TORREY MISSION LEADERS GIVE CAMPAIGN DETAILS

Asked if he knew of any minister refusing to lead in prayer at a meeting of ministers, because he claimed he could not find out enough about the inception of the movement, Mr. Appel replied that he did not. The only minister who had told him he could not take part in the movement, was Rev. F. Conners. The reason he gave was that it did not conform to his views. No preacher had ever said definitely that he would not have anything to do with the work.

The Rink Arrangements.

Referring to the financial end of the campaign, Mr. Appel said every bill had to be signed by the chairman of the committee of that particular branch, by the secretary and by the chairman of the finance committee before being paid by the treasurer.

The Queens Rink had been rented under contract from R. J. Armstrong for $75 which included the use of the building during October for preparation as well as for the period of the campaign. The committee had put in a heating plant and arranged for additional lighting, but a platform and made other necessary changes and provided the seats.

The First Week's Results.

The collections during the first week of the campaign were as follows:

|                |         |       |
|----------------|---------|-------|
| Sunday, Nov. 6 | $56.03 | 38.98 |
| Monday         | 3.43    | 30.26 |
| Tuesday        | 3.77    | 41.89 |
| Wednesday      | 4.54    | 46.49 |
| Thursday       | 9.24    | 39.29 |
| Friday         | 3.36    | 74.28 |

The total amount received so far is $242.47. The prospect of receiving sufficient to meet the expenses were not as favorable, Mr. Appel said. In the last campaign and a guarantee fund was now being arranged for to make good any deficiency. It was estimated that the expenses would amount to $250.

Asked his opinion of The Standard's action in suggesting that the committee should make a statement in view of the rumors which were in circulation, Mr. Appel replied he thought The Standard should have inquired from members of the committee first, but he was not sorry that it had occurred as it gave an excellent opportunity to lay the exact situation before the public.

What Mr. McKim Said.

Rev. Mr. McKim, rector of St. Luke's church, and chairman of the executive committee when asked by The Standard, who first approached Dr. Torrey with the object of bringing him to St. John, said he did not know.

When the circular dated Sept. 9, and signed by Mr. McLaughlin as secretary, was read, stating that at a meeting of laymen it had been decided to invite Dr. Torrey, was received, he was out of town. The officers of the church decided to attend the meeting and he went after his return. It was a great surprise to him when he was elected chairman. He had known Dr. Torrey previously and was very hearty in sympathy with his work.

Nothing to Conceal.

In reply to a further question Mr. McKim said some ministers were enthusiastic for the movement, and some were not. Everyone had their own opinions. There was nothing, he continued, to conceal in connection with the way the campaign was being conducted. The committee considered they were handling trust funds and every care was being taken.

It had been suggested to the committee last Friday that an independent auditor should be appointed and this course would be adopted. A full statement would be published, showing the receipts and expenses at the close of the campaign. With regard to the disposal of any surplus it had never been discussed to his knowledge, but it would certainly be devoted to some religious object.

Publicity Will Help Campaign.

Mr. McKim expressed the opinion that the wide publicity given to all details in connection with the conduct of the campaign in consequence of The Standard's action would help the movement, but he thought it would have been better if The Standard had interviewed members of the committee first.

Dr. Torrey Interviewed.

As there appeared to be some difficulty in obtaining information as to who first communicated with Dr. Torrey from a local source The Standard interviewed Dr. Torrey on this point.

Referring to his correspondence Dr. Torrey found that the first letter was from Mr. McLaughlin dated August 29th, asking if he would hold a campaign of the united Methodist churches in Centenary church. To this Dr. Torrey replied that he was not in the habit of holding his meetings in a church, as such a building was not large enough and his calls were so numerous. Other correspondence from Mr. McLaughlin followed. Dr. Torrey informed Mr. McLaughlin that he could come to St. John in the month of November.

Following a meeting of laymen held in the Y. M. C. A. a telegram was sent inviting Dr. Torrey to come to St. John. Those present at this meeting were: Messrs. R. S. Stevens, J. S. Flagg, R. Duncan Smith, W. M. Kingston, W. A. Stepler, George W. London, William McAvoy, W. M. P. McLaughlin, J. Hollie Wasson, C. T. Jones, Alfred Burley, R. S. Cowan, Joshua Stark, S. S. Cosman, William J. Parks, S. H. Davis, Charles Robinson, H. D. White, D. H. Nasse, A. H. Nasse, A. W. Robb, Rev. J. E. Purdie.

QUEEN'S RINK CROWDED AT TWO TORREY MEETINGS

Doors Were Closed Last Evening Before Hour of Opening--Evangelist Calls Upon His Hearers to Think--Music Proved to be Big Feature of Gatherings.

Over 3000 people attended the meeting in the Queens rink yesterday afternoon. The large choir has become a tradition in the singing of many beautiful hymns, and the musical service at each meeting is proving a powerful attraction. Dr. Torrey preached a striking sermon upon the advantage of personal work for Christ. Illustrating his points by interesting stories drawn from his large and varied experience as a missionary of the Gospel.

"When Dwight L. Moody," he said, "came to the big city of Chicago and asked to be taken into the church, he was a great preacher. When asked if he knew what Christ had done for him, he said he thought Christ had done a lot for him, but that he could not recollect anything in particular. And yet this little boy became in time one of the mightiest preachers the world had ever known."

