ROBINSON, K.C., SAYS SETTLE SUIT

Against the Consumers' Gas Co. on the Terms Proposed—The Day at the City Hall.

It transpires that Hon. J. M. Gibson, Attorney-General of Ontario, has developed into an enemy of the corporation, and the stand taken by three county judges in regard to the scrap iron assessment law apparently meets with his approval.

This communication came in response to one from Mr. Caswell, who had conferred with the Attorney-General regarding the counterfeiting legislation passed last session.

Money for Prison Reform.

City Hall Notes.

The Mayor in a message to the Council of the City of Toronto, called attention to the fact that the city was in a financial straits.

Two Men Taken.

Mr. Casella drew a pathetic picture of John Smith, just released from jail, his character gone, no work, no money, and no one to care for him.

PRESCRIBED BY PHYSICIANS FOR THROAT AND LUNGS

Were evidence needed of the welcome accorded both by the public and the Medical Profession to Angier's Emulsion, the testimonials here published, though but a few out of many hundreds received, would be sufficiently conclusive.

It is certainly worth an equal. It not only soothes and heals the affected parts, but it strengthens and invigorates the entire system.

SAVING NIGHT'S BOXING BOUTS.

Bennett Busy at the B. Club—Honorary Secretary of the B. Club.

Jack Bennett was in a busy day with his corps of local trainers yesterday at the B. Club. He is already at the weight, and is taking the work in anticipation of a tough contest.

Famous Mineral Springs At St. Catharines, Ont. At One Time Famous All Over the World—Twenty Years Ago the Best-Known Medicinal Springs in This Country.

THE INDIANS OF A CENTURY AGO KEPT PERFECT HEALTH BY BATHING IN THEIR WATERS.

Many, many years ago, before civilization had reached its present stage, the white inhabitants of that region now known as the "Garden spot of Canada," living between lakes Erie and Ontario, were the occasional missionary or a half-breed in search of wild game for his skin, there roamed about the Niagara frontier the tribes of Chippewa Indians. These aborigines were noted for many of their qualities. They were intrepid hunters and in the chase for game or war they were of great endurance and of the strongest and best physique of all the North American Indians. So perfect was their health that the medicine men of the tribe had little to do, and traditionaries seemed to show that they had reached the springs of perpetual youth, and, indeed, they had, for in the waters of a spring that bubbled sprightly forth from the ground near what is now St. Catharines, Ont., there were medicinal qualities that seemed to impart a new vitality to the body in a very short period of time. The early white settlers were quick to see the benefit coming from these springs, and their fame spreading far and wide, from pilgrimages were frequently made to distant points, both houses were erected and a small settlement sprang up in the neighborhood, perhaps indeed the first health resort in this country. As time went on and methods of quicker communication came in vogue, the wonderful stories of suffering humanity were heard throughout this country and Europe, and people of wealth and culture from the most civilized countries of the world came to the springs, and, after taking treatment for several weeks, departed in good health and vigor, and in their praise of the "Fountain of Youth" in this Northern clime. The new era of the duffer course passed from one end of the country to the other, hotels sprang up, and the springs passed into the sanitarium stage. As analysis of the waters shows a specific gravity of 1.0688, or slightly more than sea water, 10,000 grains of water contain:

Table listing mineral content: Carbonate of iron 0.0220, Carbonate of lime 19.7834, Sulphate of calcium 13.7445, Chloride of calcium 46.4844, Chloride of magnesium 378.4196, Chloride of sodium 28.110, Iodide of sodium 0.0149, Bromide of sodium 0.017088.

