The Lapland and the Belgic In With Troops

NEW BRUNSWICK V. C.

Lieut. Colonel Peck Home—311 for This Province—Names of St. John Soldiers on the Lapland—Professor Andrew MacPhail Talks on Big Questions Over Seas

(Special to The Times).

Halifax, March 1—Five thousand officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Canadian Expeditionary Force returned to Canada via Halifax today.

The Lapland and the Belgic, both of the White Star Line, arrived here today and before midnight the big steamer returned to the harbor.

It was a little after midnight that the big steamer returned to the harbor anchored until morning.

all the smoothness of a university of Canadian hospital. The attacks upon the service, which were so common in the beginning had long since ceased and the care of Canadian sick and wounded from the front line back to Canada had been made a model for all the forces.

With reference to the returned soldier, Sir Andrew said that he, the soldier, appreciated fully all that was being done in the matter of his return to civil life.

In Major MacPhail's opinion the returned soldier would be slipping a separate class, but would merge themselves into the community. The few agitators and malcontents need not be too seriously regarded.

Major MacPhail was accompanied by his son, Captain J. B. MacPhail, who went over as a captain with the first division and left as a brigade major with the engineers.

Officers on the Lapland included:—District No. 6—Lieut. C. R. Korman, Hanover, Ont.; Lieut. A. R. Ramsay, Toronto; Nursing Sister E. G. MacPhail, Pictou; Nursing Sister F. H. Christie, Truro.

Other officers on board were:—Major S. G. McDougall, Moncton; Lieut. N. Wilson, Chatham, N. B.

The Belgic arrived here early this afternoon and docked at the entrance of the harbor. This is not the Belgic's first trip to Halifax during the war when her arrival or sailing could not be made known.

The Belgic is a little over 1,000 tons and was built at the Harland and Wolff shipyard in Belfast. She is the only ship of her class in the world.

A GOOD VOYAGE

St. John Nurse Among the Number—A Cadet Who Won the V. C.—Names of New Brunswickers On Board

The grim tale of war was plainly written on the faces of the soldiers who arrived on the S. S. Scotian today.

The trip across was uneventful. The weather being ideal and good time made. There was very little sickness on board and the voyage was enjoyed.

Among the civilian passengers was Stanley E. Elkin, M. P., of St. John, who has been in Europe since the first of the year on business.

There were distinguished soldiers aboard the Scotian. From the simple privates to the highest ranked officer on the ship there were visible signs of a long and arduous campaign.

Among the names of the soldiers were:—Lieut. J. B. MacPhail, M. P., of St. John; Lieut. A. R. Ramsay, Toronto; Nursing Sister E. G. MacPhail, Pictou; Nursing Sister F. H. Christie, Truro.

MAXIMIZES A TIE-UP OF PAYING PLANS

Fisher Resolution for Payment by General Assessment Carried, But Two Oppose; That Would Prevent Bond Issue

A difference of opinion which came to a head at a special meeting of the city commissioners this morning may result in tying up the street paving plans for a year.

The mayor announced that the meeting had been called at the request of Mr. Fisher, who wished to secure a decision on the proposed resolution providing for the laying of pavements and estimates by general assessment.

Mr. Fisher then presented a petition signed by property owners in Douglas street, protesting against the application of the local improvement act.

Regarding the paving of Prince William and several other business streets, your commissioner begs leave to report that a serious obstacle has arisen.

MISS WARNER HOME NEXT WEEK WITH MANY HONORS WON

Paris, Mar. 1—According to a story told by Sean O'Connell, Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press, Edward de Valera was enabled to escape from Lincoln prison in England through the cleverness of two handsome and cultured Irish girls, who dressed as hop girls, crossed the Channel, went to Lincoln, Ireland, with the guests' cabin, then away from the back gate and eventually enabled de Valera's friends to open the gate and whisk him away in an automobile.

Miss Agnes Warner, daughter of the late General Warner of this city, and sister of Mrs. Charles Coster, Miss Warner and James H. Warner, who was connected with a voluntary hospital under French government supervision in the zone of strife during the war, will arrive in this city, during the week ending week, possibly by Wednesday or Thursday.

It is understood that St. John will do honor to the illustrious little lady who at the outbreak of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Poilus," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory.

Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in Philadelphia.

So now, after the satisfaction of having done her utmost to help the French in their struggle, she is returning to her home in St. John, where she will be met by her "beloved Poilus," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her services was awarded the Croix de Guerre, the Croix de Chevalier, and the Croix de Commandeur.

Miss Warner will be the guest of honor at a reception to be held by Royal Standard Chapter, I. O. O. F. the latter part of next week or early in the week following, as a tribute to her work overseas.

Members of the reception committee met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. B. MacPhail, to discuss the arrangements for the reception.

MAY MEAN A TIE UP OF CITY PAVING PLANS

(Continued from page 1) property owners in Douglas avenue has been presented objecting to the proposed local assessment for curbs, and at the same time making objection to local assessments for paving or any other street improvement.

(1) Believing that the large majority of the citizens are in favor of pavements being laid under the general taxation method of paying for same, in other words, without local assessments, your commissioner recommends that in future all paving of road surfaces in this city be paid for entirely from general taxation.

(2) Regarding the 10,000 feet of granite curbs under contract for delivery to the city in the spring and summer, your commissioner recommends that it be placed on Douglas avenue and City road, to be followed by paving as early as practicable, payment for the curbs and the setting of same to be from bond issues taken care of by general taxation.

The mayor protested that St. John was the only city on the continent in which property owners would not contribute for pavements, and that the chief opposition seemed to come from wealthy citizens who best could afford to contribute.

Mr. Bullock said that under the general assessment the poorer citizens living in streets in which little money was spent were taxed to pay for improvements in other streets.

Mr. Jones was opposed to the local improvement policy, except when citizens petitioned for special classes of work.

Mr. Thomson thought public opinion was against the local improvements. The resolution was put and carried, the mayor and Mr. Bullock opposing.

Mr. Fisher asked what he would do with the curbing, if he could not get a bond issue to pay for it. Mr. Jones said he would support a petition to pay for the curbing.

In reply to Mr. Thomson, Mr. Fisher said he had inspected Lansdowne avenue, for which improvements had been asked, but that it had not been taken over by the city. He would submit a report.

Permission was granted the W. C. A. to erect an electric sign at 23 King street, and to Mr. Fisher to purchase for $100 a penthouse for asphalt testing.

The commissioners went into council and approved the report of the committee of the whole, which recommended extensions of time for the contractors on the Reed's point warehouse and the payment of $2,074.88 for extras on that contract.

The mayor announced that he had received a telegram from R. W. Wigmore, M.P., suggesting that he and Mr. Bullock proceed to Ottawa immediately to confer with Hon. Mr. Ballantyne regarding the harbor commission plan.

Mr. Bullock collected the friction between the city and the marine department over the return of wharf charges at West St. John, and said it might be necessary to go into court to secure an adjustment.

Alice Sparks was arrested yesterday by Sgt. Detective Power and was in the police court in the afternoon, charged with theft, she was remanded.

Big Social Display Shocks Mr. Dewar

Would Trim Ceremonies at Opening of Ontario Legislature—Bas on Evening Dress

(Toronto Mail.)

"A pleasant time was had" at the opening of the legislature yesterday so far as society was concerned, but though he was among those who witnessed the ceremonies incident to setting the law-making machinery of the province in motion, Hartley Dewar, K. C., was in no mood to enjoy it all. He felt upon his democratic susceptibilities so severely that he left the chamber, and hurrying to the nearest stenographer, dictated the following notice of motion that will go upon the order paper in due course:

"That in the opinion of this house it will be more in keeping with the dignity of the proceedings in the assembly and with the democratic spirit of our institutions if the ceremonies at the opening of the legislature are made less formal in their character, and having regard to the establishment of women upon a basis of electoral and legislative equality with men, that the same regulations as to dress at the opening of the house shall apply to both sexes."

And Mr. Dewar says that he means it.

PRUSSIA UNDIVIDED IN NEW CONSTITUTION

Berlin, March 1.—The new German constitution to be submitted to the national assembly next week embraces the existing constituent states and continues the present constitutional system without barring the way to developments towards the centralized constitution originally planned. Prussia remains undivided but is restricted to one-third of its old representation in the new Reichstag, or senate, instead of four-sevenths to which it is properly entitled. The southern German states retain restricted

Nothing Like Internal Bathing for Constipation

If people only knew what Internal Bathing is doing for thousands of them there would be fewer Pills and Laxatives swallowed and very much less suffering from Constipation and the accompanying Stomach and Nervous troubles resulting from it.

