Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 6.—Waite Hoyt, youthful Yankee pitcher, garnered the second victory for his team in the contest for the world baseball title this afternoon. It was while Rawlings, the Giants' second baseman, was throwing him out at first in the fourth inning that Ward, Yankee second baseman, scored the American's initial run. McNally also tried to get home, but was caught at the plate when Kelly pegged from first to Smith. Artie Nehf, McGraw's star southpaw, fought hard, but Hoyt proved master on the mound. Nehf lost favor with the crowd when he threw four consecutive balls to "Babe" Ruth on his first trip to the plate.

It was an ideal day for the game. Typical Indian summer weather prevailed. The sun shined like a burnished disk in a clear sky, and the fans in the bleachers were grateful for the light westerly breeze. Although the crowd came late more than 30,000 fans were in their seats when the batteries were announced. The band played tunes for the edification of the ground-keepers and bleachers, before the bulk of the crowd came.

"Babe" Ruth flew over the Polo Grounds in a seaplane, dropping baseballs containing good luck messages to her husband. When Ruth himself walked on to the field the crowd howled its welcome and the band played "Over There."

The batting order for today's game: GIANTS: Burns, c.f.; Bancroft, ss.; Frisch, 2b.; Young, r.f.; Kelly, 1b.; Meusel, l.f.; Hughes, 2b.; Snyder, c.; Nehf, p. Umpires: Moriarty at plate; Quigley at first; Chill at second; and Rigler at third.

FIRST INNING—GIANTS. Burns up. Ball one; foul; strike one; foul; strike two. Burns struck out, missing a drop curve for the third strike.

Bancroft up. Strike one. Hoyt took Bancroft's hopper and threw him out at first.

Struck up. Ball one; strike one; foul; strike two. Ward threw out Frisch at first.

No runs; no hits; no errors.

FIRST INNING—YANKES. Miller up. Ball one. Miller sent up a high foul, which Smith caught, his first error of the series. Foul; strike one; ball two; ball three. Miller walked.

Peckinpah up. Ball one; ball two; strike one; strike two. Peckinpah went to second. No sacrifice for Peckinpah.

Ruth up. Ball one, two, three. Ruth walks, and the crowd cheered Nehf. Meusel up. Strike one; ball one. Meusel lined out to Frisch, who doubled up Miller at second with a quick throw to Rawlings.

No runs; no hits; one error.

SECOND INNING—GIANTS. Young up. Strike one, two. Ball one, two, three. Young sent out on a grounder to Pipp unassisted.

Kelly up. Ball one, strike one. Foul; strike two. Kelly struck out.

Meusel up. Strike one; ball one. Meusel went out on a grounder to Pipp. No runs; no hits; no errors.

SECOND INNING—YANKES. Pipp up. Ball one, two. Strike one, two. Ball three. Pipp walked.

Ward up. Strike one; ball one. Bancroft threw out Ward at first. Pipp going to second.

City Grocers Are Planning War On Market Hucksters

KIWANIS TO BLAZE AID TRAIL
FOR FATHERLESS

Will Ask Quebec and Ontario Members To Unite in Attaining Objective.

MANY FOR CONVENTION

Utmost Enthusiasm Prevails On Part of City Club Members.

In a determined effort to further the cause of "underprivileged" boys, not only in London, but throughout Ontario and Quebec, more than twenty Kiwanians leave London late Thursday afternoon for Montreal, to attend the annual convention of the Kiwanis Clubs of these two provinces.

The local delegation will press upon the Montreal conference that all the Kiwanis organizations of the district assume as their main objective the same aims and ambitions of the London club—the furthering of activity among fatherless clubs. Hugh Murray, chairman of the London objective committee, will present the appeal on behalf of the club.

Render General Aid. After due consideration several weeks hence, the London Kiwanis settled this task as their main objective. The idea was quickly grasped by all the members. The utmost enthusiasm was evidenced, and 25 boys, from the ages of 11 to 14, were first taken over. Subcommittees were formed, responsible for the education, religious activity and other general developments of the boys in charge.

This was so satisfactory that in time the number of wards was increased to 50. The members undertake that these youngsters do not lack for adequate clothing, education, Y. M. C. A. advantages, etc. A Junior Kiwanis Club was formed, with a special room, allotted them for meetings at the Y. M. C. A. On Sundays they meet at 10 a.m., to hear good talks on boy problems from a religious viewpoint.

Going to Convention. Under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. secretary a camping party was held for two weeks last summer, and complete success was noted. It is the hope of the local members that with this undertaking adopted by all the Kiwanians of the district more than 1,000 underprivileged boys will eventually become wards of the association, and so benefit thereby.

Kiwanian Murray says that already he has broached the suggestion to members of outside clubs and expresses the belief that the scheme will be enthusiastically adopted. Some 600 delegates will attend the Montreal conference. Western Ontario will be well represented. Among the London delegates included are Kiwanians A. Heaman, Mitchell, Joe Hickey, Harry McCallum, Arthur Ford, Ernie Dennis, Harry Muir, Tom Roy, Hugh Murray and J. Taylor.

McGraw and Huggins
Both Confident

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—"We are on our way and we won't be stopped," Manager Huggins of the Yankees.

"We are going to win. I feel confident of that," Manager McGraw of the Giants.

These predictions of the rival managers before the second game of the world series, were backed up by the players on the respective teams. There is joy in the Yankee camp, yet no gloom in the Giants' stronghold.

SHOWS ADVANTAGES OF SCIENTIFIC BREEDING

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—(Canadian Press)—That scientific breeding and selection are important factors in securing best results with live stock is significantly manifested in the performance of the two greatest egg producers in the Canadian egg-laying contest being conducted at the central experimental farm, Ottawa.

These predictions of the rival managers before the second game of the world series, were backed up by the players on the respective teams. There is joy in the Yankee camp, yet no gloom in the Giants' stronghold.

NEW MORNING PAPER
IN BRITISH CAPITAL

London, Oct. 5.—London is to have a new morning paper. The Westminster Gazette, whose politics are moderate Liberal, as represented by the Asquith element of the party, is to be transferred to that field.

Sir William Robertson Nicoll, editor of the British weekly, in announcing the transformation, says that the Gazette's size and appearance will be somewhat like the Times and the price will be two pence. H. A. Spender will be political director. It is also announced that "the experiment has been tried very infrequently."

WAR HERO AND HIS BRIDE LEAVING MONTREAL CHURCH

WEDDING OF LORD BYNG'S AIDE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—The recent marriage of Major George P. Vanier, D.S.O., M.C., aide to the governor-general, to Miss Puline Archer, daughter of Mr. Justice Archer, was a social event of more than ordinary interest. The members of the 2nd Battalion, of which Major Vanier was second in command, formed an arch of swords as the happy couple were leaving the Basilica.

CITY GROCERS MAY LAUNCH
BIG CO-OPERATIVE BAKERY

The retail grocers of the city are talking over at Wednesday night's meetings, and it may be that something will come out of it. In the meantime the grocers are getting bread at 8 1/2 cents from some of the bakers and selling it at 10 cents. Many of the grocers are pressing their east end fellow-traders to sell them some of their bread, and it may be that, pending a decision on the question of a large co-operative concern, that some of the other grocers may get some of the cheaper bread.

John Bridge, who was in a large measure responsible for the present bread war, addressed the grocers, laying out a proposition before them. At his request the details were withheld pending the grocers' decision on Monday, but it is understood that the co-operative feature is also involved.

DENIES THAT CHAOS
EXISTS IN SCHOOLS

Supt. Is Willing To Have Citizens Investigate Fully.

"I stand ready to take a press representative or any person else down to the schools this afternoon and let them see for themselves just what we are doing in the way of improvement," declared Superintendent of Works Robinson to the Advertiser Thursday, when questioned regarding work that is now under way at the Boyle School.

On Wednesday complaint was made to the press by residents of the Boyle School neighborhood that general chaos prevailed at the latter institution by reason of the fact that the corridors were being painted and the halls and general surroundings were littered with ladders, scaffolding, paint, etc. It was argued that considerable confusion resulted and it was necessary to restrict the children to the use of one door. The complainants reasoned that this work should have been accomplished during the summer holidays.

"I have a certain program outlined," explained the superintendent. "One school was concluded in June we commenced. We started one at a time on those schools that needed the most attention and completed the same. Then we concentrated on the Boyle School. We have only a certain number of employees, and by our program we calculate to continue the work right along this fall."

"I just came from the Boyle School a half an hour ago, and I would be only too pleased to take anyone there and show them the real conditions. Just let them see the dirt of some of the rooms in the city school before we touched them and how they appear after; it will be a surprise to them."

"It is quite possible," said W. E. Tanner, secretary of the board of education, "that some of the halls have been left to the last, while the classrooms were being painted, as they would be in constant use. Otherwise I believe the schools of London from the point of general cleanliness and wholesome appearance are the best that they have ever been in their history."

DISCHARGED FROM BANKRUPTCY.

Montreal, Oct. 6.—Hugh Graham Davidson, a partner in the firm of Thornton, Davidson & Co., stock brokers, of this city, adjudged bankrupt on July 31, 1920, was ordered by judgment of Mr. Justice McLennan yesterday discharged from bankruptcy as from November 1 next.

The judgment states that the report of the trustee is entirely favorable to the applicant, and that the evidence before the court "shows that applicant's bankruptcy was caused by misfortune, without any misconduct on his part."

SHORT SHRIFT
FOR PROPOSALS
OF L. & P. S. RY.

Aldermen Decline To Approve of Deals They Knew Nothing About.

DECLARE INDEPENDENCE

Will Go To Port Stanley To Examine Land Involved in Trade.

The directors of the London and Port Stanley Railway, composed of members of the council, and supposed to be the city's safety valve on matters railway, issued a declaration of independence at a meeting held in the city clerk's office Thursday morning and declined to approve of a couple of propositions without knowing what they are.

Ald. P. J. Watt voiced the opinion of the aldermen present when he said that the time for passing on matters that the directors knew nothing about had passed. It was time to call a halt.

The halt was called, for both propositions were turned down. The first asked for approval of a new agreement between the Michigan Central Railway and the London and Port Stanley Railway. A copy of the agreement was not attached.

Promptly and with considerable anger the aldermen rejected the proposal without at least getting an eye on the agreement.

In this present matter they next tackled a matter relating to a change in the deed of property at Port Stanley. It is really an exchange between the railway and the village of Port Stanley, and it would seem that some time ago the deed was approved. Then it was found that the description of the property was faulty, and it came back for a second approval. This was not forthcoming.

"Let us see what we are doing. We will not agree to this until we have had a chance to go over the property," said Mr. Watt, and Ald. Weir agreed. It was decided to go down to Port Stanley on Friday and look over the property.

NEW WAGE SCALE
WILL BE SUBMITTED

Several changes in the working conditions affecting the employees have been suggested by the Canadian National Express Company. Notification to this effect has been received by Albert Hall of this city, general secretary of the C. N. E. Employees' Association, as a whole and vice-chairman of that organization in Ontario.

The proposed new schedule will be discussed by the grievance committee of the C. N. E. E. at a meeting to be held in Montreal during the first part of next week. Local representatives have been notified that they should be in that city by Sunday next.

It is more than likely that the employees of the company will refuse to accept any great changes in the present working conditions, according to Mr. Hall. The general grievance committee has the power to refuse or accept the new schedule as they see fit unless it embodies changes so important that the committee consider they should go before the local judges.

Along with the proposed schedule of working conditions, a new wage scale will be presented by the company for the consideration of the committee. No intimation has been given up to the present time of the changes proposed in the present rates of pay.

The official temper of the committee will draw up a schedule of counter proposals.

In the event of the new schedule being refused by the men, the matter in all likelihood will go before a board of conciliation.

"BLIND PIGS" AT HULL RAIDED

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—Seventy-five operatives of the Quebec Liquor Commission under the command of A. J. Bessis, who is in charge of the investigating branch of the commission, aided by Inland Revenue Collector T. J. Purcell, Bailiff A. Monette and a squad of Hull city police, swooped down on those engaged in the "bootlegging" industry in Hull this afternoon in the largest raid of its kind ever attempted in this part of the country.

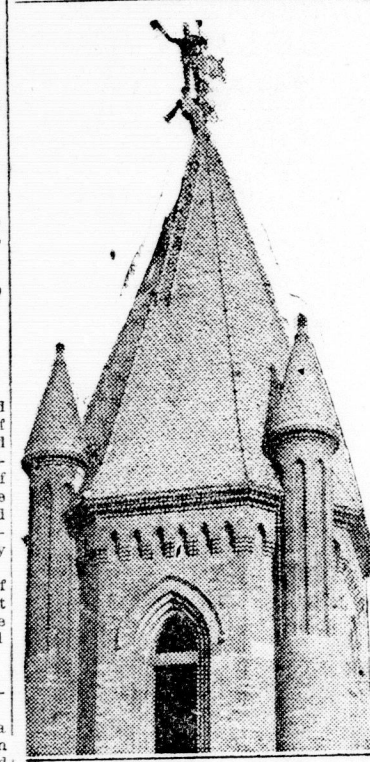

Over seventy alleged "blind pigs" were visited and liquor valued at over $10,000 was seized.

REGRETS ENTRY OF THIRD PARTY INTO POLITICS

Montreal, Oct. 4.—That Canada had been committed to war against France in case Great Britain and France could not agree on the Silesian question, was the fear expressed by Joseph Archambault, M. P. for Chambly-Vercheres, at a meeting at Longueuil, following his nomination as Liberal candidate for the division at the forthcoming federal elections.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, who also spoke, deprecated the treatment of the tariff as a dogma and deplored the nomination of a third party into the province to split the ranks of the Liberals, as in 1911.

