Death of Former Pastor.
The many friends of Mr. Wm. Allan of Holstein, who was in charge of Mildmay Presbyterian Church during the past six months were shocked to hear of his sudden death, which took place on April 24th. Mr. Allan had been placed in charge of a mission field at Willoughby, Sask., and on his trip out he took ill with appendicitis, which the guests assembled at the home of the bride to celebrate the occeasion caused his death. His remains were prought to Durham on Tuesday night for interment. Mr. Allan was formerly license inspector for South Grey. His sudden death is deeply lamented here. Deceased was 63 years old.

Gunner Hinsperger Again Wounded. Mrs. Mary Hinsperger of this village eceived a telegram on Sunday afternoon stating that her son, Gunner Albert W. Hinsperger, had been dangerously wounded by a gunshot in the head. An hour or so later another message arrived, which stated that Gunner Hinsperger was now out of danger, and it s now believed by the family here and his many friends that he will recover in a reasonable time. This is the third injury that "Misch" has received, and it looks as though he will be able to come back at the enemy again. His numerous friends and admirers earnestly hope for his speedy recovery.

Capt. (Dr). Wilfred J. Herringer, who has been serving with the Canadian Army in France for the past two years, sprung a surprise on his many friends here on Monday when he stepped off the noon train. Dr. Herringer was given a three months furlough, and left the battlefield on March 3rd, and has orders to report at London on June 2nd. He was surgeon to the Artillery Corps and was present at nearly all the big engage ments in which the Canadians took part during the past two years. He also witnessed several attacks by the allies or the Vimmy Ridge, which subsequently resulted in such heavy casualties among the Canadian soldiers. Capt. Herringer left on Tuesday afternoon for his home at Winnipeg. He looks well, considerpreach in the Presbyterian Church next ing the terrible experiences he has had

The 1917 Chevrolet

The great number of Chevrolet cars in use throughout this country is an indic a tion of their splendid record last year They have made good under all con ditions. They stand up, and they give the owners perfect satisfaction and good ervice. They can be operated at the possible cost, and practically free from repairs. No car in the world has the "pep," the "get away" that the Chervrolet possesses. In traffic they are handled at ease by lady drivers and when speed and power is wanted you have it in abundance. The Chevrolet has overhead valves which insures the power and saves more gasoline per mile than any other make. This car is strong and firmly built with cantilever springs, and has no side motion. No other car is as easy on tires, and nothing will give you so much pleasure at so little cost. The Chevrolet is the lowest priced car built er your car now and make sure of deivery, and have the full summer's enjoyment. Price only $695 f. o. b. Oshawa. Sold by Herrgott Bros

EVERY CONFIDENCE REPOSED IN U.S.

No Treaties Could Increase the Unbounded Trust Felt by the Allies.

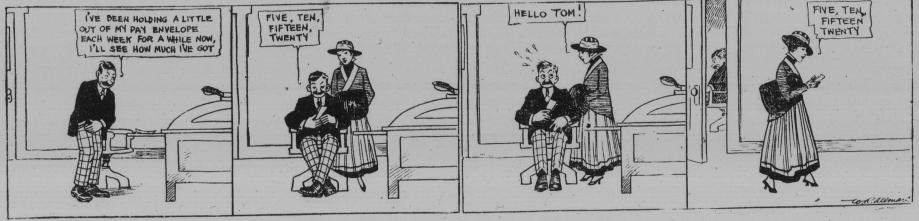

A despatch from Washington says: Arthur James Balfour, British For-eign Secretary, stated on Wednesday that the allied Governments, completely convinced of America's whole-hearted consecration towards the common end of destroying Prussian militarism, would not think of asking the United States to depart from its traditional policies or enter into any formal alliance which might prove embarrassing.

"Our confidence in the alliance and the assurances of this Government," Mr. Balfour said, "is not based on Mr. Balfour said, is not such shallow considerations as arise from treaties. No treaty could increase that the substitution of the state of the stat our unbounded confidence that the United States, having come into the war, will see it through to the great end we all hope for."

Mr. Balfour, after his first two days here, consented to an interview to ex-press his deep gratitude for the warmth of his reception and his conviction that America's services in the war could not be exaggerated. Standing in the midst of a semi-circle of correspondents, Mr. Balfour spoke with the deepest feeling of the losses already experienced in France and England, and of the gratitude felt in

THE CRISIS

France, England and Italy in peace times did not depend upon America but on Russia, Roumania and Bulgaria for most of their breadstuffs. With these sources closed the crisis of the hour demands that we see that our soldiers and the Motherland are fed.

Everyone in Great Britain has been put on limited rations: meat is prohibited one day a week and the making of cakes and pastry has been stopped. Further restrictions are anticipated.

Bread has gone to 28c per four-pound loaf in England, for the first time since the Crimean War.

