

VOL. LII.

ROUND-UP IS DOING GOOD.

Noticeable Clearance of Street Corner Loafers in Hamilton As the Result of the Campaign Being Carried On.

Only Two Unimportant Cases In the Police Court.

It is evident that the crusade carried on by the police against undesirable loafers has had a marked effect in reducing crime. The persistency with which the two plain clothes officers have carried on and are now carrying on the campaign they are confident, in view of the bright industrial outlook, there will be no excuse for persistent loafing on the streets or loitering around haunts of shady reputation.

Only two cases were in Police Court this morning. John Crossover occupied the railed off enclosure alone. The old charge was registered against him—over-indulgence. Two days ago John was up on the same charge. He has been up times innumerable for a like offence. On Tuesday he was fined $2 or five days. He went to jail then. Yesterday a friend presented himself at the Ogilvie institution, and by paying the fine liberated John. The two friends drank at a near-by emporium, with the result that Crossover went under. He has been digging stone at the Vinemount quarries previous to his visit to the city last Tuesday. He pleaded like a child for only one more chance, and if he appeared again, he said the Magistrate could give him six months. He got a chance all right, but not the one he wanted, for he had to pay $20 or 21 days. He took the 21.

Norman Mills, of tender years, sued D. McCormick, proprietor of the Ceil Hotel, for $8 which he claimed was due to him for wages. He got $3.25. Mr. McCormick said that Mills was engaged as bell boy at $8 a month and board, on the understanding that if he suited he would be kept on, and if not, he would not. He didn't suit.

Before he had worked very long he drew $4.75, and before the month was up he was discharged, and offered a cheque for $3.25, the balance of a month's wages, which he refused. Mills contended that in lieu of notice he should receive a full month's pay. His Worship intimated that such an expectation was bordering on the realms of audacity.

MARRIED SIX.

Rev. Livingston Had Three Ceremonies In Two Hours.

Within two hours yesterday afternoon Rev. H. G. Livingston, pastor of Barton Street Methodist Church, solemnized three marriages. The first was that of Mr. Walter Weaver and Miss Clara Field, both of Lynden. They were quietly married at the parsonage.

The second wedding was that of Mr. John G. Grynier, of Caledonia, and Miss Pearl Fortune, of Chedoke. The groom was supported by Mr. Leonard Fortune, while the bride was assisted by the groom's sister, Miss Emily Grynier. This wedding also took place at the parsonage.

On the third occasion the ceremony was performed at 351 Barton street east. Here the pastor united the lives of Mr. E. Bruce Mealey and Miss Clara Hall, both of this city. Mr. Mealey is a popular young druggist on York street. He was for some time a well-known public school teacher of Haldimand county. The many friends of the happy couples in their respective localities will extend their heartiest greetings.

FOR ALIMONY.

Marie MacDonald Brings Suit Against Her Husband.

Marie MacDonald, through her solicitors, Nesbitt, Gauld & Gausby is suing Norman MacDonald for alimony. Plaintiff claims that the defendant, who is her husband, ill treated her while they were living together to such an extent that she was compelled to leave him. She says she tried every possible way to please him and had even changed her religion as a means of doing so, but as he continued his ill-treatment she saw that the only possible thing for her to do was to seek alimony, and she is asking for $6 a week.

ESTATE CASE.

Action Brought to Determine a Knotty Point.

A knotty legal point will likely come up in the near future over a will issued by Slight, Slight & Agar, Simcoe, acting for D. P. Caley, against H. Ellis. The question will determine the power of executors to renew notes and whether they are personally liable. Mr. H. D. Petrie is acting for the defendant. The action was brought against the defendant personally on a note given by him as executor of a person who owed money to plaintiff's father, who is also deceased. The defendant claims to have given the note in part renewal of a note given by the testator for the accommodation of the heirs of the Caley estate, to enable them to make a distribution. Both the parties concerned live in the neighborhood of this city.

MAURA RESIGNS.

Execution of Ferrer Causes Resignation of Premier Maura and His Cabinet.

QUEEN VICTORIA OF SPAIN.

Madrid, Oct. 21.—The Spanish Cabinet, headed by Premier Maura, resigned this morning.

The Cabinet which resigned to-day was formed on Jan. 25, 1907.

The Cabinet was Conservative, and succeeded in power the fall of the preceding eighteen months. The religious issue had been the root of these discussions, and the return to power of Senor Maura, leader of the Conservatives, and who had before held the Premiership, was regarded as a sweeping victory for the clericals, and likely to arouse a revolutionary spirit. This proved to be the case, the opposition finally uniting in opposition to the Government's conduct and furtherance of the war in Morocco.

WHO IS THIS DR. DEACON?

Boarded in Hamilton, But Left a Month Ago.

Did Not Pay His Board Here, Landlady Says

And Warrant Is Out For Arrest In Pennsylvania.

A South Williamsburg, Pa., despatch says: Later developments regarding the man who was known in Williamsport as Dr. Deacon, and who was arrested on Wednesday on a charge of false pretences, preferred by Proprietor Murb, of the Heidelberg Hotel, indicate that the gay doctor is either an unfortunate individual financially or a very slick swindler. A second warrant has been issued for his arrest, and this time he is charged with securing money under false pretences from a young woman whose faith in him was not shaken until after he had been discharged from custody, following his arrest on the warrant issued at Mr. Murb's information. It is said that the young woman in question advanced Dr. Deacon about $80 on the strength of his statements that he had money to burn, but couldn't get hold of it for a few days. The doctor has left the city, and his return is doubtful.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES

A Canadian Giant.

Mr. A. F. Young, Caledonia, traveller for the International Harvester Co., of this city, won the silk hat donated to the Caledonia fair by Trudell & Tobey for the tallest man on the grounds. He is 6 feet 7 inches in height and is a son of Mr. Alex. Young, of York. Both are subscribers to the Times.

GLASS BOAT.

C. D. Blachford Will Have One Built For the Bay.

Mr. C. D. Blachford arrived home last night, after a tour in the United States. He attended the 28th annual convention of the National Funeral Directors' Association at Portland, Ore., on Sept. 29, 30 and October 1, and 2. He also visited Seattle, California and while at the Cataline Islands, inspected the glass boat and will have one constructed on a smaller scale. The boat will be used on Burlington Bay for the purpose of locating bodies of drowned persons. Mr. Blachford thinks the boat will prove successful and will simplify the matter of discovering the bodies.

Some English briar pipes with fine vulcanite mouthpieces and sterling silver ferrules are offered at peace's pipe store. Take your choice of these pipes for 50 cents at the headquarters, 107 King street east.

Lost an Arm

(Special Wire to the Times.) St. Catharines, Oct. 21.—A very serious accident occurred at the Jencke's Machine Works yesterday afternoon. As the result of which John Robinson, a young Scotchman about 21 years of age, lies in the General and Marine Hospital suffering from a severe shock due to the loss of his right arm. As he was at work, a belt became fouled and Robinson mounted a ladder to the shaft to adjust the matter. His arm was necessarily across a large metal track for a heavy crane, and while he was in this position, the same was set in motion and the heavy carriers passed over his arm fearfully and almost completely severing it, while the unfortunate man clung to the ladder with the other arm. He was rushed to the hospital, where amputation was found imperative.

WILL FORCE TAX RATE UP.

That Seems to be Position of School Board Again.

Secretary Foster Holds Up Ottawa For Comparison.

In Effort to Show Hamilton Board Not Extravagant.

If the Council cannot spare the Board of Education another three-tenths of a mill without raising the tax rate, as Mayor McLaren contends, then up goes the rate again. Secretary Foster has prepared for His Worship the draft statement promised by the deputation of Trustees, which waited on the Mayor early in the week to get the city's authority to issue $60,000 debentures for the new addition to the Victoria avenue school, showing just what the Board can do with its appropriation next year. Mr. Foster estimates the Board's share from the increased revenue from the assessment at $6,000. He says the Board can get along with four and six-tenths mills for Public Schools and one-tenth of a mill for the Collegiate, but he estimates that it will require six-tenths of a mill for the Technical School, instead of three-tenths of a mill, as provided this year. The three-tenths of a mill provided for only four months, and even then was $1,800 short of the amount required. The six-tenths of a mill will have to extend over ten months next year.

If the Government makes a substantial grant for night classes, something the Board has no assurance of, and if the increased revenue from next year's assessment exceeds the estimate, it may be a solution of the problem.

In view of the charges of extravagance hurled at the Board, Secretary Foster wrote to Ottawa for information, and he thinks the result is a very good comparison in Hamilton's favor. In five years Ottawa has built two new schools, and practically made new schools out of five old buildings by remodeling them. The total cost was $400,000. There is no Technical School in Ottawa, and the Collegiate figures are not given. The Public School debture indebtedness on Jan. 1, 1905, was $717,800, as compared with a debture indebtedness for Public Schools here on Jan. 1, 1910, including the $60,000 for the Barton street school addition, $236,911. These both include kindergartens. The point which gives the Hamilton officials most satisfaction is that Hamilton has a Public School population of about 8,000, while Ottawa is nearly one thousand less.

In 1900 the debture indebtedness of the Hamilton Board was $140,078. The increase in ten years has been $96,833. The argument of the critics of the Board against this is that Ottawa's population has made a great increase in the last five years, and the Ottawa Board has been forced to issue nearly all these debentures in the last five years. Ottawa's population has increased 25,000, while Hamilton's has been growing about 10,000.

Toronto For the Holiday.

Fifty cents return to Toronto is being advertised on the steamer Macassa, good going Saturday and Monday next, good returning until Tuesday, October 25th. Steamer leaves Hamilton daily at 9 a. m., return leave Toronto 4.30 p. m. The Macassa is steam heated and perfectly comfortable throughout. The lake is very pleasant at this season.

CONTAINED TWO BAD FEATURES.

Hydro-Electric Contract Not What the Aldermen Had Hoped City Would Get.

The aldermen say that the draft agreement presented to the Power Committee yesterday afternoon by Solicitor Lobb contained two distinct surprises, one that Hamilton would not share in any reduction owing to increased orders by other municipalities, and, secondly, the elimination of the words in the agreement which provided that the commission should adjust the prices in proportion to the distances at which the different municipalities are situated from Niagara Falls. This would have been a distinct advantage for Hamilton, as it is the nearest municipality to the source of supply. The aldermen who conferred with the commission understood that the commission was agreed to this, but when the contract was presented yesterday the words had been struck out. This is a distinct disadvantage to Hamilton, which should justly be entitled to such benefits on account of its favorable situation.

BY JUDGE.

Pava Jackovitch Will be Up For Trial on 29th.

Pava Jackovitch, who was committed for trial at Dundas yesterday on a charge of assaulting with intent to do grievous bodily harm to Steve Nusaleum, was before Judge Monck this morning for election. He elected to be tried by a Judge without a jury. The date of the trial was fixed for Friday, October 29, at 11 o'clock. The case is the outcome of an assault upon Nusaleum in the foreigners' Hydro-Electric camp on the Waterdown road a week ago. Nusaleum, it is said, is permanently injured.

TAKEN HOME.

Toronto Boy's Father Came For Lad and Automobile.

Mr. Wilson, sen., 208 Bloor street, Toronto, came to the city last night and took back his erring son, Stewart, in the motor car that was taken by the boy. From noon time to seven o'clock in the evening young Wilson was detained in an upper room at No. 3 Police Station, and the limit of his view from the windows was the barred windows and unwhitening walls of the annex. It was a sad looking papa who presented himself at the station last night to call for his boy and the car. He voiced his sorrow that his son should have done such a thing. It was a sadder and wiser youth who was taken from his temporary confinement.

BOY MURDERER

At 7 Years of Age He Shoots and Kills Young Woman.

MARGARET LANG AND BOY WHO KILLED HER.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 21.—After Margaret Lang, 17, had called the attention of 7-year-old John Augustian's mother to the fact that he was mischievous, the little fellow, with a shotgun, almost blew off the young woman's head.

Johnny then ran off to school. His mother had stepped out of the room just before the tragedy occurred.

Johnny says it was all an accident, and that he didn't mean to shoot Miss Lang, who was a visitor to the Augustian home, on North avenue, Millvale, a suburb of Pittsburg. His mother believes him, as do members of the dead girl's family. Mrs. Augustian heard the report and rushed back to find Miss Lang, who had been paying a neighborly call, dead.

WAS A HAPPY NUPTIAL DAY.

Cloudless Skies and a Brilliant Party at Inverurie.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier's Presence Occasioned Much Joy.

Large Party at Senator Gibson's After the Wedding.

Beamsville, Oct. 21.—(Special to the Times.)—For such a lovely bride as left her home in Beamsville yesterday afternoon, her wedding day will long linger in the hearts of those who wished her God's speed. Under a cloudless sky, a steady stream of autos, taxicabs, and vehicles wended their way the greater portion of the late afternoon from Inverurie to the Presbyterian Church and back again. The Premier and Lady Laurier came up from Ottawa about noon, and their coming lent an additional air of interest to the event.

Special cars on the H., G. & B. carried large numbers of guests from Hamilton and the west, and while these poured forth their quota of grand dames in satins, silks and ermine, the carriages from Inverurie brought their share, and went quickly back for those who remained behind.

The big bell in the church tower added its merry clangor to the bustle at the doors as the bridal party came down the steps, and never for any bride did its iron tongue ring so joyously. The house party consisted of Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, Senator Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Eastwood, Mr. David Stuart, R. B. and Mrs. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings, Mrs. Mackie, Mr. and Mrs. Finnie, Miss Gladys Finnie, Miss Pansy Mills, Miss Minnigan, Miss Jean Jennings, and Miss "Babs" Darling.

A group photo of the bridal party was taken by Cunningham on the west landing at Inverurie, just after the arrival from the church. The guests were received by Senator and Mrs. Gibson. The lady of Inverurie wore a dress of taupe satin, with silver fringe, an amethyst picture velvet hat, with a plume of the same shade, and carried a beautiful bouquet of golden mums. From the host and hostess and the bridal party, the guests wandered over to the Premier and Lady Laurier, and then out to the library, where the wonderful array of gifts elicited murmurs of admiration.

Among these splendid presents was a massive solid silver tray with coffee urn and service from some of the Scottish Rites of Cleveland.

It was about half past five when Mr. and Mrs. Finnie entered a taxicab, amid the good old wishes and showers of confetti, for this loveliest of lovely brides, and were speeded by St. Catharines, where the evening train took them westward to their home.

