LOCAL BRIEFS

All the latest in muslin and dimites at Thibodeau & Jacques.
Ed. Symes, of Detroit, a former resident of this city, spent the Fourth in the Maple City among relatives and friends, and returned home this morning.
Thirty-one Fourth of July accidents from firecrackers were reported in Detroit alone yesterday. Some of these involved the loss of fingers, hands and eyes.
By the official thermometer at Burt's drug store the highest temperature noted yesterday was 94 in the shade. At one o'clock to-day it was a fraction over 95.
Although Mr. James Gardiner, Wellington street, is 86 years of age, one day this week he pitched half a ton of hay to R. J. Dunlop, who stood on his wagon, in a manner that would have put to shame many of our young farmers.
Weather Forecast: Intense heat prevails to the west and south of the lake region, and the present outlook is for higher temperature on Friday in nearly all parts of the Dominion. In Ontario the weather will be for the most part fine, but it is not quite settled, and local thunderstorms are probable.

A NARROW ESCAPE.
Mrs. John Cassidy yesterday accidentally took an overdose of opium. The symptoms were for a time very serious and Dr. McKee was summoned. By the prompt use of stomach pump and stimulants the unfortunate patient recovered.

AN AERONAUT'S FALL.
Santa Anna, Cal., July 5.—Emil Markenberg, an aeronaut of long experience, fell from a height of 500 feet, while making a balloon ascension on Fourth of July, and was crushed to death in the presence of thousands of spectators. The accident was caused by the breaking of a strap to which he was hanging by his teeth.

A VALUABLE PREPARATION.
The following testimonial speaks volumes for the Eureka Veterinary Caustic Balm, a preparation advertised elsewhere in the columns of this paper.

To whom it may concern:—I have used the Eureka Veterinary Caustic Balm and find it a valuable preparation. I can recommend it to the public.

STATES DIVIDED.

They Stood 26 to 22 in Favor of Free Silver Plank.

First Blood For Bryan in the Great Democratic Convention.

Kansas City, July 5.—After a hot, bitter struggle, lasting until 3.30 this morning, the Bryan contingent won, and the resolutions committee declared for a specific platform declaration for $3 to 1. The vote stood 26 to 22.

The vote stood as follows on a resolution to substitute a 16 to 1 declaration for a simple reaffirmation of the Chicago platform:

Ayes—Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Delaware, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Washington, Wyoming, Arizona, Oklahoma, Indian territory, New Mexico, Hawaii—26.

Noes—California, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Alaska—22.

The plank agreed on is as follows: "We reiterate the demand of the platform of 1896 for an American financial system made by the American people for themselves which shall restore and maintain a bimetallic price level; and as part of such system an immediate coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation."

David B. Hill will renew the fight on the floor of the convention. Bryan's nomination is assured. There will be no opposition.

MORE SAFEGUARDS.

Adopted in Connection With Federal Election Bill.

Ottawa, July 5.—In the Commons yesterday, on the Election Bill being taken up, Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a clause providing that the volunteers in South Africa shall retain their franchise. It applies also to members of the Red Cross, war correspondents, etc. If the name is not on the list, the volunteer may vote upon taking the oath of qualification.

It was decided that the paper upon which the ballots are to be printed shall be supplied by the Queen's printer, and that each returning officer shall be furnished by the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery with a stamp whereon he shall mark all the ballots before sending them on to the different deputy returning officers.

The form of ballot printed in the draft of the bill was adopted. An amendment was added compelling the returning officer to tear off the counterfoil and deposit the ballot in the box in full view of all present.

The bill amended was reported, and stands for a third reading on Friday.

A special committee was appointed at the meeting of the Fessenden Chapter, Daughters of the British Empire, at Hamilton, to arrange for the planting of maple seeds on the graves of the fallen heroes in the Transvaal.

GENERAL SPORTS.

What is Going on in Baseball and Other Athletic Games.

News, Local and Telegraphic, Gathered From Reliable Sources.

