WANTS TO HEAR BORDEN.

Central Canada Anxious to Have The Conservative Leader Speak.

There is a demand for R. L. Borden in Ontario, and it is announced that the opposition leader will hold a series of meetings after the 21st. Just how much time Mr. Borden can give to this province will depend upon the date of the general elections.

The West is Strongly Liberal.

Says Premier "Rutherford" Of Alberta In An Interview.

The country west of the Lakes will I think you will find, give the present government as large a majority as it gave in the present parliament, said Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Premier of Alberta, in a recent interview. Mr. Rutherford added that he could see no reason, so far as his knowledge of the western provinces went, for any foundation to the pretensions of the Conservative press that Sir Wilfrid Laurier would meet with defeat west of the Lakes. "We Liberals in Alberta," he continued, "hope to send a solid contingent to Ottawa, and if the last provincial election can be taken at a basis we shall do so."

WEDDING BELLS.

DESERISAY-CORBETT.

On Friday evening Sept. 11th 1908, a quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of Rev. T. H. Cuthbert, parish of Derby, Northumberland Co., between Liseok George Deserisay and Jessie McKinnon Corbett both of Newcastle. The bride was unattended.

The groom is a popular employee of the traffic department of the I. C. R. at Newcastle and the bride one of Newcastle's most charming young ladies. The happy couple left on the Maritime Express for Montreal, Toronto and other upper Canadian cities followed by the best wishes of their numerous friends.

MITCHELL-DENNIS.

On the afternoon of Wednesday Sept. 9th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. Joseph Mitchell, South Branch, when his son, David W., of Amherst, N. S., was united in marriage to Miss Eva L. Dennis of Amherst, N. S. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. H. Stavert, assisted by Mr. John H. Roberts, the noted English Temperance Advocate, who has been touring Kent Co. in the interests of the Temperance cause.

After the ceremony was over all sat down to a sumptuous repast. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, jr. will reside in Amherst.

ST JOHN EXHIBITION.

Had Very Successful Journal Opening on Saturday.

3,968 ADMISSIONS.

Addresses By Premier Hazen, Ministers Pugsley Fisher and Others.

The St. John Exhibition was opened on Saturday evening, by Pres. A. O. Skinner, who introduced Hon. Mr. D. Hazen.

Mr. Hazen said they were all under a deep debt of gratitude to the men who devoted so much time to make the exhibition a success. The advantage of exhibitions was evident from the fact that leading men all over the province gave their time to their promotion. Not only in St. John, but in Fredericton, on the Miramichi, in Sussex and Woodstock, leading citizens were found taking an active part believing that exhibitions were for the good of the province, and the community at large. He trusted that the grants could from time to time be increased.

It was impossible to read the reports of the agricultural commission now holding sessions in the province without noticing the intense interest, irrespective of politics, which all classes were taking in the meetings. The report when published should do much to stimulate and advance the agricultural welfare of the province.

N. B. had prosperous farms, great fishery resources and partly developed and no doubt much undeveloped mineral wealth. It was gratifying to find in this connection that near the Nepisiquit River one of the great steel companies in the Dominion was about to develop the iron deposits which would prove of countless wealth.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley said in part: A great problem was how to keep the boys on the farm, and yet, if all the farmers' sons stayed on the farm what would the cities do? He was a farmer's boy, himself, and while he did not count himself much he could name a large number who occupied positions of trust and prominence. In the speaker's boyhood he remembered his father getting up at 4 o'clock in the morning and driving fifty miles to St. John to sell his butter at sixpence a pound. Conditions were better now and the development of St. John as a winter port had done much for the farmers of the province. The cold storage warehouse would be a great help. If the people of St. John wished to help along the agricultural industry of the province they should devote their energies to advancement of the town as a manufacturing and exporting centre and by providing a market they could assist the farmers.

A few years ago, if there was large production in any one line the farmer had to take the produce off the market again because there was no sale at the time. Now all was changed. In the city was a magnificent cold storage building with a capacity of about a million cubic feet, which would benefit the farmers very much. There was space in it for 18,000 or 20,000 barrels of apples which could be held good for market.

Hon. J. Fisher, J. W. Daniel, M. P., Mayor Bullock and several others also spoke.

The opening day of the fair was highly successful, there being 3,968 admissions.

POPULAR ORGANIST REMEMBERED

SUPREME COURT ADJOURNED FRIDAY.

Supreme Court reopened Wednesday morning. The only civil case was that of J. D. Creaghan against S. Hoffman & Son, a case arising out of a dispute in regard to the boundary between their Chatham store lots. Mr. Haviland for the plaintiff and Messrs. Robert Murray and A. A. Davidson for the defendants. This case occupied the Court till Friday afternoon, when it was settled privately.

TRAIN RAN THRO' FIRE.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Wednesday. — At six o'clock this morning the first section of the C. P. R. east bound Atlantic express ran through a burning bridge six miles east of White River into a ravine. Engineer Nice or Schriber was instantly killed and his fireman seriously injured. None of the passengers, who were all Chinamen going through in bond, were injured. The bridge which is six hundred feet long is still burning fiercely and trains will have to go via the Soo and St. Paul. The origin of the fire gives rise to suspicion as no bush fires were raging anywhere in the vicinity.

CAMPBELLTON PEOPLE FOOLED.

Alleged That Many Names Were Forged By Agent.

Some months or years ago a bright young man from the Trade Publishing Company, Toronto, came to Campbellton, soliciting subscriptions for a trade directory his firm intended issuing. It is claimed that he visited a large number of our business men, got them to write their signatures on a piece of blank paper (so there would be no mistake in the spelling) and then canvassed them to subscribe for a copy of the directory. He no doubt received a number of genuine orders for the work, but it is claimed by a number of business men that their signatures have been forged to the order which is being produced by the agent who is delivering the book. In a number of cases payment is being refused and the Graphic understands one gentleman who was victimized is going to take the matter into court. The orders are of such date that the average business man would hardly remember the transaction and call for $2.25 each. A large number of books have been delivered here.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong; a weak Stomach, means weak stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves". Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by all dealers.

OLYMPIC COMMITTEE CALLS FOR WITHDRAWAL.