Advantage of Personal Work.

Continuing he said the advantage of personal work were many. A preacher could not address an audience an hour or two a day, but usually he only got a chance to preach one day in the week. The personal worker could do his work nearly every hour in the day upon whom to use his powers of persuasion. Personal work could be carried on in the home, the office, on the street corner, in the shopping districts--everywhere in fact. The earnest worker would inquire into the spiritual state of the milkman, the butcher boy, the fireman, the policeman, the street urchin, the counter, and try to bring them to Christ.

Dwight L. Moody made it a rule to try to win one soul to Christ every day. In the press of work he forgot about this rule till after he got in bed, and would get up and go out in the streets looking for a person to preach to. Some of his friends sometimes told him that he had zeal without knowledge.

Officers and Chairman.

The following is the list of officers and chairman of the committee in charge of the campaign: Chairman, Rev. R. P. McKim; vice-chairman, A. A. Wilson, C. and Wm. Kingston; secretary, Rev. J. Chas. B. Appel; assistant secretary, J. M. P. McLaughlin; treasurer, Andrew Malcolm. Aid. W. H. White is chairman of the finance committee, which has complete charge of the receipts and expenditures. On the committee with him, in addition to the treasurer, are J. Hunter White, A. H. Chipman and D. H. Nasse. The chairman of the other committees are as follows:--Devolitional, Rev. W. Camp; personal workers, Rev. W. M. Brewer; advertising, A. W. Robb; entertainment, R. D. Smith; music, John F. Bullock; building, W. M. Kingston; heating, A. W. Robb; lighting, W. A. Stepler; decorating, Alex. Thompson, and seating, R. H. Cother.

How It Grows.

At the end of the year there would be 4,000 at the end of two years there would be 5,000, at the end of three years 10,000, at the end of four years 20,000, at the end of five years 40,000. There would have the whole population of St. John.

He told one little story at the close of this that touched the hearts of his hearers more than anything he has related during his meetings.

It was the story of how a woman with a heart of pure gold, filled with love for Christ and for sinners' souls, had reclaimed a wretched, content woman in one of the jails of the North, and through her reclamation had made it possible for others to be saved by securing the employment of a madman in the city prison.

This story will live with those who heard it many days, and always it will serve to prove that there is nothing to be accomplished in this world by the winning of souls--there is always a place and a time for it, and it is always effective.

A large number at the close of the meeting responded to the call to lead a better life.

The Evening Meeting.

At last evening's meeting the doors had to be closed long before the hour set for opening, so great was the press of people to get into the rink.

Dr. Torrey preached from the text, "I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto Thy testimonies."

A good many years ago, he said, I was talking to a young society woman in the city of New Haven, Conn., and suddenly she stopped me and said, "Don't let me think it makes me think, and I hate to think." The world is full of people who hate to think, and because they hate to think they go into things blindfolded, and

FIRST REPORT OF MR. KING

Minister of Labor Gives Number of Disputes As 69, Of Which 19 Were Adjusted By Department.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.--The first report of the department of labor since it has been under the undivided attention of a minister, has just been issued. The number of disputes dealt with under the Lennox act was 30 and total references since its enactment, 82. The report states that applications have been received by the minister for the extension of the act to industries other than those to which it now relates.

Inquiries continue to reach the department almost daily from different parts of the world, for the fullest information as to the operation of the act, showing how ineffective existing legislation on the subject in most countries is conceived to be.

The chief disputes arbitrated under the act last year were: Railways, 12; coal mining, 9, and freight handlers, 2.

Only in four cases was there a failure to end the dispute. The total number of disputes in 1908 and 1909 were 69 each, as compared with 104 in 1901; 123 in 1902; 150 in 1903; 103 in 1904; 87 in 1905; 139 in 1906 and 151 in 1907.

During the year 1909 there were reported to the department 1279 fatal and 9718 serious non-fatal industrial accidents. This is an increase of 7 fatal and 441 non-fatal accidents over the previous year. Two hundred and eighty-three fatalities occurred in the railway service, 256 in agriculture, 160 in mining and 130 in lumbering. One thing without which it was a schedule for insertion in public contracts were furnished by the department.

The total number of fair wage schedules prepared since the inception of the policy is 1750 of which almost one-half have been for the department of railways and canals and over one-third for the department of public works.

3,000 Young Men Honor Comrade Who Was Victim of Game at Halifax--Remarkable Tribute Paid.

Halifax, Nov. 13.--Three thousand young men followed the remains of R. W. MacLellan to their last resting place yesterday afternoon. The funeral at half past two from the residence of his parents, Postmaster Inspector and Mrs. MacLellan, Ingle street and thence to Fairview cemetery was a memorable one.

The circumstances in connection with his death charged with profound solemnity the simple services conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. W. MacMillan, pastor of St. Matthew's church, Comrades of Dalhousie University and of the Wanderers Club acted as pall-bearers and in the great throng who witnessed the committal of the body to its last resting place, young men largely predominated. Never has such a gathering as this been seen at a funeral in Halifax. As the character of the gathering was a remarkable testimony to Mr. MacLellan's popularity and to the sorrow which his death has caused, so, also was the lavish gifts of flowers. Rarely have so large and so beautiful tributes been seen at any funeral even in official circles.

