

HISTORIC SCENE ON LUSITANIA DAY

The measure of guilt of all those who have taken part can only be stated by an impartial inquest before a neutral commission, before which all the principal persons of the tragedy are allowed to speak and to which all the archives are open. We have demanded such an inquest and we repeat this demand.

Stand Toward Adversaries Alone. In this conference also, where we stand toward our adversaries alone and without any allies, we are not quite without protection. You yourselves have brought us an ally, namely, the right which is guaranteed by the treaty and by the principles of peace.

The allied and associated governments have forewarned in the time between Oct. 5 and Nov. 5, 1918, a peace of violence and have written a peace of justice on their banner. On Oct. 5, 1918, the German government proposed the principles of the president of the United States of North America as a basis of the peace, and on Nov. 5 their secretary of state, Mr. Lansing, declared that the allied and associated powers agreed to this basis, with two definite deviations.

The principles of President Wilson have thus become binding on both parties to the war—for you as well as for us and also for our former allies. The various principles demanded from us heavy national and economic sacrifices, but the holy fundamental rights of all peoples are protected by this treaty. The conscience of the world is behind it. There is no nation which might violate it without punishment.

You will find us ready to examine upon this basis the preliminary peace which you have proposed to us, with a firm intention of rebuilding in common work with you that which has been destroyed and repairing any wrong that may have been committed, principally the wrong to Belgium, and to show to mankind new aims of political and social progress.

Considering the tremendous quantity of problems which arise, we ought as soon as possible to make an examination of the principal task by special commissions of experts on the basis of the treaty which you have proposed to us. In this it will be our chief task to re-establish the devastated rigor of mankind and of the people who have taken part by international protection of the life, health and liberty of the working classes.

Reconstruction of Devastated Areas. As our next aim, I consider the reconstruction of the territories of Belgium and of northern France, which have been occupied by us and which have been destroyed by war. To do so, we have taken upon ourselves the solemn obligation, and we are resolved to execute it to the extent which the work itself allows upon between us. This task we cannot do without the co-operation of our former adversaries. We cannot accomplish the work without the technical and financial participation of the victorious peoples, and you cannot execute it without us.

Impoverished Europe must desire that the reconstruction shall be fulfilled with the greatest success, and with as little expense as in any way possible. This desire can only be fulfilled by a clear understanding about the best methods to be employed. It would be the worst method to go on and have the work done by German prisoners of war. Certainly this work is cheap, but it would cost the world dear if hatred and despair shall seize the German people when they consider that their brothers, sons and fathers who are as workers, are kept prisoners beyond the preliminary peace in former penal work.

Without any immediate solution of this question, which has been drawn out too long, we cannot come to a durable peace. Experts of both sides will have to examine how the German people may come up to their financial obligations, with the least burden, succumbing under their heavy burden. A crash would be a disaster to those who have a right to repair, to the advantage to which they have a claim, and would draw after it, irremediable disaster to the whole European economical system.

The vanquishers, as well as the vanquished, must be guaranteed against this menacing danger which is incalculable consequences. There is only one means of banishing it—unlimited confessions of the economic and social solidarity of all the peoples in a free and rising league of nations.

Praise for League of Nations. Gentlemen: The sublime thought to be derived from the most terrible disaster in the history of mankind is the league of nations. The greatest progress in the development of mankind has been pronounced, and will make its way. Only if the gates of the league of nations are thrown open to all who are of good will can the aim be attained, and only then the dead of this war will not have died in vain.

The German people in their hearts are ready to take upon themselves their heavy lot, if the bases of peace which have been established are not any more shaken. The peace which may not be defended in the name of right before the world always calls forth new resistance against it. Nobody will be capable of subscribing to it with good conscience, if it will not be possible to fulfill it. Nobody will be able to take upon himself the guarantee of its execution which ought to lie in its signature.

We shall examine the document handed to us with good-will and in the hope that the final result of our interview may be subscribed to by all of us.

Elaborate Preparations. Elaborate preparations had been made for the historic occasion both in and outside the Hotel Trianon.

Outside there was a small army of gendarmes who formed a barrier against the approach of such persons as were not entitled to enter the room where the momentous scene was to be enacted. Inside everything was in readiness for the meeting between the allied and associated delegates with the German plenipotentiaries, although the early morning hours had witnessed a rearrangement of the great hall, for orders had been given to prepare seats for 80 delegates instead of 50 who were expected yesterday to comprise the maximum delegation. The French plenipotentiaries stretched out tables to accommodate the extra guests and laying a new rug to fit the altered dimensions. The increase of the delegations was effected at the expense of space which might have been assigned to the press.

A Link With Monarchy. Aside from the great men gathered in the hall the most striking feature was a large antique rug of bright, almost garish colors, which was brought from the Chateau Versailles to cover the open space in the center of the hall. Also dating from the time of Louis XIV, the rug is in a perfect state of preservation. It is known as "Savonnerie" and it served to ally the entire room. The rug was the only link in the conference chamber connecting today's ceremony with the time when France was a monarchy.

The day, which was the anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania, four years ago, dawned bright and clear. Those who measure history by the day, called attention to the fact that 177 days had passed since the armistice was signed, and 109 days since their deliberations at Paris, the fruit of which was the peace treaty presented today.

German Early Afoot. The German delegation was early afoot and an air of marked excitement prevailed at its headquarters. The German plenipotentiaries, whose impatience at the indefinite deferment of the day of meeting led them, as revealed by German sources, to threaten to return to Berlin unless an early date was fixed for the ceremony, were making the last personal preparations.

Although only fourteen official German plenipotentiaries and five correspondents attended the meeting in the Trianon Hotel, the remaining members of the German delegation, now almost 250, were as excited as if they also had been assigned a role in the day's great ceremony.

