ARRIVAL OF THE AMERICA.

By Telegraph.

To St. Andrews Reading Room.

WAR DECLARED!

The steamship America from Liverpool 1st April arrived at Halifax on Friday 14th inst at 3 A. M.
LONDON.—The Parliamentary debate on the Address to the Queen, of last evening, occupies 29 columns. War was formally proclaimed at London Royal Exchange on Friday, in presence of the Civic Authorities.
The Canada Screw Steamer Tenerife sailed Tuesday 28th from Liverpool for Malta, and the Cambria from Kingston, both with troops. The 5th Regt of Dragoon Guards were daily expected to embark at Liverpool for Bologna.
THE WAR.
The Hermand via Southampton carried out the formal Declaration of War of France and England, against Russia. Also brought notification that do Letters of Marque would be issued, that Russian produce, except contract of War, will be respected under neutral flags, and that Russian Merchants ships are exempt from capture until May 10th.
The War is to be in strict accordance with a treaty, between the Porte, France and Great Britain, signed on the night of March 12th, embracing five articles: 1st.—England and France engage to support Turkey, by force of arms, until the conclusion of a Peace that shall secure the independence and integrity of subjects of the Sultans dominions.
2dly.—The Porte shall not conclude peace without the consent of the Allies; 3dly.—The Allies shall evacuate the Turkish territories after the War.
4th.—This treaty to remain open for adhesion of other powers of Europe.
5th.—Turkey guarantees to all subjects of the Porte without distinction of creed, public equality of law.
Several protocols are attached regulating the details. Meanwhile the campaign has begun in earnest.
It is confirmed that the Russians have crossed the Danube in great force, the object being to strike a decisive blow before the arrival of Anglo-French under. On the 23d the Russian detachment under Gortschakoff, forced a passage of the Danube above Tulka, captured 11 guns and 200 prisoners, and occupied Tulka, and several forts on the right bank.
Gen. Luders crossed with the main body of the Army from Galatz without much loss.
Not less than 50,000 Russians are now on the Turkish bank. On the 24th Luders began preparations for the siege of Matschin.
On 23d the Russians attempted to cross the Danube at Ofentiza, when a desperate battle ensued, and the Russians were repulsed. The carnage was dreadful.
The Russians lost 3,000 men, and the Turks themselves were so badly cut up, that they had to retire to their entrenchments.
It will be seen however that the Russians effected a passage at three points—on the very day (23d) when they commenced to cross the Danube. Omar Pacha had intended to attack the Russian Head Quarters at Pofana.
The plan of battle was drawn up, and the entire force put under command of the French colonel Dien, but the Russian movement disconcerted the plan.

The Revelation of the secret correspondence between England and Russia.
A contemporary sum up the leading points in the correspondence:— Among the documents is a memorandum drawn up by Count Nesselrode in June, 18-44, and founded on communications received from the Emperor Nicholas when in England, which lays down the principles by which Russia and England agreed to regulate their conduct towards the Ottoman Porte. These principles embraced the independence of Turkey and of her existing territorial possession. Both Cabinets agreed that it was their interests to preserve the independence and that they would unite their efforts to avert dangers threatening to the safety of the Turkish empire; and that for this purpose it was essential to leave the Porte alone, with- out uselessly harassing it by diplomatic em- barrassments, and without interfering ex- cept in case of absolute necessity, in its in- ternal affairs.

For nearly 10 years the principles were mutually and faithfully observed, till on January 9th, 1853, the Emperor Nicholas, meeting the English Ambassador, Sir Hamilton Seymour at the palace of the Grand Duchess Helen, entered into a conversation with him, and this conversation appears to have been the first of the series of confidential communications.
The Emperor in this conversation intimated his conviction that Turkey was on the verge of ruin; that it was important that England and Russia should come to a perfectly good understanding in the matter; and that neither should take any decisive step of which the other was not apprised.— He disclaimed the policy of Catholicism.— He declared that if England should attempt to establish herself at Constantinople, he should not permit it, but that he was equally ready to engage not to take Constantinople at least as his own, for he did not deny that circumstances might occur to induce him to occupy Constantinople as a guarantee.

This conversation was reported to the English Government, and Lord John Russell, in reply to it, on the 9th of February, rejected the Russian overture, except in so far that the British Cabinet declared that they had no intention or wish to hold Constantinople, and that they would enter into no agreement to provide for the contingency of the fall of Turkey without previous communication with the Emperor of Russia. On the 28th of February, the emperor strongly repeated his conviction that Turkey was falling to pieces, and opened himself more fully to the British Minister.

