Battle All Night Long

Attempts Of Germans To Advance Farther Stayed
Fail To Break Through Defences In Soissons Region And All Is Held Northwest Of Rheims—Reserves Reach Line

Paris, May 30.—The battle along the fighting front continued all night, with the French maintaining the western outlets of Soissons. The war office so announced today. Northwest of Rheims the Franco-British forces broke all the German assaults and maintained the defensive positions.

French reserves are continuing to arrive on the front and the German advance is being resisted with great tenacity.

The Germans made repeated attempts to break through the defence in the Soissons region, but were each time held up by the determined French resistance.

In the centre of the German advance fighting is taking place in the neighbourhood of Vesilly (approximately eighteen miles south of the Chemin des Dames, where the German attack was launched on Monday).

ALLIES RESERVES IN LINE
With the French Army in France, May 29.—(Wednesday evening, by the Associated Press)—Allied reserves are now taking up positions in the battle line. They are being thrown in to strengthen the defending forces where they are weakest, in preparation for the placing of a barrier to a further German advance.

Fresh enemy divisions have been brought forward hastily to take the places of those exhausted by the advance of the last three days and continue the pressure on the Allies.

The territory south of the Vesle River, which the Germans have crossed at several points, is more difficult for the attack.

FAIL NEAR FEUTUBERT.
London, May 30.—A German attack on a strong Allied position in Flanders, northwest of Feutubert, has been repulsed completely. This is officially announced in Flanders.

With the British Army in France, May 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Last night produced no big infantry action along the British front in Flanders. By a minor operation west of Merris, the British advanced a section of their line about 300 yards. Beyond this there was little to record.

ENEMY SEEKS MARNE VALLEY

Reason For the Vigorous Push Southward

A SECOND OBJECTIVE

Crown Prince Fights to Broaden Salient to Westward and Approach Nearer Paris by Direct Route — Advance Slower on Thursday

Paris, May 30.—As the battle proceeds the enemy's purpose becomes plain. It is to take the Marne valley.

First of all, eighteen miles south of the Vesle flows the Marne, which forms, with the Oise, one of the great avenues of approach to Paris. Along its course runs the Châlons railroad, the main eastern artery. To gain a footing in the Marne Valley, or even to approach within artillery range of it, would be an appreciable result.

Heavy fighting still lies ahead for the Allies, but most competent to expect an opinion are now satisfied that the German drive will be stopped in the near future.

The enemy is still pushing on with every atom of strength to obtain possession of as much territory as possible before the Allied reserves come up in full force and annihilate them.

The German Crown Prince, who previously has met with invariable defeat, may claim his primary success on this occasion. However, no breach has been made in the Allies' line, which has merely been pressed back to a less favorable position, and has maintained complete cohesion.

FRENCH AND BRITISH GO SINGING INTO BATTLE
Clemenceau, at Front. Wins From Death by Only Three Minutes

Paris, May 29.—(By the Agency Havas)—Premier Clemenceau, who has just returned from the battle front, declared that the morale of the French soldiers was admirable. French and British soldiers, the premier said, went singing into battle. He paid a high tribute to the Allies' commanders, who, he said, were worthy of all praise.

During his trip the premier went near a cross road over which the premier had passed only three minutes before.

FEAST DAY MAKES NO DIFFERENCE TO HUNS; PARIS BOMBARDED

Paris, May 30.—Although the British government has proclaimed today as feast of Corpus Christi—on German cities which are not in the vicinity of the front, the German long range gun resumed the bombardment of Paris this morning. The firing began at an earlier hour than is usual.

THE MATTER OF MONTREAL STREET RAILWAY WAGES

Montreal, May 30.—A resolution passed unanimously in two great mass meetings of the Montreal street railway's employees states that the counter offer of the company was not complete and the employees desired to ask the executive committee to see the management of the company in an endeavor to secure a re-adjustment of the scale of wages offered, in a manner which would make it acceptable to both sides.

DEEPER MEANING TO MEMORIAL DAY

Washington, May 30.—Memorial Day, this year carrying a deeper meaning because of the fuller participation of the United States in the war and more significant because of the new American graves in France, was observed today by the American people as a "day of public humiliation, prayer and fasting," in accordance with a proclamation of President Wilson.

Both Houses of Congress stood adjourned to permit members to observe the day. Practically all the government departments and bureaus were closed.

"Is your excellency satisfied?" Not at all. Not only have you delivered France, England and Italy; you have not even given up all Russia."—Le Rixe, Paris.

