Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, April 9.—A violent battle was fought by the French and Germans all day today on the front extending from Cumieres and Le Mort Homme to Avocourt, west and northwest of Verdun, and even to the eastern bank of the Meuse, and it ended with the repulse of the Germans everywhere. The French had secretly evacuated the salient of Bethincourt in the night and had established a continuous line which runs from the Avocourt corner along the southern bank of the Forges brook to the northeast of Haucourt and reshapes their own positions a little to the south of the crossing of the roads of Bethincourt-Esnes and Bethincourt - Chattancourt. This whole line was attacked by the Germans, and it withstood the fiercest onset. One column of the enemy detached from the Cumieres wood and it was violently assailed by the fire of Maxim and field artillery, under which it was dispersed. Hundreds of bodies were left on the ground by the Germans. Attacks were also made on Le Mort Homme and these were severely repulsed, the German losses being heavy. The Germans also met with a fierce resistance from the French soldiers when they attempted simultaneously an offensive movement against the French positions between the Avocourt wood and Forges brook, and they were everywhere repulsed. Finally they made a big attack on one of

LONDON, April 9, 6.40 p.m.—The Russian Red Cross, says a Reuter des-telegram from the Hungarian Red Cross, expressing condolences over the sinking of the Russian hospital ship Portugal, the loss of which, thru an attack by a hostile submarine on March 31, has been announced by the Rus-

Cross organization expresses conviction that the incident was due to some

LONDON, April 9.—Several more vessels were today reported sunk or damaged by enemy submarines.
Lloyd's announces that the British steamer Avon of 670 tons has been sunk and also publishes a report that the British steamer Adamton of 5504
tons has been sunk.
Lloyd's announced last night that the French fishing vessel Sainte Marie had been sunk. The crew was landed.
A cablegram to Lloyd's from Kobe, Japan, states that the Japanese steamship Ide Maru, 1512 tons, sailed Feb.
22, for Vladivostok, is twelve days overdue at the latter port. The cablegram says there are reasons to fear the worst concerning the Ide Maru's fate.

A Malta despatch received tonight says one engineer and eight sailors of the crew of the steamship Chantala were killed when the vessel was sunk by a submarine. Ninety-two survivors were rescued and landed here. They declare they had no warning of the pending attack.
The sinking of the Chantala, a vessel of 4549 tons gross, which sailed from London, March 10, for Calcutta, was reported yesterday in a despatch received by Lloyd's at London.

Out for Burial.

LONDON, April 9.—The government committee on the treatment in Germany of British prisoners of war, of which the Hon. Justice Younger is chairman, has issued a report on the conditions prevailing in the Wittenberg Camp during the typhoid epidemic of last year.
The report is based on information from repatriated prisoners and, especially, from Major Priestley, Captain Vidal and Captain Lander of the Army Medical Corps, who were sent to the camp shortly after the outbreak of the epidemic, and who were recently released from Germany.
The three officers mentioned are the only survivors of six British doctors sent to the Wittenberg Camp by the Germans "to take up," says the report, "the place of duty abandoned by their own medical staff when the presence of typhus manifested itself."
Herded Together.
The records of the epidemic kept by the British officers were taken from them before their departure from Germany, but the report gives in detail the condition of the camp and the treatment of prisoners and patients, and the American ambassador, James W.
Gerard, in his report last November, said was "even more unfavorable than I had been led to expect."
According to the released officers,
there are 15,000, and sometimes more,
prisoners in the camp, which the committee says, "is an enormous number for so restricted an area as ten and a half acres."
There were no proper heating arrangements and the men were insufficiently clothed.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

DEFEAT was again administered the Germans by the French in a battle which raged all Sunday, and was among the most violent that have been fought for the possession of the Verdun sector in the seven weeks since the offensive began. The assault was in the form of a combined series of attacks on the French left wing and left flank. It was prepared for by the enemy in bringing up masses of probably fresh troops, and it was prepared for by the French in evacuating without molestation the Bethincourt salient some time Saturday night as being too advanced a position to hold during the course of a big battle. The French lines, as readjusted after the withdrawal from that salient, were firmly held everywhere. The Germans made a gain of the most temporary sort when they got into the trenches of a small redoubt near Avocourt, for they were immediately thrown out in a counter-attack. The new line which bore the shock of the assault extends from Avocourt corners to Forges brook, northward along this stream to a point northeast of Avocourt, thence to the crossings of the Bethincourt-Esnes and Bethincourt-Cumieres roads, and then round the Mort Homme position to Cumieres.

It is not to be believed that the Germans escaped from this engagement with few casualties. They did not. One of their columns, for example, was caught in close order while coming out of the woods to attack Cumieres, and it was speedily dispersed by a terrific fire from guns and maxims. Other determined assaults did not give them anything worth bragging about either, for, stricken by frontal and enfilading fire, the attackers invariably melted away, leaving many dead upon the ground.

It is to be noted that in this fighting, as in other preceding combats, the French relied mainly on maxim and field gun fire, their infantry not showing itself, except when necessary to deliver a counter-attack to preserve some important part of the line as near Avocourt. It is probable that on their new front the French have a clear field of fire for 1000 to 1500 yards. To gain that field of fire would be one of their main objects in evacuating the woods above them, whose density calls for close and more deadly fighting for the defensive. Outside of the woods their artillery would be more effective.

