ENGLISH BOYS FOR OUR NAVY

Fifteen Lads from Training Ship Exmouth Are Coming Out

HAD A HARD TIME

Men on Schooner from Nova Scotia Were Two Weeks Adrift With Decks Awash—Canadian Licentiate of Royal College of Physicians

Times' Special Cable

London, Oct. 28.—Fifteen boys from the training ship Exmouth have been selected to join the Canadian navy.

The Earl of Banfill, at a meeting of the Atlantic, Quebec and Western Railway, expressed the hope that at the next meeting they would be able to report the successful opening of the railway.

The four men rescued and brought here by the steamer Commodore, from the schooner Florence LeBlanc, bound from Nova Scotia to Philadelphia, as before reported, had a hard time of it. They were a fortnight adrift with deck awash and provisions unobtainable. An Italian schooner passed close by, but paid no attention to signals of distress.

Alfred Lytton, speaking in Birmingham, said he believed that never in connection with the public debt of any of the dominions had default been made, even of sixpence in interest.

The following have been admitted licentiates of the Royal College of Physicians: E. Boyd and O. T. Dimick, of Toronto; Rev. Douglas Ellison, writing to the council of the Archbishops' Western Canada Fund, says: "We are face to face with new towns and with a potent force of materialism. Gross forms of vice are rampant. Sundays, under American influence, are largely days of pleasure."

Melbourne, Aus., Oct. 28.—The constitution amendment to the bill giving the Commonwealth control of trade co-operation, industrial and commerce matters and settlement of disputes as to the railways, has passed the committee of the Commonwealth house of representatives.

WOULD HAVE MOTTO CANADIANS FOR CANADA

Mayor of Ottawa Rather Startles His Audience of Montreal Business Men By Suggested Change of Slogan

Montreal, Oct. 28.—(Special)—Mayor Hoopwood of Ottawa, who addressed a large and representative gathering of members of the board of trade and chamber of commerce here yesterday afternoon, urging their support in pressing the government for the immediate construction of the Georgian Bay Canal, somewhat startled his audience by declaring that he did not believe in the slogan "Canada for the Canadians."

It gave the impression, he declared, that Canadians were small and selfish. He believed in a Canada for everyone who would make a good Canadian. The motto should be "Canadians for Canada and not Canada for the Canadians."

MONEY IN PEACHES

Return of $240 on a First Investment of Twenty Cents

Siegerville, Pa., Oct. 28.—A few minutes work and an expenditure of 20 cents have just brought $240 to the pockets of Oscar Wotring, superintendent of the Lehigh Portland cement farm.

Several years ago Wotring planted twenty peach trees in his front yard, at a cost of one cent each. The trees this year bore their second crop.

An enterprising milkman offered Mr. Wotring $100 for his crop, the offer being accepted. Since then the milkman has picked 284 baskets of choice fruit, which he sold at an average of $1.06 a basket, or a total of $283.16.

Last year, when the peaches were scarce and netted more than double this year's price, Mr. Wotring got $140 for his crop, and the man who bought them picked 222 baskets. So far, therefore the original twenty cents has gained $240.

From a peach tree which Clinton H. Fuller planted in his yard in this city in 1905, Mrs. Fuller has picked fourteen baskets of fine fruit, which she sold for $1.25 a basket.

Big Game Along C.P.R.

Fort William, Oct. 28.—Trappers running between Fort William and Winnipeg state that never before in their experience on the road has big game been so plentiful as this fall. Frenau, a veteran Canadian Pacific engineer, and his brother counted five moose today near the track between Shels and English, about sixty miles west of here. Two moose have been killed by locomotives during the last few days.

STEP IN ADVANCE BY RUSSIA

Duma, in Session Today, to Deal With Universal Primary Education

STORMY SESSION

Trouble Was Looked for at Opening—Duma Without a President as Official is in Prison for Fighting a Duel

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—The first important business of the fourth session of the third Duma to open today, will be consideration of a bill introducing universal primary education as it has been elaborated by the cabinet. This has already been considered by the Duma committee and, while some differences have arisen with respect to language in non-Russian regions, its passage is assured. The committee report calls attention to the progress already made in the budget of the ministry of education, which has quadrupled since the establishment of the Duma.

The programme also includes important financial and agrarian legislation in the 1911 budget, but the political bills relating to freedom of speech and of the press, personal inviolability, and martial law will probably not be reached this session.

The Duma is without a president, Alexander Guekhoff having temporarily resigned last August, to serve a sentence of imprisonment for fighting a duel with Count Uvaroff. Guekhoff, however, is eligible for re-election.

A disorderly opening of today's session was anticipated by the authorities because of opposition on the part of members of the Right to a proposal to honor the memory of Professor Serge Mourantseff, who was at one time president of the lower house, whose death occurred a few days ago.

YIELD OF 120 CARS OF APPLES FROM 100 ACRES

Washington Orchard Record Believed to Be Unsurpassed—Value Placed at $100,000

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 28.—Pomona ranch of 100 acres at Dayton, Wash., in the Touchet valley, south of Spokane, yielded 120 carloads of standard winter apples this season, which is believed to be a record for an orchard of this extent. The yield is 200 per cent greater than in 1909.

