The Helmet of Navarre

BY BERTHA RUNKLE. GROSSET & DUNLAP Publishers: New York.

Vigo was after the spy, of course. Monsieur knew the traitor now; he would open for honest men. But that might take time and I could not wait five minutes. I had the audacity to cry to the guards: "M. le Duc will let me pass out. I refer you to M. le Duc."

would strengthen my hand, would make my cause his. I entered the little court. The shutters were fastened, as before, but I had my dagger, and could again free the bolt. I could creep upstairs and maybe stab Xeu-gris before they were aware of my coming. But that was not my purpose. I was no bravo to strike in the back, but the instrument of a righteous vengeance. He must know why he died.

Xeu-gris stared at him, neither in fear nor in fury, but in utter stupefaction. "But Gervais! He plotted with you! But he hates you!" We stared at Lucas like yoked at a cart. He made us no answer but looked from one to the other of us with the alertness of an angry viper. We were two, but Xeu-gris was one. I know he was thinking how easiest to end us both.

Xeu-gris, God be thanked! seemed to be holding his own. Fighting Gervais was like fighting two men. Slowly but steadily he pressed me down and held me. I struggled for dear life—and could not push him back an inch. I still held my knife but my arms were pinned down. Gervais raised himself a little to get a better clutch, and his fingers closed at my throat. One grip, and life seemed flowing from me. My arm was free now if I could but lift it. If I could not—nevermore should I hit it on this sunny earth. I did lift it, and drove the dagger deep into him.

"My blade buried itself in the side of the basket."

thought, and that my end had come. The door flew open, and shoulder to shoulder like brothers, out rushed Grammont and Lucas. My fair was drowned in amazement. I forgot to run and stood staring in sheer blank bewilderment. Crying "Damned traitor!" Gervais, with drawn sword, charged me. I had only the little dagger. I owe my life to Xeu-gris's quick wits and no less quick fingers. Dropping the basket, he snatched a bottle from it and hurled it at Gervais. "Ware, Grammont!" shouted Lucas, springing forward. But the missile flew too quickly. It struck Grammont square on the forehead, and he went down like a slaughtered ox.

We looked, not at him, but at Lucas—Lucas, the duke's defunct servant, the coward and skulker, Grammont's hated, standing here by Grammont's side, glaring at us over his mailed sword. I saw in one glance that Xeu-gris was no less astounded than I, and from that instant, though the invincibility of the matter was still a riddle to me, my heart acquitted him of all dishonesty, of all complicity. His was not the face of a parasite.

you had not found out in a fortnight. He gets to the duke and blocks my game—for today, at least, he holds us all in his hands. I had never seen him, but I have the duke yet, and I'll have you now. He rushed at the unarmed Xeu-gris. The latter darted at Grammont's left hand sword, and in a flash all three were on the ground. Lucas reached him. He might have been in a fortnight's trance, but he was awake at last. I trembled for him, then took heart again, as he parried thrust after thrust and parried Lucas hard. He had never seen a man fight with his left arm before; I had not realized it could be done, being myself helpless with that hand. But as I watched this combat I speedily perceived how dangerous is a left-handed adversary. In later years I was to understand better when M. le Comte had become known the length of the land by the title "The Gaucher." But at this time he was in the habit, like the rest of the world, of fencing with his right hand; his dexterity with the other he rated only as a pretty accomplishment to surprise the crowd. He used his left hand scarcely as well as Lucas the right; yet, the thrust sinister being itself a strength, they were not badly matched. I stood watching with all my eyes, when of a sudden I felt a grasp on my ankle and the next instant was thrown heavily to the pavement. He and taken prompt part in the fray. I fell close to him, and instantly he let go my leg and wound his arms around me. I tried to rise and could not, and we rolled together in the wine and blood and broken glass. All the while I heard the sword-blades clashing.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. are indicated for all diseases arising from a weak and debilitated condition of the heart or of the nerve centres. Mrs. Toos, Hall, Kaidon, Ont., writes: "For the past two or three years I have been troubled with nervousness and heart failure, and the doctors failed to give me any relief. I decided at last to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial, and I would not now be without them if they cost twice as much. I have recommended them to my neighbors and friends."

