

N. Todd

Safety First

It's oh, so easy just to say "Hi" "Good morning" "Lovely day" Then sort the papers on my desk In a calm, deliberate, businesslike way

The whole world works this way, it seems Leave love and other risky things to dreams The open heart invites the knife The nonchalant approach redeems

How sad and asinine to be On guard for thee On guard for thee

Just like a dumb Canuck I stand on guard for thee

Jens Andersen

Shall this not be a prayer to the hanged man A prayer for fear and fire? Let the word die

II

Shall I give you a cigarette covered in cassava leaves? This leaf you see is from the one who died at Midday

Take it and eat it For he will never come this way again Yes accept this broken egg sister

This street, sister, leads to the city That man you see there, sister, And the voices that rend the night are neither them nor us

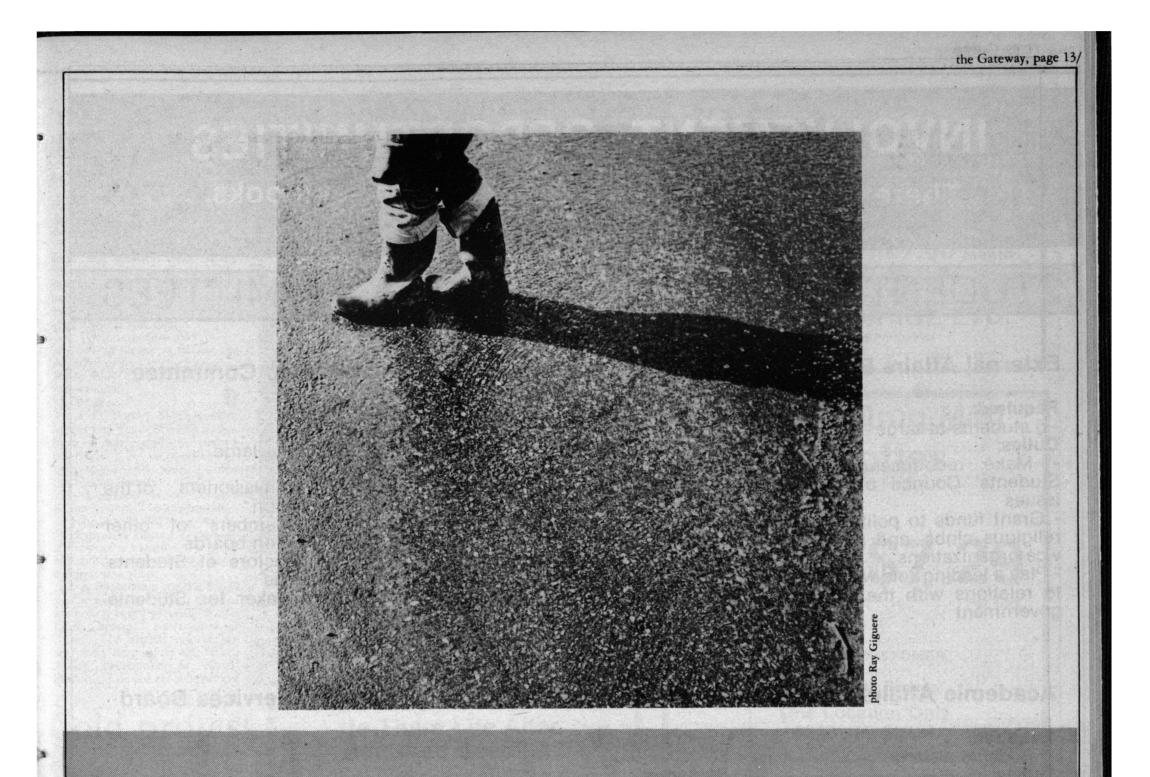

Across the street there is a nude being Buying the sun with jewels Beyond the road insects ululate around incandescent lights

Then the dream walked passed us Danced and left Tomorrow some of them will be Celebrating their salvation in the womb of a hungry man

Now that the mosquito is kissing Now that 1 + 1 = 3 we can laugh and die.

Hangson Msiska

/Thursday, March 25, 1982

Vision

A knock woke Brother Stephen to a November morning. These two sharp knocks on the oak door of his cell were an alarm clock coming each day at six o'clock. He sat up, taking a deep breath which sounded unnaturally loud in the silence of the dark room. There was no need for light though, for he knew the cell as a blind man knows the coins in his pocket.

knows the coins in his pocket. Naked, he stood and washed his face in the tin basin; its icy water clearing his head quickly and making him keenly aware of his bare feet on the cold stone floor. He did not feel vexed or oppressed by the austerity of this morning; for the simplicity calmed, and a stone floor reassured with cold dispassionate reality. He removed the wool robe from its peg on the door and wrapped its scratchy cloth around himself. His sandals he took from beneath the cot. A candle was on the table next to the washbasin; the thick plain rod of wax fit well in the palms of his hands. For a moment he stood before the door and listened to the quiet sounds outside. Then, pulling the cowl of his robe over his head, he opened the door and stepped into the hall. The long, dimly lit corridor was slowly filling with robed men. Silently they formed a single file, waiting, and when all had arrived they began, quietly, to move through the stone corridors where solemn staring saints robed in gold gilt and crimson oil gazed over them. At the door of each chapel stood a single brother with a long burning match. Each member of the file passed before him, lit their candles, and entered the sanctuary. Gold and silver glittered in flickering candlelight as the quiet shuffling of the monks echoed from the hard stone floor. Brother Stephen breathed the incense of his candle and gazed at the richly decorated walls of the chapel. Then the morning psalms began; each brother softly, smoothly, beginning the plainsong chant.

total. Stephen was immersed in this sound, his voice joining the chant, his spirit rising to the slow peaceful swell of the ancient music.

Ave Maria. Tu, qui es nobis omnia Nos tua pascat gracia, Ave Maria. Amen.

Slowly the echoes died away and the group was silent. Stephen blew his candle out as did the others. When he returned through the halls he tried to retain the resonating core of peace within. Yet try as he might it faded in the subdued clatter of the breakfast table. No one spoke but the subtle sounds of thirty men eating brought him to a less exalted reality.

Across from Stephen sat a greying middle-aged man named Brother Jonathan. They had had their breakfast of warm porridge together now for the past two years. Only a month ago Brother Jonathan had spoken his first words to Stephen; a quiet "Excuse me," when he had spilled a bit of water on the table. It still rang clear in Stephen's memory and he thought of Brother Jonathan and himself as friends. They always nodded to each other whenever they met. After breakfast work needed to be done and each man set to his habitual task. Stephen got his broom fro the closet and went to sweep the wall walk. This was the parapet that ran along the wall surroun-ding the retreat and this morning it lay beneath two inches of snow. A door let out onto this from their cloisters, where he paused to put on a pair of long woollen socks and wrap a shawl about his shoulders. Stepping onto the parapet he stopped, momentarily dazzled by the bright winter morning. Under a blue sky fresh snowfall was brilliant in the sunshine. He looked over the wall at the bare trees and white hills where to one side plumes of steam rose from the town while on the other side the frozen river crossed through farmer's meadows. The crisp clean air invogorated him and he began to sweep the parapet with brisk strokes; the stiff straw broom sending white cascades into the empty courtyard below.

of childish laughter. It was faint but clear, coming from a distance on the quiet air. Looking over the wall he saw them, two small bundled figures coming through the field at the tree's edge. They were throwing snowballs, and chasing, and laughing, and like joyous spirits they charged snowbanks and yelled challenges to each other. Now Stephen could tell, they were a boy and girl, probably brother and sister and he could clearly see their clumsy but energetic progress through the field of snow.

clearly see their clumsy but energetic progress through the field of snow. Suddenly they stopped still and stared at the lone figure watching them from the high stone wall. For a long moment they looked at each other across the expanse of shining white. Then, slowly, the little girl raised her arm and waved a solemn wave. Brother Stephen smiled and waved solemnly back. The children stared for a moment longer and then turned and ran into the trees. Stephen gazed at their muddled tracks for a long while before finishing his work. Afternoons were spent in prayer and meditation. Some did this in the privacy of their cells. Others, like Stephen, preferred the chapel with its haloed saints and fluttering candles. Here they knelt, silent, and Stephen thought of the children and the brilliant snow sparkling in the morning sun. The cold chill of the stone floor was so different from the crisp vigor of the winter air. He wrapped his robe closer about his legs and began to repeat the litany of the morning, hoping to find peace in that memory At dinner that evening he looked across his bowl of soup at Brother Jonathan. The grey man was calmly eating his meal, face downward. Then his eyes, blue and clear, turned up and met Brother Stephen's. Stephen wanted to tell him of the children and the singing and the shining snow. Brother Jonathan waited, looking into Stephen's eyes; waited for thoughts that Stephen would not express. When Stephen turned his eyes back to the table Brother Jonathan waited a moment longer before doing the same.

