Walter M. Castle, the Wealthy Shoplifter.

Released from Prison On Poor Health.

London, Nov. 10 .- Mrs. Walter M. Castle, of San Francisco, who was sentenced at the Clerkenwell sessions on Friday last to three months' imprisonment, without hard labor, after having pleaded guilty, by the advice of counsel, to shop-lifting, was released from Wormwood Scrubbs Prison this morning, by order of the Home Secretary, Sir Matthew White Ridley. The commissioner of prisons, it appears, directed the medical board to inquire into and report upon the health of Mrs. Castle, whose condition was causing anxiety to the prison authorities. She was watched day and night by special attendants in the infirmary, and was shown every attention possible. The commissioners, after receiving the report of the medical board on the state of Mrs. Castle's health, communicated with the Home Secretary, who promptly ordered her from prison, and that she be placed in the care of her husband, who has undertaken to take her back possible delay.

Mr. Castle called at the Home Office at 11 o'clock this morning and was there informed that his wife would be released at 1 o'clock. Accompanied by a nurse, he entered a carriage and drove to Wormwood Scrubbs Prison, where he arrived at 12:45 p.m. After a brief delay, Deputy Northy granted the unusual permission for the carriage to enter the gates and drive to the door of the hospital of the prison. There Mr. Castle and the nurse alighted and went to the door. few moments later Mrs. Castle, dressed in deep black, was almost carried out of the hospital by the female attendants. She was deadly pale, her face was tear-stained, she appeared to be on the verge of collapse, and sank fainting in her husband's arms. The nurse enveloped Mrs. Castle's face in a heavy veil, wrapped her up in a shawl, and assisted her with difficulty to the carriage, where her head fell on her husband's shoulder and she sobbed hysterically. As the carriage passed out of the prison gates, the driver applied his whip and the vehicle was rapidly driven off.

Lord Salisbury on the Eastern Question.

Isolated Action by Britain the Worst Course That Could Be Pursued.

London, Nov. 10 .- At the Lord Mayor's banquet yesterday the tables were furnished with seats for more than 900 guests. The dinner was of the usual kind, being preceded by the customary turtle soup, without which no Lord Mayor's banquet would be considered complete. The cost of the dinner was more than $25,000, of which the Lord Mayor pays one-half, the two sheriffs dividing the remainder of the cost between them.

Following is a more extended report of Lord Salisbury's remarks on the Follows in the Wake of Victory for Eastern question-a summary of which appears elsewhere in this issue: The Premier's words were: "We have had an anxious year in the Foreign Office, but we have floated into completed the priest was kidnapped a period of comparative calm. Unand was taken back to France, where fortunately, one matter has not passed by-that is the troubles in Turkey:' Lord Salisbury said that he believed that the people of Great Britain were now virtually unanimous against isoof an inundation such as has not been lated action, than which a worse course could not be adopted to benefit the of the quarters adjacent to the Grand pursue a course to punish or worry Armenians. Military occupation alone would be effective, and the latter would be a large undertaking.

He would not pretend to say what Great Britain might do if she exhausted all her resources, but if they wished a military occupation, requiring a very large army, Great Britain must begin by establishing a conscription. The talk of Great Britain's exhibition of incapacity was absurd. Great Britain cannot use a great army if she does not have one. Therefore, said the Prime Minister, he hailed with great satisfaction the indication that public indignation had been aroused by the atrocious horrors of which the Turkish Government had been guilty. Yet he recognized that the most fitting instrument of reform was not an army in an island 2,000 miles off. It migh be done by others. Therefore the only wise course he saw was an adherence to the European concert. If the European States were willing to act they ain did not possess. If they were unwilling to act, and if they object to isolated action by Great Britain, there is not only great risk of failing in the undertaking, but there is the risk of bringing about the frightful horrors of European war.