Christmas Face Beginning to Shed Gloom on Streets--English Painter's Work Captivates Religious New England--Many Women Survey Election Returns--Musical Books from Vatican

Boston, Nov. 12.—Boston, bibulous or otherwise, seeing crimson, green or blue, according to its individual leaning, and with the political dog out of the system, one hears little else but talk of tickets for the great games, interspersed with speculations as to Yale's coming back. Bets are being laid by sober-minded citizens who heretofore never took the slightest interest in the football results. The girls are wearing the smalls that went come of whenever a young man appears who is likely to have a little extra ticket in his pocket, and the university graduate has attained a height of importance and distinction to which his wildest dreams had not aspired. The only trouble is that there are too many of him to suit the undergraduates and not enough of him to suit his friends.

It was notable during the flashing of the election returns in Newspaper Row that hundreds of women were in the densely packed throng and evinced as much enthusiasm in the results of the voting as did the men. Women are evidently doing more than wave yellow banners and talk.

The Christmas face is seen on every downtown street nowadays and, in the words of Jennie Allen, "it's more than the bicycle face or the motor face. It's the worst face there is." The stores are filled with gorgeous displays of gifts reasonable and otherwise, and as the crowds increase every day one hears the same old cry of regret that the Christmas gifts were not decided on and purchased weeks ago. It seems to be a lesson that is never learned.

A New England public, of the kind that does not necessarily care so much for the current art of the age based on Parisian technique and disregard of subject, are enjoying a treat in the words of the famous English painter, Thomas E. Mostyn, who though he has attained an enviable reputation throughout England and the continent is, like many estimable British artists, not so well known on this side of the Atlantic. Mr. Mostyn's much discussed masterpiece, "The Temptation, or Christ in the Wilderness," has held many a visitor from the hinterland fascinated on entering the darkened ante-room of Copley Hall where this work is hung in impressive solitude. The solemnity of the work is felt from the first, while its dignity and simplicity accentuate the depth of thought and imaginative power of the artist. Preachers say that rarely have Bostonians seen a religious painting which embodies a more noble conception and that imaginative power is the keynote of much of Mr. Mostyn's more recent work. In his visionary landscapes at all events, are found a departure from the hide-bound conventions of British art. The more grey-blue mystery of "The Wood beyond the World," the city of dreams growing out of the white rolling clouds far out over a hazy sea, in "Atlantis," the deep purples and high lights softened by a filmy veil in "The Prayer," the remarkable work entitled "The Cardinal"—these are only a few of the

SAINT JOHN, MONDAY MORNING, NOV. 14, 1910

THE TORREY CAMPAIGN.

The Standard publishes this morning full and complete statements in connection with the inception, organization, and management of the Torrey campaign. The afternoon papers on Saturday published similar statements with the exception of some details which the Standard supplies. This wide publicity, showing the entirely satisfactory way in which the campaign is being conducted, follows the action of the Standard in calling attention to certain unpleasant rumors in circulation, and which, it was suggested, the committee would do well to answer.

The course the Standard took had precisely the effect it was intended to have. These rumors had been in circulation for some days, they were heard on the street, and in the newspaper offices. By making public, in a guarded reference, the substance of these rumors, by calling the committee's attention to them, and suggesting that a statement giving all the facts should be published, matters were brought to a head. Statements giving facts and figures in connection with the organization and conduct of the campaign, showing conclusively that these rumors were without foundation, promptly appear in three St. John papers, and presumably will appear in the Telegraph. This has cleared the air as no newspaper could have done it.

Some criticism has been directed against the Standard for not intervening in the committee before making any public reference to the matter. This criticism would be just if an ordinary interview in one newspaper denying that there was any truth in certain rumors, would have met the case. The object the Standard had in view, in touching upon the subject at all, was to secure the widest publicity possible to the committee's statement. The situation once created, the evening papers followed it up as a matter of news. The fact that the Times was small minded enough to make the most prominent feature in its report, "The Standard's dastardly attack on the Torrey campaign," and suppress all but one sentence in the Standard's article, is immaterial. The Times published the committee's reply, which was much more important. Members of the committee who were inclined to resent the Standard's action, failed to realize that, while they were thoroughly conversant with all the facts, the general public was not, and that they were probably the last persons to hear the rumors referred to.

Nothing published in this paper could fairly be construed into an attack on the Torrey campaign. Summing up the situation on Saturday, the Standard said: "These unpleasant rumors may have been put in circulation under a misapprehension of the circumstances. There is no denying the fact that they exist. A full statement from the committee, by setting 'inquiring minds at rest, will tend to help, rather than 'hinder, the work'."

Rev. J. C. B. Appel, secretary of the Torrey campaign movement, expresses the opinion held by the Standard: "He was not sorry," he said, "that it occurred, as it gave an excellent opportunity to lay the exact situation before the public." It is no small satisfaction to the Standard, to know that the end sought has been attained.

HOME RULE.

