MAYOR GAYNOR DIED SUDDENLY IN MID-OCEAN

Wireless Message Tells of Unexpected End of New York's Mayor.

HE HAD NOT BEEN WELL

Forced to Leave in the Middle of a Fierce Election Campaign.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Sept. 11. — William J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, died in mid-ocean on the steamer Baltic at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon of heart failure.

News of his death was received here in a message sent by wireless and cabled to Robert Adamson, his secretary, by Rufus W. Gaynor, his son, who sailed with him.

The message read as follows:

"Father died Wednesday at one o'clock, due to heart failure. Notify mother."

Was Failing Fast.

Mayor Gaynor sailed away from New York, a fast failing man, on the morning of Sept. 4. An hour before he sailed, but one man, his secretary, knew of his plans, outside of members of his immediate family. The mayor's announced purpose was a brief vacation on the ocean. He felt that the tonic effect of the salt air would restore him in some measure to health.

The Baltic was due at Queenstown today. The mayor died as he was nearing the other side. The news of his death was sent by wireless to Cuxhaven by Rufus W. Gaynor, and relayed from Cuxhaven to New York by cable.

A Critical Time.

Mayor Gaynor left New York at a time when that city was seething in one of the strangest municipal political campaigns in its history. The day before his departure he was notified on the city hall steps by representatives of independent political organizations that they had chosen him as their standard-bearer in the mayoralty campaign. A crowd that thronged City Hall Park assembled to hear him accept. He had prepared a speech of acceptance, but was so weak that he was unable to deliver it, and his secretary read it for him, the mayor standing beside him.

Before the mayor sailed his secretary issued a statement denying reports of the mayor's serious illness.

Never Recovered.

The recent attack of the old throat trouble, due to a wound inflicted on him on Aug. 9, 1910, by James J. Gallagher, just as he was about to leave the city for a brief vacation in Europe, had entirely disappeared, according to Mr. Adamson, and the mayor expected to return and enter the campaign with his old-time vigor.

Was a Reporter.

William J. Gaynor was born on a farm near Whitestown, N. Y., in 1851. He had to help the family there in its struggle for existence, and in this fight he had to take time for his own education. He graduated from the Whitestown Seminary, went to Boston to teach school, and afterwards studied law in the office of Ward Hunt, of Utica, who later became a justice of the supreme court of New York. In 1873 young Gaynor went to Brooklyn and became a newspaper reporter. Two years later he was admitted to the bar.

A Great Fighter.

From that moment until his death, Gaynor had lived in the midst of continual political warfare. He started it with an attack upon the unlicensed saloons in Flatbush, a section of Brooklyn, and won. Ten years later he led a successful fight against the so-called McLaughlin ring in Brooklyn. He was elected a justice of the supreme court of New York in 1893 on a nomination given him by Republicans and Independent Democrats, was re-elected in 1907, but resigned to accept the nomination of mayor of New York City, to which he was elected in November, 1909.

Many Innovations.

His career as mayor of New York bore the imprint of his personality in many striking innovations. As he expressed it, he "never quarrelled with the organization leaders, because I was too busy. I simply went on and did my work from day to day and I kept their hands out of the public treasury."

Mayor Gaynor was a writer of many letters, and attracted national attention by these and his policies. Prior to the Democratic national convention at Baltimore in June, 1912, the mention of his name was frequent in connection with the Democratic nomina-

DEATH CARRIES OFF TWO AFTER FEW HOURS ILLNESS

Dominico Dachelle Overcome With Fatal Illness on Street and Thos. Atkinson, of Nixon, Dies in Stable Were He Was Employed.

Two deaths of unusual suddenness occurred in the city last night.

Dominico Dachelle, 296 York street, a foreigner, died in Victoria Hospital Wednesday night, a few minutes after being admitted, from an affection of the heart, which Dr. J. B. Campbell, who attended him, declares is quite rare.

Dochelle had been in Victoria Hospital a short time ago, suffering from the same ailment, but left the institution several days ago. While walking along Dundas street Wednesday night with two companions, he complained of severe pains in his chest, and was taken to Dr. Campbell's office. On account of difficulty in getting his breath, he did not go into the office, but waited on the lawn while the doctor examined him. After examination, Dr. Campbell decided that the man was suffering from "musical murmurs" of the heart which is a rare affection, and told the man he had better go immediately to the hospital. This he agreed to do, but insisted on walking. He had only gone a short distance when the pains became so severe that he was forced to sit down on a lawn. The police ambulance was summoned, but owing to many calls, it was some time before it arrived.

The man was finally taken to the hospital, but expired a short time after being admitted.

He could not speak a word of English, and only one of his companions could talk to Dr. Campbell. The hospital authorities have very little information about the man.

Died in Stable.

Thomas Atkinson, 35, a stableman in the employ of J. Herbert Smith, of Delhi, Ont., died at midnight Wednesday in a stable of the Queen City Oil Company on York street. Atkinson, who comes from Nixon, just outside of Delhi, was in charge of the Smith string of horses being shown at the Western Fair. The horses under his charge were stabled in the Queen City barns, that are being used as "overflow" stables for the Fair horse sheds.

At 10 o'clock the man returned to the barns from up town. He complained of illness, and Dr. Homer Black was called. He examined the man, treated him and left him apparently relieved. Two hours later he was again summoned. This time the man had taken a turn for the worse and died.

Coroner Dr. Robert Ferguson was notified of the circumstances of death and investigated. After taking the case up with County Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop an inquest was decided unnecessary.

NEED GOOD HAND AT CITY'S HELM SAYS EX-MAYOR

City Has Been Plunged Into Extraordinary Extravagance of Late.

MANY SERIOUS PROBLEMS

Taxes Have Increased Abnormally—Too Many Half-Finished Things.

"With the money that has been expended by the city on the Spencer block the city could have renovated the old city hall and made it a fine building," said an ex-mayor of the city this morning.

"I think it is about time for the citizens to realize the direction in which London is heading," he continued. "The taxes have increased as never before in the city's history; there are more half-finished things than ever before and there are more serious problems facing the city than ever before. What will be the wind-up is hard to judge, though if such things had happened a few years ago there would have been indignation meetings."

"There has been some extraordinary extravagance in London, and with storm sewers, breakwater, new schools and good roads to be considered, the citizens should see to it that they have good men to administer the affairs of the city. Otherwise there are liable to be serious things ahead. The affairs of the city seem to be in a disorganized state at the present time. Some good hand is needed at the helm."

A Mysterious Attack.—A mysterious attack was made on John Todd, driver of one of Leach's delivery wagons at the Fair grounds Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Todd was leading his horse through a crowd on the ground, and while doing so someone struck him over the eye, cutting it and causing it to bleed freely. Mr. Todd says he does not know who struck him, or why it was done, but he says he thinks that one of the shafts may have struck one of the men in the crowd and angered him.

SUSPECTS SENT OVER BORDER

Crown-Attorney Decides There Was Not Sufficient Evidence to Prosecute.

PAIR ESCORTED TO TRAIN

Frederick and Goldie Becker, arrested on Wednesday at the Fair grounds, as suspected crooks, appeared in police court this morning, and were discharged by Police Magistrate Judd after promising to get out of the country immediately.

It was on the advice of the crown attorney that the couple were allowed to go. He told the court that while he was morally certain that the pair were not acting as they should have done, and that the man was attempting to pick a man's pocket, he could not offer any evidence other than that of Detective Egelton, which would be outweighed by the evidence of the prisoners.

Sent Back to Detroit.

When arrested, the pair had return tickets to Detroit in their possession, and when asked how they got past the immigration authorities they said they told them they were coming to London to the Fair.

Detective Down accompanied them to the Grand Trunk station and put them aboard a train for Detroit, and the immigration officials at Windsor will be notified to watch for them and see that they leave the country.

Could Prove Nothing.

Asked as to why he had liberated the prisoners, the magistrate said that nothing could be proved against them and that rather than keep them on remand for two or three days at the expense of the country, while the immigration authorities were notified, he decided to get them out of the country. "That is all that could be done with them," said he. "They would have been deported and that would have cost the country considerable."

Before leaving the police station the pair shook hands with several of the police and the detectives. They are a smart-looking pair and would hardly be taken for crooks. The woman wore a long black pleated skirt and a short coat, which could be worn with either side out-turned. She had dark, flashing eyes and looked like a foreigner.

Presented With Cane. — Lieut.-Col. C. W. Belton, until recently surgeon of No. 1 military district, and who leaves for Fredericton soon, was presented with a silver-mounted cane at the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Monarch Fire Insurance Company on Wednesday. Dr. Belton has been a director of the company since its organization. The presentation was made by President F. G. Rumball.

CONSPIRACY IS CHARGE AGAINST HARRY K. THAW

Jerome Is Busy With Plans to Get the Prisoner to Matteawan.

THAW CLOSELY GUARDED

Jerome Is Highly Indignant at the Action of Canadian Authorities.

[Canadian Press.]

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 11.—Harry Kendall Thaw, thrown out of the Dominion of Canada yesterday, and arrested here after a 50-mile flight in an automobile, spent the night in a hotel room here under guard. Lawyers kept him up until a late hour, laying plans to resist extradition to New York.

In another part of the hotel, William Travers Jerome, deputized by the State of New York to get the fugitive back to Matteawan, conferred with Thaw's most recent captor, Sheriff Holman Drew, over the court procedure to be followed today.

Conspiracy Charge.

At first merely detained, Thaw was subsequently arrested on a complaint charging him with conspiracy in connection with his escape from the asylum, and it was upon this charge that he was to be arraigned today before Justice Carr in police court. New York was prepared to ask that he be remanded, pending the receipt of a requisition warrant.

The Thaw lawyers yesterday took preliminary steps to swear out a writ of habeas corpus in the prisoner's behalf. It was said today that they might not press this further, and that, like the Canadian counsel, who tried hard to keep Thaw in the Sherbrooke jail, they considered their client safer as a prisoner than at large.

May Be Seized.

If freed again Thaw might be seized by John Lanyon, a private detective who has been working with Jerome, and hustled across the New York State line as a lunatic. Lanyon was due to arrive here today.

Both Messrs. Jerome and Kennedy were indignant at the action of the Canadian authorities who put Thaw over the border yesterday.

"We had no inkling of it," said Jerome today. "To say the least, it was a high-handed proceeding. It was

CHINAMEN AT ODDS OVER WIDOW'S ESTATE

Two Parties Who Wish To Act as Administrators for the Absent Owner.

Both with the laudable aim in view of preserving the property of a deceased St. Thomas Chinaman named Ben, for his wife and child in China, two Chinamen, one a local man, are fighting in the St. Thomas division court to be made adminstrators of the estate.

Ben died some time ago, leaving some real estate in St. Thomas, which he bought under an agreement of sale. Charlie Frank, of St. Thomas, a relative, desired to get possession of the property so that he could make account for it to the widow and child in China. But Charlie John, a London man, and also a relative, insisted that the duty of taking charge of the property was his. He obtained legal advice, and now both men are striving to see which one is to have this privilege of maintaining the widow's cause.

London's Kiddies Storm the Fair School Population 'Turned Loose' Many Visitors From 'Phone City'

This Is Visitors' and Children's Day at the Western and the Grounds Are Crowded With Little Folk and Many Thousands From Outside the City.

SPECIAL BRINGS BIG BRANTFORD DELEGATION

Almost the whole of London's school population was "turned loose" on the Western Fair grounds this morning. That is the only phrase that at all fits the situation. The boys and girls came early and they came with a rush. To see them making for the turnstiles, one would gather that the Fair was just on the point of closing and must be seen in fifteen minutes at the most. Every eastbound street car bore its contingent of what Shakespeare described as "the school boy with his shining morning face," and long before the cars came to a standstill at the entrance, the boys were off and making for the wickets.

Once inside, the Fair was theirs. They were resistless. The Crystal Palace, being the nearest, was the first to be invaded, and all the exhibits there were placed in the "I've seen it" catalogue in about fifteen minutes.

What Interests Boys.

It could hardly be expected that the boys would display a lively interest in the soap exhibits, but the same could not be said of the manual training exhibit in the annex. Here a large number of future artisans gathered to criticise or admire, as the case may be, the work on exhibition.

The dairy building, agricultural and horticultural halls received only a hurried examination. The interest in foodstuffs seemed to be concentrated in the various sized parcels and boxes which accompanied their small owners into the grounds. But the live stock was an attraction that drew its full share of attention. Young life takes keen delight in viewing other forms of young life, and every stall which contained colt, or calf, or frisky young lamb, was a centre of interest. Many a boy discovered the pony of his dreams in the horse exhibit, only to learn that the price was prohibitive to daddy's purse.

The rabbits, pigeons and pet stock in the Poultry Building were also critically inspected and admired.

It will be an all-day job for the majority of the children. School closed Wednesday evening not to reopen again until Monday morning, and to judge by the number present at the Fair this morning, the kiddies are taking full advantage of their opportunities.

Also Visitors' Day.

Properly speaking, today is Visitors' Day. Also it is Brantford Day. A special train of seven coaches, all loaded with visitors, arrived in the city about 10 o'clock this morning, and the Brantfordites were soon wending their way to the grounds. They were accom-

CIVIC TREASON!

In St. Catharines the Cataract Power Company is now engaged in a desperate fight against Hydro-Electric.

In London the Cataract Power Company through the Free Press, which it owns with the Blackburns, is fighting Hydro-Electric in a more subtle way.

A few years will make the people of London realize the atrocious treachery the Free Press is endeavoring to perpetrate upon the public.

It is not the first time the Free Press has been treacherous to London's railway interests. Take the building of the line from Glencoe through St. Thomas to Buffalo, as an example.

HERE'S A CHEQUE FOR FIFTY.

London, Sept. 10 1913.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONER,
Board of Trade Rooms,
Richmond Street.

Believing that the united effort of the people of London is necessary and advisable at this time to adequately place the city's financial, commercial and industrial advantages before the world, I hereby agree to contribute the sum of $ 50 00 fifty Dollars. to an initial fund of $5,000, being subscribed for that purpose by the business men of London in earnest of their interest and co-operation, payable upon the organization of the London Industrial Bureau, a central body representing the City Council, Board of Trade, Builders' Exchange, Real Estate Association, Manufacturers and Retailers Associations, and all interested civic organizations, and which will be the sole agency advertising London.

Name R. B. Leckie

Address 6 B Dominion Savings Bldg

A well-known Londoner's contribution to the businessmen's fund, now being subscribed to launch the London industrial bureau.

City Businessmen Cordially Respond to "Advanced" Plan

The businessmen of the city have decided to take a hand in the advancement of London by combined organized effort, and give indication of public spirit equal to any exhibited in the cities of the optimistic West.

A personal appeal by letter to some 300 of the leading businessmen, sent out by the industrial commissioner, with the authority of the board of trade and manufacturers' committee of the city council, has already received substantial and cordial response in the form of subscription cards filled in for sums varying from $25 to $100, and in addition to these signed declarations of willingness to co-operate, the commissioner has received verbal promises of financial and other aid in the work of the new industrial bureau from some of the more prominent men of the city.

A Business Proposition.

The total amount received so far is not, of course, very large, but this, Mr. Phillip thinks, is not a discouraging feature. It is purely a business proposition, and businessmen must consider it in a businesslike way. The inquiries which reach him, he considers, show that London's best businessmen are not only interested in the movement, but will give their hearty support when it is thoroughly understood.

A meeting of a few of the more enthusiastic supporters of organized effort will meet early next week, and after considering the whole situation, take what steps may be considered advisable to forward organization.

Meanwhile the commissioner will be glad of any opportunity offered by interested individuals to discuss the matter, and to show the advisability of the step advocated by the board of trade and city council, viz., to secure the interest and co-operation of London's businessmen in combined and organized city building.

DUNDAS STREET REALTY DEAL INVOLVES $9,000

First Transfer as Result of the Government Purchasing the Carling Block.

The first realty transfer caused by the sale of the Carling Block to the Federal Government as a postoffice site is that of the London Engine Supply Company's purchase of the three-story building at 85 Dundas street. The London Engine Supply Company is the first of the Carling Block tenants to provide for new quarters.

The Dundas street property, which was purchased for $9,000, is a 22-foot store, three stories high, with a basement. The structure will be remodelled by the new purchasers, a building permit for $350 for the construction of a new store front having been issued this morning. James McGuffin was previous owner of the building.

Before the Dundas street deal was consummated, one for the purchase of a Clarence street lot and the erection of a large warehouse for the Engine Supply Company, had been practically completed. Plans have been prepared for the new warehouse, but in view of the recent purchase of the company, the first scheme will likely be abandoned.

Wants Larger Quarters.—Chairman Dr. F. L. Burdon, of the board of health, is endeavoring to have the office of the health department in the city hall extended. The board passed a resolution, asking for larger quarters at its last meeting and delegated the question to its chairman.

TWENTY LASHES FOR ASSAULTER

Marcus Underwood Will Also Spend Six Months at Central Prison.

DISPLAYS GREAT EMOTION

Six months in Central Prison and twenty lashes was the sentence meted out to Marcus Underwood this morning by Judge Macbeth. Underwood was convicted of indecent assault upon a seven-year-old girl residing in East London, the offence being committed in a refreshment booth on Dundas street east. Underwood, who is a married man, received a severe lecture from the judge before sentence was passed. He displayed great emotion upon learning what was in store for him. He will receive ten lashes the first month he is in prison, and ten more the last month.

Auto Hit Buggy.—A buggy belonging to a farmer near Glendale was struck and badly smashed south of that village this morning by an automobile. Particulars concerning the accident are vague, but it was said that the auto was racing one of the London and Lake Erie Transportation Company's northbound cars. The machine was running at a high rate of speed and raising considerable dust. It is not known whether the auto skidded or whether the horse, frightened by the noise, moved to the wrong side of the road. No one was reported hurt.

BILINGUALISM IS NOT WORKING WELL IN NORTH

Fierce Fight Between Boards After School House Was Burned.

OBJECT TO INSPECTORS

Secretary Who Recently Broke Into the Building With an Axe Was Fined.

[Canadian Press.]

North Bay, Ont., Sept. 11. — The new bilingual school regulations of the Ontario Government do not seem to be altogether popular in rural French-Canadian communities. These regulations, which have caused so much contention in various parts of the Province, are said to be the basis of a feud now in progress in the township of Ferris.

The trouble arose over a school in Nosbonsing, Flagstone, a few miles east of North Bay. This school section has been alternately public and separate, as seemed best for economic conditions, two school boards being in existence for the same school. The cause of friction was the objection to a Protestant English school inspector.

School Was Closed.

The separate school board, while in possession of the schoolhouse, closed the school up as a protest to the Government against the Protestant school inspector. The public school board then became active and opened up the school again. This caused trouble at once and resulted in a meeting of the separate school board being called, which was attended by the chairman and secretary only, but at which resolutions were passed to take possession of the school.