These figures, perhaps of no significance to the ordinary reader, tell a story of intense interest to every physician. In the natural order of things, the water, but on boiling turns almost as clear as the purest distilled water. H. M. System of Therapeutics, p. 205, has edited in 1891, speaks of this spring as follows: "A large number of saline springs exist in America and Europe, very strong water of this kind being the St. Catharines well in Ontario, which contains 10,000 grains of sodium chloride to a pint, as well as 10 grains calcium chloride. Its prototype in Europe, the celebrated spring of Ems, in Prussia, which contains about 10 grains sodium chloride to the pint (approximately). There is probably no other spring in the world which contains so much of the valuable ingredients as this well, as it possesses the very substances which are so necessary to the system, the various products found in such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, gonorrhoea and other diseases. Cutaneous diseases of any nature are quickly cured by taking these saline baths under the proper direction of a medical adviser. Recently a modern sanitarium has been established and many of its patients are cured of nervous disorders. Absolute rest amid quiet surroundings, accompanied by the scenery, bring the overtaxed nerves back to the normal state. Twenty or thirty years ago the nearby Stephenson House was known in many a household in the land, and pilgrimages were made from the South and the West to see the flower and chivalry of Southern life to this famous hostelry for recuperation and rest. The building, the property of Col. Stephenson, the springs passed into decay for a number of years, and the three-story building, located in the nearest part of St. Catharines, and although the exterior walls are standing, the interior has been almost entirely destroyed. These gentlemen have rehabilitated the entire establishment and have several changes yet to make. The new structure will make the Welland one of the most commodious and complete sanitariums in the country. As it now stands, the building is to be destroyed, a very convenient that the invalid or seeker after health come to the city, bright bedrooms are immediately conducive to sweet slumbers and pleasant dreams. The sanitarium is connected with the famous springs, and the water flows directly into the bath-room where the proper treatment is given under a physician's charge, attention of which will be made later. There are about seventy rooms in the house, all light and airy, with high ceilings, steam heated, the furniture being thoroughly modern and sanitary. A modern elevator noiselessly conveys the guests from floor to floor. The stairways are rubber treaded and shut in so that the noise can possibly be heard from one floor to the other, a quality particularly pleasing to people of a nervous temperament. The dining-room is particularly interesting to the health seeker, for, after the treatment, hunger returns, and a desire to visit the dining-room during other than the prescribed hours is frequent occurrence. The dining-room is sixty feet by thirty, with height of ceiling of about fifteen feet. Windows on the street side give a cheerful glow to ceiling, giving a cheerful appearance at all times. The table linen is always as white as snow, and the service is all that could be desired. The young lady waiters are becomingly attired and are very pleasing in their attention. The service of negro waiters is studiously avoided for many reasons. New kitchen has recently been added and contains the latest and best of culinary apparatus. Under a very competent chef the food is always properly prepared and hot and is received in the dining room with almost the degree of heat that it has while on the steam table. The reception rooms on the ground floor are finely furnished and many conveniences are at hand for the guests of both sexes. Writing, smoking and lounge rooms are at hand, and in the basement a bar is located. So completely isolated is the bar that a search is necessary to locate it, so the sight of CASE MUST GO TO THE JURY Judge So Rules in Trial of Dr. Pollard and Julia Thompson.

DEFENCE TRUSTS TO DOCTORS.

Application for Discharge of Prisoners Made by Counsel on Three Grounds.

Mr. Justice Ferguson, in the Criminal Assizes yesterday afternoon, ruled that the case in which Dr. E. B. Pollard and Mrs. Julia Thompson are charged with performing a criminal operation upon Ada Rose Horse of Chesley must go to the jury. The ruling was made at the conclusion of the Crown's case, and after E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., and P. C. E. Robinson, counsel for the defence, moved for the discharge of their clients on three grounds: that the evidence does not show that any instrument was used; that there is no evidence of intent to perform a criminal operation; that the evidence of the Crown's chief witness had not been corroborated. The case for the defence was well under way at the hour of adjournment, Dr. L. H. Cameron and Dr. J. H. Neill having testified favorably to the theory that the operation was performed on one more witness this morning the evidence in the case will have been heard and a verdict will, it is expected, be reached this afternoon. The jury was locked up again last night, and the prisoners allowed to go home.

