40 EXPECTED TO SETTLE WORLD TITLE

HAIR-RAISING CONTEST, WITH GORMAN AND FARRELL AT TOP OF LIST, ANTICIPATED TODAY

Both Likely To Qualify Easily in Preliminaries—Chicago Lad's Sensational Skating Was Feature Yesterday

FARRELL HAS BEEN IN EVERY FINAL

One Third Place, However, Was His Best Achievement—Dark Horse Looked For in Five Mile Competition at End of Meet.

NIGHTFALL tonight will see a new world's champion speed skater crowned as the final day of the greatest speed-skating meet in the history of the sport on this continent is reached without a hitch in the scheduled programme.

Farrell's rush from a tangle on the opening day into a tie with Gorman for the leadership yesterday was the sensation of the meet and a tremendous amount of interest has been aroused in today's events, particularly the 40 yards, at which distance both are strong contenders.

THE 40 YARDS Gorman and Farrell, however, should have little difficulty in qualifying for the semi-finals of the 40 yards. In his heat, Gorman's leading competitor will be Lew Morris, New York, and Roy McWhirter, Chicago. Others entered are Conklin, Detroit; F. Howard, Ill.; Howe, R. Barton, all of Saint John, and Roy Penderel, Toronto. This is the third heat.

In the fourth heat, Farrell makes his appearance. The Chicago youth has some tough ones but should romp home easily. He is pitted against Leslie Boyd, New York; Estey Stephenson, Toronto; Frank Garnett, Saint John; Eddie Meyers, New York; Ross Robinson, Toronto, and M. J. Perry, of Moncton. K. McAlpine, Saint John, and George Scott, Saint John, also are in this heat.

Farrell's great efforts yesterday in which he duplicated Gorman's performance of the opening day by winning two events were not without cost to him as he became sick afterwards and the two mile was held up to allow him to recover. He was unable, however, to finish out the two-mile event, a grueling contest won by "Duke" Donovan in the gathering dusk.

Willie Logan's great effort in coming second and chasing Donovan right across the line was one of the outstanding features of the mile. Logan is rapidly reaching the point where he will soon be a powerful victor at the big meets, particularly in the longer distances. His seconds in the mile and two mile show that. The youngster is conceded as good a chance as Clifton Thunberg, Finland, and Donovan, in coping the 5-mile today.

Much interest also centres on the two events carded for the 19-year-old class with "Tommy" Tebo, Saint John, now leading the pack. This title is sure to remain in Saint John, the only outsider being Carl Parody, Lake Placid, and I. Olson, Chicago. Neither has scored a point yet. Walter Miller, Saint John, is crowding Tebo, being ten points behind him. The 200 yards and the 440 yards are the events today for this class.

The ladies' event carded today is the senior mile. Miss Lella Brooks, Toronto, has a lead of 30 points at present over her rival, Miss Mueller, New York, and is sure of a tie if she does not place. She is looked on, however, as the winner among the ladies.

HISTORIC MEET This has been an historic meet although no records have been broken yet. The presence of Clas Thunberg, Finland, has made it such and, while the Finn has scored only 10 points so far, he has always been a factor and consistently has been in the final check-up shows the Finn has been in the final of every event.

CARNIVAL TONIGHT The final feature of the skating meet week comes tonight with a fancy dress carnival in the Arena. There will be skating with bands, and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes.

SKATERS AWAY TONIGHT Thirty skaters, including Clas Thunberg and his managers, Hugo Quist, will leave tonight for Birmingham, N. Y. for the U. S. national title meet by C. P. R. via Montreal. In addition, 14 of the newspapermen are leaving for Montreal as well. Willie Logan is the only local skater who has definitely decided yet to go. Charlie Gorman has not made up his mind yet on the matter.

The committee was busy this morning getting the medals ready for presentation. The gold watch, presented by the city, to go to the world's champion, will probably be presented after the meet by acting Mayor Frink.

MOONLIGHT AIDS

Storm Takes Toll of 25 With Sinking of Freighter Laristan

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The four days' heroic struggle of the United States liner President Roosevelt to rescue the crew of the stricken British freighter Antiope in mid-Atlantic has ended in triumph. At midnight last night, under a bright moon that lit up the sea, 13 remaining members of the crew of 25 were rescued from the wallowing freighter, whose doom seemed imminent momentarily. Twelve men had been rescued last night after the President Roosevelt had stood by the freighter for more than 72 hours in one of the most savage storms ever encountered in the Atlantic.

25 DIE ON LARISTAN

Although the storm had been checked off the crew of the Antiope, it took a toll of 25 lives when the British freighter Laristan foundered off Halifax some time Tuesday night, after the British liner Lloyd liner Bremen had succeeded in rescuing six men. Brilliant though their exploit had been, Captain George Fried and the crew of the United States vessel were grieved at the loss of two of their comrades who gave their lives Monday in a vain effort to carry succor to the Antiope.

RESCUE IN MOONLIGHT

"Midnight: Received blinker message from the Antiope. We have 20 degree list." Weather continued moderating but heavy swell running with some wind. Manned and launched sixth boat in command Miller, officer. Proceeded alongside Antiope and took off 13 remaining members of the crew.

FIRST OFFICER HERO

Volunteer crews from the United States vessel, both times under the command of First Officer Miller, made the rescue. Only two months ago the President Roosevelt, a sister ship of the President Roosevelt, rescued 28 men from the Italian steamer Liguria. The President Roosevelt has lost half her 110 lifeboats. She left New York with 215 passengers and 300 officers and men.

GAME LAWS ARE MEETING TOPIC

N. B. Association Branches To Take Up Recommendations

Meeting to Be Held in Fredericton Feb. 24—Annual Count of Game Killed

The New Brunswick Fish and Game Protective Association at a three-session meeting in the Admiral Beatty Hotel yesterday urged stricter game laws and the rigid enforcement of those which exist.

Allan A. McAvity, president, was in the chair. Reports showed a membership of between 600 and 700. Interesting addresses were given by L. A. Gagnon, chief game warden, F. Calder, Fisheries Inspector, Claude Knapp, Thomas Allen, of Perth, R. Tufts, of Wolfville, N. S., and others.

Arrangements were made for a meeting at Fredericton on Feb. 24. The provincial secretary, Francis Kerr, was instructed to lay before the secretary of all branches 10 recommendations with reference to game laws presented in his report. The branches were also to be informed of a recommendation by the provincial body that sheldrake ducks in non-tidal waters should be destroyed but that the shooting of these non-edible ducks in tidal waters should be forbidden. An examination of sheldrake ducks showed that 86 per cent. of their food consisted of young trout and salmon.

It was agreed that the association should press for legislation requiring all game licenses to be returned at the close of the season with a report of what had been killed written on the back of the license.

R. Tufts, of Wolfville, Canadian representative of the Migratory Bird Act, explained how this method of returning licenses in Nova Scotia had led to the discovery that more than 600 wild geese were being shot where it had been thought only 40 or 50 were bagged.

Thomas Allen told how the Tobique River Salmon Club looks after salmon fishing on the Tobique. J. F. Calder told of his work as fisheries agent and the Association expressed its great indebtedness to Mr. Calder for his help.

The Association now has branches in Madawaska, Andover, Woodstock, McAdam, St. Stephen, St. Andrews and Saint John and the organization of branches had begun in Fredericton, Moncton, St. George, Newcastle, Bathurst and Plaster Rock. The officers are as follows: President, A. G. McAvity; vice-president, Dr. L. DeC. McIntosh; of Hartland; secretary, Francis Kerr; Saint John and treasurer, Percy Martin, Woodstock.

45 Inches of Snow Fell At Gagetown So Far This Month; Hampers Lumber Operations

GAGETOWN, Jan. 27.—Forty-five inches of snow has fallen so far this month, last week's storm being responsible for a good proportion of this amount. In cuts along the Valley Railway the snow-pile was needed Saturday morning to clear drifts six feet or more in depth. Lumbermen report four feet of snow in the woods, making operations considerably more difficult, as the snow is light and the ground in some places not well frozen.

Raid Brothers have been operating their mill below Gagetown since the first of the year. The McKague Brothers, who are lumbering on the Millstream, have installed a rade in their lumber camp to provide entertainment for the evenings.

ITALY GETS HALF OF DEBT REMITTED

Agrees to Pay £4,000,000 Roughly Per Annum For 62 Years

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Italy has settled her war debt to Great Britain by agreeing to pay roughly £4,000,000 annually, for 62 years, a total of £272,250,000 ($1,223,000,000). This was revealed today by the publication of the terms of the agreement signed by Count Volpi, Italian Minister of Finance, and Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the Exchequer. The agreement provides also for Great Britain's concurrent repayment of the gold deposited by Italy in the Bank of England in 1915, amounting to £22,000,000 as security for war loans. The total Italy must pay is in effect less than half her admitted debt of £592,000,000 ($2,677,000,000) and the terms accorded by Britain therefore are regarded as more generous than Italy obtained at Washington.

ONE FACES TRIAL OVER RADIO PIRACY

Accused of Usurping Wave Length Given Canadian Stations

CHOCAGO, Jan. 27.—Complaints of J. C. Brown, supervisor of radio for the Canadian Government, at Ottawa, were yesterday reported against station WJAZ of the Zenith Radio Corporation here which the United States government charges has usurped a wave length assigned to Canadian stations by an international agreement.