The addresses which Mr. O'Connor delivered in the course of his pilgrimage through Canada are having the effect of stimulating interest in this question among active politicians in Great Britain. Mr. Flewelyn Williams, M. P., discussing in the Morning Leader the question, "Is Home Rule all round the way out?" says: "Some change is imperatively required, not only for domestic but also for Imperial reasons. Imperial Federation which was the dream of Liberals thirty years ago, has entered the domain of practical politics. The consolidation of Australia into a commonwealth and the union of South Africa have placed the matter on a different footing. It used to be thought that the distance of Australia or New Zealand from London was too great to permit of an Imperial Senate. But science is daily improving the means of transit, and Canada is today nearer the metropolis than the Shetlands were a hundred years ago. The real difficulty in the way of federation is the character of Parliament. The House of Lords can never be transformed into an Imperial Senate. The hereditary principle must go. The House of Commons also stands in need of reform. As Mr. T. P. O'Connor said the other day at Toronto, Parliament cannot both be local and Imperial."

"Another factor which will help to expedite a settlement will be the Osborne judgment. That famous decision, which was regarded in some quarters as a blow to democratic representation, will have some startling and unexpected results. It has made payment of members inevitable—Mr. F. E. Smith has declared definitely in its favor; several of the more influential of the Unionist organs have burnt their boats on the question. Mr. Balfour did not pronounce against it, though it is evident that he does not like it.

"Payment of members is no newfangled doctrine. It is the practice of every civilized country in the world except ours. It was for centuries the custom of England. There is still on the statute-book, unreppealed, an enactment (25 Henry VIII. c. 11) that every knight of a Welsh shire should be paid 4s. a day, and every citizen burgess from Wales 2s. a day. The value of money in those days was 12 or 15 times as much as it is today. It may be said that English members have allowed the old custom to lapse; but the statute which enjoins payment of the Welsh members cannot be regarded as obsolete. Sir Rufus Isaacs indicated pretty plainly at Manchester on Friday last that the government mean to deal with the matter without delay. We may take it, then, that we shall have payment of members. It will cost the taxpayers of the country something like £200,000 or more a year. Is it to be supposed that the country will go to this expense, and allow the Lords their veto? When once M. P.'s are paid the Lords' veto will be gone. They will be as powerless as an unpaid magistrate sitting with a stipendiary.

"What, then, is the remedy? Whatever it be, it must be adequate and complete. It must remove the congestion of business at Westminster, and restore in this way the old freedom of debate; it must do tardy justice to the just demands of the smaller nationalities; it must give to the people of England the right of self-government; it must provide, at least, a nucleus for an Imperial Senate. The remedy must be 'Home Rule All Round.' Scotland and Wales are ripe for it; Mr. Redmond's recent declarations indicate that Ireland is ready to accept it; the utterances of Mr. Birrell, Mr. Lloyd-George, and the Master of Ewbank show that it is engaging the attention at least of the Liberal leaders; and it may be that it is being discussed in the Conference itself."

THE HYPOCRITICAL TELEGRAPH.

Much New Brunswick money goes into fruit lands in British Columbia. It might better be invested in fruit culture in the St. John valley, and along the Kennebecasis and Pettitocadie. Experts say New Brunswick has more than a million acres of land fitted to produce good apples. In the West the fruit land is high in price, and much of it has to be irrigated. Here the land is cheap and the rain never fails. And our apples are better than those they grow in the West.—St. John Telegraph.

Commenting on the above, the Fredericton Gleaner says:—"Yet when the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association, co-operating with the Agricultural Department of the Provincial Government, held their annual Fruit Exhibition at St. John last week, the Telegraph did all it dare do to minimize the exhibits. The exhibition was the most successful ever held in Canada. The fruit was pronounced by competent judges vastly superior to any other on the market. Every exhibit was the product of New Brunswick.

"The people interested were delighted with all that they saw and were called upon to be the judges of. They became enthusiastic over the possibilities, and were highly encouraged to see the active interest that farmers and government were taking to develop fruit culture in this province on a profitable basis. Yet, because it is the Hizen Government who are encouraging the development on modern lines, the Telegraph concluded it to be a political party duty to shut its eyes to the good results that are being accomplished through the enlightened policy of an active government to whom it is opposed."

BRITAIN'S ANNUAL DRINK BILL.

Mr. G. B. Wilson, secretary of the United Kingdom Alliance, has just submitted to the London Times the annual estimate of Great Britain's drink bill for 1909. The total amount is placed at nearly $770,000,000. This, however, while large enough, is a decrease on the figures for 1908 by $29,000,000. To this national bill for intoxicants England and Wales contribute nearly $643,000,000, and Scotland and Ireland each about $66,000,000.

The average per head of population is estimated at nearly $18.00 for England and Wales, over $12.00 for Scotland, and about $15.00 for Ireland. It is estimated that only about 55 per cent. of the people consume these liquors, so that the average for the drinking public will be nearly double these figures, and will be about $33.00 per head for the English drinker, $24.00 for the Scotch drinker, and $27.00 for the Irish drinker.

A statistician figures the average family as consisting of five persons, so that each family in England and Wales consumed on the average, 4 barrels of beer and 6 gallons of spirits, wine and other liquors, the average Scotch family used only about 1.5 barrels of beer and 7.5 gallons of spirits, etc., while the average Irish family used 3 barrels of beer and about 5 gallons of spirits, etc. Two-thirds of this enormous drink bill is supposed to be paid by the working classes.