No Reason At All

I am from the White North Where the snow is eternal Where the moose hangs in the family room And there is no reason for my blond hair No reason for my blue eyes No reason at all.

Silvano Zamaro

Two Tomatoes

Someone gave me two tomatoes, smooth-complexioned, pale green, fresh as spring. I wondered why they were plucked at so tender a growth, but I'll watch them grow ripe and red.

Sanctus, sanctus, sanctus. Dominus Deus Sabaoth. Pleni sunt caeli et terra Gloria tua. Hosanna in excelsis.

Ageless chords of open fourths and fifths resonated and men carefully intoned phrase after phrase, their concentration

He had swept three walks clean and had begun the last when he heard the sound

Geoffrey Jackson

One tomato ripened startlingly fast, I ate it and wondered if man grows old so fast like that.

The other tomato refused to ripen. It sat on my fruit basket, beaming, smiling and teasing. I looked at it in between my reading, it gleamed and glowed with the resplendence of youth. Twelve days passed and still it was as green as the first day it was born. On the thirteenth day, I noticed a dull coloring of the once healthy complexion. Later in the evening, I caught a faint suggestion of a blush. Next morning, to my surprise it blushed more heavily like an over made-up face. By supper time, my tomato had reached full maturity. Reluctantly, I knew I had to eat it before it shriveled and shrunk.

Youthfulness! How we treasure, before old age takes over!

Choo-Choo Kam

		~게 활격입법	1111
page]	14	the	Ga	teway

INVOLVEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

There is more to the university than textbooks...

STUDENTS' UNION BOARDS & COMMITTEES

External Affairs Board	Housing & Transport Commission	Nominating Committee
Required: - 5 students-at-large Duties: - Make recommendations to Students' Council on Political issues - Grant funds to political clubs, religious clubs, and public ser- vice organizations - Play a leading role with respect to relations with the provincial government	Required: - 6 students-at-large Duties: - Make recommendations to Students' Council respecting housing and transport concerns - Investigate development and zoning plans for the University area	Required: - 2 students-at-large Duties: - Select commissioners of the Students' Union - Select members of other Students' Union boards - Select directors of Students' Union services - Select speaker for Students' Council
Academic Affairs Board	Administration Board	Building Services Board
Required: 4 students-at-large Duties: - Recommend to Students' Coun- cil on academic relations and academic affairs - Advise and assist Vice- President (Academic) on im- plementation of Students' Union Policy - Promote co-ordination and co- o peration with faculty associations - Consider applications for finan- cial assistance from faculty associations	Required: - 4 students-at-large Duties: - Aid in preparation of Stueents' Union budget - Make recommendations with respect to club and fraternity grants - Consider applications for non- budgeted expenses - Aid in policy making with respect to RATT, Friday's, L'Ex- press, SUB Theatre, Games Area, and other businesses.	Required: - 5 students-at-large Duties: - Make recommendations to Students' Council concerning building policies in SUB - Make policy recommendations to Students' Council concerning services offered by or to the Students' Union - Approve allocationg of space in SUB according to building policy

equired: 3 undergraduate	8 Student regular members	 has "court-like powers" investigates and tries alleged
ities:	3 student alternates	breaches of discipline
The Senate's responsibility is to quire into any matter that might	who must be in their	- enforces discipline among Students' Union members nd to enhance the usefulness of	second or further	- interprets SU Constitution and e University (University Act, 66)	years of studies Duties:	By-laws
The Senate meets five times arly	 acts as administrative tribunal for SU Constitution and By-laws 	Term of Office: 1 June 1982 - 31 May 1983

For Applications and information, Contact the SU Executive Offices, Room 259, SUB, Phone 432-4236

/Thursday, March 25, 1982

Referendum anyone?

by Wes Oginski Friday's Students' Union byelection will also feature a referendum concerning the Eugene L. Brody Board. The Board's function is to fund and sponsor fund raising drives for projects of charitable, developmental, or relief nature on behalf of the SU. Students give an extra $.50 in their SU fees every year towards this fund.

The referendum asks: Are you in favour of having the payment of fees to the Eugene L. Brody Board decided annually at a referendum? Yes or No.

Phil Soper, SU president agrees that Council has decided to have a referendum to have a referendum. But there will be no referendum this year; if the referendum passes.

"I suspect if the motion passes there will be a referendum in February of 1983 (during the SU Executive election)," he says. If the vote is negative, the Board will continue to operate as it has in the past few years.

A referendum for the Board was actually a part of its original governing bylaw as passed by the Dean Olmstead government of 79-80. The annual referendum was then dropped by the Nolan time and cost was too great. Soper says if the referendum is passed, and the next. referendum for its continuation fails, the Board would still operate.

If you're confused now, wait till the referendum to start all referendums.

Astley government of '80-81; "The Board's funds would be want a Students' Council agreed that the dispersed until there are none duties.

left," he says, "then it would cease to function.'

As the bylaw stands, a referendum would be held each year to determine if the students "The Board's funds would be want a Board to perform such

Cold protest : at lake

The United States Armed Forces will soon test a cruise missile in Alberta! The cruise missile has nuclear capability. Concerned Albertans will congregate on Saturday to protest this test. A rally will be held at the Cold Lake Air Force Base on Saturday at 2 p.m. The theme is to "Demonstrate Against Cruise Missiles in Alberta.

A bus leaves for the Cold Lake base at 9 a.m. from the Unitarian Church (12530 - 110) ave) at a $6 cost. You are encouraged to attend and bring your lunch. The bus will return at about 8 p.m.

Gerd Iveigh would like confirmations phoned to 452-3138.

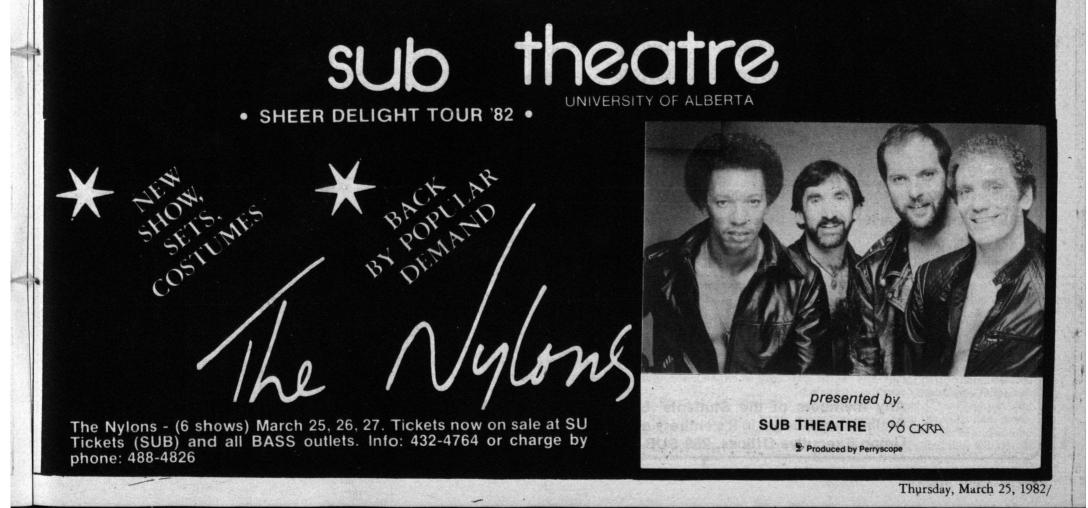

Is There Life After Required Reading? Certainly!

Spend your afternoons with a cup of tea browsing through our fine selection of old & unusual second hand books ranging from the classics to contemporary poetry & philosophic thought.

When you want to read for pleasure, visit . . .

BJARNE'S BOOKS 10005 - 82 Ave. (upstairs) Old Second-Hand And New Books At Affordable Prices. Open 7 days a week.