Mrs. Gibson proved herself at all times the ideal hostess, and, with Senator Gibson, did everything possible to give everybody a jolly time.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the same affable Premier as of yore, with the sunny smile and handshake for all. Lady Laurier has hardly recovered from a long indisposition, but was bright and cheerful, speaking a few words to this friend and that by turn.

Loma's full orchestra played in the drawing-room from 3.30 to 5.30 o'clock. The health of the bride was proposed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with three times three.

Messages of regret and congratulation were read from Lord and Lady Strathcona, from Glenora, Scotland, from Senator Gibson's friends in Peterhead, Scotland, Senator and Mrs. Frost, Smith's Falls, Hon. Clifford and Mrs. Sifton, Ottawa, and from a host of Mr. Finnie's friends in Winnipeg and Ottawa.

The health of Senator and Mrs. Gibson was proposed by Hon. J. K. Kerr, Speaker of the Senate.

Among the guests who signed the bridal book were: Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier; Senator J. K. Kerr, Toronto; Senator Edwards, Ottawa; Senator and Mrs. Campbell, Toronto; J. M. and Mrs. Eastwood, A. and Mrs. Zimmerman, Mr. R. B. Ferrie, Miss Gladys Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull, Mr. R. B. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Vallance, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. Court Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Birge, Adam Brown, C. Percival Garratt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Moore, Miss Fuller Osborne, Miss Emma Mary Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Levy, Dr. and Mrs. Russell, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Phillips, Col. Moodie, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Glasco, Miss Annie Gibson, Miss Gause, Mr. and Mrs. H. Sinclair, Miss Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Karr, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Gibson, Messrs. William and Garnet Gibson, J. A. Sinclair, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Comfort, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Stewart, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrason, H. V. Grant, Beamsville; Mrs. R. L. Gibson, Miss Hoover Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Pottinger, Mr. and Mrs. David Allan, Grimsby; Mrs. A. N. Myers, Niagara Falls; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Davidson, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. A. Gibson, Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Darling, Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings, Mrs. J. V. Teetzel, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sinclair, Toronto; Mr. Walter Stirling, Mrs. and Miss McKendry, Miss Muriel Stirling, George Nielson, Geo. Wilson, D. C. Stewart, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Miller.

A little coterie of Beamsville Liberals accompanied the Premier to his car in the evening, and the Beamsville Band gave the party a serenade from the platform until the train from the east came along and coupled the car on.

A PARTNERSHIP SUIT.

Allan Charlton's Secret

"That is her voice," cried Mr. Carey, "she is home two hours earlier than I expected her. You must stay with me while I tell her, Miss Wood, for I promised Mr. Charlton I would let her know to-night."

He looked so imploringly at me, his voice trembled so, his hands shook, and he seemed so helpless, that I stayed; yet I would rather have faced any danger for myself than have sat by while my darling was tortured as I saw her tortured that night.

Blanche laughed gaily when she saw us together.

"You look," she cried, with a bright smile, "as though you were two conspirators just found out."

She little knew, poor child, how near she was to the truth. Her father's eyes followed her everywhere; and when she had drunk the tea Susan brought in for her, and told us all about her shopping adventures at Richmond, he called her to him. He held her two hands in his, and looked at her fondly.

"And so my darling, who used to wear velvets and silk, is proud of a pink print dress," he said.

"Yes, papa," she replied; "prouder than I was of Genoa velvet at ever so many guineas the yard. I call myself a perfect model of adaptation to circumstances."

"But you would like to have the velvet again, wouldn't you," he continued—"to be back once more at the old Hall watching that grand cedar tree you liked so well? Would you not like some fairy to give you back your old home?"

"That I should," she replied, warmly; "but I am very happy here, papa, with you."

Then he drew her nearer to him, and broke into a wild passion of tears.

"Oh, Blanche," he sobbed, "if you like, if you are willing, we can go back to Croome again. Tell her about it, Miss Wood, my heart quakes, my lips tremble; tell her how we can return to the Hall once more."

"What do you mean, papa?" cried Blanche; "what can I do? You know, darling," she continued, caressing the gray head that lay upon her shoulder, "that I would give my life to make you happy again, if it were of any avail."

"Not that," he murmured—"not that. You would be happy yourself, and I should live years longer if I could only breathe Croome air once again. I am dying by inches here—dying of sorrow and privation—and if you will, Blanche, I will be master of Croome once more."

"I may do anything you wish me, dear papa," she answered; "only tell me what it is."

He turned to me, but I remained silent; my hand should not plunge the dagger in that generous, tender young heart. He did not look into the bright, loving young face bent so tenderly over his own. He clasped those little hands convulsively, as though they would save him.

"You remember, Blanche," he continued, after a few minutes' silence, "that I told you before we left home how I had been obliged to mortgage my estate in order to raise money to pay my debts. It was so large a sum that it took the whole rental of my estate to pay the interest on it."

"I understand all that, dearest," said Blanche, wonderingly.

"You see the man who advanced that money holds Croome in his hands," continued the old man, eagerly; "if he called it in to-morrow, the estate would have to be sold to pay it. We are all in his power, Blanche."

"Indeed we are; he is a terrible ogre," she said, lightly, and still with the same smile.

"I never told you before," said her father; "but it was our good neighbor, our kind friend, Allan Charlton, who advanced that money. He is very rich, and holds Croome in his hands."

He looked at her then with fevered, wistful eyes, but she suspected nothing.

"How strange!" she cried—"that quiet Mr. Charlton! I think I must be more respectful to him the next time he comes, papa; I am often very rude, and do not listen to one half he says."

She laughed gaily as she spoke, and the gray head drooped again.

"Yes, it is Mr. Charlton," he continued, "and oh, Blanche—let me say it quickly, darling—he loves you, he wants you to be his wife. If you will marry him, he will give you Croome—settle it upon you—and I shall live there again."

"She did not cry out or faint; slowly, the beautiful color died from her face, the rich crimson from her lips, the light from her eyes; a pale startled look of unutterable pain, of hopeless despair, fell upon her, and I turned away, sick at heart. I had seen the wound made in her gentle heart, and I could heal no more."

"I cannot marry him, papa," she said, very quietly; "I love Hugh Mestyn, and have promised to be his wife."

"I know you would not do it," he cried. "For the sake of that childish nonsense, you will let me die here in poverty and want. Hugh is very poor—and, oh, Blanche, Blanche, my darling, let me go back to Croome!"

"Thank Heaven I was never tried as was Blanche Carey then. The tremulous old man prayed like a child that she would let him die in his old home, tears streaming down his withered face.

"Like a coward, I fled. I went out into the little kitchen, and left them together. Even then I could hear the father's weak voice pleading with words and sobs that he might go back to Croome. I had been there nearly an hour when Blanche came to me. I folded her in my arms and wept over her, but she shed no tears.

"What have you said?" I asked her, anxiously.

"Not much," she replied. "I am only half sold, mamen; for I have asked for time to make up my mind."

"And Hugh?" I said—"what shall you do with him?"

"Yes, Hugh!" she cried, wringing her hands. "Was ever any one tried like me. My father will die if I disappoint him. Did your father ever kneel and pray to you? How can I refuse him? How can I forsake Hugh—give him up when I know he loves me, and I love him better than all the world beside. My heart is torn in two. I cannot see my duty—I cannot tell what I ought to do."

"You have Hugh to consider as well as yourself," I said; "you might be willing to sacrifice your own happiness, but have you any right to sacrifice his? Having given him your promise, have you any right to withdraw it?"

"None," she cried, "and yet I hate myself for being so selfish, when I think it is in my power to make my father so happy, and I must refuse. He is old and helpless; he is always longing for things I cannot get for him. When I think of his pleasure in going back to Croome, I feel that I must give in. It will be my fate. They are too strong for me."

I felt it would be so. I tried to whisper a few words of comfort to her, but it was in vain.

"Only this morning I was so happy," she said, "and now, whichever way I decide, which he will choose, if I refuse, and my father dies of his disappointment, as I believe he would; even Hugh Mestyn's love could never make me happy again. If I consent—but I cannot—I cannot give up Hugh. Fortune, happiness, life—they may take all from me, but I cannot give up Hugh!"

I should never forget that evening—never, while my mind retains its power of recollection. How I tried, and tried in vain, to comfort the young girl on whom a dark sorrow had fallen so heavily! She could not endure to pain either her father or her lover, she could not give up either of them; never saw any one so sad or so bewildered.

I told Mr. Carey that he must not press his daughter for an answer yet—that she must have time.

When Allan Charlton went next day to the cottage, he did not meet with a refusal, which he had feared; Mr. Carey told him his daughter had been much startled and surprised, and had asked for time to decide so important a matter.

Allan Charlton was only too happy to have succeeded so far, and he assured Mr. Carey that time was no object; he would never wait for her, he was willing to wait for her, he was willing to do anything now that the hope of some time winning her was his.

Did no suspicion of the truth cross the mind of Allan Charlton when the old man said eagerly, "I think it would be much better if, for the present, at least, you did not speak to my daughter of love; she is very young, and the news startled her."

CHAPTER III.

That night I could not sleep—I could not rest. Blanche Carey and her troubles haunted me. I heard the clock strike one hour after the other; a burning pain seemed to hold my head as in a vice. I went to the stand to look for some cold water, that I might bathe my temples, but to my annoyance there was none. I had never known the servants to be so neglectful before. I had often thought since what a fortunate thing their negligence was, both for myself and those dear to me. Labor the pain as long as I could; then there seemed no other resource, save to grope my way down into the kitchen where there was water in plenty. A lamp, a very bad one, was alight in my room, but I had neither tapers nor candles, so that I could not take a light with me.

I never was a coward, and I had no fear of groping along the many dark passages that lay between my room and the kitchen. I determined to move very quietly, what I dreaded above all things, a fall, and a scene. I found my way safely enough, filled my large jug with clear, cold water, and was standing in my room, when I heard a slight noise, as of some one coming along the grand passage, as it was called—the one that led to the front portion of the house. I stood quite still, not afraid, but wondering who it could be, when, to my intense surprise, I saw Mr. Prudence, the servant who slept in the haunted wing, as the other servants would persist in naming that closed and dreary part of the house. She was moving stealthily along, and I followed her just as noiselessly.

She went into the kitchen and the lady laid a large basket she held over her arm. At the slightest sound she started and seemed uneasy. No one had seen her as I did then, could have thought her either deaf or short-sighted; on the contrary, she looked like a person whose every sense was on the alert. When she left the kitchen, I followed her through the long passages, through the whole of the front of the building, and saw her open the door that led into the western wing.

From that moment a conviction that Woodleigh Grange was the scene of some mystery fastened itself upon my mind. I did not wonder so much at the woman stealing about the house when every one was asleep, but I did wonder why she should have feigned to be deaf and blind. I saw clearly enough now that it all had been a pretence—she was as much in possession of her senses as I was myself. What object could she have? Was it to serve her own interest or that of another person?

Instead of getting rid of my headache, I had simply given myself another cause for tormenting thought. One thing I resolved upon, namely, to tell Allan Charlton what I had seen.

When he came into the school-room the next morning, with the usual inquiries about Helena, I sent her away on some pretext, and told him what I had seen during the night. I am sure his first feeling was one of great fear. I saw his lips quiver slightly, while his face grew pale; then he smiled, and carelessly thanked me for my interest.

"Prudence was, as I dare say you know," he said, lightly, "my nurse; and she considers she has a strong claim upon my kindness. I allow her a room in the western wing—there is none for her here—and she has the free run of the house. She is a great invalid, and probably turns night into day. I know she is in the habit of going to the kitchen for food at all hours. I can hardly interfere with her privileges, although I am sorry she disturbed or alarmed you. You will oblige me very much, Miss Wood, by not mentioning this to any one."

I said I would respect his wishes. He talked with me on indifferent subjects for a few minutes, carelessly enough, but I detected an under current of anxiety that he tried vainly to conceal.

I never spoke of this little occurrence again, but it dwelt upon my mind and quickened my curiosity as to the mystery of the haunted wing.

I met the old woman a few days afterwards, and exchanged a smiling nod for food at all hours. I was obliged to shout in her ear, and even then she appeared to have great difficulty in understanding me.

"Are you not frightened at the ghosts in the western wing?" I asked.

"She evidently could not, or would not, hear that question at all, but walked away, muttering something about being so very deaf. Yet I felt sure she had heard, and did not know how to answer me."

At the cottage there was a lull after

The recent tempest. Blanche had asked for a month in which to consider the vexed proposal. Mr. Carey had promised her that during that time he would refrain from speaking of the subject that filled his whole soul. He did not in words, but the wistful look of those pitiful eyes as he watched his daughter's face through the living day was far more pathetic than any words. That silent eloquence went to Blanche's heart as no entreaties, no prayers could have done. Every time she entered he would look up at her, a light coming into his face, as though he hoped she was then and there about to tell him that she would make him happy at last. Allan Charlton called every day, but he remembered the old man's admonition, and, despite his impatience, he never spoke of love. One week of the month had already passed, and neither help nor aid seemed to be coming to save my poor child from her steady advancing fate.

One morning Mr. Charlton asked me if I would look over an old box of papers for him. A dispute had arisen about the right of thoroughfare through one of his fields on the Woodleigh estate, and he wanted an old deed that would set the matter straight. The box was a large one, containing nothing, he said, but deeds and parchments, few of them of any great value.

JOPLING TRIAL

BOLLARD MIGHT HAVE DIED OF CHOLERA MORBUS.

Defence Puts in Evidence—Peterborough Manslaughter Trial Expected to End To-day—What Physicians Say.

Peterboro, Ont., Oct. 20.—The trial of the Jopling brothers, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Arthur Bollard, of Toronto, will be concluded to-morrow. All the evidence is now in, and Crown Prosecutor Denison and D. O'Connell, counsel for the Joplins, will address the jury in the morning.

The defence rests largely on the testimony of four doctors, whose evidence was heard this afternoon. They were Drs. Morgan, Young, Carmichael and Boucher, all of Peterboro, and the pith of their testimony was to the effect that Bollard's death was not due in all probability to injuries received in the fight with the Jopling boys. They were also of the opinion that the post-mortem had not been thorough enough. They contended that if Bollard had been injured as was supposed in the first of the encounters with Fred Jopling, he would not have been able to get up right away and engage in a friendly wrestle which afterwards took place.