Current Comment

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

That our navy is a war navy is manifest from the manner in which the Liberals are fighting about it. Scarcely had the battle of Drummond and Arthabaska been fought when a conflict broke out in Halifax. The Halifax patronage committee has discovered that the Globe was provisioned in England, and that she has her larders so full that there will be no orders for the spoilsmen for some time. Against this outrage it has protested, and it has proposed that in order to render a repetition of the disaster impossible the patronage be taken from Messrs. Roche and Carney, the defeated candidates for the city, and be given to more reliable men. Of course, one of the chief objects of the navy will be lost if the right of the party men to furnish supplies is not recognized.

(Toronto World.)

In so far as it affords an indication of the trend of political sentiment in England, the result of the November municipal elections is distinctly unfavorable to the opposition. The figures returned on the following day showed Liberal gains of 60, Labor and Socialist gains of 24, and Unionist gains of 43. Unless the complete results change the general balance, it will temper the ardor of the opposition extremists who have been requiring Mr. Balfour to force the fighting.

(London Free Press.)

The Toronto Globe says Sir Wilfrid Laurier may with as much reason be expected to recede from his navy policy as that Magna Charter will be repealed. But why should it be thought a thing impossible that Sir Wilfrid will change his mind? Are not the records replete with instances in which he has done so. However, the Globe probably speaks from experience on the naval issue. It advocated two Dreadnoughts, and three if necessary, but Sir Wilfrid had Quebec in mind and set up a policy of tin pots, whereas the Globe swallowed its Dreadnoughts.

(Stratford Beacon.)

Canada has six cases of typhoid per head of population to Scotland's one, which ratio, among other things, shows the necessity of speedily passing that conservation commission act of parliament that will prohibit the deposit of sewage or garbage in the running streams of the country.

(Vancouver Daily Province.)

The remarkable operation of grafting a cheek was performed in a London hospital the other day. Graft and cheek have been frequently known to assimilate without the assistance of surgical skill.

(Victoria Colonist.)

Every now and then some paper will talk about the union of the Maritime Provinces. The people who seem to take the least interest in the notion are those who live in those provinces.

SILENT VOICE ELECTED DIX

(Bache's Weekly Review)
The power that elected Dix governor of the state of New York was not, in the last analysis, the votes of Democrats and Republicans which gave him a plurality of 66,000. These were the instruments which effected it, but the power that gave him victory was the 200,000 Republicans scattered throughout the great state, who did not vote at all. These men were staunch Republicans, who could not decide to cast a vote against the party to which they had held allegiance for many years. But, inasmuch as a vote for that party meant this year, approval of wild demagoguery, they stayed their hands; and the abstention was a stunning rebuke to the radical and restless which had seized the party by the throat. Does anyone doubt that these men would have voted the Republican ticket this year, as they have for many years had stimulus of a conservative Republican principles been the issue? And unquestionably, that powerful stream of votes would have swept Stimson into office.

Herein lies the assurance of Republican victory in 1912, provided only that a sane man shall head the ticket, pledged to conservative Republican principles, and during the next two years Mr. Taft will be tried out and if he abandons the kotow to Roosevelt's methods and decides questions on their business merits and not on the political gusts that blow here and there, the great state of New York will be solidly for him in 1912 by virtue of an extra session of 200,000 which stands in reserve ready to elect him again to the Presidency.

A Lesson to the Administration.
The chastening influence of a great defeat for his party will, it is hoped, educate Mr. Taft to sturdy, prompt action on the lines of business sense and his own good judgment, cutting loose from the influence of Rooseveltism. Thus far he has been lamentably deficient in these directions. The calling of an extra session at the very first, to revise the tariff on the old logrolling plan, was a mistake. Tariff revision was in the Republican platform, but it was not then a vital issue. The people were anxious to repair the damages of the panic and to attend to business and make money. Business was held back all summer awaiting the convening of a special session was to be called, the President should, as its only object, have insisted upon a Tariff Commission for gradual and deliberate revision. This could have been effected, as it finally was, and everybody would have been satisfied. As it was, when the tariff bill came to him for signature, he hesitated, instead of moving downward, revision, he should have vetoed the bill. It would have made a great leader of him. But he sinned it and defended it and finding out west that he had raised a storm, he reverted to Roosevelt methods to restore his popularity. This was a failure. The West would not be content with an extra session at the East turned against him because the broken promises to give business a rest and to amend the Sherman Act so that legitimate business could proceed honestly under the law.

The President's Solemn Day.
Mr. Taft's great opportunity is before him. Still more months still remain of dominant Republican power. Two things should be done.

A Currency Reform bill should be put through and the Sherman Anti-Trust Act should be amended. These would be acts of business sense and of the highest statesmanship. Nothing before the country begins to equate in importance. The task is not impossible of performance. The time is ripe to cut loose from political duplicity and to move about these two great movements for the material and lasting benefit of the country.

A magazine of destruction lies spread under our whole unshaken structure, by reason of our defective and dangerous currency system, and the smouldering fires are creeping to wards it. This is the Currency Situation.

The Sherman Anti-Trust Act threatens ten thousand millions of capital with disorganization and thousands of corporations, large and small, will be dissolved in readjustment, but the law is translated by the Supreme Court to mean what it says.