OTTAWA, Tuesday. — The official report of the Olympic committee handed out today declares that the A. A. F. broke faith with Canada and the C. A. A. W. by protesting against Longboat, and calls for the withdrawal of the remaining members of the federation on the Olympic general committee. The committee also decided to make a grant to Aubert, the Montreal wrestler, to aid in paying his expenses.

Miss Mable Wathen returned to-day to her school in Albert Co.

There was a very successful picnic to-day on the Rectory grounds.

Miss Augusta Campbell returned on the 5th to Everett, Mass.

Mrs. James D. Lyon of Millerton was here last week.

D. C. Clinch Acquitted. Steamer Fishing Prohibited.

ST. JOHN, Thursday. — The jury yesterday afternoon brought in a verdict of acquittal with criminal action for misappropriation of $9000 brought against D. C. Clinch, a prominent local broker on the information of Capt. Georg Morrissey, of Wornworth, England. J. B. M. Baxter appeared for the defendant and Attorney General for the crown.

After hearing the argument of the counsel, Judge McLeod told the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal, saying that while it was regrettable that Capt. Morrissey had lost so much money, the loss was one of the misfortunes of business.

The jury found accordingly and Clinch was discharged.

MILLERTON.

Sept. 12.—Millerton is alive, go ahead these days. It is booming. It is predicted that in a short time there will be a thousand people in the community.

Peter A. Forsythe, the well-known and reliable contractor is to build several houses in connection with the pulp mill.

Rev. S. G. A. Colquhoun is building a store. It is understood that he is going to retire from the pastorate of the Presbyterian church, because of his ill health. The community regrets Mr. Colquhoun's enforced retirement.

He is deservedly popular with all classes and creeds.

From 80 to 100 men have been employed at the boom this season. The rafting operations are about done.

It is said that a Newcastle young man is to build a store here and bring his family here to settle.

With the large increase of population which may be expected when the pulp mill begins operations a number of new houses will be required. It is to be hoped that the new comers will not be crowded.

THE BUSY MAN'S MAGAZINE.

Topics of the greatest interest to all classes are provided in the September issue of the Busy Man's Magazine. It contains a liberal selection of matter from the leading publications of the day as well as a complete reference to what the world's recognized mediums of thought and information present.

This index is invaluable to the student or busy reader who desires to keep tab on the latest treatment of any subject or subjects. The edition is replete with illustrations of Canadians who are in the public eye and, among the original contributors are, articles under the captions "Beautifying the Capital City of Canada," "Vivid Impressions of the West," "What Good Roads Mean to Business," "How Mr. Taft Spends His Holidays in Canada," "The Young Man as a Factor in National Life," "The Supremacy of Christian Ethics," and "A Man Who Stands by His Convictions." There is a generous instalment of good fiction that will help to pass away pleasantly and profitably many an hour during the evenings that are perceptibly lengthening at this season of the year.

In a word, Busy Man's Magazine for September is what you are looking for. It will not prove a disappointment to any member of the household.

Grand Jury Condemned.

Judge Trenholme Says It Is Useless And Should Be Ended.

MONTREAL, Thursday. — At the opening of the autumn session of the Court of Kings bench today, Mr. Justice Trenholme, presiding, condemned the grand jury system in no uncertain terms. He said it was to a great extent useless and it was very doubtful if there was sufficient good in the system to keep it in existence.

How would you like to have a Carle Nation mother-in-law?

EXCELLENT G. T. SERVICE.

The Grand Trunk are receiving a great number of letters from their patrons praising the excellent service on their dining cars which is beyond comparison. A commercial traveller writing to a friend recently says:—"On dining car No. 282, train No. 1, between Port Huron and Chicago, I had as nice a dinner as I had ever been served with in any dining car. The service was excellent, employees courteous, and everybody seemed anxious to give good service."

Harvesting and threshing accidents are emphasizing the fact that next to certain classes of railway employees the farmer has the most hazardous occupation. It is also true that its many special dangers cannot be lessened except by personal care.

Drive Rheumatism out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy and see how quickly pain will depart. Rub-on's never did reach the real disease. Rheumatism isn't in the skin. It's deep down—in its constitutional. Getting rid of the pain, is after all what counts. That is why Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy goes, by word of mouth, from one to another. And herein lies the popularity of this Remedy. It is winning defenders everywhere in tablets or Liquid. Sold by all dealers.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer has an original worry. It is afraid that it will be impossible to find engineers for the air-ships in the future.

There are two sides to all arguments, but three to that between the C. P. K. and machinists. What's the public going to do about it?

May Be Insane.

MONTREAL, Tuesday. — Mr. Justice Trenholme today gave permission to the lawyer for Dillon, who killed policeman Shae and nearly killed Chier Carpentier, to go to the fullest extent in enquiring into the prisoners' sanity, and this will probably mean a commission to Ireland.

We don't know what's the matter with the legal business in Quebec, but we do know that it takes years to put a small case through our local Court House. Whether it is because lawyers are scarce, or the judges overtaxed with work, we cannot express an opinion, excepting to state that the legal machinery of this city is working mighty slow, for a professed business community. — Quebec Telegraph.

Didn't Tire Him.

A kind old gentleman paused to buy a paper from the newsboy. Observing the great size of the bundle of papers the little fellow carried, he asked: "Don't all those papers make you tired, my boy?" The boy grinned. "No, sir; I don't read 'em," said he.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED.

Dr. William's Pink Pills Restore a Despondent Sufferer to Health.

