Another Trial.
Charles Luskoy to be tried for the murder of his mother and sister.

SMITH'S FALLS, July 31.—Charles Luskoy, who was found guilty of the murder of his father several days ago, was again tried at the Fall Assize for the murder of his mother and sister, who were murdered at the same time. Detective Greer is still at work on the case, interest in which has been revived by the statements of a man, who says that the day the Luskoy family were murdered he was on his way to Irish Creek to take the train for the States. He took a short cut across the Luskoy farm, and passed close by the house. When just inside he saw a young-looking man run from the house in pursuit of a girl, who was running away screaming at the top of her voice. A short distance from the house, he says, the man overtook her, struck her down with a steel yard, and dragged her back into the house.

Daring Burglars Caught.
MONTREAL, July 31.—For several weeks past a series of daring burglaries have taken place in the city, but the police could not do anything. After a week or all week they caught two old pentitentiary birds named John Kane and Stephen Thiele, who had several hiding places, and were found with a quantity of silverware on them. A little before 9 o'clock this morning the two thieves were seen to leave a house near Cathedral street with a bundle each. The bundles were found to contain silver, silk, pipes, etc. A number of the things were found to have been stolen from a house in Drummond street.

Burglars Found at Work.
GOVERNOR, July 31.—Two men giving the names of Charles Fries and George Green were caught at Brudenfield while burglarizing the store of William Scott & Son. A passer-by noticed their movements and once surrounded the store and nabbed the pair after a hard struggle, in which Fries got roughly handled. They were taken to a systematic job, filling their pockets with a carefully selected lot of goods. They were taken to Clinton and committed to trial.

Irregular Indian Surveys.
OTTAWA, July 31.—Some interesting facts have come to light regarding the survey of the Huron Indians' reserve at Lorette, Quebec, which will probably be a matter for a Parliamentary enquiry. It has been found that through the questionable manner in which these surveys have been conducted and the bungling of officials sent to make arrangements for the survey, the Indian Government has had to pay thousands of dollars to indemnify those who have claimed damages from the Indian Department.

A Toddler Drowned.
BONAVILLE, July 31.—Maggie Moore, aged 9, went to the wharf to see her father off in his boat. A piece of paper flew off the approach into the water, and in trying to reach it Maggie tumbled into the lake. The boat house was opened and a pile pole obtained, and a few moments fishing about brought the little girl to the surface. Efforts were made to resuscitate the child, but to no avail.

Convention of Fish Lovers.
TORONTO, July 31.—A committee has been formed here to make arrangements for a novel outing as Niagara-on-the-Lake on August 9th and 10th. A congress of anglers will be held to celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of Isaac Walton, the father of angling. It is proposed that he has been holding a fishing contest in a manner in which these surveys have been conducted and the bungling of officials sent to make arrangements for the survey, the Indian Government has had to pay thousands of dollars to indemnify those who have claimed damages from the Indian Department.

Did an Undertaker's?
NAPLES, July 31.—Mrs. James Wilson called to visit her husband, who is employed by the undertaker, Charles Brown, undertaker, and while seated talking to him commenced suddenly to breathe stertorously, and died almost instantly.

A RUSSIAN BOOMERANG.
German Claim that Russia Has Over-reached Herself.

BERLIN, July 31.—It is generally held here that the tariff war that has been started between Russia and Germany is more likely to cause damage to the former country than the latter. It seems that Russia in applying her maximum tariff on German products was mainly influenced by the unfavorable early reports regarding the harvest prospects in Germany. These reports, it is said, led Russia to believe that Germany, desiring Russian grain, etc., would not retaliate for the imposition by Russia of the highest tariff on imported German products. In this belief, however, she was disappointed, as the prompt action of the federal council in raising the German tariff on Russian products fifty per cent shows that Germany is not so dependent upon Russian grain as she supposed.

SMITH FINING IT ON.
BERLIN, July 31.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Koenigsberg Zeitung says that Russia intends to add an August fifty per cent to the present maximum tariff on German exports to Russia.

Officer and Prisoner Kill Each Other.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31.—Town Marshal T. J. Blank and Edward Graham, a prisoner, shot each other in a quarrel in a suburb of Louisville, at seven o'clock last evening. The marshal had just fired a shot at the prisoner, who returned the shot and killed him. Graham broke the gate down and let them out. Blank, who is 70 years old, secured a warrant and attempted to serve it on Graham, who resisted.

TORONTO, July 31.—On Saturday Detective Sergeant C. Hestberg, New York, arrived in this city to arrest Herman H. Bennett on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree and a second charge of forgery.

