CANNOT DANCE TANGO

St. John, February 1—Bishop Leblanc positively forbade the Catholics of St. John to dance the new dances such as the Tango, Turkey Trot or kindred importations, in a strong sermon in the cathedral here this morning. He warned them that these dances were against the law of the Catholic Church and were placed under the ban.

Surely this hour when we are beginning to wonder where the difference lies between secular and sacred, when we are beginning to feel that all is sacred and spiritual, can we only use it so, surely this is the Church's gout. It is her hour for aggressive conviction in her pulpits, for united endeavor in her pews. It is the hour of her opportunity to be all things to all men.

THE CHURCH HOUR.

Many a man will say that philosophy is a strange thing, and that philosophers are strangers. But few will deny, when the matter is urged, that philosophy and philosophers exert a great influence upon life in general. Repudiated themselves, their name made a shame, again and again the thought of philosophers has endured and been proved vital. And somehow or other, whether unwittingly or unconsciously, humanity has always in effect been forced to admit this. The philosophers peer from their heights and discern vistas; they think and they speak. And by-and-by the people hear the voice and climb to feel the thought. We say it glibly: what the philosophers hold in one generation the people believe in the next. The sages sing on Olympus, and by-and-by the people are singing, too, whether it be dirge, music, or psalms of victory.

Now the philosophers of fifty and a hundred years ago held to what we call materialism, and for the last two decades, in the unqualified tribute to commercialism and mere physical accomplishment, the people have held in fact, to materialism, also. But the philosophers of today, though they would bridle perhaps at being all too conveniently and easily labelled spiritualists, stand at least for something which is opposite in many of its aspects of character and spirit to "materialism." Bergson, with his emphasis upon the creative function of thought; Bucken, with his contention for religion as the ultimate explanation of man's life, ring the changes on something very far removed indeed from that kind of dictum which bids us calculate everything as it were in terms of units of mass. If philosophy once seemed to repudiate religion, which repudiation perhaps in many ways has not been without its great service to humanity in that a large proportion of its criticism and much of its anathema was hatched upon keenness of insight and justice of judgment, now its emphasis is very different. From having talked as apparently the enemy it now walks as the handmaid of religion again, and in closer companionship than ever before. So that today we say that philosophy and religion are coming together. Philosophy, once too jolly cold and abstract, has warmed to a hopeful touch with life; religion, once almost viciously sentimental, has become carefully experimental.

If this be so, and if such a spirit is soon to move the people as a whole, if indeed manifestations of that movement are already before us, what is the implication for the church, the great official custodian of the power and invitation of religion? Surely it is for her as the herald of a new day. Weary with being at enmity with the "world, the flesh and the devil," and nearly spent, perhaps it may be that she may now, ceasing to feel the necessity of scorning the world, enter into great co-partnership with it. Admitting its ideals, wedding them with her own, enjoying its virtues, joining them with her own, seeing its faults, condemning them with her own, may she not now march forward in a great unity for the welfare of humanity as a whole?

Just in proportion as we have a perfect sense of our at-onement with the Divine, shall we receive the life

Mrs. E. Hall, who was visiting her daughter, returned, accompanied by Mrs. Jones and children of Bridgetown.

Women's Institute meets Feb. 10th at the home of Mrs. Augusta Morgan. All the ladies of the village and vicinity are invited.

Mr. Jacob Waterman of North Brookfield, Queens County, spent a few days with friends in Lawrencetown and vicinity.

As a result of the union meetings quite a number of our young people have signified their intention of leading a christian life.

Messrs. E. C. Shaffner, R. J. Messenger, John Shaffner, Whitten Hunt and Heber Boland, attended the Farmers' Association annual meeting at Bridgewater last week. A good session was reported and one feature was mentioned by all. The Women's Institute held one meeting, and a crowded hall listened to an address by the Superintendent of the Provincial Institute, Miss Jessie Fraser.

One of the members in speaking of it said "It was the finest address I ever listened to and I have heard many; it was replete with wit and wisdom, and I hope the Institute here will prove a success."

THE ONENESS THAT PERVADES THE UNIVERSE.

The late Professor Shaler, of Harvard University, said that the greatest discovery of the last century was that of the unity of everything in the universe—the oneness of all life.

This idea that there is but one principle running through the universe, one life, one truth, one reality, that this power is divinely beneficent and that we are in a great principle-current, which is running Godward, is one of the most inspiring, encouraging and fear-killing thoughts that ever entered the human mind.

The realization that in the truth of our being we are a part of the one great creative principle of the universe, a necessary, inseparable part of it, and that we can no more be annihilated than can the laws of mathematics; that we must be immortal ourselves because we are a part of immortal principle; that we must partake of all of the qualities which compose our Creator—Father, that we must be perfect and immortal because we were created by Perfection, solves the greatest mysteries of life and gives us a wonderful sense of security, safety, satisfaction and contentment, which nothing else can give.