The apples are free from blemishes and careful examination showed but one wormy apple for each 1,000. The acre average was 750 bushels from seventy trees, and the total yield of the orchard is 120 carloads of standard winter apples, which is believed to be a record for an orchard of this extent. The yield is 200 per cent greater than in 1909.

The orchard was developed by J. L. Dumas, of Dayton, an expert in Washington State Horticultural Association, who sold it to a syndicate of Walla Walla and Dayton capitalists for $150,000 several months ago, at which time it was estimated the crop would reach a value of $75,000 on the ranch.

NURSES ON STRIKE

Practically Whole Staff of Hospital Quit, Alleging Overwork

Beaufort, Ont., Oct. 28.—Practically the entire staff of nurses at the John H. Stratford Hospital have gone on strike, demanding better conditions.

The hospital was crowded with sixty-two patients, the result of an epidemic of typhoid fever. The nurses claimed they had presented their grievances in the proper way, but that the board had neglected to take action.

Graduates of the hospital were looked up, and the strikers placed practically full. The governors say that the striking nurses will not be taken back.

The strikers claimed they were overworked and did not receive sufficient training.

TAILORS DEPORTED

Result of Enquiry Into Complaints of Hamilton Garment Workers

Hamilton, Oct. 28.—The deportations in connection with the discoveries made here by Immigration Officer Robertson, after an investigation into allegations made by the Garment Workers' Union, that men were being brought in contrary to the alien immigration law, have begun.

Six tailors brought in have left for the United States with Mr. Robertson. Sam Wolf, Joe Abrams, and Morris Herman, who are also to be deported, have disappeared, and it is thought that they went to Toronto. A warrant for their apprehension has been issued. Rakow, who was fined $500 for bringing the men into Canada, left for Rochester.

PLAGUE OF RATS IS THREATENING WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Oct. 28.—J. J. Golden, deputy minister of agriculture for Manitoba has received word from Oak Bluff, twelve miles south of here, that the advancing army of rodents has reached that point. The records show they have been coming north at the rate of a dozen miles a year, so that they are due in Winnipeg in 1911.

JESUITS UNDER ARREST IN THE REVOLUTION IN PORTUGAL

The picture here shows a different phase of the overthrow of the monarchy than has been before depicted. It shows a procession of revolutionary soldiers with Jesuit prisoners, whom they chased from their monasteries at the point of the gun, and afterward sent into exile. From the photo the light-heartedness of the revolutionaries and the corresponding dejection of the Jesuits is apparent.

WELL KNOWN COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER DEAD

George Gooding, for forty-eight years a commercial traveller with hosts of friends in every part of the Dominion, died suddenly in his residence in Toronto on Tuesday.

SQUIRREL PAYS VISIT TO KING STREET EAST

An interesting little nature story with King Street east as its scene entertained a few people at the dinner hour today. A squirrel, of course no one knows how it got there, was seen on the roof of the city stores building, evidently in a quandary as to how to reach the ground. Finally it nimbly ran down the wall of a brick building into a yard but was again non-plussed on reaching the ground for it could see no way of getting to its natural haunts.

At last a prowling cat arrived on the scene and the little visitor scampered through an alleyway and across the street into the old burial ground, with the tabby closely following. Up a tree went the squirrel, and its pursuer continued the chase, but soon dropped to the ground, but took post at the foot of the tree.

SPORTSMAN'S CLUB CONTROL IS ENDED

Maine Supreme Court Decides For the People as to Right to Fish or Hunt

Portland, Maine, Oct. 28.—The Maine supreme court has decided that the great pond at Cape Elizabeth is a public pond and free to all citizens to fish and hunt upon for almost nine months in the year is his cocker spaniel, "Nigger."

This attempt was frequently resisted, and the public's right has been involved in various forms of litigation until it was finally taken to the supreme court. The decision that the pond is open to the public is important as the finding of the court covers several sheets of water in Maine which are or may be subject to a similar attempt.

SMALLPOX NEAR DORCHESTER

Dorchester, N. B., Oct. 28.—Owing to a case of smallpox in an Indian family, about a mile from Dorchester, stringent methods are being taken to prevent spreading. All visitors to the Maritime Penitentiary are excluded, and there is some talk of closing the schools if any further cases develop.

THE TIMES' NEW REPORTER

WHAT IRAM THINKS "I see," said Mr. Iram Hornebeam this morning, "that fellow Bourassa is making quite a stir up in Quebec. I suppose he's rather a big toad in a little puddle than a little toad in a big puddle. He, what? But it won't pay. I callate the best thing we can do in Canada is to forget some things that's past. I wouldn't say a word again 'bout Bourassa's standin' up for his own toepout 'em on do anything else. You'd expect 'em to do anything else. But, if he tries to make me believe I'm a Frenchman, that's where we lock horns right away. Now there's Sils Jones. The first fight we had was when we was school trustees. Sils had some idea because he was Sils Jones that he was the hull show. Well, I showed 'em he wasn't no such thing. I guess Bourassa and Monk'll find out just what Sils did before they get very far. If I see either one o' 'em I'd tell 'em so. By Hen!"