			C Man 1				Conclusion
	The Company	in all and the					continued from page 10
			A Manager and the				Gateway: Did 1 miss you when went, around there?
	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·		active . PARACELAR	WW HOW THERE & TY AST	Corra and a star	Wababury	Stamp: Yes.
		THE STU	JDENTS' UNI	ON UNIV	ERSITY OF	ALBERTA	Gateway: Sorry.
11	INNE.		PRELIMINAR THE FISCAL		CARDENESS STORE S	A TO A CARL COMPANY OF A CARL COMPANY OF A CARL CARL CARL CARL CARL	Schug: Well I just said I tried run in the last election
			THE THOUSE	MARCH, 1		10 01	Stamp: I would like to something right now to everyb
1				NET			- we've got all the people h except for one (Conway) but
	m in	REVENUES	EXPENDITURES	CONTRIBUTION (SUBSIDY)	TOTALS	TOTALS	can pass it along. Last elect there were a lot of posters mar up. A lot. I didn't have posters last time so it didn't matter. I
600	Administration	768,920	115,480	653,440	a second .	-	putting pamphlets outside
602	Office Administration	4,300	210,815	(206,515)	attes an information		Gateway boxes, I was put pamphlets on tables, leaving th
611	Facilities	371,300	560,880	(189,580)			lying around, and I came out fr a class an hour and a half later
910	Spring/Summer Session	19,720	7,260	12,460	269,805		pamphlets had been put in garbage covered with a stack papers. If I find anybody pul bullshit like that I'll drag th
621	Elections/Referenda	20	17,715	(17,695)		a Vieway Alter	over to campus security charge them. That's a fact.
622	Students' Council	ø	154,565	(154,565)	(172,260)		Greenhill: Maybe I should m
			No Car		Lagers		a comment on that. We've alre had a meeting of our suppor
711	SORSE	66,785	87,890	(21,105)	SPACE CONTRACTOR	Contraction (Marson 1775)	and I made it quite clear that th going to be, at least from our p
712	Student Help	8,420	16,945	(8,525)	and the second second	ERISH FULLY (1997) 191	of view, the most honest c
715	Entertainment Serv.	347,120	314,540	32,580	se a papala		paign that the Students' Un has ever seen. We're going to
716	Exam Registry	8,090	10,285	2,195	M.L. WART	and the second	giving everyone of our sup staff a copy of the regulations,
717	Housing Registry	13,145	26,295	(13,150)	(12,395)		telling them to read them, pointing out the more impor parts of it because I th whoever wins here, we've got
719	Academic Affairs Bd.	Ø	33,000	(33,000)	F B B B F A B B AND		fact that the legitimacy of
720	Administration Board	Ø	15,000	(15,000)	" may an diel in 199		Students' Union is almost at st We had one Students' Ur
721	External Affairs Bd.	Ø	15,000	(15,000)	Stores Stores		election overturned for what reasons, and I think that right
722	Brody Funding Board	Ø	10,000	(10,000)	(73,000)		we're going to have to build up credibility of the Students' Up again, and I hope that all
730	CJSR	38,750	63,590	(24,840)	A CON A CONA		candidates here are going to concerned with making sure
731	Airtight	.9,000	7,920	1,080			this is a clean election, and sure that all of us will be.
741	Blotter	4,500	3,528	972	No MAN	R. St K.	Walker: There's no do
742	Gateway	178,775	195,795	(17,020)	Carling - St	MOLAN AND	Speaking, about marking posters, our people didn't do it
743	Media	. 325	8,497	(8,172)	18-41-17 Provide	38.4HA	time and they don't plan to o
744	Handbook	40,850	27,387	13,463	(34,517)	(22,367)	this time.
	Art Gallery	78,000	97,886	(19,886)			Stamp: I'm' not 'making allegations, I'm just saying saw posters marked up on sides. I'd like to give a hint w

811	Theatre	324,875	330,725	(5,850)	(25,736)		did last election — before I did anything I phoned up Dave Tharle (Returning Officer) before I did anything and asked him if it
832	RATT	277,090	194,518	82,572	Contraction and the		was Q.K., and that way if you get everything checked with him you cannot be held, responsible.
834	Dewey's	309,675	235,026	74,649		and the second second	cannot be held, responsible.
835	L'Express	207,000	185,923	21,077	San Constanting		Walker: I'm with you Gord.
836	Bar Service	8,250	4,032	• 4,218	182,516		Everyone: Laughter.
803	S.U. Yarncrafts	139,500	136,867	2,633			Schug: I guess that about sums it up, eh?
805	Copy Centre	43,000	35,680	7,320			Gateway: O.K., is that it? Slogans or anything that you want to leave people with.
806	Craft Classes	11,850	15,710	(3,860)		and a second second	A CALL AND A CONTRACT OF A STATE
821	SUB Games	116,650	66,078	50,512		1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1	Stamp: Vote for me.,
841	S.U. Records	1,126,500	1,039,877	86,623		A Charles Barris	Schug: Stamp Slate - Protec- tion.
861	Information Desk	232,800	228,344	4,456	147,744	304,524 282,157	Walker: Nobody's 'supposed' to find that out until Monday.
	LESS: MORTGAGE PA	YMENT				(246,198)	Gateway: Right
						35,959	Schug: Thänk-you kindly for your time.
2	Prelimina	nbers of the Stu ry Budget in it's e ecutive Offices, 2	entirety are inv				Gateway: Thank-you. Greenhill: Thank-you. and nods all around could have gone to a better use elsewhere...anywhere! There should be a rider on the record cover: WARNING; This Album Contains Bland, Banal Music! Really, I had a hard time finding any originality or energy on this effort by "cute-guy" Jimi B. (see album cover for cute-guy reference). Does Mr. B. really think that people are going to buy this junk? Not only is the music less than inspiring, but the lyrics are blase and cliched; a real pile of bile. I have friends who yawn with more intelligence, wit and energy.

The only point of interest about Jimi B. and Jimi B. is this: He is Canadian, the album was recorded in Canada, and the record was pressed and packaged in Canada, and yet he sings such heartfelt tunes as "Red, White and Blue" and "All American Boy

Is that fish I can smell in the air?

Speak & Spell DEPECHE MODE Sire Records/W.E.A. Music (XSR 3642)

File this album under "D" - for "disco"!

Depeche Mode is another synthetics band (meaning that none of the members know how to play any real instruments and are therefore not real musicians). In trying to deliver the ultra-trendy electro-pop sound, Depeche Mode has coughed up nothing more than what I consider to be reworked disco. I kept expecting John Travolta-to strut out from my stereo as the record continued playing. There are a few solid electro-pop offerings on Speak & Spell, so it is far from being a completely wasted effort by the band. The two best cuts are "Dreaming Of Me" and "What's Your Name?", These two cuts seemed to have a fuller sound and more depth to them than the others on the album. As well, there was not the ever present "thumpa-thump" percussion track on the tunes. A suitable choice for fans of The Human League.

to the very successful Sandinista, which was a series of experiments into various musical types. This time the experiment is (with all due respect) The Clash meets trendy. Radio Clash covers White Funk, electronics, sound effects 'dub,' and even a verse in French all in one 4-song EP. The four tunes are basically all different versions of the same song. The two versions on the first side are quite funky tunes with very strong guitar work, good horns and a dash of electronics thrown in for good measure. The ever-present percussion line makes this side a good candidate for the dance circuit. The flipside has quite different treatments of the song. The first version begins with a rather shrill and annoying female chorus repeating "This is Radio Clash" over and over. Interspersed with this are various sound effects, including honking car horns. It fades into a kind of "Radio Dub" with lots of electronic effects and fragments of vocals coming off much like Sandinista's "Version Pardner."

Lyrically, Radio Clashi is more of a Clash 'manifesto' of all things in the world which concern them than the expression of any particular thought. War, America and the evils of international power politics are the dominant themes here as with all of their more recent work. They peacefully boost their causes acting as a 1980's pirate radio service: "This is not Free Europe: Law and Armed Force Network, This is Radio Clash from pirate satellite ... This is Radio Clash using oral ammunition, This is Radio Clash, can we get the world to listen?

All in all this is a very strong work but one must approach it with an open mind, for on an initial listening it may sound too much like the disco which everyone loves to hate. If you give it a fair change, you should not be disappointed. It is an exciting taste of what can be expected from the forthcoming, as yet untitled, Clash album slated for European release in April.

Friday Might be worth a look. Second City Revue at the Point After is offering student discounts on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Cost is now $5.00 and meals are optional.

The neighbours in Point St. Charles have a tete-a-tete.

Reality hits the stage

Balconville Corbett Hall Until April 3

review by Jens Andersen

If creating convincing characters is the hardest task facing the fictioneer, then playwright David Fennario has quite an accomplishment in this play about life in Montreal's seedy Point St. Charles, for he has created out of his imagination a gaggle of working-class folks who walk and talk just like the real item.

