Believes She Was Saved From Stroke of Paralysis

All One Side Was Cold and Powerless When She Began Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

A dead nerve cell can never be replaced. In this way it is different to other cells of the human body. But feeble, wasted nerve cells can be restored, and herein lies hope. In this fact is also a warning to take note of such symptoms as sleeplessness and loss of energy and ambition, and restore the vitality to the nervous system before some form of helplessness results. Nervous prostration, locomotor ataxia and paralysis are the natural results of neglecting to keep the nerves in healthful condition. The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when you suspect there is something wrong, will soon restore vitality to the nervous system, and thereby prevent serious developments. Mrs. Merritt Nichols, R. R. No. 3, Dundalk, Ont., writes: "I take pleasure in writing to tell you the great benefit I have derived from the use

Arter the Ball;

The Mystery Solved at Last.

CHAPTER XIX. Love and Croquet. In one of these stood the Hon. Chandos Holden and the Marquis of Graventon, talking together in languid tones, and criticizing their surroundings in extremely cynical tones. "Tremendous place," said the marquis. "Never saw grounds better laid out."

"No," assented the honorable. "The old fellow knows how to do things. No end of money all this sort of thing costs. He can afford it, though, that's one thing." "Ah, Cornthwaite," he drawled. "Glad to see you, by Jove! Pwetty grounds, eh? Seen Mr. Gweson? Nice old boy. Mr. Gervaise, think we have met before. I admire that p-p-picture of yours immensely. Gwaid! Simply gwaid!" "Do you know that beauty?" said Cornthwaite. "Gervaise and I want an introduction." "Who? W-which?" stammered Lord Crownbrilliant, starting about, although he knew perfectly well whom Lord Cornthwaite meant. "The one in satin and lace," was the reply. "Oh, yes; that's Miss Lawley. Staying with Lady Mildred. Want an introduction? Come along!" And the three went off, Lord Crownbrilliant with a flush of color in his face as he shook hands with her ladyship and Carlotta, introduced his friends, and then reluctantly obeyed a look from an old dowager, who had known his father and himself from his infancy, and crossed over to her. At three o'clock Sir Fielding, Maud and Chudleigh arrived, and Maud found herself speedily surrounded by a throng of respectful admirers, who claimed acquaintance with her on the score of friendship for her father. Her pale, sweet, fresh loveliness was particularly bewitching for the blase men of society, and every step she took some exquisite or other turned to make an inaudible note of genuine admiration. When croquet began, the groups broke up, and the band recommenced playing. Crownbrilliant, Carlotta and Miss Bella found themselves together in one set, while Maud and Tom Gregson were parcelled into another. Chudleigh was chained to a pretty little girl in the archery ground, and with his usual good nature was vainly endeavoring to teach her how to use the bow, while his fine eyes constantly wandered to the noble figure of Carlotta in the distance. Lord Crownbrilliant hated croquet, as he did every other game which necessitated his standing in the hot sun for any length of time, and Carlotta was scarcely one to be particularly delighted with knocking wooden balls through hoops, so that it is little wonder their side came off the losers. "By Jove!" murmured his lordship, shaking his head with a would-be regretful smile. "We've lost, eh? I'm vevy sorry. I said I couldn't play, you know."

Splitting Pains in the Muscles Driven Out Quickly by "Nerviline."

Rheumatic Pains Go—Suffering Cases—Cure Comes in Even Chronic Cases. For aching bones and sore muscles nothing will soothe away the pain like Nerviline. For nerve-racking twinges in the muscles, for torturing backache or lumbago, you'll find Nerviline is full of amazing power. You see, Nerviline has the power—it's about five times stronger than ordinary remedies, and can penetrate very deeply. It contains juices and extracts of certain herbs that give it a strange power to drive out congestion, inflammation or pain. You are safe in using Nerviline. Just rub it on—it won't blister or burn and can do nothing but good. Whenever there is pain or suffering Nerviline will go and will drive it out. It penetrates to every cell of a sore muscle; it sinks to the heart of every stiff sore joint; it searches out the pain of rheumatism quickly. Give Nerviline a trial. See how fast it will limber your lame back, how quickly it will cure neuralgic headache, how fast it will break up a bad cold or ease a sore throat. The best family pain-remedy ever made is Nerviline. Forty years of great success proves this. For emergent ills, when the doctor isn't handy, there is no better remedy than the 50c. family size bottle; trial size 25c., all dealers.

"Never mind; b-b-better next time," he added, with woeful cheerfulness, sucking his mallet. "Play again, Miss Lawley?" he asked, anxiously. "No; I am rather hot," said Carlotta. "Let me go and get a substitute." Lord Crownbrilliant looked delighted. "W-wait a minute," he said. "There's Posony and his sister waiting to come in. I'll go and ask them." And he went over and brought the pair up. "Where is Lady Mildred, I wonder?" said Carlotta, resting her hand upon his arm lightly. "Lady Mildred? In the conservatory," replied Lord Crownbrilliant, promptly, who remembered seeing her ladyship at the end of the lawn behind. "We will go and find her." "Thank you," said Carlotta, unsuspectingly, and they walked off in the direction of the huge glass buildings near the house. "Lucky dog, Crownbrilliant," whispered little Lord Cripson to his neighbor, Mrs. Vavasseur; "got the beauty in his toils."