Dr. Carmichael stated that the fact of Bollard dancing and becoming over-heated by dancing on the night after the row and sitting on the grass to cool off would give the impression that he might have contracted cholera nostris or cholera morbus. It was quite possible that Bollard might have had cholera morbus, and that it might have caused his death. The four doctors called by the defence gave testimony contradictory on the whole to that of Drs. Scott and Greer, who performed the post-mortem on Bollard's body.

Robert Merrill, a Peterboro youth, was the first witness called this morning. He was with Harry Jopling on the morning of the day the fight between Arthur Bollard and the Joplins took place. He heard Harry Jopling make a remark about Bollard's trousers, but did not hear him call him a vile name.

Blake Cullen, of Bridgenorth, was a spectator of the fight. He testified that Bollard and Fred Jopling had shaken hands after the row and fight. He heard Bollard say that he "did not get a fair shake."

Evidence of an unimportant nature was given by Wm. Hartshorne and Mrs. W. S. Merrill.

Helena Hay, trained nurse, was called to attend Bollard. He was partially delirious when she was called in. She agreed with the testimony of Dr. Scott. She had danced with Bollard the night after the row, in the park, and he did not seem fatigued after it.

Harry McLaughlin, physical director of the Peterboro Y. M. C. A., testified that in wrestling the croch hold was not dangerous under ordinary conditions.

Harry Jopling, the younger of the two brothers, said Fred and he had gone down to see who was looking for him. While walking behind Bollard and his party he told Fred he thought that he knew the fellow. Bollard turned and attacked him. He got a strange hold on witness and threw him, and began to punch him with the free hand. Fred Jopling intervened, pulling Bollard off and they engaged in a struggle. Witness had heard Bollard cry out, but did not hear him utter any words.

FARMS FOR SPINSTERS.

London, Oct. 20.—Miss Binnie Clark, who is agitating for the extension of Canadian free land grants to spinsters, and has herself worked a 330-acre farm for three years, told the National Union of Women Workers at Portsmouth that at the end of the fourth season she had made cent per cent. profit. She spoke of other Englishwomen who have made successful investments in Canadian land, and subsequently advocated domestic service in Canadian households as good employment for Englishwomen. She described, amid laughter, a Canadian dinner party where the English "help" sat in an evening gown, waited at table, assisted by an English youth, the son of a clergyman, also in orthodox evening dress.

How a Moose Eats. Of all peculiar sights I think that that of a moose eating grass is the most extraordinary. The neck is so short and the legs are so long that the animal usually kneels in eating grass. True, they do not attempt it very often, for grass is by no means a staple with them; but even a moose likes a change of diet. The appearance of these huge and awkward creatures in this devotional attitude is not only interesting, but laughable.—From "Nature and Science" in November St. Nicholas.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 20.—The sealing schooner Pescaha, second of this year's northern fleet to return is back from the other grounds off Alaska, Behring Sea and Copper Island sealing grounds with 878 sealskins for the season and two sea otter.

The Bear scuttled the arms of the Pescaha, Jessie and Thomas F. Bayard under threat of seizure if the seals were broken. The Pescaha was 133 miles from Chelikoff when overhauled, searched thoroughly for sealskins, without result, and her arms sealed up.

The Eva Marie is following with 403 skins and two otters; Thomas F. Bayard, 571 seals and eight sea otters, and Vera R., 680 skins. This comprises all the fleet other than the Jessie, previously returned.

CUT LICENSES A THIRD.

Brookville Council Will Submit By-law to Ratepayers.

Brookville, Ont., Oct. 20.—License reduction will be the paramount question at the next municipal election in Brookville. The town Council has acceded to the wish of the Municipal Association, supported by a largely signed petition, to submit a by-law to the ratepayers, providing for the abolition of three hotel licenses, making six instead of nine.

If the by-law is carried the town stands to lose $850 in fees, and to meet this deficiency it is proposed to impose a higher license on the remaining six, sufficient to make up that amount. The matter rests in the hands of a committee to report at the next meeting. It is more than likely that reduction and higher license will be embodied in one by-law.

ELEVEN THOUSAND SOLDERS

Guard the Road Over Which the Car is to Travel.

Turin, Oct. 20.—It is officially announced that the Russian Emperor will arrive at the Italian frontier on the morning of October 23. He will be received by the Russian Ambassador and the other members of the Embassy and an Italian military mission. From the frontier to Racconigi, a distance of 75 miles, 11,000 soldiers are guarding the railroad. The Emperor will be received at the station by the King, his Cabinet and the members of his court, while the Queen will await the Emperor at the castle.

Refused License.

Port Arthur, Oct. 20.—Word has been received from Hon. L. P. Brodeur that the Government will not give a license to build a station at Port Arthur, for which arrangements have been made between the council and the company. The Government's intention is to retain control of all wireless communication, and Mr. Brodeur states that three stations, built about the great lake in the next couple of years.

A RADIUM INSTITUTE DR. SAMSON'S TRIAL.

One is to be Established in New York.

New York, Oct. 20.—In control of a product with which he can do more good than the millions of Rockefeller, Harry March, the "Radium King" of England, is here to establish a Radium Institute like those in Paris and London, where miraculous cures of cancer and other diseases are accomplished.

Mr. March has a corner on the radium supply of the world. He has discovered mines of uranium, the "mother" of radium, in the Province of Guarda, Portugal, that are of incalculable wealth. They are the only uranium mines of the world.

In France there is what is called the "Banque De Radium," which has a paid capitalization of 25,000,000 francs, or $5,000,000. The Harding Brothers & Company, of which Mr. March is a member, supplies to this bank the radium, and the bank loans it to all the physicians in France.

Within the last year, a Radium Institute and Radium Bank of France have been doing for more than five years.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 20.—The hearing of William L. Russell, whom the Ontario Government is attempting to extradite on charges of fraud, is near completion in Commissioner F. P. Walthers' Court. The Dominion, through its counsel, ex-Judge Francis Wing, to-day completed its side of the case. The defence will begin before noon to-morrow, but will likely not consume much time after to-morrow night.

The Canadian authorities have sought to prove that Russell and the company with which he was enlisted, Law & Company, induced thousands of Canadians to invest in the Blue Bell, Silver Bird, Golden King, Highland and Larder Lake properties by false representations as to the value of the metal to be obtained therefrom. They declare that Russell grossly magnified the reports and sent them broadcast by mail and newspaper and personal statements. Russell in defence will assert that he believed all that was said in the various representations; that he made no profit from the transactions, replacing all his money made into the business; that his good faith is attested by his investing his own funds in the mines, and that if he is allowed by any means to continue his operations he will reimburse his stockholders to the extent that is possible.

Ontario politics, according to the defendant's counsel, is responsible for Russell's mishaps. He failed to cooperate with the Ontario Government, and the minority party thereupon had an argument, which they enlarged upon, and by which they could show lax execution of the Ontario mining laws, indirectly bringing about the fall of Russell. Russell's father, and the firm of his father, Russell & Co., Ltd., of London, Ontario, is a convicted business companion, are in court each day.

Refused License. Port Arthur, Oct. 20.—Word has been received from Hon. L. P. Brodeur that the Government will not give a license to build a station at Port Arthur, for which arrangements have been made between the council and the company. The Government's intention is to retain control of all wireless communication, and Mr. Brodeur states that three stations, built about the great lake in the next couple of years.

NO FRILLS.

DEPARTMENT STORE'S ORDER IS ONLY PART OF PLAN FOR GIRLS.

Advice on All Topics—Woman Hears Employees' Troubles and Suggests Best Course for Them.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—It's a moral uplift, the movement which is starting in one of the big department stores, and the embargo placed on puffings, rattings and crimpings is but the first and outer manifestation. In a little office on the ninth floor of the front of Marshall, Field & Co., along with all of the officials of the company, and just around a little turn in the hall from John G. Shedd's headquarters, sits the woman, Mrs. G. Hoinville, who for six weeks has been seeking to inspire the young women clerks to a brighter outlook on life.

Her profile is visible all day through a long slit in the woodwork that looks like a confessional, and not far from here shows the profile view of another woman. This latter face is a different one, of course, from hour to hour, but always much younger, and usually it wears the puffed look of one who has been disturbed but is won back to calm.

On the long line of stools to accommodate those who wish an audience with Mrs. Hoinville are seated more would-be advisers than the visitors of Mr. Shedd and all of the other officials combined.

One little girl showed traces of tears, from which the conspicuous trimness of her black, close fitting dress and her ratted—but not overrated—hair did not distract attention.

"She advises us about everything," said the little girl while she waited. "If we want to tell her about what happens at home she will listen and tell us just how we ought to act. If we want to tell her about our troubles with our sweethearts she advises us about that, too. Of course, if we don't have a squabble deal in the store, we can tell her and she will fix it up without ever letting the bosses know we've said anything at all."

There was a pale, unfilled, tired looking little girl of 16 who had an indebtedness to meet. There was a girl of 20 who supports a family of six, and had received three complaints that she had been wrong in her figures on the charge accounts. There was a girl whose boy friend did not write to her regularly. These were among the occupants of the stationary stools outside of Mrs. Hoinville's office.

It's a far cry, however, from the ninth floor to the basement, and meantime the girls in the wash room there were talking about the first external manifestation that such a thing was going on.

"The signs have been taken down," they said. "But they simply said Mrs. Hoinville had been appointed, and that we might go to see her if we wished. But she came through the store and looked at us, and I guess we were surprised when she took seven girls from the basement up to her room and made them take down their hair."

"She didn't even tell them to wear fewer rats next day, but she made them leave all of them out right then and there except one. And she asked the girls where they got their rings, and if they said a young man gave them she asked the girl if she was engaged. If the girl said 'no,' she made her take the ring off. She allows them to wear only one ring and one rat and one fancy pin."

"Yes, I guess it's all right, but what we couldn't see was why she came down here into the basement, when up on the fourth floor there are the swell girls. You've seen them—four and five rats—and diamonds. But whatever she says goes. Two of the girls got on their ear about her asking such personal questions, but they had to fall for it or lose their jobs."

Up on the ninth floor the officials all said that the experiment was meeting with most gratifying results. A canvas of the other department stores brought forth the statement that they had been keeping supervision over their girls for years.

In the words of the spokesman for Mandel Brothers, "we always have had a woman here and have quietly advise the girls to dress conservatively. Girls may wear colored skirts if they keep on dark aprons over them, but colors are discouraged in dresses and furnishings as well."

Some of the September records received from members of cow testing associations show "further" remarkable variations in different sections of Ontario and Quebec. It is the exception in the Ontario associations to find less than 600 lbs. milk or 20 lbs. butter fat as an average yield for the thirty days. In Quebec associations the average yields are almost all lower, though one or two are well up, even to 700 lbs. milk and 26 lbs. fat. One association in Quebec has a total production from 23 cows of 17,800 lbs. milk and 775 lbs. fat, while in another Quebec association just a little less than that is the total production of 60 cows; the 60 cows average less than 200 lbs. milk. Twenty-three cows in one case, sixty in the other, which kind of cow would one rather keep? What glowing possibilities are indicated here! Most likely the sixty cows could be made to give better yields if fed better. The selection of the best individuals, as revealed by the records, and their mating with good bulls of decided dairy descent, would give certain results, better cows in every way, without such glaring differences as in this case, where the yield of two fairly good cows is more than the total yield of five poor ones.

A League to Defraud United States Government.

New York, Oct. 20.—Eight years of systematic and exceedingly profitable cheating of the United States Government was described to-day by George E. Birg, a customs weigher, who was called as a witness at the trial of Antonio and Philip Musica, cheese importers.

After telling how he had underweighed a large importation of cheese for the Musicas and received $194 as his share of the profits, he said that he had had similar dealings with hundreds of other firms of importers. Not all, he said, were such big cases as the transaction with the Musicas, but he declared that there was a regular system of cheating, in which a number of customs employees were involved. Birg is one of three weighers who have confessed, and is testifying for the Government.

Henry P. McLaughlin, surveyor of his Majesty's customs at Montreal, and P. J. Gorman, vice-consul-general of the United States at the same port, arrived to-day to testify for the Government. Their presence strengthened the belief that the customs authorities are trying to trace weighing frauds to other ports besides New York.

Big Diamond Swindle. Berlin, Oct. 20.—A despatch from Windhoek, Cape Colony, says it is officially stated that part of the diamonds alleged to have been found at Conception Bay were actually smuggled into West Africa. A big swindling scheme is unearthed.

LOBB TO THE RESCUE.

"For ways that are dark, And for tricks that are vain, The heathen Chinese is peculiar."

If the poet had been acquainted with the manners and methods of the Hydro-Electric Commission and its minions, he would probably have hesitated before conferring peculiarity in this respect upon the "heathen Chinese."

AN INTERESTING CASE.

A case of considerable interest to life insurance companies and the general public was disposed of in Washington the other day, when the United States Supreme Court denied the petition for a writ of certiorari in the case of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York versus William E. Hazen and others, trustees of the estate of the late Lucian H. Perkins, of Kansas, involving a policy for $100,000 on the life of Mr. Perkins. The action arises out of the contention of the insurance company that Perkins' death was caused by suicide. It asked that the policy be cancelled on the grounds that it was obtained by fraud.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Canada's trade commissioner at St. John's, Newfoundland, reports that there is a demand for Canadian hay. The wholesale price was, at the time he wrote (July 30), $23 a ton.

EXCLUDE THE MEDDLERS.

The Legislative Committee, appointed to revise the assessment act, is to be convened on November 23, when it will arrange to hear representatives of the different interests advocating changes in the act. This committee should be warned by the experiences of the Legislature in former efforts to arrive at a just, workable assessment act.

A FUNNY DEFENCE.

Our neighbor the Spectator rushes to the defence of "the Whitney Government," which it thinks we "seek to discredit," because we remarked the other day that "one might be led by the unpronounceable names of the workers on the Hydro-Electric transmission line, who get notoriety in the Police Court, to believe that the Commission gives no preference to Canadian labor."

that two of its members constitute the majority of the Commission. Had it desired to do so, it might, we presume, have stipulated that Canadian labor at "fair wage" schedule prices be employed. We have not heard it stated that any such arrangement was made.

OUR EXCHANGES.

THE SAME HERE. (Ottawa Journal.) There is in Ottawa a by-law against expatriation in public places. It should be enforced as a measure of public decency and public health.