To appreciate the enormity of this achievement one has to consider all the pitfalls of stereotyping he could so easily have fallen into in conjuring up a cast of characters which includes a no-good, unemployed drunkard, his nagging wife, a harassed, middle-aged single mother, an English boy (her son) who finds love among the ruins with a French girl, a halfwith delivery boy, a solid, respectable married working stiff, and the hustling MP who is running for re-election in their riding. In about 98 per cent of all plays with a Romeo-and-Juliet-of-the-ghetto situation, for instance, the affair would be painted as a triumphant victory of the spirit over the material world, or a tragic crushing of the aforementioned spirit by cruel reality. In Balconville, however, the budding romance simply drifts into boredom, with the lovers unable even to work up much enthusiasm about their disagreement over disco music.

And MP Bolduc, when he goes campaigning from door to door, has none tongue and a head tull of soothing platitudes.

There is almost none of the standard sentimentalization of working-class people into lovable, colorful characters, or helpless victims of oppression, or paragons of humble virtue (or some variation of these cliches). Instead one sees genuine proles: resentful, obstinate, boisterous, imaginatively foul-mouthed, and full of raw humour. The dialogue, the action and the mannerisms of the characters were so authentic that there were times I could have sworn I wasn't watching a play, but was back driving cab and catching a glimpse of some domestic drama through the front door.

Here recognition must also be given to uniformly fine acting, the realistic attire, and a simply superb set. And the lighting? too, I suppose. Have I forgotten anything? Needless to say, I recommend the play most highly. The only drawback of the play I can think of is that about 20-30 per cent of the show is French, which somewhat limits the comprehension and enjoyment of nonfrancophones like myself.

Oh, yes: if there are any pseudo-intellectuals out there looking for enlightenment about the so-called "Quebec problem," you won't find much here, except perhaps the revelation that the slight amount of hostility that exists between the French and the English is of the same routine kind that happens among the members of any social group. Even when the people in the play hoist the French and Canadian flags, it is over one of of the exaggerated oiliness of the usual those incomprehensible hot-weather

MUSIC

Nylons; SUB Theatre; Thursday to Saturday March 25-27; 7:30 and 10:30 p.m.; Tickets at all BASS outlets.

READINGS AND SPEAKERS

Mary Howes and Steven Hume; SUB Art Gallery; Friday March 26; 12:00 Noon; admission free.

The two will read from their poetry. Hume, as you may be aware, is a big wheel in local journalism.

THEATRE

Country Chorale; Theatre Network; until April 4; 8:00 p.m.

This country musical is about "a small town girl with big-time dreams, of the boy who wants to take care of her, and of the music that envelopes (sic) them all (sic). I just love press releases.

For those who missed our literary supplement, the poetry newsletter World of Poetry is having a poetry competition with over $10,000 in cash merchandise (!) prizes. Rules and official entry forms are available from WoP, 2431 Stockton Blvd. Sacramento California 95817.

The High Level Gallery, which specializes in framed reproductions of works by famous artists, will be vending its product in Room 142 SUB today and Ronnie Hawkins and the Good Brothers (!!!) are at Devil's Lake Corral this Friday (tomorrow). Aging Gateway hack Kent Blinston thinks the Good Brothers are merely OK, but that just goes to show you what the ravages of syphilis can do to one's hearing. Oh yes: if you do decide to go, make sure to reserve your table in advance.

The Undergraduate Philosophy Club is showing the NFB film War Story, about a Canadian doctor in a Japanese POW camp in World War Two, Tuesday March 30 in Humanities AV L-2. The notice they dropped on my desk didn't mention a time. Now isn't that just like philosophers to overlook little critical details.

The University of Alberta Film. Studies Programme with the NFB is showing Les Bons Desbarras (Good Riddance) in Physics P-126 today at 2:00 and 7:00 p.m. The filmmaker, Francis Mankiewicz will be present for discussion after the second showing. The film won eight "Genies" and is described by Jay Scott of the Globe and Mail as "superb". It is in French with English subtitles.

And for a mere five dollars you can treat yourself to the 1982 Spring Festival of World Unity this weekend at King's College and get in on the latest program to save the world by yakking. The organizers say, "In coming together we will share our insights and energy and discover our individual capacities to contribute to the unity of the planet."

Sounds wonderful, doesn't it? J. A.

politician of book, stage and screen; he is arguments that happen everywhere. merely an average non-entity with a fast

Mum's the word

Mummenschanz SUB Theatre March 18

review by Geoffrey Jackson

How can mime, which prides itself upon its freedom from language, be described with mere words? Any verbal explanation of just what the Mummenschanz Mime Troup did last Thursday night can only begin to describe what really happened: A rock, after much diligent effort managed to climb a ramp, and the crowd cheered. A tall green slinky played catch, throwing a yellow balloon ball to the audience. A strange multilimbed creature had an intense fight with itself, so intense it was hard to tell who was winning. Such descriptions as these are shadows of what really happened.

Yet I can describe how the audience reacted to all this strangeness; with wonder; awe, and laughter. I said laughter last because Mummenschanz does not normally engender belly-roaring, fall-in-the-aisle hilarity. Instead they draw out chuckles, smiles, and soft, gentle laughter.

Perhaps Mummenschanz's greatest talent lays in their ability to express emotion through the most unlikely objects. During the intermission Lydia Biondi came out, in black, wearing a black cube for a head. She was a very surreal figure indeed. Yet she instantly created the persona of a coquettish girl; flirting with the men in the audience and admiring the children, all without a word. By the end of the intermission her black cube head seemed to possess character and personality despite its lack of features. This sort of skill is very rare indeed.

The troup consisted of Liona Biondi, John Murphy, and Peter Schelling. Mime requires a discipline as rigorous as any form of dance and these performers showed their skills without a moment's faltering. The show lasted two hours and everyone could have happily had more. This sort of theatre is so special and unique that one can only hope that they will return to Edmonton in the not-too-distant future.

/page 18, the Gateway

ALBERTA HERITAGE FUND Where Is It; What Is It

A debate between Hon. Lou Hyndman, Provincial Treasurer or his alternate, and Tom Sindlinger, independent MLA.

Tuesday, March 30 at 8:00 PM Garneau United Church Hall 11148 - 84 Ave.

Comfort Contact Lens

"The Contact Lens People"

Soft Contact Lenses

Questions and Answers Last of Four Parts

Some of the Most Asked Questions

Color — Most soft lenses are clear only. Recently tinted soft lenses have come on the market but are fairly expensive and the tints fade requiring them to be retinted (extra charge) usually within a year.

gmatism — Having astigmatism does not mean you cannot wear soft contact lenses st people have a certain amount of astigmatism but only when it reaches a certain leve s it start to interfere with your vision. This level varies with each individual but can for the st part be determined by your doctor. Special soft lenses for astigmatism are available on — It should be comparable to or better than with glasses and only you can decide if it cceptable. With some people even a decrease is acceptable as it allows you to discard r glasses. Most report increased vision.

Lens Care (sterilization) — The two methods of sterilizating lenses are solutions and heat. There are pros and cons of each and depdnding on the fitter they will suggest one or the other. Regardless of which method used this is not the timely or involved procedure that a lot think. Day to day care requires 2 or 3 minutes, morning and night.

What If I Can't Wear Them? — Even when all indications, prescriptions and pathalogical, are positive it still does not mean you will be a successful contact lens wearer. When choosing where to get your lenses try and find someone that will give you some kind of a trial period. This can save you considerable cost if you and your lenses are not compatable

Do I Get A Warranty (Insurance)? — Whether you do or not depends entirely on who you get your lenses from and the variations in the warranties (insurance) are inumerable. This can be the key to the continuing cost of your contact lenses. Check this part thoroughly.

Comfort Contact Lens Ltd.

423-5580

Trendsetter • Klein

Samuels . Nadler

Edmonton

Quality You

Engineer's 'Rag' killed

administration president Doug Kenny padlocked the society office doors. he would attend the EUS ball. He said the Red Rag closure was voluntary, however.

women's rights groups, anti-racism committees, and now an elaborate.

community.

When the paper's annual edition appeared during this year's Engineering Week, Applied Sciences dean Martin Wedepohl asked Kenny to close the EUS offices as a punitive measure. Channels for Tomorrow", Kenny went ahead with the lockout, and Wedepohl now says the doors will remain locked Four Alberta Vocational notice boards etc.

Open to everyone

Win $200.00

Design A Logo

For

Campus Recreation

Campus Recreation needs a logo to symbolize participation in recreational acitivites (intramurals, non-credit instruction, sports clubs & fitness activities). Will be used on t-shirts, posters,

Deadline for submissions: Wed. March 31, 1982

c/o Dept. of Athletic Services University of Alberta Edmonton, Alta. T6G 2H9

To Logo Design Committee

Campus Recreation

The University of British made a bargain with him two should go out again. I think this Columbia Engineering Un-dergraduate Society (EUS) an-nounced the Red Rag was dead nounced the Red Rag was dead March 3, three days after UBC modify their Lady Godiva ride if He said the Red Rag closure was voluntary, however.

couver community, including very hard for the Red Rag to publication.