Eugene F. Macdonald, Jr., president of Zenith, will be arraigned in the Federal Court on Monday to answer the government charges that "pirated" a wave length of 382.5 metres, while licensed by the Department of Commerce to operate on 823.4 metres.

Eugene F. Macdonald, holding the United States navy rank of lieutenant-commander, was a member of the last Donald Macmillan Arctic Expedition.

Spanish Flight Resumed Saturday

PORTO PAYA, Cape Verde Islands, Jan. 27.—Commander Hamon Franco will take off Saturday, weather permitting, on the third and longest hop of his flight across the Atlantic ocean from Spain to Argentina.

Franco spent Wednesday overhauling his plane and found it in good condition after the 1,100-mile flight from the Canary Islands. A weakened propeller was replaced from the spare parts aboard a Spanish convoy destroyer.

The next stage of the journey will be across 1,482 miles of the South Atlantic Ocean to the Island of Fernando Noronha, off the coast of Brazil.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 28, 1926.

A GREAT MEETING.

Whoever may win to-day at Lily Lake—and the stage is set for some spectacular finishes—the world's championship speed meeting will go down in skating history as a wonderful success.

country. In Great Britain the burden of taxation is nearly fifty per cent. more than in Canada, and the net production per capita there in 1925 was $335, compared with $336 in Canada and $322 in Australia, meaning that taxation in Britain eats up 28.3 per cent. of the total net production, compared with 19.7 per cent. in Canada and 18.9 per cent. in the United States.

There is nothing like optimism. Professor Fitzpatrick, of the Frontier College, told a Toronto audience yesterday that many of those present would live to see half a dozen railways to Hudson Bay, and he predicted that in the next ten or twenty years there will be half a dozen cities on Hudson Bay, each a quarter the size of Toronto.

"The Hamilton police commission has decided that it is not a policeman's duty or business to bother himself about whether a girl on the street rolls her stockings or not," says the Woodstock Sentinel-Review. "No doubt any girl could have told any policeman as much; but it is more authoritative as coming from the commission. And whatever view one may take in regard to the propriety of rolling 'em, it is a relief to find that there are some things in life these days which may be left to individual taste instead of being regulated by the law and the police."

The British Prime Minister says that with one exception history does not give a single instance of democracy holding an empire together. He thinks the British Empire will endure. If it does not hold together, he says, "quite apart from everything else, so much of our trade goes with it, that we probably will be ruined. Therefore, whether we like it or not, that we embarking on one of the greatest and most heroic adventures any nation has undertaken since the beginning of the world, and we must strive to be worthy of the enterprise."

TAXATION COMPARISONS.

The Citizens' Research Institute of Canada has made public a detailed comparison of taxation in this country and in the United States for the year 1925, indicating that in that year, however matters stand to-day, the total per capita taxes were somewhat lower in this country than in the Republic, the figures being $66.11 in Canada and $67.39 in the United States. It should be understood that this includes all forms of taxation, national, state or provincial, and municipal.

Of course, it is known that the income tax is immensely heavier here than it is across the line, a condition which cries for early remedy. Federal taxation generally is much higher in Canada than in the other country, the figures being $37.62 and $26.22 per capita, respectively. The state taxation across the line averages much higher than provincial taxation, the figures being $8.57 for the Americans and $5.16 for Canadians. Municipal taxation is also considerably higher there.

Omitting federal taxes altogether, the figures are $38.11 per capita in the United States and $28.49 in Canada. Since 1923, however, the American federal income tax has been reduced by some $900,000,000, or about $2.25 per capita, which would mean that, counting all forms of taxation, the average Canadian to-day pays about $1.28 more than the average American.

But there are other ways of looking at it. There is, for example, the ability to pay, and the people of the United States produce wealth more rapidly than we do and therefore their taxation is more easily borne. According to the Citizens' Research Institute, the net production per capita in Canada in 1925 was valued at $336, as compared with $483 in the United States. In this country 19.7 per cent. of the value of total net production was absorbed by taxes, as compared with 18.9 per cent. in the United States.

Considering how much greater our war expenditures were than those of the Americans in proportion to population, due to the fact that we were much longer engaged in the war and that we did not profit from the sale of war supplies to anything like the extent they did, it is natural that our scale of taxation should be heavier, and that for some time we should be at a disadvantage in this respect. The situation, however, serves to emphasize the pressing necessity for economy, permitting taxation relief, and scaling down the burden on industry and enterprise.

Ballade of the Wistful Adipose

(Sonya O'Shea in Manitoba Free Press)

I am a maiden of ample bulk, Therefore, O world, I implore your pity.

The modes have made me the most unpolitic Ritudinous female in all the city.

My friends admit that I'm wise and witty.

But I ain't built boyish nor altn nor dapper.

So now I warble this mournful ditty: It must feel gorgeous to be a Flapper!

Far be it from me to sit and sulk Because of a couple of curves. I'm grumpy.

But still my feelings are not yet un-amic.

Anisid to the slight, when some cel-shaded Kitty Captures a lad who's as wise as Nitti.

And 'till the wedding-bell sounds its clapper While I might be sunk in some deep dark jitty.

It must feel gorgeous to be a Flapper!

Sometimes I'm minded to go and stult.

Off where the birds say: "Twitter-twit-tle."

Just because I'm a looming hulk (One hundred and sixty) and take up vitt.

Culture for sport. I can cook spaghetti!

But what, oh what, cares the cocktail lapper If I be not skinny and cutely pretty!

It must feel gorgeous to be a Flapper!

LENVOL Prince, I have wept till my eyes are allity.

You don't want bulk, but the fancy wrapper.

(Therefore I'm giving your sex the mittie.

It must feel gorgeous to be a Flapper.)

Varied Consequences (London Observer)

Lord Dewar, one of the most eminent of living scientists, drew new light on the obscure subject of Error in an address he delivered a few weeks ago at the London International Poultry, Pigeon and Rabbit Show.

Mistakes, he explained, are as varied in their consequences as in their substance. For example, when a judge of the High Court in Appeal made a mistake it became the law of the land; when a doctor made a mistake he buried it; when a preacher made a mistake nobody knew the difference; when a plumber made a mistake he charged twice for it.

EMPIRE'S GOLD OUTPUT. (Providence Journal) In the last forty years the South African mines alone have yielded treasure almost equal in value to the British war debt to this country.

THE future of the British Empire can not be reckoned in terms of gold alone. But it is reasonable to believe that its continued prosperity will rest in the future on the resources of the Empire at the rate of a quarter of a billion dollars annually, the financial power of London must be reckoned with in the future as it has been for many decades in the past.

TAKING OUT THE PUNISHMENT. (London Advertiser) Judge Talley has given his opinion on prisons and prison methods in the United States. He believes sentimental prison reformers have been a nuisance because for the most part they believe that prisoners can be reformed and changed in their ways by making their life in prison one of ease and freedom from punishment.

Judge Talley pointed out that movie and theatrical production with its reach Broadway are shown the prisoners at Sing Sing; that they have an $8,000 theatre, that they enjoy professional baseball games on Saturdays and Sundays and that they work on an average only three and a half hours a day, according to the report of the prison commission. Between January and June last year, the prisoners spent $56,000 for food, purchased outside the prison, although the prison fare is bountiful, clean and healthful.

Judge Talley added: "The demand of the hour in America, above all other countries, is for jurors with conscience, judges with courage and prisons which are neither country clubs nor health resorts."

BY CLARK KINNAIRD EDUCATION IN THE STREET. WHAT do YOU see when you walk in a crowded street?

Just a lot of humans, a pretty girl here and there, some rushing automobiles, the flit in the gutter? Or many persons, each a walking history of human experience each with wisdom written in his face that is waiting for you to read?

Observation is education. Observation, as Arnold Bennett observed, endows our day and our street with the romantic charm of history, and stimulates charity—not the charity that signs cheques, but the more precious charity which puts itself to the trouble of UNDERSTANDING.

ONE is curious about one's fellow creatures; therefore one watches them. And generally the more intelligent one is, the more curious one is, and the more one observes, Bennett wrote.

"The mere satisfaction of this curiosity is itself a worthy end, and would alone justify the business of systematized observation. But the aim of observation may, and should, be expressed in terms more grandiose.

"Human curiosity counts among the highest social virtues (as indifference counts among the basest defects), because it leads to a disclosure of the causes of character and temperament and thereby to a better understanding of the springs of human conduct.

"Observation is not practised directly with this end in view (save by the police and other fettle souls); nevertheless it is a moral act and must inevitably promote kindness—whether we like it or not.

"It also abspens 'the sense of beauty. An ugly deed—such as an act of cruelty—takes on artistic

Good Queen Bess Had A Preference For Kissing Games.

ARE we ever to see a revival of the brawl, that highly popular kissing game of Good Queen Bess' day? At its most formal performance it was never stiff and decorous. Generally it was a mirthful romp, which afterwards became so disorderly that today the very word signifies rough-and-tumble horseplay with blows and threats of blows.

"Master," asks Moth, in "Love's Labor's Lost" "will you win your love with a French brawl?" The brawl had come from France. It was usually danced to open a ball. It certainly broke the ice and banished shyness.

The leading couple placed themselves in the centre of the ring, where the gentleman kissed all the ladies in turn and his fair partner all the gentlemen, the figures continuing until every couple had followed the example set. Thus, when danced by a group of only half a dozen couples, each person exchanged at least 86 kisses—and doubtless many men snatched a second helping.