It was nonsense to say that Great Britain was humiliated if she could not persuade the other five powers to adopt her particular proposals. Lord Government has appointed Hon. David Salisbury demurred entirely, he said, Mills and Mr Geo. A. ional and philanthropic spirit as you n your splendid isolation. You may consider them dilatory, but you must confess that they have good motives for prudence. We have been told by Mr. Courtney and Mr. Morley (Opposition leaders) that we might influence the powers to our way of thinking by abandoning Egypt and Cyprus. That is a pretty and almost idyllic conception of international policy, but I do not believe in it. And I may say," he added, "in connection with the Eastern problem, that we see no cause to abandon the policy hitherto pursued, or to relinquish a single acre of land we now occupy." Having warmly eulogized the work of Sir Herbert Kitchener, the sirdar of the Egyptian forces, and Lord Cromer, the British agent at Cairo, in connection with the Soudan expedition, Lord Salisbury said that he could not say more than that the concert of Europe seemed to be more real than ever. He was very pleased with the eloquent speech of M. Hanotaux, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, outlining the requirements which the powers would insist upon for the Sultan. He believed, he said. that France would do nothing to baffle European action. Lord Salisbury's remarks contained only a guarded reference to the disclosures made by Prince Bismarck through his newspaper organ of a secret treaty between Germany and Russia, which existed prior to 1890. The Premier alluded to Prince Bismarck as the greatest statesman which the latter part of the century had produced. Lord Salisbury demurred absolutely to the presumption of the existence of a permanent and necessary antagonism between Russia and Great Britain. Of

UNDER CAR WHEELS. Fatal Accident in the G. T. R. Yards at

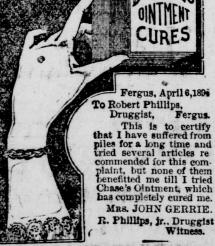

Stratford. Stratford, Nov. 10 .- At 1:05 yesterday afternoon a shocking accident occurred in the G. T. R. yards, this city, whereby one man lost his life and another was injured. The unfortunate victim was Alfred Lamb, a car re-pairer, residing on the corner of Fredick and King streets, Romeo ward. The injured man is John Robertson, Douro street, near Queen. The men were working on a car at the repair track, which was flagged at both ends, to indicate that no cars were to be shunted on to it. A yard engine was engaged in shunting cars up to the flag, when, according to the story told by the shunters, one of the cars broke loose and ran against the one on which the men were working. Lamb was killed instantly, his body being badly mangled. Robertson's right foot was crushed, and some toes were broken. An inquest will be held. Lamb was about 40 years of age and leaves a wife and six children.

I tried almost every remedy I saw advertised, bought innumerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. Finally, a week ago, I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the first application showed the curative effect of the Remedy. We have used only one-sixth of the box, but the change is very marked: the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently say my child is cured. (Signed) MAXWELL JOHNSTON 112 Anne St., Toronto

THE WEAK THE DISEASED Made Strong and Healthy Through

Every drop of the Sarsaparillian Resolvent communicates through the blood, sweat, urine and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life; for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, consumption, syphilis, uncured and badly treated venereal in its many forms (send ten cents for illustrated book, "Radway on Vonereal"), glandular diseases, ulcers in the throat, mouth, tumors, nodes in the glands and other parts of the system, sore eyes, strumous discharges from the ears, and the worst forms of skin diseases, eruptions, fever sores, scald head, ring worm, salt rheum, ery sipelas, acne, black spo's in the flesh, tumors, cancerous growths, female complaints, and all weakening and painful discharges, night sweats, nocturnal losses, and all wastes of the life principle are within the curative range of this Wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of diseases its potent power to cure them. If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood, and this the Farsaparillian will and does secure, a cure is certain, for when once this remedy commences its work of purification and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better, appetite improving and flesh and weight increasing.