"I don't know," replied that lady, nibbling her lip, and looking wise—as she was. "Not a very great catch, my lord." "No money?" asked Cripson, who was too old a friend of the lady's to be bashful. "Not a penny," was the reply. "Ah," said his lordship, with evidently cooling admiration. "I don't see Lady Mildred," said Carlotta, when they had reached the center of the artificial world of nature, where stood a rustic fountain from which the water sprang up through a woman's clasped fingers upraised in prayer, until it moistened the clinging leaves above. "I do not think she is here." "At the other end, p'waps," said Lord Crownbrilliant. "Won't you sit down a little while and wait?" and he brushed some leaves from a rock seat for her. Carlotta sank into it, but still looked up and down the tessellated pavements. "Ah, there is Miss Gregson," she said, getting a glimpse of that young lady's expansive crimson costume through a parting of the leaves. "Let us go to her." "Not for a minute or two," pleaded his lordship; "it would be a pity to disturb Miss Gregson; she is evidently quite engrossed. Wait a little while in the cool, and I will go and get you an ice." "Not an ice, thanks," she said. "I am not so hot, but I will rest a little while." And she leaned back, with her large, clear eyes fixed upon the floor. "I'd give a thousand pounds for your thoughts," said he, rather timidly, bending over her. "They are not worth a thousand farthings," she replied, looking up at him calmly. "Then will you tell them to me?" he drawled. "Oh, yes," she replied, "if you like, I was thinking how badly you played croquet." "Were you? By Jove!" he exclaimed, gazing at her with wondering admiration. "D-do you like croquet?" "Not much," she replied. "Nor I," he said, looking pleased. "That's swange, isn't it? Do you know—he! he!—it's vevy ridiculous, but I was thinking the game of life was vevy like the game of croquet." "How?" she said, scarcely hearing him, her eyes fixed on the tall form of

If Strength Declines As Age Advances Follow This Suggestion.

So many women grow old before their time, perhaps your wife or sister. A little while ago, buoyant, full of vigor and activity—she enjoyed life and imparted pleasure to the whole family; but now in a few short years she has faded and lost color and strength. She is just ready to develop some disease that will further weaken and debilitate. You remember how it began failure of appetite, tired in the morning, found household work burdensome, always nervous and a little irritable. It's a shame to let her go down hill further when you can build her up so quickly with Ferrazole. The change this nourishing tonic makes in a weak woman is surprising. It gives great zest for food, increases appetite and digestion enormously. The blood gets richer and stronger and adds new life to every organ in the body. A rebuilding process works through the entire system. The first week will show an improvement, and a month or two will fatten up the thinnest, most run-down woman you can think of. Take Ferrazole for lost color, for nervousness, for weakness—use it when run-down and feeling poorly—it will do you more lasting good, keep you in better health than anything else. Just as good for men and children, too, because Ferrazole is harmless and safe, 50c. per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from the Cattarhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

SUCCESSFUL OPERATIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 18. Official reports from the British headquarters in France to-night reads: Successful operations on both banks of the Ancre were undertaken by our troops this morning, and very considerable further progress was made. South of the river the enemy position opposite the village of Mirambent-Petit Mirambent were attacked and captured. From about one and a half miles we have penetrated over 1,000 yards into the enemy's defenses and advanced our line within a few hundred yards of Petit Mirambent. North of the Ancre an important enemy position on the upper slopes of a spur north of Baillecourt farm, and carried for about 1,000 yards. Hostile counter attacks were successfully driven off. In addition to the heavy losses inflicted on the enemy, 267 prisoners, including five officers, passed through our collection stations. We carried out two raids this morning south of Neuve Chapelle and about east of Ploegkourt, where our troops reached the enemy's second line. A large number of Germans were killed and many depots and machine gun positions destroyed. We captured a few prisoners in each case. Hostile raiding parties west of Lens and east of Givenchy were repulsed with loss. We blew up two mines last night with good results west of La Bassée. In the course of air fighting yesterday one German airplane was brought down in our lines, and two others were driven down damaged. One of ours is missing. The official report from the British headquarters in France to-night reads: The prisoners we took in yesterday's operations on the Ancre now number 12 officers and 761 men. We captured a number of machine guns and mortars. This morning strong enemy forces attacked our new positions of the spur above Baillecourt farm. The enemy infantry advancing in three waves with bodies of supporting troops in the rear, came under our concentrated fire of our artillery and were driven back with heavy losses. Our lines were not reached at any point. We suffered no casualties. We entered German positions during the night southwest and also north of Arras, south of Fauquissart and north of Ypres. We inflicted heavy casualties on the enemy, blew up machine guns and took 19 prisoners who

SUCCESSFUL OPERATIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 17.
Official reports from the British headquarters in France to-night reads Successful operations on both banks of the Aisne were undertaken by our troops this morning, and very considerable further progress was made. South of the river the enemy position opposite the village of Miramont and Petit Miramont were attacked and captured. From about one and a half miles we have penetrated over 1,000 yards into the enemy's defences and advanced our line within a few hundred yards of Petit Miramont. North of the Aisne an important enemy position on the upper slopes of a spur north of Baillencourt farm, was carried for about 1,000 yards. Hostile counter attacks were successfully driven off. In addition to the heavy losses inflicted on the enemy, 267 prisoners, including five officers, passed through our collection stations.

We carried out two raids this morning south of Neuve Chapelle and north east of Ploeghem, where our troops reached the enemy's second line. A large number of Germans were killed, and many dugouts and machine guns destroyed. We captured a few prisoners in each case. Hostile raiding parties west of Lens and east of Givenchy were repulsed with loss. We blew up two mines last night with good results west of La Bassée. In the course of air fighting yesterday, one German airplane was brought down in our lines, and two others were driven down damaged. One of ours is missing.

The official report from the British headquarters in France to-night reads The prisoners we took in yesterday's operations on the Aisne now number 12 officers and 761 men. We captured a number of machine guns and trench mortars. This morning strong enemy forces attacked our new positions on the spur above Baillencourt farm. The enemy infantry advancing in three waves with bodies of supporting troops in the rear, came under the concentrated fire of our artillery and were driven back with heavy losses. Our lines were not reached at any point. We suffered no casualties. We entered German positions during the night southwest and also northwest of Arras, south of Fauquissart and north of Ypres. We inflicted many casualties on the enemy, blew up machine guns and took 19 prisoners.

About Pictures and their correct framing.