Rag caused in the university wait, but hopefully this will be it," said.

VANCOUVER (CUP) — The come out again." she said. "I just don't think wedepohl said the EUS had another of those publications

The paper had been under fire for printing material con-sidered obscene, and in particular for its frequent portrayal of women as sexual objects.

. Allen said she has her doubts The engineering paper had left a trail of outraged groups on the UBC campus and the Van-Society, had taken steps to make it Michael Shaw, vice-president of the UBC administration, said irate engineering department ad-ministration. EUS President Lance Balcom said the shutdown happened "because of the offence the Red "because of the offence the Red with but hopefully this mill bait."

ed. conference

"Spectrum '82,' Changing

indefinitely. "I'm in no position to Centers, the Community bargain with them," he said. Vocational Centers and the Alber-He said the engineers would ta Petroleum Industry Training have to prove their willingness to change their activities before their conference at the Westin Hotel in offices are reopened. "I don't Edmonton. An estimated 900 think it (the Red Rag) is going to Albertans involved with adult education will attend. The conference is to help prepare educators and those involved in adult education for the challenges facing them in the near future. It will provide them with insights and perspectives enhancing their own roles in the field and ultimately, the quality of adult education in Alberta.

"As educators face the challenges of this decade, it is important they recognize the need for change and adjustment. Undoubtedly, advanced technologies will impact on the traditions of our education system and on our society, and educators must be prepared to reassess their roles and teaching methods." says James Horsman, Alberta minister of Advanced Education and Manpower. Thirty-three speakers will present their views during the two days of sessions. Feature speakers include Marilyn Ferguson, author of The Aquarian Conspiracy; Roy Bonisteel, host of the CBC television series Man Alive; Frank Feather, President of Global Futures Network; and Canadian author W. O. Mitchell.

HOURS

Harvey's pal the Easter Rabbit will be visiting the Edmonton region as Easter is fast approaching.

University building hours ve been affected, Easter

the Gateway, page 19/

Political contributions not wanted by unions

Parti Quebecois has $50 to donate to the cause of working people, but they can't find anyone to accept it.

A Montreal support com-mittee for the Solidarity trade union in Poland recently decided to refuse a cheque from the PQ, sent in December, because they claim the party is anti-labour.

Yves Legault, a member of the Solidarity support committee, said his group first debated Prefusing the money after the Quebec National Assembly passed a bill in January which forced striking transit commission workers back to their jobs.

"But we waited until the PQ congress to see if party members would denounce the bill. When they did not, we decided to refuse the money," said Legault.

tack workers' rights should be that condemns the workers," said

MONTREAL (CUP) - The denounced here and elsewhere," he said.

The committee sent the cheque to the three transit workers unions, along with a letter denouncing the PQ government's labour policies. They suggested the unions use the money in their fight for a better contract with the transit commission.

But the maintenance workers' union decided in a general assembly March 7 to refuse the cheque, while the office workers and drivers still have to vote on the matter.

"They will be holding general assemblies very soon, and they probably will refuse the money as well," said Legault.

"The Confederation des Syndicats Nationaux (CSN) does not The governments who at- accept money from a government

Jacques Beaudoin, who works for tinction and called the Solidarity she said. the CSN and the transit workers' unions

But the PQ said their support for Solidarity in Poland has nothing to do with their record on workers' rights. "The party supports the Polish people because they, like the Quebecois, have been badly treated for hundreds of years, said Louise Sexton, of the party's Montreal public relations office. "It has nothing to do with being a bourgeois or a proletarian," she said. "It has to do with being a person. It is a humanitarian position.'

Suzanne Loignon at labour minister Robert Dean's office in Quebec City said, "I have no comment (about the cheque) except to say that the money was sent by the Parti Quebecois and not the government.

Sexton also noted this discommittee and maintenance workers' actions 'selective segregation.'

The transit unions represent only themselves and do not do a good service to the people they are supposed to represent,"

Sexton said the bill which forced the transit workers back on the job "was a temporary measure to protect the population, many of who have worse working conditions than these unionized

Michigan wants to pull money

*(RNR/CUP) — Michigan may become the first state to require all its public colleges and universities South African stocks, but the University of Michigan, with about $100 million invested in its public colleges and universities to sell their stocks in companies that do business in South Africa.

Under a bill currently before the Michigan legislature, the divestiture would include even those firms that have pledged to promote human rights among their South African employees.

So far, the proposal has drawn a mixed reaction. Michigan State University has already complied, and in 1980, it became one of the first institutions in the United States to completely divest itself of all South African holdings. Eastern Michigan University has sold off some of its

Failure finally

pays off

(RNR/CUP) - Law students in Ontario may soon be able to turn their bad grades into cash.

Under the terms of a bequest left to the Law Society of Canada, $500 a year is to go to the student who graduates from the bar admissions course with the poorest marks.

In his will, lawyer Samuel

South Africa-related firms, is

YOUR RESUME

Ask for "Your Resume" — a FREE booklet

write your resume and includes samples of

When quality and accuracy count, count on

> Mark 9 Enterprises Ltd. Your Resume Specialists

> > 8919 - 112 St. Hub Mall 432-7936

which gives helpful advice on how to fighting back. A University of Michigan spokesperson said, "Our legal counsel considers the bill unconstitutional," since it conflicts with laws requiring endowment standard formats

managers to invest only according to the school's financial interests.

But, according to Josh Nessen of the American Committee on Africa, Michigan State came out a million dollars ahead by divesting, and he predicts the Michigan measure will spark similar moves in Kansas and Wisconsin.

Weir recommended that the prize winner use the money to "take his wife, husband, fiance or serious female friend out for a gay even-

The late Mr. Weir explained the odd bequest by saying, "many with very low standards at examinations have become illustrious members of the bar by keeping dark their lack of legal knowledge."

The Law Society admits it's a bit perplexed. "Why should we be rewarding someone at the bottom of the class?" asked the financial secretary. "You might get a lot of competition.'

Dining Room, Kitchen, Snack Bar Personnel

Prestigious downtown private fine dining/athletic club is hiring waiters/waitresses, bus people, cooks, pantry and utility personnel.

Excellent working environment, salary and benefits — advancement opportunities to the right people. Attitude and willingness to learn is a higher priority than experience.

Apply in person to Centre Club, Oxford Develop-ment, 19th Floor, Royal Trust Tower, Edmonton Centre.

Athletic Club Personnel

Prestigious downtown athletic club requires full and part-time morning, afternoon, evening/weekend personnel to work locker rooms and maintenance.

Positions require interpersonal skills, wellgroomed appearance and a willingness to work approximately 30 hours per week.

Apply in person to Centre Club, Oxford Development, 19th Floor, Royal Trust Tower, Edmonton Centre.

STUDENTS' UNION CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS SPECIAL MEETING

The Students' Council will be considering the adoption of a restructured Constitution and Bylaws at its March 30 th, 1982 meeting (7:00 p.m., 2 nd floor, University Hall).

There will be a special meeting to discuss the new document on Monday, 29 th March, 1982, in room 270-A Students' Union Building.

All students are welcome.

For further information, contact: President, Phil Soper or Executive Assistant, Jocelyn Martin; 259 SUB 432-4236

/page 20, the Gateway

sports

Covey and Newhouse take home shiniest hardware

Debbie Covey receives her award for top female athlere of the year, the Bakewell troph. Combining athletic prowess with leadership, character, and academic ability Debbie is well deserving.

Last night the University of Alberta's Athletic department held its annual awards banquet to honour the outstanding athletes of the past year. The awards show is called Colour Night and was held at H&G caterers.

Aside from numerous team awards and participation scrolls there were a number of individual trophies handed out. The most prestigious awards were the Bakewell and Wilson trophies. The Bakewell Trophy is awarded to the most outstanding female athlete of the year. The award is based on athletic prowess and academic ability. Last night Debra. Covey of the Pandas volleyball team was given the Bakewell trophy. Debra was a mainstay of the volleyball team this year. The Wilson Trophy for the outstanding male athlete of the year was given to track and field's lan Newhouse. Ian competed very well in all events he entered and was well deserving of the award as was Covey. Other individual awards were given to athletes were: the Presidents Trophy was given to Gord Sime for his outstanding ability on the football team this year, the Beaumont swimming Year, the beaumont swimming Trophy was given to Brian Carleton, The Andy Purcell Hockey Trophy was awarded to Jim Lomas, and many other awards went to people like John Herschel, Mark Oliveri, Dave Wilson and female award winners wares Tracy Mills Audrey Gee were: Tracy Mills, Audrey Gee, Jane Felling, Teunisje Harrison, Donna Dixon.

