A Suggestion for Doctors.

By RUTH CAMERON.

How universal and all-pervading is the human desire to be different! The youth struggling with the growing pains of his mind and soul thinks the experiences through which he is passing are unique, and feels a sweet and solemn melancholy at the idea of his isolation.

Let a shop girl tell a customer that a certain gown is the only one in that model and she will pay twice as much as it is worth. If you want to please and flatter a woman tell her that her eyes are a peculiar shape, or her hair a unique shade (the sure of course to convey the impression that this uniqueness is of a desirable kind) and she will admire your discrimination and be your friend forever.

But the strangest direction in which this desire to be unique shows itself is in the matter of diseases. Surely you have noticed the pride and delight with which sufferers of various kinds relate the unique points about their disease past and present.

"He said it was the worst case of peritonitis he ever knew anyone to have and live."

"Yes, my temperature was 103 and 104 for goodness knows how long."

"The nurse said she never knew you had a fever to last so long."

"The oculist says he never knew of a case where there was such a deep-seated inflammation inside the eye without its showing on the surface."

"You know my heart isn't where it ought to be; it's two or three inches out of place. The doctors say it's the queerest case they ever came across."

Such are the claims to distinction which the claimants advance with a pride and gusto which is as naive as it is amusing.

And not only do the sufferers themselves take vast pride in relating these interesting details, but relatives and near friends also like to bask in the reflected glory of an exceptional case. Indeed, bereavement, itself, seems to be ameliorated by the mournful pleasure of telling about the deceased's unique illness, how her symptoms puzzled all the specialists, how the doctors never knew a case of typhoid like his, etc., etc.

If I were a doctor I should make it a point to find something unique about every disease I treated no matter if it were only a light case of chicken pox or a cold in the head. And I'm sure I should be beloved of my patients no matter how mediocre my knowledge of medicine.

down to look at the (usual) inscription on the cover.
10. Three-quarters of a pound of loaf sugar goes to each pound of fruit.
11. Black-currant jam requires one pint of water to each quart of prepared fruit. Three pounds of sugar is the quantity needed for this and so on in proportion.
12. Add a teaspoonful of best glycerine to each pound of fruit pulp. This clears the jam wonderfully, no scum is wasted and the jam keeps for years.
13. Firm jam is perfect jam. It is achieved by careful weighing of quantities, both of sugar and fruit, and proper boiling and stirring. All jams should be simmered gently for the first twenty minutes, then boiled quickly. Test after an hour by placing some of the syrup on a dry plate. If a stiff jelly forms the jam is done.
14. All fruit must be dry, or the jam will not keep.
15. Washed fruit—necessary sometimes to do this—should be spread on an improvised muslin hammock, easily made by tying the four ends to four sticks in the ground and suspending. Sun and air will soon do the needed drying.
16. The cutting away of unsound portions of greenages, etc., and using the rest is unwise. Reject all unsound fruit. The decay goes further than you can see.
17. Co-operate with other jam-making neighbours and buy your preserving sugar in one order. You will save a halfpenny a pound.
18. Cheapest and healthiest.
19. Never tie the covers on your jam pots until the jam is quite cold. Wait twenty-four hours.
20. See that your string is dry. Wet string will contract, and the covers will be loose.
21. The cheapest jam to make, and the healthiest to eat, is apple jam. There is nothing better for children.

Diamond Mining.

How They Treat the Blue Dirt in the Kimberley Region.

Writing from Johannesburg, E. W. Howe tells how the diamonds are taken from the mines in South Africa. Briefly, the process of finding the diamonds is as follows:

The blue dirt in which the diamonds are found is brought to the surface precisely as coal is hoisted and mined in about the same way. It is then placed in little iron cars and hauled to a level field, where it is spread over the surface to a depth of two feet. This is done to permit the weather to disintegrate the dirt and render it "washing easier."

Today I saw a field of 4,000 acres covered with this blue dirt. It will remain out in the weather a year before it is treated in the washing mills.

You might pause a moment and think of that 4,000 acre field, covered to a depth of two feet with the blue dirt in which diamonds are found. The 4,000 acre field I saw represented the output of only one mine there are eight in the Kimberley district, only two of which are known to be miners, as they say here—that is, of little value.

And you may rest assured that this 4,000 acre field is carefully guarded. It is surrounded with a barbed wire fence fourteen feet high, and on the top of the fence are four wires spread out in such a way that no one could possibly climb over. At night the fence is illuminated with electric lights, and there is a patrol of armed guards day and night. But you might be turned loose in the 4,000 acre field and not find a diamond in a year. The process of finding them is very intricate, expensive and difficult. Many of the natives who work in the diamond mines have never seen a diamond; they see only the blue dirt.

After the blue dirt has laid out in the weather a year and been plowed up at intervals with steam plows that all portions of it may have a chance at the sun, it is washed in enormous hills and reduced in the proportion of 1 to 4,000,000—that is, for every pound of diamonds found 4,000,000 pounds of blue dirt are mined, hoisted, exposed in the field a year and then run through the washing mills.

In these washing mills the blue dirt is first crushed between rollers and then run through shaking washing pans three different times. What is left is then taken in cars to another mill called the pulsator, and here the precious dirt is again washed three times. Finally the diamonds and the heavier pebbles remaining after six washings go in a stream of water over a shaking pan, the bottom of which is covered with vasoline. The diamonds stick to the vasoline for some reason yet unexplained, while the pebbles roll away with the water. The diamonds on the screen are then easily collected and sorted.

If Constipated or Bilious—Cascarets.

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box.

Take a Cascaret to-night to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous, light-headed, with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway, every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head, a cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

When Making Jam.

A Score of Smart Hints for Busy Housewives.