GOES TO APPEALS BRANCH. Winnipeg, Oct. 5.—The Winnipeg Tribune states that it has definitely learned that Judge T. A. McEvel has been appointed to the court of appeals branch, and that A. K. Dysart, K.C., has been appointed to the court of King's bench.

Defying Death
Intrepid Steeplejack Making Repairs
to Spire at First Methodist Church.

"DUTCH" MITCHELL AND HELPERS

HUNDREDS of people witnessed with awe and wonder "Dutch" Mitchell, the famous American steeplejack, working at a dizzy height on the spire at the First Methodist Church for the past two days. In the above picture he is seen standing on the weather vane and being supported by his comrade, Joe Rodgers, of New York.

Midway up the spire is "Frenchie" a London boy, who is being initiated into the ways of the steeplejacks' trade.

"Dutch" Mitchell has been seen in London before at his precarious work. He repaired the steeple of St. Andrew's Church 18 years ago, and nearly lost his life in so doing, when he fell more than twenty feet only saving himself by catching the ridge row.

Mr. Mitchell has worked on the Woolworth and Singer buildings in New York.

Bride of Day
Takes Life

New York Woman Says Marriage Was Mistake.

New York, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Jennie Moore, a bride of a day, was in a hospital today, suffering from the effects of poison, the police say, with suicidal intent.

Thomas Moore, a city employee, told the police his bride took the poison last night, crying that she had made "a terrible mistake" in marrying him. He showed them a letter with the salutation: "My Dear Old Pal and Sweetheart," which, he said, she had in the bosom of her dress. It was addressed to a man in Elizabeth, N. J., expressed the bride's sorrow because she had married another, and said she was "ending" by taking my life.

In my opinion night classes for these youngsters is far more important to the general welfare of the country than the night classes for a few at the collegiate institute. We have numerous children now whom we have allowed working as long as it is really essential that they be at work owing to the financial straits of their family."

"Many of these children have left school before they attained the seventh grade, and are not afforded any further educational advantage will be compelled to continue through life lacking the advantages of others. They cannot enter the evening classes at the Technical School, for instance, as they have not reached the eighth grade yet."

Dr. Weir explains that failing of else, he could if he so desired, send these classes to the evening school, and these children to attend or else forfeit their working cards and go back to school. He would not anticipate such drastic action, however, he says.

JAPANESE EMPEROR'S
CONDITION IS SERIOUS

Tokio, Oct. 6.—Emperor Yoshihito, whose illness has been causing alarm in Japan, is said to be worse, in an official statement issued here. It declared his condition is most unsatisfactory.

At the Imperial household it is explained that the emperor's physical condition is still becoming more aggravated. The difficulty he has experienced in walking and holding conversation has been augmented, while his memory and capacity for attention have declined. There are signs that he has been suffering from a severe disease of the brain, and it is recalled that during his infancy he was seriously ill, his malady recurring after it attained his majority. Since his coronation he has gradually weakened in mind and body.

NEWSPAPER DEFICIT REDUCED.

London, Oct. 6.—(Canadian Press Cable.) The Sunday Express, one of Lord Beaverbrook's string of newspapers, announces that it has succeeded in reducing its weekly deficit from of thousands of pounds to thirty-four pounds at the present time.

WILL REQUEST COUNCIL TO AMEND BYLAW

Action Is Considered at Meeting of Association On Wednesday Evening.

EVASION IS ALLEGED

Claim Citizens Are Paying Exorbitant Prices For Products.

London retail grocers plan to open war immediately against the wholesalers they declare are infesting the market and buying up produce, with the result that both the public and the merchant are forced to pay exorbitant prices.

At a meeting of the association Wednesday night this matter was discussed at some length, with the result that a committee was appointed to wait on the 11 committee of the association at its next regular meeting and ask that the bylaw be amended so as to prevent hucksters operating to the detriment of the buying public and legitimate merchants who are taxpayers.

There is a bylaw already on the books which was aimed to limit the activities of hucksters. It states that they must not sell goods purchased on the market.

The grocers allege that the hucksters are evading this bylaw by making their purchases over the telephone from the farmers and then having the goods delivered on the market. At last night's meeting a number of instances were cited in which it was claimed that the hucksters had cornered supplies, getting down on the market early and having their supplies delivered.

The prices for these goods were said to be higher than those obtained by the hucksters. It was stated, and then when farmers came in with their produce they asked the same prices as the hucksters were asking, with the result that the citizens have to pay much more than they could have purchased for otherwise.

"This practice is costing the citizen of London thousands of dollars every year," said one grocer to The Advertiser today. "We intend to fight it through the council and endeavor to have what we regard as a real menace removed."

MAY FOLLOW TORONTO
NIGHT CLASS PLAN

Attendance Officer in Favor of Starting With Four.

That the London Board of Education may well follow the example of the Toronto educational authorities with respect to public school night classes was the opinion expressed to The Advertiser Thursday by Dr. George Weir, public school attendance officer. Dr. Weir is championing a scheme for the inauguration of the plan in this city, and made recommendation to that effect at the last meeting of the board.

"Night classes have been in progress in Toronto public schools with excellent results," said Dr. Weir. "The trustees there have established fifteen classes, but I would be in favor of four classes for London in event of the board regarding my proposal favorably. These could be selected, one for each of the wards, for instance."

In my opinion night classes for these youngsters is far more important to the general welfare of the country than the night classes for a few at the collegiate institute. We have numerous children now whom we have allowed working as long as it is really essential that they be at work owing to the financial straits of their family."

"Many of these children have left school before they attained the seventh grade, and are not afforded any further educational advantage will be compelled to continue through life lacking the advantages of others. They cannot enter the evening classes at the Technical School, for instance, as they have not reached the eighth grade yet."

Fathers in Hospital

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—Albert Hager, lumber merchant at Plantagenet, Ont., the only survivor of Sir John A. MacDonald's first parliament under Confederation, is in the Montreal General Hospital, where he has undergone a minor operation to one of his ears. He looks uncommonly well for a man nearly 95 years of age.

Fickle Cupid Flees Quickly With Bride 83, and Hubby 82

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—The bloom is off the rose. Cupid strums a melancholy guitar and disaster has punctured the summertime romance of Samuel Hoover Merritt, 82, and his bride, Mrs. Louise Vaughan Merritt, 83. She started suit for divorce yesterday after four months' honeymoon.

"He was very cruel," she said. "He drove me out of his home."

"She vamped me," said Merritt.

Oldest Pair to Get License.
But it was different on June 11, when the couple were married. Louis J. Legner, in charge of the county marriage license bureau, said they were the oldest pair who ever appeared at his window. They beamed affectionately at one another.

"Love never grows old," said Merritt.

"Love has no age," said his bride.

And then Merritt, who served in the 5th Illinois Regiment in the civil war, and Mrs. Merritt, who is assistant pastor of the Light of Faith Spiritualist Church, 446 West 63rd street, went to live at the Merritt home on Champlain avenue. They had become acquainted three years ago at a G. A. R. meeting.

Scolded by Their Children.
The newlyweds were scolded by their children, they said. Mrs. Merritt is the mother of five grown daughters and the grandmother of eight youngsters. Mr. Merritt has three sons. Their children told the couple they were too old to fall in love and get married.

"But we were happy until September 29," said Mrs. Merritt yesterday. She dabbed her eyes with a handkerchief. "Then, his children, after much nagging, got my husband to drive me out of his home."

"That's so!" said Merritt. "She was a Spiritualist. I am a Methodist, sir. She held seances in the back parlor every night, while I was trying to read the paper. I began to see spooks. It made me nervous. It was the spirits that killed our bliss. Anyway, she's a year older than me, and I think she vamped me up to the altar."

COMMIT COMMUNIST ON SEDITION CHARGE

British Police Claim Organizer Drew Pay From Third Internationale.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Communist William Wheeler was committed for trial today at Sunderland on a charge of sedition.

Documents produced in court included a receipt for a postal order paying Wheeler five pounds weekly as salary and five pounds for expenses as organizer for the Communist party.

The police gave evidence that Wheeler in a speech declared that he received five pounds a week from the Third Internationale at Moscow. Wheeler was also quoted as saying: "Never mind the law and order stunt. Meet violence with violence. The Communist party is going to fight for the unemployed like hell."

EXPECT VOTING DATE TODAY.
OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(By Canadian Press.)—The date of the general election will be announced tomorrow afternoon, following a meeting of the cabinet council, according to a well-defined rumor in political circles tonight.

LIBERALS WILL LEAD IN HOUSE

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 5.—Hon. T. C. Duff, Minister of crown lands in the British Columbia cabinet, is visiting at his home here on his way back to the West from a trip to the Old Country.

Speaking of the coming federal election, Mr. Duff gave as his opinion that the Liberals would have the largest group in the new House.

He was very optimistic of Liberal success in British Columbia, and estimated the Liberals would have eight out of the thirteen seats, and probably more.

Mr. Duff said the greatest need of Canada at the present time was immigrants of the best type, who would develop the country's agricultural resources.

REFUSE TURK ATTACK.
ATHENS, Oct. 5.—General Papoulas, Greek leader in Asia Minor, has repulsed a strong attack by Turkish Nationalists near Atun-Karnissar, it is officially announced here. After checking the onset of the Turks, the Greeks took the offensive, inflicting heavy losses. The Greek casualties are said to be small.

New President

Women's Christian Association Changes Head.

MRS. JOHN CURRIE.

AT THE annual meeting of the Women's Christian Association yesterday afternoon, Mrs. John Currie was elected president of that body, succeeding Mrs. Helen Marshall, the president for the past fifteen years. This is a most important office, as the W. C. A. controls the local Victoria Home for Incurables, the Aged People's Home.

SHACKLETON'S SHIP LIMPS INTO LISBON

Storm Off Coast of Portugal Halts Trip of Explorer.

LISBON, Oct. 5.—Sir Ernest Shackleton and his party have arrived here on board the vessel Quest, which has been damaged by a heavy storm off the west coast of Portugal on its voyage of exploration to the Antarctic. Dispatches from London stated there was not a "single able-bodied seaman in its crew."

The use of oil fuel on board the Quest made it necessary for Sir Ernest to ship specialists as members of his crew. Perhaps this unusual personnel was the reason that an English journalist who accompanied the little ship to the mouth of the Thames wrote in a dispatch: "It was with a feeling of relief that Gravesend was reached."

British mariners were said to have taken a fearful view of a vessel undertaking a three-year cruise without a man before the mast.

The Quest, Sir Ernest Shackleton's steamer, in which the famous explorer intends to cruise 30,000 miles in south polar regions, will be fit and ready to sail from this port again Saturday, it was announced today.

A terrific storm off the Cape of Rocks forced the vessel to call for assistance.

F. S. SCOTT, M.P., RENOMINATED.

NEW HAMBURG, Oct. 5.—Senator Robertson's proposal for unemployment relief during the coming winter made public by Senator Gideon Robertson, minister of labor, this afternoon include an offer to bear a share of the cost of municipal work above the normal cost, provided an equal share of the excess is borne by the provincial and municipal governments.

This, the Government believes, would encourage the creation of work.

Where work cannot be provided the Federal Government will continue to bear one-third of the cost, actually paid out by municipalities for unemployment relief, the other two-thirds to be borne equally by the provincial and municipal governments.

Municipal Responsibility.

In his statement, outlining the Government's proposals, Senator Robertson says that unemployment relief has been and must necessarily continue to be, primarily a municipal responsibility, and in the second instance a responsibility of the province.

Further, he cites that because the present situation is due to causes beyond the power of local or even national control, the federal and provincial authorities, so co-operate in helping create and provide employment, and where the employment cannot be furnished to workmen willing to work, to aid in providing work and shelter for them and their dependents until the emergency is past.

The statement stipulates that federal funds used for unemployment relief must be disbursed through responsible municipal authorities.

The Government's proposal for participating in the costs of municipal works follows:

Must Bear Normal Cost.

"Municipality to bear the normal cost, that is to say, the cost of carrying on the said work in the normal working season."

"Estimate of normal cost to be approved by Federal Government's engineers in the department of public works."

"That municipal, Provincial and Federal Governments bear equally and jointly the actual cost over the estimated normal cost."

That this plan for providing employment, instead of unemployment relief will overcome the only criticism of the Government's policy of last winter is the belief expressed in the proposals.

Senator Robertson is communicating the plan to all Provincial Governments, and its details will be supplied to any municipality applying.

SOLDIERS STILL TO HAVE FIRST CLAIM

President Says Red Cross Money Is Sacred Trust.

"There are certain large Red Cross funds still on hand, given to us by the public for the use of disabled soldiers of the community and their families at the close of the war," declared Mrs. Ronald Harris, president of the London Branch Red Cross Society, at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon in Cronyn Hall.

"This money is a sacred trust from the people of the district, which I feel cannot be diverted to any other cause whatever. Fortunately, we have quite a large sum of money distinct from this which we have been able to use for other purposes, such as the promotion of better health in the community, of accordance with the peace-time policy of the Red Cross Society. But the soldiers' money we feel we may not touch for any cause save to aid the soldiers of the district. Especially do we feel this since London is a military headquarters, and the soldiers' work still continues in the hospitals here. I want to make my statement with regard to this plain, before my name comes before the meeting again as a nominee for president," said Mrs. Harris.

President Re-elected.
This declaration made by the president of the Red Cross yesterday was received with enthusiasm, and she was returned for a second year. Her talk throughout dealt with the splendid work of the Red Cross in the district, with a view to giving the members some idea of what was being done.