The awards ceremony was concluded with a dance at which everyone appeared to have a good time.

Ian Newhouse steps up to claim the coveted Wilsons trophy given to the top male athlete of the year. Ian missed out last year but could not be denied this year the thrill of victory.

the Gateway, page 21/

The papers lately have been reporting on the controversy concerning John Baretta and the Edmonton Drillers.

The controversy will of course no longer exist between those two parties because yesterday it was reported that Baretta had been released. Personally I disagree totally with this decision. It appears that the Drillers have found a way to get rid of one of the four goalers they have in camp.

Everyone knows that John Baretta feels that he had been promised the job of number one goalie for the upcoming ourdoor season. When the Drillers coach Roger Thompson went over to England and signed those other two goalies (I don't care what their names were) Baretta felt that he had been lied to. He then screamed to the press who dutifully printed it for the masses to read.

Because of the things Baretta said the organization has dumped him. Bad mistake.

The way in which the Drillers have acted can be likened to that of a little boy. It shows that the soccer team has no class. Their reaction appears to have been one of: if you won't play the way we want and be totally servile, then you can't play at all. How far does this organization think it can push people around before the people who play for them begin to think that there is no use in playing anyway?

The first signs of the breaking point have already appeared with the sudden retirement of Ross Ungaro. More players may follow.

I am not saying what John Baretta did was right. By blasting his own team in the papers he has perhaps created some dissention on the team. He should have gone to the management directly. But if what Baretta says is true: if he was promised the outdoor job then the ball club did in fact lie to him. That in itself is pretty bad. How can the Drillers organization expect their players to trust and respect them if the organization lies to them?

But if Baretta should have gone to the management first then the organization should have treated Baretta in the same way. Why didn't the coach and general manager go talk to Baretta after he made the comments that he did?

A player should not have to keep his mouth shut about something which he feels has wronged him. The organization should be able to handle problems internally without resorting to cutting a player just because he says a few not so nice comments. It would have shown more class if the organization had gone to talk to John Baretta and then announced that he had been traded as per his request, (if that is what Baretta wanted) or that Baretta and the club had resolved their differences. Can it be assumed now that whenever one of the players has anything but sweetness and light to say about the club they will be dropped? I am all for keeping the internal squabblings out of the papers if at all possible but sometimes these things happen. When they do it is important that the organization rise above the pettiness and conduct themselves in a professional manner. It appears (and I never thought I would say anything like this) that Terry Jones was right. The Drillers are not a professional soccer club but merely trying to masquerade as one. They are doing a very bad job of it. By dropping John Baretta as they did the Drillers have as good as given an admission of guilt. They did in fact lie to John Baretta and by dropping him and getting rid of him they shut him up. They don't try and compromise or talk, they just drop the first player who speaks out. The strong arm tactics won't work for long. People must be treated as such or they won't perform. The Drillers organization have shown that they don't belong in the world of professional sports. Until they exhibit the qualities befitting a class organization, the players will continue to show a bad product on the field. Andrew Watts

Volleyball highlights year

by Garnet DuGray

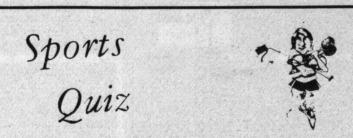

by Garnet DuGray 15-6 win over Medicine "A", ' Turning to hockey, the Divi-And the volleyballs were while in Division 2, CSA downed sion 2 final ran smoothly last flying! That's right, as the men's the Korean Student Association in Thursday evening as the 8th volleyball playoffs wound up in the main gym last Tuesday even-ing. In Division 1 action, the Shooters "A" squad came up victorious with a convincing 15-9, ing to the Korean Student Association in Thursday evening as the out a closer battle by scores of 15-4. 7-to the Korean Student Association in Thursday evening as the out a closer battle by scores of 15-4. 7-to the the store and student Association in Thursday evening as the out a closer battle by scores of 15-4. 7-to the store and the store and student Association in Thursday evening as the out ing. In Division 1 action, the shooters "A" squad came up victorious with a convincing 15-9, ivictory over the Law "D" squad.

Media ballot box

Throughout this year I have attacked the Edmonton Journal, the Edmonton Sun, and the various radio and TV stations. The prime reason for this attack is the coverage they give to the sporting facilities in this city. I refer, specifically of course, to the Oilers and Eskimos and even more to his Highness, the one and only Mr. Waynederful. I have never asked, however, anyone else of how they feel about the sports coverage in this city. Well, I am now asking this question to which you can answer either yes or no: Do you feel that the sports coverage in this city (particularly that of Terry Jones and everyone's attention of The Great One) has been biased unnecessarily, poor in its scope and arrogant in its attitude?

Yes..... No.....

Return your ballots to the Gateway att. Andrew Watts in Rm. 282

The Thursday sports quiz this week will switch it's attention back to statistics. This does not mean that we will want to know who scored what in what game with who playing and when was it. But we must continue to keep our knowledge up to date. It was difficult to decide whether to make this quiz on hockey or baseball. But the playoffs are more important than spring training, so hockey it is. Give yourself one point for every correct answer, answers are on this page.

What NHL team has won the most Stanley Cups? Who holds the record for most points in playoffs? What was the longest playoff game ever? (i.e. what teams were playing).

Who was the first expansion team to win the Stanley Cup? Who was the first expansion team to gain a Stanley Cup final berth?

6. Who coached the above team?

In 1971 Montreal and Chicago met in the Cup final. A young goalie was credited with the upset victory. Who was he?

8. How many Stanley Cups has Scotty Bowman won? When the Leafs finish this season they will be out of the playoffs for the first time in how many years? 10 Have Edmonton ever missed the NHL playoffs?

FREE

identical 5-4 score over 4th Henday. With this the final men's intermural event, table tennis wraps up tonight (Thursday) in the Education gym starting at 7:30 p.m. The first round of action went over well on Tuesday despite the lack of a seventh table originally planned for the tourney.

In women's action, a reminder that the Spring Fun Run will go as scheduled this Saturday, March 27 with registration at the main entrance to the P.E. building starting at noon. The race (2.5 or 5 km.) starts at one p.m. and requires a one dollar entry fee for prizes to the winners. Remember, this is your last chance for participation points, girls. Last, but certainly not least is the Campus Recreation Awards Social for all intermurals, sports clubs and non-credit instruction people to be held on Thursday, April 1 in Dinwoodie lounge at SUB. Tickets are now on sale at either the men's co-rec or women's office during office hours until Wednesday, March 31. The gala event is scheduled to start off at 7 p.m. with awards going out to all winners and workers starting at 7:30 p.m. Pick up your tickets for you and your friends before it is too late.

FOR ALBERTA UNIVERSITIES?

The Advisory Committee on University Affairs is made up of citizen volunteers representing all areas of the province. Its purpose is to gather the views of the public on matters affecting Alberta's universities and to pass them immediately and directly to Jim Horsman, Minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower.

You are invited to present your views at a meeting of the Minister's Advisory Committee on University Affairs, chaired by Dr. John G. Paterson, to be held on MONDAY, MARCH 29 UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA Room 3-15 University Hall 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon 1:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

TUESDAY, MARCH 30 EDMONTON INN Fireweed Room 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon 1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