Bennett was in the employ of Messrs. Hamilton H. Selmonds & Brandt, 129 Front Street, New York, as bookkeeper. About the middle of last year he was told of last year he applied for his holiday, and asked for a day over the limit allowed him when he was alleged to have robbed the firm of $8,000 by falsifying cheques and cashing them, forging cheques, and a robbery of certain moneys. He is supposed to have been driven into crime through an inordinate passion for gambling, speculating on horses, and the like. Bennett has consented to return without waiting for extradition papers, and will start for New York to-morrow with Detective Sergeant Hestberg.

The Brockville General Hospital will be pleased to receive contributions of old white rags, to be used as bandages. They may be sent through the medium of the Athens auxiliary. It is, perhaps, unnecessary to add that the purpose for which they are required demands that they be absolutely clean.

The following answer to a question in the Municipal World may set at rest doubts in the minds of some of our rural readers: "After statute law has been enacted, it is not necessary to complete in a municipality, complaint is very often made to the Council that approaches to houses and farm gates have been removed. These complaints are generally accompanied by an application for a new approach which generally takes the form of a culvert or tile. Municipal Councils are doubtless building approaches to private property over ditches which are necessary to drain the highway. A man is more entitled to a small box culvert if his property fronts on a highway with ordinary ditches than a man who has a spring creek running along the highway in front of his farm, is entitled to a bridge."

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I had been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia and Indigestion until my health was gone. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every valuable person to use this valuable and lovely remedy." A trial bottle will convince you. Warranted by J. P. Lamb.

The storm that passed over this section about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning was one of the most violent of the season. Lightning descended to the earth in a number of places. On an island in Charlottetown lake a pine tree was shattered; in Escott front a farmer had six head of cattle killed; and W. J. Kavanagh, residing at Charlottetown, suffered the loss of five head of cattle. In this latter case only one animal was struck and its head was reduced to a pulp. The other animals were found lying near it.

The largest cheese factory in Canada, says the Farmers Advocate, is not the largest in the world, in the county of Middlesex, and about seven or ten miles from the city of London. This factory last season made 250 tons of cheese, and its output the present year will be upwards of 300 tons. The milk supply for this quantity is received within a radius of three miles around the factory. The amount of money brought into this small district and divided among the eighty or ninety farmers who patronize this factory, is from $50,000 to 60,000 every year.

This extensive business is located at Hartsfield, Ont. The farmers interested in this concern have no reason to complain very much of hard times, when their other farm operations are supplemented so largely by the cheese factory.

At Charlottetown. Among those in cottages at the lake last week were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, at Jacob's cottage; Dr. and Mrs. C. M. B. Cornell and daughter, of Brockville, at Point Geraldine; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Phillips, at White; Miss May Bernier, at Lake View; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Johnson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis King and family, at Bertha Island; Mr. and Mrs. N. Dowley, at Montecagle; Mr. John Wilcox and family, at Camp Jolly Roy, Mr. Giles and party, of New York, at Long Island; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Parish and party at their island home; Mrs. Chellis and children, of Winchester, with Mrs. R. B. Algine, at Camp Lookout. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Arnold and family at the Armstrong cottage, at Derbyshire's Point, under canvas, were Messrs. A. Fisher, A. Slack, and G. Sharman, of Athens, and E. Worthington, of Brockville. The hotels all have a fair number of guests, so that the lake presents a very animated appearance these beautiful moonlight evenings.

Hops for the Pensioners. We were assured last week by a York state Republican that the dependent and other pensioners who have been suspended or dropped from the U. S. pension list have little to trouble themselves over—that the Democrats would certainly be buried next election, and that these pensioners who had been unjustly dealt with would be again placed on the list and receive their back pay.

The Canadians earned their pensions by fighting the battles of the Union, and the recent action by which it is sought to evade payment of these pensions is an instance of black ingratitude and indefensible injustice. It is thought that the Democrats in their endeavors to retrench and reform are straining the pension law, and the legality and fairness of their interpretation and administration of it will be tested in the courts as soon as possible.

An Improbable Story. The Rideau Record says that interest in the Luckey case has been revived in the neighborhood of the scene of the awful occurrence by the statements of a man who now comes forward and avows he saw a young man actually murder the girl. His story is that on the day the Luckey family was cremated he was on his way to Irish Creek to take the train for the States. He took a short cut across the Luckey farm and passed close by the house. When just beside it he saw a young looking man rush from the house in pursuit of a girl who was running away screaming at the top of her voice. A short distance from the house, he says, the man overtook her, struck her down with a steeple and dragged her back into the house. After seeing this, he says he continued on his way, went to Jasper, took the train for a point in the States and said nothing about it to anyone until his return a few days ago.