MR. BINKS'S PLAN

Mr. Peter Binks this morning read with much interest the report of the speeches at the meeting of the Associated Charities. To the Times new reporter he said: "I have a plan that I think might work out fairly well. The papers have had a lot to say lately about the fine spirit of the people along Gormain street in having it paved and boulevardized. Now that's all right. But they'll have that job off their hands before winter sets in, and their automobiles will all be tied up in the stall. Why shouldn't they say to themselves: 'Now, we've made one section of Gormain street (our section) nice to look at, and what parties and the like, winter to make some section of some other street nice to live in. There's certain notions about it, and poor streets, for instance. Suppose, instead of dealing with earth and cement and telephone poles we try our hand on some human material this winter, and see what we can make of it?'"

"There's no reason," pursued Mr. Binks, "that I should single out Gormain street rather than Mount Pleasant or some other place. I'd make it instead of cutting up what parties and the like, but I'd have neighborhood improvement associations for one winter, just as an experiment, to see how it would work out."

GOLD WAVE TRAVELLING RAPIDLY EASTWARD

Washington, Oct. 28.—Killing frosts are predicted by the weather bureau today throughout the western and central states and to extend far into the eastern section of the country, and almost as far south as Gulf coast. The frost accompanied the first well marked cool wave of the present season, influenced by a cold high area of great magnitude, which today covers the west with its centre in the Rocky Mountain regions. Over the plains states and central valley, the cold wave swept down today and was moving rapidly eastward. As the wave moves eastward from the central states, the weather in the Atlantic states will clear as the temperature falls.

Conditions generally prompted the weather bureau to order storm warnings displayed on the great lakes, along the Atlantic coast and the Gulf coast.

JUDGE GIVES LECTURE TO GIRLS IN COURT

Arrested in Street Last Night—Policeman Lucas Tells of the Circumstances

Annie Evans, and Olive Ward, were scolded this morning in the police court by Judge Ritchie on being arraigned before him on a charge of wandering about a public street without satisfactorily accounting for themselves. "Any respectable young woman," he said, "is in the house every night at an early hour, and the police have a right to question people of either sex who are found in the street after 9 o'clock."

GETS MOOSE AND MEETS HERMIT OF WOODS

Animal Shot at Anderson's Lake Had 56 Inch Spear—Capt Anderson For 12 Years Has Lived Alone in Cabin There

There were brought to the city yesterday the hind quarters of a large moose which fell a victim on Tuesday last to the rifle of Chas. A. Gorman, of Brown's Flats. The animal, which weighed more than 900 pounds, and had an antler spread of fifty-six inches, was shot in the woods in the vicinity of Anderson's lake, a short distance from the home of Capt. S. A. Anderson. Several hunting parties have been in this region this season and almost all have been successful.

A visit to the woods there is attractive not only for the game to be secured, but also for a chat with a very interesting and a unique character, Capt. Anderson, himself, a man who has just passed his 70th birthday and bears his years well in his lonely cabin in the wilderness, where he has lived by himself for the last twelve years or more. There is scarcely a word of any importance either in the old world or the new that at some time or other he has not visited and his remarkably retentive memory enables him to narrate some interesting "yarns" from his long experience as master mariner.

He was a familiar figure a few years ago in the streets of this city, and will be remembered by many of the older citizens, while great numbers of the younger element know the old man well from his kindly treatment of them on fishing and hunting trips, taken to his far away cabin on Squid River, where he has lived for almost nine months in the year in his cocker spaniel, "Nigger."

VANCOUVER TERMINALS

Four Cross-Continent Railway Lines to Use Proposed N. W. Station

Vancouver, Oct. 28.—At a conference between Mr. Gilman, vice-president of the Great Northern railway, and the city officials, respecting the difficulties in carrying out the agreement entered into between this railway and the city, the important announcement was made that, in all probability, the proposed terminal would be used by four transcontinental lines.

The Northern Pacific has already agreed to use the Great Northern depot, and negotiations are now under way whereby it is expected that the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific railways will use this depot also.

The plans for the terminal, Mr. Gilman states, will soon be forwarded to Ottawa, and when approved by the railway commission, expropriation proceedings will be begun to secure the necessary property now held by private owners.

DECLARES POWER POSSIBILITIES GREAT ON NELSON RIVER

Regina, Sask., Oct. 28.—William Ogilvie, engineer, who has been exploring the waters of the Nelson river for the interior department, declares that there is sufficient power available in that stream to run a railway as long again as the proposed Hudson Bay railway.

He says that at the principal falls, 1,000,000 horse-power can easily be developed. According to Mr. Ogilvie, there is sufficient power available on the Saskatchewan and Nelson rivers to operate all the steam machinery in the Dominion.

LORD MINTO ON PROBLEM OF INDIA

Ripening of the Educational Seed Sown by Great Britain

"LOYAL UNREST"

Concession Made in Response to No Seditious Menace or Because of Rebellious Threats But Acknowledgement of What Were Believed to Be Just Claims

Simla, India, Oct. 28.—In the course of a speech at a banquet, Lord Minto, as entertained by the United Service club, the Earl of Minto, referring to the future, said that, in order to cope with the future, the military administration were now carefully overhauling the system of frontier protection. The difficulties had not exceeded expectations, and the personal influence of the frontier officers had fostered better relations with the tribes, while he hoped that cordial relations of personal friendship following the Amir's visit would further ensure the success of efforts to preserve quiet on the frontiers.

