GETHSEMANE.

BY THE REV. DR. DEEMS.

Could Peter and James and John drink of the cup of which he drank and be baptized with the baptism wherein he was baptized? So they thought. Now, their Lord shows them that cup and that baptism. What a mark of confidence! He did not reject them because of their selfconceit and ambition. He knew that talk a great deal about ministers, and | these were frailties belonging to the souls that were devoted to him, and he never expects of human nature perfection which does not belong to Christ's second coming than your millions of dollars to pay the salaries it! So he takes them with him into the Garden of Sorrows. No confidence is greater than that which we place in the friends whom we admit in the midst of us alive, while only to a sight of our agonies.

To relieve in some measure the calamity she saw coming, she committed to memory a large portion of Baxter's Saint's Rest, some of the sermons of Wesley most admired by her, and forty hymns. "I have held the book," says her grandson, the Bishop, " and heard her recite for an hour at a time, and she but rarely miscalled a word; and those she would miss were a mere substitution of the little connective forms of speech, that did not much affect the sense. The satisfaction she realized in this, she said, well rewarded her for the labor of committing. Even in her blindness she was cheerful, devoted to her Christian duties.

MAN AS A HOUSEKEEPER. Man is a creature that has always elicited our unqualified admiration; he is in many capacities useful, and by a judicious arrangement of blue cloth and brass buttons, can often be rendered to a certain degree ornamental. He would bankrupt domestic bliss in a week. And how the hearts of the disciples would have thrilled with delight had they believed the testimony of the women, instead of regarding their words as "idle tales."

One has very truthfully said, " Man does not owe to Christ the peculiar tribute of loyalty and devotion that woman does." A lazy man is too contemptible to live, and has no rights his tellow men are bound to respect. Young man, you may as well understand, first as last, that you have got to work for all you get in this world. You may not always get what you earn, but if you would keep out of the poor house, and have a competency in your old age, you will have to work for it. To be sure there is a great difference in men. Some are endowed with greater intellectual powers than others, while some are greater physically. Some men are born low down in the scale of intellectualism, but mark you well the physique of such men. There is a way provided, however, for every man to better himself. You won't find it in the gin mill, neither is it to be found at the gaming table. Remember one thing, and that is, you have not the capacity to take into yourself all the strong drink made in the world, and you had better let the contract out before you attempt to work on it.

Yes, the world presents too many temptations for the minds of all to withstand, and the only safe way for a young man is to keep away from the temptation.

Boys, the recklessness of youth is what has caused so many mothers' hair to turn as white as the driven snow. It's this that has caused so many fathers and mothers to give up by the wayside and be laid in premature graves. The tollies of our youth hang heavier upon the hearts of our fathers and mothers than the mill-stone that grinds the kernel into the finest flower. · Its almost a pity that some of our young men of to-day didn't fall in between the millstones before they had caused the trouble they have.

A QUICK TEMPER.

What did I hear you say, Theodore? That you had a quick temper, but were soon over it; and that it was only a word and a blow with you sometimes but you were always sorry as soon as it was over?

Ah, my boy, I'm afraid that was the way with Cain. People almost seem to pride themselves on having quick tempers, as though they were not things to be ashamed of, and fought against, and prayed over with tears. God's word does not take your view of it, for it says expressively that "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty;" that " Better is he that ruleth his own spirit than he that taketh a city;" and "Anger resteth in the bosom of fools.

A man who carries a quick temper about with him is much like a man who rides a horse which has the trick of running away. You wouldn't care to own a runaway horse, would you?

PAUL'S PREACHING,

1 COR 1: 17-31. EXPOSITION.

Ver. 17.—The apostle speaks comparatively, not absolutely. The apostles' original commission included baptizing (Matt. 28: 19); and St. Paul did not intend to depreciate baptism, (Rom. 6; 3-4). He did baptize some, as we learn from the previous verses. But in his view, preaching the gospel was their great work, and all other things were to be subordinate to it. If successful in making converts, baptism would necessarily fo!low in due course; but except in special cases new converts had to be tested before being admitted into the Church by baptism, and this the apostles could well leave to those appointed over the churches, while they went on in their great work. The apostle describes the manner of his preaching-"not with wisdom of words." No one was more able to use all the arts of human rhetoric; but he chose rather to set forth the truths of the Gospel in a plain and simple manner—" lest the cross of car, because when cars telescope they Christ should be made of non-effect, or lest his hearers should think more of his eloquence than of the gospel which he preached.