RELEASED ON BAIL. Stanley Fanjoy Gives Bonds in Queens County Shooting Case. At Gagetown yesterday Stanley Fanjoy gave himself up following the finding of a true bill for manslaughter against him in connection with the death of Wm. Kincaid, whom Fanjoy shot last November in mistake for a mouse. Bail was arranged on application of Mr. Abbot, counsel for the defendant, and he was released to appear for trial next October. He gave his own recognizance for $200 and his father, Daniel Fanjoy, and one other went his sureties in the sum of $250 each. The court then adjourned as there was no other business. On the finding of the grand jury, Fanjoy went to Gagetown to take advantage of Judge Hamilton's presence to have bail arranged.

TRIED TO WRECK TRAIN BECAUSE HE HAD TO WALK. Russian Laborer, Arrested at Montreal for Placing Obstructions on the Rails, Gave This As the Reason. Montreal, May 16.—(Special)—A Russian named Commission pleaded guilty in the recorder's court today of having placed obstructions on the G. T. R. and C. P. R. near Beauport. He complained that he did not think other persons should be allowed to ride when he had to walk, and therefore had placed shovels, picks, etc., on the tracks. When arrested he was found hiding in a bush. He was remanded for sentence. Hon. W. P. Jones, of Woodstock, solicitor-general, is at the Royal. He will leave for home this evening. Hon. L. P. Paris returned to his home in White's Cove from Fredericton yesterday.

DECLINED TO BUY OLD BEN LOMOND HOUSE. It was mentioned in an afternoon paper yesterday that at the afternoon meeting of the water and sewerage board the question of purchasing the old Ben Lomond House and adjoining property would be considered. The matter did not come up for discussion, not being within the province of the board to deal with and also because it had been settled by the claims committee about six weeks ago.

Envy Aimed at a High Mark. Owing to the great popularity of the Gerhard Heintzman Pianos, certain dealers being envious of our success, have been misrepresenting the piano, and among other statements endeavoring to reflect on the lasting qualities of our instruments, which it is well known is one of the great features of the Gerhard Heintzman Pianos. During the past ten years we have sold hundreds of pianos in the maritime provinces and have had universal expressions of satisfaction, so much so in fact that we would state publicly that if any piano of ours, sold during the past ten years, can be proved to be defective material or workmanship, we will either make it good or exchange it for a new one, free of cost—that is, our usual guarantee will be extended from five years to ten. This period we believe will cover all the pianos sold by us in the maritime provinces, although we have been manufacturing pianos for nearly forty years. Gerhard Heintzman, Limited. Represented by The W. H. Johnson Co., Limited. Halifax St. John Sydney.

The board of works yesterday decided very properly to call for tenders for timber for the additional new berth on the west side. Further delay would mean failure to complete the berth, even if the dredging were done.

ALCOHOL FOR POWER

Alcohol as the source of the world's fuel, light and power is a fascinating subject of speculative discussion in the United States. Secretary Wilson, head of the agricultural department, told the ways and means committee of congress when the free alcohol bill was under discussion that, in his opinion, the time will certainly come when the world will have to look to agriculture for the production of its fuel, its light, and its motive power.

THE DR. CRAPSEY VERDICT

The formal decree in the heresy trial of Rev. Dr. A. S. Crapsey, confirms earlier rumors as to the division of the creeds and the decision of a majority of its judges, that it should be suspended from exercising priestly functions until he had taken the ecclesiastical authorities that his belief and teaching conform to the doctrine of the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene Creed as the Protestant Episcopal Church has received them.

This Medicine is Ereated.

This is why it is sure to cure Catarrh. It goes direct to the source of the disease. Its healing vapor repairs the damage caused by catarrh inflammation. Catarrh never cures because it goes into those tiny crevices and passages that every remedy can't reach. Goes where the disease actually is. Impenetrable to the eye. Don't be misled into thinking there is anything so good as Catarrh medicine. It will cure you as good-bye to catarrh.

BOAT CAPSIZES; CAPE BRETON MAN DROWNED.

Snyder, N. S., May 16 (Special)—John D. McDonald, a resident of Cape George, Richmond county, was drowned on Sunday morning while crossing the Bras d'Or Lakes. He had left Marble Mountain in a sail boat for his home and when about two miles off his home "sprung" stuck the boat, which upset and sank.

found that alcohol containing as much as 15 per cent. of water could be used in such an engine, and further that fully as much work could be obtained from a gallon of alcohol as from a gallon of gasoline.

