STUDENT ELECTIONS TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

For S.R.C. President

STAN JOBB

The S.R.C. is the governing body of the students. As such, I propose if elected, an efficient, orderly and truly representative council.

Full support to all organizations which are beneficial and of interest to the students.

Closer affiliation with the president and managers of the A.A.A. I sincerely believe that fuller cooperation can and must be achieved between the sporting and governing body of the students. This is necessary for we are all aware of the financial problems facing us in the coming year.

I do not propose to continue discussing this platform in minute details but rather shall try to impress upon the mind of the student the importance of the coming elections. The election of a good president is the first step, but of equal importance, if not more so, are your representatives to the council, for they represent you, the student, and it is through them that the president must act.

Stan Jobb.

AL WARNER NOTE

Due to unforeseen difficulties it was impossible to obtain a picture of Mr. Warner at this time. His platform is published below.

In presenting the following statement, I would ask the reader to this bear in mind: that if there seem to be a number of election promises, I may only keep them after having received, first of all, your sanction, and secondly, the co-operation of the council of which you will have made me president. Having received those, you may be assured that all of the following will be carried out.

First of all, in line with the experience which I have gained in my position with the Brunswickan, I would advocate a closer system of S.R.C. student relations. Having established contacts with almost every representative student group and organization on the campus, I believe myself capable of representing the student body generally and promoting a sympathetic attitude toward all in all student-Council relations.

I would also advocate a more co-operative and extensive publication of spectator sports on the campus. This would of course be with the purpose of increasing gate receipts and hence alleviating the financial burden which is ours. Although not generally known, gate receipts which have in the past been a very real contribution to the S.R.C. treasury have undergone a steady decline in several respects since 1947.

I would do all in my power to avoid any increase in the student levy.

I would make strong representations to the administration at the University to remedy the situation concerning the purchase of textbooks at the library book-store, and

RON STEVENSON

The Students' Council you elect this Friday will be faced with many difficult problems during its term of office. But with courage and determination on the part of every member of the S.R.C. each problem can be solved in a sensible manner.

If YOU, the students, see fit to elect me to the position of S.R.C. President, I shall endeavour to work hand in hand with YOU, in the interest of each and every student to give you the kind of student government you desire. I will work for the student to the full extent of my ability, striving to give the campus effective efficient government of which we, as responsible members of the student community can be proud.

I do believe that a candidate for the Presidency of the S.R.C. should advocate any specific proposals as in the Council his position is that of an impartial Chairman and he votes only in the case of a tie. Rather than to advance his own ideas his duty is to see that each and every proposal from any student is given fair hearing and consideration.

CLASS PREXIES TO BE DECIDED IN TWO RACES

The class president contests in the election to be held on Friday, which will see presidents for next year's senior and junior classes chosen are expected to arouse considerable interest among voters in respective classes. With close fights indicated in both races, and considerable campaigning going on the class president positions are expected to stimulate heavy votes in both cases.

Running for the Presidency of the Senior Class is Turney Manzer, a 3rd year Arts Student. Turney is a native of Fredericton, graduating from F.H.S. in '47, as president of his class.

Turney is perhaps better known in athletic circles as "Terrible Turk", the terror of the Intra-mural Basketball League.

Fourth from the left in the Revue Rockettes, "Swivel-Hips" has kicked his way into the hearts of Frederictonians for two successive Revues.

Since his Freshman year, Turney has been an active member of the C.O.T.C. on the campus.

Dick Armstrong is also contesting the Senior Class presidency. A well known figure, Dirk is chiefly noted for his skillful handling of the Year Book of which he is editor-in-chief. The qualities which have made him so popular and contributed to his success as a student would certainly stand him in good stead if his campaign is successful. Dick's platform is vigorous action and efficiency, both being inherent character traits of this candidate.

Junior Class

Al Hugill, a soph. forester from Sault St. Marie, Ont., came Up the Hill this year from Western Michigan College. While at Michigan, Al distinguished himself in class and campus affairs. The experience he gained and the abilities he showed as a class leader and the enthusiastic approval which he won from students and faculty alike should prove to the sophomore class his desirability as Class President for '51. Already Al has taken an active part in class affairs such as the Flying Club and the Forestry Association. The major plank in Al's platform is more class activities and at lower cost to the students.

