H. Gibbs, who has relinquished the seat in Parliament, to which he was recently elected in order that Mr. Balfour may have another opportunity to obtain a place in the House of Commons, it is fairly safe to say that little further will be heard of any alternative leadership.

Whilst his speech was fully as ambiguous as any of his previous utterances, the former premier declined to accept the country's verdict in the recent elections as final. He declared himself still for a policy of fiscal reform in terms only a trifle more definite than he formerly employed, but which is accepted by the Chamberlainite organs as by far the clearest and most unmistakable utterance Mr. Balfour has yet given his countrymen.

There was no such thing as a sale of goods spoken of in the information laid against the guild, which was simply a buying institution. There was no rakeoff, such as in the case of the plum-

It had no agreements with manufacturers to the effect that it would buy only certain articles from manufacturers, who were not to sell to others at the same prices. The guild was entitled to buy from whom it pleased, and it was perfectly legal voted to their bills. Must Change Education Act. Those who are demanding amend. ments to the acts claim that the mandate from the electors is clear, genuine popular control: no religious testa teachers. There are differences of opinion as to how the changes are to be carried out, but on the principles great proportion of the cost of education to be a charge upon the imperial exchequer; the training of teachers to be more of an imperial than a local charge; the appointment of teachers to be under local control, but that no conditions of employment shall include the compulsory giving or receiving of denominational religious instruction; that parents have the right to send their children to some other place than the schood for the purpose of receiving specific denominational instruction at the hands of their religious pastors; subject to this, elementary schools to be opened each morning with a simple family religious service. In all this they expect powerful resistance on the part of the Anglicans, with possible combinations against them among other denominations. In any event a change in the education act is a pledge to which the Liber ' party in general, and the Premier in particular are positively committed. That the act will be changed by a large rajority vote in the Commons goes without saying but the Home Rule Far Off. to what the Premier describes "that Further information may be obtained of the introduction of a strong Labor party. The Labor candidates were supported by Irishmen as against Liberals, they favoring an Irish parliament. With the support of but fifty; Laborites, the Nationalists cannot hope to attain their ends, but in addition to Labor there exists in the present Parliament a home rule element, inside the Liberal party. Should Labor gain strength and elect another hundred members at the next election absolute home rule will be in sight. Modified home rule, putting an Irish house absolutely subservient to the Imperial Parliament, might be an outcome of the life of the present Parliament, and be accepted as a step by the Nationalists, and as a compromise by the House of Lords. There is no reason to believe that Labor will lose the strength that it has gained. In fact, the leaders have announced their intention of contesting every bye-election where they have the faintest hopes of success and Home Rulers claim that absolute home rule will

A systematic scheme of forestry di-Men are always bothering about the brains of woman. It is abundantly clear that they are desperately afraid of our mental capacity, or they would not be at such continual pains to prove that they have the advantage of us where brains are concerned.

A systematic scheme of forestry divides naturally into two branches. On the one hand, there is the introduction of tree plantation for ornament, cattle shelter, windbreaks and fuel, on the comparatively treeless plains of the Northwest, and other parts of the country, which have been more or less completely denuded of timber. This work can best be carried on, as at present, under the direction of the Dominion and Provincial experimental farms, and the educational or other nstitutions connected with them. On the other hand, there is the problem of the preservation and administration of the existing forest areas, including the burned districts, and those which but which under careful management might be gradually restored. As Senator Edwards pointed out, the various practical details and experiments connected with a thorough investigation of these matters can only be carried out in actual forest areas. This is indeed the principle already recognized

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS DID FOR HIM WHAT FOUR DOCTORS FAILED TO DO

KEEWATIN, ONT., July 28th. 1905. MESSRS. THE T. MILBURN Co., LTD., TORONTO, ONT.,

DEAR SIRS:—I am writing to let you know what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I am a young man, twenty years old, and a year ago last March I began to feel dull and sick, and was greatly troubled with boils coming out on my face and neck, mostly on the latter. I would no sooner get rid of one than I would have, perhaps, two or three more appear.

I had four doctors trying to cure me but they had very little success. They would stop them for a month or six weeks and then they would be as bad as ever again.

would be as bad as ever again.

Almost every patent medicine, advertised to cure boils, I could get hold of, I tried, but still without success. At last one day, last spring, someone happened to say: "why not try taking Burdock Blood Bitters for the blood?" I was willing to try anything and immediately sent for a bottle, but at the time was doubtful if it would be of any use. However, I used that bottle and while I was taking it I began to feel better, although I still kept having a few boils but not nearly such bad ones. I did not missany work, while otherwise, I used to miss, sometimes, a week out of every month. I kept on taking the medicine until I had taken six bottles, and needless to say, I was not sorry I did so when I tell you I have not had a boil appear for the past three months. Everybody was surprised when they heard that Burdock Blood Bitters had done for me what four doctors failed to do. If any sufferers are afflicted with boils, I would strongly advise them to use B.B.B. It makes you feel like a new man. I always keep a bottle in the house, now, as I think it is a medicine that should be in every household.

Yours truly,

Yours truly. HENRY A. SMITH.

We like best to call Scott's Emulsion a food-medicine. It is a term that aptly describes the character and action of our Emulsion. More than a medicine-more than a food, yet combining the vital principles of both. It is for this reason that Scott's Emulsion has a distinct and special value in all wasting diseases. There is nothing better to remedy the troubles of imperfect growth and delicate health in children. The action of Scott's Emulsion is just as ness and wasting in adults.