The Emperor went to say that in the event of the dissolution of the Ottoman Empire, he thought it might be less difficult to arrive at a satisfactory territorial arrangement than was commonly believed. The English minister said, in fact, an independent State under my protection; this might so continue—Servia might receive the same form of government. Servia with Bulgaria; there is no reason why that province should not form an independent State.

As to Egypt, I quite understand the importance to England of that territory. I can then only say, that if, in the event of a distribution of the Ottoman succession upon the fall of the empire, you should take possession of Egypt, I shall have no objection to offer I would say the same thing of Candia; that island might suit you, and I do not know why it should not become an English possession.

Lord Clarendon replied to these disclosures of the views of Russia, in which he dissented from the opinion that the signs of Turkish decay are now more rapid than of late years; "there is still great energy and great wealth in Turkey a disposition to improve the system of government not wanting; corruption, though unfortunately great, is still not of a character, nor carried to an extent, that threatens the existence of the state; the treatment of christians is not harsh, and the toleration exhibited by the Porte towards this portion of subjects might serve as an example to some governments, who look with contempt upon Turkey as a barbarous power." The British Government decline to give any countenance to the ambitious views of Russia. The Emperor of Russia pretended to be satisfied with this answer, and ended the correspondence by a "Memorandum," dated April 15, 1853, recognizing all the principles contended for by the British Government was not to harass it by imperious demands, backed in a manner humiliating to its independence and dignity; and finally, declaring the readiness of Russia to labor in conjunction with England to prolong the existence of the Turkish empire. To all this the Emperor added that his son would be equally ready to perform all he had promised.

The Times remarks that at the very moment the Emperor Nicholas was making these promises, he was in the act of violating them; that at that time Prince Menschikoff had addressed to the Porte the project of a secret treaty; and that in fact the secret tra-ty itself and the memorandum above referred to, reached England within a few days of each other.

The Times thinks further that the publication of this correspondence will not fail to produce a powerful effect on the relations of Russia and England with the other powers of Europe. The language used by England throughout was in entire consistency with her friendly understanding with other powers; while every part of the conversations and communications proves that Russia was prepared to make a very little account of the other power, even of France, providing she would succeed in detaching England from them, in uniting her to the schemes of the Czar.

EDUCATION OF FEMALES IN FRANCE.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Courier, in a late letter, makes suggestions which are worth attention. He says: In France the ladies are educated in a manner to make them most agreeable in society; and while all are taught to keep the accounts of household expenses, many of a poorer class are taught book-keeping so thoroughly as to enable them to follow it as a profession. In almost every Paris shop, consequently, the books are kept either by the wife of the shopkeeper, or by some other female employed for the purpose. Thus the French system is to teach females the useful or agreeable, according to their worldly condition.
Our American system is to teach them a little of everything; in fact we take more pains with them than with our boys, though it would seem from the results that hitherto our efforts have been none the less directed. While we have female seminaries and colleges in which degrees are conferred, and which produce many shallow and disconcerted philosophers who immediately take the rostrum at public meetings, and have begun to invade the pulpit, we have very few who can take charge of a husband's counting room while he is engaged in the direction of other departments of his business. In Paris, you buy a carpet of your upholsterer, who shows the goods, makes all the necessary explanations, and sends it home. But when you pay, you walk to the next millinery desk where madame sits enthroned behind her large folio ledger, and it is with her you regulate the account.
The French tradesman's wife is no mere sleeping partner. She takes an active, useful part in management of affairs—she knows to what extent the business is prosperous—and is therefore never in danger, like many American wives, of demanding a new carriage or other extravagance, when her husband is on the point of failing. These remarks are suggested by an account of a meeting in London of the friends and promoters of the Hyde Park College for Young Ladies. If the English will occasionally borrow the notions of their younger brother Jonathan, it is a pity they do not make a wiser choice; it would have been much better, for instance, to have commenced as we did, with common schools for girls.

