LEAGUE OF NATIONS PROCLAIMS ITS VALUE PREVENTING WAR

Polish-Lithuanian Accord Is Triumph for Methods of Arbitration.

FINLAND IS REASONABLE

Paris, Sept. 20.—The ninth session of the council of the league of nations adjourned today, after having smoothed out difficulties between four nations in controversies which at one time threatened to result in war.

The Polish-Lithuanian accord came after the council had passed a resolution calling on the countries to cease hostilities immediately. The resolution asked Lithuania to adopt the provisional line of the frontier fixed by the supreme council in December last, and withdraw her troops from the territory to the west of the line, while Poland was asked, during its war with soviet Russia, to respect the neutrality of the territory occupied by Lithuania.

Delegates from both countries shook hands, amid cheering by the spectators, in which the league's first instance was accepted by countries virtually in a state of war. M. Wolfenbutel, Lithuanian foreign minister, said he had full confidence in the spirit of fairness of the council of the league and would abide by its decision. It is expected that at least a tentative decision will be made for the approval of the league council at its October session.

League officials explained that, although Finland nor Sweden was legally bound to accept the league's decision, they were morally bound to accept it, and was further pointed out that a settlement, if backed by public opinion, would virtually compel acceptance.

GET SLENDER CLUE TO "DEATH WAGON"

Man Says He Saw It Standing Near Assay Office Ninety Minutes Before Explosion, and Another Man Declares He Saw Three Men Running Away Just Before the Blast—Fischer Virtually Eliminated From Case.

New York, Sept. 20.—Statements by two men, one of whom claims to have seen the "death wagon," which carried the explosive, standing near the assay office at 10.30 a.m. Thursday, one and one-half hours before the explosion occurred, and the other who claims to have seen three men running away from the scene just before the blast, furnished the most important developments today in several investigations that are being made of the disaster.

Other interesting developments of the day included: Announcement by the district attorney's office that Edwin F. Fischer, lawyer and former employee of the French high commission, who sent postcard warnings of the disaster from Toronto, had virtually eliminated himself from any direct knowledge, or complicity in the case after eight hours questioning.

Receipt of warnings by William H. Edwards, collector of inland revenue, that an attempt would be made to destroy the customs house at 2 p.m. tomorrow. This is regarded by the police as a hoax.

Identification of the hitherto unidentified body, previously believed as probably that of the driver of the explosive-laden wagon, as that of Elmer W. Kehrer, an unemployed chauffeur, and lack of any evidence connecting him with the crime.

Release of Alexander Bralovsky, a Russian journalist, who was arrested on a technical charge of being an unlicensed alien after he admitted having been seen in the vicinity of Broad and Wall streets shortly after the explosion took place.

Warning of a Hoax. Receipt of warnings by William H. Edwards, collector of inland revenue, that an attempt would be made to destroy the customs house at 2 p.m. tomorrow. This is regarded by the police as a hoax.

BELL CO. HEARING IN OTTAWA TODAY

Company's Appeal for Higher Rates Attracting Great Interest.

THIS WILL BE NEWS TO SOME TORONTONIANS

Mrs. Belcourt had enjoyed her usual health until three o'clock this morning, when she was seized with cerebral congestion and passed away in a few hours. She was the daughter of the late R. W. COMMENCE PROBE OF THOROLD RIOTS

No Witnesses Called, Due to Cold Courtroom—Case Proceeds Today.

St. Catharines, Ont., Sept. 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—The opening session of the fire inquest touching the burning of the Thorold town hall on August 16 was very brief this afternoon. Fire Marshal Heaton deciding that the room in the town hall, which became so hot on the night of the riots that the prisoner, David McNeal, and police officers had to escape for their lives, was too cold today for comfort. The session was accordingly adjourned until tomorrow morning without calling any witnesses, after the marshal had outlined the procedure before those present.

Want Candid Testimony. In the absence of Crown Attorney Cooper of Welland county the witnesses who were called to the stand at the hearing would be private, the press being excluded, for the reason that more candid testimony would be procured. Only one witness will be allowed in the room at a time. A daily statement will be made each evening by the fire marshal concerning the proceedings of the day.

FOUR PROMINENT EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

The World photographer snapped at Government House a quartet who have had considerable to do with the success of the present Congress of Chambers of Commerce in the British Empire. They are (reading from left to right): George Madhill, ex-secretary of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce; C. E. Musgrave, honorary secretary of the congress; F. G. Morley, secretary of the Toronto Board of Trade, and J. S. Cork, secretary of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce.

TRADE PREFERENCE WITHIN EMPIRE IS VIEW OF DELEGATES

DEVELOP RESOURCES

All sorts and conditions of resolutions dealing with such a diversity of subjects as an imperial statistical bureau, imperial investigation boards, development of the resources of the empire, production of cotton within the empire, empire forestry, telegraphic communication, imperial wireless service, imperial air service, commercial relations between the mother country and the overseas dominions, were dealt with at the first real business meeting of the ninth Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire, held yesterday in the convocation hall of the Toronto University.

Each and every one of the resolutions, with speeches to back the sentiment, was fully expressive of a desire for a commercial empire within the empire. Even the faintest resolution proposed by Sir James Wood, on behalf of the Toronto Board of Trade, to Great Britain and Wales, that Canadians should not give their loyalty to Great Britain and Wales, and that the United States met with loud cheers.