The art of Picture-framing is a more intricate one than is generally understood. It is not merely the making of a frame, but the selection of suitable Mouldings for the many different subjects, as pictures that are undoubtedly beautiful are often spoiled by unsuitable framing.

- ¶ We have for many years made Picture-framing a special feature.
- ¶ We have workshops fitted with the most modern appliances for their framing.
- ¶ We have men who understand perfectly what Mouldings are needed to throw up their beauty.
- ¶ We have the largest stock of Mouldings in the city, and—
- ¶ We are prepared to carry out promptly and with complete satisfaction all orders received by us.

Hostile raiding parties were repulsed during the night south of Ypres. We secured prisoners and inflicted a number of casualties. There was considerable manual activity to-day in the neighbourhood of Bouchavesnes, in the Aisne area, and in Ypres sector.

IN MESOPOTAMIA.

LONDON, Feb. 17.
Several important gains against the Turks in Mesopotamia are recorded in an official report made public to-night. In addition to forcing the Turks back on the Tigris river, the British captured 1,995 prisoners.

HUNGARIAN PAPERS AND THE SUB. WARFARE.

BERNE, Feb. 17.
Three Budapest newspapers condemn the submarine warfare. The 'Pesti Naplo' attacks Count Von Reventlow as the principal exponent of submarine warfare, and demands he be placed in restraint. The Socialist organ, 'Nepvas', attacks Admiral Von Tirpitz and demands a cessation of what it calls murder at sea. The 'Pesti Hirlap' publishes expressions from three members of the Chamber of Deputies who are opposed to the submarine warfare. One of them is quoted as saying, "We made the whole world turn against us." Another, "All American countries are joining our enemies. This is sheer madness." Count Karoly, the leader of the Hungarian Independent party, the newspaper adds, said: "I regret deeply the phase of the war into which we entered with the declaration of the submarine warfare."

TURKS ADMIT RETIREMENT.

LONDON, Feb. 17.
Two Turkish official reports received to-day admit retirement on the Tigris. A communication under date of Thursday says: "After an enemy attack against our right wing had been repulsed, part of our positions were evacuated according to orders to prevent needless losses. A second communication under this date reads: 'On the Tigris front we executed a slight backward movement to avoid unnecessary casualties.'

GERMANS AGAIN DRESS UP.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 18.
Germans dressed in white yesterday took the offensive against the Russians near Kochava, southwest of Dvinsk, on the northern end of the eastern front, and broke into the front line Russian trench. Russian reserves, says the official issued to-day by the war office, immediately drove out the Teutons. In the Carpathians Russian detachments surprised and captured without firing a shot a strongly fortified Austro-German position southwest of Okna. German counter attacks were repulsed.

EXPRESSIONS OF FRIENDSHIP.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.
Expressions of friendship for the United States and the hope that the friendly relations may continue, have been given to Ambassador Elkus by the Turkish Foreign Office. The despatch from the Ambassador makes no reference to Turkey supporting Germany's submarine policy or that she intends to apply it with the few submarines known to be under her flag.

FRENCH RAID.

PARIS, Feb. 17.
French troops last night invaded a German trench at Zote in Brete on the left bank of the River Moselle, near Pont a Mousson, and destroyed Teuton works and shelters. On the rest of the front in France, according to the official statement issued by the war office this afternoon, there were only patrol encounters.

THINKING IT OVER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.
The advisability of going before Congress on March 4th to make certain that he be clothed with sufficient power to protect American lives and property from German submarines, was discussed by President Wilson on Saturday with Senators whom he called into conference during a brief visit to the Capitol. After it was indicated the President had not made up his mind on the question, but had such a step under consideration, because of the possibility after adjournment that

Lloyd George then details the proposals sudden emergency might arise necessitating action before Congress could be called together again.

FAMINE IN GREECE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.
The Greek Legation statement issued here to-day, says: Famine is resulting from the Entente blockade of the coast of Greece. The poorer classes are living on herbs and grass. It also is declared that despite compliance with the ultimatum of the Allies, there has been no relaxation of blockade measures.

MOVEMENTS OF STEAMERS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.
The Associated Press to-night sends out the following: Twelve steamers, one of them flying the American flag, sailed from here to-day, presumably for European ports, which will necessitate a passage through the "prohibited zone" announced by Germany. Three vessels which came through the restricted area, one of which was of American registry, arrived here. Two of the steamers departing to-day, the British liner Laconia for Liverpool, and the French liner Roma for Marseilles, are passenger ships. Whether any American passengers are aboard is not disclosed.

THE POTATO QUESTION.

LONDON, Feb. 18.
Premier Lloyd George, an official announcement says, has telegraphed the Lord Mayor of Manchester the following: The War Cabinet has considered the difficulties which have arisen in certain districts in connection with the operation of the price of potatoes under January 1. That order was issued by the Food Controller to insure the price was not inflated unduly in consequence of a shortage of supplies. Recent prolonged frosts have reduced stocks and interrupted distributions; accordably whereby growers are entitled to charge nine pounds a ton to dealers until March 31st and ten pounds a ton thereafter, while the selling price to retailers should be ten guineas until March 31st and eleven pounds ten shillings thereafter. The price which the retailer may charge is three half pence a pound to March 31st and one penny three farthings thereafter to end of June. It has been necessary to readjust the interest of all parties. The departments concerned, therefore, at my request, conferred with representatives of wholesale and retail traders and submitted proposals which were approved by the war cabinet. Premier

INDIA'S WAR MEASURE.

LONDON, Feb. 18.
A Reuter despatch from Delhi says that among the new war measures adopted by the Indian Government are a severe curtailment of the railway services and organization of India's industrial and natural resources with a view to increasing the output of munitions. In addition an order has been issued forbidding all children to sail for England except for the most urgent reasons.

HUN CASUALTIES.