Paris Says German Flood Soon Dammed

Paris, May 30.—The German flood will soon be dammed, says a semi-official note issued today summarizing the situation between Rheims and Soissons. The note says—

"The Germans again progressed yesterday, but while, on one hand, they failed to pierce our line, on the other it is comforting to observe that their march was slackened considerably by the arrival of our reserves. As these come into play the balance will gradually be restored, and soon the German flood will be dammed."

"The French command retains undiminished confidence based as it is, on the power of our reserves and the incomparable valor of our soldiers."

Paris, May 29.—(By the Havas Agency)—All critics assert that the German drive is not yet completely stopped, but nowhere were our lines broken. All parts of the front remain solid and the Germans have obtained nothing to compare with what took place in the first days of the March offensive.

The Temps says that in the face of the formidable and tragic battle, France has no fear for the future, and stands erect in the confidence that the Allied cause will triumph over the methods of terrorism of an enemy devoid of nobility of soul. Weariness cannot turn the nation away from its sacred duty.

WILL GIVE 200,000 MORE MEN FOR THE FIRING LINE

Washington, May 30.—Two hundred thousand men of draft age, who because of minor physical defects have been held by examining surgeons all over the country for limited military service, are to be employed in producing or handling equipment for the army and thus release fighting men for the front line.

COMPROMISE ON PRUSSIAN REFORM IS REPORTED

Copenhagen, May 30.—The Berlin Tageliche Rundschau says it learns from a reliable source that a compromise has been reached on the Prussian franchise reform measure. It contemplates general direct and equal franchise, except that one additional vote is to be granted electors over forty years of age and a second additional vote to those electors having their own business, that is to say, excluding all persons who are in the employ of another. The newspaper asserts that the passage of the measure in this form are believed to be assured.

PLACE CITY TAX ON VEHICLES OF ALL KINDS

Twenty-Five Cents Per Cwt. on Automobiles

$2 AND $3 ON OTHERS

Everything on Wheels but Baby-Carriages Must Pay—Higher Rates for Pool Rooms Licenses—More Pay for Public Works Laborers—Wharf Repairs Ordered

When the meeting opened the mayor explained that the committee recommend to council an amendment to the vehicles by-law, provide for a license fee of twenty-five cents per hundred pounds on all motor vehicles, with a minimum charge of $8, and for taxes of $2 on all single horse-drawn vehicles and $3 on double teams, the tax to be imposed on vehicles, whether for hire or for private use.

To Commissioner Fisher, the mayor explained that this would do away with special privileges enjoyed at present by licensed taximeters and that all vehicles would be on an equal footing.

Mayor Hayes presided and Commissioners Fisher, Bullock and Hillyard were present.

When the meeting opened the mayor explained that the committee recommend to council an amendment to the vehicles by-law, provide for a license fee of twenty-five cents per hundred pounds on all motor vehicles, with a minimum charge of $8, and for taxes of $2 on all single horse-drawn vehicles and $3 on double teams, the tax to be imposed on vehicles, whether for hire or for private use.

Mayor Hayes then moved that the license fee for pool and billiard rooms be changed to $40 for the first table, $20 for the second, $10 for the third and $5 for each additional table. The rates now are $25 for the first table and $5 for each additional table.

Commissioner Fisher said that he had been interested in a pool room, as a landlord, and that he would have any tendency to elevate the pool rooms. Mayor Hayes—"If the pool rooms need elevating, the police will attend to them."

The motion carried.

Mayor Hayes referred to the request of the taximeters for permission to charge higher rates and said that, since they had not shown enough interest to appear before the council, the matter could stand over.

FRENCH PREMIER NEARLY TAKEN BY THE GERMANS

Paris, May 30.—Premier Clemenceau had the narrowest possible escape from falling into German hands yesterday, according to the Petit Journal. He left a certain point on the front only a few minutes before the arrival of a patrol of Uhlans.

When the Germans entered the little town, the premier had just left. They ordered a few of the French who had remained, including a general who had remaining positions, with a field glass. The general was killed in the encounter.

THE WAR SITUATION.