Arrested for Rape. Early last week a man named Truesdell, residing near Rockport, secured a warrant here for the arrest of one George Ferguson, on a charge of ravishing the companion of his daughter, Louise Edna Truesdell, 11 years of age. The offence is said to have been committed on Tar Island, opposite Rockport, on the 19th of July, and the warrant was entrusted to Bailiff McPhail, of Brockville. The latter started for the island early Wednesday evening, and arrived at his place of residence about 10.30 o'clock. He got no response to a knock at the door, and at once walked in, encountering on his way a small son of the accused man. While talking with this boy, Wm. Downey, who accompanied McPhail, and had remained outside, called out that Ferguson was trying to escape by means of the roof. McPhail at once ran outside and finding his man on the roof commanded him to come down. The request was complied with and the prisoner was obliged to dress himself outside. McPhail refusing to allow him to go in, sought his clothes. He was at once brought to Brockville and on coming before the police magistrate this morning, was remanded for eight days.

Ferguson, the accused man, is a farmer, and although but 27 years of age has a wife and family. There are some peculiar circumstances connected with the case, and in some quarters about Rockport, it is alleged that the accused is a victim of malice and blackmail. At all events the trial will be watched with interest.—Recorder.

JULES VERNE AT HOME. THE MOST WIDELY READ OF FRENCH AUTHORS.

His Early Life and His Beginnings in Literary Success—He Has No Technical Scientific Knowledge—A Capsule of the Novels by Andrew Gill.

Jules Verne lives on the Boulevard Longueville at Antwerp, in a fine, spacious house, which he rents. It is a house of three stories with three windows on the Rue Charles Dubois, and three windows at the corner and three more on the Rue Charles Dubois.

The windows on the Boulevard Longueville are magnificent views of Antwerp, with its old Cathedral and other medieval buildings.

Right in front of his house, on the other side of the boulevard, is a railway cutting, which just opposite Verne's study window disappears into a pleasure ground, where there is a large music kiosk, where during the fine weather the regimental band plays. This combination is to my mind one of the most beautiful in the world.

It is thought that the Democrats in their endeavors to retrench and reform are straining the pension law, and the legality and fairness of their interpretation and administration of it will be tested in the courts as soon as possible.

with Guy Fawkes as hero. "A Drama Under Louis XV." was another tragedy in verse, and for comedy there was one in five acts and verse called "Les Horreux Jour." All this work was done with the greatest ease and first two composed previous to my departure for Paris. I have always sought after style, but people have always given me credit for originality.

"I came to Paris as a student just about the time when the gresists and all that also were disappearing from the Parisian quarter. I cannot say that I frequented many of my fellow-student's rooms, for we were not very numerous, and I was nearly all my friends were schoolmates from Nantes, who had come up to the Paris University with me.

"I was living then on a small pension allowed me by my father, and had dreams of wealth which led me into one or two speculations at the Bourse—which did not realize my dreams. I may add, but I derived some benefit from my frequent visits to the Bourse, for it was there that I got to know the romance of commerce, the fever of business, which is the most interesting of all human passions.

"While speculating at the Bourse and collaborating with Hippard in operettas and chansons, and with Alexandre Dumas in comedy, I contributed short stories to the magazine. My first work appeared in "Muses des Familles," where you can find a story of mine about a madman in a balloon, which was the first indication of the line of novel that I was destined to follow.

"I was 20 when I wrote my first scientific novel, that was "Five Weeks in a Balloon." It was published by Hetzel in 1861, and was a great success at once.

"I tells me that Mr. Verne said: "I want you to tell me how you wrote that novel and why, and what preparation you made for it. Had you any knowledge of ballooning, any experience?"

"None whatever," replied Mr. Verne, "I wrote 'Five Weeks in a Balloon' not as a story about ballooning, but as a story about Africa. I always was greatly interested in geography and travel, and I wanted to give a romantic description of Africa. Now, there was no means of taking up the balloon, and I had to take it in a balloon, and that is why a balloon is introduced. At that time I had never seen a balloon, and I had only one only traveled in a balloon in my life.

That was at Antwerp, long after my novel was published. It was only three months of an hour in a balloon, for we had a mishap in starting. Godard, the aeronaut, was the first to ascend in the balloon, and we had to take the lead with us, and the balloon was so weighted as far as London, the junction you passed on your way here. I may say that at the time I wrote that novel, as now, I had no faith in the possibility of ever steering balloons, except in absolutely stagnant atmosphere, as in this room for instance.
