HALIFAX USED AS BASE FOR RUM RINGS

HIGH PROFITS ARE TOLD OF BY COURT WITNESS

Alcohol, Costing 80c. a Gallon, Sold For $1.45

BAD CHECK CASE

Newport, R. I., Man Charged With Issuing Worthless Document For $5,400

Canadian Press. HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 12—Evidence indicating that several large rum-running syndicates are utilizing Halifax as the base for their operations was given in the police court here yesterday afternoon by W. M. Shrivink, recognized leader of one of the most powerful of rum-running operations along the North Atlantic coast.

Shrivink was the only witness at the preliminary hearing of John A. Campbell of Newport, R. I., who is charged with issuing a worthless check for $5,400, alleged to have been offered in payment for a large consignment of alcohol, which Shrivink says he supplied.

ENORMOUS BUSINESS For more than two hours, Shrivink was on the witness stand and during that time he unfolded a lurid tale of how the rum runners carry on their negotiations and incidentally gave some sensational testimony indicating the enormous profits reaped by these engaged in this business on a gigantic scale.

Shrivink told how he brought to America 100,000 gallons of alcohol on the Margaret Wilton, a four-masted German barkentine, the cargo being purchased in Germany and landed on the ship at a cost of 80 cents per gallon, and being disposed of off Halifax at a price of $1.45 per gallon. On that one shipment Shrivink and his partner, a Mr. Matyas of Fall River, Mass., had a profit of approximately $65,000, the bulk of the cargo being disposed of in Toronto and to vessels on run row off New York.

Shrivink in his evidence related the story of his transaction with Campbell and his associates.

OPERA STARS MIXED UP IN GANG SLAYING

Chicago Artists Are Questioned About Spingola Murder and Then Released

CHICAGO, Jan. 12—Opera stars yesterday became involved for a time in Chicago's gangland murder when the police took into custody for questioning Desire De Frere, Belgian baritone and stage manager of the Chicago Civic Opera Company and Giacomo Spadolini, assistant conductor of the company, in connection with the slaying Sunday night of Henry Spingola. He was a relative of the Genoa brothers, three of whom have been shot in gang wars here. Spingola was shot in front of a restaurant.

The opera singer and conductor said they had never seen nor heard of Spingola but happened into the restaurant just after he had been shot and before the police arrived. They were released.

Three other suspects are in custody and the police are working on the theory that henchmen of the gang, headed by the late Dion O'Banion notorious gunman, have been responsible for the recent slayings of members of the Genoa gang.

Six Children Perish In Ottawa Suburb Blaze; Mother Is Near Death

British Tax Delinquents Are Being Hounded By Churchill In Hope of Avoiding Deficit

British United Press. LONDON, Jan. 12—The limelight has once more fallen on Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, but it is a savage limelight, testing his great popularity. So desperately anxious is the Chancellor to avoid a deficit budget, which appears inevitable and would necessitate an increased taxation measure which might imperil him and his government, that he is turning a relentless screw on the taxpayers which is causing a great outcry of protest.

He must find a hundred million pounds by April 5, and the officials at inland revenue headquarters have been appealed to to get the money. As a result dilatory income taxpayers find themselves in peril of imprisonment, if they do not pay immediately and the tax officials are searching back through the files for the last three years to see who the taxpayers have been, and are descending upon them ruthlessly.

BRIAND FACES SITUATION OF UNCERTAINTY

Socialists Want Right to Dictate Ministry Policies

CHAMBER MEETS

Finance Matters, Electoral Reforms, Locarno Pact on Program

Canadian Press. PARIS, Jan. 12—How long will the government of Aristide Briand last? This question was being asked by the average Frenchman today, coincident with the opening of the regular parliamentary session of 1926. Rarely has a French statesman been called upon to face a situation of such uncertainty and confusion.

M. Briand's principal asset, in the view of experienced political observers, is prestige, vastly enhanced by recent triumphs in the diplomatic field and which it is considered will make the chamber hesitate to overthrow him too summarily.

SOCIALISTS FIRM The Socialist National Congress, with Leon Blum, the leader of the Socialist party, and a prominent figure, set far into last night discussing the question of Socialist participation in the government. As had been anticipated, it voted against participation unless the party was allowed to choose portfolios and dictate the policy of the ministry.

The vote was 1,769 against 1,239.

A photograph of the United States attempted to make a picture of the scene, but was prevented by the Chileans, who said they feared the photograph would be used for Peruvian propaganda.

It is reported that Wm. C. Dennis, of the United States delegation, was addressed in a disrespectful manner by Jorge Silva, head of a local patriot's society, when Mr. Dennis passed the scene.