CROP PROSPECTS

The Toronto World says of the outlook for dairying and fruit raising in Ontario this season: "The output of butter and cheese will be larger than ever before, notwithstanding the fact that cattle are backward, but fodder is plentiful, and no scarcity is being occasioned, although the season is from ten days to two weeks later than usual."

Says the Toronto News

The high license put in force for the drinker as well as for the seller has had a curious effect from the point of view of the policeman. The total number of arrests for drunkenness from Monday to Friday, inclusive, last week, was 121. This week, for the same five days, during which the higher prices have been in force, the number has fallen to 88. This is a decrease of 33, nearly 44 per cent.

WANTS "SKEERED O' NOTHIN'" AS NAME FOR BATTLESHIP

Washington, May 16.—Shall the United States have a battleship the peer if not superior of any battleship in the world, was the question which presented itself to the house today when the further consideration of naval appropriations was resumed.

The first paragraph under "increase of the navy" provides for an appropriation of $6,000,000 for a battleship to be superior to the Dreadnaught under construction for the British navy, exclusive of armament and armor.

The fight against this provision was precipitated by Mr. Burton, of Ohio, who moved to strike out the paragraph. Mr. Burton said the present programme of the navy in the way of building new ships had already been provided for until January, 1910, and in view of delays which may cover a period of two years the programme of the navy was outlived until 1912.

The amendment was defeated, the vote by tellers being yeas 103, nays 133.

SENATOR DAVID DEFENDS USE OF UPPER HOUSE

Ottawa, May 16.—(Special)—Senator David dealt with the senate abolition or reconstruction in the senate today. He said the men who brought about confederation considered the senate essential to the operation of the constitution and welfare of the country. The senate was as necessary to Canada as the house of lords to Britain. The senate did its duty on the question of provincial rights. The struggle now was between moderate and extreme democracy and between capital and labor. In his opinion labor would triumph and dominate the lower character of the legislative world. The work of men need have no fear of the senate. Sir Richard Cartwright moved the adjournment of the debate.

OBITUARY

William Kirkpatrick.

William Kirkpatrick, one of the old ship carpenters of St. John, died yesterday at his home in Queens, aged seventy-five years. Mr. Kirkpatrick was born and brought up in Kings county. He learned his trade in St. John and sailed from here to most parts of the world. Most of his time, however, he worked around the shipyards. For a number of years past he had not been in good health. The immediate cause of death was a stroke of paralysis, which he sustained some days ago.

Deceased was twice married and his second wife is dead about eighteen years. He is survived by three sons and two daughters. His sons are William, of New York, and Alexander, of New Hampshire. The daughters are Mrs. J. A. Johnston, of 200 Britain street, this city, and Mrs. William Duffy, of New York.

Mr. Kirkpatrick was looked upon as a capital workman during his active days. He was industrious and had the best wishes and respect of all who knew him. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence to Gouda Point cemetery.

DOWLING BROS., THE BEST PLACE TO BUY Shirtwaists

Now, right at the start of the season for wearing Shirtwaists and Blouses, we are clearing out completely, a line of Muslin Blouses that we do not intend to repeat.

WHITE MUSLIN BLOUSES, one of the latest styles, of beautiful quality, fine embroidered V front set in all-over Swiss embroidery, with fine tucks back and front, buttoned in front, large sleeves long tucked cuffs and handsome Swiss embroidered collar, long tucked cuffs. Sizes 32 to 42.

Regular price, $4.50. While they last, $3.50

DOWLING BROTHERS.

Women's Comfort Shoes.

Madam, if you have corns, bunions or aching, swollen joints, imagine how it would feel to have on Shoes like this: First of all, shoes made of kid as soft as a glove, with no tips to make a seam across the toes—soles as flexible as paper, but not nearly so thin, of course.

The tread is broad, so toes may have plenty of room to spread properly; heels low, thus giving the proper poise to the body, and comfort in walking.

All these points contribute to the ease of these Shoes, and, therefore, we call them "Comfort Shoes."

Either button or lace, and not much to pay. $1.25, $1.50 or $1.75

COADY'S SHOE STORE, 61 Charlotte Street.

HERE'S A GOOD RULE.

Make your appearance all it should be, and put one of our new spring skirts and waists on. They possess that chic stylishness seen only in the productions of the very best makers, and yet they are inexpensive.