In the face of the continued German advance, which has resulted in the loss by the Allies of Soissons and perhaps of Rheims, along with many prisoners and considerable war material, let us gather what comfort we may from the reassuring remarks made by Allied leaders and the French press. Premier Clemenceau, who returned to Paris from the front yesterday, says the Allied commanders are worthy of all praise and the morale of their soldiers admirable. Another report dwells on the perfect harmony that exists between French and British divisions fighting side by side. While much ground has been yielded to overwhelming force, the Allied line is nowhere broken, and La Liberté de Paris says the French command is absolutely convinced it can save the situation, because of the power of the reserves and the morale of the whole army. A semi-official note today says that the arrival of Allied reserves has slackened the enemy advance, and that when the reserves are thrown in the German hopes will be stopped. A Paris cable today says that the Germans are fighting against time, throwing every ounce of man power into the struggle to get a decision before Foch's reserves are ready, but it adds:

"On the centre the enemy has again pushed forward but his efforts to broaden his advancing front have met with less success. The Allied wings have been obliged to give some ground. This action was carried out slowly and the pace was exacted from the enemy. Soissons has gone and the British have fallen back toward Rheims, but in either case the enemy has only won a couple of miles of territory. In competent circles there is quiet confidence in the Allied line. Signs are not lacking that the advancing waves shortly will be stemmed. Unity of command puts the Allies in a better position than they were in the March offensive. On that occasion French reinforcements came into action on the third day and on the eighth the Germans were stopped definitely. Today things should go more quickly."

As was pointed out yesterday, the whole situation depends on the reserves. The Allied line where the Germans struck on Monday was so thinly held that the enemy pressed forward by sheer weight of numbers. We are told that his losses have been very heavy, and far heavier than those of the British and French, who fought valiantly but withdrew before they could be crushed and resumed the fighting in new positions. It is not necessary to ask why the Allied line was thinly held. The men who might otherwise have been there are held in reserve, to be thrown against whatever point the enemy might attack in force. These reserves are now taking their places in the battle-line, and we are told that the arrangements are so well perfected that "an entire division can be moved by motor truck from the Somme to Rheims in forty-eight hours and arrive without a button missing." The battle, therefore, is described as a race between the Crown Prince and Foch. The former is straining every nerve to get a decision before the Allied reserves come up, but the latter is already taking up positions on the battle line. The momentum of the German rush may carry the gray waves forward for some distance further, but there is confidence both in Paris and London, that Foch will presently place an insurmountable barrier of French, British and American troops across their path. Fresh enemy divisions have been brought up to increase the pressure. We can but await the outcome in that spirit of confidence which marks the utterances of those best qualified to discuss the situation.

The St. Stephen correspondent of the Standard writes: "Hon. P. J. Veniot is spending a few days in Charlotte county this week, inspecting the highways and consulting with all interested in road matters. This evening he met a large number of citizens in the town council room in St. Stephen and heard many suggestions as to needed road work. It was Hon. Mr. Veniot's first official visit here, and the gentlemen who met him were much pleased with his frankness in discussing matters brought to his attention."

Mr. F. P. Starr brought good news when he announced that hard coal would be available for this market if the transportation could be arranged, but his warning that those who can burn soft coal or wood should lay in a supply is also worthy of serious attention. It is always better to be on the safe side, and our winters are severe.

Baron Goto, foreign minister of Japan, declares his country is true to the Allied cause, and would give sympathetic consideration to any suggestion concerning Japanese intervention in Siberia. Japan, he says, entered the war to keep faith with England.

Men of draft age in the United States who are unfit for service overseas but can render limited military service are to be drafted to produce or handle army equipment.

FACTS TO REMEMBER.

