The Old Man Eloquent Pays His Respects to The Prince of Wales—A Gambler on The Throne of England—Rev. Mr. Pearson of Orangeville Heaps Ridicale on The Popularity Contest Takers.

A vigorous manhood and an imposing physique usually contribute to the interest and the power of public speaking; but with Dr. Douglas the opposite is the truth. His sightless eyes, his palsed hand and shattered manhood at once appeal to the listener, and if the history of the venerable divine is known he becomes at once a hero. The father of Methodism in Canada is the name he rightly bears. A pioneer missionary in India is an appellation he is rightly entitled to on account of the faithful work he performed and the indeserbable sufferings he endured beneath a tropical sun and amid the deadly jungles of India.

It is little wonder then that a much larger audience than the ordinary attendance of conference assembled in the Sherbournestreet Methodist Church yesterday morning to hear him speak. He complimented Mr. Matthews on being chorder the presidency of the Toronto Conference, a centerance than the ordinary attendance of Conference assembled in the Sherbournestreet Methodist Church yesterday morning to hear him speak. He complimented Mr. Matthews on being chosen to the presidency and the Dross of the dead of the presidency of the Toronto Conference, a conference that he and the more to the great scandal that has been disturbing England. The Queen was the grandest and noblest woman that ever sat on the dollar, never active that hear go over the throne. Since among us has risen up a George IV., since the Prince of Welse has been convicted of gambling, more was done to weaken the throne than anything that has happened for years. He closed by declaring that he will never cease, so long as he is able to donounce wickedness, whether it be in high or low places.

Rev. Dr. Shaw followed and reviewed the work of Wesleyan College.

the rest of the internoon was devoted to the reading of obituary addresses and the hearing of testimonials relating to the life and work of the clergymen who died during the year. Reference was made to Dr. Rose, T. W. Jeffery, Henry McMillan, Richard Pinch, M. B. Comron, Richard Clarke. It was moved by Dr. Johnston and seconded by Dr. Barrass that the obituaries read be referred to the Committee on Obituaries to be prepared for publication in the minutes of conference.

The following cases were referred to the favorable consideration of the Sustantation Fund Committee: Bracebridge district, Uffington. Port Carling, Sundridge, Utterson, Windermere, Hillside, Haldane Hill, Emsdale and South River.

Berating Prefixes, Affixes and Fakes, The evening session was occupied in re ceiving into the fellowship of the church the following young men: John T. Morris, T. M. Talbot, B.A., W. H. Hogan, B.A., B. R. Strangway, B.A., R. B. Beynon, B.A., J. R. Arkenhead, A. P. Latter, W. W. Walker.

Rev. M. L. Pearson of Orangeville moved, Arkenhead, A. P. Latter, W. W. Walker.
Rev. M. L. Pearson of Orangeville moved, "That the young men whose names have been read by the secretary be received into the full fellowship of the Christian Church, and that off hext Sunday morning they be ordained into the Methodist Church by the laying on of hands." Mr. Pearson in making the motion briefly reviewed the doctrines of the church and stated that be did not believe that preachers' names should be burdened with prefixes and affixes; nor should the church be freighted with embalmed ecclesiastical corpses, apostolic successionists or, hereditary titlists, and preachers should not cater to public opinion nor bid for popular favor. He thinks that if an enterprising press had been in Jerusalem during the first half of the century and had offered a pair of horn cups for the most popular man who would die for his country, Stephen would have had no chance in it although he died for his fellows and has received his reward. Nor did he (Mr. Pearson) think Paul would have been the chosen candidate for a free trip from Cæsarea through the Holy Land, along the poetic snores of Naples, over the Medeterranean and to the classic city of Rome, there to remain a time.

classic city of Rome, there to remain a time. Paul might have received a few coupons from the jailer, Lydia the seller of purple, and the little girl out of whom unclean spirits were driven, but Alexander the coppersmith would have bought up almost the entire publication and voted against him, and Demas the worlding would have canvassed apart for singeopaelse. and Demas the worldling would have canvassed nard for someone else.

The convention laughed consumedly at the spirited address of the rev. gentieman.

In seconding the motion Mr. Maxwell urged on the young men to be earnest, but aiways show discretion, and to be true to the doctrines of the church. He condemned the custom of some who carried in one hand flavored gruel for chronic kickers and in the other elastic doctrine bandages to fit every

THAT CATFISH POND.

It Again Engages the Attention of the Local Board of Health.

The Local Board of Health has a new secretary. Until the meeting yesterday Clerk William A. Bell acted in that position, but now matters have changed, Clerk James Somers superseding Mr. Bell. The City Clerk was asked the reason by The World and was told, "I am responsible and that is sufficient." Catifish Pond was again sat upon. Ald Orr read a letter from Dr. Covernton protesting against its being allowed to remain in its present condition. Mr. George Faulkner supported Dr. Covernton's views, and said he was ready to spend money to get justice and his health officer, said he had visited the pond two months ago and had thoroughly inspected it in company with Engineer Rust. All he could say was that then there was nothing to warrant the belief that it was unhealthy, and unless it had changed its character in the two months since his visit he could not see anything to warrant interference in the matter. The board finally resolved to instruct the doctor to again visit the pond and report. Dr. Robinson wrote compalaining that while medical men were compelled to report contagious diseases coming under their notice, there was no law making it mandatory on people who do not call in a doctor reporting the presence of the contagion. He knew of a number of families in the east end whose children were down with measles who neither rewere down with measles who neither r good sense to confine himself to ordinary, everyday diseases. He leaves to the physician cases in which there is immediate danger to life, such as violent fevers. He does this because, in the treatment of such cases, there are other elements of importance besides medicine, such as proper dieting, good nursing, a knowledge of the patient's strength and so on. Where there is no absolute danger to life, where the disease is one which the patient can diagnose for himself or which, some physician has already determined, the patent medicine maker says fearlessly: 'I have a preparation which is better than any other known and which will cure you.' In nine cases out of ten his statement is true.'

There was considerable discussion on the ice question, Dr. Allen stating that dealers were selling ice cut for cooling purposes only for household purposes. When melted it gave forth a most disgusting odor. It was resolved to have pasted on each wagon delivering ice for cooling purposes the legend, "This ice is unfit for domestic purposes." In dealing with the milk report the chairman said he wanted the doctor to prosecute every man discovered to be guilty of adultarating the milk he sells.

It will be well, however, to remind the symptoms. It will be well, however, to remind the sufferer of nausea, gnawing at the pit of the stomach, heartburn, variable appetite, dizginess, furred tongue, constipation and sallow skin. For dyspepsia and its attendant troubles, that great scientific discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, goes direct to the root of the difficulty and gives permanent relief. No other remedy of the present day has been so successful for the cure of this terrible disease. It does its work thoroughly, and builds up the body with flesh, bone and moscle; it gives strength to the nerves and a look of freshnes to the counternate which no other medicine can give.
