Later trainloads of harvesters tell of being made to suffer by infuriated people along the road for the deeds of those who had gone before. One of them is said to have been an unoffending man who was sitting at a window in a car and had given no offense at all was wounded in the head by a Winchester bullet fired at the train by a woman. Later all were compelled to seek safety in upper berths.

SIR WILFRID'S TOUR.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's coming tour of the Province of Ontario is causing consternation in the ranks of his opponents. Bound to the capital, since he came into power, by enormous stress of work, the Premier has had little chance to meet the people outside. Therefore Ontario is preparing to make him doubly welcome. A few days ago he left his departmental duties at Ottawa for a brief visit at his old home in Quebec, the first he had been able to take in a year. But Sir Wilfrid's rests are short and he is already preparing for an extended period of speech-making. It is only natural that the opposition should prefer to have him remain at home just now. Especially are they anxious for him to keep away from Ontario. They know too well the effect of his speeches. In splendid physical condition and ready for a vigorous campaign Sir Wilfrid expects to make his Ontario tour one of the most important and most complete in his career. He goes to Ontario with the hearty endorsement of the west and he will come out that province leaving behind him more friends, more staunch earnest supporters, than he has ever been able to count upon before.

AN UNBORN-SPENT MAN.

The Monetary Times make the, in no way startling, assertion that few people now take Thomas W. Lawson seriously. When some months ago Mr. Lawson gave to the public that tear stained article telling how he had tried to smash the system, and how he had endeavored to take the masses into his confidence, he was looked upon as a sort of hero in the United States; someone who had come to deliver the dam from the bears. He was regarded as a man who had done wrong but who in his repentance was willing to give a general fund of information in regard to the system. Commenting on this the Monetary Times says: "The only drawback is that the power is likely to be of a boomerang variety. The stock exchange expert will also show the people how to control the price of $70,000,000,000 of stocks and bonds. Lawson is inconsistent. His promises and language are more suitable for the book of fairy tales. But he has a knowledge of Carlyle's philosophy that half the world are fools, while the other half prey upon them." Mr. Lawson had a rare chance to make himself a man great in many things, but the least of which would have been his enormous wealth. A capable writer, a sharp, keen thinker with a thorough knowledge of business conditions, Mr. Lawson was in a position to tell the public things which would have benefited them everlastingly. He told much and in telling was unparagoning in his criticism of his business confederates and then, after starting the entire business world with his revelation, and bringing hatred upon his own shoulders, Mr. Lawson coolly went and did the very things that he so unreservedly condemned in others. The Monetary Times is quite right when it says that Mr. Lawson will never more be taken seriously. His only desire is to see his name constantly in the lime light. He is decidedly inconsistent.

And now they are preparing for a Champlain Tercentenary celebration over in the State of New York. A committee of influential men, of which a United States Senator is chairman, has been chosen to raise funds to erect a memorial to the great first Samuel. The celebration will be held next year.

Although no longer young, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is never in better condition for a political campaign. Notwithstanding the great amount of work which falls upon his shoulders, the Premier has suffered no physical breakdown. His capacity for work seems unlimited.

The report of the condition of the train in Western Canada which appears in The Star today is encouraging. The grain dealers are more than satisfied and they announce that the yield will be much greater than they at first thought.

Another daring aeronaut has lost his life in an attempt to satisfy the thoughtless thousands at an amusement park. It is one more costly reminder that there should be a law to stop such people from performing feats so revolting to an intelligent public.

OUT OF THE GLOOM.

Some time, when the last trust is busted, The last rogue chained up in his cell, The cobwebs again will be dusted, From off the old fashioned larkwell; Some Laura Jean Libby or Ouida Will slip down a long rusted pen Because she will know that we need a Good, old style love story again.

When the last bolt of wrath has been hurled, Against the last corporate wretch, When the last automobile has tumbled, And rusted the last scribble sketch, Then maybe some Roe or some Bradon Will come from a cave in the hills And write us a bright 'un or sad 'un, But full of the old fashioned thrills.

Some time when the last probe's inserted, Into the last graft swollen pile, When the last reputation's been dirtied, The last king of finance made vile, Then maybe some Hugos or Lottons May write of kind people and plain Who die with--well, just with a pittance Of untainted honor, again.

That holds the last thief to his graft, When Reform its last volley has thundered, The last evil raked fore and aft, When Equity has made its last foray, Into the dark horrors of men, Won't somebody please write a story So we can go reading? J. W. Foley.

A PERMANENT ROSE SCENT.

(From the Girl's Realm.) A word about the making of rose paste. Strip the petals in water until they are soft enough to be mashed easily. Mix in a few drops of attar of rose and a little gum.