N. Y. NEWSPAPERS BREAK TWO RECORDS

Times Publishes Largest Edition in History; News Makes Circulation Mark

United Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 12—Newspaper prosperity in New York, as reflected today in two announcements of more than usual significance, Louis W. Wiley, business manager of the New York Times, stated that today's issue of the Times, containing 64 pages, broke all New York and probably the world's record for the largest regular issue of a newspaper not connected with any kind of special edition.

At the same time the New York Daily News made public its circulation average for the month of December, showing an average of over one million copies per day, the American record for week-day circulation.

PROGRESSIVES EXPECTED TO SUPPORT GOVT.

Talk Says Only 2 or 3 Will Vote For Amendment

KING QUALIFIED

North Huron Member Is Declared Elected By Returning Officer

Canadian Press. OTTAWA, Jan. 12—Progressives meet for their final caucus this afternoon. So far as debate in the House is concerned, Progressives have not indicated their attitude. But talk in Progressive circles this morning tends to indicate that, with the possible exception of two or three at the most, they will vote against the non-confidence amendment proposed by Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader. Indeed, in political circles generally, the impression prevails that this is the most probable outcome of the situation.

Should Two Progressives vote with Conservatives in favor of the non-confidence amendment, and all other members of the House vote against it, the amendment would be defeated by eight votes on this division against 194 for 118; majority against 3. This is based on the assumption that all members, with the exception of the speaker, will vote.

It was at first thought that J. W. King, Progressive leader, would be unable to vote owing to the double return from that constituency. But, in view of the judgment of the Supreme Court, the return of the returning officer for North Huron has made a substitute return, declaring Mr. King "lawfully elected" for the division.

Conservatives, it is stated, could still raise opposition to Mr. King voting by moving for reference of his case to the committee on privileges and elections. Were the case so referred, Mr. King could not sit in the House till the committee had reported. But no such move has so far been made.

TODAY'S SPEAKERS

Division is expected on Wednesday of Thursday, although there has been no definite arrangement so far. Henri Bourassa, Independent of Labelle resumes the debate at three o'clock this afternoon. Other speakers scheduled today are Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative, Wellington South; C. W. Bell, Conservative, Hamilton West; H. A. Mullins, Conservative, Marquette; John Evans, Progressive, Rosemont.

Liberals will probably open either with Hon. Charles Stewart or Hon. W. R. Motherwell, followed by Hon. J. A. Robb. On the Liberal list also are: W. D. Euler, of North Waterloo, and J. Malcolm, of North Bruce.

Unhappy Father

Mrs. Tanguay Is Hurt In Jump From Window

4 BODIES FOUND

Neighbor Discovers House Afire, Arouses Occupants, But Only Two Escape

Canadian Press. OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 12—A whole family was practically wiped out in a fire which destroyed their home at Clarkstown, a part of Eastview, a town adjoining Ottawa, early today.

Mrs. Albert Tanguay is not expected to live, and six of her children were burned to death. Two other children are in the hospital.

The dead are: Veronica Tanguay, 16; Lovette Tanguay, 18; Lillian Tanguay, 11; Harold Tanguay, 9; Gordon Tanguay, 5; Mrs. W. E. Sarasin, married daughter of Mrs. Tanguay, aged 23. Badly injured and in hospital: Mrs. Albert Tanguay, mother of the victims; Victor Kelly, cousin of the victims; Kurt about the arms and wrists.

TWO ESCAPE. Hattie and Sylvester Tanguay were the only ones in the house to escape. Early today four bodies had been recovered, charred almost beyond recognition.

Dr. Parent is rendering first aid to the injured, who has been rushed to the War Hospital.

The cause of the fire has not been ascertained. Mrs. Tanguay sustained her injuries and burns when she jumped from an upper story window.

The blaze was first noticed by a passing pedestrian, who knocked hard on the street door and awakened Hattie Tanguay. She roused the others and ran herself to a neighbor. The victims were trapped, however, in the blinding smoke before they could get out.

Subsequent search located the bodies of the other two victims, so that the six bodies have now been recovered.

TEN PEOPLE IN HOUSE

There were 10 people sleeping in the small two-story frame house when the flames burst out. According to Sylvester Tanguay, he was aroused by his sister Hattie, and they both rushed out of the house. When he realized that the others were still in the house, he tried to re-enter, but the flames at the front door drove him back. He then ran to the back of the house, where there was a balcony, which had been closed in for the winter. He put a ladder up to rescue the other members of the family, and was part way up when he saw his mother jump out of the window and fall heavily in the snow. He jumped down and hurried to her assistance.