At a time when there is such keen anxiety over the situation on the western front it is well to keep in mind certain salient facts which tend to strengthen confidence in the final outcome of the war. The last issue of Bradstreet's contains an excellent summary of the situation as it is viewed in the United States, and based on information gained from reliable sources. The article is well worth quoting in full. Bradstreet's says: "Indications of a kind to strengthen the confidence of the Allies continue to make their appearance. The United States is evidently getting into its war stride. As was learned this week, our military forces now number nearly 2,100,000 men, of which well over 500,000 are now in France. Their movement abroad is being accelerated, 50,000 having gone abroad in the first ten days of May. With increasing transportation facilities, the number on the western front will soon be doubled. Judging from the action of the House Committee on Military Affairs this week, Congress will place no limit on the size of the army to be ultimately raised. The programme of airplane production has been placed definitely under a single head, and is now proceeding under a quickened impulse. The much discussed Liberty motors are being turned out in large quantities, and demands for our Allies for thousands of them are being met. Steel production is at its maximum. Our shipbuilding has taken an upward curve. The equivalent of one 10,000-ton ship a day is being turned out, and a daily production of 16,000 tons is expected after June 1. Steady progress is being made in combating the submarine menace, as appears from figures of tonnage losses, which show a decline from a total of 2,298,974 tons, British, Allied and neutral, lost in the quarter ending in June, 1917, to 1,123,510 in that ending in March last. Thus the U-boat toll has been almost cut in half over the period, while figures for the month of April show a total loss of shipping amounting to but little more than a third of that for April of last year. Far more enemy U-boats were destroyed in the three months ending in March than were built in that period, and in April another record was made. The decline in the U-boat danger was reflected in the reduction of war risk insurance rates early this month. In the ten months ending in April, thanks to the organization and popular co-operation, we were able to send to our Allies the equivalent of 110,000,000 bushels of wheat, while the exportable surplus under normal conditions was estimated at only from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels. This has greatly eased the food situation abroad, as may be gathered from the statement of the French food controller a few days ago that the end of food restriction is in sight. Moreover, crop prospects in the Allied countries are of a highly gratifying character. The outlook for the coming harvest in France is reported as better than in any prior year since 1898, and the prospects in our own country have seldom been surpassed at this date. On the other hand, there are poor crop reports from the enemy countries, where existing food conditions have compelled more stringent rationing of late, and circumstances of extreme distress are of growing frequency. Germany's hopes of supplies from the Ukraine and elsewhere in Russia have been keenly disappointed, and despatches tell of widespread lack of food and popular unrest in Austria-Hungary, in parts of which rioting has forced a resort to arbitrary measures on the part of the government. The situation is decidedly one to stiffen the morale of the Allied forces and of the peoples behind them."

The Maritime Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has endorsed the act relating to vocational training passed at the last session of the New Brunswick legislature, and committees will be appointed to urge action in the various centres to have the provisions of the act carried out. This is the next necessary step.

German airmen have again deliberately dropped bombs on hospitals behind the Allied lines. One nurse was killed and another injured. Several civilians died of wounds. A number of Americans were among the injured. Nothing short of reprisals of the most harsh nature will have any effect upon such an enemy.

Ireland is more tranquil since the arrest of the Sinn Féin leaders. The new government is well received in Dublin. Conscription, it is said will be held in abeyance till the home rule bill is ready for submission to parliament.

The teaching of German in the schools of New York has been discontinued till the end of the war. Our neighbors are not doing things by halves, despite the hyphens in their midst.

The Germans advanced five and a half miles on the first day of the present drive, seven miles the second day, and only three and a half on the third.

Bright Youth.
Caller—So your son, Willie, has started work as an office boy. How is he getting on?
Fond Mother—Splendidly! He already knows who ought to be discharged, and is merely waiting to get promoted so that he can attend to it.

Two Husbands.
Mrs. Brown—My husband, 'e's a very dainty feeder.
Mrs. Green—Is 'e? Now my old man is just so much the other way about; 'e's a perfect epicure, 'e'll eat anything.

Popular This Season.
Young Lady (with hopes)—What do you think is the fashionable color for a frock?
Male Shop-walker—Tastes differ, but I should prefer a white one.

His Reason.
"Going to send your wife to the seashore this season?"
"No, I can't afford it."
"Why, she isn't extravagant, is she?"
"Not in the least, but last year while she was away I blew in four hundred dollars."

THE BRANCH LINES

Ottawa, May 29.—The government will take over, on June 1, the Elgin and Havelock Railway, the York and Carleton, the Moncton and Bouchette and the St. Martins railways. Pending final agreement on terms no date is yet fixed for the taking over of the Kent Northern and Carleton and Gulf Shore railways. Parliament voted $800,000 and $200,000 respectively for the purchase of these roads, but the companies have not yet accepted the price set by the government.

CONTROL FLEA BEETLES.

The small dark colored "flea beetles," one-twentieth to one-quarter of an inch in length, so-called from their habit of leaping or jumping, eat holes into the leaves of turnips, radishes, potatoes, tomatoes and other vegetables. They are most injurious in spring when the young seed leaves are often visited by large numbers of the insects and quickly destroyed. The Potato Flea Beetle, and so, occurs regularly in the vegetable garden. The Red-headed Flea Beetle is destructive to potatoes and beans. Infested plants should be promptly sprayed with an arsenical mixture containing either Paris green or arsenate of lead or with Bordeaux mixture alone. The latter acts as a deterrent.