1. Butter the bottom of your preserving pan. The jam will neither burn nor boil over then.

2. Weigh your fruit carefully, not as picked, or bought, but as ready for the pan. Guesswork means wrong quantities and bad results.

3. Store in small pots in a cool, dry place away from strong light.

4. Clear jam, without skimming, is obtained by putting a piece of butter, egg size, into the pan about twenty minutes before the jam is done.

5. Use earthenware jam-jars.

6. See that your jars are perfectly clean. Place them in the oven for a few minutes before putting the jam in.

7. White paper brushed over with well-beaten white of egg is the best substitute for parchment covers. Never use newspaper.

8. Lay on the top of the jam tissue paper, first dipped in vinegar and dried, and then in brandy. This keeps the jam from going mouldy or fermenting.

Known by Label.

9. Label the different jams clearly, or the jars of the jars. This saves getting on a chair and taking a pot

Grand Rally at Quidi Vidi

VOTERS TRUE TO THE OLD LIBERAL FLAG—LIBERAL CANDIDATES GIVEN A RIGHT ROYAL WELCOME—PYROTECHNIC DISPLAY—ENTHUSIASM INTENSE.

The three Liberal candidates for St. John's East, Messrs. Kent, Dwyer and Ryan, held a meeting at Quidi Vidi last night and never before in the history of the oldest inhabitant of that old loyal and patriotic settlement was there such a reception ever accorded three public men politically or otherwise. To say that it stands without a parallel would be putting the expression mildly, because the meeting was unprecedented in point of speech-making, attendance and enthusiasm, as well as in every other respect. It was always a stereotyped expression that Quidi Vidi was the strongest opposition the Tories ever struck, but the loyalty and patriotism of the people of that quaint old settlement was never as strong before as it is at the present time. In fact we might give the Tory candidates a little encouragement by telling them that they will get three votes in all Quidi Vidi.

At 8 o'clock the Liberal candidates left their Committee rooms for Quidi Vidi, followed by a concourse of Liberal supporters, who were cheering vociferously en route for the Liberal Party and that it is impossible for Bond to lose. On approaching the settlement the visitors were met by some of the stalwart Quidi Vidi men and greeted in a most cordial manner. Guns were fired, accompanied by a display of fireworks. Enthusiasm had by this time reached fever heat and the continued applause given the Liberal party made the hills re-echo. Coming into the heart of the village the candidates went to Mr. Snow's store, but owing to the immense concourse of people, some of whom had come from Outer Cove, Middle Cove, Lugs Bay and White Hills, the original intention had to be abandoned and an open air meeting had to be held, as it would take one of the largest buildings in the city to make room for all present. The candidates addressed the multitude from a window in the top flat of a fish store. At the opening, Mr. Stephen Bragg, the veteran fish-killer of the place, was moved to the chair by acclamation. After the enthusiasm had subsided Mr. Bragg, in a brief but forceful speech, expressed the great pleasure it gave him to see so many standard bearers ready to take up the banner of Liberalism; impressed upon all to be true and loyal to the cause and there would, no doubt, be a triumphant victory for the Liberal Party on Oct. 30th. He then introduced as the first speaker Mr. Charles Ryan, who, as Mr. Bragg said was the esteemed son of one of our best known seal killers, the late Capt. Bill Ryan.

In rising Mr. Ryan was given a most enthusiastic reception. He said that he and his colleagues came to-night as representatives of the good old Liberal Party. Mr. Ryan said that he was a workman and came to the working men to solicit their vote—and you'll get it was the unanimous reply. He (Mr. Ryan) knew the wants and requirements of the people and he assured them that if elected to represent St. John's East in the Legislature one of his first duties to perform would be in the interests of the people of Quidi Vidi. He spoke of the misdoings and misdeeds of the present reckless Government and impressed upon all not to be led astray by false cries, but to vote the straight ticket for the Liberal Party led by that statesman Sir Robert Bond.

Mr. Kent then arose and announced Mr. Dwyer's inability to be present through illness. Amid thunderous applause that did not subside for fully five minutes, Mr. Kent began his address which was earnest, stirring and appealing. In opening he said that as the time had again come round when the people who are to guide the destinies of Newfoundland are to be chosen, first of all the speaker, let us examine the record of the present (Tory) Government led by Sir Edward Morris and compare it with the Liberal Government led by Sir Robert Bond. The Morris Government during their four years of office have driven this colony to a condition of bankruptcy and stagnation by their wanton expenditures and extravagance, particularly Morris's concessions to the Reids and to land grabbers. If one will look back through the years you will find that Sir Robert Bond when he was in power, introduced new industries, new capital. He was actually interested in the introduction of the pulp and paper industry, stimulated the staple industry of the colony and was mainly responsible for raising the price of fish when he was in power. During the reign of Sir R. Bond the country had better returns each year than under the jurisdiction of Morris with larger revenues. In detail Mr. Kent then explained lucidly to the fishermen how our money is being wasted and squandered by the grabbers. Take, for instance, he said a member of the Executive Council John G. Crosbie, member for Bay de Verde. He got a snap when he bought two spars from a poor fisherman in Green Bay for $28 and sold them to Morris for $2,200. Mr. Kent showed the healthy condition of the Colony's finances when Sir Robert Bond left power five years ago and the disaster that is facing the country to day. The wilful giving out, etc., that is going on in some of the Departmental offices is simply awful. In conclusion the speaker told the funniest incident ever occurred in the House of Parliament. During the last session of the house the different Departmental Ministers were asked to lay on the table of the House certain information of expenditures. The ministers all together came into the house a few days after with a dozen bundles of papers, etc., showing all sorts of statements and accounts, but curiously enough, the statements or expenditures asked for were not to be found. They were never submitted nor are they likely to be submitted. At the close of the speech Mr. Kent was cheered to the echo. The chairman then asked the large audience for their close attention and the most successful meeting ever held in Quidi Vidi was brought to a happy termination amid hearty cheering for the Liberal party, "BOND CAN'T LOSE!" and the singing of the National Anthem.