The excitement of battle also crossed the Meuse and impelled the Germans to attempt to get an opening for the launching of an attack on Cote du Poivre, or on the Douaumont-Vaux line. A great quantity of munitions was wasted by them but they were prevented from driving their infantry out to the attack by French curtains of fire. The allies now have twenty of ammunition both small and great and they do not hesitate to use it for the sparing of their men.

The French did some attacking on the front northeast of Verdun where they captured 150 yards of German trenches at a point southeast of Dou-

BRITISH RETAIN THREE OUT OF FOUR CRATERS

Fighting at St. Eloi Does Not

vantage.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, April 9.—As a result of the close and tenacious fighting fought on the British at St. Eloi, the Germans gained one out of four main line craters and the other three remain in British hands with a considerable portion of the ground gained on March 27. London announced last night. A Fokker monoplane was brought down in the British lines and the pilot, who was unharmed, was taken prisoner. Much mining was done about the Hultsh quarries, Givenchy, and Roclincourt, with the Germans springing one in the Hohenzollern sector. British trenches about St. Eloi were heavily shelled with the British retaliating. Other artillery activity prevailed about Neuville St. Vaast, Souchez and Hohenzollern redoubt and Wytschaete.

PETROGRAD, April 9.—The Rus-siderable Russian detachments on the right bank of the Karadere River drove back the Turks when they attempted to recross this stream, and Friday night the Russians beat off no fewer than three attacks by the Turks on the Russian entrenchments along this river.

"On April 8 four naval planes attacked the Russian aerodrome at Pappensholm, near Kielkond, on Qes-ped. Two of the four enemy aero-

INTERNEED ALIENS WILL AID WESTERN FARMERS

Two Thousand Men May Be Transported From Cochrane
Camp.

WINNIPEG, April 9.—A meeting in connection with the proposal to release a large number of interned aliens from detention camps in order that they may aid farmers in the operations of the present year was held on Saturday afternoon in the office of the commissioner of immigration, J. Bruce Walker. Those present at the conference included Maj. Gen. Sir William D. Otter, who is in general charge of the detention camps of the Dominion; officials of the C.P.R., C.N.R., Bankers' Association and Grain Growers' Association.
It was arranged that as the list of available men in the camp at Brandon was exhausted, special trains would be operated from Cochrane west, and if necessary 2000 men would be brought from the camps near that place to Brandon. The cost of this transportation would be borne by the federal government.
Farmers using this labor will be required to take each man for a period of seven months, to pay the current rate wages, and to report once a month to the commandant of the camp.

MEETING OF PACIFISTS BROKEN UP IN LONDON

Speakers Were Pelted With Flour and Ochre and Banners

LONDON, April 9.—An attempt to hold a non-conscripted and peace meeting in Trafalgar square today was unceremoniously broken up by thousands of persons who charged and dispersed the procession and tore up the banners and flags.
Various peace societies had organized the demonstration. Sylvia Frank, of the Women's Peace Union, Bathurst, the militant suffragette, was prominent among the promoters. After the procession had been dispersed the leaders in the movement mounted the plinth of the Nelson column and endeavored to make speeches, but the crowd pelted them with flour and red and yellow ochre. The speakers faced the ordeal for five minutes and then beat a hasty retreat.

HENRY CHAPLIN, M.P., CREATED A BARON

Member for Wimbledon Unable to Attend to Parliamentary Duties.

LONDON, April 9, 6.13 p.m.—Henry Chaplin, Unionist member of parliament for Wimbledon and former president of the local government board, has been created a peer.
It is understood that King George conferred the barony in order to relieve its recipient of the onerous duties of representing the important constituency of Wimbledon, which has been in falling force for some time and had desired to resign his seat in the house of commons without severing himself from connection with politics. The bestowal of the peerage, giving him a seat in the house of lords, will achieve this aim.
It is stated that the coalition candidate for Wimbledon will be Sir Stuart Auchincloss Costa, widely known in America.

WHY THE STREET RAILWAY AND OTHER TORONTO MUDDLES?

We return this morning to the subject we opened up in The Sunday World, as to the need of straightening out the street railway situation in Toronto; and especially of taking up the question before the supreme authority in matters of this kind, namely, before the Hon. W. H. Hearst, premier of Ontario, leader of the government, and, therefore, premier in office to former responsible ministers, whose legislation, not by design but by development, brought things in Toronto to the present state. We pointed out that the legislature, as directed by Mr. Hearst, has sovereign power, and that it can do anything it wants to do right off the bat.

And we also pointed out, what very few of our public men seem to realize, and especially the mayor and city council of Toronto, that is not the grievance that happens to be the outcome of the Legislature by the Legislature of Ontario there is a remedy. The whole history of political and constitutional progress is a history of the curing by the supreme authority of grievances created by predecessors.
And especially is it easy to cure this grievance in connection with the street railway situation in Toronto, because the issue is altogether one of money, and not so much one of rights of individuals or of constitutional law or anything of that kind. And where it is a case of money it is a matter of price; and if for a reasonable price these grievances in Toronto can be removed, now seems to us to be the best time to work it out, as our citizens are sick of paying two fares where they should pay one. And if they have to walk over gaps between terminals of different railway systems; and if it is a hard matter to bring the radicals into Toronto as long as a private-owned company has the right of the streets for five years more, then it seems to us simply a matter of price and negotiation for the extinguishing of these rights owned by private corporations; and the best means of extinguishing these rights is by the sovereign powers of the legislature under the direction of the responsible government in this case that of Mr. Hearst, or by way of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the latter not having sovereign power would have to work out the cure by the agency of the government.

