FINE GRAMMAR SCHOOL FOR SUSSEX OPENED

Throng at Formal Exercises in the Handsome Building Monday.

Judge McLeod, Dr. Inch, Chancellor Jones, Dr. Kierstead Among the Speakers—Excellent Musical Programme in Evening—The Building Much Admired—Mr. Maxwell Speaks of Possibility of Agricultural School for Province.

THE NEW GRAMMAR SCHOOL IN SUSSEX

(Special to The Telegraph.) Halifax, N. S., Sept. 7.—Probably the greatest crowd that has ever been admitted to the exhibition grand stands, witnessed another splendid day's racing this afternoon. Every seat in the grand stand was sold, and hundreds paid for the privilege of standing in the paddock, and in the central enclosure.

The withdrawal of Peacherin, the Halifax mare, from the 2:15 class, deadened the interest in this event, as Laura Merrill took the race in straight heats, only one of which was ever in doubt. Major Wilkes, after making a neck and neck finish with the winner in the first heat, broke badly during the next two, and was beaten out for second position by Estill Boy.

Sleepy Jack after finishing last in the first heat of the 2:40 trot, went out and won the next three heats and the race. Maiden King getting second money by virtue of winning the first heat.

The 2:30 class trot and pace was called under the sundown rule at the end of the fourth heat, when Queen Marie had the race practically won, having won the third and fourth heats. The final heat of this race will be trotted tomorrow.

RECORD CROWD AT HALIFAX RACES

Hundreds Unable to Get Accommodation on Grand Stand

ST. JOHN MARE WINS Laura Merrill Captured 2:15 Event in Straight Heats—Sleepy Jack Landed the 2:40 Stake—Queen Marie Had Two Heats in 2:30 Race When Darkness Set In.

CRANK WANTED TO SEE ROOSEVELT

Held Up by Secret Service Men Near President's House

ST. JOHN MARE WINS CARRIED A REVOLVER

(Special to The Telegraph.) Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 7.—A crank, armed with an antiquated "bulldog" revolver, was caught near the president's house at Sagamore Hill, by the secret service guards this afternoon. The man described himself as John Coughlin, a detective, and when stopped by the secret service men, presented a card upon which was inscribed his name and the word "Officer." He said he had come to see the president to order out 10,000 troops to catch yegmen who had been terrorizing Boston.

Coughlin is supposed to have reached Oyster Bay on the 12:15 train. He walked the three miles to Sagamore Hill, appearing in the grounds shortly after two o'clock. The secret service man tried to confer with President Roosevelt concerning the recent outrages by yegmen in Boston and to lead back such troops as the president thought fit to order out. The secret service man tried to explain that the president was not seeing visitors at the moment, hoping to get him quietly out of the grounds. Coughlin hesitated a moment, glanced at his watch and then slid his hand toward the back pocket of his trousers. Adams took the hint and stepped forward, holding a .32-calibre revolver, which started the trouble. Sloan searched the prisoner and found in his hip pocket a .32-calibre revolver, which started the trouble. The weapon was wrapped in a wadded bag, and according to the secret service man, was not loaded.

According to the secret service men, Coughlin told them that he had been fined for three years in an asylum for insanity at Walpole, Mass. He declared that his enemies had placed him in the asylum because of his cleverness at detective work by graduating from a law school. In a hand satchel which Coughlin carried were found a bundle of Boston papers, in all of which the principal news item was the recent case of a determination of yegmen in which 500 police officers had been committed to jail. Coughlin declared that he had been in and out of the asylum and that he had been in the "first station" in Boston. Coughlin told the secret service men that he had first gone to Washington seeking justice. He said that his funds gave out in Washington and finding that the president was not there, he walked to Oyster Bay, Pa., and had then taken a train from the "first station" in Boston. Coughlin appeared so wandering in his mind that the secret service men were not inclined to regard him as all dangerous.

President Roosevelt had returned from a horseback ride only a short time before Coughlin appeared at Sagamore Hill. Beyond recognition he was taken to the crank and had not been informed of the occurrence this evening.

