Inscription on Bronze Tablet

In the Hall.

This Art Gallery owes its existence to the liberality of BENAIAM GIBB, Esq., who died in this City on the 1st June, 1877. By his will he devised and bequeathed to the Art Association the Land upon which this building stands, Eight Thousand Dollars in money, over ninety Oil Paintings and eight valuable Bronzes.

The Association has placed this Tablet here, in honor of the donor, and as a small token of respect and gratitude to him, and to aid in perpetuating the memory of his generosity and public spirit.

THE GIBB BEQUEST.

Oil Paintings.

BOSSUET, (François)

Born 1800, died 1889. Architectural painter, professor of Brussels Academy and member of Philadelphia Academy. Subjects chiefly Spanish.

- 1—Cordova, The Old Bridge. 1886. 32 $\frac{3}{4}$ x 50 $\frac{1}{2}$.

BRAEKELEER, (Adrien de)

Nephew of Ferdinandus de Braekeleer, (see No. 4). Genre painter, no doubt inspired by his uncle's work, but followed him in a quieter key of colour.

- 2—Marché aux Volailles. 1861. Panel, 19 x 14 $\frac{1}{2}$.
3—Village Politicians. 1861. Panel, 19 x 14 $\frac{1}{2}$.

BRAEKELEER, (Ferdinandus de)

Born 1792, died 1883. Uncle of the above. Historical and genre painter of good ability, pupil of Van Brée. Studied in Rome and painted first in the style of David. After his return, devoted himself to genre subjects, chiefly family scenes, and educated many pupils who were afterwards successful.

- 4—Skating in Holland. 1855. Panel, 19 $\frac{1}{4}$ x 23 $\frac{1}{4}$.

BÜTLER, (Joseph)

- 5—Lake of the Four Cantons. 1876. $38\frac{1}{2} \times 59\frac{1}{2}$.

GRIPPS, (C)

A painter of interiors and family scenes, full of minute detail.

- 12—Courtship. 1860. Panel, $13\frac{3}{4} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$.
 13—Maternal Joys. 1861. Panel, $12\frac{3}{4} \times 10\frac{1}{2}$.
 14—Family Cares. 1861. Panel, $12\frac{1}{2} \times 10$.

HEUVEL, (Théodore Bernard de)

- 15—Blind-Man's-Buff. 1863. $37 \times 48\frac{1}{2}$.

HEYERMANS, (Jean Arnould)

- 16—Preparing Church Decorations. 1863. $37 \times 48\frac{1}{2}$.

HEYLIGERS, (Gustave A. F.)

17—A Tête-à-Tête. 1860. Panel, 10 x 8½.

HULME, (Frederick William)

Born 1818, died 1884. One of the numerous able landscape painters of the British School, of which Gainsborough, Wilson, Constable and Turner were the four great founders. Contemporary of Leader, Percy, Walters, and others.

18—A Surrey Woodland. 1867. 41½ x 64½.

KOEKKOEK, (W.)

One of the talented family of which Barend Cornelis was the most distinguished member, and doubtless a pupil of Johannes Hermanus Koekkoek.

19—The Old Town of Hoorne, Holland. 33 x 48½.

KREMER, (Petrus)

Born in Antwerp in 1801. Successful historical and genre painter, pupil of Antwerp Academy under Herreyns and Van Brée. His first work followed Rubens and Van Dyck. Studied the old Netherland masters at the Louvre, and developed into one of the most distinguished genre painters of his day.

20—The Studio of Jean Breughel. 1860. 43 x 35½.

MANN, (J. H. S.) R.B.A.

A follower of the imaginative and genre school. Contemporary of Morgan, Poole, Maclise, and others.

Presented by R. B. Angus, Esq., 1889.

BAKER, (William Bliss)

Born at New York in 1859. American Artist, pupil of Bierstadt, De Haas and National Academy. During a few years of original work, in which no reflection of his instructors was visible, this young artist had rapidly ascended to the head of his profession. He possessed in an uncommon degree the ability to render minute and subtle effects with close finish, while yet preserving in his pictures great breadth and dignity. First exhibited in the National Academy in 1879, and in 1889 took one of the Hallgarten prizes. In that year, in November, he died at Ballston, New York, only thirty years old.