"Although it is now some years since I found it necessary to take medicine of any kind, I attribute my present good health entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." Thus writes Mr. Wm. M. Ferguson, St. John West, N. B. Mr. Ferguson continues:—"For years I was a sufferer from chronic bronchitis and general debility. I had always been delicate, but as I grew older I seemed to grow weaker, and at the approach of autumn I commenced to cough and had to remain in the house all winter. With the coming of summer I always got a little better only to be laid low when the fine weather was over. During my last and most severe attack my cough became more distressing and I raised considerable phlegm, while at night I would be bathed in a cold, clammy sweat. The doctor's medicine relieved my cough a little during the day time, but there was no other improvement as I had no appetite, the night sweats continued and I was growing weaker. I changed doctors three different times but with no improvement. Then I began to take cod liver oil, but my stomach had grown so weak that it refused to retain it. It was at this time when I was trying to reconcile myself to my fate that a pamphlet relating cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills was left at my door. Although my friends thought me in a decline, and although I was feeling hopeless myself, I decided to try the Pills. After using several boxes, though I still continued to cough, I felt better in other respects, and my appetite was gradually returning. I was not only surprised, but pleased to find this improvement, and I gladly continued their use. By the time I had taken ten boxes the night sweats and the cough had entirely disappeared. I took two more boxes, and felt that there was no necessity to continue the treatment as I was in better health than I had ever been before. When I completed the twelfth box I weighed myself and found that I had gained 32 pounds. As I said before it is some years since my cure was effected, and I have not had a cough in any season since, and have always enjoyed the best of health. I believe, therefore, that it is entirely due to the agency of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I am alive and well to-day, and I trust that others will benefit by my personal experience."

You can get these pills from your medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TRICK THAT FAILED.

Careless Tim

ONE SHOE WAS MISSING

SPRINGING from bed, Tim danced a jig on the floor. Tim was merry, and with good reason, too, for had not Uncle Ben promised to take Tim and Sister Jo and Brother Jack to the Zoo that very morning? To go anywhere with Uncle Ben was a treat, and to go to the Zoo with Ben made it doubly a pleasure. But Uncle Ben had told them they must be ready for him when he came, so that they could start promptly.

"Oh, yes," thought Tim, "I shall surely be ready before Jo or Jack. They are so slow."

Suddenly the doorbell rang sharply. There was a scurrying of feet, and Tim could hear his brother and sister laughing and chattering as they threw themselves into Uncle Ben's arms. Then he heard Uncle Ben exclaim loudly, "Where's Tim?"

"Where was Tim? No one had seen him, but surely he must be almost ready by this time. Mother ran quickly upstairs. Hurrying into Tim's room, there she found the little fellow, sitting on the side of his bed, sobbing with vexation. He had not even commenced to dress.

"Why, Tim, what is the matter?" she asked.

"Can't find my shoe," he explained bitterly.

Mother sighed. "Carelessness again," she murmured. Then she added kindly, "Now hurry and dress, and I'll ask Uncle Ben to wait a few minutes for you."

As soon as his mother had left the room Tim resumed his search. He was no more successful, however, than the first.

Uncle Ben, Jo and Jack remained ten minutes and then they left. Tim spent a sorry half hour complaining to himself. After a while he rearranged everything in his room, put his playroom in order and made everything orderly and tidy. He then rearranged everything in his room, put his playroom in order and made everything orderly and tidy. POLITICAL NOTES.

(Contributed)

A disinterested Yankee distributing whiskey by the barrel and bills by the armful to elect the Conservative candidate in Colchester taxes one's credulity.

Mr. Lorden's purity plank in his platform seems to have been in bad shape in Colchester.

It will be pleasant news to members of the Conservative party to hear that Henri Bourassa has at last thrown in his lot with the party of loyalty. The Liberal party has often been reproached for having such a disloyal man as Bourassa in its ranks. What have they to say now that he is sailing in the Conservative boat?

'Should the Government at Ottawa be passive or should it go ahead?' asks The Brantford Expositor. 'If the people want to return to the days of 1896 and an expenditure of $40,000,000 a year, then two-thirds of the postoffices should be closed, thousands of customs should be abandoned, public works should cease, no further transportation facilities should be provided, aids to navigation should be removed, lighthouses left in darkness, harbors and channels should be filled up and no more crops should be raised in the west, because they could not be taken to market. This would return to the Conservative days of small things, small receipts, small expenditures, and complete stagnation in every branch of national life.'

The question of paramount importance which the electors should ask themselves is this:—what will the country gain by a change of government? If they will but compare the records of the Conservative rule in 18 years with that of the Liberals in 12 years, there can be but one answer, viz: that the country has nothing to gain; would gain nothing if the Liberal government was defeated and the Conservatives came into power. Let us glance at the achievements of the two parties. But before doing this it will be well to remind the readers that when the Liberals came into power in 1896 they found, as the result of Conservative mismanagement, a general stagnation in business circles and also a heavy deficit.

In 1896 the trade of the country, after eighteen years of Conservative rule, amounted to $239,025,000 and the revenue was $36,618,590. In 1908 the total trade, after twelve years of Liberal rule, amounted to $650,793,000 and the revenue was $96,500,000, and there was a surplus of $19,000,000. The Conservatives managed to show after eighteen years of office, a total trade with the British Islands of $98,935,040. The Liberals, after only twelve years of power, can point with pride to the total trade with the mother country of $208,745,193. Would it be in the interest of the country to return to the conditions prevailing prior to the assumption of office by the Liberals in 1896? This is a question to which only one answer can be given—No!

In 1896 the railways carried 25,300,331 tons of freight. In 1907, after eleven years of the Liberal policy, 63,866,123 tons of freight. Probably nothing shows the prosperity of a people more correctly than the bank deposits. In 1897 the people had on deposit in the chartered banks no less sum than $589,459,889.

These examples will show how the business of the country has grown, and how the industries have grown larger and what a great volume of trade there is now compared to Conservative days. Which do the people prefer? Which is test for the country? Vote accordingly.

There is a warning array of incompetents and worse in the Cabinet material presented by or presenting Mr. Borden.

As our timber grows more scarce it also grows more inflammable, for the debris of lumbering and the invasion of campers and hunters make a continuous menace. The disasters in Minnesota show the need of greatly increasing the forest ranging service.

WOMAN AND LOVER ON TRIAL FOR TREASON

Accused of Trying to Secure for France Secret of Germany's Smokeless Powder.

BETRAYED BY HER MONEY

Francis Peterson and her lover, a German non-commissioned officer, were examined today before a court-martial here on a charge of treason.

The utmost secrecy is preserved, as in all such cases, but it is believed that the authorities suspect Peterson of having attempted to obtain for the French government a knowledge of the constituents of German smokeless powder.

Fr. Peterson was born in Hamburg, where her parents kept a small inn, but has the appearance of a Parisian. She is 44 years of age, but looks much younger. She was employed as a governess, when suspicion was aroused by the liberal supplies of money which she received.