Mrs. A. E. Cooper, again made treasurer of the society for the seventh year, gave a most interesting financial report. The society now has $35,000 in Victory Bonds. Its income last year amounted to $26,550, coming from interest, sales, the Canadian and British campaign fund and a large bank balance from the previous year. The disbursements, largely for relief work and distribution of comforts among invalid soldiers, amounted to $22,261.74, leaving a balance of $4,288.26. From a special fund the society was able to pay out $2,000 towards the establishment of the day nursery in the city; $1,000 to the Soldiers' Aid Commission; and $1,414.65 to the Institute of Public Health for the establishment of a public health course in connection with Western University.

Carried On by Committee.
The general work of the Red Cross has been carried on by committees, as follows: Byron Sanatorium visiting committee, which included Miss Maude Hanna, Miss Alice Leonard, Miss Margaret Scattergood, Mrs. Glennie Wilson, Mrs. Wilkey, Mrs. Ginge, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. F. J. Greenaway, Mrs. George Fraser, Mrs. Allen, Miss Katherine Cronyn and Miss Bullen; by the Westminister Hospital visiting committee, which includes Mrs. J. M. Slater, Mrs. J. S. Ashplant, Mrs. A. E. Miller and Miss Gertrude Barty; by the Victoria visiting committee, which included Mrs. Gerald Pearson and Mrs. Cleghorn, their names on their resignation, will consist of Mrs. Edward Morley.

During the year $3,500 was expended in relief work among returned men's families, and $3,840.40 was raised for relief work in Europe and forwarded to the British Red Cross fund.

To Establish Junior Branches.
Efforts are being made to establish Junior Red Cross branches in the public schools of the city. Splendid reports of the work of these branches were given by Mrs. E. C. Bowker, honorary recording secretary, and by Miss Ruth Robinson, honorary corresponding secretary.

BARES PROGRAM FOR RELIEF OF JOBLESS

Senator Robertson Gives Details of Government's Plan.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—(By Canadian Press.)—Government proposals for unemployment relief during the coming winter made public by Senator Gideon Robertson, minister of labor, this afternoon include an offer to bear a share of the cost of municipal work above the normal cost, provided an equal share of the excess is borne by the provincial and municipal governments.

Municipal Responsibility.

In his statement, outlining the Government's proposals, Senator Robertson says that unemployment relief has been and must necessarily continue to be, primarily a municipal responsibility, and in the second instance a responsibility of the province.

Further, he cites that because the present situation is due to causes beyond the power of local or even national control, the federal and provincial authorities, so co-operate in helping create and provide employment, and where the employment cannot be furnished to workmen willing to work, to aid in providing work and shelter for them and their dependents until the emergency is past.

The statement stipulates that federal funds used for unemployment relief must be disbursed through responsible municipal authorities.

The Government's proposal for participating in the costs of municipal works follows:

Must Bear Normal Cost.

"Municipality to bear the normal cost, that is to say, the cost of carrying on the said work in the normal working season."

"Estimate of normal cost to be approved by Federal Government's engineers in the department of public works."

"That municipal, Provincial and Federal Governments bear equally and jointly the actual cost over the estimated normal cost."

That this plan for providing employment, instead of unemployment relief will overcome the only criticism of the Government's policy of last winter is the belief expressed in the proposals.

MANY DIE IN PARIS TUBE TRAIN CRASH

Bodies of Victims Burn With Wreckage in Tunnel.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—Many persons are believed to be dead and burning in the wreckage of a rear-end collision of two suburban trains in the half-mile tunnel to the St. Lazare Railroad station, from which five bodies had been recovered late tonight. Twenty seriously injured persons and 53 slightly injured also had been recovered.

Seventeen coaches were burning and firemen, almost helpless, were cutting a hole through the roof of the tunnel from the pavement of Rue de Rome, hoping to create an upward draft in order to allow the smoke and gas to escape.

Both trains were filled with homeward-bound commuters and authorities say that anyone remaining in the tunnel is almost certain to be dead.

The collision occurred when the 5:52 train for the suburb of Marley-le-Roi crashed into the rear-end of a train for

Washed Clothes In

Waters of Lake Erie
Summer campers at Port Stanley, now home for the fall and winter, have some laughable experiences to relate. A great deal of amusement has been created over the idea someone started of doing the wash in the waters of Lake Erie. It is decided "off-color" but they can be restored without rubbing by that wonderful washing cream, Mir-A-cle. Make next wash day easier. Order a bottle of Mir-A-cle.

Sight Grows Dim, But Still Works in Garden At 103.

KINGSTON, Oct. 5.—To be one hundred and three years of age and able to do a good day's work hoeing in the garden is the experience of Patrick Smith, who resides in the village of Escott, in Leeds County.

A reporter who called at his home found the aged man busily engaged in his garden.

Mr. Smith is in good health, and the only thing that troubles him is his eyesight, which is quite poor.

Mr. Smith was born in Ireland on March 17th, 1818, and came to Canada in 1833. He has lived in Leeds 82 years.

Versailles, which left four minutes earlier on the same track, but which stopped inside the tunnel for some unexplained reason.

Cries for help and moans were audible at both ends of the tunnel. It is feared that those who were trapped in the burning wreckage may never be identified, as they would surely be burned to a cinder in the intense heat, yet unavailing by the firemen who are directing streams of water from both ends of the tunnel.

Later it was learned that the fire started by explosions of small illuminating gas tanks in the coaches of the telegraph train. The train for Versailles had stopped to repair a broken coupling, when the collision occurred. Hundreds of the injured were able to escape by running through the dark tunnel along the track to both ends. Troops were called out immediately to surround the scene of the disaster.

BORDEN WILL NOT RE-ENTER LISTS

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—"I do not intend to be a candidate at the approaching election," said Sir Robert Borden today. "After 25 years of very active service in public life, I believe I am entitled to retire. Further, retirement is necessitated by my condition of health. My successor, Mr. Meighen,

SHE DYED HER SILK STOCKINGS TO MATCH SKIRT

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her worn, shabby dresses, skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything, even if she has never dyed before. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is sure because "Diamond Dyes" are guaranteed not to spot, fade, streak, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

THIS WILL BENEFIT LONDON WOMEN

Stomach trouble in women is often due to retained waste matter. This poisons the stomach for months, causing gas on the stomach and sour stomach. The old, poisonous accumulation should be cleaned out with simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, and mixed in Adler-I-ka. Acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel, Adler-I-ka removes matter you never thought was in your system. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach and chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis. The Iron Food for Vitality

She needs it—
"The Iron Food for Vitality."

True Beauty Food

is an "iron food" like raisins. Serve daily as a breakfast fruit for best results

Stewed Raisins

Serve for breakfast every morning and get your daily iron this way.
Cover Sun-Maid Seedless Raisins with cold water and add a slice of lemon or orange. Place on fire, bring to a boil and allow to simmer for one hour. Sugar may be added but is not necessary, as Sun-Maid Seedless Raisins contain 75 per cent natural fruit sugar.

A more delicious breakfast dish than stewed raisins served with cream never has been known—just try and see.

You'll want it every morning.

The food-iron of the raisins will be an every day supply, if this becomes your regular fruit dish. The blood absorbs the iron; and vigorous vitality, if you possess it, is thus protected. Where vitality is lacking, it is frequently restored in this delightful way.

The greatest charm of woman is vitality. Its signs are bright eyes, healthful energy and a pretty rose tint on the cheeks.

You need but a small bit of iron daily, yet that need is vital. Pale, tired women are given this attractive dish for breakfast at a famous sanitarium in Battle Creek. For physicians know that value of the raisin.

MARKET SHED IDEAL
SPOT FOR LUNCHLocation Finds Much Favor
Among Farmers With Cars.

The market gardeners' shed on the local market is finding increasing favor among farmers who own automobiles as a fine place to eat lunch. Thursday in particular is a popular day with rural visitors, who park their cars under the shed after the regular tenants have pulled out for home.

Two cars came to a stop under the shed Thursday shortly after the noon-day whistles had done their worst, the occupants bringing forth two well-filled lunch baskets. A passing reporter was attracted by the scene and stood by watching the farmers and their family trees reduce the fat, well-browned birds to mere skeletons.

Early in the summer there were very few farmers who ate their lunch under the shed, "confided a market gardener who usually stays until the afternoon. "Conditions are changed, though. I guess they have been telling each other what a fine place the shed is to park their cars and eat lunch in comfort. There seems to be no limit to them each market day, and, believe me, my mouth waters at the fine 'cote' they get away with. No ham sandwiches for them—chicken is none too good."

BE PRETTY! TURN GREY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite

Recipe of Sage Tea

and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or grey. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay grey! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

BOWEL POISON MAKES YOU SICK

Your bowels may seem regular—move every day—yet your 30 feet of bowels may be lined with poisonous waste which is being sucked into your blood, keeping you half-sick, nervous, despondent and upset. Whether you have headache, colds, sour stomach, indigestion, or heart palpitation, it is usually from bowel poison.

Hurry! One or two Cascarets tonight will clean your bowels right. By morning all the constipation, poison and sour bile will move out—thoroughly! Cascarets will not sicken you—they physic fully, but never gripe or inconvenience. O. G. 13, 20, 27.

Rural Credits Act Machinery
Is Now All Ready To Function

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—The machinery for the administration of the rural credits act passed at the last session of the Legislature is now practically ready to be set in motion.

A. G. Farrow of Oakville, who was appointed in August as chairman of the newly-created agricultural development board, which is to be responsible for the operation of the scheme, has taken up his quarters here, and stated today that during the course of the present week, he expected to have a supply of application forms and pamphlets ready for forwarding to those farmers who were desirous of obtaining short or long term loans from the Government.

Of the 200 inquiries already on file about half have reference to the short term accommodation and about half to the long term mortgages. In view of the poor crops in Eastern Ontario this season it had been anticipated that the present year at least, the loans would be most popular in that part of the province, but the advance applications thus far received indicate that they will be in equally keen demand in the western counties.

Incidentally, it might be mentioned that for purposes of administration the province will be divided into three territories, eastern, northern and north-western. In the last mentioned section the only association that has taken steps to benefit under the terms of the scheme is the one at the Soo.

WILD GAS ARGUMENT

At It Hammer and Tongs.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Hundreds of persons have died of plague in the city of Jubbulpur, British India, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Allahabad. The victims of the scourge are so numerous, it is said, that it is almost impossible to bury or burn the bodies. "The city is reported to be almost panic-stricken."

Jubbulpur is the capital of a district of the same name in Central India, and is located about 200 miles southwest of Allahabad. It is usually a centre of trade and industry, the chief manufactures being cotton goods and carpets. It has a population of about 90,000, most of whom are Hindus.

HINDU RADICAL LEADER
AGITATING A REVOLTUrges People to Withdraw Connections
With Government.

Bombay, Oct. 6.—Forty-eight non-cooperation leaders, including Mahatma K. Gandhi, the Nationalist leader, and a United States citizen named Stokes, have issued a manifesto reaffirming that it is contrary to the national dignity for an Indian to serve the British Government, especially as a soldier, and urging every Indian soldier and civilian to sever connection with the Government "which has brought about India's economic, moral and political degradation."

Gandhi writes to the Bombay Chronicle that it is persistently rumored that his arrest is imminent. He appeals to the people in such an event to remain peaceful and refrain from strikes and merely to show their regard for him by greater zeal to the cause of home rule, thereby hastening the advent of full independence.

FOURTH INTERNATIONALE

Shortly.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The London Times labor correspondent says that Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, "having been expelled from the British Communist Party for continuing to run the Workers' Dreadnought, as an independent paper after she was told not to do so, now announces the adherence of her newspaper to the Fourth Internationale."

The correspondent adds that nothing previously had been heard of the Fourth Internationale, but that it appears to have been formed within the last few days in Berlin. The German section of the party, which has a membership of 100,000, he says, has reported to be receiving great support from Serbia and Bulgaria.

According to the correspondent, the formation of the British section of the organization is expected shortly. He says the policy of the organization has not yet been made public.

N. Y. POLICE SEARCHING FOR MURDER SUSPECT

New York, Oct. 6.—Police today are searching for Tan Kohn, a Japanese, pending an autopsy on the body of Harry Yasuhara, another Japanese, who was found dead yesterday with a towel knotted about his neck, in a room occupied by the two men in a local hotel.

The police doubt that Yasuhara was strangled, as the towel was tied too loosely to cause death. A superficial examination failed to disclose the cause of his death.

Lodgers in a rooming-house where Yasuhara formerly lived told detectives that he came here from England, where he had been employed in government service, and that he carried testimonials from a British Government official. The police are conducting a search for these papers, in the belief that they may cast further light upon the history of the dead man.

CONSIDER LONDON WAGE

Minimum Salaries' Board Hears Objections To New Scale Figures.

HAMILTON, Oct. 5.—By advocating work on Saturdays and holidays for girls under 16 to counteract the flightiness and extravagance of the present year at least, the chairman of the hospital board, and a prominent drygoods merchant, electrified the hearing of the minimum wage board here last night.

The hearing was held in order that objections to the proposed revision of the scale in the cities of London, Hamilton and Ottawa might be heard and considered. Order No. 6, the suggested amendment, will provide that a minimum wage of $12 per week for experienced adult saleswomen be placed into effect in these communities.

Not content with objecting to any minimum wage, Mr. Pratt, one of half-dozen businessmen, who attended, declared that the new clauses governing the employment of young girls which set the minimum wage at $8 per week would result in a wage of $11 every six months until a maximum of $1 was reached, would eliminate them from employment.

See Educational Value.

He maintained further that standing behind a counter was a remarkable education for a girl of sixteen.

"She gets more knowledge in this way," he asserted, "than she would even achieve at school. We have employed a great many girls on Saturdays and my experience is that we give them an education that is of great advantage to them during the week."