125—A Woodland Brook. 1884. 36 x 46.

INNES, (George) N.A.

Born at Newburgh, N.Y., in 1825. Is generally accorded the first place among American landscape artists. Commenced as an engraver on steel, but abandoned this work through ill health. During his boyhood his health precluded any absorbing study, and he received no instruction in painting until 1845, when he took a few lessons from Gignoux, which constituted his entire art study under instruction. Was enabled in 1850, to visit Europe, and there studied and painted in the elaborate style then in vogue, which he soon broadened, and continually improved. Elected member of National Academy of Design in 1868. He died in 1894.

- 131—Early Moonrise in Florida. 42½ x 32½.
Presented by James Ross, Esq., 1895.

ZUGEL, (Prof. Heinrich)

Born at Murrhardt, Suabia, in 1850. German animal painter, especially of sheep. Studied in Stuttgart Art School until 1876, then under Anton Braith, the cattle painter, in Munich. At first painted with much detail, but a study of Troyon and Rosa Bonheur changed and broadened his style.

- 132—Sheep Returning from Pasture. 1889. 45½ x 71.

Presented by Mrs. W. R. Elmenhorst, 1895.

FAED, (Thomas) R.A., H.R.S.A.

Born at Kircudbright in 1826; died August 17, 1900. British School of genre painting. Brother and pupil of John Faed, and student of Edinburgh School of Design. Elected member of Royal Academy in 1864. Ranks high as a delineator of Scottish life, in the School of Wilkie; many of his pictures have been engraved, among them "The Mitherless Bairn," 1855; "Jennie Deans and The Duke of Argyll," 1868; "School Board in the North," 1881.

COOPER, (Thomas Sidney), R.A.

Born at Canterbury, September 26th, 1803. The best known English painter of cattle and sheep. Unable through poverty to study, he began in 1815 to learn coach painting, and later scene painting. Diligence and economy enabled him in 1827 to cross the Channel, where he earned a precarious living by sketching portraits and painting sign boards until 1831, when he returned to England, there to struggle on with the wonderful persistence which marked his career. First exhibited in the Royal Academy in 1833. From that time he was a constant exhibitor, and his pictures at once began to be appreciated. He often put cattle in the landscapes of F. R. Lee, R.A., and sometimes in those of J. B. Pyne. In the Mappin Art Gallery is a picture by three artists; the landscape by Creswick, R.A., the figures by Frith, R.A., and the cattle by Cooper, R.A. Was elected member of the Royal Academy in 1867, and was called "The Dean of the Academy." He died on the 7th February, 1902, the longest lived of artists, with authentic records.

172—Landscape with Cattle. 1844. 10½ x 8½.

KOEKKOEK, (Barend Cornelis)

Born at Middleburgh in 1803, died at Cleves in 1862. Dutch landscape painter, son of Johannes Hermanus Koekkoek (marine painter, 1778—1851). Studied at Amsterdam under Shelfhout and Van Oos. After travelling in Belgium, and visiting Paris, settled at Beck. Founded the Academy at Cleves. Member of the Rotterdam and St. Petersburg Academies. Medals—Amsterdam, Paris, and La Hague. Legion of Honour.

TENIERS, (David) the younger.

Son of David Teniers, the Belgian painter of peasant scenes. Born at Antwerp in 1610, died Perck in 1690. The most eminent genre painter of Belgium. Instructed by his father, and much influenced by Rubens. Though a Fleming by birth, belongs rather to the Dutch school. Refined in person, and enjoying the highest patronage, he remained throughout his life the painter of the amusements and carousals of the lower classes.

175—A Village Dance. Panel, $15\frac{1}{2} \times 19\frac{1}{4}$.

PATON, (Sir Joseph Noel) R.S.A.

