We notice by the Elora Observer that at the late meeting of the Teachers' Association in that village, the Teachers' Supranational Fund was strongly condemned. The little daughter of Mr. James Arkell, miller, Salem, had a narrow escape the other day. The office of John H. Grant & Co., iron founders, of Grimsby, was entered by burglars on the night of the 16th, and the safe blown open. The residence of Major Charles Anderson was also entered by the same parties, and the lower rooms were thoroughly searched by them. The delegation selected right townships in Clegh County, Minnesota, on the line of the Northern Pacific Railway. A railroad town, to be named Yeovil, (in honor of the district from which many of the colonists came) has been set apart near the centre of their tract. Two hundred families will leave England in April for this colony, and the remainder, with the pastor, will follow during the season.

Assault Case in Arthur.

The Queen on the prosecution of Geo. Church (senior) against Thos. Ostrander, of Arthur, a Justice of the Peace for the County of Wellington. On the 11th inst. an information was laid before A. Buschlen, Esq., J. P., against Thomas Ostrander for having committed an assault and battery upon George Church, Sr., at Caswell's hotel, railway station, Arthur Village, by kicking him in the face, and at the same time calling for his revolver, saying that he could murder the prosecutor.

On the 18th inst. Ostrander was brought before a bench of magistrates consisting of Messrs Buschlen, Gordon, O'Callaghan, Cushing and Mitchell. A number of witnesses were called, who proved that the assault and battery was committed, without any provocation whatever, in a most brutal manner upon the old man Church, and which might have resulted fatally, had not Mr. Caswell and James Byrnes interfered in time and secured a loaded revolver in Ostrander's possession, who was much excited with liquor. The case lasted some time. After considerable deliberation the Justices decided that Ostrander pay a fine of $10 and costs, and find securities to keep the peace, himself in $200 and two others in $100 each, to remain in custody, committed to the County Jail, until such fine and costs are paid and security to keep the peace given. Mr. N. M. Munro, of Fergus, for the prosecution. Mr. J. P. MacMillan, Guelph, for the defence.—Fergus News Record.

For the Athletics Malone played well behind the bat, and Mack at first base, while Cuthbert took the lead in the batting, but the general play was not creditable. Time 1 h. 45m. Umpire, Charley Mills, of the Mutuals. Score Athletics 12; Athletics 4.

Mrs. Charles Powell charged by John Peake, both of the Township of Guelph, with unlawfully assaulting and beating his son John on the 14th inst. It appears that the lad Peake along with another lad of the name of Ariss were hired with Charles Powell. After their work on the day in question, the two adjourned to a neighboring tavern, where Peake got so drunk that he fell and blackened his eye, and to account to his father for this somewhat unusual cost of arms, alleged that his employer's wife had made the impression in question. These facts being proved, the case was dismissed with costs.

We are informed that a most exciting and interesting case of Printer's Strike is likely to come up for adjudication before the Police Court in a day or two.

Eramosa Council Meetings.

This Council met at the Centre Inn on Wednesday, the 18th inst. All the members present, Reeve in the chair. The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. J. A. DAVIDSON, Township Clerk

Death of the King of Sweden.

The telegraph announces the death of this monarch, who succeeded his father King Oscar Francis Joseph, July 8, 1859. He married in 1850, Princess Wilhelmina-Frederica-Alexandrine-Anne-Louise of Orange, daughter of William-Frederick, Prince of the Netherlands, by whom he had issue a daughter, Louisa-Josephine-Eugenie, born Oct. 31st, 1851. He was grandson of General Bernadotte, one of Napoleon's officers, who was chosen King during the palmy days of the great conqueror, and managed by the exercise of great tact and dexterity to preserve the throne after the fall of his early patron.

Americans in the Canadian Parliament.