Fr. Peterson declares her innocence and denies that she went regularly to France to receive $125 a month for espionage. It is known, however, that she had meetings with French agents.

Husband's Mistake.—After a whole year of married bliss a young man named Hahn, living at Volosca, Dalmatia, discovered the other day that he had not married the girl he intended. When he proposed to her he mistook her for her twin sister, who resembles her so that they can scarcely be distinguished, and he did not realize his error until he began calling her by her Christian name instead of by the terms of endearment he had hitherto used.

RAY DU VIN.

On Monday evening 7th inst. the farmers of Bay du Vin gathered in the school house to meet Hon. Dr. Landry and the other Commissioner, Rev. W. J. Wilkinson presided, and among those present were: T. B. Williston, T. H. Williston, Fred Williston, Patrick Carroll, Walter Williston, Edward Carroll, Geo. Williston, Alex. Taylor, Robt. Grogan, Ambrose Williston, Wishart Williston, John McGinnis, a considerable number of ladies and other gentlemen. After a short address from Hon. Dr. Landry an active discussion was taken up. A few farms were reported for sale, and considerable area of land up the Bay du Vin River was said to be well adapted for settlement purposes. A report of five sheep was reported kept at Arishire, Holstein and Short horn bulls being used. T. H. Williston and T. B. Williston were especially pleased with the prospect of the Province when they gave their best attention to their farms were as intelligent and competent as the farmers of any country. It would be his endeavour, so long as he was at the head of the Agricultural Department, to do everything that could legitimately be done to assist in improving agricultural conditions, and the farmers of the Province might feel that in him they had a friend to whom they might make suggestions and requests whenever they desired.

The discussion on the various subjects was animated—a few farms were reported for sale, and in the neighborhood of Bay du Vin Mills there were a number of farms which had been partially cleared but had been vacated. This was good land and could be resettled with advantage. A considerable tract of good land was also reported as lying between the Richibucto and Rogersville. A highway had been surveyed some years ago through this tract, but it had never been constructed, although some work had been done on the Rogersville road. It was at the meeting that this land should be opened up, and access from the Richibucto Road supplied. The evidence showed that not much attention had been paid to stock improvement except in the case of swine. It was thought there would be a good demand for some bulls and rams, and it was the intention of the farmers to form an Agricultural Society to take the place and extend the work of the Farmers' Institute now organized. The Institute meetings which had been held were much appreciated, and more meetings asked for. It was also suggested by John A. McNaughton that an illustration of the district should be sent to each Spring an inspector dated when he would be there advertised, and the people invited to meet him and discuss the cultivation and pruning, etc. of trees. Mr. McNaughton also thought that more attention to the teaching of agriculture in the rural schools should be given. He spoke of a publication describing the weeds and weed seeds of the country issued by the Dominion Department and suggested that it should be in the hands of every school teacher, as well as among the officers of Agricultural Societies. In teaching botany he thought that useful information in regard to weeds and other things applicable to the district should be the aim of the teacher. The meeting was unanimous that one of the chief needs of the district was some economical means of enabling the farmers to take advantage of the large deposits of mussel mud in the river. On account of the unsafe condition of the ice, and that it was frequently covered with deep slush, made digging in the winter time almost impossible. Some years ago, an experiment had been made in constructing a dredge for digging in the summer. This dredge had not been powerful enough to dig in the banks where the best shells were found, and a good deal of the mud taken out by it was not worth hauling any distance to the land. The man who owned the dredge and received the Government subsidy had given his attention largely to other operations, and the needs of the farmers had not been very well met. There was now a Company prepared to construct a suitable dredge if they could be assured of some assistance. Hon. Dr. Landry said that he recognized the needs of the district in this respect, but so far as his Department was concerned, he thought the best means of giving assistance was through the Agricultural Societies. If the members of the Society thought that the procuring of mussel mud was the most important question to be met, the Society's funds could be used for that purpose. A discussion as to the value of mussel mud followed, in which Commissioner Hubbard pointed out the experience of P. E. I. farmers in the matter. They had found that only a certain amount of this mud could be used to advantage, and that it must be followed by the use of other fertilizers and the supply of humus or vegetable matter maintained in the soil, mussel mud being largely lime, helped to make the plant food in the soil available, but did not of itself contain all the elements of fertility. John McCrea said that this agreed with his experience; the first and second applications of the mud giving good results but very little effect was seen from the third application unless the land had been well manured.

At both the above meetings hearty votes of thanks were given the Commissioners, and the Chairman, and cordial invitations extended to Hon. Dr. Landry to revisit the district.

NEW AERIAL MACHINE ON COMPOSITE PLAN

Invention of a Frenchman is Half Balloon and Half Aeroplane.

SUPPORTS TWO TONS

Trials are announced at Issy of an Aeronaut, or mixture of airship and aeroplane. It consists of three parts, the aeroplane, balloon and the ballast car.

The main part, which directs the rest, is the aeroplane, of triangular shape. Made of bamboo, held together by aluminum joints, it is 60 feet long, with a surface of about 420 square feet. In the center of the aeroplane, which is so stoutly built that it can support a weight of over two tons without serious strain, is the car containing the motor and all the mechanical apparatus, and room for two persons, a mechanic and a pilot, who will direct the helm in the rear. A twenty-eight-horsepower motor drives a screw fan of walnut wood, strengthened with aluminum, and ten feet long, giving 120 revolutions a minute.

The aeroplane is attached tightly beneath a cigar-shaped silk balloon of over a thousand cubic yards extent. The balloon is 100 feet long and 23 feet in diameter.

Experiments with this curious machine were carried out last year on the military parade ground at Beauval, near Meaux, under very satisfactory conditions. Notwithstanding the machine was able to rise into the air with a deadweight of 20 pounds. M. Malcot, the inventor, thinks that the heavy aerial vehicles of the near future will be modeled on the plan of his aeroplane. Later he proposes to build a motor-omnibus for aerial use.

The Agricultural Commission.

Important and Well Attended Gatherings in Different Places.