LONDON, Feb. 18.
The casualties in the German army, exclusive of Colonial troops, reported in German casualty lists for the month of January, 1917, totalled 77,634 officers and men, killed, wounded, prisoners or missing. These casualties bring the total of Germans killed, those who died of wounds or sickness, to 988,329, and the total casualties since the war began to 4,087,692.

SURRENDER LOSSES.

LONDON, Feb. 18.
Lloyds Shipping Agency announce the British steamer Valdes, 2,285 tons gross, has been torpedoed and sunk without warning. The captain and others of the crew landed. The British steamer Worcestershire, 7,715 tons gross, is reported sunk, and also the British steamer Romsdaalen, 2,548 tons gross.

DENIES ALLEGATIONS.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 18.
Viscount Milner, Minister without portfolio, and member of the British War Council, took occasion at a reception held here to-day in honor of the delegates to the Entente Conference, to deny the allegations printed in Austro-German papers that the prolonged sojourn of delegates in Russia is due to a divergence of views among them. Lord Milner averred that complete harmony prevailed at the conference from the beginning, and that the protraction was due entirely to the multiplicity of matters needing discussion.

NEW APPOINTMENT.

LONDON, Feb. 18.
Sir Arthur Lee, member of Fareham Division of Hampshire, has been appointed Director General of food production. Sir Arthur Lee was British military attaché with the United States Army during the Spanish-American war.

LOWTHER'S DECLARATION.

LONDON, Feb. 18.
Addressing a meeting in London to-night, the Speaker of the House of Commons, Right Hon. James William Lowther declared it was impossible for British statesmen to make any agreement with the German Government as now constituted. It would be necessary before signing any peace or any agreement, he said, to insist it must be with a Government different in essence and constitution from the present one.

RUSSIA'S SHIPBUILDING.

LONDON, Feb. 18.
A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Co. from Petrograd says the Russian Minister of Commerce has introduced in the Duma a bill under the terms of which the Government will devote 100 million roubles toward the creation of a Russian mercantile fleet. The money is to be employed in advances to ship-builders, to encourage the construction of ship-yards and provide equipment for them.

GERARD HONORED.

PARIS, Feb. 18.
James W. Gerard, former American Ambassador to Germany, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given at the Foreign Office by Premier Briand to-day. There was a distinguished company present including diplomatic representatives of all the Entente Powers. Gerard was accompanied by the American Ambassador to France, William Graves Sharp. Both were recipients of many marks of cordiality.

NEW MINISTRY FOR AUSTRALIA.

LONDON, Feb. 18.
A Reuter Melbourne correspondent says the Australian ministry headed by Wm. Hughes tendered its resignation. The Governor-General commissioned Hughes to form another, which has now been sworn in. The new ministry is a coalition which will be known as the Commonwealth War Government. Hughes will retain the post of Premier and Attorney General. Joseph Hume Cook, the leader of the Opposition, is given the portfolio of Minister of the Navy.

British Successes.

Today's news is most gratifying, particularly to British subjects. The King's forces have made splendid gains on the Ancre, which give promise of others far more considerable, while the Turks on the Tigris are being rapidly rounded up. "Great Britain's year" is beginning well, under auspices which show the tide to be no misnomer.

There is now no doubt that the Somme offensive has recommenced in earnest, though for the present the British alone, on the Ancre, are active. A glance at the map will show the progress made in the last fortnight and its important bearing upon future operations. The Ancre, an inconceivable stream, rises just south of Bapaume and flows west passes midway between Beaumont Hamel and Thiépval. Prior to the recent fighting, the British line ran roughly from Serre to the Tigris, but it has now been advanced both north and south of the river. Miraumont and Petit Miraumont are separated by the stream, and the British, after taking Grandcourt, are now within a stone's throw of Petit Miraumont. When both villages have been taken the western gateway to Bapaume will have been forced; that is the encouraging essence of the position.

But there is a feature of these operations even more encouraging than this, or the taking of any number of villages. This is the striking transformation effected by the British in the relative values, or costs, of the offensive and defensive. It spells the ultimate defeat of Germany more surely than anything else. As long as an attack, however successful territorially, was more costly than the defence, it was feasible for the Germans to hope that they would sooner or later wear down the offensive, and reasonable to talk of "selling" the occupied territory. The metaphor is no longer applicable. The territory has ceased to be a thing to bargain with and has become a penalty. So overwhelming are the successive positions, so far as the offensive is concerned, that it almost achieves its object unaided; and the infantry are able to advance behind a moving barrage of fire that effectually curtails such power of resistance as remains. This may not be true everywhere, but it is now the general rule, and the large significance of it is not always kept in sight. The struggles for these successive positions are pitched battles, unequivocal tests of strength. The Germans cannot claim the element of surprise as an excuse. They have ample warning that the attack is coming, and when it does come it succeeds because it is stronger than the defence. In these latter instances, too, it has succeeded under conditions that cannot be considered the most favourable. The lay observer has been pleasantly surprised, and is encouraged to believe General Haig's prediction, implicitly, that the German line will soon be broken, and broken in several places.

Meantime, one ugly item at least is being quickly wiped off the slate. The Turks at Kut are in a bad way. There is no doubt that the humiliating reverses that have befallen them, and his gallant garrison will be more than revenged, for the force that is hemmed in on the Tigris is a considerable one. Its destruction or capture is more valuable at the present moment than even the taking of Baghdad would be. We are only at the beginning of big events in Asia; the British in Palestine and the Russians in Armenia are not there for nothing.

Finally, another great victory, less obvious because less defined, is being won by British arms: the hostility of the Budapest newspapers to the submarine campaign and Turkey's anxious expressions of friendliness to the United States are eloquent of the failure of Germany's move. It is not likely we should hear adverse criticism of the campaign from the enemy's camp if it showed any promise of the success which alone would justify its adoption to them. "It is sheer madness," one critic says, which turns all American countries into enemies. And sinkings are few and far between, while even American ships now traverse the prescribed areas. It will be a bitter day for Germany, and is not far distant, when to knowledge of the reverses on the Somme must be added the recognition that her boasted weapon, that was to have destroyed the enemy alliance, has but increased it powerfully.