At the same time the borderland was always a tinderbox. New conditions had arisen on the north-east borders. He thought the foreign department had proved a good warder of the marches, and specially alluded to the work of his able secretary, Mr. Butler.

Dealing with the political agitation and what he termed "loyal unrest," as apart from revolutionary sedition, Lord Minto said this was due to the ripening of the educational seed sown by British rule, accelerated by the deep impression produced in Asia by the successes of an eastern military power.

In his opinion their recognition of those results had not come a moment too soon, and had saved India from many troubles. There had never been a shadow of doubt in his mind as to which was the right road to follow as between refusing to listen to the new ideas and recognizing the justice of them.

If the former course had been adopted they would have gone back on all they had said and done in the past and have alienated and driven into the camp of the traders of British rule many who had been brought up in the doctrines of the British administration and believed in its justice.

The decision that representative principles must be further extended was arrived at by the government of India after mature consideration, and they owed much to Lord Morley for his eloquent and powerful support at a critical time.

That concessionary was made in response to no seditious menace; it was no pandering to threats or rebellion; it was the more acknowledgment of what they believed to be just claims in order to direct into fruitful channels a current of thought and feeling which governed often half-consciously the attitude of numbers of men.

POVERTY

Some very interesting addresses were delivered at the annual meeting of the Associated Charities last evening. Despite the fact that St. John in a general way was never more prosperous than at the present time, it is true that there is also much poverty. When one asks the cause, the answers are as various as the individuals who are questioned.

The telephone company has shown the right public spirit in deciding to remove their poles from that portion of Germain street which is being boulevardized, and to place them behind the houses. The city engineers are cheerfully contributing to provide at least one section of model street in St. John have showed a spirit that is worthy of all praise, and the benefit will be to the whole city.

The Winnipeg Free Press makes these pointed remarks on the Monk-Bourassa campaign in Quebec: "Mr. Monk holds that, as matters stand, Canada would be drawn inevitably into any war between the Empire and a serious foe. This is certainly the case; but it results not from Canada's policy on either naval or military matters, but from the conditions of our national existence."

Changed the Prescription. A prominent Philadelphia physician in his office the other day declared Special Agent Correns of the Women's Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, to a group of friends, "when a rather shabbily dressed man walked into the office and approached the doctor."

WILL HELP THE PROVINCE. The Sussex Record this week has some cheering reflections upon the new conditions in St. John and the effect upon the general prosperity of Kings county. Referring to the visit of Mr. Charles M. Hays to St. John, and the coming of the new transcontinental to this port, the Record says: "The good news will be received with pleasure throughout New Brunswick as it indicates the near approach of a boom for which this section of Canada has been patiently waiting for many moons."

from the Dominion treasury for many years past and immense sums of money have been spent in dredging a deep-water channel along the St. Lawrence. Halifax has had her share of public money too, and it is welcome news that St. John's past efforts are now to be seconded by direct departmental expenditures. With so much promised, St. John is bound to be a great city, if fifty per cent. of the good things are accomplished and at this time there is no reason for anticipating anything but the best.

THE IMPECUNIOUS BARD. The autumn poet walked alone Along the roads where sunbeams shone And doled the anemone flowers; Like fringe was on the distant pines And likewise on his trousers.

HER PLEADING. "I heard her behind the door pleading for just one. They must be engaged." "No, they're married. It was a ten she was pleading for."

NO...ETS. Wife—"Shall I put your diamond studs in your shirt, dear?" Husband—"What on earth are you thinking of? Do you want to ruin me? I have a meeting with my creditors this morning."

PROOF. First Stranger—"I say, that's my umbrella you have!" Second Stranger—"I don't doubt it, sir—I don't doubt it. I bought it at a pawnbroker's."

THE BLACKSLIDERS. Seymour—"Hello! What are you going to do with that turkey?" Ashley—"I'm keeping it for dinner." Seymour—"But I thought you and your wife were vegetarians?" Ashley—"We are vegetarians; our cook is going to make the turkey into mock potatoes."

AN UNLUCKY MAN. There lived a man in our town And he was pretty tough; He played football and broke his crown And yet had not enough. So he had him in a rapture Some hundred feet or so, Until he struck a very sane and sensible dog named Rover. Alas, his ill luck followed strong; Ere he could start to rise, A passing auto had him in its clutches And tossed him to the skies.

THE LID. She could not restrain her curiosity when she saw that the envelope was unsealed, and forthwith extracted the contents. A great frown spoiled her pretty face as she read the following: "To one new bonnet, grey, lined with gold, to suit Ariel, $30."

FUN. Fun? I should say so. My sides fairly ached. We laughed and we shouted Until the hall was red. We ran through the parlor And out through the door. And I fell kerplunkum. Full length on the floor!

Oh, how excited Their eyes shone like jewels Their cheeks were aflame. They laughed and they laughed Till the little one choked And they rolled on the floor And my ribs tickled and poked.

And then I kicked That I had been killed By the fall, and at once, All the laughter was stilled; They tipped and whispered And sneered with alarm. In my face, till I jumped And had one in each arm.

Fun? For an hour We go at it each night. A gambol, a scramble And sometimes a fight. 'Till worn out and weary And tumbled each head I kiss them and carry them straight off to bed.