The company split into groups to dance the brawl, for obvious reasons. Were only 20 couples to dance it in one group each person would have exchanged 400 kisses.

The Puritans of the Elizabethan age were very down on the brawl. Still, it had a stupendous success, never equaled by a West European dance before or since. Even Queen Elizabeth let herself go in brawls and swapped smacking kisses with as keen a gusto as any of her young maid of honor chits.

That fine old sportman the Duc de Montpensier, finding his death-bed dull, with all the bolisterous fun going on downstairs, roared to his attendants that he didn't care a fig for what the doctor said, and had himself carried downstairs on a litter to watch the brawl and call jovial comments to the champion "bussers." That was in 1608. Even in these bloodless times the brawl has not entirely vanished. It lingers, in an altered and primly infantile form, in the old game of kiss in the ring.

When Hydro Makes $50,000 Dividend

BUSINESS MINDS WILL DO WELL TO LOOK INTO THIS EXTRA REWARD FOR PATRONIZING THEIR OWN INVESTMENT

One bright morning in the visible future, Citizens are going to learn that their own Hydro is doing so nicely that a good $50,000 is available over and above the year's outlay.

And since the Public own and run this Hydro on a current at cost basis—why that $50,000 will have to go into a sizable reduction in rates.

That time will come when Hydro has sold its full contract supply of ten million kilowatt hours of electricity. Last year six millions were sold, a thousand new customers were added to the thousands already boked up. This year's business takes up eight millions—leaving but 25 per cent. more power to be sold to reach capacity.

WHERE WILL THEIR PROTECTION BE THEN? A Capacity Market is right in sight. When that time comes—as coming it is in growing speed—it will be rather late for people to try to buy this light and power at cost—a cost cut down and down, as the volume goes on up.

That minority who have not yet patronized their own Hydro enjoy for the time being rates forced down by Hydro competition. But when all Hydro is sold out—what then?

The sooner the remainder take full advantage of Hydro at Cost the sooner they save still more money—and the safer their position.

Northumberland Council Wants Work Undertaken Privately or Publicly

FALLS ARE 20 MILES FROM NEWCASTLE

Variation of Scheme said to Make 8,000 or 9,000 H. P. Possible

NEWCASTLE, Jan. 27.—The White Rapids of the Miramichi River which the Northumberland County Council is urging the Provincial Government to develop for hydro-electric power have been estimated to be capable of producing 8,000 horse power, approximately $110 per horse power. The development of these falls was under discussion some time ago and at the recent meeting of the County Council the following resolution, moved by Councillor Parker and seconded by Councillor Swin, was passed by the meeting: Whereas, the county possesses on the South West Branch of the Miramichi River undeveloped water power resources at a place called "White Rapids,"

Whereas, this available water power goes at present to waste and the development of this power would at a certain feasible head produce a minimum of 3,600 horse power, as estimated by Consulting Engineer A. V. Tracy-Gould, registered member of the Association of Professional Engineers, the cost of said development having been estimated by the said engineer to be approximately $110 per horse power developed; and

SEES CHEAP POWER Whereas, the development of that power would prove to be of the greatest benefit to the county in general and to the present existing industries in particular, and the county being sorely in need of the development of the various natural resources which can be accomplished only by means of placing cheap power at the disposal of such prospective industries as may be willing to avail themselves of said natural resources; and ASKS DEVELOPMENT. Be it resolved by this council in sitting to petition the Provincial Government in session to empower the Hydro-Electric Commission to proceed forthwith with the development of the "White Rapids" and if for reasons the Government cannot consider at present such an undertaking, that it renew the charter to the holders of the Light, Heat and Power Co., Ltd., and grant them reasonable time for purpose of such development, also amend and revise several of the clauses of the charter, and in order to make them definite and clear in every respect the secretary-treasurer of this county hereby directed to forward the petition to the Government, a copy of the petition to each minister of portfolio, and a copy to each member of the county in the House of Assembly.

20 MILES FROM NEWCASTLE. The White Rapids are situated on the South West Miramichi about 20 miles from Newcastle, four miles below Blackville and two miles above Renous. The stream above the rapids is fairly wide and gradually tapers to a narrow channel forming what resembles the neck of a bottle just below the rapids. On both sides of the stream are banks reaching a height of about 80 to 90 feet on the western side and from 120 to 150 on the other side, giving good opportunity and plenty of room to build a dam.

The people of Northumberland county have been interested in the great possibility of these rapids for hydro development and in 1919 U. V. Tracy-Gould studied the project. Mr. Gould's report stated that the White Rapids could supply a minimum constant power of 3,600 to 3,700 horse power if a dam about 40 feet in height was built. He said that power could be procured according to the height of the dam as each additional foot in height would furnish additional power.

CHANGE FOR RESERVOIR. Were the development to be carried to the upper regions of the watershed, that is, as far as Nepesigan, where there is a lake and some streams, the supply of water could be regulated for the dry seasons by building of reservoirs or water basins. These water basins could be opened and used as regulators for the amount of supply necessary. The building of water basins in neighboring streams has been adopted in Ontario and Quebec as in the case of the St. Maurice River project. In a like manner the supply of the White Rapids could be accelerated and could furnish power of about 8,000 or 9,000 horse power in accordance with the amount of water basins which could be built, it is said.

An almost unlimited supply could be had if a dam was built at Blackville but this would flood that village, but as the situation stands ample power to supply Northumberland county can be obtained besides sufficient power to supply the needs of Blackville, Renous, Millerton, Nelson, Newcastle, Chatham and Loggieville, it is contended.

COUNTY ON QUI VIVE. The resolution passed by the County Council regarding the development of the White Rapids has started a discussion in the county and the result of the resolution is anxiously awaited. The town of Newcastle is being supplied from the Nepesigan at a cost of three cents per kilowatt. The contract expired on Dec. 1, 1926, and the Hydro Commission will have to make arrangements to continue to supply the town. Several industries in Newcastle depend upon cheap power and many other industries have applied for power providing the price can be made attractive. Nelson has applied to Newcastle for electric power but the present supply is not adequate. With the development of the White Rapids sufficient Accused of Heading Large Syndicate to Smuggle Liquor into U. S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Wm. V. Dwyer, prominent Canadian sportsman and one time owner of the Mount Royal race track of Montreal, must face trial in United States Federal courts as the alleged head of an international bootleg syndicate which prohibition officials style "the backbone of rum row."

A grand jury, investigating the "ring," believed to have done an annual business running into millions of dollars, has returned sixty-one indictments against thirteen members of the United States coastguard and forty-eight other individuals. The two other Canadians, Walter L. Vandye, of Montreal and C. Paul Chartier, of St. Pierre, Miquelon, are among those named.

Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior in the Federal Government, that the Nova Scotia Government join with the Federal Government in making up the excess rail rate on 15,000 tons of coal with a sufficiently low freight rates which could be sold at once by the British Empire Steel Corporation and help to relieve unemployment in Cape Breton, was received by Premier Rhodes today. In his reply the Premier of Nova Scotia refers to his telegram sent to Mr. Stewart yesterday in which the Government asserted it had gone the full distance in meeting its obligations, and declares that the request which "amounts to a bonus to the Canadian National Railways" would serve only as a "palliative."

ASKS $100,000 FOR HIS LOST FINGER

New York Pianist Places This Value on Digit—Sues Yellow Taxi Co.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—One hundred thousand dollars is the value which Alexander Stock, formerly a concert pianist and accompanist for Metropolitan Opera singers, places on the little finger of his right hand, which had to be amputated following an accident. He is suing the Yellow Taxi Corporation for that amount, alleging that the loss of his finger and his occupation as pianist was due to the carelessness of one of its chauffeurs who slammed a taxicab door on the finger.

The case was called for trial before Justice Ingraham in the Supreme court when the justice returned to court after the mid-day recess he was surprised to observe a baby grand piano directly in front of the jury box. Justice Ingraham inquired as to the meaning of the instrument in the courtroom. It was explained that Stock was going to prove that such numbers as Beethoven's Sonata Appassionata, Chopin's Walse in C sharp minor and Schumann's Etudes Symphonique could not be played on a piano with seven fingers and two thumbs.

"That piano was not placed in this courtroom with my knowledge, and certainly not with my consent," said Justice Ingraham, who ordered that the piano be taken out. "There will be no music in this courtroom," he said. So when Mr. Stock and his counsel, I. Ginsburg, go on with the case they will try to prove their case by expert testimony rather than by demonstration.

Mr. Stock, who is now studying medicine at Columbia University, complains that while he and a friend, Sammie Gottlieb, also a musician, were riding in a Yellow Taxicab the door opened while the vehicle was rounding a curve and that the chauffeur, without looking around, reached back and slammed the door on his finger, while he, Stock, also was trying to close the door. Two operations were finally had to be amputated, after which, the pianist alleged, he lost his skill.

BANK PRESIDENT BACKS HOME PORTS

Austin Advocates All-Canadian Winter Sea Outlet Via Saint John, Halifax

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—Regret that a greater proportion of Canadian products is not shipped out of Nova Scotia or New Brunswick ports was expressed by A. W. Austin, president of the Dominion Bank of Canada, in his address to shareholders at the annual meeting of the bank today.