The West End Football Club, the champion association club of St. Louis, and which has defeated all comers including the crack Detroit club last season, is going to make a tour of Canada during July or August. The club has one of the most surprising records of the west. It had won the championship last season before the first defeat and during the entire season it was defeated only twice and then only after a very fierce contest.

The West Ends are out with a challenge to play association ball with any team in the Dominion, amateur or professional and will probably arrange for a match with the local team.

The afternoon game between Rochester and Toronto yesterday was forfeited to Rochester, score 9 to 0. The Toronto team were at their hotel, but did not go to the ground to play. It rained quite hard early in the morning and the Toronto team understood there would be no game, although the Rochester management claims they were not notified officially.

Because they did not get the Livingston Hotel after the game had been declared forfeited to Rochester, and so informed Manager Barrows, of the Toronto team, Barrows assaulted Buckenberger, striking the latter in the face, knocking his eye. A warrant was immediately sworn out, and Barrows was arrested. Later bail was secured.

CRICKET.

CHATHAM DEFEATS CLEVELAND.

Chatham succeeded in defeating Cleveland yesterday at cricket by means of some splendid batting. W. B. Wells and E. Bell went to bat first.

Wells was bowled on the third ball and Kenny joined Bell. He was almost immediately caught out, and I. Nichol took his place. Bell and Nichol only brought the score up to eight when Bell was bowled. Things certainly looked black for Chatham, when C. R. Atkinson took Bell's place, but every cloud has a silver lining.

It was at this stage that the brightness of the cloud began to show. Atkinson was right at himself and batted in his old-time style, hitting right and left. He gave a splendid exhibition of batting and, when he was retired with 32 runs to his credit, Mr. Atkinson was given quite an ovation by the spectators. I. L. Nichol had also done his share, and by careful and pretty cricket assisted Atkinson. Horstead followed Atkinson and Percy Miller took Nichol's place, and these two batted runs by heavy hitting. None of the others reached double figures and the side was retired for 133 runs, a very creditable showing against Cleveland's fast bowlers.

Cleveland then went to bat. But the bowling of the Chatham team was very effective, and S. Nash and Cok were the only two to make a stand, the former making 22 and the latter 28 runs. None of the others reached double figures. The feature of the game was the splendid bowling of J. W. Aitken. His work was probably the finest ever seen on the Chatham grounds, when the batsmen had to contend with are considered. These were some of the best to be found in the States, but they were retired in rapid style. The taking of seven wickets for 30 runs is a record to be proud of.

Cures Weak Men Free

A most successful remedy has been found for sexual weakness, such as impotency, varicocele, shrunken organs, nervous debility, lost manhood, night emissions, premature discharge and all other results of self-abuse or excesses. It cures any case of the difficulty, never fails to restore the organs to full natural strength and vigor. The Doctor who made this wonderful discovery wants to let every man know about it. He will therefore send the receipt giving the various ingredients to be used so that all men at a trifling expense can cure themselves. He sends the receipt free, and all the reader need do is to send his name and address to L. W. Knapp, M. D., 1710, Hill Bldg., Detroit, Mich., requesting the free receipt as reported in this paper. It is a generous offer and all men ought to be glad to have such an opportunity.

LOVE'S TRIUMPH.

A STORY OF LOVE AND WAR.

BY MARY J. HOLMES,

Author of "Lena Rivers," "Edna Browning,"
"Tempest and Sunshine," Etc., Etc.

"Certainly you are," Rose replied, "but I'm not sure Annie will let you call her sister, because you're—you're well, you see Annie is real good, and, as I told you, prays, just as hard for Southern soldiers as for ours, that is, prays that they may be Christians, and that their sick and wounded may be kindly cared for, but of course she wants us to beat, and knows we shall, but I guess she does not think of you just as she does of Tom, though she never saw either. She would not go up to the depot to meet you, and I wanted her to so much. She said, too, that, to hang out our banner on a rebel's account, and she acts so funny generally about your coming home that I hope you'll do your best to be agreeable, and make her like you. Will you, Jimmie?" and Rose looked up at her brother in such a comical, serious way, that he laughed aloud, promising to do his best to remove all prejudice from Miss Graham's mind, and asking who she was and where she came from.

