Certainly the danger of a sudden rupture, no matter what the ultimate esult may be, is precluded by today's developments.

The other terms are substantially what the world expected and, with one or two exceptions, probably could be entertained as bases for negotiation. Terms Are Offensive.

As a whole, the terms are regarded as exceedingly hard by the Russians. In addition to the two principal conditions, which cannot be accepted, under M. Witte's instructions, those relating to the limiting of Russia's naval power in the far east and the resolution of the council does not granting of fishing rights upon the Russian littoral are considered particularly offensive to the amour propre of their country, and of such humiliating character as to be inadmissible.

The Japanese, on the contrary, as Baron Komura announced at the conamong local merchants as to just how ference today, consider them moderate, contending that they only represent a fair compensation for the expense of of January. This Man Toiled 21 Years in Prison for the Crime of Another.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 10. - Arrested, tried and convicted in Macon, Ga., for murder he never committed, Charles Henry Franklin stood on the scaffold with the noose around his neck. A -minute reprieve secured a commutation to a life sentence, and for more than 21 years he toiled in convict stripes only the deathbed confession of the true murderer securing a release from a life worse than death.

Bowed with age and the effects of many years of arduous toil, the mar who suffered for another crime came out of the convict camp like a prison-er from the Bastile to find his wife dead, his only child, whom he had never seen, married and a mother, bereft of friends and home, ill and a pauper. Franklin is in Atlanta awaiting the

He said:

"I was born in Maine in 1840, and ame to Georgia in 1861. I enlisted in he Confederate army, in the Griffin Volunteers. After the war I went to Macon, In 1880 I had a fight with Fred Knight and whipped him. That ame year, in July, Mit Bryant was found stabbed and in a dying condiion. Knight informed the officers of the law that I had done the stabbing and I was arrested and placed in jail Rryant was engaged to be married to Knight's sister, and after he was stab bed he married her. It was thought ne was getting well, and he went to lugusta, where he died two months afer he was stabbed. I believe that Knight stabbed Bryant because he did not want him to marry his sister. Knight didn't say this in his deathbed confession, but I think that such was he case.

"I was placed on trial in October, 886. Knight swore that he saw me with Bryant a short while before stabping, and he stole $900 from his father, with which he hired two negroes to swear against me. One of the negroes testified that he heard me say that I would fix Bryant. I was convicted and entenced to hang by Judge T. J. Simnons, now chief justice of Georgia. At ny second trial, in April, 1881, I was again convicted and sentenced to ang on July 1, 1881.

Three days before the day for my execution my wife gave morning of July 12, and it was my expected death that killed her. On the norning of July 12 I was dressed for the gallows and all the last formalities were gone through with. I heard the warrant read without a tremor. I had been afraid in the days before, but I was calm and self-possessed. I used to wonder how a man felt when about to be hanged, and I thought as many others do that there was a terrible fear and a fright that was horrible, but I know better now. The good God that prepares a man for death under other circumstances is with him on the gallows, and mercifully gives courage for the ordeal. I was made to stand on the trap door, the trigger having been set, and the noose was tied about my neck. GUSTAVUS WEDS FOR LOVE Would Have No Other, Although

Marriage Meant Loss of Crown.

London, Aug. 11 .- It is said that the recent marriage of Princess Margaret of Connaught to Prince Gustavus of Sweden, was one of those rare exceptions-a royal love match. Perhaps so, but there is no such proof of it as was furnished by the marriage of another Swedish prince in England seventeen years ago and under very different circumstances. Just because that was nothing but a love match, entirely of Cupid's making, no ceremonious fuss was made over it, and the European sovereigns all held aloof from it, and did not even send any wedding presents to the bride and bridegroom. The romance has been so generally forgot-ine, it is thought worth while to Prince Oscar Carl Auguste, Duke of did not soften the king's opposition. He insisted that his handsome son should wed only within the circle of royalty, and be content with the pick of some half dozen pretty princesses. The course of true never did run smooth for many a long day. Miss Munck herself refused listen to the prince's suit and absolutely forbade him to make any sacrifice for her sake. She resigned that her royal lover was bent on foltrain as a nurse. But Oscar would not give and privileges that his royal birth conferred upon him. Ives' Brass Beds give brightness and dignity to a room.

Many artistic home furnishers have adopted the metal bed instead of the cumbrous and sometimes unsanitary wooden beds. A metal bed adds grace and beauty to a room, imparts an atmosphere of dignity oftentimes hard to secure with a wooden bed. Its lines are light and graceful and if it is an Ives bed it will be handsome and artistic in design.

Ives beds are always beautifully designed because Ives artists are the most proficient metal designers in America. They have made Ives famous for high class metal bank and hotel fittings.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE CENERAL PUBLIC.-

The condition of the telephone business in Canada was described by a witness at the opening of the Parliamentary

"A monopoly owning and controlling the local and long distance lines."

The real condition is, that neither in the past nor the present has there been a monopoly of the telephone business in Canada. It has been strictly a case of "the survival of the fittest."

During the past twenty years more than a hundred companies have been authorized by Dominion, Provincial and Municipal authority to do a telephone business in Canada. particularly in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, where this Company has been chiefly operating, of which ninetytwo are in operation to-day, as disclosed by the evidence before the Special Committee.

The field is, and has been free to all, and those who have embarked in the business have lacked neither scope nor public encouragement.

Several companies organized by men of prominence in this country, backed by large capital, have offered the keenest possible competition to this Company, but without success. The failures have been many and disastrous.