18. -- In the Revised Version " are perishing and are being saved" - a better translation, making the meaning much plainer. Those filled with the self-sufficiency of worldy wisdom reject the gospel as foolishness, and by its rejection are perishing; but those who in true simplicity have received it are being saved. They find it a power to humble their pride, soften their hearts, renew their wills, and transform them into new creatures in Christ Jesus.

19-21. - The world with all its boasted wisdom has never attained to the knowledge of God. On the contrary, the knowledge of Himself which God imparted in the beginning has been corrupted, until men turned "the glory of the incorruptible God into a lie." None of the ancient philesophers could find out God. The educated classes of Greece and Rome had wisdom enough to disbelieve the common people; but all they could | plot well covered with it. The plot whose wisdom the Lord contounded by what they considered "the foolishness of preaching." In our time it is the same. We find those wise in the wisdom of this world sneering at preaching as a means of reforming and elevating men, but, notwithstanding. the preaching succeeds; men's hearts | planted with whole small potatoes are moved; numbers feel the power of the Gospel; characters are chang | Country Gentleman. ed, and lives reformed, while the apostles of human wisdom are la menting their want of success. More people will throng to hear a Spurgeon, or a Moody, any day, than a se cular philosopher could gather round him in a litetime. The wise of this world say, "That is because of the ignorance of the people." But many of the most educated are as much attracted by the preaching of the sim ple gospel as the ignorant are. The success of the gospel lies in its adaptation to meet the needs of the human

22-25 - "The Jews require a sign." See Matt. 12: 38; 16: 1; Mark 8: 2; Luke 11: 16; John 4: 48. They not content with the miracles Jesus had wrought, wanted some visible sign continually wrought. and this desire became a stumbing block to them in receiving the truth . The Greeks seek after wisdom ' They were unwilling to receive any doctrine they could not subject to the test of their philosophic systems. Neither class was prepared to receive the gospel, for it requires the exercise of a simple taith in the truth proclaimed. 26-29.--With a few exceptions, the early converts were from the lower classes. The progress of Christian ity in those days was the fullest possible illustration of what the apostle says; for beginning with the com uon people, it made its way gradually upwards, until its converts were found in the p lace at Rome, and eventually the Emperor himself became a Christian, Thus God confounded the wisdom of this world. and by the weakthings of this world accomplished His great purposes.

1. Wisdom, -He is wisdom to us through the enlightenment of His Spirit, enabling us to see things as we had not seen them before; to roots, -Agriculturist. distinguish the true wisdom from that falsely so called; to separate truth from error and understand the deep things of God.

2., Righteousne's -This word here means justification. Faith is imputed for righteousness to those who believe in Christ, and who thus receive what St. Paul calls "the righteousness of God" (Rom. 3) This justification is the introductory blessing of salvation, and the foundation of all other changes, and of all other spiritual experiences. 3. Sanct fication .- Distinguish between what is me ant here and entire sanctification. The sanc ification here is the principle of holiness in roduced into our hear's on our conversion, which is to grow and spread until it fills our nature. It begins in regenattain to full conformity to Christ.

SAFEST PLACE ON A TRAIN.

A Central conductor was asked what was the safest place on a train. " Middle of middle car, right hand side," said that personage when asked. The rapidity with which he made the reply, led one to halt him as he was passing on, and ask him to explain himself. "Why," said he, "every one asks me that question, and I am so used to answering it that I have got it down to the fewest words possible. I shouldn't wonder if you were to ask me that when I am asleep if I wouldn't answer it without waking up. The middle car of a train is the satest, because it is the furthest removed from a collision either in front or behind. Even if an engine plunged into an open drawbridge, it might not take more than a car or two with it. Couplings would be likely to break, you know. SIZE OF SEED POTATOES.

As you have recently had some correspondence relative to potatoes, I give the following experience this year: I had set out a young orchard on sod land, and planted part in potatoes, hauling out for these some manure. I could not give them much attention, Part of the plot was planted with small whole potatoes left over from the previous winter's supply, and part was planted with 'seed potatoes," bought for the purpose. In May I had the refuse straw and chaff idolatrous systems trusted in by the from the stock yard hauled and the give to the anxious heart instead was | was left alone till digging, save half | mere speculation. TOWARDS THE DAY.