"I'm sure I don't know where she came from," Rose replied, a little uncertain how to grapple with the Carlton pride, which existed in Jimmie as well as the rest of them. "She's a lady, as any one can see, and possessed of as much refinement as we often find in Boston. She can't help it, Jimmie, if she is poor. It don't hurt her one bit, and I'm getting over those foolish notions cherished by our set at home. Will says she came of a good family, and might have married a millionaire, but she did enough to be her father, but she wouldn't. She preferred a mechanic, George Graham, the most splendid-looking man you ever saw. He's dead, now, poor fellow. Will took care of him, and brought him home; that's why Annie lives with me."

Rose's explanations were not the plainest that could have been given, but Jimmie extracted from the medley of facts a very prominent one. It was not a Miss but a Mrs. to whom he was to be agreeable. It had not seemed a very unpleasant duty to change a beautiful young girl's opinion of himself, but a Mrs. was a very different affair, and for the first time since his arrival his old, merry, half-sarcastic laugh rang through the room, as with a mocking whistle he said:

"A widow, hey! How many children does she boast?"

"Not a single bit of a one," Rose answered, feeling that Jimmie had said something very bad of Annie.

He saw it in her countenance, and hastened to make amends by asking numberless questions about Annie's first acquaintance with her up to the present hour he managed at last to get the result being that he was not so much interested in the Widow Graham as he had been in the Miss Annie. He might have been in the Miss Annie, easily disinterested. Rose gave him up as incorrigible, and mentally hoping Tom would not prove as refractory as Jimmie had done, she turned the conversation upon Will, whose goodness she extolled until the supper-bell rang, and Jimmie arose to leave her for a time, as he was not prepared to go down that night and do the honors of the table.

The gas was lighted in the dining-room, and the heavy darkness, curtains were dropped before the long French windows. A cheerful coal fire was blazing on the marble hearth, while the table, with its snowy linen, its china, silver and cut glass, presented a most inviting appearance. Jimmie had had through all the long years of his voluntary exile from the parental roof.

"This is nice," he said, with a pleasant feeling of satisfaction not unmingled with a certain degree of self-complacency, which whispered that after what had passed he was hardly worthy to be the recipient of so much luxury.

Thoughts like these were about shaping themselves into words, when he caught sight of a figure he had not before observed, and became aware that he was not alone with his mother, as he at first supposed. It was a delicate little figure, not as petite as his sister's but quite as graceful, with its sloping shoulders and rounded waist almost too small to suit the theorems of a Water Cure, and looking vastly well to Jimmie, whose first thought was that he could span it with his hands. Around the well-shaped head the heavy bands of pale brown hair were coiled, forming a large square knot which falling low upon the neck gave to the figure a more girlish appearance than Jimmie had expected to find in his sister's protégée, the Widow Graham. He knew it was Annie, by the mourning black, fitting so closely around the slender throat, and for an instant he wished she was not there, as he preferred being alone with his mother. But one glance at the sweet face turned toward him as Mrs. Carlton repeated his name, dispelled all such desires, and with a strange sensation, which he attributed to pleasant disappointment, he took the soft, white hand which Annie extended toward him. It was a very small, a very pretty hand, and trembled perceptibly as it lay in Jimmie's broader, warmer one, while on the pale cheek there was a deep, rich bloom, which Mrs. Carlton herself had never observed before.