The secretary, armed with the resolution and an axe, broke into the schoolhouse, despite warnings given by Emery Racicota, secretary of the public school board. He was brought before a magistrate at North Bay, and was fined for breaking into the school. This was appealed, but sustained by Judge Leask in the division court. Last Tuesday the public school board sought to open the school for the fall.

FARMERS FROM ALL SECTIONS TOOK POSSESSION OF THE FAIR

Wednesday Proved One of Best Days in History of the Western—Weather Being Ideal, Record Crowd Turned Out.

GRAND PARADE OF PRIZE STOCK

Rural districts surrounding London must have been well-nigh depopulated Wednesday, to judge by the crowds of agriculturists which from early morning until late at night thronged the Western Fair grounds. It was Farmers' day, and the farmers literally took possession of the Fair, and of the city. They came from all directions, every incoming train during the morning being packed. Numbers drove in, and the stable yards of most of the hotels were soon congested with vehicles of every kind, from the nifty rubber-tired buggy to the big double-seated democrat, in which the "whole family" made the journey to witness the sights of the big exhibition. In keeping with the spirit of the times, automobiles were also much in evidence.

The crowds spent most of the morning looking over the various agricultural exhibits, and the horses and cattle sheds came in for a big share of attention. After dinner many more visitors arrived at the grounds from down-town, and by the time the afternoon performance started, the covered stands were almost completely filled, while the bleachers also had their quota.

The Live Stock Parade.

The live-stock parade before the grand stand was an interesting feature of the afternoon performance. Headed by the prize-winning cattle, the long line of winners among the livestock wound slowly past—slowly because some of the bovines were supporting so much beef that their movements were impeded. Rosa Bonheur's famous picture, "The Horse Fair" was reproduced in real life when the horses entered the ring. Strung to a high pitch by the unwonted excitement, they reared and plunged, and shrill neighs resounded through the inner ring. It was a noble sight, and was loudly applauded. Each animal was in the pink of condition, and many flaunted red ribbons from their rosettes.

There was quite an exodus from the grounds at the close of the afternoon performance, many of the visitors taking evening trains out of the city. The Grand Trunk station resembled a bee hive before supper-time, when the crowds began to assemble for the home-going. The Huron and Bruce train went away with about a dozen coaches all completely filled, and similar conditions prevailed on nearly every other train.

Also Citizens' Day.

Citizens in large numbers helped to swell the throng in the evening. The Crystal Palace, the Art Exhibit, the dog show, and the poultry show all appeared popular, and were crowded all evening. Another splendid crowd was on the grand stand to witness the evening performance, and the defeat of the Spanish Armada by the English, under Admiral Drake, brought to a close the pyrotechnic display which marked the end of the most satisfactory Farmers' day the Western Fair has known.

There was, indeed, little to be wished for to make it more successful. The weather was perfect, and despite the tremendous crowds, not an accident or an untoward incident marred the day. The street railway did all in its power to handle the crush with as little delay as possible, and succeeded very well in transporting the crowds to and from the grounds. Merchants down-town had a good day, and the moving picture theatres and other amusement enterprises received a liberal patronage. Taken altogether, Farmers' day was a good day for London, and in many respects set a new record for the Western Fair. Mention must be made of the splendid music of the Preston Silver Band, which was one of the features of the day. The band brought with it numbers of visitors from the district surrounding Preston, and also from Brantford.

Women's Political Union Demands Votes, or Will Make Trouble.

London, Sept. 10.—The Women's Social and Political Union is planning to make things uncomfortable for Sir Edward Carson and his colleagues if they fail to make provision for votes for women in the new constitution they are drafting for Ulster.

In a letter to the Ulster leader, the women put themselves on record as follows:

"You and your colleagues and supporters are forming an Ulster government and planning an armed rebellion as a protest against being brought under a system of government to which you do not give your consent. It is precisely on the same principle that the militant suffragist organization refuses to submit to government without the consent of the women, either in Ulster, or in any other part of the kingdom."

Miss Mabel Reid Fatally Burned

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Blytheswood, Sept. 11. — Relatives here have received word that Miss Mabel Reid, daughter of the late Joseph Reid, of Mersea, was burned to death at Moose Jaw.

Miss Reid was pouring coaloil on the fire, which she thought had gone out, but a spark at the bottom of the stove ignited when the coaloil reached it, and a flame sprang up, causing the contents of the can to explode. The unfortunate young lady was terribly burned and all efforts to save her life were of no avail.

She was a sister of Mrs. Seth Derbyshire, of Wheatley.

First Shipment of Grain From West

[Canadian Press.]

Fort William, Ont., Sept. 10.—The first big shipment of the 1913 crop reached here yesterday in the shape of 500 carloads of mixed grain. That grain, despite the fact that it was shipped from various points, graded No. 1 Northern. In view of the coming rush the officials here lost no time in shipping as much of it as possible east. The steamer James Carruthers cleared Fort William last night with a cargo of about 6,000 bushels.

FOUND FLOATING

Body of Unknown Man Was in River at Niagara.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 10.—The body of an unknown man, probably sixty years old, was found floating in the lower river near the Maid of the Mist landing this afternoon. The body was in a bad state of decomposition. The left arm was missing. The body was nude when found.

The only distinguishing marks on the body which may lead to its identification were the dismemberment of the left hand. The thumb was missing from the first joint, the index finger was missing, and the tip of the third finger had been severed. The body was taken to Morse & Son's morgue, where it awaits identification.

BIRDMEN KILLED

Two German Army Aviators Met Their Death While Experimenting.

Leipsic, Sept. 10.—Another accident to a German airship occurred today. The Z-5 had just returned from the German imperial army manoeuvres in Silesia, and an attempt was being made to get the vessel into the balloon hall, when a sharp gust of wind suddenly dragged the airship from the hands of the soldiers holding her ropes. The motors were started barely in time to prevent disaster.

Four soldiers who became entangled in the lines were carried up. One man extricated himself and another was hauled into the gondola. The two other men fell to the ground from a height of 500 feet and were instantly killed.

GRAIN IS BURNING

No Effort Being Made to Save Big Pile at Kincardine.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Kincardine, Sept. 11. — A peculiar situation exists here as a result of the recent mill fire. For four days a big pile of grain has been smouldering and no attempt is being made to save several thousand bushels of good grain, pending the arrival of the insurance valuators. Even the miller's wife has had to buy feed for her chickens. Much of the grain could easily be taken out and many farmers would gladly buy it to feed their cattle.

DRAGGED TO DEATH

Tilman Shantz Was Fatally Hurt in Waterloo Runaway.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Berlin, Sept. 10. — Tilman Shantz, aged 64, of Waterloo County, was so badly hurt today by being dragged by a team that he died within an hour.

While he was driving a team of horses attached to a threshing engine the animals became frightened and made a dash for liberty. He was dragged beneath the horses and one side of his body was crushed by the hoofs of the animals.

JOHNSTON---ABBOTT

Pretty Fall Wedding at Bride's Home in Harrietsville.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Harrietsville, Sept. 10. — At high noon one of this season's prettiest weddings was solemnized at Sunnyside Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Abbott, when their youngest daughter, Alberta C., was united in marriage to Emerson Johnson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, of the 9th concession of Malahide.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Miles, of Aylmer, who officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents.

The bride, who was charmingly gowned in a robe of ivory duchess satin, with pearl trimmings and court train, wearing the regulation bridal veil and orange blossoms, carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Pearl Abbott, and took her place beneath an arch of evergreens, carnations and ribbons.

The bridesmaid, Miss Celia Clark, cousin of the groom, was prettily gowned in blue silk crepe de chine, with lace trimmings, and carried pink carnations. The groom was supported by Mr. Fred Abbott, cousin of the bride. During the signing of the register "The Song That Reached My Heart" was sung very sweetly by Miss Elise Abbott.

After the ceremony the guests, numbering about 60, adjourned to the basement, which was decorated in pink and white, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served.

The bride's travelling gown was a tailored suit of navy blue whipcord, with blouse of soft blue silk and black picture hat.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid a gold topaz pendant, to the groomsman a gold signet tiepin, and to the pianist a gold bar-pin.

The young couple left in an auto for Detroit and points west. On their return they will reside on Mr. Johnson's farm near Aylmer.

KINCARDINE.

Kincardine, Sept. 11.—Mr. F. C. Harrison, of London, is making ready the evaporator for fall work, and Mr. L. Mead, of Rochester, foreman, is expected next Tuesday.

Apples are not a good crop, being rather uneven and scabby, but owing to the many orchards leased to the defunct National Land and Fruit Company, the farmers are at liberty to pick their apples and bring them to market.

Grain is turning out well, and is a good sample.

The Review will not be published this week, owing to moving presses and engine into the new building recently erected.

Mr. Bindner, of London, proprietor of the Kincardine evaporator, is here today.

Visitors' Day at the Fair and This Store

A little crowded yesterday, but no inconvenience to visitors at this store. We are pleased to have so many people making use of the conveniences of this store and also to hear so many favorable comments on the equipment and store service by many who come to the city for the day and make this store their down-town headquarters. Some, indeed, spent most of the day in sightseeing in the store, studying the new styles and fashions or selecting their new fall outfit. Before leaving the city we invite you to make a thorough inspection of the store, come if you do not intend making a single purchase.

LONDON, THURSDAY, SEPT. 11.

THE ONTARIO HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The representative men and women of the class interested in the study of Canadian history are meeting this week in Chatham, and will be in session until Friday. This is a work of value to those who are engaged in it, and of value to the Dominion. Though this is a comparatively modern country, yet it suffers the same disadvantage as older countries, even if in a lesser degree, in that its early records are incomplete. Much is hidden away in old family books and papers, in old municipal documents, in the records of religious and other associations. Both the Dominion and Provincial Governments have seen the importance of looking after these relics of the past; but their work has been largely confined to the arrangement and classification of their own documents, and also to an investigation of the archives of England, France, and the neighboring states, purchasing what they can, and copying others.

But it is to the various local organizations, provincial and municipal and others, that the country has to look for aid in so far as more private and personal sources are concerned. In this the Ontario Association is doing a good work, materially aided as it is by its local branches. The London and Middlesex Society has been one of the most active of these, and deserves the hearty co-operation of all residents of the city and country. For some ten years past it has been in successful operation, and the provincial body has recognized its efforts by honoring one of its members, Mr. John Dearness, M. A., is presiding as chief officer at the meeting in Chatham this week. The papers that are to be read at the present session ought to be of great interest and of value. Many of them refer to the aboriginal inhabitants of this section. Tecumseh and the battle of Moraviantown will receive full attention, while other matters of a more general character will be discussed. The Western Fair occupies the minds of people in this locality just now, to the exclusion of almost everything else, and our city papers will not be able to give as much space to the Historical Society as they otherwise would. Fortunately, the transactions will be printed in full and will be available for all who care to have them.

SETTLING THE HOME RULE DISPUTE.

The virulent opposition of a certain portion of the Province of Ulster to the establishment of home rule in Ireland has awakened fears in the minds of some people for the future peace of the country. The great mass of the Irish want the local management of their own affairs, while a smaller number are so loyal that unless they are governed directly by the Imperial Parliament they threaten to go to war, and if necessary to secede to Germany, or set up a little republic of their own. The people of England, Scotland and Wales do not seem to be worrying about it very much. At the same time it is felt that if an amicable agreement of the diverse factions could be secured it would be a good thing.

And here is the latest remedy, which comes from an Irishman. Mr. Ponsonby Staples, of Tyrone, a home ruler, has offered to meet the chief opponent, Sir Edward Carson, on the field of battle. He will have a picked body of twenty home rulers; Sir Edward can bring on twenty representative Orangemen. The weapons shall be blackthorns. Mr. Staples promises that if his squad is defeated, the question of home rule shall be dropped into oblivion for twenty years. On the other hand, if Sir Edward and his Orangemen bite the dust, they are to surrender their secret supplies of arms and munitions, and accept the new constitution. Some suitable arena could be selected for this great tournament, an admission fee charged, and a fund thus provided for all the widows and orphans of the combatants.

At first sight this looks like a most satisfactory method of settling the dispute. Ulster wants to fight. Here would be a chance for a fight, not by the whole province, it is true, but still by the representative men—those who have been most noisy in clamoring for a fight. If there are those who do not want to fight, they could stay at home, or go to the tournament, and pay their fee to see the others fight. The home rulers have not been expressing any anxiety for a passage at arms, but they would not be Irishmen if they would show themselves backward in coming forward when shillalahs are singing the song of Brian Boru. And as Irishmen are always ready to shake hands after a fight, we could depend on a harmonious inauguration of home rule, or a peaceable continuation of the union.

The only question is whether Mr. Staples is authorized to speak for Mr. Redmond. This gentlemen is too corpulent to take part with any satisfaction in the proposed encounter. Will he be willing to have other people do the fighting for him? If only both parties would agree to leave the matter in the hands and blackthorns of a few chosen representatives, it would seem to be all right. But that is where the doubt comes in. For all Ireland to stand by peaceably, while a few dozen do the fighting, is more than we should expect.

SEMI-CIVILIZED NEIGHBORS.

The great powers of Europe and the Government of the United States are suffering the annoyance that private persons often have to suffer. They have some troublesome and annoying neighbors. And it is no easy matter to make them behave themselves. After the Balkan States had beaten Turkey, a treaty was signed under the direction of the European powers, which seemed to leave the general peace undisturbed. But when the former allies fell out, Turkey crept into Adrianople and upset the arrangement. Now the powers want Turkey to step out, and Turkey will not. The powers do not want to force Turkey out by arms, because that might result in a war among themselves.

On this continent Mexico is in a state of chronic revolution. There is a nominal government in control, but it only governs part of the country—the remainder is in rebellion. The Huerta Government wants to be recognized; but President Wilson's administration refuses to do so. Huerta's first days of power were marked by the murder of his predecessor, and civilized nations do not care to recognize a government based on murder. The United States does not want to resort to armed intervention, and is trying to get the Mexican difficulty settled by the Mexicans in a constitutional manner. But Mexico is in the habit of revising its constitution periodically by shooting bullets through it, and does not understand how to use ballots.

So the situation in both Europe and America remains very uncomfortable for all parties. The European powers are watching each other while they try to regulate their semi-civilized neighbors, without getting into trouble themselves. The United States is trying to keep out of war, while its Government protects the interests of its citizens in Mexico, and makes its too lively neighbor keep the peace. On both sides of the ocean international problems are worrying statesmen. An international court of appeals, and an international constabulary to enforce its decrees, seems the ultimate remedy.

They charged an admission fee for the art exhibit at the Toronto Fair, and now the Star suggests that the proceeds should be applied to the purchase of clothing for some of the statuary and pictures. Were they that bad in Toronto the Good?

The continued existence of the Empire is not now threatened by Little Englandism so much as by Little Canadianism, and similar sentiment in the other autonomous states.—Hamilton Herald.

That is quite true. The spirit which belittles Canada's resources and capabilities, and would minimize Canada's autonomy, is the greatest "foe in the household" with which the Empire has to contend today.

NOT BORDEN'S WAY.

[Toronto Star.]

The right way to deal with Pacific problems is to encourage Canada and Australia to study them and to provide whatever defence is necessary. Self-government in this case means a due allotment of labor and responsibility. Canada and Australia can attend to the yellow peril and the Oriental problem, if they are encouraged to manage their own affairs and take up the duties of nationality.

A TEMPERANCE LECTURE.

[Youngstown Telegram.]

Cooke—Beanbrough is an original sort of a chap.

Frye—In what way?

Cooke—I asked him to come in and have a drink and what do you think he said?

Frye—What did he say?

Cooke—He said he wasn't thirsty.

THAW IS SUFFICIENT.

[Brooklyn Standard Union.]

If only Congress could be adjourned, now would be a good time for Champ Clark to make an official visit to Coaticook and explain to the Canadians his plan for annexing them.

EVIDENTLY AN AUTHORITY.

[Springfield Republican.]

Mr. Jerome's acquittal and the court's apology to him will satisfy the national pride, which has been cruelly lacerated by the attack upon poker in the Canadian jurisdiction. Mr. Jerome's own definition of poker as not a game of chance, but as something based on the doctrine of probabilities and played in accordance with the integrals of differential calculus should become immortal.

WHAT IS THE MATTER?

[Omaha Bee.]

Even the most circumspect of countries, like men, cannot always escape trouble. There is Canada, for instance.

A CHANCE FOR ANOTHER OFFICE

[New York World.]

Both the Russian and the French Governments are considering the creation of a department or ministry of sports, and there is clearly enough work for one in this country. The interests of professional baseball alone have assumed proportions justifying attack as a trust and inviting Government investigation and supervision, and there is an opinion that college football warrants official scrutiny as respects its casualties. Federal legislation of sports, indeed, with a secretary of sport as a member of the cabinet, would mark the rational development of governmental functions along progressive lines.

WORLD WILL BE TOO SMALL FOR ITS POPULATION SOON

Crisis Will Be Reached in About 100 Years Says Eminent British Scientist—Wheat Supply for Bread Is Big Problem Also Power Production.

[Canadian Press.]

Birmingham, England, Sept. 11. — The annual meting of the British Association of the Advancement of Science, which began its sittings last night, when the inaugural address on the subject of "Continuity" was delivered by Sir Oliver Lodge, was resumed today.

In the address delivered by H. N. Dickson today, he said the day of striking geographical explorations passed with the finding of the earth's two poles; the geographer of the future will have as his field the vital questions of supplying and distributing food and clothes to the world.

The Wheat Supply.

Foremost of these questions, Mr. Dickson believes, will be that of growing wheat enough for the world's bread. A host of problems of the future are marshalled behind this, among them being the questions of obtaining power and energy sufficient to operate the needed increase in factories, the fuel question and distribution of population. Within a century the estimates, the resources of the world, will be taxed to their full capacity.

Progressing Too Fast.

"Civilized man is, or ought to be, beginning to realize," Mr. Dickson said, "that in reducing more and more of the surface of the earth to what he considers a habitable condition, he is making so much progress and making it so rapidly that the problem of finding suitable accommodation for his increasing numbers must become urgent within a few generations. We are getting into the position of the merchant whose trade is constantly expanding and who foresees that his premises will shortly be too small for him.

"In our case, removal to more commodious premises elsewhere seems impossible—we are not likely to find a means of migrating to another planet —so we are driven to consider means of rebuilding on the old site, and so making the best of what we have that our business may not suffer."

Two Great Elements.

"In the type of civilization with which we are most familiar, there are two fundamental elements, supplies of food energy and supplies of mechanical energy. Since at present, partly because of geographical conditions, these do not necessarily (or even in general) occur together, there is a third essential factor, the line of transport."

Mr. Dickson referred to the wheat acreage as not keeping pace with the increase in population.

"If the prophecies based on population statistics are trustworthy," Mr. Dickson declared, "the crisis will be upon us before the end of the century. After that we must either depend upon some substitute to reduce the consumption per head, or we must take to intensive farming of the most strenuous sort."

The Coal Supply.

As to the world's coal supply Mr. Dickson said that the largest fields would last barely three centuries, even at the present rate of consumption. Of other fields, yet undiscovered, he could, of course, make no reckoning.