This is a very suitable mixture to enclose in amulets or charms, for it is sweet but not sticky, and it keeps its sweetness, and if run into a little fancy mould while soft and allowed to set and harden there, when turned out it will make an ornamental as well as an effective perfume for a box of handkerchiefs or some of our pet possessions.

ROBBED OSTRICHES.

(From the Arizona Republican.) J. H. Blevin and J. H. Rinehart were arrested yesterday charged with the theft of feathers from ostriches and the feathers show that they have been pulled out of the ostriches and not plucked in the regular way. This is always a damaging proceeding and sometimes results fatally. At any rate a feather will never grow in the socket from which a feather has been pulled. Blevin and Rinehart were sent to the county jail.

POOR STRAWBERRIES.

(Toronto News.) The inferior quality of the Canadian strawberry as sold in the city markets during the last year or two is the subject of complaint by The Canadian Grocer.

LOW TAXES.

(Brookville Recorder.) Twelve years of lower taxation have transformed Canada from a depressed, stagnant, struggling colony into a great, flourishing, prosperous nation, and vigorous to carve out a glorious future.

A WONDERFUL MACHINE.

(Montreal Gazette.) T. J. McAughy has travelled on foot from Toronto to New York in 11 days, 12 hours, making an average speed of 65 miles a day, which means good going for such a length of time. The human body is a wonderful device and capable of much work when it is rightly used.

POSTAGE STAMPS.

(Toronto Star.) One of these is an improved method of selling postage stamps. The ideal system would be an automatic selling, at every letter box. Until this is perfected, there should be a large number of places at which stamps could be bought at any hour, up to midnight.

PICTURE POSTAL CARDS.

( Windsor Record.) Receivers of pretty souvenir postal cards complain that they are ruined as keepsakes by the manner in which they are cancelled in the Windsor office. The practice being to stamp them on the picture side. If this could be avoided The Record would put in a plea for the souvenir card collectors, who are legion.

BOY MURDEROUSLY ATTACKED BY BURGLAR.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Aug. 17--Attacked by a burglar, who was detected by the boy robbing his father's home, Ralph Gray, the fourteen year old son of William Gray, of Salem street, South Groveland, was twice cut with a knife and badly beaten. He was found by his father on the latter's return home about six o'clock tonight. The burglar escaped with $15 which had been taken from a bureau drawer and $3 which he found in the boy's pocket.

SEES WAR WITH ARGENTINA IN BRAZIL'S PREPARATIONS

LONDON, Aug. 18--An interesting story is being published by the Daily Chronicle tomorrow respecting the three mysterious dreadnoughts now being constructed in this country for the Brazilian government, which further disposes of the strange conjectures that have been publicly made that the ultimate destination of these warships is either the British or the German navy. A representative of the Daily Chronicle asked yesterday on a gentleman at present in London who is intimately acquainted with all matters relating to South America and in particular to the government and finances of Brazil, where he has resided and carried on business for some years.

PICKPOCKETS LIKED HIM.

Experiences of a Westerner With European Light Fingers. "The American who travels in Europe and does not keep the closest watch on his valuables is almost sure to be relieved of his person, belong to by pickpockets," said W. E. McGill, vice-president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, who has been reduced to a fine art. I am a careful man and do not need to read the constant warnings against pickpockets, and yet in the great plaza of Venice I was robbed last summer of my watch, my fob, and my money. It was an enormous crowd that had turned out to hear the band play, the day being Sunday, and I was jostled three times by a huge fellow with a black moustache. Finally seeing that he was doing it purposely, I lost my temper and addressed a hot remark at him, at which he exclaimed: "Pardon, monsieur, dropped his umbrella at my feet, and in stooping to get it, managed in some way to get my letter of credit, although it was in an inside pocket. It caused me a lot of trouble, the sending of many cablegrams and some money but I managed to have the payment stopped and the thief profited nothing.

FASHION AND FAT.

Isn't it fortunate that when fashion demands slender graces of women who have to break correct lines to make themselves even presentable that science steps in and makes their task easy? Dieting and exercising it has substituted a pleasant wholesome mixture that can be obtained at small cost from any druggist, viz.: 5 ounces Marshmallow, 4 ounces Fluid Extract Cascara, Aromatic, and 4 ounces Syrup Simple.

NO RIGHTS.

(Ottawa Journal.) Take a nice calm look around and see if you can find how much right the mere pedestrian has in the King's highway in Ottawa. Under the law he has no right at all. All things from the newly-rich man's dog wagon to the locust hatcher boy's hilarious cart conspire to run him down, and falling that, to scare his gizzard out.

