WASHING COMPOUND.

WASHING COMPOUND.
THIS COMPOUND has been proved to be superior to everything for WASHING CLOTHES, and is cheaper than Soap. The Clothes only require to be atceped in water with a little of it, and thoroughly rinsed, to make these cleaner and brighter than by the unual mide of washing. It nates all the labor, and fully two-thirds of the expense of the anual system.

Certificates have been left at the Store of Wai. Lyafix & Co., St. Paul Street, where all necessary information will be given.

of information acceptable to our readers. The position of Lord John Russell's Ministry is still precarious, and the re-sults of its legislation difficult to be an-ticipated. The Papal Aggression Bill, unsatisfactory to a large portion of the British nation, will doubtless become a law, affording, however, but an imperfect and feeble barrier against those encroachments which seem to threaten the Established Church with additional dissertions and divisions. Established Church with additional dis-sensions and divisions. The recent ac-tion of the Archbishops and Bishops of the realm, in their Pastoral Letter to the Clergy, indicates a strong disposition, on the part of those dignitaries, to firmly maintain the distinctive doctrines and worship of the Church. They must speedily sweep away those unsightly cobwebs which have been permitted, by resiless innovators, to deface the beauty and simplicity of our ancient and cher ished faith. The foes of the Church in this instance, have certainly been "those of her own household." The policy adopted by the Whigs, in many prominent measures contemplated by that party, appears to be extremely timid and indefinite. With many conflicting indispensable to the successful accomplishment of their peculiar principles.

The principal object which in England now attracts public attention, and absorbs all other considerations, is found in the grand and imposing spectacle created by the united industry, enter prize, and ingenuity of the civilized world, heightened by the presence of five millions of people, among whom may be found every shade and distinction of human character. The "Correstion of human character. The "Corres-pondence" embraces, in its description of this manimoth creation of wonder, an interesting detail truly graphic in its delineations, and richly displaying the beauty and variety of the most prominent articles. Canada, is not without its share of interest in the productions which constitute the present wealth and ornaments of the Crystal Palace, and we anticipate for her Artists, Mechanics, and Artificers, an hororable distinction in those awards which belong to the efforts of industry and enterprise.

Pos-sessing an elasticity of mind, and charged with a high mercurial temperament, the French are never passive. In the tumults of war, and amid revolun the tumuts of war, and amint revolu-tionary excitement, they find their most natural employment and their greatest pride. Whether the Republic will sur-vive the present agitations, is, at best, problematical. The pretensions of the President towards Imperial elevation, resident towards imperial elevation, are feeble and unsupported. The Napoleon of Austerlitz and Jenna, and that of 1851, are far different personages. The fame of the former belongs to France—the latter inherits only his name. The most prominent, and, we think, popular, successor to Louis, is General Cavaignac. His claims will be strongly supported by that party known as the Socialists, whose political power will likely prove disastrous to the Guizot policy, now so branch of the Bourbons. It would

From the intelligence referred to, it is gratifying to know that in England, engaged, as she is at present, in the development of those various resources so abundant in every department of her commercial and agricultural relations, the interests of learning, and the claims of literary merit, are not forgotten. It is with no ordinary pleasure we notice the noble and generous effort now being contemplated by some of the most distinguished Dramatic and miscellaneous authors of the present day, to provide for the necessities and infirmities of literary men. If Houses of Refuge are for the necessities and infirmities of literary men. If Houses of Refuge are established for the reception of poverty and indigence—if Hospitals are exected for the decayed and worn-out veterans who have served their country—why should not the declining years of the aged scholar and man of letters find that solace and refuge from the precuriousness incident to literary labor, which the kindred sympathies of learning afford. Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton, as the pioneer in this good work, has set an example worthy the author of Pelham; and the co-operation of Dickens, Donglas Jerold, and other eminent literary men.