Newcastle, Sept. 7.—A meeting of the Limerick League, held yesterday in connection with the sale of the Earl of Devon's estate, led to riotous scenes, arising out of the rivalry between the followers of Wm. O'Brien, the Nationalist M. P. for Cork, and other sections of the party. The platform was demolished and S. J. Gearty, T. M. Keefe, M. Joyce and Michael J. Flavin, all members of parliament, were assaulted and received severe injuries in the melee. A large force of police had difficulty in restoring order. Lord Devon is selling under the Irish land act, some 35,000 acres of his property in County Limerick, practically everything he owns except his castle and park.

POLICE ARREST "RED" AGITATORS

Wild Time at New York Unemployed Meeting

ALEXANDER BERKMAN IN THE TOILS AGAIN FOR PREACHING ANARCHY -- YOUNG WOMAN SUPPORTER ALSO NABBED -- EMMA GOLDMAN DIDN'T WAIT FOR LIKE TREATMENT.

New York, Sept. 7.—An attempt was made today to turn a meeting of unemployed workmen into an anarchistic demonstration and for half an hour the big meeting hall in Cooper Union, where the meeting took place, was the scene of wild excitement, during which red flags were raised, the police denounced and incendiary speeches made. Alexander Berkman, the anarchist who some years ago shot Henry C. Frick, a steel company official, during the Homestead strike in Pennsylvania, was dragged from the hall by the police and locked up. A young woman who gave her name as "Mary Smith" and who stood by Berkman, was also arrested, and Emma Goldman, recognized leader of the "Reds" in this country, was made to leave the hall. Only the stern measures adopted by the police prevented the meeting from becoming an out-and-out anarchistic affair.

When the parade formed today there were less than 1,000 in line. A police sergeant recognized many anarchists in the parade. As the parade drew up in front of Cooper Union, a well-dressed man stepped to the side of Mr. How and asked him to have the hand play the Marseilles. Mr. How referred the man to the leader of the band. It was the playing of this air identified in past times with so much bloodshed, that started the trouble. As soon as the crowd had gathered in the hall, the band began to play the Marseilles and in an instant nearly everyone present jumped to his feet, cheering and stamping on the floor. Red flags appeared in many parts of the hall, but the police quickly made the hoisters of these put away.

Dr. Ben Reiman, who calls himself "King of the Hoaxes," and who was one of the first speakers, announced that his speech had been written by Emma Gold, a woman who present her name as "Mary Smith" fought her way to Berkman's side and urged him to take the platform to defend the anarchistic doctrines in which he believes. Several bluecoats surrounded Berkman, Emma Goldman tried to reach his side but she was stopped and the police told her to leave the hall or she would be arrested. She obeyed. Then the young woman who present her name as "Mary Smith" fought her way to Berkman's side and urged him to take the platform to defend the anarchistic doctrines in which he believes. New York, Sept. 7.—Four persons, believed to have been members of a group of employes working overtime, were burned to death tonight in a fire, supposedly of incendiary origin which destroyed a seven-story factory building on Water Street. The bodies, beyond recognition, were found on the sixth floor of the building, some time after the fire had been extinguished. Three of the victims were men and the fourth a woman. Up to a late hour none had been identified. Search is being made for other bodies.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 7.—The wool house and fertilizer plant of Armour and Company, in the Union Stock Yards, were destroyed by fire last night. The building was a five-story brick structure, covering an entire block. The fire was the fiercest experienced in the stock yards in seven years and attracted an immense crowd of spectators. The damage is $500,000.

ST. STEPHEN CARNIVAL DRAWS GREAT CROWDS

Amherst Firemen Capture First Prize from Many Contestants.

ST. STEPHEN CARNIVAL DRAWS GREAT CROWDS Many Beautiful Floats in Trades Procession—Sports Sharply Contested—Five Bands in Attendance—Good Programme for Tuesday.

(Special to The Telegraph.) St. Stephen, N. B., Sept. 7.—Today has been real carnival weather, the town has been thronged with visitors who began to arrive on early morning trains, boats and by teams from the surrounding country and continued to come until one of the largest crowds ever seen in town was moving on the streets. Residences and business places are gaily decorated. At 9 o'clock, four bands were playing in different centres of the town.