In a very few minutes the house was in ruins. With the blaze evidently starting in the front portion of the house, the victims were forced to seek their escape from the back balcony. Here they were trapped unable to get through the enclosure which had been constructed as a winter protection. Four of the six bodies were found where the balcony fell. The other two were in the interior of the house.

When Marcus' Say It's So. We all have an aim in life. To reach that one special ambition we decide upon some outstanding principle. If we hit upon the right idea and follow it hard enough we ought to get where we wish.

Years ago the firm of J. Marcus, Ltd. wished for this—that their word would be taken for more than its face value. Whether spoken directly or written in an Ad. they wanted the public to know on the test of experience that the Marcus promise would be exceeded by its performance.

Simply a case of having the goods better than the Ad. says they are, of making the Ad. understate the facts to be on the safe side. They believe they have reached that ambition long ago—but they are taking no chances and intend trying as hard as ever.

PROGRESSIVE ATTITUDE IN HOUSE REMAINS A MYSTERY

Debate Continues on Meighen's Non-Confidence Amendment; Precedents Quoted on Both Sides to Support Contentions

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—"We have no bids to make," Hon. R. B. Bennett made this significant declaration from the front Conservative benches in the House of Commons tonight.

A. M. Carmichael, a Progressive from Kidersley, Sask., opened the day, but his speech left the mystery as to how his party will vote still unsolved.

REFERS TO AUTHORITIES

Mr. Bennett followed and interspersed his speech with many references from constitutional authorities, while two members of the government, Hon. E. M. MacDonald, Minister of Defence, and Hon. Lucien Cannon, Solicitor-General, joined in the debate.

Before adjournment, T. W. Bird, another Progressive, joined in the debate, but did not clarify the situation as far as his party was concerned.

Henri Bourassa will continue tomorrow.

A. M. Carmichael (Progressive, Kindersley), continued the debate on the non-confidence amendment of Right Hon. Arthur Meighen when the House of Commons disposed of preliminaries this afternoon. Mr. Carmichael doubted whether any parliament had met under similar conditions since Confederation, or whether any future Canadian parliament would be confronted with such conditions.

MOTION BEFORE THE HOUSE

The motion before the House was to give precedence to the debate on the Speech from the Throne, and Mr. Meighen's amendment was thus also related to the speech. Looking at the substance of the amendment, it referred to the large number of defeated Liberal candidates, the defeated nine ministers of the crown, the large Conservative popular vote, and the constitutional objections to the Government's carrying on.

DEATH-BED REPENTANCE

The Speech from the Throne, Mr. White described as "a death-bed repentance" and had refrained from saying "palpably at variance with the first principles of parliamentary government."

Not only had the Conservatives won in the recent election four seats in Quebec where formerly they had none, added Mr. White, but the party had increased its popular vote in that province by 100,000 votes.

McDONALD SPEAKS

Hon. E. M. MacDonald complimented Mr. White on the manner in which his speech had been delivered and welcomed him back to the house after his years of absence. It was regrettable, said the Minister of National Defence, that Mr. White had chosen to be "enigmatical" and had refrained from saying just what was the attitude of Mr. Meighen to Mr. Patenaude, and of Mr. White to both.

Mr. MacDonald declared that the recent election were justified under English precedents. The Liberal administration had taken the only proper course in the manner in which his speech had been delivered and welcomed him back to the house after his years of absence.

constitutional course and had called Parliament at the earliest possible moment in order to have the question of its right to continue in office passed upon by the House.

PRECEDENT MENTIONED. The position of the government, stated Mr. MacDonald, was also supported by precedent in its action in summoning Parliament, even though the Prime Minister had not a seat in the House of Commons.

ON MARITIME PROGRAM. Mr. Cannon replied that the candidates in the Maritime Provinces were not Conservative candidates or Meighen candidates, but ran on the Maritime program.

HAMILTON SPEECH. Continuing, Mr. Cannon asked if the Conservative members for Ontario were prepared to support the doctrine espoused in Mr. Meighen's Hamilton speech before actually sending troops overseas.

GLADSTONE'S POSITION. Mr. Bennett quoted the instance of Mr. Gladstone's position in 1874. His former British Prime Minister, stated Mr. Bennett, had the same ground that he could not properly meet Parliament as Prime Minister without a seat.

SPEAKS OF MEETING WITH MARITIMERS

C. N. President Will Wield Influence in Project's Promotion

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 11.—Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railway system, will throw the weight of his influence into the promotion of plans to provide ocean carriers from Canadian ports for Canadian goods, according to a statement issued here today.