"I have heard of Mrs. Graham from my sister," Jimmie said, leaning to meet her with his usual gallantry, while Annie tried to stammer out some reply, making a miserable failure, and leaving on Jimmie's mind the impression that she was prejudiced against him, and would not welcome him home. A dozen times in the course of the supper, Jimmie assured himself that he did not care what was the opinion held of him by such as Annie Graham, while he as often changed his mind and knew that he did care, wondering what it was about her face which puzzled him so much. She looked a little like Tom's wife, Mary, he thought, that is, as Mary had looked just before her departure for Charleston, when she bade him good-bye, whispering to him timidly of a world where she hoped to meet again the friends she loved so well. And as whenever he thought of Mary, he would have given some thing to have known, but he was far from suspecting the truth or guessing what Annie felt, as she saw upon his face the lines of disipation, and thought of the debasing scenes through which he must have passed since the days of his long exile, when, with the little Pequot of New London, he sat upon the rocks and watched the tide come in, telling her how, on the morrow night, his own fanciful little boat, named for her, should bear them across the placid waters of the bay to where the green light, the Pequot's reply had been that the morrow was the Sabbath, and not even the pleasure of a sail with him could tempt her to such a purpose. He had called her a little Puritan then, asking where she learned so strict a creed, and adding, "but I half believe you're right, and if I'd known you sooner I should have been a better boy"; then, kissing her blushing cheek, he had led her from the rocks over which the waves were breaking now, and that was the last the Pequot ever saw of him. There was no sail upon the bay, no more watching for the ebb and flow of the evening tide, no waits on the long planks, or strolls upon the handsome, saucy-eyed boy was gone to his home in Boston, leaving no message or word of explanation for the little Pequot, whose step was head-er for a few days, and whose head-er she felt, as the harsh aunt said it was, when she refused to join the revellers in the parlor, and dance with the gray-haired man, four times her age, who sought her for his partner. They had not met since then till now, and Annie struggled hard to keep back the tears as she remembered all that had come to her since that winter at New London—remembered the childish fancy which died out so fast, and the later love which crowned her early girlhood, finding its full fruition at the marriage altar and twining itself so closely around the heart of her, that when it was torn away, it left there were and bleeding with pain at every pore. Surely, with this sad experience, Annie, young and beautiful though she was, could feel for Jimmie. Garrison taught says the difference she would have felt for any stranger who came to her as the brother of her patroness. And still she was conscious of a deeper interest in him than if he had been a perfect stranger, and his presence awoke within her an unconquerable feeling, making her wish more and more that she were away where she would not be obliged to come in daily contact with him. Under these circumstances, it is not strange the conversation flagged, until for Rose's sake Annie felt compelled to make an effort. Suddenly remembering Isaac Simms, she asked if anything was every heard at Washington of the Richmond prisoners.

"Yes," Jimmie replied, and eager to show his own willingness to talk of the war and the Federal army, he told how only the day before he left for Rock-land, news had come from Tom, saying he was as well as could be expected, considering his fate, but the boy captured with him would surely die if not soon restored to purer air and better care than those tobacco prisons afforded.

"Oh,—it will kill Mrs. Simms if they should bring him back to her dead," and the hot tears gushed from Annie's eyes as she heard in fancy the muffled drum beating its funeral marches to the grave of another Rockland volunteer.

The tears once started could not be repressed, and Mrs. Carlton and Jimmie finished their supper alone, for Annie excused herself, and hastening to her room, poured out her grief in tears and prayers for the poor sick boy, mingling in his dreary prison, while musing that to her had been given the comfort of knowing that the death pillow of her darling was smoothed with friendly hands, and that no harsh, discordant sounds of prison riot or discipline had disturbed his peaceful dying.

Meaning Jimmie had returned to his sister, whose first question was of Annie. "What did he think of her? Wasn't she sweet, and hadn't she the prettiest blue eyes he ever saw?"

"I hardly saw them, for she is evidently coy of her glances at a rebel," Jimmie answered, half playfully, half bitterly, for Annie's manner of quiet reserve had piqued him more than he cared to confess.

"She's bashful," Rose replied, "and then, Jimmie, you can't expect her to forgive you as readily as your own sister, for you know she never saw you till to-night, and she's a patriot; but say, did you ever see so sweet a face, one that makes you think so much of an angel?"