GEORGE L. HANNINGTON DIES IN MIDDLETON

The death of George L. Hannington, aged sixty-eight years, occurred on last Saturday in Middleton, N. S.

Mr. Hannington resided in Sydney several years, and prior to the "boom" was lessee and manager of the Sydney Hotel for a short period.

Retiring from the hotel business about the year 1899, he erected a business block in Sydney, where he conducted a flourishing tobacco trade. Later he moved to Whyonecough, where he spent several years, and from there went to Middleton.

Mr. Hannington spent the better part of last summer visiting relatives and friends in Cape Breton, and shortly after arriving home was stricken with an illness from which he did not recover. He was unmarried. He leaves relatives, nephews in Sydney being William Herron and Nelson Kennedy, the latter being at the bedside at the close of his uncle's illness. Nieces are Margaret, George in Calgary and Daisy in Middleton.

Mr. Hannington was born at Point du Chene, N. B., where the body was taken for interment.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, who is making a tour of Charlotte county, accompanied by B. M. Hill, provincial road engineer, addressed a meeting in St. Stephen last evening. The road situation of Charlotte county was discussed by citizens and Mr. Veniot and it is felt that the mutual understanding reached will be productive of much good.

At the annual convention of the I. O. O. F. being held in Toronto a heated discussion took place yesterday regarding the proper channel to send relief funds overseas. The trouble arose when Mme. Casgrain presented to the I. O. O. F. a check for $100,000 given by the Ontario government to help carry on the work she has accomplished in connection with the society. Lady Pope said she could support the sending of these funds only through either the French government, the Secours National or French Red Cross. She submitted the resolution that Mme. Casgrain's scheme for French relief be definitely rejected. The question was then laid before the meeting for further discussion. Mrs. Gooderham announced that the order had raised $8,000 during the year.

At the evening session of the Women's Missionary Society being held in St. Stephen interesting addresses were given by Mrs. C. F. Sanford of this city and Miss C. Elizabeth Hart, a returned missionary from Japan.

Some thirty Salvation Army officers, headed by Major Barr, opened a two days' session in Moncton last evening in connection with the self-denial campaign war fund.

JAPAN NOT ASKED TO INTERVENE IN SIBERIA MATTER

Remarkable Interview Given By Baron Goto

NATION WITH THE ALLIES

Foreign Minister Says He is Not Pro-German or Anti-English, but Japanese — Sees Long War Ahead, With Allies Victorious

London, May 30.—The Daily Mail publishes from its Tokyo correspondent an interview with the Japanese foreign minister, Baron Goto, which is remarkable for its discussion of Japan's good faith toward the Allies and of the pro-Germanism attributed to Baron Goto in some quarters.

The interview is mainly concerned with the prospects of Japanese intervention in Siberia.

Baron Goto said the Allies had made no formal proposal to Japan for such intervention, but that any suggestions by the Allies would receive sympathetic consideration. Asked what compensation Japan would demand for intervention on varying circumstances—size of the army, the extent of the theatres of operations and the like.

"But at the present moment," the foreign minister said, "we are not thinking of compensation, but only of everything for the Allied cause, which we have faithfully made our own."

Questioned concerning Japanese politicians, who the correspondent said, appeared to regret that Japan was not allied with Germany, Baron Goto said: "I do not say there are not such men among us, but temporary political parhenship should not be mistaken for solid convictions. The British people may rest assured that so long as the Japanese empire exists the Japanese people are their good friends."

Coming to the question of accusations of his alleged pro-Germanism, Baron Goto spoke as follows:—

"I stayed in Germany for many years and studied there, and people may think me pro-German. I am not pro-German at all. I am not anti-English. I am Japanese, sharing the national feelings regarding our international relationships." Emphasizing this point he insisted that it was impossible that he could be pro-German because "Germany is an enemy." But he declined to discuss what he described as a meaningless question as to whether he believed in the permanency of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

In reply to a question concerning allegations that Japan was in the light only for materialistic ends, the foreign minister said:—

"Japan had no particular reason to go to war with Germany. She came in in obedience to obligations of the Anglo-Japanese alliance—to keep the faith. The facts are here to justify us."

Baron Goto expressed the fear that the war might be protracted but he was confident of an allied victory. He said the Allies never had asked Japan to send troops to the western front.