The athletic sports began at 9:30 on Water Street—100 yards dash was won by Harry Patterson, St. Stephen; Pierre Tarbox, Calais, second; Fred Kelly, St. Stephen, third. Time, 10 2/5 seconds. Boys 100 yards dash was won by Don Green, with Billy Hanson, Calais, second. Three-legged race was taken by James Greene and Hal Carter, with Patterson and Kelly, second. Wheelbarrow race resulted in tie between Patterson and Greene, with Young, third. Shortly after 12 o'clock those intending to participate in the grand parade began to wend their way to the park, and when the procession started at 2:30 o'clock, a most attractive parade had been formed. It consisted of decorated fire apparatus, equipped fire companies, fancy floats, farmers' teams, trades-representations, polymorphians, gent's driving teams and ladies' driving teams. The streets were lined and every available sight-seeing space was taken along the line of parade. It was headed by Surveyor General Grimmer and Lieutenant Colonel Chipman, as well as with others as aides. There were five bands in attendance and, with the variety of representations, presented a most attractive appearance.

Prizes for the best appearing fire company was won by Amherst, first, $25; Augusta (Me.), second, $10. The Augusta fire company carried a beautiful banner, on which was inscribed in gold letters, "Presented by Citizens of Augusta, to Fire Department, May 30, 1908." The Calais fire department won first prize of $15 for the best decorated fire apparatus, and Milltown (N. B.), second prize of $10. The prize of $15 for the best farmer team was taken by Eric Sawyer, of Lovell Hill. In the best trades representation, J. R. Sederquist, of St. Stephen, won an easy first, and took the $25 prize. This was a grand affair and consisted of immense display of floral decorations on a float drawn by four black horses. At each corner of the float was a staff supporting banners. The staff, on which was hung a heliograph banner, was trimmed with heliotrope and asters, and by it stood Miss Mabel Hawthorne, robed in a beautiful heliograph Grecian silk costume, and the staff which supported the pink banner was trimmed with pink asters, and by it stood Miss Zilpha Sullivan, who was robed in very pretty yellow Grecian silk gown, and the staff which supported the pale blue banner was decorated with pale blue asters, and by this staff, dressed in rich light blue Grecian silk, was Miss Lorena Hunt, niece of Mr. Sederquist. The Surprise Soap Company took second prize and Tyler's Excelsior Bottling Company gained third prize.

In the fancy floats, "Children's Wash Day" took the first prize of $25. On this float were Miss Gwendolyn Young, daughter of C. W. Young, president of St. Croix Soap Company, and Helen and Frank McNicol, niece and nephew of Mr. Young. Second prize of $10 was taken by Wa Wa Klub float on which were seven young ladies representing the British Colonies at peace. This float was surmounted by a white dove from which white ribbons were held by Misses Florence Nevenham, representing Australia; Alice Sullivan, representing India; Muriel Kierstead, as Angel of Peace; Louise McLomonge, Ireland; Amy Sullivan, Britain; Pearl Murchie, Scotland; and Jessie McWha, Canada, and driven by Hayden Murchie, as John Bull. Best polymorphian representation—First prize was taken by W. S. Stevens, who had ingeniously invented "The Coming Automobile," second prize went to "Hobo Band," which was a laughable farce; third prize was captured by "Gold King." Robert Webber, of Milltown, took first prize for the best gentlemen's driving team, and Mrs. C. A. Lindow took first prize for the best ladies' driving team. The St. Stephen fire company, although not prize winners, looked well in their new suits. They were headed by Chief R. W. Whitlock, and were mounted on white horses. The other members of the company were dressed in white suits. The judges were Peter Clinch St. John; C. H. Clerk, Calais; and F. C. Murchie, Milltown. This evening a grand ball is being given in the rink, and band contests in different parts of town. Tomorrow morning the motor boat races will take place, and in the afternoon the great horse contests at the park. Wednesday evening a boxing match will take place between Mike "Twin" Sullivan, and Dan Littlejohn, St. John. Other contests will take place between Young Cole, Biddeford; D. McLeod, Woodland; Young John L. Sullivan, Boston; Young Dixon, Pa.

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 7.—The annual match of York County Rifle Association was held on St. Mary's Range, today, with an attendance of about twenty-five competitors. John E. Page won the Edger Cup match, with a score of 88, at the King's Range. The Association Match, ten shots at 800 yards, was won by William Taylor, of Fredericton, with a score of 44. Page also won the Grand and Stanley Cup between teams of five representing Fredericton and Marsville, was won by Fredericton, with a score of 275 to 240. The picnic held at the Hermitage today, by the Fredericton Brass Band, attracted a crowd of about 1,500 people, and was very enjoyable. The Marathon race for boys, pulled off in connection with the event, was won by Thomas Coward. The course was three and one-half miles long, and the winner's time was twenty-six minutes. There was thirty starters, but many of them dropped out before the finish. Next day, the picnic was held at the Hermitage today and the holiday was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Many people spent the day out of town, and the chief attraction for those who remained was the picnic at the Hermitage. The weather was fine and cool.