In our remarks in Monday's issue the Courier, on the recent disturbance

We take great pleasure in stating, that these remarks were not intended to convey the idea that His Worship, without having been applied to, had sought the scene of the riot. We felt assured that his interference had been solicited by the Chief of Police, with a view to suppress the threatened out-break. The regret expressed had refer-ence to the impleasant position, and per-sonal inconvenience to which such ap-peals from the subordinate officers would be likely to place the worthy head of our City Corporation.

BOARD OF TRADE OS. TRINITY HOUSE. BOARD OF TRADE OF TRINITY HOUSE.—Last week the public were favored with some correspondence of escent date between those Corporations, respecting a regulation controlling the landing of gunpowdes essected by the Trinity House. The correspondence was preceded by sundry observations of a contemporary of a somewhat offensive nature to the gentlemen composing the Trinity Board. The Editor assumed the character of Judge, but delivered his charge without hearing a sive nature to the gentlemen composing the Trinity Board. The Editor assumed the character of Judge, but delivered his charge without hearing a tittle of evidence on the part of the defendants, why they should not be condemned as imbeciles, making a regulation worthy only of fools, in the first place, and then defending it "under the prefence," that it was intended to protect the city and its inhabitants from the possible contingency of an explosion of powder on the wharves or in the streets, whilst, at the very time, powder was being earted through the Quebec and St. Lawrence suburbs, without any regard to such a consideration. Before bringing so grave a charge against a Boant composed of individuals of respectable standing in the community for capacity and fair-dealing, it would have been only proper in our contemporary, to have made some inquiry into the facts, from members of the Board, and not to have adopted an ex-parte statement; and, it seems to as, that before calling on the Trinity Board to alter their By-law, it would have been well to have ascertained their reasons for making it. It would, in that case, have been discovered that it was only adopted after the views of the Mayor and Corporation had been ascertained, and with the full understanding that the city authorities should lose no time in regulating the removal of powder from the landing-place to the magazines, so that life and property should be endangered by its transportation, as little as possible. If it be true that the city authorities still permit as destructive an article as gunpowder to be carted through the atreets, to them must attach the responsibility of such a course, and not to the Trinity Board, whose members have done their utmost to protect the citizens from so hazardoux a practice.

them must attach the responsibility of sear a course, and not to the Trinity Board, whose members have done their utmost to protect the citizens from so hazardon a practice.

Our contemporary would have done well to have cited the example of any city in Great Britain or in the United States, whose authorities permit bowder to be landed on its wharves, or carted by wholesale through its thoroughfares, before attempting to cast the stigma of imbeciaty and hypocrisy on a respectable public Board, for refusing such permission. The Legislature, at its last session, gave the Trinity House authority to control the landing of powder. The authority necessarily involves responsibility; and the question at once presents itself, in what light, would the Trinity Board be viewed by the country, if a whole city were to be in mourning through its gross and fool, hardy cipability, in permitting powder to be landed on the wharves in the very centre of business and population, whence, necessarily, it could only be carted to the magazines, through crowded atreets.

only se carrier to the magazines, through the date of a treefs I.

With regard to gunpowder arriving for importers in Canada West, it must be evident that the Trinity Board could no more prevent its being transported from the foot of the current to the Lachine Canal, an rouse to its destination, than the Trinity House of Quebec could prevent Montreal traders, having gunpowde: on board, from passing Chapter.

In addition to the above remarks, taken from the Herald of yesterday, we may add, that a change in the regulations relating to the landing of gunpowder, and of its cartage through the city, was called for by the citizens of Montreal, and The present condition of France, we the matter was brought under the notice regret to learn, is still unsettled, and the fore the city, it could not be conveyed to through the principal thoroughfares, and the Corporation intimated to the Trinity Board, that unless they prohibited the landing of gunpowder on the wharves, the Corporation could take no action in the matter. Under these circumstances, the Trinity Board could not shirk the responsibility thrown upon them, and were compelled to pass a law prohibiting the landing of gunpowder on the wharves. This having been done, the Corporation are about to pass a law to regulate the carting of gunpowder, and which, we understand, is to the following effect:—That all gunpowder in-tended to be stored in the magazines in the rear of the city, shall be carted by the Victoria Road. Hence the landing of the powder at the Cross becomes absolutely necessary, and any inconve-nience arising therefrom must be put up with, when considered in comparison with the public safety.