Here are imperative duties for a great President to perform. Will Mr. Taft rise to the tremendous responsibility which rests upon him? He has the ability to accomplish the task. He has courage and honesty. The reward, if he is successful, in the knowledge of far-reaching and long-lasting benefit to millions of people, is beyond computation.

RETURN TO WARD SYSTEM ADVOCATED

W. D. Baskin Charges That Secret Society Was Instrumental in Adoption of Present Method.

To the Editor of The Standard: I notice in your issue of Nov. 11 that Ald. Smith will introduce a motion asking for an amendment to the charter providing that in the event of a ward alderman resigning or dying at any time between the regular election dates, the vacancy shall be filled by an election in which only the citizens of the ward shall vote. This is a step in the right direction, but only a step. I hope the alderman will see his way clear to the right way, and move that the charter be so amended as to allow us to go back to the ward system, which I have good reason to know is favored by a majority of the voters of this city. It is quite true that a plebiscite a few years ago gave, or was interpreted to give a small majority for the present system, but it was not really a majority for the system.

It will be remembered that three systems were voted upon. The at large, the ward, and the district system; and the district system, which is only a slightly modified form of the ward system. These last two had a substantial majority over the at large system, which proved quite conclusively that a majority of the voters were not in favor of that system. If any citizen desires the return of this fact he can easily secure it by conversing with any given number of voters, especially among the working men.

The fact that it was owing to the activities of the members of a certain secret society that we are saddled with this unsatisfactory system is quite well known. I would respectfully urge as reasons why the present system should not be allowed to continue, first, the fact that it frequently happens that a candidate receives a large majority in his own ward falls of his election in other wards where he is not known at all. Surely the people of the city should be the best judges of the men whom they wish to represent them, but their vote is often lost and their candidate defeated by the votes cast in other parts of the city who know neither of the candidates and vote as they are asked to by the representatives of some society or clique who have, or think they have, some interest in the contest.

Again the present system gives a greater advantage to the corporation if they choose to interfere in the civic contests. They might, by using their influence over the whole city, be able to defeat any alderman, while if he represented only his ward they could not control votes enough to defeat him.

For these and many other reasons that cannot be urged without making this letter too long, I would respectfully urge that the necessary steps be taken to change the present system and generally unsatisfactory system of electing our aldermen.

OBITUARY

Marie Elizabeth Fawcett, daughter of Fred R. and Beatrice J. Benn, Fawcett, died at their home near Woodstock on Friday, November 4th, at the age of 2 years, 4 months and 12 days. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 6, at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. Weddall conducted the service at the home, where a few of the neighbors and the relatives were gathered. He preached from the words found in Second Kings 4th chapter and 26th verse: "Is it well with thee? Is it well with thy husband? Is it well with the child?" The deceased was a patient little sufferer for over eight months of a disease that seemed to baffle the skill of the doctors, he said. She was very endearing to every one who knew her, and seemed to live in advance of her years. She was fond of music, and many times in her own sweet way she would sing the chorus of her favorite piece, "Lord, I'm coming Home." On her mother's knee at the piano a few hours before her death, she sang it for the last time on earth, but now she was singing the glad new song in Heaven.

The singing was conducted by the Misses Weddall and Montgomery. The selections were—"Safe in the arms of Jesus," and two lay verses of "Lord, I'm coming Home," and "Beautiful beckoning hands." At the close of the service the funeral procession proceeded to the Methodist cemetery at McKenzie's Corner, where the interment was made. Rev. E. Ramsay, of Debeo, had charge of the burial service.

James W. Beaman, a well known resident of the North End, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of his son-in-law, John Appleby, 39 Albert street. Mr. Beaman was 69 years of age and had been in poor health for some years. On Saturday he was suddenly afflicted with heart failure, which resulted in his death yesterday. Mr. Beaman is survived by a widow and two daughters, Mrs. Appleby, with whom he lived, and Mrs. Joseph McLeellan, of Atlantic, Mass., and one son, Herbert Beaman, also of Atlantic. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon.

Guessed Candle Light. The result in the "guess candle contest" of the Imperial Oil Company at the Dominion Exhibition is now made known. The candle burned 626 hours, 59 minutes and 42 seconds. The nearest guess, 625 hours, was made by C. W. Hurst, of Hartland, N. B. The next nearest was 616 hours, by Mrs. Woodley, St. Paul street, city. The winner secures a handsome "Rayo" student lamp. There were in the vicinity of 2000 ballots cast. The candle weighed 40 pounds and was 5 feet long and 5 inches in diameter.

Nickel's Good Show for Today. The Nickel's opening bill for the week contains much that is meritorious. Those who enjoy travel pictures will like the trip in Saskatchewan by Canadian Northern Railway, which will give home folks a clear idea of the country in that important section of the Dominion. "The Chink of Golden Gulch," is a Biograph production of a western character, quite novel in conception and finely enacted. The comedy section of the bill is certainly rich, consisting of two big gaily stories—"Who's Who?"—a merry tale of a clergyman and boxer who are mistaken for one another, and "Where is My Purse?"—a mother-in-law joke. RED CROSS SEALS ARE DISTRIBUTED

Millions to be Used Before Christmas in Aid of Anti-Tuberculosis Campaign—40,000,000 Already Printed

New York, Nov. 11.—Judging from reports at hand today, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis estimates that by December 1st, not less than 75,000,000 Red Cross Seals will have been distributed to selling agents in forty different states of the country.