"It gives them a knowledge of absolute facts and prepares them better to grapple with their problems at school. If I had a son and daughter in Saturday work, I would not mind their working—but at work that would give them a grip on life and would help to make them understand that life was real and earnest."

Questions Wage Adequacy.

Mrs. Eisman of the women's labor league questioned the adequacy of $12 as a living wage. The budget drawn up at the time the minimum wage was settled for Toronto was produced by the chairman and upheld.

"If you I am Scotch and thrifty, but I couldn't make that $12 spin out as you have done here," declared Mrs. Eisman.

"Has anything been done regarding women who are forced to work sixty hours a week?" asked Mrs. Hodgson.

"Unfortunately, no," replied the chairman. "We have no control over hours in Ontario, although the minimum wage board has in Manitoba, except in an indirect way, which we might fix our wage on an hour basis and thus penalize the employer who makes up for fair wages in this way. But this would require new systems of bookkeeping and it would be better that this should be done in a more direct way by the Government giving power to a board."

The five members of the board, J. W. Macmillan, chairman, Mrs. Horace Parsons, Miss Margaret Stephen, R. A. Stapleton and J. J. Macmillan, were present. Mr. Macmillan announced that the board was busily engaged in collecting data to set a minimum wage for women workers in the small towns as well as in the cities already considered.

Schedule For Saleswomen.

The schedule, outlined by Chairman Macmillan, for saleswomen in the three cities mentioned above, includes cashiers, parcelers, messengers and other employees working with the saleswomen, as distinct from the operative and office staffs, is as follows:

Adult saleswomen, 18 years and over, experienced, weekly wage $12; inexperienced, first six months, $10; second six months, $11; young girls under 18, first six months, $8; second six months, $9; third six months, $10; fourth six months, $11.

The new clauses also will make it illegal for any firm to have more than 25 per cent of their female employees either inexperienced or young girls, to prevent any employer from getting rid of his experienced adult labor. Females working for less than 36 hours a week will be rated as part-time workers and paid at rates not less than the established minimum reckoned on an hour basis. Once a year the board has the power of revision.

WENIGE WILL APPEAL FROM GAS DECISION

Alderman Will Carry Case to Highest Court.

OTHERS TO CO-OPERATE

Declaring that he is not beaten yet, Ald. George Wenige declared Wednesday evening that he would carry his case against the City Gas Company to the supreme court, and subsequently to the privy council if need be.

Although admitting apparently that the company has no right to retain money collected by means of its "ready-to-serve" charge, Judge J. C. Judd, in county court, Wednesday, contended that the company's action was not fraudulent, and accordingly rendered a decision against the complainant, Ald. Wenige.

"You do not have to read any further in the court's decision," continued the councillor, "than the words 'morally the company has no right to keep the money.' This case and its subsequent decision is particularly significant, I say in answer, in view of this opinion by the court, that it is time we had legislation that will adequately cover the word 'morally.'"

"I intend to go through with this. I am not going to allow the City Gas Company to get away with it. I cannot press my case alone. The statutes require that the suit involve a $100 minimum. Other ratepayers co-operate with me, therefore, and we'll make a joint case of it. No, we are certainly not finished with the gas company by any means."

CONTROL OF LIGHT SUBJECT OF TALK

Expert To Address Citizens On Illumination.

Light control and illumination as a new science will be demonstrated by Frank T. Groome of the Holophane Company, Limited, of Toronto, during a lecture held under the auspices of the local Chamber of Commerce in the grill room of the Tecumseh House Thursday evening.

Mr. Groome will deal with the whole subject of illumination, including proper lighting and color schemes for mechanical, different applications and comparison of the varied forms of lighting in homes and factories, elimination of eye strain caused by glare and risk of life through improper lighting, and the best use of different electrical facilities for lighting.

In the opinion of the officials of the Chamber of Commerce there is a great need of education problems. In their opinion it is amply demonstrated everywhere that light conservers have not kept pace with the rapid improvements of lighting facilities during the few years. To show that few get the best results for the money expended one case was cited where a man, with the aid of an expert, was able to secure better results with only one-tenth of the current formerly used.

Everyone interested in the subject, whether a member of the Chamber of Commerce or not, is invited to hear Mr. Groome free of charge. A special invitation has been sent out to employees of the hydro commission.

MANY APPLY TO JOIN LONDON'S LIONS' CLUB

The weekly luncheon of the Lions' Club in the Tecumseh Hotel Thursday was attended by over forty clubs and was more or less of a business session. Cub J. F. Giffen of the membership committee reported a number of applications for membership, which will be acted on at next Thursday's gathering. Cub Cliff moved a vote of thanks to Cub Emory Hamilton, who was chairman of the committee in charge of the earlier banquet of the Lions held two weeks ago, at which there was an attendance of 87.

Hugh Stevenson, M. L. A., introduced Dr. Arthur Smith of Dorchester, former member of the Lions' Club and Arthur. The meeting was then turned into a business session, lasting over half an hour.

BOMBARD ALDERMEN OVER BAD PAVEMENT

Board of Works Paid Visit to Piccadilly Street Thursday Morning.

The members of the board of works this morning heard in no uncertain terms, the opinions of the residents of Piccadilly street on the new pavement which is being laid.

From Wellington street to close to Colborne street, the surface is more or less broken and rough. "Honeycombed" is a term that has been used. The term, "rotten job," was generously applied by the ratepayers, and they got after the members of the board of works. Each member got a phone call from each ratepayer and so on Thursday morning, the members of the board went up to look the pavement over.

Among the ratepayers who greeted them were Messrs. Lowry, Broughton, T. Lovelace, Brown, Smith, P. J. Flannery, Dr. Arkell, Troupe, Collins and others.

What the outcome will be is not known. Individually and collectively, the ratepayers say the pavement is faulty. The engineer, says that the rough spots will fill in with the traffic. The ratepayers assume a "doubting Thomas" attitude in this regard. Some plain talk was indulged in.

E. MIDDLESEX TEACHERS HOLDING CONVENTION

Teachers of East Middlesex opened their convention at the court house on Thursday morning, several interesting addresses occupying the major part of the first session. Rev. J. C. Morris addressed the members of the association on "The Unity of Life and the Value of Application." Miss Blanche Silex, president, based her talk on the evolution of subjects taught in the schools. Miss Ethel Boyes and Miss Mary Coulton described the work being done in the summer schools.

During the afternoon community singing was on the program. Miss Sprout and Miss Willis told of the recent teachers' trip to Northern Ontario and the changes in school regulations. "Household Science and Art in Ungraded Public Schools," was the subject of an interesting address by Clara E. Elliott.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF MISS ROBERTSON

The funeral of Miss Blossom Robertson took place Wednesday afternoon from the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Robertson, 420 Grosvenor street, at 2:30 o'clock. The services were conducted at 2 o'clock by Rev. J. N. Norton, assisted by Rev. T. B. Ross. Interment was made in Woodland Cemetery.

The funeral was largely attended, and playmates of the little girl acted as pallbearers. The male trio of Maitland Street Baptist Church sang several selections during the service.

FIRE PREVENTION DRIVE NEXT WEEK

Educational Propaganda Will Be Spread Throughout City.

"Clean up the city! Make London safe for the winter!" will be the slogan in all parts of this city during next week.

In common with all other cities in Ontario a strenuous fire prevention campaign, under the direction of the Fire Prevention League of Ontario, and in co-operation with the Provincial Government, will be waged locally. By royal proclamation the week beginning on Sunday next will be known throughout Ontario as "Fire Prevention Week."

Through the local Chamber of Commerce the local branch of the Provincial Fire Prevention League, the schools, the churches and several other organizations, educational propaganda will be spread. On Thursday piles of literature and 150 attractively illustrated posters for distribution were received locally from Toronto.

Inspector C. B. Edwards of the public schools has promised support from the staffs under his jurisdiction in educating the children of fire prevention. He requested the Chamber of Commerce, of which the local branch of the Fire Prevention League, under Capt. J. M. Watts, is a member, to send to the principal principals a quantity of the literature received from Toronto.

In addition to this literature and instructions given by the teachers, every child will be asked to write essays on fire prevention during the coming month. As prizes 1,000 gold-plated enamel medals will be presented by the Fire Prevention League to the public schools of the various cities, towns and villages.

In the collegiate institutes, high schools and colleges, 22 grand prizes, seven solid gold and fifteen sterling silver medals, will be presented to students writing the best essays on "Prevention of Fire in the Home and the Factory."

The "king" work board," composed of several hundred boys of this city, with Lloyd M. Houlding of the Y. M. C. A. as secretary, has offered its assistance in cleaning up the city, heaps and other debris about the city, and also to co-operate in the work.

Preachers To Assist. The preachers of the various churches will be asked to give short fire prevention messages from the pulpits on Sunday.

During the week, it is expected, the fire department working under instructions from the provincial fire marshal will help in carrying on the educational campaign. The different trucks and wagons bearing banners will in all probability parade the streets day after day.

In the royal proclamation the great need of fire prevention work was pointed out. It called upon all organizations to help the coming campaign. The average fire loss for the past three years exceeds one million dollars a month in Ontario, a per capita loss of $5 for every man, woman and child in the province. This was compared to the European countries, under normal conditions, of only 33 cents per capita.

The final plans for the local campaign were made at a conference held in the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday.

WILL KEEP STABLES FOR USE OF FARMERS

"The stables in the rear of the Merchants Bank, market branch will never be turned into a garage as long as the bank owns the property," stated J. L. Wilson, manager of the market branch of the bank, when asked as to the truth of a report current on the Market Square Thursday that the stables on Delaware on Prince street, were shortly to be turned into a garage.

"We have had a number of chances to dispose of the property at several times the rental paid by the present tenants, but the farmers of the district must have accommodation for their horses and we intend to see that they have it," said Mr. Wilson.

The stabling problem in London is becoming more acute each year, owing to the fact that the majority of stables in connection with the hotels on King street, and the stables of Mann Bros. can accommodate 250 horses.

NOT SHOWING GOOD FORM.

Motor Oct. 6.—Working out privately against the McGill squad at the stadium yesterday afternoon the M. A. A. rugby team failed to show any improvement over their form displayed in the opening game in the "Big Four" against Ottawa last Saturday. The team's performance was the work of Joe O'Brien on the half line, and the showing made by Hamilton, who has been shifted from right inside to flying wing.

CITY COUNCIL'S IN BRIEF

The bank clearing for this week was $2,323,552 and for the corresponding week last year, $4,383,086, a decrease of $559,494.

William Brown of Ealing received a number of cuts on the face Wednesday afternoon when a bundle of mail tossed from a street car on the Hamilton road smashed the wind shield of his car. Mr. Brown's injuries were not of a serious nature.

After evidence had been introduced by the police in his case to show that he had taken $7 from William Stewart to get him a bottle of whiskey, Charles Cox in police court Wednesday morning, changed his plea of not guilty to guilty, to a charge of having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett fined him $200 and costs.

English street, had one finger on his left hand amputated while at work at the Creighton Woodworking Company at 9 o'clock Thursday morning. He is presently resting quietly in Victoria Hospital.

A DRUG ADDICT pleaded guilty in police court Wednesday morning to two charges of obtaining money by passing worthless checks and one charge of stealing. Altogether he secured $68, which he claimed he used to buy drugs. He was remanded a week for sentence.

JAIL BOARD IS 16 CENTS DAILY

London jail statistics for the quarter ending September 30, completed by Governor James Carter, show that the average cost of maintaining a prisoner a day was 16.2 cents without medical attention, and 16.6 including it. During the quarter 391 prisoners were sent to the jail and spent a total of 2,101 days there.

Obituaries

LIEUT. McFARLAND'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Lieut. Roy McFarland, who died in a local hospital here on Tuesday afternoon, was held from Logan's undertaking parlors on Wednesday afternoon at 4:40 o'clock. The body was sent to Owen Sound, where interment will be made. He is survived by his mother and one brother.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SHARPE.

The funeral of Mrs. C. G. Sharpe, who died in Victoria Hospital on Sunday, took place from the family residence, 302 Adelaide street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Capt. John Garbutt of Dundas Center Methodist Church conducted the services. Mrs. Sharpe resided in London all her life, excepting four years which she spent in Galt. She is survived by her husband and three children, Gordon, Thelma and Harold.

FUNERAL OF EDWARD TOWE.

The funeral of Edward Towe, who died on October 4, was held from his residence, 492 Princess avenue, at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. McCreary at 2:30 o'clock. Interment was made at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The pallbearers were Mr. Jotts, Mr. Percival, James Colhoun, John H. Towe and A. M. Towe.

Mr. Towe was a well-known man in this city, having conducted an insurance business for many years.

MORE THAN $200 DAMAGE WAS DONE BY FIRE AT 115 CECIL STREET.

The fire at 115 Cecil street, which broke out on Tuesday night, did more than $200 damage to the property. The fire started through a spark falling on the roof of the building. W. E. Leckie, president of the Canadian National Express Company, paid an official visit to this city Thursday.

DEATH OF LOUIS VAIL.

The death occurred on Wednesday in St. Joseph's hospital of Louis N. Vail, of Delaware, in his 82nd year. The funeral will be held from his residence in Delaware on Friday at 2:15 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Hopper in the Delaware Methodist Church. Interment will be made in the Delaware Cemetery.

ALLEGED BURGLAR USED HATCHET, IS COMPLAINT

Rasmus Nordsten, alias false Ladson, a Swede, faced trial in police court Thursday afternoon on a charge of breaking and entering the general store at Crumhills Wednesday night. W. J. Duffin, proprietor of the store, and his son Charles, were cut a narrow escape when the prisoner is alleged to have used in his attempt at burglary. Duffin and his two sons, Charles and Evans, finally overpowered the man and called the London police, who brought him here to stand trial.