SCROFULA FROM BIRTH

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir,—It is with pleasure I take my pen in hand to inform you of the great cure effected by your medicine called Sarsaparillian Resolvent. I have a girl three years old last September, who has suffered with scrofula ever since she was two years old. In fact, the doctor told us she was born with it. We had our best local doctors with her, and it seemed like all hope was gone, for they told us if the disease settled on her lungs she could not be cured. This frightful disease seated or seized upon her lungs severely. I began to think that our little girl could not live long, our physician's medicines doing no good. In the meantime I received a copy of your medical publication, called "False and True," which you sent me. After seeing the accounts of so many cures effected by your treatments. I at once resorted to them, and by the time she used one bottle she was most well. The ulcers that were making their appearance on her body are entirely gone and her lungs almost healed, or, at least she has quit coughing. She has begun on the second bottle, and I believe by the time that she uses all of it she will be well. She had a very bad cough. I am yours with respect, SAMUEL S. BARKER.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—The interest and importance concerning the foreign situation in wheat was partly dimmed by the northwestern and other domestic conditions today. Cash and December at Minneapolis were jumping upward, and extraordinary premiums were being paid for cash lots in our market, most notably for red wheat. Seven cents over the December quotations for No. 2 red ruled at one time. Much changing from December to May took place, and the high point of the year for the former—80½c—was quotable for an instant. Before the close, however, realizing became popular, and a break of 1½c from the outside resulted. The close was fairly steady, with 1½c net gain for the day established. The visible supply showed an increase of 1,243,000 bu for last week, the amount of ocean passage. 249,000 bu and the English visible supply 647,000 bu. Liverpool was up ½d, and Paris, Berlin and Antwerp all quoted advances. December wheat opened from 78½c to 77½c; advanced to 80½c, and closed at 78½c—½c higher than Saturday. Cash wheat—Sample lots were 2c higher, closing easier. Corn advanced ½c for May and ½c to ½c for cash. May oats advanced ½c to ½c and cash ½c. Provisions firm. The leading futures closed as follows:

Hogs-Receipts 140 cars, Market active. Yorkers, fair to choice, $3 85 to $3 90; roughs, common to good, $3 10 to $3 20; pigs, common to fair, $3 60 to $3 85.

Sheep and Lambs-Receipts 80 cars. Market fairly active. Lambs, choice to prime, $4 80 to $4 90; culls and common, $3 50 to $4: Canada lambs. good to choice, $4 25 to $4 40. Sheep—Good to choice handy-weight wethers, $3 65 to $3 70; culls and common, $1 75 to $2 25.

At the close: Cattle firm and all sold. Hogs firm for light grades, but 5c lower for others, with some unsold. Sheep and lambs, all told 80 cars on sale, of which 17 cars were Canadas, with about 31c cars of sheep in the offerings. The turning point seems to have been reached, and there is a fair prospect that the balance of the season will show better prices. Values today were 10c to 25c better than Saturday's close, most of the good Canada lambs selling at $4 30 to $4 85; heavier lots at $4 65 to $4 75, and sheep at $3 40 to $3 60. mostly at $3 50; market closed strong; active demand and all the offerings disposed of. Prospects for good light lambs excellent; not much demand for export.

Involves Two "Suspects" in Seriou Trouble.

White and Fountain Remanded Charge of Burglarizing Mr. Brooks' House.

Edward Fountain, a young colored man, and Edward White, a cigar maker, charge with robbing the house of J. H. Brooks, with Joseph Hughes and Joseph Hunter, two drunks, were the quartet that appeared before Magistrate Parke at the city Police Court this morning. White and Fountain were arrested last night by Detectives Nickle and Rider. The pair "did up" the town yesterday with the money supposed to have been stolen from Mr. Brooks' house. They were traced to several places, and must have spent $5 or $6. In making a purchase at a store in the south part of the city they paid for their goods with the quarter stolen from Mr. Brooks, and bearing the monogram "M. E. B." They soon discovered their mistake and returned to the store, where they tried to persuade the merchant to exchange the marked quarter for an other, but he refused, and sent word to the police, and the men were soon afterwards arrested. On being searched at the police station a table knife was found on White, which was nicked at the back, thus enabling them to use it as a saw. A short time ago Fountain completed a three-years term at Kingston for attempted highway robbery, and figured some months since on a charge of robbing a pensioner named Higgins of a gold watch. The two men were remanded for a week, to enable the Crown to investigate the case.

Joseph Hughes stood up in the box with a much mutilated face. The police magistrate thought his punishment had been severe enough, and discharged him with a warning. Joseph Hunter. a drunk, was fin### ed $2. MUSICAL AND DRAMATIO

Leotta at Wesley Hall-Fine Production of "Monte Cristo"-"Human Hearts" Tonight-Music Hall. "HUMAN HEARTS" AT THE GRAND TONIGHT. A play to be an unquestioned success should be written and produced for all classes of people. There should be elements for the gallery, balcony, dress circle and parquette. Hal. Reid, the author of "Human Hearts, has succeeded in so placing these essentials that this play of the people has never yet failed to please one and all With a wealth of beautiful scenery and a carefully-selected cast, ncluding the author, Hal. Reid, under the direction of Hon. Henry C. Miner, of the Fifth Avenue Theater, New York, there can be no question of the wisdom of theater-goers patronizing this excellent attraction.