Distressing Case of Hydrophobia.—Mrs.
Hannah Willard was bitten by a rabid cat six weeks ago. She was about 55 years of age.
The cat came by her under some apparent excitement. Mrs. Willard put out her hand with the intention of soothing allaying its feelings. The cat instantly seized upon her hand and refused to let go until forced off; when it escaped out of the house, and returned again two day's after, when it attacked and bit another person in a similar manner, and she was then killed. Mrs. Willard submitted to the painful operation of having the flesh cut out around the parts of the hand that had been bitten, and the wounds have since become perfectly healed. Early last week she began to betray symptoms of hydrophobia, and the usual characteristics of that disease now attacked her with all their violence.— Although clearly rational, she found it impossible to refrain from continual talking—a cessation from which produced a feeling of smothering and difficulty of breathing. There a constriction of the throat, attended with spasms, which became more frequent, violent and distressing, to the termination of life. A dread of all sorts of liquid, the sight of which produced a painful shudder, was followed by vomiting. She gradually sunk until Friday morning, when her terrible sufferings terminated in death. We learn that Dr. Hawley of this city was bitten by the same cat. He was attending upon Mrs. Willard, and was bitten there.—Buffalo Express.

LARGE FLEET OF VESSELS DUE.—Owing to the late unfavourable winds, the daily arrivals at this port have been very limited, averaging more than about a quarter of the legiti-mate number. An immense fleet is consequently due, numbering some four hundred vessels. These comprise vessels of every class; and among them are many Liverpool, London, Havre and other packets and transient galleys from Europe and other quarters of the world. This is a much larger number due than has been for a long time. The appearance of some of the wharves indicates the purity of arrivals—some of the docks not containing more than half their usual quanty. The number usually in our harbour is generally above six hundred sail, while at the present they do not number much over four hundred. A favourable wind for a couple of days will materially change the aspect of things, by bringing a large fleet of anxiously expected vessels into port.—[New York Herald.

The New York Tribune says that Hon.
Thomas F. Marshall, of Kentucky, who middle a session twelve years ago as a temporance lecturer, has again become a sotish drunkard.

NOVA SCOTIA.

The Legislature of this Province, it is reported, will terminate its labours in a few days.
Both branches have addressed her Majesty expressive of their loyalty and attachment to her person and government, and assuring her she may rely with confidence on the Militia to defend the Province, should it be found necessary to withdraw the troops.

The following is the address of the Council:
"May it please Your Majesty,—

We, the Legislative Council of Nova Scotia beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments of loyalty and devotion to your Majesty's person and Government. We deeply regret that the peace, which has so long prevailed in Europe, is likely to be disturbed by the unprovoked aggression of the Emperor of Russia, rendering it indispensable on the part of your Majesty to take measures to restrain effectually his hostile intentions.
In the unanimous expression of really adherence and support which has been enthusiastically afforded to your Majesty by our fellow subjects in Great Britain, we cordially unite; and we beg to assure Your Majesty that if, in the disposition of your Army, you should deem it necessary to withdraw that portion which has been quartered in this part of your empire, Your Majesty may confidently trust that the utmost exertions of the Militia of this Province will be made for its defence.
Believing as we do that the cause in which your Majesty is engaged is a just one and equitable, we rely on the gracious favour of him who is the only Giver of all victory, that the blessing of peace may not be long decried to our country."

We copy below the address of the House of Assembly:
"We, Your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Nova Scotia, have learned with extreme regret, that your Majesty's Government has been compelled to fit out Armaments, and prepare for active hosilities, in order to maintain the faith of Treasuries, and guard the interests of the Empire from the aggressive spirit manifested by the Emperor of Russia.
Though far removed from what may be the theatre of War, Your Majesty's loyal Subjects in Nova Scotia will regard with grave solicitude, the operations of Your Majesty's Fleets by Sea and Land, and your Majesty may be assured that, wherever the National Flag is borne, their sympathies will follow it; and that, in triumph and disaster, the efforts of its gallant defenders will ever be marked with deep interest in this portion of the Empire.
Should the land forces now in this Province, be required elsewhere, Your Majesty may rely upon the loyalty and devotion of the Militia of Nova Scotia, who, until the return of peace in Europe, will defend their own Country, and protect Your Majesty's Forts and arsenals from Foreign aggression."

MASONS.
The diligent inquirer into the historical relations of building will assign a high place in his inquiry to the business of the mason. It would be difficult indeed to mention any other business so closely connected with the progress of our race, to which science and art are so much indebted, to which religion has lent many of its nobler influences.
The mason has joined together in one unbroken chain these two extremes of civilization.
His genius is alike conspicuous on the rudely sculptured pillar of the crumple, as on the exquisitely proportioned columns of the Pa-theon. He built the altars from which arose the smoke of human sacrifice, and he reared the temples in which no sacrifice is offered but that of a centric heart. Centuries before the dawn of civilization in the empires of the west, he constructed those monuments of rude but magnificent grandeur which moulder on the banks of the Ganges and the Nile. It was he who reared the stately temples to Minerva and Jupiter, which are so inseparably associated with all that is noble in Grecian philosophy, and all that is beautiful which followed the downfall of western civilization, when the temples of Rome were ruined, the palaces of the Caesars plundered, the Pantheon despoiled, the amphitheatres laid waste, it was he who reared up the noble piles of Christian architecture, which ushered in a new era in the history of the world, and another and a more beneficent period of human existence.—The Builder.