Mrs. Cave, 841 Ellice street, Victoria, B. C., writes:

"After using the 'J. B. L. Cascade' I suffered constantly from Constipation, which has done more during the past 20 years in restoring health and lessening disease than all other means combined. Ask E. Clinton Brown, druggist, corner Union and Waterloo streets, also P. W. Munro, dispensing chemist, 857 Main street, St. John, for 'Booklet,' 'How to Use Today's Only 90 Per Cent Efficient.' They will also be pleased to show and explain the 'J. B. L. Cascade' to you."

BOYS AT THE Y.M.C.I.

A splendid programme was arranged in the Y. M. C. I. last evening for the weekly Friday evening entertainment of the boys of the institute. Last night marks the last evening on which the boys will enjoy such entertainments arranged for their benefit. A feature of the programme last evening was a relay race between three six-men teams, one representing the Cathedral, Williams, Lower Cove, Jennings, and St. Peter's, and the other two teams, the Cathedral and St. John the Baptist. The race was run off in heats. The Cathedral and St. John the Baptist teams ran the final and the latter won again. The captains of the teams were: Cathedral, Williams, Lower Cove, Jennings, and St. Peter's, Donovan. The race proved a drawing card and there was much competition. After some physical drills were executed the boys went to the auditorium where a short, snappy programme was carried out. Gerald O'Neil, chairman of the boys' committee, presided. Sergeant Owen Coll gave some amusing recitations and told several laughable stories. Walter Bridge gave piano selections, and Captain (Rev.) Hector L. Belliveau gave a fine address to the boys urging them to be honest, clean and generous in all their doings. Refreshments were served in fine style by the ladies of St. Vincent de Paul Society, who have had charge of this important end of the programme since the boys were entertained first this winter. The committee consisted of Mrs. E. Haney, Mrs. M. McGuire, Mrs. D. Connolly, Miss Crowley, and others. Donations of cakes, etc., were received by the ladies for which they are grateful.

THANK OFFERING.

WHY CHILLY WEATHER BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to normal action, thus become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with water and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, refreshing, lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

AFFAIRS IN EUROPE

Conditions in Germany appear to be growing worse. While disorders continue the country cannot organize to meet the needs of the time. There is said to be a growing scarcity of food, which will breed further discontent. The Spartacists have not been subdued. There is fear of a spread of Bolshevism. We would be disposed to doubt any assertions the Germans themselves might make, but Allied observers who have been studying the situation declare that it is very serious. At the same time all who come out of Russia tell of terrible conditions in that country, where food is at famine prices, clothing scarce, and murder rampant. The Bolsheviks continue to commit atrocious crimes, and to reveal in the butchery of those who fall under their displeasure. With such conditions prevailing in Germany and Russia, and chaos also in Austria-Hungary, it becomes the duty of the Allied representatives in Paris to compose their differences, if any exist, and get on with the business that has brought them together. Much is being made of the dissatisfaction in France over the terms relating to Germany, and we can well understand why the French people insist that they be freed forever from the German menace. There is an element in the United States which would make trouble if it could, and President Wilson himself is being harshly criticized by this element. He proposes, however, to have the whole issue placed squarely before the people. In the fact of many rumors and reports of a disturbing nature it is reassuring to note that Lord Reading, who arrived in New York yesterday from London, declares that those who relied upon a breach between the Allied powers are doomed to disappointment.

PROTESTANT CHILDREN'S HOME

The movement to secure a home for Protestant orphan children, which could also be used as a temporary home for little ones bereft of one parent or for other reasons in need of a shelter for a time, should not be permitted to end in mere discussion.

The existing Protestant Orphan's Home is always filled and unable to meet the demands upon it. The Children's Aid Society, which exists for a specific purpose, is constantly being urged to take in children temporarily and cannot do so. For example, a man loses his wife, by death or desertion, and is left with little children. He would willingly pay something for their board for a time while making other arrangements. Or a mother is left with little children and cannot go out to work and care for them at the same time. Such cases as these are constantly coming up, and there is no institution to meet the need. In this respect the Roman Catholic citizens are far better organized than the Protestants.

It has been suggested that a large building might be rented and furnished, but that would not be worth while. If the directors of the existing Protestant Orphan's Home could see their way clear to enlarge the scope of their work, and the money were provided to erect a much larger building, it would seem to be an excellent solution of the problem. But, as already pointed out, an institution is needed that will do much more than take care of orphans, since provision should be made to give a home to those in temporary distress and with no other available roof except that of the Municipal Home to shelter them. A number of societies have expressed a desire to help, and a general appeal to the Protestant churches would doubtless meet with a fine response. What is needed is that some organization take the lead in the matter. Why not the existing Protestant Orphan's Home? If the board called a general meeting, that would be a good beginning.

It has been suggested that a new orphan's home might be erected in a place close to the car line in the suburbs, with ample room to expand. The first step, however, is to get a meeting of those organizations most deeply interested, to head up the movement.

STREET RAILWAY OWNERSHIP

Here is an interesting paragraph from the speech from the throne at the opening of the Nova Scotia legislature:—"The necessity of securing for the public more satisfactory service than being given under existing conditions by public utilities, particularly street railways, is becoming of increasing importance and urgency. A bill will be submitted for your consideration designed to give improved service under provincial direction, and to facilitate the public ownership of street railways, where this is desired, upon such conditions as will best serve the public, and upon terms which will be just to the present owners. It is believed that the result of such legislation will be to give the desired impetus to the development of the water-power resources of the province, and assist in furnishing the public with light and power under favorable economic conditions."

This particular bill should be of special interest to New Brunswick as well as Nova Scotia. It is very evident that St. John is not at the end of its troubles in regard to the street railway. There is a stiff fight ahead, and no time should be lost, after a careful study of the Currier report, in taking the necessary steps to secure satisfactory legislative action. If the city fails to assert itself it will deserve just what it gets, however expensive a luxury it may prove to be.

SOCIAL RELATIONS

"It is gratifying to note," says the Nova Scotia speech from the throne, "that in certain important industries of this province capital and labor have recently conferred, with a view to the development of more harmonious relations, thereby assisting to solve problems that are of world-wide concern."

The Toronto Mail and Empire sees no reason why there should not be a league of classes as well as a league of nations, and adds:

"Something must be done to close the fissures that are widening between labor and capital, between producers of the soil and other producers, between the several economic groups that are organizing their forces as if preparing to impose on one another their will as to prices, wages, immunity from taxation and other matters."

The Toronto Star agrees with the Mail and Empire, and says:

"The Bolshevists are the jingoes of social relations. Their talk of bullets, not ballots, is the voice of militarism transferred from the international to the social field. They are wrong. There is no necessary conflict between classes. Society needs farmers, urban workers, teachers, physicians, managers of industry. There are of course parasites who are not needed at all, and they should be set at work by means founded upon justice. Justice must be the basis of industrial peace as of international peace. But there is no necessary conflict between those who are doing any kind of useful service to the community. The true interests, the right ideals, of different kinds of workers by hand or brain do not conflict. There is plenty for all—plenty of land, plenty of resources, plenty of labor. The war, with all its evils, has shown us what can be done by all classes of the community working together. Carry that spirit into peace and you have the solution of the social problem."

In other words, make service, not self, the motto and all will be well. It is selfishness that lies at the root of social ills. Those who encourage what is termed class-consciousness, to the prejudice and exclusion of other classes from consideration are enemies of the commonwealth.

The citizens of Moncton are taking the lead in a very vigorous agitation to hold the Canadian National Railway officers, so far as they relate to the inter-colonial, in the maritime provinces and to prevent the transfer of Canadian trade to American ports. Halifax and St. John feel the same way about it. The action of Moncton last evening sets the ball rolling.

Halifax Recorder: "Adequate housing means better morals, better health, and a stronger and more contented population, and neither 'vested rights,' nor the claim 'to do what I like with my own' must be allowed to interfere with the accomplishment of this much desired consummation."

Public health, highways and housing will be the subject of important legislation in Nova Scotia at the present session of the legislature.

Both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia will have legislation this year relating to the development of water powers.

The women of Canada will have something to say about letting down the bars in the matter of prohibition.

The Times today prints the Currier report. It will be read with very keen interest by the citizens.

The ex-Kaiser is said to be in financial difficulties. Why not sell a few of his uniforms?

St. John has had no fog this winter. The fog has been along the American coast.

LIGHTER VEIN

"Has he any record as an athlete?" "Well, he can jump the highest board bill that ever confronts him."

What's the doctor treating you for?" "Various things. Seems to think he's treating me for a swollen fortune."

How They Love Each Other. Miss Stoutlight—Gentlemen are still very polite. Why, three of them rose and offered me a seat in the Elevated today. Miss Boney—And you took all three, I suppose.

No, She Didn't Tell. (Tit-Bits.) With a stormy look on his face, the master of the house waylaid the servant in the kitchen.

"Look here," he began angrily, "how dare you tell my wife what time I came home this morning after I told you not to?" The Irish girl eyed him steadily.