Just in proportion as we realize our oneness with the Divine, this at-onement with our Maker, do our lives become calm, confident, creative.

I have seen a delicate woman pass through sufferings and trials which would have sent most strong men and women to an insane asylum, and yet she never wavered or complained, but was always, even during the darkest hours, poised, helpful, serene, always full of love for her fellow men. There was a light in her eye which was not born of earth, because she was so entrenched in principle, in truth, so conscious of her oneness with the Divine, so completely in tune with the Infinite, and her faith was so gigantic that nothing could happen to throw her off her centre. Not even torture, or starvation, or ostracism could snuff out that divine light which shone in her eyes, or destroy her equanimity or serenity. She felt the presence of a Divine hand leading, guiding, protecting her, and she was not afraid.

It has ever been a mystery to the world that martyrs and prisoners could go through such sufferings and tortures, not only without a tremor of fear, but even with the assurance of victorious triumph. The reason was that they were anchored in eternal principle, buttressed by truth, justice and right. Nothing could happen seriously to disturb them; because the hand that held them fast was divine, omnipotent.

Just in proportion as we have a perfect sense of our at-onement with the Divine, shall we receive the life

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of Annapolis County:

In the Semi Annual session of the Council in April, 1913, our report upon the road leading from the Laverport road to Lake Torment was referred back to us. We received notice of same from the County Clerk. We went and saw the land owners and could make no arrangements with the parties except as we gave in our first report.

HORACE C. MUNRO,
Milford, Jan. 10, 1914.

ANNAPOLIS COUNTY FARMERS ASSOCIATION REPORT 1913.

To Warden, Clerk and Members of the Municipal Council.

Gentlemen:—

As farmers we have to report a very successful year—good crops, well harvested. What we have to sell realizes very remunerative prices. As orchardists, as a body the results have been disappointing, yet those who have used the effective remedies have been rewarded by excellent fruit at splendid prices.

The Association has 152 members. 24 Institute meetings have been held addressed by Mr. L. D. Robinson, Assistant Superintendent of the Experimental Farm, Kentville, and Mr. C. L. A. Ward of Sussex, N. B. We endeavor to have meetings in as many places as possible and would be pleased to say that by considerable canvassing I was enabled to secure competitors in oat and wheat crops. V. B. Leonard, L. W. Elliott, T. B. Smith, F. W. Bishop, Eldon Marshall, A. W. Phinney and others getting good prizes.

The annual meeting was held at Secretary reported receipts, viz: from members, $35.20, Municipality $25.00, Lawrence town on the 6th inst. The Provincial Government, $25.00. Total, $85.20.

Expenses Hall, expenses delegates, postage, printing, advertising, lecturers' expenses, etc. and $73.83.

The care of orchards and remedies for spot, etc. was discussed by such men as Fred H. Johnson; letter read from such as A. C. Starr of Starrs Point; W. S. Blair, Supt. of Experimental Farm, Kentville, gave the results of Experimental Work at Han'sport and Berwick for spot; G. E. Sanders supplied much information in regard to Brown Tail Moth, Bud Moth, Canker Worm, Fruit Worm, etc. The officers for the ensuing year are President—R. S. Leonard, Paradise. Vice President—R. J. Messenger, Lawrence town. Secy.—L. W. Elliott, Clarence. Auditor—J. E. Shamer, Lawrence town.

COMMISSIONER FROM MR. JOHN IRVIN, Bridgetown, N. S., Jan. 8, 1913.

Dear Mr. Warden Clarke,

When in Halifax last week Archbishop Armitage, president of the Nova Scotia Historical Society in the talking of the desire of the Society to mark all the historic places in the Province by bronze tablets, communicating the cost he stated that among other sites the society would like to mark the site of Bloody Creek. I was glad and he wanted to know if the Society provided the bronze tablets if the County when by public grant from the Council or by private subscription would furnish a granite pillar on which to affix the tablet, and wished me to bring the matter to the attention of the authorities.

May I ask if you will bring the matter before the Council next week. It is the intention of the President

WHY DRUGS ON COUGHING?

Here is a Remedy That Will Stop It

Do you realize the danger in a neglected cough? Then why don't you get rid of it? Yes, you can shake it off, even though it has stuck to you for a long time, if you go about it right.

Keep out in the fresh air as much as you can, build up your strength with plenty of wholesome food, and take Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne.

This reliable household remedy has broken up thousands of hacking, persistent coughs, which were just as troublesome as yours, and what it has done for so many others it will do for you.

Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne contains absolutely no harmful drugs, and so can be given safely to children, as well as adults. Your physician or druggist can confirm this statement, for we are ready to send them on request a complete list of all the ingredients.

AND WHEREAS His Honor Mr. Justice Ritchie has requested the undersigned Grand Jurors for the County of Annapolis to request your Honorable Body to take into consideration the question of providing such employment.

WE THEREFORE respectfully request your Honorable Body to make suitable provision for labor as may be required, from time to time by prisoners in the said Common Gaol.

SCOTT ACT INSPECTOR'S REPORT

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of Annapolis County: Gentlemen:—

As your Inspector for enforcing the Canada Temperance Act in the said Municipality, I now respectfully submit the following report of my work for the year just closed:—

Twelve informations for search warrants were laid and warrants were issued thereon and thorough searches in the finding seizures of intoxicating liquor in three instances, the other nine searches having proved wholly unsuccessful. In one of the cases it was clearly established that the liquor had been bona fide ordered for the use of a sick woman, by a reputable physician, and the supply, which was small, was accordingly restored to the owner. In still another instance of seizure it was shown to the presiding Magistrate's satisfaction that the liquor was for personal use and restoration was made.

Eight other informations were laid charging persons with illegal sale or with having illegally caused the liquor to be brought into our municipality. These cases resulted in their convictions. The last of these informations was laid on January 7th, 1914, and the summons named the 10th instant as the day of trial, but the best efforts of the constable failed to locate the defendant and also the chief witness against him. I have no doubt of this case resulting in a conviction as soon as these men can be found and brought before the court.

The total cost of all proceedings has been $261.75 and the total income derived from fines and costs has been $116.65 having a deficit of $145.10 as compared with a deficit of $265.90 in the next year. Permit me to add that liquor dealing as a business has practically been closed in our Municipality. There are no open bars nor open houses for its sale. Small lots are indeed brought into our territory and these are in some instances peddled out in the most artful manner, but stringent curb has been put upon even this method of dealing by our present searches under warrant so that the illegal traffic in the manner stated is now restricted within our narrow limits which are becoming narrower with each succeeding year of work under our very efficient Act.

My general account is herewith given with itemized bills appended.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN HALL,
Inspector.

THIS STOMACH REMEDY HELPS FRIENDS

Almost every day some grateful person comes into our store and tells us of benefits received from the use of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1914.

A recent issue of the New York Out-look contains an article on Chinese Character, which contains many interesting quotations from the Memoirs of the great Chinese statesman, Li Hung Chang, from which we select the following:

"After all, what is wealth? My noble and severe parent had it in goodly quantity; but it cannot be said that it made him happy. . . . I have found that neither wealth, nor distinguished decorations, nor both put together, will guarantee a man against unrest of mind or turmoil of soul. How great and honorable is the Peacock's Feather of the Throne; yet how much easier rests, the head on goose feathers!"

"If I could not be Li Hung Chang, I should next prefer to be the Prime Minister of England. It is true I should not like to have his ailments, and I presume he would not like to have my rheumatism and heart troubles; but Mr. Gladstone made a deep impression upon me during the past few hours I was at his home. He appeared to me not only as a man of great mentality, but of wonderful strength of will and courage of conviction. His face looked to me more honest than any I had seen in all Europe, and I believe if such a man as he were at the head of English affairs, no great wrong would ever be done by that government."

"I cannot shed tears as some people do—there are those who shed them when they break the shell of a painted egg—but my heart was full of bitter sadness and sweet memory when I stood beside the tomb of my glorious departed friend General Grant. . . . I could not have returned satisfied to China had I left this sweet and flower-scented duty unperformed. . . . I placed a booklet of prayers at his head and I asked his blessed spirit to think of me always and to give me welcome to the Land of Sunshine and Golden Hours. This done, I am filled with an ocean of peace and content, just as when at the grave of my illustrious and most holy mother, I find joy of heart and incense of the mind."

He was in Germany on the anniversary of his mother's death, and the following is his record:

"This day I shall seclude myself from all callers in order that I may devote myself to thoughts of my celestial mother, who died fourteen years ago this day, and who for that long time has been thinking of my coming to the Peaceful Sunlight of the Nine Springs. With all the incidents of my life, its trials and lamentations, its moments of joy and pride, with each and every affair of my life, I cannot forget my celestial mother and all she was and is to me."

A New York reporter with great familiarity asked Li Hung Chang how many wives he had. He replied, "as many as I need." Not satisfied, the reporter again asked, "How many is that?" He did not wish to satisfy what he regarded as impertinent curiosity, and in turn asked, "How many have you?" The reporter replied, "None." "Good," said Li Hung Chang, "you look as if you might be able to take care of just that number."