Minimise The Loss.

Practically farmers may easily minimize the loss due to a backward and cold season, by the judicious use of Sulphate of Ammonia as a fertilizer. Sulphate of Ammonia contains 20 per cent of nitrogen, as against 1 per cent in Nitrate of Soda, and is therefore more than 25 per cent better than nitrate of soda as a means of quickening and increasing the growth of crops.

The use of Sulphate of Ammonia has increased enormously of late year and it is recognized to be the most valuable fertilizer obtainable. By its judicious use the production of crops per acre may be doubled, and the growth of late crops stimulated.

We invite the attention of Farmer to our special pamphlet on the best methods of using Sulphate, copies of which will be forwarded free to any farmer on application.

The price of Sulphate is moderate and our terms are accommodating. ST. JOHN'S GAS LIGHT COMPANY. Board of Trade Building, St. John's, July 2, 1913.

Just to Remind Tory Spouters of These Facts:

Piccott had a nice picnic to Canada and the States in regard to the Soling Paper process which Morris promised would revolutionize the whole fish trade of this country. What was the result? The country duped out of another few thousand dollars with no result.

Morris while on another picnic to Washington in January 1911 wired to "my people" to say he was not coming back, far a little while owing to "unforeseen circumstances." We would like to know who had to pay the cost of these "unforeseen circumstances."

FREDERICK MILLER.
At noon on Friday last, at the General Hospital here passed away suddenly of heart failure, at the ripe age of 77 years, Mr. Frederick Miller, an old and respected inhabitant of Portugal Cove. He was much liked and respected by all who knew him—a respect which was fully evidenced by the exceptionally large number of people who attended his funeral on Sunday afternoon. The service was taken in the Church and graveyard by the Rev. Canon Smith, R.D., who preached a most impressive sermon on part of the Epistle for the day—"Redeeming the time." The deceased was very charitable and no distressed one appealed in vain to him for help. He was much attached to his children and grandchildren, and they to him. By them he is and will be greatly missed and his removal from their sight mourned. We have laid him to rest in the hope of the resurrection to eternal life.
"Father, in Thy gracious keeping, Leave we now Thy servant sleeping."

Making Good.

Last year when we stated that the success which the Fairbanks Morse engine had attained in the Maritime Provinces would be repeated here, many thought it impossible. To-day every fisherman will admit we have made good our promise. This spring we could not supply Fairbanks engines quickly enough so great was the demand for them, and fishermen who last fall bargained for engines of other makes cancelled their purchases and bought the old reliable Fairbanks Morse.
At Battery here, where last year we heard of engines of every make except Fairbanks being bought, our motor is held in high esteem and every fisherman even those who are using other makes will admit that the "Fairbanks Morse is a good engine." As a matter of fact ask any man in any place where there is one of our motors, his opinion, and you will find him loud in his praise of the Fairbanks.
The new kerosene burning engine will give the same satisfaction as the gasoline motors did last year. The fact of not one complaint from any of the large number of purchasers this year is the best proof that Fairbanks Morse engines are making good.

MR. JAMES ADAMS.
The little village of Arnold's Cove in Acadia Bay has been plunged in gloom by the death of Mr. James Adams of Bordeaux, which occurred on Wednesday Oct. 1st. Mr. Adams had been ailing all the summer, and on Monday morning left his home at Bordeaux, for the purpose of going to St. John's to consult a doctor there. On Tuesday morning there was no passengers train going to St. John's and he was obliged to wait till Wednesday. He therefore went to his son's residence at Lakewood. He did not feel any worse than usual, although he retired early, for the purpose he said of getting up early in the morning. About 10 o'clock in the night he was taken much worse, and remained so until about one o'clock, when he seemed to revive again. But in the morning he got much worse again; and after a while relapsed into unconsciousness. He did not regain consciousness again, but passed away to the great beyond at about 10 o'clock on Wednesday night. Mr. Mitchell from Sound Island was sent for and arrived at Lakewood about noon, but he could do nothing for Mr. Adams. Dr. Chisholm was also sent for but the patient had passed away before he arrived. The funeral took place at Arnold's Cove on Friday afternoon. The church was full of sorrowing relatives and friends. The Burial of the Dead was read by Mr. J. Gray our Lay-Reader here, as the Clergyman was not present. After the funeral service the homes returned sorrowing to their homes, for Mr. Adams was a man of kind and gentle disposition, and greatly beloved by all who knew him. He was 62 years old, and leaves a widow, three sons, and three daughters, two brothers and a sister besides several grandchildren to mourn the loss of an affectionate husband, and a kind and loving father. The people of Arnold's Cove sympathize deeply with the relatives of the deceased; and indeed everybody here feels very deeply the loss of one whom they knew and respected for so many years.—Com.

Thoughts on Morris's Manifesto.

Morris did not mention the "affidavit man" once in his Manifesto. How was that? "Something wrong somewhere?" as Piccott said when he tried to cheat Mark Gibbons.

Morris did not tell the people that he wants no halcyon now. Because he took ten thousand dollars. As Premier's fees on one Pow-wow.

"I know the world too well to trust a man these days!" Did Morris say that in his Manifesto? No. Piccott said that. But Morris once asked one of his committee to make an "affidavit."

Morris did not tell the people how much money Patsy got! Because Rats Patsy lies for Morris. And the Morris Government fills his pot.

Here is one paragraph that Morris left out of his Manifesto: "I have every confidence in Donald Morrison, my Minister of Justice, although it was perfectly ridiculous for him to remember timber laws. His letter telling Stron to steal timber from Crown Lands staggered Governor Williams, but it did not stagger me, because I have such high ideals of statesmanship."