Mr. Cockshutt gave vent to that sentiment in endorsing a resolution proposed by Sir James Wood, on behalf of the Toronto Board of Trade, to Great Britain and Wales, that Canadians should not give their loyalty to Great Britain and Wales, and that the United States met with loud cheers.

GET WRONG SCENT OF BOY MURDERER

The first clue in connection with the whereabouts of Fred L. Davis, who is wanted by the police on a charge of murdering little Philip Goldberg, was proved to be without foundation yesterday, when Detective Sergis Cronin and Wicket motored to Keswick, Ont., to investigate a report that a man, masquerading in women's clothes, had been seen in the vicinity.

The officers left the city for Keswick before 5 o'clock in the morning, and arriving at their destination, secured the desired information and located the person they sought this side of Vaughan Lake. Coarse-featured, with rough, masculine hands wearing man's boots and her skirt bulging at the waist as if a parcel were concealed under it, the person the officers looked upon indeed might have been taken for a man, but it was not so, as the detectives found out.

The woman, as the alleged man proved to be, told the two detectives that her home had been burned to the ground and she now made her living wandering from place to place selling various small articles. At the request of the officers, she produced the parcel responsible for the bulge in her skirt, and it was found to contain old magazines, two or three pictures of the German crown prince, and numerous other articles, requisites of her wandering life.

Convinced that the person before them was really a woman and not a man, and certainly not Fred L. Davis, the detectives returned to Toronto. The circular authorizing the reward of $1,000 for the apprehension of Fred L. Davis on a charge of murder were issued yesterday.

GOVERNMENT WINS BOTH BY-ELECTIONS; MAJORITIES LARGE

Hon. R. W. Wigmore Overwhelms Liberal Opponent in St. John, N.B., and Hon. F. B. McCurdy Rolls Up About Fifteen Hundred Majority Over Farmer-Labor Adversary in Colchester, N.S.—Meighen Ministry Is Greatly Heartened by Result.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—By-elections which were held today in St. John and Albert counties, New Brunswick, and Colchester county, Nova Scotia, resulted in the return of Hon. R. W. Wigmore, minister of customs and inland revenue, and Hon. F. B. McCurdy, minister of public works, in the latter. Both ministers had sought endorsement at the hands of their constituents after assuming cabinet positions in the federal government of Right Hon. Arthur Meighen.

Mr. Wigmore was opposed by Dr. A. E. Emery, Liberal, of St. John, and Mr. McCurdy by Captain Hugh Dickson, who ran as a United Farmer-Labor candidate. "Mackenzie King, who forced this election, has got his answer," should be said.

BOMB PLOT PROBERS OBTAIN NEW LEADS FROM E. P. FISCHER

Latter Converses Intelligently, But Is, However, Believed Insane.

New York, Sept. 20.—(Canadian Press.)—After grilling at police headquarters Edwin P. Fischer, whose warning of an impending catastrophe in Wall street led to his arrest in Hamilton, Ont., and his being brought here, it was announced that several "new leads" in investigation of the explosion had been received from him. Fischer emerged from the conference room sweating and mopping his brow.

Robert A. Pope, his brother-in-law, who had turned him over to the authorities at Hamilton, was waiting for Fischer and the two men embraced. Fischer was then taken to the Bertillon room, where he was "finger-printed." From there he was accompanied to the district attorney's office.

At headquarters Pope said he believed both Fischer and Fischer's mother had psychic powers. The police still are holding Fischer. Chief Inspector Lahey, Acting Inspector Coughlin, Captain Carey of the homicide squad and finally Police Commissioner Enright questioned Fischer. All agreed that Fischer "is a man well versed" in all matters brought up in the inquiry, conversing intelligently.

Fischer told the police that the Wall street blast made no appeal to his sympathy, as he once was "a victim of Wall street himself and could not feel sorry for anybody who suffered thru the disaster."

Fischer was examined in the district attorney's office at some length, following which Assistant District Attorney Talley announced that he had been convinced that the person before him was really a woman and not a man, and certainly not Fred L. Davis, the detectives returned to Toronto. The circular authorizing the reward of $1,000 for the apprehension of Fred L. Davis on a charge of murder were issued yesterday.

Winnipeg, Sept. 20.—Distillers of Canada strongly favor complete control of liquor legislation by the provincial governments, which will result from an affirmative vote on October 23rd referendum. This was the statement today by R. T. Ferguson, representative of the Canadian distillers in the study of liquor legislation.

"Until the provincial governments have complete control of the liquor traffic, it will be impossible to provide legislation which will adequately meet the situation and do away with present abuses," he said.

PERMANENT BOARD TO ADJUST TARIFF URGENT INQUIRY

British Columbia Manufacturers Make Suggestion at Hearing in Vancouver.

DRAYTON INTERESTED

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—A. B. Weeks, president, and J. H. Cunningham, vice-president of the Manufacturers' Association of British Columbia, urged strongly, at the afternoon session of the tariff commission, that a permanent tariff board should be appointed, whose duty it should be to devote their whole attention to tariff matters, and from time to time make necessary adjustments where it was standard of these were required in the interests of industry.

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the commission, desired most keenly to know just what a board could do, for it was obvious it could not exercise any influence in the fluctuations of the market.