Commemorative Postmark. The French authorities established a special postoffice at the Trianon for the benefit of souvenir gatherers. Letters and postcards will be stamped with a special commemorative postmark inscribed: "Versailles Congress, 7-5-19." Privileged guests were admitted in respect to the external barriers and lined both sides of the avenue leading to a short distance of the entrance to the Trianon Hotel. Automobiles bringing the allied delegations deposited their occupants in the courtyard of the hotel. At the main entrance door there was a platoon of the 26th battalion of chasseurs, rendering military honors. Major Elezovic, commandant of the hotel, received the delegations and accorded such of them as he wished to accept, military honors of inspecting the guard. He then conducted them ceremoniously through the long corridors of the hotel to the conference room.

SCORE'S MAY SALES SPECIALS. We didn't have to outwit anybody in securing this very special shipment of guaranteed indigo-dyed Irish blue serges—it was just a matter of foresight and an anticipation of the demand for blue serge suitings, because we knew the returned man would "hop" for an entire change in color from the King's uniform—and the experience of the Great Estate Sale and the May Sales has proved we were not guessing—and the values are most superior, with prices from $43.50, Score's, Tailors and Haberdashers, 77 King West.

FELL FROM LADDER. William J. McCormack, 510 Pappe Avenue, had his right arm broken yesterday afternoon when he fell from a ladder down the elevator shaft at the Gordon Mackay Building, Front and Bay streets.

He was removed to the General Hospital.

COMMONS CONSIDERS WAR APPROPRIATION FOR THIRD OF BILLION

Lemieux Asks for Successor to Sir G. Foster as Minister of Trade and Commerce.

ASKS ENQUIRY Duff of Lunenburg Criticizes Administration of Naval Service.

Ottawa, May 7.—After a quiet afternoon sitting during which some minor government measures were advanced, the commons tonight in committee considered the bill covering the $350,000,000 appropriation for demobilization and other purposes connected with the termination of the war.

Mr. McKenzie, opposition leader, having expressed the view that this vote should have followed the budget, and that the minister of finance should give the house a statement of war costs. Sir Thomas White responded with some figures. The total cost so far the war had increased the national debt by $1,345,000,000. Outstanding war loans amount to $1,504,278,822. Objection was taken by Mr. F. S. Cahill to the Canadian credit given to Rumania. He thought the manufacturers should be able to go out and get business for themselves. The government was giving credit to doubtful countries at the expense of the people of Canada, and for the benefit of the manufacturers. Mr. Stevens, of Vancouver, objected to what he described as the everlasting halting of the manufacturers. He criticized the arrangement for a credit to Rumania, constituted a bonus for the manufacturers.

Hon. Rudolph Lemieux advocated appointment of a new minister of trade and commerce. He said that Sir George Foster had been a great failure in this department. Later in the evening Mr. Duff, of Lunenburg, strongly criticized the administration of the Canadian naval service and asked for an investigation by parliamentary committee.

Supplementary Estimates. Supplementary estimates for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1919, were tabled in the house today. They total $118,877,000. The items are $9,305,000 covering the expenditure on the state funeral of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. Deslaurier was informed at question time that the minister of labor was following the one big union movement closely and was advising with his colleagues as to any action to be taken. Hon. N. W. Rowell read to the house summary of the terms of the peace treaty, and the more important provisions of it were loudly cheered. Hon. Arthur Meighen said in reply to Mr. Deslaurier that the government had given no consideration to amending the war measures act, as to when it would cease to represent the act which was passed under the act with a view to considering what should go into permanent effect, and the tide over the intervening period.

Mr. Meighen, in reply to D. D. McKenzie, said he presumed the end of the war would be dated by the imperial proclamation and that would be one end of the war so far as Canada was concerned and the war measures act would cease.

Amend Criminal Code. The house took up consideration of a bill to amend the criminal code in respect to sexual offences. The bill is the same as that which passed the house last session but failed to pass the senate. Mr. Nickle, of Kingston, objected to a clause which makes liable to prosecution an unmarried man and woman who register at a hotel as man and wife. Mr. Nickle, while recognizing the purpose of the clause, thought in its present form it might cause injustice. He moved an amendment that no persons who have been openly living together as husband and wife shall be liable in an offence under this section.

The bill was finally reported and now stands for third reading.

The bill to provide $350,000,000 for demobilization and other purposes arising from the war, was considered in committee this evening. Mr. McKenzie thought that before proceeding to examine in detail the provisions of the bill the minister of finance should present a statement of war costs. Sir Thomas White gave the figures of war costs in summarized form as follows: 1914-15, $50,750,000; 1915-16, $166,000,000; 1916-17, $306,000,000; 1917-18, $343,000,000; 1918-19 (estimated maximum), $450,000,000.

As to the increase in the national debt, Sir Thomas White said that the war loans outstanding amounted to $1,508,276,922, and the account with the imperial government showed a difference of $200,000,000 to the credit of Canada.

F. S. Cahill, Pontiac, referred to the credit loan given to Rumania. He said he was opposed to the principle of lending the money of the people of this country to the manufacturers of Canada to promote trade for industries when they were not able to go out and get the business themselves.

Attack on Foster. Mr. Lemieux urged that there should be a change in the head of the department of trade and commerce. As minister of trade and commerce, he said, Sir George Foster had been a great failure.

Gen. Meuburn stated that by February the estimate was that they would be thru with military hospitalization. Mr. William Duff of Lunenburg made a comprehensive attack on the department of naval service with regard to its handling of naval officers on the Nova Scotia coast. While an American tanker was being sunk by a submarine, he said, Canadian naval officers were drinking afternoon tea and playing bridge at Halifax, while the Lady Evelyn, the best equipped vessel in the service, was on her way to the Magdalen Islands with six pencils for the wireless operators.

