Local and Miscellaneous The January Cattle Fair for Galt will be held next Wednesday.

The Rev. W. S. Ball, of Guelph, will open a new church at Molesworth, on Sabbath, the 24th inst. Dr. Savage leaves Elora this week to ake up his residence in Delta, a village orth of Kingston.

NICHOL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.— The annual meeting of this Society will be held at Gerrie's Hotel, Fergus, on the 14th inst.

CENTRE RIDING AGRICULTURAL SO-HETY.—The annual meeting of this So-dety will be held at Biggar's Hotel, Elo-a, on Thursday, the 21st inst.

It is said the Civil Service Commission has reported in favor of the dismissal of 30 or 40 clerks, the consolidation of the duties of several clerks, and the superan-nuation of others:

coming election.

JACK TAR'S DESCRIPTION OF A QUADRILLE.—A sailor, the other day, while explaining the third figure of a quadrille to his messmate, thus described it: You first heave ahead and pass your adversary's yard arm, regain your berth on the other tack in the same order, take your station with your partner, back and file, and then fall on your heel and bring up with your partner, then she mancurres ahead off alongside of you:
you then make sail in company with her until nearly astern the other line, make a place the best way you can, and let go your anchor.

PRESENTATION.—Last year the con-

a place the best way you can, and let go your anchor.

PRESENTATION,—Last year the congregation of Chalmer's Church, Elora, presented their pastor, Mr. James Middlemas, with a very handsome buggy, and as the rev. gentleman had a good horse, it merely required harness to correspond, to complete a set out equal to any in the County. This defect proved an eyesore to Mr. Gordon, who determined to do away with the incongruity by making his pastor a present of harness in quality equal to either horse or buggy. He, therefore, set to work and finished off a very handsome set of buggy harness, worth at least $$35$, and sent it to the manse as a Christmas present.

PILKINGTON AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY. —The annual meeting of this society was held at Dalby's Hotel, Elora, on Tuesday the 5th. The receipts for the year were $250.86, and the expenditure $220,23\(\frac{1}{2}\).—The following officers were elected: A. Burnett, President; Henry Larter, Vice President; R. Cromer, Secretary and Creasurer. Directors—Thos. McQueen, J. D. Wallace, A. Aitcheson, J. Smith, a T. Bate, Robt, Dalby H. Hamilton, J. R. Wissler, and Edward Marshall. The Directors were authorised to join their funds with the County or any other Society, that they may think for its advantage. A resolution was also passed opening the show to the entire County.

Presentation Last Night.

Mr. John Trimble for the last eighteen months Reporter in the Mercury Office having been obliged to relinquish his situation for a while on account of his health, the employees in the office met at Miller's Queen's Hotel last night and presented him with a handsome gold pen and pencil case, as a mark of the esteem in which he was held by them. Accompanying the present was the following address:

To Mr. John Trimble:

Dear Sir: On the occasion of your leaving the Mercury Office we embrace this opportunity of presenting to you this gold pen and pencil case, as evidence an of the good will we bear towards you, and as a slight memorial of the friendly intercourse which has existed between us since your connection with the office now over eighteen months ago.

Your uniform kindness and obliging disposition deserve this acknowledgment at our hands, and merit our highest respect and esteem.

The proprietors of the Mercury also avail themselves of this opportunity of joining in the presentation and of testifying to your abilities, to the close attention you have given to your duties, and the interest you have always taken in promoting the prosperity of the establishment.

THE GUELPH POLICE COURT.

Before T. W. Saunders, Esq., Police Magistrate.

SATURDAY, Jan. 9th.—There were four snow cases disposed of this morning on information of the Chief Constable. Messrs. Nathan Croft, John Davidson and Henry Hatch were each fined $1 and costs for not removing the snow from the front of their premises or lots.

