Short Course in Agriculture Closes

A live stock judging competition marked the close of the short course in agriculture under the direction of the local branch of the Department.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.

SHERWOOD SPRING

Mr. and Mrs. John Quinsey, Caintown, were visitors on Friday last at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. H. Clow.

Private Allen G. Clow is spending a week here with his parents, before going to Mallorytown, where several of the 156th Battalion are stationed.

The recent snow is enabling the young people to hold some postponed sleighing and skating parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Turner, Riverside, were guests on Sunday at the home of the former's aunt, Mrs. Geo. Stewart.

For the first time this year, Rev. Mr. Bradford will hold service in the school-house on Wednesday, Feb. 16.

ACTIVE AROUND ZEEBRUGGE

German Scout Vessels in North Sea Sank British Mine Sweeper.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 14.—The Tel-e-graaf says the German scout vessels in the North Sea are believed to have gone out of Zeebrugge, as it is known that some vessels which formerly were not at that port have been lying there under steam.

The British mine sweepers gave a good account of themselves when they were attacked, and inflicted damage on three of the enemy. In the battle that followed the German attacks one of the British ships was separated from its companions, and has not been accounted for.

THREATS TO ROUMANIA.

German Ambassador to Bucharest Opens Editorial Campaign.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Ugheni, on the Roumanian frontier, says: Baron von Dem Bussche-Haddenhausen, the German Minister at Bucharest, who was entrusted with a special mission to Roumania by the German Government, has returned from Berlin, where he was received in audience by the Kaiser and has opened his campaign in his newspaper, Roumanie, by threatening Roumania.

"The Germanic powers," he says in his paper, "know how to strike swiftly and energetically." He asks on which side Roumania is going to range herself, and declared that Germany wishes to know immediately.

The Times Bucharest correspondent, in a series of delayed despatches dated from Jan. 26 to Feb. 1, tells of purchases of wheat by the belligerent powers in Roumania. It appears from these despatches that Germany in a formal note to Roumania demanded the same rights for the purchase of cereals as accorded Great Britain, and proposed to purchase at the same price charged the British all the remaining stocks of Roumanian wheat and 10,000 wagon-loads of maize.

Roumania conceded equality of privileges, and, according to the newspapers, the Germans purchased by secret contract 400,000 tons of wheat for the purpose of preventing the realization of its sale to the British Government.

The Roumanian Government, the despatches add, will forbid the export of this wheat.

JUST A GREAT WAREHOUSE.

Holland is Overrun With German Merchants, Agents, and Spies. LONDON, Feb. 14.—The Daily Mail recently sent an investigator to Holland, as it had previously sent one to Scandinavia, to ascertain the effect of the British blockade.

This investigator contributes a three column article to The Daily Mail this morning, the gist of which is that the correspondent, after patient and careful enquiry, has come to the conclusion that Holland is being used by the Germans as a warehouse from which goods are taken daily to the German factories, cities, and troops.

He asserts that the Netherlands Overseas Trust, established under a pledge to control the imports so that Holland would import only for her own needs, has been a failure. "The Dutch cities," he says, "are swarming with German merchants, agents, and spies, trading freely. Dutch commerce is inextricably entangled with German interests and German capital."

The correspondent supports his contentions by statistics and other evidence.

EXPLOSION IN FORT.

Russian Bombardment of Erzerum Has Marked Effect. PETROGRAD, Feb. 14.—The advance of the Russian forces in the Caucasus continues. Yesterday's official report states that in actions near Erzerum the Czar's troops, advancing through deep snow and with the temperature sometimes 25 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, have forced almost inaccessible passes and continued to make progress. They took some dozens of officers and over 700 Turkish regulars prisoner and captured seven guns and in addition machine guns, ammunition wagons, and an ammunition store and many cattle.

A violent explosion was observed in one of the Erzerum forts after the Russian bombardment. The Turks were dislodged from a position near Khynyskala (50 miles south-east of Erzerum), and the Russians occupied the town of Khopy after an engagement.

In Persia, in the region of Hamadan, the Russians occupied the town of Duletabad.

Are you willing to be A Slave? YOU MAY BE ONE if you refuse to answer the call to arms, and suppress the atrocious Hun. Why do you stand aside in this time when the country is straining every nerve to put an army in the field that will crush the enemy forever? JOIN THE 156TH LEEDS AND GRENVILLE BATTALION And show practical sympathy with the cause of your King and Country. Unless you are medically unfit, you should put on the khaki. Watch the boys in uniform around the village. Their heads are high. Is yours? THE END IS NOT YET The end will be a glorious one if all men between the ages of 18 and 45 will shoulder rifles. They will be able to win victory over a brutal enemy. The men of these counties have this opportunity, for the 156th Leeds and Grenville Battalion is being formed at your very doors. Apply to Lieut. W. E. Logue, Recruiting officer, 156 Battalion Bank Building, Parish Block, Athens

Mr. John E. Cunningham

Mr. John Edward Cunningham, a well known and highly respected resident of Ganaoquo, died Wednesday at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Edward Gillespie, Charles street, Ganaoquo. The late Mr. Cunningham, before going to Ganaoquo, a number of years ago, resided in Leeds township near Dowsley's Corners, where he owned a fine farm. He leaves two brothers; George, in the rural mail service, and Joseph, teamster with the Ontario wheel company.