The article from which we quote closes with these wise words: "When one finds, as the fair-minded reader most certainly does in this remarkable biography, that China produced one of the greatest personalities and statesmen of the nineteenth century, he naturally revises his estimate of the 'yawning gulf' that separates Oriental from Occidental civilization."

Li Hung Chang was well past his three score years and ten before he undertook his world-wide diplomatic journey to the Great Powers of Europe and America.

The report just issued by the Department of External Affairs of Canada, for the year ending March 31st, 1913, gives the following information:

There are thirty-four foreign countries represented in Canada by Consuls, Vice-Consuls, Consular Agents and Commercial Agents, to the number of nearly three hundred. Some of this number are natives of countries represented, but generally they are Canadians.

The Secretary of State advises all Canadians purposing to travel in foreign countries to obtain Passports from the Department. They are not necessary in all cases, but are always valuable for purposes of identification. In some of the countries of South America, viz.: Salvador, Colombia, they are required, and in the Argentine Republic travellers should also have certificates of birth. In Belgium, Roumania, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria, Russia and other countries of Western Europe they are required. The passport to Russia must have the "visa" of the Russian Consular Agent, and is not good after six months.

If the traveller is a Jew, the "visa" will be granted only under special circumstances. In all cases, after six months residence in Russia the passport must be exchanged for a Russian document which must be renewed annually. The Department of External Affairs is always prepared to furnish necessary information in regard to these matters.

The Dominion Karakule-Arabi Sheep and Fur Company's Splendid Ranch

The January number of the "Busy East" contains some very interesting articles on some of the money-making schemes that are attracting many minds today. There appears several articles on the various Black Fox Companies and on the first four pages an article by Mr. Edgar E. Kelley on an industry that has lately come to prominence throughout Eastern Canada, commonly known as the Karakule Sheep business. The article is well set out with cuts of the costly Persian lambs. On the first page there is a splendid picture of the manager, Mr. James A. Telfer, who is a man of large experience in the sheep business, having spent many years in study of the best methods for careful breeding in order to produce the very best results. Mr. Telfer is undoubtedly the best authority in Canada on the rearing and breeding of the costly Persian lamb.

Mr. Kelley's own words will best describe a trip to the splendid ranch of the Dominion Karakule-Arabi Sheep and Fur Company.

"Some few days ago I had the pleasure of visiting at Lawrencetown the home of these natives of Bokhara. It is a trip well worth the time and money spent. Beneath the shelter of North Mountain, in one of the finest sections of the Annapolis Valley, have the promoters of the Dominion Karakule-Arabi Sheep and Fur Company established their home. The ranch is indeed 'worthy of the jewel.' Is it necessary to expatiate on the natural advantages of this region, and its peculiar adaptabilities to the industry in point? Few readers there are who cannot conjure up a picture of a beautiful, fertile farm, huge, rocky barns, thriving orchards, neat, cozy farm houses (for there are two), valuable timber lands, the whole laid out on the same five-hundred broad acres, protected from the north winds by a towering mountain, and stretching away into the aluvial soils of the Land of Evangeline—a farming paradise, like many another along the line of the Dominion Atlantic Railway.

In company with the Ranch Manager James A. Telfer, I arrived at the farm about three o'clock in the afternoon of a fine, bright day. The general aspect of the place and its surroundings was a treat.

"The stock, exclusive of horses, etc., consists of seven pure blood Karakule ewes, seven pure blood Karakule rams, seven three-quarter bloods, and two hundred and fifty head of Lincoln, Cotswolds and Leicester, the latter breeds some of the finest of Ontario full-blood stock.

"We visited the male Karakule first and found them segregated away from the rest in a snug barn, each boasting his own warm individual quarters. I began to wonder: Why the padlocks on the doors? Why all this care of a few sheep? Sheep are simply 'sheep' to the layman.

"One of the rams is named 'Teddy,' in honor of Roosevelt, the man whose part in the importation has previously been set down.

"Teddy well deserves the honor himself. His militant bearing reflects no small degree of credit on his vigorously aggressive namesake. As I approached him he treated me to a look of disdain; and backed away a few paces with lowered head and crafty, baleful eye.

"Look out!" exclaimed Mr. Telfer. "Teddy doesn't care much for strangers."

I had had some experience with militant he-sheep; and continued the advance, throwing in an observation regarding 'boots holding out,' and Teddy's speedy and ignominious overthrow.

"How much did those boots of yours cost?" Mr. Telfer queried.

"A Moncton freebooter (who really wasn't a 'free-booter'), held me up for seven dollars," I rejoined, still advancing cautiously.

"Well, that sheep is worth just three thousand dollars," was the quiet answer.

Parsons' Pills
Give quick relief without distressing.

"Fancy 'putting the boots' to three thousand dollars' worth of homely mutton! Making a target of a black fox would be about on a par with that."