LEOTTA'S DECITAL. "Leotta," the daughter of Samuel Longfellow, brother of the renowned poet, assisted by Miss Charlotte A. Hills, the harpist, drew a large and fashionable audience to Wesley Hall last night. Leotta's recital was far above the plane of the average elocutionist. Her dramatic power was perhaps seen at its best in her impersonation of Coriolanus, which held her audience spellbound. Her recital of Bret Harte's "Entertaining Grandmother's Guests" was highly appreciated as a contrast to the heavier pieces. "Lullaby in Black" was a clever imitation of the negro dialect of Missouri. It differs from the dialect of Tennessee and Kentucky about as much as the dialect of Devonshire does from that of Yorkshire. It was in this piece that Leotta made such a hit in the Eastern and Western States, as her mimicry of the negro voice of Missouri is perfect. Her Shakespearean renditions showed thought, study and intuitive percepion, allied to dramatic skill, and were worthy of the highest commendation. Miss Hills, the harpist, received several encores during the evening. The instrument upon which she played is handsome one, and valued at $2,500. At the close of the recital a series of statue poses and musical recita-tions, with brilliant calcium light effects, were given by Leotta, assisted by Miss Hills. These were representa-tive of Love, Hate, Dawn, Morning, Evening, Twilight, Watching, Surprise,"By Jingo," Disdain, Shame, Suspense, Sympathy, Defiance, Beseeching, Waiting, Desperation and many other emotions. Tonight there will be an entire change of programme, excepting that "Bobolink" will be repeated by special request. "MONTE CRISTO" AT THE GRAND. of the most fascinating romances in "The Count of Monte Cristo" is one the whole range of French literature, and makes a very picturesque melodrama, when staged with any degree of splendor. Mr. James O'Neill seems to have set a standard for "Monte Cristo," which no other actor on the American stage has attained, and his name has become almost exclusively identified with the role. His production was seen here some years ago, and made an impression since been effaced. Last night another large and delighted audience witnessed a superb performance, which was notable for its brilliant and sumptuous stage effects, providing a perfect atmosphere for so sensational and imaginative a story. Mr. O'Neill has a majestic presence, a musical voice, and all the qualifications of a romantic actor. As the sailor, the priest or the count, he was equally as effi-cient and attractive, the triple role serving to display his versatility in a striking manner. Mr. O'Neill has surrounded himself with a capital company. Miss Anglin, his leading lady is a daughter of the late Hon. T. W Anglin, M.P. She is slender, graceful and pretty, and, more than that, clever. As the mature matron, she was quite as satisfying as the gay young girl.

EVELYN GORDON LAST NIGHT. At the Music Hall last night Evelyn Gordon and company presented Bart-ley Campbell's comedy-drama, "Fate," in a thoroughly capable manner. Miss Gordon, in the part of Florence Grantley, deserves special mention, and the support was competent. The audience filled the Music Hall to the loors. The engagement continues bill nightly. The play tonight will be a dramatization of Mrs. Braddon's famous novel, "Lady Audley's Secret," with Miss Gordon in the title

We have something to make a joyful noise about. There is no store or stock like ours, either in size or quality, in Western Ontario. We realize that we've got to do better than anybody in order to bring you here past everybody. We've been doing better than anybody for a long time. We're going to do still better. Our store facilities are such that it would be a sheer waste if we did not work them to their utmost capacity. In doing this we bring our customers into close contact with manufacturers. We buy in immense quantities direct from them, and you buy direct from us. Thus you buy at wholesale prices. It wouldn't pay us to buy through jobbers-they have to get a living, and they get it out of the consumer—and if it wouldn't pay us it wouldn't pay you. The point is very plain to see. Our customers see it, appreciate it, and profit by it. Let all the people see it, appreciate it, profit by it, and we will buy bigger quantities and sell at still closer prices. This week we are showing what it means to buy big lots. We intend doing

The Water Shortage Explained - Engineer Chipman Approves Sewerage Plans-A Poor Old Man.

The mayor today received an annymous letter, warning him that a shortage of water would certainly occur "if the water commissioners did not cease working on Sundays." The writer evidently believes that people should lay in their Sunday supply of water on Saturday night. It is not likely that the consciences of the water commissioners will be much affected by the letter. The Sunday work is done by the pumps.