For instance, Mr. Hearst and his cabinet were able a few days ago to announce that they had cleaned up the Hydro-Electric situation in eastern Ontario, where a number of power companies were the rivals of the application of the Hydro-Electric system to that part of the province. If the Hydro-Electric went into the eastern portion of the province as rivals of the eastern companies there would be a large expenditure of money, and perhaps loss by reason of competition for many years to come. By means of their sovereign power the government cleaned up and decided to pay $4,000,000 to the private-owned companies and take over their business; and on the lines thus acquired develop eastern Ontario with cheap power in the same way as western Ontario has been developed and is being developed today.

We therefore contend that the way to clean up the situation in Toronto is to ask the government to intervene and to give Toronto legislation to take over the Toronto Railway and the parts of the radial lines now in the city, the general interest to buy out, if it can buy out at a reasonable price, the Toronto Railway and the radial lines leading out of Toronto, and probably the power lines in Toronto owned by a private company, and more or less interfering with the Hydro-Electric in the city and neighborhood.
More delay does no good, and the public must bear the inconvenience and disadvantage of the present situation until a cure is effected.

Why not start the cure now, and why not let there be a conference between the city authorities and Hon. Sir Adam Beck and Hon. Mr. Lucas of the Hydro-Electric and Hon. Mr. Hearst as representing the government, and make one bite of the whole business, instead of spreading it over five more years of inconvenience and delay and of holding back the city's progress!
The World intends to ask Mayor Church and the members of the city council today how much longer they intend to trifle with the situation, and whether they have apprehended our contention that the only way for a quick clean-up is thru the sovereign power of the province; and that at this very session such a clean-up could be effected.

Look at all the members we have in the Ontario House, ten, to wit, and two in the county, and all supporters of the government, and all, we believe, friends of public ownership, and all cognizant of the inconvenience sustained by their constituents, who are residents of Toronto. If these twelve men got together and worked with the mayor and Hon. Mr. Lucas and Sir Adam Beck and Hon. Mr. Hearst, we haven't any doubt that immediate relief could be arranged.
The meantime news was given out on Saturday that the appeal to the privy council as to who owns the gap on Yonge street has been postponed. But going to law never did anyone any good. But going to the source of power and asking that the grievance be cured is the one satisfactory method in sight.

World, as it has said, intends to follow up this aspect of the case by interviewing the mayor and members of the board of control and members of the legislature and those in authority at Queen's Park, and see if something can't be accomplished.
In a word, the only way to cure the grievance in Toronto is the same kind of treatment as was applied to the Hydro-Electric situation in eastern Ontario. And again we ask, why is the Hon. Mr. Hearst?
Why is the Hon. Sir Adam Beck?
Why are the twelve members in the Ontario Legislature who represent Toronto?
Why is the Ontario Legislature?
If they are not for dealing with a question of this kind.
And again we say it. Why is Sir Adam Beck?
Why is Hon. Mr. Hearst?
Why is Mayor Church?
Again we ask, why is the city council and the members of the legislature, if not for something of the kind we've said?
We believe the legislature would willingly give, as they are bound to give,

VORWAERTS DENOUNCES SOCIALIST CENSORSHIP

"One of Disgusting Experiences of This Superlatively Better Time."

PARTY BREACH WIDE

Organ of Socialism in Germany is Lashing Itself Into Fury.

Berlin, April 9. Via London.—The Vorwaerts today devotes its entire front page to a bitter attack on the Socialist party caucus because of its action in placing in the office of the Vorwaerts a censor to pass upon what the paper shall print and to curb the sympathies of the Vorwaerts for the Socialists.

"That to the pressure of the military censorship," says the Vorwaerts, "there should be added a party censorship which is at least the equal of and really surpasses it in severity, is one of the disgusting experiences of this superlatively better time."

The action of the Socialist caucus is characterized by the Vorwaerts as an unheard of in the party, whose basis is democracy.

The Vorwaerts disputes the legality of the decree, saying that the members of the party have not come to a point where they can shut off from criticism of all kinds by a decree of the caucus.

The principal item to be discussed at the Westworth County Council session tomorrow will be the question of insuring the soldiers of the 120th County of Westworth Battalion.

TURKS HAD EVACUATED TRENCHES AT FERMAIE?

Claim Only Two Companies Opposed Advance of British Forces.

NOW IN MAIN POSITION

British Attack on New Lines Repulsed on Thursday, Avers Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 9.—(Via London, April 10, 3:10 a.m.)—The following official communication was issued today:

"Trak front.—On Wednesday and Thursday, in the area occupied by our four kilometers east of our main sector at Fermaie, we killed or wounded 1500 of the enemy, and took some prisoners. Our aeroplane was brought down."

