THE CARNIVAL

The business men who met yesterday to consider the holding of an autumn carnival lost no time in getting down to practical work. They selected a suitable date and appointed committees to consider features, transportation, and other matters in connection with the event.

tion in favor of Chamberlain, and of the importance of the imperial connection. He also spoke of patronizing art. There does not seem to be any sound reason why a gentleman holding these views should not express them in the presence of people who hold the same views.

The directors of the Toronto exhibition have a larger surplus than last year, and have adopted the following resolutions: "That the city council be asked to provide the following buildings for next year's exhibition, and that they be urged to complete the work as speedily as possible."

CANADA IS SAFE

It is interesting at times to learn how others regard us, whether their point of view be the right one or not. The Times quotes today an American view of the development that is now taking place in the Canadian northwest.

In the first two weeks of September the C. P. R. carried 1,346,000 barrels to Winnipeg, as compared with 90,000 barrels the same two weeks a year ago.

Canada's total foreign trade for the last fiscal year showed a decline over two and a half millions of dollars, compared with that of the preceding year. The decline was in exports, as the imports showed a gain of over seven and a half millions.

The Hon. Alton B. Parker will read these resolutions about the big subscriptions of the big corporations and trusts to the Republican national campaign funds with the grim satisfaction of the man who can say: "I told you so."

Trinitated talks of mobilizing steamers to New York. Canadian effort to secure closer relations with the West Indies may presently have to face a strong sentiment in favor of the United States.

It is most unfortunate that the weather has been somewhat unfavorable for the Halifax exhibition. The enterprising people of that city deserve better fortune.

The use of a corruption fund by insurance companies in New York state and federal politics has long been charged, and now it appears to be capable of proof.

The Emperor of Russia wants another universal peace conference. He should begin at home, where there is a fine field for his activities.

An agitation has been begun in Toronto for a large reduction next year in the number of licensed liquor saloons.

The fall outlook for the lumber mills has greatly improved. The effect on general business will be good.

SARITORIAL ATTRACTIONS (Toronto News) Joe Martin said to Bill Maclean "You'll form another party."

LIVED IN THE PHILIPPINES W. F. Hamilton, formerly of this city, arrived yesterday from the island of Cebu, one of the Philippine group, where he has resided for some years.

WHOLE INSURANCE SYSTEM WRONG, SAYS PROF. GIDDINGS
People Do Not Get the Return to Which They Are Entitled—For Premiums Paid Policies Should Be Twice as Large—Big Surpluses Result and Consequent Corruption.

(New York World.)
Prof. Franklin H. Giddings, the distinguished professor of sociology at Columbia University, was asked yesterday to give his views on the ethical side of the remarkable disclosures regarding "high finance," syndicate underwriting and political contributions on the part of the controlling officials of the big life insurance companies.

Prof. Giddings has been the professor of sociology at Columbia University since 1894, and is a recognized American authority on that subject. He is the author of several standard works of sociology, including "The Modern Distributive Process," "The Principles of Sociology," and "Democracy and Empire."

Prof. Giddings sees positive peril in the insurance practices which have been revealed before the Legislative Committee and previously in the Equitable investigation.

By Prof. Franklin H. Giddings
The whole thing seems to me thoroughly wrong. In the first place, I don't believe that, as a business proposition, it is wise to have such enormous interests entrusted to a few men whose transactions are never completely disclosed in an adequate and straightforward accounting either to a large body of stockholders or to the general public. Such a system gives every possible opportunity for wrongdoing and creates the greatest possible temptation.

In the second place, it is most unfortunate that, partly as a result of unwise legislation regarding the finances of insurance companies, the income of these corporations has been accumulated in vast surplus funds which have been placed in the hands of a few individuals, instead of being devoted to the reduction of premiums.

While the public has been interested chiefly in the betrayal of trust which recent disclosures have revealed in the relation of insurance funds to the banks and other financial institutions, there is another aspect of the affair which seems to me to be quite as serious and more immediate concern to the average man.

When, as in the history of the Equitable, millions accumulate so rapidly as to bewilder even men accustomed to handling enormous sums, it is no wonder

AUTUMN CARNIVAL
Merchants' Week Committee Decides to Hold One in the Week of Oct. 16 to Oct. 21.

The first practical step towards the holding of an autumn carnival was taken yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the merchants' week committee of the board of trade. There were present John H. McRobbie, P. A. Dykeman, B. R. Macaulay, H. Schofield, W. G. Scovill, John Edgcombe, George T. Barnes, R. T. Hayes and R. B. Emerson.

B. R. Macaulay was elected chairman, and the men present appointed a committee to formulate a scheme to be held in the city Oct. 16 and 17. The desire is to run all these events in together. The Neptune Rowing Club will endeavor to raise the required amount of money which now seems to be the only essential for the carnival, as the rest of the arrangements have been practically unanimous.