Born at Dumferline in 1821. British artist painter of historical, religious and genre pictures. Entered the Royal Academy schools in 1843. Gained prize for a design for a fresco in 1845, and two years later another for oil paintings, "Reconciliation of Oberon and Titania," and "Christ Bearing the Cross." Painted many important pictures between 1849 and 1879. Was made Queen's Limner for Scotland in 1865, and knighted in 1867. He died on December 26th, 1901. He was the most distinguished exponent of the British school of symbolical and imaginative art. With peculiar and unusual aims, his pursuit of special ideals led him into methods markedly unlike those affected by his contemporaries.

181—Silenus singing the song of Creation to Woodland Deities.

1872. Panel, $8\frac{3}{4} \times 13$.

COROT, (Jean Baptiste Camille)

Born at Paris in 1796, died there in 1875. Pupil of Michallon and Victor Bertin. Visited Italy in 1826, whence he brought admirable studies of landscape which established him as one of the pathfinders in the development of the modern school of French landscape art. Gifted with a highly poetical temperament, he rendered the serene and mysterious aspects of nature in the most charming and alluring manner. Medals, 1833, 1848 and 1855. Legion of Honor 1846; Officer, 1867. Diploma to the memory of Deceased Artists, Exposition Universelle, 1878.

255—Ville d'Avray, near Paris. Panel, 4 x 5 $\frac{1}{2}$.

DAMOYE, (Pierre Emmanuel)

Born in Paris, contemporary French landscape painter, pupil of Corot, Daubigny and Bonnat.

256—St. Denis, near Paris. 1882. Panel, 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ x 23 $\frac{1}{2}$.

DIAZ DE LA PENA, (Narcisse Virgile)

Born in 1808 at Bordeaux, of Spanish parentage. Commenced as errand boy in a porcelain factory, where he copied the decorations on the pottery. At this time met Dupré (No. 259). Went to Paris and commenced as a genre painter selling pictures for a few francs each. Appeared at the Salon in 1831 with landscape. Went to Barbizon and Fontainebleau where he was intimate with Rousseau and Millet. No painter has succeeded in rivalling the wonderful glow of sunlight, the mellowness and luminous deep shadows in his landscapes. In his figures of nymphs the flesh tones are exquisite and grouping graceful. He died at Etretat in 1876. Legion of Honor, 1851.

257—Last Rays of the Sun before the Storm. Panel, 4 x 3 $\frac{3}{8}$.

258—A Forest Glade. Panel, 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ x 8 $\frac{3}{4}$.

DUPRÉ, (Jules)

Born at Nantes in 1812, son of a porcelain worker, in whose factory he first worked, On capital earned by painting on china and clock faces he made his way to Paris in 1831, in which year he showed five landscapes so full of nature that they at once commanded attention. In 1833 received first Salon medal, and from then his career was a continued success. His pictures are strong in style and direct in expression. In 1867 he achieved a triumph by the exhibition of twelve masterpieces at the International Exposition. Officer of the Legion of Honor, 1870. Died at Isle Adam in 1889, the last of the band of artists, "the School of 1830," that redeemed French art from the lifelessness of classicism.

259—Environs de Pontoise, Oise. Panel, 12½ x 16½.

DUPRÉ, (Léon Victor)

Born at Limoges, 1816, Brother and pupil of Jules Dupré (No. 259). Medal 3rd class, 1849. Works in the Chartres and Douai Museums.

260—Landscape. Panel, 6½ x 12½.

ERNST, (Rudolphe)

261—In the Study. 1882. Panel, 13½ x 10¾.

GRANDSIRE, (Eugène) H.C.

Born at Orleans in 1825. French landscape painter, pupil of Noel and Jules Dupré (No. 259). Teacher of drawing at L'Ecole des Arts et Métiers. Legion of Honor 1874. Examples of his work in the Luxembourg.

262—Sous Bois, Villa Parisis, Seine et Marne. Panel, 10 x 15.