"The two days' battle took the following course: As our trenches close to the river, which formed part of our advanced line and were situated four kilometers east of our main position, were flooded and completely destroyed, our main force evacuated them, leaving only a counter-attack and a number of other articles. There was an evacuation of the morning of Wednesday, the enemy who did not know of the evacuation, bombarded the trenches for an hour, and then attacked with three battalions. Two out of two companies had orders to retreat before these superior forces, nevertheless they delayed, and by a counter-attack, and bombing, and then retreated to our main position. At the same time our weak forces on the right bank of the river, composed of outposts, withdrew to a wing of our main position. In the course of these attacks we recovered a number of articles. The enemy troops cut off by the floods."

"Encouraged by these skirmishes the enemy, who had occupied the trenches, approached Thursday at some points within 800 metres of our main position and attempted an attack, but was repulsed by our counter-attacks and heavy fire, to retreat eastward two kilometers, leaving behind a considerable number of dead and wounded. Our losses were small. Friday morning there was an artillery engagement. On the coast of Smyrna, northwest of Urna, an enemy monitor unsuccessfully fired 25 shots in the direction of our batteries. Our artillery hit the monitor three times and she was placed out of action and taken to tow by another monitor."

HUNGARIAN MINISTRY IS EXPECTED TO FALL

Baron Burian, Austrian Foreign Minister, Will Also Probably Resign.

LONDON, April 10, 3:50 a.m.—A despatch to The Morning Post from Budapest says:

"Count Tisza, the Hungarian premier, and Baron Burian, the Austrian foreign minister, are expected to resign. The Tisza government is expected to fall owing to the opposition of Austria-Hungary and Turkey to the proposed German plan of establishing a customs union and economic federation between the central powers and the Balkan states."

"The fall of the Tisza government, if it becomes an accomplished fact, will be a great satisfaction to many circles, for his strong personality and vigorous support of the war has created enemies, particularly among the Hungarians who have declared him to be a great hindrance in the way of an early peace settlement."

The biggest day Newmarket ever saw was witnessed on the morning of the 10th inst. when Lieut.-Col. Clarkson's 12th York Rangers Overseas Battalion left for the front.

From every village and hamlet they began to arrive at an early hour in the morning, and by 8 o'clock, and for the first time the colonel had the satisfaction of casting his eyes over the heads of his command. To the World last night he expressed his intense gratification with the line-up.

Following the mobilization at 5 o'clock, the men were quartered round the town hall and square, and the three field kitchens provided supper for the 1100 youngsters, and by 8 o'clock, and for the first time the colonel had the satisfaction of casting his eyes over the heads of his command.

Magnificent Collection of Elegant Sample Suits For Women Arranged in Two Groups for Quick Clearance, at $12.75 and $19.50

250 Imported Models, 250 the Sample Collections From Domestic Manufacturers, All Modish and Beautifully Tailored.

THIS OFFERING MARKS A RED LETTER DAY in the history of the department for of very truth it is of such a nature as to leave even the buyers amazed at the values. Every one of the 500 suits is beautifully tailored, extremely smart and made of the most excellent materials. And with the cost of all fabrics advancing as it is, such pricing is most distinctly a feat!

You could scarcely do better were you to give twice as much for a suit, but since the attractions mount in proportion to the lowering of the price, it is well to remember that the best models will fall to the early comer. However, since the number is large, they should last for some time, so if you cannot come at 8.30, come later.

Group $19.50 contains such suits as you'd scarcely imagine could be made for the money, for they are the very last word in modishness, they are made of beautiful materials and are designed and trimmed in that delightful manner that marks them at once as the work of the most skilled designers. Gabardines, serges, poplins, shepherds' checks of superior quality and such silks as taffeta and faille—these are some of the materials. The colors being blue, tan, brown, black, and two and three-tone checks.

They are perfect marvels of cut, with wide, beautifully hung skirts and jaunty rippling coats, with the very newest ideas in cape collars, high rolling collars and the big square collars of the Revolutionizing Period; even the ultra smart wide full sleeves with the quaintest of cuffs are there and the linings are no less attractive than the charming trimmings. Tuesday, $19.50.

Group $12.75 consists of 250 suits, made in Canada—the sample collections of some of the most prominent manufacturers, together with a number of plain tailored suits from our own factories. The latter are made of the finest quality of men's wear serge, treated with indigo dyes, guaranteed absolutely fast—such serges as are now scarcely obtainable. All are beautifully cut and finished and lined with silk or satin of excellent quality.

The more elaborate suits contain a number of silks—taffetas, poplins, crepe cords, etc., as well as serges, gabardines, wool poplins and many checks, in all the fashionable shades, a very fascinating collection revealing the mode in all its bewildering variety and charmingly trimmed with gaily colored collars and cuffs, buttons and buckles in quaint designs, silk stitching, soutache braiding, etc. The skirts are wide, some yoked, some belted, some pleated and every suit shows a style and a jauntness that are almost incredible at such a price. Special for Tuesday, $12.75. —Third Floor, James St.

Baseball Major Leagues Start Wednesday

NATIONAL AND AMERICAN BASEBALL LEAGUES PLAY BALL ON WEDNESDAY

Most Leaders of Major Clubs Confident of Ultimate Victory—Playing Under Peace Conditions.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The clarion call of "Play ball!" will echo thru the land next Wednesday. These stirring words will mean more this season than ever before, for they mark the beginning of a new era in baseball. No more baseball strikes, no suspension of the players, no suspension of the major league teams, no more internal disorders to disrupt the many millions of the players and their connections with the magnates.