QUEER POSTAL SERVICE. The people of the Island of St. Kitts, in the Outer Hebrides, have the most peculiar mail service in the world. For many months in the year vessels do not touch at the island, and the natives, wishing to send mail to other countries place their letters in a water-proof, buoyant case and cast it into the sea. This case is usually picked up by a mail packet. A peculiar fact of the postal service is that very few of the queer mail bags ever go astray. About four out of every six are picked up by passing steamers and the letters are sent to their destination.

DOBBS' KIDNEY PILLS. An ideal alarm clock has been invented in Berlin. It has a kettle, saucepan, teapot, and spirit lamp attached, which starts boiling the kettle at an appointed time. The clock does not ring until the kettle is boiled. Then it does not stop ringing until its owner gets out of bed, and finally pours hot water into the teapot.

THANKSGIVING (By Carlotta Perry.) No place in the rich man's world I hold, No man envies me silver or gold. No man grudges me princely wage, Houses or lands or equipage. Yet none who possess what I do not May dare to mock at my simple lot. For my humble roof is still wide to bless With its shelter him who is shelterless.

Who by want to my door is led, He may share my cup, he may break my bread. Of the cheer of my home I can give a part, In the warmth of my hearth he may warm his heart. He may go his way as seems to him fit, Grateful or thankful, what matters it? For any good at my hands he has had, 'Tis I who am thankful, 'tis I who I am glad. —Independent.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By BUTH CAMERON

I HAVE had everything that life has to offer. By every rule and standard of the world I should have been happy.

But when it comes to the concrete, I don't imagine there are many of us who don't look longingly at those who have wealth or beauty or talent, or whatever it is to us the most desirable thing, and sigh out, "How happy they must be!"

But she surely has not suffered in vain, if, through her confession, those of us who are apt to fancy that if we had this or that or the other thing we would be "perfectly happy," may realize anew and with a twentieth century application, the old truth that MAN'S LIFE CONSISTETH NOT IN THE ABUNDANCE OF THINGS WHICH HE POSSESSETH.

Women Now Blessed With Pockets

We are no longer the pocketless sex, for pockets are now being given to us in abundance and we are fairly reveling in the comfort afforded by all shapes and sizes, says a writer in the New York Press. Travelling coats have pockets almost capacious enough to hold an "over-night" supply of clothes.

The latest innovation is the pocket in the sleeve. It is attached to the edge of each sleeve of a motor coat that is cut on comfortable lines and resembles a loose topcoat. The sleeve pockets are like huge scamed cuffs, and there are of necessity flaps that button over the tops. These pockets are probably for handkerchiefs or coin purses, perchance a powder puff. They are ornamental, too, being decorated with braid and buttons.

Then there are pockets that have been introduced in the linings of hats, into which the fair owner may stow a scented disk of her favorite sachet, that comes just for this purpose.

Little coin pockets are more general in the jackets for afternoon wear. They can be successfully concealed beneath the long, supple revers or under the tiny vests, and give the grain of comfort that we have lacked for many seasons.

Alexander Cook of Laurel Run, Md., an experienced bee hunter, found what he thought was a bee tree near a sugar camp. He figured that he would find no less than 120 pounds of honey in the tree, so he set to work to chop down. The tree was 4 feet in diameter and he put in three hours of hard work before he had it felled. Then he found that instead of bees and honey the tree contained nothing but swarms of blue flies.

The discovery that he has invented in a salted mine is apt to make a man pery.

Fierce Fight Between Man and Reptile in Chinese Timber Camp

A chance visitor to a Chinese timber camp tells in Chambers' Journal of an adventure with a crocodile, in which the crocodile came very near having the best of it. "Arriving in my boat at the little jetty or landing place," he says, "I was startled to see a white man in charge of the camp, lying on a rattan couch within a few yards of the bank, with a heavy spear in his hand, and a crocodile coiled round his neck, eating intently at a rough paper, or, better, erected in the stream.

"Throwing myself down near him in the welcome shade, I learned the following story: "Two nights before Graham was sleeping peacefully in his little palm-leaf house, in a clearing about twenty yards from the river bank, when his dog began to growl, and refused to be silenced.

"Graham turned out and walked round the hut to ascertain the cause of the disturbance, but seeing nothing, addressed himself to the dog in his usual vigorous sailing ship language, and retired to bed again.

"Five minutes later he was once more aroused by a yell from the dog, and this time, really annoyed, he seized a stick and rushed forth to inflict punishment on the disturber of his dreams. Suddenly a dark form glided swiftly from the shadow, and Graham felt himself seized by the right knee as he was in a vice.

"Struggling to free himself he found he was in the grip of a large crocodile, whose teeth were firmly embedded in the flesh.

"Backward and forward the struggle ensued—the crocodile striving to pull its destined victim to the water's edge, and Graham, hampered as he was by his injured leg, fighting for his life to reach higher ground. At last the beast, hauling its victim to the ground with a shake of its powerful head, began to drag him swiftly toward the water.

"As soon as I gets my thumbs made fast in 'is eyes,' he opens 'is mouth to shout, an 'lets go my leg. Then, first thing next mornin', the coolies lays 'is breakfast for 'im, as you see, an' I gets into this chair, an' 'ere I stays, if it's a month."