The friends of temperance in the United States have been both surprised and pleased at the defeat of the bonded-whiskey bill in the House of Representatives at Washington, by a vote of 186 to 53. The quantity of distilled spirits in the United States hangs on it in the utmost of agony; lons, of which the United States was taking care of 74,582,117 gallons in ther, if it be possible, let this cup pass bond. As the period approached for it has been said, "are the mysteries to meet their engagements without view it then dense darkness rests upon the Government having the whiskey as security and charging 41 per cent. interest on the unpaid taxes. As a have turned every one unto his own ders of the liquor to pay $10,000,000 into the Treasury within three months, or else to have the stuff thrown on the market at a disastrous sacrifice, every effort was made to prevent such a result. went so far as to say in the prelude to one of his Boston lectures :

The new creed is a fast and loose compromise. It is a tissue of latitudinarian loopholes. What would be the result of adopting it? A millennium of milk and water. The new creed represents rather what a few holders of eccentric doctrines could be brought to sign than what the denomination, as represented in its councils or the working faith of its active churches, really holds. As, in a spring, the water sinks to the lowest level of the banks around it, so in the new creed, the doctrine sinks to the lowest level represented by the various conflicting views of the committee which drew it up.

There is some force in the remark of an English contemporary: "Mr. Cook is a great man, but a trifle too nearly omniscient, and some of his talk is 'tall' as well as able. But on the whole he is doing a great work well."

An exchange commends the wisdom of this counsel from an unremem- are opened every day with the reading

A great part of practical wisdom consists in the simple art of letting perplexing questions remain open : and conversely, one of the greatest. as well as one of the commonest mistakes which men make, is to imagine that all questions must be settled before one can go calmly on in the quiet business of duty doing. When the world begins to commend the wisdom of the farmer who refuses to plant his potatoes until he has settled the vexed question of the number of the elements, it may be time to begin debating whether Christian duties have no binding claim upon men, until the open questions of Biblical criticism or of religious philosophy find a universally accepted solution. Meanwhile, the greatest wisdom which the average Christian can show in the circumstances is to go bravely about his daily work, and let the open questions re-

Our neighbors in Prince Edward Island show their appreciation of the value of education by the amount they expend for its advancement. With a population scarcely a third as large as New Brunswick, their expenditure for the past year amounted to the large sum of $101,193, considerably more than half sthat used for the same purpose by New Brunswick. During the year in the 424 schools in operation, 21,495 pupils have been enrolled, with an average attendance of 11,759. The Island will not suffer through her representatives abroad and difficulties if they look to him, had his 90 mile drive for nothing, he ion for the youth, and maintains her present efficient management.

The "Woman's Exchange" is an enterprise undertaken by the Woman's Christian Association of Cincinnati. The object of its establishment was to furnish an arrangement by which women with slender purses but deft fingers could find a more ready and profitable sale for their work than in the general market. A year's trial has shown it to be an assured success. There was paid to women for articles sold there during the year, $8,490. The receipts for the same time, $12,-506, were $1,200 from subscriptions, $860 from consignors' tickets, $8614 from sales. This includes, needle work, plain and ornamental, and pieces of decorative art.

Herein be a follower of me, as I am of Christ. I often apeak loud, often vehemently : but I never scream; I never strain myself. I dare not : I know it would be a sin against God and my own soul. Perhaps one reason why that good man, Thomas Walsh, yea, and John Manners, too, were in such grievous darkness before they died was, because they shortened their own lives."

Mr. George Munro, of New York. has announced his intention to form a chair of metaphysics at Dalhousie College. He nominates Prof. Schurman as the incumbent of this chair, and Dr. W. J. To the Editor of the Wesleyan. A TEMPTED SAVIOUR.

DEAR SIR. - The season of Lent is nearly terminated and I have from day to day deferred writing to you about a subject connected therewith: namely the temptation of the Saviour in the wilderness. I have repeatedly heard the pasasge in Hebrews 4th chap. 15th verse, quoted, and once preached from, but should like to enquire how Christ could be tempted in all points like as we are. . He had no family cares, no business troubles, no notes to meet, no starving children to care for, &c., &c. How then is this text applicable to all men in all relations of life? I sincerely believe he ried with us over night. I explained helps his children in all their trials my system, and on his return, having of them are who have several years of sickness, &c. I cannot understand. Perhaps some of your correspondents may make some profitable remarks on ary sermon at three appointments yesthis subject.

AGAIN.A correspondent writes:

I was very much interested in "A Pastor's Letter" which appeared in your last issue. It is remarkable how different minds in different places arrive at the same conclusions. "A Pastor's' plan is substantially that adopted by me for the last four years, during which time I have asked for no deputation, and have thus far succeeded in invariably doubling the subscriptions procured in the ordinary way. Last autumn, a dear brother who was on his way to a Missionary meeting 45 miles from his home, tarannounced his determination to test my experiment. He has, it appears, succeeded beyond his most sanguine expectations. I preached a Missionterday with the following results: subscriptions and collections $78, as against $27, the total amount raised on the entire circuit last year in the time honored way. Littell's Living Age for March 29th and April 5th contains The Aristocracy of Letters; My Schooldays from 1830 to 1840; The Brutes and their Master; The Exile in Siberia; Frederick Denison Maurice; Glimpses of the Soudan; The American School of Classical Studies at Athens; The Fabric of Westminister Abbey; with several other papers and instalments of fiction, etc. The number for April 5th begins the 161st Volume.