A correspondent of the New York Herald writes that Americans who were elected to the Dominion Parliament at the recent elections. He says: "The name of Mr. A. G. P. Dodge, will be familiar to many of your readers. He is the son of the wealthy New York banker and philanthropist, and is as much noted for his almost lavish liberality in promoting church schemes in which he may have an interest as for the enterprise and magnitude of his business operations. He was elected for New York by a handsome majority, and though he defeated the regular Reform candidate and was severely assailed by the Reform press, he maintained perfect independence and declined to go to Parliament as a pledged supporter of either party. He has not hesitated to avow that his sympathies are with the Liberals, and it is believed he will vote with the Opposition on a want of confidence motion. Mr. Charlton, who defeated Mr. Walsh, chairman of the Intercolonial Railway Commission, in North Norfolk, has resided for many years in that county, but still maintains, I believe, a close business connection with Tonawanda, N. Y. He is a clear and fluent speaker, and will prove an ornament to the House. The Tories endeavored to excite ill-feeling against him on account of his origin, but failed altogether; and despite charges of being an annexationist, a Fenian and a traitor, Mr. Charlton was triumphantly placed at the head of the poll by intelligent electors, who would not reject a candidate simply because he was born across the lines, and who preferred Mr. Charlton's ability, independence and integrity to Mr. Walsh's respectable stupidity and political selfishness and servility."

ACCIDENT IN GARAFRAXA.—On Wednesday last week, Louis, son of Mr. George Bayne, aged sixteen years, met with a serious accident. He was sitting on a cart, driving a horse, on the farm, when the horse commenced kicking furiously and in order to keep clear of his heels young Bayne threw himself backwards into the cart. The horse continued to kick and turn until the cart was upset, and the young man found himself underneath it. His cries attracted the attention of Mrs. Bayne, who ran to his assistance. In attempting to lift the cart off her son, she injured herself to such an extent that she had to be carried home, and is still unable to leave her bed. Miss Bayne lifted the cart and held it upon her knees and arms till her brother got from under, her strength failing, owing to the great weight, the cart fell from her grasp, and her arms were blackened from the shoulder to the wrist. Louis was carried home, and medical assistance called when it was found the cart-box having fallen directly across the kidneys the spine was injured to an extent sufficient to produce partial paralysis. The young man, on Sunday last, was in a critical state, and suffered much pain.—Fergus Express.

The American Press on the Geneva Arbitration.

The American papers are far from being satisfied with the award made by the Arbitrators at Geneva in the cases of the Confederate cruisers. The New York Tribune says:—

"The petty sum of $15,500,000 will doubtless be greatly diminished by the English claims against the United States which are yet to be allowed. Of course, the mere matter of money is the least important feature of so grave and authoritative a decision, which forms a sort of epoch in international proceedings. But this trifling sum is positively all we have gained. In every point of view the great moral advantage is with England, and against us."

"The World is not a bit better pleased with the decision. It says:—

"We come out of court admitting that we have unjustly accused and abused Britain. Britain comes out of court admitting that she ought to indemnify a few of our citizens, who suffered through the carelessness of some of her authorities. The United States, as plaintiffs, before the Court of Arbitration come out non-satisfied, and made rather more than ridiculous. All that the court has recognized is the private claims of sundry American citizens for damages in certain specified cases."

The Herald which generally wields a free lance when discussing foreign or international questions is quite disgusted with the whole affair, as may be judged by the following comments:—

"Probably a more thorough imposition than the Treaty of Washington has never been palmed off as a great diplomatic triumph upon a credulous people. We have gained by it neither honor, credit nor pecuniary advantage. As a settlement of our direct losses through the acts of the Anglo-Confederate privateers during the war of the rebellion, the Alabama claims portion of the treaty is neither so honorable nor so profitable as would have been the settlement proposed by the Johnston-Clarendon Convention rejected by the Senate in 1862. The money award, whatever it might have been, is not worthy of consideration, as compared with the graver interests involved in a perfect friendly feeling between the two countries; yet the insignificant sum of sixteen or seventeen million dollars, which may appear to many a considerable sum, will probably be more than swallowed up in the counter awards made to British subjects by the Claims Commission, and after the payment of all the expenses incurred by our Government, will certainly leave us a loser in the mere matter of dollars and cents, as well as in honor, consistency and reputation."

Political Items.

The London (England) Daily News has the following in reference to the elections in Canada:—"The total numbers exhibit a marked gain on the part of the Opposition. Thus either a crisis or a complete change may occur in the Administration of Canada. As the most important of the dependencies of Great Britain, the course of Canadian affairs has special interest for us; and the various changes can be witnessed with greater equanimity, seeing that they are wrought by Canadians in the exercise of their almost absolute powers of self-government."