Mr. J. D. Holbrook, late city Treasurer of Williamsburgh, has been arrested on a charge of embezzling the city funds to the amount of about $135,000.
NEWFOUNDLAND.—We learn that Her Majesty's Government have signified their intention to concede to Newfoundland the same system of civil administration as is enjoyed by the other North American Colonies.

NEW BRUNSWICK. HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

FRIDAY, April 13th, 1854. Yesterday the House went in Committee of Supply in the morning, and passed several grants, chiefly recommended by the Select Committee on Coarriers and Ferries. The debates were uninteresting.

At half past 1 o'clock Mr. Earle moved the Orange Bill in Committee, pursuant to the order for the day. Mr. Barbic immediately rose, and said a debate upon this bill could not only lead to angry altercation, which must necessarily go abroad and cause much harm; he therefore deprecated a discussion, and hoped a silent vote would be taken.

Mr. Earle replied that he was quite satisfied the question should be put without discussion, but he had no authority to constrain others.

The bill having been committed and read (Mr. Cutler in the Chair,) Mr. Earle spoke very briefly in support of it, saying it was merely to give them the power to hold property. It is resuming his seat—evidently annoyed by the feeling generally prevailing throughout the House that there should be no discussion should be strictly confined to the question of right or wrong, or expediency, without going into the history of the institution, or the causes which led to its organization and perpetuation—when I say, Mr. Earle avoided these topics, he was called to his feet again, by Mr. Barbic, who demanded the reasons why there should be a Society of Orangemen at all, and why they should be continued by the House.

Mr. Earle's reply was as calm and unassuming as his opening remarks, and he was followed by Messrs. English and Wilmot, in very brief and very carefully worded speeches, in support of the Bill. Up to this time not one word had been spoken calculated to hurt the feelings of any one, or to provoke angry discussion. Mr. Barbic then rose, and for getting that he deprecated discussion, spoke for more than an hour, quoting from the Edinburgh Review, and other works—precisely the same passages read by Mr. Brown in 1849. He then went on to denounce the Orange organization as having been the cause of all wicked murders, and strife that had taken place in Ireland since the year 1795 and alleged that their advent in this country was a curse to it; with much more of the same kind.

Mr. Needham retorted upon Mr. Barbic in a speech of considerable length, and of great severity. He showed that the first Orange Society was formed in Londonderry, when the Pretence boys shut the gates, and hung up the flag of "No Surrender," he then gave a sketch of the history of the Society, and the struggles they have had from time to time with their opponents, contending that they were never the aggressors. He met the objection made by Roman Catholics that the Orange Society should not be incorporated because they are a secret Society by asserting that the Roman Catholic Church was supported by secret societies, viz: the several orders of Monks and Nuns, and yet the Roman Catholic Bishop in this Province was incorporated. He then read the Declaration of the Orange Society, and commented on it, showing that the Orangemen were not the wicked and murderous described by Mr. Barbic.

The Speaker then deprecated the wide range the debate was taking, and took Mr. Needham to task for having held up the Roman Catholic religion to ridicule. This Mr. Needham emphatically denied.

Mr. Boyd followed in a brief and conciliatory speech. Mr. Johnson then took the floor, and delivered himself of a long and exceedingly bitter speech; it was an exact counterpart of the speech delivered by the present Judge Wilmot in 1849. He represented the Orangemen as being the most wicked and bloodthirsty scoundrels that ever disgraced any country in any age. It being then six o'clock, the Committee reported progress.