Doctor With a Long Name. When the case was resumed yesterday morning every seat in the courtroom was filled, and many people crowded about the entrance. The first witness was a well-known medical practitioner. "Your name," asked Clerk Nicol, "Arthur James Johnson, M.D.," was the reply. "Why do you have such a long name?" queried Judge Ferguson. "Because I had no opportunity for giving myself a shorter one." Continuing he said that he went to the house of Mrs. Julia Thompson, 984 1/2 Yonge-street, on Sept. 13 last by appointment with and accompanying Dr. Pollard and Dr. Johnston while there made no enquiries as to the cause of Mrs. Thompson's illness, he warned her at the time that she was engaged in a dangerous undertaking. Dr. Johnston here called the doctor to time for professing his friendship for the defendant. Dr. Johnston, in conclusion, described professionally the results of the alleged operation. The condition of the patient was serious at the time. Staff Inspector Archibald, the next witness, explained that the female prisoner's right name was Julia Cronin. He detailed the circumstances leading up to the operation of the crown officers at Mrs. Thompson's home, and what they found there. The police found in the place a receipt for an insurance policy taken out by Dr. Pollard on the furniture in the house. In detailing the information, which led the police to make the discovery at the Yonge-street house, the Inspector was asked by Mr. Johnston: "How did you happen to swoop down on the parties this way?" Was it thru Christian Science? The Inspector declined to tell from what source the information was received by the police, and the judge ruled that he need not answer.

Certain Evidence Excluded.

Inspector Johnston, when the case was resumed at 2 o'clock, described in detail the evidence taken at the Yonge-street house. When he arrested Mrs. Thompson she said that it was a picture of a woman, and that what the poor girl had said she had done to herself. Police Constable Irvine, who saw Dr. Pollard come out of 984 1/2 Yonge-street on Sept. 12, Samuel Allen produced the insurance policy taken out by Dr. Pollard on the furniture at the Yonge-street place. Frederick Spencer used to live at 984 1/2 Yonge-street and was acquainted with Dr. Pollard by Mrs. Thompson as her brother. Mrs. Adeline Gardner, 982 Yonge-street, was about to answer a question put to her by Mr. Guthrie, when Mr. Johnston objected. Judge Ferguson ruled that evidence of the character of the place was not admissible, and Mrs. Gardner stepped down. The Crown's case was concluded with the evidence of Dr. John Caven.

"YE OLDE PIANO."

The handsome windows of "The Bell" piano parlour, at 146 Yonge-street, are displayed a trio of instruments which attract universal notice, exhibiting, as they do, the wonderful difference between the piano of a century ago and the piano of to-day. In the one window we see two of "ye olde time" pianos—two of the kind known to the world as "spinets." But they are, or rather, were pianos; and each has a peculiar history of its own. The larger is of English make, was built in London, England, by "makers to His Majesty George IV." and is said to have had the immortal Mendelssohn give his magic touch to the keys. The smaller one is of French origin, and the present owner has proof that the Emperor Josephine at one time owned it, and often gave expression to her varied moods per medium of its tones. In the other window is shown the "New Art Bell Piano of 1902," a superb creation, possessing all the latest improvements known in the piano-making art, and revealing itself in classic beauty and in the perfection of the highest grade instrument of its kind—a marvel, as some critics have said of it. This unique window display of "The Bell" is well worth the while of all citizens to witness.

Ask Him

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He knows the formula, so ask him if there is anything better for purifying the blood, strengthening the digestion, and building up the nerves. Follow his advice, whatever it may be. "I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla every spring since 1848. As a blood-purifying and nerve-strengthening medicine it cannot be equalled." S. T. SELF-CONFESSED DEFAULTER. Charles D. Thompson, Treasurer of Supreme Knights of Macabees. Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 7.—Charles D. Thompson of this city, Supreme Vice-Keeper of the Supreme Knights of Macabees is a self-confessed defaulter in the sum of $57,000. The order is protected from loss by Thompson's security bond, however. The shortage is acknowledged in a letter to D. P. Markey, Supreme Commander of the Order.