THE RING. One Minute—Good-bye Pelkey. Denver, Col., May 29.—Jack Dempsey of Salt Lake City knocked out Arthur Pelkey, Canadian heavyweight, in the first round of a scheduled fifteen round bout here tonight. The bout lasted only one minute. Dempsey opened the fight by rushing Pelkey, who stumbled and fell before a blow had been delivered. Pelkey regained his feet and went into a clinch. Dempsey sent a right to the chin and Pelkey fell to the canvas for a count of six. He again arose and Dempsey drove a left to the jaw, knocking Pelkey out.

GERMANS FIGHT AGAINST TIME

Putting Every Ounce of Weight Into Drive THE LOSS OF SOISSONS Quiet Confidence of Allies on Outcome—Better Able to Bring Reinforcements into Action Now Than During the March Fighting

Paris, May 30.—Increasing violence marks the progress of the fighting south of the Aisne. The Germans are fighting against time and are throwing every ounce of weight of man-power into the struggle. On the centre the enemy has again pushed forward, but his efforts to broaden his advancing front have met with less success. The Allied wings have been obliged to give some ground. This action was carried out slowly and the full price was exacted from the enemy. Soissons has gone and the British have fallen back toward Rheims, but in either case the enemy has only won a couple of miles of territory. In competent circles there is quiet confidence in the outcome and signs are not lacking that the advancing waves soon will be stemmed. Unity of command puts the Allies in a better position than they were in the March offensive. On that occasion French reinforcements came into action on the third day and on the eighth the Germans were stopped definitely. Today things should go more quickly. The Germans have been obliged to leave their guns on the northern side of the original line, which can be crossed only at a certain number of points and are highly vulnerable to Allied airplanes. The enemy is thus prevented from reaping the full benefits of his rapid advance.

Meanwhile the Allied reserves are massing at certain points without any of the confusion that attended the similar movement in March. So well perfected are the arrangements that an entire division can be moved by motor truck from the Somme to Rheims in forty-eight hours and arrive without a button missing.

MORE SETTLED FEELING IN IRELAND REPORTED

Government Stays Hand—No Home Rule Bill for Some Weeks

London, May 30.—(Via Reuter's Limited)—With the recent changes in the government in Ireland and the arrest of Sinn Fein leaders the parliament correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says he understands the British government considers it desirable to "refrain from pressing forward at this time anything calculated to produce a disturbance. A more settled feeling prevails in Ireland, and it is hoped the improvement will grow in every direction. The Irish home rule bill is not expected to be ready for introduction for a few weeks, and until then conscription will remain in abeyance. This is believed to be the policy in which the lord lieutenant and the chief secretary are in agreement with Walter Hume Long, secretary for the colonies, and the war cabinet. Ireland seems to be settling down in a wonderful manner, despite the short time the new regime has been in existence, continues the correspondent, who has just returned from Dublin. The Nationalists and even some Sinn Feiners accept the coming of Lord French as lord lieutenant with relief. Edward Shortt, the new chief secretary, has also made an excellent impression.

POLICE COURT.

In the police court yesterday afternoon three boys were charged with the theft of an automobile belonging to Mrs. Lawlor of St. Patrick street. The three were arrested Tuesday night by Detective Donahue. Evidence was given by a niece of Mrs. Lawlor, after which the case was set aside. Further evidence was taken in the case against John C. Kelly, charged with assaulting Policeman Gibbs.

ST. DAVID'S RED CROSS.

The Red Cross circle of St. David's church has just closed a successful year's work. In addition to reports submitted, the following officers were elected at the annual meeting held yesterday: Mrs. G. Wilfred Campbell, president; Mrs. C. W. McMullin, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. George Shaw, assistant secretary-treasurer.