A letter has been received from Engineer Chipman in which he expresses approval of the sewerage plans as outlined by the city engineer's staff. He suggests two or three slight changes, which are now being made, and will be ready for the Board of Works' meeting Thursday night. The board will likely call for tenders for the work, and then submit the whole matter to the council for the latter to decide whether the work shall be done by day labor or the contract sys-Thomas Stamp, who was a British sailor for eighteen years, asked the mayor today for aid in reaching Chi-The old man had only 75 cents, and his venerable head was protected only by a straw hat. He said he had lost his pension through the destruction of his papers in a wreck off Anticosti. Of late he had been working for a farmer near Delaware. In his last work, dence by a folding bed Mr. Manson speaking of the treatment arose to see what time it was, and in speaking of the treatment of scrofula, he says: "It is hardly necessary to state that cod-liver oil is the best remedy of all. The oil should be given in emulsion, so prepared as to be palatable."

He also says that the hypophosphites should be combined with the oil.

Stated by Lord Salisbury at the Guildhall Dinner.

Concerted Action Regarding the Eastern Question - Britain Has No Special Opponent-Press Comments.

London, Nov.10.-There was a sumptuous display last night at the banquet marking the installation into office of George Faudel Phillips, the new lord mayor of London. The banqueting hall of the Guildhall was crowded, those present including Prime Minister Salisbury, Right Hon. George J. Goschen, First Lord of Admiralty; Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India; Lord Halsbury, Lord High Chancellor; Rt. Hon. Charles T. Ritchie, president of the Board of Trade; Gen. Lord Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the British forces; Gen. Sir Herbert Kitchener, Sirdar of the Egyptian army; Rt. Hon. Wm. Court Gully, Speaker of the House of Commons, and Hon. Thos. F. Bayard, the American ambassador. Interest centered in the speech made by Lord Salisbury.

Ambassador Bayard replied to the "The American Representa-When Lord Salisbury arose to reply to the toast, "Our Ministers," he received an ovation. A GREAT HISTORIC MEETING. After thanking the lord mayor and the others present for the warmth the welcome extended to him, Lord Salisbury said:

"I thank the ambassador of the United States for his presence here and for joining a great historic meeting. By the few words he has uttered he has raised his own plane of observation so high above the mere level of party that, though contrary to practice to remark upon the internal politics of other states, I may be permitted without impertinence to congratulate him upon the splendid pronouncement the great people he represents have made in behalf of the principles which lie at the base of all human society. VENEZUELAN DISPUTE SETTLED

"It is rather bathos to have to turn therefrom to the rather unimportant controversy his country and ours have had in recent months. I only do so aware that in the discussion had with United States on behalf of their friends in Venezuela, our question has not been whether there should be arbitration, but whether arbitration should have unrestricted application, and we have always claimed that those who, apart from historic right, tablished settlements, should be excluded from arbitration. Our diffi-culty for months has been to define the settled districts, and the solution has, I think, come from the Government of the United States that we should treat our colonial empire as we treat individuals; that the same lapse of time which protects the latter in civic life from having their title questioned should similarly protect an English colony; but beyond that, when a lapse could not be claimed, there should be an examination of title and all the equity demanded in regard thereto should be granted. I do not believe I am using unduly sanguine words when I declare my belief that this has brought the controversy to an end. It is a matter of no small satisfaction to the Government that at a time when anxious social questions, which are far more important than political questions, are troubling United States, and therefore troubling the world, we should remove any semblance of political difference that might hinder common action in defense of the common heritages of society. We have had an anxious year at the Foregn Office, but we have floated into a period of comparative calm, and I do not intend to trouble you with matters that have passed THE TURKISH QUESTION.