"Vainly I tried to persuade him to come away with me to the next station and see a doctor. I argued with him, I implored him, but it was absolutely useless. He refused to move from that chair till he had bagged his crocodile, and I was at last obliged to leave him, having dressed his leg and exhausted every known means of persuasion short of brute force.

"I met him again a week later in a hospital bed, suffering severely, but quite happy in the knowledge that the bones of his leg were being bleached in the sun outside his house.

Eddie Collins to Marry.
New York, Oct. 28.—Edward Trowbridge Collins, better known as "Eddie" Collins, second baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, is to be married to Miss Mabel Herriot, of Clifton Heights, a suburb of Philadelphia, on Thursday evening, November 3.

Mr. Collins was one of the sensations of the world's series just concluded, in which the Athletics defeated the Chicago Cubs for the highest honors of baseball. Throughout the struggle his work was of the stellar order, and he has been declared by critics to be one of the best ball players the game has known in recent years.

Mr. Collins is a New York boy, having been graduated from Columbia in the class of 1907. He played in the variety team while in that institution, and it was during his last year at college that a scout of the Philadelphia club, on Thursday evening, November 3.

A LAST SONG

(From A Last Song, by Clinton Scouler, in the Forum.)

Kirkland hills wear their Autumn glory,
Summer's story
The winds have told:
The wood-ways soon will be serene and hoary,
Rimed with the touch of cold.

But ere the earth owns the Winter master,
And every eager
To death belongs, in Sussex,
Ere the snowflakes gather and eddy faster,
Let there be one more song—
Let there be one more song—
Fain were we of the rose and lily,
In starlight stillly,
In noon's warm glow,
Fain are we now, in the mead-path hilly
Wrapt in their Autumn dream!

There are crimson heaps in the orchard,
Where drones or dozes
The lone tree that notes that the wood through knolls is
Borne from the poplar tree.

Ah, would, we cry, that the ripe rich won
Over and under,
Might linger long—
From the heart at flood, ere the sad days
Sunder.

Let there be one more song!

AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS

OPERA HOUSE.

Miss Jesse MacLachlan and her concert company are to repeat their entertainment in the Opera House here tonight. The programme is to be entirely different from that of Wednesday night and it is expected that the audience will be large. The demand for seats yesterday was great.

Miss MacLachlan has never been heard in St. John to such advantage as she was on Wednesday evening and all present agreed that Mr. Sherry is a wonder. Tonight's entertainment is given by special request.

Next week the clever company of Illustrations are to be at the Opera House. There is not much need of having anything said of them in advance as nearly every one in St. John remembers their work here three years ago.

THE GEM.

The ability of the Vitaphone company to present a real live story of life on active war service is well known, and hence there will be pleasure for the patrons of the Gem in the announcement that one of their best productions in this regard is to be given at that popular home today and tomorrow. It is called "Raskobed," and is a story of a fond father's soldierly love for his boys and their mutual sufferings during the war. "Max is Absent-Minded" is a film with a laugh at every turn and in this connection it is closely followed by another, "Mr. John Gets Dust in His Eyes." Two other new films are "The Simple Connection," "Colonel and his Environs." The orchestra has an excellent week-end programme, and Mr. McGregor a good song in which he sings well. A souvenir matinee will be held tomorrow afternoon, and on Monday the theatre will be opened at 10 a.m. with a special all-female bill.

THE LYRIC.

Always striving to get to the wants of its patrons, the Lyric management made a most successful venture in booking the singing team of DeGraw and McLagon to end the week. Their performance yesterday was received perhaps better than any other of its kind yet seen at the Lyric. The set is a conglomeration of good character singing, bright new jokes and grand opera barbaque. The Italian character song is worthy of special mention, as is also their opening diet. The new picture bill to be made up of four excellent features, "The Golden Hoard," strong drama; "The Baby," child story; "The Simple Connection," comedy; and a Thanhauser farce, "Home Made Pie." The special attraction for the holiday will be Chas. Fraser, a refreshing comedienne with funny music.

THE UNIQUE.

The subject of Indian education has been discussed by societies and various learned individuals from time immemorial. "Snook's Snake's Schooling" is the title of the Unique's feature for today, and will show results that follow the attempt to educate and civilize the denizens of the forest and prairie. It is replete with startling climaxes, good acting and is beautifully set in Nature's own scenery. "Molucca Islands" is a colored scenic picture of views in these semi-civilized islands. The rest of the program will be "The Unique's Trick" comedy; "The Vacuum Cleaner," farce; and "Miss Puppette," transformation. F. Louise McLaughlin will sing in her own style. "Those Songs My Mother Used to Sing." A special holiday bill is announced for Monday.

CECIL THEATRE.

For this evening and Saturday evening and matinee four good pictures are announced. A Mexican's Word is a strong western drama. A Fallen Idol is a good drama. When We Call the Plumber In, and The Worst Boy in School are laugh makers. Miss Mae Dunphe will sing "We Are Getting Old Together." Commencing on Monday, Thanksgiving Day, there will be two sizers at the Cecil—Miss Dunphe and a quartette of favorites. Schooling will be heard for the first time in St. John.

Still in the Ring

St. John, N. B., October 27, 10.

To the Editor of The Times:
Sir—Re your remarks on my letter. I can assure you that you have not confounded me by publishing what I say, if you think you have, kindly publish this. I have a clear mind and a desire to speak the truth, however ugly it may appear to newspaper editors.