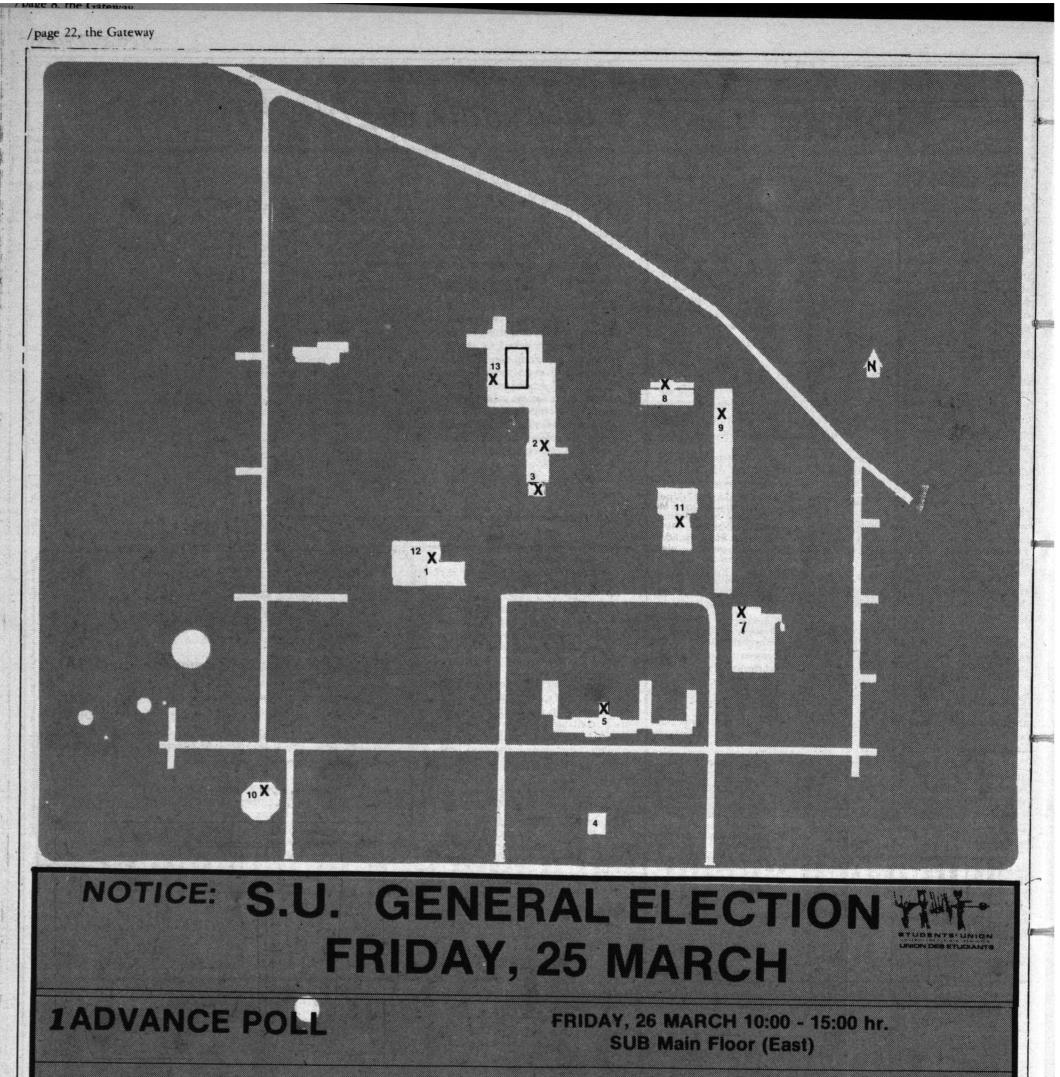

Interested groups and individuals wishing to make oral or written presentations should contact

Peter Maxwell-Muir, Executive Secretary 805 - 9th Street S.W. CALGARY, Alberta T2P 2Y6

Phone 261-6192 (call collect)

BUILDING:	AREA:	TIME:
2 CAB (Northeast)	Northeast Corner	9:00 - 17:30 hr
3 CAB (South)	Pedway to Engineering	10:00 - 16:00 hr
4 Clinical Sciences	Second Floor By Escalators	10:30 - 13:30 hr
5 Education	Lounge Area (North) near ESA office	9:00 - 17:30 hr
6 Faculte St. Jean	Salon des Etudiants	9:00 - 13:30 hr
7 Fine Arts	Second Floor - HUB Pedway Entrance	9:30 - 16:00 hr
8 H.M. Tory	Main Foyer	9:00 - 17:00 hr
9 HUB (North)	Purple Lounge	9:30 - 17:30 hr
10 Lister Hall	Outside Cafeteria	11:00 - 18:00 hr
11 Rutherford	Upper Concourse	9:30 - 17:00 hr
12SUB	Main Floor (East)	9:00 - 18:00 hr
13 V-Wing	Vending Area	9:30 - 16:00 hr
PUT THE STUD	PENTS' UNION IN ITS PLACE - (Please bring you student I.D. with you)	VOTE!!

the Gateway, page 23/

ootnotes

MARCH 25

Debating Society 2nd last meeting in 2-58 Tory, 1930 hr.

U of A Group for Nuclear Disarmament. "What you can do to save the peace." 3 pm, SUB 158A.

U of A Pre-Vet Club meeting for speeches and executive elections at 5:15 in AgFor 522.

El Salvador Campus Cttee meeting Rm. 280. 7 pm.

MARCH 26

U of A Ski Club "Final Bender" in Dinwoodie Friday, with Slash and the Bleeding Hearts. $4 members, $6 non-members. Tickets in CAB or 230 SUB.

The Salvador Campus Committee forum on issue of El Salvador. Multimedia Room 215 Education Bldg. North, 2nd floor.

Arts Students Assoc. election to GFC as Arts presentative for 1982-1983 term nomination forms at H.C 2-3.

SUB Art Gallery: Poetry reading - Mary Howes and Steven Hume 432-4547. MARCH 27

Womens Intramurals Spring Run For Fun (New date) Come out for the fun of it. Your choice of a 2.5 or 5.0 km route to be posted. Sign up in front of Main Phys. Ed. entrance at 12:00. Bring S1 for refreshments. Race starts at 1:00 pm.

Demonstrate against Cruise missiles at, Cold Lake. Meet 9 am at Unitarian Church (12530-110 Ave). with $6 for bus and lunch. Return by 8 pm. Confirm with Gord Weih of ENNuF at 452-3138.

MARCH 28

Christian Reformed Chaplaincy worship every Sunday at 10:30 am in Athabasca Hall. All welcome.

MARCH 30

Solar Energy Group. Passive solar energy efficient housing. Presentation by Gordon Howell (Research Engineer, Alta Research Council SWERP). 12:30 Educa-Alta tion 165.

VCF Dagwood 5-7 pm, Tory 14-14, $2.00 Musical evening.

MARCH 31

Stor A inew Democrats. Prof. Garth Stevenson to speak on Separatism in Alberta at general meeting. 82/83 Ex-ecutive elections as well. 3 pm, Rm. 270A SUB. U of A New Democrats. Prof. Garth

German language film Minna von Barnhelm (1966) at 7:30 pm in Arts 17.

APRIL 1 U of A Science Fiction & Comic Art Society annual meeting and elections 8:30 p.m. 14-Tory. Nominations welcome any time before vote. Be there. U of A Flying Club meeting. Fly in plans to Cold Lake. Ground school information. 8 pm. SUB 142. All welcome. GENERAL L'Express, figurative work by advanced students of SUB Art classes March 1-14. March 15 - 4 April work by John. M.

Brooks-Reading. Brown Bag Lunch - Mature students. Tuesdays 11-1:30, Heritage Lounge, Athabasca Hall or call 432-5205. U of A Badminton Club meets every Friday, 7:30-10:30 pm. Education Gym. U of A Mensa supervised IQ testing Saturdays 1 pm. 7th floor General Services. Info, Harold 434-1834 or Laura 466-6350.

U of A Wargames Society meets Wednesdays at 6 pm in Tory 3-65. Fri 6 pm in Education 1-110. University Parish Tuesday lunch-devotion at noon; Thurs. worship and fellowship meal 5 pm SUB 158.

Mass times, St. Joseph's College, Sun-9:30; 11:00; 4:00; 8:00; MWF - 7:30; 12:10; 4:30; TTH - 7:30; 12:30; 4:30; Sat. 12:10; 4:30.

Classifieds are 20¢/word/issue. $1.40 minimum, Deadlines: Noon Monday and Wednesday for Tuesday and Thursday publication. Rm. 238 Students' Union Building. Footnotes and Classifieds must be placed in percent and prevaid. person and prepaid.

DINWOODIE: Sat. April 3 - Long John Baldry. Tickets: SUB, CAB. Wed., April 7 - Informer - Slash, 3:00 p.m. "Party on the last day of school.

For Rent April 1, bachelor apartment in Campus Towers, 11145 - 87 Ave. Call Campus Rental 439-2124 or 439-2325. For Rent near University Hospital, basement suite or singles $180. per month. Ph. 154-6260 after 4 p.m. ACCOMODATION WANTED Doctoral student and family, one child of 8 yrs., nonsmokers, abstainers, excellent references. House preferred with in-law suite for gardening grandmother, one year lease if possible commencing June or July. Phone 604-492-8813 or write: R. Neil, 2701 S. Main St., Penticton, B.C., V2A 5J5. MASSAGE and Reflexology by Registered Therapist, Matthew Shumaker. Relaxation and Therapeutic Treatments. Ap-pointments 452-3955. #104, 11817-123 St., tion Edmonton. Student rates.