GRATZ, (C. Mayer)

German genre painter, born at Gratz, Bavaria.

263—Getting Ready for Dinner. 1884. Panel, 6¾ x 3¾.

GUILLEMIN, (Alexandre Marie)

Born at Paris in 1817, died at Bois-le-Roi in 1880. French genre painter, pupil of Gros. First painted scenes from daily life of villagers, then subjects from Brittany and the Pyrenees, also hunting pieces. Legion of Honor, 1861.

264—Treading out Corn. Panel, 6½ x 8½.

HENNER, (Jean Jacques)

Born at Bernweiler, Alsace, in 1829. Sixty years ago he commenced studying under Gabriel Guerin, Strasbourg, with whom he remained some seasons, and then going to Paris became pupil of Picot and Drölling. Won Prix de Rome in 1858. Commenced as historical and portrait painter, but settled down to painting the nude with charm of color and purity of expression, and created a unique place for himself in his art. His "Susannah" in 1864 carried the day for him in Paris, and it is now one of the masterpieces of the Luxembourg. Also painted religious subjects such as "John the Baptist," the head on the salver being a masterly portrait of one of his friends. First Salon Medal in 1863. Officer of the Legion of Honor, 1878.

265—Nymph Meditating. Panel, 9 x 6½.

ISABEY, (Eugene Louis Gabriel)

The son of a famous miniature painter, he was born at Paris in 1804. Commenced with genre work and experimented in marine painting. As early as 1824 received a first-class medal for a genre picture, and in 1827 another for a marine. In 1830 appointed marine painter with the expedition to Algiers. Officer of the Legion of Honor in 1852. His pictures have a vivacity and sparkle of execution in keeping with their splendor of color. After a ceaselessly active career of over sixty years he died in 1886 at Paris.

266—On the Beach at Fécamp, Normandy. 1840. Panel, 8 x 6½.

ISRAELS, (Josef) H.C.

Born at Gröningen in 1824. Probably at the head of the modern Dutch school of genre painting. Became a pupil of Cornelis Kruseman at Amsterdam from whom he learned his frank and simple style. From him he went to Picot in Paris, and as a result produced an historical composition in the grand style, "William the Silent defying the Decrees of Spain," 1855. He however, returned to the genre work with which his name is generally associated; the portrayal of the simple rustic and semi-maritime life of his own land. He has done for the peasantry of Holland what Millet did for that of France, but with a more hopeful and less tragic spirit. His color is rich and subdued, but never sombre. Officer of the Legion of Honor 1878.

267—Moonlight. Panel, 11½ x 14½.

JACQUE, (Charles Emile)

Born in 1813, was early in life a map engraver and soldier. Later engraved on wood, and began drawing and etching. Earliest exhibits were of etchings and engravings, and though he began to paint in 1845 and was medalled in Salons of 1851, 1861 and 1863, for engraving, it was not until 1861 that he was officially recognized as a painter. Legion of Honor in 1867. He was by choice a painter of rustic life, with a predisposition to the humbler animal side of it. Poultry and pigs first claimed his special attention, but his most representative pictures are those of sheep. A firm and precise draughtsman, with broad and powerful handling of color. He died in 1894.

268—Sheep. Panel, 4 x 5 $\frac{1}{2}$.

269—A l'abri. 8 x 13.

JOUBERT, (Leon)

French landscape painter.

270—Environs de Rochefort. 19 $\frac{1}{2}$ x 25 $\frac{1}{2}$.

271—L'île ou est le tombeau de Chateaubriand, St. Malo. Panel, 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ x 14.

MARIS, (Jacobus)

Born at the Hague 1837, died in 1899. The eldest and greatest of three brothers, whose father was also a painter and their master. Went from his father's studio to Antwerp Academy to study, and in 1865 to Paris, where he worked under Hebert, a pupil of Couture (1815-1879); and at L'Ecole des Beaux Arts, until 1869. First exhibited in the Salon in 1866, "Petite Fille Italienne." Afterwards, with occasional figure painting, he devoted himself to landscape which he painted with equal freedom in oils and water colors. At his highest he produces work which in vigor, directness and variety is not just now to be surpassed. His expression of the sentiment of a scene is not less just than his rendering of its special aspect is accurate. His clouds are a case in point, not solid and still, but active and moving in space and full of daylight and the wind.