Raw Materials Free. Mr. Cunningham was not prepared to say just what might be accomplished by the board, but he urged that as Canada was now entering into competition with the rest of the world, raw materials should be allowed to come in duty free, and that a board could remedy any hardship in case a certain commodity was temporarily unobtainable in the country by allowing it to come in duty free from other countries.

He pointed out that in case of a certain kind of oil the duty thereon had been fixed 25 years ago, and that it still prevailed, although it did not come up to the Canadian standard of requirements. This was a petroleum product in California.

Turning his attention to mining, the speaker considered that the best method for flotation purposes in the treatment of ores should be allowed to be determined by the mining industry, and that the United States exemplifying the benefit of using oil in the flotation process. Mr. Cunningham stated that the British Columbia Mining Company, one of the largest copper operators in the country, recovered fifty per cent of the metal contents of the ore, and since the addition of a certain amount of oil.

ARBITRATORS OF RAILWAY ARRIVE

Members to Decide Value of Grand Trunk Properties Reach Toronto.

Sir Walter Cassels, Sir Thomas White and Hon. W. H. Taft, former president of the United States, the three members of the board of arbitration, who will decide the amount the government is to pay for the Grand Trunk Railway, arrived in a special train at the Union Station at 8.30 last night.

The special remained in the train shed for an hour, and was then hauled out into the yard for the night. The party will leave early this morning to continue their tour of inspection of the Grand Trunk System, which terminates at Chicago. From Chicago the arbitrators will proceed westward, and go over the Grand Trunk Pacific lines, located between that city and Prince Rupert, B.C.

The work of inspection, which commenced at Montreal yesterday, will keep the arbitrators busy until well towards the end of October. The first formal sitting in the inquiry will be held in Montreal early in November. During the summer, a preliminary survey of the Grand Trunk lines was made by other parties, and between now and November the information gathered by these parties will be put into shape by a staff engaged on the work in Montreal.

TAYLOR-STATTEN SAYS FISCHER IS UNBALANCED

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—Taylor Statten, Toronto, who is here speaking in the interests of the boys' movement, states that last week while traveling on the train from Niagara Falls to Hamilton, he was in conversation with Edward J. Fischer, who was arrested suspected with knowing something about the explosion near the Wall street stock exchange. While traveling on the train he had lunch with this man, and he was in a position to state that he was mentally defective.

PLAN BIG EXPLORATION IN THE WEST FOR OIL

Montreal, Sept. 20.—At the C.P.R. offices today, it was stated, according to D. B. RUSSIANS PREPARE NEW OFFENSIVE

Are Concentrating Heavy Forces Along the Niemen River.

Warsaw, Sept. 19.—The Russians are concentrating heavy forces along the Niemen River beyond the Polish northeastern front preparatory to an offensive which is expected to be begun within a few days, according to military attaches who have been at the front for several days past.

The reports declare the concentrations now under way include parts of the Russian workingmen's army, which have been well supplied with arms and ammunition for a push designed to shove the Poles back toward the beginning of cold weather from the ground they recently gained.

The war office report today announces that local fighting has taken place on the Lithuanian front. The advance was begun four days ago. The Poles, fighting their way eastward, have reached the line of the lower Zbruch, capturing Trembovia, Tarnopol and Brody.

Further north they took the fortress of Dubno after heavy fighting, and are advancing in the direction of the fortress of Rovno, the capture of which is expected shortly.

Constantinople, Sept. 20.—Ada-Bazar, 23 miles east of Ismid, has been captured by Greco-British troops after sharp skirmishing.

Say No One to Blame For Metagama Grounding

Montreal, Sept. 20.—That no blame attached to anyone concerned was the verdict rendered in the Dominion wreck commissioner's court this morning after inquiry into the circumstances attending the grounding of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Steamships liner Metagama.

The Metagama, the Metagama, ran ashore on a mud bank on September 11, about 35 miles from Montreal. She was released undamaged and sailed on her return voyage for England on Saturday.

ECCREMENT, EX-M.P., IS FREED BY COURT

Montreal, Sept. 20.—Arthur Eccrement, ex-member of the Canadian house of commons, was acquitted this morning in the court of sessions by Judge Decarie, on a charge of attempting to defraud Michael Connelly, a contractor, out of $125,000 by a fake betting scheme operated in Buffalo.

Eccrement was admitted to bail in bonds of $10,000, on a charge of securing, by false pretences, the sum of $5200 from Oliver Patenaude, who claims to have let the defendant have the money to loan for him.

Argument of Defence Counsel. Gonzave Desaulniers, K.C., for the defence, pointed out certain discrepancies in Michael Connelly's narrative of the case, as, for example, his statement, that he had met Harry Reid, one of the alleged friends of Eccrement, in the office of the superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company in Buffalo.

Judge Decarie, in discharging Eccrement, said no case had been made against him in the Connelly charges.

CANADA SHOWN TO EMPIRE DELEGATES

Visitors to Imperial Trades Congress See Fine Variety of Pictures.

Nothing finer in the way of photography of moving pictures was ever shown on the screen than that shown in Massey Hall last night at the entertainment provided by the Board of Trade of the city of Toronto for the delegates of the ninth congress of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire. If there were any doubt in advance in the minds of the visitors as to the opportunities for making a livelihood in Canada, it must have been dispelled as following the film they traveled the thousands of miles of arable lands in the prairie provinces which the farmers in the field, journeyed on to Vancouver and beheld with breathless interest the felling of some of the world's greatest trees, saw the giant trunks sawn into logs and watched them as they were shot into the water to find their place among the thousands waiting to be used in the shipyards of the Pacific coast.