"There must begin in the near future," Mr. Dickson continued, "a great equalization in the distribution of population. This equalization will arise from a number of causes, among which are intensive cultivation of the soil and a more uniform distribution of manufactures."

Should Take Stock.

"What is wanted," he concluded, "is that we should seriously address ourselves to a stock-taking of our resources. We should vigorously proceed with the collection and discussion of geographical data of all kinds, so that the major natural distributions shall be adequately known. Eventually we shall find that country-planning will become as important as town-planning. In the meantime geographical knowledge will yield scientific results of much significance about such matters as distribution of population, and industries, and the degree of adjustment to new conditions, which occurs, or is possible in different regions and among different peoples."

Sir Oliver Lodge.

Sir Oliver Lodge's address was eagerly awaited, and he was given a great reception.

Sir Oliver's most striking assertion was that his researches in the occult already had convinced him that memory and affection exceeded their material manifestation. Urging as scientifically essential a belief in "ultimate continuity," the persistence of personality beyond bodily death, although there is no absolute proof of it, Sir Oliver Lodge said:

Larger Knowledge Possible.

"The evidence to my mind goes to prove that discarnate intelligence, under certain conditions, may interact with us on the material side, thus indirectly coming within our scientific ken; and that gradually we may hope to attain some understanding of the nature of al arger, perhaps ethereal, existence, and of the conditions regulating intercourse across the chasm. A body of responsible investigators has even now landed on the treacherous, but promising, shores of a new continent.

Dislike Theology.

"Many scientific men still feel in a pugnacious mood toward theology, because of the exaggerated dogmatism which our predecessors encountered and overcame in the past. We cannot really and seriously suppose that truth began to arrive on this planet a few centuries ago. The pre-scientific insight of genius —of poets and prophets and saints—was of supreme value, and the access of those inspired seers to the heart of the universe was profound. But the camp followers, the Scribes and Pharisees, by whatever name they may be called, had no such insight, only a vicious or a foolish obstinacy; and the prophets of a new era were stoned. Now at last we of the new era have been victorious.

"Genuine religion has its roots deep down in the heart of humanity and in the reality of things. It is not surprising that by our methods we fail to grasp it; the actions fo the Deity make no appeal to any special sense, only a universal appeal, and our methods are, as we know, incompetent to detect complete uniformity."

City Detective Battles With Band of Crooks

Officer Egelton in Making Arrest Has Fierce Fight With "Strongarm" Man—Two of the Gang Landed.

Detective Robert Egelton had an exciting experience with what appears to be an organized gang of crooks in the Crystal Palace at the fair Wednesday afternoon. The gang consisted of what is known to the police as a "strong arm," a "dip," and two women "covers."

The detectives were warned early in the day that a gang was operating about the grounds, and that one man had lost $200, which had been taken from his pocket. A Palace street resident who saw the operation, gave the police a good description of the quartette, and Detectives Nickle and Egelton started the search.

A Fierce Fight.

After going through several buildings without success, Detective Nickle left for the outside of the grounds, and Detective Egelton stepped into the palace. Just as he got inside the building he saw a woman pressing against a man, and another man, short in stature, lifting the victim's coat tail and making ready to rifle his pocket. In an instant the detective had the man by the collar, and as he grabbed him one of the women threw herself in between Egelton and his prisoner. The crowd started to close in at the same moment, and Egelton's hold on the prisoner was broken. The "dip" rushed into the crowd, but the officer nabbed him again. Then the woman repeated the performance of jumping in between the officer and his prisoner, but this time the "dip" was unable to make his ecape. At this point the "strong" arm member of the gang took a hand in the fight. Reaching into the crowd he struck Egelton on the neck and nearly floored him, but before he could strike again, the detective drew his billy and hit the interferer over the head, flooring him.

Escaped Again.

Again the crowd closed in, and again the "dip" escaped. He started to run out of the palace, and part of the crowd followed him. Just as one of the crowd had hold of the "dip," P. C. Thomas Noonan stepped in and made the arrest.

In the meantime the "strong arm" who had lost his hat, and who appeared to be dazed by the blow from Egelton's billy, escaped in the crowd, but the officer managed to make his way through the crowd and arrest the "dip's" female partner.

When the two were taken to the police station they gave their names as Frank Becker and Mrs. Goldie Becker, both of Detroit. An overcoat which the pair carried, and which is said to have been used to store the stolen goods, were also recovered.

The police kept a vigilant watch all over the grounds and in the buildings for the "strong arm" member of the squad and his female partner, but up to a late hour Wednesday night were unsuccessful in their search.

IN THE POLICE COURT

It was a busy morning in police court. The prisoners' cage, the benches and chairs were all occupied by men held on various charges, and even standing room was at a premium. In fact, it was the biggest court that Magistrate Judd has held since he ascended to the rostrum of justice.

Louis Eliot was charged with stealing $5.15 from Harvey Dishman. He elected summary trial, and pleaded "not guilty" to the charge, and was sent back to jail until tomorrow morning, when he will be tried.

A Chance For Frank.

Sylvester J. Frank did credit to his name when he was called in police court. He was so frank with the magistrate that the latter decided to remand him until Monday, and in the meantime to endeavor to secure a position for him. Sylvester rode into London Wednesday night on a fast C. P. R. train from Windsor. He admitted the offence, and said he was trying to make his way to his home in North Bay. He could not obtain work, he said, to pay his fare, so he had to steal a ride.

"If I let you go how will you get to North Bay?" asked the court. "You cannot walk there and you have no money."

"I guess I'd have to get out on a freight," was the frank reply. "If I could get work I would take it until I made enough to get home."

"Well, I'll just remand you until Monday, and in the meantime I'll see if I can get you something to do," said the court, and he of the frank by name and frank by nature was taken to the cells.

Frank Bolton and James Davis came into London to see the fair Wednesday on one of the radial cars. They used bad language and conducted themselves in a disorderly manner in spite of the remonstrations of the conductor. They never saw the fair and both were given the pleasure of contributing $3 costs towards the mainteance of the London police force.

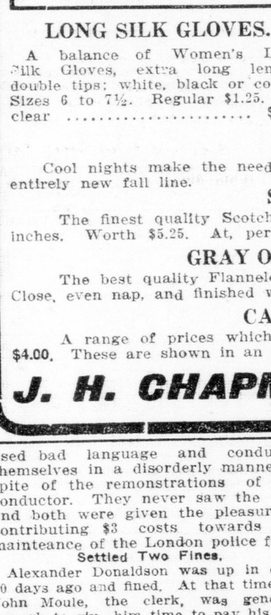

Settled Two Fines.

Alexander Donaldson was up in court 10 days ago and fined. At that time Mr. John Moule, the clerk, was generous enough to give him time to pay his fine. He did not pay it. He appeared again today on a charge of being drunk, and Mr. Moule, who has a good memory for faces, remembered him. When the court learned of Alexander's apparent lapse of memory he told him that it was poor policy to attempt to fool with the police department and fined him $10, with the option of 21 days in jail. Alexander settled both fines before he was allowed to depart.

Eight charges of theft preferred against a young man by a local businessman were again adjourned for a week this morning, the defendant's counsel claiming that he was not ready to proceed with the case. Bail in three sureties of $800 each were accepted for his appearance.

A charge of using abusive language, preferred by Elizabeth McMullen against Joseph Dann, was withdrawn on payment of costs.

Nineteen first-time drunks, including an Indian woman, were allowed to go with the usual warning.

Several Thefts at Fair Grounds

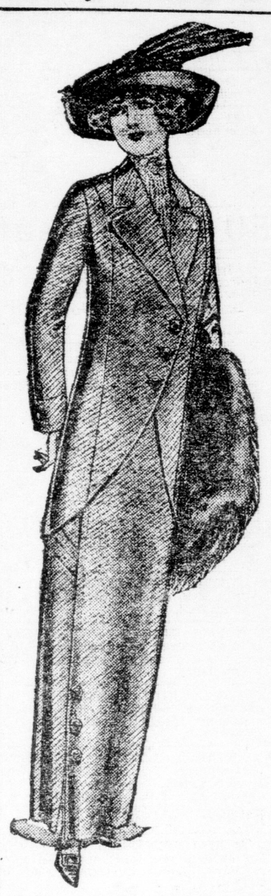

Ladies' Purses Looted and Band Instruments Disappeared For Time.

Mrs. Kaiser, of Kaiser's Corners, while at the Fair grounds Wednesday, reported the loss of a purse containing a $5 bill and some change. She was carrying a handbag on her arm, when a little girl drew her attention to the fact that it was hanging open. She then discovered that her coin-purse containing the money was missing. The satchel had apparently been opened and the money extracted while she was in a crowd. The Preston Silver Band also reported the mysterious disappearance of two instrument cases, containing band instruments, during the afternoon. Search for the missing articles was unavailing until Staff Sergeant Birrell came upon them under a tent a long way from where they had been last seen. He found no one who could throw light on how they came there. They were restored to the bandsmen just as they were leaving to catch the train at night.

FEW MOMENTS! NO INDIGESTION OR SOUR STOMACH---PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Digests All Food, Absorbs Gases and Stops Fermentation at Once.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take Pape's Diapepsin, and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go and on wtih a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

MAGNIFICENT GIFT FOR THE RETIRING MANAGER

Mr. John Milne Subject of Presentation and Complimentary Banquet.

A pleasing presentation took place Wednesday at the home of Mr. John Milne, recently retired manager of the Northern Life Assurance Company, when the field staff presented him with a handsome grandfather's clock and an easy chair, and gave Mrs. Milne a beautiful cut-glass flower stand on a silver pedestal.

Mr. Milne recently retired from the managership of the company on superannuation after a long, faithful service. His popularity with the staff of the company was fittingly expressed on this occasion, when with the gifts a beautiful address was read by Inspector P. M. Fraser and signed by Messrs J. M. Fernley, N. H. Ruthven and W. M. Govenlock.

The clock is a work of art, standing nine feet high, of solid mahogany casing, with dial in gold and silver filigree, and is equipped with Westminster chimes.

Complimentary Banquet.

Following the banquet, the company adjourned to the Tecumseh House, where a complimentary banquet was tendered Mr. Milne. Mr. T. H. Purdom, K. C., was toastmaster, and Mr. W. J. McMurtry was vice-toastmaster. A number of eulogistic speeches, attesting to Mr. Milne's splendid services, was read. Mr. Milne made a feeling reply. The presentation and banquet were an absolute surprise to him.

Among those present, as well as Mr. Milne and the toastmasters, were: Messrs. D. M. Scott, Brussels; N. H. Ruthven, Windsor; J. E. Campbell, Sarnia; F. H. Dutton, Brantford; R. E. Wilson, Brantford; W. H. Thibadeau, Welland; G. H. Thomas, Hamilton; R. I. Dutton, Montreal; H. R. Free, Cobourg; P. M. Fraser, Toronto; R. Marsh, Toronto, and J. M. Fernley, Toronto. Agents from all parts of Canada contributed to the presentation fund.

Freights Collided On High Bridge

[Canadian Press.]

Napanee, Ont., Sept. 11.—A Grand Trunk freight train, while coming into Napanee from the east today, could not stop in time to avoid a rear-end collision with a freight train which as standing still. The incoming freight was moving slowly, but the engineer could not hold his train. The collision occurred on the big bridge over the Napanee River at the east end of the town. The caboose and a coal car were thrown into the river, one car onto the road below the bridge, and six others over the high embankment. A man on the road had a narrow escape, but jumped under the bridge and saved himself. No one was injured.

Real Fashions on Real People

The Wealthier a Girl Is the Simpler She Dresses, It Seems.

THE NEW LADY ROCKSAVAGE IN HER BRIDAL ARRAY.

If you were a multi-millionaire heiress would you wear a plain little frock with a "Dolly Varden" hat and a red fox scarf when you married the English Beau Brummel of his day?

This is just what Miss Sybil Sassoon did the other day when she married Lord Rocksavage, heir to the marquesate of Cholmondeley, and known as the best-dressed man in England.

Canadian women who will marry this fall can see by the picture of Lord Rocksavage what is considered the "conventional black" at an afternoon wedding in English high society.

KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME CHAT

HERE AND THERE IN THE SHOPS.

An attractive hat for a young girl is made of white straw, with a simple rounded crown, and an even rolling brim. The hat is encircled with a wide box-pleated fringed ruching made of white taffeta silk. On the right side of the hat a small bunch of roses is half hidden in the wide, full ruching. Fruit is much used to trim late summer hats. It is usually made of silk, sometimes of velvet and it can be made at home by the woman of deft fingers and taste. It is sometimes made of beads. The beads in a clear bright color, are strung on fine wire and wound around and around little forms made of cotton wool. Bright red beads suggest strawberries, especially if two crossed strawberry leaves are fastened under each berry. Violet beads make good plums, and if the beads are smaller, and a dozen of them are bunched together they look like grapes.

Never was more attention paid to neck garniture than today. Who would have thought that when the high collar went out, so many fal-de-lols for the neck would be required to take its place? The ingenuity displayed by the fashion makers in neckwear is nothing short of wonderful. Ruches, frills, furbelows, bows, buttons, velvet laces and ribbons are all pressed into service ,and in the embarrassment of riches provided for the adornment of the neck, it is difficult to make a selection, so tempting are all these garnitures. There are stand-up white maline ruches edged or dotted with black, having a very tiny ruche below divided from the upper ruche by a narrow velvet band that ties in front and has ends with tassels. There are ruches of all colors in maline to go with any colored suit; there are flat collars in real Irish, Cluny, and Maltese for the collar of coat or gown, tiny bows, flowers of satin of all colors —roses in particular—to finish off at the meeting place of collar ends. Fichus are in particular demand and even waistcoats are finished off at the top with these and tied in a bow just above the first button. I notice that many of the new maline ruches are banded through the middle with ribbon that has a picot edge, which is very effective. But the velvet band holds its own and where it ties there is a smart bow and from the ends it is new to have a dangling ornament.

PROBLEMS OF THE FAIR SEX SOLVED BY CYNTHIA GREY

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Green Corn Fritters.

Dear Miss Grey: Would you kindly print in your column the recipe for green corn fritters.

2. Could you tell me anything that will take dark spots off tan shoes?

Yours, RHETEIA.

A.—1. First take a fritter batter of 2 cups of flour, 2 eggs, a pinch of salt, and enough sweet milk to make a batter of the consistency of griddle cakes. Have the corn ready boiled and cut from the cob, mix it in the batter, and drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Lift out as they cook, into a hot dish, and serve at once.

2. The tan shoe dressings are good to keep these in good condition. Another method is to dissolve a tablespoon of salt in warm water, mix with it one pint of cold water in which one teaspoonful of salts of lemon has been dissolved. After freeing the boots from dust, wipe them thoroughly with a cloth wrung out of the liquid, and dry them well. Then polish with a clean, dry flannel.

Interesting and Helpful,

Dear Miss Grey: I have found your little corner both interesting and very helpful, so am calling on you for a little bit of help.

1. I am sixteen years of age, five feet, six inches in height, and one hundred and twenty-three pounds in weight. So what length should my dresses be?

2. Is it right for a girl of my age to correspond with young gentlemen?

3. What colors are the more suitable for dark brown hair, hazel eyes, and dark complexion?

4. What are the meanings of Anita, Queenie, Amy, Edna, and Lorna?

5. Would you mind telling me what you think of my writing? Hoping I shall see this in print, and that I have not taken up too much of your time, I remain, HAZEL EYES.

A.—1. About eight inches below the knee.

2. With your mother's approbation a correspondence with one or two boy friends is all right. But I do not approve of an indiscriminate correspondence.

3. Dark shades of brown, like seal and coffee would be becoming, and for evening or summer wear, corn-color or canary. Certain shades of dull green would also look well, I think.

4. Anita, impetuous; Queenie, a queen; Amy, beloved; Edna, pleasure; Lorna, gracious.

5. It is neat, but rather difficult to read, because the letters "m," "n" and "u" are all alike. Another fault is in the letter "h." You make the lower part much too far away from the loop.

A Serious Thing.

Dear Miss Grey: While my daughter was away last summer she got something in her hair, alive; but I soaked her hair in coal oil which killed them, but left nits on the hair. Could you give me a recipe to remove them? I have tried lots of things, but can't remove them. And oblige,

AN ANXIOUS MOTHER.

A.—I wonder if you have tried an application of tincture of larkspur? It is said to be invaluable for destroying these troubles. Get five cents' worth at any drug store.

We print today thre recipes sent in by a couple of our readers, Are you clipping those that appear each day, for your Advertiser cook book?

Peanut Macaroons.

Beat the white of one egg until stiff and add gradually, while beating constantly, one-fourth cupful of fine granulated sugar and a few grains of finely chopped peanuts and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Drop on a buttered sheet. Garnish with halves of peanuts and bake in a slow oven.—Mrs. R. H., Queen's avenue.

These good vegetable recipes are from a Glencoe lady:

Scalloped Cabbage With Cheese.

Remove outside leaves from a small, solid cabbage, cut in quarters and remove tough stalk. Soak one hour in cold water, and cook 45 minutes (in an uncovered vessel) in boiling water to which salt and one-quarter teaspoonful soda have been added. Drain, separate into pieces, and put one-half in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and cover with grated cheese; repeat, add one cupful white sauce and cover with buttered cracker crumbs. Bake until crumbs are browned.

Rice and Fried Green Peppers.

Boil rice and turn it into a vegetable dish. Cut green peppers into rings—remove the seeds—and soak the peppers in salted water for half an hour. Then drain and fry them in butter. Arrange the pepper rings on top of the rice and turn over them the butter in which they were cooked. Cover and place in the oven for five minutes; then serve.

The Poets' Corner

A LONDON PLANE-TREE.

Green is the plane-tree in the square,
The other trees are brown;
They droop and pine for country air;
The plane-trees love the town.

Here from my garret-pane I mark
The plane-tree bud and blow,
Shed her recuperative bark
And spread her shade below.

Among her branches in and out,
The city breezes play;
The dull fog wraps her round about;
Above, the smoke curls gray.

Others the country take for choice,
And hold the town in scorn;
But she has listen'd to the voice
On city breezes borne.

AIR, LIGHT AND DESK IN THE SCHOOL ROOM

Light, ventilation and desks are three of the first and chief matters to consider!

A child's eyesight may be ruined for life through having to study in an improper light, or from having to strain its eyes to look at a blackboard upon which the light glares.

Many colds, which are often the beginning of more serious disease, are caught in a stuffy, ill-ventilated room. It is as bad to have the school room too hot as it is to have it too cold!

And where there are a number of children sitting or working for several hours, it is imperative to change the air, frequently!

Keep Windows Open.

In nice weather, keep the windows open at top and bottom to insure a current of air. The stale air rises to the top of the room and will find proper outlet.

In cold weather, the windows should always be open at the top a little way. Throw them open at the bottom, too, every hour or so. Allow the children to stand and exercise, fast, at this time so that they will not catch cold during the sudden inrush of cold air.