RECOVERED BY A RUSE. The ruse, which finally led to the recovery of the pearls was planned by the countess' lawyer, in connection with a suit she instituted against a local periodical for publishing that she knew more of the identity of the alleged thief, is a young married woman named Steger, formerly the countess' maid, who was arrested immediately after the pearls were missed, but was later released. She had been restrained, and says that she had not intended to steal the pearls, but merely to distress the countess by hiding them as an act of revenge for ill-treatment.

AWAY ALL NIGHT, HE FINDS HIS WIFE DEAD

Husband Goes From Club to Hotel—Tragedy at His Home.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Elsie Wallace, wife of Chester W. Wallace, an attorney, was found dead in the bathroom of her home here by her husband this morning. She had partially fallen from a chair. At her feet lay an empty bottle that had contained wood alcohol.

Her husband had not been at his home last night, going from his club to a hotel, where he remained all night after having telephoned to his wife. This morning he again telephoned her, then went to his office. Later he telephoned again. He received no answer, and supposed Mrs. Wallace had gone to Pittsburg to visit her father, D. N. Rankin. When Wallace later visited his home he found his wife dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace were prominent socially. And only yesterday afternoon Mrs. Wallace had attended a reception at the New Castle County Club where she seemed particularly light-hearted, although she had been extremely nervous of late. She complained much of severe footache, and her friends are unwilling to accept the suicide theory. They contend that she must have taken the alcohol by accident.

Her death has created a sensation here. The Wallaces appeared to be a devoted pair. They had been married twelve years.

Prohibition Candidate for Vice President Opens the Campaign at Lynn.

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 17.—The National Prohibition Party's campaign in the east was opened in this city tonight by Professor Aaron Watkins, of Ada, Ohio, prohibition candidate for vice-president. He addressed an audience of several hundred people in Oddfellows Hall, in his remarks, Professor Watkins paid his respects to Professor Hugo Munsterberg, of Harvard University, because of the latter's position in favor of a moderate use of liquor. Prof. Watkins thought that Harvard University would be a disgrace to education if it did not put its foot down upon Professor Munsterberg.

As between the Democratic and Republican parties he could see no difference except that one was out and wanted to get in and the other was in and wanted to stay in.

In discussing the race problem he said that the only reason for its existence was the liquor traffic. The colored people as a whole, he believed to be peaceable and law-abiding, only "drunken rascals" committing unnameable crimes.

WANT GATES PLACED AT LEVEL CROSSINGS

Moncton Making an Effort to Obtain Them—Sale of Bonds

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 17.—In an effort to have the gates placed at various city railway crossings, the city authorities will communicate with Hon. R. Emmerson, asking him to bring the matter before the department. All Moncton crossings are unguarded. In any way present and it is thought that double tracking will increase the danger at level crossings and that they should be protected by gates.

At a meeting of the city council tonight it was reported that ten thousand dollars worth of Moncton four percent bonds had been disposed of at ninety-eight and thirty day option given on the balance of twenty thousand dollars at the same terms.

Some fifteen adults who were confirmed at a confirmation service held in St. Bernard's church last Saturday night were present. The Rev. J. J. Conway last evening presented him with a well filled purse of gold and silver.

The Nineteenth Field Battery, in charge of Major S. B. Anderson, returned this afternoon from Petawara, where they were in camp. This battery was in competition with the Sixth Battery from London. The latter had one day of instruction practice. This was the first time that any Moncton boys had been in the ranks of the regular army and the men all hold the view that this action of the road cut have no effect on the ultimate settlement of the strike.

BATTERY RETURNS

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 17.—The striking mechanics of the C. P. R. are so far showing no signs of being terror-stricken over the manifesto issued by the railway officials on Saturday. The men were given until today at noon to return to work if they do not wish to forfeit their seniority standing. So far there has been no terrible break in the strikers' ranks and the men all hold the view that this action of the road cut have no effect on the ultimate settlement of the strike.

C.P.R. IS ADVERTISING FOR STRIKE BREAKERS

The fact that the railroad is in earnest is shown by the fact that they are now advertising for boiler makers, blacksmiths, car inspectors and car men. They are asking for applications from reliable men at their labor agencies at Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Quebec, London, Windsor, Kingston, and St. John.

BRUIN WITH A RECORD.

This One Has Distinguished Himself in Raiding Alaskan Hotels.

The chances are strong that within a few months there will be admitted into the animal colony at Washington Park a black bear from Circle City, Alaska, which according to the stories told about him by his recent owner, Robert C. Curry of Circle City, is likely to remain all of his life a well-behaved menagerie.

Teddy, for that is the no common-place name of this proposed addition to the zoo, is only in his teens as regards his bear age. But he has ruined the best chef in Circle City, has cost much money by his desolate habits, and has acquired a reputation known to all Alaska.

Mr. Curry gave the bear to his brother William of Milwaukee. And William Curry says he is going to hand the bear right over to a regular bear man, Keeper Bean of the zoo.