"Shure an' Oi didn't," she replied calmly. "She asked me what time eyes came in, and Oi only told her that Oi was too busy gettin' the breakfast ready to look at the clock."

THE PARLIAMENTARY PROGRAMME AT OTTAWA

(Halifax Chronicle.)

The parliamentary programme as outlined in the speech from the throne must commend itself to all Canadians, irrespective of party. The amendment of the franchise and the removal of all disabilities affecting women voters is a matter that will meet with general approval.

It is a good sign when the Federal government so realizes the complete unity of the whole country that it shall undertake to provide for improved housing conditions throughout the Dominion, and for assisting in the construction of highways. Good roads are essential to the development of any country. It should never be forgotten that but for the roads of France, the British and French troops could not have arrived in time to have been of any service to the greatly outnumbered Belgian army. The German army made its rapid assault almost upon the very doors of Paris, because it had an excellent system of transportation, both highways and railways. The necessity for one main highway from Halifax to Vancouver, with innumerable branches constructed according to the needs of the different provinces, cannot fail to appeal to any man who has imagination enough to conceive of Canada as one country and one people, rather than a collection of hostile or indifferent groups. With the importance of this matter, local governments that have been trying to grapple with the question will receive a fresh impetus and an inspiration for still greater endeavors.

For years to come Canada will be at least as much an agricultural as a manufacturing country, and in all probability very much more so. Any scheme that is economically sound which shall help to settle vast tracts of unoccupied country, must inevitably meet with public approval. The public, too, will watch with the greatest interest the government's plans for settling returned soldiers on the land. In the mere proposal lie two great possibilities. One is the establishment of permanent peace and satisfaction, the other the wrecking of the prosperity of this country. A wise policy of settling these returned men will be the greatest blessing that could be devised. A policy that would lead to injustice and dissatisfaction may

What the American People Think of a League of Nations

"Had the League been in existence in 1914, Europe would have escaped the bloodiest of all wars," declares the Birmingham Age-Herald. While the majority of the newspapers of the United States regard the experiment of a League of Nations as tremendously worth trying, some are as dubious as the New York Sun, which says: "If the present project means the elimination of the Monroe Doctrine; if it means the restriction of our independence; if it means we are tying our hands as concerns the independent action of a free people and a free nation; if it means that the United States shall carry the load and pay in large measure the bills of maintaining peace in all the little countries of Europe and throughout the world—the little tribal nations and the big nations as well; if it means the hampering of this nation in its economic relations to and with the other nations of the world, is it good enough for this free people, this free nation—is it the thing we want?" ### Why the Literary Digest is So Popular in the "Movies"

The average audience in a first-class motion-picture house is typically representative of the American spirit; while it is good-natured, it demands the best. When thrilling dramas of love, war, and adventure are unfolded before it, in which famous million-dollar stars perform prodigies of agility and valor, it is more than generous in the matter of applause. When the "Pictorial Weeklies" transport it in a twinkling to the four corners of the earth it is not at all backward about sounding its appreciation. But when the scene changes and THE LITERARY DIGEST Topics of the Day are flashed on the screen the enthusiasm which greets this novel and attractive feature is unbounded. The audience rocks with laughter and applause over each one in the series of punch paragraphs with their lively humor, keen satire, and other foibles of the day. The "movies" are but the mirror of the world and the popularity of the Topics of the Day is but the echo of the ever increasing chorus of acclaim that greets each weekly reappearance of THE LITERARY DIGEST.

BOLSHEVIKI HEADS BELIEVE CAME UP BUT CANNOT QUIT

London, March 1.—Premier Lenoir and War Minister Trotsky and their "black officials" of the Soviet Government "know that the game is up but do not know how to get out of it or what to do," is the belief expressed by H. V. Keeling, an English trade unionist, in an interview in the Westminster Gazette. Mr. Keeling recently arrived in England from Russia where he spent five years in close contact with the Russian working classes.

A SPLENDID MEDICINE FOR THE CHILDREN

Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones. They are a mild laxative which gently regulate the bowels and stomach and are guaranteed to be entirely free from any injurious drugs. Concerning them Mrs. A. D. West, Lorneham, Sask., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets have given me more satisfaction than anything else I have ever given my children. They are easily taken; always work well and I think they seem to work as well now as at first, which is something other laxatives seldom do." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MORE PAY FOR THE HALIFAX FIREMEN.

The firemen of Halifax are to receive higher pay. The board of control yesterday decided to increase the chief's salary from $1,000 to $2,000, to appoint a chief motor engineer at $1,600 and to give the mechanical superintendent $1,600 instead of $1,500. The salaries of all other men in the department will be $2 a week extra. This brings the firemen's pay to $1,144 a year. The firemen will be given a fortnight's holiday instead of a week.

English Girls Employ Art Of Tattoo
Cherry Lips Extra—Soldiers Have Emblems of War and Love Engraved on Their Skins

London, Feb. 4.—(Correspondence)—London tattoo artists are working overtime repairing the ravages which war work has wrought to the complexions of the ladies. In fact as one of them said to the correspondent, they have become beauty doctors more than anything else.

Thousands of women who were accustomed to daily toil have been engaged in work of national importance during the war, and the close atmosphere of their face or workshop has taken the bloom from their cheeks and rendered once rosy complexions pallid and careworn.

Face creams and rouge sticks, lip salve and powder have done something to effect a transformation, but these methods involve constant attention and care, as well as frequent renewal.

So ladies of all classes have flocked to the tattoo merchants to have the tint of their features by means of roseate pigments worked in by the electric needle.

A leading London professor of the art said that his practice had developed to a remarkable extent of late. "All sorts of ladies come to my studio to have permanent complexions tattooed on their faces," he said.

"The majority of them are what you might call 'society ladies.' When the electric needle has done its work they never look tired or wan; they get up in the morning looking as fresh as a daisy, no matter how tired they were with festivities of the night before. Many of them improve the color of their lips by having them tattooed with brilliant red."

"Apart from our 'beauty doctor' work, we are very busy tattooing ordinary designs, and there again many of our clients belong to the 'upper classes.' They include ladies of title and even royalty. I know at least one European queen who carries a splendid example of the tattooist's art. I should think quite three parts of the aristocracy carry tattoo marks—generally just above the knee—and the designs are invariably dragons, butterflies, snakes or the family crest."

"Soldiers, too, are very keen on tattooing. A few days ago I did a dragon in five shades on an officer's chest. It took two sittings and was perfect when finished. The Tommies usually go in for regimental badges or sentimental designs on their arms, and I have tattooed many of the Wace girls with the badge of their unit."

"I had a strange commission to execute the other day. A young couple came to me with the request that I would tattoo something on each of them that would be complete when they were together. I tattooed on their hands a design showing a heart pierced by an arrow. Half the design was on each right hand and done in such a way that it was only complete when their hands were clasped."

"Sometimes we are asked to obliterate badges of love that has waned. In the first flush of his passion the ardent lover has the name of his girl tattooed on his arm. By and by the love cools and he comes back to us and asks us to remove it. We can't do that, but we can turn it into a butterfly or a flower, and that is what we do."

BONN UNIVERSITY CANADIAN COLLEGE

Advanced Seat of Learning on Rhine Used by Dominion Troops—Many Students at Arms

(Montreal Gazette). An interesting insight into the work being carried on by the Khaki University in England and on the Continent among the Canadian troops is given by Lieut.-Col. F. A. Adams, Dean of Applied Science at McGill University, in a letter addressed to Sir John Kenegedy, Under the direction of Col. H. M. Tury, President of the University of Alberta, these educational services form a regular part of the army establishment and are department under army headquarters. Dean Adams is deputy director, and with him are associated two assistant directors, the one supervising the work in the English camps, and the other in France, the former being Major Gill, who was professor of the University of Alberta, and the latter being Lieutenant-Colonel Oliver, formerly of the University of Saskatchewan. The university is organized as an enrolment of about ten thousand men.

"We have just succeeded in getting authorization from headquarters for the formation of a special University unit into which may be concentrated those men, up to the number of five hundred, who wish to prepare themselves for matriculation into Canadian universities, or whose courses of study have been interrupted by enlistment," said Dean Adams. For these latter men we are providing courses in this camp covering the work of the first and second years in all faculties except that of medicine. For men who have completed their second year and who wish to take the work of the third and fourth years, or post-graduate work, we have permission to take these men up to the number of one hundred from the army and place them in British universities. In this way we have now a scheme of education arranged in the Canadian army by which instruction is provided for a complete range of work from the three R's up to that of Ph. D. standing. The Estimation Department is another phase of our work. In this we have lecturers who go to the various camps and military units to give popular lectures on educational topics."

"At the present time," continues Lieut. Col. Adams, "our work across the channel has its headquarters in Bonn. On the arrival of the Canadian army of occupation in that city, our representative commander the University of Bonn for the use of the Khaki University of Canada and instruction is now being given in the halls of that ancient city of learning, which I think you will agree with me is a remarkable and interesting fact."