DEFINED. (New York Sun.) Knicker—What is the difference between lunch and a luncheon?

HIS PROSPECTS. (Louisville Courier-Journal.) "I fear I am not worthy of you."

NOT THAT KIND OF A MAN. (London Advertiser.) Keir Hardie warns the King that the crown may go into the melting pot with the peers' coronets if he interferes in party politics.

THE EXCEPTION. (Harper's Weekly.) Their teacher had been telling the pupils of the Great Salt Lake in Utah, "the water of which," she explained, "is so extremely salty that no fish can live in it."

AN EASY WAY OUT. (Success Magazine.) "Here you," said the conductor, angrily, "you rang up a fare. Do that again and I'll put you off."

GIBSON ON GOLF. (Toronto Star.) Hon. J. M. Gibson will regret these words. When he holds a reception, when he gives a dinner, when the intelligence and beauty of the city gathers on his lawn to attend a garden party, wherever he goes, as long as he lives, golfers will rise up in his path and with reproach in their eyes will ask him what he meant by speaking in this way of the noblest of human amusements.

DUKES. (Punch.) I want you to follow me very carefully here, because the position of the duke is often misunderstood by tactless persons.

In discussing the dispute over Beach taxes, the Spectator reports Commissioner Van Allen as saying that the Commission was willing to pay on assessment of $200,000, adding: "The payment of 3 1/2 mills on an assessment of $200,000 figured out at $1,600 even, and Mr. Van Allen instructed his stenographer to draw a cheque for that amount."

"Construction" makes the very serious charge that Toronto's public schools are fire-traps. It says that "no city of its size on the continent builds three-story schools of such a cheap inflammable type of construction, without some character of emergency exits being provided as a protection against the unexpected in case of fire or panic."

The further statement is made that no private citizen would be granted permission to erect such structures for similar purposes. But Toronto, of course, is safe in the knowledge that the buildings are a product of municipal ownership.

Another big electric railway scheme to connect Whittby, Oshawa and Bowmanville is projected. The promoters hope to get a Dominion charter and wish to enter Toronto. If they are wise, they will make their terms for entry before going on with their plans. Like the proverbial hog, Toronto wants all benefits of radial railways, but seeks to deny them any facilities or opportunities within the city.

The Pennsylvania physicians, 15,000 in number, have emphatically declared against the use of drug preservatives in foods, especially mentioning benzoic, boric and salicylic acids and their compounds, approved of by the Denver Packers' Convention. This is a notable victory for Dr. Wiley, chief of the United States Bureau of Chemistry. The Pennsylvania Medical Society not only passed this resolution unanimously, but it excluded from its meetings two agents of the "food embalmers" who, it was found, had approached thirty of the members with a view to induce them to vote against the resolution.

Why should Toronto protest against the Hydro municipalities ordering machinery abroad "because prices are a little lower"? Is not Toronto in the Hydro conspiracy against the home electric industry in the hope of getting lower prices—delusive as it may be? But what is to be said for the Hamilton Hydro conspirators who deliberately seek to tie the city up to a thirty-year Hydro contract, knowing well that every horsepower contracted for is certain loss to the ratepayers, because the price is higher than the "home industry" guaranteed to supply it? Are not such men disloyal to their city and enemies of its progress?

THE COUNTY CONSTABLES. (Grimby Independent.) Premier Whitney has started out to raise the standard of the County Constables by lowering their salaries from $2 per day to $1.50 per day.

It is a well known fact that during the past, county constables have been eating and drinking too much. Take a man who has the magnificent salary of $2 a day coming in, rain or shine, three days a week, twice a year, when he attends County Court, and that way that county constable will eat corned beef and cabbage in the hotels of the county town, is wonderful to behold.

Why, I have seen a county constable walk out from the dining room of a hotel where he had to pay forty cents for such dinner and walk right up to the bar and lay down five cents and boldly ask for a cigar—such extravagance should be frowned down and I am glad that Premier Whitney has courage enough to do it.

AN OLD CONFIDENCE GAME. (Cor. Philadelphia Record.)

A surprising fact is that the member of either House during the tariff debate showed up the hoary old legend that protection is chiefly for the benefit of labor, by offering an amendment to the tariff bill placing a duty on immigrants. In antebellum times a good male slave was worth about $1,000, and female slaves and slave children about half as much. A 50 per cent. duty is much less than is imposed to-day on many of the necessities of life, so that such rates would be quite reasonable.

CLOTHES IN BRITAIN AND STATES. (Zach McGhee, in Philadelphia Record.)

Now the general impression prevails in America that our tailoring is superior to the English, and that this has something to do with the difference in price. English people laugh at that idea. There is a difference in kind, that is, in style, but the Englishman says his is more artistic, while they say the only claim of the American is that his (the American's) is more expensive. This, as we all know, is in many of our countrymen's eyes, the only test of their only conception of excellence.

Seventeen Witnesses Called by the Crown Prosecutor.

Evidence as to Her Movements From Time She Received Child.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Before another night Mrs. Mabel Turner, whose trial on a charge of murder has already consumed two days in the Criminal Assizes, will know whether or not the twelve men who have her life in their hands have adjudged her guilty of strangling an adopted infant. Seventeen witnesses have been heard, and the chain of evidence which the Crown has brought out covers link by link Mrs. Turner's actions from the day she first negotiated with Mrs. Annie Authers for the adoption of her then unborn daughter, to the day of her arrest. A few witnesses remain to be heard, but their evidence will be more in support of matter already brought out than testimony of new phases of the case. So far the Crown has not brought out any fact of importance that was not presented to the coroner's jury and yesterday's witnesses repeated the stories told by them on that occasion. The afternoon session of the trial was marked by several spirited tiffs between opposing counsel, in which some rather warm words were exchanged. Mr. Blackstock at one point referring to a statement by Mr. Henderson as "absolutely untrue," adding "and he knows it."

MRS. TURNED FOLLOWS EVIDENCE. Weary though Mrs. Turner was with the long hours of sitting in the cramped prisoner's pen, yet nothing that the stream of witnesses said escaped her attention. Occasionally she closed her eyes in a tired way, while lines of pain came in her forehead, but for the most part she sat leaning slightly forward, her head resting on her hand and her eyes fixed intently upon the witness in the box. When speaking to her counsel she at times smiled bravely, but even then her constant anxiety was shown in her eyes.

Mr. Justice Magee presided, with Mr. George Tate Blackstock, K.C., and Assistant Crown Attorney, Monahan representing the Crown. Mr. W. A. Henderson appeared for the defence in the absence of his partner, Mr. T. C. Roblin, K.C. The interest the case has attracted was shown by the crowd of people in the court room. Many people were unable to gain admission.

NEVER HEARD OF BABY.

Mr. Andrew Goldie, the first witness called yesterday, was taken by Mr. Blackstock over the same ground covered on Tuesday in the evidence of his wife, Mr. Goldie said he had never heard of Mrs. Turner adopting any children.

"Then you never heard of the Authers baby?" "No, sir." The witness then told of events leading up to the Tuesday evening when Mrs. Goldie heard the strange strangling noises.

"Did anything unusual take place that night?" "My wife came out of the room and called: 'Mr. Goldie, come here, hurry!'"

Witness said he went forward to Mr. Turner's room and his wife asked him to listen to the funny noises. He corroborated the evidence given by his wife touching Mrs. Turner's actions on that occasion, her agitation and desire to convince them that the noise was not in her room. He said the noises he heard sounded like someone strangling.

KNOWN AS MRS. MILLER. "All the time she was at your place the prisoner was known as Mrs. Miller."

"Yes, sir." "Then you never knew her as Mrs. Turner or Mrs. Gmelin?" "No, I never did."

"You never were present when a human being was strangled, were you?" asked Mr. Henderson.

"No, sir." "Then you are not competent to tell whether the noises you heard were those of anyone being strangled or not?" "Yes, I think anyone could tell that," retorted witness.

To Mr. Blackstock witness said that since this affair his wife had been a nervous wreck. She had never had nervous spells before that.

"Mrs. Anna Walker, who was stewardess on the Cayuga last summer, repeated the evidence given by her at the inquest in reference to meeting Mrs. Turner on the boat going over to Niagara Falls on Sept. 16, and of seeing the prisoner with a box-like parcel. Nothing new was brought out in Mrs. Walker's evidence.

"Did you hear any conversation between your mother and Mrs. Turner?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"Yes; she asked mother if the customs officers would examine her parcel." "What did your mother say?" "She advised her not to try to hide it."

Mr. Cecil Taylor, a young man who accompanied Mrs. Walker and her daughter across to Lewiston and Niagara Falls on Sept. 16, told of meeting Mrs. Turner on the wharf at the city. She had a box-like parcel with her. HAD PARCEL IN NIAGARA FALLS.

Mrs. Jennie Swazie, of 908 Pierce avenue, Niagara Falls, N. Y., with whom Mrs. Turner boarded on occasions, under the name of Gmelin was taken over her evidence as given at the inquest. Mr. Blackstock then asked the witness about the morning of Sept. 16. She said Mrs. Turner came to her house with a parcel that looked like a long shoe-box.

This box was left on Mrs. Swazie's table while Mrs. Turner went upstairs. Witness said she lifted the box and found it rather heavy.

Mr. Edwin O. Parish, conductor on the New York Central train from which the infant's body was thrown on Sept. 18, told of seeing Mrs. Turner get off the train at Lewiston that day and being struck by her pale, agitated appearance. Parish was most positive in his declaration that Mrs. Turner was on his train that day, and refused to modify his statement in any particular.

F. J. Fleming, a New York Central trackman, testified to finding between

NIAGARA FALLS AND LEWISTON A BOX CONTAINING THE BODY. He said he saw it come flying through the air just as the train passed. Curious to see what was in the box, he opened one end and saw the baby's head.

DISPUTE BETWEEN COUNSEL. The examination was enlivened by a tiff between Mr. Blackstock and Mr. Henderson. The former put a question to the witness about seeing the parcel flying in the air as the train passed, when Mr. Henderson entered a strenuous objection to the way in which the question was put.

"I object, your Lordship," he said, "to Mr. Blackstock putting the answer in the mouth of this witness."

"I did not do so," answered the Crown prosecutor. "I beg your pardon, you did," insisted Mr. Henderson.

Mr. Blackstock put the question to the witness again, despite the objection, and received his answer.

CORONER SCOTT. Coroner Scott, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., was then called. He described his trip out to the spot where the body was found, and told of holding an inquest upon the remains. His evidence revealed nothing further than was brought out at the inquest here two weeks ago.

During Mr. Scott's examination another quarrel broke out between Mr. Henderson and Mr. Blackstock about the latter's way of leading the witness in his answers.

"I can't understand him doing it," protested Mr. Henderson, "unless he is trying to take advantage of me."

Mr. Blackstock turned around angrily. "My learned friend can say what he likes, but he should take care to say what is true, and that statement is absolutely untrue, and he knows it."

DEATH CAUSED BY STRANGULATION. Dr. J. A. Bishop, of Niagara Falls, gave the result of the post-mortem examination made by him. His evidence was the same as given at the inquest two weeks ago.

"What do you say was the cause of death?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"Asphyxiation," said Dr. Bishop, "due to strangulation by a cord around the neck."

Mr. John Seitz, the Niagara Falls undertaker, who received the body from Coroner Scott and later handed it over to Detective Wallace, was called. His evidence was the same as given by him at the inquest. The trial was then adjourned until this morning at 8.30 a. m.

TRAINS COLLIDE.

PASSENGERS ESCAPED WITH VERY TRIVIAL INJURIES.

Wreck Near Orangeville—North-bound Train From Toronto Took a Chance and Ran Past Melville Junction.

Orangeville, Ont., Oct. 20.—A head-on collision between the down passenger train from Teeswater and the up passenger train for Owen Sound, which left Toronto at 4.50 p. m., occurred at 7 o'clock to-night about 300 yards this side of Melville Junction and three miles south of Orangeville. Fortunately no one was seriously injured.

Trains proceeded on the same rails at this point, and there is no agent at Melville Junction. The down train being late, up train took a chance. It had not got up much speed when it crashed into the south-bound train. The crews of both engines jumped. If the engineer and fireman of the Teeswater train, which was running at a good speed, had remained in the cab they would have met death, and had the Toronto train reached the curve a few yards further on the loss of life might have been considerable.

Those who sustained slight injury were: Robert J. Allan, representing W. E. Sanders' drugs, London, suffering greatly from shock, and collapsed when brought to the hotel, being carried to his room.

Douglas Campbell, Orangeville, fingers cut.

Conductor Lappin, hand cut, leg sprained.

Miss Rhoda France, 295 College street, Toronto, left elbow joint badly hurt, arm hurt, suffering from shock.

Mrs. Mary Scott, of Thessalon, bruises and shock.

Editor Hull, of Erin, amongst the down passengers, said the impact was sufficient to hurl many passengers from their seats. No cars on either train were injured, and they were used to transfer passengers. Engine No. 85, of the south-bound train, had the tender jammed into the cab.

As soon as the news reached Toronto an auxiliary train was sent out from the yards in Ward Seven, and the tracks will be clear this morning.

LUKEWARM IN THE FIGHT.

Whitney Government and the White Plague Battle.

Mr. John Ross Robertson's Practical Step in the Contest.

Charities and Corrections Conference Elects Officers.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—The prevention and cure of tuberculosis were the topics which claimed first place in the discussions of yesterday's session of the Conference of Charities and Correction. Introductory papers were read on the need of a pure milk supply and on the place of the hospital should take in regard to the tuberculous patient. Once the discussion turned to the various aspects of tuberculosis, however, every delegate seemed anxious to contribute his quota toward the debate on a plague which yearly costs Canada 3,000 lives and millions of dollars.

Mr. John Ross Robertson's remarks were of a most practical nature. He told the conference that next year he hoped to have established in connection with the Hospital for Sick Children at the Lakeside Home for Little Children situated on the island a pavilion to take tuberculous patients for the summer months. The pavilion should be modern and well equipped. He also announced that a pasteurization plant had been installed in the Hospital for Sick Children, and that it was the intention of the hospital authorities to provide sick babies with pure milk below the cost price.

The general tone of the meeting seemed to be one of condemnation for the small part taken by the Ontario Government in the fight against the disease.