Forty million seals have already been printed and another large edition is being prepared. Agents ordered to date aggregate all of that amount and a considerable number have not yet started how many seals they can use. Taking into consideration this latter class and the agents who will be appointed before December 1st, the prospects for selling 100,000,000 stamps, which is the goal that has been set by the national workers, are extremely bright.

Over 30 state societies have organized the sale on an extensive basis and in about 10 more states, Red Cross Seals will be sold in some places. All told, including state, city, county, and sub-agents, an army of fully 20,000 men, women and children will be engaged in selling the bright Christmas Seals for the prevention of tuberculosis. Permission to sell seals in the corridors of all post-offices has been granted by Secretary Hitchcock. They will also be on sale in department stores, hotels, railway stations, drug-stores, and in thousands of other places.

Every conceivable device for advertising the seals is being prepared. In some places valuable prizes will be given. Millions of slips, posters, post-cards, and other kinds of literature will be distributed calling upon the public to buy Red Cross Seals.

Among the agencies that are co-operating with the Red Cross and the tuberculosis societies are women's clubs, lodges, labor unions, business men's associations, stores, banks, newspapers, and thousands of school-boys and girls.

Every seal is a bullet in the fight against tuberculosis in the community where it is sold, and a million dollars from the sale for the stamping out of this plague is the object of the Christmas campaign.

son will have new songs. The children's new Christmas contest "Tri-Lets," or sentence building for cash prizes, is already in full swing. See advertisements and circulars for particulars. First awards made next Thursday.

Heavy Damages Claimed. It is understood that W. P. Schaffer, a merchant of Blackville, is bringing suit against the Intercolonial Railway for $20,000 damages. Mr. Schaffer was injured in an accident on an I. C. R. train on the 12th of July, two years ago. The train on which the accident took place was being run in connection with an Orangetown celebration, and consisted of 14 cars. It is said Mr. Schaffer bases his case largely on the ground that the train crew was insufficient to look after the safety of the passengers, there being only two brakemen on the train.

Brown in Benz Car Wins Grand Prize

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 12.—The New York boy who, four years ago, ran away from home to become a driver of a racing auto, today won the grand prize race, the blue ribbon event of auto contests. Speeding faster and farther than man ever went before in an auto road race, this young man, David Bruce Brown, won by barely more than a second at the end of 41.2 miles. He flashed across the electric timing wire 1.42 seconds ahead of Victor Hemery, the Frenchman. His time was 5:53:6.77, and he made a new American record of 70.55 miles an hour.

Both Brown and Hemery drove Benz cars, so that the foreign machines triumphed over the American-made racers. "Wild Bob" Burman, driving the maddest race of his career in an American car, the Marquette, finished third, getting not only third money, but an additional thousand dollars for the first American driver to finish in an American car.

FREDERICTON AND ST. JOHN WELL MATCHED

Score 3-0 in Favor of Visitors in Hard-Fought Game on Saturday—High School Walks Over Carleton.

Three points acquired as a result of a pretty penalty kick from the 25 yard line, awarded for interference, gave the burly Fredericton team the victory over the Algonquins in a hard fought game on the Every Day Club grounds Saturday afternoon. Despite the advantage the visitors had in weight and practice, the teams proved to be very evenly matched, though as far as territory was concerned, the locals had the best of it. Several times the visitors were hard-pressed on their own line and only prevented a score by timely kicking and gains when the ball went into touch. Once the Indians would have scored a dribble if the forwards following had not mistaken the five yard for the touch line, and downed the ball only two feet short of the goal.

The game was marked by more or less severe injuries to St. John players. Sandy Thorne fared the worst, having his collar bone broken in a heavy tackle towards the end of the last half. H. Howard was kicked in the shin, and was out twice during the game. Smith had his shoulder wrenched just before the whistle blew for half time, but finished the game. MacKinnon's neck was given a bad twist. Owing, perhaps, to their seasonal condition and superior weight, the Fredericton men came through scathless.

A fair crowd assembled to see the game, played on a wet, slippery field, the clouds obscuring the sun overhead.

Fredericton kicked off against the wind and sun, and following up sharply on the ball into touch. The visitors gained steadily on the throw-ins, and played continued in Algonquin territory. The line was not in danger at this time, however, and aided by sharp work by quarters and some running by the halves, the Algonquin forwards began to shove the heavier Fredericton scrum. Play shifted to the opposite corner of the field, but Fredericton fought stubbornly. One the ball went over, but the man was forced into touch. The visitors gained in kicks and the ball went back to the Algonquin line. A score seemed imminent, but Smith relieved the situation by breaking through the Fredericton line twice on dribbles. He was hurt on the second, but the game was delayed for a few minutes. When play was resumed, the Algonquin pack carried the ball with a rush and got by Fredericton halves, Leonard following closely, dropped on the ball two feet short of the line, thinking he was over.