Here is another paragraph he left out: "One of the greatest Ministers I ever had was A. W. Piccott. He has a beautiful voice. He tried to haul Mark Gibbons down, and then collapsed. He has not such high ideals as I have. But I take my 'affidavit' that Piccott is fit to be my Minister, for I believe he is fit for anything."

Here is another: "I wish to point to John C. Crosbie. He exhibits in his manner, in his face, in his whole personality, the highest ideal of statesmanship that I ever came across. His ideas are so high that I had to pay him $2000 for two spurs. I figure out that that amount will enable him to run his motor car for four years. Let no one think that John C. Crosbie is decent in ideas."

Here is still another: "Gentlemen, I hate salaries! I told you I would not take a salary! I hate them, I tell you! But I took $10000 on account of a Herring 'liberation'. I took that to show you how big I am, and because a man's patriotism is no bigger than his salary."

WEE WILLIE WINKIE.
The pullet-crowed in St. John's East. Some years ago with sneezes; Placentia Bay is the place for him. And his arbitration fees.

THE SABLE ISLAND PONIES.
The Pic-Nic Party came to town on a Sable Pony. They smiled upon the Guyment chest. But didn't touch the mow-ney.

SPARS.
One thousand dollars for a Spar. Was Crosbie's price all over. But Johnnie and his motor car. Will grin no more in clover.

THE CHEST.
The Pic-Nic Party came to town. And thought it very funny. To stick their fingers in the chest. And scoop out lots of money.

"HIGH IDEALS."
Edward P. has tried to be as "lofty" as a stoop. He will get his name of "lofty" for calling you "my people". His salary and smug "ideals" are very, very feeble. Like ten thousand dollar fees. That staggered all "my people".

He'll tease his prospectors now. To help out arbitrations. His day is done, his race is run. And so are Donald's rations.

Cable News.

DUNDEE, To-day.
Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, addressing his constituents last night reaffirmed that nothing would deter the Government from carrying through the Home Rule Bill as planned, doing its duty, upholding law, and suppressing disorders by whomsoever fermented. Churchill, whose speech was keenly anticipated as a declaration of the Government's policy added that in the natural course of events a general election would occur before any legislation could be passed by the Irish Parliament, and in the event of a transference of power it would be open to opponents of the Bill to repeal it; that was the only constitutional remedy, so long as they opposed settlement by agreement.

ALBANY, To-day.
Without calling either Governor Sulzer or his wife to the witness stand, Counsel rested his defence in the trial for impeachment. According to Dherrek, Chief of his Attorneys, Governor Sulzer decided not to defend himself in person, because he did not want to place in the position of shielding himself behind his wife.

OTTAWA, To-day.
The richness of Dawson City Gold Camp will be revealed by a new strike which has been discovered in the Yukon Territory. From reports received here by Customs Department, men using very crude methods of mining are cleaning up from one to two thousand dollars per day. Many Dawson old timers have gone to the new camp. Prices remind one of early Dawson days, shoes sell at 75 dollars a pair, flour a hundred dollars a sack and prices still rising.

Nickel Theatre.
The stores being open did not deter large audiences from attending the Nickel Theatre last night. Last evening the hall was crowded with a most enthusiastic audience, all being delighted with the pictures and singing. There was a first class British weekly which is always a popular film. "All the Family" is a fine comedy drama by the S. and A. Co. "When Youth Meets Youth" is a western story by the Kalem Co. for which they are famous. "Rough of History" is a war film, and "A Successful Failure" is a comedy which all should see. The pictures will be repeated to-night.

Daily Investment News

Canadian Disbursements and an offer.

Some statistics compiled by the Financial Post of Canada illustrate convincingly the huge amount of Canadian interest and dividend disbursements payable from the first of the month to the end of the year.

Thirty-eight millions is the total given for disbursements by all Canadian companies whose securities are listed on the various Canadian exchanges. But this figure does not include the doubtless quite large payments of the smaller unlisted Canadian companies. Nor does it embrace the payments of those companies listed on Canadian exchanges deriving their revenue from outside sources, and whose capital is largely held in Canada.

Maritime investors will enjoy a goodly share of these disbursements, and it is to them that this Investment House offers its seasoned services. A copy of our October "Investment Offerings" would be a good thing to send for now.

Rossley Theatre.

There will be an entire change of programme to-night at Rossley's. Harry Rose, the American ventriloquist and his partner George, will give another of their very amusing acts entitled "Kidding the Dummy" and it is even more laughable than the last. None should miss seeing this interesting show. The pictures are all new and up-to-date. Rossley has arranged another great novelty to appear Monday next, Oct. 13th. The Great Carroll the handkerchief King, who has caused a great sensation in Boston and all the leading cities of America by his marvelous feats, in full view of the audience Carroll will release himself from all locks, chains, knots, etc., etc. This should prove a decided novelty and change never seen here before.

Your Duty.

Nothing to do with the Custom House, good friend. Its only reference just now is to yourself. Let us suppose that you are a man of family with sufficient of the world's goods to keep them in comfort. Very well. You did not reach this satisfactory state of affairs without care and labour—few men do. Suppose you are awakened some night with shouts of alarm ringing in your ears. Too late then to talk of prudence; too late then to say: "If I had only, etc., etc." That "if" means too much to many forgetful people. Is it not always the duty of a self-respecting citizen to protect his home and thus provide for those within it. Is it any more the duty to those depending on him to protect them as far as possible? Can you call your property your own when it is not insured? The answer to this argument is to carry insurance with Percie Johnson's agency, the most popular office in Newfoundland and the least expensive.