Turkish question. He repeated the arguments against Great Britain taking isolated action against the Porte, and emphasized the fact that the military occupation of Turkey would be necessary if such action were taken. Great Britain, he declared, would not occupy the country unless she established conscription. He pictured the risk of a European war, and then said that the six great powers must act in concert. Any one of these powers was able to veto the He denied that the powers others. were acting on selfish principles. They had firm ground for difference of opin-The motives influencing the British Government must influence all conscientious rulers. Her Majes-ty's Government, he added, had been urged by Rt. Hon. John Morley and others to abandon its policy of the past and renounce certain lands, in which case the foreign powers would accept Great Britain's policy. He did not believe in anything of the sort. At all events, he did not see any cause to abandon the policy hith-erto pursued or to relinquish an acre

THE EUROPEAN CONCERT. Continuing, Lord Salisbury de-clared that the concert of Europe seemed to be in a more favorable condition to extirpate the terrible disease in the east than ever before. He eulogized the speech made on Tuesday last by M. Hanotaux, the French Foreign Minister in the Chamber of Deputies. He did not, he said, expect that France would try to baffle the action of the European concert, while, he added, the Triple Alliance had always been in sympathy with the British doctrines regarding the eastern question.

NO SPECIAL FOE. Lord Salisbury repudiated the idea that there was necessarily permanent antagonism between Great Britain and Russia. Such an idea was a su-perstition of antiquated diplomacy. He had, he said, good ground for believthat Russia had the same views He did not desire to imply that there was any power with which Great Britain would specially act. He only protested against the idea that any power was specially Great Britain's opponent. He would not say there would be difficulty in conversing in any scheme to exercise force if the other powers agreed, but he did not know whether the use of force was meditated against Turkey. He referred to the latest promises of reform made by the Sultan, and said that the future alone could determine how far even such humble promises as these would be realized. He hoped the powers would be able to convince Turkey that she was drifting in the Turkey that she was drifting in the current towards an abyss, and that they would shoosed in diverting her before she arrived at the edge.

PRESS COMMENT. The Daily News (Liberal) commenting this morning upon Lord Salisbury's speech, says in reference to his explanation of the Venezuelan matter, that the terms of the settle-ment, as stated by the Prime Minister, are perfectly satisfactory, involving no surrender of essential principles. The solution arrived at will enable each side to claim a victory. Lord Salisbury can justly say he succeeded in protecting the rights of the British settlers, and Mr. Olney can claim, with literal truth, that he succeeded in bringing Great Britain to consent to arbitration

The Post says that the settlement of the Venezuelan dispute is wholly satisfactory to Great Britain and the United States. The Daily Graphic holds that the solution of the vexatious question reflects the highest credit upon all concerned. It fully justifies the inter-vention of the United States. The Standard briefly welcomes "the auspicious announcement." The Chronicle says that it finds Lord Salisbury's statement rather puzzling. It doubts whether settled col-onists exist in any great numbers, but supposes it is all right.

The Daily Telegraph says the terms of the settlement leave the dignity of interests of Great Britain and the United States unimpaired. It is believed that the session at Victoria will last about six weeks, and will be adjourned for as long a session to be held at San Francisco. The Times says it believes where British occupancy of settled districts extending back 50 years can be proved arbitration will be barred, and that all remaining claims will be submitted to an Anglo-American tribunal. The Daily News is of the opinion that thirty years will be recognized as giving title, and the Graphic thinks that twelve years will be sufficient to establish British ownership.

ONLY ONE SAVED!

Out of a Crew of Seven-The Captain Was Drunk.

Muskegon, Mich., Nov. 9. - The schooner Waukesha was wrecked off this port early this morning, and six lives were lost. But one man of a crew of seven, commanded by drunken captain, reached shore. Two bodies have been recovered. At daybreak the lookout man at life-saving station here saw the wreck of a vessel. He went out with his crew, and found a sailor clinging to an improvised raft. The man was able to wave the life-savers as they came up, and, more dead than alive, was taken to the station.

Last evening the man was able to talk, and gave a graphic description of the tragedy. He said that his name was Frank Delach; that they left Ludington last Friday, and that almost immediately the captain began drinking. He had for his companions a sailor named Fred and the mate. Soon the three were deeply intoxicated, and they continued that way until the end. The boat leaked badly all the way, and the hands at the pumps soon became worn out. The sea increased, and the men begged the captain to beach the boat, but he refused. When they came in sight of Muskegon the master knew not where he was, and anchored one and a half miles out, against the protests of Delach, who wanted him to either enter the harbor or go ashore, saying they could not live where they were. drunken captain, however, refused, and would not allow any signals to be given to bring help, locking up the torches. Shortly afterward the boat began breaking up, and the men sought safety in the rigging. One of the masts fell, killing the negro cook. The other six clung to the wreckage, were washed away, one by one. Waukesha had on board 600 tons