Dr. Holbrook, of Hamilton, outlined the work done at his dispensary, and considered this institution the best one in the struggle. In the establishment of institutions of the kind he thought that the Government could do a good work. Next year the conference will meet in Guelph.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Hon. President, Hon. W. J. Hanley, Provincial Secretary; President, J. P. Downey, M. P. P. Guelph; Vice-Presidents, J. Ross Robertson, of Toronto, Dr. Helen MacMurchy, J. J. Keelo, Sheriff Middleton, of Hamilton, Dr. Rosburgh, of Toronto, C. H. Corbett, of Kingston, Major Selwyn, of Cobourg, A. Studholme, M. P. P., of Hamilton; Secretary-Treasurer, F. M. Nicholson, of Toronto; Executive, Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith (Chairman), Sheriff Cameron, London, Sister Clementine, Brockville, Mrs. M. A. Griffin, Fergus, S. Thomson, Brantford, Mr. East, Hamilton, E. J. Parker, of Toronto, G. Martin, of Berlin, W. L. Scott, of Ottawa, J. E. Farewell, K. C., of Whitby, Dr. Lockhart, of Hepler, Sister Gabrielle, of Kingston, J. R. McNeill, of Lindsay, and Sheriff A. S. Allen, of Guelph.

Dr. Elliott, of Hespeler, strongly deprecated the position of the Provincial Government in regard to tuberculosis. He had, he said, interviewed Premier Whitney some time ago and the Premier said: "You fellows are getting up a big fuss about it, but tuberculosis is not on the increase," said the doctor, "I am not in politics, and I forbid that this should become a political question. We should commence to educate our legislators."

He then moved a resolution that the Government hand one or more sanitariums for indigent tuberculous patients, which was referred to the Committee on Resolutions. Mr. W. E. Ruddle gave a detailed account of "Hospital Financing," which was discussed with considerable interest.

Dr. J. N. E. Brown, Superintendent of the Toronto General Hospital, spoke on "The Milk Menace," Dr. V. J. Robinson, Medical Superintendent of the Hospital for the Insane in London, and Dr. C. J. O. Hastings of Toronto discussed phases of the same subject.

Dr. Elliott could not speak too favorably of the dispensary in treating tuberculous patients. The tuberculosis dispensary is one of the greatest factors yet devised in the fight against tuberculosis," he said. "Every hospital should be compelled to take care of tuberculous patients in the proper manner."

"We must check insanity by stopping the supply of feeble-minded children," was the suggestion of Dr. B. W. Smith, inspector of charities and prisons at the morning session. "This can only be done by the separation of the feeble-minded of both sexes during the age of child-bearing. It is shameful in the manner in which we allow things to go on and on until something happens like the Robinson case."

Papers referring to the management of houses of refuge were read by Mr. G. Martin, Berlin; Dr. T. W. Beaman, Perth, and Mrs. M. A. Griffin, Fergus. In the evening the members of the conference attended a reception at the Nurses' Residence of the Hospital for Sick Children. The guests were received by Mr. John Ross Robertson, Miss Brent, lady superintendent of the hospital, and Mr. J. R. McNeill, of Lindsay, President of the conference.

The conference continues this morning in the theatre of the Normal School.

The city of Toronto will pay for the use of Massey Hall for the two weeks' convention of the American Federation of Labor, beginning Nov. 8, if the recommendation made by the Board of Control yesterday passes the City Council. The price for the two weeks will be $750. This will mean a total expenditure of $1,750 by the city on the American Federation of Labor convention, the City Council having already voted to spend $1,000 on the entertainment of the delegates.

Great Discovery after 2000 years.

Careful tests established the exceptional value of the new balm, its constant reliability, and its unvarying success even in certain obstinate cases eczema and ulceration.

From the first Zam-Buk has born out in practice what its discoverers expected of it from a practical standpoint. In four continents it has now become the favourite household balm. Cheap substitutes made up to look like Zam-Buk, and sold at so-called "cheap" rates, are constantly being produced, but the careful housewife, the mother, bearing the responsibility and the welfare of her ailing children, or the breadwinner, who once wastes money on them never repeats the experiment. There is no "cheapness" in nature. If one wants her treasure her price must be paid, and now people don't waste money on "cheap" imitations.

Zam-Buk, so pure yet so powerful, is good for young and old. The delicate skin of babes benefit from its application and it is widely used by nursing mothers for the rash and chafings of very young children. Men of experience and of great attainments in varied walks of life have tested it, and speak of it in the highest terms.

Dr. Andrew Wilson, whose name as a scientist is familiar all the world over, in one of his recent medical works ("Homey Talks on First Aid") says: "Wherever a box of Zam-Buk is handy the preparation may be relied upon as an anodyne dressing which requires no preparation and has the particular advantage of possessing unique healing properties."

Mr. Frank Scudamore, the great war correspondent says: "Zam-Buk cured me of blood-poisoning, which caused severe ulcers. It is a splendid healer, and I hope its merits will become even more widely known."

Mr. R. F. Perry, Justice of the Peace, a Goldfields, B.C., says: "Zam-Buk cured me of a skin eruption which required the services of a doctor, who had been to relieve."

For skin eruptions, scalp sores, ulcers, abscesses, poisoning, cold sores, chapped lips, frost bite, blistering, chafing, ingrowing, etc., Zam-Buk is without equal. For piles it is the best remedy yet discovered. It relieves the burning, stinging, throbbing pains, and gives ease. Almost all ailments of the skin are cured by Zam-Buk at fifty cents per box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

The choice of the right herbal juices and their refinement comprised the next step, after which came the more difficult problem of finding out just the exact proportion of the different ingredients which would give the best healing results. Early disappointment and discouragement are often the forerunner of famous discoveries, but at length, when success arrived, the investigators found themselves in the possession of a substance of most agreeable odour, and unique for its marvellous healing, soothing and antiseptic value. The original medicinal power of the respective ingredients was found to be almost all destroyed by the action of the scientific and novel manner of their combination as they exist in Zam-Buk.

Mrs. Agnes Suroule, of Fort William, read the report of missionary work in New Ontario from September, 1908, until October, 1909. She told of the number of miles travelled, meetings, held, etc. Thirty-one camps were visited and fifty-three services were held. She has always been received with kindness. The expenses of the trip were largely provided by the union. She visited 124 places in addition to the camps, and delivered 811 addresses. She had walked 165 miles, travelling altogether 7,910 miles. Her travelling expenses were $206.25; postage and freight, $23.40; a total of $229.65. Her report was adopted.

Greetings were ordered to be sent to the Dominion convention to be held in St. John next week. This evening the Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and Episcopal churches of the city, and the Episcopalian Church pulpits are being filled by white ribbons.

Provincial Convention Welcomed to Belleville by Mayor Marsh.

Mrs. Sproule Speaks on Her Missionary Work in New Ontario.

Belleville, Oct. 20.—At last evening's session of the Provincial W. C. T. U. convention there was a large attendance not only of delegates, but of citizens, who are apparently interested in the work. Mrs. McKee, President, occupied the chair. The meeting opened with devotional exercises, after which Mayor Marsh, on behalf of the city, extended to the delegates a hearty welcome. He hoped their stay here would be both profitable and pleasant. The evening's programme consisted of a trip around the world with the "Y" girls. A number of "Y" members presented most encouraging reports of the work in Japan, China, India, Africa, Australia and Europe. The reports showed that the "Y" girls were increasing yearly in numbers and doing good work. Special vocal numbers were rendered by the choir, and Mr. Jas. Dyer sang solo most acceptably. The meeting was closed with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. Dr. Bishop.

This morning the report of the Tidings Board was presented, and it was of a most encouraging nature.

Temperance in Sabbath schools was discussed at some length and the general idea was that this subject should be more thoroughly dealt with in Sabbath schools. Temperance quarterly services, flowers, fruit, and delicacy missions were discussed and recommended to be held more frequently.

At the close of the morning session luncheon was provided for the delegates in the school rooms of Bridge Street Church. Rev. B. Greatrix, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, was present, and gave a brief address, commending the work of the union.

This afternoon a conference on lumber camp work was conducted by Mrs. Walter Russell, Toronto, and Mrs. Boyd, Huntsville. A school of methods was conducted by Mrs. T. A. Stevens, Provincial Vice-President, Toronto.

Mrs. Miller, of London, read the circulation report of the paper, Tidings, which for the past year has averaged 6,690 copies, and they expect this to be largely increased next year. The total receipts from the paper were $3,099.32. There was still a deficit of over $300.

Mrs. Detlor, of North Bay, told what the various advertisers would do if their products were used at any of the gatherings.

Mrs. McAllister, editor of Tidings, was given great praise for her work, and one speaker thought she was well worthy of a salary.

The conference on evangelistic conference was next taken up.

Mrs. McKee told of the great work that women do by visiting the sick, the jail, and the hospitals, singing to the inmates the old-fashioned hymns that their mothers have sung.

IMPROVING GORE PARK.

Citizens Again Petition For Removal of the Fence.

Mountain Park Driveway Comes In For Discussion.

What Hon. Cochrane Proposed In Regard to the Beach.

At the meeting of the Parks Board last night a deputation of business men appeared to ask the committee to remove Gore Park fence, as they considered it unsightly. In support of the proposition, a petition largely signed by local business men was presented.

Mr. John Hoodless, in supporting the request said he represented the Greater Hamilton Society and the Civic Improvement Society, which had passed resolutions along the lines set forth in the petition. It was almost the unanimous feeling that the park would be made more beautiful if the change was made. In his estimation the park just east showed the difference between having the fence and not having it.

Ald. Allan said he had plans which had been presented before. He thought the majority of the citizens were in favor of the removal of the fence, although some objected on the ground that it was an old land mark. If the fence was removed lights could be put around the park which would make it a beautiful spot. The monument and fountain would remain in the same positions. The estimate of putting a curb around the park was $688.

Mr. Stanley Mills endorsed everything that had been said in favor of the proposition. He thought it within the scope of the Parks Board to do something in the matter. The lighting would be an important feature. He had a plan which, in his opinion would greatly improve the present condition of the park.

Mr. John Lennox said the fountain was a disgrace to the city, and a regular cesspool. Water was continually running across the walk, which compelled the passersby to step over it. He thought the fountain should be moved to the south side. As for the curbing, the city should attend to that. The fountain would then be opposite the Knox Morgan building, which would be very appropriate, as the gentleman who designed it formerly owned that building. He also thought something should be done in regard to the cab stand, as in winter at times the road was rather dirty.

The question was asked by A. A. Lees as to who paid for the light, and it was explained that the city paid for it. As for the installing of the light, a number of the business men had undertaken to do that.

It was decided that the board's conclusion in regard to the matter would be given out in two weeks' time, if satisfactory terms could be made between the Parks Board and the Board of Works.

The cab question will be taken up at the next meeting. Chief Smith wrote the board asking permission to have a patrol box on the park property at the corner of King and James streets. A suggestion was made by Mr. George Wild that it be put at the Bank of Hamilton corner. The board decided not to grant the request, at least for the present.

Mr. C. E. Woolverson, landscape gardener, in a letter to the board explained a scheme for the surveying and laying out of streets uniformly, and as a means of ascertaining whether the scheme would be feasible suggested that it be tried on one of the streets. If it proved satisfactory, then a plan for the uniform laying out of all the streets could be drawn up. The secretary was instructed to notify Mr. Woolverson that his letter had been received, and although they could not decide at once whether to adopt the plan, they considered it a good proposition.

The fixing up of the Mountain Park driveway was discussed. The matter of planting trees along the sides and the kind of trees was left in the hands of Chairman Bruce, H. Marshall and Geo. Wild. The fencing of the road was explained to be an important question in the fixing up scheme. The warden of the county, however, would have to be considered before anything further could be done in the matter. It was decided that the warden be interviewed on the subject.

The Civic Improvement Committee wrote urging the board to secure the property on the Beach for a park for the benefit of the city residents.

Mr. Lees, one of the deputations who waited on Hon. Mr. Cochrane at Toronto, said that although they were half an hour late in arriving and Mr. Cochrane had other business, he waited for them. He explained to them that it would be advisable for the Government to buy the Beach property, the Parks Board to pay $250 a year for ten years and the City Council to pay the same sum for the same length of time. The people of the Beach didn't need the park, but it would be for the benefit of the city residents—not for the rich alone, but for all classes. When the Parks Board had completed their ten yearly payments their obligations would cease. The Finance Committee recommended that accounts aggregating $639.15 be paid, and they were ordered to be paid.

VETERANS IN CONVENTION.

Old British Soldiers Holding Meeting In Toronto.

John Gardner, of This City, Gave President's Address.

Touched on Land Grants and the Soldier's Home.

The annual convention of the British Veterans' Association of Canada opened this morning in Toronto. The sessions are being held in Occident Hall. Mr. John Gardner, of this city, is president. Delegates were present from all the branch associations, including a number from this city. The convention opened with the president's address, which was as follows:

Comrades—In opening this our fifth convention in the city of Toronto, where the first Veterans' Society was formed, we beg to welcome our comrades representing the various Veterans' Associations. I now lay before you the different subjects for discussion; first, the progress that has been made during the past year re the extension of the Volunteer Bounty Act to Veterans of 1866-76, viz., 320 acres of land in the Northwest, similar to that given to the South African veterans. In the early part of last February a deputation of Veterans' Associations waited on Sir Wilfrid Laurier, asking him to extend the act. The premier promised to recommend to the Governor-General that the request of the veterans be granted. No special amount of land was mentioned, but the various Veterans' Associations desired the same amount as the South African veterans received, 320 acres. He expressed regret that Sir John A. Macdonald had not given the veterans some material recognition when it was applied for shortly after the raids closed. We were surprised at the end of the session to find that no action had been taken by the Government in the matter. Correspondence pertaining to this will be laid before the committee appointed. Secondly, while in Ottawa we interviewed Sir Frederick Borden with reference to compassionate pensions to all veterans of 1866-70, and Northwest Rebellion, in possession of a medal and on attaining the age of 65, to be known as the Dominion Compassionate Pension, on the same lines as is granted by the Imperial Government and the Indian Government to Military veterans. Sir Frederick did not give us much encouragement in the matter, as he thought that the militia volunteered their services with no expectation of pension. But he wished us to send him a more definite account of the last convention, which was done. All correspondence on this matter will be handed to the committee. Thirdly, the next subject and one of great importance, is the establishment of a soldiers' home in the Dominion. In interviewing Sir Frederick Borden on this subject, he said it was more of a Provincial affair, as each province contributed toward the care of their poor. We stated that the province do support the poor, but that the militia volunteered their services without means or friends are given over to the school of anatomy. That is how the country thanks the old veterans, whether Imperial, or Canadian, for the service they rendered. This is a disgrace to the Empire, and we as veterans, think it a slur on the service, Canadian militia and Imperial. The establishment of a home by the Dominion Government would do away with all this, and we feel sure that the various provinces would cheerfully pay for the maintenance of such a home, the same as they now pay for them in the houses of refuge, and any veterans in need of a pension on entering the home would have to give it up for his keep. Correspondence on this matter will be placed before the committee. We brought up at our last convention the injustice of the Ontario Government in withdrawing from the Bismarck battalion the 100 acres of land given to them by the late government, which sent their first certificates. They had them selected, and, in some cases, personally chose their own land, at the cost of $40 or $50. The Government now refuses to grant them their final certificates. We have been in correspondence with the Crown Lands Department on the subject, and, to our astonishment, we find the said battalion was not organized till 1868, so that they did not take part in the raid of that year. All correspondence on this matter will be laid before the committee.