LABOR PARTY.
The question of forming a separate Labor party for political action in this province was considered at a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council which was held last evening in the longshoremen's hall. This matter will be discussed at the meeting of the N. B. Federation of Labor which will be held in Fredericton this month and it is being taken up in advance by the various units in order that the delegates may be instructed.

Endorsement of The Wiesel Cash Policy by The Halifax Shoe Stores

A recent advertisement by a number of the better class Halifax Shoe Merchants in collaboration has this to say:—
"Owing to changing conditions in the Retail business of today, the great necessity of keeping operating costs down to a minimum, and in order that the public may take full advantage of the splendidly organized shoe service offered by each of the shoe dealers represented below, it has been decided as being in the best interests of the people of Halifax to adopt the two following resolutions:

CREDIT!
BEGINNING APRIL 1st, the dealers whose names appear below announce the discontinuance of all Credit at their stores, a STRICTLY CASH Policy being jointly agreed on.

APPROBATION!
BEGINNING APRIL 1st, the practice of sending Shoes on approval will be discontinued by each of the dealers below! This has proven but a wasteful and ineffectual method of fitting shoes and does not use to full advantage the services of the competent staffs of salespeople employed by each of the below.
Believing the above to be in the best interests of the people of the city of Halifax and of advantage in keeping down prices to the lower level that CASH necessarily allows."

It is, indeed, gratifying to us to feel that we have in any way contributed to effecting modern merchandising methods in the sister city. When we first opened in Halifax, the shoe business was in anything but a modern state. Our first effort was to give the people of Halifax—same as we have here in St. John for ten years—a proper service at the lowest possible price—the Cash Price. And the appearance of the above ad. in Halifax papers shows that our efforts have set an example for others to follow. A pretty strong endorsement, don't you think?

MRS. BESSIE McLEOD
The death of Mrs. Bessie McLeod, widow of Kenneth McLeod, occurred on Friday. She is survived by two daughters, Emma Douglas and Marcella, of this city. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 from her residence, 277 Charlotte street.

EPWORTH LEAGUE
The Senior Epworth League of Portland Methodist church held a missionary meeting in the Y. M. A. hall last evening. Miss Muriel Farley presided. The theme of the evening was China and readings on Sowing the Seed in China were given by Miss Ottilie Maxwell and Miss Laura Farley. William McEachern sang a solo and Miss Lillian Skidmore and Miss Kathleen Blaxter sang a duet which was rendered exceptionally well.

LABOR AND BEER
Organized labor in this province is continuing to take an interest in prohibitory legislation and it is anticipated that a resolution calling upon the government to permit the sale of five per cent beer will be before the provincial labor federation in Fredericton this month. In order to determine the sentiment of the members, the matter is being presented to each local union in advance of the provincial gathering for an expression of opinion.

FOR AN ORPHAN'S HOME
The Times has received from an unknown correspondent the sum of one dollar as a contribution toward a Protestant Orphan's Home. The writer suggests that The Times open a fund and solicit subscriptions. A better way would be to form a definite organization which would not only collect the money but direct and manage the Home. The dollar received will be added to the fund whenever it is started.

TRUSTEE BOARD MEETING
The annual meeting of the trustee board of Fairville Methodist church was held last evening. Rev. Thomas Marshall presiding. The financial report for the year was most gratifying. Improvements were ordered to church property and other matters were discussed. Election of officers for the year resulted in the re-nomination and election of Robert Cuthbertwood as treasurer, W. J. Linton as secretary, and O. D. Hanson as chapel steward.

SEASONABLE AILMENTS.
There is considerable upcropping of whooping cough among children with prospects of the "cure" of this bothersome ailment being up to normal before the spring is here. Mothers and doctors right, to contract the cough as warm weather usually dispels it. Mumps and diphtheria are as yet fortunately rare throughout the city. Compared to the long spell of pleasant winter weather. However, with March and April in prospect, it is a little early, a prominent physician says, to do any boasting.

THE MATTER OF MAIL TRANSPORT TO AND FROM THE DEPOT

In answer to published statements relative to delay in handling bulk mail matter to and from the train, Harry Green, teaming contractor, came out in a morning paper with the statement that at times his men and teams have been held back by inefficient help at the depot and that some postal men have been under the influence of liquor.

D. McKendrick, superintendent of railway mail service, when interrogated on this accusation of Mr. Green's this morning, did not deny that he knew of drinking among the mail clerks, whom he characterized as "human like anybody else" and he intimated that disciplinary measures had been taken.

Mr. McKendrick, while making no further comment upon Mr. Green's statements, said that he felt the price at which the North End man contracted to transfer the mails was not satisfactory to the contractor. Ottawa was being informed of the arguments which have arisen. If a government contract is undertaken at a certain figure, he said, it is the duty of government officials to see that the provisions of that contract are carried out, especially in such a lively utility as the mails.

The railway mails superintendent explained various mail matters of vital interest to the public. In refusing to sort certain mail matter at the depot sub-station he said this was an absolute necessity, so great had become the pressure on that little emergency office with its limited staff. Many merchants were holding back their business mail until almost train time (Montreal and American trains) and the post office was being sidetracked to a large extent.

This was a wrong thing to do, for the depot sub-station was only a convenience for internal postal work mostly and while a reasonable amount of mail matter could be handled there, it was not possible to accept letters, etc., for intermediate places. All this eastern mail should be sorted out from the western and kept for uptown mailing. It was not being sent out from the depot but returned to the post office for the 11:30 train.

Another thing the depot mail office would not accept was papers, magazines and small parcels. This was purely matter for regular mail offices and not the emergency premises.

In conclusion, Mr. McKendrick said that since the mail bag depository had been moved from Montreal to St. John last September and the teamster contractor had to haul these to and from the station, which possibly had something to do with the argument over transfer work.

Without doubt, when L. J. Gabry of the mail bag depository branch arrives in St. John soon something will be done in connection with the foregoing matters in general.

NINETY-FIVE PER CENT VOTE TO STRIKE

Boston, March 1.—Tabulators of the New England joint council of telephone workers announced last night that ninety-five per cent of the 12,000 organized employees of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Providence Telephone and Telegraph Company had voted in favor of a strike to enforce wage demands and the principle of collective bargaining. Exact figures were not disclosed.

HALIFAX WANTS THE BIG FIGHT

Evidently a Serious Bid for The Wilard-Lapesey Championship Being Made

Telegraphic reports that Halifax city is making a bid for the world's championship heavyweight fight between Willard and Dempsey are more than borne out by conversations with some of the live wires of that place, even with some of the straight-laced and sober-minded ones.

At a weekly luncheon of prominent business states during the last week the fight proposition was seriously talked about in an informal way from chair to chair across the tables. In sporting circles the discussion is red hot. On Wednesday night a lively bout was put on in one of the theatres and 200 men jammed the place at $2 a head.

"Just think what it would mean to Halifax," said a commercial traveler hailing from the Nova Scotia capital. "It would put it on the map bigger than could be achieved by an army of newspaper writers down here, would cram the hotels and boarding houses, would have the city pictured all over the world and would certainly leave at least $100,000 in currency in the place."

When it was suggested that Halifax was not a convenient location for the big sporting event the booster was right there with the counter-argument. "Not convenient?" he answered, "why its right in the very centre of things. Isn't it more central than some far-flung place where the fight laws are broad enough to allow such a battle? New York and London are not more central than Halifax."

Even some newspapers in Halifax are taking up the matter and seriously forwarding it to mention bank managers and other usually sedate business men. New York sporting writers, eager to have a fight of the east are favoring the Halifax suggestion in their daily columns. A delegation will probably interview Tex Rickard when he comes up from Texas. Ten Halifax business men say that they are willing to put up $10,000 to see the championship boxed in their city—for business reasons of course.

So for real thrills the once-moderate and discreet twin-sister, Halifax, is getting her name up.

ST. JOHN MAY BE HOME OF BIG BRITISH SHIPBUILDING FIRM

"Industrially the future of Canada should be very bright, providing that labor and capital will work together and be reasonable in the adjustment of post war conditions that require to be taken care of, owing to the unnatural conditions that prevailed during the war."

The prospects of trade between Canada as an exporter, Europe and the other British colonies as importers, depends very largely on two things, one being the result of the Peace Conference as to Germany's demilitarization, it being obvious that if she must foot the total war bill, some of the markets of the world must be left open for her in order for her to create a revenue. This would make for serious competition, particularly as she is so demoralized commercially. The other and the most important feature is that Canada should control her own mercantile marine either by means of ownership or by subsidizing shipbuilding in order that they may control the trade routes in which these ships shall operate. This feature is of the utmost importance and very vital to Canada's export trade to which we must look to liquidate our national debt and correct our balance of trade under peace conditions.