There is no hint of dishonor to the gentlemen who own the iron claims in Bay de Verde. They honestly tried to dispose of property for $25,000 cash. It seems that certain prospectus hold of the securities and are to make a huge pile of money of these iron ore areas. A Scandalous Mineral Prospectus And the Tory Government.

When Morison's timber company published a prospectus saying that the Government would not enforce the law about the erection of a saw-mill, Morison promptly denied that he had drawn up that prospectus. Now when the newspapers charge that Morison's name appeared in a most fraudulent mineral prospectus Morison seems to be up against a very much different matter for he has not repudiated it.

When the Bay de Verde Iron Ore prospectus appeared in our contemporary the "Advocate," with the names of Morison, Cashin, Emerson and F. J. Morris in it as Directors, we thought the matter so flagrantly outrageous that Morison and the rest would surely contradict it, and show that they had no connection with it. It seems we have been mistaken in our thinking. For Morison and his friends have not only not contradicted the charge, they have even admitted it.

The facts are very simple; but the prospectus stains the honour of Newfoundland.

There is no hint of dishonor against the gentlemen who own the iron ore claims in Bay de Verde. They were honestly trying to dispose of their property for $25,000 cash. And about three or four years ago a certain man acquired an option from them, giving him the right to buy those claims for $25,000. We understand the owners put the titles to the property in a Bank here and the Bank was instructed to hand over the titles to the purchasers when they deposited the $25,000 and the prospective purchasers were given a certain time to do it.

It seems that certain promoters took hold of the scheme and attempted to make a huge pile of money out of these iron ore areas. A company was incorporated under the laws of South Dakota. The capital of the company was one million nine hundred thousand dollars ($1,900,000). Such a huge sum would stagger any one.

Then the next thing that is put before the world is the Prospectus. It is headed THE INTERNATIONAL IRON ORE COMPANY. That prospectus was one of the most fraudulent documents that it is possible to conceive.

In the words of Thomas J. Freeman, the redoubtable timber and mineral promoter, who was in London about that time, it "was a masterpiece in every way."

In order to understand how fraudulent that Prospectus really was, we will first give a few facts about the Iron Ore property in Bay de Verde. About ten or fifteen years ago, an English Company spent about three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) upon the property. That company thought there was a tremendous quantity of ore there. The company put down shafts, took out a few hundred tons of ore, and not finding any more, they left the ore on the surface, and abandoned the work. The present owners bought the property for a few thousand dollars, and believe that the claims are valuable, and that some day a large quantity of ore will be located somewhere there. We understand that the claims are well worth prospecting. But here is how the promoters in England put the property before the people in England. The Prospectus stated—

OUR RESERVES.

(1) The ore deposits are of immense extent and cover a distance of 15 miles. They are estimated by competent authorities to contain not less than forty million tons (40,000,000) of High Grade Bessemer Ore.

(2) Adjacent to the main shaft on the workings, more than two hundred thousand tons (200,000) are in sight and available for exportation during the present calendar year.

ESTIMATED PROFITS.

(3) The estimated profits on a comparatively light annual output of 300,000 tons would be $505,000 per year.

(4) The estimated profits on an annual output of 500,000 tons would be $815,000 net. a year.

DOCKS.

(5) That a Loading Pier and Docks are located at Old Perlican having a handling capacity of one million tons per year.

MANAGEMENT.

(6) "The management of the company is in the hands of successful men of the highest social, financial and professional standing, several of whom are King's Counsellors, and members of the present CABINET of the Government of Newfoundland. Their ACTIVE PARTICIPATION in the affairs of the Company is ample assurance of the success of the enterprise."

(7) Sixty thousand (60,000) shares in the company (face value $10 each) were offered to the public at $7.50 each.

The front page of the Prospectus was headed

THE INTERNATIONAL IRON ORE COMPANY,
 (Incorporated under the laws of South Dakota.)
 Then came the Officers of the Company in large black type as follows:

COUNSEL.
 "HON. DONALD MORISON, King's Counsel, Minister of Justice of the Colony of Newfoundland."
DIRECTORS.
 "HON. MICHAEL P. CASHIN, M.E.C., Minister of Finance and Customs of the Colony of Newfoundland."
 "HON. CHARLES EMERSON, King's Counsel, Member of the Executive Council of the Government of Newfoundland."
 "HON. FRANCIS J. MORRIS, K. C., Justice of the Circuit Court of the Colony of Newfoundland," with others.

Suppose that Hon. Donald Morison did tell R. W. Strong that a purchaser of Orange Bay timber could steal timber from the adjoining Crown Lands. Suppose that when Morison was found out he saved his Minister of Justice's face by saying he forgot the law, although he said he had been advising other people on their timber grants for twenty years. Suppose that Morison was a Director of the Anglo-American Timber Company, which published a prospectus saying that the Government would not enforce the law against that company about erecting a saw-mill. Suppose that Governor Williams had absolved Morison on these charges. Suppose all these things and still the people have got to ask themselves: Is it possible that Donald Morison, Minister of Justice of Newfoundland, member of Sir Edward Morris's Government, a man, whom Sir Edward Morris now says in his Manifesto, is fit to be one of the Trustees of the Country, is it possible that the same Morison lent his name to such a flagrantly outrageous attempt to swindle the public?

Did he? He has been asked and he will not answer! Sir Edward Morris makes it clear in his Manifesto that he reads the "Advocate," and therefore he knows that Morison has been asked to clear himself of the charge, and even Morison has not been able to make Morison answer. Why? Is it possible that Morison had connection with that company? Is it possible that Morison received a big block of stock? Why does not Morison clear himself? We have seen some of the certificates of stock that were issued by the International Iron Ore Company to persons in St. John's. The certificates are beautifully printed. The amounts in money are really astounding.