Christmas With "Ours"

France, Jan. 24th, 1917.
Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly allow me space in your widely circulated paper to say a few words in reference to Christmas amongst our boys, both at the depot in Ayr, and also at the front. As I spent Christmas at the depot I can give a rough estimate as to how it was spent there, and having met the boys who were at the front then, I am also able to give you an idea how they fared.

In Ayr all the boys felt happy and all enjoyed the turkey and plum pudding which was provided for them. The dinner was by no means the most important item on that occasion, but rather the tobacco and cigarettes which was sent from the "Christmas May-o-Lind Fund." I am sure one and all were very much pleased to see the photo of our missing hero in each box. It was indeed a tribute of honor to him, who died for his country, and who whilst alive enriched all newspaper readers in Newfoundland with his splendid descriptive letters.

"May he rest in peace."

At the front the boys received the turkey and tobacco just as those did at the depot. They too must have been deeply grateful to the friends at home for subscribing to the fund which gave them the tobacco and cigarettes.

"Ours" are still inspired with the strong fighting spirit which has been so remarkably shown on more than one occasion since their entry in the war.

Wishing you a happy and prosperous New Year.

I remain, yours truly,
Lance-Corp. WALTER SCAMMELL.

A Splendid Report.

North American Life had Another Very Successful Year.

Mr. L. Goldman, President of the North American Life Assurance Company in his address to the Policyholders at the Thirty-sixth Annual Meeting, reported the business of 1916 as the best in the Company's successful history. He pointed out an interesting fact that during the past year the large sum of $1,591,000.33 was paid to policy holders or their beneficiaries, of which sum $262,684.26 was paid as dividends or surplus, while the Guarantors received only $6,000 an evidence of the preponderant interest of the Policy holders.

The figures for the past year reflect the highest degree of credit upon the management who so successfully directed the business. New Policies issued and revived amounted to $10,189,539.00, an increase of more than a million over 1915. The total Assurance Policy has been increased to $59,685,112.00. The cash income for the year was the largest in its history, amounting to $2,912,514.00.

The financial position of the Company is unexcelled. Assets now amount to $16,442,713.47. The net Surplus held on Policyholders' now amounts to the large sum of $2,557,406.84—more than those strong features which so forcibly commend this Company to the insuring public.

Gosse and Wife Stand Charged With Manslaughter

Both Faced Trial this Morning—Dr. Rendell and Servt. M. J. Savage Give Evidence.

His Lordship Justice Kent presided at the Supreme Court this morning in the case of the King vs. James Gosse and Elizabeth Gosse, who are charged with unlawfully killing Mary Gosse, aged 6 years, whose death took place on Dec. 12, 1915. The following were sworn: Fred Callahan, John Winsor, William J. Moore, William Bagnall, Richard Bognall, Thorburn A. McNab, William Bowden, George Hall, Thomas Hann, William Ebsary, David Dempsey, Patrick Foley, Mr. L. E. Emerson, Counsel for the Crown addressed the jury and pointed out the serious nature of the case. The victim was a child of 6 years and for some time previous to the second marriage of her father was looked after by the Belvidere Orphanage, but was taken from that institution about seven weeks previous to her death and was then in a good state of health. Dr. Scully visited the home and reported the child to be in an unhealthy and dirty condition and to be covered with vermin. The opinion of Dr. Scully and Rendell was that the child had been starved to death. Dr. Rendell was called and sworn and examined by Mr. L. E. Emerson. He said in part, "On December 16th I visited the house of James Gosse Pleasant Street, and in the top room of the house lying on the floor was the child Mary Gosse, covered by a dirty quilt, part of which it lay on. She was partly dressed in day clothing and extremely filthy from dirt and vermin, and in the last stages of emaciation. I examined the child with my sight, touch and hearing and reported my finding to the police. On further examining the body of the child after death the surgeon discovered two bruises on the left arm and leg while the head was swarming with vermin. There was no trace of life under the skin or on the internal organs. At the top of the left lung there were tubercular indications, but the brain and heart were in a healthy condition. There was no evidence of food having passed through the body for a considerable time. The stomach was dark fluid which he described as water stained with bile and in his opinion the child died from starvation.

Cross-examined by Mr. Higgins, Dr. Rendell said, "On Saturday afternoon on the 18th of December I received a message which was written on my book. It may have been put there before 11 a.m. or possibly on Friday night; the exact time I cannot say. I instructed nurse Malone to go to the house where the child lay and report to me which she did at 8 a.m. on Monday, the 18th inst. It is the custom where tuberculosis is not, in the nurses' opinion, apparent not to do anything further in the matter. No thing could have been done to save the child as she was too far gone."

Re-examined by Mr. Emerson Dr. Rendell said that the absence of the foregoing did not alter his opinion that the child was starved to death. The surroundings, any it caused the lack of appetite, but the condition of the child's heart and brain being healthy, it was not necessary for the child to refuse to eat. The intestines were so transparent that the could not be handled." Servt. Michael J. Savage was the next witness and in reply to questions asked by the Counsel for the Crown said: "I visited the home of James Gosse about 2.30 p.m. Dec. 18th and found both prisoners at home. I also saw a female child about seven years old, lying on an empty onion bed about two or three feet long and 2 inches wide. The feet of the child projected over the sides of the bed and between the box and the child was a braided stuff with hay. She was covered with a few pieces of dirt quilt and the window was closed. The child had on some of her day clothing including a shirt and a pair of trousers stays, both of which were dirty. Vermin were noticeable all over the child, while her face and hands were also unclean, and I would describe her as a living skeleton. I asked Mr. Gosse if she had not a better place put the child and her things for her as a living skeleton. I asked Mr. Gosse if she had not a better place put the child and her things for her as a living skeleton. I asked Mr. Gosse if she had not a better place put the child and her things for her as a living skeleton. I asked Mr. Gosse if she had not a better place put the child and her things for her as a living skeleton."