The desk, third, but not last from the standpoint of importance, should be an individual matter of consideration with the teacher in each individual child's case.

Crooked spines, interrupted circulation, flat-chestedness and many other ills result from children sitting in desks not fitted, properly, to them.

If children's legs are not long enough to touch the floor, they should be provided with footrests. If the desks are too high the seats should be elevated.

If the desks are too low, blocks or strips should be placed under them.

Heard at the Fair

"Nasty old man, wouldn't let me poke my finger at the geese."

"I can't think what you women see to look at in this fancy-work. Let's go over and see the horses."

"Johnny, if I catch you throwing the ball again I'll tan you good."

"That plain-looking little thing doesn't look clever enough to be a newspaper-woman."

"I can't make up my mind whether to spend all my money on the midway or to save half and see the fireworks."

"How many souvenirs have you got?"

"Mamma, I want one of them peaches with the red ticket on."

"All I've had to eat today is a 'hot-dog,' two ice cream sodas, a sack of peanuts and some milk chocolate."

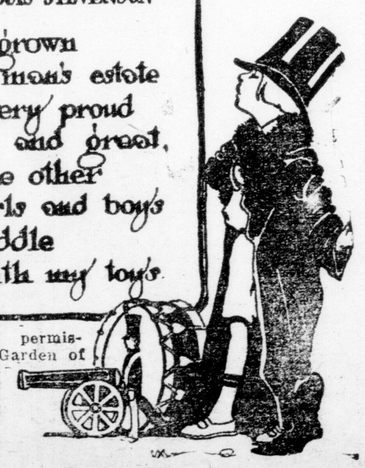

"Do I see that queer-looking old thing? Yes, that's my first cousin. Oh, no offence taken."

If the floors of a closet are wiped with gasoline or benzine after being scrubbed, insects will be kept away.

11.—DESSY SCHOOL BLOUSE.

The necessity for a number of blouses for school wear need not make it necessary to have any of them unattractive, even though they are ever so simple. Here is a charming style that may be developed in wash silk, lansdowne or cotton, with a trimming that gives a fashionable cuff and vest effect. The beltless effect is much in favor with high-topped skirts.

Hints That Help

When cooking liver and bacon get a sour apple, slice it very finely, and add it to the gravy. This will impart a delicious flavor, which is a great improvement.

Flat-irons become rusty if left in a dry place or if put away flat when warm. Rub them first with beeswax, then with dry, coarse, salt, using a short, hard brush. When heating irons it is wise to remove them from a lighted gas-ring after a few minutes have elapsed, and to wipe away the tiny speck of moisture which will be found to have formed.

Leather chairs often become greasy-looking where the arms and head rest on the leather. To remove these marks try linseed oil. Boil half a pint of oil and let stand until nearly cold; then pour in half a pint of vinegar. Stir till it is well mixed, and bottle, when it is ready for use. Put a few drops on a flannel and polish with soft dusters. This will thoroughly renovate all leather.

Melted beef drippings or tallow may be used over the top of jelly instead of paraffin, if the latter is not at hand. After the tallow is cold, if it has shrunk away from the glass, fill in with more.

Borax is one of the best exterminators for ants, and shelves, and cracks where the insects appear should be sprinkled well with it.

When washing handkerchiefs, add some slices of lemon to the boiling water, and they will come forth much nicer and whiter. Another good way to bleach handkerchiefs is to wash them and then let them soak over night in water in which a little cream of tartar has been dissolved.

CONCEALED WEAPONS.

The women were in power, and even the police force was a skirted brigade. Two blushing coppers dragged a male crook into the police station.

"What is the charge?" asked the sergeantress.

"Carrying concealed weapons," replied Officeress Mayme Hogan. "We found this hidden under his coat."

And she produced a cage filled with mice.

What Jeff CAN Do and What He WILL Are Two Different Things

By "Bud" Fisher

MANAGER DENEAU IS ALREADY BUILDING UP TEAM FOR 1914

Has Signed Up a Third Baseman and Two Outfielders for Next Season—Is Out to Win Pennant Next Year or Die in Attempt—Several Canadian Leaguers in City.

[BY JINX.]

Although the 1914 Canadian League season is so far ahead in the future that it is hardly worth worrying over at the present time, Manager Rube Deneau, of the London baseball club, has already started to sign up some promising material for next season's team. Rube returned to his home in Windsor last evening, after a two-days' stay in the city, and before he went he stated that he had already signed up a third baseman and a couple of outfielders for London next year.

Some Promising Youngsters.

Rube has been doing a lot of scouting around Detroit since he left London a little over a week ago, and as a result has unearthed two or three youngsters who look good enough for Canadian League company. He has not announced the names of these players as yet, but states that he will have them in London bright and early next spring, when the training season opens for Canadian League ball players. Rube is out to get the pennant next year or die in the attempt, and he believes in starting right in now to gather the team together.

Some of This Year's Team Will Remain.

While it is certain that the London club will lose two or three more players in the draft, Rube believes that he will have enough of this year's players left to make a good foundation for next year's team. "Dad" Stewart, Cy Reidy, Jack Smith, Eddie Linneborn and maybe Looey Pierbauer will be back next season, together with Heinie Steiger, Ben Beebe and William Boldt. The others are liable to be drafted.

Ball Players At Fair.

Quite a number of Canadian League ball players were in London yesterday taking in the Fair. Besides Rube and Matty, there were "Dad" Stewart, Frank Gurney, Jimmy Graney, Harry Howick, George Ort, Heinie Steiger, Bill Baker, Fred Gadsby and Marlin Kopp.

Council Passes Resolution Congratulating London Club

The splendid showing of the London baseball team during the Canadian League season just ended has been recognized by the city council, and this morning President Sam Stevely received a letter from City Clerk Baker containing a resolution of thanks and congratulation to the directors of the London club for the advertising and publicity the city received as a result. It is the first time in the history of baseball in this city that the city council has taken cognizance of a local ball club and congratulated it in such a manner, and the directors of the London club are proud of the letter. They appreciate the action of the council, and assure the city officials and the citizens of London that they will always endeavor to have just as successful a baseball season in London as the one just closed.

The letter which is dated from the City Clerk'c office, Sept. 9, is as follows:

Samuel Stevely, President London Baseball Club:

Dear Sir: I hereby certify that the municipal council, at its last session, adopted the followng motion:

"Whereas the London Baseball Club has concluded a most successful season, losing the Canadian League pennant by one game;

And whereas the club is one of the best advertisements the city possesses;

And whereas it has been a means of affording good amusement to the citizens, and kept them at home, when they might have gone elsewhere and caused a great loss of money to the ratepayers;

Be it resolved that the Council hereby tender their thanks to the directors for their efforts on behalf of the citizens, and their congratulations on the fine article of baseball furnished the patrons."

"PING" BODIE SAVED THE DAY.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 10. — Chase's single with the bases filled, and two out in the tenth inning, gave Chicago a victory over Philadelphia today, 5 to 3. The fine running catch by Bodie off McInnis' bat in the ninth prevented the home team from winning, there being two runners on the bases and two men out when the play was made. Oldring's batting and fielding featured. Score:

PHILLIES LOST IN TENTH

Brooklyn Beat Chicago in Close Game, While Cincinnati Defeated Boston in Easy Fashion.

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—The Giants today began their final dash across the western range, and one on which they must look to their knitting carefully if they are to reach the pennant pole ahead of all other explorers, by polishing off the Pirates in tidy fashion. The score was 5 to 2. The Giants carried on their part of the scrap with more skill and more vim than the Pirates, their bats being implements with which they made opportune use and their fielding being admirable to bolster up big Jeff Tesreau to his best efforts. PHILLIES LOST IN TENTH.

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—The Cardinals, with Doake pitching, gained the verdict over Philadelphia this afternoon in a ten-inning contest by the score of 2 to 1. Rixey was in hot water most of the time, and if it had not been for stupid baserunning on the part of the Cardinals, the game would have been finished in the regular nine innings. Score:

RITCHIE GIVES REASON FOR CANCELLING BOUT

Says Wealthy Men of Vancouver Failed to Come Across With Guarantee as Promised.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 10.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, arrived from Vancouver, B. C., today and left for San Francisco.

Ritchie said that the wealthy men who had promised to guarantee the purse, refused yesterday to accept responsibility, so Ritchie and his manager decided to break camp and call the match with Freddie Welsh off.

When Ritchie was asked about his $2,500 forfeit, posted to guarantee his appearance in the ring, he said:

"I gave them a check on my bank in San Francisco, and I have wired the bank to stop payment on the check, so I don't think they will get anything on it."

UNKNOWN SWIMMER BEAT SOME EXPERTS

J. C. Wheatley Created Surprise in New York by Beating Some of Best Amateurs in States.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Sept. 11.—J. C. Wheatley, unattached, created a surprise last night at Traver's Island when he won the 440-yard national swimming championship, defeating "Bud" Goodwin and Gilbert Tomlinson, the Philadelphia boy wonder. Wheatley, who is practically unknown, took the lead almost at the start, and won handily by five feet in 6 minutes 4 2-5 seconds. Tomlinson finished second and Robert Dippy, Philadelphia, third. Goodwin was fourth.

After the race Goodwin announced his retirement from athletics.

LISTOWEL MARE TOOK 2:17 PACE

Emily de Forest Won the First Race at Western Fair in Straight Heats.

VANKO WON 2:50 TROT

Promising Three-Year-Old Owned by Bob Pierce, of Longwood, Made Her Second Win of Week.

Emily de Forest, a Listowel mare, carried off first money in the 2:17 pace at the Western Fair yesterday, winning the event in straight heats. Emily showed a great deal more speed than the rest of the wigglers, and was not crowded much at the finish. The heats were all interesting, and the stands saw some good racing. The Parson took second place, and Victoria Poem, owned by T. L. Gray, of St. Thomas, was third. Emily de Forest was handled by Murray Roche, the 17-year-old son of her trainer, Jack Roche. The youngster drove her nicely, and showed splendid judgment on the turns.

The 2:50 trot went to Vanko, Bob Pierce's promising 3-year-old. Vanko won in straight heats and had something to spare at the finish in each one. This is the second event she has won, capturing the 3-year-old race on Monday. King M. took second money after falling away badly in the second heat. Gonzola was third.

Starter Yeates handled the fields well. The summary:

CANADIAN LEAGUE TO MEET WITHIN NEXT TWO WEEKS

President Fitzgerald Favors Replacing Guelph and Berlin With Niagara Falls and Erie—Joint Stock Company May Be Formed to Take Over Hamilton Franchise.

It is probable that a Canadian League meeting will be called within the next two weeks to discuss several important matters dealing with the changes in the circuit. President Stevely, of the local club, returned from Toronto last evening. While there he had a conversation with President Fitzgerald, and the latter informed him that he would call a meeting of the league owners shortly. The disposition of the Hamilton franchise is also one of the matters coming up for discussion.

Lots of Offers for Hamilton Franchise.

Since the announcement that the Hamilton franchise was for sale the present owners of the club have been besieged with offers for it. Offers have come from all over Ontario, and several from the States, but an effort is being made to sell it in Hamilton. The league is of the opinion that a stock company of Hamilton capitalists should be formed to take over the club, as a club generally does better under local capital. There will be little trouble in forming such a company, and the Ambitious City will likely have one of the best teams in the circuit next season.

Niagara Falls and Erie Favored.

President Fitzgerald is strongly in favor of dropping Guelph and Berlin and replacing them with Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Erie, Pa. These two cities would likely raise the classification of the league to Class B., and it is probable that the salary limit would also be raised. Niagara Falls is open territory, and the Canadian League can secure it easily, but Erie has a Central League franchise at present and arrangements will have to be made with the Central League club there.

Disastrous for Hamilton.

In speaking of the conditions in Hamilton, the Hamilton Spectator quotes President Fitzgerald as saying:

"There is no doubt but a change has to be made. Another year with conditions as they are would prove disastrous in every way. London and Ottawa made big money this year, and Hamilton should have done so, too especially when it was only too evident that the team was there to do it with. To my mind, a local stock company should be formed to take over the club. Of course, outsiders are ready to interest themselves in the club, but it is generally the case that a club does better with local capital interested than when outsiders are at the helm. The Hamilton proposition is regarded as one of the best in minor league baseball. I have even been spoken to about it by a Jersey City party, who is willing to take hold, but I would prefer local parties purchasing the club."

A $1,000 Mistake

W. A. Lensing, contractor, of Evansville, Ind., made $1,000 without investing a cent.

He figured an estimate on a large contract. Next day a Burroughs man showed him how the Burroughs Adding Machine does all kinds of figuring without errors, and in one-fifth the time.

Just "to see the machine do it," Mr. Lensing used the Burroughs to refigure the estimate and found a $1,000 mistake.

He bought a Burroughs.

Honestly now—did you ever make a costly mistake in figures?

Shall we send over a machine to figure your estimates—just to try out?

BRITISH LADY GOLFERS WILL PLAY IN CANADA

Trio of Women Experts Are on Way to Compete in American Golf Championship Matches.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 11.—Three leading British women golfers—Muriel Dodd, the champion; Gladys Ravenscroft and Miss Harrison, left Liverpool last night on board the Victorian for a brief tour of Canada and the United States. They will play in the women's championship tournament of Canada at Montreal, and later represent Great Britain in the tournament for the women's championship of the United States at Wilmington, Del.

All Three Leaders In Batting Contest Hit .500 for Day

All three of the men who are in the batting race hit for .500 in the games of Wednesday. Speaker's gain was slightest, as he has been at bat more times than the other two, and got but one hit. Cobb and Jackson each had two safeties in four appearances at the plate, and this benefits the Detroiter more than the Clevelander. The figures:

	G.	A.B.	H.	P.C.
Cobb	102	356	135	.37921
Jackson	132	474	178	.37553
Speaker	132	487	179	.36758

Jackson today is likely to face Engel, the youthful right-hander of the Washington Club, while Cobb will have to bat against Bedient. As far as there is any done on this sort of thing, this would give Jackson a shade the better of it in today's prospects.

"Burns Owes Me $1,800," Says Pelkey---"Pelkey Owes Me Lots More Than That," Says Burns

Former Heavyweight Claims Pelkey Is Playing to Limelight, While Pelkey Says Burns Is Not a Proper Manager and He Is Through With Him.

[Canadian Press.]

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 11.—"Burns has not treated me fairly and I am through with him. He has been hogging all my earnings to date, and owes me $1,800 right now, which I intend taking steps to recover. I am also going to break that five-year contract which I signed while in jail at Calgary, and wash my hands of the former champion forever." Such was the statement of Arthur Pelkey as to his relations with Tommy Burns. Pelkey confirms the Portland dispatch concerning the faked bout, and says that Burns was the leader in everything.

"I have become convinced that Burns is not a proper manager for me, and will go to Calgary at the end of this week for a final settlement of our affairs. Through his greed for money he has practically left me penniless, but I am willing to go broke in an endeavor to square myself with the public. All I want is the money Burns owes me, and then I will go ahead for myself. I will fight Gunboat Smith and even Johnson if the public demands a bout, but never again will I have anything to do with Tommy Burns," said Pelky.

Pelkey Is Playing to Limelight.

Calgary, Sept. 11. — Tommy Burns' emphatic denial that there was ever any frame-up with Pelkey for their six-round bout is confirmed by local newspapermen, who were with Pelkey until he retired every night before the fight, and the opinion prevails here that Pelkey is making a grandstand play for the limelight. The opinion is being expressed that the nervous strain of the trial for manslaughter in the McCarty case has proved too much for the mind of the fighter, and anyone who saw the Burns-Pelkey fight does not believe it was a frame-up.

"Pelkey owes money and a great deal of it. I had to finance his trial, and that cost several thousand dollars, and now that Pelkey threatens legal action, he will have plenty of it. He owes me much more than he claims I owe him," said Burns.

LIVE STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS

LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—Union Stockyards—The run here yesterday totalled 136 cars, containing 2,714 cattle, 578 calves, 538 hogs, 2,650 sheep and lambs.

Although the run of cattle was again large, prices remained firm with the opening day. There was, however, a noticeable decrease in the grade of the stock, many being of inferior quality. These did not affect the market to any extent, there being enough of the better grades to keep the market up to the standard set on the opening day. Good butcher cattle were in demand, and the trade for them was very brisk. There was also some call for feeders and stockers, and the prices are now about fifty cents above those of last week. The run of calves today was larger than it has been for some time, but prices still remained very firm, all shipments going very quickly. The run of hogs was small, but prices remained unchanged, though another small consignment will probably cause prices to soar before the close. Owing to the very large run of sheep and lambs, that market declined about twenty-five cents. There was a very good demand for this market, but the offerings were in excess of the demand, and as a result the prices had to fall. While there is a fair demand for good milking cows, this market is not very active.

MOTHER SO POORLY

Could Hardly Care for Children — Finds Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bovina Center, N.Y.—"For six years I have not had as good health as I have now. I was very young when my first baby was born and my health was very bad after that. I was not regular and I had pains in my back and was so poorly that I could hardly take care of my two children. I doctored with several doctors but got no better. They told me there was no help without an operation. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me wonderfully. I do most of my own work now and take care of my children. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."—Mrs. WILLARD A. GRAHAM, Care of ELSWORTH TUTTLE, Bovina Center, N.Y.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for woman's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

No Other Way

BY GORDON HOLMES.

Author of "A Mysterious Disappearance," "The House of Silence," Etc.

During many years of a busy life he had learned the immense importance of choosing the right words in circumstances like the present, and he did not hesitate now over a phrase that might well have carried a chill to the heart and brain of one who risked being charged with having committed a murder. But Mrs. Delamar did not wince. She rose gracefully, said she would give careful consideration to his advice, favored Clancy with an inscrutable smile, and took her departure.

"Well, not much forrarder, are we?" growled Steingall, when a cab had rattled away with the visitor.

"Some folks might think so," was the oracular reply.

"Don't you agree?"

"She has a strong card up her sleeve," fenced Clancy.

"Waverton as the king of trumps, I suppose."

"It looks like it."

"At any rate, I shall play the ace tomorrow. Is it worth while giving an eye to that scamp Tearle?"

"O-ho! he's a scamp, is he? Since when have you arrived at that opinion?"

"I forgot to tell you that I met a man the other day who knew him in Wall street, which he had to quit in a hurry. He had some pull with the politicians, and got a job in connection with an Indian reservation out Arizona way; but he had to quit that, too, and now he plays poodle dog at the disposal of unattached females in summer resorts in Florida. He has managed always to keep within the letter of the law; but decent people shunt him as soon as someone blows in who knows his record."

"So you mean to play Waverton's game?" chirped Clancy with a bantering smile.

"To that extent, at any rate," and Steingall chewed a cigar ferociously. "What about watching him?"

Clancy knew that the "him" alluded to was Tearle. "A waste of energy," he said contemptuously. "This affair will be fought out by two women and one man; and the man's name is Scott, alias Waverton."