"Rather too pale to suit my taste. I like a bit more color better," and Jimmie pinched Rose's cheeks until she screamed for him to stop.

"It's all going wrong, I know," Rose began poutingly.

E. & D. BICYCLES

The great reason for the goodness of E. & D. bearings lies in their four-point design. The load passes directly through the balls, and there is no opportunity for the balls to jam.

In E. & D. four-point bearings the weight on any one point of the bearing is never more than 1/4th of the weight of the rider. In ordinary bicycles, the immense leverage between cup and cone bearings and cone cuts the bearings and breaks the ball.

To show how little the wear on E. & D. four-point bearings is, we first guarantee them for three years, and, secondly, we will them at the beginning of the season, and at the end, upon examination, the oil will be found clear.

E. & D. bearings are excellent.

In all parts, the four-point system is employed. In 1900 E. & D. models, even the head bearings are equipped with four-point bearings.

The E. & D. Models are found in Road Ladies' and Men's $80 Special Ladies' and Men's with gear case $70.

Racer, Men's only $70 and the local guarantee privilege that goes with them is worth the cost of the wheel. And we will be very glad to show you the new E. & D. with its excellent equipments.

Catalogue sent free upon application. You run no risk in buying this wheel. The thirty-seventh wheel made by this firm four years ago is in daily use in this city. The owner would not exchange it for a new wheel of any other make, as he says it is in perfect order up to date, and the easiest running wheel in the city. We cannot say anything that is a higher recommendation.

We were very sorry to hear that Mrs. Richard Arnold and daughter Alice are in the hospital. Last report was that they are both improving slowly.

Miss Josephine Lanigan went to Dresden to write on Part I Junior Leaving examination.

TOWN HALL, DOVER.

Miss Josephine Rot, of Detroit, is visiting friends here.

Meers, King and Livermore, of Ypsilanti, are guests of Jos. King.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Dagneau visited in Belle River last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Touchette, of Quebec, are visiting old friends and relatives.

Miss Louise Dagneau, painfully lauded her foot one day last week. This was particularly unfortunate as Louise was all prepared to write on the entrance examination, but was hindered by this accident.

FLETCHER.

Michael Gleeson takes strong exception to the remarks of the Elbury Times regarding his treatment of a child that was abducted from his residence during his absence. The facts of the case are these: Mr. and Mrs. Gleeson obtained the child two years ago from the Mount Hope Orphan's Home, London, and have given the girl every care. The mother, who is living in Toledo, found out where the child was, and at night, when Mr. and Mrs. Gleeson were away, she was taken away. Mr. Gleeson took several trips to Toledo, and the woman was satisfied to take the child, as she was a stranger to him. Instead of being abused by the Times, he should have been commended. The woman had an unfortunate experience, but she brought this upon herself by taking a course that might have led to her imprisonment.

GLENWOOD.

We are pleased to announce that Thos. Chester, who has been seriously ill, is improving.

School closed on Friday for the summer vacation. The average attendance for the past term was 48. The school has made excellent progress during the past six months and much credit is due the teacher, Miss Gordon, for her earnest efforts for the advancement of the pupils.

Miss Clara Brown left last week for a month's visit with relatives in Detroit.

Miss T. McAllister, of Palmyra, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Coffell.

Mrs. Marshall, of Stewart, is spending the week with her daughter Mrs. W. C. Estabrook.

Miss Jennie Shepley is visiting in Chatham.

T. Chester is quite ill with malaria fever.

The members of the R. T. of T. Council enjoyed a very pleasant social on Friday evening. Strawberries and cake were served, and an interesting program presented.

On the 24th ult., to the wife of J. H. Coffell, a daughter.

DOVER CENTRE.

The picnic under the auspices of the I. O. F. in Hugh Porter's grove on the 23rd was an immense success. The sports of the day were of great interest. James Brown carried off the first prizes in the jumping contests and Bob Elliott, of Chatham, proved to be the fastest sprinter on the grounds.