This morning the House again went in Committee on Supply, and passed a number of school and other grants. At half past one the Orange Bill was again committed, when several members deprecating the course the debate took yesterday, and the angry feelings that must necessarily be aroused if that course was again pursued, expressed a hope that the question would be taken at once. Mr. Earle replied that he was willing, if it was agreed to by all hands. Mr. Gilbert, and Mr. Connell both stated that Mr. Johnson's bitter remarks ought to be replied to, and that they were prepared to do so, but would forego the occasion for the sake of peace. Messrs. Wilmot, Boisford, Smith, Harding, Street, and McPhelim all deprecated further discussion. Mr. Macpherson would not agree to it, and made a short speech, complaining that he had been recently denounced by the Roman Catholic Bishop from the altar, because he voted for the Orange Bill last year, and the Roman Catholics were instructed not to vote for him. When the question was then thrown down there could be but two parties, and being compelled to make his selection, he would support the bill again. Mr. Hatfield next made a brief speech in favour of the bill. Mr. Smith then rose and commenced speaking, stating his intention of going into the matter thoroughly, when Mr. Earle rose and again stated his willingness to take the question at once. There appearing to be a general disposition to do this, Mr. Harding moved the further postponement of the bill for six months. The question was then put, when the Committee divided as follows:—For the motion—Messrs. Street, Partelow, Montgomery, the Speaker, Smith, Boisford, Harding, Johnson, Kerr, Barbic, Read, Scoullars, Landry, Wilmot, Girdon, Rice, Jordan, McPhelim, Thomson, and Porter—20. Against it—Mr. Earle, Wilmot, Hayward, English

Siles, Godard, Taylor, Macpherson, Pickard, McLeod, Ryan, Parry, Boyd, Neelham, Connell, Gilbert, Earle, Robinson and Hatfield—19.

On the House resuming, they divided on a question of accepting the report, the division being precisely the same with the exception that Mr. Gower's name will appear in the place of the Speaker's.

All the members were present but Mr. Lewis, who entered the House a short time afterwards and stated that he had left the House for a short time, not having the slightest idea of the question being put so soon; and when he returned he found the vote had been taken. He desired that his name should appear in opposition to the postponement. The Speaker said it could not be done, as it would make an equal division.

The House then went in Committee on a bill to amend the Supreme and County Courts, passed several sections of it, and then reported progress.

It is said the liquor bill will not be committed again.—New Brunswick.

RAILROAD RETURNS.

We give below an abstract of the Annual Report of the Cabot & Baring R. R. made to the Secretary of State, showing the condition of that road Dec. 31, 1853.

Table with financial data for the Cabot & Baring R.R. including Length of Line (6 miles), Weight of Rail (55 lbs.), Capital paid in (810,000.00), Cost of Road (217,255.55), Amount of indebtedness (135,228.00), Due the Corporation (8,713.70), Number of passengers in 1853 (14,554), Total receipts in 1853 ($28,038.12), Number of Depots (1), Engine Houses (1), Shops (1), Engines (3), Cars (188), Number of Stockholders (55), Dividends in 1853 (6 per cent).

PERSPECTS OF THE LUMBER TRADE FOR 1854.

A Kingston correspondent of the Oswego Times & Journal who states that he has long been engaged in the business and derives all his facts either from personal observation or the most reliable authority, estimates the produce of sawed lumber that will be produced this year as follows:—From the northern portions of Michigan, 100,000,000 feet of which he thinks twenty millions of feet will be sent to tide water markets. Canada West will not produce the average supplies, partly on account of the foolish restrictions the Custom House authorities impose on this trade, partly from the deficiency of snow this winter, which prevented the millers from getting in their full supply of logs, and partly from the money advances by the merchants to the lumbermen not having been so liberal as formerly. He thinks that not over 75,000,000 feet will be made from the Canada side of Lake Erie, including the Grand River districts, and the neighborhood of the Welland Canal, and of this only from twenty five to thirty millions will be forwarded to the North River. From the head of Lake Ontario and down the Lake to the head waters of the Bay of Quinte, twenty millions from the Bay of Quinte, twenty to thirty millions from near Kingston ten millions.

This aggregate quantity is very considerably less than that produced last year, and taking into account with this, the increased value of lumber lands, the high rates of freight and the prospects of war in Europe, he concludes that the price of lumber for 1854 will be more than maintained.

THE COMING ELECTION.—We learn from a correspondent in Fredericton that there has not been much interest in political circles at Head Quarters this session, but that the coming struggle is looked forward to with much anxiety. The election is expected to come off in the latter part of May or early in June next. It is expected that the contest in York County will be severe. The Hon. Chas. Fisher and Messrs. Taylor, McPherson, Siget, Needham, Beckwith, Hatheway, Pickard and others are named as candidates. We believe it is not certain whether Mr. Fisher will come forward for York, but in the event of his doing so it is probable he will be successful.

There are several candidates named for St. John County, the most prominent of whom is our old and much valued friend Partelow, and from what we can learn of public feeling we are of opinion that he will not have much difficulty in being elected as one of our representatives. Messrs. Wilmot Godard, Gray, Ritchie, Simonds, and others of less note, are named also as candidates for the County. Mr. Ritchie's return is looked upon as certain.