272—The Bridge. Panel, 8 x 6 $\frac{3}{4}$.

273—On the Beach. 9 x 7.

PASINI, (Alberto) H.C.

Italian artist, born at Buseto in 1826, died at Cavoretto in 1899. A painter of Oriental life and landscape. Pupil of Ciceri, the elder, Isabey, and Rousseau. Travelled much in the East and resided in Turkey, Arabia and Persia. Was Honorary Professor of Academies at Parma and Turin, medallist at all the great Exhibitions. Officer of the Legion of Honor, 1878.

274—At the Mosque Door. 1875. $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$.

PATER, (Jean Baptiste Joseph)

Born at Valenciennes in 1695, died in Paris in 1736. French school of genre painters. Son of a sculptor and pupil of Watteau. His garden scenes and fêtes were in the same manner as his master's, and full of grace and life. Was an excellent colorist. Overwork is said to have shortened his days. Member of the Academy, 1728.

275—Fête Champêtre. $7\frac{3}{4} \times 10$.

PELOUSE, (Léon Germain)

Born at Pierrelaye, France, in 1840, died in 1891. Modern French landscape painter, who shows great power and truth in the rendering of forest scenes, and in his treatment of green foliage. Normandy was his favorite field. Medals second class, 1873, first class, 1876, 1878. Legion of Honor, 1878.

276—Fossé au Teint, Rochefort en Terre. $21\frac{3}{8} \times 29\frac{3}{4}$.

278—Landscape. $9\frac{1}{2} \times 16$.

RICHET, (Léon)

Born at Solesmes in 1847. French landscape painter. Pupil of Diaz, Lefebvre and Boulanger. Exhibited in the Salon in 1885.

279—Vieux Chêne, Forêt de Fontainebleau. 1867. Panel, $10\frac{1}{2} \times 14$.

ROCHE, (Léo)

280—A Street in Algiers. 1890. Panel, $5\frac{1}{2} \times 4$.

THOMPSON, (Harry)

Born in London; contemporary. Genre and landscape painter, educated in France under Marechal and Busson. Medal 3rd class, Paris, 1834.

281—Sheep. 18×30 .

282—Girl and Pet Calf. $18\frac{1}{2} \times 21\frac{3}{4}$.

TROYON, (Constantine)

Born at Sevres, 1810; died at Paris in 1865. Worked when young in the porcelain factory as his father had. Afterwards landscape and animal painter, pupil of Riocreux and Poupart, and influenced by Rocqueplan. First exhibited as a landscape painter in the Salon of 1833, and displayed a sentiment for light and color of the first order; but in 1847, after a visit to Holland where he studied the Dutch masters, he astonished the Salon with a cattle piece so grand in spirit and so powerful in color, that his fame was at once established. He built up the school of French cattle painting founded by Bracassat. His power was sustained to the last, and he enjoyed nearly twenty years of uninterrupted success. Legion of Honor in 1849. Between 1833 and 1865, sixty of his masterpieces were hung in the Salon.

283—Villageois à la Porte d'une Chaumière. $15\frac{3}{4} \times 13$.

284—Moonlight. Panel, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$.

YON, (Edmond Charles) H.C.

Born in Paris in 1836. French landscape painter, pupil of Lequien. At first practiced wood engraving, but since 1875 has painted many charming landscapes. Legion of Honor, 1886.

MAUVE, (Anton)

Born at Zaandam in 1838; died in 1889. Pupil of P. F. Van Os. Dutch painter of landscape and genre subjects. Among his earlier work may be seen traces of his master in painstaking finish and tendency to pleasant color without strength; but this disappeared when he went to Nature; and from that time breadth, simplicity and strength characterized his work. Always well recognized at home, he also received universal European honors. His work was chiefly drawn from the rural life of his native country.