Teddy was captured by Indians in the frozen regions of the Alaskan North, way north of Circle City. He was less than a day (a six months day) old when he was caught.

His real career began, however, after he and his brother struck Circle City and became the property of Mr. Curry, who is a wealthy mine owner there. At Circle City a man can pay higher prices for food than in almost any other spot under the sun. Porterhouse steaks come at $1 and side dishes are only eaten by millionaires. Circle City is Pierre Loggiette, the Circle City Hotel's French chef, forgot to put the strawberries in the safe that Teddy turned loose his appetite. They represented about $200. Teddy ate them up clean. Then he consumed enough other delicacies to represent a small fortune. All this was paid for by Mr. Curry. This was Teddy's first offense.

The next time he got a chance Teddy raided the safe again. He ate up a twelve pound ham worth $17 and a lot of assorted meats worth $20. Mr. Curry began to realize that the bear was a costly asset. It had already cost him $25. But while the owner of Teddy was wondering what to do the latter hastened his decision by entering the store of a bankrupt Seattle mer-

CROWDS SIMPLY CHEERED AT NICKEL.

Since the Nickel has been running no picture has stirred the people to such heights of enthusiasm and excitement as The Cowboy and the Schoolmarm, which opened the week yesterday to crowded houses. At times the Humanov players could hardly be heard the applause was so vociferous, and everybody seemed thoroughly delighted with the piece. The photographic settings of the playette are naturally western and the dialect and costumes thoroughly true to that semi-lawless country. The Cowboy and the Schoolmarm is chock full of love making, daring deeds of valor and laughing villas, something that pleases each and every hearer and onlooker, and a bumper series of houses will surely follow yesterday's big hit with it. In addition to the star feature are four excellent Pathé pictures—Too Much Smoke, a scream; A Boarding House Acquaintance, more laughs; Uncle's Fortune, a South American drama; and Wonderful Birds, a high-priced vaudeville act. New songs just from New York and the orchestra. In view of the instant success of the new Humanovs, intending patrons should be early this afternoon and tonight.

Boiler Explodes on Pleasure Steamer Doing Freightful Damage

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 17.—A special to the Evening Press from Traverse City, Mich., says:

Mrs. Isabelle L. Bonte of this city was killed and a score of passengers were injured today by the explosion of the boiler of the passenger steamer Leelanau, bound from Leland to Fouch on Carp Lake.

Having on board many pleasure seekers, bound for Traverse City to attend a wild-west circus, the little steamer was trying to make up the time that had been lost on the earlier stages of the trip. The engineer discovered a loose bolt in the engine, and shut off the steam to remedy the defect. It was while he was working at the loose bolt that the explosion occurred. The boiler gave way with a crash, tearing off the top of the engine and demolishing the pilot and the forward upper works of the steamer. Before the boiler gave way with a crash, scalded by the havoc that swept before him. Mrs. L. Bonte, sitting near the pilot house conversing with her mother, was blown far into the water and, terribly mangled. John Hartung, who was in the wheel, was probably fatally injured. All those injured were sitting in the forward part of the boat. Many were thrown into the water and clung to wreckage until rescued by farmers living along the shore, although some were able to swim to shore.

ARRESTS A CORPSE AND ALL MOURNERS; RIOT AVERTED

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Because a funeral was driven over a boulevard this afternoon Park Policeman William Hallman arrested it. He took the hearse, corpse and twenty mourners and carried them to the police station eight blocks away. The park board prohibits funerals on boulevards.

A riot was imminent for a time, and "Sparrow Cop" Hallman had to draw his revolver and menace the angry mourners while he stood them off until eight city policemen rescued him. The funeral was that of Mrs. E. O'Leary Vaughan, and the procession was on its way from St. Basil's church to the cemetery.

It was when the hearse had reached the corner of Pratt and Newgard avenues that Policeman Hallman rode up on his bicycle and told hearse driver Letch he was under arrest for violating the ordinance.

Letch continued to drive on toward the cemetery, and Hallman brought his wheel directly in front of the hearse, and then seized the bride of the off horse. Undertaker Thomas Mines, who sat on the box with Letch, decided it would be best to accompany the policeman to the station and save an outright fight, and the whole procession followed. Not aware what had happened until the stop was made at the lockup.

In front of the station the angry mourners attacked the park policeman but his revolver and eight city police saved him from violence. After a delay of thirty minutes, Captain Kane, of the Sheffield street police station, ordered the funeral released. The body was then taken to the cemetery and buried.

AT THE PRINCESS.

The new and up to date programme at the Princess Theatre yesterday made a decided impression with the large audiences and the performance proved to be one of the best seen for some time.