Educard Tanner was charged with the same derilection of duty, and fined the same amount, or in default, five days in gaol. Unfortunately for himself, however, he was not satisfied with paying this fine in silence, but addressed some very coarse language to the magistrate, which resulted in the infliction of a further penalty of $10, and costs, or 21 days hard labor in gaol. The last fine has yet been paid.

hard labor in gaol. The last fine has yet been paid.

BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.—A meeting a of the agricultural societies of the counties of Wellington, Waerloo, Wentworth, Halton and the city of Hamilton, constituting the Seventh District, was held in Galt on Friday, 8th inst., for the purpose of nominating a representative to the Board of Agriculture. There were two societies from this county, two Centre and North Ridings, and one from Waterloo not represented. The names of Messrs F. W. Stone (who was one of the old members of the Board) and Thos. Stock, of Flamboro, were proposed, but in consequence of there not being a full representation of the societies, it was agreed to adjourn the meeting to next Thursday to be held in Hamilton, at ten o'lock, a.m. The delegates from this Riding were Messrs. T. McCrae and Geo. Murton. It is to be hoped that at the next meeting there will be a full muster of representatives from the societies in this District.

and the withdrawal of the Turkish ultimatum.

London, Jan. 8.—The request of the Sublime Porte for a postponement of the conference on the Eastern question for a few days, so that time might be gained for instructing the Turkish representatives, has not been acceded to. The sessions of the Conference will certainly open in Paris to-morrow. The Sultan consequently has been obliged to telegraph at length from Constantinople his instructions to Djemel Mehemet Pasha, the Ambassador at Paris. There is no question that part of these instructions are that, if the discussion in the Conference extend beyond the Sublime Porte's ultimatum to the Grecian Government, the Turkish representative will be immediately withdrawn.

The Turquic, the official newspaper at Constantinople, in its issue of yesterday, says that if the Turkish representative withdraws from the Paris Conference, war with Greece will be inevitable.

Salt.—A petition to the Dominion Legislature signed by sixty-three members of the Ontario Assembly, has been got up, setting forth the disabilities under which the salt interest labours, in that while Canadian salt is taxed to the amount of 70 cts. (gold) on going to the States, salt from the other side comes into Canada free of duty. We have trequently pointed out this anomaly, acting as it does, so disadvantageously to the rising salt interest, and are glad therefore to see so weighty a petition about to be presented at the proper quarter.

NEW OUTFIT.—The MERGURY Office is replete with the latest designs in type and printing material. Newest styles received as they come from the foundries of Great Britain and the United States. The MERCURY is the largest printing establishment outside the cities in Canada. Chargest twenty-five per cent below all other offices, Call and see specimens and learn our prices. With the assistance of a steam empire and power presses we defy all competition. Send along your orders.

The SMALL POX.—We have recived a letter from Mr. Theodore Fenwick, which owing to its length we are unable to give to-day, in which he contradicts the absurd report that has gone abroad, to the effect that several members of his family are lying ill of small-pox. Mr. Fenwick's letter will appear on Mondây.

Mr. Bruce's Election.—The Advertiser will persist inlmisrepresenting our words in reference to Mr. Geo. A. Bruce's election. We never expressed the slightest opposition to Mr. Bruce running for councillor—he had as much right to do so as any other ratepayer. But what we complain of was that, after putting us and the Advertiser also to the trouble of stating after the nomination that he did not wish to be a candidate, and would not run, he came out at the eleventh hour, when neither Mr. Hidden nor any other ratepayer that we know of, was aware that he was in the field or that there was to be a contest. This is our position, and we leave it to Mr. Bruce to say whether he acted in the matter in that straightforward way in which he would like others to act towards him.

MARRIAGE WITH A DECEASED WIFE'S SISTER.—A petition in favor of Legislative action on this question in England, is being circulated among the members of the Local House of Ontario. Out of the 70 members comprising the Legislature 56 have appended their signatures to the petition.

Castle and Cottage.