It's a Davis cigar! 27,000,000 will be enjoyed this year. A man of commerce set out upon a long journey, and his friends at the Club said "Take along enough cigars to last; but the man said, "No, for I always smoke Noblemen cigars, which, like the law of the Medes and Persians, changeth not". And, as he tarried by the wayside he bought Noblemen in Halifax; others from a summer hotel in the Laurentians. Anon, he bought more Noblemen in Winnipeg, in Redeye, at the Banff Hotel, and where the apple blossom blows in B. C. And lo, the last Noblemen were as good as the first. His friends marvelled, for they had not known that Noblemen cigars are as much alike as peas in a pod, which is true of each of the Davis' brands. MORAL—Smoke a Davis Cigar and dispense with guesswork. Picture to yourself five stories of sunny rooms, spotlessly clean; cheerfulness and contentment radiating everywhere. The air is fresh from the nearby mountain. It is washed until it is just moist enough to be healthful and pleasant. This is the Davis factory where carefully selected tobacco leaf is prepared, stemmed, matured and converted into famous blends of fine cigars. Take any one process as an indication of the infinite care and skill that surrounds the making of the cigars, and you will understand why the dealer thinks he has offered all the recommendation that is necessary, when he says "It's a Davis Cigar". In this airy room, each and every leaf is being treated to remove every particle of the bitter centre stem. The bundles of leaf, are now most carefully sorted for colours, grades, etc. and will mature for six, nine, or twelve months—just as long as is necessary thoroughly to season, cure and prepare the tobacco and bring out the rich flavour. In time, the leaf will reach the cigar makers, long rows of cheerful workers skilled to the last degree. To them, cigar-making is an art, not a task—a chance to display their skill and deftness. Yet no chances are taken, every cigar must pass inspection after inspection, 8 in all, until the boxes are sealed in their wax paper wrappers. Made of matured leaf, in wide-windowed rooms by skilled fingers under watchful eyes, blended to accord with unvarying standards, mellowed in the wood. Such is the history of any Davis Cigar you may buy, regardless of the price you pay. All you need to know is—"IT'S A DAVIS CIGAR"! SELECT YOUR BLEND. Noblemen—Full of quality, rich, satisfying, mellow 15 cents. Promoter and Perfection—Both mild enough for an all-day smoke 10 " Grand Master—Mild, mellow, of fine aroma 3 for 25 " La Plaza—Made to suit the Western taste 15 " Davis Panatela—Known from East to West as an after-dinner smoke 10 "

Change in Scholarship Plan. Dr. George R. Parkin, administrator of the Rhodes scholarship fund, arrived in the city yesterday and left for a fishing trip. Dr. Parkin announced that he intends to recommend a change in the method of selecting Rhodes scholars. Instead of allowing each college in turn to select a man, he would have all the colleges recommend a candidate each year and the best man to be selected.

NOTE:—
War Tax System Starts Saturday, June 1st
MON.—Special Holiday Programme

The United States Council of National Defense has gone on record officially as favoring the continuation of theatres, motion picture shows and other forms of proper amusement as one of the essentials of warimeans, for their psychological effect on the people. The gradual lengthening of casualty lists, as the war proceeds, together with other hardships resulting from the war, is certain to sober the people unduly and, if not counter-acted in part, to bring about a frame of mind of a most depressing character. To add to this inability to relieve one's feelings occasionally by attendance upon a show of some kind would soon put the people in a frame of mind where they would be unable to properly cope with the situations constantly arising it was said. It was further suggested that in England it had been learned by experience that it was best to give the public an opportunity to enjoy entertainments, especially those of a lighter vein, from time to time, that the morale of the country might be sustained. The National Defense Council specifies that shows must be clean and honestly conducted.

WANTED MOTHER TO KNOW HE DIED AS A MAN

L. Corp. Leonard Ougler Writes Home of Death of Bayard Moore—The Soldier's Graves

In a letter received from L. Corp. Leonard E. Ougler, who is in France in the army, he writes to his mother in West St. John about meeting a fellow soldier who was with Bayard Moore when he was killed in action. He writes: "He died game as the best of them. Although he knew he had but a few moments to live he showed no fear. He spoke of his mother and wished her to know he died a man. He lived only about three minutes after being hit, but remained conscious. The whole way through with his battalion Bayard had positively shown no fear while in the line or at the time of his death. I trust when I am called to go I will be as game as Bayard was. I was proud to hear the way a Carleton boy carried on right up to the last."

In a previous letter Leonard wrote about Easter Monday being the anniversary of the attack on Vimy Ridge. "The grass is all green," he writes, "on the graves. There is something majestic about all those quiet graves, which are waiting like us for the one and great Easter morning. I thought it would be nice for those at home to know whatever the circumstances allow the dead are respected and their graves cared for in a manner you would hardly think time or place would allow. Looking over the rows of quiet sleepers I think of these lines: "In graves unmarked, they'll lay them here to rest, The purple cross of Christ upon each breast."

NO ONE AUTHORIZED TO VISIT HOUSES IN FOOD HOARDING SEARCH

There is a report that two prominent women of West St. John have decided to make a house to house inspection to ascertain if there is any hoarding of food. W. S. Potts, provincial representative of the food control board, wishes to announce that he has not authorized or appointed any person to make such a canvass.