The "playing of Waverton's game" was accomplished in a manner that became perfectly clear when the reports of the inquest were published; for the coroner's court had not been opened five minutes before the local reporters realized that they were, as they put it colloquially, "in for a big thing," and the headline "Sensational Developments," quickly made its appearance in the paragraphs published in the evening newspapers.

Dr. Gilman was the first witness called, and his words stirred the pulses of all who listened. "When I testified in this inquiry a fortnight ago," he said, "I stated that the general appearance of the body found in the cutter was compatible with death from natural causes. Although, even at that early date, I had reason to think differently, I deemed it advisable, subject to the approval of the coroner, not to mention my suspicions until I had verified them. In the meantime I have made a careful analysis of the contents of the stomach, as well as other organic parts of the body directly affected by irritant matter introduced by way of the alimentary canal, and I have no hesitation now in saying that Mr. Kyrle was poisoned."

At that word "poisoned," a curious thrill ran through the small court, which was crowded to its utmost capacity. Mrs. Delamar and Waverton had not met until they saw each other across a wide table in the well of the court, and the woman had been manifestly surprised at sight of him, while she flushed with annoyance when Waverton acknowledged her presence with a reserved bow.

But her self-control was marvellous, and she appeared to devote her attention solely to the business in hand, and chatted with a local lawyer, Traherne by name, whom she had instructed that morning to watch the proceedings on her behalf.

It was easy to see that the doctor's emphatic announcement of the cause of her husband's death gave her a decided and unpleasant shock. After one long stare of fright and incredulity, in which doctor and detectives shared equally, she turned to Traherne and evidently urged him to put some questions to the witness instantly. He, of course, whispered an assurance that he would be given every opportunity later to elicit any point he might deem pertinent to the inquiry. Meanwhile, Mrs. Delamar must not interfere nor hinder him in taking notes, for he was a shrewd man, and he guessed at once that the Atlantic City mystery was about to shed some of its mysteriousness.

"Have you ascertained the agent, Dr. Gilman?" said the coroner calmly. He was devoid of "nerves," and the scratching of his pen provided the only sound in the room when the first slight hum of excitement had died away.

"Yes; the man had swallowed an excessive dose of crystals of nicotine—sufficient, in my estimation, to kill a hundred men."

The reporters duly recorded the sensation made by this testimony, and the comment did not exaggerate its effect on the few privileged onlookers who had obtained admission to the inquest.

The doctor forthwith entered into a technical description of the effects of crystals of nicotine; but when the coroner asked if he had formed any definite view as to whether the deceased man had taken the poison when in the cutter or had been placed after death in the seat where he was found, Mr. Traherne jumped up.

"I respectfully submit that the witness ought not to answer that question at this stage," he said.

"For whom do you appear?" demanded the coroner.

"For the widow, Mrs. Kyrle."

"Is it in her interests that you object to Dr. Gilman stating his opinion?"

"By no means. I am swayed rather by my own notion of the proper proceedings, Mrs. Kyrle is, of course, anxious that every fact should be made known."

The coroner nodded to Dr. Gilman.

"I said 'every fact,' sir," continued Traherne, rather red-faced, since he was doubtful of the right line to follow.

"I think the witness should be allowed to proceed," said the coroner quietly, and the lawyer sat down again.

He caught a dry smile in the corner of Forbes' lips, and understood that he had not benefited his client by the protest. In the result, this impression was an unfortunate one, as he did not interfere later when he might have stopped some really damaging, though quite irrelevant, evidence being placed on record.

"I cannot decide that very important point," said Dr. Gilman, when he felt that the legal barrier which Traherne sought to interpose was not to become effective. "The contortions of pain that the poison would induce in what I may describe in simple language as its middle stage, would render it absolutely impossible for any human being to remain calmly seated at the tiller of a yacht. But, in the case of a man endowed with a strong will, clinging obstinately to a dominant purpose, and wishful to create an impression that he had died from what is popularly known as heart disease, he might have struggled back into a natural position during the last phase of a stupor developing into insensibility. That is possible. The balance of probability is that the body was placed in the boat after death."

Another doctor, and the state analyst, confirmed Dr. Gilman's evidence, and the local prosecutor, prompted by Forbes, asked each man only one question.

"Would any well-conducted drug store supply a large quantity of crystals of nicotine to any ordinary customer?"

In each case the answer was an emphatic "No."

The next witness came as a veritable surprise to everyone in court save the few who knew why he was there. Two men, apparently foreigners, and certainly strangers in Atlantic City, were sitting apart, shielded from all inquiry by the detectives and the local chief of police. One of them smilingly rose and touched his companion's shoulder when the coroner called "Jose Vullmo." The man who had paid no heed to his own name was the proprietor of the drug store on Everglades avenue, Palm Beach, for he had only a hazy notion what the court was saying; but the other man proved to be an interpreter, and it was soon learned that Vullmo had sold an ounce of crystals of nicotine to an American of February 22nd, as his counter record would show, and the name of the American was Claude Waverton.

The reporters were writing at top speed. Mrs. Delamar's face had exhibited a ghastly pallor from the instant she heard the druggist's name, given correctly to the coroner by the interpreter, whereas Claude Waverton had watched the man's appearance with a bored inattentiveness that yielded to curiosity only when he found that, for the sake of accuracy, the testimony would be delivered in Spanish.

To these three, then, seemingly busied with documents and notes, but actually devouring each slightest change of expression in Mrs. Delamar's livid features, to whom no more marked foil could be provided than Waverton's heedlessness, there was forthcoming the amplest confirmation of an amazing fact. The stout and voluble Spaniard was to Mrs. Delamar a figure of terrible and sinister portent; but to Claude Waverton he presented no such affrighting spectacle. The one knew, and dreaded, the coming revelation; the other was wholly unconscious of it. Yet, had he been the man he represented himself as being, he could not have forgotten that remarkable purchase of a deadly poison; nor, however innocent his intent then, would he be blind to its grave significance now.

Plans Expedition to the South Pole

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 11.—J. Foster Stackhouse, who was intimately associated wih the late Capt. Scott in organizing the fateful expedition to the South Pole, is arranging for another trip to the Antarctic. The plans are for an expedition to start from London in August, 1914, to explore King Edward VII. land. It is expected the explorers will be away for nearly two years, sailing in the steam yacht Polaris, specially built for navigation in Polar regions.

The delicious quality of "SALADA" tea has been maintained for 21 years, notwithstanding the fact that there have been over a hundred imitating packets which have come and gone, and all of which have shown the dealer a larger profit. Not one of them has given the same satisfaction to the consumer. You owe it to yourself and to good service generally, to see that another packet tea is not foisted on you when you order "SALADA."

A HINT.

"What's your name, my boy?"

Bellboy—They call me "Billiard Cue," sir.

"Why do they call you that?"

Bellboy—Because I work better with a good tip, sir.

PASSING OF THE PATROL AND OLD AMBULANCE

Interesting Associations That Hang About Vehicles Long Used.

The police ambulance that has been displaced by the new motor apparatus was a good old wagon, and it helped to save the lives of many people seriously injured, or ill, but like many old people who have labored long and faithfully in harness, it became too old—too out of date.

People who were crushed in factories or on railroads, struck by street cars or injured in the many ways in which man can be injured in a large industrial city, have been rushed with speed to the hospitals, to operating tables, or to homes, in the hope that the services of skilled surgeons might avail in saving the tiny flicker of life that was left. Men, women and children, too ill to move hand or foot, have been carried out to it on stretchers, and conveyed gently to the hospitals over the rough roads of some parts of the city, the journey made a little smoother by the rubber tires and patented cushion springs with which it was equipped. And now it will work no more in the city of London, because it has been deemed too old-fashioned to keep up with the rapidly increasing pace of city life.

Babies Born in It.

Babies have been born within its walls while mothers were being rushed to the hospitals, and many men, seriously injured, have passed away with perhaps only a constable with them when they died. Many would have died had it not been for the fleet-footed horses and the excellent driving of Mr. E. Walsh, who has had charge of that department of police work for ten years, and who is schooled in the art of giving first aid to the injured.

Passing of the Wagon.

Taken from the police barns recently by the team of horses that have drawn it so many times, the ambulance was taken to a place of storage on King street, where it will be kept until some offer is made for it to the police commissioners.

And the driver felt bad. Not that he did not welcome the automobile apparatus, but because he disliked the parting with his old friends, who seemed to understand every thought of his, and to know just when a case was serious, and when they had to go their hardest to help save a human life. The last real fast run that the horses made was the night George Hewitt was caught in an elevator at the McCormick factory and fatally crushed.

Horses To Be Sold.

The old patrol wagon, that has carried criminals of possibly every description, including fugitives from justice, wanted in other cities, murderers and men charged with fighting and being drunk, is also to be sold. The old horses that are so well known, and that are endeared to the hearts of every policeman on the force, are also to be disposed of. Perhaps someone who will look after them properly and give them a good home for the rest if their days will purchase them, for surely they deserve it. They are yet capable of a good deal of work and speed.

The automobile patrol and ambulance combined was put into service Monday and will be used for any calls that may occur in future. No calls for illness will be accepted unless they are emergency ones, and the greater part of the work of the new patrol will be in bringing "arrests" to the police station.

ONTARIO HISTORICAL SOCIETY IS IN SESSION AT CHATHAM

Mr. John Dearness, of This City, Is Presiding—Delegates Were Given Warm Welcome by the Mayor—Splendid Reports Were Received.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chatham, Sept. 10. — The first session of the Ontario Historical Society was held this afternoon in the public library and was attended by delegates from all over the Province.

Mr. John Dearness, of London, is the president, and was in the chair. The delegates were warmly welcomed by Mayor Dunn.

The afternoon was taken up in the consideration of reports of the president, the secretary-treasurer, Alexander Fraser, LL.D., Toronto, and council.

These showed the society in excellent standing. Reports were also received from the various local societies, given by Mrs. Sexsmith, of Kent; Mr. Cleary, of Essex; Mrs. Billings, of the Ottawa Women's Historical Society; Mrs. Coyne, of St. Thomas; Miss Janet Carnochan, of Niagara Falls; Miss Gilkinson, of Brantford; Miss Redmond, of Huron; Mr. Hart, of Woodstock; J. H. Smith, of Hamilton; Dr. Coyne, of Elgina; O. T. Hunter, of Barrie; Clarence Warner, of Napanee.

At the conclusion of the session the delegates were given an auto ride around the city. On Thursday the delegates, accompanied by the East and West Kent Teachers' Associations, will take a trip on the steamer Ossifrage to Amherstburg and Fort Malden.

The report of the committee on permanent headquarters announced that splendid furnished quarters had been provided by the Ontario education department in the Normal College, St. James' Square, Toronto. The report was received with applause.

GOVT. WOBBLES ON BILINGUAL SCHOOL POLICY

Conservative Paper Says It Has Given in to Everything Demanded.

MODIFIED REGULATIONS

Whitney Is Simply Dangling for Votes in All Parts of Province.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Sept. 11.—Quite unexpectedly the bilingual question has arisen again, and is receiving much publicity in spite of the Government's apparent efforts to make as little of the affair as possible. The famous regulation 17, which has aroused the wrath of the French-Canadians of Ontario, has been considerably modified. It is peculiar that the first report of an important change in the education's department's regulations was wired from an outside point and not given out from the Parliament Buildings in Toronto.

Greatly Modified.

The new regulations, however, are in print, and the facts may be examined in detail. The significant points are, first, that while under the old regulation instruction in French must not exceed one hour a day, this rule is now relaxed by the addition of the clause "except where the time is increased upon the order of the chief inspector." Another far-reaching change is that the system of "supervising inspectors" and "inspectors" is dropped and the English inspectors are, therefore, relegated to a position of equality with the French inspectors. In the third place, by means of an open contradiction in clauses, instruction in French may be given in all the forms to pupils whose parents and guardians direct, and this instruction, to quote the new regulation, "may, notwithstanding section 3, clause 1 (which forbids instruction in French), be given in the French language."

Government Gave In.

The Toronto Telegram (Conservative), in its head-lines last night, says: "Ontario Government's Backdown. Regulation 17 superseded by specious order, which practically gives bilingual school champions everything they demand."

The result of this latest "wobble," to quote a word commonly heard here today, is to emphasize more strongly than ever the Whitney Government's absolute failure to adopt any settled policy in regard to bilingual schools. It is evident to the most superficial observer that the Government has no convictions on the matter, and is simply dangling for votes in all quarters.

Just before the general election in 1911, there was a state of great confusion which is now made worse than ever. At that time three widely different statemnts by cabinet ministers were made as follows:

Sir James' Statement.

Sir James Whitney—There are no bilingual schools in this province.

Hon. J. J. Foy—There cannot lawfully be any bilingual schools in the Province of Ontario, and if any are found they must cease to exist, and care should be taken to make all schools conform to the law.

Hon. Dr. Reaume—That was made on Mr. Foy's own hook, and was an expression of his personal opinion on the subject. You know, I find the biggest opposition to bilingual schools is where people have not got them, and consequently do not know much about them. However, the Government has taken a stand. Sir James Whitney's attitude is that while English should be made the language of the schools as far as practicable, and while every child should receive an English education, we are not against the French-Canadians and Germans having their children started in their mother tongue as a means to an end, and having their mother tongue taught in the schools as a subject when so desired by trustees representing the people of the school section.

Will Not Be Abolished.

"The Honorable Prime Minister (Sir James Whitney) said to me: "Go and tell the electors of that district (Prescott). . . that the teaching of the French language will not be abolished in the Province of Ontario. . . . .'"

As late as last week Hon. I. B. Lucas revealed the Conservative's insecure position. He was quoted (supported by testimony) as saying at the Markham nomination meeting in East York, "Are we right in saying that English shall be the only language in Ontario?" A couple of days later he denied the statement. In all the recent by-elections, however, he has kept assuring his audiences, whenever he was in a strong Orange community, that the regulations regarding bilingual schools would not be relaxed.

The general opinion in Toronto, which is always closely interested in the bilingual question is that the Whitney Government by its latest proof of shiftiness will be severely criticised by all classes of electors. What its next step will be none can say, for there is not the slightest guarantee of permanency in its bilingual policy.

CONSERVATIVES BADLY DISRUPTED IN E. MIDDLESEX

Party Throughout the County Is Split Up Into Many and Bitter Factions.

MAY POLL IN OCTOBER

Both Parties Are Preparing for Lively Contests in Quartette of By-Election.

East Middlesex Conservatives and the powers behind the ministerial thrones at Ottawa seem to have a little different "dope" on when the by-election to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Peter Elson, M. P., will be staged. When the Conservatives gathered together in that never-to-be-forgotten convention of a week ago last Saturday, the leaders were quietly tipped off that the election would be rushed through as soon as possible. The sooner the better, for it would have found the Liberals unprepared. When the convention ended in the voting fiasco, and the adjournment had to be announced, the greatest efforts were made by the leaders to head off the proposed three weeks' amendment. A compromise on two weeks' was secured, but only after Organizer Birmingham, of the Conservative forces, had had a hurried trip to all leaders on the floor and whispered to them the necessity of an early election. Now Ottawa comes along with a semi-official notification that the election will not be staged until November.

Expects Polling in October.

Be that as it may, none of the candidates for nomination as Conservative standard-bearer are letting the grass grow under their feet. All are working to secure their quota of delegates for the convention on Saturday and all are working in the expectation of an early election. October has been picked by these candidates as the month that the by-election will be held, in spite of the Ottawa advices that it will be November.

As a matter of fact the election depends largely on the date fixed for the reopening of the House. Unless Parliament is called early, says the Ottawa dispatch, the elections will be held in abeyance until November. There seems to be little likelihood of an early convening of the Federal House, and as a result the elections may be in November, the local "dope" to the contrary notwithstanding.

Disruption Rampant.

The longer the election is postponed the better the Conservative forces will be pleased. With the present disruption in the Conservative ranks in East Middlesex there can be little done along the line of party organization. There never was a time in the history of the Conservatives in East Middlesex that the party was broken up into so many factions, and bitter factions at that. Before the whole power of the federal machine can be lined up behind the East Middlesex Conservatives there will have to be some semblance of unity, at least, though present indications preclude much possibility of a "shoulder-to-shoulder" loyalty to any one candidate.

There are four federal by-elections now pending, and these four will likely be staged on the same day. They mean more to the Government than ordinary elections, and for that reason not an effort will be spared to win them.

Three in Ontario.

Three of the vacant federal seats are in Ontario and the fourth in Quebec. The Ontario seats were all Conservative in the last election, while the Quebec riding was Liberal. The ridings are: South Lanark, made vacant through the death of Hon. John Haggart; South Bruce, vacant through the elevation of J. J. Donnelley to the senate and East Middlesex. In Quebec, the riding was Chateauguay, formerly held by J. B. Brown, M.P., who prior to his death was the second oldest Liberal in the House Sir Wilfrid Laurier himself being his only rival for the honor.

In South Lanark, which had been held by Hon. John Haggart since 1872, an Independent Conservative candidate is in the running. With two men in the field it looks like defeat for the Conservatives.

A bitter fight is in prospect in South Bruce. That riding is a close one and has switched from one side to the other as often as any riding in the country. The Liberals have already nominated R. E. Truax, ex-M.P., who was defeated by Donnelly in the last election. Henry Cargill, son of a former Conservative M.P. for the riding will uphold the Conservative banner in South Bruce. Every one of the three Ontario seats is held by Liberals.

The Quebec riding has always been a Liberal one. Everywhere the battles will be keenly contested and surprises are expected on both sides.

BADLY BURNED

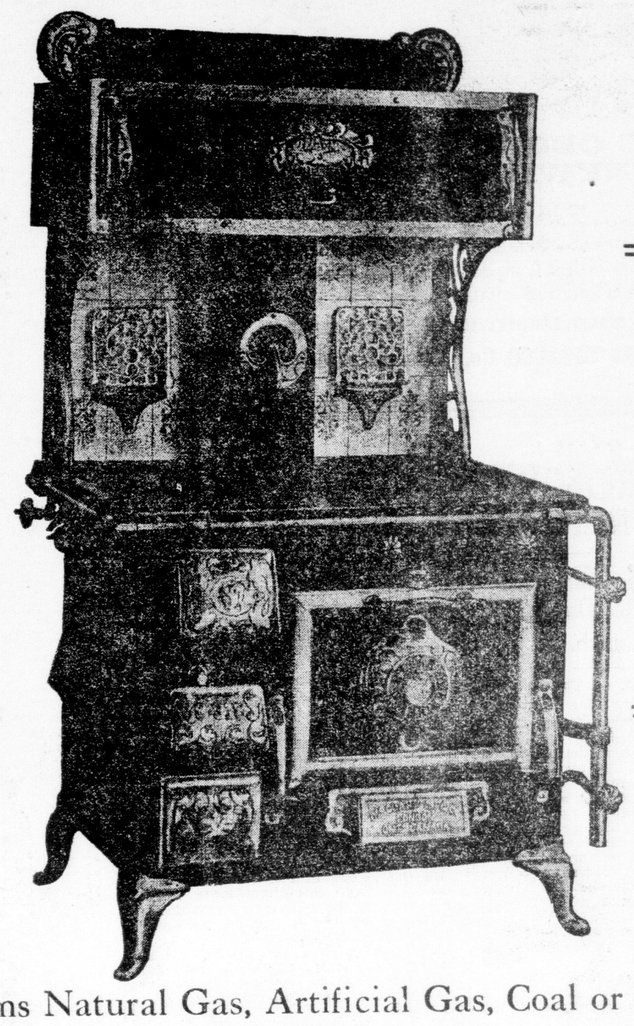

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Sept. 11. — Driving along in a new motorboat on Lake Huron, Mr. A. Kennedy, of Point Edward, and Mr. C. Jackson, of Port Huron, received severe injuries when the gasoline exploded. Jackson was the worst hurt of the two and had to be taken to his home in the American city.