WILL ADDRESS STUDENTS.

At 4:30 p.m. Monday Professor J. L. Morrison of Queen's University, Toronto, will address the extra-mural students of that institution and any prospective students, at the Technical School.

On Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. the professor will be the speaker at a banquet of the Western Ontario Nurses' Association at the De Luxe Cafe. Others expected to attend are Dr. Voeden, principal of the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute and president of the association, and Rev. Major Graham of Westminster Hospital.

OPPOSES TAX LEVIES.

London, Oct. 6.—Resolutions opposing the levy of any local taxes except those to meet local needs and the requirements of the poor law until the London tax rates are equalized, were adopted by the council of the borough of Stepney, a section of London, last night.

These resolutions were identical with those recently adopted by the borough councils of Bethnal Green and Poplar, other London suburbs. The borough councilors of Poplar, who have just had recently for contempt of court following their refusal to comply with an order from the city council to raise tax rates.

SEVENTEEN WRECK VICTIMS.

Paris, Oct. 6.—Reports received by the authorities of the loss of life in yesterday's collision between two suburban trains in the tunnel leading to the Lazare railway station, show that up to the present seventeen persons are dead. Of these fifteen were killed or burned to death in the cars, which caught fire following the collision, and two died in hospitals. Newspaper reports indicate that about 100 were injured.

COURT OF REVISION HEARS COMPLAINTS

Various Complaints Are Made by Taxpayers.

"You were not assessed high enough in the past" was the court of revision's solace to W. R. Meredith when he appeared on Wednesday night to object to the big increase in the assessment of D. H. Brown's hardware warehouse.

The increase this year was small, a matter of $5,000, but that of the year previous was what Mr. Meredith termed a "high-class jump," when the assessment moved up from $22,000 to $27,000. No objection was raised to this change last year for the simple reason that it was so large it was overlooked. Mr. Meredith said that he was looking into the assessment of other warehouses in the vicinity and stated his clients would be satisfied to be placed on an equal basis with them.

It was a busy night for the court. The hall was packed, and though the chairman rushed things along it was of no avail. The court could not clear the slate and will have to hold another session before a start can be made on the preparation of the voter's list.

Warehouse Appeals.

Warehouse appeals were well to the fore. Philip Pocock, of the London Show, raised objection to his warehouse being assessed for some $11,000 more than he paid for it three years ago. In 1917 he purchased the warehouse at public auction for $5,000. The assessment in 1918 was $25,000. He paid $25,000 in 1919 and this year it is $76,500. He did not think that the assessment should be above the purchase price. John Garvey also had an appeal against the assessment of property adjacent to his warehouse.

The court, with customary courtesy, pushed the men into the back-ground at the opening of the session and invited the women to make their protests first. There was a goodly number of them.

Perhaps the most amusing was a Mrs. Anderson, who owns considerable property in South London. She took kindly to the court and made a double assessment. She owns a parcel of land with a 214-foot frontage. It is assessed in two parcels. She objected on the ground that the land was held in one title, and the assessor could not divide the lot.

Retort Courts.

"You don't know what we can do," said Jared Vining of the court of revision. "Well, I guess I know as the taxes, you do; the council cannot run the whole city," came back the woman as she made her departure.

"Perhaps you're right," said Mr. Vining. The appeals of the women were quite varied. One woman protested against the assessment of a building rented to the Salvation Army. It is assessed at $21,000. The rental is $1,500, and the taxes last year were $900.

Long Leases a Penalty.

The Ives estate appeal was an evidence of the penalty which property owners are paying today for long leases, which the council may pay the taxes. There are two stores held on long leases, not expiring until 1923, and the lessee has an option on a ten-year extension. The rental is $3,400 yearly, and last year the taxes were $2,500. It was declared when questioned Thursday morning if he would be ready to present the same to the general meeting of the commission, on Thursday afternoon.

Important Questions.

When is a manufacturer a retailer? This is a question which the court must decide. The Ives estate is different. It is a retail business, and should be assessed as such. It was claimed that appeals in 27 cases in Toronto, all of a similar nature, were successful along this line. The court reserved its decision.

Another interesting appeal was that of Silverwood's. This firm carries on three lines of business, and the business assessment rate is different. They are now assessed at the highest rate, and ask that the business assessment be divided and the proportion of each line in relation to the total be assessed, and at the rates provided.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Oct. 6.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Stock market in little opposition in their further depression of prices at the opening of today's stock market. Passing of the quarterly dividend on Sumatra Tobacco soon effected a decline in the price of the stock. Shipments and specialties were irregularly lower. Early quotations for foreign exchange indicated an extension of yesterday's general advance. [Reported by Eastern, McCallum Company for the Advertiser.]

SOLDIER FARMER HAS BIG CROP

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—What is expected to be the largest yield of wheat for Alberta this year was threshed by A. D. McLeod, a soldier settler who was established under the soldier settlement act in May, 1915, near Millet, Alta.

Among other grains he sowed twelve acres of Morgan wheat on newly broken ground. This wheat has just been threshed, and yielded Mr. McLeod 52½ bushels to the acre.

JUDGE CURBS FLORIDA WATER DRINK TRAFFIC

SUDSBURY, Oct. 5.—Thirty cases of Florida water consigned to L. P. Trudeau, who is alleged to have operated in Sudbury all summer and to have sold over 200 cases in this period, were ordered confiscated by Magistrate Crodle this morning.

The decision will have a far-reaching effect, as a precedent has been created which will do much towards curbing the traffic in Florida water and similar commodities sold for drinking purposes.

CRERAR SLAMS MANIFESTO OF THE PREMIER

Declares Census Returns Prove Prosperity of Canada Is But a Myth.

EXPLAINS TARIFF STAND

Admits He Is As Yet "A Young Hand At Business of Politics."

BRANDON, Man., Oct. 5.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—Hon. T. A. Crerar, speaking at a National Progressive meeting here tonight, opened his campaign. The speech came late in the evening and followed a convention at which the Progressives of the Brandon constituency chose Robt. Forke as their candidate in the general election.

The hall was packed and an overflow meeting had to be organized.

Mr. Crerar, who was loudly applauded, attacked the contention of the prime minister that protection had brought prosperity to Canada. In 1911, Mr. Crerar declared, census returns showed that Canada had a population of 7,200,000. Immigration since then, according to official figures, amounted to 1,800,000. In the same period, births over deaths numbered 140,000, so that at the present time Canada should have a population of 10,140,000. As a matter of fact, however, unofficial reports of this year's census showed that the total population of Canada will not be in excess of 8,500,000. That, added Mr. Crerar, leaves over a million and a half unaccounted for.

Explains Tariff Stand.

"Mr. Meighen wants to know where we stand in regard to the tariff," Mr. Crerar continued. "We stand opposed to the principle of protection as being neither sound economically, or right morally. Our policy on the tariff is development of the natural resources, of agriculture, of the forests and mining. These are real industries. If we put them in a healthy, vivid condition, our country will prosper."

Mr. Crerar willingly admitted at the outset that he was a somewhat young hand at the "business of politics." An election, he proceeded, had been called, and many members of Parliament no doubt regarded it with regret. But the election was one of the most momentous in the history of Canada. Never had the problem for election been so great. A new party had made its appearance.

It was a natural thing that the movement should have had its birth among the agricultural sections of the community. Out of the Farmers' organizations had grown a new ideal in the public life. There had been many foolish resolutions passed, but there was a serious desire to solve the national problem. But while the movement arose among the farming population, it was attracting to itself peoples of all classes in the Dominion.

Sees Certain Victory.

The new movement had attracted some criticism, but there was no movement worth while which did not attract some criticism. It was sure to

"DANDERINE"

Grows Thick, Heavy Hair

35-cent Bottle Ends All Dandruff, Stops Hair Coming Out

Ten minutes after using Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow long, strong and luxuriant. One application of Danderine makes thin, lifeless, colorless hair look youthfully bright, lustrous and just twice as abundant. O. 6, 15, 20, 27.

Claims Owen Moore Owes More Than He Has Paid.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Years ago a vaudeville singer attained a measure of popularity by singing a little ditty:

Owen Moore, he owes more than he could pay,
Owen Moore came back today,
Owen Moore.

He may not have known the present-day Owen Moore, film star and former husband of Mary Pickford, but Katherine Kaelred Benrimo, film actress, knows him. It appears from a summons that was served upon the actor at the magnificent summer home he has leased in Douglaston, L.I., that Miss Benrimo claims $600 for unpaid rentals of a fourth floor front apartment at 6 W. 56th st. and also damages for certain furniture and dishes that were broken during Moore's occupancy.

Miss Benrimo claims that Moore took a lease of the apartment a year ago at $300 a month. The lease expired last May, but Moore, she says, packed up and left during July and has not paid her for August and September.

get some brick-bats thrown at it. But the Progressive movement was marching to certain victory.

"The Progressive movement," Mr. Crerar exclaimed, "has been called a class movement. But anyone who suggests that the aspirations throughout Canada for better things are class aspirations is away wide of the mark of what actually exists at the present time."

"Let me ask this question: Is there any steeper, saner, more solid body of men in Canada than the agricultural population?"

"The farmer is both a capitalist and laborer. He works with his hands, and yet he has an investment in his property."

"Nor is there anything to the claim that if the National Progressives are elected to office there will be class legislation, class domination. There is a serious attempt to fasten these things on our movement. I detect class domination. There has been too much of both in this country, far too much of it."

"There is Liberalism in this new movement, not the name of a political party but true Liberalism in its broadest sense. It was Liberalism that first us and worked its way through every Anglo-Saxon country. The Liberalism that aspired to purer and nobler conditions in government. Thus, in its essentials the Progressive movement is a movement of Liberalism."

Raps Meighen Speech.

"I ask you," Mr. Crerar went on, "to read the speech of Mr. Meighen, made at Portage La Prairie, and to say if there was a word of constructive statesmanship in the speech. What promises does it give of handling the public business as it would be handled?"

"I thought that he never made such a poor showing as he did in his defense of the inequities of the grain inquiry. That inquiry was inspired by political motives and carried on for political purposes and we will prove it when the time comes. Mr. Meighen had offered a sort of political wheat pool. But at the time when the wheat board would have been some use to the farmers of the country the Government did not want to carry it on. Now, on the eve of an election, the prime minister said if you return him to power he would see that you get some sort of voluntary wheat pool."

"The whole thing," Mr. Crerar declared, "is political from first to last. I know that some of the eastern colleagues of the prime minister at any rate are not in favor of a wheat pool, and I notice that in the speeches he is making in the East the prime minister is making no mention of a wheat pool."

Mere Political Pool.

Mr. Crerar added that any proper scheme for the handling and marketing of grain would have his support, but if the scheme proposed by the prime minister were examined it would be found to be a political pool with many ciphers after it.

Again the premier had declared that uncertainty about the tariff in Canada was responsible for prevalent unemployment, and that to clear away the uncertainty there should be a general election. But if that were true, why did not the premier dissolve Parliament a year ago? Why did he not then to remove the "uncertainty"?

The truth of the matter was that the claim of tariff uncertainty was only an improvised excuse for holding a general election. It was an improvised excuse for dissolving Parliament five months after the census had been taken when the figures were available for redistribution, a redistribution that would give to the western provinces the number of seats in the House of Commons they were entitled to have.

The prime minister had endeavored to make protection the sole issue in the campaign. What was protection? Protection, as it was known in Canada meant merely the protection of special industries.

PICTURES THAT TALK MADE BY PHOTOGRAPHY

Sound Waves Reproduced Without a Phonograph.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A picture that talks without the aid of a phonograph or any other sound producing mechanical device has been invented by Grindell Matthews and has been successfully demonstrated. It embraces the principle of photographing sound waves. At the demonstration this week a picture was shown of a man seated at a piano. As he struck the keys the sound of music in a correct time was heard from the instrument, which looks like a sugar scoop. The inventor asserts that the system will soon revolutionize the motion picture business.

THREE FLEE, BURNING JAIL.

IONIA, Mich., Oct. 5.—Michigan National Guardsmen and members of the state constabulary this evening were patrolling the outer wall of the Michigan State Reformatory here, where three today destroyed all cell blocks, the administration offices and the chapel and warden's office.

During the three hours that caused a loss estimated roughly at half a million dollars, at least three prisoners escaped from the institution. One of the factory buildings of the reformatory escaped the blaze, being saved by the direction of the wind.

OPENS ANGLICAN SYNOD

Urges Individual Effort As Vital Need of Church and Members Alike.

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 5.—With imposing ceremony the ninth session of the general synod—the great ecclesiastical parliament of the Church of England in Canada—opened its session here today.

Dignitaries of the church from every part of the Dominion and from many far-off lands were in attendance. In addition to 350 representatives, including the House of Bishops of the Church of England in Canada, and bishops whose episcopates are in foreign countries, there were clergymen from every diocese in Canada in attendance.

The members of the synod met in the Parish House and marched to Christ Church Cathedral, where the communion was celebrated. Rev. Charles Brent, D.D., bishop of Western New York, who recently addressed the Pan Presbyterian Council in Pittsburgh on church unity, delivered the sermon at the morning service.

Noted Dignitaries Present.