MOUNT PLEASANT WANT CAR LINE BUILT AT ONCE

Mount Pleasant Residents Organize Association and Will Press Demands.

Wonderful enthusiasm and a great big gathering of the representative men and women of the Davisville and Moore Park districts were the outstanding features of the organization of the Mount Pleasant Ratepayers' Association in Hodgson Public School last night. If the newly-formed association keeps on in the way it started out, it will soon be a lusty youngster, and its demands and deliberations something to be reckoned with.

T. W. Banton was in the chair in the case of the meeting, and when they got right going and elected their officers, was unanimously voted into the presidential chair. The other officers chosen were: George A. Hodgson, first vice-president; J. O'Brien, second vice-president; Henry Trimble, secretary, and T. W. Banton, treasurer. The executive is composed of Messrs. Bell, Wedd, Page, Mears, Davis, Wilkinson, Rogers, Edwards, Mulline, Mrs. Davison and Mrs. Stullon. A large number of women were present, and they evinced the liveliest interest in the proceedings from start to finish.

Touching on the splendid spirit shown, Ald. H. H. Ball said that it assured success for the new scheme, and could not fail to be a great incentive not only to the building of the Mount Pleasant car line, but the whole neighborhood generally. The meeting closed about the meeting of the board of control and members of the city council from Wards Two and Three yesterday morning, and said that the board were strongly in favor of the active prosecution of the work along temporary lines, leaving the permanent work to follow later on. He said that Works Commissioner Harris had been instructed to go ahead with the estimate of the cost on this basis, and that two weeks would likely see the plans and costs submitted. The city treasurer had likewise stated at yesterday's meeting that in the neighborhood of $200,000 was available for civic car line extensions. The suggestion was to put down temporary trestles at Moore Park and Blythwood road.

I have every confidence that, assuming the work costs more than the amount available, Sir William Hearst will see that the city is empowered to carry out the work," said Ald. Ball. Ald. Wintett expressed his entire approval of the scheme to go ahead with the work, and said that he was not everything in his power to bring about the building of the Mt. Pleasant car line, which was in effect a continuation of the St. Clair civic system.

A resolution favoring immediate relief in the transportation facilities of the Mt. Pleasant district, and asking the council to undertake the work as the only solution along temporary lines was unanimously adopted. As showing the strength of the new club, 56 members joined up there and then, and dozens of others will do so at subsequent meetings.

RIVERDALE

The seventh annual meeting and election of officers in connection with the Ladies Aid Society of Riverdale Methodist Church, East Gerrard street, was held yesterday in the church, and the following were the officers elected: President, Mrs. J. W. Pateman, re-elected; Secretary, Mrs. H. Murphy, re-elected; Treasurer, Mrs. J. Garrett, re-elected.

The following committees were also appointed: Flowers, parsonage and finance. All reports of the year's work were adopted, and declared extremely gratifying, and the biggest success since the inauguration of the society.

The treasurer reported that a donation of $200 was made during the year to the church debt, and announced a balance of $240 on hand and announced Rev. Dr. J. A. Long, pastor, who presided, congratulated the society on the excellent work in the past, and pointed out that the present membership is one hundred.

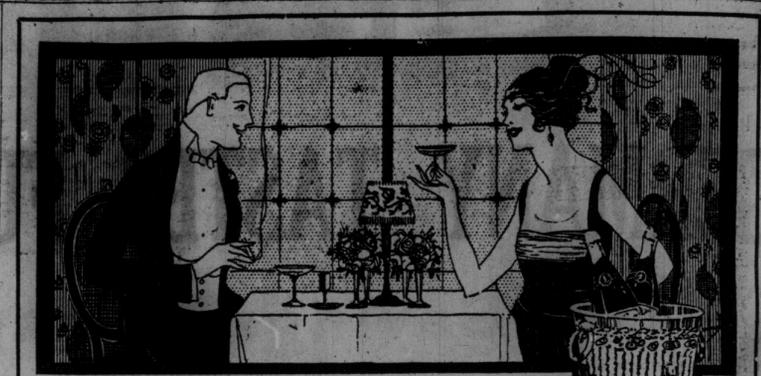

Refreshments were served during the proceedings. The railway commission therefore had no power to vary this rate, but the amendment above quoted will give the railway committee power to fix a higher rate than the people of Burlington are compelled to pay, under their contract with the company sanctioned by act of parliament. Sergeant E. H. Cleaver, reeve of Burlington, supported by F. R. Waddell, city clerk, and the Hydro-Electric Commission of Hamilton, protested this morning against the committee passing the amendment. He recounted the way in which the town had been mistreated by the railway company and said that while he represented a minority of the town council he represented a large majority of the people of Burlington. Mayor Smith, of Burlington, read to the committee a resolution passed by the town council of Burlington in favor of giving full power to the railway commission to fix rates. Mr. Cleaver in reply read a resolution recently passed at a mass meeting in Burlington protesting against the proposed invasion of municipal rights. He said that the object of the amendment was to hoist the value of the railway so as to reduce the Hydro-Electric Commission to pay a fancy price for the road in case it was expropriated.

That contract was confirmed by the Ontario legislature, and approved by the Dominion parliament, when the Radial Railway came to Ottawa for a Dominion charter.

AIR FORCES.

The armistice of Germany must include any military or naval air force except for not over one hundred unarmed seaplanes to be retained until October 1, 1919, for submarine mines. No dirigibles shall be kept. The entire air personnel is to be demobilized within two months, except for 1000 officers and such retainers as the allied powers may allow. No aircraft are to be allowed within 100 kilometers of the Rhine or the eastern or southern frontiers, and existing installations within these limits to be destroyed. The manufacture of aircraft and parts of aircraft is forbidden for six months. All military and naval aeronautical material under construction within three months, except for the hundred seaplanes already specified.

PRISONERS OF WAR.