Natural Gas will in all probability be piped into London very soon. It will therefore be of vast interest to you to examine

The New Reflex Inverted Light Cuts Down Gas Bills

The "NEW REFLEX" Gas Light gives FOUR TIMES as much light as an open flame burner, and uses about half as much gas, or expressed otherwise, the same amount of gas will give eight times as much light burned in a REFLEX as it would with an open flame burner. We are recommending a lamp which uses little gas, because we believe it will increase our business.

We believe it will cultivate a desire for BETTER light, and for MORE light.

We believe that since this light is on the market people will use gas for lighting who are not using it now.

This Is Our Offer To You

We will send a man to show you one of the "New Reflex" Inverted Lights. If it looks good to you, he will put up the lamp. You may then pay 75 cents with your gas bills for three months, making $2.25, the price of the lamp.

WE ALSO GUARANTEE TO REPLACE
Free of charge, any
MANTLE, CHIMNEY OR GLOBE
Which may break within THREE MONTHS of date of sale.

A SELF-LIGHTING attachment is included. No matches are needed.

We have a full line of Gas Appliances in our Exhibit in the Main Building at the Western Fair, and will be glad to have you visit us. Demonstrations daily.

A Foundation for Health

Grape-Nuts

Many people are half-sick because of wrong diet. White bread, rich meats, gravies and pastry put thousands into the "all-out-of-sorts" crowd.

If you feel "out-of-sorts," suppose you change food ten days—and try

Grape-Nuts

This food is a perfectly-balanced ration made of whole wheat and malted barley, thoroughly cooked and ready to eat from the package. Digests easily—generally in about one hour.

Grape-Nuts contains all the rich nutrition of the grain, including the vital mineral salts (grown in the grain) which Nature designed for rebuilding muscle, nerve and brain cells. White bread is lacking in these salts.

A regular morning dish of Grape-Nuts and cream has brought rosy-cheeked, clear-brained health to thousands.

ANTI-UNION PRESBYTERIANS PREPARING A STATEMENT

Believe Organic Union Would Do Irreparable Damage to Church.

Toronto, Sept. 11. — The following statement regarding the anti-union movement in the Presbyterian Church was sent to the press:

"In June last when the Presbyterian General Assembly by a majority vote resolved to press forward organic union as speedily as possible, despite the fact that only thirty-seven per cent of the members had voted for it, a meeting was held in Toronto by those who were present at the assembly and congress who were resolved to stand for the defence and continuance of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

"The meeting was very representative of the church throughout Canada, and, after earnest conference, committees were appointed to issue a statement for the people and to go on with organization throughout the Dominion. These committees met in Toronto on Thursday and Friday last with a good attendance of members from different parts.

"The chair was occupied by Rev. R. G. MacBeth, and Dr. Wardlaw Taylor, of Toronto, was secretary. The first business was the preparation of the statement, for which many suggestions had been received in the meantime, and as a basis for which several drafts had been prepared by different members. All these were carefully considered, and a document worthy of the importnace of the case was settled upon unanimously. This document will be issued through the press in a few days. It has been eagerly awaited, not only by Presbyterians, but by many in all the churches, and is sure of a wide circulation. It will be available later in a leaflet form for use in the further work of organization.

Fear Results of Union.

"In connection with the work of organization, the secretary reported that he had already received lists of representative names from nearly all the districts represented by the presbyteries from coast to coast, and that there seemed to be a rapidly-growing feeling everywhere that the pressure for organic union should cease before irreparable damage was done to the cause of true Christian unity.

"The committee then proceeded with the work of extending the organization and sub-committees were appointed to take charge in various centres in all the provinces as soon as the statement is issued.

"For convenience in dealing with matters that may arise from time to time, a small executive committee with headquarters in Toronto was appointed."

In connection with the statement issued by the sponsors of the anti-union movement of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. Dr. McCrae, of Hamilton Road Church, stated this morning that it had been expected for some time. "The men behind it are not against church union, but they believe that organic union is not the best thing at the present time. They would like to see federation of the churches, such as some of the churches in the United States have, but they believe it would be better to have it on a basis of co-operation rather than organic union," said Dr. McCrae.

LONDON'S KIDDIES

panied by the band of the Thirty-eighth Regiment, which will render much of the day's music.

Visitors from other towns and cities are also in London in large numbers, and with another day of splendid weather, Thursday, 1913, should be a record-breaker.

It is estimated that all records for attendance on Farmers' Day were broken, probably forty thousand people passing through the gates.

NOTABLE EXHIBITS.

BROOM CORN GROWN IN LONDON.

Broom corn grown in this city by Mr. W. Scarlett, broom manufacturer, 381½ Glebe street, is an interesting and educational feature of Mr. Scarlett's broom exhibit in the south wing of the Main Building. Mr. Scarlett has made a fine art of broom-making. He is a broom specialist, manufacturing everything in the broom line. His exhibit at the fair includes "Perfection" house brooms, foundry, warehouse and factory brooms, toy brooms, whisk brooms and more brooms. Mr. Scarlett also manufactures reliable ash-sifters.

As far as possible Mr. Scarlett uses home-grown corn in the manufacture of his brooms. Farmers interested in the possibilities of the broom corn industry will find this exhibit of particular interest.

FARMERS BUY FENCING BY THE CARLOAD.

The Sarnia Fence Company which has an exceptionally fine exhibit just north of the stove and range building, sells direct from factory to farmer, and pays freight charges to all points in old Ontario south of North Bay. Special prices are quoted to farmers who club together and purchase fencing in carload lots. Two thousand tons of "Royal Brand" fencing is ready for immediate delivery and on this a reduction of two cents per rod has been made since August 15. Prices in keeping with the high cost of wire will advance again on January 1, but farmers visiting the exhibit at the fair can secure quotations at which they may purchase fencing later if they are not ready to do so now.

ANCIENT FORESTERS' FAIR HEADQUARTERS.

One of the main features of Society Row is the tent occupied by the Ancient Order of Foresters. It is commodiously furnished as a rest room for the members and their friends, and for the giving out of information governing its benefits.

This well-known society has been in existence for more than 200 years, has courts in all parts of the world, and is proud of the fact that having the experience of time, it can give the practical protection the people need. It provides medical attention and medicine free. It gives $4 per week sick benefit for one year, $2 per week for one year, $100 funeral benefit, and $50 funeral benefit on the death of a member's wife. It is the only society doing business upon the contract plan, on the 3½ per cent. Government basis. There is no assessment system.

It gives the applicant a straight life, a pay life, or endowment policy as he desires, with loan privileges, cash surrenders, paid-up policies, and extended insurance. All policy-holders are shareholders and participate in the profits.

Sample policy—$1,000, 20 pay life. Costs $6.57 quarterly, or $25 yearly. Insures for $1,000 in case of death. Cash surrender values after 3 years. In 20 years it is worth $468.80 and profits, or a paid-up policy of $1,000 at death.

The Ancient Foresters cater to the home. The order has juvenile branches for the protection of the boy. There are circles of Companions of the Forest, where the wives and lady friends may seek the benefits of the institution.

Anyone desiring any form of protection for the home, whether in sick benefits or insurance, is advised: Seek it right, and the benefits of this well-known society will be fully explained at the society's tent at the Western Fair. It is in charge of Mr. Fred G. Butt, superintendent of organization, Toronto, assisted by Mr. Walter Richards, P. H. C. R., London. Information may be had at the tent, or will be sent in response to a postcard request.

W. McPHILLIPS' EXHIBIT.

One of the best and most conspicuous exhibits in the palace is that of Mr. W. McPhillips' Gerhard-Heintzman pianos, Edison phonographs, and Victor Victrolas. A finer exhibit of pianos would be hard to imagine, the quality and rich tone of the instruments attracting much favorable criticism from the hundreds of visitors who inspected the handsome display. The Gerhard-Heintzman piano is known wherever pianos are sold; it needs no introduction to the public. Long years of unsurpassed satisfaction has ably demonstrated its supremacy.

One of the features of Mr. McPhillips' display is the showing of new Edison disc phonographs, which is one of the most recent and complete inventions perfected by Mr. Edison. Special mention should also be made of the fine and varied assortment of Victor Victrolas. These modern machines are almost indispensable in the home. The cost is moderate in consideration of the pleasure derived from them, and the ever-increasing number sold by Mr. McPhillips conclusively demonstrates their well-earned popularity. Edison phonographs and Victor Victrolas are made to suit all tastes and all pocketbooks, at prices ranging from $20 to $575. The latest records, both disc and cylinder, can be obtained at McPhillips' music store, 189 Dundas street, where also will be found the latest and best song hits, direct from the publishers.

Mr. McPhillips has two stands, permanently located in the main building, one for pianos, to the right of the main entrance, the other for phonographs and Victor Victrolas, directly behind, in the annex. They are connected by a consultation room for the accommodation of visitors.

COCKBURN LUMBER AND CONCRETE COMPANY, LIMITED.

The attention of architects, engineers and contractors might well be called to the small but interesting exhibit in the machinery hall, that of the Cockburn Lumber and Concrete Company, Limited, of Dundas, Ont.

At present this firm is manufacturing brick only, but will shortly branch out into the manufacture of tile, fence posts, sewer pipe, etc. All their products are made entirely from ground stone and Portland cement.

LIGHTNING EVAPORATORS.

Small Bros., of Dunham, Que., are exhibiting their Lightning Evaporator at the Fair. This evaporator is attracting considerable interest among the farmers who visit the machinery hall. The Lightning Evaporator has gained the reputation of being the fastest boiler for the smallest quantity of wood burned of any evaporator on the market today. It has given general satisfaction, and been given most excellent recommendation. Every user today speaks in the highest terms of its work. The exhibit is in charge of Mr. Len Edmunds, of Smith's Falls, who is the general agent for Ontario. This is the first time Mr. Edmunds has been an exhibitor at the Western Fair and he declares he is well pleased with his visit.

Anyone wishing information, please write Len Edmunds at Smith Falls.

ACME FLUID FIBRE FILLER.

Acme Fibre Filler for tire punctures has created much enthusiasm amongst auto owners. It is being exhibited in the Transportation Building at the Fair by Mr. Aldred L. Gordon, of Niagara Falls, Ont., who is the Canadian agent. Acme Fluid Fibre is guaranteed to seal while running any puncture made even by ordinary nails. The tube can be vulcanized with the filler in it as well as it could before. It does not effect the resiliency of the tire, and is not affected by heat or cold. Acme Fluid Filler has been highly recommended by users. It keeps the tires up to pressure and obviates trouble resulting from slack tires. For local agents' rights, see or write Mr. Gordon at above address. "Acme Fibre Filler brings you back with clean hands."

SILVERWOOD'S, LIMITED.

One of the most frequented booths in the palace is that of Silverwood's, Limited. Here golden orangeade and deliciously cold, pure buttermilk from the company's own sanitary churns, is before the thirsty public, who are not slow to take advantage of refreshing their dry throats with the ice-cold beverages. From early morning till late at night, a throng of customers around the white oilclothed counter, leaving orders for the immediate delivery of the dairy and farm products, tastefully shown on shelves, or others booking their orders for the winter delivery of butter and eggs.

What is seen in the booth is symbolical of the good things at the warehouse on Bathurst street, and the store at 141 King street. Silverwood's, Limited, are a reliable and progressive firm, who believe in supplying their customers with nothing but the best. They have recently perfected a poultry service which has no equal in the city. All of the poultry of this well-known firm is carefully selected by expert buyers before it is shipped to the big warehouse on Bathurst street. The feature of the service is the dressed poultry. Customers wishing poultry delivered to their door at any hour, all ready for the oven, need only 'phone the store, 3122, and they will be insured of prompt delivery.

The eggs sold by this concern are not purchased haphazard from any source; instead Silverwood Brand eggs are specially selected. They are gatherer from farmers of repute; then trained experts test every egg before an electric light before allowing it to go into the cartons. There is absolutely no chance of a bad egg surviving this exacting inspection.

Nor must the delicious Silverwood Brand ice cream be overlooked. It would be hard to equal that rich, velvety cream which within the last year has become famous throughout the city. It is sold by leading druggists and grocers.

Little need be said of the Silverwood creamery butter. Past experience has demonstrated to its scores of users its unexcelled quality. Dairy butter, too, for cooking and table purposes is unusually good.

The cheese with the "nip," from Canada's best factories, is among the Silverwood necessities. The "new" cheese is the finest procurable, so needs no introduction.

Pure, golden honey can be obtained under the Silverwood trade mark of excellence, in jars, pails and cones.

ELECTRICAL HEATING EXHIBIT.

Electrical heaters suited to the size and needs of all kinds of rooms and homes will be found in a beautiful and meritorious exhibit which the People's Electrical Company, of 639 Dundas street, is making in the new annex to the main building. Here are shown heaters ranging in size and capacity from 900 watt heaters with a capacity for heating 900 cubic feet of space, to 10,000 watt heaters with a capacity for heating 12,000 cubic feet. Important points on the drawing card of the electrical heater is its entire cleanliness and its even distribution of heat.

The exhibit includes a wide variety of beautiful electrical light fixtures, toasters, electric irons, percolators, flashlights, and neat, artistic electric mantles. With the excention of the hydro-electric exhibit, the People's Electrical Company has the only electrical exhibit on the grounds.

How to Keep Face Young and Attractive

[National Hygienic Review.]

The way to ward off old age is not to fear it, not to allow one's self to be oppressed by the dread of advancing years. Use only legitimate preventives and avoid trying experiments with preparations not indorsed by physicians. An entirely safe and very effective way to keep the complexion young-looking and beautiful is to apply ordinary mercolized wax at bedtime, using it like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. This gradually absorbs the withered, faded cuticle, which is replaced by the more youthful, pink-tinted under skin. One ounce of this wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to completely rejuvenate a worn-out complexion.

Crow's feet and other wrinkles, the first signs of advancing age, may be removed by a simple, harmless preparation made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. It is used as a face bath.

Alleged Swindler Is in Liverpool

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Sept. 11.—Harry Brown, the Chinaman, who managed the Chinese Cafe here, and who decamped about a month ago with $800 belonging to his two partners, is evidently in Liverpool, England, as a local Celestial received a card signed by him from that place. The police have been trying to locate Barnes for some time, and this sight that brought closer home the realization of just what the fair is for.

Some provision should be made for the tired mother, who has brought her little flock to see the sights and wonders of the Fair. The suggestion of a nursery inclosure or building seems to be a good one.

Exclamations of wonder were heard by the hundreds as the Fair visitors gazed at the buildings that were reared in three days after the fire of three weeks ago.

Democracy personified would be another definition of the Fair. Every class, every trade, every occupation, every calling in life, seemed to be represented on the grounds. All seemed to enjoy it immensely from the little ragged urchins, who had somehow managed to swipe in to the tailored, "little Lord Fauntleroys." The Fair-time spirit imbued them all.

Superintendent Harry Hummeston, of the street railway assisted by a corps of inspectors handled the crowds well. Inspector Joe Lawrence, jun., injected a little vaudeville into his car starting, and made a hit with the visitors.

"Biggest crowd I've seen in twenty years at the Western," opined the man-who-always-goes, as he glanced over the throngs yesterday.

A little of that street oil on some of the exhibition grounds driveways and walks wouldn't have gone amiss.

The fraternal organization tents along Society Row had a goodly number of visitors yesterday. They seemed to be as popular as ever.

There was hardly a necessity for a "barker" outside the dog show building. The "exhibits" did their own barking. Incidentally it might be remarked that they did it well.

The night illumination of the grounds was better this year than ever. In addition to the new system of Tungsten lamps that the fair board installed, the gas light arcs helped to impart an unusual brilliancy to the grounds that made a hit.

The jumping of the hunters before the grandstand made a hit with the crowd. Some pretty exhibitions of "fencing" by green hunters were pulled off yesterday.

It wasn't "Kids' Day" yesterday, but the small fry were very much in evidence. They always are at Fair time. Dodging around in the Main Building in their quest for souvenirs and samples, hiking in and out of the Midway shows, and dodging into unoccupied spaces in the grandstand, they were very much at home. Like a circus, the Fair is a real "small boy's" institution. The old folks enjoy them both, but it takes the vivacity of youth to get the full enjoyment out of either.

HERE AND THERE AROUND THE GROUNDS

"The section devoted to the women's fancy work is far too small," declared the little lady who had only come to town recently. "You can't see half the beautiful examples of needlework. They are just piled up and piled up. There ought to be a separate building for it so that the pieces could be properly displayed."

The system of judging flowers and horticultural exhibits with the names of the exhibitors on the cards is being condemned by some of the older florists.

"The names shouldn't be put on until after the awards are made," said one exhibitor of many years' standing.

"Hot dogs" are just as popular a refreshment as ever. The red hots had more than their usual quota of patrons yesterday.

As in previous years the stock sheds prove a never-ending source of wonder to the kiddies. The "dear little colties" and the big draught stallions all draw their outpourings of wonder.

According to the health department, the temporary eating houses on the fair grounds are being better kept this year than ever before. Prompt removal of refuse and greater cleanliness in cooking and serving seems to be the general rule.

Wednesday's grand stand crowd was one of the biggest in the history of the fair. The double-decked covered stand and the bleachers were jammed to capacity.

White poodle dogs have usurped the place of "a good segar" as an amusement souvenir.

The incense of thousands of feet of burning "rope" went heavenward after some of the fair segars were fired up.

Wednesday was Farmers' Day. Examples of Middlesex and Western Ontario yeomanary that the day presented certainly would have made more than a favorable impression on any out-of-town visitor. As a class the Western Ontario farmers have no superiors anywhere. The examples at the fair grounds proved that conclusively.

Absence of benches for the older folks to "sit an' t" was one of the unfavorable comments on the condition of the grounds, except the grass. After having been tramped over by thousands the said turf is hardly an excellent "chair."

Flower lovers had their mecca in the Horticultural Building. The display of plants and flowers there was above normal and was an attraction that was well worth seeing.

Up and down the Midway they strolled, his arm lovingly around her waist totally oblivious of the eyes of thousands. They were out to see the fair and they saw it. It was but a typical case and while it brought a smile to the lips of many it was a

NOTED IRISH ACTOR IS IN NEW PLAY AT GRAND

Fiske O'Hara Presented "In Old Dublin" to Packed House Wednesday Night.