Among the church dignitaries present are:

Fourteen archbishops and bishops including Rt. Rev. E. J. Bidwell, D.D., D.C.L., bishop of Ontario; Rt. Rev. A. W. Deane, M.A., bishop of Carleton Place and New Westminster; Most Rev. C. Y. Worrell, D.D., D.C.L., archbishop of Nova Scotia; Rt. Rev. M. T. McAdam Harding, D.D., bishop of Quebec; Rt. Rev. David Williams, D.D., Appelle, Rt. Rev. David Williams, D.D., bishop of Huron; Most Rev. S. P. Matheson, D.D., LL.D., archbishop of Rupert's Land; Rt. Rev. I. O. Stringer, bishop of the Yukon; Rt. Rev. J. C. Farthing, M.A., D.D., D.C.L., bishop of Montreal; Rt. Rev. C. D. Schofield, D.D., bishop of Columbia; Rt. Rev. L. W. Williams, D.D., bishop of Quebec; Rt. Rev. A. J. Doull, D.D., bishop of Kootenay; Rt. Rev. J. C. Roper, M.A., D.D., bishop of Ottawa; Rt. Rev. Wm. Clark, D.D., bishop of Niagara, and Rt. Rev. J. F. Sweeney, bishop of Toronto.

Among bishops from foreign fields, who are taking part in the proceedings are:

Bishop Hamilton of Mid-Japan; Bishop White of Honan, China; Rev. Mr. Ford, a missionary from the Indian field where there is as yet no episcopate; Bishop Brent of the Philippines, and Bishop Tucker of Southern Virginia.

Primate Delivers Address.

The afternoon session of the synod was featured by the address of Archbishop Matheson of Rupert's Land, primate of all Canada. In his opening remarks, the primate paid tribute to the three outstanding lay members of the church, who have been called by death. He said:

"It is doubtful whether any diocese has ever or will ever contribute to the councils of the church such a triumvirate of able and devoted laymen as the diocese of Huron gave to this synod during the whole period of its existence. I refer to Charles Jenkins, Dr. Matthew Williams and E. J. Henderson. To every department of the synod's work they brought to bear not only rare devotion, but conspicuous ability."

Emphasizing some of the principal matters which would engage the attention of the synod, Archbishop Matheson said the two most outstanding events in the history of the church since the last meeting in 1903 were the forward movement in the Canadian church and the Lambeth conference of bishops for the whole of the Anglican community throughout the world. The steps leading up to the launching of the forward movement were explained at length and satisfaction expressed with the splendid progress made. Tribute was paid to Canon Gould, the energetic missionary secretary.

"With the blessing of God the movement can be carried to completion most successfully and results achieved beyond our original expectations."

Movement Was Twofold.

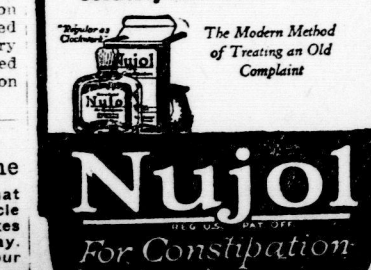

"As you know the movement was designed to be of a twofold character, namely, spiritual and financial. The extent of the spiritual achievement can only be measured by a knowledge and a scruply higher than our own; but the general verdict throughout the church is that there has been a definite stirring up to higher things as a result."

"Interest in the church and what the church stands for has quickened and the spirit of service has been roused among many in whom it did not exist before."

The financial result has been easy to calculate and it has been gratifying indeed. The original objective of $2,500,000 has been exceeded by nearly one million dollars. It was a splendid illustration of what the Anglican people could do when they are aroused and the spirit of the church and their God were clearly placed before them."

The appointment of the continuation committee to stimulate the work was alluded to and the appointment of a financial committee to guide, suggest and collect data, favored. But there must be individual effort by every diocese and member of the church.

Time Here For Action.

Speaking from the pulpit at the synod's initial service in Christ Church Cathedral, Rev. Charles Brent, bishop of Western New York, emphatically declared that there had been enough of "talk" about union as far as the Anglican Church was concerned, and that the time had come for action.

The opening service of the meeting was marked with all the pomp and circumstance of ecclesiastical ceremony. At 11 o'clock preceded by the choir of the cathedral, the long procession of archbishops, bishops, deacons, archdeacons, canons, junior clergy and lay members, wound its way into Christ Church. With the clergy in their gowns and hoods and the bishops in their scarlet robes, the spectacle was an impressive one.

A Worthy Move.

London Chamber of Commerce has started a movement of which much more will be heard later on.

The aim, in brief, is that legislation shall be passed which will afford to investors a reasonable assurance that offerings that come into the market have complied with certain reasonable conditions in order that their bona-fides may be established.

It is not the first attempt that has been made in this direction, but it has been started with more finality of purpose than many of the others, and it has the backing of men sufficiently large and well enough established to make it demand the attention of the authorities whose position enables them to lay their hands on the matter.

It is a situation where the services of business experts are absolutely necessary. Nothing short of such a body can read between the lines of the material sent out by the trained promoter. Nor is it to be expected that such a body can entirely eliminate the speculative element in any venture. A certain degree of speculation is bound to remain, but this should be reduced to the minimum.

There have been cases, many of which never come to light, where Ontario people who held such a gilt-edged security as a Victory bond have parted with these holdings in order that they might embark upon some fool scheme, ingeniously presented, that promised fabulous returns. These people's holdings of victories represented hard-earned savings. When they handed over their good securities they did so, believing that the move they were making was right and proper, and that it would ultimately yield a splendid return.

Warnings and exposures have not had the desired effect. The promoter who seeks to get rich quick is always on hand and always ready to operate. The sad part of the whole thing is that there are always people on which he can operate.

Only a few days ago The Advertiser pointed out the immense amount of dross that came to the surface when wills were up for final adjustment, and when an attempt was made to reduce holdings to a cash basis.

The movement of the London Chamber of Commerce is aimed at providing reasonable protection for the investor.

In the meantime, investors should make use of all the existing reliable sources of information before letting go of good money for speculative purposes.

Consult a banker, lawyer or a reliable broker. Even if advice costs
a few dollars it will be money well spent, and may mean the difference between the retention of your existing capital and its complete and irrecoverable loss.

The Brantford Expositor.

The Brantford Expositor announces that in the present election
it will for the first time in its history "occupy an entirely independent position in a political general election."

The Expositor goes on to explain that its position is not the result of its being the only paper in the field, nor yet because it is any the less a Liberal newspaper.

This explanation is hardly necessary, as the standing of the Brantford Expositor is beyond question,
and no person can accuse it of crin-gling on matters of policy for fear of loss of revenue or prestige.

The Brantford paper gives as its reason the fact that the Liberal policy—presumably as subscribed to in 1919—is a danger to the agricultural implement industries, of which there are several in Brantford. The Advertiser does not believe that there is the danger of which the Expositor speaks, as we have the statements in recent weeks of the foremost Liberal leaders that they are not free traders, nor could they be in face of our national obligations.

The Liberal cause is undoubtedly weakened by the temporary defection of such a paper as the Brantford Expositor.

That paper, though, will still be Liberal in principle and thought,
nor will it be weakened by the independence of action which has characterized it in recent contests.

In North Oxford.

North Oxford has a political situation that is rather unique, but not without precedent. E. W. Nesbitt has stated his views on the question of protective tariffs, and has committed himself to the high-protection policy of Mr. Meighen.

It cannot be said that he has betrayed the interests of those who elected him. He has stated definitely where he stands, and he has exercised the right and privilege, which is the prerogative of any man, viz., to line up with the Looking Over the Fence.

And we might have had seats with all the rest of the folk.—Williams, in the Indianapolis News.

political party that he considers deserving of his support.

The next move is distinctly one to be made by the Liberals of North Oxford. The situation has been clar-ified by the statement of Mr. Nesbitt. He is not their candidate, neither is he going to be their supporter in the next House.

North Oxford has within its bounds plenty of Liberals and a number of men who will make acceptable and worthy candidates.

The situation is plainly before them. They understand it, and should take decided action to meet it.

Teaching Profession.

It is somewhat difficult to define why the teaching profession should not appeal to men so much as it used to do, and that, in fact, the number of male teachers in our educational institutions is rapidly getting less. It used to be quite otherwise. In the schools of Ancient Greece and Rome men were supreme, and so on through the ages
until quite recent times.

The village dominion of half a century or more ago was still a power in the land, and it was frequently his proud boast that his pupils were so well crammed with Greek and Latin and a knowledge of the sciences that they went straight from the elementary school to the university.
But with the advent of more mathematical times, the growth of the commercial spirit and the rise in the cost of living, the village pedagogue found that he was being side-tracked in the race of life and sought other outlets for his talents.

An outstanding example of the scarcity of male teachers has just occurred in connection with London Collegiate Institute. The principal advertised for male specialists in English, and out of ten applicants seven were women. The principal is of the opinion that the salaries now offered are not sufficient to attract men, and that this is in all probability one of the main reasons for the lack of applicants, but there are others.

As in the medical profession, specialists in educational subjects are now the rule. The old-time dominion who taught anything from algebra
to moral philosophy is as extinct
as the doctor who could tackle any trouble from the toothache to a fractured limb. The specialist is now the thing, and is able to make money where the all-round practitioner would starve. This fact has become plain in the teaching profession, and has been grasped by the women far more readily than by the men. The women have concentrated on certain subjects, and have made good. This is one of the reasons why there are now so many more women teachers than men.

A Feature of the Fairs.

The maimed, the halt and the blind are becoming more and more in evidence on our streets and in our public places. You see them, perhaps reinforced by a scanty
stock of lead-pencils or boot-laces, inviting the bounty of the citizens
in the midst of some busy thoroughfare, or you meet them on the occasion of some sporting event or rural rejoicing.

It has been observed that there is an increasing number of these unfortunates present at our fall fairs,
and that their calls upon the generosity of the charitable are becoming more and more insistent. Is it possible that amongst this scattered regiment of limbless and sightless and speechless creatures there are some who met with their affliction in the service of their country? One can scarcely credit it. There must be other reasons for their plight.

Quite recently there appeared a story in one of the New York papers
about a street corner solicitor there of long standing who had been alternately a blind sailor, a crippled soldier, and an ex-millionaire who had been stricken deaf and dumb
through the sudden loss of his huge fortune. This man of many parts was making a good thing of it, to the detriment of others who had more legitimate reasons for appealing to the charity of the passer-by.

There are no grounds for suspecting that any of those whom we encounter on our streets and at our local fairs have anything but a good case when inviting people

to reach down into their pockets,
but it seems unfortunate that some organization does not see to it that such are provided for. At a nearby fair recently a young boy put a quarter in the alms receptacle of one who was presumably deaf and dumb. It was a Christian and unselfish act on the part of the lad, although worldlings might say otherwise. But is it not time that the state took upon itself the responsibility for such cases? There appears to be some room for this.

Poetic License.

When a versifier makes a particularly bad break in one of his lucu-brations he is acquitted on the plea of "poetic license," but it seems to the impartial observer that poets both ancient and modern have been allowed enough rope in this respect to hang them as high as Haman.
Take Henry Wadsworth Longfellow,
for example, when he penned those lines about the young boulder who
"half-buried in the snow was found."

Now, anyone who has read his history knows that the intelligent specimens of the canine race who drag belated travelers from the jaws of death in the remote regions of the Alps are not boulders, but St. Bernards. But Longfellow knew full well that St. Bernard would not rhyme with "found," or with anything else, for that matter, and so,
relying on the indulgence extended to members of his profession, he changed the breed.

Of course, we have on record
writers of jingles who heroically overcame all obstacles in this direction. Take, for instance, the genius who found something to clink with
"Timbuctoo," as follows:

"If I were a cassowary on the sands
of Timbuctoo,
I would eat a missionary, hat and coat, and hymnbook, too."

There is nothing strikingly beautiful in this couplet, but it gets there. Its pathos is quite equal to the "faithful hound" incident, although some people may not think so, and it illustrates what a stout heart and a vivid imagination can do in the way of poetic stunts. In this case there is certainly no mixing of the breeds.

LITTLE 'TISERS

Hon. Bob Rogers is in the running at Lisgar, Man., and he will cure more have a chance of sustaining his reputation for being a man
"who knows how to win elections."

The Kitchener Telegraph displays on its front page that the city council ALMOST ended its session in peace and harmony. Are we to infer that the Kitchener council is attended by men with their pockets crammed with weapons and bowie knives in their teeth?

The Calgary Albertan says: "Mr.
Bennett should not take too much for granted about West Calgary. If he remains right on the job from now until election day it is 50-50 that he will be elected. If he spends most of his time speaking in Ontario it is most likely that he will be beaten."

Toronto Globe: London Liberals
have an admirable candidate in Mr.
Charles R. Somerville. He is a retired manufacturer, who made a success of his own business, and a man of culture and notable public spirit. He has served as mayor, and is one of the pillars of the Western University. London has no more useful citizen, and none more generally respected.

The Chatham Planet a few days ago had a photo on its front page, entitled, "The Voices of Liberalism."
Then the reading went on to explain that the two figures in the picture were Hon. W. L. Mackenzie
King and Hon. W. S. Fielding. No doubt the Planet found out as soon as the press started that the picture was of Lieutenant-Governor (Col.)

Harry Cockshutt of Brantford and Hon. E. C. Drury. And now we suppose the Planet is trying to figure out which of these pair will commence action for libel.

American boiler-makers claim they are almost entirely out of the Canadian market because there are so many various provincial regulations
with which they are asked to conform that they cannot manufacture
on a quantity basis for this market. Canadian industry need not suffer seriously in consequence, as there are a number of firms right here in Canada who can attend to that business. No doubt the multiplicity of provincial regulations is a factor with which the Canadian firms have to deal as well as those in United States. Several movements have been inaugurated at various times to standardize boiler specifications and boiler inspection right across the Dominion, but so far not a great deal of progress has been made.