The repatriation of German prisoners and interned civilians is to be carried out without delay and at Germany's expense by a commission composed of representatives of the allied and associated powers. Those under sentence for offences against discipline are to be repatriated without regard to the completion of their sentence period. Until Germany has surrendered the persons guilty of offences against the laws and customs of war, the allied powers have the right to retain selected German officers. The allies may deal at their own discretion with German nationals who do not desire to be repatriated, and all repatriation being conditional on the immediate release of all allied subjects still in Germany. Germany is to accord facilities to commissions of enquiry in collecting information in regard to missing prisoners of war and of imposing penalties on German officials who have concealed allied nationals. Germany is to release all prisoners belonging to a reciprocal exchange of information as to dead prisoners and their families.

MAINTENANCE OF GRAVES.

Both parties will respect and maintain the graves of soldiers and sailors buried on their territories. Germany is to recognize and assist any commission organized by any allied or associated government with identifying, registering, maintaining or erecting, and monuments to each other all facilities for the repatriation of the remains of their soldiers.

SECTION SEVEN.

RESPONSIBILITIES.

The allied and associated powers hereby arrange with Germany, for an offence against criminal law, for a supreme offence against international morality and the sanctity of treaties.

The ex-empire's surrender is to be requested of Holland, and a special tribunal set up, composed of one member from each of the five great powers, with full guarantees of the right of defence. It is to be guided by the highest standards of international morality, and will fix the punishment it feels should be imposed.

Persons accused of having committed acts in violation of the laws and customs of war are to be tried and punished by military tribunals under military law. If the charges affect nationals of only one state, they will be tried before a tribunal of that state; if they affect nationals of several states, the states concerned, Germany shall hand over to the associated governments, either jointly or severally, all persons accused and documents and information necessary to assure full knowledge of the incriminating acts, the discovery of the offenders and the just application of the responsibility. The accused will be entitled to name his own counsel.

REPARATION.

The allied and associated governments affirm and Germany accepts on behalf of herself and her allies, the responsibility for causing all the loss and damage to which the allied and associated governments and their nationals have been subjected as a consequence of the war, imposed upon them by the aggression of the enemy states.

The total obligation of Germany to pay, as defined in the category of damages, is to be determined and fixed to her after a hearing and in an inter-allied reparation commission. At the same time, a schedule of payments to discharge the obligation within thirty years shall be presented. These payments are subject to postponement in certain contingencies. The German irrevocably recognizes the authority of this commission, and agrees to supply it with all the necessary information and to facilitate the work to make effective its findings. She further agrees to restore to the allies cash and certain articles which can be identified.

As an immediate step towards reparation, Germany shall pay within two years twenty billion marks in either gold, goods, ships, or other specified forms of payment with the understanding that the army of occupation and payments for food and raw materials may be deducted at the discretion of the allies. While the grand total of damages assessed against Germany may exceed her ability to pay, she undertakes to make good on all damages caused to civilians under seven main categories:

- 1-Damages by personal injury to civilians caused by acts of war, directly or indirectly.
- 2-Damages caused to civilians by acts of cruelty ordered by the enemy to civilians in the occupied territory.
- 3-Damages caused by maltreatment of prisoners.
- 4-Damages to the allied peoples represented by pensions and separation allowances, capitalized at the signature of this treaty.

5-Damages to property other than naval or military materials.

6-Damages to civilians by being forced to labor.

7-Damages in the form of levies or fines imposed by the enemy.

SECTION EIGHT.

Economic Clauses Customs.—For a period of six months Germany shall impose a tariff duty higher than the lowest in force in 1914 and for certain agricultural products, wines, vegetable oils, artificial milk and artificial wool. This restriction obtains for two and a half years more for five years unless further extended by the league of nations.

Shipping.—Ships of the allied and associated powers shall for five years and thereafter under condition of reciprocity, unless the league of nations otherwise decides, enjoy the same rights in German ports as German vessels, and have most favored nation treatment in trading coasting trade and even in territorial waters. Ships of a country having no seacoast may be registered at some one place within its territory.

Unfair Competition.—Germany undertakes to give the trade of the allied and associated powers adequate safeguards against unfair competition and in particular to suppress the use of false wrappings and markings and on condition of reciprocity to respect the laws and judicial decisions of allied and associated states in respect of regional appellations of wines and spirits.

Treatment of Nationals.—Germany shall impose no exceptional taxes or restriction upon the nationals of allied associated powers for a period of five years and unless the league of nations act, for an additional five years. German nationality shall not continue to attach to a person who has become a national of an allied or associated state.

Multilateral Conventions.—Some 40 multilateral conventions are renewed between Germany and the allied and associated powers but special conditions are attached to Germany's accession to several as to postal and telegraphic conventions. Germany must not refuse to make reciprocal agreements with the new states. She must agree as respects the radio telegraphic convention to provisional rules to be communicated to and adhere to the new convention when formulated in the North Sea fisheries and North Sea traffic convention. Rights of inspection and police over associated fishing boats shall be exercised for at least five years only by vessels of nations party to the international railway union. She shall adhere to the new convention when formulated.

China.—As to the Chinese customs tariff arrangement, the arrangement regarding Whang Poo, and the Boxer indemnity, France, Portugal and Rumania, as to the Hague convention of 1903 relating to civil procedure, and Great Britain and the United States, as to article 2 of the Sanchon treaty of 1899, are relieved of all obligations towards Germany.

Bilateral Treaties.—Germany and associated state may renew any treaty with Germany insofar as consistent with the peace treaty by giving notice within six months of the date of the peace treaty. Treaties entered into by Germany since August 1, 1914, without her enemy states and before or since that date with Rumania, and the allied and associated states are abrogated and area concessions granted under pressure by Russia and the allied and associated states are to enjoy most favored national treatment under treaties entered into by Germany under treaties entered into by Germany and neutral states during the war.