At our last convention we were at a standstill about the soldiers' monument on Stone's Creek. The association which has this in charge, in conjunction with the Saltfleet Historical Society, let the contract for the monument. Although we have not sufficient funds, we feel justified in starting and are confident that we can meet all our obligations and be prepared to unveil it on the 10th next, that day being the anniversary of the battle of Stone's Creek, and all Veterans' Associations will be invited. Hamilton McCarthy is the sculptor, and I hope that this convention will be the means of drawing the Veterans' Associations closer together and the doing away with that unsocial feeling which exists with some associations, and that through the work we will do to-day we will be able to say with Lord Nelson, "Thank God we have done our duty." I now declare this convention open.

Highlanders. Work of the Regiment Pleased Inspecting Officers.

The 91st Regiment was inspected last night by Inspector-General Lake, Lieut. Col. Howard, and Brig-Gen. Cotton. Four hundred and twenty-nine men were on parade, and the manner in which they went through their movements, company and regimental drill caused the inspecting officers to comment very highly on their efficiency. After the inspection the visiting officers were tendered a reception by the officers of the regiment. The parade state was as follows: Lieut-Col. Bruce, Majors McLaren and Roberts, Capt. Bell, Adjutant; Capt. Chisholm, Paymaster; Capt. Dickson and Lieut. McEdwards, Sergeants; Capt. Somerville, Paymaster; Capt. Drummond, Chaplain; Staff-Sergts. 8, Buglers 57, Pipes 20, Band 40, Bearers 13, Signallers 7, A 45, B 36, C 37, D 38, E 32, F 37, G 29, H 40; total 429.

MONOPOLY IS THE ESSENTIAL THING.

Hydro Power Must Shut Out Competition to be a Success Itself.

Mr. Lobb Says Electric Development Company Made a Low Offer.

The Power Committee, which met yesterday afternoon to go over the draft contract under which Hamilton will take a thousand horse power from the Hydro Commission, had not been in session more than five minutes before Solicitor Lobb uncoiled a surprise. In brief, it is this: The city, in view of the commission wiping out the clauses which provide that municipalities must take power exclusively from that source, and must co-operate in every way with the other municipalities to increase the amount of power to be supplied, will not get any reduction, no matter how much other places increase their orders for power. If Hamilton increases its own power supply from the commission it will get a proportionate reduction.

The feelings of the aldermen were somewhat relieved, however, when Mr. Lobb explained that he had suggested to the commission the advisability of permitting Hamilton later, if it saw fit, to have paragraphs 2b and 13a and b, which are to be eliminated in Hamilton's case at present, inserted again if the city saw fit, which would give the corporation the same rights and benefits as if it had originally been a party to the agreement.

Why, I brought that point up when we talked it over with the commission and it was stated that it would be agreed to," said Ald. Lobb, "but I was not just prepared to say how long the commission would give the city this right. Mayor McLaren suggested fourteen months, as he wanted to see the power tested here for a year, taking in the peak loads during the heavy water consumption. Application will have to be made to the commission, however.

To cover the point, Mr. Lobb drafted this clause: "At any time prior to the said municipal corporation may agree to insert paragraphs 2b and 13a and b of the 4th of May, 1908, in this agreement, and thereafter paragraph 10b of this agreement shall be of no effect, and the said municipal corporation shall be entitled to all the rights and benefits of the agreement of the 4th of May, 1908, as if originally a party to the agreement."

It was a very harmonious session. If the Hydro aldermen had any serious intentions of trying to make the committee bolt the contract, without properly considering it, as was noised around the City Hall yesterday, they changed their minds. After Mr. Lobb went over the contract with the committee it was decided that copies should be mailed to all the aldermen at once. The committee will meet again at 7.30 on Saturday night to send the contract on to the Council, which will likely hold a special meeting on Tuesday night for the purpose of dealing with it.

The drafted contract had been changed very little from the time the aldermen conferred with the Hydro authorities in Toronto, and Mr. Lobb explained that the only reason for delay was that the commission did not have a meeting at which it could deal with the matter until the previous day. The clause giving Hamilton the right to take power from any source remains, and the stipulation that it shall not pay for more than seventy-five per cent. of the power ordered, unless the peak load exceeds that, also stands, as it is in the general agreement. No change is made in the clauses providing that Hamilton must take power by June 1 or the installing of meters. The power will be metered at Dundas, although the city will not be prevented metering it at its own stations if it sees fit. With paragraphs 2 b and 13 a and b out, Hamilton will be under clause 10, which reads as follows: "The Commission shall at least annually adjust and apportion the amounts payable by municipal corporations for such power and such interest, sinking fund, line loss, and cost of operating, maintaining, repairing, renewing and insuring the line and works."

Added to this clause are the following amendments: (A) "The municipal corporation of the city of Hamilton shall be entitled, in respect of the said amounts payable by the said municipal corporation, to any reductions that may be due to increase in the quantity of power supplied to the said municipal corporation." (B) "The said municipal corporation shall not be entitled in respect to said amounts to any reductions that may be due to increase in the power supplied by the Commission to any other corporations or parties."

Added to clause 1, which in the agreement provides for the Commission constructing the lines for the transmission of power, is the following paragraph covering Hamilton's case: (a) On June 1, 1910, or on any earlier date on which the Commission may be prepared to supply the same, after one month's notice from the corporation, to supply 1,000 horse-power to the corporation, within the limits thereof, ready for distribution at approximately the voltage set forth in column 4 of the schedule hereto and approximately 25 cycles per second."

The Mayor and Mr. Lobb had a long argument over the question of a reduction for Hamilton as other places increased their orders for power. His Worship contended that if Hamilton paid one-tenth of the cost of the line it should not be saddled with the same amount of cost and maintenance if other municipalities increased their demands for power. It should get a proportionate reduction on the amount of power it used.

Mr. Lobb argued that there was no increase in the cost of maintenance, and that it cost no more to send 60,000 volts over the line than 30,000. Hamilton could not expect to benefit in the reductions if it was not going to co-operate. The young man had been sent to the mill with a load of grain to be chopped. He had returned to the gate and jumped down to let the horses in. The horses were let in, and owing to the barn, it is supposed, started off for the barn. The rig passed over the driver's body.

The horses ran to the barn, and McDonald, missing his hired man, went back to the lane to see what was wrong, and to his horror found him about fifty yards from the gate stretched out on the ground. His heart was still beating, but he was unconscious. Dr. Wardlaw was sent for, and made a fast trip in his auto, but life had passed away before he arrived.

TUB TALK No. 2

To wash colored muslins, linsens or lawns, first make a strong suds with Taylor's Borax Soap and luke warm water. Wet but one piece at a time. Unless the article is very much soiled, do not run the soap directly on the article. Rub gently with the hands until perfectly clean. Wring out the clothes, and rinse thoroughly in water of the same temperature as that previously used. Never boil colored clothes. A very little Taylor's Borax Soap added to boiled starch will prevent it from sticking, and makes the clothes iron smoother and easier.

A BRITISH VIRTUE

Which is Sometimes Too Little Appreciated.

(New York Independent.) We need here in the United States a little more of that good old English bluntness on the part of modest men and women who know their own worth, and who are not afraid of the arrogant sort get in the way or try to be patronizing. Our observation is that nowhere in the world are men and women of exceptional intellectual attainments so lacking in self-assertion as they are in the United States.

This phenomenon is a comparatively new one in American life. To-day, money is power, and not only does the man of personal worth hold his tongue and let the upstart brag and boss. It takes a certain amount of courage for an individual, face to face with a person politically or financially prominent, to tell him to stay on his own reservation and mind his own business. Americans have been inclined to regard the Englishman's habitual manifestation of this particular kind of courage as a disagreeable quality. Perhaps it is. But we are convinced that it is a necessary essential part of that eternal vigilance which is the price of liberty. We believe that the men and women of intellectual worth in America ought to cultivate it as an act of public duty, even at some sacrifice of their own feelings.

THRONE OF GREECE NEWS IN BRIEF

May Go to Duke of Abruzzi if King George Abdicates. Rome, Oct. 20.—It is learned here to-day on the best authority that a tentative offer of the Greek throne, in the event of the abdication of King George, has been made to the Duke of Abruzzi by emissaries of the Greek army. The duke refused to give a definite answer, but intimated that he believed he would accept an explicit offer if it were made. The Duke of Abruzzi is the choice of the army officers of Greece to succeed King George, who cannot well avoid abdicating in the face of present conditions in Greece. A meeting of army officers held at Athens recently decided to offer the throne to Abruzzi if the present dynasty fails. A MORMON MISTAKE. Southern Alberta Settlers Think They Are Still in United States. Calgary, Alta., Oct. 20.—That the Mormons of southern Alberta believe they are really living in the United States, owing to a mistake having been made in the survey of the international boundary line, is the story brought to Calgary by City Engineer Childs, who has just visited that district, where there are between 7,000 and 10,000 Mormon settlers. Mr. Childs says the story originated in the United States, and gained credence on this side of the line because it was announced in the Mormon churches. The Mormons have been informed that when the new survey is made, which will be shortly, the dividing line will run through the town of Cardston, where there are 3,600 Mormons.

Esquimaux and the Telephone. "One of the most amusing incidents in all my experience with Esquimaux was when I first showed them a telephone," Gen. A. W. Greely, the Arctic explorer, says. They absolutely could not understand the trickery. First I talked to one and he was sure I was fooling him in some way. Then I put one at each end of the phone and let them talk to each other. It was here that mystification knew no bounds."—From the Boston Record.

BEGLEY BROKE HAMILTON TO TORONTO RECORD.

George O. Begley, of the Irish-Canadians, Lowered T. J. McAughey's Record by 34 Minutes and 10 Seconds—Hamilton Man Finished Third.

George O. Begley, of the Toronto Irish-Canadians, broke the Hamilton to Toronto record yesterday afternoon by 34 minutes and 10 seconds. The previous record of 7 hours and 21 minutes was held by T. J. McAughey. Begley ran a heady race and succeeded in cutting the time down to 6 hours 56 minutes and 50 seconds.

There were twelve entries for the 40-mile jaunt, but only four started. These were Geo. O. Begley, Frank Murphy and W. J. Lloyd, all of Toronto, and Thos. Crompton, of Hamilton. They left the City Hall at Hamilton at 8:20 o'clock. Starter Walter Garwood and Judges Chas. Phillips and A. Solman accompanying them in an automobile.

The men fell into an eight mile an hour gait and at Burlington Murphy was in front with Begley two or three yards behind. Crompton was third and Lloyd fourth. At Fronts Begley was in the lead, being over 13 minutes ahead of Crompton, the second man. Lloyd took a cramp and dropped away back, but still kept up a steady pace. Begley took some nourishment at Oakville, losing five minutes. His trainer was to have met him at this point, but he failed to put in an appearance, and he was forced to go on alone. Crompton arrived just after Begley left, and Murphy was not far behind.

Begley arrived at Port Credit at 1:53 and had lunch, leaving at 1:57. He was in good condition at this point, and was fifteen minutes ahead of the record. He kept his lead easily and continued to cut down McAughey's time, arriving at the Toronto City Hall at six minutes and fifty seconds past four. He was welcomed by Controller Ward and other officials.

Begley is 26 years old, and was born at Sleaford, Lincolnshire, England. He is not a new man in the running game, by any means, as he held the English record for fifty miles before he came to this country. He is employed in Toronto as a steam and electric engineer.

Frank Murphy, of the I. C. A. C., finished at 5 o'clock exactly. Crompton came in a few minutes later. Lloyd did not finish until about 5:45, as he strained a tendon in his leg and was compelled to walk the last fifteen miles of the journey. Outside of that he was in good shape.

CAN JEFF GET HIS DISTANCE?

If the Big Fellow Regains His Judgment He Has a Big Asset—Jeffries is Due in New York To-day.

JEFFRIES IS due in New York to-day, and now more than ever, since the defeat of Stanley Ketchel by Jack Johnson, the sporting world is busy asking: Can the retired champion come back and whip the giant negro? Jeffries himself says he can and will regain his former state of physical perfection; his trainer, manager, Sam Berger, echoes his hopeful words, and many experts who have seen the big Californian in late months believe he is in almost as good condition right now as ever in his life. But there is another tale to tell, and according to the best authorities, a tale that cannot be told satisfactorily except by actual test in ring battle. Prize-ring experts realize that simple condition does not always spell success. None know it better than men who have been closely associated with important ring affairs, and consequently when Sam H. Harris began talking on the subject to a party of theatrical and sporting friends in the Hotel Knickerbocker, New York, one day last week, he had an attentive audience.

"It's like this, boys," said Sam. "A man can be in splendid condition, physically; Jeffries, for instance, may regain the form he showed against Corbett and Fitzsimmons, he can be trained to receive perfect horse perfection, his wind may be strong, and yet he may fall after he pulls the gloves on. Why? Simply that he may have lost his judgment of distance. I know; I have seen too many good men fall to pieces for this reason and this alone, even after comparatively short absences from the ring. I remember that time after Terry McGovern would have gone, six months, without a fight, he would go sprawling all over the floor in his next engagement, missing the mark by feet and having absolutely no judgment of distance at all. It has been the same with other good men, and if Jeffries, who will have judgment of action for five years by the time he will face Johnson, has lost his judgment of distance, good night. He may be in splendid condition, and all that; may have done a lot of preparatory sparring, but it's the real thing alone that will tell the tale."