"In the past Canada has depended largely on immigration as a means of reducing her per capita indebtedness and developing her natural resources. The future of this immigration is problematical. One must be guided by one outstanding feature of this situation in Europe, namely; that heretofore emigration has been allowed quite freely by European countries. At this time these same countries find themselves with very heavy national debts and facing conditions identical on general principles as to per capita debt and tax that we face in Canada. To reduce the population can only be to their detriment and our benefit. It is safe to assume, therefore, that the rumors of restrictions to emigration may be an accomplished fact when peace is finally signed. Any such legislation in the interim would be injudicious. Canada's future development therefore is in the hands of Canadians."

"Canadians generally will be interested in knowing that food conditions are rapidly assuming normal in England, practically all restrictions having been removed in the last ten weeks. Everything is very much higher in price in England and France than in Canada. There is a decided tendency in England and Europe to make no further purchases of foodstuffs and other articles exported from Canada at the abnormal prices prevailing during the war and the sooner we are able agriculturally and industrially to adjust prices to something like normal the greater will be the volume of business flowing our way for the reconstruction period."

"I had the pleasure of meeting many Canadians of all ranks; they are all naturally very anxious to get home, but quite realize the difficulty of transporting in a few months an army that took four years to take to the battle line. The thing in their minds is that Canada is good enough for them and that they want to get home."

URGES GET TOGETHER CONFERENCES OVER RECONSTRUCTION WORK

Toronto, March 1.—Appealing for consideration of reconstruction problems, the Canadian Reconstruction Association has written to boards of trade asking them to call conferences in their communities. It suggests that there be a frank discussion of pertinent facts with a view to co-operation between employers and workers, and a sympathetic understanding among all elements in the community of the actual situation and outlook.

COSSO'S REPORT ON THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMPANY MATTERS

Copies of the full report of a special commission appointed by the provincial government to investigate and report on the affairs of the New Brunswick Power Company have been received in St. John.

The report, which is presented in the form of a printed pamphlet and a summary of which was published in this paper yesterday, is as follows:

To His Honor The Lieutenant Governor and the Legislative Assembly of the Province of New Brunswick, Sir:

In accordance with the instructions set forth in the foregoing commission, we have the honor to report as follows: Inquiry into the matters included in paragraph 4, B. C. section 1 of the Act made necessary the employment of accountants skilled in public utility corporation affairs, and under the authority of Section 4 we appointed Messrs. Lybrand, Ross, Brothers and Company to act as auditors and to submit herewith a copy of the report of the accountants which will be found in a comprehensive study of the matters concerned—the accountants having access to all books and records of the company and also to the reports and papers of the company.

The accountants, acting under the authority of Section 11 and after examination of the accounts of the company, have the honor to report as follows: The increased rates have been set in the gross income of the company, but have not been in force for a sufficient length of time to enable the accountants to determine with any accuracy the net income which they will receive. It is not clear, however, under present conditions the interim net income will exceed the amount of the depreciation charge.

The board of directors should provide out of earnings a depreciation allowance of at least $75,000 annually on the property as existing Jan. 1, 1919, plus such amount as they may deem proper on property added after that date, until such time as the depreciation fund thus created shall amount to the sum of at least $200,000 and in no case less than seven per cent of the rate base, and thereafter such amount should be added to the depreciation fund as a corresponding sum. Such depreciation fund should be charged with all renewals, replacements and expenditures other than maintenance.

It should be the duty of the board of directors to fix from time to time such rates for railway, electricity and gas service as in their judgment will meet but not exceed the cost of service, which shall include operating expenses, taxes, maintenance, depreciation allowance, return on investment as herein fixed, and any other charges or expenditures which in the opinion of the accountant shall be properly chargeable against income.

The board of directors should determine the extent and character of railway, electricity and gas service which public convenience and necessity may require. In case of disagreement between the company directors and the public utility directors as to the extent or character of service, the question at issue should be referred to the Public Utilities Commission, whose decision should be final, provided, however, that if a capital expenditure of over $25,000 is involved which the company directors claim will endanger the minimum return on the rate base, the company may take an appeal on the question to the lieutenant-governor-in-council, who may refer the same to arbitration or otherwise provide for his decision.

The directors should charge to the annual cost of service, as a return on the rate base, seven per cent of such rate base, plus or minus such additional percentage on account of decrease or increase in the rates for railway, electricity or gas service as are hereinafter provided.

At the time of the semi-annual audit, the accountant should also determine the average rate received per kilowatt hour for electricity and gas service during the preceding six months period, and calculate such average rate as a percentage of the theoretical rate of return on the rate base for the following six months period, and if such percentage is less than six per cent, notwithstanding the fact that the theoretical rate of return may be greater than nine per cent or less than six per cent.

Appended hereto is an illustration of the method of calculation of the weighted average increase or decrease in utility rates, and the effect of such change on the rate of return on the rate base, and also a chart showing changes in the return which would follow varying weighted average rates assumed for the purpose of illustration.

should be required to pay only such property, income and other taxes as are paid by other general corporations in the province. The company should not be required to pay for any street or road repairs except those made necessary by the maintenance, renewal or construction of its own works and structures, nor for the removal of snow from any street or road, nor for any part of the cost of construction of new government or change in the character of the pavement of any street or road. The company should not be required to pay for any bridge, beyond the expense of maintenance of the same.

It is perfectly natural that municipal governments, anxious to keep down the local tax rate by which they are so largely judged, should seek to unload upon the street railway company all possible expense, but such a policy, in the long run, results upon the public served. Street railway companies have no mysterious source of revenue, but obtain their funds from people who ride in their cars. Any burden of tax imposed upon the company these people must ultimately pay.

The proportion borne by the company of the cost of the present investigation should be charged to its present profits, but may be spread over a term of five years by means of a suspense account.

Very respectfully, GUY W. CURRIE, HENRY H. COLGATE, ALBERT S. RICHBY, Commissioners.

SENATE ADJOURNS UNTIL MARCH 18 Third Reading Given Railway Act Consolidation Bill. Ottawa, March 1.—The railway act consolidation bill was given a third reading in the senate yesterday, and is now ready for the house. The bill is precisely that which passed the upper chamber last year. Sub-section 5 of clause 874, over which there was so much contention in the senate, was eliminated from the bill when it was introduced this year, was added almost immediately, and the senate adjourned until March 18.

GZAR AND FAMILY MURDERED IN CELLAR

Count A. A. Tolstoy Relates Circumstantial Story of Crime

Czarina Was Shot First—Story Supplements With Testimony of Previous Omsk Official Narrative of "Execution"

(N. Y. Times.)

Count A. A. Tolstoy, brother of Count Ilya Tolstoy, who is now in New York, both sons of the late Count Tolstoy, the famous Russian novelist and publicist, was in Berlin during the week of Jan. 25. While he was there the official Siberian government, established at Omsk, disclosed a number of salient facts in regard to the murder of the ex-Czar, his wife, and children by the Red Guard of the Bolsheviks. This story was published in a New York paper on Jan. 17, and appeared in the Berlin papers two days later.

There is a paper called the Vremya, published in Berlin, in the Russian language. For this paper Count Tolstoy wrote a circumstantial account of the murders, disclosing the last words of Nicholas and the exact manner in which he, his family and attendants met their death. The only difference in the narratives is that while the Omsk officials surmised from the appearance of numerous bullet marks on the walls of the cellar was the place. On this point the Omsk report reads:—

"We found in one of the upper rooms of Dr. Ipatiev's house (now occupied by the staff of the Czech General Gaido) numerous bullet marks on the walls and ceiling, the height of a man's waist from the floor, and on the floor itself. We can imagine how the miserable prisoners, forsaking hope of awaiting death, and that when they heard the steps of the ruffians on the stairs they guessed it meant murder—sudden, bloody, and all-embracing. We can imagine the wailing, broken shrieks of the women, the running feet of the children craved with terror attempting to escape, the sighs of dying lips, the last murmured prayers."

The full text of Count Tolstoy's narrative is:—

"As the Czechoslovak and Siberian troops constantly made progress the local Soviet of Ekaterinburg had already become convinced by the middle of July that the undisciplined Red Guards would not succeed in holding the town. So it commenced to remove arms and food with all speed.

"At the same time the rumor was spread, apparently with intention, that the Siberian troops intended to liberate the Romanoffs in order to restore them to power. This had the desired effect of the Red garrison who became excited, and demanded that the Tsar, with his family and all who shared their captivity, should be executed. On July 16 the Red Guards held a meeting at which the Council of the People's Commissioners and the Workers' and Soldiers' Council were vehemently accused of having been bribed by Czechoslovak and Tsaristic conspirators.