Pre-War Debts.—A system of clearing houses is to be created within three months, one in Germany and one in each allied and associated state which adopts the plan for the payment of pre-war debts, including those arising from contracts to be performed by the liquidation of enemy property and the settlement of other obligations. Existing pre-war debts are to be settled by arbitration by the courts of debtor country or by the mixed arbitral tribunal. Any ally or associated power may, however, decline to participate in this system by giving Germany six months' notice.

Enemy Property.—Germany shall restore or pay all private enemy property seized or damaged by her, the amount of which is to be determined by the mixed arbitral tribunal. The allied and associated states may liquidate German private property within their territories and measures abandoned or stored or paid for by Germany. For the allied and associated states, the proceeds of their nationals not repatriated or paid for by Germany, for the allied and associated states, are to be paid to their nationals by Germany. Germany is to compensate its nationals for such losses and to deliver within six months all documents relating to property held by its nationals in allied and associated states. All war legislation as to enemy property rights and interests is confirmed and all claims by Germany against the allied or associated governments for acts under repressive war measures abandoned.

Contracts.—Pre-war contracts between allied and associated nationals, excepting the United States and Brazil and German nationals are cancelled except for debts for accounts already performed. Agreements for the transfer of real estate, leases of land and houses, contracts of mortgages, pledges or with government, and insurance contracts, mixed arbitral tribunals shall be established of three members: one chosen by Germany, one by the allied and associated states and the third by agreement. Or failing which, by the president of Switzerland. They shall have complete jurisdiction over all disputes as to contracts concluded before the present peace treaty. Five insurance contracts are not considered dissolved by the war even if premiums have not been paid, but lapse at the date of the first annual premium falling due. Three months after the peace, life insurance contracts may be restored by payments of accumulated premiums with interest, sums falling due on such contracts during the war to be recoverable with interest. Existing life insurance contracts are dissolved by the outbreak of war, except where the risk insured against had already been incurred. Where the risk had not attached, premiums paid are recoverable otherwise premiums due and sums due on losses are recoverable. The insurance treaties abrogated unless invasion has made it impossible for the returned to find another insurer. Any allied or associated power may cancel all the contracts running between its nationals and German life insurance company, the latter being obliged to hand over the proportion of its assets attributed to such policies, industrial property rights, as to industrial property rights, are re-established. The special war measures of the allied and associated powers are nullified and the right reserved to impose conditions on the use of German patents and copyrights when in the public interest.

Finance.—Germany is to assume a certain portion of the German pre-war debt, to be fixed by the reparation commission on the basis of the ratio between the revenues of the allied and German states. The allied and German states are to assume the pre-war debt in the proportion of their respective revenues. In view, however, of the special circumstances under which France and Belgium were separated from France in 1871, when France refused to accept any part of the French pre-war debt, France and Belgium are to assume any part of Germany's pre-war debt, there nor will Poland share in certain German debts incurred for the German public property in ceded territory exceeds the amount of debt assumed, the states to which property ceded give credit on reparation for the excess, with the exception of Alsace-Lorraine. Mandatory powers will not assume any German debt or give any credits for German government property. Germany renounces all right of representation on, or control of state banks, commission, or other similar international financial and economic organizations.

MUST PAY FOR OCCUPATION ARMIES.

Germany is required to pay the total cost of the armies of occupation from the date of the armistice as long as they are maintained in German territory, this cost to be a first charge on her resources. The cost of repatriation is the next charge, after making such provisions for payments for imports as the allies may deem necessary.

Germany is to deliver to the allied and associated powers all sums deposited in Germany by Turkey and Austria-Hungary in connection with the financial support extended by them to them during the war, and to transfer to the allies all claims against Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria or Turkey in connection with agreements made during the war. Germany confirms the renunciation of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk. On the request of the reparation commission, Germany will appropriate any rights or interests of her nationals in public utilities in ceded territories or those administered by mandatories and in Turkey, China, Russia, Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria, and transfer them to the reparation commission, which will credit her with their value.

SECTION NINE.

FINANCE.

Powers to which German territory is accorded will assume a certain portion of the German pre-war debt, to be fixed by the reparation commission on the basis of the ratio between the revenues of the allied and German states. The allied and German states are to assume the pre-war debt in the proportion of their respective revenues. In view, however, of the special circumstances under which France and Belgium were separated from France in 1871, when France refused to accept any part of the French pre-war debt, France and Belgium are to assume any part of Germany's pre-war debt, there nor will Poland share in certain German debts incurred for the German public property in ceded territory exceeds the amount of debt assumed, the states to which property ceded give credit on reparation for the excess, with the exception of Alsace-Lorraine. Mandatory powers will not assume any German debt or give any credits for German government property. Germany renounces all right of representation on, or control of state banks, commission, or

SECTION TEN.

Belgium is to be permitted to build a deep draft Rhine house canal if she can do so within 25 years, in which case Germany must construct the part within her territory on plans drawn by Belgium. Similarly the interested allied governments may construct a Rhine-Meuse canal, both, if constructed, to come under the competent international commission. Germany may not object if the central Rhine commission desires to extend its jurisdiction over the lower Moselle, the upper Rhine or lateral canals. Germany must cede to the allied and associated governments certain tug, vessels and facilities for navigation on all these rivers.

SECTION ELEVEN.

Aerial Navigation.—Aircraft of the allied and associated powers shall have full liberty of passage and landing over and in German territory, equal treatment with German planes as to use of German airfields and with most favored national planes as to international commercial traffic in Germany. Germany agrees to accept all certificates of nationality, airworthiness and competency of licensees and to apply the convention relative to aerial navigation concluded between the allied and associated powers to her own aircraft over her own territory. These rules will apply until 1928 unless Germany has since been admitted to the league of nations or to the above convention.