It was stated in evidence before the Special Committee that the City of Toronto has during the past ten years advertised in the press of Canada and the United States for a company to furnish a competing telephone service in that city. Other cities in the Province have done likewise. Promoters have time and again sought to exploit the

The secret of this success has been enterprise in exploiting the business, integrity in the administration of the financial affairs of the Company, economy of management, giving service superior to all competitors, and maintaining reasonable rates. STOCK MARKETS. C. Becher, stock broker, next Free building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

Carrington today: New York, Aug. 11. - Noon. has been a marked increased inactivity and the market has been more buoyant than for some time. Bullish feeling seems to run more especially into such high-priced stocks as Northern Pacific, Great Northern, N. Y. C., U. P., and Illinois Central. Of news to affect prices there has been little or none. It appears, however, that the speculators and investors have begun to realize the conditions are throughout the country brilliant, and the prospects for growing crops. Little attention is paid to dispatches from Portsmouth expressing fears that the peace negotiations would not reach a successful conclusion, for the reason that in well-informed foreign financial circles confidence is expressed that both parties are anxious for peace, and after a moderate period of negotiations satisfactory compromise will be made

POSED AS COUNT

Strange Story From Italy That Culminates in Tragedy.

London, Aug. 10-A strange story of impersonation with a tragic sequel has just been unfolded in the law courts of Rome. Count Adriano Beniculli, an eccentric nobleman, charges his valet. Antinoro Paolo, with having caused the death of the Countess Beniculli. Taking advantage of the extraordinary resemblance between himself and his valet, the count employed the valet to impersonate him at various social functions in Rome and elsewhere while he himself devoted his time to his hobby of collecting and repairing ancient locks. Paolo, provided with money and repairing the best region. good clothes, mixed in the best society and was everywhere received as the Meeting the Countess Beniculli at ball, the valet paid her assiduous attention. The countess was pleased, but greatly surprised at her husband, for whom she mistook Paolo, has neglected her for some years, not living with he or seeing her. A few days after the supposed reconciliation the countess and Paolo drove to Rimini. They were walking toward some caves, to visit which was the object of the drive, when a peasant woman rushed up to or seeing her. A few days after the when a peasant woman rushed up t them and accused Paolo of deserting her, at the same time addressing or probrious insults to the countess. The latter then discovered that she had been deceived. When she saw the would-be count kneeling in the stree at the feet of Paolo's wife, she asked woman's pardon and returned to Rome alone on foot.

The same night she was found dead al Society. in her mansion, poisoned by an over-dose of laudanum. On her dressingtable lay a letter stating that she had believed Paolo to be her husband and Lieut. Heaman, of the that what she had done had driven her suicide, as she was unwilling to sully the spotless record of a noble ancestry. The trial of Paolo has been adjourned pending an inquiry into the circumstances of the tragedy.

A great event to close a great day was the banquet held by the Irish Benevolent Society at the Fraser House, Port Stanley, last evening. Everyone knows that the annual banquet of the I. B. S. at Port Stanley is the jolliest, most informal, good-natured, social affair of the year, and last night's dinner was no exception to Dear,"

Unfortunately, there was an hour and a half's delay in the preparation of the dinner, so that the I. B. S. and their 200 guests did not get seated until 9:30 o'clock. For this reason, the programme of songs and speeches had to be cut short. Many an Irish melody, many a brilliant speech was thus lost. However, the sumptuous fare, which appealed with extra strength to men who had waited long, together with the general atmosphere of Hibernian goodnature which pervaded, made up for all And such a feast it was. Half the ime the sound of knives and plates was almost drowned by shouts of laughter. Many a pause was made "between bites" while a joke or a goodnatured "jolly" was exchanged. When all present had partaken to heir hearts' content, Chairman Phil Pocock asked Secretary Wilson to read number of letters of regret from gentlemen who had been invited, but who had found it impossible to attend. One and all, the writers expressed extreme regret at not being able to be present, all being conscious of the fact that the Irishmen are the very cream One of the most cordial of these letters was from Hon. Charles S. Hyman, who regretted that business had kept him away, and wished the I. B. S. and their guests the very best of times. Letters from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, R. L. Borden, Hon. Adam Beck, Hon. J. J. Foy, Hon. J. W. Hanna, Sir John Carling, and many others were also read. Mr. Hyman's letter was as follows: Ottawa, Aug. 4, 1905. Thomas Wilson, Esq., London, Ont.: Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of the very kind invitation of the president and officers of the Irish Benevolent Society of ondon, Ont., to their annual banquet to be held at Port Stanley, on Thursday, Aug. 10. I assure you I regret very much being forced to deprive myself of the pleasure of attending, but it is absoutely necessary for me to be in Ottawa on that date. Wishing you every success and a most enjoyable evening, believe me yours sincerely, C. S. HYMAN. yours sincerely, C. S. HYMAN.

In his opening address, Chairman Pocock said he believed all present had enjoyed the day's fun. And he was pleased to be able to state that the attendance at the picnic was the largest in the history of the L. P. The obtain in the history of the I. B. S. The chairnan referred in laudatory terms to the excellent work done for the society by Secretary Wilson, and Harry Buttrey, chairman of the sports committee. As an instance of Mr. Buttrey's energy, the chairman stated that he had been on duty at the G. T. R. depot as early as 6:30 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Po-cock also thanked Mayor Campbell and Mayor Leak, of St. Thomas, for their Mayor Leak, of St. Thomas, for their presence at the banquet.

The health of his Majesty the King was then loyally drunk by the Irishmen and their guests.