"The subject of socialism is the only remedy that will abolish the terrible evils that people are suffering under. I will not speak of it, but let those who are not socialists be speaking the pure unadulterated truth, we will not speak halts, but leave that to those who are not socialists to do for themselves."

I wish to say that we are making considerable progress in the building of the founder of the Christian faith, by denouncing the hypocrisy of those who are not socialists. If I have not spoken the truth, I will gladly withdraw all that is proved false.

Believe me to be yours,
not confounded, but one of the SOCIALISTS.

MEN'S LEAGUE BANQUET.

There was a good attendance last night at the third annual banquet of the Men's League of the German street Baptist church. E. L. Rising presided. An excellent program was given, and following that an entertaining programme of musical and literary numbers was given. Those taking part were: The church male quartette, G. S. Mayes, and F. R. Murray. The toasts to the King, the Church, the Men's League, the City and the Ladies, were proposed and brought forth interesting speeches from R. G. Halsey, T. H. Estabrook, A. H. Davis, E. M. Sippell, W. H. Colwell, Rev. F. S. Porter, James McLeod, W. P. Nobles, Aid. Vanwart, and F. M. Rising. The affair was most enjoyable and was a distinct success from every point of view.

MONCTON MAY GET BIG MATCH

Moncton, Oct. 28.—(Special)—That the fame of Dan McDonald, the Cape Breton middleweight wrestler, who is at present making his headquarters in Moncton, has gone broadcast over the land, is evidenced in a letter received today by the sporting editor of The Transcript from Sam Anderson, the present holder of the world's championship middleweight wrestling belt. Anderson seems anxious for a whack at McDonald.

It is written that he heard McDonald is wrestling for middleweight championships, and continued: "I am supposed to be in one corner when world's middleweight championships are wrestled for. If McDonald thinks he has a chance with me, I am ready any time to defend the title. All McDonald has to do is to guarantee a substantial stake to defend the title as a rule go anywhere under the sun, but as I feel pretty confident, I have little hesitation in setting these terms."

Anderson's letter is dated at Worcester, Boston, and a foot note states that his address next week will be 25 Jackson street, Attleboro, Mass.

Commenting on this, The Transcript tonight will say: "McDonald has never at any time, on any place, purported that he is the holder of the world's middleweight championship belt. Those who know McDonald personally will readily admit that he is far too honest to make such an assertion. Virtually, however, when McDonald wishes to lay claim to the American championship he is perfectly within his rights. He never has at any time stated that he was the world's champion, but American champion, and that title he won from Jim Barnes, the recognized champion of America, in Sydney, C. B. Barnes was brought to Sydney expressly for the purpose of defending the title of American middleweight champion against McDonald, and as McDonald won from Barnes, he is in perfect liberty under all the rules governing the wrestling game to use the title.

"The American championship and the world's championship have for a good many years been separated by a heavy line of demarcation. Embodied in the championship itself as a matter of fact be the American champion, but the two while stand apart in all the term implies.

"Were Anderson brought to Moncton for this match, as he in all probability will be, it would not be his first visit to the maritime provinces. He made a tour through this part of the country some three years ago, and in certain sections is well and favorably known. He is a Swallow by birth, and about as fine a type of wrestler as one could imagine.

"McDonald, who is at present in Amherst, has been notified of the receipt of Anderson's letter, and though he is in Hoyalas in that town will arrive in Moncton today, to consider Anderson's challenge."

THEFT OF BALLS BY CADDIES

A decisive method of dealing with offence is adopted by English Golfers.

One of the most difficult problems which faces golf clubs not only in Canada but in other countries, is that of preventing the sale of golf balls found on the links by caddies to members. It is argued by those who are constant offenders, that the practice is to a great extent even things up in the way of losing and recovering balls, but the great majority of players are in the practice of putting a premium on theft of balls among caddies, and various regulations are in force, in different clubs, but with very different effect. A drastic method of dealing with the offence is shown in the following extract from a London paper:

"An important case to golfers was heard at Birkbech, yesterday, when James Shipman, a Hoyalas loafer, was charged with stealing a golf ball of the value of two shillings, belonging to Alfred Legros, a barrister, and Joseph Haskins, known in Hoyalas as the one-trick golfer, was summoned for receiving the stolen ball.

Shipman was crossing Hoyalas Links on Monday, when he kicked a hidden ball, which he picked up as no players were to be seen.

"Mr. Legros, however, had only just struck it, and when he came over the hill he saw someone making off, and as he could not find the ball he informed the police. Fifteen minutes later Constable Dawson recovered the ball from Haskins, who had hidden it from Shipman for a bribe. Shipman said he brought it to a lost ball.

"Gardiner Rees submitted on behalf of Haskins that there was no intention. Haskins said he bought second-hand balls from the professionals of the local club, for ninepence or sixpence, and it was usual for golfers to enquire of him for lost balls.

"Haskins said it never struck him that promising to divide what extra he received from owners of lost balls with Shipman was an inducement for him to receive others. He declared that if he did not buy the balls the caddies sold them where they could sell the balls; they never brought them to the club.

"After a private consultation, the magistrate decided to convict and fined Haskins 25 and Shipman 21."