Mr. Harris, whose name, associated with that of the American actor-author, George M. Cohan, has grown to be one to conjure with in the American theatrical world, is a fund of pugilistic information, and nothing delights him more than to talk of the old days when he shaped the destinies of the once terrible Terry McGovern.

"And, by the way," he continued, the other evening, "if Jeffries does meet the black and doesn't win, then good night again for Jeffries. The public doesn't waste time on a loser, and with the American sporting world never a surer cry than 'The king is dead, long live the king.' It is but a fleeting hour the heat of us gains in popularity, and the fact was never brought so forcibly to my attention as on that occasion at Hartford when Young Corbett knocked out Terry

They can call the Johnson-Ketchel fight a fake, but it must have seemed real to Jack and Stan when they whacked up over $30,000.

He had to come before the next training season sets in. Detroit has been running under high pressure for several years. It is bound to crack—some time. Perhaps Mr. Navin thinks the crack will come next year. He had to cough hard to keep his team together this year, and he will have to cough harder to hold it together for next.

The trotter Roy Brook, owned by Billy Fitch, of Hamilton, has apparently rounded into form. Driven by Jack Romberg, the son of Silent Brook won the 2:18 trot at Morgantown, W. Va., last week, stepping the fourth heat in 2:16 1/2, beating the Bingen stallion Major Higginson, that has to his credit a trial of 2:10. At the same meeting, Merry Window won the $1,000 2:14 stake for pacers, in a straight race, equaling his record of 2:09 1/4 in the first heat, and pacing the final heat in 2:10 1/4.

Arthur Irwin, who studies baseball closely, says the Detroiters lost the world's championship because the Pittsburgh made a dead set for Cobb and Crawford. "The Pirates were so foxy enough to realize that Cobb and Crawford were dangerous with men on bases. Fred Clarke therefore instructed the Pittsburgh pitchers to take care of these men by either walking them or refraining from handing up balls they could hit. This policy was adhered to at all times, so that Crawford and Cobb were of little assistance when hits meant runs. It was clever business and showed excellent headwork. Adams followed these instructions to the letter and is a hero, but he real credit belongs to the Pittsburgh manager, who laid his plans before the series and stuck to them clear to the end."

Sam Berger talks plainly and fairly, but not convincingly. In other words, he does not appear to be any better posted than the rest of us.

As is said of all newly made heroes: "The wonderful performance of 'Babe' Adams in the world's series and the honors showered on him have not turned his head a bit. He is in the same modest young chap." Still, there is plenty of time for the swelling to develop.

Many critics and among them such good authorities as Dr. Hooper and Rev. J. D. Morrow, are of the opinion that Halbauss, the Varsity short distance runner, is the equal of Bobbie Kerr to-day, and they look to him to make a new record to-morrow at the intercolle-

McGovern. Before that fight we had heard work keeping Terry quiet. Every time he showed himself outside of his apartments he would be surrounded by a mob of friends and well-wishers, and when one wanted him it was a case of football rush through the throng to reach his side. That night, after Young Corbett had knocked Terry out, I was delayed counting up, and when I got back to the hotel a great crowd was collected at one corner of the lobby. Never thinking but that, as in the old days, it was the multitude paying homage to Terry, I shouldered my way through the press to the centre of the crowd, and nearly fell over in my astonishment when I discovered the actor in traction to be Young Corbett. There he was, seated with Senator Tim Sullivan, George Considine, Honest John Kelly and many others, while all about him the crowd, which had formerly denied him, passing look, now hung breathlessly on every syllable. I was greatly surprised, but made the best of it, and stepped up and shook hands with Rothwell in congratulation.

"Terry? Oh, yes! I found Terry, alone, in his room upstairs."

JEFF BY WIRELESS.
On board steamer Lusitania, at sea, Oct. 20, by wireless telegraph, via Halifax, N. S.—To the Associated Press, New York:

"I am feeling fine and shall be glad to get home. I can say nothing definite before reaching America. I expect the fight with Johnson to take place before a responsible club offering the largest purse. James J. Jeffries."

The foregoing wireless message came from Jeffries to-night. He will reach New York on the Lusitania late on Thursday night or early on Friday morning. Jeffries is returning from the continent after taking the waters at Carlsbad, Bohemia, and a brief course of preliminary training at Neuilly, near Paris. His arrival at New York is awaited with a great deal of interest in sporting circles, as it is confidently believed that the details of a match with Jack Johnson, the champion, will be arranged here within the next few days.

Tuesday night of next week has been set for a meeting between Jeffries, his manager, Sam Berger; George Little, manager of Johnson, and James Coffroth, the San Francisco fight promoter. Coffroth, it is said, will come prepared to make an offer of a large purse for the fight to take place in San Francisco.

LET PAKPE BOX LANGFORD.
San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20.—Willus Britt now says Ketchel will not fight Pakpe. He suggests Pakpe and Langford can fight it out, and Ketchel will stand ready to meet the winner. A few days before the Johnson bout Britt declared that Ketchel was ready to abandon the middleweight title and that he would not find it easy to make 138 pounds.

"Will Ketchel fight as a middleweight again, or does he still claim that title?" was asked of Britt.

"Yes, he still claims the title," was the response. "About this fighting, here is a suggestion. Let Pakpe fight Sam Langford and then Ketchel will stand ready to meet the winner. For Langford, Ketchel would stand ready to make the weight, and for Pakpe he will do the same, only on condition that Pakpe wins over Langford."

"I see Pakpe is claiming the title. That will not do him any good. He has been defeated by Ketchel on three occasions, and that ought to be enough."

JOHNSON TO MEET JEFF.
San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20.—Jack Johnson and Promoter Jim Coffroth left this morning for New York on the Overland limited. Johnson wants to have a talk with Jeffries and his manager and clinch up the championship match. Johnson said that despite disparaging remarks made about him by Jeffries, he was convinced that Eastern sporting men would see in his easy victory over Ketchel that he could hold his own with Jeffries.

Johnson seems to fear Jeffries will try to wriggle out of a fight by demanding impossible conditions, whereas Johnson, as the champion, is entitled to make demands.

Coffroth said he was going to New York to secure the Jeffries-Johnson fight and if possible match Langford and Ketchel for Thanksgiving afternoon at Colma.

Coffroth thinks the gate receipts of $50,000 which could be secured at Colma, should satisfy Jeffries and Johnson.

BUYS $6,000 CAR.
San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20.—The appearance on the streets last night of Stanley Ketchel in a big, brand new $6,000 automobile has given rise to much gossip not complimentary to Ketchel and his manager.

Fight fans, who did not like the theatrical finish of the Ketchel-Johnson fight, and who believe that both fighters posed for moving pictures, are now using Ketchel's purchase of the high-priced automobile as proof that he was something crooked about the fight.

It is well known that, deducting the $5,000 side bet which he lost, Ketchel only received $1,000 from the fight, which would scarcely pay his training expenses. It is more exparating to have something almost within one's grasp and then to have it snatched than to be beaten for it away off. That may be Mr. Navin's mental fix, but it is possible that he is bracing himself for a raid on his fat surplus, which is bound to come before the next training season sets in.

Detroit has been running under high pressure for several years. It is bound to crack—some time. Perhaps Mr. Navin thinks the crack will come next year. He had to cough hard to keep his team together this year, and he will have to cough harder to hold it together for next.

WILL THERE BE AN INTERNATIONAL RACE.

Sir Thomas Lipton Will Arrive in New York on Saturday to Arrange a Match With the New York Yacht Club.

New York, Oct. 21.—The coming of Sir Thomas Lipton to America has stirred a deal of interest as to what measure of success the Irish baronet will have in his endeavors to bring about another race for America's Cup.

Sir Thomas is expected here on the steamship Cedric on Saturday, and on his arrival he will ascertain from members of the New York Yacht Club whether they will accept a challenge for the historic cup under the universal rules which now govern races held by the New York Yacht Club, or whether the club still insists that the America's Cup contest must be held under the old conditions, which permit the greatest maximum speed under a given waterline length, without other restrictions.

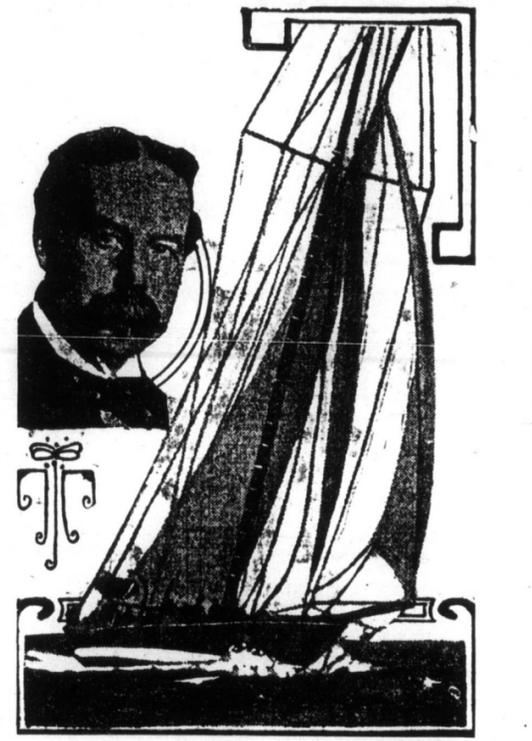

Sir Thomas holds that the old rules have resulted in the development of freak yachts of such flimsy construction that there is grave danger of the challenger going to pieces at sea while being brought to America on her own bottom, as provided for in the conditions of the contest.

Sir Thomas hopes to convince the New York Yacht Club that a race for the America's Cup can never again be held under the old conditions, and that if the club maintains the attitude it took two years ago, it is equivalent of locking up the classic "mug" in the club's trophy room. It was learned yesterday, however, that unless the present feeling among the more sensitive club members undergoes change, Sir Thomas' visit is regarded as likely to fail.

"Doubtless many members of the club and the public generally would like to see another Shamrock in these waters," said a prominent officer of the New York Yacht Club, "but Sir Thomas must challenge under the old conditions which are provided for in the deed of gift. The feeling of the club has undergone no change since Sir Thomas' challenge was declined two years ago. Of course, nothing official will be done by the club until Sir Thomas lays before the members a formal challenge. But it is certain that the America's Cup stands prominently for speed and club members will not vote to change the conditions, which only limit the waterline length of the yachts 90 feet, without other restrictions. Should Sir Thomas definitely challenge under the old rule, and this is regarded as extremely unlikely, the New York Yacht Club will meet the challenger with the Reliance, which showed such wonderful speed in her race with Shamrock IV.

LIPTON AGAIN SEEKS FAMOUS CUP

SHAMROCK IV. AND SIR THOMAS LIPTON.

Once more that gallant sportsman, Sir Thomas Lipton, is headed across the ocean, but this time he does not bring a fourth Shamrock to contest for the bottomless stein that is spiked down in the trophy room of the New York Yacht Club.

Instead, he comes on a liner, grasping a hope, however faint, that he may induce the N. Y. Y. C. to accept his challenge for the America's cup under the N. Y. Y. C.'s own rules, the universal rating.

Every real sportsman is with Lipton in his effort to win back the cup brought to this country by the famed little schooner so many years ago, and it is hoped the sense of decency of American yachtsmen will not again be shocked by a refusal on the part of the N. Y. Y. C. to meet the game Irish baronet half way.

Lipton has built a yacht under the universal rating, which he calls Shamrock IV. She raced this year in British waters and proved a remarkably fast, seaworthy craft. She is a splendid cruiser as well as racing yacht, and instead of being sent to the junk heap, will be ready for another season net spring.

EASTERN LEAGUE MEETING HELD ON TUESDAY.

Ed. Barrow and P. T. Powers are Still in the Field For Presidency—President Comiskey of Chicago Americans Confirms Duffy's Appointment

THE EASTERN Baseball League will hold its annual meeting next Tuesday in New York City and already plans are being made for next year's season in the circuit, which has grown until it is next in importance, of many score, to the two major organizations.

Mr. Powers, who has followed Eastern League politics rather expect that the hatchets of the warring delegates will be buried in the interest of general harmony and no opposition formally developed when the league names its executive head.

A revolutionary movement is on foot to oust Pat T. Powers from the executive chair of the circuit. Ed. Barrow, of Toronto, and others have declared their candidacy for the presidency of the league. Mr. Powers is quite evidently not perturbed over the situation and seems sure of sufficient support to secure his re-election to the office he has so long held. The majority of those who have followed Eastern League politics rather expect that the hatchets of the warring delegates will be buried in the interest of general harmony and no opposition formally developed when the league names its executive head.

Messrs. Stein and Hart, who now hold the majority interest in the club. In spite of the fact that Ed. GOOD SPORT AT THE WINDSOR TRACK?

The Odds-on Choice, Galvesca, Won the First Race From Grandissimo and Fulfill—Running Account Outclassed His Company in Third Race.

WINDEOR, OCT. 20.—P. T. Chin's Grandissimo came close to beating the odds-on-choice Galvesca in the two-year-old race which opened yesterday programme. The latter was doing pretty nearly her best, though Jockey Troxler never took up his whip to her. Third place at the finish was filled by the Plaudit filly, Fulfill, just purchased in New York by the Airlie Stable, which is the nom de course of a prominent Montrealer. The only scratch in this race was the withdrawal of the Lissack, G. M. Miller was owned by a Detroit dealer, after whom he was named, and who purchased him as a yearling for a small figure.

Mr. Seagram's Grey Girl was prominent in the second race for a large part of the journey, but was outrun in the stretch. Forez beating John Nixon's Lord Elam and Kenneth Dawes' Montreal colt, Jack Demerloo, in a hard drive. There is but one other grey horse here, the Faraday four-year-old, Miramar, owned by H. M. Ziegler, the former owner of Hermis. Miramar is still a maiden, but he is of good hunting type and a prominent owner has looked him over with a view to buying him for cross-country racing.

Running Account outclassed his company in the third race, and led from start to finish. He is owned by the veteran W. F. Redman, and after the numbers were up "Billy" confessed that his was the first time in six years that his colors had come from the front.

The fourth race saw "Red" Walker repeat her good race of a few days ago and dispose of the favorite, First Premium, who was never able to get close enough to threaten her. Gold Dust was second.