Large 1 bedroom apartment to sublet May 1st to Aug. 31. Furnished. On campus 8515-112 St. Ph. Peisa 439-9630. I Looked Under Vzvaczous Yet Obvzously

Under Jyour Cspell. (mEEmET So Placeme) Shyly Confuszng. Lynn the Leprechaun: How could I attend the event if you didn't give me the whole address? Send message. Your admiree, J.

ALICE: Happy 19th Birthday on March 27.' I wish you all the best, love Faye. Typing $1.25 per page. Proof read. Debbie 462-3557

Alison is dirty-minded; Alison is dirtyminded, and 22 years old today!

LONESTAR Athletic Club Bar None Dance. Why change tradition? Fri. Mar. 26, 8:00 p.m. Garneau Community Hall. $5.00 Music by Big Dreamer.

Why rent when you can buy? Student wants two partners in Garneau area house. Your share of mortgage. Cheaper, than rent. Phone 439-1027.

Tutor needed for grade 12 student in Math 30. Prefer a student living in St. Albert. Call Joyce 458-0585 evenings.

Hey Mr. Coconut Man, I use pineapples? Carol 7th Mac.

Neat and accurate typing at reasonable rates. Phone 483-5212. Near Meadowlark.

For Rent: 1 bedroom furnished apartment. 8515-112 St. Available: May 10 to August 27. Parking included.

For Sale: SCM electric, includes 2 changeable ball elements, 7 cassettes, warranty. $425. 432-1552.

3 rms for rent, $7 day, $200 mth. April 1-May 1/82. 91st - 84 Ave. 466-7193 after 5 p.m

Interested in reaching young people or Christ and training them in the Biblical way to reach others for Him? Contact Campus for Christ 10504-128 St. Edmonton T5N 1W4. 452-0859.

Filing cabinets ($50. up), bookcases ($25.up), manual typewriters ($40.up), electric typewriters ($150.up), desks ($50.up), office dividers ($25.up). All items are reconditioned or nearly new. Phone 433-8728.

ROCK and ROLL dance band for hire, Ph. 489-8614 ask for Larry.

Personal tax preparation by U of A student, 8 years experience, call Lucien at Rockabilly Band for hire. 433-7477.

UTOPIA means Moneyless Society!! For complimentary booklet or discussion please call the Alberta Chapter of Utopian Circles International at 923-3160 anytime.

Key cut while you wait on campus at 9113 HUB Mall. Watch/calculator batteries replaced. Campus Digital Shack, tel. 432-0521

Typing, Riverbend area. Reasonable rates. Phone 436-3621.

FULL TIME SUMMER JOB, helping look after newborn and two-year-old. Excellent pay, central location, nice house. Starting date: Early to mid April. Possibility of part-time work during academic year in exchange for free board and room. Telephone: Prof. D.P. Jones, 432-2151 days, 482-1160 after 6 p.m.

Bachelor suite to sublet May 1 - Aug. 31. Rent $305/month. Furnished. 11147-82 Ave. Phone 433-2706 weekday evenings. Sandra.

424-6681

Experienced typist. Near Londonderry. Reasonable rates. 475-4309.

Typing — IBM Selectric - all work proof read. Mrs. Theander, 465-2612.

Furnished, large one Bedroom apr. to Sub-Let May 1 - Aug. 31. 8 minute walk to campus. $325/mo. Phone 439-4283.

Business Card Printing (also napkins, matches). Colored cards, foil print. 100 for $19.00; discount for quantity. 434-0823

Master's In Business Administration (MBA)

Invitation to all interested persons. A presentation and reception is being held to provide you with the opportunity to discuss the University of Calgary Masters in Business Administration degree.

Time: Thursday, April 1, 1:00 - 4:30 p.m. Place Room 457, Central Academic Building, U of A

Complimentary Coffee & Donuts

GAY ALLIANCE - coffee house 7-10 pm daily, library, counselling and socials. 424-8361

sion. The Krieg Clinic provides specialized medical massage and Chiro-Gymnastic. Fully qualified and German-trained. M. Krieg, C.Ph.T. 436-8059. 11627-75 Ave.

Accurate charts at reasonable cost.

Typing - IBM Selectric. Near Northlands. Call 471-6944.

Hayrides and Sleighrides between Edmonton and Sherwood Park. 464-0234 evenings, 8-11 pm.

Word Processing service, typing school. Photocopier, Typewriter rental. Mark 9-8919-112 St., HUB Mall, 432-7936.

TYPING term papers, thesis, etc. $1.00/d.s. page 122 St and 144 Ave. Carol 456-7292.

Happy Birthday, 'Dawn!'

2 bedroom apt. to sublet May 1 to Aug. 31. Furnished. Near Southgate. $285.00/month excluding utilities. Ph.

Chemical/Mineral Engineers present their post-Blizzard Bash. Featuring inter-faculty boatraces March 27 in Dinwoodie.

Found - 1 men's watch, washroom 2nd floor SUB. Mar. 24th - Call Jim at 435-5638

Players wanted for Ladies 3rd division baseball team — the All-Fab Aces. Day 433-3173, Night 487-5855. The finest in hardwood ARTISTS' EQUIPMENT, easels, etc. Brad, 466-7452,

Good Dance Band (Tourist) for grads socials, parties. Call 455-5379 or 477-6246.

Relief for BACKACHE, STRESS, Ten-

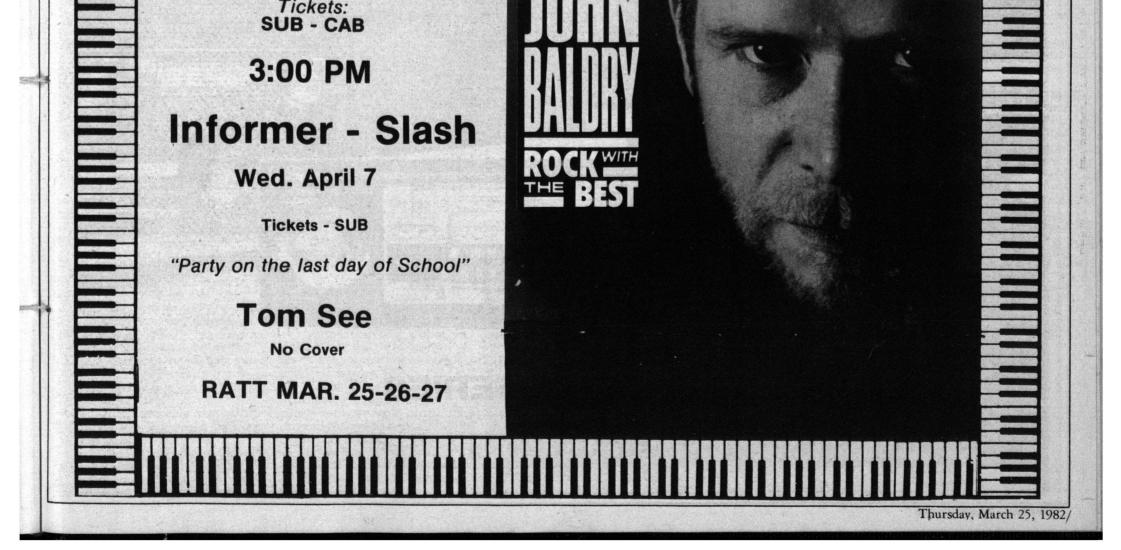

Aquarian Astrology: Phone 424-6889.

Zoryana Resale Boutique — quality women's and men's clothes, furs, and accessories. 8206-104 Street. 433-8566.

434-9122.

Apt. sublet Newton Place. Two bdr., furnished, May-Aug, 2 min from U of A. Ph. 432-7996.

Doors at 6:00 p.m. Band is Hyperion.

© PIONER MiniSize Maxi Features Mighty Good!

Thanks to the ingenuity of Pioneer, now, when you choose a compact car, you don't have to settle for a compact sound.

/page 24, the Gateway

The new minis come in a variety contor of models featuring AM/FM, Sc Supertuner II with built-in noise yours suppressor, FM auto/mono switch, Vis push button timing. Tape decks with auto-reverse, auto-replay and eject, Sole Canadian Distributor (Automatic Tape Slack Canceller), key-off release/key-on play, locking fast-forward and rewind, separate bass/treble controls and loudness contour switches.

So do your car a favour and do yourself and your passengers one too. Visit your nearest Pioneer Auto Sound Dealer and test listen the latest from Pioneor You'll find them

Pioneer. You'll find them mighty good!

67 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, Ontario M3B 2T8 Phone (416) 445-8530 575 Lepine Avenue, Dorval, P.Q. H9P 2R2 Phone (514) 631-3536

S.H. PARKER CO.

