COUNTRY GIRLS.
Up in the early morning,
Just at the peep of day,
Turning the cows away—
Swinging the buckets on their sides,
Making the best up stairs,
Washing the breakfast dishes,
Where the red straw is green,
Breaking the crumbs from the pantry,
Hunting for eggs in the barn,
Cleaning the turps for dinner,
Spinning the stockings away,
Down in the kitchen,
Ringing the breakfast dishes,
Where the red straw is green,
Breaking the crumbs from the pantry,
Hunting for eggs in the barn,
Cleaning the turps for dinner,
Spinning the stockings away,
Down in the kitchen,
Ringing the breakfast dishes,
Where the red straw is green,
Breaking the crumbs from the pantry,
Hunting for eggs in the barn,
Cleaning the turps for dinner,
Spinning the stockings away,
Down in the kitchen,
Ringing the breakfast dishes,

Field Marshal Lord Clyde, (Sir Colin Campbell).
[From the London Times.]
On the 26th of October, 1872, there was born in Glasgow, or close by that city, the youngest son of a family of the name of Campbell. His father was a man of the name of Jarvie, a child in whose veins was the gentle blood of the Highland laird mingled with that of the Lowland merchant. His mother was a daughter of the name of Jarvie, a child in whose veins was the gentle blood of the Highland laird mingled with that of the Lowland merchant. His mother was a daughter of the name of Jarvie, a child in whose veins was the gentle blood of the Highland laird mingled with that of the Lowland merchant.

means which, well employed, might have secured him a just reward for his services; but he had no opportunity of testing every variety of climate and of seeing all kinds of service. In 1823 he served as a private in the 42nd Foot, and was employed in the defence of the black in Demara, where he received the rank of sergeant. He was then employed in the defence of the black in Demara, where he received the rank of sergeant. France at once appears in the field. — France has everything to gain and very little to lose as an interference on behalf of the South. As an answer to the direction of the current, it is worthy of special remark that the Government of the French Republic has permitted the harbor of Brest for the purpose of making certain repairs in the dockyard. Such a proceeding is calculated to inflame still higher the feelings of annoyance felt by Brother Jonathan against his old friend, Had the Alabama put into the Thames for a like purpose we should never have heard the last of it. Rest assured that we may look forward to important complications, and that what we now see is but the beginning of the end.

It is refreshingly edifying to see the change that has come over our American friends, with regard to their strictures on "Foreign Relations." Only a few days ago it was England that had to bear the whole brunt of American hatred. Unaccountable as we always deemed it, no man was too hard, no incentive too strong, no course too deep or low that could be harled against cold, hard-hearted England. Many were the threats uttered, and terrible the punishment to be visited upon her—her navy was to be "driven from the seas," her commerce annihilated, her flag torn down and trampled in the dust, while she would be compelled to sink back into the rank of a third or fourth-rate power. — All this was to be her hard experience; and for what? "We could never for the life of us discover! Was our Queen called a member of the "fat Dutch House," and the "Royal Palace" likened to a "kennel," merely because England maintained her noble position of neutrality, when the whole world knew that at the real danger she was ready to recognize the Southern Confederacy? True, the facts have long since been forgotten, and the Confederates shipped of war from private ports in England, but this does not affect the great fact that for two whole years she stood in the way of recognition. Perhaps it would have been better for the interests of the world if she had at first yielded to the importunities of Napoleon—

THE ESTIMATES.
The Estimates for 1863 have been laid on the table, and are as follows:—Total expenditure, $1,115,200. The items are the same as Mr. Howard's Estimates, except the following:—Military, $146,700; legislative, $22,757; judicial and charities, $263,743; agriculture, $103,000; public works and buildings, $27,350; roads and bridges, $69,500; miscellaneous, $13,500; collection on the frontier, $103,000; colonization of roads, $20,000; for the Northwest, $10,000. In this estimate, the Government has increased its expenditure on the frontier, and has reduced its expenditure on the Northwest.

THE VOLUNTEER BILL.
The Volunteer Bill, introduced by Mr. Mackenzie, was read a second time, and the Government has agreed to it. The bill provides for the raising of a volunteer force of 100,000 men, and for the payment of allowances to them. The bill is a very important one, and will have a great effect on the military strength of the country.

THE AMERICAN WAR.
New York, Sept. 9.
The steamer "Palmyra," from Havana on the 10th inst., brought from Vera Cruz to the 15th ult., and is of little importance. The capture of Tampico by the French was effected by an expedition of seven vessels, with 1,000 infantry and 70 cavalry. The total number of men was 4,000, and 100,000 dollars were paid for the purchase of arms and ammunition. The French forces occupied Tuxtepec on the 18th, after a slight resistance. Miramon had given his adhesion to the new order of things. The French never was engaged in Havana consistently.

BRIGADE MAJOR'S REPORTS.
A return containing the reports of the Brigade-Majors was laid on the table in the House on Monday. The Gloucester correspondent telegraphs its contents. According to a list of officers appointed to raise corps, the service-rolls which have been received since the beginning up to February, 1863, of the 25,000 Volunteers authorized by the Government. This list comprises a total of 111,000 names in Upper Canada and 60 in Lower Canada.

A GRAND REVIEW.
It is proposed to assemble in Toronto on about the 5th of October, a large number of armed and uniformed men that have been seen in our Canadian field for twenty-five years or more. It is said that if the idea be taken up by the volunteers throughout the country, and the railways send the motion, four thousand volunteers may be assembled, and with the regulars in garrison here, and those who may come from a distance, there will be a small army to manoeuvre and show our young soldiers how battles are fought and won. The lesson will be a capital one, and we hope that the necessary arrangements will be made with spirit. The Northern Company has offered to bring men in uniform from Collingwood, 35 miles distant, and to carry them to Toronto. The volunteers, however, there will be no transport of volunteers, and still a greater show of spectators. The only way to be adopted is to have a thousand dollars towards the expenses, and they could not spend that money with better effect.