SECTION TWELVE.

Freedom of Transit.—Germany must grant freedom of transit thru her territories by mail or water to persons, goods, ships, carriages and mails from or to any of the allied or associated powers without customs or transit duties, undue delays, restrictions or discriminations based on nationality, means of transport or place of entry or departure. Germany may not establish any taxes discriminating against the ports of allied or associated powers, must grant the latter's seaports all favors and reduced tariffs granted her own or other nations.

Zones in Force.—Free zones existing in German ports at Aug. 1, 1914, must be maintained with due facilities as to warehouses, packing and unpacking without discrimination and without charges except for expenses of administration and use.

International Rivers.—The Elbe, from the junction of the Vitava, the Vitava from Prague; the Oder from Oppa; the Niemen from Odrovo, and the Danube from Ulm, are declared international together with their confluences.

The Elbe and the Oder are to be placed under an international commission to meet within three months. The European Danube commission resumes its preparatory powers, but for the time being with the representatives of only Great Britain, France, Italy and Rumania. The upper Danube is to be administered by a new international commission, which a definite statute be drawn up at a conference of the powers nominated by the allied and associated governments within one year after the peace.

The Rhine is placed under the central commission, to meet at Strasbourg within six months after the peace and to be composed of four representatives of France, which shall in addition select the president. Four of Germany and two each of Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland and the Netherlands. Germany must give France on the course of the Rhine, included between the two extreme points of her frontiers all rights to take water to feed canals while herself agreeing not to make canals in the right bank opposite France. She must also hand over to France all her drafts and designs for this part of the river.

SECTION THIRTEEN.

INTERNATIONAL LABOR ORGANIZATION.

Members of the league of nations agree to establish a permanent organization to promote international adjustment of labor conditions, to consist of an annual international labor conference and an international labor office.

The former is composed of four representatives of each state, two from the government and one each from the employers and the workers. Each of them may vote individually. It will be a deliberative legislative body, its measures taking the form of draft conventions or recommendations for legislation, which, if passed by two-thirds vote, must be submitted to the law-making authority in every state participating. Each government may either enact the terms into law.

charged soldiers, shooting or tom- club, educational establishments, universities, may occupy them with military matters. All means of mobilization are forbidden. Fortresses—All fortified works, fortresses, and field works situated in man territory within a zone fifty metres east of the Rhine, will be dismantled within three months. The destruction of any new fortification is forbidden. The fortified works in the southern and eastern frontiers, however, may remain.

NAVAL RESTRICTIONS.

The German navy must be demobilized within a period of two months after the peace. She will be allowed to retain six battleships, six light cruisers, five destroyers, twelve torpedo boats and no submarines, whether military or commercial. With a general limit of fifteen thousand men and five hundred officers, and no reserve force any character. Conscription is abolished, only voluntary service permitted, with a minimum period of twenty-five years' service for officers and twelve for men. No members of the German mercantile marine are to be permitted any naval training. German vessels of war in foreign waters, and the German high sea fleet based at Scapa Flow will be surrendered to the allied powers. The disposition of those ships to be decided upon by the allied and associated powers. Germany must surrender forty-two modern destroyers, fifty modern torpedo boats and all submarines, with their salvage vessels and all war vessels under construction. Sinking submarines must be broken up. War vessels not otherwise provided for are to be placed in reserve and used for commercial purposes. Replacement of ships, except those lost in the Baltic, only at the end of twenty years for battleships and fifteen years for destroyers. The largest modern ship Germany will be permitted will be ten thousand tons.

MUST SWEEP UP MINES.

Germany is required to sweep up the mines in the North Sea and the Baltic. As decided upon by the allies. All German fortifications in the Baltic, defending the passages to the Baltic must be demolished. Other sea defences are permitted but the number and calibre of the guns must be increased.

During a period of three months after the peace, German high power wireless stations at Nauen, Hanover and Berlin will not be permitted to be used except for commercial purposes and under supervision of allied and associated governments, or may by any more be constructed.

CIVIC ABATTOIR IS CARRYING ON

Not So Badly Hit by Strike as Privately-Owned Plants.

The civic abattoir is not so badly hit by the butchers' strike as some of the privately-owned plants. They have some men carrying on, but 24 obeyed the call of the union last Monday, and went on strike. The civic abattoir is in somewhat a different position from the packing houses; they are only open for killing, and are not selling meat for profit. It is hoped the men's union will see this in its proper light, recognize the plant outside their scope of action, and allow the 24 strikers to return to work. Negotiations to this effect are in progress and a happy result is anticipated.

Property Commissioner Chisholm and D. W. Wright, the manager of the civic abattoir, are of opinion that the abattoir is conducted on the exact lines for which the men are striking. In addition, the employees, being civic servants, have certain additional privileges which private-owned concerns do not give. For instance, they have a 48-hour week, all permanent employees receive two weeks' holiday with full pay, and if ill, on presentation of a doctor's certificate, receive their pay; all holidays are granted without reduction of pay. The property commissioner is of the opinion that the men from the civic establishment did not give these matters sufficient consideration before striking, and to his mind the men might have consulted himself and Mr. Wright before taking such drastic measures.

APPLE GROWERS WOULD INCREASE EXPORT TRADE

A reputation from the Counties of Durham and Northumberland, representing the Apple Growers' Association, waited on Hon. George S. Henry, minister of agriculture, at the parliament buildings Monday afternoon. The purpose of the deputation was to request assistance in securing for these counties a large measure of export trade. They asked the government to establish an experimental farm with a view to improving the quality of apples so that the foreign demand for their product may increase. Mr. Henry promised to give the matter due consideration.