In the boys' race Thos. Bennie was an easy first. The bicycle race was very exciting, and was won by T. A. Rankin, of E. & D. wheel, with Ernest Montgomery second.

The horse race—half mile trot, was won by W. Morehouse with Alexander Brown second. After tea a baseball match was played between Dover Centre and Oungah, which ended in favor of the latter with the help of Chatham's best amateur batter, A. Finlayson, who rendered during the afternoon. Gordon Stewart was chairman and excellent addresses were delivered by County Commissioner Frank Rankin, Rev. J. J. Haylock and Mayor T. A. Smith, Chatham. Frank Weldon also contributed a much appreciated solo. Mitchell's Bay Band supplied the music of the day to the satisfaction of all. The picnic was a great financial success, over $50 being cleared after the numerous prizes were paid. The Foresters deserve credit for their energy and push.

A great deal of wheat in this district is falling down as a result of the work of the Hessian fly.

The new fence around our school is completed. It is a beauty and adds greatly to the appearance of the school.

Our school closed for holidays three days earlier than usual this year, as our teacher, Gordon Stewart, presided at the Entrance Examination, on June 27th, 28th and 29th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlop, sr., spent a couple of days last week visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Wm. Ross, Chatham.

Thos. Stokes has had his house raised by Wm. McAlair, Wallaceburg, in order to put a gravel and cement foundation under it. A cellar is also being excavated under part of it.

Miss Mae Rankin gave a birthday party to her young friends one day last week.

Wm. Jenner and family, Raleigh, were the guests of Thos. Dunlop last Sunday.

If you want a first-class hay rack built, call on Fleming the blacksmith. The result of the bicycle race at the I. O. F. picnic, not being satisfactory to one of the contestants, A. Mills, of Mitchell's Bay, the winner of the race, T. A. Rankin, consented to ride him another race. It is needless to say the result was the same, T. A. Rankin winning on the E. & D. bicycle quite easily. Jno. Graham also amused the large crowd of spectators that had gathered, by winning from T. Loyce, Mitchell's Bay. Dover Centre boys are fast riders.

Ernest Montgomery has purchased an E. & D. bicycle.

Some men walk home, some ride and some simply hang on the straps.

Through intelligence one reaches many things which are superior to intelligence, but intuitions come better by the quickness of thought than by thought itself.—Porphyry.

What does it profit a woman if she whole world of knowledge and has her education, but she is not intelligent, and school teachers, eager, ambitious, and full of energy, very often neglect their health in the struggle to gain education. They eat insufficient food, and at irregular hours, they allow irregularity of the womanly functions to be established, and the result is that they become chronic invalids with all their education practically worthless. There is a plain road back to health for such as these, marked by the feet of thousands. It is the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive organs, and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for diseases of the delicate organs of womanhood. A cure so certainly follows the use of these remedies that out of hundreds of thousands who have tried the treatment, ninety-eight in every hundred have been perfectly and permanently cured. Constipation, with its salutary consequences, which is a common ailment of students, is entirely cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

What is the difference between Chatham and the oldest hen in existence? The one is a fool old wherry and the other a very old fowl.

It Dazzles the World.

No Discovery in medicine has ever created one quarter of the excitement that has been caused by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is the best remedy for Croup, Croup, Asthma, Time of Consumption, Pneumonia, Hemorrhage, Pleurisy and Bronchitis, thousands of whom it has restored to perfect health. For Croup, Croup, Asthma, Croup, Hay Fever, Hoarseness and Whooping cough it is the quickest, surest cure in the world. It is sold by A. I. McCall & Co., who guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Large bottles 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free.

What is intuition? What they soul knows of old in other lives. It is inborn experience.—Buddhist Teaching.

We are born with faculties and powers capable almost of anything, but it is only the exercise of those powers which gives us ability and skill in anything, and leads us towards perfection.

A Widow's Love Affair.