Cecil Smith hails from Swan Creek, Manitoba. Cec is a Soph. Forester who is contesting the presidency of next year's Junior class. He is noted about the campus for his interest in sports. He played Junior Varsity Hockey, Canadian football and turned out for several intramural teams during the past two years. He is also active in various other campus activities. He is a member of the Forestry Association.

John Little, Campbellton, N.B., will seek re-election as president of his class this Friday. John is a sophomore Science student and is well known in college circles. For the past two years he has been starred in the Red and Black revue as a member of a two piano team. He has been active in various intra-mural sports but is best known for his basketball playing. He led his Soph Science team to the intra-mural finals where they now seek the championship.

As president of this year's Sophomore Class, John made his big objective the renewal of freshmen initiation on the campus. The result was by far the best initiation seen on the campus in years.

The interest stimulated in the freshmen class was great, although the freshmen themselves failed to keep it alive. His latest project was the successful Sophomore class party held at Alexander College last week.

For S.R.C. Vice-Pres.

JIM MCADAM

If elected to the position of Vice-President of the Student Council, I shall perform my duties to the very best of my ability. The S.R.C. executive is responsible to the student council who are in turn responsible to the wishes of the student body. With this in mind I shall make an earnest and conscientious effort to represent and support the opinion of the majority of the students.

WALLY BRIDCUT

Efficiency and co-operation is needed in any governing body. As Vice-President of the S.R.C. I would endeavour to give my fullest attention to the above mentioned, taking the interests of the students into consideration at all times.

One of the chief duties of the person holding the position of Vice-president is to act as president of the incoming Freshman class. The entry of any new students to the ### Athletic Awards?

At the wind-up meeting of the present Students' Representative Council, a matter which was considered important enough to include among the lengthy agenda which had understandably accrued, was the sale of letters by a local firm which were very close replicas of the athletic awards presented for distinction in the field of sports.

At first sight it seems trivial enough. The terry-cloth emblem, shaping the initials of this institution might well be desired by any one of us for its intrinsic value if nothing more. And yet the Council members showed a genuine indignance. The discussion which had gone before had dealt with the disposal of athletic awards and much had been said about the worth of one to any university student of graduate. However it was considered that the public wearing of the letters which are sold downtown would detract seriously from the significance of the athletic award.

Consequently, the firms which had been selling these were approached and agreed to stop the sale of such in the light of this discussion. The firms concerned are to be commended for their cooperative and ready action in doing so.

As to those students who had already purchased the emblems, it was at first deemed advisable to bring some punitive action to bear on them so as to force them to stop wearing the crests. However, having conceded that the students in question had acted in good faith and were not actually attempting to pose as athletes, it was thought wiser to merely point out the injury that would be worked to our athletes by the wearing of the emblems.

The resultant injury is self-evident. The student who has expended the time and effort necessary to gain an athletic award must obviously place some considerable pride in it. This is not to say that the letter is the end of all athletic endeavour, but merely to point out that it's worth cannot be computed in dollars and cents. Therefore, if one can, for the price of a dollar or thereabouts, be entitled to wear the same thing, the original significance of the award is no more.

The awarding of letters for athletic distinction is a fine old tradition. We do not consider the mentality of the average student here as the type which would make a conscious effort to tear the tradition down. Nor do we feel it necessary to point out the cheap pretentiousness which would be evidenced by these impostors who would pass as athletes on such a low guise. We merely solicit the co-operation of every student, particularly those who have already purchased and worn the letters in question.

We would ask you to refrain from wearing those. Possibly the aspect of the emblem which is discussed above had never occurred to you. Now that it is brought to the attention of the student body, it becomes obvious that you would be exposing yourself to public ridicule if you continued to wear it. However, this last is a less noble reason for taking them down than should actually be yours. If we can appeal successfully to the local merchants in this respect, the ordinary student should be only too glad to co-operate.