Is it possible we ask again? Until this same Morison, and Cashin, and Emerson, and Frank J. Morris show that they had no connection with that company; received no shares in that company and never bargained to receive any; until then, we say, let them not ask intelligent, decent folk for a vote. Let them not ask votes of humble people who have not gall enough to put their names on such a prospectus.

Until then let Sir Edward Morris stop talking about "ideals of statesmanship" in his Manifesto or anywhere else.

Let him stop talking about "the lamentable failure of others."

If Morison had the same honesty of purpose that Sir Robert Bond has, if Morison had the same seriousness of purpose in life—the same desire to benefit workmen and fishermen—that W. F. Conker has, he would not then have indulged his spleen in vilification of these two gentlemen in his Manifesto, but he should have dismissed these men from his Government or shown the world that his Government was not responsible for bringing the blush of shame upon Newfoundland and Newfoundlanders.

That Prospectus was published in England—the money market of the world—where this country will be obliged to borrow money next year to wipe out the Tory Government's extravagance, and it may yet become one of Sir Robert Bond's duties to publicly condemn the men whose names are on that Prospectus if they persist in remaining silent in order to put this country right in the eyes of England and of the world.

The obnoxious callousness of men like Morison in high office has obliged Morison, his leader, to condone things that fasten an odium to his name that will stick as persistently as the canker sticks to the Government seed potatoes.

With pharisaical complacency Sir Edward Morris says his opponents "are deficient in ideas and ideals of statesmanship." Such words suit the cut of Morison's job no better than sermons from his henchman, P. T. McGrath, on the education of children in schools. P. T. McGrath is better acquainted with Machiavelli's teachings. Sir Edward Morris should first clear his Government men of all connection with that Iron Ore scandal, and it would profit him more to confine himself afterwards to sermons on Pienics and Graff.

Note From Pond Head.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir,—The Morris candidates held a meeting here on the 5th inst., and Mr. W. Walsh, whilst addressing the electors, stated that Sir R. Bond was encouraging "Godless schools." It is certainly a hopeless cause that requires to be bolstered up with false arguments, and I think it would be better if Mr. Walsh had awaited the publication of Bond's Manifesto before making such a statement publicly. I am sure that if there was danger to our schools the church authorities would be the first to warn their people and not leave it to such as Mr. W. Walsh to make a public announcement. I think, however, that the lesson taught him at that meeting when he mentioned "Godless schools" will have the effect of making him adhere more strictly to the truth whilst addressing a meeting of intelligent voters.

Yours truly,
 POND HEAD.

 We have our Dutch Flowering Bulbs open now and are ready to take orders for the various kinds. This year again our stock of these Bulbs has been obtained from the extensive bulb farms of Messrs. Vander Schoot, Hillegom, Holland, the light sandy soil of which country is the natural home of the flowering bulb. While we have not gone into anything very "fancy" this season, we have a large selection to draw from, the bulbs having been chosen with a special view to their suitability for growth in this climate. Hyacinths, Water, Boddling and Dutch Roman Narcissus, several kinds; Tulips, many varieties; Crocuses, various shades; Snowdrops, etc., will be found among our samples; and all at strictly reasonable prices, especially when the high quality of the goods is considered. If you want your home garden or grave plot made beautiful, you should purchase some of these fine bulbs.

The Southside Road.

Editor The Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir—I notice by M. C. reports that there was quite a lively discussion for the credit of lights on Battery Road. I am reminded that during the past three or four years the South Side Road from Job's Bridge West has been under discussion. The road was to be widened and three or four lights erected. The Premier, Sir E. F. Morris, intimated that he would make a personal visit with that object. Sir Edward may have come, but the widening of the road or the lights have not been done. The road now is in a very bad state. The sod under where the fence was is from 6 to 8 inches over the line, thus stopping the water from running off and forming pools of water and consequently mud. The fence is nearly all gone and the place is a veritable one. Now, Sir Edward and colleagues and Mayor and Councilors, don't all speak together but act, don't lose time, or else.

I also notice that Sir Edward is going to recommend that Mr. E. Squires' acts of heroism be recognized. I know Mr. Squires for many years as a good, honest, upright man, also that he is a first rate carpenter, and if a new fence is put up I would recommend him for the job.

Yours truly,
 SOUTH SIDE.

"ONCE WAS ENOUGH FOR ME!"

The People Never Elected The Tories Twice.

All those who work for a living—the fisherman, the mechanic, the laboring man whose interests Sir Edward Morris was going to safeguard—usually draw the fruits of their hard work of the week or by the week or by the month. How do men like Donald Morison, John C. Crosbie, A. W. Piccott, Mr. P. Cahlin and E. P.'s brother, Frank, draw the fruits of their work? Who was looking after them whilst Sir Edward Morris was wearing himself out safeguarding the real workers? Nobody? Scarcely! They were looking after themselves! Did Donald Morison ever know a man who could so jealously guard his own interests better than he has done? If his reputation suffers, it doesn't worry him. If he spent more time in guarding memory than in filling his pocket he would not now be a Minister of Justice who forgot the law to save his face; who "forgot the law" after twenty-five years study of it.

Did Crosbie ever know of any other man who could sell two spars for two thousand two hundred dollars, to the Government and then go up town with a grin on his face? Two spars that he bought for $28.00. If Crosbie had not been a member of Morris's Government, with Morison to back him up, would he have got that hoodluming price for those sticks?

If Crosbie and Morison—two Directors of the Newfoundland Company—had not been members of Morris's Government, would Morris have given that Company such a tremendous price as it gets for carrying the mails on the Fogata and Susu? No wonder the English Directors of the Produce Company made Crosbie a present of a motor car! No wonder that Crosbie has plenty of money! No wonder the worn out fisherman puts on a grim face, as he turns over in his hand the pension of one dollar per week, thinking of Crosbie's grin as he pockets two thousand two hundred dollars in the twinkling of an eye for two miserable spars. If that is a sample of Morris's Government then we have had too much of it.