older branch of the Bourbons. It would not surprize us, in the mixing up of those discordant elements, where, by agitation, the dregs often ascend to the surface, to find, even in the obscure mechanic proposed for the Presidency by the Red Republicans, some extraordinary qualities of mind, and attributes of genius, by which he might arrive at the elevation claimed for him by his supporters.

From the intelligence referred to, it is gratifying to know that in England, engaged, as she is at present, in the developments he has fitted up an apart-

I have it on good authority that Mr. Hincks is in favor of the Halifax and Quebec Railway, in aid of which he will no doubt introduce a measure text Session, in accordance with the terms guarantee the loan. The question is one of great guarantee the lean. The question is one or great importance in many points of view. To add two millions to our present debt may, or may not, be had policy—that will depend upon the charter of the investment. Will the Road say? This question will be differently answered by different parties; and some, who will answer it in the negative, will not consider it decisive of the question whether the Road ought to be constructed of not. tructed or not. They may justify the expenditure on calculations of prospective advantages. It is quite clear that, without a Railroad from Halifest to Quebec, a Federal Union of the Prorinces, whether desirable or not, is gractically

Very little is known of what measures Government intend to bring before Parliament in the approaching Session. They will propose to divide the County of York into four Counties; but whether the division will be made in such a way as to suit Perry, I know not. I may remark en passant that Perry's health continues very poor, and he will not be able to attend to his Parlia mentary duties next Session. Nor will Malcolm Cameron attend, as the state of his private business requires his undivided attention. In the shape of effective opposition from the Clear Grit side of the House, there will, therefore, be nothing very alarming. Hon. J. H. Boulton will have that whole business pretty much to himself. What sensation McKenzie will make in the House remains to be seen.

The Church Union is making great efforts t prevent the secularization of the Clergy Reserves.

Last week, Delegates (Lay and Clerical) from all parts of the Upper Province, met in this city, and held a public party meeting in the City Hall on Friday night. Their object, I presume, is to influence public opinion in view of the General Elections. I confess I have no idea that their success will be very great. Some effect they will undoubtedly produce; but they will also stir up the other party to greater exertions. In judging of the state of public opinion on this uestion, we shall deceive ourselves if we take it or granted that all the Members of any Church even the Church of England -are opposed to the proposed secularization of these Lands. The Hamilton Speciator, and the Woodstock American, both Conservative journals, are in favor of seularization; and, I need not say, that of all the ournals in the Upper Province, there is none hat has a better knowledge of the state of public pinion than the Hamilton Spectator. So far as Upper Canada is concerned, I have not the slightest idea that the Church Union will be successful n their appeals to the judgment of the public.

The Mirror, a journal which strongly favored the Irish Rebellion, and which was yesterday the oremost advocate of Annexation, has just been elected as the organ of the Post Office Departnent. To its columns have been transferred the advertised lists of letters, from these of the Christian Guardian. These journals are both Sectarian, and, therefore, very unfit to be the organ of any Department; but the worst of it is, hat the circulation of the Mirror is only about half that of the discarded Guardian. The latter paper dips into politics on occasions, and may possibly not forget to revenge the loss of Post Office patronage. Except this, Mr. Morris' changes have all been for the best; and if a hange were necessary in the organship, a paper large circulation should have been selected.

For some days past there have been vague rumors a possible Coalition Ministry; but I

He then announced a sermon to young women; the church was thronged with brodeloth. He proclaimed an address to children; and the fathers and mothers, and what some one calls "the dear middle aged people," were out in force. He gave notice he should exhort sinners; and had the sexton for addience. So, the announcement of a subject is not always the best self to becure the audience for whom it is the best calculated, and lor whom the lecture is written.