The Brockville Recorder says that Mr. Fraser has again been chosen as the standard-bearer of the Reform party in South Grenville, and there is no doubt but what he will be elected this time by a majority equal at least to that of Dr. Brouse over Shanly. The Conservatives are trying to throw Mr. Ellis overboard, but that gentleman is determined to run, whoever they may bring forward.

It is stated that Mr. Patteson, editor of the Mail, has received notification of the appointment of Hon. Wm. McDougall as his successor.

A strong effort is being made to induce Lieut.-Governor Howland to select a Conservative to form the Ontario Ministry.

The Ottawa Citizen has been authorized to state that there is no truth in the rumors which are abroad to the effect that a reconstruction of the Cabinet is about to take place.

It is well known that Rufus Stephenson owes his return to the most flagrant acts of bribery. In the township of Raleigh, money was dispensed in the most unblushing manner; and in Tilbury East the same practice was pursued. Now Rufus seeks, in order to throw off the scent of inquiry, to impugn the conduct of the assessors, whom he accuses of fraudulent dealing in the matter of preparing the voters' lists. The dodge is a clumsy one—but one well worthy of the ability of such a profound mind as that of the temporary member for Kent.

An engineer of celebrity in Italy has just been arrested at Florence for trying to poison at the same time no fewer than eighteen people. Among the number are his father, his brother, his wife and his children. He was in financial difficulties, and by way of extracting himself, he resolved to kill all from whom he expected to inherit property, or whose death would give him its untrammelled possession. Only by pure accident was his diabolical purpose found out—after he had prepared, and, indeed, perfected his plans—but before any one was hurt. An epidemic of slaughter seems to be raging just now in Europe, frightful tales of crime against the person reaching us simultaneously from France, England, Austria, Italy, Spain and Sicily. Possibly the intense heat of the season may have had more to do with the matter than at first thought seems probable.

The Australian and other Coal Fields.

Several official mining reports, recently presented to the Victoria Legislature, have been printed. These documents are "got up" in a superior style, with geological sketches maps of the Western port and Cape Patterson coal fields, also plans, sections, &c., and the earnestness of style and fullness of detail, combined with evident anxiety to draw just conclusions from the facts elicited by scientific surveys, prove how important are deemed the mineral treasures of that continent. Amongst these treasures coal is prominent, and appears to be occupying considerable attention—an attention which may possibly be increased by the high price of coal in England. England indeed, will in all probability soon cease to be a coal-exporting country; while her colonies will themselves supply their own wants, and possibly, to some extent, those of other nations. The seams of coal which are even now worked in New South Wales are very valuable; and there are good and thick seams of coal in Tasmania, but they have not yet been worked successfully. Coal exists in great quantity in New Zealand, fit for steam vessels, and workable at small cost. The quantity available there in one locality alone is estimated at 200,000,000 tons. Also what is called "brown coal" is extensively developed.

China has vast coal beds, which appear to be, geographically, of the same age as the Victoria, New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand beds. These Chinese coal deposits include beds of both anthracite and bituminous coal—worked for hundreds of years—and are probably the oldest coal mines in the world. In India there are extensive coal measures; and the depth and extent of those on our own continent are sufficiently familiar to our readers. But the extent and precise character of those of Victoria (Australia) do not seem to have been as yet precisely determined; and it is regretted that a geological examination was not made of certain coal fields of that Province during the many years its Government maintained a staff of geological surveyors.

Cartier's Election.

From the Montreal Witness. The gallant Minister of Militia has been returned, as our readers will be delighted to learn, for Provencher, Manitoba. The "Digger Indians" or their noble red brethren of the North-West, have not been flattered in vain for some time by the Government organs. They have shown that intelligence, so superior to the benighted citizens of Montreal East, for which the Halifax Reporter lately gave them credit, in returning the honorable Baronet by acclamation. They had, in fact, already shown it, as well as their admirable loyalty, by nominating Riel as their representative. We suppose Sir George would not have been sufficiently honored but for the pretty little programme by which the fellow Riel was set up that he "might, at the proper moment give place to a more honorable man." The great Sir George to have an Attorney-General and an ex-Governor retire in his favor, and back out graciously bowing him in. We shall learn in due time what judicious, ambassadorship or fat place Riel is to have in exchange for his "good will." Everybody is jubilant that a place has at last been found for Sir George, and especially the place that was thought fit only for Riel. The Indians are happy, the Government is happy, the Conservatives are happy, the Reformers are happy, and Sir George himself is most happy.