NOAH'S POETRY

The Weather Prophets.
Along about this time of year I love to sit a while, and hear the folks a-talkin' 'bout the weather's latest style, and what's it goin' to be next month, 'Praps slush or hunks of ice, else it takes a turn to get most comfortable and nice.

Some folks they grasp a cob of corn and look it in the eye, and swear that that will tell 'em if it's comin' fine and dry.

While others take a chipmunk up and gaze upon its nose, to tell us
if the old town pump is goin' to get tight froze.

While others hold this dove's all wrong, they watch the Plymouth Rock, and scan the way they trim
the fur upon this stately cock—they tell likewise about the way the old hen dumps her eggs, and how the knock-kneed Langshans grows whispers on his legs.

And 'cordin' to these folks I guess
we're goin' to have a breeze, to nip
you hard upon the snout and cause you to go wheeze. We're goin' to have ten feet of snow and blizzards
every hour, the man what chucks
the sidewalk off won't have one easy hour.

There's goin' to be spring flowers
to pick upon the New Year's Day,
and on our Christmas mornin' the folks will mow the hay.

And then some days she will be wet, on others she'll be dry, while sometimes clouds and sunshine will battle for the sky.

Why folks, the prophets have this thing struck off from week to week.
They're prophesin' weather for the Turkeys or the Greek.

It's a harmless sort of pastime
this lookin' on ahead, and scarin'
folks so that they can't lie straight upon their bed. The only drawback to the thing it gives a chance to blow to that there bird who always says: "See here, I told you so."

Read Your Character

[By Digby Phillips.]

THE BABY-DOLL STARE.
There's a reason for the baby-doll stare, as there is for the habit of the man who makes it a point to look straight in your eyes when in conversation with you without a flicker of the eyelids.

As a rule it is a sign which should rouse your caution when you encounter it. Its reason for existence may be either innocent or guilty. The point is this: It means conscious attempt on the part of a person to prevent your reading their thoughts. Just why they wish to prevent it is another matter.

The baby-doll stare and the brazen stare are unconscious revelations of a conscious or habitual attempt to conceal thought.

Instinctively many realize that the narrowed lids accompany concentration of thought, and when they want to conceal their thoughts they try to continue, and consciously hold the eyes wide open. It's not to be confounded with the normally wide-open eye. It's an imitation of it. The difference between the genuine and the imitation is easily detected when you look for it.
The imitation is always a bit forced,
and usually is marked by a flitting of gaze, because the person really is on guard and cannot resist the temptation to watch for the signs in your own face whether the camouflage is working or not. It's always a little forced because it's acting, and the world has never produced an absolutely perfect actor.

But women are better actors than men. All women at times consciously enact the innocent and more often with innocent than guilty intent.

NORTHERN DOG RACES.
[Edmonton Journal.]

Editor The Journal: "Detested sport which owes its pleasure to another's pain."—Cowper.
In a celebrated dog race some time ago, from Winnipeg to St. Paul, the women along the road made bags to protect the bleeding feet of the dogs.
Writing from The Pas, Manitoba, the Hudson's Bay sweepstakes, won by Albert Campbell over a 150-mile course,
was accompanied over a blinding snow-driven trail; at the finish of the grueling contest even the drivers who sat in the carriages were exhausted
from the long march and using the lash
on the dogs.

It is stated that a man named Frank Dixon dragged his exhausted dog team three blocks to the finish in a 54-mile race
from Anchorage to Old Knick and return, time, 44 hours and 44 minutes.
The dogs in the pack were badly disabled.

It is quite evident a certain class of people are disappointed that dog races will not be allowed in Edmonton. The innocent sounding dog race would no doubt result later in the endurance races quoted above.

WELL, WHY?
With hydro, the more users the lower
the cost.
With Bell Telephone, the more users
the higher the cost.
Will somebody explain?

THAT INTERVIEW.

Editor, Advertiser:
Sir.—The local Tory organ seems to be hard put for local political news,
as it is still attempting to raise a storm
in a teacup regarding the conversation between Mr. Hevey and myself. In last night's edition it publicly states that Mr. Hevey has sent a signed statement, in which he asserts that the only reference made to politics was in regard to myself taking a paid position with the Grits, and then prints an alleged signed statement from Mr.
Hevey, in which no mention whatever is made of a paid position; neither does
Mr. Hevey deny the statement made by me in The Advertiser.
Mr. Hevey will probably be in London again in a few days, and if the local Tory organ still thinks it sufficient pub. c interest, I am willing to meet Mr. Hevey in its editorial room, providing that an Advertiser reporter is present at the interview. Magna est veritas, et prevalebit.

London, Oct. 5. FRED YOUNG.

AN EXPLANATION.

Hyde Park, Oct. 5, 1921.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir.—It has been asserted in the press, that when I was governor of the London jail I resigned on account of the escape of a prisoner. This statement is absolutely without foundation.
When I was governor of the jail a man did escape, by the name of Texas, but it was under the following circumstances: We had an insane prisoner in jail, Dr. McArthur, the jail physician, endeavored to have him placed in the asylum, but was unable to do so. He came to me and said: "Boston, you were in the county council, you had a good deal to do with jail matters, and I am getting insane, please put me in the asylum," and requested me to go to the asylum and try and get the man in.
I went to the asylum to make arrangements about having the insane
man admitted, and while I was absent
the prisoner escaped. I returned to the jail, and the next day I was given the nomination at the Liberal convention to run for the House of Commons
for the north riding of Middlesex, when I resigned.

ROBERT BOSTON.

THE JEST.

SAD FATE.
He had been in the navy long, and while abroad he had sent his dear old mother a beautiful, gaily-plumaged parot.

A few months later he was home at the old country cottage on leave, and while at tea, not noticing the parrot, he asked his mother how she liked the bird.

"Well," replied the dear old soul,
"it was a real handsome bird, but it was tough."

QUITE POSSIBLE.
The conjurer was producing eggs from a top hat. He addressed a boy in the front row.

"Your mother can't get eggs without her top hat," he asked.
"Oh, yes," said the boy.
"How's that?"
"She keeps ducks," answered the boy.

THESE TERRIBLE QUESTIONNAIRES

[The Epworth Herald, Chicago.]
Registration Officer (to spinster)—
Your name, please.
Spinster—Matilda Brown.
Registration Officer—Age?
Spinster—Have the Misses Hill, who live next door, given you their ages?

Registration Officer—No.
Miss Brown—Well, then, I'm the same age as the Misses Hill.

Registration Officer—That will do.
Proceeding to fill in all particulars,
he murmured: "Miss Brown, as old as the hills."

DIVIDING THE PEOPLE.

[Victoria Colonist.]
"Although a radical, 'Red Michael' is British and cannot swallow some of the political nostrums proposed by the agrarians of Canada. If the agrarians are class conscious today, the city dwellers and all whose interests are allied with them, will be class conscious tomorrow. At present the agricultural sections of the country have proportionately a much larger representation in Parliament than have the cities, but that if the farmers are going to class themselves into a political party, as they are trying to do and in a measure have done, the logical outcome will be a demand for strict representation according to population.

Could Drury Have Stopped Spending Money On Hydro?

THE Financial Post claims in a recent issue that papers calling the Drury Government extravagant are loud in their claims that the spending of money shall be proceeded with just the same.

The Post claims that the financing of hydro and the Queenston-Chippewa development has brought about "the most serious financial problem that Ontario has ever faced."

"The Post article is as follows:
Charges of extravagance are being thrown at the Government of Ontario.
With each successive loan by the Drury administration, and they have been numerous, the allegations that the Government has been pouring public funds into extravagant projects have been repeated with renewed vigor. The only fair thing to do is to analyze the expenditures that are being made. In its first year of office the Government raised approximately $50,000,000 in permanent and temporary loans. Of this amount $20,000,000 went to refund maturing bills and bonds. Another $18,000,000 went to the hydro, chiefly
by the Government on other projects,
including colonization development,
education, public buildings and the
countless other necessary improvements in the province.

Thirty million dollars additional has just been raised, but $10,000,000 of this is needed to refund maturing treasury bills and already the hydro is starting there was spent around $7,000,000. Payments to the teachers' superannuation fund, which had been allowed to get into arrears by previous governments, and advances to the T. and N. O. Railway took up a large part of the balance, leaving the actual capital expenditures initiated by the Drury Government but a fraction of the total funds raised by loans and other capital revenue.

For the present year the figures will be even more striking. Up to the time the latest loan was raised, $77-000,000 had been borrowed on issues of short term notes and permanent bonds.
No less than $36,000,000 of this has gone to Sir Adam Beck for his Chippewa scheme and other developments,
making the total capital expenditures
on the hydro-electric system in twenty-three months $54,000,000. Another $26,000,000 was used to refund maturing notes and bonds and $12-000,000 went into highways improvement, leaving $3,000,000 of capital funding by bond issues to be expended
by the Government on other projects,
including colonization development,
education, public buildings and the
countless other necessary improvements in the province.

to requisition many millions more for its undertakings.

The papers that have been loudest
in their charges of extravagance are the papers that have been most pressing in their demands for wider extension of hydro activities and who view
the Queenston-Chippewa development
as the wizard accomplishment of the age. It is their own project that is responsible for the tremendous increase in the provinces' debt that arouses their indignation—a project that has created the most serious financial problem that Ontario has ever faced.

FAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Having meat regularly eventually pro- duces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, be- cause the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and mis- ery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stom- ach, constipation, torpid liver, sleepless- ness, bladder and urinary irritation. The moment your back hurts or kid- neys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Sifto Salt from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neu- tralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Bad salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia- water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

AN OLD-TIME SALE At OLD-TIME PRICES

No matter what we say—even if we used every adjective in the dictionary—we couldn't impress upon you the wonderful savings this event makes possible. We never recall the time—and Grafton & Co. have been making and selling clothing for the past 69 years—when such bona fide and actual savings have been possible. You will admit that the prices we quote are astoundingly low. We admit that in every instance prices are lower than even we, as manufacturers, could make them for today.

XCVII.—Married in Haste.

Mary was completely taken by surprise. Her breath was taken away, her heart beat fast. But she did not raise a single protest. She cared for Dick tremendously. What Dick did must be right. "Mary, don't tell me that you've got any regrets," he whispered. "I just had to do this! I must have you, Mary!"

Her little face was pale. But yet she managed to smile up at him. "It's all right, Dick," said Mary, very softly. Dick squeezed her hand. "Only—only I must go back," she added. He gave the girl a reassuring smile.

The justice now motioned Dick and Mary to approach. There could be no further conversation between the two of them, for apparently the justice was a busy man, and wanted to hurry the ceremony through. As in a dream Miss Mary stood by Dick's side. She was marrying Dick! All her past troubles seemed to sweep away. The dingy office was all rose-colored! Mechanically she signed her name. Her hand did not tremble—and she wrote the words distinctly. Mary and Dick were really wed! As in a dream she seemed to hear Dick's voice. The two young naval officers were shaking her warmly by the hand. And Dick was clinging tightly to her arm.

"I'm sorry there isn't a proper wedding breakfast," Dick was saying, "but won't you two chaps come and have tea with us?"

The naval men refused. They guessed they would be "die trop."

Mary was glad that she and Dick were going to be alone. The dream-like feeling clung about her. Her head felt light. It seemed as though she were actually walking on air!

Within a few moments she found herself at Dick's side in a taxi. The vehicle darted through the busy streets. "Mary, my dear, I'll do anything in the world to make you happy. I swear that I'll be good to you," Dick's young voice was full of genuine emotion. He could not yet believe that pretty Mary Drew was now his wife! The news was too good to be true. He was almost afraid that he, too, would wake up suddenly and find it was a dream. "Oh, Dick," said Mary faintly. "Dick, have we both gone crazy? What—what have we done?"

"I know what I have done, sweetheart," answered Dick. "A better thing than I've ever done before, that's all. And—and, Mary, you never will regret it. That I promise you."

She smiled into his eyes. He caught her in his arms and kissed her fondly. "Oh, Mary, I'm so happy! I wish this taxi ride would never end! It—it's all incredible. To think that you, the dearest, sweetest, prettiest girl in the wide world, the most desirable and adorable—are actually my wife!"

"Dick, you have taken my breath away!"

"Why, Mary, from the first day that I saw you did that."

"You're sure, Dick, sure that you do care for me?"

"I turned into Fifth avenue. 'Where are we going?' Mary asked. 'I thought of having tea,' Dick answered.

"It's such a lovely afternoon now that—might as well enjoy it," Dick said. "Dick's young bride, 'and have tea later on?'"

"Anything that you say, sweetheart, goes."

Dick popped his head out and gave instructions to the driver. The latter turned northwards and they rattled merrily along.

"New York never looked so beautiful to me," said Mary simply.

"We're going to the park," Her newly-made husband pressed her hand in his. "Then, if you like, we can get out for a little walk."

"Dick, I'm so happy!" Mary smiled into his eyes. "And yet maybe we've done wrong," Eve Rochester—your engagement—"

"Why, Mary, dear, that engagement was just about as nebulous as your own supposed engagement with Carlington Bellairs."

"I never loved him," Mary said. "I never cared for Eve at all," said Dick. "Besides, it's quite evident that her affections are all centered around that fellow Vandaveer. Poor girl, she's got a bad bargain, that's all I've got to say. And yet, Mary, I feel rather tolerant towards the fellow, for in a way he made it possible for me to get you, coming down and making love to Eve so openly."

Mary looked a little worried. "Dick, I'm afraid there will be tremendous opposition when they—when they hear just what we've done. I—I'm frightened, Dick."

"You silly little sweetheart!" He caught her in his arms once more and kissed her very fondly. "Don't talk like that! Why, Mary, you've got me

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

3655

A Pretty Summer Frock.