The April number of the Pulpit Treasury closes the first year of this fresh, vigorous, progressive magazine, of which E B. Treat, 757 Broadway, New York, is publisher. The ser mon it contains from the pen of Dr. J. L. Withrow, of the old Park street church, Boston, on the faith that saves, is worth the price of this num er, and yet it is only one of several of great excellence. Every department is full of good things, from able pens.

The Elicor of the Canadian Methodist Magazine should be congratulat. ed on the variety of topics presented in his number for April. New Bruns wick and Newfoundland come in for description; and Christian Unity, the Loyal sts of Canada, and various suljects of a religious and moral character find discussion in its pages. A sy of our leaders can procure it for 20 cents from our Book-room, and on leading it will desire to receive suc essive numbers.

The Homiletic Monthly for April, (Funk and Wagnalls, 10 & 12 Dey St., New York), strikes us as an advance upon any previous issue. Cer. tainly very few periodicals present in a single number contributions from such an array of distinguished writers, American, English, and German. The leading sermen by ProfChristlieb. and the shorter sermons by men of note at home and abroad, are admirable On the whole, we know not where in the same space, such a subjects are treated in an a decard scholarly manner by the best 1. Indicates writters of the day, as in this Conference will be held at the time aumber.

Among the books soon to be published by Mesers. Funk and Wagpalls, we note two which will especially interest our readers. The Claw of the Maze, by Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, is on " Modern Scepticism and the way to meet it." It is being printed from advance sheets sent by Mr. Spurgeon. The Memoirs of David Brainerd, messionary to the Indians, is based on Jonathan Edwards and Sereno E. Dwight's Memoirs of Brainerd; with Essays on "The Spirit of Missions," Brannerd." Order through S. F. wood, D. D.

All who love music will be interested in No. 9 of Messrs. Funk and Wag. nail's Standard Library-My Musical Micmories; by H. R. Haweis. A severely practical reader may find a superabundance of the sentimental, and the keen critic may call in question some statements, but Mr. Haweis. an Episcopal minister, with no mean skill in handling the pen, writes of what he knows, and writes of it with enthusiasm and with an instinctive idea as to what points will most interest his readers. One here may learn much of deceased and living masters in music. Price 25 cents. S. F. Huestis, agent.

Several subjects of present interest are ably treated in the North American Review for April. "The Decline of American Shipping," by John Codman and N. Dingley, is an able discussion of an important subject. Judge Jameson, in the same number discusses the question, "Shall Our Civilization be Preserved," pointing out the means at hand for withstanding the various agencies, physical, moral and intellectual, which threaten to overturn existing civil and social institutions. Other articles "Changes in the Climate of North America," by Dr. Felix Os. wald ; "A Plea for Modern Languages, 'by C. A. Eggert; and "Literature for Children," by Julian Haw-

THE DANIEL STEINMANN.

Rumors of a terrible wreck, which found their way last Friday afternoon through this city, received speedy confirmation. On the previous evening the steamer Daniel Steinmann, of the White Cross Line, from Antwerp for this port, was wrecked near Sam. bro Island, and one hundred and twenty three persons were lost. Captain Schoonhaven, who had been mistoek the Sambro light for that on Chebucto Head, and, not comparing his soundings with those on his chart, only found his mistake when his vessel was about to strike the rocks, to sink with nearly all on board. All the passengers were called on deck, whence many were washed away by a tremendous sea, while others were drowned in a boat beside the ship, and others on her deck and bridge were also taken down with her. Ten only escaped. Of these, two-the captain and a passenger-got hold of the fore topsail yard, and remained there from 10 p. m, to 5.30 a. m., expecting atevery moment to have to leap into the sea. Eight others—six seamen and two passengers-landed in a boat about 1 a. m., having been guided to and light party on the island. The the American Board.

No chief officers are left to confirm or question the captain's statement. Most of the passengers were in families with four and six children each. none of whom were saved. Only eleven bodies, most of them sadly battered on the rocks, have yet been recovered. The watch on the first body recovered had stopped exactly at 11.30. Comparatively little can be told by the seamen of the circumstances of the short, sad scene which many were precipitated into the surging deep, save that for a few moments John. the screams of women and children were heart rending.