When Morris wrote Governor Williams that it was "perfectly ridiculous" for Morison to have remembered the timber law, he became the author of the greatest piece of nonsense that a Premier ever conceived. And, like Crosbie, he thinks he can laugh it off with a grin.

Does he explain how Morison "forgot the law" at his meetings? Does he explain why he paid Crosbie $2,200 of the people's money at his meetings? No. Morris forgets that Morison's memory is stamped all over him in black letters. He forgets that Crosbie's spars are stench in the nostrils of decent men. He forgets that the odium attaches to him, as Premier, as well as to Crosbie. Never did a Premier have so good a chance to show what was in him, as Morison did in 1909. Never has a Premier shown what was in him so notoriously as Morison has shown since.

If any persons are disposed to give Morris credit for getting the Reids to build railways, he cannot escape having misled the people as to the price. What was the difference in the price? Four million dollars!

Morison smiles, and wants to go on again and have another "innings." "Once was enough for me" ought to be the verdict of the voters throughout the land. If you let Morison finish his work he'll finish you and all of us. You can never tell what Morris has up his sleeve.

WHAT DO YOU LIKE?

Ruskin says in his "The Crown of Wild Olive":—"The first and last and closest trial question to any living creature is, 'What do you like?' 'Tell me what you like and I'll tell you what you are.'"

Wiggles, Reid's solicitor, must naturally like Reids.

De Baze must naturally like them also, since, it is said, he's going to be their Supt. Stevedore on Nov. 1st.

The Pullet must naturally like them also since he got fourteen hundred dollars for arbitrations.

Coaker's Tour in Bonavista Bay

Special to Evening Telegram.

KING'S COVE, Last Night. The Union candidates arrived at Bonavista Bay yesterday at 3 p.m. At Birchy Cove, a splendid arch of evergreen was erected in honor of the President, splendidly decorated and covered with Union mottoes, guns firing, flags flying and people cheering. At Newman's Cove four splendid arches were erected, the boys having erected one entirely of natural flowers, evergreen and tansy. The people met the candidates outside of the settlement and paraded throughout the settlement, headed by the L.O.A. band which rendered some good, stirring music; musketry was fired along the route of march and the women and children joined in the parade. The cheering was terrific and kept up continually. At five o'clock public meeting opened at the Orange Hall, every inch of space occupied. The speakers were surrounded with men and the most of the audience stood. Alex. Rolfs presided, and Robert Winsor spoke first, delivering a half hour speech which carried the audience which applauded with a vim. John Abbott spoke for half an hour delivering a splendid address, exceeding even his effort at Bonavista, and astonished the audience. The cheering for each candidate as they rose to speak and at the close of each speech, was remarkable. President Coaker received a great ovation as he arose to speak. He delivered a stirring and eloquent address, occupying an hour, and he was continually cheered. The speeching was a grand one, nothing like it ever witnessed here. The band played the National Anthem and the meeting closed at 7. About 120 voters at Newman's Cove, and only five Graballs out of 120. Refreshments were taken at Mr. Hicks' home and escorted by many friends, the candidates proceeded to Amherst Cove. They were met at the Lower Cove and received with musketry. The people paraded to the S.U.F. Hall. A meeting was immediately opened and John Brown presided. John Abbott spoke first delivering an other excellent address, which was received with constant cheers and soon secured the good will of the audience. Robert Winsor spoke next and his address was received with great cheering and applause. President Coaker delivered a most remarkable address, which at times brought tears to the eyes of the audience. The address had a great effect upon the audience. He was cheered again and again, the people rising and cheering at the close. The enthusiasm was extraordinary and not a dissenting sound in either meeting—all unity, harmony, brotherly love and solid union sentiment. At 11.15 the meeting closed. About 90 voters at Amherst Cove—every vote a Union vote—not one Graball vote. The Graball candidates being at Bonavista five days, held only one meeting and did not visit Newman's Cove or Amherst Cove. Coaker arrived at Bonavista on Monday night and held a meeting and immediately visited the shore. The following morning interviewed friends and was at Newman's Cove at 3 p.m. parading the decorated settlements, headed by a band and almost every living creature marching in the parade. At 7 p.m. he was to be seen heading for the hall escorted by all the men in the place and holding the grandest meeting ever witnessed at the place. What a contrast. Who can resist such energy, such wonderful enthusiasm. From Bonavista to Amherst Cove there are about 1200 voters, out of which Coaker, Abbott and Robert Winsor will receive 900. Graballism will receive its death-blow, for we are a solid bay for the Union. Fairly hands playing, arches erected, torch light processions, fireworks displays, light processions, women marching in parade, arches erected out of natural flowers, gathered by the women. Whoever witnessed such a scene before in political combat, to all those who would have been surprised if all will be Bonavista Bay, when the votes are counted. God Bless Coaker. We will stand by him. He can't lose. Mark down Coaker, Abbott and Robert Winsor for Bonavista Bay.

Special to Evening Telegram.

HANT'S HARBOR, To-day. On Tuesday, we visited Bonavista and saw the fine arches erected for Coaker, Abbott and R. Winsor, and heard of the great demonstration of the night before. In the afternoon we visited Villavert, Lance Cove and Spiller's Cove and returned to Hant's Harbor on the schooner, and here at night. We held a meeting at New Chelsea. The meeting was most enthusiastic. This place is solid for us; they not only fired away all the powder they had, but sent a man on horseback to Hant's Har to get more. There is no doubt along this shore that the vote will go straight for Lloyd, Stone and Targett. LLOYD.