In the other Counties our correspondent at Head Quarters thinks there will be a great struggle.—Courier.

New York, April 10. A letter from Washington published in the Express states that the British Government have notified the United States that immediately on the commencement of hostilities they will blockade all the Russian ports on the Pacific.

A LARGE FREIGHT.—The ship George

Phobody, of Boston, Capt. John Mouson, cleared at New Orleans 30th ult., for Liverpool, with a cargo of 4365 bales of cotton, weighing 3,057,933 pounds. Her freight and prime amount to the large sum of £7900 sterling, being probably the largest freight ever made from that port. From Mobile last year, Capt. Mouson, when in the ship Meridian, made a freight to Liverpool of £2490 sterling, being the largest up to that time ever made from America to Great Britain.

LOSTY TUMBLING.—Thursday morning a chimney sweeper came tumbling heels over head into the street opposite Mr. Musson's drug-store. The cap stones of the chimney toppled over and the man fell, grasping at the ladder which also gave away, but he suffered little injury beyond feeling queer and losing quite a number of particles like gold dust before his eyes.—[Quebec Gazette.]

THE 7th REGIMENT.—It is credibly rumored that the 7th regiment, will not be recruited from Quebec, as it would appear that the imperial government do not intend to reduce the military force stationed in Canada below its present strength.—(1b)

THE STANDARD. WEDNESDAY, APRIL 19, 1854.

ENGLISH NEWS.—On our first page we have given the telegraph Report of the important news received by the Steamship America, from which it will be seen, that England and France have formally declared war against Russia. Large bodies of troops have left England and France in route for the sea, and in great force, the object being to strike a decisive blow before the arrival of the Anglo-French force. An unprecedented rise in breadstuffs had taken place—withstanding the large supplies of Flour and Grain, in Britain and the Continent.

THE COURTS.—In advertising the sitting of the Courts, we inadvertently inserted, the "18th of April," instead of the 25th, for the meeting of the Circuit Court, an error which we now correct. We are also authorized by the High Sheriff to state, for the information of all concerned, that the Judge will open the Court on Tuesday-afternoon, after the arrival of the Steamboat, at which time, the causes for trial must be entered; but that the attendance of Jurymen will not be required until 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, the 26th April.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We have received a communication from one who styles himself "a friend to the Province"—but do not believe any good would result from its publication,—as it contained a statement reflecting upon some individuals which require confirmation. The proper method to adopt in such cases, is to make a specific charge over his proper signature, and give the papers an opportunity of admitting, explaining, or denying it.

"OBSERVER" RECEIVED.—As we could not find room for the whole letter in our present number, we prefer giving it entire in our next publication.

CONCERT.—We publish the observations of our correspondent, upon the Concert given by the Quartette Club, on Monday evening last, in preference to any remarks of our own.

MR. EDITOR.—Having been present at the Concert given on Monday Evening last, by the St. Andrews Quartette Club, I beg a brief space in your columns, to express my unqualified admiration of their performance on this, their first appearance as a club, before an audience capable of appreciating Musical talent.

Although they are very young men, being with one exception under twenty one years of age; and altogether self instructed, their skill and taste, in my humble opinion would reflect credit on more practised performers. I regret to be compelled to state, that the only drawback to the evening's entertainment, was the conduct of several grown up lads (probably self-styled men) who occupied the back seats, which to say the least, was in very bad taste, and in striking contrast to that of their youthful entertainers; they appeared to overlook the fact that in their aim to annoy one individual, they disturbed the whole audience. I trust the "Quartette Club," will at some future time, favor the public with another entertainment.

Yours, MUSA

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN.—The April number of this popular Magazine, published by MacLear & Co., Toronto, has been received. Besides its usual variety of entertaining and instructive matter, it contains a neat lithographed Map of the Seat of War, Russia & Turkey—a Paris Fashion Plate for the month

European Intelligence.

FOUR DAYS LATER. The Steamship Arctic, arrived at New York on the 16th. The Russians have gained important advantages over the Turks—Hissar has been captured, with several other strong points. Turkish force of 60,000 men concentrating to stop the Russian advance. Admiral Napier with 22 ships anchored off Moon Isle.

Fifteen Packet Ships were fitting out at Liverpool for conveyance of troops. The vote on the Address in the Queen was unanimous in both Houses of Parliament. Wheat advanced 2 1/2. Flour 6 1/2, since 31st March. Consols closed on the 4th at 86 1/2 to 87.