Last week, the White Mountains were covered, on their tops, with snow, and the cars on Mount Washington railway were delayed by snow and ice on the track.

A young woman, meeting her former fellow servant, was asked how she liked her new place. "Very well." Then, you have nothing to complain of, now, have you? "Nothing, only my master and mistress talk such very bad grammar."

M. Rouzeand, the husband of Nilsson, is the grandson of a blacksmith and son of a merchant. Nilsson herself was a peasant girl 15 years ago.

A despatch from Teheran reports that cholera is raging with great violence in Bokhara. It is estimated that over one thousand persons are dying daily from the scourge.

The English eleven beat the New York team in one innings, with 141 runs to spare.

Miss Rye is coming with another batch of children from England.

Nova Scotia has commenced to ship coal to the East Indies. The first cargo left Pictou for Singapore yesterday.

The first Provincial Exhibition for British Columbia was about to be held at the date of the mails. Seven hundred dollars were offered in prizes.

Madame de Stael said: "If I were mistress of fifty languages, I would think in the deep German, converse in the gay French, write in the copious English, sing in the majestic Spanish, deliver in the noble Greek, and make love in the soft Italian."

Reading, Penn., has an accomplished blind man. He is a German, 90 years of age, keeps a tavern (which is known as Blind Hartman's), is expert in the handling of money, and baffles all attempts to cheat him with spurious currency. He walks out alone, can point to any piece of real property in the town, and to crown all, mends clocks and repairs musical instruments.

From returns of the eighth decimal census of Scotland, recently published by the Registrar General, it appears that the population of that country on the 3rd April, 1871 numbered 3,860,018, being an increase of 9.72 per cent. in ten years. In the more purely agricultural and pastoral districts the population is generally decreasing, the increase being apparently confined to the divisions in which various active mining, manufacturing or commercial industries are carried on.

The Mount Forest Examiner says on Tuesday last Messrs. John Watt & Co., of that place, disposed of 310 firkins of butter, containing altogether about 31,000 lbs., to Mr. McKenzie, butter dealer, of Guelph.

The Foster Brother; OR The Orphan of the Wreck.

CHAPTER XVIII. WHICH EXPLAINS THE CAUSE OF LILLIAS GIBSON'S GRIEF.

Poor Lillias. That white face, that stony look of hers, he comprehended not. He had not the slightest conception of the cold icy hand that laid its clutch on her heart—of the weight of misery that was dragging her down to the depths of despair.

Terrible was the crisis which had come—dreadful was the explosion that was about to burst forth. There resided in the soul of Lillias a strength of resistance to wrong, of adherence to right, opposition to undue and unjustifiable authority, which her father knew not of—

"Father!" she said in a tone of unnatural calmness, "did it not occur to you that such an arrangement might be disagreeable to me?"

"No, it never did," he answered. "How could an impossibility occur to me?"

"An impossibility!" "Certainly. I knew it was impossible that a marriage so splendid and advantageous would be disagreeable to you, nor is it in the nature of things that it should.

"Perhaps so," she observed, "were it a settled point that I regarded it from your point of view."

"From what other point of view can you regard it?" he returned, with an impatience in his tone.

"I don't understand that, and I have no wish to understand it," he rejoined, still more impatiently. "Noneed for you and I going in search of insane points of view. We have sense enough, I reckon, to know what our advantage is, and to seize it."

"But yet," said Lillias, and her voice faltered as she spoke, for she felt the moment of outburst had come—"but yet, father, we may think differently as to what our advantage is."

"It is not what me may, or what we might, but what we do," he snappishly rejoined. "And as we must have only one idea in regard to this matter, you had better set about the needful preparations. Your stepmother is ready to give you all assistance. I don't know precisely what time Mr. Ralston may be inclined to give you, but I rather think he is anxious that the marriage should take place very soon. It is quite necessary, at any rate, that no time should be lost on your part, and you had better go at once and consult with Mrs. Gibson."