MARYSTOWN, To-day. The Graball meeting last night was a failure, more of a funeral than a political meeting. Lefevre, as usual, a failure. He spoke of his admiration for Morris. We wondered if there was reciprocation of this feeling between them, as his petted to all Morris would have thrown over Lefevre had Bartlett, the hero, overthrown his principles and joined him. Currie blew off for a time in a weak attempt at criticising Bond's Manifesto, omitting every section which he was unable to misconstrue. As indication of their weight here they were applauded only by Flynn, a sure sign of defeat. Absolutely no enthusiasm. Tory stock fell 50 per cent. The feeling here is BOND CAN'T LOSE!

Special to Evening Telegram.

LITTLE RIVER, To-day. Arthur English, the popular Liberal candidate for St. George's, held a meeting in the hall at Little River Saturday night. For upwards of an hour and a half he held the audience in attention to his stirring and manly address. No use for Downey here. English for us for BOND CAN'T LOSE!

KING'S POINT, To-day. The Opposition members arrived here this morning. Last night a grand meeting was held at Shipper's Harbor, the whole shore from Shoe Cove up gave them a hearty welcome. The boys with guns and cheering the coming Government is the order of this Bay. Even the children have caught up the slogan "Morris Must Go." Sir Robert captures all by his winning ways and eloquent addresses. The Government members have no chance this way and are regarded as a joke or another of Morris's "cuds." They won't save their nomination fees. The public message sent in this Bay, as Patsy's lies for which the public have to pay.

A Protest From Mr. W. F. Coaker

Special Evening Telegram.

KING'S COVE, Last Evening. I draw the attention of His Excellency the Governor to the constant partisan use of the daily message in favor of Government party. The use of the Government strongly in favor of every reasonable man. It is just as well to allow Morris to use the Post-Office as to permit McGrath to use it as he has been doing. I respectfully request His Excellency the Governor to protect the public interest and to cause a non-partisan official. Our carriage has been a great success and I am confident of having three-fourths of electors, visited, with us on election day. W. F. COAKER.

Capt. Fudge and Capt. Lewis

On the War Path at Harbor Head.

H.R. BRETTON, To-day. Capt. Fudge, the Liberal Candidate, held a most successful meeting last night at the Parish Hall. He was ably assisted by his brother, Robert Fudge, and John Lewis, who delivered a stirring speech calling on our fishermen to support the man whom they all respect and who has a great change here and large number of well known fishermen, who last election supported the Tory. Party are this time going to support the Bank fishermen who have been to Labrador. Tory's day is done and the South is going to join with the North and make a clean sweep for the party that has given the fishermen a chance, not only to send other men to the House of Assembly but to get there himself. After the candidates spoke other voters and friends of the great demonstration and the meeting closed with a few words for Fudge, Lewis and Sir Robert Bond, the leader of the Liberal Party.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 8.
 In a fit of religious mania, William McDonald, ran wild with a revolver, killing three of his fellow church-workers and then committed suicide. His sect was called the Church of Humility. One victim was a daughter of the Pastor, leader of the Liverpool Postivists, and his instructor. In her room he committed suicide.

COOPER-RICHARDS.
 A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the S. A. Citadel, New Government St., on Sept. 23rd, when Mr. Geo. Cooper, of the Horwood Lumber Co., was united in wedlock to Miss May Richards, formerly of M. A. Duffy's grocery store. The bride was handsomely attired in a navy blue dress and was ably supported by Miss P. Newbury and Miss E. Richards, sister of the bride, while the groom was supported by Mr. A. King and Mr. S. B. Horwood. The ceremony was performed by Adlt. Hargrove. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the residence of the bride's parents on Balsam Street where a sumptuous supper was partaken of by their many friends. Speeches, songs and recitations were indulged in until the wee small hours of the morning, when the happy couple drove to their future residence Charlton Street. They were the recipients of many valuable presents amounting to 100, including a clock from the employees of the Horwood Lumber Co., lamp from Adlt. Hargrove and the boys of No. 1 band, a beautiful dinner set from M. A. Duffy, a watch from Mr. and Mrs. A. Cook, and a silver tea kettle from No. 2 S. A. Sabbath School where the bride spent many years of good service as a teacher.—Com.

Mary Still on the War Path.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir—Would you permit me to go with The Evening Telegram on a visit to the homes of all its readers. We are on the eve of a great battle, and the Government must think Harbor Grace the battle ground, for they are doing their utmost to gain favor here. Why this has been their idea all the year. That big useless public building has now been four years in construction and still not finished, and I am afraid will not be finished in time to have a grand opening before the 30th-40th day for the Grabball Party. Then there are motor ferries—one running in charge of Mr. LeDrew, a son of the man LeDrew who has made such a success of the Public Building, and still another ferry at the wharf fitted up at the request or suggestion of Mr. Piccott, and waiting, like Mr. McCaber, for something to turn up. The kerosene oil street lamps, not lit and with nobody to light them, will certainly bring voters (?). But now comes the climax. Notwithstanding the big agricultural exhibitions held in other districts, the Government sent a cheque yesterday for FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS for an exhibition here this Fall. My laws, and where is all the money coming from, and what is going to be the end of it? I pity poor Sir Robert Bond, for when he takes charge of the country's affairs he will have a tangle to unravel. I had almost forgot (excuse me, Mr. Morison, for forgetting) to tell you our Agricultural Society was also presented with three young pigs. Some of our Tory friends are taking this as an insult, as the number of pigs sent is the same as the number of Tory candidates required and not forthcoming. It is thought the three pigs were sent to taunt the already down and out People's (so-called) Party.
 In closing, I would like to congratulate you all—fishermen, their wives, daughters, &c., on the near approach of the opportunity of a lifetime to uplift yourselves and take your place, yes, your proper place, in this our native land. Three cheers for Coaker.
BOND CAN'T LOSE.
 Yours, &c.,
MARY.