Wonderful cattle and horses, pigs and chickens, the cars given to all together with the most modern methods and equipment, even to milking by electricity, were exemplified. Fine pieces of engineering as represented by viaducts and irrigation systems, were also shown, as well as the residential sections of beautiful Vancouver and Victoria. That the visitors appreciated was shown by the large numbers in attendance and the close attention, together with the applause as especially fine pictures came into view. The program was diversified by spirited numbers by the band of the 48th Highlanders under their talented bandmaster, Slater and by several vocal selections by pupils of Peir Avenue School. There were only seven little girls and their teacher, who directed. They sang without accompaniment and stood the acid test to a nicety, the singing being sweet, pure and altogether harmonious. Altogether the program was happily arranged, giving both pleasure and considerable profit in the way of information to the audience.

LABOR STRONG FOR POLITICAL ACTION

Congress Showed Decline in Pro-Radical Sentiment, Is General View.

Labor men generally who have returned from the 1929 convention of the Canadian Trades Congress are of one opinion, that the convention indicated a falling off of numbers representing that pro-radical sentiment strongly in evidence at the session of 1919. Reasons for this are hard to give. The facts were apparent behind the footlights. Perhaps the most important opinion voiced in the matter was that given to the press by Joseph Marks, an outstanding figure in political labor in Canada. He stated that he had known of no congress so strong for political action in labor as that of 1929. On the other hand, few such congresses had championed conservatism. The moral was plain: Labor was strongly entrenched in the principle of political action, that was the intelligent use of the ballot, and at the same time absolutely opposed to direct action. The conservative action of the Dominion Trades Congress had accomplished much for labor in this, said Mr. Marks, that it had strengthened the hand of labor in the general opinion of the public, and the progress of the Independent Labor Party heretofore would show marked improvement.

Interviews with labor men showed that two other features marked the convention. The conservative attitude or alleged attitude of Sir Adam Beck toward labor, and the explanation given by James Simpson of his apparently radical attitude, was an explanation which was accepted in the best faith by all classes of labor men, and especially by Mayor Macbride, of Brantford who had long been an implacable opponent of Mr. Simpson.

It is understood that the telegraphers of the Canadian Press favoring a flat rate for all provinces has rejected the recent award of the board of arbitration which dealt with their grievances as discriminative against the telegraphers of the most time provinces.

BACKUS AGREEMENT STILL UNSETTLED

Government Unable to Make Up Mind as to Kenora's Application.

The town of Kenora and the E. W. Backus lumber interests which seek to have the Ontario government ratify an agreement whereby the latter secures a valuable timber area by license instead of by the usual method by tender to the highest bidder, will have to wait for some days longer before knowing their fate. There was a lengthy cabinet council yesterday afternoon called to consider the matter, but the government came to no understanding. It was said afterwards that decision was reserved pending the return to town of Sir Adam Beck. The government is anxious to consult him first regarding certain water powers in the Kenora district before coming to any definite conclusion.

COLD SNAP MAKES COAL ORDERS BRISK

Fuel Controller Has Assurance That Ontario Will Get Normal Supply

The cold snap of yesterday caused Toronto people who had not yet obtained their coal supply to sit up and take notice. The telephones of the local dealers were busy, but the replies were for the most part that orders could not be filled yet owing to the meagre supplies arriving.

Fuel Controller Harrington is in touch with the mines, and has every assurance that Ontario will be getting a normal supply of coal before very long.

"There is not nearly as much coal in readiness for the schools this year as there was last," said W. Kerr yesterday. So far only 40 per cent. has been stored in the bins at the schools. "The situation is only fair," he added, "but we are hoping for the best."

BURGLARS MAKE DARING RANSACK OF DWELLING

Gaining entrance thru a rear window of the breakfast room at 430 Palmerston boulevard, the home of Simon Fyames, early Sunday morning, burglars ransacked the house. In their search for valuables two of the men entered the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz, who reside in the house, and awakened the couple, whom they threatened with revolvers if they attempted to give an alarm. According to Mrs. Kurtz, the burglars' search of the room proved fruitless and as a last resort one of them went thru the pockets of Mr. Kurtz's trousers and found $5. He gave the $5 back to him and then the two left the room, warning the couple not to move, as they had two other men watching the outside of the house.

RESENT ACTION OF BOARD OF CONTROL

Parks Committee Objects to Rosedale Bleachers Without Being Consulted.

The parks committee at their meeting yesterday resented the action of the board of control in ordering the erection of bleachers at Rosedale athletic field without first consulting with the parks committee...

Chairman Beamish expressed his displeasure with the board of control and intimated that the matter would not be allowed to drop.

It is probable that a battle will be staged in council over the bleacher issue.

The committee decided to recommend the expropriation of two parcels of land under lease to the David Ward estate on Ward's Island.

TORONTO RESTAURANTS MAKING BIG PROFITS

Medical Health Department's Report Shows Gross Gains in Some Lines of Several Hundred Per Cent.—Beverages Exhibit Large Profit Margin, But Tomatoes Lead the Van.

After sampling foods and bills in various restaurants for a week a representative of the medical health department was able to prepare a voluminous report on prices, which was sent to the mayor yesterday, a copy going at the same time to the board of commerce, who will have to decide whether the prices are excessive or not.