But, after all, it is doubtful if a few kicks, judiciously applied, would have harmed the ram. The Karakule is as tough as a hickory knot; and a peculiar looking customer in the bargain. He is a hardy, broad-tailed, medium-sized sheep of considerable length. The rump is characteristically ally rounded and usually steep. The rams are horned, but the ewes are usually hornless. The ears are small and pendulous. The face is narrow and much rounded and together with the legs is covered with short glossy hair. The body of the adult bears a coarse, long, hair-like wool varying in color from a light gray to black. The absence of soft under wool is said to be an indication of purity of blood.

From the quarters of the males we visited the ewes; next the three-quarter bloods; and wound up with Lincoln, Cotswolds and Leicesters. The main barn would prove a treat for the practical sheepman, who realizes the value of lots of room, well laid out quarters, and clean, down-to-date conditions. Experts tell me that this is one of the very finest sheep barns in Canada. An acreage of some three hundred feet of the modern type of feeding racks on the main floor and in a tender-dry basement look like real business. While commodious hay mows, root cellars, granaries and the like token expert management.

Then there are the orchards, that will already produce 2500 barrels of apples regardless of the fact that most of the trees are still young. Rich soil for the production of all the necessary hay, roots and grains—and a surplus will prove one of the farm's chief assets.

Apart from all these advantages, the selection of location was made for reason of the very tough sod over which the sheep will rove. The Karakule is a heavy type and all too valuable an animal to be allowed a possibility of mishap through miring or snapping a leg.

One particularly pleasing feature of the whole proposition is found up in the fact that it will contain no 'water,' while no preferred stock or bonds will be sold. The company is capitalized at $150,000, and the worth of stock will be issued, the paid up capital being made to conform with the physical assets. This stands as a gratifying departure from the usual method of attempting to make the 'physical assets' conform with the men of keen business ability and irreproachable integrity. They realize the value of the proposition they have in hand, and mean to establish it on a sound business-like basis. And in that attitude they are deserving of no small measure of commendation.

The Company are having printed at the Monitor press a splendid Prospectus, setting forth many strong and convincing arguments why this proposition of sheep raising should yield the careful investor as handsome returns as any heretofore offered. It is a sixteen page pamphlet, nicely printed on good book paper with many cuts of the costly beauties, and can be had for the asking by writing to the Secretary, J. E. Shaffner at Lawrencetown, or to W. A. Warren, Bridgetown.

St. Mary's Church, Belleisle, Annual "At Home"

The annual family gathering of the congregation of St. Mary's church, Belleisle, was held in the hall on Monday evening, and proved an unqualified success. The room had been tastefully decorated for a previous function and, thanks to the thoughtfulness of Mr. Tomh, the embellishments remained for the benefit of the "At Home." Men, women and children made up a party of about one hundred. Supper commenced at 6.45, and from thence for an hour with many a good natured quip and sally, home thought and jest, the big family disused the good fare provided to the accompaniment of the cup that cheers but does not inebriate. Justice done to these preliminaries, the hall was prepared for the second course which consisted of a well arranged programme of music, readings, tableaux vivants, etc. One striking thing about these entertainments is you never know what to expect next. Those behind the scenes always have some surprise in store—either a new discovery in historic ability, some new interpretation of a well worn theme, e. g., "Bring back my Bonnie to me," or a most uncanny knack of forecasting the future. Of this last the tableau depicting "When the women get the vote—before and after," was a splendid sample and must have been such an eye-opener to the men that they will now probably hesitate before conferring such power upon the ladies. Toward the end of the programme the Rector took advantage of the occasion to remark how happy they always were at this annual family gathering. Everyone seemed to vie with everyone else to make the thing "go" and "go" it always did. He then appealed for the same spirit in all their undertakings—church attendance, special services, Sunday school, and all the work pertaining to the welfare of the whole. Several problems were before them and others would rise from time to time, but each and all could be solved by united effort under the blessing of God.

We understand that many of the items in Monday evening's programme will be repeated at the "Collar Social" to be held in the same hall tomorrow (Thursday) evening, but we are also informed that a number of genuine surprises are yet in the packet or "first production."

HYMENEAL

HOYT-PLANTA.

Daily Herald, Nanaimo, B.C., Jan 21)

St Paul's church was the scene yesterday morning of a pretty marriage ceremony, the principals in the interesting event being Mr. A. V. Hoyt of the staff of the Dominion Trust Company, and Miss Elsie Planta, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Planta, Newcastle, Townships. The Rev. Canon White officiated, the choir boys meeting the bridal party at the church door singing, "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden." The bride, who looked charming in a smart blue travelling suit with hat to match, wore ermine furs, the gift bouquet of white carnations and smilax. She was attended by her sister, Miss Beatrice Planta, who carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and pink roses. Mr. J. Hamilton of Vancouver, supported the groom. Owing to the bride's father being unavoidably detained at home owing to a recent accident, the bride was given away by her uncle, Mayor Planta.