Fiske O'Hara, in his new Irish comedy-drama, "In Old Dublin," appears to have lost none of his popularity with London audiences, judging by the reception accorded him by a packed house at the Grand last night. Every seat in the house was taken, including the upper and lower boxes, and many disappointed ones were turned away. It was a responsive audience, too, that filled the Grand. They had come in full expectancy of an evening's enjoyment, and that they realized their anticipation was most apparent by the repeated applause and encores tendered Mr. O'Hara and his company. In fact, the Irish singing actor, had the house with him from orchestra to gallery almost with the opening of the first act, and certainly after the rendering of his first song, "Peggy Gilroy."

Sings Irish Songs.

Mr. O'Hara is a familiar figure to London theatre-goers, having appeared here for several seasons, and always in vehicles of an Irish nature. His singing of Irish songs, new and old, throughout the play, is a feature of all Mr. O'Hara's presentations, and last night his sweet-toned voice was heard to especially good advantage. In his production "In Old Dublin," Augustus Pitou, jun., has introduced no sex problems, no "superman" idea, no eugenics. It is a clean, wholesome, old-fashioned play, where the poor young man wins his way to fame and fortune and the girl he loves, and the "villyuns" and designing ones get the worst of it. And all through the play runs a vein of genuine Irish comedy and sprightliness, which, with the singing of Mr. O'Hara render it entirely pleasing.

Story of the Play.

Neil Powers, a rising young ship-designer, Oxford graduate, singer and athlete, is instructed by Martin Ferguson, Dublin banker, to build for him a yacht to compete against the English boats for the Queen's cup. If the yacht wins, Neil's fame is assured as a ship-builder. But when the yacht is but half-completed, commands come from Mr. Ferguson to discontinue building. This change of plans is due to the wish of Mrs. Ferguson to keep on good terms with the Lord Lieutenant of the Castle and his English party, she desiring social advancement. Sir John Davies, of the Castle set, enemy to Neil Powers, who has banked a fortune upon the English boat, fans Mrs. Ferguson's desire to a greater flame, and is really responsible for Ferguson's withdrawal from the race. Fortunately for Neil, John Farley, ship-owner of New York, steps into the breach, buys the half-built yacht, and on the day of the contest Neil Powers sails her, "The Irish Rose," and wins not only the race, but his sweetheart, John Farley's ward, as well.

Mr. O'Hara was in fine voice, and sang several of his lilting Irish songs, written especially for the play. "Peggy Gilroy," "Rose, Rose, Rose," and "Love at Last" were among the favorites, and also "The Minstrel Boy," a lyric written by the famous Thomas Moore.

Perhaps next to Mr. O'Hara should be mentioned Lou Ripley, whose impersonation of Ann Gilroy, Neil Powers' landlady, could not have been improved upon. She was a fat, kind-hearted, witty Irish woman to the life, and her dancing of the Irish washerwoman in the last act, just as Neil's boat is winning brought down the house. Miss Marie Quinn, who enacted the role of little Peggy Gilroy, also won great favor with her sprightly ways and ready tongue.

Senor Sapio, the excitable Italian singing-master, was ably portrayed by Jefferson Hall, and although he had but few lines, Matt Ryan's presentation of Captain McBride, was excellent. Madge Tyrone, as Rose Stratton, Neil's sweetheart; Rose Watson, as Mrs. Martin Ferguson, and Gertrude Maitland as Irene Ferguson, all filled their parts most capably. In fact, Mr. O'Hara's entire support was good.

Some very pretty staging is utilized in the second and third scenes, and the costumes, being of early 19th century vintage, were quaint and picturesque.

The production should draw good crowds again on the remaining nights of the week.

The remaining roles were taken as follows: John Farley, J. P. Sullivan; Martin Ferguson, Albert West; Ford Sheldon, Wm. Grady; Mrs. Sheldon, Emma Naylor; Sir John Davies, Eugene Frazier; Capt. Wharton, Byron Russell; Peter Kane, man of all work, P. C. Foy; Gypsy Girl, Elizabeth Page; Hindoo Servant, Walter Lowman; Gypsy Fiddler, Harry Felton; Showman, Walter Kelly.

Health and Beauty Helps

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Corrine: I think you are unduly worried about your skin. Most users of face powders have more or less similar troubles. Here is a simple, home-made lotion which is better than face powder and when on seems part of the skin, to which it gives a soft, velvety texture and a beautiful, natural color. Get four ounces of spurmax, dissolve in ½ pint hot water and add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Stir well. You may apply this freely to face, neck and arms. It is a cheap, safe, liquid beautifier which will work wonders to purify your skin and hide its imperfections.

Jane: Electric treatments for removing hairy growths are expensive and seldom satisfactory. Try this simple method: With water and powdered delatone mix enough paste to cover hairy surface. Apply and in two or three minutes rub off and with it comes every trace of hair. Washing leaves the skin soft and clear. No danger results with the delatone treatment.

Almeda: Your thin, straggly eyebrows will come in thick and glossy by rubbing pyroxin on frequently, and short, straight eyelashes grow long and slightly curly if pyroxin be applied at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger. Be careful and don't get any pyroxin where the hair is not wanted.

Ida: Your letter leads me to believe that to remove the yellowness of neck and chin all you need is a good blood tonic. Here is a fine one that will brace you up and clear your complexion and (like everything I recommend) is easily made at home at slight cost: Mix together ½ cup sugar, ½ pint alcohol (not whiskey) and one ounce kardene. Add enough hot water to make a full quart, and take a tablespoonful before each meal. I know nothing better for the general rundown condition.

Mrs. B.: Yes, you are over-fat, and I am glad I can tell you how to reduce without the risk of dieting or the discomfort of walking long distances. Try this remedy: To 1½ pints of hot water add four ounces of parnotis. Let dissolve and cool. Take a tablespoonful before each meal. This is a safe and sure treatment and has the big advantage of reducing the flesh evenly and gradually, so there will be no sagginess or loss of tissue-strength.

Miss J.: You can't expect to keep your hair healthy or free from dandruff without care or by brushing only. For years I have treated my head regularly with this simple, home-made tonic, which keeps both my hair and scalp perfectly healthy and so has given me a fine growth of lustrous hair. Dissolve one ounce quinzoin in ½ pint alcohol and add ½ pint water. Massage this carefully into the scalp once a week. It will induce a natural, healthy, luxuriant growth of hair and give it richness and glossiness. For an excellent, home-made shampoo, see recipe given Curly Locks.

Doris: Your wrinkles can be quickly, easily and permanently removed by the use of this stimulating jelly-cream. It is a vegetable preparation which will not grow hair where used and is easily made at home at small cost. From your druggist get one ounce almozoin and dissolve it in ½ pint cold water, adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Stir and let stand one day. This is fine to fill out wrinkles and hollows and will also tone the skin to fine, clear health and beauty. You will feel its stimulating powers on the first application.

Verona: You are on the road to serious eye-trouble if you continue to neglect that weak, dizzy vision. Try this tonic for a while and it will remove the red appearance and give back the clearness, strength and sparkle of your eyes. Mix one ounce crystos in a pint of water. Use 2 or 3 drops in each eye night and morning. This natural tonic will soothe the tired nerves, rest inflamed lids and beautify the eyes.

Curly Locks: No, the canthrox mixture is a simple home-made shampoo and is not a hair bleach or a dye in any sense. The "blonde" effect your friend spoke of was probably due to the fact that this preparation takes out all excess oil and dirt and cleans each strand so thoroughly as to keep the lightest hair from turning dark. To use it, simply dissolve one teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This is plenty for a thorough cleansing with beautiful, fluffy results. I know no shampoo which compares with it.

Many Noted Speakers to Address Annual Convention of Ontario Union.

There will be an Ontario Christian Endeavor convention held in Hamilton beginning next week, Thursday, Sept. 18, and continuing until Sunday, Sept. 21, in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Splendid programs are assured at all meetings. The singing will be led by a special choir of Hamilton Endeavorers. Leaders in all branches of the Christian service will be in attendance.

Many notable speakers and lecturers have been engaged, including Rev. F. E. Clarke, Rev. Dr. Gilray, Rev. J. A. Aikens, Mr. Carl Lehmann, Rev. Mr. Aikenhead, Rev. A. W. Roffe, Rev. J. A. Wilson, Mr. John R. Clements, Rev. J. R. McNeill and Rev. W. A. Mactaggert.

It is expected that a number of delegates from several young people's unions in this city will attend. Rev. Mr. McIntosh, who is one of the executive, will be unable to attend because of special services to be held in his church during that time.

The union requests that friends going to the convention should not buy a return ticket, but ask for a standard certificate.

MRS. NEWMAN TOOK HER LIFE

Letter From the Dead Woman Partially Clears Up Mystery at Oldcastle.

WAS TIRED OF SLANDERS

[Canadian Press.]

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 11.—The finding of two letters written by Mrs. Mabel Newman, of North Ridge, a small hamlet near Essex, by local newspaper men, has cleared up the Oldcastle mystery. The letters written by Mrs. Newman on Friday, Aug. 29, to her husband and a sister in Ohio, were found in a book on a table at the Newman home while the newspapermen were making a search for a photo of the woman whose body was found in a cornfield on Tuesday night, and were farewell messages. The one to her sister said.

"I have stood slander as long as I can. I am doing this to end it all."

Three hours later, by the dim rays of a lantern in the stable yard of an undertaker at Essex, the husband gazed upon the remains of his wife. Turning away from the gruesome spectacle, he announced that the body was that of Mrs. Newman. What happened to Mrs. Newman from the time she left her home thirteen days ago, until her body was found, is mystifying to the authorities. The marks of violence on the body cannot be explained, and detectives are still working on the case.

Construction Man Hit by a Train

Employee of C. P. R. Injured at Bothwell Brought to the City.

Raffaele Frapherelle, an Italian employed on a C. P. R. construction gang near Bothwell, was brought into London and taken to Victoria Hospital, this morning, suffering from injuries received by being struck by a passenger train, in the North Bothwell yards, Wednesday night.

Frapherelle and a companion attempted to cross from a boarding car in front of the train. The companion was successful, but before Frapherelle could get across the engine struck him and threw him into a ditch. He was taken to the boarding car, but was bruised so badly that it was thought advisable to bring him to London this morning.

His injuries are not considered serious at the hospital.

COMING TO LONDON

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moulton Will Make Their Home Here.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, Sept. 11. — The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bond, Mill street, on Wednesday afternoon, of their daughter, Minnie, and Mr. Frank Moulton, of London. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. McLean, pastor of the Baptist Church. Miss Katie Hughes was bridesmaid, and Mr. John Bond groomsman. Mr. and Mrs. Moulton took the evening train for London, where they will reside.

BLENHEIM.

Blenheim, Sept. 10.—James Lawrence has returned from a visit to European countries, and is spending a short time here with his mother.

Tuesday was Blenheim's Civic Holiday, and a large number of citizens accompanied the band to the Western Fair.

JAMES FARLEY MADE FORTUNE ENDING STRIKES

Terror of Many Unions Is Dead at His Home in Plattsburg.

GREAT LOVER OF HORSES

Dying With Tuberculosis He Had a Cot Taken to Race Tracks.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Sept. 11.—The death of James Farley, known through years of leadership as a strike-breaker in many cities of Canada and the United States, was reported early today from his home in Plattsburg.

Farley boasted and was generally given the credit of starting the "industry of strike-breaking." From an altar boy at Malone, N. Y., where he was born 39 years ago, he turned to a circus runaway, became manager of an up-to-date hotel, and finally entered the service of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company as a coal passer, from which he emerged in 1895 as leader of the non-union forces, which broke the great Brooklyn car strike.

Became a Terror.

His success in Brooklyn won him fame, and to city after city where labor troubles arose, he was called to do similar work until his business of strike-breaking and protecting lives and property developed into a systematic organization that for a time was the terror of strike agitators.

Grew Very Rich.

Farley's profit came by a premium of so much per head paid to him for the men whom he furnished and kept in service during strikes, and in a few years he grew rich at his newly-created business. He was credited with making $300,000 during the Interborough Rapid Transit strike in this city, and still larger sums in later years, when he broke up strikes in Chicago, Cincinnati, San Francisco and many other places in the United States and Canada.

A Horse Fancier.

Since his circus days, Mr. Farley had been a horse fancier, and during the latter part of his life he became the owner of a fine string of horses. He was such a thorough sportsman that during the last few weeks, while knowing that death from tuberculosis would overtake him this fall, he insisted upon being carried to several up-state race tracks, where he lay beside the course on a cot and watched his favorite horses contend.

PULMOTOR FOR CITY WILL BE PURCHASED

And Fire Committee Again Recommends Buying Auto for Fire Chief.

Another recommendation for the purchase of an automobile for the fire chief was made by the fire, water and light committee on Wednesday. As before, it recommended an $815 runabout. The purchase of this car has been hanging fire for some time, in fact, for some years. Upon the presentation of the recommendation of the committee for an $815 car some time ago, the question was sent back to the committee for further investigation.

To Purchase Pulmotor.

Fire Chief Aitken, City Clerk S. Baker and Chairman G. E. Rose were delegated to purchase a pulmotor. This question was left over, pending a report from the chief on his return from the New York convention of fire chiefs. He stated that only one make was available, and it was decided to purchase that type.

Arrangements were made for a joint tour of the slaughterhouses by the committee and the board of health. Chairman Dr. F. T. Burdon and Jas. R. Haslett, of the latter body, waited on the committee in reference to having the city pass the necessary ordinances to have all meat sold in London Government inspected. The members of the board of health presented a strong case for inspected meats, and the aldermen decided that they, too, would do a little investigating to see the conditions as they actually are.

Owing to the absence of Ald. Hubert Ashplant nothing was done in reference to the bread regulations that the committee may impose on the local bakers. E. Parnell, representing the bakers' interests, was present, but no discussion resulted.

Police Have Clue in Ottawa Murder

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Sept. 11.—That they expected to make an arrest soon, perhaps today, was the statement made this morning by Detective McCaskill, who, with Detective Joliet, of Ottawa, is working on the local end to the mystery of the death of Abe Rubenstein, the Brooklyn bookmaker's clerk, whose body was found in a trunk beneath a vacant store in Ottawa.

Both detectives today continued their examination of the racetrack followers attending the Blue Bonnets meeting, who also attended the Ottawa race meet. They are looking for an Italian, who is believed to have quarrelled with Rubenstein over a card game at Windsor, Ont. A close watch has been set on all the railway stations to prevent the suspect who is believed to be still in Montreal, from getting away.

Personal Mention

Mr. Bert Ferte has accepted a position with "Business Systems," of Toronto, travelling in Western Ontario for their line.

Mr. James Gould, grocer and provision dealer of Exeter, is attending the Fair, and doing business in the city.

Mrs. James Gould, of Exeter, has been spending a few days with friends on Hellmuth avenue.

Mrs. L. R. Charlton, of Toronto, is visiting with her parents, 17 Marmora street.

BUILDING RETURNS CONTINUE TO SOAR

Battle Creek Company Takes Out Permit for $25,000 Addition.

Building returns for September received an unexpected boost this morning when a permit was issued to the Battle Creek Toasted Corn Flakes Company for an addition to the company's new plant on Dundas street. The enlargement will be 40x90 feet, and will be four stories high. The estimated cost of its construction will be $25,000.

This brings the total of the month to over $71,000, and almost the equal of the entire month's returns during September, 1912. Three more permits in prospect—the fair grounds temporary structures, the Egerton Street Baptist Church, and the addition to the McCormick plant, represent approximately $85,000. With these alone the returns for the month will be well over $150,000, or twice that of September, 1912. There is a possibility that the $200,000 mark may be reached this month. It has already been reached, or surpassed, twice this year —in April, when $521,330 was reached, and the following month, when the permits totalled $267,140.

PLAN TO BAR EVELYN THAW

Immigration Dept. Hopes Law Will Keep Her Out of Canada.

BOOKED FOR THEATRES

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Evelyn Thaw, who has been engaged for theatrical appearances in Toronto and Montreal, may not be allowed to cross the Canadian border. The Canadian authorities are considering the advisability of refusing her admission as an undesirable.

It is held that she is being brought from the United States for the purpose of exploiting financially the unpleasant notoriety which she and her former husband, Harry K. Thaw have acquired during the last five years, and which has recently been considerably stimulated by Thaw's arrival in Canada.

The Canadian immigration law authorizes officials to refuse admission to Canada of those whose mentality, morals, finances or general record are under suspicion. The provision is believed to be wide enough to close the door against Evelyn Thaw.

BOY ESCAPED FROM OFFICER

Was Under Arrest For Stealing His Way Into the Fair Grounds.

PROVIDED A HOT CHASE

The escape of a small boy from the clutch of a Western Fair policeman who had caught the youngster gaining free entrance to the grounds by the over-the-fence route, provided a great deal of amusement for a large crowd of sightseers who witnessed the getaway. The incident happened shortly before 8 o'clock Wednesday night, when the crowds were pouring in through the Dundas street gate. The lad was caught near the main building by the eagle-eyed officer, and was being hustled over to the Western Fair police headquarters near the King street gate when the escape occurred. The arrest attracted the usual number of men and small boys, and quite a crowd followed the pair. The official became annoyed at this, and when passing the dog show building halted, and turning to the crowd ordered it to disperse. At this there was a general laugh, and while the officer was wondering what to do, the lad gave an unexpected twist and started on the run across the grass in the direction of the grand stand.

A Hot Pursuit.

The pursuit led around a couple of tents, and for a distance, the officer, followed by a howling pack of men and boys who were enjoying the discomfiture of the pursuer, kept within six feet of the racing lad. The chase continued along by the grand stand, the fleeing youngster dodging in and out among the people with an agility that was amazing. The constable kept his quarry in sight until the south end of the stand, and then lost him in the crowd. The chase attracted quite a bit of attention, and many jocular remarks were made at the expense of the defeated officer.

Narrowly Misses Wheels of Car

Automobile Was Struck by a Street Car on Wednesday Night.

A narrow escape from serious injury was the experience of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Braddon and their two little grandsons, children of Mr. W. H. Braddon, when the auto in which they were returning from the Fair grounds was struck by an eastbound street car at Waterloo and Dundas streets, about 10 o'clock Wednesday night. All were thrown out, little Jack Braddon narrowly escaping the wheels of the trolley. The fact that he rolled after striking the pavement was all that saved him. He sustained severe injuries to his hand, and Dr. Becher, who was on the scene shortly after, had him conveyed to Victoria Hospital, where he is now resting easily. Although badly crushed, it is believed that the member can be saved.

The accident occurred when Mr. Braddon was attempting to turn south on Waterloo street to take the two little boys home. The traffic was very heavy at this point, and Mr. Braddon was keeping an eye on several autos behind in order not to precipitate a mixup. A westbound street car was standing at the corner, and Mr. Braddon turned in behind it, not noticing the approach of a car on the other track. It struck the front of the auto, and whirled it around, throwing the occupants to the pavement. The auto was not seriously damaged.