Hon. Dr. Landry explained the object of the meeting, stating that he wished to see every farmer of the Province a member of an Agricultural Society, for he believed it was through co-operation among the farmers in this way that the greatest advance could be made and a means furnished whereby the Department of Agriculture could be of most service. When the report of the Agricultural Commission was submitted to the Government, it was his intention to try and reorganize the Department of Agriculture along the lines which would best meet with the needs of the Province. New Brunswick was somewhat behind most of the other Provinces of the Dominion in agriculture, the opportunity for profitable farming was excellent and he believed the people of the Province would be able to take advantage of this. He believed that the farmers of the Province were as intelligent and competent as the farmers of any country. It would be his endeavour, so long as he was at the head of the Agricultural Department, to do everything that could legitimately be done to assist in improving agricultural conditions, and the farmers of the Province might feel that in him they had a friend to whom they might make suggestions and requests whenever they desired.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause in blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet, called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers, cools the blood, and relieves the pain. It is a sure remedy, and it is so easy to take. It is so effective that it is known to the people of the world. It is so easy to take that it is known to the people of the world. It is so effective that it is known to the people of the world.

"ONLY MEDICINE THAT DID ME ANY GOOD"

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Backache After Doctors Failed Utterly.

"I have received most wonderful benefit from taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' I suffered for years from backaches and pain in the head and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable without any relief. I took several boxes altogether, and now I am entirely well of all my dreadful headaches and backaches. I take 'Fruit-a-tives' occasionally still, but I am quite cured of a trouble that was said to be incurable. I give this testimony voluntarily, in order that others who suffer as I suffered may try this wonderful medicine and be cured."

A CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT DEAL

(Montreal Herald)

There seems to be a first class opportunity in the West just now for that indomitable searcher for scandals, Mr. Herbert Ames, M. P. who is on a magic lantern tour in Saskatchewan, for indulging his peculiar proclivity, in a sale which had been made by the Roblin governments of upwards of 80,386 acres of Manitoba lands to a Portage la Prairie syndicate or company of which Mr. Armstrong, a member of the Provincial House, is a director. The company is known as the Wheat Lands Timber Co., and is capitalized at $1,000,000, and the prospectus shows that the capital is represented by 1,000,000 shares of a dollar each, the object apparently being to purchase these government lands and to sell them again at a profit. The deal, it is alleged by western papers which are devoting much space to the matter, was secretly made between Mr. Richardson, representing the Portage la Prairie syndicate, who are friends of the Roblin government, and Mr. Roblin in his capacity of Provincial Land Commissioner. The syndicate was granted an option on the lands, which were not sold by public auction as they ought to have been, but by private negotiation. Of the million shares, representing the capital of the company, 233,000 were, the prospectus says, issued to the original owners of the land, 3,000 were issued for cash, 200,000 were offered in the London market, leaving 546,000 available for future use. The land was purchased apparently at a trifle more than $3 per acre. The prospectus tells how an option was given to another company allowing it to purchase 20,000 acres of the land at $9 per acre; a second lot of 20,000 acres at $14 per acre, and a third lot of 30,000 acres at $17—making a total of $800,000 for 60,000 acres. The prospectus further states that the price of good agricultural land in Manitoba ranges from 12.50 to 25 an acre. As all this is represented as good agricultural land it is evident the company will soon be in clover.

DIFFERENT NOW.

The recent triumph of the Hazen party in the local elections in this county gives the Conservative machine no reason whatever to expect a victory for their candidates in the approaching federal contest. In March about half the Liberals of this county united with the Conservatives to drive the Robinson Government from power, Mr. Hazen having the unequalled support of Chatham's Liberal paper, the Commercial.

The Commercial is now supporting Mr. Loggie's candidature with the same enthusiasm as in March it advocated Mr. Morrison's. The following from a late issue of the Commercial, shows that paper's appreciation of Mr. Loggie's work at Ottawa and its earnest desire for his re-election.

"If (Mr. Loggie) has brought honor and timely assistance to his constituency in 1900 marked a manner for the people as a whole and his party in particular not to appreciate his worth, and they wish to send him back to complete the good work he has been carrying on. For several years previous to the present member's election Northumberland was a neglected county as far as the Ottawa government was concerned. Now it has a member in whom the government has confidence and our needs are receiving the attention they previously clamored vainly for. All these have not yet been filled but they are under consideration and if Mr. Loggie is retained as our advocate there is little doubt but that they will be fulfilled as speedily as it is possible for the government to undertake the work. Since Mr. Loggie has been at Ottawa several very important works have been carried out and trade and business facilities have been greatly improved tending to increase the prosperity and develop the resources of this county. Among these may be mentioned the opening up of the Indian town branch, the improvement of the roadbed and the voting of a sum sufficient to defray the expense of the line's completion to Blackville; wharves have been built at Oak Point, Lower Newcastle and Hardwicke, places formerly hampered by lack of these facilities; dredging has been done up the North West and during this summer dredges will be at work at the Blacklands and at the bar for which $60,000 has been placed in the estimates. A subsidy has been granted the steamer Alexandra and a great improvement has been made in the down-river service. The mail service to Hardwicke, Bay Du Vin and Black River has been improved to meet the demands of these places and several new post offices have been opened up in the county, much to the convenience of farmers and residents.

"These measures all bespeak Mr. Loggie as an energetic, capable member, one who looks after the interests of his constituents and furthermore takes a lively and intelligent interest in the public question of the day. His call to arms will meet with a ready and enthusiastic response from every one who has at heart the advancement and prosperity of the good old county of Northumberland."

The prospects of Mr. Morrison being able to persuade the Liberals who helped to send him to Frederickton to now work for his election to the House of Commons are not particularly bright. He has his work cut out for him.

Tory Candidate Assists at Mass

In Blackville--Blesses Himself with his Left Hand, and Prays for the Conversion of Blackville to Toryism.

Word has been received from Blackville that the closing days of The Mission there were marked by many interesting events but none of so much importance to the general public as the attendance at holy mass on Saturday morning of Donald Morrison, M. P. P., the Honorable Speaker of the House of Assembly.

At an early hour the multitude assembled with Mr. Morrison mustered among the number. At the sound of the bell, all entered the church, Mr. Morrison with the rest. Being a stranger he was conducted to a prominent seat directly in front of the high altar where he could see and yet be seen. This latter proved his undoing. The mass began, Mr. Morrison followed along through the intricate forms of Catholic worship with a face radiant with joy and a piety not surpassed by Pius himself.