The bride and groom received many beautiful and valuable presents, special mention being made of presents from the Dominion Trust staff, Nanaimo Militia Club, and Loyal Daughters of St. Paul's church, of which the bride is a valued member. The happy couple drove to the S. S. Patricia and will proceed today, by the S. S. Makura for a six weeks honeymoon trip to Honolulu. (The groom is a former Bridgetown boy, a son of the late Alfred Hoyt. The Monitor extends congratulations. -Ed. Mon.)

HOGAN-HELTZ.

A pretty wedding took place Thursday evening at the Recreation Hall when Charles B. Hogan of Belleisle and Miss Muriel Leona Hiltz, of Dartmouth, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony, by Rev. J. F. Duxton. The bride was attired in a very becoming tailor-made suit of navy blue with hat to match, and was given away by her brother, A. F. Hiltz. Lohengrin's wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Pearl Cole. The Hall was tastefully arranged in potted plants and evergreen. Reception was held immediately after the ceremony, at which a number of immediate relatives and friends gathered to express their good wishes. There were a number of costly and useful presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a sum of money.

After the happy couple had arrived at their home in Belleisle, they found a number of their Belleisle friends waiting to receive them. Here, too, good wishes were extended, and a pleasant hour spent in the wee early morning. The bride was formerly engaged nurse in the County Hospital for several years. In this she was thoroughly efficient and was liked by all who knew her. Kind wishes follow her to her new home.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM O. FOSTER.

Another of our elderly and much respected farmers has passed away in the person of Mr. William O. Foster, who died at his home in Upper Granville on Thursday last, at the advanced age of eighty-five years. He deceased was born in Granville and lived on the homestead of his father, David Foster, the greater part of his life. He was a man of strict integrity and honest in his dealings with his fellowmen. He is survived by his wife and three daughters, viz: George W. on the homestead, Fred O. in Edmonton, Chas. R. and Ernest D. in Massachusetts, Mrs. B. J. Chute of South Berwick, Mrs. Matthew Driffield of St. Joseph, Miss, and Mrs. Hugh Troop of Belleisle. The funeral services have been deferred, awaiting the arrival of his son Fred from Edmonton.

MRS. EMMA CHUTE.

The death occurred at her home at Hampton on Jan. 11th of Mrs. Robert Chute, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of that village. Born at Arlington in 1841 she had reached the age of seventy-three years. There is left to mourn their loss her aged husband, one son and step-daughter living in the States, one daughter, Mrs. Norris Mitchell at home, who cared for her mother through her long and painful sickness. Also one brother, Mr. Willet Eason, and a sister living at Arlington, beside a large circle of relatives and friends. Mrs. Chute will be greatly missed, as she was always cheerful, ever ready to help the sick and sorrowing, her presence being like a ray of sunshine in the sick room.

Hockey Match and Bean Supper

On Friday evening of this week Bridgetown is to be favored with what promises to be the best game of Hockey ever played in the town. Our local boys cross sticks with the strong team of Digby. The Bridgetown Team have been doing some hard work practicing during the past week or two and seem to be putting up good fast hockey, and no doubt the Digby team are also improving, so that we may look for a good fast game on Friday night. The Digby Team will come by special train and no doubt will bring along a goodly number of supporters. Be on hand and give the boys a cheer when they arrive. And last but not least, the Ladies of the town have gone to considerable trouble to arrange a splendid Bean Supper in the Ruggles Block for the benefit of the Rink. The people of Bridgetown have enjoyed the supper many times in the past and know how good they are. ONLY 25 CENTS, come along and encourage the boys, and get a good supper.

Sch. Eva Roberts sailed for Boston on Monday loaded with piling.

Mrs. Henry Crouse is on the sick list. Her son George, who came from Dorchester to see her, returned home on Saturday last.

Mr. Ezra Miller reports having seen a black fox in this vicinity a few days ago. Possibly he came from the woods looking for an entrance into the fox ranch which has not started business here yet.

CLEMENTSPORT

February 2. We are sorry to learn that Mr. Fred Ruggles is at present on the sick list.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Forbes Tupper, who has been quite ill is rapidly recovering his former health.

Miss Colpitts of New Brunswick, is stopping at the home of her sister, Mrs. (Rev.) McPadden, for a time.

Miss Emly Lockward, who has been stopping some time in the city of Montreal, is at present at her home here for a time.