Morris Smith was excellent in a first class Irish specialty. His songs and monologue were decidedly amusing and Newcombe made a hit with a very pretty illustrated song, entitled "Let me be your Romeo."

THE BURGLES IN A BASKET.

A real comedy picture that is full of fun is entitled, "The Substitute Automatic Servant."

The bill will be repeated today.

Next week an entirely new production of Passion Play will be given.

A NEW TENOR SINGER AT THE UNIQUE.

All lovers of music will be very much pleased to learn the management of the Unique Theatre have secured another excellent tenor singer, who will be heard at all the performances. Mr. Fr. Nieme comes here direct from Riviera Beach, where he has been singing since the season opened; previous to that he was for some time at the Hub Theatre, Boston. Those who heard this pleasing singer last night had nothing but praise for the manner in which the song was rendered. The pictures this week are above the average and with one exception are high-class comedies. The leading film is called "The Little Magician," and shows many of the greatest feats of magic ever performed. "Summer Boarders Taken" is another picture that is bound to cause all to laugh. It tells the troubles of a fat lady who took her family to the country to spend the summer. Things prove to be too lively for her, however, and she decides to return home. "Troubles of New Drug Clerk." This without doubt is the best comedy ever shown in this city. The amount of trouble that he gets into is simply amazing. The last picture is called "The Water Cure," and is equally as good as the others. Miss A. Outous, mezzo-soprano, is singing some of the latest New York song hits in a very pleasing manner. This charming singer has made her mark among illustrated song singers in this part of the country. Don't forget the matinee every day at 2.15.

SOMETHING NEW AT THE CEDAR.

Starting on Wednesday next the Cedar will introduce a new musical feature which is sure to delight their patrons.

BOSTON MEN BACK FROM BIG REGATTA

The Boston Herald discussing the Springfield regatta, observes:

The only disappointing feature of the regatta was the absence of the Canadian element in the regatta, excepting, of course, the Halifax contingent. This was largely due to the inability of the Canadian oarsmen to make satisfactory arrangements for bringing their shells into this country, the custom house officials imposing conditions that the Canadians could not meet. The Springfield regatta committee guaranteed the Canadians the necessary boats if they would come, but no crew can row its best in an utterly strange boat, and for that reason the offer was declined.

Another thing that tended to keep down the Canadian representation was the fact that entries for the national regatta closed a week before the Canadian championship regatta was held at St. Catharines. The constitution of the national association provides that first-place winners in the Canadian regatta shall be eligible to row in the national without previous entry, but there is no such provision for men or for crews who finish in second or third place.

There was some talk among the association's officials at Springfield last week that a change would be advisable whereby it would be possible to accept a large entry from the other side. There were a number of oarsmen, whose work at St. Catharines, although they did not win firsts, was of sufficiently high class to warrant their entry in the national championship regatta. The officials of the clubs did not feel justified in entering them for Springfield. After the races at St. Catharines, however, the officials of the clubs did not feel justified in entering them for Springfield last week to obviate all this. One was that the entries of all oarsmen competing in the Canadian championship regatta should be received any time during the 24 hours immediately following the Canadian championship, making it really a supplementary closing date for oarsmen who participate at St. Catharines.

The other proposition involved some agreement with the Canadians whereby the latter's regatta would be held a week earlier than in the past. This would make it possible for the customary two weeks to elapse between the date for the closing of entries and the national regatta itself, and at the same time would give the Canadians a chance to see whether their men were capable or not before entering. There is every chance that one or the other of these propositions will come up in some more definite form a year hence.

It is not likely that the national regatta will go to Springfield again next year, and there is some doubt, too, as to whether the Springfield men would be willing to stand as sponsor for the fixture two years running. But whether the 1899 regatta is held, the Springfield regatta will always be remembered as one of the best handled and managed ever given by the association. The race was won through on schedule time, and it has been years since the senior eight-oared title, always the best event on the programme, has been decided so early as was the case Saturday. Of course those handling the regatta this year were not handicapped with any trial heat, a fact that in a measure at least made it possible to stick to the schedule all the way through. The

Looking for a Lady

By TAYLOR WHITE

(Copyright, 1907, by C. H. Seiffers)

"Who is the girl?" asked Bradley. Elwood held out his hand for the album.

"Hanged if I know," he answered as he glanced at the photograph. "The girl was off the last film I had. I snapped it on the train just as we were pulling out. Pretty little thing, isn't she?"

"Bradley nodded. To him the pictured girl was more than pretty. She was beautiful. She leaned against the side of the door of a waiting room, evidently watching the passing of the train, and the unconsciousness of her pose was one of its charms.

"Search me," was the irritating reply. "It's one of a roll of a dozen films that was cut up. I could not tell which was which. I just took them to use up the film."