THE RED YEAR

A Story of the Indian Mutiny BY LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," "The Captain of the Kansas," "The King of Diamonds," etc., etc.

He uncoiled a long cord from beneath his cummerbund, and running up the steps, adjusted it to a pillar of the baradari with an ease and quickness that showed familiarity with such means of exit from a closely-guarded residence.

"Now, you first, sahib," said he to Malcom. "Then we will follow you, sahib, and the burra-sahib can follow."

There was nothing to be gained by questioning him as to the nature of the mystery underlying the Begum's wish that they should go north.

Winifred, making the best of a man's crutch as they went, would admit of no difficulty in that respect. The fact that her lover was present had lightened her heart of the terror which had possessed her during many days.

"Forward, then!" cried the Begum. "Not too fast, you near the wall."

Frank loosened his sword from its fastenings and took a revolver in his left hand, in which he also held the reins of the horse.

"Take Winifred back to the angle of the wall," he whispered to Malcom. "You will find a bugler's post."

It was hopeless, he knew, to attempt to ride through the enemy's cordon. There would be a running fight against superior numbers, and Winifred's presence made that a hopeless resource.

"The troops will advance! Draw swords! Walk to the charge!" Chumra, though no fighting-man, realized that he was expected to make a run for it.

"I am coming," he cried. "What has happened? Where are you, Malcom?"

"Here, close to the wall. Look out there! Two savages are carrying off my niece. For Heaven's sake, save her! I am wounded, but never mind me."

He fell insensible, with part of his body resting in the water. It was a queer moment for noting a trivial thing, yet Frank saw that the man's turban did not fall off.

The incident did not demand more than a few seconds for its transaction and Malcom's eyes were turned to the water.

With a rapidity that was almost magical, the horses were put on board, the boat shoved off, and the huge Malcom looked her in his arms and carried her up the bank.

CHAPTER VI. The Well. Not until many months later did Malcom learn the true cause of Rohisnara Begum's anxiety that he and she should hasten to Meerut.

Not until many months later did Malcom learn the true cause of Rohisnara Begum's anxiety that he and she should hasten to Meerut, and let it be known on the way that they came from Cawnpore.

Winifred, naturally a high-spirited and lively girl, soon recovered from her fright and took a good deal of pleasure in the little of the tragedy enacted in Meerut.

While the majority ruled in one way there was an active minority that wished the Nana to set up an independent kingdom.

Hence, Malcom's arrival gave the Begum a chance that her quick wit seized upon. Why not, she argued, connive at the Englishwoman's escape, and let it become known that she had fled back to Meerut?

No more curious mixture of plot and counterplot than this minor chapter of the Bithoor romance came to light during that disastrous upheaval in India.

There was a name of violence, nearly culminating in murder, when Nana Sahib came to Bithoor at dawn. He met the scorn of Rohisnara with a furious rejoinder.

They were easily awayed. Acclaiming the Nana as a prince, they obeyed him, and thus sealed the doom of many hundreds of unhappy beings who thought until that moment they would be free of the British.

lowed by their deeds. And even the regular British troops, who had been ragged column filed along the road, the women and children in bullock-carriages or on elephants, the wounded in palanquins, the British and sepoy came clustering round the officers they had betrayed, and talked in wonder and admiration of the surpassing heroism of the defense.

Those men of the rank and file at least were soldiers. They knew nothing of the awful project concocted by the British and sepoy came clustering round the officers they had betrayed, and talked in wonder and admiration of the surpassing heroism of the defense.

The procession made its way slowly towards the river, three quarters of a mile to the east. No doubt there were joyful hearts even in that sorrow-laden band. Men and women must have thought that the day of their deliverance had come.

Then some one noticed that the thatch on one of the boats was smoking, and it was found that glowing charcoal had been thrown into the boat.

Awakened to the unspeakable treachery of their foe, officers and men rushed into the water, and the boats were split open and the boatsmen were killed.