UNDERSTANDING REACHED. "We came to a very amicable understanding," stated the C. N. R. president, speaking of the conference. "Ocean export trade from Canadian ports does not depend on railway freight rates, but on the facilities of the ocean transportation companies in the matter of carrying goods."

Mr. Cannon asked if the Conservative members for Ontario were prepared to support the doctrine espoused in Mr. Meighen's Hamilton speech before actually sending troops overseas. If Mr. Meighen had been sincere in this speech, how many Conservative members from Ontario would support him in the matter.

PLAIN SPEAKING
A PRIVATE, anxious to secure leave of absence, sought his captain with a most convincing tale about a sick wife, but when he heard for his absence, the officer, familiar with the soldier's ways, replied:

THE LONDON CONSUL of a continental kingdom was informed by his government that one of our countrywomen, supposed to be living in Great Britain, had been left a large fortune. After advertising without result, he applied to the police, and a smart young detective was set to work. A few weeks later his chief asked how he was getting on.

WANTED PEACE
THERE was an old darky who would frequently get drunk and create a disturbance, but he was such a kind-hearted and accommodating darky when he was sober that the officers overlooked his meanness when he was drunk. On one occasion he went up to another city to visit, and got drunk and began to raise a row; he was arrested and put in jail, and when he had served his term and was let out, he remarked: "I ain't never gwine come here no more; I'd gwine home, whar a man is 'lowed to fight in peace and quietude."

Dinner Stories
A YOUNG couple had been courting for several years, and the young man seemed to be in no hurry to marry. Finally, one day, he said to his fiancée: "Well, I can't marry thee."
"How's that?" asked she.
"I've changed my mind," said he.
"Well, till thee what we'll do," said she. "If the folks know that I've given up on thee, I shanna be able to get another chap; but if they think I've given up on thee, I can get 'em all I want. So we'll have a banquet published and when the wedding day comes the parson will say to thee, 'Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?' and thou shalt say, 'I will.' And when he says to me, 'Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?' I shall say, 'I willna.'"

THE preacher's evening discourse was dry and long, and the congregation gradually melted away. The sexton tipped up to the pulpit and slipped a note under one corner of the Bible. It read:

Other Views
BOLSHEVIST "PEACE."
(London Morning Post.)
Chicherin suggests that his Government are overzealous in entering the League because they do not believe in its sincerity in the cause of peace; but that Bolshevism is ready to meet the West half-way in pursuit of disarmament. "We renounce," says Chicherin, "not only the policy but even the very idea of conquest. And we need an army and navy only for defence." We might point out that Moscow has more formidable weapons than her army and navy, which latter are not in themselves very dangerous. She has her subversive propaganda which goes on and will go on whatever pretensions she may make to peace, although Georgia and Poland could both bear witness to her pacific pretensions where arms are concerned. No, we shall not get peace from Moscow. If, as Chicherin says, "the British people put their confidence in facts," the fact which chiefly emerges from our experience of Bolshevism is its implacable and sleeping enmity against our country and every British interest.

POLITICIANS AND THE PRESS.
(J. L. Garvin in the London Observer.)
In the strange decade from 1914 to 1924 the confusion and uncertainty of public affairs and party connections threw enormous influence into the hands of a few great newspaper proprietors. They will not recover it for a long time, if ever. Things have come to another balance. The Labor Party has built up a mighty power without the "largest circulations," and against them. Journalism and parties are parallel forces. The press, more independent than ever, must dis-

The Best of Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

THE BEST BOOKS
"WHERE," asks a reader of this column, "can I find a book that will give me the names of the hundred or five hundred best books of all time?"

There are many such books, but before naming even one of them, we want to make a few observations and quotations.

It is foolish to suppose that a hundred books can be named as those which are best for each and every one. The simplest experience of the world proves that a work of great excellence may deeply move one person, while it leaves another untouched; and that a book which has influenced one strongly in one's youth may lose such influence over one's later years.

There is virtually nothing that every man may read at every time.

GEORG BRANDES, one of the world's greatest living critics—the is a Dane—observes that:

"Most people read without any particular attention; perhaps, too, they select reading matter which does not deserve any particular attention."

AND now, in reply to the reader's query, we suggest, but do not recommend, Povy's "The Hundred Best Books."

Poems That Live

THE STREAM OF LIFE.