We are glad to see Mr. M. McCormick, of the firm of McCormick and Stronach, out again after a few days of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Vroom arrived at their home here recently from Boston, where they have been visiting for a few weeks.

Mr. Reginald Lockward, who has been spending his vacation at his home here, returned recently to Montreal, where he is employed in the Montreal Bank.

Mr. Fred Jones has been appointed as bridge tender on the new C. P. R. bridge recently constructed here in the place of Mr. Parker Zwickler, who has occupied this position for the last twenty years and more, and who has now retired on an annuity or pension.

Mr. Herbert Hicks, one of our popular merchants, sold his schooner "Bohs" to Mr. L. Seaman of Parrsboro, N. S., recently. This vessel has been plying between this port and Boston principally, carrying wood and piling for the last four years, and has made a fairly good record.

The Schr. Mercedes, Capt. F. Le-Cain, arrived here lately with a cargo of flour, meal, middlings, kerosene oil and gasoline from Boston. This vessel is the property of Mr. Hicks, and has made a good record this season under the captainship of Capt. Le-Cain.

A surprise party at the home of Mrs. A. D. Roof was given her on Friday evening last in connection with the anniversary of her birthday, where a very enjoyable evening was spent, and a very nice present was given her by those present, as a suitable gift for the occasion.

Ralph Berry arrived from Boston on Saturday and is a welcome guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Berry.

Mrs. James Ditmars has a nice flock of chickens numbering ten, which were hatched over a week ago. She also has three more hens setting.

Rev. J. S. McFadden and wife were guests of friends here part of last week. Mrs. McFadden assisted at the special meetings. On Sunday morning Mr. McFadden preached a strong sermon from Lev. 4, 12.

Mrs. David McClelland aged eighty-two years, and granddaughter Margaret aged seven, lately completed a patchwork quilt containing thirteen hundred pieces. The work reflects credit on both, and Margaret is proud of her quilt.

A very sad accident happened on Victoria Bridge, Friday evening, at eight o'clock. While some of the men were wading up a casing a block dropped from above and struck Geo. Salmon of Montreal, on the head and knocked him into the river. There happened to be a motor-boat near, and he was taken into the boat and brought ashore. But he died in a very few minutes. He was thought very much of by all who knew him, and about twenty of his friends stopped work until after the funeral.

We have to chronicle today the sad news of the death of Milledge, youngest son of A. C. and Mrs. Corey O. Long. ## Women as Brain Workers

The prospects of women as brain workers is the subject of a paper by Mrs. W. L. Courtney in the last number to hand of "The Nineteenth Century and After."

Is there no way by which woman can get round her handicaps and limitations? Is there no special excellence which she possesses and which she could make tell in her favor in the professional world?

Mrs. Courtney believes there is a considerable future for educated women in business, not only financially, but as a means of adding to the well-being of modern life.

decided to employ women clerks of university honors standard, and the result showed what women can achieve if they are given a chance.

How many good things the spirit of good will brings to us, and how many unpleasant things it keeps away from us!

If you form the habit of saying kindly things about others and looking for the best in them, your mind will become related, through the law of attraction, to all kindly people and to all good everywhere.

Practice open-mindedness, holding a charitable, magnanimous liberal attitude of mind toward everybody and everything, and you will be surprised to see how it will enlarge and enrich your nature.

GILLETT'S LYE EATS DIRT

"SHE WUZ ALLUS KINE TO EV'RYBUDDIE."

In a modest family burying ground in Kentucky, on a rough stone, is this inscription: "Jane Lator, died August, 1849. She wuz allus kine to ev'rybuddie."

Could anyone have a better epitaph? One of the greatest helps to happiness, to the progress of all mankind, is the habit of kindness, or thoughtfulness for others, of saying kind things to others and about them.

How many good things the spirit of good will brings to us, and how many unpleasant things it keeps away from us!

If you form the habit of saying kindly things about others and looking for the best in them, your mind will become related, through the law of attraction, to all kindly people and to all good everywhere.

Practice open-mindedness, holding a charitable, magnanimous liberal attitude of mind toward everybody and everything, and you will be surprised to see how it will enlarge and enrich your nature.

"I've been looking for my husband for the last two hours," said an excited woman to a calm one.

"And you like chicken, Sam?" "Gee! Ah certainly does, boss."

A banker in Central Kentucky was in the habit of wearing his hat a good deal during business hours, as in summer the flies used his bald pate for a parading ground.

A negro workman on the railroad each week presented his check and drew his wages, and one day as he put his wages into a greasy wallet the banker said:

An amusing scene was witnessed in a Cincinnati machine-shop recently on the occasion of the retirement, after a service of thirty years, of a valued and faithful employee.

Why Do Women Suffer

When They Could Be Well? It is so easy to be well and strong and able to enjoy life, that it is surprising how many women drag themselves through the day suffering tortures from lame back due to kidney trouble.