He had been imitating with wonderful accuracy and precision the devout movements of a gentleman in front of him who had unfortunately lost his right arm some years ago, and as a consequence, blesses himself with his right hand, the only one he has. "Orate fratres" peeled forth the clarion voice of the celebrant and Sir Donald knelt down. Here his mimicry failed to conceal his ignorance. He watched his one armed model bless himself. Then up comes his own good left hand and with a graceful sweep from head to and from shoulder to shoulder. The gesture we can only conjecture. A man who sat near him said it sounded much like "one, two, three, four" as the hand traced out the formation of the cross. And the prayer which followed.—Well we can only conjecture that, too; but as most men pray for what they want most, there is little doubt but that Sir Donald prayed for the conversion of Blackville to Toryism.

Then followed the canon of the mass. Here he was all sanctity. At the oblation he was seen to bow down in humble adoration and striking his breast with humility and devotion he was overheard to say "I confess to Almighty God &c., that I have sinned exceedingly in thought word and deed through my fault," and for once in his life he told the truth.

As the mass proceeded his zeal for outward acts of devotion grew apace. At the "Domine non sum dignus &c" he beat his breast with a violence that annoyed those kneeling near him and it is even said that he would have gone up to the communion rail with the other communicants had it not been that a gentleman sitting beside him held him down by the coat tail.

A finer example of hypocrisy never emerged from a Catholic church. He flinched at nothing, not even at the sprinkling of the holy water and when a big drop struck him fair in the eyes he wiped it away as a tear of sorrow and said nothing.

The incident was a shocking insult to his worthy brethren of Blackville who were, up to that time, working zealously in his behalf.

On Sunday morning he attended the service at the Presbyterian church and took part in a baptism in the Baptist church in the afternoon. In the evening the gentleman who preached from the pulpit in the Baptist church took occasion to condemn in the most emphatic manner candidates who go about canvassing on Sunday. Sir Donald was not there.

BAPTISTS WANT PROHIBITION.

The Albert County United Baptist District meeting, on the 10th instant adopted the following Temperance resolutions:

Resolved that this district meeting of the United Baptist churches of Albert county reaffirms its position in reference to the passing of a prohibition law by the local legislature, and gives its hearty endorsement to the efforts the New Brunswick Temperance Federation to secure the passage of such a law, and approves the signing of a petition by the members of our constituency to secure this end.

MILLERTON.

Millerton, Sept. 12.—Two houses being built at the Pulp Mill are well under way, and work has been commenced on two more.

The store being built by John Doran is covered in. It will be larger and more commodious than the former one.

Rev. A. Gale of Windsor, N. S. officiated at both services in St. Peter's church on Sunday. Rev. T. H. Cuthbert conducted services that day in St. Andrew's, Newcastle and St. Mark's, Nelson.

Houses are very scarce in Millerton. It would be a good investment for some one who has land to erect a dozen or sell land for others to erect them.

The Agricultural Commission visited Millerton last Thursday. The attendance was not large, showing a want of interest. If the Government could appoint some one who could put a little enthusiasm into the farmers in this district, possibly there would be better results.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. NEW BRITISH MONSTER.
Largest And Heaviest Battleship
Ever Built, Launched
Last Week.

PORTSMOUTH, Thursday. — The St. Vincent, the largest and heaviest battleship ever built for the British navy was launched here today. The weather was fine and the sea smooth. A great crowd saw the vessel take the water. The warship slipped from the blocks and was christened by the Countess of Beauchamp.

Counting three cruising battleships of the Invincible class, the St. Vincent is the eighth vessel of the Dreadnought type to be launched in this country. The admiral has observed its usual reluctance in regard to details of design and construction of the St. Vincent, but from certain figures that were given out it is manifest that the experience gained from the construction of the Dreadnought has been utilized in this vessel. It is believed that some additional weight of the St. Vincent is to be accounted for by her heavier armament for protection against torpedoes and by improvements giving greater security to those controlling the movements of the ship in action. A number of foreign naval attaches attended the launching on the invitation of the admiral. The St. Vincent was laid down in December last year. She is supposed to be about 19,250 tons and cost is given at $9,500,000.

A Frost In July.

By C. B. Lewis.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

When Miss Mary Clives, forty years old and aunt of Eileen Clives, not yet quite half those years, accepted the responsibility of acting as chaperon to the young lady for a few weeks' stay in the Berkshire hills she determined to do her duty at all costs.

They had scarcely reached the hotel selected when that duty confronted her. Paul Clifford, the artist, crossed their path. The young people had many mutual friends in town, but had never been introduced.

In any hotel in the Berkshires, the Catskills or on the seashore a handsome young girl and a bachelor artist of his soul, with romance still leashed in his reins, are bound to meet sooner or later if given half a show.

Such meetings come about by accident, or Providence takes a hand, and the first thing they know they have introduced themselves to each other and are talking about art and motor trips through Europe.

Aunt Mary understood this; also that she was there to prevent it. She would insist on formality to the bitter end. She did insist. Even when she and Miss Eileen in walking out one day were suddenly confronted by a snake as much as nine inches long and screamed and the artist came running up and saved their lives from the monster she stood on formality and insisted that her charge do the same.

The artist missed his half finished epistle, made a search for it and finally indited another and mailed it away. He came down into the parlors ten minutes before dinner, hoping for a word or two with Miss Clives.

She blushed at sight of him and blushed still harder as he advanced, but she stood on her dignity—that is, she turned her head away—and in some confusion he passed her and remarked to the aunt that it had been a fine day. Miss Clives wheeled about like a machine, and after fixing him with a cold glare lasting thirty seconds she fully replied:

"Sir, you have made a mistake. The artist fell back. He almost fell over himself in doing so. So far as he was concerned he might have fallen over the hotel and not been aware of the fact. It was a summer frost, and it nipped him hard. Had he turned once more toward the girl he would have found her pose as dignified as before, but a look of something like pity in her eyes."

Mr. Clifford did not enter the dining room. Probsts take away a man's appetite. He went out into the dusk and sat down on a bowlder and imagined that he was Sherlock Holmes, and after an hour or so he figured things out.