TO PROVIDE MORE ROOMS FOR TRAVELING PUBLIC

The first annual meeting of the reconstructed King Edward Hotel Company was held yesterday morning at the hotel. The meeting of shareholders took the form of a luncheon given to them by the directors. The new company has been running the hotel under the management of G. H. O'Neill for just a short time over one year. A month ago a five per cent. dividend was paid on each share, and a substantial balance carried to reserve account. The report given by both the president, F. A. Dudley, and the manager, as to the equipment and the business transacted during the past year, was considered satisfactory by the shareholders. A scheme for the enlargement of the hotel was placed before the shareholders, and was left in the hands of the directors to decide if the enlargement should go skywards or if some additional property should be purchased alongside the present structure for the development.

In view, however, of the ever-pressing applications for sleeping accommodation in the hotel, and having regard to the expected large tourist rush this summer, it was decided to at once commence certain alterations. There are many large bedrooms in the King Edward. These will now be partitioned and made into two rooms. By this means a large bedroom addition will be forthcoming.

The directors elected by the shareholders for the present year were: F. A. Dudley (resident), D. M. Johnston, F. W. Rockwell, J. R. L. Starr, K. C. J. H. Spence, and G. H. O'Neill (managing director), and Colonel Dimick.

C. H. BISHOP LEAVES BOARD OF EDUCATION

Superintendent Chas. H. Bishop, who for forty years has supervised the school buildings in Toronto, handed in his resignation yesterday to the board of education.

In a statement regarding his action, Mr. Bishop said: "I have refrained from this step for two years from taking this step to avoid agitation. The report of Mr. Justice Lennox, whatever it may be, cannot remove or mitigate the hostility which has been directed against myself and the building department."

"I will be glad to assist the judge in any way I can until the end of the investigation, and continue my other duties relating to it up to that time, but tender my resignation as superintendent of buildings herewith."

The school board has not yet taken any action in the matter.

Enforcement of O. T. A. Is Scandal and Shame

"It is a scandal and a shame that the Ontario Temperance Act is not being enforced as it ought to be," said Rev. Ben Spence yesterday. "The provincial and city authorities are not punishing violations of the act in the way they should. They are making revenue out of the violations instead of putting an end to the traffic."

"It is a rotten policy," he continued. "The police should deal with the traffic in a determined way, and there would be no difficulty in seeing that the spirit of the act was enforced. They are imposing fines of $200, when they should make it $1,000, as the act permits. Offenders are not being sent to jail as they ought to be."

HOUSING PROBLEM STILL UNSETTLED

Meeting of City Council to Discuss It Ends in Fizzle.

HOLD ANOTHER SESSION Personnel of Commission Was Point Which Halted Proceedings.

After three hours talk, largely of a desultory character, on the Toronto housing bill, the special meeting of the city council yesterday ended in a fizzle. The size and personnel of the housing commission was the point on which the proceedings came to a standstill.

Those who had voted for the amendment did not apparently like the development and an attempt was made to get the council to go into committee again on the bill but this could not be done, and the mayor ruled it out of order.

It was after these speakers were heard that opinion swung round and Alderman Plewman's amendment carried. If an idea existed at the start that the proceedings were to be over in a few minutes it did not materialize.

veterans and labor men being represented, and Controller McBride replied that if they made the change from the five who had been acting they would be opening the door to different sections and make the commission cumbersome.

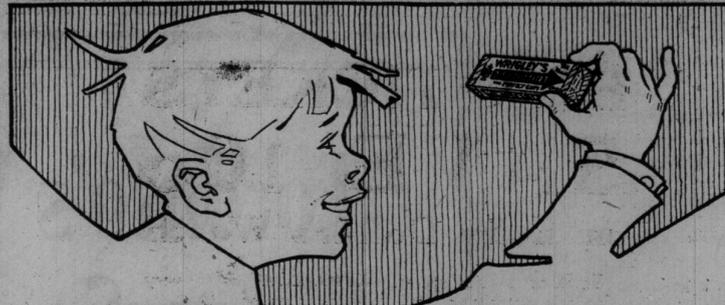

After the council had adjourned for luncheon Ald. Blackburn said there was a deputation from the Great War Veterans. Controller McBride questioned the credentials of ex-Ald. Burgess and other representatives to speak for the G. W. V. A., but the ex-alderman declared himself the proper credentials and that officials of the organization would later on prove that.

When the time for the deputation came to be heard ex-Ald. Burgess asserted that he did his best to get to France and his conscience was clear on that score. Perhaps the controller on reflection would be inclined to say he was sorry.

The other members of the deputation were E. Stevenson, C. V. Conroy and W. E. Turley, provincial secretary of the G. W. V. A., all of whom urged representation for the veterans.

Ald. Plewman afterwards moved as an amendment that the membership of the commission be increased from five to seven, and this carried by a majority. Mayor Church, who was not in the room at the time, appeared not long after and indignantly informed those who supported the amendment.

STIFF PACE SET IN BIG DRIVE

Many Large Subscriptions Received From Prominent Business Men.

HARD FIGHT AHEAD

Workers Realize Difficulties, But Are Striving to Attain Objective.

The "Big Four" campaign is swinging along to a merry tune and yesterday, if figures speak for anything, may be considered to have been a very successful one.

The outstanding feature of the day was a gift to the fund by Colonel A. E. Gooderham and W. G. Gooderham on behalf of the Gooderham family of property and a big dwelling known as 41 Isabella street. In presenting the property the Gooderham family said it was given as an appreciation of the work done by the soldiers in France. The premises were formerly used as a German club, but for the future will be the headquarters of the G.W.V.A. Colonel Gooderham valued the gift at $20,000, but it is said the property could not be bought today for double that sum.

At a joint meeting of the Bank of Toronto, the Imperial Bank and the Standard Bank, each of these institutions agreed to subscribe $5000 ($15,000 in all) to the "Big Four" fund.

At the luncheon to the workers, held at the King Edward yesterday, Sir James Woods again presided.