According to the report, some of the restaurant men are taking down profits ranging up to 1400 per cent, with the average around 200 per cent, not considering rents, light, heat and labor.

Sliced tomatoes holds the record as an investment for the food vendors. The report, however, deals chiefly with tea, coffee, cereals, eggs, fruits and rolls.

The inspector found restaurants charging ten to fifteen cents for raw tomatoes costing from one to four cents. The profits on peaches, corn flakes and shredded wheat selling at from 10 to 20 cents were found to range from 50 to 175 per cent.

Nearly all the cafes now charge ten cents up for tea. The inspector figures their profits as follows, after paying for milk or cream and sugar:

WILL LAUNCH DRIVE FOR NEW CITADEL

At the business men's committee of the Earlscourt Salvation Army, held last night at 1559 Dufferin street, Ald. Brook Sykes in the chair, it was decided to launch a drive to collect funds towards the cost of the new citadel which is expected to be ready soon.

Both children and teachers in the Earlscourt public schools were complaining of the cold in the schools yesterday due to the snap which has struck Toronto. The furnaces in the school are not yet fixed.

MANY ASPIRANTS FOR VACANT SEAT

Contest in Northeast Toronto Promises to Be Interesting One.

Even if the U.F.O. party has decided not to put up a candidate in Northeast Toronto, the field will be sufficiently large to make it an interesting contest. The Independent Labor and Soldier parties have already nominated James Higgins as their standard bearer, and J. A. Tory is mentioned as an independent, with leanings towards the Drury government.

As a result, the business assessment was confirmed and placed at $1500, instead of $500.

The court confirmed the assessment of the Grand Trunk Railway property, which amounts to some $1,897,000. There were some slight changes made in the areas of several of the parcels, but practically no change in the total assessment. The property in question is situated on Bathurst street.

ASKS REDUCTION AND GETS INCREASE

Toronto Company Has Novel Experience in Court of Revision Appeal.

In the court of revision yesterday, His Master's Voice, Limited, appealed against the business assessment of 210 Adelaide street, only to have the amount increased. The property was valued at $2000, and the business assessment was placed at 25 per cent, or $500. It was claimed that the building was not being used for business purposes.

During the course of the hearing, the assessment department discovered that the assessor had considered the firm as a retailer, whereas they are wholesalers.

"That means we should have made the business assessment 75 per cent of the property, instead of 25 per cent," said Mr. Nixon.

As a result, the business assessment was confirmed and placed at $1500, instead of $500.

The court confirmed the assessment of the Grand Trunk Railway property, which amounts to some $1,897,000. There were some slight changes made in the areas of several of the parcels, but practically no change in the total assessment. The property in question is situated on Bathurst street.

UNDER-ASSESSMENT OF TORONTO PROPERTY

A piece of land on the northwest corner of Bloor street and Avenue road has been taken over by a bank at $240 a foot, while its assessed value is only $60 a foot, notwithstanding that the assessment act, section 40, states that the assessment of land "shall be that of its actual value."

Other outstanding examples of under-assessment is the property belonging to the board of education, opposite St. Paul's Church, and that on which the Domestic School of Science stands. The former is assessed for approximately $675 a foot, and now some members of the board declare it is a gift at $275. The second property is apparently worth $1240 a foot, and is assessed for $550.

The old Westminster Church site, at $300; Bellair street corners at $550, and an apartment house near 150 Bloor street at $360 a foot are some other striking examples.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 21, 1920.

Mr. Findley States the Case.

The statement presented to the tariff commission at Winnipeg by Mr. Thomas Findley, president and general manager of the Massey-Harris Company, is a moderate and well-reasoned argument for continuing in force the present custom tariff duties upon agricultural implements.

"So far as the Massey-Harris Company is concerned, even today, placing no other consideration in the scales but that of money-making, we should be quite prepared to have the tariff taken off our implements if at the same time it were taken off everything that enters into the cost of producing them."

For reasons not far to see, the tariff duties upon farm implements have long been singled out for bitter attack. Today the Liberal party and the Farmers' party alike demand the abolition of these duties, and the government of the day, since 1911, also pledged to protection, has backed and whittled them away to a considerable extent.

The western farmers say they are compelled to pay too much for these implements, and blame it all on the tariff. They can probably show that the Wisconsin or Minnesota farmer pays less for his implements manufactured in Chicago than the Manitoba farmer pays for his implements manufactured in Toronto.

Probably the Canadian farmer would not object to some protection for the manufacturer, or to paying a little more for implements made in Canada, were it not for the persistent charge that the Canadian manufacturer sells farm implements all over the world at considerably lower prices than he sells them in Canada.

A Plea for Mr. Norris.

In this cryptic way does The Toronto Star call upon the Conservative Labor, Farmer and Independent members of the Manitoba legislature to rally around the standard of Premier Norris and give his government their support.

In Ontario the old parties have been giving the new groups, which have but a bare majority, a chance to show what they can do. An equal measure of co-operation should be extended by the new groups in Manitoba to the party having a bare majority in their legislature.

The analogy fails, we fear, when closely scrutinized, and it will scarcely be appreciated by Premier Drury. The Farmers' party swept this province last October like a young tornado, and the coroner had to take up the remains of the Hearst government with a blotting paper.