Lord Devonport, British Food Comptroller, proposes taking authority to search the houses of Great Britain to prevent food hoarding.

Forty million men, less the casualties, are now on active service.

Twenty million men and women are supporting them by service in other war activities.

In the last analysis, the land is bearing this burden.

One million tons of food-carrying ships have been torpedoed since February 1st, 1917.

Germany's hope for victory is in the starvation of Britain through the submarine.

Canada's sons will have died in vain if hunger compels the Motherland's surrender.

The land is waiting—the plough is ready—will we make the plough mightier than the sword?

Will we help the acres to save the flag?

World-Hunger Stares Us in the Face

David Lubin, representative of the United States to the International Institute of Agriculture—maintained by forty Governments—reports officially to Washington that the food grains of the world on March 31st, 1947, showed a shortage of 150,000,000 lushels below the amount necessary to feed the world until August, 1917. He declares it is beyond question that unless a greater acreage is put to crop in 1917 there will be WORLD-HUNGER before the 1918 crop is harvested.

The failure of the grain crop in the Argentine Republic, which is ordinarily a great grain-exporting nation, resulted in an embargo being placed, in March, 1917, upon the export of grains from that country to avert local famine.

The United States Department of Agriculture, in its official report, announces the condition of the fall wheat crop (which is two-thirds of their total wheat crop) on April 1st, 1917, to be the poorest ever recorded and predicts a yield of 244,000,000 bushels below the crop of 1915. The 1916 crop was poor. Even with favorable weather, the wheat crop of the United States is likely to be the smallest in thirty-five years, not more than 64% of the normal crop.

Under date of April 10th, Ogden Armour, executive head of Armour & Company, one of the world's largest dealers in food products, stated that unless the United States wishes to walk deliberately into a catastrophe, the best brains of the country, under Companient supervision, must immediately devise means of increasing and conserving food supplies. Armour urged the cultivation of every available acre. The food shortage, he said, is world-wide. European production is cut in half, the Argentine Republic has suffered droughts. Canada and the United States must wake up!

-New York
Evening Mail

People are starving to-day in Belgium, in Serbia, in Poland, in Armenia, in many quarters of the globe.

Famine conditions are becoming more wide-spread every day.

On these alarming food conditions becoming known, President Wilson immediately appointed a Food Comptroller for the United States. He selected Herbert C. Hoover, to whom the world is indebted as Chairman of the International Belgium Relief Commission for his personal direction of the distribution of food among the starving Belgians.

Mr. Hoover is already urging sacrifice and food restrictions, for, as he states, "The war will probably last another year and we shall have all we can do to supply the necessary food to carry our Allies through with their full fighting stamina"

The Problem for Ontario

The land under cultivation in Ontario in 1916 was 365,000 acres less than in 1915.

Consider how much LESS Ontario produced in 1916 than she raised in 1915:

Reports from Onlario on the condition of fall wheat for 1917 are decidedly discouraging.

As there is an average of not more than one man on each hundred mores of farm land in Ontario, the prospects indicate even a still haller acreage under cultivation in 1917 unless extra labor is supplied.

Food Production is the Greatest Problem the World Faces To-day

· · · Cwing to destruction by submarines, ocean ships are scarce.

It is much easier to protect shipping between Canada and England than on the longer voyages from India or Australia.

One vessel can make twice as many trips from Canada to Britain as from India, and four times as many as from Australia.

Therefore, every ton of food stuffs grown in Canada is worth to the Motherland two tons grown in India or four tons grown in Australia.

Why the Call to Canada is So Urgent

If this country does not raise a big crop this year, not only will the people of Canada suffer but the Motherland and her Allies will suffer and their military power will be weakened if not paralyzed. Therefore, the right solution of the present war problem comes back to the farm, as to a foundation upon which our whole national and international structure must be built and maintained.

The

McCay in he New York merican.

The farmers know that they are the last reserve, and that the soil on which crops are grown is the strategic ground on which wars are decided. To their care is entrusted the base of supplies.

To enable the farm to do the work two factors are essential. The first is Time. Whatever we are to do must be done at once. Nature waits for no man. The second is Labor. Many farmers cannot plant the acres they would because they cannot get the necessary help. Many are afraid to increase their acreage because they fear they would not be able to cultivate and harvest are unusual crop after they have raised it. If they are to do the work that is essential for them to do, the last man in each city, town and village must be mobilized at once.

Every man not on Active Service can help. In every my, town and village are men who, by their training on the farm, or by their present occupation, can readily adapt themselves to farm work. These can render no greater service to the Empire at the present time than by answering the call of the farm. Capable men and boys warm to learn should not allow their lack of farm experience to at a fin the way.

Can the employed sender a more signal service in this crisis than by the constraint the mon to help the farmer to cultivate every available care, and by making it easy for them to go?

