

Lawrenceston. Services for Sunday, April 21st. Baptists, 11 a.m., Rev. Archibald; Episcopal, 12 a.m., Rev. Amor; Methodist, 11 a.m., Rev. Anthony...

Minutes of the Twenty-Second Annual Session of the Teachers' Institute. The teachers of instructional district No. 4, embracing the counties of Annapolis and Digby, met in annual session at Digby on April 2nd and 3rd, 1901.

On Tuesday evening, April 2nd, an entertainment was given in the Academy Hall by the teachers of the district. It opened with a duet by Misses Copp and Vint, of the town. This was followed by a drill, done by little girls in caps and pinafores, each bearing a goodly amount of money.

Principal Goucher, Horner and Trask acknowledged the helpfulness of this lesson to all present. Mrs. McKinnick suggested that the attention of all teachers be called to the books that Mrs. Ruggles stated had given him impetus and help, viz., "Simple Experiments for the School Room" and "Home Made Apparatus," by John F. Wood.

"The Lady of the Lake." A pilgrimage to the "Lady of the Lake Country," heads the program in a 1901 to be made. Its travelling agent from Edinburgh, we reach Edinburgh, noted for its beauty, the city of Scotland is considered. The object of this excursion is to visit the most beautiful ruins, an enormous expense, as Scotland is a most beautiful country.

Leaving Edinburgh, we reach Glasgow, the most beautiful city in Scotland. The city is situated on the banks of the River Clyde, and is one of the most magnificent cities in the world. It is a city of many towers and spires, and its streets are paved with gold.

WEDNESDAY MORNING. Baseball clubs are being formed, and the boys are getting in position for the season's games. Mr. E. S. Simpson will occupy one of Dr. Hall's cottages at the late of May.

The Stevens home is to be repaired and made into a modern style house this spring. The "Arlington" has been taxed to fit out for the past few weeks to accommodate its guests.

Our examiners are busy, and are getting over the ground rapidly. Miss May Vance, of Halifax, has charge of Reid's military department. The Minister Co. gave their first show of the season last Thursday evening to a full house.

In the circle were S. C. Hall, instructor, Dr. Moore, Dr. Palmer, Dr. Simpson, F. W. Woodcock, Wm. Hall, N. R. Ruggles, J. L. North, D. F. McDonald, and Miss E. M. Best and M. C. Spry. Principal Ruggles and S. Staffer were appointed reporters for the Halifax papers.

The first paper on the program was read by Mrs. Gormley, of Annapolis Academy. He advocated the issue of a weekly teachers' journal, which should contain assignments of work for each day of the school year. He also advocated the issue of a weekly teachers' journal, which should contain assignments of work for each day of the school year.

Mr. Ruggles thought some of our text book were these, and that much valuable time was lost in following them. Mr. Ruggles agreed with the paper and the last speaker's remarks. "What would fill the place of the text books?" They are necessary for reference. Bills were ordered to be paid, and in the financial statement a satisfactory balance was given in favor of Institute.

Mr. G. U. Hay, M. A., of St. John, arrived during the reading of the paper, and entered into the discussion. He did not think that teachers made themselves slaves to text books. Teachers should study their pupils and use in closer contact with them.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON. At the beginning of the session, Mrs. H. R. Hogg read a paper entitled "History in our Schools." He stated that events must be considered in their relation to each other, and are important in so far as they tend to make better citizens. To influence the mind, while in its formative state, by the great events of previous centuries is the essential work of history. Our present history of Canada is too abstract for children, and events are mixed promiscuously.

Mr. North agreed with writer and suggested outside reading to create interest. Mr. G. U. Hay, M. A., stated that history was good for reference books. Teacher should make a syllabus of chief events and group the others around them. A book entitled "Deeds that won an Empire," had been prescribed in England, afforded excellent reading.

Mr. A. Cameron thought that our examinations made it necessary to group the dates and events together. Mrs. Langley favored a shorter history, and that we should endeavor to cultivate a love for the subject.

Mr. Trank had found the last part of history uninteresting, and had the last part for his pupils. Mr. Deak, however, thought that the last part of history was the most interesting, and that we should endeavor to cultivate a love for the subject.

Canadian enterprises are being to the front these days, and staying there. No better evidence of this fact is to be had than the prosperity which our best publishing houses are enjoying. The latest journalistic enterprise in Canada is The Ladies' Magazine which has now reached the end of its first year. The Ladies' Magazine made a record in its first year. It was bright, new, thorough, and completely gotten up. It is a new enterprise which has now reached the end of its first year.