Western Fair Speed Department Has a Problem on Its Hands

A little trouble that Ald. Robinson, as chairman of the attractions committee, hopes to be able to smooth over has arisen in the speed department of the Western Fair. Mr. Louis Wigle, ex-M. P. P., of Leamington, it appears, has entered a three-year-old horse with hobbles for one of the "trials of speed," which is contrary to the rules of the American Racing Association, whose rules are adopted by the Western Fair Association. Objection has been raised by other competitors, naturally wishing to limit the number of horses against which they must compete. The Western Fair Association's own rules do not debar horses with hobbles, and if any horse should be debarred merely in order to live up to the rules of the American Association, Mr. Wigle would have grounds to protest, because the Fair Association receives certain Government grants on the understanding that it is not a racing association. The matter was left with Ald. Robinson, and will probably be amicably settled by refunding all the expenses of both Mr. Wigle and the protesting exhibitors who have entered their horses for the same race.

LOCAL NEWS

Good Fishing.—London Isaac Waltons declare fishing in the vicinity of London this year has been the best in years.

Visitor From Toledo.—William Egelton, brother of Detective Robert Egelton, is in the city on a short visit for the first time in seven years. Mr. Egelton is connected with the Toledo Blade, Toledo, Ohio

That East End Market.—The east end market question seems to be as far away as ever. Last night the fire, water and light committee took the question up, but there being no report from the engineer, nothing was done. The report has been "coming" for some time, but as yet has not put in an appearance.

No More Fountains.—Owing to lack of funds there will be no more drinking fountains installed this year. The recommendation of the fire, water and light committee for the installation of one at the corner of Dundas and Wellington streets was referred to the next year's council, with a recommendation that it be put in as soon as possible.

Fell From Loft.—Wm. Ridd, aged about 60 years, was found in a stable at the rear of the Morkin House this morning, suffering from injuries apparently sustained in a fall from the loft. His knee was badly twisted and he was removed to Victoria Hospital. He was unmarried and had been employed at the McIntyre stables nearby for a number of years. His injuries are not thought to be serious.

A Phenomenal Yield.—Mr. Henry Laidlaw, of the 9th concession of Malahide, Elgin County, is a strong believer in the "Stay in Ontario" campaign of The Advertiser. He was a visitor to the Western Fair Wednesday and reported to The Advertiser a phenomenal yield of peas. From thirteen acres of peas for the cannery he realized the sum of $703 this season. Mr. Laidlaw says that all the farmers in that district realized from $45 to $60 an acre from peas this season.

London's Progress Pleases. — Mr. Geo. R. Sanderson, who practiced law in London over 20 years ago, paid London a flying visit Wednesday. He was much pleased with London's progress. He is a son of the late Dr. Sanderson, who was one of the most prominent divines in London, and a brother of the late Mrs. Benjamin Higgins. He practices now in Chicago and has been very successful as a specialist in insurance law. His many friends were glad to see him.

Alas, Poor Lo! — The following is vouched for by the matron at the city jail. An Indian squaw was brought in Wednesday night on a charge of drunkenness. Her faithful spouse bought her a ticket for the Fair in the forlorn hope that she would meet some friend who would take her home. Instead she met a police officer, who took her in charge for being drunk. She was allowed to go in the police court this morning.

Police Court Records.—Police Court Clerk John Moule has completed the quarterly returns of police court cases for non-indictable offences. They show that during the quarter ending Aug. 31, 462 convictions were secured. This was a decided increase over the same period of last year and the first two quarters of this year. The offences include drunkenness, disorderly cases, breaches of bylaws and minor offences. There was an increase in the number of arrests of Indian listers, but a decrease in charges of drunkenness. The increase in the number of offences is attributed to the recently-enacted statutes regarding street traffic and the motor vehicle act.

No Smoking at Fair. — The "No Smoking" regulations will be strictly observed in all the buildings at the Western Fair. At today's meeting the board of directors decided to strictly enforce this precaution against fire. Mr. William McNeil brought the matter up and declared that he had had a police officer take the names of a number of persons who broke the rule in the main building. Some of the directors stated that employees of the Fair Association were sometimes offenders in this respect. "Discharge them at once," said Mr. W. M. Spencer. "We have done it before." It was pointed out that the exhibitors rarely break the "no smoking" ordinance, and that it is more often visitors to the Fair who thoughtlessly or carelessly persist in the forbidden habit. The chairmen of the various departments were instructed to notify all their men that they themselves must not smoke and that they must not allow anyone else to smoke in any of the Fair buildings.

Funeral of Barbara Brady.

The funeral of Barbara M. Brady, who died Wednesday, in her 37th year, will be held from the residence of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Hall, 154 Clarence street, at 2:30. Services will be held at 2 o'clock, and interment will take place at Woodland Cemetery.

WALKER—SMITH.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Matthew's Church, London, on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 10, at 1:30 o'clock, of Miss Evangeline Maude Smith, of this city, to Mr. William Alexander Walker, of Wellington street. Mr. W. Roy Cave was groomsman, and Miss E. L. Walker attended the bride. In the absence of the Rev. E. Appleyard, B.A., in Toronto, the ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L. Beverley, incumbent of St. Mark's Church, London Junction.

BILINGUALISM IS NOT

the pupils registered. Then the public school trustees dismissed the scholars, and departed to seek legal advice as to the next steps advisable. That night the schoolhouse was burned to the ground. The separate school board had the school insured for $400, which the public school board protests should be paid to it.

There is no question apparently of Protestant and Catholic ratepayers, but there is war between two school boards, and each board claims to be duly authorized by the ratepayers. Those who are familiar with the situation say the entire trouble has arisen over the bilingual school regulations, and objections to English Protestant inspectors, although the public school board and supporters are anxious that instruction should be resumed.

General public meetings of ratepayers have been held, which have been very stormy, and the final result is that there is now no schoolhouse to fight over since the fire destroyed everything but the insurance policy.

MAYOR GAYNOR

tion for president. He did not have the support of the Democratic organization in this state, however, and was not an active candidate for the honor.

Changes Whole Situation.

Mayor Gaynor's sudden death completely overturns the municipal political situation. It removes from the field a candidate for mayor who was expected to cut heavily into the vote of the fusion nominee, John Purroy Mitchell, and leaves only the tickets nominated by the Democrats and the Fusionists. The former is headed by Edward E. McCall, former chairman of the public service commission of this district.

He was expected to attack Tammany Hall sharply, politically, as soon as he returned to the city. Before his departure he issued a characteristic statement levelled at Tammany Hall leaders and other political opponents, in which he referred to them as "miserable scamps," and asserted that they were seeking his "moral assassination."

CONSPIRACY IS CHARGED

neither fair to Thaw, a lunatic, nor to the State of New York. Moreover, it upsets the principles of justice based on the habeas corpus, and I do not doubt that it will result in more or less of a scandal in Canada."

PRAISES CANADA.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Sept. 11. — Commenting editorially on the action of the Canadian immigration officers in deporting Thaw yesterday, the Tribune says:

"This country must take off its hat to Canada. It has found a way to put a summary end to the Thaw game of trifling with its courts. While the Thaw lawyers were talking bravely of fighting the issue up in a leisurely way through the colonial courts and thus to London, the immigration officers suddenly cut the whole tangle of technicalities and dumped the bewildered lunatic across the border, leaving a lot of attorneys and alienists sorrowing for the loss of vast prospective fees.

Swift Justice.

"The Canadian swiftness dazzles us, inured to the worship of legal red tape. But it has this to commend it: Justice has been done, and done promptly. The result, which would have taken months, and perhaps years, to accomplish, has been accomplished at once. The Canadian legal system is spared the disgrace which would have sprung from seeing its processes employed to defeat justice.

"The scene shifts. If anyone has reason to be ashamed of what will follow, it will be this country. What a pity that the public cannot look with confidence to any such swift and sure handling of the case in this country as in Canada."

Fear Thaw's Money.

The World says: "Thaw and his money bedevilled the administration of justice in New York seven years. A little more than three wees ago he landed in Canada. Now he is back where he belongs, and the prospects are for a long fight in American courts."

The Sun says: "The last act of the Thaw melodrama in Canada was in singular contrast with the subtlety of the earlier proceedings, the essence of which was not any limitation of time. When directed by a master hand, the Canadian immigration department can be robust and expeditious. In cutting the gordian knot, the Hon. Charles J. Doherty, minister of justice, and acting minister of the interior, did what all respectable and scandalized Canadians wanted to be done: He deported Thaw, whose hired attorneys were making the Dominion a laughing stock, and dumped him on the soil of the country whose problem he properly was."

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

If Tongue Is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, Don't Hesitate!

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, mother, see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled.

McDONALD—HAYDEN.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Christ Church on Wednesday at 2 p.m., when Ethel May, eldest daughter of Mr. Wm. A. Hayden, of 6 Maryboro Place, was married to Mr. Roy P. McDonald, only son of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, of Washington, Ont., by Rev. C. R. Gunne, rector. Miss H. Gunne presided at the organ.

The bride looked very charming as she entered the church leaning on her father's arm. She wore a white voile dress, trimmed with fine lace and insertion. A wreath of orange blossoms adorned her brow, with long bridal veil attached, and she carried a bouquet of white asters. She was attended by her sister, Miss Kate Hayden, dressed in pink silk, who carried a bouquet of pink asters. Marion Hayden and Nellie Smith, cousins of the bride, made sweet little flower girls.

The bridegroom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Stanley McDonald, of this city.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a handsome sunburst of pearls, to the bridesmaid a gold cameo dress ring, and to the flower girls a silver coin purse.

After the ceremony, which was attended by a large company of friends and well-wishers, a substantial and dainty repast was partaken of by some score or more guests, immediate relatives of the contracting parties, including the father and mother and two sisters of the bridegroom from Washington.

Many beautiful and useful presents were received, showing the esteem in which the contracting parties are held by a large circle of friends.

The happy couple left on the 5:20 train for Toronto for a short honeymoon. On their return they will reside at 13 Methuen avenue.

Mrs. McDonald will not receive until Nov. 1.

TOURISTS GONE

Lake Huron Beaches Are Practically Deserted by Summer Crowd.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Sept. 11.—The great majority of the summer resorters at the beaches have gone to their various homes now, and the lake shore is taking on the autumn garb. The grocers' picnic enlivened things yesterday. The affair was well attended, and a fine program of sports given.

SOVEREIGN ASSURANCE CO' IS NOW OUT OF BUSINESS

Two Londoners Are Officers in Concern—Policy Holders Fully Protected.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Sept. 11.—The Sovereign Fire Assurance Company, which has its head office here, and includes among its officials London, Hamilton and Toronto men, has been forced out of business.

A recent investigation by the insurance department at Ottawa showed that the firm was perfectly solvent. The directors of the company will probably lose heavily, but the policyholders are fully protected.

Treasurer A. F. Webster stated today that the company suffered some heavy losses in New York State, and that they had been losing money for some time. One misfortune came after another and the company was eventually compelled to reinsure its United States business.

The Canadian business of the company has been taken over by the Phoenix Fire Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., while the policies sold by the company in the United States are being taken care of by a New York company.

The Sovereign Fire Assurance Company had an authorized capital of $2,000,000, and a paid-up capital of over half a million. The officers of the company were: Cyrus A. Birge, Hamilton, president; Thomas Baker, London, first vice-president; H. S. Wilson, Toronto, second vice-president and managing director; A. F. Webster, Toronto, treasurer; James Dixon, Hamilton; John H. Adams, Toronto; C. H. Enderton, Winnipeg; Samuel Screaton, London; Hon. Colin H. Campbell, K.C., Winnipeg, and John Leslie, Winnipeg, directors.

Until three years ago the company was doing business exclusively in Canada; then it was decided to try the United States field, and agencies were established in various parts of the country.

DOG SHOW AT THE FAIR PROVES BIG ATTRACTION

Assorted Canines With Assorted Yelps Magnet for Many Visitors.

When the reporter walked through the door of the building at the Fair that has the sign "Dogs" painted on it in big letters, he knew that he was going to enjoy himself and see one of the real sights of the Western Fair, but he couldn't help thinking of the expression that some discerning person made, "The more I know men the better I like dogs," and so he entered feeling as though he was going to be judged, and not the dogs.

He stopped and chatted with the American and the English foxhounds, and listened to stirring tales of foxhunts, and had a pleasant time. Close to the American foxhounds he had been attracted by the protests of a fine, shaggy, white dog, with little black specks scattered over his coat, as though someone had taken a pen and thrown some ink at him. He was making a big fuss and explained his troubles to the scribe.

The Setter's Complaint.

He was an English setter. "I guess you would kick, too," he said. "I don't mind being caged up here like a common, ordinary mongrel, but I hate to have to face a mug like that over there." The reporter looked and saw the homeliest, toughest-looking bulldog in captivity. He was so tough that he had scraped all the straw off the floor of his stall and was camping on the hard boards. Every once in a while he let out a growl that scared everybody near him and made all the other canines uneasy. Just for pastime he took occasional bites off the boards of his stall and ground up the pieces. He was a "tough guy." But he wasn't as savage as he looked. A bulldog never is. It isn't possible to be. It wasn't very long before we were on speaking terms with him, and he was the gentlest dog in the building. He was just aching to be petted, and the way he licked your hand and looked up into your face was appealing.

Friendly Bulldogs.

The reporter had a good time with the bulldogs. They are a friendly lot. There was old King Billy down at the end, looking as if he didn't want to be there at all, and a stranger from Lethbridge beside him, who didn't seem to care a bit. He had just come from Toronto Exhibition and he was used to it. He had the bowleggedest bowlegs of any bulldog in the show and he was proud of it. He was so bowlegged that he had a hard time keeping one foot from tripping over the other.

The Russian wolfhounds were grouped alongside the bulldogs, but not being on speaking terms with the Russian language, the reporter could not converse with these lanky foreigners. The St. Bernards came next, and one couldn't help being impressed with them. The St. Bernards plainly looked out of their element. They had that faraway look in their eyes that b[e]
Alpine snow and monks and monasteries and belated wayfarers. They took no interest in the happenings and appeared to be bored with the whole proceedings.

Assorted Yelps.

Then there was a lone bloodhound, dachshunds, the Dalmatians, the beagles and the bull-terriers. They were all adding their own peculiar yelps to the general noise. The collies and the 57 different varieties of terriers had all their words of greeting, and even on society row, where the pugs, the Pomeranians, the English toy spaniels, and poodles were, all decked out in the latest dog finery, the interviewer got a friendly nod. The cocker spaniels, and schipperkes and the whippets also passed out a word of welcome, and when The Advertiser man finally bade adieu to Canineville he admitted he was glad he had visited the dog show.

FOUR WERE KILLED.

[Canadian Press.]

Buechen Eguren, Prussia, Sept. 11.—Four persons were killed and several others badly injured here today by a military aeroplane, when the pilot lost control and the aeroplane plunged into a crowd of spectators.

ANGLICAN YOUNG PEOPLE CONCLUDE CONVENTION

Several Londoners Appointed To Act on the New Executive.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—The Dominion Anglican Young People's Association terminated a successful three-days' convention yesterday afternoon when in Holy Trinity Parish House, His Lordship the Bishop of Toronto installed and pronounced his benediction upon the new corps of officers elected to administer the association's good work during the ensuing year.

Mr. Clarence Bell, who for a number of years has proved a tower of strength to the movement in his capacity as president, is succeeded by Mr. W. A. Langmuir, a former member of the Dominion executive.

The association considered invitations to go to Windsor and Kingston next year for the annual convention and after long deliberation chose the latter as their meeting place.

At the morning session the convention heard stirring addresses from Rev. J. B. Fotheringham, of Goderich; Rev. Arthur Garlisle, of Windsor, and Rev. W. G. Davis, of Stony Creek, all of whom touched upon the ideals and purposes of the A. Y. P. A. and defined the position the many branches over the Dominion should maintain on moral questions.

Officers were elected as follows: President, W. A. Langmuir, Toronto; vice-presidents, Mrs. R. J. Hanson, Hamilton; George Spencer Bates, Toronto; secretary, Rev. E. Appleyard, London; assistant secretary, Mrs. A. J. Wyckoff, London; treasurer, Miss M. J. Woodhouse, Hamilton; editorial secretary, Mr. W. A. Peacey, Toronto.

The executive committee is made up as follows: Rev. Dean Starr, Kingston; Rev. Canon MacNab, Toronto; Rev. Canon Murray, Winnipeg; Rev. Canon Almond, Montreal; Rev. Canon Hind, Halifax; Rev. W. Craig, Ottawa; Rev. R. J. Rennison, Hamilton; Rev. C. A. Seager, Vancouver; Rev. H. T. Bourne, Penetanguishene; Rev. W. A. Fyles, Portage la Prairie; Archdeacon Davidson, Guelph; Rev. W. G. Davis, Stony Creek; Rev. Arthur Carlisle, Windsor; Rev. A. L. G. Clarke, Waterloo; Herbert Bright, Toronto; Mrs. M. E. Cooke, London; Miss M. Fleming, Toronto; Messrs. David Robinson, E. B. Burt, Toronto; H. A. Burgon, Regina; Stanley Brooks, Toronto; A. Collaway, Hamilton, and Stanley Boyd, Toronto.

Professors Were Inside Vesuvius

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Naples, Italy, Sept. 11.—Professor Mercalli, director of the observatory of Mount Vesuvius, together with several professors of the University of Munich, accomplished a daring descent into the crater of the volcano yesterday.

The professors remained inside the crater two hours studying, in the midst of asphyxiating gases, new volcanic activity. The descent into and ascent from the inner regions of the mountain occupied eight hours.

The scientists consider that a great re-awakening of the volcano is approaching.

"My Feet Were Just Aching For TIZ"

Let Your Poor, Tired, Chafed, Tender Feet "Spread Out" Gloriously in a Bath of TIZ!

Send at Once for Free Trial Package.

"O, O, glory! what a feelin'! Wonderful what TIZ will do for your feet!"

Just take your shoes off, and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, achy, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a TIZ bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy. They'll look up at you and almost talk, and then they'll take another dive in that TIZ bath. Yes, TIZ is life to feet!

"Just couldn't wait to take my hat off!"

The man or woman who says there's anything like, or as good as, TIZ never had a foot in a TIZ bath. You'll be able to wear smaller shoes, too, when you use TIZ; your feet will keep cozy.

Miss M. Pearl Lloyd, Glendona, Wis., got one box of TIZ for her mother. "She has had sore, tender feet for a long time," writes Miss Lloyd, "but after using TIZ her feet are not troubling her."

TIZ operates under a new principle, drawing out all the poisonous exudations that make feet sore, corny and tired. There's nothing else like TIZ, so refuse any imitation. If anyone offers you a substitute, just remember your poor, suffering feet, and tell him to give you what you asked for.

TIZ, 25 cents a box, sold everywhere, or sent direct, on receipt of price. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. For a free trial package write today to Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill. Recommended by all drug stores, department and general stores.