The Mistakes They Don't Make.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Did you ever see a salesgirl make out a slip? You think that's an extraordinary thing. But I don't mean just look at her; I mean see her. For that is one of the innumerable little activities that go on under our eyes so often that we never really see them. We've all watched the shop girl in our favorite shop make out slips a hundred times, and then we've brought those slips home. And yet I don't believe one woman in a hundred—no a thousand—could tell what the clerk has to write on the slip.

I am sure I couldn't. That is, not until recently. The other day when I was shopping, something drew my attention to the process and I studied it.

What She Has To Write.

And this is what the girl in that particular shop had to put on the slip for every purchase; even if it were not more than five cents.

The number of the department.

The sales number.

The date.

The number of pieces in the purchase.

Whether the article was charged or paid for.

Whether it was carried or sent.

The purchaser's address, including name with initials, street and number, town, state.

And finally the price which has to appear in three different places.

And Not At Her Leisure, Either.

All this has to be done as fast as fingers can fly while a customer, very likely an impatient one, is waiting for her bundle.

When the purchase is not a charge, money must be carefully handled.

Frequently a would-be customer interrupts to ask some question (which very likely should have been addressed to a floor walker) and is highly indignant if it is not promptly answered.

And then we find fault because now and then there is a wrong item on the bill or a package is delayed, and marvel at the mistakes the clerks "manage to make."

To my mind, now I stop to think of it, there is a far greater marvel than that.

The Nova Scotia "Lumber King" says:

"I consider MINARD'S LINIMENT the best LINIMENT in use. I got my foot badly jammed lately. I bathed it well with MINARD'S LINIMENT and it was as well as ever next day."

Yours very truly,
T. G. McMULLEN.

YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS.

It must not be forgotten that the period of infancy is a period of education, often of greater consequence than any other years of life. Not only are all the organs and functions given their primary education, but the faculties of the mind as well receive their initial impulses that determine very largely their direction and efficiency through life.

It is because the brain is so sensitive of impressions early in life that we remember throughout life things that happened in our early years, while nearer events are entirely forgotten. It is therefore, these early stimuli are sent in orderly fashion, the habits thus established and also the tendency to form such habits, will persist through life.

THE SLUGGARD.

I heard the sluggard say, when he was young and fair, "This is too fine a day for labor, I declare. Beside a babbling brook in comfort I'll recline, and read a helpful book, and make its message mine. The reapers reap their grain, the farmers bale their hay; and work no doubt seems sane to people built that way. But better is a dream than any kind of toil; by the babbling stream I'll read up 'Whist on boys'." I heard the sluggard say, when age had made him blue, "All through the weary day I wander fro and to; some little job I ask, however small the wage; most any kind of task, to help me in old age. But for my plea and groan no sympathy is felt; the hearts of men are stone, and granite will not melt." Whene'er I see a youth who wastes his golden years, I'd like to push some truth into his foolish ears. Age is the time to rest beside a babbling brook, white whiskers on your chest, and in your hands a book. Youth is the time, my dears, to cut a goodly swath, and your declining years won't find you in the broth.

Everyday Etiquette.

"What does R. S. V. P. mean on an invitation?" asked Ethel.

"The letters stand for the French 'Repondez s'il vous plait' which means 'Reply if you please.' A positive reply should be sent whether an invitation bears these letters or not," was the advice of her mother.

TWO MORE STEAMERS SUNK.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Two more British ships have been sent to bottom by German submarines. The aggregate tonnage is 4,233 tons. Another British steamer, Worcester-shire, 7,175 tons, is reported sunk. The German official communication announces the sinking during one day by a single submarine, 51,800 tons of Italian vessels, auxiliary cruisers, 20,000 tons, two auxiliary cruisers of transports, 13,600 tons each, transport 4,600 tons.

RESULTS SATISFACTORY.

British Headquarters in France, via London, Feb. 18.—The total number of prisoners taken by the British yesterday in their advance on both sides of the Ancre toward Miranmont and Pys is estimated to-night at approximately 800, although all the battalions engaged have not yet sent final reports. All the prisoners are Prussians. They include twelve commissioned and over a score of non-commissioned officers. The fog which shut down yesterday, bringing operations to a standstill, lifted partially today. The Germans made counter-attacks which were repulsed with heavy casualties to the attackers. Some of the German companies opposed to the British were completely wiped out during the attack. All those not dead or not wounded are being made prisoners. The highest was 85 prisoners from one company. Some of the prisoners belong to the famous 89th Grenadier Guards. All the captured Germans were laden down with picture postcards and pencils. They had scarcely anything else. The post cards generally were sentimental, most of them portraying the soldiers' home coming. The British troops were greatly pleased with success of their attack in view of the fact that the Germans anticipated some such forward movement and had repulsed, what the prisoners say was believed to be an unbearable defence. At one point on the British front today a German was seen running across No. 1's Land with his hands above his head.

"Wise Men"

A great many people often argue that there is a lot of luck in business, maybe there is, but it doesn't come to the man who sits in his private office and waits for it to visit his store. If there really is luck in getting trade, it has to be dug out and captured and held fast. Holding trade and increasing it, when all's said and done is not luck, it is enterprise. The man who has ideas is not the lucky one at all times. His ideas are worth nothing if he doesn't put them into action. The man who develops trade is the man who always persists in selling "Staffford's Liniment" in preference to any other Liniment asked for in Newfoundland. Over 30,000 bottles sold in 1916 ought to be a good guarantee as to its qualities and results.

"Staffford's Liniment" is manufactured only by DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, St. John's, Nfld. feb17, tf

Lenten Regulations.