NOVA SCOTIA CONFERENCE.

DEAR MR. EDITOR. - Permit me, through the columns of the WESLEYAN, to respectfully remind my brethren that the Conference of Nova Scotia, appointed to meet on Friday, 20th June next, will be a Conference composed of ministers and laymen, according to the discipline adopted by the General Conference at Belleville, and that it will be necessary that all preparatory steps in Quarterly and District Meetings should be taken according to the constitution.

QUARTERLY MEETINGS.

Recording Stewards are ex officio members of the Annual District meet ings, but Representatives to the Provisional District meetings, whether Recording Stewards or not, must be elected, by their respective Quarterly meetings. (See page 240, Journal United General Conference).

DISTRICT MEETINGS.

In addition to the usual District meeting, for the review of the work of the past year, there must also be a Provisional District meeting held, the work of which is indicated on page 177, Journal United General Conference. The Provisional District meeting can be held immediately after the close of the annual District meet

FROM THE MISSION ROOMS.

JUVENILE MISSIONARY PRESENTS. We beg to remind all concerned that we are prepared to fill orders for the Book Presents for Juvenile Missionary Collectors. All orders so far received have been filled, and it is very desirable that as soon as the work of the children is completed on each circuit, the list of such collectors, with case, should be sent to the Rev. A. Sutherland, D. D., Methodist Mission Rooms, Toronto. As far as possible this should be attended to early, so that all orders may be filled before Conference.

It may save some correspondence it brethren will remember that Mission ary Collectors, whether old or young, who take up the ordinary subscrip tions to the Mission Fund, are not to be counted as Juvenile collectors. neither are they entitled to receive these presents. In a few instances there has seemed to be some misunderstanding upon this point.

Rev. J. Wier, of Bermuda, says: Special services, extending over several weeks, have resulted in much spiritual benefit in Port Royal and Somerset. I have reason to believe that upwards of one hundred persons have been brought to God. Many of these are uniting with our classes. At Somerset our spacious church has been thronged nightly. A spirit of intense earnestness and of the deepest solemn ity has pervaded the congregations.

At the close of the winter season of the Truro Methodist Institute, the President, Dr. Hall, said that the members of the four years added to gether amount to five hundred. A large amount of literary work had been accomplished. In the four years has been raised the sum of $525. Out of this the piano has been purchased, the hall painted and the platform carpeted, and after running expenses were paid, the balance—not a small meet on the third Wednesday in June one-devoted to church purposes.-

> By a note from the Rev. J. H. Davis, of the 5th inst., we learn that the Chairman of the Truro Districtthe Rev. Thomas Rogers, M. A., and the writer had just returned from Sheet Harbor, where they were assisting Bro. Hooper in missionary meetings, and special services. "The last four days we spent in holding evangelistic services- two and three services daily. In answer to earnest prayer the Holy Spirit was poured out, so that at the very first service there were penitents at the communion railing to be prayed for. The interest continued to increase, and the work to deepen. As a result, a number of precious souls found pardon and peace through believing in Jesus, and others are earnestly seeking Christ. Bro. Hooper faithfully preach es the Gospel to a people who highly appreciate his services, and is much beloved by the people among whom he is laboring.

From Lunenburg, Rev. W. Brown writes: "Sabbath, March 23rd, was a soul refreshing day to our people in this town. As a result of special services at Black Rocks and Heckman's Island during the winter, owned of God in the conversion of more than a score of souls, twenty-two were found worthy, after three months trial, to be received into the church. The ordinance of baptism "with water" was administered to one of the candidates. and the right hand of fellowship given to all. More than a hundred bowed reverently around the sacramental table, and in the emblems of the broken body and shed blood, by faith received, renewed their consecration vows to Christ. In the afternoon, a vast concourse assembled to hear T. M. Lewis, Esq., Lecturer of the Grand Division, who gave an eloquent and powerful address, calculated to warm and inspire all who heard him. Mr. Lewis may count on a full house whenever he favours us with lecture or address. In the evening Rev. C. Lockhart preached an admirable sermon to a large and appreciative congregation.

MEMORIAL NOTICES.

GEORGIE BARNES.

We lost a lovely little girl out of our Sunday-school in Hampton last week. She was Georgie, youngest daughter of George Barnes, Esq., Registrar of Deeds for the County.