Then he sent a telegram to a friend in the city—a friend who knew the Clives family well. That night he was missed from parlors and verandas. He could play and sing and recite, and there were many inquiries for him. When they were addressed to Miss Clives her reply was:

"Excuse me, but I don't know the party."

There was a new arrival at the hotel next forenoon. He was cloaked with the artist for half an hour, and then he hid him forth and found Miss Clives seated in a grotto, still wondering how any man on earth dared to write to another that she was an old one. The interview which followed was hot for the first fifteen minutes. Then it gradually cooled off, though at regular intervals for the next half hour the woman in the case rose to her feet and exclaimed:

"Yes, but how dared he write that the old one was no good and out of repair? It's shocking, sir. It's dreadful. It's something that I cannot forgive."

"But you know, Miss Clives"—"And how dared he speak of my dear niece as climbing a hill like a cat! And how dared he refer to her as a scooter on the level! Think of it, sir—a scooter!"

"But you now understand"—"Why, if her father come to know that she had been called a cat, a scooter and a bargain, I should tremble for the consequences!"

Nevertheless, when a man has explanations that explain and when he goes over those explanations often enough, even an indignant old maid must be convinced at last. So it was with Miss Clives. She finally melted, drew a breath of relief and, seeing Miss Eileen strolling toward them, she called to her:

"Oh, dearie, it appears that we have made an awful mistake. It transpires that Mr. Clifford was writing to Mr. Gaston about a couple of autos that the latter had asked him to look at. Therefore I am not an old one, and you don't climb hills like a cat. If you can find Mr. Clifford bring him here, and I will apologize."

Any artist who didn't pursue his advantage after that deserved to be left behind in the race.

The Land of the Free.
"There's eight nations represented in this ward of ours," said Mr. Holoran to his wife on his return from a political meeting. He began to count them off on his fingers.

"There's Irish, Frinch, Eytellians, Poles, Germans, Roossians, Greeks and"—Mr. Holoran stopped and began again:

"There's Irish, Frinch, Eytellians, Poles, Germans, Roossians, Greeks—an' ain't it queer I disremember the other wan? There's Irish, Frinch"—"Maybe 'twas Americans," suggested Mrs. Holoran.

"Sure, that's it," said her husband. "I couldn't think."—Youth's Companion.

MAGISTRATE SPEAKS FOR ZAM-BUK

Magistrate Perry, of Goldfields, B.C., believes in making a good thing known. Writing of Zam-Buk, the great household balm, he says:—"After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years' standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for. I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in his home." The magistrate is quite right. Every home needs Zam-Buk! Unequalled for cuts, burns, bruises, eczema, blood poisoning and all skin diseases. All stores and druggists sell it at 50 cents a box. Sure cure for piles.

DON'T NEGLECT THAT SORE!

A Chicago man has just died from blood poisoning arising from neglect of a small sore. Don't neglect a cut, a patch of eczema, or an open sore of any kind. The air is full of poison germs, waiting to start up their evil results in neglected sores, wounds, etc. In Zam-Buk is safety. Zam-Buk is so highly antiseptic that applied to any skindisease or injury it makes blood poisoning impossible. In using Zam-Buk you have three processes going on at once for Zam-Buk is healing, soothing and antiseptic. Try it without delay.

A GENUINE OFFER.

TEST ZAM-BUK AT OUR EXPENSE!

We appreciate the position taken by the man or woman who says:—"If your preparation is what you claim, you should have no objection to letting us try it before spending our money on it." To every person taking this view we say, send one cent stamp (to pay return postage) and name and date of this paper to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and we will mail you a free trial box of Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk is purely herbal, suitable for the delicate skin of little children, yet powerful enough to heal chronic sores of long years' standing. All druggists and stores, 50c. per box, 3 for $1.25.

"Oh, that!" returned Tommy, indifferently. "I wanted to see if the people across the street were telling the truth. They have a sign that says 'Paint'. I know right along that it was varnish, and I found it was, too."

NEW TELEPHONE MARVEL EXHIBITED IN LONDON

Invention by Which Speaking and Handwriting May be Transmitted Simultaneously and With Little Trouble

THE marvel of the telephone has become commonplace through daily use. Fresh interest, however, is likely to be aroused in its wonderful possibilities by a new invention, of which a demonstration has just been witnessed in this city.

The inventor is a German, Herr Gustav Graanna, and his mission to this country is an outcome of the new patent laws. His marvellous apparatus has already been exhibited in Germany, where it has aroused profound interest.

Herr Graanna can transmit handwriting, sketches, etc., over an ordinary telephone wire for very considerable distances and within the period of a few seconds, thus making a considerable advance on the old system of sending writing at a distance. He uses a few thousand volts in the transmitting and receiving boxes. His apparatus can be made an auxiliary of common telephone communication, and, therefore, its commercial utilization is ready to hand.

Passed Through Quickly. Herr Graanna's messages are passed through as fast as they are written, and the transmitter uses the pencil naturally. Other systems require somewhat laborious handling of the transmitting mechanism, so that it takes about half an hour to send and receive even a short sentence. In fact, the Graanna instrument is the autographic double of the voice in telephone communication. One can actually speak and write or draw at the same time through the same wires, the telephone being connected with the apparatus through a conductor of two conductors.

By an engineer is ordering material by telephone from a manufacturer. He can furnish plans, set the bolts, plates, rails, etc., which he requires. Similarly a newspaper artist can sketch an event on the spot—a railway disaster, for instance—and transmit it to his editor hundreds of miles away, accompanying it with a verbal description as he draws, or, if the correspondent be a reporter, he can make use of a photograph by tracing its outlines. In military operations maps, plans or diagrams illustrating the enemy's movements as they unfold themselves can be wired back to headquarters.

How the Instrument Works. This wonderful system of telegraphy is accomplished by means of a light ray traveling over sensitized paper. The graphite pencil at the transmitter end has two electrical contacts, one for horizontal movement and the other for vertical movement, a curve being made up of the component parts of one or the other. On taking the pencil from off its rest a tiny electric glow lamp in the receiver box is illuminated. The light from this lamp is conducted to a prism from which it is reflected on to two little pivoted mirrors, one of which corresponds with the circuit of horizontal movement and the other with that of the vertical.