With the definition of the Federal League the players realize that they are no longer baseball chattle, and each will devote all their energy toward the betterment of the positions of their respective teams in the two league races.

It is estimated that upward of 115,000 red-blooded Americans will flock to the eight big league parks to usher in the new baseball season, and that the season is expected to be the most prosperous in the history of the game.

Acquire Federal Status. The passing of the Federal League has much to do with this condition. The more league have been placed to the best advantage of the magnates, inasmuch as nearly every club in the league has been strengthened by the acquisition of one or more players of the caliber of the Federal League.

Of the sixteen men who are sundering the destinies of the major league clubs this season, only three are taking anything but an optimistic view of the outcome of the pennant race.

And, while they refuse to claim a pessimistic, their expressions are far from pessimistic. "Just watch us next year," they all conclude.

These three are in the 1916 campaign because they are the only ones who hold franchises in the major leagues, and they are not depending their time in idle chatter, even though they have no chance for a pennant this year.

The other thirteen managers, however, are vouching for the success of the Federal League, and they are all confident that the Federal League will win the pennant.

Looking over the roster, one finds names like Home Run Baker, Walter Pipp, Ray Caldwell, Nick Cullip, and a few others of equal note.

President Tener, National League, says the baseball season of 1916 is very bright. There is tremendous enthusiasm among the fans, which augurs well for the sport through the country.

As far as the American League is concerned, I feel safe in predicting an unusually prosperous and successful season from every standpoint.

In the first place, in my opinion, there is a remarkable amount of talent in the American League, and they should fight it out this year.

The peace agreement, resulting in the elimination of the Federal League, will have a beneficial effect on baseball.

do not anticipate any ill-effects from the European war, for the country by this time has thoroughly adjusted to the changes and vicissitudes brought about by that conflict.

Joe Birmingham Tells of Tim Hurst's Repartee

Being an Irishman and alive to the honor of the game, Joe Birmingham of the Toronto team, has an endless fund of anecdotes in connection with baseball.

He admits that in his numerous tilts with the late Tim Hurst he invariably emerged second best. Instances in which the inevitable little umpire was loser in the bout are too numerous to mention.

The 1916 make-up of the league will be the same as in the old days—a compact circle made up of the best clubs in the east. And so we all are more hopeful that brighter days have been ahead.

The return of Newark and Baltimore is gratifying. I am confident that before the season is over the two clubs will be completely satisfied with the brand of baseball they will get.

James Price and Tommer, the new owners of the Newark club, have made themselves popular in the city. They will have no major league connections.

Another popular move was the decision to play the games in Newark, instead of in Harrison. Jack Dunn always gave Baltimore baseball of major league calibre, and with no objection there this season he is bound to win the fans back.

Richmond no doubt will make a much better showing in the way of attendance this season. Billy Smith is a shrewd and capable manager, and his hustling qualities will make him popular with the fans.

The change in ownership has stirred things up in Providence, and the fans no doubt will be glad to see Billy Draper, the new owner of the club, who is very popular through Rhode Island.

President Chapin of Rochester made a tour of the city last week. He has already shown that he possesses the qualities of a manager.

Pat Donovan and his champions should have a fine time in Buffalo, for they have the field to themselves there.

A large number of Canadians that have gone to the war front have made baseball conditions in Toronto and Montreal little uncertain.

Some of the great lovers of outdoor sports in the city are the ones who patronize the ball games liberally.

It is the only form of outdoor amusement that is popular with the people of Canada.

It is interesting to note that the international league is very encouraging.

TRIS SPEAKER MAY NOT GO TO CLEVELAND CLUB

Famous Outfielder Had Agreed Upon Terms to Stay With Boston Red Sox.

BOSTON, April 9.—Tris Speaker, the famous centre-fielder of the Boston American League team, whose sale to the Cleveland Indians was announced yesterday, said tonight that it was not yet a certainty that he would go to the west.

According to officials of the Cleveland Club, the price paid for the great fielder was $100,000, the largest amount of money that has ever been paid for a ball player.

Tris Speaker, ranked with Ty Cobb as the greatest of all time, has an enviable record with the bat.

Since 1908, when he joined the Red Sox, he has hit 1,000 runs, 1,000 home runs, and 1,000 RBIs.

His best season was 1913, when he reached the remarkable total of 237 runs, 237 home runs, and 237 RBIs.

NEWARK, N.J., April 9.—More snow and rain today made a workout of the Toronto team impossible, and the game with the Brooklyn Nationals was postponed.

IDEAL BATTING ORDER JOE KELLY TELLS WHY

Three Small Men Lead Off and Then Come the Clouters.

NEW YORK, April 8.—According to Joe Kelly, the former lead manager, coach of the Yanks and Bill Donovan's first lieutenant, the Yanks have what might be called the most ideal batting order in the major leagues.

Kelly reasons along these lines: "Take the first three hitters, and they are a hard hit to pitch to. They make the pitcher work more on the bases they combine more speed than any other club in baseball can show."