Sales Tax!
By Steve Branch

The probable adoption of a Provincial Retail Sales Tax is a live issue with the student body at this University. Thus it would seem only appropriate at this time to examine the possible direct and indirect detrimental effects which the Tax might well have upon the University of New Brunswick and other institutions of higher learning throughout the width and breadth of this Province.

It is common knowledge or it should be, that the Province of New Brunswick has the highest per capita debt of any other Province in Canada, but we are today more heavily taxed in New Brunswick than in any other Canadian Province. We, too have one of the lowest average per capita incomes in the Dominion.

Now at long last we have as citizens of this Province been told that our Financial position is precarious and additional revenue is needed in order to meet the demands of the public for social and public services. The Premier's proposal is to inaugurate a Retail Sales Tax, or what ever name you should choose to call it, which would increase revenue and enable the government to comply with public demands.

I cannot however agree that such a Tax would be the best method to use in increasing the Provincial Revenue, and further more I conceive of it as very unfair, to a public who has already been asked to scrape the bottom in order to meet increased revenues are necessary. However there may be a much less painful way and a fairer way in which to raise money, or reduce costs, of the present administration.

In putting forth an alternative method, I must say that the proposal made by the New Brunswick Hotel Association, would seem to me to be far more sound than a retail sales tax which would have tremendous repercussions, some of which I hope to enumerate.

The aforementioned proposal suggests that the Government introduce legislation to legalize the establishment of cocktail lounges.

The Revenue which would accrue to the Province as a result of the introduction of this legislation, is estimated by Mr. J. S. Taylor, President of the N. B. Hotel Association to be 1½ million, annually, a large proportion of which would be paid by non resident tourists. A further suggestion has been made. This would be a thorough investigation of government expenditures with the object in mind of reducing the cost of government services, (e. g. road building and paving,) and overall administration costs.

My purpose in writing this article, as already stated, was to point out the ill effects which the University of New Brunswick might suffer, as a result of the tax.

President Trueman has often decried publically the ever increasing costs, which Universities from coast to coast are expected to meet. This applies especially to small institutions, like our own.

Only a month ago a hike in tuition fee was announced by Dr. J. W. Sears. The present graduation class is the largest in the long 150 year history of our University. However now that the post-war influx of veteran students is at an end, the enrollment will naturally drop, but costs will remain high.

I have only touched briefly upon the repercussions which could and will indeed follow if such an unjust means of raising funds is accepted by our legislators, in the face of public disapproval. Why should the low income groups suffer from Government incompetence and inconsideration?

If the Tax is made law it will be an unmistakable demonstration of unsound economic reasoning, and admittal of an authoritarian type of leadership.

Jesse H. Jones Founds Scholarship

Jesse H. Jones, U. S. government and industrial leader during World War II, has honoured the Rt. Hon. Lord Beaverbrook, Britain's dynamic minister or aircraft production under Winston Churchill, by establishing a scholarship fund at the University of New Brunswick, of which Lord Beaverbrook is the chancellor.

The announcement of the new scholarship was made today by Dr. A. W. Trueman, president of the university.

The new scholarship at U.N.B. will be known as the "Beaverbrook Scholarship for the Study of Historical Relations with the State of Maine." The objective of the scholarship, the first of which will be available in the academic year 1950-51, is to encourage young university graduates of ability and character to study the historical relations of New Brunswick with Maine and the U.S.A.

Mr. Jones like his friend Lord Beaverbrook has had a phenomenally successful career which has earned for him an international reputation. Like Lord Beaverbrook, he is both a financier and a publisher. He is the owner of the Houston Chronicle, and has interests in lumber, real estate, oil and the building trade. Like Lord Beaverbrook, Jesse Jones has been prominent in the public life of his country. He was appointed secretary of commerce by President Roosevelt in 1940; he was federal loan administrator; director and chairman of the board of Reconstruction Finance Corporation; and chairman of the executive committee of the Export Import Bank of Washington. And like Lord Beaverbrook, Mr. Jones is known for his philanthropy to the cause of higher education.