The light ray produced by the mirrors is absolutely identical with the movements of the pencil at the transmitter, and it is thrown upon the section of a spool of sensitized paper, set to receive it. By unrolling the attachment to the receiver box containing the photographic film, and substituting a focusing glass, the evolutions of the light ray can be watched. It appears as a tiny pinhead of light, traveling in all directions over the glass—really imitating exactly the handwriting or drawing of the transmitter.

On laying the pencil down, the lamp is extinguished, and a little electromotor pushes forward the sensitized paper, on which the message has just been photographed, passes it through a chemical bath, in which it is developed, and in ten seconds the writing or sketch becomes visible; while another film is unwound from the spool and placed in position to receive the next message. All these processes are automatic. The receiver has now but to cut off the film bearing the message and "fix" it in the photographic sense.

St. Joseph, Lewis, July 14, 1908. Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Gentlemen,—I was badly kicked by my horse last May and after using several preparations on my leg nothing would do. My leg was black as jet. I was laid up in bed for a fortnight and could not walk. After using three bottles of your MINARD'S LINIMENT I was perfectly cured so that I could start on the road.

BOAT LOST WITH ALL HANDS.

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Tuesday.—Indians going up the lake brought in word this morning that a gasoline launch had been seen to blow up and sink with all hands near Jackfish Narrows yesterday afternoon. One of the gasoline fish boats from the International Falls is missing with the owner, Mr. Infelt and two men and it is feared that they are the victims.

TOO MUCH NOISE.

Campbellton for its size has more noise to the square inch than any town in New Brunswick. What with drums and cymbals and the strident cry of "shine 'em up only a dime" the people of this town have more than a sufficient of nerve racking sounds. No objection can be raised to an occasional parade of bands, but to devote the greater part of Saturday evening and Sunday to senseless drum pounding is entirely unfair to the public in general and especially annoying to sick and nervous people who long for quiet and rest.—Morning Graphic.

THE PASSING OF BIGOTRY.

(Morning Graphic.) A further proof, if one were needed, of the wonderful future of Canada is the decay of religious prejudices among the people of this country. We have come to realize that a man may be a Emperor William says that so long as Germany has the most powerful army in Europe, the old world may rest assured. In other words, the Kaiser will have peace if he has to fight for it.

PERSIAN CAPITAL RULED BY RUSSIAN COSSACKS

Dictator of Teheran Introduces Drastic Methods That Prevail in Czar's Empire.

MUCH MONEY FOR SHAH

The special correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt at Teheran telegraphs under yesterday's date:

"The Russian colonel of Cossacks, Linkhoff, whom the shah appointed as military governor when he placed Teheran as a state of siege, publishes a proclamation prohibiting the use of firearms under a penalty of severe punishment. Inhabitants of Teheran will also be rigorously punished. The activity of the 'dictator' extends even to measures for cleaning the streets, the sale of bread and meat and the location of cab ranks. The 'dictator's' commands create widespread popular resentment. It is rumored that the Cossack brigade will shortly be strengthened to 25,000 men.

"Tea and sugar taxes are intended to provide the necessary revenue, and for their levy Russia has given her assent. In conjunction with England, Russia entered an energetic protest against similar taxes when they were recently proposed by Parliament for general financial objects.

"The shah has now removed his chief antagonist, Prince Zill-es-Sultan, from the governorship of the province of Shiraz, and named Asaf-es-Saltaneh as his successor. The new Cabinet is not yet named. As the parliamentary elections will not take place for three months, it is believed that the shah will employ the time in effecting new treaties with Russia.

"During the prevailing crisis unlimited money flows into the shah's hands. The chief of telegraphs has given him about $50,000, while the shah, without applying to the minister of finance, appropriated about $25,000 from the custom house."

This woman says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life.

Mrs. Emma Chatel, Valleyfield, Bellefleur, Quebec, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I want to tell you that without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I would not be alive. For months I suffered with painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the feminine organs. Doctors could do nothing for me, and said I must submit to an operation as I had a tumor. One of my cousins advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had cured her. 'I did so and now I have no pain and am entirely cured. Your remedy is deserving of great praise.'"

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Ex-Mayor Brown Died Sunday

MR. GEORGE BROWN

Newcastle is again called upon to mourn the loss of another of its influential and highly respected citizens. Sunday he was preparing to do honor to one of her departed sons, the late James O. Fish, when another passed to the great beyond.

Sunday morning the death of Ex-Mayor George Brown, took place at his home, Willow Brook. Deceased would have been seventy-nine years of age had he been spared until next month. For some time he had been ailing, but the end came rather suddenly. His son Osborne N., of McGill College, and Mrs. Devereaux of Long Island are expected home on Monday.

The deceased gentleman was born in Chatham Head. He was one of the best known Miramichi contractors, many of Newcastle's best residences and business houses having been erected by him. He also erected the fine highway bridge over the Southwest Miramichi.

He served one term, 1904-5, as Mayor of Newcastle, defeating Mr. Patrick Hennessy. Always a citizen who took a deep interest in the town's welfare and advancement he, during his term, did much for Newcastle. Although his son D. R. C. Brown supplied the money for the erecting of a large concrete basin about the town.

ceased who superintended the work and did many other things to beautify that beautiful spot.

An Orangeman and a Presbyterian, he will be missed in Lodge and Church circles. For years he has been a member of St. James' trustee board, holding important offices in the church organization.

His first wife was Miss Mary Crocker of Derby, and from that union the following children survive:—David R. C., the millionaire mine owner, of Aspen, Col.; Mrs. Finlay of Aspen, Col.; Mrs. Devereaux, of Long Island; Mrs. M. Moss, Toronto; Wilman, Berton and Harry of Aspen, Col.; and James of Mexico. His second wife was Miss Sarah Nicholson of Chatham, and by this union one son, Osborne N., survives.

Mr. Brown travelled extensively, having been in Europe, and made frequent trips to his sons in the west. He was an ardent sportsman and spent much time at his son's fishing pond at Big Rock, Northwest Miramichi. Many friends in all sections of the Miramichi will regret to learn of his demise.

William and Andrew Brown of Baddeck, P. E. I., are brothers of the deceased.