H. Vroom, chief fruit inspector of the maritime provinces, arrived in the city last evening from his home in Milton, N. S., and held a conference with Mr. Potts today with reference to business pertaining to their duties.

TROUBLE ON SHIP IS TOLD OF IN COURT

In the police court this morning Captain A. Jensen of a vessel in port, laid a charge of desertion against a member of his crew, Andrew Jensen. Mate Luotonen also preferred a charge against the sailor, that of assaulting him and cutting him on the forehead with a knife. The case is the sequel of proceedings in the police court yesterday when the sailor was fined $8 or two months in jail for drunkenness, and from information he gave out a charge was made against Captain Jensen for supplying liquor to him.

When the case was brought up this morning K. A. Mackay, Norwegian vice-consul, appeared on behalf of the prosecution. The mate testified that the defendant was drunk when he boarded the ship on Tuesday, and he assaulted him and slashed him across the forehead with a knife. As it was city court day the case was set aside and will be continued tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

After graduating from the latter he took up a course of studies and started practicing law in addition to taking an interest in mining. He served in the Civil War and in the Spanish American war with the rank of captain from May to December, 1898. He also served as police judge, probate judge, district judge and as a member of the Kansas legislature. KILLED IN THE NEW ELEVATOR

Frederick Lomax, Superintendent of Construction

PLUNGE OF SEVENTY FIVE FEET

He and St. John Man Fall—Latter, Morris Judge, Escapes With Ankle Broken

Frederick Lomax of Fort William, Ont., superintendent of construction for the Peoples Bellows Engineering Company, was instantly killed this morning, and Morris Judge of Duke street, city, and his ankle broken, as the result of scaffolding giving way, while the men were at work in the new C. G. R. elevator.

The two were repairing one of the bins in the elevator, seventy-five feet above the floor. Somehow the scaffolding gave way and the two men fell to the floor. Lomax was killed instantly, striking on his head.

Just what caused the accident was not ascertained this afternoon, as the coroner had not viewed the body. When the accident occurred Hon. Dr. Roberts was telephoned and on his permission the body of Lomax was taken to Messrs. Brennan's undertaking rooms. A call was sent in to Lieutenant Patterson of the Mechanical Transport and in ten minutes from the time the call was telephoned the ambulance with a doctor was on the scene of the accident. Judge was taken to the General Public Hospital. Reports from there at noon today were to the effect that his condition was not serious.

Lomax is survived by his wife and one child.

That Judge was not killed was only a miracle. He was falling head downwards when he caught in one of the ropes and this broke his fall. The shock when he struck, however, was severe enough to break his ankle. The bottom of the bin on which the two men struck is a mixture of concrete and steel.

Judge was a laborer and has been working on the elevator for some time. What adds to the sadness of the accident is the fact that Lomax, the superintendent, has been working day and night in an attempt to finish the job in order that he might return to his home and join his wife and family.

One of the carpenters, speaking of this morning, said that he was a very fine man and was well liked by the men in his employ. Not a day passed, he said, but Lomax passed some remark about wishing he was home. He expected to finish the job in about one week. The body is to be sent to Fort William, probably this evening.

SEEKING PROFITS CARRIED TWO FAR

A Citizen Comments on the Evil of Over-stocking in War Time

A double wagon heaped high with a great load of onions on their way to the dump or a compost heap yesterday moved an onlooker to some general observations regarding over-stocking by merchants with any line of goods in this period.

He pointed out that in such cases as this it withdrew from consumption a food product which should have been available at a low price to consumers. This was by no means confined to onions. Behind the scenes of those who stock heavily is the desire to take advantage of market conditions and make as large a profit as possible. Primarily, in the case of onions, the fault lies with holders in Ontario, who held too long, and then unloaded too largely on other markets.

The citizen who discussed the matter with the Times had a word of censure for those wholesale merchants who urge retail dealers to stock heavily with certain lines, urging as a reason that prices were sure to advance. He declared that the retail trade of the provinces was never better stocked with goods, and to induce the merchants to buy heavily was to put that much more pressure upon the manufacturers, tended to boost prices because of the increased demand, and tied up that much more capital that might be invested, for example, in Victory bonds. Putting it bluntly, he declared that such conduct helped the Germans and every wholesaler and every commercial traveler who pursued such a course was deserving of the severest censure. It was a direct violation of the spirit of the regulations made by the food board.