The honorary degree of LL.D. was conferred upon Mr. Jones by U.N.B. in 1948.

The gift to U.N.B., which has a total value of $7,500, was made through Houston Endowment Inc., a Texas corporation organized for philanthropic purposes and endowed by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Jones.

In his interview Dr. Trueman expressed the university's appreciation of Mr. Jones' act. "I consider that this scholarship will be of great value not only to the University of New Brunswick but to the citizens of the province as well. Nothing can be more important than the relations which exist between (Continued on Page Three)

The finances of the Brunswickan, which have posed a big question to former treasurer's of the Council could, if properly controlled, possibly be rendered less of a burden to the Council. I would attempt to introduce a system of book-keeping to effect this.

Last, but not least... Concerning sports, I would advocate a continuation of all existing sports with further emphasis on intramural sports.

I believe that the problems occasioned by the moderate recession which is now setting in, both those of finance and age level changes required chiefly a proper and inclusive understanding of the campus generally. It is because I consider myself disposed to this understanding that I offer for the position of S.R.C. President.

I would advocate the maintenance of the present student levy. It seems to me that the raising of the levy would not be the answer to our financial problems. The real saving would be stricter economy in all sports all along the line. I would endorse this programme because I think both football games could and should be maintained. Freshman week should give the incoming student a real welcome to the university, it should acquaint him to our campus life, it should attempt to instill in him class and college spirit and lastly, it should give him a sense of belonging. As acting president of the Freshman class I would make a sincere effort to achieve these ends.

Friday is polling day for Student elections. You should exercise your franchise for it is in that manner that the student government, as an institution, will be kept alive.

Vote for any candidate, but vote!

U.N.B.'s PRIZE WINNING ENTRY REVIEWED BY DR. PACEY

(Ed. Note: The play "Golden Boy," U. N. B.'s winning entry in the regional drama festival is reviewed below by Dr. Desmond Pacey. The drama was directed by Prof. Ralph

As the major production of the U.N.B. Dramatic Society for the session 1949-50, Clifford Odets' Golden Boy was successful in every respect except that of box-office appeal. Skillful direction by Professor Ralph Hicklin and excellent acting by a large cast produced a smooth and polished show, but the houses were disappointingly small and the receipts scarcely sufficient to meet the costs. There are several possible reasons for this: it may be that the students and citizens are simply not interested in the legitimate stage; it may be that the price of admission was too high for these recession days; it may be that the play was produced too near the end of term, and that the students were preoccupied with the approaching examinations. All of these factors probably had some effect, but I should like to consider another possible cause: the choice of the play itself.

It is easy to see why Professor Hicklin and the officers of the society should choose such a play. After producing, two years ago, a sophisticated English comedy (The Importance of Being Earnest) and, last year, a Shakespearian play (Macbeth), they must have felt that a modern American tragedy would provide a neat contrast and lend variety to the dramatic bill of fare. The choice could also be justified in that it provided a suitable vehicle for student acting: a modern American play of this type is much easier for students to perform intelligently than either Wilde or Shakespeare. But it seems clear that this is not the kind of play which the public wants. If it is Wilde or Shakespeare or Ibsen or Shaw they will go because they associate these men with 'culture, and culture is something which all of us if only secretly and shamefacedly, are eager to acquire. If, on the other hand, the play is a current or very recent Broadway success, the public will go because they have read about the play in Time or Newsweek or The New Yorker and are eager to find out what all the fuss is about. But the Odets play fell between these two stools: it was neither a hallowed classic nor a current success, and it therefore attracted only those who are genuinely interested in the theatre.