A Bitter Realization. The letter says: "I am with a feeling of distress and shame that I tender here with my resignation as Supreme Vice-Keeper of the order of which you are the head. And this step is taken with a bitter realization that I am no longer worthy of the confidence and association of my fellow-officers. I have held the position since the order was founded, have during that time been actively associated with the present Supreme officers, and never until now did I in any way betray my trust. I was engaged in a legitimate business venture in which I had made a large investment, and found myself in a position when further money was necessary to save myself from bankruptcy and ruin. There was apparently no chance for me. I then looked to my trust, and used the funds of the order, at the time believing there was no question of my ability to replace them within a reasonable time. The amount I used was $57,000. I have no hope of being able to repay this amount.

The Surety Bond. "I know the order is protected from loss by the surety bond of nearly twice the amount in a perfectly responsible company, but this does not lessen my mental suffering nor relieve me from the disgrace of having betrayed the confidence reposed in me. Nothing that may occur can increase the torture which I have suffered and am still suffering. I am not a defaulter, my action as may be taken and able to the consequence. No punishment can be greater or more just than that which results from the loss of the respect and esteem of the membership of the order and the suffering necessarily caused to my family."

How He Lost It. The shortage was discovered last Tuesday by Supreme Commander Markey, who was examining the books of the order. On being confronted with the shortage, Thompson broke down and confessed. He then signed a confession drawn up by Commander Markey, which was filed in the files of the order. Thompson is unable to locate Thompson since the matter leaked out at noon today. It is said that Mr. Thompson was interested in the lake carrying trade, lost $15,000 in June on the sale of the steamer Harlan.

EAST END NOTINGS.

Chance for Hamilton Papers to Roast Disgraced Thoroate. Lodge Loyal Order of the East, O.O.F.P., entertained the district officers at their regular meeting last night in Dignam's Hall. Among those present, were the Grand Master, W. H. Shaw; Grand Secretary, R. Flourey; Grand Treasurer, G. Boxall; and the District Deputy, R. Newall. Refreshments were served. Another name has been added to the list of trustees who will not attempt to drive out of business until such time as the City Council sees fit to repair the roadway. About 5 o'clock, a driver from a local wholesale drug store, who was en route to a short distance, in his attempt to proceed along this street, no fewer than three cases of goods were overturned, and smashed, the contents, consisting of canned goods being scattered all over the street. This roadway is so bad that it is next to impossible to drive over it. The following were present: Mr. W. J. Dixon, S. S. Martin, Mrs. Weiland, Mrs. Shaver, S. A. Gillies, Miss Bradley, Miss Moore, Miss Ruby Chambers and Miss Winifred Logan.

ES-ALD. JOHN DUNN.

Es-Alid. John Dunn is once more a candidate for municipal office. He is 51 years of age, a heavy taxpayer, and one of the heaviest exporters of cattle and sheep, and by this means the cause of many thousands of dollars being circulated in the city and country. He is very popular with the electors, and his election has little trouble in being elected.

Be There a Will, Wisdom Points the Way.

The sick man pines for relief, but he dislikes sending for the doctor, which means bottles of drugs never consumed. He has not the resolution to load his stomach with compounds which smell villainously and taste worse. But if he have the will to deal himself with his ailment, wisdom will direct his attention to Parmentier's Digestive Pills, which, as specific for indigestion and disorders of the digestive organs, have no equal.

EAST TORONTO.

Mr. A. E. Ames, the hon. president of the East Toronto Village Lawn Tennis and Bowling Club, says that he will undertake to put the grounds in first-class condition by having them re-graded and levelled. It is understood the offer was gratefully accepted.

Charles Heber, proprietor of the Dutton Farm, on the Danforth-road, has his new hotel nearly completed, so that now he is enabled to resume his business.

Some little time ago boring operations for water were taking place at the Goodwin's kennels on the Daves-road, near the Massey (Denison) Park farm, when a flow of natural gas was struck, which, when lighted, threw a flame 15 to 20 feet. It was immediately capped, and now Mr. Goodwin is having pipes laid to the dwelling house, kennels and the out-buildings on the property.