We learn from the Fredericton Reporter, that the new Bill for prohibiting the sale of intoxicating Liquors, was debated at length, in the Assembly during last week, and will be rejected. Since writing the above we learn, that the Bill was lost, and a Bill re-enacting the old License Law was introduced by Mr. Williston and will pass.

CANDIDATES.—Requisitions are in course of signature, calling upon the hon. James Brown, to allow himself to be nominated as a Candidate to represent this County in the next General Assembly. We also learn from good authority, that Geo. J. Thomson Esq., will be a Candidate at the next election. We intend publishing the names of the Candidates, as we receive them, upon good authority.

From a Report of the Post Master General we take the following:—Postmaster of Campo-Bello—This Office is paid above the calculated rate; but I do not think any Postmaster should receive less than £10 per annum; I cannot however recommend any increase. Postmaster of Milltown—I would recommend that the Salary of this Officer be raised to £20. Postmaster of Saint Stephen—I should recommend that the salary of this Postmaster be increased to £20.

Recommendation of Clerk for Saint Andrews Office.—I beg to recommend that a sum of £50 be allowed for assistance at this Office. The general increase of duties is more than ordinarily felt at this office where there is a large forward duty with the United States; all letters to and from which country have to be stamped twice over.

THE NORTH SHORE RAILROAD.

FROM QUEBEC TO MONTREAL. We learn from the Quebec Morning Chronicle that there were 26 tenders sent in for the construction of the North Shore Railroad, many of which were excellent, but a Mr. Baby's was so advantageous in all respects that it received the numerous vote of the Directors. The following embraces the offers of Mr. Baby:—

The Road to be completed within three years, from Quebec to Montreal, with rolling stock, nearly double that mentioned in the Engineer's report; depots at intermediate stations, wharves and depots at Quebec; telegraph line with stations; right of way, and the purchase of ground for stopping places and stations; interest on the bonds of the Municipality and on those of the Company; also on stock paid in, expenses past and future, for the Company for its services of Engineers & Board of Directors, the whole for the sum of £5000 currency per mile. 500 men to be at work on the road one month after the passing of the contract; 1000 within three months, and 2500 within four months. The work to commence simultaneously at Quebec, Portneuf, and Three Rivers, proceeding from Quebec towards Portneuf, from Portneuf towards Quebec, from Portneuf towards Three Rivers, and from Three Rivers towards Portneuf and Berthier. The Contractor asks no advances, and is to be paid at every £30 000 work done, and as security leaves 5 per cent drawback.

NEW PUBLISHING.
By JOHN TALLIS & CO. OF LONDON
THE LIFE AND TIMES OF THE LATE Duke of Wellington; By Lieut. Col. Williams; (a Companion in Arms, of His Grace.)
Comprising the Campaigns and Battle-Fields of Wellington and his Comrades, the Political Life of the Duke and his Contemporaries, and a detailed account of England's Battles by Sea and Land, from the commencement of the Great French Revolution to the present time, interspersed with Anecdotes, Personal Incidents, and Addresses, &c.
ADDRESS:
The earthly career of Arthur Duke Wellington has closed; one of the greatest men of the nineteenth century, the most military commander of any age has paid the debt of nature. The time has arrived for giving to the world a history of the Great Captain—the Events of his Life and Time—a life marked by patriotism and honour, and events the greatest which have ever agitated the civilized world, and whose influence will be felt upon society till the end of time. Such a work must appeal to the best and proudest feelings in the heart of every Briton—the glory of his country, the honour of its name and position among the nations—may his own existence as a freeman, are recorded and engraven in the annals of the "well fought fields," and the deadly imminent tranches, the immortal battles and the glorious sieges in which Wellington and his Companions in arms gathered unfading laurels, placed their country's honour and renown on the highest pinnacle of fame and glory, and tore the victor's wreath from the brows of heroes decorated with the trophies of Italy, Egypt, and Germany.