Mr. Austin strongly advocated an all-Canadian, all-winter port route, pointing out that the ports of Halifax and Saint John were well equipped to handle grain particularly. He declared the aspirations of the people of the Maritime Provinces deserved the sympathetic consideration of the rest of the country.

Both Mr. Austin and C. A. Bogert, the general manager, referred in optimistic terms to general conditions in the Dominion.

Mr. Austin said the increased use of Maritime ports "should not be dismissed as an economic impossibility without the fullest examination, particularly in view of the need of our railways for traffic."

Summarizing general conditions, "pro and con," Mr. Austin pointed out that Canada, on the favorable side, held good crops, excellent demand for raw materials at favorable prices, great improvement in agricultural conditions, general liquidation of indebtedness, growth in savings and strong liquid banking position. On the other side of the sheet, however, remained interrelated and unsolved problems of railways, taxation and immigration.

How to Have Peace Between Mothers and Daughters-in-Law—The Mortified Young Girl Whose Parents Quarrel Before Her Men Callers—Should Wife Let Husband Go Out With Other Men?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—You are always talking about how a mother-in-law should treat her daughter-in-law. Will you tell us how a daughter-in-law should treat her mother-in-law? Should the daughter-in-law use offensive, insulting language to her mother-in-law? Should she entertain her family and friends continually and exclude her husband's family and friends entirely from her home? MRS. I. M. V.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: The whole vexing in-law question—which causes more heart burnings and bitterness and strife and tears than any other thing in the world—could be solved by the simple expedient of applying the golden rule to the situation.

If every mother would treat her son's wife as she hopes and prays some other woman will treat her daughter when she gets married, and if every daughter-in-law would treat her mother-in-law as she hopes some girl will treat her when her son takes unto himself a wife, then the days of peace would be numbered and brood over many a home that is now a bloody battle ground in which two women perpetually fight out their differences.

Whether the mother-in-law or the daughter-in-law is most to blame in the in-law imbroglio depends, of course, on the individual case. Sometimes the one is at fault, sometimes the other, and if I say more about the mother-in-law's duty in trying to get along peacefully with her daughter-in-law it is because I am trying to appeal to the one who is most likely to listen to reason.

Life should have taught the older woman more self-control, more wisdom, more tact than the younger woman has. Besides it is more important to her to get along with the younger woman, because if she doesn't she loses her son and son's wife walks off with the honors of war.

And just because mother-in-law is so much in her power, just because she can so completely make or make her happiness, the younger woman should feel a debt of honor to show every kindness and consideration to her husband's mother.

How then should a daughter-in-law treat her mother-in-law? She should begin by treating her as a friend instead of an enemy.

Most brides come into a family with a chip on their shoulders. They somehow feel that their mothers-in-law are their traditional enemies, and they are looking for offense in everything the poor lady says and does.

If mother-in-law makes the slightest suggestion or criticism they are up in arms. They refuse to do her way or to take advice though she may be a blue-ribbon housekeeper and a Solomon in petticoats whose views are held in high respect by the balance of the community.

The daughter-in-law should make her mother-in-law a welcome guest in her home, because after all it is her son's house and his money supports it. Nothing but dire poverty should ever induce a mother to go and live with her daughter-in-law, but even under this acid test of hospitality it is still the daughter-in-law's duty to lighten the burden for the older woman as much as possible by making her feel that she is wanted.

Daughters-in-law should use diplomacy in handling their mothers-in-law, for, after all, mothers-in-law are still human and their motherly instincts it takes time and trouble to sidestep their peculiarities. It takes patience to put up with their interference. It takes forbearance not to resent their unsolicited advice. But every woman has to make these concessions to her own mother; why should she not do it for her mother-in-law?

There is no other woman, not even her own mother, to whom a young woman owes as much as she does to her mother-in-law who has given her a good husband. It is a pity that so few young daughters-in-law are willing to pay this debt.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have good parents that I love dearly, but why, oh, why, do they quarrel between themselves when I have company? It seems to me that they could wait until some other time to pick on each other. Just the other night a young man was calling on me for the first time, when suddenly there was a terrible clashing of words upstairs. He looked at me amazed, and I was so confused I couldn't say a word. I admire this chap and know that I could be happy with him. But what is his impression of me as the daughter of the lady who was saying such awful things to her husband? No man would want to marry a girl with that kind of a mother, because a girl is judged by the kind of a home she has. What shall I do? GEORGINA.

ANSWER: You had better bind over your parents to keep the peace while you have young men visitors, Georgina, for you are right in thinking that a girl is judged by her home, and especially by her mother.

If a girl has a pleasant, peaceful, well-kept home and a mother who is sweet and amiable and pleasant, and especially if her mother and father are still fond of each other and get along comfortably together, it is the biggest matrimonial boost that her stock can have. For that is the kind of a home and a wife that every man dreams of and desires, and he argues, with unassailable logic, that a girl reared amid such surroundings, with such traditions bred into her and with such an example before her, will make him just another such home and be just another such affectionate and good-tempered wife.

On the contrary, nothing scares a man off so quickly as an untidy, unkept house, where everything is at sixes and sevens, where there is neither order nor peace nor thrift nor even decent comfort. And when he hears a girl's mother bawling out her father he simply beats it away while the going is good.

He doesn't want to marry a woman who doesn't know what good housekeeping is. He doesn't want to marry a girl who has been brought up in an atmosphere of slovenliness and idleness and extravagance, and he prays all his gods to deliver him from the daughter of the woman who is a virago.

Of course, there are exceptions to the rule "like mother, like daughter," but it is true so often that men are wise to be guided by it. Hence the mother does write her daughter's price tag, and the mother who henpecks her husband and quarrels with him does queer her daughter's matrimonial chances.

Perhaps if you will convince your parents of that, they will put the soft pedal on their arguments when you have young men calling upon you.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a wife of 22 and have one little boy of 4. My husband is good and kind and generous to me, and we are very happy. But he sometimes wants to go out with other men and I don't want him to go, although I have every confidence in him. Do you think I should let him go? UNDECIDED WIFE.

ANSWER: Certainly you should let him go. Matrimony should not be slavery, although a lot of misguided husbands and wives make it that for the unfortunate creatures they captured and on whom they riveted a ball and chain at the altar.

Of course, no man should go out every evening alone and leave his wife to spend dull hours watching the baby sleep, but every man has a right to one evening off a week without having to ask any permission or give any explanations or have any arguments with his wife about it.

The man who spends all the balance of his time working to support a home is entitled to at least the privileges of a servant girl, and no maid would stay where she didn't get her Thursdays off.

RED ROSE "Is good COFFEE"

Sea's Circuit Rider

By LEON M. SILER

THERE are well-worn warblers of the cloth who preach from ornate pulpits in great metropolitan edifices of brick and stone, there are ill-repaid persons who hold faith faithfully in modest white church houses of village and cross roads, and then there is Rev. Orville J. Gupitll.

As the circuit rider of the hundred and one bleak islands which sprawl along the southern coast of the State of Maine, Rev. Gupitll merits, I think, the title of the world's most practical pastor.

Five thousand souls there are in his rock-bound, wind-swept, fog-embroidered offshore parish—primitive souls, most of them, to whom theology is a closed book, but to whom the religion which Rev. Gupitll brings is good because it is human helpfulness.

His sponsors in the Maine Sea Coast Missionary Society, Bar Harbor, summer playground of millionaires, is the society's headquarters.

Months in a Round

There are weeks and often months in a round by Rev. Gupitll of his parish's outposts. Near a hundred miles is the length of the parish by airline, from far out toward the Bay of Fundy and Nova Scotia. And there are many more hazardous miles of in, out, and around deep bays, jutting headlands, and rocky island promontories. But if his parishioners must wait long at times for fresh installments of their spiritual nourishment, this maritime sky pilot has learned, it but accentuates the warmth of their welcome at his final coming.

He learned this immediately after he shouldered the missionary burden carried for a score of years by Rev. A. P. MacDonald, the Sea Coast Mission's founder.

When Rev. MacDonald first began visiting the fisher folk on the Maine islands life's cycle for them was but to be born, to wring from the sea a meager existence for shortened years and then to die.

Save on the most remote islands changes steadily have been wrought.

Better Living

The practical religion of the Sea Coast Mission and its evangelists has accounted for better food, better shelter, better sanitation, and a measure of education, as well as for a growing acceptance of the Old Story.

To "Sunbeam" is due much of the credit for this. For 13 years the "Sunbeam" chugged back and forth among the islands with the sky pilot, some of his assistants, and often one or more sick or injured parishioners as passengers.

The "Sunbeam" is getting old and decrepit now. She is a bit uncertain in a storm. In the spring, Rev. Gupitll hopes to have a new boat built. Reaching the present limits of his boat is difficult enough, and beyond those limits there still are squall settlements.

"And the denomination of the mission," I asked.

A leaflet describing "The Christian Brotherhood of the Seacoast, organized to inspire local religious leadership among the islanders, was the answer.

"We promise so far as in us lies to exemplify the Christian life and to try to lead others to do the same," read the leaflet which it contained.

There is no quibbling over creed or ritual in the religion of this far-flung offshore parish.

There's just human helpfulness.

Fashion Fancies

Moire in a bright cherry color is the material used for this frock, which is simple in line, yet formal enough for the smartest of afternoon occasions.