It deserved a bigger audience, for though it is not a great nor even a very good play, it is an interesting one. The defects of the play, in my opinion, are faulty construction, slowness of pace, poverty of language, and a dubious central theme. The first few scenes of the play advance haltingly; it takes too long for the complications to be revealed; and the unravelling, on the other hand, is done rather too abruptly and borders on the melodramatic. And there are too many short scenes: the many waits between them relax the dramatic tension and almost spoil the effects which the actors have built up. The poverty of language is very apparent, if the play is compared with either the Wilde or the Shakespeare: it has neither the ingenuity, wit and paradox of the one nor the metaphoricality and sonority of the other. This, I suppose, is in part a symptom of the decay of language in our mass-communication age; but American language is a richer thing than Mr. Odets made it sound. Only in speeches of Roxy and Siggie did we get glimpses of the kind of inspired slang of which the Americans are capable. When Mr. Odets tried to get poetic—in the park bench scenes, for example—the results were ripe corn right on the cob. As for the theme, it seems to me that Mr. Odets sets up a false antithesis between boxing and violin playing. In his quest for social significance, Mr. Odets suggests that our decadent society is such that violin playing leads to physical starvation and spiritual exaltation, whereas boxing leads to financial wealth and spiritual poverty. But is this true? The really talented violinist can, in our society, command huge fees and is not necessarily immune from the temptations which beset other human beings. I have no means of knowing whether Fritz Kreisler or Joe Louis is the richer and the better man; but I suggest that the difference between them, financial and ethical, is not great.

COMMITTEES SET UP FOR UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN MISSION

On Sunday afternoon, a third meeting in connection with the University Christian Mission which is planned for this campus during the latter part of January in 1950, was held for the formation of a committee to plan and organize for the event. Rod McLeod, acting as chairman for the session, introduced the list compiled by the nominating committee appointed last Sunday of which he was a member.

It was decided by the nominating committee that there should be four committees set up in order that the proper arranging be done. They were an executive committee and three others: a publicity committee, a personnel committee and a finance committee.

Rev. Roy De Marsh was named secretary of the campus committee to which all other committees are subordinate.

As to the operation of the committees formed, Mr. De Marsh said that no feverish action will be demanded from any but the personnel committee in the near future. That one, which is to arrange for the Chief Missioner and to suggest some other desired members of the Mission team to the Canadian Council of Churches, must soon begin to work if a speaker of sufficient stature is to be procured, he said.

Much of the latter portion of the meeting was occupied with the preparation of a list of suggested names, which was to be for the use of the Personnel Committee. Many world-famous Christian leaders, thinkers and speakers were mentioned as possibilities for the position of Chief Missioner. The committee will now proceed to make arrangements for procuring one of these men to appear here next year.

Those named to make up the various committees were:

Executive Committee: Chairman and Secretary of Campus Committee; the President of the University; the chairman of the sub-committees on Publicity, Finance and Personnel.

Personnel: Chairman and Secretary of the Campus Committee; Dr. Stewart, President Trueman, Len Barrett, Virginia Bliss and Professor Love.

Publicity: Chairman and Secretary of the Campus Committee; Stig Harvor, Jim McAdam, Editor of the Brunswickan, Professor Corbett, Piet Van der Meyden, and Jack Murray.

Finance: Chairman and Secretary of the Campus Committee; Dean Gibson, Professor H. W. McFarlane, Rorie McLeod, Steve Branch, Beth Forbes, Mac MacCormack and Professor Hadley.

Also coming under discussion was the matter of cost. On being questioned by Dr. Trueman, Mr. De Marsh was able to advance a tentative figure of approximately $250. This was made subject to some change, and was said to include travelling expenses for some of the missionaries, entertainment, publicity and the like.

Cancellation Explained
At press time last week, the Brunswickan received word that the U.N.T.D. - C.O.T.C. Formal had been called off. It is now possible to give a more detailed report upon the cancellation of the annual function.
The joint U.N.T.D. - C.O.T.C. Formal, an annual event on the University Social calendar, was cancelled this year, after desperate efforts to obtain a sufficient number of couples, had failed.
The Committee responsible for Dance arrangements reported that the late date on which the dance was to be held, (March 24th) and the conflict which resulted from competition with the Alumni Dance to be held Friday night, March 31st. Many students could not attend both, and their preference for the Alumni Dance came largely from the attraction, 'admission free with students pass.'
It is reported however that the Committee is planning to sponsor such a Jance next year earlier in the season, and there should be no doubt but that a large crowd will be in attendance. The Committee at this time wishes to express their regret in having to cancel the function, and also in disappointing the members of the units and their guests who had planned on attending.
Refunds may be had from Alf Brooks, Room (203) Residence, for C.O.C.T. personel, and from U.N.T.D. office (K), Hut for naval personel.