"I wish you'd let me have a print," said Bradley, trying to appear unconcerned and longing to throw a book at Elwood's grinning face. His anger fell when the other promptly ran a paper cutter under the edge of the print and handed it over to his friend.

But that evening when he reached home he tucked the print into his looking-glass and went to sleep to dream of the girl. His own vacation came in a few days and he determined to spend the time in locating the station, and through that, the girl. The L. and V. had three sets of plans from which it built stations. These were of wood, brick or stone according to the immorality of the place. There were probably fifty or sixty stations along the line precisely like the one in the picture.

Just above the door in which the girl had been standing he noticed a peculiar knot in the boards and giving up only sufficient mileage to carry him on to the next station he made his way down the line. He rode on the same train until dusk prevented him from closely examining the stations and then left the train to the great relief of the conductor who had early in the day come to the conclusion that his passenger must be insane.

The second day's search was no more successful and on the evening of the third day he had come to the end of the line without having located the station he sought.

He bought another mileage book and turned back over the road and this time he found the place for which he sought. The station had been newly painted and the knots had been covered up by the paint.

other name was. "Perhaps the woman who kept the boarding house at which she stopped might know," suggested Bradley, but again his hopes were dashed with the answer that the girl had stopped at the hotel.

Bradley searched the register for two months back, but there was no hint there. The little hotel was run in easy-going fashion, and the register was ornamental rather than useful.

At last he gave up in despair. He had run every clow to earth, and he knew no more than on the day of his arrival. His vacation had come to an end, and since it was useless to linger he gave up the quest.

The town had never seemed as hot and dusty as it did on his arrival, and as he came at last to the apartment house in which he lived and recalled the hopes with which he had started out. He climbed the stairs. At the top of the last flight a girl came out. There were two weeks left, he said with a smile.

"That is not a very gracious speech," suggested Mrs. Harold, with a laugh. Bradley blushed.

"I'm afraid it doesn't sound the way I mean it," he stammered. "I can't very well explain now."

But he made his explanation ten days later when he showed Molly the photograph and told her of his quest. "And now that I have found you, may I keep you?" he asked.

"Findings keepings," suggested Molly, demurely. "At least, I would demure to say when I was a little girl."

"We have acquired that property for development and not for speculation," said Thomas J. Drummond last evening to a Sun reporter concerning the Gloucester iron deposits recently acquired by his firm.

DIRECTOR STOPS WORK ON BRIDGE

Street Railway Company Nervous WANT GUARANTEE Do Not Know Whether I.C.R. Will Properly Grade Approach or Not

The Stanley street bridge, it is expected, will occupy a prominent place in the discussion at this afternoon's meeting of the Board of Works.

When the work on the bridge is discontinued work on the street car tracks when the bridge is completed shall be put in as good condition as the old one makes it necessary that the approaches to the bridge be altered.

The Intercolonial Railway, said Col. McLean, had taken upon itself the raising of the Stanley street bridge. Neither the Street Railway Company nor the city had asked to have such an alteration made in its tracks of the St. John Railway Company.

Director Peters said he had issued the order to suspend work at the instigation of the Street Railway Company. The latter, he said, had no agreement with the Dominion government, but did hold a charter from the city of St. John.

When asked if he had been informed of the lapse of the order affecting the bridge, L. R. Ross, the I. C. R. terminal agent, said he had heard nothing of the matter, although he had been informed that such action had been threatened by the city officials.

A grandfather, well known in the English house of commons, was chatting amicably with his little grand-daughter, who was angrily encoined on his knees.

"What makes your hair so white, grandpa?" the little miss queried. "I am very old, my dear; I was in the ark," replied his lordship with a painful disregard of the truth.

"Then," said the little one, who was fast nearing the limit of her Biblical knowledge, "you are the Japheth." A negative reply was given to the query also, for the old gentleman indignantly wondered what the outcome would be.

ANTY DRUDGE ON EARLY RISING

Mrs. Workhard (winding alarm clock)—"I always set the alarm for 4 o'clock on Monday morning, so I can make an early start with my washing and get through before dark."

Anty Drudge—"Nonsense. Just you sleep three hours later, and then send to the grocer for some Fels-Naptha soap, and do your washing the Fels-Naptha way. Your wash will be on the line before noon, cleaner and whiter than ever before."

In India the women still go down to the river banks and wash clothes by rubbing them over stones. They are unprogressive, we say. But they are no farther behind the times than the American women who still boil clothes and hard-rub them on a washboard.

The truly modern way of washing is the Fels-Naptha way. No boiling to weaken the fibre; no hard-rubbing to wear and tear. Work saved, time saved, fuel saved; clothes cleaner. Follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

DR. J. B. GILCHRIST WINS FIRST PRIZE

Members of the New Brunswick Automobile Association some time ago offered prizes for competition among the road supervisors—over certain named highways—the awards to be made to those superintendents effecting the greatest improvements in their sections between June 1st and August 15th.