The Drury government could claim with some reason to enjoy the confidence of the province and could always depend last Session upon a good sized majority in the legislature. If any Farmer followers got cold feet, Liberal and Conservative members rushed to the rescue. The Norris government, on the other hand, does not enjoy the confidence of the province and cannot tell from day to day whether it has a majority in the legislature.

We are told that the Norris government in some way or another should carry on awhile longer because it has such an excellent record. That is as it may be, but the people when they came to pass upon its record were evidently not impressed. At any rate the situation is one for Manitoba people to deal with. They know what they want; and apparently they don't want Norris. Nor did Ontario want Hearst.

The Melghen government won a decided victory yesterday in the Colchester and St. John by-elections. Hon. F. B. McCurdy and Hon. R. W. Wigmore, the two new ministers, are returned to the house by their constituencies and the maritime provinces are now well represented in the cabinet. The result in Colchester is the more notable because that county was carried by the Farmers' party at the recent provincial general election.

The prime minister today is in Quebec and before long will tour the west. The big job before him, however, is to organize Ontario and get his party in shape for a general election. Meanwhile there are Ontario by-elections to be contested. The first of these, East Elgin, will occur on November 22.

THE HOUSE 'ROUND THE CORNER

"I'm not doubting your word in the least. The point at issue is this—do you mean to perplex and worry Miss Meg by informing her that her father hanged himself in the hall of this very house two years ago?"

"No, sir. That I don't." "You promise, that?" "Oh, yes, sir."

"I'm glad you've come to my way of thinking. Miss Garth will leave here today, or tomorrow, at the latest. Till then, you must keep guard over your tongue. Go now, and tell your mother what I have told you. Make her understand the facts more clearly. If she agrees to help you and me in this matter, she is to come here and take up a housekeeper's duties. I'll pay her and you well for your services, but my instructions must be carried out to the letter. If she refuses, or feels unable, to obey my wishes in this matter, she is not to cross the threshold. Do you understand that fully?"

Armathwaite could be tersely emphatic in speech and manner when he chose. He had taken Betty Jackson into his confidence, but he had also expressed his intentions in a way that left her in doubt as to the result if any lack of discretion on her part, or her mother's, led to a crisis. He had gauged the situation to a nicety. Mrs. Jackson and her daughter went well disposed towards Marguerite Garth, but there was no harm in stilling their tongues thru the force of a well-aimed medium of self-interest.

When the two came back together within a few minutes he knew that he had swept immediate obstacles from the path. Mrs. Jackson was a shrewd Yorkshire woman, and needed no bare of trumpets to inform her on which side her bread was buttered.

"Good morning, sir," she cried cheerfully. "Betty has told me what you said, and I think you're quite right. What time do you want breakfast, and what'll you have cooked?" Armathwaite nodded his satisfaction.

"We three will get along famously," he laughed. "Now, Betty, put some water in one of the best moor-edge hamlets, a sordid tragedy had been enacted there. Someone had died in that house under circumstances which called imperatively for a most searching inquiry. A daylight phantom had replaced the grim spectre which creeps along the walls of a moor-edge hamlet, and it was his business to exorcise the evil spirit? He did not know. He closed his eyes resolutely to that side of the difficulty. Marguerite Garth must be sent on her way first; then he would make a guarded investigation into the history of the man whom Mrs. Jackson had seen 'hanging near the clock.'

When summoned to the dining-room he received a shock. Man-like, he had pictured his unbidden guest as he had seen her the previous night. Now he was greeted by a smiling and prepossessed young lady, who had extracted a muslin gown from the stock in the wardrobe, and whose piquant face was crowned by a wealth of brown hair. The presence of woman's chief adornment naturally enhanced the girl's remarkable beauty. In defiance, too, of perhaps because she couldn't help it, being built that way—she had a very slim waist. Last night she would have passed in a crowd for a boy of slender physique; this morning she was adorably feminine. During fifteen years of strenuous work in the east, Armathwaite had never given a thought to the possibility of a girl like this in his countrywomen, for the Indian frontier is not a haven for married officers, and he personally would have regarded a wife as a positive hindrance to his work; so it was a singular fact that his first reflection now should be that a certain Percy Whitelake, a wealthy man, in a way that would never set eyes on, was a person to be envied. He almost scowled at the absurdity of the notion, and the girl, extending her hand, caught the fleeting expression.

"Aren't you pleased to see me?" she cried. "I made sure it is better for my appearance. Betty tells me you were up and about before she arrived, and I have been an unconscionable time dressing; you must be pining for breakfast."

"You shall not rob me of a chance of saying that I am glad to see you by that unnecessary tag about breakfast," he said. "But isn't it an awful bore to find you have a girl looking for a job? You hire a house in the country for a fishing hotel, and fate condemns you to play host?"

"I'm not forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares," he quoted. "Is that from Proverbs?" "No. It occurs in a certain epistle to the Hebrews."

She knitted her brows. "I'm not a girl looking for a job, but I do remember that one. If you mean to give me a nasty knock you might have remained in the country for a fishing hotel, and fate condemns you to play host?"

"I'm not forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares," he quoted. "Is that from Proverbs?" "No. It occurs in a certain epistle to the Hebrews."

FIRST NIGHT AT THEATRES

Moffats Score Again at Princess in "Don't Tell"—"Take It From Me" Is Bright Musical Show at Royal Alexandra—Opening of Loew's New Uptown Theatre Is Great Success—Vaudeville and Fine Pictures.