Then along come the cleanup boys, and I will be greatly mistaken if they do not drive in a flock of runs. As chasing boys home Baker has ranked at the top for several years and he had to compete with some of the best batsmen in the game.

SAV DUTCH STEAMER NOT SUNK BY GERMANS

When Palembang Met Accident, Teutons Had No Vessels Near, According to Statement.

LONDON, April 8.—The text of the German Government's communique to the Dutch Government with regard to the investigation into the sinking of the Dutch steamer Palembang is as follows, according to a despatch from The Hague given out by the Overseas News Agency.

The reports of all men-of-war which were in the vicinity of the Palembang incident—have been received. At the time when the Palembang met with the accident on March 27, 1915, the German navy was even in the neighborhood of Palembang, as follows: ship was sunk. It must, therefore, be considered impossible for the Palembang to have been torpedoed by a German ship.

WOMEN'S CORPS PLEDGE TO AID RECRUITING

Meeting Held at Y. W. C. A. Was Attended by Representatives From Many Branches.

BIG GATHERING PLANNED

Resolution Passed Condemning Speakers Who Have Sons or Relatives Not in Khaki.

Plans as to how the members of the Women's Emergency Corps can still further assist in stimulating recruiting thru their educational campaign, were discussed at the meeting held at the Y. W. C. A. parlors, on Saturday afternoon.

Things detrimental to recruiting engaged a good deal of the attention of the meeting. It was pointed out that there are certain people who address meetings urging others to enlist, when it is known that they themselves have sons or other male relatives who have taken no action in the matter.

Another obstacle is the pampered way in which many mothers have brought up their sons. An illustration was given of a woman who, because her son was given cold fish on a recent date while in camp, was now using her influence to prevent other mothers from encouraging their sons to enlist.

In the matter of interesting more women, it was pointed out that some already engaged in Red Cross and similar work, claim that they already have enough to do. To make these and still more, those who have not yet entered upon any of the movements of the times, realize the need for unanimity of effort, more speakers are wanted to address small gatherings, and church societies. Names were added to the list of speakers, and Mrs. Hutchinson will be asked to arrange to send speakers to different centres.

A resolution, carried unanimously, was that the corps should use all its influence to prevent speakers addressing recruiting meetings who were known to have sons or other male relatives who are physically fit and otherwise eligible, and who are not in khaki.

Mrs. Jackson of ward six said that arrangements were being made for a meeting, at which 60 societies would be represented, on Tuesday, at which addresses on the need and duty of recruiting would be given.

AMATEUR PLAY WAS GOOD.

TWO GABARDINE SUITS FOR IMMEDIATE WEAR

Smart Models in Navy and Green Emphasize Interesting Features.

TAFFETA OR BRAID

Is Used Liberally for Trimming Many Exclusive Costumes.

"Gabardine and serge for the tailored suit and taffeta or faille for afternoon costumes," so says the fashion bulletin, scoured by eager eyes. That gabardine is again so much in vogue should prove a source of relief to those who want an attractive as well as practical spring street costume—not of silk. Gabardine is always in excellent taste, and its possibilities are without number, combined with selected taffeta or just trimmed with varying widths of plain or fancy braids the effect is equally smart.

As navy is the leading "suit" color of spring, the description of a very attractive navy model is opportune. This suit, recently displayed by an exclusive up-town costumer, had the upper part of the skirt of taffeta, with an unusually deep hem section slashed on the upper edge. The coat was built on decidedly conservative lines except for the sleeves, which were slashed on the outer seams to make room for a ruffled section of silk. A modest little belt of the gabardine ran quietly around the normal waist line, terminating two inches each side of the front. A plain shawl collar of taffeta was overlaid with one of hem-stitched organdie and small buttons fastened into silk-bound button holes.

Another very useful little suit of dark green displayed the popular braiding which outlined collar, cuffs, belt and coat opening and then ran all the way around the four-yard hem. Touched with double black stitching were noticed.

Why You Should Begin Now To Guard Against Summer Tan

BY LUCREZIA BORI
Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

EVER since we were "knee high" we have heard of the havoc wrought to the complexion by the March winds. The early Victorian moth would not allow her daughter to poke her little nose outside the door unless her peach-blow face was protected by a hat and veil and her hands and arms by "mitts." Even today the rural maidens don their sun-bonnets whenever the calendar proclaims it is to be blustery March—that is, if they care to preserve the pink-and-white beauty of their complexions. You will find many a "Sun-bonnet Sue" at work in her garden with face, hands and arms protected from the wind and sun, that are sure to burn a coating of tan that will last an entire summer.

March winds not only tan the skin, but they make it dry and scaly by robbing it of its natural oils. The only way to "play safe" is to keep the skin well nourished and pliable by a generous use of cold cream. Rub a small amount of the cream into the skin every time you are exposed to the wind.

Cold Cream Recipes.
The following cream is excellent for this purpose:
Oil of sweet almonds... 4 ounces
White wax... 8 drams
Spermaceti... 4 drams
Borax... 2 drams
Glycerine... 1 1/2 ounces
Rose water... 2 ounces
Oil of neroli... 15 drops

Melt the first three ingredients, add the glycerine to the orange-rose water and dissolve the borax in the mixture. Then pour it slowly into the blended fats, stirring constantly. If you are in the habit of using face powder, first apply a thin coating of cream to the skin, then wipe off the superfluous grease with a piece of soft linen. The skin may then be dusted with the powder, which will form a protective coating difficult for the sun beams to penetrate. I advise you to use nothing but the purest rice powder, as many of the so-called pure face powders contain white lead.