The first prize of $10 has been awarded to Dr. J. B. Gilchrist of Round Hill, for his excellent work in the Parish of Greenwich. The second prize of $50 goes to James Goss of Upper Burton, Sunbury county. The third prize of $25, which has not yet been awarded, is for the best work done in the Parish of St. John.

At the meeting held here on Monday, the side which supervisor was unable to do it and it was resolved to defer action until next month to enable the association to make further examination of the roads in question.

This practical movement towards "good roads" is to be highly commended as any improvement to the main highway is a benefit to all.

It is to be hoped that the interest displayed this year in the competition will result in a similar movement next season and covering a wider range of territory.

STEAMER COLLIDES WITH SCHOONER IN THICK FOG

Black Diamond Liner Strikes French Fisherman—Little Damage

SYDNEY, Aug. 17.—In a dense fog on Wednesday night the Black Diamond liner Cacomia, collided with the French fishing schooner Union, off St. Pierre. Front work by the colliders saved the Union from going to the bottom and the Cacomia towed the disabled craft to St. Pierre, where she is being repaired.

The collision occurred in a heavy fog and the crew of the Cacomia never saw the schooner until they were right on top of her. The steamer was only running at half speed and the engines were some distance astern. The schooner was not badly damaged.

When asked if it was possible that the bridge might be repaired, the terminal agent said he had heard nothing of the matter, although he had been informed that such action had been threatened by the city officials.

"FIGHTING BOB" EVANS BEATEN ONLY BY AGE

Rear Admiral Quits Today to Go on Retired List

How He Bluffed Chis, Fought Indians and Increased Respect for America's Sea Forces.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—"Fighting Bob" Evans, otherwise known as Robert D. Evans, who took the Atlantic battleship fleet around the Horn, and fought in the Civil War, who helped defeat the Spanish fleet, who bluffed Chile to a standstill, retires from active service today.

The most picturesque officer in the American Navy, he has had the respect of the entire nation, the admiration of his fellow-officers and the devotion of the enlisted men. No commander has done so much to raise the standard of America's fighting sailors as "Bob" Evans, and no commander has demanded so much consideration for them.

No sailor was ever turned away from a steamer or restaurant if Evans was near enough to prevent it. On a dozen occasions he hobbled over to offending proprietors and demanded apologies for insults to his men.

A most conspicuous man in "Bob" Evans he has had the respect of the entire nation, the admiration of his fellow-officers and the devotion of the enlisted men.

Evans is a Virginian and was born in Floyd county August 14, 1847. When he was 19 years old his father died, and he was thrown upon his own resources.

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING; ITS COMFORTS AND DISCOMFORTS

By GERTRUDE MACDOUGALL ACHESON.

Not so many years ago no maiden thought of taking upon herself the honors and cares of wifehood until the "man in the case" had provided the house over which she should preside, the domain which was to be henceforth the standard whereby her capability as a housewife should be proven.

But as the years have passed, and the busy rush of the last decades has invaded city and country alike, ideals and customs have changed, and now a woman who is not a housewife is not a woman in the eyes of her neighbors.

The number of small families in Toronto who adopt light housekeeping in one of its various modifications is rather astonishing, and accounts in no small degree for the large number of "let" and "for sale" signs visible on almost every street.

One may furnish the rooms oneself or not as desired, but the rental of furnished rooms is comparatively very little more than for the unfurnished ones, and either is usually from one third to one half the rental of a house according to the number of rooms taken.

BALLOON EXPLODES KILLING TWO PERSONS

Score Burned by Accident in London—New York Girl Blown to Atoms.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—Two persons were killed, one a girl, when the big balloon of Captain Thomas T. Lovelace, formerly connected with the United States Signal Corps, exploded today before it left the ground.

Every adjacent building was shaken by an earthquake. Flying glass cut some of the visitors and added to the panic. Many of those who escaped serious injury were badly shaken up by being blown off their feet by the force of the explosion.

Suddenly and without warning the balloon burst and flames enveloped all those who were near. Miss Hill was burned beyond recognition. One of the assistants, George Waitz, met a similar fate. Every one of the others at work about the bag was more or less seriously injured by the flames.

Three men were hurled a considerable distance. One of the men, whose clothing was burned to rags and strips of flesh were torn from their arms and legs.

DRUNK IN CARRIAGE; FOUND BY POLICE

Man and Woman Locked Up Last Night

Remanded to Jail This Morning—Female is "Dot" Belyea Who Has Been in House of Correction.