Three Choices For A.A.A. Prexy

TERRY KELLY

If elected to the position of President of the A.A.A. I will perform the duties of that office to the best of my ability.

Next year the A.A.A. will play a very important role in student activities. The revenue available for sports will be lower than this year due to a foreseen decrease in enrollment. If elected I will endeavor to have an organization which will work to curtail all team budgets so that the necessity to eliminate Canadian Football or English Rugby will not arise.

With regard to reducing expenses I think that a system can be introduced in Maritime Colleges in which visiting athletes will be boarded for a small fee by the host university when overnight stops are necessary. The pros and cons of other suggestions to reduce expenditures, such as elimination of the Training Table and reduced meal allowances to players on trips, would be discussed in full by the members.

As a representative of the University at the M.I.A.U. annual meeting I would support the introduction of Canadian Football as an M. I. A. U. Sport.

I would favor an increased Intramural Sports programme especially with regard to hockey which deserves a longer schedule.

A close liaison between the S.R.C. and the Athletic department is important in the development of sporting activities here at U.N.B. If elected as President of the A.A.A. I will do all in my power to keep the Athletic department in close touch with student opinion.

JOHN CURRIE

Fellow Students:

I am not going to make any "long winded" verbal statement. I wish, however, to convey to you a few ideas which I consider significant.

Allow me, first of all, to quote from the A.A.A. constitution. "The administrative powers hereby granted, shall be, and are hereby invested in the Amateur Athletic Association, responsible to the Students Representative Council." The constitution states in no uncertain terms that the A.A.A. is directly responsible to the S.R.C.

There is a tendency for these organizations to function as independent units. In the future it should be the policy of the A.A.A. to work "hand in hand" with the S.R.C. and thus avoid much inefficiency in the governing of athletic activities.

If I should be elected I shall endeavor to carry out the following principles to the best of my ability.

- (1) close affiliation with the S. R. C.
- (2) efficient contact between students and the Physical Education Department.
- (3) strong support of intra-mural sports.
- (4) unbiased support to "all" Varsity sports.

Every student on the campus can rest secure in the knowledge that if I am elected, I shall do my best to work for the good of the student body. This coupled with my two years experience on the A. A. A. should prove to be of great value.

In closing, I wish to ask every student to cast a vote on election day. Vote for the person that you consider is best for the task. I sincerely hope you consider ME for the position of A.A.A. president.

Thank You
John C. Currie.

AAA PLATFORM

In setting out an AAA platform I would stress EFFICIENCY, ECONOMY AND COMMON SENSE. These qualities are fundamental in the proper conduct of student administration.

In general I favor an integrated sports program at UNB. AAA policy must conform to two important prerequisites. In the first place emphasis must be placed on intramural sports. It is here that greatest participation is to be found. It's importance cannot be over emphasized.

In the second place there is SENIOR VARSITY SPORTS. In the past few weeks we have heard that particular SENIOR VARSITY SPORTS will have to be cut because of reduced SRC finances.

In this respect I am firmly convinced that with greater ECONOMY the same level of sports as existed in previous years can be maintained in the year ahead.

Practical economical measures are necessary. In particular I favor the continuation of CANADIAN FOOTBALL. The interest displayed in this sport has more than justified its continued existence. If elected I will do everything in my power to push this fall sport.

Many of the ECONOMIES which have been adopted by this sport will have to be adopted by the other Senior Varsity sports.

These ECONOMIES can and must be made if the same level of sports is to be maintained. A greater measure of justice must be used in the apportionment of funds.