"The Workers' and Soldiers' Council of Ekaterinburg arranged a meeting for that very evening, which was also attended by plenipotentiaries of the republic, and lasted until one o'clock in the morning.

"The fate of the Czar and his family was decided. Beloborodof, a laborer and president of the Workers' and Soldiers' Council, was the first who voted in favor of the execution, and after him Jurofski, president of the Extraordinary Commission.

"When sentence had been passed and signed by all the members Jurofski and Beloborodof went to the house of the engineer Ignatiev, where the Czar and his family had been confined, in order to be present at the execution.

"A section of Red Guards, who had been ordered to carry it out, did not even ask to read the written sentence, but greeted the verbal statements with loud hurrahs. Making a great din they rushed to the bedroom occupied by the Czar and his family.

"The Czar and his wife heard the noise they immediately understood what was happening, and quickly dressed, the Czar himself assisting his son to get on his uniform. They all knelt in prayer.

"The terrified Grand Duchesses were huddled together, the Crown Prince, bursting into tears, endeavored to get up and fell, whereupon the Czar interrupted his prayers and took his suffering son in his arms. The Czarina continued praying.

"The door was opened and Jurofski, followed by the Red Guards, entered the room. Baroness Buxherden, alarmed by the noise, rushed to the Czarina and fell on her knees by his side, weeping hysterically. With a devilish smile, Jurofski, addressing the Czar, said:—

"I see you have already prepared yourself."

"Yes, I am ready," replied Nicholas.

"But your visit does not concern you alone," continued Jurofski, roughly, "we are going to wipe out your wife, too, and all your blood."

"Thereupon, with a gesture, he indicated the family of the Czar and Baroness Buxherden to the Red Guards, saying, 'Away with them, and no pardon.'

"The Red Guards surrounded the condemned family and drove them out through the door, the Czar going first with his son, who had fainted, in his arms. He was pale and staggered, but soon recovered.

"The Czarina followed, praying softly and incessantly. The Grand Duchesses and Baroness Buxherden sobbed convulsively, and had to be dragged by the Red Guards to the place of execution, the cellar of the house.

"Near the staircase leading to the cellar the victims met another group, consisting of the Czar's personal physician, Dr. Botkin; Mme. Schneider, the Czarina's reader; Prince Drogoboroff, and Count Tatischev.

"You, too?" said the Czar to Dr. Botkin, who trembled so that he could not utter a word. As the Red Guards feared that the bullets from their rifles would rebound in the narrow tiled cellar, they shot their victims one after another point blank with their revolvers.

"Jurofski and the Red Guards stood afterwards that the Czarina was shot first, then the Grand Duchesses, and finally the Czar.

"The bodies were put on a motor lorry and returned the same night to where they were droned with petroleum and set on fire. The ashes and carbonized bones were then covered with earth."

does not merely imitate; it actually RE-CREATES.

Before audiences totalling more than two millions, thirty great artists have conducted tone tests which proved that no shade of difference could be detected between the artist and the instrument. They have sung in direct comparison with the New Edison, then suddenly ceased, permitting the instrument to continue alone. The only way the listeners could tell when the artist stopped was by watching his lips. And with the lights lowered they were unable to say when it was the living voice they heard and when the New Edison.

Could a more convincing test than this be devised? Doesn't it prove the truth of our assertion that ownership of this instrument is equivalent to having all the great artists of the world literally at one's command?

Come in and hear the New Edison here, or allow us to send one to your home, where you can hear it at your leisure.

GIVE MUSIC A PLACE IN SCHOOL SYSTEM

Dr. Hollis Dann Inspires Musicians and Educators by Interesting Story

Praise For Toronto—A Musical Centre. But There is Work Yet To Be Done

(Toronto Star.) There was a dinner held at the King Edward Hotel last night, attended by musicians and educators from many points in Ontario, which may be the starting point in a movement to give the study of music a recognized place in the public school system of this province.

It was a dinner given in honor of the visit to Toronto of Dr. Hollis Dann, dean of the Faculty of Music of Cornell University, and superintendent of music in the schools of the United States. Dr. Dann, clad in khaki, was warmly greeted by the distinguished gathering, and his address was frequently punctuated by applause.

After the dinner was over, a children's choir from the Perth avenue school, trained by Miss Mae E. Skilling, a trio trained by Miss Anna J. Hunter gave an example of what really could be accomplished in the way of successful choral music, by rendering several difficult selections. In the last Empire Day celebration the choir won the two first prizes in the choral contest.

"Music," said Dr. Dann, "is the most neglected and the least known of all the arts. I have heard much choral singing in my life, but the greatest and best I have heard right here in Toronto. This city has nine choral societies, one of which is the Mendelssohn, which is the greatest choir in the world; experts in New York and other musical centres are talking about its achievements."

He said that Germany had chiefly been noted for its choral music, but that it had shown a total disregard in the training and culture of its children. "Music used to be a required subject in the schools before, and every superintendent in them used to favor music," Dr. Dann stated that the choir of children which sang before him last night proved that there is no limitations to what children can do.

He advocated that men should be put in charge of the training of the children in music; that it was a man's job; and that it was the biggest job of all in supervising and teaching the young children.

Emphasizes One Mistake. "We made a mistake when we did not set a standard of rules for musical supervisors. A supervisor must possess above all things the quality of business organization."

"Thirty years ago," he said, "in giving an example of how music had been developed in cities, 'a little town of 16,000 people had no music whatever in the town. I might go on and give a great many evidences of the unmusical condition of this city at that time. Now, however, there are seven choirs in this town. It supports five high class concert, an annual festival, and for fifteen years no university has been asked for a composition, there has been no deficit and it boasts a large choir of 225 voices."

Dr. Dann said that 99 per cent of the children in the public schools had singing voices, and that they only needed divination under expert advice. Individual composition was just as common as a music class in any other school. "During the first three years," he said, "the child learns the role songs, at his sight reading and ear-training continues to improve, until at the end

Chronic Diseases Take Hold Slowly

Kidney and Bladder Troubles don't attack you suddenly. Chronic diseases of these organs are generally the result of neglect. Nature gives you plenty of warning when your kidneys are out of order and need assistance; you notice a dull pain in the back; you are dizzy, have headaches, feel languid, tired and listless.

There is no mistaking the symptoms, and when Nature warns you—obey—before it is too late. Putting off never cures. GIN PILLS do. At the first sign of Kidney or Bladder Trouble, buy a box of GIN PILLS and take them. They will help your kidneys to perform their proper function and renew your previous strength and vigor.

Among our hundreds of testimonials is one from Mr. B. C. David, King's Co., N.S. Mr. David writes: "I was suffering from a dreadful lame back and hips, so much so that I could hardly straighten up. I got a box of GIN PILLS and they helped me immediately. I have continued to take GIN PILLS, and now the pains in both hips and back are gone. I shall always recommend GIN PILLS to my friends and other sufferers."

of the fourth year he learns two-part singing, and in the fifth, the songs of the first three years are unnecessary. "Four-fifths of the children will be found to be singing in the homes, and they are happy in their singing, and so are their teachers. In the high schools, the fruits of the teaching of the lower grades are found to be wonderful."

"For only three years the instrumental side of music teaching has been in operation in the schools in England, but before the child can ever play a tune on the instrument, he is causing it." Speaking of the question in the United States, he said that they could not find enough teachers to supply the demand, and advocated a government supervision of music in the schools.

"It is now an exception," said Dr. Dann, "where educators look ahead at music, as they did formerly. I believe it to be of great importance that any physiological senses of the children should be developed when they are in their youth. These senses should not be left dormant until they reach manhood."

MUST NOT EMPLOY CHILDREN WHO HAVE NOT HAD SCHOOLING

Bill in Quebec Legislature a Step Towards Compulsory Education

(Montreal Gazette.) Quebec, Feb. 24—No boy or girl under the age of sixteen years will be allowed to work in industrial establishments in the province of Quebec unless he or she is able to show the employer a school certificate to the effect that the holder has attended school and completed a curriculum of six years. This is the main item of interest in a bill introduced by Hon. L. A. Taschereau, minister of public works and labor, introduced in the legislative assembly today, and which was given first reading. This follows the statement which Hon. Mr. Taschereau made in the assembly last week.

There were many who couldn't sing who would give everything if they could. In one year in the United States, $224,000,000 was spent for musical instruments. "Think of how much of this sum was wasted," he said, "because many were uneducated, and which could be derived from the expenditure of this amount if these people had been educated to appreciate music. A happy and contented workman turns out more work if he is able to appreciate music; it is appreciated more during the leisure hours, and we should help to uplift the boy's emotional nature by teaching them music."

In 1914 $220,000,000 was spent for musical instruction. Much of this was wasted because the child had received no training in music. A total of $692,000,000 was expended for musical instruments and instruction together, while the number of teachers was 84,000.

"There is no question," said Dr. Dann in the conclusion of his address, "of its unique place in the head, the hand, and the heart."