There was much local enthusiasm over the end to end victory of Kiamoesha II in the fifth race, as the mare is owned by Ed. Glasco, of this city, and well supported by the home talent. Pal was rather unlucky, as he was interfered with slightly when Ida Reck crossed him at the head of the back stretch.

DUFFY'S APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Charles Comiskey, President of the Chicago Baseball Club of the American League, to-day announced the appointment of Hugh Duffy, manager of the Providence, R. I., Eastern League team, as manager of the local club. An arrangement satisfactory to the eastern organization is said to have been made.

HUGH DUFFY GETS BLACKBURN.

Cincinnati, Oct. 21.—Chairman Herrman of the National Baseball Commission yesterday refused the application of the Pittsburgh National League Club for a re-hearing of the case of player Blackburn, formerly of the Providence Club, but claimed by both the Pittsburgh Nationals and Chicago Americans. Herrman acts in the matter himself, as it is a dispute between the two big leagues, and affirms his former decision awarding the player to the Chicago Americans.

BOWLING
The Hamilton Bowling & Athletic Club again came out on top in the final game of the series between the clubs, and the big club won by 322 pins, 2 less than last Wednesday. Dr. J. E. Johnston was the best bowler of the night with 383 and J. F. O'Brien was next best man with 328. Thomson dropped into third place with 318. The H. B. & A. GRIDIRON GOSSIP

A section will be reserved for the roots of the Thanksgiving Day game, and those who intend to join the club should have their seats reserved in this section.

The loss of Jack Williams by injury means that the Rough Rider back field is now composed of four young players, three of whom are playing in senior company for the first time.

Capree, the Ottawa boy, may play on the half line for Argos at Ottawa Saturday.

At the Varsity practice yesterday, Capt. Jack Newton had his foot slightly injured, being forced to quit the practice.

More shifts on the Argonaut line-up are due.

At the meeting of the Senior City League last evening, it was decided that the game between the Tigers III, and Y. M. C. A. on Saturday, the 9th, be thrown out and played over, if necessary, at the end of the series.

The Alerts will meet the Y. M. C. A. at 1:30 o'clock at the Cricket Grounds on Saturday afternoon. Ben Simpson and George Arvey were appointed as officials.

Tigers III will play Dundas II. at Dundas on Saturday.

New Entries.

Milton Fenn, British United A. C. Toronto, and T. McLoughlin, 284 Main street west, this city, entered last night for the Herald road race on Thanksgiving Day. The entry list is now closed.

RUGBY

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 21.—Hope for the recovery of Midshipman Earl D. Wilson, quarterback of the navy football team, who was injured in the Villa Nova game last Saturday, was practically abandoned this afternoon.

Wilson was injured in stopping a long run of the opposition halfback after a score had been made and another touchdown was being worked down the field.

When the mass of players was untangled, he was found at the bottom of the pile, unconscious. Paralysis developed almost at once and since Saturday Wilson has been unable to move any part of his body.

Walter Nixon, of the Ottawa Executive, who has been following Rugby in that city for twenty years, thinks that the present team is the best that ever represented the capital.

The Rough Riders claim to have several of their best men on the sick list. It is a safe bet, however, that if needed they will recover sufficiently to play against the Argos on Saturday.

'Varsity has scored 25 points to their opponents' two in two games.

An Ottawa exchange says: 'The decisions of Hay and McArthur were so disheartening to Ottawa that the wings feared to tackle a Montreal back until after he had started running.'

MARKETS AND FINANCE

Thursday, Oct. 21.—The dismal weather throughout the night was largely responsible for the very small offering of produce on the Central market this morning. In the meat market a fair supply of dressed hogs resulted in the price dropping nearly 50 cents, the new price being from $10 to $10.50.

The lack of deliveries of Ontario oats in the grain market raised the price two cents, the dealers now offering 40 cents per bushel.

Receipts are chiefly of grapes and the market quiet. Prices are steady.

St. Lawrence sugars are quoted as follows: Granulated, $4.85 per cwt. in barrels; No. 1 golden, $4.45 per cwt. in barrels; beaver, $4.55 per cwt. in bags.

London, Oct. 21.—Sir Charles Rivers, Wilson, who is to retire from the Presidency of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada at the close of the present year, presided to-day for the last time at a meeting of the Board of Directors.

President Wilson complained that the Government authorities of British Columbia had given but little assistance in solving the problem of obtaining laborers, and had absolutely refused permission for the introduction of Chinese and Japanese.

Sir Charles said that personally he was opposed to the appointment of an advisory board in Canada, but that he would offer no strong objection to the plan if it should be favored by a large proportion of the Grand Trunk's shareholders.

Stockholm, Oct. 21.—Dr. Otto G. Nordenskjöld, the antarctic explorer, expressed himself to-day as much impressed with the word brought from Knud Rasmussen, the explorer now in Greenland, by the Greenland steamer Godthaab.

Dr. Nordenskjöld said, 'leaves me without a doubt that Dr. Cook reached the Pole as he stated. I deplore, however, the fact that Cook failed to turn over his observations to the University of Copenhagen immediately upon his arrival in Denmark.'

HE BOWS TO TORONTO PRESIDENT

This is 'Chubby Charley' Murphy, as some of the Chicago newspaper men named the owner of the Cubs, who has been handed a $500 fine by the National Commission for trying to entice Pitcher Jeff Pfeffer away from the Toronto team.

Everybody knows the story by this time. Mr. Murphy is being laughed at by friends and enemies whenever the incident is mentioned.

He is rather a smooth man, is Mr. Murphy, though a trifle top-heavy, it is said. In this case Mr. Murphy walked too fast, and it was James J. McCaffery who stopped him up.

The Pfeffer telegram happened to be opened by the Maple Leaf president. It read:

'West Side Park, Chicago, Sept. 9, 1909.—Frank Pfeffer, Toronto Baseball Club, Toronto: If possible for you to get away, I would like to have your help during the rest of the season.—Charles W. Murphy, President.'

Mr. McCaffery saw the dodge, and he told Mr. Murphy so. He also told the National Commission, and from that hour until the Cub president suddenly backed down, he was in the hottest kind of water.

After being fined, his obstinacy threatened to put his Cubs out of business for a while.

CHARLES W. MURPHY.

So he handed the money over to charity, the Hospital for Disabled Ball-players getting the benefit.

The commission was very serious about the matter. Here is what they said about it:

'It is rather a peculiar condition, taking Mr. Murphy's explanation of the matter, and the commission can come to no other conclusion than that the actions of Mr. Murphy in this case were contrary to all baseball law and custom, and therefore should not go unnoticed.'

A fine of $500 will be inflicted against the Chicago club, this money to be paid to the Toronto club as damages.

'Notice is now served that a repetition by any club owner of an offence of this kind will meet with a penalty of the severest character.'

Death, however, was quite unexpected last night.

POLITICS IN THIS CASE? Open Charge Made Against Tory School Trustees

The action of the Building Committee of the Board of Education in turning down the tender of the Orpen Construction Company, of Toronto, for the masonry work of the proposed new addition to the Victoria avenue school, notwithstanding the fact that the price was $250 lower than any other tender, promises to stir up a hornets' nest. It is charged that politics have played a prominent part in the extensive building operations carried on by the board during the last two years, and that the Conservative trustees have been careful to avoid overlooking any of their friends whom it was possible to employ.

When the awarding of contracts for the Victoria avenue school was before the board at its last meeting the Building Committee chairman asked that permission be granted to accept the lowest tender in each case, except one, that of the Orpen Company. The board authorized the committee to accept the lowest tenders, providing they are satisfactory. When the matter originally came before the committee, instead of accepting the lowest tenders the committee laid the matter over until it got permission from the board to use its own discretion in awarding the contracts. It looks very much as if this move was made to land the masonry work for a Conservative contractor.

Members of the committee have received a letter from Mr. Orpen's solicitor, in which he urges the unfairness of the course followed by the committee. The only objection to Mr. Orpen is said to be that he is not a resident of this city. This is true, but he has considerable money invested here, is a taxpayer, and until recently was the chief backer of the Simpson Brick Co.

He forwarded a marked cheque like the other contractors, and has assured the board that he will give as good, if not better, security than any of the other contractors.

that practising medicine was not in the line of a man of his standing.

About two weeks ago at the Reading ticket office at the corner of Fourth and Pine streets, he was accompanied by a young woman, whom he had announced his intention to wed, and informed Agent Crow that he wished to engage steamer passage to Europe for himself and wife. He made inquiries as to the cost of first-class passage, time of sailing, etc., and Mr. Crow requested that he call a few days later, when he would be able to give him full information. At the appointed time the doctor was again on hand, and getting what information he wanted he made arrangements for accommodation on a White Star liner. The cost of the ticket was $190. The doctor didn't have ready cash with him, but told Agent Crow that he would be there on Saturday, Oct. 9, prepared to complete the transaction. He failed to appear at that time, and when Monday came and no doctor was on hand a message was sent to the address he had given in South Williamsport, the home of the young woman who had accompanied him. He was not there. Then it was learned that he was at Heidelberg Hotel. A messenger was sent there for him, but he was not to be found, and if he goes to Europe on the steamer on which he had engaged passage he'll have to do some hunting.

In the meantime, after selecting a residential site on Valerianth and arranging for a trip to Europe, the doctor, it is said, was borrowing small sums of money from his intended bride to tide him over until he could get hold of his own money, which was tied up in some way, the details of which he doubtless imparted to her.

These small sums amounted to about $80 in all, and that is why another warrant for the gay doctor has been issued. It is understood that the doctor and the south side young woman became acquainted through a matrimonial agency, and had never seen each other until the doctor's recent arrival in Williamsport, although they had been corresponding for some time.

The following letter was received by the Hamilton police yesterday: 834 Main street, South Williamsport, Oct. 18, 1909. Dear Sir,—Am writing you for some information regarding Dr. Arthur Deacon, who resides at 35 Chatham street, Hamilton, and if he should happen to return there, please advise me. Here is the slip I send you. You may publish it if you like, as he has behaved very strangely since he was arrested, and has $70 of my money, which I am unable to get. He was a guest here at our home and was arrested here. Please let me hear from you at once. I have detectives on his track and hope to catch him somewhere, if I can. Will you please do me the favor of letting me know at once if you hear anything about him or see him. I will await your reply, which I hope to receive very soon.

Yours truly, Jesse G. Wood.

Inquiries made of Mrs. Marshall, 35 Chatham street, bring to light the following story of the gay doctor: On August 8 he went there to board, saying he had worked for Mr. George Backney, an East Flamboro farmer. He is an Englishman, and purported to be a graduate of Cambridge University. He stayed at Mrs. Marshall's up till a few days ago, and during that time he made no attempt to work. He paid no board, and when he left a month ago he said he would be back soon.

There were no signs of the gentleman about him, she said, and though it is al-

WHISKEY CASE. London Magistrate Refused to Try it as County Magistrate.

London, Ont., Oct. 21.—A precedent was established when Magistrate Love absolutely declined to act in his capacity as a county magistrate and give a decision in a charge of selling liquor without license laid against William Bell, a local bartender, by License Inspector Galpin. The case grew out of a picnic held by the bar-tenders on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 5, when liquor was freely and considerably feeling was aroused in many quarters at such desecration of the Sabbath. The defence contended that Sunday is the only day when the bartenders can get away for a picnic, and that as all supplies were donated by local brewers and no money passed except that collected solely from members of the Bartenders' Union to defray cartage expenses, there was no basis for the charge.

TURNER TRIAL.

Evidence for the Defence in Baby Murder Case All In.

Mrs. Turner to take the Stand in Her Own Behalf. Toronto, Ont., Oct. 21.—All the crown's evidence in the case of Mrs. Mabel Turner on trial at the criminal assizes on a charge of infanticide, was concluded this morning and the defence will commence this afternoon. The evidence of the crown is regarded as the most complete offered in a murder case in this city for some years. It is said that Mrs. Turner, in insisting on going into the box in her own defence this afternoon is acting against the advice of her counsel. She has shown evident signs of great anxiety and extreme depression during the trial.

—Did Mrs. Turner go out with the baby carriage the Tuesday night you heard noises?" asked Mr. Blackstock. "Yes," said Mrs. Goldie. "She went out with the baby carriage Tuesday afternoon and came back about 5 o'clock. Inspector Walter Duncan, of the police department, was then called, the first witness since the beginning of the trial.

—The first he had to do with the case was on Sunday, the 19th of September, when he had Mr. and Mrs. Moddeux call at the office. From them he got Mrs. Miller's, or Mrs. Turner's, telephone number, and he called Mrs. Miller on the phone. When she answered he handed the 'phone to Mr. Moddeux, and he carried on the rest of the conversation.

—That Sunday night Mrs. Turner was in your office?" "Some; somewhere around 10 o'clock." "What took place?" "In the presence of Detectives Wallace and Mackie I asked her what her name was, and she said Mrs. Turner. I then asked her and Mrs. Moddeux if she was the person, and they said she was. I asked her if she used the name Miller, and she said yes. She then asked what was all the trouble about, and I told her we were trying to locate a baby."

—Mrs. Turner will swear that she gave the baby shortly after she got it to Mrs. Wagner, who has not been located since. She says she went to Lewiston to meet this Mrs. Wagner, and had the baby's clothes in the shoe box.

A FINE POINT.

Can Estate of Charity Patient be Taken by County? An action brought by the township of East Flamboro to secure the amount of the estate of the late John Mullin was tried before Judge Snider, but his honor reserved his decision so as to look up the law on the point. John Mullin was kept in the House of Providence at the expense of the township, and during the two years he was an inmate of that institution the expense amounted to over $300. A few months before the death of Mr. Mullin he bequeathed an estate in Ireland worth about $300, and after his death, when his brother, Henry, sought administration the township brought action. The defence contended that the township had paid the expense as a gift, and as such could not convert it into a debt. No precedent to the case could be found. R. R. Bruce appeared for the township, and W. M. McClemont for the defendants.

BLACK HAND.

Alleged Hold-up Men to be Tried Next Tuesday. When the three alleged black hand agents were brought before Judge Snider this morning the case was formally adjourned until Tuesday, Oct. 26, at 9 o'clock. The adjournment was made because Mr. T. C. Robinette, who is acting for two of the prisoners, was unable to attend.