Bee Stings for Rheumatism

(London Lancet.)

F. H. Maberly relates his experience with a number of severe cases of rheumatism which refused to respond to any of the usual methods of treatment and in which bee stings gave relief. In elderly people he starts with about six stings for the first three applications, and then increases the number gradually up to a couple of dozen. The stings should remain in for a few minutes before removing. He concludes from his experience that this remedy, if it does not effect a complete cure, gives relief in almost hopeless cases.

Modesty on the Bench

(Literary Digest.)

A prominent English jurist was recently transferred from the chancery court to the admiralty court rather to his surprise. While conversant with English law to a surprising degree, this gentleman had spent little time in marine law.

His colleague, in recognition of the occasion, gave him a dinner, after which he was called upon for an address. He made a speech, which embraced a good many things, but no marine law, and concluded with deep gravity.

"Gentlemen, in closing, I can think of no better words than the lines of Tennyson:—

"'And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea?'"

DIED THIS MORNING. The death of Miss Margaret McCarthy occurred this morning at her home in 266 Brussels street. She had been ill for some time, she had a great many friends in the city, being of a very amiable disposition.

TRIED TO STAB HIS MOTHER. In the juvenile court before Judge Ritchie this morning, Carlton Kelley, aged 12, admitted that he had not been to school during the current term. His mother said she had got him a permit to attend the Continental school, but he had refused. Yesterday he went so far as to try to use a knife when she tried to force him to her school. He promised the judge that he would go to school, and report regularly to his Honor, and on this account he was allowed to go.

BOTH WERE FINED. A charge of assault brought by David Ritchie against Joseph McGrath in the police court this morning was the indirect cause of Ritchie's being fined $8 or two months on a charge of using abusive language, and also the defendant being fined $20 or two months for assault. Ritchie, it seems, accused McGrath of striking a golf watch, and also called him insulting names, whereas McGrath showed his ability as a pugilist by delivering a knockout blow, rendering his opponent unconscious. Christopher McDade gave evidence of seeing the assault committed. Ritchie's lawyer was fined $8 or two months on a charge of being drunk.

SIGNALERS GET READY. In the Lower Cove armory last evening the signallers of the city were present in large numbers, making ready for the annual inspection next week, the examinations being conducted by Capt. McMillan, D. A. A. G. The latter will reach Fredericton tomorrow and will there inspect the signallers of the R. C. R. There is a keen feeling of rivalry between the members of the Artillery signaller section and those of No. 8 Corps as to their ability as "pumpy-riders," and the inspection is expected to prove interesting. Under Arthur Lindsay, Q. M. S. I., the Artillery boys have been doing excellent work all season, and the same may be said of the members of No. 8 under the instruction of Lieut. Leavitt.

MAYOR GETS OPINIONS AS TO TAXES

Answers to Queries Sent to Bank Managers and Capitalists

BLAME PRESENT SYSTEM

One Bank Man Advocates Real Estate, Particularly That Which is Unimproved Should Bear Load—Three Important Questions

"Why do so many people with money leave St. John? Why is it so difficult to get people to invest money in local enterprises? Would the exempting of municipal bonds help the difficulty?"

These questions embodied in a letter sent out on October 15 by Mayor Frink to bank managers and capitalists in the city, asking for an expression of their opinions, have resulted in a number of replies, suggesting various reasons for the adverse conditions, and also suggesting possible remedies. Practically all agree that the present system of taxation is the great fault.

The present system of taxation, in the opinion of this man, restricts people coming to the city and compels a large number to leave each year. He goes on to say that he believes there is no lack of capital in St. John for industries worthy of it. He also advocates strongly the sale of all city leasehold property and contends that the growth of the city is retarded by its ownership.

Another writer says the difficulty in regard to industries in St. John is that they have not enough capital to start with and if there were started a few enterprises that were successful there would be no difficulty in getting others. He thinks the exempting of city bonds would not help the difficulty. He advocates the abolition of the tax on personal property though he does not know how the difference could be made up to meet the needs of the city.

DISINCLINED TO BELIEVE HE WAS SAVED

Penitent's Declaration in Salvation Army Meeting Questioned by Girl Who Cried Out "You're a Liar"

The Salvation Army meeting in the Charlotte street citadel was disturbed last evening just as one of those persons was declaring that he "had found the light, and was saved." An atmosphere of silence reigned about the room, but was suddenly broken, after he had made his declaration, by the voice of a young girl, saying, "You're a liar; you do not know whether you were saved or not."

The girl was put out of the meeting, but her language, even outside, is described as being anything but lady-like. She was given in charge by Adjutant Blair, and gave her name as Mary Smith. This morning in answer to the charge of "disturbing a religious meeting," she said she did not consider it a "religious affair." It was not necessary, she said, even though she used the language complained of, which she admitted, for three men to strike her out of the room, as she claims was the case. She was indignant when brought out to the street, and assigned the adjutant to a warmer climate than that to be enjoyed in St. John at present. She was remanded until this afternoon.

NORTH END WEDDING. A. Guilford Sherwood and Mrs. Eliza Wilson, both of St. John, were married last evening in the Victoria street Baptist church parsonage by Rev. B. H. Nobles, pastor of the church. They were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood will reside in Adelaide street.