Receives a setback, if she has offensive breath through Constipation, Biliousness or Stomach Trouble, but Dr. King's New Life Pills always cure those troubles; clean the system, sweeten the breath, banish headache, best in the world for liver, kidneys, and bowels. It is not what man does which excites him, but what man would do.—Browning.

Seven Years in Bed.

"Will wonders ever cease?" inquires the friends of Mrs. P. Peas, of Lawrence, Kan. They knew she had been unable to leave her bed in seven years on account of kidney and liver trouble, nervous prostration and general debility, but "Three bottles of Electric Bitters enabled me to walk," she writes, "and in three months I felt like a new person." Women suffering from Headache, Backache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells will find it a priceless blessing. Try it. Satisfaction is guaranteed. Only 50c. at A. I. McCall & Co.'s drug store.

THE MARKETS.

CHATHAM GRAIN MARKET.

J. B. Stringer & Co., give the following grain gossip:

Wheat—Some farmers will begin harvesting in a couple of weeks. Some individual farmers expect a good yield, but the majority say their crop this year will be light. Dealers don't expect that more than half the ordinary crop will be harvested this year.

The Chicago market was off four cents yesterday, but partially regained the loss to-day. While the price locally is no lower, dealers don't feel quite so sure of the market. Should the market in Chicago return to last week's highest point, there will be a corresponding strong feeling locally.

The American Girl's Marriage.

"When the American girl defers her choice of a husband until she has had a reasonable opportunity to see something of mankind, and had a chance to compare the good with the bad, she is pretty apt to strike a good average for herself," writes Edward Bok in the Ladies' Home Journal. "As a rule, she is a pretty good judge of men, when she gives her judgment time to assist her to a wise conclusion. The point is to get her to wait. It must be said to her credit that she is waiting longer than she did formerly. It is not so many years ago that a girl was considered of a marriageable age when she became sixteen or seventeen years old. Twenty-five years ago girls generally married at nineteen, while to-day the average is closer to twenty-three. The marriage of a girl in her teens causes actual surprise in these days. Out of a list of one thousand marriages recently compiled, three hundred were under twenty years of age. And nearly all these young girls married men under twenty-two. And this is the fatal part of a girl's marriage at too early an age. Instead of choosing a man for her husband she is very apt to choose a boy."

To Save Her Child.

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. Nannie Gelliger, of Ladysburg, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in Sores, Bruises, Skin Eruptions, Cuts, Burns, Scalds, Piles, &c. Cure guaranteed by A. I. McCall & Co.'s Drug Store.

Little... Things

Holiday and vacation demands have demonstrated to many a man and boy—yes, and to many a woman and girl, that this new store of yours pays no more attention to the big things than it does to the little,—those bits of things that everybody and both sexes want, especially just now, that seldom get mention in the papers.

We think enough of such things to give them bright places in this bright new store, and to keep a constant and knowing lookout for the newest and the best,—other departments would suffer if we didn't.

DANGEROUS MADMAN.

Attacks a Woman and Turns Highwayman Near Windsor.—Finally Recaptured.

Windsor, July 5.—Sergeant Jackson and Patrolman Reid had an exciting chase yesterday after Joseph Reaume, a well-known farmer of Sandwich East, who escaped Tuesday from the Hotel Dieu, where he was sent last Friday suffering with an affection of the brain, which has since developed into violent insanity. After escaping from the hospital, Reaume wandered around all night and early yesterday morning walked into the yard of Mrs. Francois, at Dougall and Tecumseh roads. The woman was hitching up her horse, when he suddenly jumped on the horse and rode rapidly east on the Tecumseh road, and finally turned on the C. P. railway, riding at break-neck speed down the track. He turned off at Paul St. Amour's farm on the Grand Marais road, where he changed horses without the owner's permission. A little farther on, at Joe Cousineau's hotel, he made another exchange without consulting the owner, and reaching the M. C. R. started down the track towards Windsor.

Reaume turned off the track when he reached the Tecumseh road and was overtaken by the officers at Patrick Janes's place, where he was was quietly picking flowers. He will be sent to an asylum.