To supply such a desideratum in English literature, the publishers of The Life and Times of the Duke of Wellington have determined to produce a work which shall present to the reader, not only the distinct details which a mere biographical sketch would afford, but a comprehensive work, embracing the contemporaneous history of the period; exhibiting the circumstances which brought about the great events in which the Duke and his contemporaries were engaged, and giving to the reader a connected narrative of the lives and actions of the Warriors and Statesmen of the nineteenth century; and thus from the pen of one who was a companion in arms of the great hero, and participated with him in many a well fought field.
In order to carry out their views, the Publishers have determined that the work shall be profusely illustrated by Portraits of the Warriors and Statesmen of the last half century who have held a lustre upon the history of their country; also representations of the most important engagements by sea and land from the period of 1780 till 1852; so that the work, when finished, shall form an Illustrated Gallery of the Naval and Military Exploits of England.
It has been well said, "Character is the true strength of nations; true glory their best inheritance. When the time shall come that the British heart no longer thrill at the names of Crescy, Poitiers, Agin-court, Blenheim, Ramilies, Oudenard, Malplaque; of Talavera, Salamanca, Tou-ouse, Waterloo—the last hour of the British Empire will be struck." The promotion and elevation of national spirit and feeling is therefore the duty and interest of every true and loyal son of England May Heaven inspire the hearts of every one of us with that spirit and feeling.
Conditions of Publication.—The work will be issued on the 1st and 15th of every month, in Parts at 1s. 3d. and Divisions handsomely bound at 9s. 4d. printed on imperial 8vo double column, each part will be embellished by two highly finished steel Engravings, and will contain 32 pages of letter press. A beautiful steel Engraving, 13 by 19 inches, the stunning of Seringapatam, the first victory in which the late Duke of Wellington was engaged in India, to every subscriber to the work.

ON THE Philosophy of Marriage and the Secret Infringements of Nature and the Physical and Mental Effects of the Same. With fifty Coloured Engravings on Steel. In a Series of Volumes, price 2s.6d. each.

SELF-PRESERVATION: An Analytical and Investigative Treatise on the Physiology and Functions of Marriage. In all the passages in which it is important to preserve the health and happiness of man, with its disqualifications, and its physical, mental, and moral effects, followed by practical remarks, founded on twenty years experience in the treatment of impotence, nervous debility, local weakness, spermatorrhoea, syphilis, and all diseases of the urinary and generative systems. Illustrated by fifty Coloured Engravings on the anatomy of the reproductive organs and their relative conditions in health and disease.

By SAMUEL LA'MERT, M. D., No. 37, Bedford-square, London. Doctor of Medicine, Matriculated Member of the University of Edinburgh, Honorary Member of the London Hospital Medical Society, Licentiate of Apothecaries' Hall, London, &c.

The essential object of this treatise is to point out, the fearful consequences resulting from certain habits, irregularities and excesses, which have produced more misery in youth, degradation in manhood, and premature decay at all stages of life, than perhaps, any other class of disease known to modern pathologists. Its perusal is particularly recommended to persons entertaining secret doubts of their physical conditions, and who are conscious of having hazarded the health, happiness and privileges to which every human being is entitled.

The contents embrace the origin, effects, prevention and treatment of the deplorable catalogue of maladies connected with nervous debility, exhaustion of the vital energies, prostration of mental and physical capacity, local and general weakness, acute and chronic spermatorrhoea, and their endless modifications. The treatment adopted is founded on experience gained in the most celebrated schools of medicine, and by the most eminent practitioners, both in Great Britain and in Continental Europe. Every peculiarity relating to the physiology, pathology, and general treatment of the disease incidental to the generative system is clearly explained, and the means of immediate relief and ultimate cure described in detail. The professional reputation of Dr. La'Mert, who has taken the most distinguished medical and academic honours, at home and abroad, is in itself a sufficient guarantee that those who may place themselves under his care will, in every instance meet with that delicate consideration and inviolable secrecy which are so requisite in the treatment of these cases.

100 Acres of Land in St. James', about one hour's drive from Milltown, St. Stephen.

100 Acres of Land in St. Patrick, through which the St. Andrews & Quebec Railroad is projected, and in which, or in the immediate vicinity, will be established a Depot, which will very materially enhance its value.

15 Acres of Land, within five minutes walk of the town of St. Andrews, a delightful situation for a Country Seat. If not shortly disposed of, it will be laid off in suitable lots for building purposes, and let on leases of improvement.

The subscriber begs to announce to the Public, that he has had his Lands, which are within ten minutes' walk of Chamcook, laid off and will sell or lease Building Lots on advantageous terms. It is evident, that owing to the Railroad passing through it, possessing a safe and commodious harbour, accessible at all seasons in respect of its large tonnage, with an unobstructed and unrivalled water power, on which there are already some manufactories, with others of a most extensive scale proposed on the eve of springing into immediate operation, that Chamcook is one of the most desirable situations within the British North American Colonies, for the Capitalist, the Mechanic, and operator. If view of which the said Building Lots are offered to the Public. Terms reasonable.