Another Astonishing Gas Discovery.—
Mr. Paine, who claims to have invented a method of producing light and heat by the combustion of water, not satisfied with this discovery, has hit upon a still cheaper and more abundant fuel. The Worcester Spy of y-streetay asys:—"Although the Patent of the Hydro Electric. Light has been secured, Mr. Paine has not remitted his investigations, and at last has discovered a process of catalyzing the engagen of the aim asphere, and rendering it highly luminiferous at a mere nominal expense, without the cost of machinery, or any other apparatus than an air, receiver, espable of holding o mmon air. We saw it in operation last evening in our office, examined it minutely, catalized the oxygen currell, and read by the light as produced, which is equal, it not superior, to the best gas burned in the cities. The flame is peculiary bright and brilliant, burns with a clear, stendy light, is entirely incolorous, and during the half bour that we watched its operation, we could not have cost more than a couple of olders, and it was capable of furnishing all the light needed for the illumination of an ordinary sized ro.m." DRAS COURTS,—Herewith you will receive a present of a pair of woollen stockings; in they my own hands; and be usured, dear coz, that my friendship for you is as warm as the material, active as the finger-work, and generous as the donation. But I consider this present as peculiarly appropriate on the occasion of your marriage. You will remark, in the arst place, that there are two individuals united in one pair, who are to walk side by side, guarding against coldness, and giving confort as long as they last. The thread of their texture is mixed, and so, alsa I is the thread of life. In these, however, the white predominates, expressing my desire and confidence that thus it will be with the colour of your existence. No black is used for I believe your tives will be wholly free from the black passions of wrath and jealousy. The derkest colour here is blue, which is excellent, where was do not make it too blue.

Now this literary Hercules was early one morning visited by a hussar and two assistants, who avowed their purpose of seeing him safely to prison, on account of a certain debt, they being in fact only deputies of the gard de commerce. He attempted to discuss, to negotiate, to entreat—but all to no purpose; the officer was polite and inexorable, the orders were formal, the writ regularly issued; 1200 francs must be forth-coming, or the door of the prison Chily would close upon him. How was he to extricate himself?

"What are you about to do, Monsieur?" asked the other.

"Don't disturb me, I am coining money."
A quarter of an hour elapsed. Dumas rang the bell, his valet answered it. "Take that to the publisher, he will give you forty france for it." He was obeyed; fifteen minutes after there was another ring; the groom appeared and was similarly commissioned. Each succeeding quarter of an hour a leaf was deapatched-measengers were in demand; they formed a chain between the author and publisher. In a short time the crowds began to arrive, the copy and the money passed each other continually in the street, and the piles of each growing larger. At last, after seven hours and a half of intense labor, the battle was gained, and the debt discharged, while the sun was yet fiften minutes high.

The hosser immediately sounded a retreat, much astonished at what he had drath. It was only then that Dumas was conscious of having taken no sustenance since the evening before; seating himself at table with as much spirit as he had just been taking a refreshing sup, he exclaimed,

JAMES POSTER, 136, Notre Dame Street, Jakes leave to return his warmest acknowledgements to his Customers, both in Town and Country, for the liberal support so long enjoyed by him, and begs to say that owing to the increase of his COUNTRY TRADE, he finds it necessary to give it his EXCLUSIVE ATTENTION, and has much pleasure in informing his FAMILY CTSTOMERS that Mr. RICHARD THOMAS, now in his employ, intends commencing business on his own account, to whom he takes the liberty of recommending their patrounge, feeling fully assured that, from the satisfaction he has derived from his services, he will pay them that attention which J. F. always amzionaly felt they were shittled to.

THE Subscriber, in reference to the above, takes the liberty of announcing, that, on the list of May, he intends OPENING those Premises in Great St James Street (formerly Tetu's Hotel.)