The fear was expressed by some, however, that the wholesale trade would not enter into the plan as heartily as they should.

H. B. Schofield, W. G. Scovill and B. R. Macaulay were appointed a committee to make arrangements for excursion parties. John H. McRobbie, B. R. Macaulay and P. A. Dykeman will endeavor to arrange with the ladies in charge of the Fair at the National Hotel to hold the carnival in the same week. These committees will report Wednesday at 4 p. m.

One reason why the date mentioned is desired for the beginning of the carnival is that the Irish Guards' band will be in the city Oct. 16 and 17. The desire is to run all these events in together. The Neptune Rowing Club will endeavor to raise the required amount of money which now seems to be the only essential for the carnival, as the rest of the arrangements have been practically unanimous.

CHATHAM
CHATHAM, Sept. 18.—The funeral of Mrs. Richard D. Stapleton who died Friday took place from her late residence King St. Sunday afternoon and was largely attended. Service was conducted by Rev. James Strother. Among the floral offerings was a very beautiful wreath from the Sunday School class of the deceased.

At a meeting of the Chatham Curling Club the committee was authorized to have work done on one of the proposed improvements. They will include the raising of the roof and making a banquet hall over the waiting room and building a grandstand around the interior of the rink. David Sadler has returned from Blackville, N. B., with the guide, drive to Bay du Vin on Thursday has already secured a large bull moose with antlers having a spread of about 40 inches. Some of the meat was shipped to Massachusetts. Mr. Pratt will remain two weeks longer on the hunting grounds in respect of bear and other big game.

The following is the result of the county council election: Gilmour—J. W. McLaughlin, R. A. Switzer, John MacMillan, Ryan, Edward McKenzie, South Lake—James Nicholson, George Sheehan, Ladlow—A. Ford, W. A. Campbell, Blackville—George Hayes, H. Underhill, New Brunswick—M. Maibey, L. Doyle, Altwick—Wm. Anderson, W. L. Clark, Chatham—E. Donnor, F. E. Neal, Harvick—Thomas H. Wilkinson, Jnr. Sullivan, Dorcy, Crookton—William Bryson, Nelson—T. W. Fleet was the only candidate who was declared elected, but another election will be held if all the vacancies are not filled.

Prof. Carvell began his duties as vicar of St. Luke's church on Sunday.

THE C. P. R.
(Toronto News.)

MARVELOUS GOLF SCORE
Miss Thomson Made the Eighteen Holes in the Qualifying Round in 89—List of the Successful Players.

Montreal, Sept. 18.—(Special)—Miss Mabel Thomson, of St. John, turned in a remarkable card in the qualifying round of the women's golf championship which began yesterday afternoon on the course of the Royal Montreal Golf Club at Dixie. Miss Thomson, who is a new player, turned in the lowest net of the thirty-six players who started.

Under the best of circumstances Miss Thomson's score would have been excellent to say the least, and when made under such conditions as prevailed yesterday it is nothing short of marvellous.

Miss Thomson is an ex-champion yet she has hardly ever on any previous occasion equalled the splendid performance made in the opening struggle of the present championship battle. There are many men who would be pleased to turn in such a card and the few who saw the St. John player go over the waxy course without a mistake were indeed awestruck of her fine golf.

Seventeen cards were in the qualifying contest, necessitating a play-off between four of the competitors before the drawing can be completed for the first round. Miss Thomson is one of four players each with a card of 116.

GALL BETTORS, BET IDIOTS

How, girl—don't damn the sharper, but the dope?

—Pope Epiphane to the Satires.

Wherefore all this fuss about Referee Grady declaring bets off in the Britt Nelson fight? What matter does it make? Who does it concern? What figure do bets cut, anyway? Why take any cognizance of them?

When a certain number of gentlemen combine to see a boxing match they cannot prevent a lot of noddies from betting upon it. Because, a lot of saloon orators talk about betting, it is not any sign that betting is actually done. Heavy editors and writers are having a fit over this betting business.

Philosophy and logic is never the sporting editor's forte. Yet, when he reads some of the opinions of the editorial writers as to the Hazley and Spencer combination. Taking their ebullitions on this question they end no prolonged course of logic and philosophy.

Supposing the Britt-Nelson decision (not the fight) was to have been a job? Who would have bet? Betting promoters do not invite betting as do race track owners. People do not have to bet, are not even invited to. Why then, should betting be stopped because a referee may be fixed to give a certain decision, or a bluff intended to interfere if bets were going awry? It cannot be expected that pugilists will cheat and fake if they can. A man of gentlemanly and honorable instincts will not become or remain a ring fighter. Fair dealings must not be expected from men of that class. Withal they are just as honorable as most professional athletes. Professionalism is almost synonymous with crookedness.

Promoters should see that fights are on the square. The men who pay to see them are entitled to that. They are not to be wiled but are not entitled to either city or protection.—St. Louis Republic.