The following Lenten Regulations were announced at the R. C. Cathedral yesterday:

- Regulations for Lent.
1. Every day in Lent, except Sunday, is a fast day, on which one meal only and a collation are allowed. A slight refection, however, over and above, may be taken by those who need it, by advice of the Confessor.
  2. By an Indult from the Holy See, renewed April 24, 1914 (ad decennium), i.e., until 1924, permission is given to use in cooking the lard or fat of animals on all fast days throughout the year, except Ash Wednesday and Good Friday.
  3. Also by the same Indult the use of flesh meat is allowed on all Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays of Lent, except Saturday in Ember Week (March 3rd) and Holy Saturday (April 7th).
  4. On Sundays, flesh meat may be eaten as often as desired, but it is forbidden to eat fish and flesh meat at the same meal.
  5. Milk, butter, cheese and eggs are allowed on all days, also at the collation, except on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday.
  6. The Faithful are exhorted to make some compensation for these Apostolic Indulgences by other pious works and by giving alms to the poor.
  7. All persons under 21 years of age and over 60 are exempt from the fast. Also all engaged in hard labour, or who have to earn their living by daily work of a difficult kind, and all who are in a delicate state of health.
  8. All dances, parties, balls, etc., are strictly forbidden during Lent.

DEVOTIONS:

During Lent there will be devotions at the Cathedral every evening, except Saturdays, at half-past seven o'clock. The devotions will be as follows:

On Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays—Rosary and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

On Wednesdays—Rosary, Sermon and Benediction.

On Fridays—Stations of the Cross and Benediction, with the relic of the True Cross.

Saturday evenings will be given up entirely to Confessions. Confessions will also be heard after devotions on the morning evenings of the week; and at any other time by appointment with any of the Priests.

THE P. ROCHE, Archbishop of St. John's, Quinquagesima Sunday, February 18th, 1917.

Saturday's Carnival.

Despite the blinding drift and deep snow of Saturday afternoon there was a large attendance at the Children's Carnival at the Prince's Rink. The costumes were pretty and varied in design, most of which displayed happiness in connection with the present war. The first prize for girls was awarded to Miss Mary Vinnicombe, daughter of Councillor and Mrs. Vinnicombe, this being the fourth year in succession that she has taken first place. Her costume was a unique one and represented the Kaiser tearing up a treaty. The prize was a beautiful brooch. Little Miss Baird won the second prize.

The first prize for boys was awarded to Gordon Higgins, son of Mr. W. J. Higgins, who represented an entrapped submarine, and was dressed in the uniform of the Newfoundland Naval Reserve. The second prize was awarded to the little son of Dr. and Mrs. Fraser.

What a Gas Range Means for You, Mrs. Housekeeper.

The gas range is a muscle saver and a step saver. Think of the many tons of coal you used in that coal range, and how you have had to handle it all twice; first, carrying it up out of the cellar; then, from the kitchen to the sink barrel.

No more coal to wipe away; no more ashes to cart away; no more wood to fetch; no more coal dust; no more smoke and no more reason why the kitchen cannot be kept as clean and as orderly as the parlor. The gas range means just this.

Saves 50 Per Cent. of Kitchen Cares.

Half of the labor in the house is caused by dust from the coal range. Every time it smokes, no matter how good the draught may be, clouds of ashes rise and settle on the furniture.

It Eliminates Hard Work.

Use a gas range and you will live better, you will play better, and you will work better because the use of the gas range eliminates the drudgery of carrying coal, ashes and the chopping of kindling, as well as the drudgery of cleaning up a lot of dirt, and, best of all, for the cook it makes it unnecessary for her to stand over a hot stove from two to three hours a day.

Charity Day.

APPRECIATION OF CURLING CLUB.

Editor Evening Telegram.

The President, Officers and Members of the St. John's (Nfld.) Curling Association sincerely thank the Press for valuable assistance in announcing their grand Charity Day. It was their record, even surpassing "Soldiers and Sailors' Day" of last year. The amount realized was $1,045.00, and is to be divided among the various city denominations.

I would like to add my personal thanks and appreciation.

Believe me to remain,

From a Harvard Professor.

To the Editor of the Boston Transcript.

Enclosed please find letter from Professor Sabine of Harvard.

A. W. SABINE.

Jan. 20, 1917.

Etalissements du Dr. Rollier, Clinique Miremon, Leysin, Switzerland.

Dear Mother:—A little over two weeks since your last letter. I think it makes a good deal of difference whether the mail comes through England or by the French lines. The latter is much better.

All Switzerland is very much excited now by a very real fear that Germany is contemplating an invasion. On the other hand, Switzerland does not want an early peace. She knows, as the whole world must know, that if peace came now it would be her turn to be swallowed up in a very few years, and an unresisting world, a world incapable of resisting, would look on. If the struggle must come she wants it now. Do not be misled by the courtesy of her advertisement of Wilson's most ill-advised note. Switzerland, German and French, Swiss alike, fears Germany. They fear a Germany defeated, but infinitely more a Germany arrogant in a brutal, vicious ruthlessness. Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, fear and know that the same fate would await them. A world war by the father would be followed by another world war by the son, who is even more militaristic than his father. No worse calamity could befall the world, no more ominous event could occur in history than peace at the present moment. Preparation must not mean victory.

If you were to see out of your window almost every day, as I do, the funeral of a French soldier, with muffled drums, or the following files of French, English, Belgian prisoners of war wind its way down the mountain-side to the valley below—if you could see the wounded lying on their backs everywhere, in the houses, on the terrace below, waiting their turn—you would say with Lincoln, not Wilson, "They shall not have died in vain."

WALLACE C. SABINE.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of the wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At first they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine." A lady who used it says: "The symptoms seemed very with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to do so.

ASK FOR MINARD'S LINDENT AND TAKE NO OTHER.

Blockading the Neutrals

If Germany has taken into account all the probable results of her course as fully as is indicated by the reports, she must have calculated upon a result which, though not apparent at first glance, is reasonably sure. That is that if the United States is forced into war, and if Germany's war zone is as effective as she expects it to be, she will have automatically blockaded the European neutrals.