The dear little girl, twelve years old just two days before her death, on account of her gentle, winning ways was a favorite with young and old. All the children walked in procession at her funeral, and the services both at the house and at the grave were full of weeping. All winter Georgie was a sufferer from rheumatic fever. Then diphtheria came, and her constitution was too weak to bear it. Through all the pain she was remarkably patient, and though but a little child she had learned to love her Saviour and her

The loss in her home is very severe. At a memorial service on the Sunday nearly a score of children stood up and professed a wish to live the Christian life. They will be formed into a Band and with a suitable lealer, we trust, they will grow up in Christ.

HENRY BOYD MAGEE, ESQ.

died at his residence in Melvern Square, Annapolis Co., Feb. 24th, 1884, aged 57 years. Brother Magee and his wife were converted to God under the ministry of the Rev. Christopher Lockhart, some thirty years since. They a once united themselves with the Methodist Church, in the fellowship of which they remained, and in sweet union with each other, until death did its work. Brother Magee ever manifested a laudable interest in the prosperity of the Church of his choice, and supported with a generous heart and liberal hand its ministry and beneficent institutions. For some time he filled the honorable offices of class leader and steward, and showed a commendable interest both in the temporal and spiritual welfare of the Church. As a husband and father he was a model man, ever kind and thoughtful, anticipating and providing for the wants of those committed to his care with an unostentations gentleness which made him greatly beloved in his family. As a husband he was all that the Christian gentleman should be; and if he erred as a father at all it was on the side of parental indulgence. As a citizen he was prized as a man of a public spirit and generous philanthropic heart. He was a Methodist in the true sense of that term: and in the spirit of Methodism he sought to be "the friend of all and the enemy of none." It is safe to say that, if all professors of the rengion of Unrist evinced the same broad catholicity of spirit that character ized Henry Boyd Magee, bigotry censoriousness and exclusiveness would soon be banished from the Church of God. He was a peace-maker everywhere, and when he died his fellowcitizens mourned the loss of one who had blessed their community. He filled the office of paymaster in our militia: and on the day of his funeral the militia attended in uniform and presented an address to the bereaved family in which they spoke in the most praise-worthy terms of the integrity, zeal and public spirit of the deceased and of their own conscious loss in his death. The funeral itself was a public testimony to his character. It was the largest gathering of the kind we have attended since coming into the valley, representing all classes and in which were five ministers of the gospel, of different churches. Brother Magee's last illness was somewhat protracted and he suffered much; but Christ was with him, his affliction was sanctified and when death came he was ready for his change. He leaves a widow and five children, three daughters and two sons, to mourn their loss. May they ever find Christ to be the friend that sticketh closer than a brother; and may He be to them better than husband and father.

We held our Annual Missionary meeting on the 11th inst. The writer pre sided, addresses were delivered by Messrs Philip Lake, John Collier, John Lake, Senr., and John E. Lake. The Rev. Jas. Nurse gave an excellent speech and was loudly applauded. The choir did good service and gave pleasing selections of music. Our young men and young women came out nobly with their dollars for the Mission cause: in fact everyone was bent on giving and they did give cheerily and merrily; thus we are able to report the largest collection for Missions ever made in Fortune. We have organized, in connection with our Sabbath-School, a Band of Hope which now musters nearly one hundred strong. We held a public meeting of the Band last night, which was well attended, the minister presiding. An attractive programme was gone through to the appreciation of a delighted audience. Such meetings have an elevating tendency. Our youth are trained to shun drink, to discard the pipe. May "Excelsior," the name of the Band, ever be engraven on their

GEN. GORDON.

An old British army pensioner relates this story of General "Chinese" Gordon: On the first day on which fire was opened at Sebastopol from the twentyone gun battery, the sand-bags forming one of the embrasures caught fire from the flash of a too closely mounted gun. A corporal and a sapper of the Enginthe matter, and quietly telling the corporal, "Never order a man to do what you are afraid to do yourself," got up on the pile of bags himself and said,

GREENLAND.

Christianity in Greenland has had curious history. A. D. 1000, Lief, son of the Icelandic chief, visited the King of Norway, who was a Christian. Through his instrumentality Lief was converted and sent home with Christian teachers, who very speedily Christianised the whole population. For 406 years the true religion flourished. Then, in 1406, another Bishop was sent from Norway, and from the time of his reaching there nothing whatever was heard of Greenland for nearly three hundred years! Nobody knew what had become of the people. At this period Hans Egede, a Scandinavian minister, and his wife Gertrude, were fired with a desire to visit that land for Jesus. On their arrival not even a remnant of the o'd Christian colony remained. There were no persons to be found out a few savages of a low type, ignorant and degraded. For fifteen years these two faithful souls A. A. Boak..... laboured there amid incredible hardships and difficulties, and accomplishing scarcely anything. But in 1733 the King of Norway, influenced by Christians at home, sent them the welcome attended. At our Tuesday preaching news that the mission was to be reins .vice we find a large and most atten- | forced and vigorously pushed. Hans t ve congregation and our Friday night | and Gertrude gave their life to the work, prayer meeting is often crowded to suffo- and upon the foundation which they cation. We have held holiness meeings laid have the Moravian brethren built up on Saturlay night, which have led many a goodly Christian edifice in Greenland.