"Father, stay," burst out Lillias, with sudden vehemence, for he had risen, and was moving from the room. Her abrupt impetuosity arrested his steps, and he turned and gazed on her with silent astonishment.

"I must speak out, and speak plainly," said Lillias, pale but determined. "This proposal I cannot listen to—I cannot marry Mr. Ralston."

Fully a minute did her father stand gazing at her silently and fixedly; then he stepped back, his eye glaring, his lips pressed together, and a terrible expression on his face.

"Lillias Gibson," he said, "these words can only be the utterance of a momentary madness. Their import you have realised, and 'tis as well. You must already repent having spoken them. I shall consider them unsaid. Shall I send your stepmother up, or shall you seek her in the lower room? She is waiting there expecting you."

"No, father," replied Lillias, very calmly, but all the more firmly. "she need not come to me, and I shall not seek her on this subject. I cannot, and I will not marry Mr. Ralston."

"You cannot and you will not marry Mr. Ralston," repeated her father, with deliberate and awful emphasis. "Was that what you said, and are you ready to repeat it? Now, pause—pause and consider."

"I do repeat it," answered Lillias, without a moment's hesitation. He slowly seated himself in the chair he had already occupied, and pointing to her former seat, he said—"Sit down."

Lillias silently obeyed.

CHARLES EDWARDS EMIGRANTS.—A most scandalous case of orrily to emigrant passengers has come before the Commissioners of Emigration at New York, and the failure of the complaints of the passengers on arrival at port shows a strangely unsatisfactory state of the law in the premises. Amongst the many hundred passengers by the "Charles H. Marshall" on her last voyage were about eighty Jews, mostly from Russian Poland. After the vessel had been out a fortnight the captain died, and the crew lost all discipline. They attempted, unsuccessfully, however, to mutiny, and being defeated in this, solaced themselves in abusing the Hebrew passengers; cuffing and beating them, and in other ways maltreating them, appearing to vent their own venation. They found for themselves cruel sport. One of these cases has been brought before a commissioner, and the reply has been that the offence was not covered by the United States statutes, as the case was not an assault with intent to commit felony.

According to Victoria, B. C., journals, reports of Engineers, collectors to that of the Engineer-in-Chief, shows that enormous tracts of rich pasture land lie westward of the North Saskatchewan River; that coal in large quantities is reported as far up the river as the Rocky Mountain House; that great bodies of silver ore exist in the Cascade Range, through which the line would pass; that the valley of the Fraser, from the vicinity of Port Hope to the Pacific Coast, contains an extensive tract of rich agricultural land, covered with a heavy growth of valuable timber.

BREAKFAST—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors bills.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labeled "James Epps & Co., Homeopathic Chemists, London." Also, makers of Epps's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk).

Whooping cough is successfully treated by Epps's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. The most stubborn cases are cured in a few days.

The first wheat and oats brought to Victoria were sold at the rate of two cents pound. The farmer bringing it in will have eight hundred and fifty bushels of oats, 750 bushels of wheat, and 200 bushels of barley—all tip top grain.

Miss Drummond, the Quaker preacher, was asked whether the thought of getting married had not been in her mind. "No, friend," said she, "but the flesh has."

A Chemical Food and Nutritive Tonic.
Without Phosphorus no thought, say the Germans, and they might add, no action, since Phosphorus and the Compounds are known to be the motive power of the nervous and muscular system. They constitute more than half the material of the human body, being found in every tissue, and their presence is absolutely essential to nutrition, as they promote the conversion of albumen in the food into albumin, which is the vitalizing agent of pure, healthy blood. They are now coming into universal use in Europe and America in the treatment of Scrofulous, Consumptive and Venereal diseases, which are caused by impoverished or poisoned blood, and in diseases of women suffering from irregularities, obstructions and exhausting discharges, in pale, young children, and faint condition of the nervous system, and in that train of evils known as fast life. The great reliability and promptness in its effects in immediately and permanently restoring the debilitated constitution, has made DR. WHEELER'S COMPOUND ELIXIR OF PHOSPHATES and CALIBAYA a great favorite with the Physicians and Public. Sold at $1.00.