Dr. A. S. Vogt, in a brief address, said that music occupied a position of foremost importance in life, and that it should be taught in every high school along the same lines as any other subject.

"To achieve the best results," said Dr. Albert Ham, in a short address, "the child must have the best piano, the best teacher, or the best violin. The great educational factor is the orchestra. In many musicians, the sense of rhythm is sadly lacking. Everyone possesses this sense, but it is undeveloped. I am sure that if the children of this country are given the same facilities as they are given in the old country, they can do just as well. We get just as good results here in this country as any country in the world."

creas made to a delegation some weeks ago to protest against compulsory education. No one will be able to work in factories under the age of fourteen, as at present, and those between the ages of fourteen and sixteen must have the certificate to prove that they have some education at least. At present children working in factories must produce a certificate from their parents or tutors to the effect that they are of that age, but this is to be replaced with the school certificate. The carrying out of the act will also be much more severely enforced than before, and the factory inspectors will be given fuller powers, though definite information as to what the wider powers will be have not yet been made available.

Another important section of Hon. Mr. Taschereau's bill makes provision that hooligans and others under the age of sixteen, who work in hotels, and boys who have street trades, such as newsboys and bootblacks, must also have some education. By this bill it will be possible for the factory inspectors to make sure that the boys and girls who work there are of qualified ages, for at present the certificates given to the employers are often found to be incorrect, even when supported by affidavits, as the inspectors may require.

Louis Guyon, chief inspector, in his last annual report to the minister, points out that it happens that at present certificates given of age, given employers by parents are false, and recommends that the school certificate should be the indispensable passport allowing a child to be employed in a factory or workshop.

Workmen's Compensation. Hon. Mr. Taschereau also introduced his bill amending the Workmen's Compensation Act today, and it was given first reading. At present the law states that the father of a son killed may sue under the act only when such son was the sole support. This will be changed to allow of action under the act when the son is the chief support. This amendment was included in a bill several sessions ago, but the clause got lost in the annual last moment rush that out that it happens that at present certificates given of age, given employers by parents are false, and recommends that the school certificate should be the indispensable passport allowing a child to be employed in a factory or workshop.

THIMBLES ARE SCARCE. Source of Supply Was Cut Off By The War. The war is responsible for a dearth of metal thimbles. France, Italy, Spain and Portugal are absolutely without supply. Before the war Lille, Nuremberg and Jena manufactured thimbles for all those countries, and there are only four manufacturers in England—three at Birmingham and one at Redditch—but the metal shortage has brought their business almost to a standstill. The trade does not consume a great weight of metal but the number of thimbles on order looks formidable enough. France alone is in want of 450,000 gross—Scientific American.

WHY 3 GIRLS NEEDED TO REPLAGE 2 MEN

Physical Strength Counts in Bank Work—Explanation by Dominion Manager

"In clerical positions alone we know our own experience that three women are necessary to do the work of two men, though they are equally enthusiastic and faithful."

This statement was made by C. A. Bogert, former president of the Toronto board of trade, in a speech on the occasion of his retirement from the office on Jan. 24. It has been explained definitely by Mr. Bogert in relation to his own experience. W. K. Pearce, local manager of the Dominion Bank, has also given his experience on the subject during the four years of the war.

A Case of Physics. "I think the reason that it takes three women to do the work of two men is purely physical," said Mr. Bogert, as general manager of the Dominion Bank, for I can stand up no other reason. She can't stand up under too great a nervous strain. In posts where previously one man has been able to do the work, it now takes two women tellers, a these posts particularly, a man teller is attached to the public cash, and other things, while a woman can only do one of these at a time. If she tries to do both it has, as a rule, proved too much for her and she goes to pieces mentally.

"In every branch all over the country," said Mr. Bogert, "we have had to increase our staff and put three women to do the work that two men did before. Of course, after years of experience the girls might get accustomed to it, but I don't think that it is physical. Then, men don't worry so much about their work as women do. But I can tell you much that whether it takes two women to do the work of two men, we could never have got along without the women during the war. They do their work splendidly, but they don't do as much as a man."

A Life-Work for Girls. W. K. Pearce, manager, went into details as to just why it took three women to the work of two men. "I would rather than that, that it took three to replace two men, for that is my opinion of it. In the first place, we do like to have girls come back to the bank and work at night if it can be had. Of course this has to be done at the end of each month, but we try to do it as much as possible. We mind asking men to do it, as they are physically more able. Then the matter of girls do not come into the bank for work, and that's a drawback."

"Well, do the men do that nowadays? Or don't they in most cases, just come in for the experience while young, and branch out into other work as soon as they have obtained this experience?"

"They do that more now than they used to, but we want to encourage them to come into the bank to stay for all time," was the reply.

Had to Split Ledgers. "Now in our office," continued Mr. Pearce in explanation, "it was necessary to fill two men's ledgers with women on account of the men going into the service. At that time these ledgers were from 'A' to 'D' and from 'E' to 'L.' We put two girls in at first to take the place of these two men. They came and told me that they could not stand the work, that it was too much for them, so that we put three girls in the place of the three girls do not do just as good work as the two men, but because it costs more to us," he replied. "That would also probably mean that you'd prefer to have returned men to girls?" "Well, up to the present time," said Mr. Pearce, "we have taken back all the returned men of our old staff who have applied for their positions again. We consider it our duty first to give these men their jobs back again, if they want them." "You are not taking returned men, unless they have previously been on your staff in place of the girls?" he was asked. "No, not as a rule, although we have given some positions. We consider that our first duty is to the returned men of our old staff, and our second is to the staff, including girls we have already," was the reply. "Have you any girls in the head office who do a man's work?" "Yes, we have probably two or three, but they are very light posts and when occupied by men were just as light. Where a post is heavy and has formerly been handled by one man, we have had to either lighten the post and give it to one girl or leave the post the same and divide the work among two girls."

Why Not Pension Yourself? Why not "take stock" of your present financial position—to size up your personal affairs and decide on a plan for the future?

Our New Pension Plan guarantees that upon reaching a certain age in life, you will receive a monthly cheque for $50.00, $100, $200, $250—as you may now decide—and this monthly payment cannot cease as long as you live.

An Income for Life. Think what it may mean to you to be certain of an income right up to the end of life, when you consider that 97% of people in their later years are partially or wholly dependent upon others for support.

When they were younger they did not have the chance now offered you. It was not then possible to secure such a convenient and certain provision as this Monthly Pension Plan.

And This is Not All. Suppose some day before you reach age sixty you meet with a mishap and become totally and permanently disabled through accident, illness or any cause. (Such a thing has happened soon after men have secured this new policy of the Canada Life.) Immediately, the payment of further premiums would be cancelled. The Canada Life would become responsible for sending you $50.00, $100, $200, $250, a month, as arranged, for the rest of your life.

There are many other benefits. An average deposit of only a few dollars a month will return you $50.00 a month later on.

IRRITABLE NERVES RESTORED AND HEALTH REGAINED IN A SIMPLE WAY

The man or woman who is rundown, not feeling up to the mark, perhaps irritable, nervous or sleepless, can well afford to learn about the wonderful results the newly discovered blood-food is giving to folks that use it. There is wonderful power in this new blood-food, and every weak, pallid person can be quickly nourished back to health that uses it as directed. After each meal, with a sip or two of water, you simply take two little chocolate-coated tablets, sold in all drug stores under the name of "FERROZONE".

The effect is noticeable at once. You feel happier, brighter, more contented. That old-time feeling of weariness disappears—you forget your "nerves" and no longer get irritable or cross over trifling annoyances. There is a reason for this change and that reason consists of the fact that Ferrozone contains blood-making materials you get in no other way. This ensures lots of nourishment and strength being supplied to every part of the body.

Waltham Opens Canadian Factory

ANOTHER instance of Canada's industrial progress is furnished by the decision of the Waltham Watch Company of Waltham, Mass., to open a factory in Canada.

This factory extension will be located in Montreal where, for many years, the company's Canadian sales and administration offices have been situated.

Hereafter, Waltham Watches sold in Canada will be assembled, adjusted and timed in Montreal, thus providing an additional convenience for both the trade and the public, and at the same time giving assurance that the greatly increased demand for Waltham Watches will be adequately provided for.

The reason behind the outstanding success of Waltham is found in a modern factory organization in which all the minute parts that enter into the intricate mechanism of a Waltham Watch, are produced and adjusted with marvellous precision. No other watch-making industry in the world can compare with Waltham in completeness and extent of factory equipment.

The better class of jewelers in all parts of Canada sell Waltham Watches, which since the establishment of the Company in 1854, have become truly "The World's Watch over time."

we trust this memorial may serve a useful spirit and be received as it is offered, in no narrow parochial spirit, but as founded upon truth, hope, and peace, and as the unanimous opinion of the citizens of Moncton as expressed in the mass meeting called for the express purpose of deliberating upon the question.