Pattern 3655 was used for this charming style. It is cut in six sizes, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A 38-inch size will require 5 1/2 yards of 40-inch material. The width of the skirt at the foot is about 2 1/2 yards.

Organdy, crepe, crepe de chine, lingerie materials, silk and gingham are good for this design.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps.

Name

Province

Town

Age (if child's or misses' pattern).....

Measurement: Bust..... Waist.....

CAUTION: Be careful to include the above illustration, and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is sent, you need only mark 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 26, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of application.

To back you up! What do the others matter?"

Saves Two Lives

Two lives were saved when a local housewife used Mir-A-cle in her wash machine—the life of the machine and the life of the clothes.

The addition to the suds of Mir-A-cle, the wonder-working cream, reduced the amount of rubbing required. No hand rubbing was needed at all. Order Mir-A-cle from your grocer.

Health Service

(By William Brady, M.D., Physician and Author.)

Prevention of Measles

Measles is responsible for nearly four times as many deaths in this country as scarlet fever causes, and more than twenty times as many deaths as small-pox causes.

The disease always puts the victim's life in jeopardy. And yet there are still a few individuals encumbering the earth who advise irresponsible mothers to expose their children to this fatal disease and "have it over with." This is the most vicious practice imaginable. A great many children grow up without having had measles or scarlet fever, and after childhood immunity unquestionably increases, so that few adults are susceptible enough to contract measles, provided they are reasonably intelligent about avoiding infection. Hundreds of doctors and nurses habitually exposed to measles, scarlet fever and other communicable diseases have never had these diseases in childhood, and by intelligent precautions in caring for patients, escape infection in adult life.

The virus (no specific germ is recognized) is most virulent in the stage before the skin eruption, when the patient is just coming down with what usually is termed a "cold." With the appearance of the eruption, after three or four days of feverishness, sneezing and coughing, the virulence or infectivity of measles seems to diminish again rapidly, so that the danger from personal contact with the patient steadily decreases. It is practically over at the end of a week or ten days from the initial cough.

Now it is customary to exclude children from school when they have measles, and in some communities to isolate them for ten days, as a measure of safety for others. But this is of little value as a preventive precaution, because the child coming down with measles, and "peppering" all his schoolmates or playmates in the two or three days prior to the eruption, while he has been sneezing and coughing and entertaining his "peppering" with measles will probably continue to destroy many precious lives that should be saved until health authorities muster sufficient courage to insist on the isolation of individuals who purport to have "just a cold."

Dr. W. W. Brewer, referring to an epidemic of measles in Watertown, N. Y., in a paper read before the conference of sanitary officers last spring, said: "We must acknowledge that the so-called cold is the point of attack, and I hope to see the next measles epidemic the people will see that all children with colds are isolated, or at least excluded from school. I have been told that the public would never stand for it, but I believe they will as soon as they realize what it means."

More power to Dr. Brewer's executive ability! May he have the best of luck. But someone can't feel so confident of the public as he seems to feel.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Youthful Versatility. I am a young old person and have been playing the piano a great deal and also using a typewriter. My hands have had enough exercise, too much, as it seems to me, for I think I have strained them. I cannot lay the piano at all for more than half an hour at a time. I have rested my hands for two months, but can see no improvement. I would be very grateful for any advice you may give me.—MISS L. G. Ans.—Several possible explanations of your difficulty suggest themselves, and I am unable without personal observation to offer definite advice. Faulty posture while playing either or both instruments, or faulty posture of the shoulders as a habit (slumping or slouching shoulders), or superfluous (cervical) ribs, or some systemic health impairment. Consult your physician about your trouble.

T. B. and Marriage.

The young man is 26. His father died of tuberculosis aged 41 when the young man was 15. One older brother is now in a tuberculosis sanatorium. Another brother succumbed to tuberculosis two years ago. A young brother looks frail, thin and pale. The young man himself is healthy appearing and well set up, yellow, but he coughs a little, blows his nose frequently, and when outdoors expectorates a good deal, which he attributes to "a little catarrhal trouble."

With such a family history is the young man fit for marriage? I am only the grandfather of the girl in the case, but I am anxious to see her well married.—M. H. H. Ans.—The family history is immaterial. The question of importance is whether the young man has lived at home with father or brother while the latter had tuberculosis. Relationship or heredity is not the significant thing; propriety with or exposure to the disease through prolonged intimate contact with any body ill of the disease is the usual way of infection. This young man, like every other young man contemplating marriage, should present to the prospective bride's proper guardian a certificate from a physician the bride's guardian can rely upon, as to his freedom from communicable disease.

U. S. SHOWMAN HAS COSTLY EXPERIENCE

Faces Seizure of Show At Simcoe For Customs Tax.

[Special to The Advertiser.] SIMCOE, Oct. 5.—Acting under orders Customs Collector Frank Quinn demanded $500 customs tax from the James M. Benson shows this afternoon, and was paid the amount in $1 and $2 bills.

SIMCOE, Oct. 5.—Failure of James
M. Benson of the Benson Shows to pay $500 tax as demanded by Customs Collector Frank Quinn, resulted in seizure of the shows, and a verbal extension of the time limit until 4 o'clock tomorrow. Mr. Benson is not optimistic of collecting the money within the time limit. The customs collector stated that if the money is not forthcoming by 4 o'clock tomorrow he would seize the whole show.

Later Mr. Benson was advised that he was liable to pay $50 for provincial amusement tax. He got in touch with Mr. Rogers of the provincial treasury over the telephone, and in view of Mr.
Benson's financial difficulties, collection of the amusement tax was deferred until next Tuesday, when Mr. Benson promised to go to Toronto personally
on the matter.

Costly Experience.
"I am a believer in advertising," said
Mr. Benson speaking to an Advertiser writer. "I have lost more than $3,000 in Canada this year, but next year I am coming back with a heavy advertising campaign and minus my side shows, and get it back. I find that I can move my shows on Canadian trains cheaper than on my own train, and I have also learned that there is no tax on merry-go-rounds, whips, ferris wheels, "juicy" stands and hot-dog emporiums. The heavy tax comes on these side shows and next season I will leave them in the States. I have lost $9,000 in cash, but I have gained $100,000 in experience," he concluded.

Folks Laugh
at Corns Now

Millions Have Proved Them Needless. They Stop Them by a Touch

DO you know that one method is now ending corns for millions of people?
People all around you employ it. They never let a corn pain twice.

The method is Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster. It is made by a surgical dressing house of world-wide repute.
A touch applies it, and the pain stops instantly. Soon the whole corn loosens and comes out.

The way is gentle, scientific, sure.
Once you know it, you will laugh at corns.
Get Blue-jay now—apply it tonight.
Watch the effect on one corn. Get Blue-jay at your drugist's.

Donnybrook Fair Biggest In Its Whole 67 Years' History

[Exclusive Staff Special.] DORCHESTER, Oct. 5.—"They all come to Donnybrook Fair," and they all did. Over 7,000 people crowded into the fair grounds here today and saw the finest exhibition of cattle and horses, as well as the most exciting program of races in all Donnybrook's 67 long years of history.

It was estimated that fully 1,000
autos were lined up on the three blocks leading to the grounds. Hundreds of visitors were present from London, as Dorchester Fair is looked upon as a mighty yearly offset of the Western Fair. There were also large numbers from Ingersoll, Thorndale, Aylmer and Woodstock, and they all praised the exhibition highly. The Hussars Band of London provided the music.

Has Attended 67 Fairs.
An interested visitor was George Wade, president of Donnybrook from 1904 to 1908. Mr. Wade, who is 85 years of age, has not missed one fair
here since its inception 67 years ago.
He was delighted with the quantity and quality of exhibits, declaring it to be the best show he had ever attended.

Booths and midway shops were more numerous this year, but Provincial Officer Arthur Palmer of London, who was present, declared all the games to be "within the law."
Although there was always a good display in all lines of exhibits, the fair is looked upon as a horse show, and it lived up to its reputation, as there was keen competition in the carriage and roadster classes, which both had heavy entries.

Lady Secretary.
Miss Celia Neely, the only lady in Ontario who is secretary-treasurer of a fair association, had made complete arrangements for everything, and events were carried off with speed and smoothness.

Thrilling Races.
Heats in the 2:50 pace kept the speculators in an uproar, every heat being so closely contested between "Jus. S." and "Slip Past" that it was hard for many people to tell the winner. The former horse, owned by R. Reardon of London, won the first two heats, but "Slip Past" lived up to his name and slipped past his rival in the last three heats, being a nose or two ahead in each trial of speed. Reardon put in a protest on the last heat, declaring he was fouled in the stretch, but the judge, R. A. Skinner of Ingersoll, stated that he saw nothing wrong. The winner is owned by C. Morris of Richmond.

Following is a synopsis of the races:
Eagle Bars, A. Russell, Norwich 2 1 1
Earl, W. A. Johnston, Niles-
town 1 2 3
Eel Royal, S. Mahon, Thorndale 3 3 2
2:50 Pace or Trot.

Slip Past, C. Morris, Richmond
mond 2 2 1 1
Joe S., R. Reardon, London 1 1 2 2
Rusty Maid, Bibbings, London 3 3 3 3
Togo C., Wyatt, St. Marys 4 4 4 4

PAY TRIBUTE TO SOLDIER HEROES

SEAFORTH, Oct. 5.—The ceremony in connection with the unveiling of the monument erected in Victoria by the town of Seaforth in commemoration of the men from this district who lost their lives in the world war, which took place Sunday afternoon in the park, was most impressive. The service was preceded by a parade under the auspices of the G. W. V. A., in which the Sea-forth Citizens' Band, the Veterans' Bugle Band, the war veterans under the leadership of Rev. Capt. Edwards, the Separate School and the United Sunday Schools took part.

At the park appropriate addresses were delivered by Chairman Mayor Golding, Rev. T. H. Brown, Rev. Father
Goetz, Rev. F. V. H. Larkin, Rev. Father
White of St. Columban, Rev. R. D.
McIntyre of Goderich, who spoke in the absence of Rev. S. McLean, of Eg-mondville.

The monument was unveiled by Rev.
Capt. Edwards, after which the buglers played the "Last Post."

3-CORNERED FIGHT IN WEST LAMBTON

Liberals Decide To Nominate
a Candidate Next Week.

SARNIA, Oct. 5.—West Lambton Liberals fired the opening shot of their campaign tonight, when, following a conference with Fred Pardee, M.P., and other prominent members of the party,
the committee in charge of the election announced that a Liberal rally and convention would be staged here on October 18, with W. C. Kennedy, M.P., as principal speaker.

Asked by a press representative if he was still in the ring and would accept the party nomination, Fred Pardee stated that he was decidedly in the West Lambton contest, but refused to say whether this meant he will be in
as a candidate or not.

With the announcement of a Liberal campaign it means that a three-cornered fight will be waged in West Lambton and that the Liberals, Farmers and Conservatives will fight it out. Speaking of the situation in West Lambton,
Mr. Pardee stated the Liberal organization was already hard at work and they would wage a hard fight in both Sarnia
and the county. Prominent members of the party are urging Mr. Pardee to seek re-election and it was stated by Liberal organizers he will most likely be their candidate.

mission reduced to 15 cents. b

PLAN BIGGER FAIR AT INGERSOLL 1922

Many Improvements Are Already Under Consideration.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 5.—The outstanding success of the Ingersoll Fair this year will doubtless lead to progressive action for further development next year. One suggestion offered is that townspeople and others in the rural districts unite in raising a sufficient sum and proceed with what are recognized as necessary improvements.
These would consist of increased stabling for horses, a grandstand and the widening of the track.

Several members of the Ingersoll Kiwanis Club will leave Thursday for Montreal to attend the big district convention. Ex-Mayor J. V. Buchanan is announced as the principal speaker.

Rev. Father Forth of West Lorne, who will succeed Rev. Father Gnam, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart, was here today and celebrated mass this morning. Rev. Father Gnam is expected to leave for Chatham the middle of next week to enter upon his duties as parish priest there.

RE-ELECT 4 MEMBERS OF WORLD LEAGUE COUNCIL

GENEVA, Oct. 5.—The four non-permanent members of the council of the League of Nations—China, Belgium, Brazil and Spain—were re-elected today by the assembly on the first ballot.

The vote was: China, 31; Belgium,
31; Brazil, 28; Spain, 37.
Forty-two delegates cast votes.

LABORITE WINS IN LANCASHIRE

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Canadian Press
Cable.—The by-election in the West
Houghton division of Lancashire necessitated by the death of Tyeon Wilson, Laborite, resulted today in the election of another Laborite, R. J.
Davies, by a majority of 4,000 over the Coalitionist candidate, James Tonge.

The vote of Davies totalled 14,876,
and for Tonge 10,857. The last Labor majority in the riding was 5,152.

Mr. Davies, now a councillor of Manchester, worked for ten years in the coal pits.

A feature of the election was the high percentage of the electorate voting, namely, 86 per cent. The electorate number nearly 30,000, of which 12,000 are women.

There are now no other by-elections
pending.

In the Department of Dramatic Art of the London Conservatory of Music
the class in vocal interpretation of literature opens Thursday, October 6, at 2 p.m. The subject will be "Piffa Passes."

The recital hour will be held Friday, October 7, at 8 p.m., and the class in Dramatic Art will have its opening session, Saturday, October 8, at 2 p.m.

All the above classes will be held at the London Conservatory annex, Woodman Building, 476 Richmond street.
Inquiries regarding these classes can be made at The Conservatory headquarters, 2nd Dundas street, or at the Dramatic Art rooms, Woodman Building.

Winter Gardens, special features next Saturday night. Admission 15 cents.