There were four prisoners on the police court bench this morning. In the city, was fined four dollars or ten days jail for being drunk on Union St. Henry Brown and an ugly jag on Mill street last evening; he was drunk, profane, and resisted arrest. He was fined eight dollars or one month for being drunk and resisting the police. Edward Ogier, a well dressed young man, met Adeline Cordasco, who is better known to the police as "Dot" Belyea. The woman was quite attractively dressed, and the two started out on a time. They hired a horse and buggy from Louis Kerr, and drove out the road where they imbibed freely of liquor and finally became intoxicated. This morning about 2:30 o'clock Policemen Scott and Perry found a horse and buggy on Coburg street, and inside the buggy they found Ogier and Dot Belyea in a drunken sleep. The two were locked up and the horse and rig returned to its owner. The carriage was somewhat damaged and the carriage robes and whip were lost. The couple were pretty sick when they pleaded guilty to drunkenness this morning. The woman had $20 in her possession when arrested. She has already this year served a term in the Home of the Good Shepherd. The two were remanded to jail.

Thomas Barrett was charged by Sgt. Baxter, with giving false information to the police. The sergeant informed the court that Barrett said there was a fight on Coburg street and also gave the names of the two men who were fighting.

Barrett in answer to the charge said he had a crowd in front of the new ship labor union rooms and being told that there had been a fight, he passed the information along to the sergeant, he had no intention of giving false information but thought he was doing the officer a favor. Barrett was allowed to go and told to be careful in the future.

John J. Hudson was charged by Sgt. Ross with allowing two dump carts to encumber Winslow street, in the West End. Hudson said that he did not know he had done wrong as other persons had done the same thing on the street and that Sgt. Ross was after him all the time.

The sergeant said that he would keep after Hudson a great deal more in the future and Hudson informed the officer that he would make it his business to that the official struck to his duty harder in the future, and he told the court that yesterday the sergeant was in the street under his house when he should have been on duty.

Hudson told the court that he had been in the country just five years, and the magistrate said that as he had been in the country that length of time he should apply for a position on the police force. Hudson was allowed to go, and told to be careful and not break the law in the future.

Arthur Love was before the court charged with breaking the L. C. R. regulations at the depot yesterday. He was fined $10 and told to obey the orders of the L. C. R. police.

Harry Akerly, the boy who stole the street car fare box on July 31st, was sentenced to a term in the Boys' Industrial Home, but it was never in force against him, pending his future good conduct, and he was allowed to go home with his father.

Mrs. Georgiana Stoddard, the colored woman who is charged with setting fire to a house in Union Alley, owned by her father, Phillip Stoddard, was taken before the court and committed for trial at the next sitting of the county court, which opens next week.

MUCH INTEREST IN COMING BOXING EVENT

The local sports are looking forward to a week from tonight when it is expected that the boxing bout between Dan Littlejohn, of this city, and Tom Foley, of Halifax, will be a rather interesting event. Littlejohn is looking in fine shape and says he was never in better condition before. It has been arranged that as a preliminary bout Jimmy Rogers, of this city, will meet Johnny McIntyre, of Halifax, in a six round go. Both these lads are extremely clever and should prove a good attraction. Rogers is training with Littlejohn and is confident that he can outpoint the Halifax boy.

Tonight at Pictou, N. S., Billy McKinnon will fight an unknown. It has been some time since a boxing match has taken place in Pictou and it looks as if boxing has made a hit since Mike Twinn Sullivan recently toured the province with Foley.

Mike Twinn was booked to box at Bath, Me., last night.

ANOTHER NEW FIRM.

A new firm has opened business in the city under the name of the Excelsior Glass Works, and the proprietors are W. F. Higgins and L. L. Donohue, two young energetic men with a thorough knowledge of their business. The factory is situated at 25 Waterloo St., and while it is still in the hands of the carpenters, the firm are already busy getting out orders.

The firm's specialty is the manufacturing of bevelled and plain mirrors, resilvering and the manufacturing of signs of every description. The new firm has a bright prospect and will enlarge as the business increases.

Bissell's Sweepers

Sweep the World

The above is about literally correct, as this modern household helpmate can be bought in nearly every country on the globe, and is used universally.

We have recently received the largest purchase of these goods we have ever made. While a few years ago the sale of Carpet Sweepers was very limited, today they are almost as generally used as was once the prosaic Corn Broom—and why?.....

- 1st.—Because they involve little or no labor in doing the work of sweeping day.
- 2nd.—Because they do the work as well with less damage to the carpet.
- 3rd.—They raise little or no dust, and no dustpan or brush required.
- 4th.—They cost no more than brooms, for the life of a good Bissell Carpet Sweeper is from 5 to 6 years. How many brooms would you wear out in this time.

If you have not a good Sweeper, call at once at our Carpet Department and secure one.

Prices, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50