The skirt is plain at the back, and adds fullness by means of two inverted pleats at the front. The vestee is of soft silk in a cream shade.

This model would be smart in almost any becoming color, or in black with a fresh vestee.

A RECENT announcement in this department that New York is a great winter resort seems to have brought a laugh from those sunny climes where "winter resorts are winter resorts."

But ere the laugh dies on their lips, let them try to get a room at any of the big hotels just now. A friend, in for a few days from Cleveland, appealed to me almost tearfully, to help him get a room. He had called 14 of the largest hotels in town. Appeals to the hotel press agents had fallen upon deaf ears. Nothing could be done. The rooms were filled and there were waiting lists, to say nothing of telegrams from persons en route.

The average capacity of each hotel called is 1,000 to 2,000 persons, which means some 20,000 visitors in the larger hostleries of the central districts.

AD to your stock of stories about Scotchmen this new one: A Scotchman opened a lunch counter. A friend, visiting him late in the evening found the proprietor sweeping up the little circular bits of paper that fall from punch checks.

"Well, mon, I'm thinkin' I kin sell 'em for confett New Year's eve."

Premier and Hon. P. J. Veniot are Among Speakers

His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, Acting Mayor Frink and Others Heard

Development of the pulp and paper industry and increased agricultural activity were advocated by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., Premier of New Brunswick, at the banquet tendered to the Canadian state deputies by the Saint John Council, Knights of Columbus, at the Admiral Peck last night.

GIVEN OVATION

Governor Todd was tendered an ovation on arising to welcome the guests to New Brunswick. He voiced a hearty greeting and congratulated the knights on the number of prominent men to be found among them. He called on them to go on with the splendid spirit of charity and fraternity that the order enunciated.

HON. MR. VENIOT. Hon. P. J. Veniot, in proposing the toast to the province, informed the delegates from Upper Canada that they had neglected New Brunswick. He urged them to preach the doctrine of sympathy and co-operation.

HON. DR. BAXTER. Hon. Dr. Baxter replied. He referred to the pleasant relations that had prevailed between himself and Mr. Veniot. He spoke of the fight that Halifax and Saint John were waging together instead of against each other for their rights.

HON. DR. MALONEY. Dr. Maloney in proposing the toast to the order, said that Canada's greatest enemy was its geography. Too many young people had been compelled to leave Canada. Some way must be devised to enable them to make a living at home, he said.

VISITORS DINED ON MONTROSE

Guests of Canadian Pacific at Delightful Skating Week Function

Class Thunberg Popular Member of Party—Company Wins Praise For Entertainment

One of the most pleasant of the skating week functions was that on Monday at the Canadian Pacific steamship Montrose at West Saint John, last evening, when a complimentary dinner was tendered the visiting newspaper writers who were in the city as guests of the C. P. R. for the skating meet. It was given by the company and was in the capable care of G. Bruce Burpee, district passenger agent, who was an ideal host.

Mr. Burpee presided over three nicely appointed tables in the handsome saloon and a meeting presided in the C. P. R. style was set before the guests, while the steamer's orchestra played a delightful program. In addition to the visiting writers the guests included the officials in charge of the big meet at Lily Lake and representatives of the city newspapers. Acting Mayor Frink was also among the number at table.

THUNBERG THERE. Class Thunberg, Finnish skater, was an honored guest, together with his manager, Hugo Gies, and Charles Peterson, who has been acting as interpreter and special friend, along with Don Cable, to Thunberg since he came to Saint John.

The affair was entirely informal and there was little speech-making. The King and the President of the United States were honored in toast and with appropriate music. Mr. Burpee extended a hearty welcome to the company's guests and expressed his personal pleasure and that of the C. P. R. in having them at table on board the Montrose.

U. S. VISITOR SPEAKS. He called on James Gould, president of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, and the latter conveyed the delight of himself and his associates at being present. Their visit to Canada and to this portion of it had been very pleasant and he expressed thanks to all for the kind reception given them and the many good things arranged for their entertainment. He then spoke to his associates to know that the people of Saint John liked to have them among them.

RELEASING EDUCATION. The board of religious education met after the executive and after some discussion appointed a small committee to endeavor to make arrangements for the holding of a summer school this year. At the proposed school the courses will be for training Sunday school teachers, W. A. members and those interested in social service.

DECREE OF DIVORCE ORDERED TO ISSUE. Judgment Given in Saint John Case by Mr. Justice Crockett

FREDERICTON, Jan. 27.—Mr. Justice Crockett, in the Court of Divorce and Matrimonial Causes, today ordered a decree to issue in the suit of Jessie Berteaux Knowlton vs. Eldridge Bryson Knowlton, a Saint John case, in which the plaintiff was named unknown to the defendant.

Witnesses heard were George M. Byron to prove the authority of the clergyman who officiated at the marriage, the plaintiff, who prior to marriage was named Hatheway, and Norman A. Hornbrook.

In the case of Michael Joseph Shannon vs. Anosh Shannon, the parties to which are Syrians, whose native name was Shaheen, suit money was ordered paid by the plaintiff husband. He was unable to do so and the case goes over until the next term.

Court adjourned Feb. 23 when the case of McIntosh vs. McIntosh will be heard.

Letters to the Editor

THE REVERSING FALLS

To the Editor of the Times-Star: Sir—We are wont, frequently, to exclaim and direct the attention of visitors and others, to the, indeed, marvelous phenomenon of the reversing falls at the mouth of the Saint John River, but it seems to the writer that we very much overlook the wonderful blessing this constrictor at the mouth of our river becomes, when we consider the alternative conditions which would obtain on the Saint John river and tributaries to the head of tide water, but for the check which is offered by this barrier, against twenty-seven feet of harbor tide on the side and the sudden reflux from the river on the other.

Sargent's Paintings Making Big Hit With Lovers of Art

London Letter Deals With Naval Controversy About Usefulness of Aircraft—Australian Cricketers' Action in Leaving Wives Home Endorsed.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(By mail) The memorial exhibition of the late John S. Sargent's works, at Burlington House, is probably the most remarkable one-man show ever attempted. Over 400 exhibits are included, paintings in oil, water color, crayon and pencil drawings, designs, and bronzes, and they completely fill the ordinary galleries used for the summer show. These works cover the full gamut of the famous artist's development, from his earliest boyish experiments to his mature achievements, and they reveal him as perhaps the greatest technician of his day and generation. At the press view, before the eager crowds invaded the galleries, I met ultra-modern Chelsea critics there who were disposed to disparage Sargent's claims to be among the immortals, but not one of them failed to utter almost jealous tributes to his "amazing technique. He would paint, and his artistic surface, in brilliant landscapes, splendid interiors, and portraits of dazzling beauty and divination, to surmount the ordeal of such an inordinate one-man show as this.

ART COMMENT I wonder how many of our moderns, or even of masters of the past, could still Burlington House with works that would never become monotonous or bore the student for one moment? Of course the portraits attract attention, though there are some gems of landscape work that make the connoisseur's mouth water. I would give much to possess one of those brilliant olive-green garden pictures, or a sunlit Italian place, or even one of the strong war impressions, "Gassed" is here, and stands the test of time. It is poignant, horrible, yet beautiful too. Beautiful harmony of line and color as well as in its sympathetic sense of fraternal valor. The portraits of great Victorians are amazing. Illustrious men and famous beauties, both long dead, live again on the walls of Burlington House, conjured back for us, fresh to the spirit, by a magician's brush. Sargent's last sketch is there too. A spirited and faithful head in pencil of Princess Mary. The price of the portrait in the famous old Earl Wemyss—a real masterpiece of vivid characterization.

CABINET AND ADMIRALTY. Next to the treasury the most autocratic of all Whitehall departments is the admiralty. But after recent revelations, sensational only because a wide publicity has now been given to facts well known for years to those behind the scenes, the cabinet may have difficulty in resisting demands for a inquiry which shall be something more than a mere official whitewash committee. When Der Tag came in 1914, it was no sudden emergency, but a supreme crisis long foreseen. The fate not only of the British Empire but of half the world's population depended on "Britain's sure shield." We now know that the most efficient thing about it was its great tradition, which alone withheld the Germans from forcing a decisive naval battle. Had they done that early in the war, before at Jutland, we had turned a slight numerical preponderance into an overwhelming one, the odds would have been on the Black Eagle and not the White Ensign.

GRIM FACTS. Two British vice-admirals, not old fogies, but active war-time officers, one our Fourth Sea Lord and the other with the grand fleet all through the war, endorse Admiral von Tirpitz's statements. These statements are real grave, and are that in ships, gunnery and vital equipment the German fleet was definitely superior to ours. This was not because the British taxpayer refused money adequate for supreme efficiency. It was because the whole spirit of the British Admiralty, of which Admiral Lord Fisher declared they would like to have stuck to wooden ships and masts, was to equip our ships with big-calibre guns, and entirely omitted to protect these ships with armor just where these high-angle guns must drop their shells. We were hopelessly outclassed in such scientific apparatus as rangefinders, wireless, and magazine isolators.