Mrs. McCarthy

Mrs. Eleanor McCarthy, one of Westport's oldest and most respected residents, died on Monday, aged 84 years. The deceased was born in North Crosby and always lived there. Her husband, the late James McCarthy died eight years ago. The funeral service was held in St. Edward's church Wednesday and was largely attended.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children In Use For Over 30 Years

Always bears the Signature of J. C. Watson, English Royal Names. The Present Reign, the House of Hanover, Started With George I. The use of surnames was introduced into England by the Normans and for a long time were used only by the nobility. The earlier kings, therefore, had no claim of any sort to a family name, but are often designated by some quality, as Alfred the Great, Edgar the Peaceable, Edward the Martyr, etc.

Kings do not have family names which exactly agree with those of common people, their titles or estates more often giving them what corresponds to a surname. The kings from William the Conqueror to Stephen (1066-1154) were of the Norman line. The Plantagenets received their name from the adoption by Geoffrey, Count of Anjou, of the broom (plante de genet) as an insignia. This name was borne by the kings from Henry II, to Richard II, (1154-1485).

The Tudor line, which includes the rulers from Henry VII. to Elizabeth (1485-1603), received their name from Owen Tudor, a Welshman, who married the widowed queen of Henry V, and whose grandson was Henry VII.

The Stuart line includes the rulers from James I. to Anne (1603-1702). The name is derived from the important office of steward to the royal household of Scotland.

Outlawry in Scotland.

The unusual sentence of outlawry recently pronounced by the Scottish courts is a relic of the days before extradition existed. For it was the usual punishment of those who wilfully avoided the execution of legal process and was inflicted upon the criminal who fled the country and could not be brought back. In the old days to be outlawed—in the case of women they called it waived—meant that one could be knocked on the head by any passerby, and outlaws in fact were said to be caput lupinum—that is, they had a wolf's head and could be treated as a wild beast.—London Mail.

Witches and Fairies.

Belief in witchcraft, still an article of the popular creed in Essex and may be elsewhere in England, is not the only survival of the kind. In the south of Ireland are still to be found people who believe in fairies. The writer knew an Irishwoman, one of thousands of her class, who would not travel a country road after dark for fear of them, though what "they" would do deponent sayeth not.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Literary.

"Oh, I simply adore Meredith and Browning and Henry James," said the rushing young person. "So do I," said Little Rinks. "They are perfectly delightful. It's like sending your mind to a gymnasium. Er—do you read them in the original?"

Very Probable.

Bibbs—What has become of the fool killer? Gibbs—I can't guess. Bibbs, unless he quit because he couldn't get extra pay for working overtime.—Judge.

Solvent. "How did you come out on the $3,000 house you contracted for?" "Came out in pretty fair shape. The contractor spent my $3,000 and took the house for the difference."

Even So. "Goodness! See that woman at the next table. Her hands look like nutmeg graters, and they're covered with sores." "I see—diamond in the rough."

The Rule. "You must never forget, my boy, that about one-third of all success is pure luck." "But how can you make sure of this luck?" "Why, by being successful."

Forestalled.

One day Jones was rambling along the boulevard when he was hailed by his friend Smith. While talking Jones noticed that Smith continually rubbed the palm of his hand.

"What in the world is the matter with your hand?" he finally demanded. "You have been rubbing and scratching it ever since we stopped here."

"The palm itches like blazes," answered Smith. "They say that it is a sure sign that you are about to get some money."

"Um!" thoughtfully returned Jones as a great light suddenly dawned upon him. "Here is where you get wise to the fact that there is nothing in signs. I haven't a dollar to spare."

Horse Sense.

In "Tod Sloane," by himself, the once famous jockey says that a horse exceeds even a dog in intelligence and that if a thoroughbred were small enough to run about a house like a dog and have the same chances instead of being so much alone surprising results would follow. "Cussedness" in horses, he thinks, may be caused by too much inbreeding, bringing about an extraordinary temperament. The best jockey, says Sloane, is the boy with a nervous temperament. "He is quick and alert to take in a situation and becomes a human ferret, finding out things for himself."

Difficult.

The adjutant was lecturing to the subalterns of the battalion. "In the field," he said, "it is now the duty of an officer to make himself look as much like a man as possible."

Everybody laughed. "That is, I mean," he explained, "as much like a soldier as possible."—London Mirror.

Helpful Hint.

Designing Widow — Speaking of conundrums, can you tell me why the letter "d" is like the marriage service? Slowboy—I'm no good at conundrums. Why? Widow—Because "we" can't be "wed" without it.

His Illustration. "Papa, what is faith?" "Well, my boy, they say your baby brother sleeps, but I've never seen him do it. Yet if I believe he does—that's faith."

His Inference. "This is fine growing weather!" tri-umphantly stated honest Farmer Jolly. "What is that to me?" snarled J. Fuller Gloom, the vile and venomous pessimist. "I've got my growth."

Charm Cures.
Belief in charm cures is not quite extinct even today. Only a short while ago a child in East Anglia went to a chemist with a request from her mother for a spider in a nutshell to hang round baby's neck to cure his whooping cough. In the west country some still pin faith in the cure of whooping cough by administering cooked dormouse or by plucking a hair from the sick child's neck, hiding it in a piece of meat and giving it to a dog. No child will ever have the malady, others affirm, if it has ridden on the back of a bear!—London Telegraph.

Friday Weddings.
Friday is a day of which about to wed couples are extremely nervous. It is a matter of record in most cities that fewer licenses are issued on that day than on the other five of the working week. In the divorce court no such hesitancy is manifest.