"Take It From Me" a Good Show. A large and apparently delighted audience greeted the musical extravaganza, "Take It From Me," at the Royal Alexandra last night. Coming after two big spectacle plays, "Take It From Me" had a high standard to meet, but did not suffer by comparison. The costumes were among the most and richest ever seen in Toronto and the play is filled with bright comedy and delightful music. The singing and dancing are both good and many of the songs receive an enthusiastic encore, especially the duet and chorus, entitled "The Call of the Cozy Little Home."

There is an original plot and a very amusing one. Tom Eggett is left a great fortune by a deceased uncle, conditioned upon the musical extravaganza. The big Eggett departmental store and showing a profit at the end of the year. He appoints two of his maids as superintendents and efficiency expert, respectively, but they know as little about the business as himself. The three think it is a good idea to make the business a success and undertake to wreck it by a number of bizarre and spectacular innovations. They are assisted in this mad scheme by Queenie La Belle, a vampire from the movies. But success comes in spite of them and the three good offices and friendly help of Grace Gordon, the stenographer.

Edgar Gardner scored a decided hit as Tom Eggett. He sings and dances well, but did not overlook his role and would undoubtedly be a success in straight comedy. John E. Hennings as Vernon Van Dyke and Richard Mack as Dick Roller set the pace for fast and furious fun, while William Balfour in the rather comical role of Cyrus Crabb, contributed not a little to the success of the performance.

Beatrice Bradner as Grace Gordon showed no little talent as an actress and she also scored in several of the numbers. In the musical extravaganza, however, from the standpoint of comedy, was made by Alice Hills in the difficult role of Ella Abbott, the spinster who, after many years, after many, many years still remembered her one kiss. Marjorie Sweet made a dashing and captivating Queenie La Belle. Indeed, all the roles were well sustained by a large and well-balanced cast, which mingled music, dancing, farce and comedy in the most entertaining way.

"Don't Tell" at Princess. It was a happy arrangement that the management of the Princess Theatre made when the delightful Scotch piece, "Don't Tell," was retained for another week's engagement. Last night's audience was the same as the week before, and the play was much and did not go away disappointed. The cast is the original one from Glasgow, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat and their daughter, Miss Winnifred Moffat. They, as well as the other members of the company, give charming sketches of the characters, and are called upon to portray. Their treatment of the humorous situations and their dialogue are imitative of Mr. Moffat, who is also author of the piece, was well advised in entrusting the play to their hands, rather than selecting a cast of American players. There is about "Don't Tell," with its clever dialogue and pawky Scotch humor, something that appeals to Canadian audiences. Perhaps it is because they are so seldom seen on this side of the water, that at any rate it is to be hoped now that the Moffats have broken the ice and have been so well received here that other Scotch producers will be induced to come across also.

Honey Boy Minstrels at the Grand. The tenacity with which the memory of thousands of people clings to negro minstrelsy is quite evident by the reception accorded Gus Hill's Honey Boy Minstrels at the Grand Opera House. The performance last evening was a "come-back" to minstrelsy. Talent equal to that which entertained our forefathers was in evidence, and the audience thoroughly enjoyed every song, dance and sketch. The old-time features were all there, mingled with a number of up-to-date novelties. Familiar songs were rendered in a manner most pleasing, and probably if the same songs and dances, ensembles and what never miss a minstrel performance would be badly disappointed. It is a well-known fact that audiences reminiscent of the minstrel songs of a quarter of a century ago, and in the Hill show in the first part. The whole performance was thoroughly enjoyable. Other organizations have wandered away from the fringes of tradition, until the characteristic features were almost entirely exchanged for an up-to-date vaudeville bill, but Gus Hill has brought back minstrelsy to the high standard and charm of the bygone era. It would be difficult to pick out any individual number on the program for special mention. They are all good and deserve a liberal patronage from those who appreciate a real minstrel show. During the engagement matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

Shea's Popular Program. Crowded houses testified to the capital program presented to patrons of Shea's popular theatre yesterday. Heading the bill are Gladys Clark and Henry Bergman in "Tunes of the Hour," who render a number of pleasing fashions. They are assisted by the Crisp Sisters, who perform graceful dancing features. There are many "male impersonations" but it is a novelty to hear and see a female "impersonator," but this was the case yesterday when Robert Errol "with the Tetraxian voice" delighted the large audience with an exceedingly smart effort. Walter Weaver, with his quaint humor, tickled the patrons, his monolog treat being exceedingly well received. Stella Fray and Carl McBride in "Bits of Exclusiveness" delight with dancing and comedy turns, while Lt. Noble Sissie and Ernie Blake, colored entertainers, certainly earned the rounds of applause which punctuated their efforts. Especially well received was a descriptive song rendered by them with telling effect. The Silverlakes gave a pleasing mid-air turn, and others who filled an excellent program were Yule and Richards, with melody and dancing; Charles McGood & Co., society equilibrista, with the Kinetograph show; a budget of British-Canadian news. Burlesque at Gayety. Inside the screen, back of the footlights of New York's Fifth avenue and four hundred is what the "Bon Ton Girls" in the Gayety aimed to show the public at yesterday's matinee. It is left to the public to decide whether or not they were fifth avenue at its best, or at its worst in this ensemble of quick change movements, genial faces and pretty costumes. It was a fact appreciated by the audience that the two acts with their eight scenes of all manner of humor and devilry generally, less than the Gayety in their snatches of song and loads of mimicry, furnished lots of work for the pretty soubrettes and the chorus. Among the numbers were: "The Mickey Feeley Best"; others again were sure that George Douglas and John Barry were the classic burlesques seen at the Gayety in a long while. Jean de Lisle was a vocalist who gave lots of life to the high lifiers, and Arthur Bernard, Walter La Fave and John Barry helped to mix things up very nicely.