W. B. DICKSON AWAY; EMPLOYER ACTS

W. M. MacKay Gets Absconding Debtor's Order; Amount Involved Large

OTHERS AFFECTED

Albert M. P. Seen at Vancorbore Monday, and Believed Now to Be in Pennsylvania—Several Operators Affected—Total Amount Said to Be in Vicinity of $80,000.

On an affidavit made by W. Malcom MacKay that Walter B. Dickson, M. P. P., for Albert County had obtained sums of money by forging contracts for lumber and that to the best of his belief the absconding debtor's order was granted Friday by Judge McLeod.

No information with regard to the matter could be obtained Friday from Mr. Dickson. A telephone report called at his office but he declined to be interviewed. Mr. Taylor was equally reticent, explaining that as his firm were not the lumbermen, he could make no statement regarding their client's business affairs.

Mr. Dickson, who was a former resident of St. John, had represented Mr. MacKay in Albert County for some years. In his relations with the firm, he acted as an agent, buying lumber and looking after the shipments. It is understood that he received specific instructions and had no general authority. He was also engaged in the lumber business on his own account and it is said that his creditors had recently been pressing him for payment.

No suspicion of the state in which his affairs were involved is reported to have been aroused in St. John until less than three weeks ago, when Mr. MacKay was surprised to find that there was only half a cargo of lumber for a steamer which had been sent to Hillsboro to load. Since then rumors of all kinds have been abroad, but it was not until yesterday that any definite action was taken.

Mr. Dickson was in St. John last week, and when questioned, said there was nothing in the disquieting stories concerning his position. He attended a political meeting in the Opera House while here and occupied a seat on the stage.

With George D. Prescott, M.P.P., he was elected last March as a supporter of the Liberal administration, and it was reported yesterday that as one of the Albert county representatives he had considerable sums of road money in his possession.

Hon. John Morrissey, chief commissioner of public works, when asked by telephone Friday evening if this statement was correct, said he did not think it at all likely that the report was true. The returns showing how the money had been spent are nearly all in, and while he could not speak from memory with regard to Albert county, he had no reason to suppose that Mr. Dickson carried on an extensive lumber business on his own account. It is said that some $80,000 is involved, the greater part since the local elections last March.

A number of lumbermen and others in Albert County are reported to be anxious about the case. Mr. Dickson was mentioned in the House by Isaac Prescott on Monday. From each Mr. Dickson is said to have borrowed $5,000 worth of lumber, which was carried on boats which had been chartered.

On his contracts to supply hemlock sleepers to the I. C. R., he had obtained lumber from a number of operators, among whom were Charles Wright and Owen Ryan, of Stony Creek. The losses were estimated at several hundred dollars in most cases.

As far as can be ascertained no legal proceedings have been taken to obtain recovery of the money. The losses were carried on the order of Mr. MacKay. One horse was bought by Rev. Father Lockery of Albert, the second went to Mr. MacKay in St. John. The first intimation that anything was wrong was the arrival of Mr. MacKay's son and a clerk about a fortnight ago. They spent a week going over the accounts and then took the books to St. John. No definite reason is assigned here to account for the sum said to be involved.

LAUDIER OPENS THE CAMPAIGN

Spoke to 10,000 People at Sorel, Quebec, Saturday Afternoon

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Premier Gives His Reasons for Seeking New Lease of Power—Time Not Opportune to Tell the Date of Elections, He Says.

Sorel, Que., Sept. 5.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier fired the first gun of the present campaign here this afternoon at one of the biggest outdoor meetings ever held in the district. There were fully 10,000 people gathered about the platform and the Liberal leader was warmly cheered by the crowd, although not 2,000 of them could hear much of what he said.

His speech was evidently in better health than he had been for some time, and appeared to be in the most buoyant spirits during an address of nearly an hour and a half.

The meeting was an impressive demonstration, naturally, since the town of Sorel is almost supported by the big government shipyards there. The premier was accompanied from Montreal by a ship load of enthusiasts and the party was greeted at this port with cannonading and fireworks from the shipyards and a procession formed to the Market Place where a large platform was erected. Hon. Messrs. Brodeur, Lemieux, and Bureau, as well as many provincial members, senators and deputies were present.

Mr. Laurier on coming forward was heartily cheered. The Grand Trunk Pacific, said Sir Wilfrid, was his greatest work, and he hoped that the big government shipyards there.