There are many ways in which ECONOMIES can be made. In particular I favor a more aggressive policy in pursuing favorable dates for MIAU sports commitments. I will pursue with vigor the integration of SENIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL and HOCKEY DATES. These must occur on the same date if ECONOMIES are to be made. I promise to pursue this policy with determination and diligence.

In other respects, I favor greater co-operation and co-ordination of the sports program with the PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT. Their advice and help is essential. However, I shall be insistent in the firm conviction that SPORTS policy lies in the realm of student administration. This is a student concern and I shall in no way jeopardise this important consideration.

I shall attempt to secure a greater measure of co-operation and co-ordination of SPORTS BUDGETS. I will insist that managers be made to feel their responsibility not only to their own particular sport, but to the student body as a whole. This is essential if sports are to be administered in a proper and responsible manner.

Student interest in SENIOR VARSITY SPORTS must be promoted to a much greater extent than has been the case in the past two years. In this respect I promise to work to the best of my ability to further this interest and as a first objective I promise a bigger and better MOUNT A train. Many other promotional ventures should be tried and if elected I promise that they will receive my fullest consideration.

The AAA is a very important with, I believe the successful functioning of this Council to maintain a continuous betterment of sports, The Brunswickan, and the like, will only be evident when the societies, receiving somewhat smaller grants, become more independent and able to raise a larger per cent of their own finances. An excellent example of this is the recent winning performance made by the Dramatic Society's play in Saint John having been entirely financed by its own presentations right here in Fredericton after a little extra work on the part of its complement. Each society will automatically operate better as a team if it is left to raise more of its own funds and will incorporate more enthusiasm on the part of its members. Proof of such is shown by the accomplishments made by the executive of the U-Y Club especially during the football season of the past year. Through more widespread advertising, following the example of this year's Junior class, will outsiders be attracted to the functions on the campus and from whom we may stabilize our financial status.

I will offer my services, if elected, to the backers of Junior Varsity and intra-mural sports so that they may continue on a convincing upgrade from the finances obtained from the above plan, because I believe more money may be saved by this method than if each of the estimated 800 students on the campus next year paid an extra $2.00 toward the student levy.

university is of prime importance and with the aid of the Sophomores I would do my best to welcome and introduce them to college life at U.N.B.

I would also co-operate to the fullest with the next S.R.C. president whoever he may be, in handling matters of interest to the student body. In doing this I would endeavour to keep the best interests of the students in mind at all times.

With the advent of the five year plan for the Engineering Faculties and reduced enrollment many new problems and situations will arise in the S.R.C. which would receive my fullest attention.

institution. It's function cannot be underestimated. Given proper administration it's benefits will be felt by all students at UNB.

sult, a closer grasp on the purse strings will be necessary to maintain the present level of facilities provided by your money for your benefit. For this reason the position of Treasurer of the SRC becomes even more important than in the past. There must be a careful study of the budget in order to obtain the greatest satisfaction from the funds available.

The duties of the Treasurer must be fulfilled in an increasingly exact manner so that every student on the campus gains the maximum benefit from his levy.

It is with these various difficulties and prospects in mind that I solicit your support in the campaign this week. It would be both foolish and impossible to make promises. My only avowed purpose is to see that each student is given the opportunity to receive the most for his money.

However, having served as Treasurer of your Students' Council during the past year I am very much aware that not the least important of the problems of next year's Council will be called upon to meet is the question of finances. A substantial decrease in enrollment will result in much lower revenue for the S.R.C. The answer is to be found in one of three alternatives:

First, by a considerable increase in the levy. In view of the recently announced tuition increases this is highly undesirable.

Second, by cutting out entirely certain activities. Neither is this desirable in that it would deprive the students involved of perhaps the only direct benefit in which they at present participate.

Third, by effecting a program of general economy right across the board so that each sport, etc., will receive equal treatment. This appeals to me as being the most fair and equitable solution and is what I advocate in this respect.

NOTICE

It has been announced by Syd Forbes that applications are once more called for team managers for the coming year. Applications for all positions are still solicited, and will be accepted indefinitely by Mr. Forbes. If you would like to manage one of next year's teams you should hand your application in to Mr. Forbes immediately.