EYELESS AT JUTLAND. The disastrous loss of our great battle-cruisers, during the overture to such main action as took place at Jutland, was due to the latter omission solely. Nobody had thought of preventing flames from bursting through the central ammunition stores. There was almost a forced draught hurling them down the magazine shafts. Moreover, owing to the admiralty's supreme contempt for all aircraft, our grand fleet steamed eyeless into Jutland, and throughout the war, could be watched without being able to watch. To comprehend how such gross inefficiency as this could be possible, we have to get right down to the mentality at the top of our fabulously costly machine. Vice-Admiral Chambers quotes a case that is perhaps typical. A British battleship captain's request for some slight alteration on board his vessel was refused—on the ground that "it could only be of use in action." One recalls Sir Percy Scott's "Paint before maintain. An unexpected difficulty has emerged, however. The native operators, who make no scruple about using the ordinary "kicker" regard wireless as "ju-ju," and are either unable or unwilling to work it. They distrust this form of white man's magic, and it seems as if for the present the older methods must be continued. The Indian problem is less troublesome than farther south, and the natives welcome the more easy-going methods of British administration after the rigor of the Germans. On the other hand, the British civil servants on the East Coast have been discouraged by the way in which their incomes have been prejudicially affected by currency operations over which they had no control.

CRICKET. Australia's ukase prohibiting members of their cricket team taking the ordinary "kicker" regard wireless as "ju-ju," and are either unable or unwilling to work it. They distrust this form of white man's magic, and it seems as if for the present the older methods must be continued. The Indian problem is less troublesome than farther south, and the natives welcome the more easy-going methods of British administration after the rigor of the Germans. On the other hand, the British civil servants on the East Coast have been discouraged by the way in which their incomes have been prejudicially affected by currency operations over which they had no control.

Her Face Was Covered With Large, Red Pimples. Miss Grta Carlisle, 23 Leonard St., Brantford, Ont., writes: "A short while ago, my face was completely covered with large red pimples, and it seemed that it was almost impossible for me to get rid of them, as nothing I took seemed to do me any good. One day I noticed an advertisement of Burdock Blood Bitters, and I will never regret the day I bought it, as, now, my face is entirely cleared up of blotches and pimples of every kind." For the past 47 years B.B.B. has been put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

UNFORTUNATE PROPAGANDA. Many causes may explain this surprising lack of enterprise at a time when things are none too rosy at home, and the pressure of economic conditions is most severe. No doubt the spirit of Indian unrest revives old memories of mutiny episodes in many families with whom the Indian Civil Service is almost a hereditary tradition. There is also an impression that, the way things are going, some general measure of Indian self-rule might conceivably upset existing civil service conditions. But perhaps the main factor is the disgruntlement of many Anglo-Indians, whose pessimistic and gloomy views about the future often exercise a most deterrent effect on those whose sons might otherwise go into the Indian Civil Service. It is quite possible that, with the help of public school headmasters, this unfortunate influence may be successfully combated, and in the interest of this country as well as India, we must trust it will be so.

WHITE MAN'S MAGIC. A friend home from one of the mandated territories in East Africa gives me a highly promising account of the outlook there, all the more impressive since two years ago his view was of another kind. Agricultural and commercial development is proceeding apace, and if the means of communication are increased on the lines proposed by Mr. Ormsby-Gore's committee of 15 months ago, the attractions of the country for white settlers will be greatly enhanced. It was hoped that wireless telegraphy might be used as a substitute for land lines, which are costly to erect and

NICOL BRINGS DOWN BUDGET OF QUEBEC; SURPLUS $743,136

He Estimates Favorable Balance of $246,839 For Present Year

QUEBEC, QUE., Jan. 27.—Hon. Jacob Nicol, provincial treasurer, brought down the budget in the Quebec Legislature Assembly today. He informed the House that for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, the estimates of ordinary revenue are $23,365,239.45, and $23,121,584 or ordinary expenditure and the estimated surplus $246,839.

The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1925, was $23,021,329 and the ordinary expenditure $23,629,390 to which is added $648,802 of extraordinary expenditure paid out of ordinary revenue, making the total $24,278,192. The actual ordinary revenue for the past year, was $5,100,107 more than estimates and expenditure was $4,515,273 more than estimated.

Cash operations during the year 1924-1925 were: On deposit at commencement of the year $3,435,944, and outstanding warrants $1,143,918. Total receipts from all sources during the year, that is, from July 1, 1924, to June 30, 1925, were $47,883,723 and the total payments $48,461,442 leaving a balance of $710,407, namely on deposit in banks $1,559,720. As to funded debt the treasurer said: On the 30th June 1924, the funded debt outstanding was $75,505,326.27.

FUNDED DEBT INCREASES

On the 30th June 1925 it was $81,944,926.27 being an increase of the funded debt outstanding of $6,888,700. The funded debt on the 30th June 1925, consisting of bonds and stock outstanding of the various loans of the province, was $81,944,926.27 against which the sinking funds invested and deferred payments amounted to $19,581,281.66 leaving a net balance of the funded debt of $62,363,644.61. The net balance of funded debt at 30th June, 1925, is $5,724,302.34 more than the net balance of funded debt at 30th June, 1924. This increase is accounted for by new loans issued, plus other loans increased, less loans redeemed and investments on account of sinking funds.

Hon. Mr. Nicol in referring to increased estimates said that it was necessary to provide an additional $377,260 for increase to civil servants and $775,474 additional on account of public debt. As to the latter, he said: "You will also observe the next year's budget shows an estimated increase in expenditure of $775,474 on account of the public debt. The explanation to this is that we have borrowed during the year."

WHAT'S THE USE? He (softly): I dreamed of you last night, Dorothy. She (with interest): What dress was I wearing?—Answers.

A resume of 1925 was given by Mr. Dickson, and a comparison of the work for the last three years showed a steady financial improvement in spite of the fact of a declining population.

The following officers were elected: Churchwardens, J. B. Hodsmyth and T. Bowland; vestry clerk, E. Miller; treasurer, J. B. Hodsmyth; auditor, H. Miller; envelope secretary, E. Dunhill; vestrymen, E. McBride, J. Armstrong, T. Anderson, W. Miller, A. Cronk, A. Rourke, S. Daly, F. N. Bamford, M. Mannet, E. Daly, S. Osborne, R. Bowland; building committee, E. A small honorarium and a vote of thanks was also given to the organist, Mrs. Crisp.

After 40 years' association with the Sunday school, being for a long time its superintendent, Mr. Hodsmyth said he had felt obliged to resign. At a recent meeting of the teachers with chairman, W. Miller was elected superintendent.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—Canadian apples are not contaminated with arsenic. Recent complaints that apples grown on this continent often carried a residue of the poisons contained in insecticides used for spraying during their growth has prompted the Department of Agriculture to make a rigid investigation.

2 PUNISHED IN ASSAULT.

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 27.—Lewis McDonald (Kid Burns) was sentenced to two years in Prince Albert penitentiary and Albert Terris to six months by Mr. Justice McCarthy for assaulting William Sherman, late president of the United Mine Workers in Alberta, at the Crystal Assizes.

C.P. AND C.N. FUSION URGED BY MACLEAN

Progressive Assails Tariff; Called Insincere by Edwards in House

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—Canada's railway problem received some attention from speakers during continued debate on the address in the House of Commons today.

W. F. MacLean (Conservative, South York), advocated amalgamation of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways. Unnecessary duplication of lines, with consequent waste of millions, would thus be eliminated, he said, and the new system would be equipped with a great steamship service operating on the two oceans. He told the House that the time had come to sink party feelings and get together to solve the railway problem. The railways, he believed, were willing to discuss a proposal for consolidation.

C. R. McIntosh (Liberal member for North Battleford), who preceded Mr. MacLean, emphasized the importance of the Hudson Bay Railway. John Evans (Progressive, Rosetown, Sask.), called the tariff a "diabolical frame-up between manufacturers and politicians." He estimated that the Canadian people would lose a quarter of a million dollars this year through the tariff.

Hon. J. W. Edwards (Conservative, Frontenac-Addington) charged Mr. Evans with insincerity. The member for Rosetown, he said, had stated in a speech that the Government was "allowing in corruption" and yet he had supported it in the recent division.

ANGLICANS ELECT AT CANTERBURY

CANTERBURY, Jan. 27.—The annual meeting of the congregation of the Anglican parish of Canterbury was held Monday at the rectory. Rev. W. C. V. Martin, rector, presided and there was a fair attendance.

The rector reported progress had been made. The number of communicants had been increased and there had been a record attendance.

The financial returns showed a marked improvement.

The rector congratulated the congregation of St. Mary's church, Benton, in their effort to reduce the debt on the new parish hall.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Wardens, R. H. Scott, E. Landon; vestryman, W. T. Cunningham, H. Price, George Wibberley, John Hartin, Andrew Cummings, Hugh Hamilton, Sr., E. Crombie, Harry Deakin, Frank Toft, George Acot, Walter Budd, Wilmot Edwards. Delegate to the synod, Harry Deakin; substitute, H. Price.

LAST AND NEXT TO LAST.

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

A Liberal member said that the last thing Canada wants is another general election. He is almost right, but that is the next to last thing. A continuance of the King government is actually the last thing.

CONSOLIDATION
Miller's Creek Coal

This coal has qualities found in no other, not even in the Miller's Creek area where there are multitudes of coal seams, is there another coal just like CONSOLIDATION Miller's Creek.

It is almost a freak in as much as it burns at first something like soft coal or good hard wood, then settles down to a strong, long lasting fire like hard coal; no stone, no clinker and next to no ash (only about 50 lbs of ash to the ton.) Burned according to instructions, which are very simple, it makes virtually smokeless fires in furnace, range, open fires and heating stoves. It is not, however, suitable for feeders. The price is several dollars per ton less than Anthracite and a ton goes further.