O stream descending to the sea,
Thy mossy banks between,
The flowers that grow, the grasses grow,
The leafy trees are green.
In garden plots the children play,
The fields the laborers till,
And houses stand on either hand,
And thou descendest still.
O life descending into death,
O waking eyes behold,
Parent and friend thy lapse attend,
Companions young and old.
Strong purposes our minds possess,
Our hearts affections fill,
We toil and earn, we seek and learn,
And thou descendest still.
O end to which our currents tend,
O inevitable sea,
To which we flow, what do we know,
What shall we guess of thee?
A roar we hear upon thy shore,
As we our course fulfill;
Scarce we divine a sun will shine
And be above us still.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS.

JAL DASTUR PAVRY
ALTHOUGH he is only 26 years old, Dr. Jal Dastur C. Pavry, Ph. D., of Bombay, will shortly become High Priest of the Parsees, of India, as the death of his father, who is the present head of the followers of Zoroaster, is expected very shortly. For the past four years the young man has been a student at Columbia University. Classmates describe him as a good dancer, immaculate dresser and a "good fellow."

Two men in the world know the history and teachings of Zoroaster thoroughly, one is Dr. Pavry's father, and the other Professor A. V. Williams Jackson, instructor in Indo-Iranian languages and philosophies at Columbia. Dr. Pavry's people wished him to learn more of their history so he came to Columbia planning to stay a year or two. The professor prevailed upon him to complete the four year course and write a thesis on his religion for which he would receive the degree of doctor of philosophy. On the day that Dr. Pavry was graduated he sailed for home in an attempt to reach Bombay before his father's death.

The Parsees are descendants of the Persians who were driven into India in the eighth century by an Arahic invasion. They are regarded as the most intelligent and most cultured of Indians.

TOLERANCE.

WHEN a public speaker takes occasion to call for "tolerance" in this nation he is sure to be cheered warmly and to be commended afterward from press and pulpit for his plea.

But how many of us who cheer him are really ready to be tolerant? We may think we are—but are we?

Tolerance might be said to consist largely in minding one's own business. If you're tolerant you don't worry about your neighbor's conduct, his religion, his race, his beliefs. You let him say and think what he pleases. You strive, in plain English, to carry out the Golden Rule to the very best of your ability.

It's a fine thing to cheer pleas for tolerance. It's a better thing to take stock now and then and see if our selves are really being as tolerant as we might.

P. T. BARNUM UNDERSTATED IT (St. Catharines Standard)

An article in the Saturday Evening Post intimates that the Florida land boom is in the first stages of burst. The writer, pointing out what is being done in subdividing worthless land into lots, says that P. T. Barnum only knew part of the story. There is more than one born every minute. He refers to people who buy lots for $200 and more without first having a look at the purchase.

SPINSTERHOOD.

WHENEVER some girl or woman distinguishes herself by some new invention of man's field, whether it be in athletics, the fine arts or the world of business, some staid gentleman is sure to arise and say: "Ah, but she should be devoting herself to raising a family of fine young children. You've all heard something like that. And it's such a foolish remark it's almost pathetic."

Would the world be any better if women like Florence Nightingale, Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Jane Addams had given up their careers to "raise a fine family of children"? Of course it wouldn't.

There'll always be children enough. And if a woman is able to make her contribution to the race in some other form—more power to her.

LOOKING AHEAD

A CHARMING YOUNG WOMAN went into the principal stationer's shop in a country town and asked to see some notepaper. After selecting what she desired, she hesitated for a moment.

"Do you make any reduction to clergermen?" she asked softly.

"Certainly, madam," said the stationer, with great promptness. "Are you a clergerman's wife?"

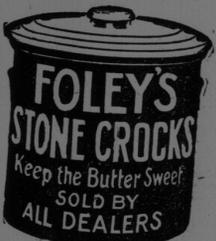

"No, no," replied the young lady. "Ah! clergerman's daughter?" suggested the shopman.

"No, no," was the lady's hesitating reply. Then she leaned across the counter and spoke in a confidential whisper: "But if nothing happens I shall soon be engaged to a theological student."

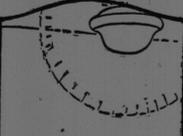

And the accompanying smile was so sweet that the shopman was constrained to allow her a reduction at the usual rates.

BUT WHAT ABOUT?

(Kingston Standard)
The Ottawa Journal says that "Memory has never registered anything more beautiful than the Christmas experiences of childhood." Maybe so; but what about that dose of castor oil needed for having eaten too much? And what about the book you got instead of etc., etc., etc.

RATHER SKEPTICAL.