WAS IT INSTINCT?-A couple of seasons of sweet delight and holy power, young elephants which were recently and a few gave their hearts to Jesus. provided with a home at the St. We long for a spiritual outbreak and a Petersburg Zoological Gardens were thorough religious storm, in which fed with cakes and other good things sinners will be converted by wholesale, to such an extent by visitors to the Devil routed, and the alien armies | the gardens that their health greatly driven back. We believe it our privi- suffered and it became necessary to interfere. The public were requested to be less generous in their offerings, and the request being not generally attended to, a notice to the same effect was painted on a metal plate fastened above the entrance of their house. This failing to attain the object in view, and visitors continuing to feed the elephants with pastry, an official was stationed at the entrance to call attention to the notice. The animals observing that whenever the latter raised his hand to point to the sign, buns and cakes about to be given were wi hheld, drew their own conclusions and acted in their own interests. When their keeper looked in upon them one morning be found the sign on the ground in such a damaged condition that a new plate had to be procured and placed out of the animals' reach.

> Spelling.—Mr. William Houston read a paper on "Spelling Reform" a few days ago at a meeting of the Canadian Institute in Toronto. He stated that he reads between three and four thousand letters a year, and finds that hardcorrectly spelled, and that as a rule the uneducated spell more correctly than the educated. Modern spelling, he thought, is a tyrannical superstition inherited from the eighteenth century, and Milton's spelling was much more correct, both etymologically and phonetically. It will be news to many that Edmund Spenser did not use the u such words as honor, for omitting which Americans have been so severely criticised by the English. Doubtless a reform in spelling is desirable, but the practical difficulties in the way of accomplishing it are great.

Proportion of the sexes -The new Census figures giving the relative proportions of the sexes are very striking. Out of a total population of twenty-millions, females are in excess of males to the extent of nearly seven hundred thousand. Yet at birth the males are in a majority. Within a year the balance turns the other way, and so continues until the period between ten and fitteen years of age, when the males are again the greater number. But the ascendency is only temporary; and, in the next eers were told off to repair the damage. Wherever on the world's surface a large deposit of gold is found, it is equivalent to an informal title-deed conveying the property to men of English origin. In other days this was true of Spain, but now the gold of the world belongs to the English-speaking races. -Pall Mall Budget.

A clergyman in Durham, England, some short time since, taught an old man in his parish to read, and found him an apt pupil. After his lessons were finished he was not able to call for some time, and when he did he only and the wife at home. "How's John?" saidhe. "How does he get on with his reading?" "O, nicely, sir." "Ah, I suppose he'll read his Bible very comfortably now?" "Bible, sir! Bless you, he was out of the Bible into the newspapers long ago.'

A few weeks ago a gentleman entered the office of a well-known insurance agent, and tossing a paper on the counter, said to the clerk, "That's run out. and I want to get it renewed. The clerk unfolded the document, and, with a smile, inquired: "Are you sure that this has run out ?" "Oh! yes!" sail the gentleman; "my wife told me it ran out yesterday." "Well, I am sorry for you: but we are not taking that kind of risks now," responded the clerk, as he handed it back to him. It was his marriage certificate.

The reason why GRAHAM'S PAIN ERAD-ICATOR is so successful, and makes such astonishing cures, is, that in its combination the active principles of some of the best medicinal trees and herbs are used, prepared in their most concentrated form, and so combined as to give the greatest power with perfect safety. Its direct action is to subdue inflammation and allay irritation of the nerves, thus striking at the root of many of the diseases that afflict the human family. In Neuralgia and Chronic Rheumatism, which arise from nervous irritation, the use of the Pain Eradicator is always attended with the happiest results. Notwithstanding the immense number of watches made in other countries, the Swiss watches still continue to be in demand. It is estimated that there are about 45,000 workmen engaged in this industry in Switzerland.