Granting that she can succeed in cutting off the United States from England, she will also, if we enter the war, cut the United States off from Holland, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Denmark and Spain. If we become her enemy, she will attack our ships wherever she can find them and will impartially cut off our trade from every country in Europe. What will be the effect of that severance upon our commercial course?

The effect will be that we shall strain every nerve to deliver our goods to Great Britain, France, and Italy, which will be fighting our adversary. We shall do that merely as a matter of military policy, if for no other reason. The neutrals will be the chief sufferers by the effectiveness of Germany's blockade. At present Germany undoubtedly gets a good deal of what we export to them, notwithstanding the agreements by which they are restrained from delivering such goods to her. There is a thriving trade in smuggled goods across the frontiers. When the neutrals are blockaded from us as well as from England, nothing will be smuggled. The starvation of Germany will be accelerated rather than retarded.—N. Y. Times.

Hockey Notes.

The Terra Nova and Victorians will test each other to the fullest extent this evening. It is not possible for Ref. Higgins to conduct the game, as expected. The personnel of the teams are not all exactly known yet.

The Feldians and Vics. will meet Friday.

The fans would like, before the season too far advances, to see a game between a picked team from the League and a team of "has beans," such as those who played last year, in aid of the W. P. A. fund.

Two rules for making soup are that it should be slowly cooked and be free from grease.

The Right Man.

The appointment of Mr. Stewart Lyon, Editor of the Toronto Globe, to represent the press of Canada at the front is an admirable selection. Mr. Lyon is one of the best equipped journalists in Canada. He has made a close study of military strategy, and has had some experience in the field in former wars, if our recollection serves us aright, both in South Africa and in Cuba, at the time of the Spanish-American war. He is a bright, forceful and vigorous writer. The War summary, printed from day to day, in the Toronto Globe, as written by him, has been probably the best of its kind in any paper on the continent. It has been admirably done; and has attracted wide attention for its knowledge of strategy and its readable and informing presentation of the events of the war. We believe that newspapermen generally will approve the choice of the Directors of the Canadian Press and will agree with them that the best possible man has been chosen for this important work. It has been a matter of grave complaint that from the beginning of the war, we have received very little real news of what our Canadian troops have done. We have had "eye witness" accounts, which were in most instances of no value. We want the story of the achievements of our gallant Canadian boys told by a Canadian, a man who understands the Canadian viewpoint, who knows what Canadians are thinking, and hoping, and longing for, and we believe that Mr. Stewart Lyon is the right man for the job.—Halifax Chronicle.

Some Naval Reservists.

Royal Naval Seaman Albert H. Brushett, son of Mrs. Louisa Brushett, 45 Towers Hill, St. John's, is amongst the survivors of the ill-fated H. M. S. Laurentic. He sailed for England, Dec. 20th, 1916, and on reaching the other side was drafted to the ship. A few days before the Laurentic sailed, five of her crew, all Newfoundlanders, were transferred to another ship, which in all probability was the means of saving their lives. Their names are:—Avery, S. Ford, A. Maidment, W. Pike, and C. Somerton. The last mentioned is a son of Mr. Richard Somerton, of Portugal Cove, and brother of Pte. W. J. Somerton, a badly wounded Gallipoli and Beaumont Hamel veteran, and Corporal P. Somerton, now in France, who was among the first to leave here for the Old Country and has had some trying experiences in the North Sea, Atlantic Ocean and Eastern waters.

Reservist Boucher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boucher, of Arnold's Cove, has had the misfortune to be on two ships that were sunk, one of which was the Andania.

With the Sealers.

The Sable I. is gone to Bay of Islands where she will get most of her crew. The Seal will get her sealers at Chancel.

The Thetis will be the largest ship engaged in the hunt this spring.

The local ships are now provisioning and taking on board boats, guns, etc. All will clear from northern outports on March 10th for the front.

Twelve ships will comprise the entire fleet this spring.

The crew of the Viking, which will go to the Gulf, will sign on shortly. Capt. Wm. Bartlett, Sr., is the oldest and most experienced seal killer going out. That he will return this spring with a bumper trip is the wish of his many friends.

Three Heroes of Memorable Battle Reach Town.

By the express which reached the city Saturday afternoon there arrived home on sick furlough Corporal Alphonse Cahill, Private A. Tipples and Private F. Rowe, all battle-scarred heroes. They were met at the station by Acting Premier Bennett, the ladies of the Reception Committee and many of their relatives and friends. After being addressed by the Acting Premier, the soldiers were driven to Government House where they were warmly welcomed by His Excellency the Governor and Lady Davidson.

Each of the returned heroes bears honorable wounds received in the memorable "great push" of October 12th last, in which the Newfoundland Regiment played such a prominent and triumphant part. During the great advance Corpl. Cahill was hit by shrapnel in the thigh when about fifty yards away from the German trenches. While wounded he lay in a shell hole and witnessed the bayonet fighting and hand-to-hand engagements. The slaughter was terrible; about one thousand Germans were killed and more taken prisoners. The trenches were captured by "Ours" in the evening of Oct. 12th and were held and consolidated all that night, despite three counter attacks. Speaking of losses, Corpl. Cahill said our losses were nothing compared to what the Germans were. A remarkable coincidence happened in connection with Corpl. Cahill's service while on active service. By mistake he was officially reported missing after the "big drive" of July 1st and his relatives and friends here, it will be remembered, had mourned his loss. Later it transpired that Corpl. Cahill was still in the flesh and that the one missing was the late Pte. J. Cahill, who was taken prisoner by the enemy. Since then he has died in Germany. He was mentioned in Sir Douglas Haig's report for conspicuous gallantry.

Corpl. Cahill, who was wounded in the leg, had the main artery severed and it is not likely that he will ever be able to resume active service again. He is looking well and enjoying the best of health.