"There is nothing like the fear of death to induce action in governments," says the Manitoba Free Press in discussing the Speech from the Throne, which it describes as a rather skillful presentation of a programme which may command the support of the House.

"If it had been brought down about a year ago," the Winnipeg paper suggests, "it is probable that the Government would not be in the plight in which it finds itself today."

With respect to the Government's proposal to appoint a royal commission to deal with the case of the Maritime Provinces, the Free Press is a bit sceptical. "The Government," it says, "reveals an appreciation of the situation of the Maritime Provinces. The device of a royal commission to look into those difficulties and report cannot be said to be original, but there are times when royal commissions prove themselves useful institutions."

This may be one of those times. "With some thirty members in Parliament representing the Maritime constituencies," the Free Press goes on, "it seems rather remarkable that it is necessary to have a royal commission take evidence as to what the views of the people of those provinces are as to their treatment, by the rest of Canada, with respect to transportation, immigration, and other economic factors. Is the Parliamentary system played out?"

If it is played out, or if in the choice of the commission, or in the authority given it, or in the nature of the Parliamentary discussion attending this appointment, there should be evidence of anything other than a sincere desire to do justice to the Atlantic Provinces, the country will not be long in discovering it. Our twenty-nine members of Parliament, it must be assumed, will have something to say as to the character of the mandate given this commission. It should have a clearly defined objective, and it should be set to work without delay.

The Free Press does not welcome the government's action in referring to the Railway Commission the question of the diversion of Canadian traffic to American ports, suggesting that this course will result only in delay, and that Parliament itself should take the responsibility of making a rate on the Transcontinental such as would induce a flow of grain to Maritime ports. "If the session goes on," says the Free Press, "it will be surprising if these attempts to sidetrack the pressing Maritime Province question succeed."

We are unwilling to assume in advance that any unreasonable delay will result from referring the traffic question to the Railway Commission, or that the Government's action in this respect represents an attempt to sidetrack the issue. It is our impression, rather, that the Railway Commission will act resolutely and with all reasonable speed.

NOVA SCOTIA'S MINING TROUBLE.

In the course of the sharp debate at Ottawa yesterday over Hon. Mr. Melchior's non-confidence motion, Hon. E. M. Macdonald was asked by a Conservative member just where he stood with respect to higher duties on iron and steel. The Minister replied that in his judgment the present duties are high enough. Another opponent asked him about coal, having in mind the demand in Nova Scotia for additional protection for soft coal in order that the market for the Maritime product may be extended in the St. Lawrence area. Mr. Macdonald replied: "We will deal with coal."

This exchange at Ottawa is of particular interest just now in view of the situation following the presentation of the Duncan commission's report on Nova Scotia's mining troubles. That report is accompanied by a special plea from one of the members of the commission asking the Upper Provinces to assent to a higher duty on coal, a plea which the commission as a whole did not feel warranted in joining. Sir Andrew Duncan feeling reluctant to have the main report touch upon an issue which he regarded as mainly political, although its bearing upon Nova Scotia's position is clear enough.

The Duncan commission's work, searching and impartial as it seems to be, represents in no sense a victory for either the miners or the British Empire Steel Corporation. With regard to some of the matters at issue, the report upholds the company's contentions and with respect to others it regards the position of the miners as justifiable. It says the wage cut of 10 per cent. in 1924 was necessary, but that the reduction of wages in 1923 was not. It proposes the revival of the contract system which has not been in vogue under the temporary agreement through which Mr. Rhodes was able to bring about the resumption of work. The commission believes the wage scale should be subject to revision every six months, in order that the pay may coincide, roughly at least, with the company's ability to pay.

An important point in the finding is the commission's decision that coal mining should be considered by itself, and not in connection with the company's other activities—that coal should stand on its own feet, and mining wages be governed by the returns from the mines alone, rather than by the result of the company's business as a whole. It has been suggested that the company would do well to dispose of the houses it owns in the mining towns and villages at reasonable prices to the miners, it being thought that the company should not be both employer and landlord. The responsibility for lack of proper sanitary conditions in some of the mining areas is placed upon the municipalities, and methods of betterment are suggested.

The interim agreement through which the strike was suspended will soon be coming to an end, and in the interval the Rhodes Government will be engaged in seeking to bring the parties in dispute to an agreement based upon the commission's findings.

Sir Andrew Duncan and his associates have proposed a two years' contract. They advise that the company recognize the union, and they make suggestions to both sides as to the elimination of friction with regard to policies and circumstances. They suggest, also, that the provincial government should enter into active co-operation with the Dominion Fuel Board to explore the possibilities of coke production, which would increase the market for Nova Scotia coal.