In case the sun and wind have already tanned your skin I shall suggest a treatment for the removal of the brown coating. One of the most excellent of bleaches—when the coating of tan is not too thick—is the common, everyday lemon. No dressing table should be without this homely fruit, for freckles and stains of various kinds that assail the skin will disappear with its use. Be it understood, however, that the acid properties of the lemon are not strong enough to remove deep tan in one or two applications. It must be constantly applied to prove efficacious.

Extract the juice from the lemon and apply it to the skin with a small cloth. Pat the liquid well into the surface. Remove the first application with a towel, and then apply a second, which should be allowed to dry into the skin. Like every other bleach, lemon juice has a drying effect upon the skin, and to counteract this tendency you should rub cold cream into the pores now and then to keep the skin soft.

Cucumber Cream Bleach.
Cucumber cream will also bleach the skin and at the same time lubricate the tissues so that the skin covering will not become dry. It is made from this formula:

Cucumber juice... 1 ounce
Almond oil... 2 ounces
White wax... 1/2 ounce
Spermaceti... 1/2 ounce
Tincture of benzoin... 10 drops

The white wax and spermaceti are melted, and to the mixture is added the heated almond oil. Then the cucumber juice and benzoin are added, and the cream is beaten until smooth and white.

Buttermilk as a bleach and skin softener has no peer among cosmetics. Bathe the skin freely with the milk. Take a cloth and mop the neck and arms, allowing the liquid to dry thoroughly into the skin. You will soon notice an improvement in the texture and coloring of your skin.

While the first warm, spring days may tempt you to run outdoors without a hat to protect your skin, resist the temptation, and recall the disfiguring coat of tan which you acquired last summer—the first layer having been the work of March winds. Then pin on your hat or tie a bonnet under your chin, and if you go for a motor ride wear a veil, never forgetting the protective coating of cold cream and rice powder. You need have no fear of tan or freckles if you observe the timely suggestions which here.

Raw Meat Useless As a Cure for a Black-and-Blue Eye

By DR. L. K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

THE entrance into the skin of blood or of hemoglobin, the colored matter of the red blood corpuscles, after it has leaked or seeped out of a broken or crushed vein is called a bruise, a black and blue mark or if you are a medical pundit, an "echymosis."

If the injured vein, capillary or artery is on the nose of the neck, palm of the hand or pulp of the finger, the tough tissue and thick skin may squeeze the torn blood tube so tightly together that little or no bleeding penetrates the compressed fabric. If, however, the structures round about are flabby, inelastic or the clotting power of your blood is slow and deficient, much blood will escape into the porous tissue before the hemorrhage ceases. Since there is no external split in the skin, this blood cannot leave the tissues. As a consequence, it gradually spreads from side to side, and upward toward the surface of the skin. You call this a bruise, or, if much blood has escaped, a sprain.

If, perchance, the eye is struck, the hemorrhage flows within the loose tissue beneath the lower eyelid and bulges it until the very tension created compresses and stops the bleeding. This is recognized as a "black eye."

"He was beaten until he was black and blue," means that the blows were so heavy that many veins and capillaries were injured, which caused red blood matter to leave the channels and leak into the tissue spaces nearby.

What to do to cure or to prevent a black eye should now be plain to every one, even to the foolish person hitherto accustomed to slap the face of raw meat over the damaged spot. The folly and lack of logic in this traditional method can only be appreciated when you realize that in a scientific practice to use raw meat to hasten the clotting of blood in an open surface.

The best cure of a black eye is its prevention in this manner:

First, don't wait until a black eye appears and then begin after it is too late, to prepare meat and leeches to cure the trouble.

The instant the eye is injured go to the nearest washroom, apply ice water and cold showers to the eye and head, and begin a vigorous massage of the loose folds beneath the damaged eye. For several hours rub the eye gently and firmly with circular motions. Bathe it alternately with hot and cold ablutions. The soft bags of tissue beneath the eyeball, where the blood leaks to cause a "black eye," should be kneaded, pinched, rubbed, stroked and molded so that any blood already present is pressed out and a tension created to prevent more blood from entering.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am keeping company with a boy friend and I think he will go to the war. He wants to give me a ring before he goes. Would you take it if you were me? Kindly advise me what to do.

Blondy.

B LONDY: It all depends so much upon how old you are and how old he is, and upon so many other things of which you have not told me, that it is very difficult for me to advise you just what to do. But, if you are old enough to think of marriage, and if he is able to support you, and if both your parents approve, there really is no reason why you should not follow the dictates of your heart and promise to become his wife. It is a problem that you, yourself, must solve with the help of those who love you.

Annie Laurie.

PRIVATE ART: You are so very young that it seems to me inadvisable for you to follow simply the dictates of your heart without the direction of those who love you. At 16 one is apt to do things he might regret in later life.

The position the young lady holds is nothing whatever against her. It is not this that makes it either right or wrong for you to follow the dictates of your heart. It is simply that a man of 18 should think of love and marriage as something in the future and not in the immediate present. When you are older and when you have won a position in life that will make it possible for you to support the woman you choose for your wife, then it will be plenty of time for you to follow the dictates of your heart and the admiring judgment of your mind.

Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a young girl who has a soldier friend at the front who loves me dearly. Before he went I promised him I'd go with no other young man until he came back. I don't know where I work there is a young man who tries to come home and go with me to work, and I like him very much. But between us there springs up the picture of my soldier friend. Should I continue to go around with this one here or keep true to my promise?

Troubled M.M.

T R O U B L E D M. M.: No matter what I may advise you to do, my dear, there still will come up between you and any other young man the picture of your soldier sweetheart. If you were not engaged to marry him, there really is no reason why you should have given him the promise you did—but having given that promise, certainly you should keep it. If you find that you do not wish to keep it, the only honorable thing for you to do is to write him and tell him so.

Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I have a boy friend who admires me and I admire him very much. I go down to the postoffice every night and I see him and he wants to let me go home with me. I have to go a long way home and he has to walk a long way home. I don't know so that my mother can not see him. As we both dislike this very much and as my mother will not let him come near the house, what would you advise me to do?

E.: If your mother does not approve of this young man, you certainly are doing very wrong in meeting him against her wish. You know this, and until you do what you know is right, you will always be troubled just as you are now.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl of 18. I have been going with a boy about a year and I like him very much. But lately

he has not been coming to see me, and I hear he is going with another girl.

I met another boy whom I like, but not as much as the first one. I don't know how to get the other one back. Please advise me what to do.

Brown Eyes.

B R O W N E Y E S: If the first young man really likes the other girl better, there is nothing in the world that you can do to bring him back to you. Of course you can try—why don't you give a little party and invite him to it? Then it will be for him to decide whether he wishes to come to see you again.

Annie Laurie.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am in love with a young lady some years older than myself, but she seems to think more of another fellow than she does of me. Would you advise me to go on with her in the hope of winning her love, or to look for someone else?

A Heart-Broken Boy.

A H E A R T - B R O K E N B O Y: Goodness gracious, my dear boy, don't be heart-broken simply because a young lady—particularly a young lady older than you are—has given you the impression that she likes someone else better than she does you. The surest cure for your heartbreak is to meet other young ladies and to have many more friends than just this one.

Annie Laurie.

The Amateur Gardener

(By Rachel R. Todd, M.D.)

Making the Garden Beds.
Before starting out to make your garden beds, there are several very important points to be thought out. Indeed, these should be carefully considered. One is so much more important than the others, that I am sure you never can decide which comes first in order.

Location, soil, size, exposure, drainage, the kind of plants for which each special bed is planned, all these matters should be carefully considered.

Beds that are to contain annuals only should be dug over fresh each spring. Since these are not necessarily permanent beds in the strict sense of the word, and since grass-roots are not to be planted there, the beds need no underlayment with manure, although it is necessary to provide for a fair amount of drainage. This latter point, however, depends to a very great extent upon the character of the soil in your garden. Heavy clay—and there are hundreds of backyard gardens composed of little else here in Toronto—requires good drainage, because it dries out quickly and hardens amazingly. Nevertheless, clay soil, properly handled, affords marvelous nourishment, not only to annuals and perennials, but to bulbs and roses, and you will be more than surprised at the wonderful growth and luxuriant bloom that may be obtained from what may seem to you to be unpromising material.

First dig down about two feet, removing the soil entirely from the trench, so that it will not be in the way. Put it aside in a barrow or box, or some sort of a pile, where you will not be stepping over it while you work. If you hit out sufficient to allow you a working level of about three feet, the remainder of the earth can be transferred from the trench at least two feet deep, throw in all the loose, light material you can get hold of—dead leaves, grass rakings, all the refuse you can scrape off your sod, but, best of all, if you can obtain it, the best appearance is to have at least of this loose stuff for the underlayment, and your drainage problem will be solved. Wood ashes, if more than worth its weight in gold. Any fine sort of the kitchen pipes may also be shoveled in, as it is a precious material.

Now, commence and throw back your spade, pounding down the loose stuff beneath the eye-ball, where the blood leaks to cause a "black eye," should be kneaded, pinched, rubbed, stroked and molded so that any blood already present is pressed out and a tension created to prevent more blood from entering.

Of course, when cutting out your bed, you have taken care to see that the edges are clean and sharp. A rope is excellent for measuring distances, but for leveling up the edges of the bed a six-inch board, ten or twelve feet long, and laid on its side, upright, makes an excellent help.

Don't do too much the first day. At the best this bed-making is back-breaking work.

Caramel Custard

INGREDIENTS
1 pint milk.
3 eggs.
3 tablespoonful sugar.
2 tablespoonful water.

METHOD
Put the milk, and the flavoring and one tablespoonful sugar. Beat the eggs and pour the hot milk over, stirring all the time. Put two tablespoonfuls of sugar and the water into a small cake tin and place on the range until the sugar becomes a dark brown, taking care not to let it burn. Then turn the tin round and round until it is smoothly and evenly coated with the brown, pour in the custard and cover the tin with greased paper. Set in a pan of boiling water, enough to come halfway up the tin, and cook very slowly until the custard is set. Do not let the water round the tin boil or the custard will curdle. Turn out when cold and serve.