During the last winter, I was bothered very much with a Weak Back. I was advised by a friend to try GIN PILLS and I did.

There are memories of "mother" that go out from shore to shore; She has been a happy theme for every poet's lore.

So this mother that all ages have bestowed their love upon, Must be your mother too, and must reign from sun to sun.

There are ties that earth has broken and severed long ago; Yet fond memories of your mother will eternal peace bestow.

So this mother that all ages have bestowed their love upon, Must be your mother too, and must reign from sun to sun.

God bless the name of mother! God bless the patient care!—The love that's like no other—God bless a mother's prayer!

A colored gentleman, on trial for his life in a remote Tennessee town, was asked by the judge if he had anything to say, whereupon he replied:

"All I has to say is this, judge: if you hangs me, you hangs the best bass singer in Tennessee."

North Williamston

February 2.

Don't forget the bean supper on Tuesday, Feb. 10th. Proceeds for church purposes.

Mrs. George Madiott and Miss Grace Besanson, who were on the sick list last week, are convalescent.

We are sorry to report that Bertie Besanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Besanson, is quite ill with pneumonia.

Misses Hattie and Agnes Pierce of Wolfville, and sister, Mrs. A. E. Crothers of Melrose, Mass., spent the past week with friends here.

A very enjoyable time was spent in Ever Hopeful Division last Wednesday evening, the occasion being a treat given by the male members.

On Tuesday last the remains of Mrs. Harriett Pierce of Wolfville, were brought to Middleton and conveyed to the Nictaux cemetery, and laid beside her husband, who predeceased her three years ago. The remains were accompanied by her three daughters, Misses Hattie and Agnes Pierce of Wolfville, and Mrs. A. E. Crothers of Melrose, Mass. Rev. E. O. Stoves, pastor of the Nictaux church, of which she deceased was a member, officiated at the grave. The pall bearers were William W. Whitman, Isaac Hiltz, D. M. Charlton and W. E. Hilsley. Mrs. Pierce was a resident of North Williamston for upwards of fifty years.

After the death of her husband she and her daughter Agnes went to Wolfville to make her home with her daughter, Miss Hattie Pierce. The deceased had been an invalid during the past ten years caused by rheumatism. At about four weeks ago she was stricken down with a congestion of the lungs. All that loving hands and medical skill could do was done, but none could ward off the Angel of Death. She had a large circle of friends who will mourn her loss. She was always ready with a helping hand to assist the poor and needy. She leaves five daughters, Mrs. James Axford and Mrs. A. E. Crothers of Sandwich; Misses Hattie and Agnes Pierce of Wolfville, and Miss Charles Pierce of Sandwich, Mass. May the bereaved find comfort and peace, in the words of the poet: "Death is the messenger of peace that calls the soul to Heaven." "The Lord doeth all things well."

GERMANY'S ARMY TAX UNPOPULAR

To Raise $250,000,000 for Military Establishment.

Berlin, Jan. 3.—Every man, woman and child in Germany with an income of over $250, or a fortune in excess of $2,500, is brooding over the new army tax, which now comes formally into effect. Although the tax hits the middle class and others of modern means only mildly, it permits them three years to pay it. There was never a more unpopular burden imposed upon the people of the Fatherland. A total of $250,000,000 requires to be raised for increasing the Kaiser's military establishment. The declarations must be turned in not later than January 20.

High hopes are expressed at the Treasury department that more taxpayers than ever before will tell the truth on this occasion. General amnesty is conferred upon all persons who hitherto unconsciously or otherwise cheated the Imperial Exchequer.

"The contribution to defence," which is the sugar coated title of the new tax is not a respecter of persons. The Kaiser, kings and queens must pay their full quota. Royalty hitherto was exempted from taxation in Germany. The army tax law does not specifically assess them, but the government gave an informal pledge to the country that the ruling sovereign would pay the same proportion as the humblest subject. The Kaiser's fortune is estimated at $35,000,000. His fortune tax under the defence con-while on an income of $5,500,000 which is the largest in Germany, he will pay eight per cent or $400,000, making the royal total stipend close to $1,000,000.

Prince Thurntaxis, of Bavaria, who is reckoned to be the richest person in Germany, with a fortune of $82,000,000 and an income of $1,250,000, will contribute between $1,500,000 and 2,000,000.

Frau Bertha Krupp Von Bodeln Und Halbach, the "Cannon Queen," of Essen, richest woman, has an estimated fortune of $71,000,000 and income of $1,500,000. Her contribution to the war tax will be about $1,250,000.

The middle class man worth $25,000 pays a property tax of $62.50. He has an income of $5,000 a year, his income tax will be an additional $70.