Genuine CONSOLIDATION Miller's Creek coal can be had in Saint John from C. R. Nelson, Fairville, telephone West 576; Robert Roberts, 26 Murray St., North End, telephone Main 4769; Peerless Coal Co., 71 Dock St., telephone Main 2647; or direct from the sole wholesale distributors in the Maritimes

"Hi-Heat" Name make sure you Get Best Coal

MR. NORMAN E. MOORE, will get a shock when he reads these words. It means a thousand dollars to him. The above check awaits you, Mr. Moore, with the congratulations of the Judges and the Consumers Coal Co., Ltd. It is hoped you won't delay getting in touch with the Consumers Coal Co., Ltd. They were much tempted to notify you before this goes into print, but they thought the surprise would be nicer this way.

You can be sure of everybody's sympathy, Mr. Moore, in having the sad news broken so suddenly.

A Close Decision

Another thing, Mr. Moore, for all your cleverness, you just succeeded by a hair's breadth. If you had spelt Hi-Heat with one letter different than it is, you'd have lost out to another.

The Judges had no idea whose ideas they were considering. They were all listed without the names of the authors by Mr. Caldwell, Manager of the Standard Bank. It was only after it was all over that he opened the sealed case containing the name and address of the one who suggested "Hi-Heat." The Judges were Commissioner Bullock, R. G. McInerney, Barrister, W. L. Caldwell, Bank Manager and Howard Wallace, advertising writer.

The Judges were unanimous in their final choice of "Hi-Heat" as the name which best describes the chief characteristic of this special Welsh Coal.

Hotter-Longer Lasting

As the Chairman, Commissioner Bullock, said: "I never saw such a coal for Heat. I have three kinds of coal in my house right now—the three best known and best regarded Coals you can buy. And this particular Hard Coal has all Scotch and American stuff backed off the map.

"Why Gentlemen," the commissioner told the other judges, "the Heat of that grade of Welsh Coal is simply terrific. I had to close all the drafts and check the furnace hard to keep the house from being too warm. And how it does last!"

It may be noted that each of the Judges were presented with a ton of Hi-Heat Coal last week and that the Commissioner bought the fill of his bins in addition.

Big Money Saving

"Hi-Heat" was chosen therefore as the Coal that showed its main superiority over other Coals by its extra Heat Value.

Hi-Heat Coal delivers more heat value for the money than any other. It has from a quarter to a half the ash content of other well regarded coals—which means it has that much more true coal to the ton, that much more heat. A gain that counts up in dollars for every ton. Yet it sells for but $16.50 cash, city sluiced delivery.

A Thousand Dollars was put up by the Consumers Coal Co., Ltd., in this Name Contest as a means of finding a Name to protect the Public in ordering the right kind of Welsh Hard Coal.

It was felt that to order just "Welsh Coal" was no guarantee that the buyer would get the most desirable Welsh Coal. There are so many classes of Coal known as Welsh.

Now the Public may call for "Hi-Heat" Welsh and be sure of getting the finest results for the money.

Reason for Prize

For four years the Consumers Coal Co. have studied and tested Welsh Coals. They were the first firm in Canada to import it in many years. They saw its superiority over other good coals—the expert analysis proved it—and the reports of their own testers and Customers confirmed their opinion.

In time they found one type better again than another until they finally found one special grade that won over all on all points. The question was now to give that grade a name all its own. Then there would be no doubt about the buyer getting exactly what he ordered.

More Heat-Less Ash

This grade—now known as "Hi-Heat" Welsh Coal—holds more heat and less ash to the ton. It's HOT, it's clean, it's long lasting.

Formerly Welsh Coal was sold here in the same way as in Wales—mixed. Today it is hand picked, sized and screened in their own yards by the most modern equipment in the East. Furthermore, today every cargo shipped from the other side is inspected by a special representative of the Consumers Co. at point of shipment.

Boost Port Trade

So great has been the demand for this better value Coal that dealers in Maine, Quebec and all over the Maritimes buy it from the Consumers Co. This means many new ships for the winterport trade. In December alone this means over $10,000 in wages.

So "Hi-Heat" Welsh serves the public benefit in this way besides providing a lower priced higher heat Coal of general utility. And unlike some, its price—though ruling higher at the mines due to Strike conditions—has been kept down here in Saint John.

For Kitchen Range—for Feeder—for Grate—and for Furnace, the finest satisfaction and fullest value for the money is Hi-Heat Welsh. Order safely by this name from

GORMAN ENTERS FINAL DAY OF MEET FAVORED FOR CROWN

FIRST LADIES' GAME IN YEARS WAS ENJOYED

Chicago Lad Was Sick When Entering Two-Mile Event Which Was Skated Under Spotlight in the Gathering Gloom

DRAMATIC climax to the second day's racing at Lily Lake here yesterday afternoon with 20,000 people looking on, came as the final event of the programme, the two mile senior, was skated under the glare of a headlight from the pavilion, darkness having fallen and a snowstorm having set in before the last event was reached.

The best Gorman could do in yesterday's events was a second place in the final of the three-quarter mile, finishing in 2:28.4. In the first semi-final, Clas Thunberg, of Finland, who scored ten points by getting a third place in the two mile event, did the distance in the remarkably fast time of 2:08.5 seconds, just a second slower than the world record.

FARRELL SICK. Donovan scored 90 points today by a great win of the two mile race, the card. It was the final event. The start was a great sight, nearly 95 contestants facing the mark under the floodlights.

CHICAGO GIRL WINS. Ruth Muhlmeier, of Chicago, added to the impressive total of points amassed by Windy City entries yesterday, taking the ladies' 220-yard dash, with Sybil Beatty and Mary Seaton, Saint John girls, second and third.

CROWD ORDERLY. The crowd was absolutely orderly, even during the long wait for the judges' decision after the 220 yard event had been called. The waiting line presented almost as thrilling a sight as the track as the spectators rose to their feet as one man time after time as the contestants came down the home stretch in a blanket finish.

GORMAN WAITS TOO LONG. Charlie Gorman failed to make as impressive a showing as on the open day. He finished second in his heat in the half mile without much difficulty but was out-generaled in the semi-final, Gorman skated easily and remained well back until the last lap apparently relying on his speed to bring him up at the finish.

BETTER IN 3-4 MILE. Gorman's showing in the three-quarter-mile race was better. He won his preliminary heat with a splendid sprint, Frank Garrett, Saint John, surpassing the crowd by staying at his shoulder all the way home. Gorman skated second to Clas Thunberg in the semi-final and finished in the same position in the final, losing to Farrell in a close finish.

TITLE CHANGE GONE. Thunberg broke into the point column by taking third place in the two mile. His chance for the championship has gone, however, as if he won both today's races he would have had only 70 points, 10 less than yesterday's leader.

INTER-CLUB BADMINTON. The first of a series of Wednesday night inter-club badminton tournaments to be held this season under the auspices of the Saint John Badminton Association was played last night at the Armory when the St. Andrew's players won from the Knox church club members by a score of 6 to 2.

CANADIENS BEATEN. EDINBURGH, Jan. 27.—After a very hard fight and a thrilling finish the touring Canadian curlers lost the third test match with Scotland today. This clinicates the Canadians from competition in the test matches as today's loss was their third in three matches played. The Canadian score was 108 and Scotland's 108, giving the Scots the narrow majority of three shots.

HAIR LOSS. It is absolutely needless. Thousands have escaped baldness with Newbro's Herpicide "The Quality Hair Tonic"

The picture above of a section of the grand stand at Lily Lake shows how densely packed the stand was on the second day of the world's championship skating meet yesterday. The black spots on the tops are not bad-warmers, they're spectators with high ideas. There were about 20,000 people at the meet.

There were some hard brushes in the preliminary heats of the senior 850 at the world's championship skating meet at Lily Lake yesterday. The picture above was snapped near the finish of one of them.

Of Maine-N. B. Racing Circuit; To Consider Many Changes

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Jan. 27.—Changed racing rules, a changed lineup of tracks and a changed lot of horses, for which classes must be provided, make it evident that the stewards of the Maine and New Brunswick Harness Racing Circuit at their annual meeting here on Wednesday, Feb. 10, are due for one of the most important sessions ever held in the annals of Down East racing.

REVERT TO OLD ITINERARY. Changes in the lineup of tracks in the circuit will mean only a return to the itinerary which was in effect before last season, when Chatham and Moncton were added for midsummer meetings.

NEW HORSES. Since last season there have been more horses brought Down East for racing purposes than ever before. Already one new free-for-all has arrived in St. John's, N.B., and probably at least two more will be on the ground before the racing season starts.

LOCAL BOWLING. Telephone League. In the N. B. Telephone League game, rolled on the Victoria Alley last evening, Team No. 2 took four points from Team No. 8, giving them the second series.

THESE TWO YOUNG HOPEFULS ARE James Quigg, Saint John, right, and H. Mason, Saint John, left, who were first and second, respectively, in the final of the 440 yard 10-year-old class at Lily Lake yesterday. G. Fowler, also of Saint John, was third in this event in the world's championship skating meet.

BRITISH RUGBY. LONDON, Jan. 27.—Rugby games played in England today resulted as follows: Rugby League: Wigan 16, Broughton 11.