The lady bright is kind and good, The paragon of womanhood; And her wedded lord is leal and sure, Beloved alike of rich and poor, By the wild waves plashing wearily.

dwells a fisher on the strand, little cot with a rood of land. his bonny wife, and girls and boys climb to his knee with a pleasant n the wild waves plashing wearily.

And the lady of the castle sighs / Whenshemeets the fisherwife's gladdening And wishes that Heaven to bless her life Had made her a mother as well as wife, By the wild waves plashing cherrily.

e lord of the eastle, riding home or the hard sea sand where the breakers sees the fisher, his labor done, with his wife in the glist o' the sun, by the wild waves plashing cheerily.

with his wife, and his boys and girls, ngling the youngest with golden curls, d turns his envious eyes aside d well-nigh weeps for all his pride, By the wild waves plashing wearily.

"I'd give," quoth he, " my rank and state, My wealth, that poor men call so great, Could I but have that fisherman's joys, His happy home, and his girls and boys, By the wild waves plashing cheerily.

Jeannie Sinclair.

THE LILY OF THE STRATH.

We say she made no reply to his find words. She did not seem even to be listening to them, so great was the extremity of pain and distress into which she was plunged. She seemed to be enduring physical agony of the acutest kind, and horror, terror, and despair filled her mind as she realized her dreadful situation. After she was left alone ahe still lay upon the ground meaning heavily, and at times giving utterance to a sharp, prolong, 4 cry, wrung from her by sudden, recurring pangs. A quarter of an hour might have passed, when a dark form approached the Moor by a marrow footpath coming from the west, and joined the cart track at a very short distance away.

narrow footpath coming from the west, and joined the cart track at a very short distance sway.

The form was that of a singular looking being, most uncouth in appearance, and most strangely dressed. In the dim light it was difficult to determine whether it was that of a man or a woman, though from its buge size it might have been guessed it was the former. A close inspection showed this supposition to be correct. The new-comer was a great stalwart man, fully six feet in height, clad in dnn or gray clothes. On his head he wore a broad blue blue bonnet. His hair fell in tangled masses far down his shoulders, and, to add to the wildness of appearance thus caused, his whiskers were bushy, and a grizzly, unkempt beard descended over his breast. Over his shoulder was a broad leather strap, from which depended a well-filled wallet, while, had it been daylight, we would have observed that his feet, instead of being encased in shoes, were wrapped up in folds of cloth, profusely bandaged by strips of leather, which strips were also crossed and recrossed on his ankles and legs till lost beneath his upper garments. To complete the picture of the wild, weird-looking wanderer, he carried in his hand an immense knotted stick, whose length and weight would have been cumbersome to a man of ordinary size, but which was no more than anticed to the bulk of him r. ho wilded dit, and whose brown hairy hand grasped it with as much ease as is experienced by the fashionable swell who dangles his tiny cane at his ends.

easily attracted by the sound of her moanings.

He chanced to be walking on the opposite side of the road form where she lay, but when his car was caught by the sounds, his eye sought the direction from whence they came, and when it lighted on the dark object lying on the ground he paused and steadlastly gazed towards it.

"What is the world is that?" he muttered.

"An a walt sheep, maist likely. Pair stund thing, if I hadna come this way it might had lain on the breed o' its back till the morn."

Not doubting that the object he saw was aheep in the plight bamed, he crossed the road to free it from its helpless position, but on coming nearer he started in anazement, then bent down in an attitude of astomshed inquiry.

Nell heard the pitiful exclamation, and Nell heard the pitiful exclamation, and gazing up at the immense savage-looking form that was bending over her, a new terror was added to the pain she was already suffering. The voice was gentle and compassionate, but the man's wild, uncouth appearance was suggestive of so much ferceity that her first impulse was to endeavor to rise and flee.

"Dinna be frightened, I'll no harm ye," said the giant, in the same gentle, kindly tone. "Dae ye no ken mg?"