The Canadian curlers met defeat in Edinburgh last night, which is all right enough unless it's going to become a habit with them.

Louis Paquet, of Quebec, who misappropriated $20,000, has been sentenced to twelve months in jail. "Twenty thousand a year," says a western reviewer.

LOOKING BACKWARD.
(Somerville Journal)
The sky's getting grayer and grayer, The weather man says it will snow, But we sha'n't hear the jingle of sleigh-bells, As we did in the years long ago. We shall hear Father scrape with his shovel, As he labors to clear off the walk, But the musical jingle of sleigh-bells is replaced by the auto horn's squawk.

Now I don't like the auto horns squawking, And I have no use for a car; I'd rather go jingling than honking, The cutter's more cozy by far. They say that the world's getting better, And in some ways perhaps it is so, But I long for the jingle of sleigh-bells That we heard in the years long ago!

In the Paris-Calais train, he became acquainted with a very charming widow and after treating her to lunch and liqueurs, though of a brilliant plan. He asked her to wear the shawl until she readily consented to do so. But he had reckoned without his widow, for when he asked the return of the shawl she turned to him indignantly and said, "What do you mean, Sir? This is my shawl," and without more ado stepped into a taxi.

How To Get The Best Results From Your Want Ad.

The small cost of a "Want Ad." is a secondary consideration. The object is results.

Therefore, never compare here and there to save an odd cent or two. By doing so the value of the entire ad. may be destroyed.

When writing your "Want Ad." put yourself in the place of the reader, and answer the questions you yourself would naturally ask.

If you have a flat to rent, the home seeker wants to know more than a plain statement of the fact. He wants to know how many rooms there are; if there is hot water; bath; electric lights; garage, etc.; and the amount of the rent.

Your flat may be a $60 a month home, but if you don't say so in your ad. the $60 a month tenant may not reply, thinking perhaps it is a $15 a month flat.

To get the right tenant quickly, give full information.

To rent a room quickly to the right kind of a roomer, give all particulars. Show that you are anxious to make the roomer comfortable for a reasonable rental.

To make doubly sure of the right party seeing your "Want Ad." it is a good plan to use both "The Telegraph-Journal" and "The Times-Star."

A special rate covers both morning and evening papers. The rate for your "Want Ad." in the "Times-Star" is two cents per word per day, but you can have your advertisement appear in both papers for the combined rate of three cents per word per day.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS
1. Prices on inventories to govern.
2. Overs and shorts on all inventories to be adjusted.
3. Every tender shall be accompanied by an accepted cheque payable to the undersigned for a sum equal to ten per cent of the tender price.
4. Balance to be paid upon delivery of stock.
5. The highest or any offer not necessarily accepted.
6. Inventories may be examined and full particulars obtained at the premises or on application to the undersigned.
Premises will be open for inspection on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, January 13th, 14th and 15th, 1926, from 9.30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

General Electric Takes Three Point Jump; Oil Lower; Motors Firm

BRAZILIAN AGAIN MONTREAL FEATURE

Nearly 2,000 Shares Change Hands in Early Trading—Advances One Point.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—With speculative sentiment considerably confused today, stock prices pursued an irregular course at the opening of today's market. General Electric was the only outstanding strong feature at the start, mounting more than three points in response to reports of a stock split up. Most of the oil shares were fractionally lower, but motors displayed a firmer tone.

MONTREAL MARKET. MONTREAL, Jan. 12.—Brazilian was again the feature when the local stock market opened this morning, nearly 2,000 shares changing hands in the early trading, and the price advancing 1 to 84. Consolidated Smelters was also fairly active, and after selling up 11-8 to 12-1-8, receded to 19 1/2, unchanged. Western Grocers was off 1/4 at 6 1/2. The few other leaders to receive attention were strong, Canada Steamships preferred gaining 1 1/2 to 50 1/2, St. Lawrence Flour 1/4 to 44 1/2, and Price Bros. preferred 1/4 to 96. Montreal Power sold the same at 215.

Brokers' Opinions. NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Hornblower—We would not hesitate to follow new moves as they develop, but we would reduce rather than increase debit balances in following this policy, in other words, in making new commitments, reduce other lines in greater proportionate amounts. Block Maloney—We think it is well to be cautious in making market commitments. On railroads we would continue to sell stocks until we have had sufficient readjustment of technical position. We think stocks sold out may be replaced lower down. Pynchon & Co.—We believe it advisable to maintain an attitude of caution and discrimination in all new commitments and we recommend profit-taking during bursts of strength. Hutton & Co.—If no important new news develops in the country, we are for the oils between now and next spring, we can see the basis for the most important and sustained speculation in them since the Standard Oil shares were split up.