WORLD MEET'S POINT WINNERS. THE POINT winners at the world championship skating meet yesterday follow: SENIORS. Gorman, Saint John, 60; Farrell, Chicago, 50; Murphy, Chicago, 50; Logan, Saint John, 40; Donovan, Endicott, 30; Boyd, New York, 10; Thunberg, Finland, 10.

RACING TRAINER DEAD. NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—William Duke, trainer, who this year sent Flying Ebony out to victory in the Kentucky Derby, Coventry in the Prekness, and Dangerous in the Traverses stakes, is dead at the age of 68. He first became identified with racing in Chicago 35 years ago.

MITCHELL QUITS. WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Colonel William Mitchell, air officer under sentence of five years' suspension from the United States army because of his criticism of government aviation policies, has tendered his resignation to the adjutant-general commanding this district.

FIRST LADIES' GAME IN YEARS WAS ENJOYED

After ten minutes, Jimmie Mountain made his way through the visitors unaided and gave Saint John a lead of one goal, for which he was loudly applauded. Five minutes before the game Halliday picked the rubber out from a mix-up in front of McDonald.

Sussex Upsets Dope By Defeating Moncton

THE first Halifax-Saint John hockey game in a decade was a tremendous success from the Saint John viewpoint, the largest crowd of the season turning out to see the locals win a great ice battle, 6 to 4. Not until the final period was the decision reached and the way it came sent the crowd home in great fettle.

MONCTON BEATEN. On top of this came the surprising news that Sussex had accomplished what no other team has been able to do this year, beat Moncton on its home ice. The score was close, 3 to 2, but it gave the locals a slim fighting chance yet. Saint John has three more games, two with Sussex and one with Moncton, and it must win all three in order for the locals to finish in a tie. It's a tough job and the chances are all in Moncton's favor.

LADIES' GAME. For the first time in twenty years local hockey fans were given an opportunity last night of seeing two ladies' hockey teams in "action," when the Y. W. C. A. defeated the local team by the score of 10 to 4, following the big hockey attraction between the Wanderers and the local sextette.

Before the game commenced Miss Saint John was introduced to the spectators by William Case. Little Miss Patricia McCleary, the Princess, tossed the puck between the opposing teams and the battle was on. The game was thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators, who missed no chances to give advice to the young ladies.

Members of the visiting Wanderers and the Saint John team could be noticed observing all that was taking place. Some of the ladies who took part were quite capable in the fine points of slick handling, and with more practice should become efficient at the art.

The work of Miss H. Foley, who played defence for the Y., was favorably commented upon. The teams lined up as follows: Y. W. C. A. Shebas.

Goal G. Fairweather. Defence G. Fowler, H. Oran, H. Foley, J. Carroll, W. Foley, W. O'Neill, G. Harding, B. Carter, M. Belding, E. Knodell.

L. Evans, M. Logan, M. McCormick, C. Williams, M. Collins.

The work of Temple Lane, who stood out in last night's clash with Halifax. The boy never turned in a finer game and it must have made the Wanderers regret that he decided to come over here.

Brad Gilbert, the hero of many an encounter bygone days, played a great defensive game, and made up many attacks. Mike McPhee in the net was in fine form and warded off some hot shots that looked impossible.

FEATURE OF GAME. One feature of the game was the end to end rush by Jimmie Mountain sent into the fray as relief in the middle of the third period with the score tied at four all. This led worked his way single-handed through the entire Wanderer aggression and scored the goal that won the game, while Captain Phil Halliday put the game on ice five minutes later when he scored from a mix-up in front of the Halifax net.

For the Wanderers Tommy Radford at centre was the most conspicuous being goal, for which he was loudly applauded. Five minutes before the game Halliday picked the rubber out from a mix-up in front of McDonald and scored the sixth goal for Saint John. The game ended with Saint John forcing the play and the score 6 to 4.

Harold Greg handled the whistle to the entire satisfaction of the players and spectators. The teams lined up as follows: Wanderers Goal Saint John McDonald, McPhee. Defence Arthur, B. Gilbert, Young, (Capt.) Halliday, Radford, Left Wing Panet, Right Wing Hunter, (Capt.) Thompson, Substitutes O'Brien, J. Gilbert, G. Harahan, Mountain.

ILLNESS REVEALS DOCTOR AS WOMAN

Had Practised Medicine For Quarter Century in Arkansas as Man

MENA, Ark., Jan. 28.—An illness that may be her last has revealed as a woman Dr. M. V. Mayfield, of this town, who has practised medicine for more than a quarter of a century as a man.

Patients have come from far and wide to receive treatment from Dr. Mayfield. This little resort town had come to be a mecca for the ill who sought the climate of the Arkansas Ozarks, coupled with the medical attention available.

No suspicion was ever cast on the doctor's sex. None regarded him as curious or effeminate. He was sought after and made the confidant and friend of the countryside. The doctor's practice became exceedingly profitable.

A few days ago an illness from which Dr. Mayfield had suffered became serious. To those in attendance the doctor then lost "his" masculine sex and was revealed as a woman.

Dr. Mayfield told nothing of her life history to the people of Mena when she came here. Since her illness she has given to those at her bedside something of her history. In England, where she was born, her parents needed a son to protect property rights and she was dressed as a boy and grew up wearing the garb of the male sex. Time wore along and the habit became her own. Taking up the study of medicine, she became a qualified physician, but kept to the clothing she had worn since childhood.

Move To Make Irish Court Rulings Final

DUBLIN, Jan. 28.—A bill described by members of the Dail as of grave constitutional importance, has been introduced in the Dail by Kevin O'Higgins, Minister of Home Affairs. The Minister of Justice explained that the object of the measure was to declare the absolute finality of the decisions of the Irish courts without interference from any outside body, such as the British Privy Council.

FLIPPED MATCH SET TURPENTINE AFIRE

Smoker Happens Along Just as Truck Driver Smashes 50-Gallon Barrel

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Among the workaday throng in Murray street were two strangers destined for lively co-operation. One was a truck driver who was inching a barrel of turpentine to the rear of his truck in front of the Griffin Manufacturing Company's plant at 67 Murray street. The other was sauntering along near the curb, stuffing tobacco into a pipe. The truckman dropped the barrel just as the smoker lit his pipe. The barrel burst and fifty gallons of turpentine went rushing along the gutter at the very instant that the smoker took a deep and satisfactory draft on his pipe and flipped away the match. The match, still alight, dropped into the gutter and Murray street immediately took on the aspect of a gigantic Christmas pudding, ablaze around the edge. The flames, more than a foot in height, ran beneath parked automobiles, kindled a load of lumber and dripped sparkfully into the Ninth avenue trolley slot to the admiration of those whose motor cars were not parked on that side of Murray street and the consternation of those who had cars there. Firemen extinguished the flames in about ten minutes.

Prizes for Naming Moving Picture Stars

Imperial Theatre Starts A Novelty Contest Next Monday Are You a Movie Fan? And If So, How Many Stars Do You Think You Know By Sight?

The Imperial is going to give you an opportunity next week to cash in on your powers of discernment. In other words, it is going to hold a Grand Movie Contest. The animated portrait of fifty stars will be reeled off on the screen and you must recognize them to win a prize.

Perhaps not all of them, for of course, there will be some sticklers—else there would be no contest—but to the ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls naming correctly the largest percentage we will give wonderfully fine awards.

This scheme is eliciting a furore of interest in Boston theatres at the present time, a large number in New York and beyond. Our Montreal sister house, the Imperial, has just concluded a similar contest.

As each patron enters the doorway he or she will be given a card upon which to write the names of the stars as their faces fly across the silver-sheet. You will be given plenty of time to decide upon each portrait and besides the zest of trying to win a prize it will prove a novel diversion.

Lights will be turned up so you can see to write and for fifteen minutes the theatre will be vocal with excitement. At any rate that is what is happening elsewhere.

The Imperial is not alone in introducing this novelty stunt. Several leading firms, as mentioned in the preceding list, are entering into the contest as prize donors with a gleeful spirit and we figure the whole thing is going to stir up quite a little community pep.

Following is the list of prizes and by whom donated:— A RADIO SET, the famous Victor Northern model, donated by The Hensley Electric Company. BANJO-UKULELE and Five Professional Lessons, donated by Phonograph Salon. DRAWING-ROOM FLOOR LAMP, or choice of Bridge Lamp, donated by J. Marcus. TUBULAR RACING SKATES on Boots, donated by Emerson Bros., Ltd. SMOKER SET, a rich and exclusive gift from the splendid stock of W. H. Thorne & Company, Ltd. Children Are Without Moral Sense Is Claim LONDON, Jan. 28.—Good advice with reference to the health of school-boys was addressed by Sir Robert Bruce-Porter to the conference in London of the Incorporated Association of Headmasters, says "The Cardiff Times." Sir Bruce deprecated telling boys that it was wicked to smoke. It was foolish to begin smoking young, because it made the heart very irritable. The best way to prevent a boy smoking was to make him take a few pulls of a strong cigar. Children are born with no moral sense," concluded Sir Bruce. "Games are essential to the development of character. I should be very sorry to see that great expression 'playing the game' go out of use in this country. It is essentially an English expression. We find it everywhere else in the world, and we teach other people what we mean by it. The boy who is taught in school to play the game will be a much finer character than the boy who does not receive that teaching."