" A. L. O. E. (Miss C. M. Tucker) may be termed a writer of sanctified fiction. There have been many of these, yet, judging by the hold her stories have had upon the outhful mind, she has been queen of them all. Gifted with the genius and possessed of the arts of the popular novelist, she knew how to catch attention and hold it. productions were characterized by ingenuity t plot and happiness of diction. But she was not content with endeavor simply to entertain. The spiritual profit of the reade was the prime purpose, and all else was bent to that end. Her work shows that sh acutely comprehended child nature. Some writers tell a story with no inherent instruction, and append a moral. The child reads the story, skips the moral, and is nothing profited. Miss Tucker interweaves the two so that they cannot be separated. Every urn in her narratives illustrates some portant truth or enforces some valuable les son." - Daily Witness.

F. WRIGHT, MANUFACTURING CHE-MIST.

KENSINGTON HIGH SIREET, LONDON, W. "This WINE is guaranteed to be the juice of the finest grapes of the Cote d'or, Andalusia, and the Medoc. It is perfectly free from Alcohol, and is guaranteed to be Pure Grape Juice. It has stood the test of 22 years continous sale in every climate, and is now used in upwards of 1500 Churches of all de-nominations. The mode of manufacture is a slight modification of a well-known ancient practice, and effectually preserves the grateful flavor and the rich nutritious qualities unimpaired. It is therefore admirably adapted in cases of debility and fever, in which the stomach is 'oo weak to digest other food. Children suffering from febrile ailments drink it with avidity, even when all other food has been refused.

JOHN M. HODGES, Esq., M.D., F.C.S., Public Analyst for Antrim County and

Belfast Borough, " I have chemically examined the bottle of Wright's Un'ermented Wine (taken by my son from the stock held by Mr. Wright's Belfast A. ent), and find that it is free from alcolol, and contains the constitutents of grap juice. When mixed with water it will prove an agreeable beverage.

FROM REV. JOHN PURWASH, Formerly Professor at Mount Allison Wesleyan College, Nackrille N.B.

Sackville, May 23rd, 1882. "I have just finished the analysis of the Wine sent. It is necessarily a slow process, some of the steeps taki g two days. This Wine contains No ALCOHOL, nor any deleterious ingredient. * * * It can be relied on as wholesome, not having any intoxica-ting properties. * * * ."

Cheap Hymn Books.

For r pwards of three months we have been unable to supply our customers with the Thirty Cent Hymn Book. A new edition with index to the verses, has just been issued and we hope to te able very shortly to fill the many orders we have on our books.

PREMIUM BOOK.

PRAYER AND ITS REMARKABLE ANSWERS. The demand for this book has been much larger than we anticipated, so that we are with the copies they have ordered. As soon as we can obtain a fresh supply we will fill all the orders. Please be patient.

The following letter will explain the delain sending out our Premium book, "Prajer and its Remarkable Answers," to those who have ordered it.

Toronto, March 14th., 1884. Rev. S F Huestis, 141 Granville St., Halifas, N.S.

I) at Sir: - We cannot say just when we can have another edition of "Remarkable Answers to Prayer." The order was given to the factory a month ago or more, but there is uch a pressure of work ah ad of it, that I cannot say when they will be ready We will, however, get them to press at the wery first opportunity.

It might be well for you to mention in your paper, that the supply has been exhausted, and that you are awa ting the printing of a new edition, and ask your subscribers to be patient for a little while.

> Yours truly, WM. SRIGGS.

We have on hand our other Premium book, "Matthew Mellowdew," by J. Jackson Wray, and will be glad to send it to any subscriber who has ordered "Prayer, etc.," should he prefer receiving it now, rather than wait until the other is ready.

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER

To CONSUMPTIVES .- WILBOR'S COD-LIVER OIL and Lime has now been before the public twenty years, and has steadily grown in favor and appreciation. This could not be the case unless the preparation was of high intrinsic value. The combination of the Phosphate of Lime with pure Cod-Liver Oil, as prepared by Dr. Wilbor, has produced a In w phase in the treatment of Consumptien and all diseases of the Lungs. It can be taken by the most delicate invalil without creating the disgusting nausea which is such an objection to the Cod-Liver Oil when taken without Lime. It is prescribed by the regular faculty. Sold by the proprietor, A. B. WILBOR, Chemist, Bostor, and by all druggists.

A CASE MUCH TALKED OF. The ease of Mr. John Morrison, of St. Ann's, N. S., who was afflicted with a serious dropsical disease of the kidneys. The best medical aid having failed, his life was despaired of. Two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him. His statement is vouched for by J. D. McLeod, J P., who knew of his condition. The cure is considered marvellous in his Rheumatism can't stop where Minard's Liniment has been thoroughly applied and taken internally, this is the verdict of all users.