Star's All-Round Show. "Puss Puss" is the burlesque offering at the Star this week and a better all-round show has not been seen at this popular theatre for some time. Comedy of the side-splitting variety is served up in great style by the two teamsters, Ray and Ben Small, and it landed solidly with the boys at the Monday matinee. Reed and Small are excellent comedians and know how to handle their comedy in the most approved style. Their exceedingly funny antics and make-up contributed much to the funmaking and they have all kinds of opportunity in this respect for the vehicle is an unusually high to the funmaking and dialog. The book is entitled "They're All Right Again," and tells the story of the search for two diamond buckled garters that have been stolen by members of the cast, which is a well balanced one, are Evelyn Demerest, Viola Bohlen, Al Young, Roy Peck and Mona Mayo.

Good Bill at Pantages. There is a good bill at the Pantages Theatre this week and patrons should enjoy every turn as well as the picture. The picture is a Cumberland romance, the classic picture presented, where she is depicted in a striking manner. ONTARIO'S NEW COLLEGE OF ART

The corner stone for this new building will be laid this afternoon. It will stand in the grounds donated to the city by the late Goldwin Smith. The old residence, the Grange, looks down the centre of John street and the new building, designed in harmony with the Grange, will face the south immediately to the east of the old building, which will thus be the centre of the art college and museum.

WANTS TELEPHONE PROBE IN TORONTO

H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., M.L.A., leader of the Liberal party in the Ontario legislature, has addressed the following letter to Hon. Frank Carroll, chairman of the Dominion Railway Board, relating to the proposed increase in telephone rates:

"As one of the five representatives of the Liberal party and of the people of the city of Toronto who hold seats in the legislature for the province of Ontario, may I say that the feeling of opposition to the application of the Bell Telephone Company for the allowance of increased rates is a very pressing and important issue. I understand that the municipal authorities are making their representations to the board at Ottawa. In my judgment, and in the judgment of my conferees, the matter is of too great importance to be limited to the representations that may be made—the business men and citizens of the city of Toronto desire to be heard. They have a right to be heard in their private capacity and thru their various organized associations, without going to Ottawa.

"Can you not arrange for a meeting of your board of commissioners at the city of Toronto to consider the representations that it is desired to make here and give us sufficient notice of the time of your meeting so that there may be no undue repetition of interests? The consideration of this suggestion by your board will, I am sure, meet with great acceptance from the people of the province of Ontario."

LIGHT ON HISTORY OF POPULAR CATCH-PHASE

"And the villain still pursued her" is a pet line with quipsters and newspaper humorists who pride themselves upon being abreast of the times, but as a plain matter of fact the expression was born in the early eighties. It was Milton Nobles, author and actor who first coined the expression. Nobles, a popular star in those days, wrote a play called "The Phoenix." One of its characters was a bohemian story writer who was engaged in the writing of a "thriller" entitled "The Chambermaid's Own." Each paragraph of the story ended with the exclamation: "And the villain still pursued her!" Frequently the author's name was mentioned in a vein of comedy that helped to make an overnight success of the play.

The success of "The Phoenix," which later served as a starring vehicle for the author and his wife, Dolly Nobles, on several tours of the country, enabled the couple to retire from the stage fourteen years ago. Mr. Nobles emerged from retirement early this summer to appear in the title role of "Lightnin'" at the Gaiety Theatre, New York. Originally he planned to appear only in a limited number of performances, but his success was so pronounced that Mr. Golden signed him on a long term contract to head a special company that will introduce "Lightnin'" to Chicago. This company, which will begin a week's engagement at the Princess Theatre next Monday night, is playing only a few other cities en route to Chicago.

Incidentally, John Philip Sousa's first engagement on the road was with "The Phoenix." He played violin accompaniments for a singing soubrette, who entertained the audience between the acts. He was playing in a theatre orchestra in Washington when he applied to Mr. Nobles for the position.

OFFICIALS USING NEW UNION STATION

Settlement of Back Levels and Viaduct Questions Is Now Awaiting.

The new union station is being used more and more in the upper flats of the west wing for administration purposes of the two railway systems. A run thru the corridors and the public rooms, baggage and restaurant sections show it practically completed. Once the question of the track levels has been settled, the use of the station will not be delayed for long. The postoffice is also getting well up to actual occupation of the eastern wing.

Some of the executive officers of the C.P.R., G.T.R. and Canadian National Railways will be at the conference this week to settle the levels and the viaduct on the Esplanade. It is believed that the Canadian National is arranging for occupying most of the old station, station including waiting rooms, offices and baggage and other rooms, for administrative purposes. All the quarters in the old station now used for the immense express business of the two systems will continue as such to the great relief of the new station of all express managers and wagons and platform trucks.

The railway companies and the harbor commissioners will disclose their plans at the conference this week. What looks like the horse race at Windsor fall meeting Oct. 8 to 13.