Paul Eader, the evangelist, was the principal speaker, and the way he traced German philosophy and blamed it for the "greatest crime in history," was typical of all his addresses. He said that all thru the United States he had been coaching for what the people of Toronto had done in patriotic campaigns.

He asked the question "how and why Germany went to pieces," and answered it by saying that Germany was no fool—she had everything that was thought necessary for civilization. She had efficiency plus.

"But of what use are these things," he said, "if our philosophy of life is wrong?" Germany had believed in the theory of the survival of the fittest. This principle was applied to cows at first, and later to human beings, until all Germany became imbued with the idea. The result was that a race believed it could send France to the slaughter house, conquer the world, and reign supreme as supermen. The man of today was the one who was strong enough to lift up the weak, his burden and all, and help him along. He told a pathetic story of a soldier at the front, who, the wounded, wanted to go back to care for a pet, and in that spirit of sacrifice he urged the campaign workers to "go out and raise the money. Let us give all we have and all we are."

Big Show Tonight.

The big show at the Exhibition grounds tonight is expected to draw a huge crowd, as the numerous "stunts" to be presented are both of a novel and interesting character. The trench and bombing work will be particularly interesting, especially as all the men taking part in it have gone thru the same experience in France, when the "bombing" was not for exhibition purposes. The majority of the men are D.S.O.'s or D.C.M.'s. We are asked to request all these men to assemble at the grandstand in the Exhibition grounds at seven o'clock sharp.

The great march of the veterans to the Exhibition will leave the Trinity College grounds at seven sharp, accompanied by bands. The route will be along Yonge street, west to Dufferin, and then south to the Exhibition.

Some thousands of ladies will be out on Friday selling tags for the "Big Four" drive. If they should perchance miss you in the street, another section of them will call at your house for what is termed the "home subscription." So save up your money, for it will be a hard job to hide away on Friday.

After the meeting of the King Edward shareholders yesterday, the directors voted $2500 towards the "Big Four" fund.

Toronto's Women, Who Have Given So Much, Appeal to You to Give to a Great Cause—And Give to Your Utmost

The work of Toronto women for patriotic and community causes did not begin with the war; and does not end with the war.

For years past fully 90 per cent. of the actual welfare work accomplished in Toronto has been in the hands of women. They have nursed, they have carried relief, they have brought happiness into many a home, and they have done it gladly. But to womankind the war brought new duties, new privileges of service. The socks they knitted, the bandages they made, the boxes they sent overseas—where was there another city whose women rose more nobly to the task of love?

And with breaking hearts, but brave, dry eyes, they gave to the Empire's cause their husbands and their sons. This was the greatest sacrifice; the acid-test of their devotion.

They gave their loved ones that a newer and a better civilization might dawn upon the world. And having given thus, they gave more. While the men fought overseas, their mothers, their wives, their sisters, fought at home—fought the invisible enemy of community unrest with the visible weapons of community service and patriotic effort. A great epidemic gripped the city. The women of Toronto nursed the sick, took relief to the needy, made of themselves very angels of hope in the afflicted homes. Two associations alone in two months distributed over 1,000 gallons of soup. A single association took aid to 1,600 homes, assisted 5,000 people. It was a triumph of civic altruism; a triumph of community service.

The war is over, but a great task remains. Men died that the world might be MADE safe for democracy. Men and women must work that the world may be KEPT safe for democracy; that it may be made a better world, where the men who fought, and the women who suffered, and other men and women and children of all degree may face the future with the assurance of a Square Deal and a Better Chance.

In the little corner of the world that is called Toronto, a great band of devoted women will work to that end. They will ask from the homes of the city a special subscription for the work of repatriation and community service. They will also hold a tag day upon the streets. The measure of the city's answer should be the measure of the city's appreciation of what Toronto's womenkind has done.

This is no time for the man to be tagged for a dime who might well be tagged for a dollar. This is no time for the home to give grudgingly which might well give unstintedly. The money is for a Better Toronto. The appeal is being made by those whose services cannot be measured, for a cause whose value cannot be gauged.

Give to the "Big Four Drive" not grudgingly, but to the very utmost. Toronto must answer that appeal, and GIVE, GIVE, GIVE.

NINE-POINT RISE BY MAPLE LEAF

Brazilian and General Electric Other Features—Big Trading in Victory Bonds.

Maple Leaf Milling's spectacular rise to 153, nine points higher than the previous high record price for the shares, stood out as the feature in yesterday's active trading on the Toronto Exchange.

Maple Leaf opened at 150, and sold up in the afternoon to 153, closing at 153 1/2 for a net gain of 3 1/2 points. The only explanation offered for the 15-point rise in about 10 days is that the stock is out of line with other milling issues.

Buying of the Victory Loan of 1933 was of a vigorous order, and a number of large blocks contributed to the aggregate for this issue of $74,150, par value.

IT TAKES MONEY AND LABOR TO RECOVER GOLD FROM NATURE BUT THE RETURNS ARE BOUNTIFUL

Machinery, food, labor, brains—all are required to make a gold mine. Nature has blessed Northern Ontario with rich deposits of mineral. Millions of dollars are represented in the precious metals already recovered from the various camps of Ontario, but capital at first was required.

An Outstanding Camp Will Be West Shining Tree

We invite you to participate in the further exploration and development of the high-grade gold showings to be found in this camp.

We Direct Attention to WEST GULL MINES LIMITED

This is a partially developed gold mine, with 14 veins exposed, three shafts sunk, numerous test pits in place, and free gold showing in many sections of the property.

AS A SPECULATIVE INVESTMENT IT SHOULD BRING BIG RETURNS.

Strength was shown by utility bonds, the general bond list, including Liberty and international issues, easing variably. Total sales, par value, aggregated $18,550,000.