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The market had a very sharp break yesterday during which there was considerable short covering. A rally started near the close, which should carry through today. However, it was evident that support was not so general, except at considerable concessions. This development is not bullish. We do not think this market is going to collapse, but we do think one should cut down holdings and buy back cheaper. At the same time there are so many different lesser and such varying influences at work that a good many stocks can vary strong when the general market is weak. Special moves should continue. There were quite a few industrials that stood up well yesterday. Cons. Gas, after its advance, did very well. We expect this stock to sell above 120. AGR. Pfd. also will sell higher. Julius Kaiser still looks higher. We believe U. S. Steel will make a new high before this market is closed. This development is not bullish. A communication from Central, Atchison, So. Ry and C. & O.

Prepare To Collect For Fund For Church

A congregational meeting of the Fairville United Church was held last evening in the school room and the members organized in the interest of the maintenance and extension. Rev. J. J. Pinkerton was chairman and explained the fund, and told why it was needed to carry on the work of the United Church. He said that four million dollars was the amount required for the United Church of Canada, and a portion of this is required to be raised by the church at Fairville. O. D. Hanson was appointed captain with Miss Lottie Kelley as lieutenant and B. L. Wood, captain, with Harper Henderson as lieutenant. Rev. Mr. Pinkerton was appointed treasurer, with Mrs. H. M. Stout, assistant. The following committee was also appointed: Rev. Mr. Pinkerton, O. D. Hanson, B. L. Wood, Miss Lottie Kelly, Mrs. H. M. Crowd Lets Wounded Man Bleed To Death

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Although a crowd of 500 gathered when an unknown man was knocked down by an automobile in Edgeware road, no effort was made to stem the flow of blood from a severed artery in his leg. 1,600 TO 2,000 WAGE EARNERS AFFECTED BY MINE CLOSURE

Pit Shuts Down; Other One Will Operate 6 Days Per Month

SYDNEY, N. S., Jan. 11.—For the second time in 12 months acute unemployment again threatens the workers of Sydney Mines, where Princess Colliery, the largest producer, closed indefinitely last Monday and Florence Colliery, another big pit, will from now on have only six days' work a month. Between 1,600 and 2,000 wage-earners are affected.

LACK OF COAL DEMAND.

Mr. McLurg replied that Princess was closed indefinitely and Florence can work but six days a month. This is due to the lack of demand for coal and is beyond the company's power to help. Business men present referred to press reports which had stated that 150,000 tons of coal will be banked by Scotia this winter. On the strength of such reports some of them had increased their buying orders and were now placed in a serious position.

ASSISTANCE ASKED.

As a result of information obtained from the vice-president, the board and council decided to appeal direct to the provincial officials for assistance. A meeting has been called for 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and Premier Rhodes and Hon. G. S. Harrington, Minister of Mines, have been invited to be present.

George Watts First to Land Here Under New Immigration Plan

A happy passenger on the C. P. S. liner Montcalm this morning was George Watts, a lad about 15 years old, who was proceeding to join his parents and brothers and sisters at Princeton, Ont., after being separated from them on the last April by the strict ruling of the Canadian immigration authorities, who would not pass him at that time on account of a club foot. As a result, he was deported to his former home in Wiltshire, England, while the others proceeded to Ontario.

IS OPERATED ON
Undaunted by the fate which forced him to be separated from his parents and twelve brothers and sisters, the lad returned to England, where he underwent an operation to straighten the foot, and this proved entirely successful. He then undertook the journey to Canada again, this time unaccompanied, and landed here this morning and left at once on the last lap of his trip to join his people.

He is the first passenger to arrive under the new immigration scheme which a large portion of the immigrant passage is borne by the British and Canadian governments. The lad is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Watts. His plight aroused considerable stir throughout Canada last spring and strong pleas were made to the authorities for his admission.

The second passenger coming out under this new system, who also came on this liner, is Mrs. K. Martin, who is to be employed in the household of the Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

The 20-year 6 1-2 per cent. Bonds of the Viau Biscuit Corporation show this standing:

Net earnings of companies before uniting—over 6 times Bond Interest.

Assets over 4 times total of Bonds. Of this Fixed Assets stand at over 3 times Bonds.

The companies now merged have operating very profitably for many years, supplying most of the Biscuits consumed in their territory, as well as exporting heavily. Economies of unified manufacture are bound to improve the above handsome record of earnings.