Ontario's farm lands are waiting—the implements are ready—the equipment is complete—the farmer is willing—all he needs is labor.

So short is the world's field apply that without increased production have a carried of the burgary, and even with enormously increased product in we cannot expect cheap food. The world is white the our tarvest.

If peace should be declared within a year, the food conditions will be an beater, not the accumulated hunger of the Central Empires must be used. This will absorb a large part of the world's surpa

We done there when this war shall cease. It is endless—its lengthening out has paralyzed the thought and conception of all men what the ught about it and its possible time of conclusion. There were the—six mouths, we said; nine months, a year, we said; and yet two years and eight months have passed their long dream and sanguinary length and there is no man who can tell how long this gigantic struggle may yet last.

Lived George, in a letter addressed to farmers throughout

"The line which the British Empire holds" against the Germans is held by those who WORK "ON THE LAND as well as by those who fight "on land and sea. It it breaks at any point it "breaks everywhere. In the face of the enemy the "seamen of our Reyal naval and mercantile marine." and the soldiers gathered from every part of our "Empire hold our line firstly. You workers on land "must hold your part of our line as strongly. Every "full day's labor you do helps to shorlen the strug-"gle and brings us nearer victory. Every idle day, "all loitering, lengthens the struggle and makes de-"feat more possible. Therefore, in the nation's "honour, heed! Acquit yourselves like men, and as "workers on land do your duty with all your "strength!"

So, for the honor of Canada's soldiers in France—and for the glory of our New-born Nationhood—let it be said of Ontario's citizens that, in the hour of our greatest need, their response was worthy of their sons.

We owe a great debt to those who are fighting for us.

10. A banqueter starts his preparations at home with a bath. In the dirty streets on his way to the host's house he gets his feet and calves badly splashed. So on entering the house, a slave removes his sandals (Matt. 3. 11—so read), and another brings water and washes his feet (Luke 7. 44). So he proceeds to the meal.

YOUR BLOOD IN THE SPRING

Just now you are feeling "out of sorts"—not your usual self. Quite ex-hausted at times and cannot devote real energy to your work. Sleep does real energy to your work. Sleep does not rest you and you wake up feeling "all tired out." Perhaps rheumatism is flying through your muscles and joints or may be your skin is disfigured by rashes, boils or pimples. Headaches, twinges of neuralgia, fits of nervous-ness irritability of temper and a disirritability of temper and a dis-

Three summers ago this slice of desecrated France was a patchwork of green orchards and brown plowland, dotted with town of gray stone and villages of red brick and peopled by a race of happy peasants. Now the whole of it is an ugly uniform of gray. The way of grass grown withered because for three seasons it neither has been cut by man nor grazed by cattle.

Over the whole face of the withered gray desert the enemy has made are strewn thousands and thousands of what look like black fagots—murdered fruit trees, that in a few weeks would become, if the enemy had not to be driven back, a mass of white and pink blossoms. From this particular place the view of the crime of these pink blossoms. From this particular place the view of the crime of these stricken trees is particularly impressive, because more widespread and wholesale than anywhere else in the

But there is a further reason for choosing this little hill as a place from which to contemplate this side of war. On the top of it there is a neatly built log hut of white-barked beech, fitted with glass windows and adorned inside with green canvas hangings and gilt moldings. On the narrow terrace tre fixed wooden benches and tables of the kind that belong to a German beer garden. This eligible country residence was constructed as a sort of week-end shooting-box for Prince Eitel Friedrich, to which he and his boon companions could retire when exhaust-Friedrich, to which he and his boon companions could retire when exhausted from the strain of war. There was, of course, no reason why they should not build a hut wherever they chose, but there is the cynical fact that it alone of the whole visible landscape remains intact. Everything else of the works of God and man is destroyed.

From St. Quentin itself arises the smoke of the bonfire, the kind of bonfire that all through the German retreat we saw in village after village which the British and French sabli-

War and Revolt Have Robbed Princ of Wales of Bride.

Russia's revolution has had the re sult of giving increased strength to the movement which has been in pro gress in Great Britain since the second year of the war in favor of the Prince of Wales' selection of a consort from among his non-royal countrywomen rather than from any of the foreign dynasties, remarks a London correspondent of the Washington Post.

He then goes on to ennumerate the various European princesses, practically all of whom are now unavailable as brides for the Prince of Wales. For those who are not of the Hohenzollern family are of the Roman Catholic per-suasion. Hence these latter are all similarly disqualified for marriage with the British heir-apparent by rea-son of their faith. Paying for a Reputation.

"Why pay for the reputation that any article has?" say some purchasers.

Because the reputation that his trade-mark has is the most valuable asset of many a manufacture. He can't afford to risk that reputation by selling you inferior goods.