299—Potato Diggers. 17 x 20½.

300—Dutch Cottage. 17 x 21½.

PENNE, (Charles Olivier) H.C.

307—Bagnères de Bigorre. 1872. 6 x 9¼.

ZIEM, (Félix François) H.C.

Born at Beaune in 1822. In his earlier work he painted many fine pictures of French, Dutch and Turkish scenery, but it was when he commenced work in Venice that he found his vocation. His magnificent coloring was his strongest feature, and his sunrise and sunset pictures show Venice in great splendor of color. Received his first Salon medal in 1851, and was made an officer of the Legion of Honor in 1878.

308—The Storm. 3 x 3½.

ZWARDT, (W. de)

Dutch modern landscape painter.

309—Landscape. 14 x 9.

THE TEMPEST PURCHASE FUND.

Oil Paintings.

THOLEN, (Willem Bastien)

Born in 1860. Contemporary artist of the modern Dutch school. Paints landscape, interiors, street scenes and figures with equal strength and facility. His natural talent and circumstances in early life led him to his true vocation. In 1886 he went to The Hague and there developed rapidly, following to a great extent his own method; and, aided by continuous study, he acquired the power to put accurately on canvas or paper the more subtle impressions of a scene which earnest study of nature gives to her students. He has obtained medals at London, Paris, Berlin, Brussels, Antwerp and elsewhere, and his work is to be found in many public galleries, and in the private collections of England and America.

310—Sand Dunes, Scheveningen, Holland. 33 x 43.

HOOCH, (Pieter de)

Born in Rotterdam about 1632; died at Haarlem in 1681. One of the most original artists of the old Dutch school. Formed his style from study of the works of Karel, Fabritius and Rembrandt. Very little is known about the life of this master, and his works were neglected for a long time. The distinguishing feature of his work is the marvellous rendering of sunlight. In this even Claude and Rembrandt do not surpass him. Was very fond of red in various gradations. He worked principally at Delft and at Haarlem, producing chiefly the wonderful sunlit interiors and courtyards with figures, which are now so much sought after by collectors.

311—An Interior. 38 x 43.

THE MURRAY BEQUEST.

BRIGHT, (Henry)

Born in 1814, died about 1878. An artist of the earlier school of British landscape painters, of which Gainsborough, Wilson, Constable and Turner were the founders. Exhibited several times in the Royal Academy and New Water Color Society's galleries, now the Royal Institute, between 1836 and 1876.

322—The Old Mill. 23 x 44.

BOCH, (Théophile de)

Dutch painter of the modern school.

323—The Edge of the Wood. 15½ x 22½.

MONTICELLI, (Adolphe)

Born at Marseilles in 1824. Originally intended to be a musician, but his uncle, a musician in whose care he was placed, was also an artist, and noting a marked taste in drawing in his nephew, instructed him in its elements. Subsequently, Monticelli became pupil of Loubon and afterward of Aubert. Up to this point the art of Ingres was his ideal. But when he left Marseilles for Paris he cared for nothing but color. Took rooms near Diaz, but it is said they never knew each other. Was influenced by the work of Diaz, but began to paint in his individual and eccentric style, full of beautiful, wild harmonies of color. He was careless and most eccentric in his habits and dress. Paralysis overtook him after returning to Marseilles, and he died there on July 4th, 1886.

324—Ladies in the Garden. $5\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$.

RANGER, (H. W.)

American landscape painter entirely self-taught. Native of New York State. Has painted much in Holland, and is favorably known by canvases of exceedingly fine quality of color. Member of the American Water Color Society.

325—Scene at Berthier. $17\frac{1}{2} \times 25\frac{1}{2}$.

SOËST, (Louis Van)

Born in 1867. Contemporary Dutch landscape painter of great merit. Entirely self-taught. Awarded medal at Brussels. Second class, Paris, 1900. One of the few modern Dutch painters who is represented in the Luxembourg Museum.