MIKE TWIN SULLIVAN FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Of Mike "Twin" Sullivan's chances for the heavyweight championship, the famous glove says: Mike (Twin) Sullivan, the Cambridge boxer, is certainly now a great factor in the fight for the undisputed championship. He demonstrated that in Baltimore Friday night when he fought Champion Joe Gans.

"Twin" took a 10-1 chance in Gans' favor. He was entitled to be classed as being as good as a champion for that night.

"While he did not win, according to some of the men who were present, the people regard him as the better man, the sports of Baltimore acknowledge, but they are not so sure of Gans' victory. What the fight was 'did not try,' so that Nelson would be the favorite in the event what the Twin has been seeking for a long time.

"The fight was a very close one, and it was a surprise to see that the Twin was so quickly as possible, so that he would not be hanged to hang on to save himself and every other thing he has done only once or twice before in his career. It was a very close one, and it was a surprise to see that the Twin was so quickly as possible, so that he would not be hanged to hang on to save himself and every other thing he has done only once or twice before in his career.

"Mike is now in a position where the boxing authorities of the west will be glad to get him for a match with Nelson, Gardiner or Britt, which is just what the Twin has been seeking for a long time.

"The fight was a very close one, and it was a surprise to see that the Twin was so quickly as possible, so that he would not be hanged to hang on to save himself and every other thing he has done only once or twice before in his career.

INTERRUPTED HONEYMOON

After Two Weeks John McCarthy Seeks Aid of Police.

The short space of two weeks very frequently brings trouble to people, but few cases there are where a wife grows tired of her life partner within that brief period.

True it is, however, that about two weeks ago John McCarthy, residing in North End, took unto himself a wife for better or for worse until death should them part.

It appears that John took a trip to Boston, and when he returned he suspected that he had a rival. He consulted his trouble with his spouse, with the result that the matrimonial door was swung open.

To one official he went with his tale of woe, and wanted him to effect an arrest immediately. The charge he laid against his wife was desertion.

By this time the officer wanted to go back to his slumber, and referred him to another official. The latter was in bed, for it was nearly one o'clock this morning, and he was not in the best of humor.

He immediately referred the distressed husband to the immigration officials, and forthwith the victim went to the depot, and the latest report states that he is at present on board one of the trains.

SPLENDID VAUDEVILLE

Lucier's Vaudeville Stars Score a Big Hit at the York Theatre.

What promises to be a week of very bright, clever and entertaining vaudeville at the York Theatre last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucier's company of vaudeville stars made their first appearance.

The performance opened with Prof. Floyd in a very clever exhibition of legmanship. His repertoire for forty minutes includes a number of illusions, some of which have been seen before, while others are all presented, however, with a skill and finish not excelled by any of the thirty minutes' turns.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucier present their pleasing musical comedy sketch, A Rose is a Rose, which is exceptionally well done. Mr. Lucier introduces trick violin playing and some splendid imitations.

Mr. Lucier's stars present a clean, bright entertainment that should meet with good patronage all week. Commencing this afternoon there will be daily matinees.

THE LAST OF THE LAKE SUPERIOR

The Old Steamer That Opened the Winter Port Service is All Broken Up.

The old steamer Lake Superior that began the winter port service to St. John has at last been converted into junk, and by the steamer Calvin Austin tonight.

Mr. Miller and those associated with him purchased the wreck into three sections, and intended to move her across the harbor to be beached there, but the harbor master declined to permit the experiment, fearing that she would sink again in the channel.

On May 28th, 1904, Louis Miller bought the steamer, and kept a small crew of men at work that summer.

There was no need of haste, as the price of junk had advanced, and was expected to rise on the 1st of October, and then ceased to be resumed with great activity last spring.

THE CARNIVAL COMMITTEES

Are Meeting with Great Success in their Initial Work.

The fall carnival committee have lost no time in getting down to work.

The C. P. R. officials were communicated with this morning and are favorably considering a one-day excursion arrangement for one week.

A. O. Skinner and T. H. Eastbrook have been added to the executive committee which is now one of the strongest groups of practical men with experience in such matters that could be got together.

The carnival spirit is becoming aroused, and there seems no reason to doubt that the city will exert itself as a community to provide a great week of attractions in October, they will draw many people from other parts of the province and also give the citizens a few days of really good entertainment.

The change of plans of Prince Henry and the British fleet may make it possible to add a warship or two to the attractions, and this will not be overlooked.

SHERIFF RITCHIE IS MERCIFUL

Comes to the Greek's Relief and Gives Him Better Quarters.

The authorities were in consultation this morning relative to the case of Fois Scioris, the demented Greek, who has been held in a cell at central station.

This morning Sheriff Ritchie consented to place the unfortunate man in the jail, where he will be provided with a good bed upon which to rest, and food containing ample nourishment.