Second Half. The Algonquins kicked off in the second and held the ball in Fredericton's territory for some minutes. Then passed to the platoon across the field and one of the Fredericton men got away on a dribble. Melrose interfered rather flagrantly and Deedes was given the chance to try a kick. With his wind in his eyes he had no difficulty in placing the ball between the posts. This proved the only score of the game. The Algonquins were pressed on their own line and Deeds got over, but Melrose also had his hands on the ball. Neither team had any chance of a score after this. The Indians gained ground but did not get the ball past the Fredericton 25 yard line. Sadler dropped off the Fredericton team when Thorne was hurt. One of the playful Fredericton men caught Howard by his injured leg out of the way of an approaching scrum and was punished by a free kick being awarded St. John.

Individual Players. The game throughout was not fast but every inch of ground was stubbornly contested, the forwards doing most of the work. Turner proved a find at quarter playing a star game in getting the ball, but did not pass enough. Melrose made some pretty runs but was forced into touch before recovering.

For the Fredericton's Prof. Day gained much ground in the throw-ins from touch. Brooks and Babbitt seemed to be the men behind the clearing up, and frequently from behind the scrummage. The teams were: St. John. Full Fredericton, Finley, J. J. Jonah Halves. Howard, McKnight, Willis, Babbitt, Thorne, Jardine, Rutter. Quarters. Turner, Glynie, Simms, Sadler, McGowan, Brooks. Forwards. Day, MacKinnon, Wandless, Smith, Stubbs, Stephens, Leonard, Deeds, Greason, Clarke, Stewart, Colter, McLeod, Barker.

The junior game between High School and Carleton was snappier and much more interesting to the spectators. Plenty of clean passing, foot running and hard tackling made the game a spectacular one, and although one sided, the fact that Carleton was playing two men short must be taken into consideration. High School players were also in perfect physical condition and mention that some of the West Side boys occupied the intervening period between halves in smoking cigarettes is sufficient comment on the general condition. The team manager who countenances this sort of thing can never expect anything but the small

Papke Holder of Ketchell's Title

BILLY PAPKE.

Bill Papke, now in Australia, is the middleweight champion of the world, succeeding the late Stanley Ketchell.

Sam Langford has no claim to the title. Sam hasn't been a middleweight for so long he can't remember when he fought at 158 pounds. Sammy couldn't make the weight now unless he saved off a leg. That lets out Joe Woodman's meal ticket.

Sailor Burke isn't a near champion. The sailor's disposition to dog when the going is uneven puts him outside the pale.

Willie Lewis would last just about long enough with Papke to get warmed up, providing the Keweenaw Thunderbolt really wanted to put him away.

end of a 140 score. The would-be football players of today must learn to cut out the coffee naps. Play throughout the game was almost entirely in Carleton territory. Donnelly broke through the defense twice for two clean tries, but failed to convert in each instance. The High School captain scored once more in the second half and Harry who played over for the fourth try, converting it himself. The teams were: Carleton. Full. High School, Stewart, Hall, McQuade, Saul, Donnelly, Donnelly, Langman, Malcolm, Seely, Anglin, Carleton, Nobles. Quarters. Simpson, Nugent, Kemp, Machum, Murphy. Forwards. Walter Washburn.

There was considerable excitement about the corner of Union and Waterloo street Saturday afternoon about five o'clock. A 19 year old youth named Robert S. Evans, of Balls Lake, was intoxicated and while driving a horse attached to an express wagon, he took up more of the street than was necessary. He backed the team over the sidewalk and finished by colliding with a carriage in which was Walter H. Washburn. The carriage was upset and Mr. Washburn thrown violently to the pavement. He was carried into Clinton Brown's drug store and it was found that his collar bone was broken.

Evans was arrested by Deputy Chief Jenkins and is charged with reckless and willful misconduct while driving a horse, also with being drunk. Yesterday a deposit of $50 was put up for his appearance in the police court this morning and he was allowed to leave the station.

WINDOWS DEDICATED IN ST. JUDE'S CHURCH

Rev. G. F. Scovill Preached Eloquent Sermon at Dedicatory Service Yesterday—Special Music by Choir.

The two memorial windows in St. Jude's church, West End, were dedicated at the morning service yesterday by the rector, Rev. G. F. Scovill in an eloquent sermon. Taking as his text Matthew xxvi and 13, Rev. Mr. Scovill first referred to the Lord's sanctum for gifts to His house, and then in fitting terms dealt with the earthly memorials and the more lasting memorial of character building. A dedicatory service was held when the rector, coming to the body of the church, officially dedicated the windows. There was also special music by the choir which, under the direction of Ernest Scott Fenwick, has shown great improvement. The windows, which were installed in memory of the daughters of John Robson, of West St. John, and of Rev. D. B. Farmer, once rector of St. Jude's, are very handsome and prove an important acquisition to the church.

SNEAK THIEVES ROB CATHEDRAL BOXES

Church Not Exempt from Work of Bold Robbers—Padlocks Smashed and Considerable Sum Extracted.

About a year ago two boys from Boston were arrested and found guilty of robbing the St. Peter's church, taking away from the poor boxes and stealing the contents. The two spent a long term in jail. Yesterday it was discovered that church thieves were again at work, and this time the Cathedral in St. John. Some person had robbed the poor boxes and a considerable sum of money has been stolen. The boxes are locked by a small pad lock and by breaking the lock the thief was enabled to obtain the contents of the box.

The robbery has been reported to the police, and it is being investigated. There seems to be no clue to work on, and as the Cathedral is nearly always open, a thief had an easy chance to rob the boxes.