Hon. Mr. Robinson's resolution was seconded by E. W. Sammet, agent-general of New Brunswick. He expressed his appreciation of the resolutions submitted at the meeting. Moncton wants to hold what it has in relation to the government railway. "We want shipments through our own ports of Halifax and St. John," he said. (Applause.) J. T. Hawke supported the resolution. "The movement to demoralize the executive of the I. C. R. in the maritime provinces should be resisted by the maritime provinces as a whole," he said. "The I. C. R. was built as a link between the maritime provinces and Upper Canada and was part of the confederation agreement. There are two good harbors at St. John and Halifax. Moncton should stand by both. Moncton should follow up these resolutions. The city council and board of trade should co-operate and endeavor to secure the assistance of boards of trade in St. John, Halifax and other parts of the maritime provinces, and organize a big delegation to go to Ottawa and press the claims of the maritime provinces." (Applause.) During the meeting the secretary, H. Price, read the resolution adopted by the council of the St. John Board of Trade Thursday evening endorsing Moncton as the pivotal railway point in the maritime provinces.

A surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. B. Herd, 27 Garden street, last evening, for Mrs. Herd's niece, Miss Lena Buck, of Quebec. In behalf of friends present, G. C. M. Farren presented Miss Buck a silver ring in honor of her birthday. A very pleasant evening was spent. There were music and games, and refreshments were served.

SC. H. W. LEWIS SUNK

Word was received here yesterday of the loss of the three-masted schooner Harry W. Lewis, one of the best known schooners ever built in New Brunswick and a craft familiar to St. John harbor. The Harry W. Lewis sailed from Gulfport (Miss.), two weeks ago with a cargo of hard pine lumber for a port in Hayti. The vessel ran into a heavy blow, straining heavily. Part of the deck load was washed overboard, the rigging became partially disabled and the schooner leaked seriously. The Lewis was in a water-logged condition and unmanageable.

Jones Outclasses Murphy.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 28.—Harry Jones, of Halifax, tonight won a technical knockout over Eddie Murphy, also of Halifax, ex-amateur champion of the maritime provinces, in what was booked for a fifteen-round bout for the lightweight championship of the maritime provinces. The bout was a farce from start to finish. It took the spectators only a few rounds to be convinced that Jones outclassed Murphy, who took a terrible drubbing. In the entire twelve rounds, Murphy did not strike more than three blows. The affair became so one-sided that the crowd yelled for Referee McDonald to stop the bout. This was done and the decision given to Jones, who will be credited with a technical knockout.

GERNERAL PAU VISITS HOUSE OF COMMONS

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—The house today was favored with the presence of General Pau. As is usual with distinguished visitors, General Pau and the members of the French mission with him occupied seats on the floor immediately to the right of the speaker's chair. They came in just before adjournment, while the debate on the address was still in progress. Curiously one of the French-speaking members from Quebec, Mr. Ethier, of Two Mountains, had the floor and he was launching forth an attack on prohibition.

The half-empty house rapidly filled as the distinguished soldier, wearing his simple service uniform, was escorted to his chair. On all sides, members immediately rose and gave three enthusiastic cheers. The general bowed an acknowledgment and Mr. Ethier paused in his attack on prohibition to make graceful reference to the visitor.

Then, seizing the physiological moment, he continued in French to the high amusement of his French-speaking colleagues.

"Is it fitting," he asked, "that at this time we should thus annul the commercial treaty concluded between France and Canada? Is it fitting that at this stage that the importation of French wines should be stopped or even curtailed?"

Mr. Ethier did not pursue his argument. He adjourned the debate and the house being adjourned a moment later, members were in turn presented to the general.

Earlier in the debate, W. F. Cockshut, of Brantford, made reference to the contentious subject of the tariff.

"If you are going to rip up the tariff now when the boys are coming home," he said, "we shall have in Canada not unemployment but stagnation."

Mr. Cockshut thought, however, that the only way to arrive at a satisfactory tariff was by compromise.

From opposition benches, Mr. Duff, of Lunenburg, criticized the government for what he termed unnecessary expenditures. In this connection he specially mentioned the Canada Food Board, the Department of Public Information, and national registration under the Canada registration act.

More Work for Them
Ottawa, Feb. 28.—The government evidently does not intend to appoint parliamentary secretaries from among the members of the commons for the three departments of state now headed by Senators Loughheed, Blondin and Robertson. The charge of looking after these departments in the commons has been entrusted to Hon. N. W. Rowell and Hon. A. K. Maclean. The president of the privy council will be the acting minister in the commons for the post office and soldiers' civil re-establishment departments. Hon. A. K. Maclean will look after the estimates and explanations for the labor department. Mr. Maclean, who held the laboring oar last session as acting minister of finance, has been again loaded up this session. In addition to his work as chairman of the reconstruction committee and commons minister for the labor department he is also acting minister of trade and commerce and acting minister of marine and fisheries and naval affairs.

FORMER GERMAN EMPEROR SAYS HE IS IN DEBT ALLOWANCE FROM BERLIN

Weimar, Thursday, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The former German emperor, it is learned from competent sources, recently appealed to the German revolutionary government for money. It was said in his behalf that it was impossible for the former emperor to continue living upon the bounty and good will of the Dutch nobleman in whose castle he now resides.

Herr Hohenzollern, it is said, declared he already had been forced to borrow forty thousand guilders from his host and could not continue as a debtor. He asked that he be allowed at least a portion of his private fortune.

The government, after considering the matter, agreed to the former ruler's request and instituted a detailed investigation to determine what portion of the former emperor's supposed fortune really was his and what portion belonged to the government. Investigation showed that the former ruler might legally claim seventy-five million marks as his own, but the government decided to allow him temporarily only six hundred thousand marks to meet present indebtedness and future expenses.

The correspondent's informant, in calling attention to the development, declared it put an end to rumors that the former emperor had been able to take large sums of money with him when he fled into Holland.

RED CROSS EXECUTIVE

At a meeting of the executive of the local Branch of the Red Cross Society, presided over by Mrs. John A. McAvity, and held in the society rooms yesterday morning, it was reported that $210 had been donated to the society by the Commercial Travelers as their Victory loan earnings and $218 had been netted in the sale of a Liberty loan bond. Mrs. Richard O'Brien offered on behalf of the Cathedral circle a donation of $100, which was gratefully accepted. Reports were received concerning the emergency work at the St. James Street Hospital, and at the West Side docks, and committees were appointed to continue this work.

The seniors of the Y. M. C. A. had a greatly enjoyed sleigh drive last night. The party set out early in the evening, went as far as Torriburn and returned to the building for refreshments. The regular meeting of the trial rangers of the united churches last night was addressed by Rev. F. H. Wentworth on Good Citizenship.

WE were among the first to put up tea in sealed packages.

We were the first to use automatic electric weighing machines so as to insure accurate weights.

We were the first to make known the qualities of the now world-famous ASSAM teas.

And we are now the first to adopt a new package for the better protection of these fine quality teas.

The lead package has served its purpose well for generations, but it was easily broken or torn, allowing not only a loss of tea from the package but exposing the tea to the air, odors and dust that it was so necessary to protect the tea against.

Our new package—the waxed board carton—is stronger, more secure and more completely air tight; altogether the best container for tea that has yet been devised.

TUNNEL FOR VEHICLES.
New York Assembly Unanimously Passes Measure.

Albany, N. Y., March 1.—Without an opposing vote the assembly passed the New York-New Jersey vehicular tunnel bill. This measure is designed to provide for the acquisition of land and the construction of a tunnel or tunnels beneath the Hudson River, jointly with the state of New Jersey, for vehicular and pedestrian traffic. The measure carries an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the beginning of the work. Speakers from all parties represented in the assembly spoke on the bill, agreeing that the need of the tunnel was great to relieve congestion of the ferries.

Chocolate the Ready Luncheon

WHEN business prohibits your leaving the office at lunch time, yet you are hungry and tired—eat chocolate! for chocolate is a sustaining food.

All through the war the value of chocolate has been demonstrated.

The Allied soldiers found that when fatigued, eating chocolate renewed their energy, and thousands will testify how bars of chocolate used as emergency rations supplied them with strength to "carry on" in many a tight pinch.

Chocolate has proven its vitality-restoring qualities to every Canadian soldier. Profit by this war lesson. Apply it to civil life.

Eat chocolate as a luncheon—it satisfies—and will help you through the business hours.

Chocolate is a food product which the human system craves and demands. It fills a real need.

Keep a few bars of chocolate in your desk drawer. Eat them when you feel fatigued—they will help relieve the strain of your work.

"Chocolate is a most nourishing fat food and a delightful stimulant, especially valuable in cases of extreme fatigue or exposure."—Canada Lancet.
